Phone Peace Hopes Deal New Setback

Union Says Latest Company Proposal Doesn't Fit Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new jolt was handed last night to hopes for an early end to the cross-country telephone strike with a union announcement that the pending proposal to end one major phase of it "did not conform" to union policy.

The policy committee of the National Federation of Telephone Workers did not reject the plan outright, however, and said it has not completed its study.

Further, President J. A. Beirne of the federation said that when the policy makers reconvene today (10 a.m. CST) they will issue a proposal which he regards as a "step toward settlement" of the 4-day strike.

Beirne told reporters that the settlement plan for long-line workers contains provision for local arbitration of some issues.

"Therefore, it did not conform to the policy of the policy committee, enunciated on two occasions," said the head of the 320,000 striking telephone workers.

Beirne announced that the policy committee did adopt the proposal, contents of which are to be released at 10 a.m. (CST) today.

He did not divulge any part of the forthcoming proposal.

During the day the policy committee turned temporarily from the long distance case and urged unanimously that New Jersey members defy a state anti-strike law.

"Fascist, unconstitutional and evilly inspired," said a federation resolution of the law which is two days old. It is directed against utility strikes.

Harry C. Harper, New Jersey State Labor commissioner, said at

Propaganda With Your Long Distance Call

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Patrons of the Indiana Bell Telephone company who dialed long distance operators yesterday were greeted with this announcement:

"The Indiana public utility law is unconstitutional. We are working against our will. This is long distance."

Telephone company employees throughout Indiana have remained at work in compliance with a law enacted by the 1947 legislature requiring compulsory arbitration of labor disputes affecting public utilities.

Newark that civil penalties of $10,000 a day will be asked against the union "if the strike persists."

Beirne told reporters here that the union wants to test this law in the courts.

The basic union demand in the whole strike is for a $12 weekly pay increase. The government says the workers' salaries average $43.19 a week in January but vary from month to month.

Yesterday, the fourth of the nation wide strike, found the situation little changed. Dial telephones for the most part were reported working normally. Long distance calls were below normal and manually-operated exchanges ran on a limited basis.

Fire Causes $500,000 Damage at Navy Base

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A spectacular fire raging for three hours through the Treasure Island naval base was brought under control last night after destroying five buildings and valuable electronic equipment. The navy placed the total loss at $400,000 to $500,000.

Twenty-seven men, all but one naval personnel, were treated for injuries ranging from smoke inhalation and burns to fractures. The fire destroyed the block-long galley "K" and four smaller structures nearby but was checked before it could reach a number of buildings at the northern end of the island.

'Miss American Coed' from SU

IOWA'S ANSWER TO A CHALLENGE, Mimi Hart, A3 of Spencer, was named yesterday as a "Miss American Coed" of 1947 in a nationwide contest sponsored by "Varieties," New York university's humor magazine. Challenged by Martin Halblom, "Varieties" contest editor, 15 colleges submitted entries for the contest. The winner was selected by John Robert Powers of the Powers Model agency. Miss Hart was entered by Iowa's magazine, Frivol, as their candidate in the contest conducted through the women's housing units on campus. Frivol Production board were judges in the local contest. In answer to a telegram received from Sammy Kaye's publicity agent to sign as vocalist for the orchestra, Miss Hart said, "No, I want to remain in school."

Judge Refuses to Cut UMW Fine, Delays Action 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough refused yesterday to cut the United Mine Workers $3,500,000 fine at this time, declaring there is evidence John L. Lewis has taken "advantage" of the Centralia, Ill., mine explosion to cause a new coal strike.

The justice, who imposed the historic fine for contempt of court last December, postponed consideration of the matter for two weeks until April 24.

The $2,800,000 cut which would give the union a refund because it has put up a $3,500,000 deposit — was ordered March 6 by the supreme court provided the union dropped all plans for a strike in the government-seized mines.

Goldsborough said Lewis and the union have not yet shown "good faith" in obeying the supreme court. The soft-spoken, bald federal judge also said Lewis has shown "an utterly contemptuous attitude toward the courts."

His rejection of the union's plea for a refund did not immediately change the crippled and confused state of the soft coal industry. Many hundreds of government-held mines were still idle yesterday — some closed by the government and some idle because the miners wouldn't work.

The coal mines administration said that more than 28,000 additional soft coal miners went to work yesterday, and production was estimated at 1,215,200 tons, 51 percent of normal.

The agency said 1,692 mines were in operation, 216 more than Wednesday. The number of men at work was estimated at 155,723, compared with 127,636 Wednesday, when production totaled 1,036,926.

Another blow at Lewis was aimed yesterday by Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug, testifying before senate committee which is studying the Centralia disaster that killed 111 men on March 25.

Krug, whom Lewis had accused as the "arch-criminal" of the explosion, said the union's record on safety in the coal mines is one of "almost unbroken neglect."

He said the union has failed to take advantage of a clause in its contract with the government, giving the men at each mine the power to shut down operations when a mine is too dangerous to work in.

Small tornadoes struck Fowler, Newton, Sharon, Isabe and Harveyville, Kas., about 2:30 yesterday morning, causing an estimated $175,000 damage, all told. No casualties were reported. These cities are in a straight line northeast of the path taken by the Oklahoma storm.

Peace officers and vigilantes organized to prevent looting. Field kitchens were set up to feed the homeless and doctors, nurses, policemen and embalmers were sent in from hundreds of miles away to help with the emergency work.

J. L. Swindle, editor of the Pampa, Tex., Daily News, described the storm as the worst ever to hit the Panhandle area. His account from Glazier Tex., said:

"The ferocity of the winds was evidenced by the fact that the bodies of two persons known to have been together at the time the storm hit were found almost three miles apart.

"Only one house was left habitable. Heavy highway construction equipment was twisted out of shape. Large trees were shattered."

132 Killed as Tornado Spreads Destruction in Texas, Oklahoma

More Victims May be Found In Wreckage

WOODWARD, Okla. (AP)—A tornado ripped through western Texas and Oklahoma Wednesday night killing 132 persons, injuring 1,073 and leaving millions of dollars of property damage in its wake.

Reports from Red Cross field units to the Texas highway patrol estimated that as many as 154 may have died in the tempestuous storms and that even more dead might still be found in the wreckage.

The highway patrol listed 85 dead in Woodward, 31 at Higgins, Texas, 14 at Glazier, Texas, and two at Gage, Okla.

The Red Cross at St. Louis listed 1,073 known injured.

Worst hit was Woodward where 100 blocks of buildings, most of them residences, were leveled. The highway patrol estimated that 100 persons may be dead here.

Noland Norgaard, Associated Press correspondent, reported that 85 were known dead and that searching parties using bulldozers were digging in the ruins for additional bodies.

Fires broke out in Woodward and were uncontrolled for several hours.

Communications throughout the area were difficult at best, and in many instances impossible except by courier. The couriers, themselves had to contend with blocked streets and roads.

Aside from difficulties imposed by the telephone strike, many phone and telegraph wires were blown down by the storm, and the highway patrol reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—American Red Cross headquarters yesterday listed the following tornadoes as having caused heavy losses of life in recent years:

April 12, 1945—A series of tornadoes in Kansas and Oklahoma killed 110 persons and injured 676.

June 23, 1944—Pennsylvania—West Virginia, 107 killed, 412 injured.

Spring, 1936—A series of six tornadoes throughout the southeast killed 352, injured about 400.

March, 1935—Two tornadoes within a few hours of each other, also in the south, killed 372.

May 9, 1927—Eastern Arkansas and Missouri, killed 162.

March 18, 1925—Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, killed 796.

April 29, 1924—Alabama and Mississippi, killed 213.

April 24, 1908—Mississippi, killed 106.

Oklahomans Begin Digging Town Out From Storm Rubble

By FRANK K. TIFFANY

Woodward, Okla. (AP)—With ambulance sirens still screaming as new-found victims of Wednesday night's storm sped toward emergency treatment in hospitals, churches and community buildings this half-demolished western Oklahoma town began pulling itself together yesterday.

Along the highway just west of Woodward, telephone lines were down, the poles snapped off at ground level, and wire fences were blown off fence posts. Mangled farm machinery and buildings were visible from the highway.

The northwest third of Woodward itself was leveled by the storm, frame and masonry buildings alike reduced to foundations and shattered rubble.

Fully half the rest of the city was damaged, severely in large areas.

Wind-wrecked shop fronts in the business district faced streets littered by twisted signs, shattered glass and brick and snarled telephone and power wires.

Storm freaks abounded. In a back yard of an almost untouched residential neighborhood, a braced shed was flattened into splinters.

The wind toyed with motor cars—tumbled them end-over-end into farm fields and upside-down against buildings. One car ended buried in a grove of tangled, uprooted trees outside the city limits, at least fifty yards from the highway.

Another, parked in the drive alongside a partly-wrecked house, was piled high with bricks that made a saucer out of its steel top.

Still another sedan, parked at the curb in the heart of Woodward's business district, was smashed flat by some force not apparent—with no debris even close—reduced to a height of not more than three feet of collapsed steel.

Whole blocks of residences were flattened and wreckage-straw, their trees denuded of branches and standing like crooked light poles without crossarms or wires.

Senate Okays Vandenberg Amendment to Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate yesterday adopted the Vandenberg amendment which would give the United Nations conditional power to halt the proposed $400,000,000 U.S. program of aid to Greece and Turkey.

Under this amendment, the international organization could end the program whenever two-thirds of the general assembly or seven of the 11 members of the security council find that "action taken or assistance furnished by the United Nations made the continuation of such (American) assistance unnecessary or undesirable."

The amendment was drafted to meet objections that the U.N. is being by-passed by the lone-handed American proposal.

Other committee amendments accepted by the senate as it moved along fast with the bill would:

1. Require senate confirmation of the chiefs of missions to Turkey and Greece.

2. Bar use of any American funds to repay debts of Greece and Turkey to other nations.

President Truman's Greek-Turkey assistance program won apparently reluctant support from

Churchill Says Soviets Seek To Impose Rule on Balkans

NEW YORK (AP)—Winston Churchill declared yesterday the two immediate objects of Soviet Russia's policy were "domination of the whole of the Balkan peninsula by Communist rule, under Soviet guidance, and the conquest and probable incorporation of Turkey."

In an article copyrighted by Life magazine and the New York Times, in which he strongly commended the policy enunciated by President Truman to congress last month, the former prime minister of Great Britain added that "the ambitions of this mighty Communist empire (Russia) and oligarchy go far beyond the dreams of czarist days."

Churchill said the "momentous declaration" of Mr. Truman "has made it plain that vital American interests and duties exist" in Mediterranean waters.

"Not only has the Communist peril been recognized as the gravest that now overhangs the world," Churchill wrote, "but a series of measures of a resolute character has been taken to resist further encroachments and ex-

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) yesterday. Taft, who heads the senate Republican policy committee, said he intends to vote to give the two nations $400,000,000 financial and limited military help because:

To repudiate the program now would "destroy his (the president's) prestige in the negotiations with the Russian government on the success of which peace depends."

Taft's pronouncement came after Senator Connally (D-Tex) told the senate that "if Greece and Turkey should fall under the sway of Soviet Russia, Italy would be the next victim of economic, military and political aggression," adding that "aggression is the word and the correct word."

"Soviet Russia, by her system of spreading creeping paralysis among smaller and weaker nations, hopes to bring about world dominion and to control the destiny of Europe," he declared. "She hungers for 'all the land that joins me.'"

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) replied that the president's program would "sabotage the United Nations, destroy any hope of reconciliation with Russia" and "risk for the American people a war which may destroy civilization."

He does not favor restoration of price controls, he said.

He does not propose a formal conference with business leaders. But he reported that a great many business leaders individually, asked who they were, he replied that was his own business.

Moreover, he emphatically vetoed the idea of buyers' strikes. He held that they do not help the situation at all—that they are just like any other strike in that they stop the economic machine from working, and that always throws a monkey wrench into the machinery.

To other questions, Mr. Truman gave these answers:

1. He disagrees with the statement Wednesday of John W. Hanes, former undersecretary of the treasury, that this year's budget may have a $3,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000 surplus and that the debt can be reduced and taxes cut simultaneously.

2. Asked whether he would "welcome" a "huddle" with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) on labor legislation before congress acts on a bill, he replied that he had not been asked to any such conference.

3. Was he "gratified" that David E. Lillenthal was confirmed by the senate yesterday as chairman of the atomic energy commission? Yes.

4. What about Henry A. Wallace and Senator Pepper (D-Fla.)? Mr. Truman said he had no desire to read anybody out of the democratic party.

Clark's statement said that price-fixing arrangements among competitors are normally illegal. He declared he knows of no industry in which it is necessary for competitors to get together to cut prices, but if any such case arises, the justice department will "give it special study."

In the usual case, he said, a business man who is able to cut his prices, and who feels that he will obtain an advantage from so doing, can and should go ahead without arrangements with his competitors.

"That is the essence of competition and free enterprise," he said.

Mr. Truman said that if prices are not brought down, then wage increases will be justified. He described profits generally for 1946 and the first quarter of 1947 as very great.

With figures showing the cost of living now 53 percent higher than in 1939, Mr. Truman declared that matters have come out just exactly as he said they would when congress refused to continue the price control act in the form he wanted it.

Justifies Wage Boosts if High Prices Remain

Clark Says Anti-Trust Laws Wouldn't Stop Voluntary Reductions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said yesterday the responsibility for reducing high prices is squarely on business, and Attorney General Clark followed up with a statement that "the anti-trust laws do not interfere with voluntary price reductions."

The question arose at Mr. Truman's news conference as to whether businessmen would risk anti-trust prosecution if they got together to lower prices. Mr. Truman expressed belief they would not be prosecuted if they consulted the justice department.

Clark's statement said that price-fixing arrangements among competitors are normally illegal. He declared he knows of no industry in which it is necessary for competitors to get together to cut prices, but if any such case arises, the justice department will "give it special study."

He commented that business wanted to be free from price control, wanted free enterprise, now they've got it. Let's see if they can make it work.

Aside from this, and what he called his campaign of moral suasion, Mr. Truman said he plans nothing further toward dealing with the price situation.

He does not favor restoration of price controls, he said.

He does not propose a formal conference with business leaders. But he reported that a great many business leaders individually, asked who they were, he replied that was his own business.

Stamp Commemorates Great Newspaperman

It is fitting that the first United States postage stamp honoring the press of the nation (as pictured above) should bear the likeness of Joseph Pulitzer and commemorate the 100th anniversary of his birth. No man comes closer to being the father of modern journalism than Pulitzer. His integrity, his ideals, his unquenchable thirst for knowledge, coupled with a demand for accuracy and dramatic news presentation, gave American journalism many of its basic tenets.

A Hungarian immigrant, Pulitzer fought for the Union during the Civil war. He was a member of the Missouri state legislature, the U. S. house of representatives, but primarily he was a newspaperman. He worked furiously to see that his papers, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the New York World, led the field. Overwork finally ruined his health and for the last 24 years of his life he suffered many physical agonies. He was blind and an acute nervous disorder made almost any noise unbearable to him. These hardships only slightly curtailed his effectiveness, strengthened his convictions. He used to say that inaccurate information, injustice, special privilege, corruption, public plunder, demagogu-

A Better Rat Trap

We read the other day of a Mr. Bert Clark of Riverside, Rhode Island, who has built a better rat trap. This sounds to us like a real public service and a much better idea than building the proverbial "better mouse trap." After all, rats are a lot bigger than mice.

Mr. Clark's Better Rat-Trap is a marvel of simplicity and a tribute to American ingenuity. First you get a large wooden keg or barrel (the inventor claims that the 52-gallon variety is ideal). Next, saw off the top of the barrel about six inches down. Then you place a medium-sized rock in the center of the bottom of the barrel. After that, pour water into the barrel until the top of the rock is just barely exposed.

Now you make a top for the barrel and put it on a delicate pivot so that any weight on the top will cause it to tip. A piece of cheese on a spike in the center of the pivoted barrel top sets the trap up ready to go. Here's what happens: A rat smells the cheese (which is of good quality, of course) and he can't resist it. He leaps to the barrel top. The barrel top tips on the pivot... and Splash! The rat is fit to be tied. He climbs up on the rock, shakes himself, and proceeds to call the dirty so and so who did this to him everything under the sun. No where is where the subtle genius of the Better

Rat Trap comes in. The uproar the first rat is making attracts a second rat to try a nibble at the bait and, Splash, you have two rats in the barrel. But there isn't room for more than one rat on the rock, so the two of them fight like the dickens for the dry spot. They raise such a fuss that other curious rats are lured to the barrel. Before you know it, the Better Rat-Trap has a full house. We were so intrigued by Mr. Clark's revolutionary invention that we almost made one ourselves. We thought we might put it in one of the alleys downtown since Restaurant Inspector Charles Schindler told the city council Monday night that 70 rats had been killed behind a local cafe one night.

Vandenberg is GOP's Best Bet, Newsmen Say

Add Washington Memoranda: There doesn't seem to be too much doubt among newsmen in the nation's capital as to who the 1948 Republican presidential nominee will be... I conducted a private little Gallup poll of my own last week and asked 22 correspondents, representing publications of various political shadings, the sixty-four dollar GOP question and got the same answer on each try: Arthur Vandenberg, the senior senator from Michigan... Perhaps my timing of the opinion sampling routine wasn't quite fair to the other candidates involved, for the influential foreign relations committee chairman had just finished his excellent speech to the senate endorsing David E. Lillenthal as head of the United States atomic energy commission when I began to make the rounds of the men in the press gallery... It was indeed Vandenberg's hour of glory... One observer said that the only other time that the senator had reached such oratorical heights was in December, 1944, when he switched from traditional isolationism to all-out internationalism, thus strengthening President Roosevelt's hand at the Yalta Big Three Conference... Vandenberg's address supporting Lillenthal lasted forty minutes and he had his audience with him every minute of the time... He is a forceful orator, with a husky voice quality that is reminiscent of Wendell Willkie during the 1940 campaign... The galleries were packed and the senate chamber was almost completely filled (a rarity for

We Play With Words On Greek Aid Issue

By SAMUEL GRAFTON
New York Post Syndicate
If the Russians had their own way in Greece, they would probably work out a solution that would be intensely disagreeable to us, and perhaps to most Greeks. But on one point the Russians have it over us, and that is in their repeated descriptions of the Greek government as a right-wing terrorist operation. We can't afford to say that. We can't even afford to see it. And the fact that we start blind, so to speak, is a critical point in the argument between ourselves and Russia. Our ultimate intentions toward Greece may be kinder than those of the Russians, but the fact remains that the Russians start with a fairly accurate description of what is going on, whereas we start with a fantasy.

As a result, we are in moral trouble; and, as always when one is in moral trouble, we begin to play with the meanings of words. Mr. Truman says the Greek government has the support of 85 percent of the parliament recently elected. But there are pretty good estimates that, because of left abstentions, intimidation in rural districts, etc., the government represents, at most, half the people. So we find we must blunt the difference between 85 percent and 50 percent; dull it down a little, or make like a hop, so, over it. But it does things to the spirit to go hopping over distasteful facts. One hears a new American murmur that the end justifies the means, as surprising a declaration, coming from a good American, as if he had suddenly begun to blab in pure Russian. One hears it said, too, that Americans who bring up these disagreeable facts are unpatriotic; in which case we find ourselves beginning to play with the meaning of the word "patriotism," and beginning to breathe hard, too, in the way in which one breathes when one is in moral trouble.

That means a hundred years of self-deception, becoming each year more elaborate, until finally we lose contact with political reality. We shall lose the Greek people, too; we shall invite them to fear us with the special fear one has of those who talk strangely. A "Doctrine" for a hundred years can be built out of this kind of material only when the day comes that skyscrapers can be built out of mush, and moons out of cheese.

Meanwhile the Greek government which we propose to protect is reported to have become so encouraged by our support that it has jailed five or six hundred Greek liberals and leftists. Suppose these five or six hundred should escape, where would they go? Toward us? Hardly; our approach has got them in trouble. To the

FDR's Letters to Pope Revealed in Book

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt wrote Pope Pius XII on Sept. 3, 1941, that Russia's dictatorship was less dangerous to humanity than Hitler's, a newly published book disclosed yesterday.

The volume also says that the United States learned six months in advance of Hitler's plan to attack Russia, and promptly notified Moscow. The book, published by the MacMillan company, is entitled "Warime Correspondence between President Roosevelt and Pope Pius XII." Myron C. Taylor, presidential representative to the Vatican, has written the introduction and explanatory notes.

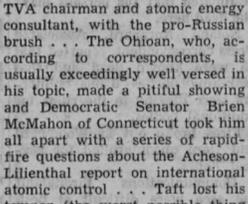

Because of communist denial of religion, Taylor says in his notes, the question of aiding Russia was a problem "not only for governments and nations, but for all churches. This was true in a special way for Americans of Catholic faith, who were aware of the encyclical issued by Pope Pius XI in 1922 which contained a broad condemnation of atheistic communism." Consequently it was our senior legislative body, I was to learn)... The Michigan senator appeared to have the complete, unswerving respect for his colleagues on both sides of the aisle... In his triple capacity as senate president pro tem, foreign relations chairman and member of the atomic energy committee, Vandenberg is one of the most powerful men in congress... Key Republican Ever since the United Nations conference at San Francisco, which he attended as a member of the Roosevelt-appointed United States delegation, Vandenberg has been the key Republican with regard to the formulation of American foreign policy... As spokesman for "bi-partisanship" in our foreign affairs, he has held, in effect, a veto over any international proposals stemming from either the state department or the White House... "Better clear it with Arthur first," as newsmen have already pointed out, has been a foreign policy by-word these past two years... The No. 1 foreign relations man in the GOP, hence, has been in a unique position to command the attention and respect not only of Democrats and Republicans here at home, but of statesmen abroad... During the hectic congressional battles over domestic legislation in the seventy-ninth congress, Vandenberg was absent on state department business most of the time and therefore stayed out of the important controversies... his party colleagues, including most of the old-time isolationists, have come to accept his counsel and advice with regard to their votes on international affairs legislation... Bests Taft In the Lillenthal debate, Vandenberg crossed swords for the first time in the eightieth congress with the GOP spokesman on domestic matters, Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio... Taft spoke twice during the two senate sessions I attended; the first speech, on Wednesday, April 2, was an attempt to tar Lillenthal's record, both as TVA chairman and atomic energy consultant, with the pro-Russian brush... The Ohioan, who, according to correspondents, is usually exceedingly well versed in his topic, made a pitiful showing and Democratic Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut took him all apart with a series of rapid-fire questions about the Acheson-Lillenthal report on international atomic control... Taft lost his temper (the worst possible thing a senator can do during debate) and blurted out the fact that he would favor U.S. withdrawal of its international control plan and military supervision over the domestic atomic energy commission... On Thursday, April 3, Taft spoke again, this time in rebuttal to Vandenberg... But it was all over... Vandenberg had turned back, point by point, every charge leveled by the anti-Lillenthal bloc and the Ohio senator looked foolish by comparison... The correspondents I queried about the 1948 nomination all believed that an inevitable Taft-Dewey deadlock would swing the GOP convention overwhelmingly to Vandenberg.

Round-up in Berlin BERLIN (AP)—Troops of the four occupation powers supported by the entire German police force of 5,000 men rounded up hundreds of persons in a 24-hour city-wide drive ending last night to clean up Berlin of lawless elements... "Furthermore, it is my belief that the leaders of all churches in the United States should recognize these facts clearly." He expressed the hope that Russia would recognize religious freedom as a result of the war... Taylor, in the notes, says the U. S. government learned of Hitler's plan to attack Russia through intelligence reports both in January and March before the actual attack in June, 1941. The information was "promptly communicated to the Soviet government." The correspondence between the president and the Vatican started in December, 1939, when the president sought all possible aid to stem the spread of war. President Truman, in a short foreword, says that publication of the letters is "in the American tradition of open diplomacy. The record belongs to all who sought peace through victory, and continue to seek the blessings of universal peace and security and well-being."

Scout Head Claims Support by Adults Needed in Scouting

Only by the active support of parents and community leaders can the boy scout movement succeed, George Gragg, scout executive of the Iowa River Valley council, explained yesterday.

In a noon dinner address to members of the Rotary club gathered in Hotel Jefferson he said: "Active support by adults is necessary for scouting to fulfill its function of developing self-reliance, independent thinking and public spirit."

Would Increase Security
Too many parents are guilty of what he called "false security," believing their children are developing into well-balanced adults, when actually they may be falling into some of the "pitfalls" of youth.

The boy scout organization is not aimed at taking the place of the home, the church and the school, Gragg declared. During the two and two-tenths years spent in the boy scout organization by the average scout he should rather find scouting an aid to these three basic institutions.

If scouting expands at its present rate, he said, there will be 20 million scouts throughout the world by 1950, but increasing public support will be necessary.

Scouting Could be Expanded
Gragg said, "Only 30 percent of the eligible boys in this vicinity are scouts, although 75 percent want to become scouts."

He concluded by saying that only by "proper guidance... can the boys of today fill the shoes of responsible people tomorrow."

Gragg also revealed that improvements are contemplated in the Rotary-sponsored campsite four miles west of Iowa City.

To Crown Queen At Newman Dance

A queen, princess and two attendants for Newman Nocturne will be announced during the semi-formal dance to be held from 9 until 12 tomorrow night in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Selection of the queen was made March 25 by Newman club members. Finalists are Betty Thompson, A1 of Cedar Rapids; Laverne Boes, A1 of Ogden; Mimi McGrane, A2 of Des Moines; and Rose Mary Harmer, A3 of Iowa City.

Harry Cool and his orchestra will furnish the music. Tickets, costing $3, are on sale at the Union lounge, Racine's and Ries' book store.

Women's Cage Team Goes to Chicago Meet

Seven members of the women's honorary basketball club will take part in a basketball sports day at the University of Chicago tomorrow.

One of 24 teams entering the tournament, the Iowa group will play teams from Northwestern university and the University of Illinois.

It's Murder, They Said

On trial for his "life," Rex Duncan (played by Robert Mason) tires to look innocent when Prosecuting Attorney Thomas G. S. Christensen shoves the "murder weapon" under his very nose during the mock trial which ended last night. On the bench is "Judge" Arthur O. Leff, lecturer in the college of law.

A divided verdict of first degree murder and manslaughter against Duncan was a bizarre twist in the legal findings of the mock trial.

A half-size jury of five men and one woman was unable to agree in the 17 minutes before their 10 o'clock deadline.

In deciding that Duncan killed Robin Brown, the jury ignored defense witness Dr. Mark A. R. Kuhn's testimony that Brown died of a heart attack.

'Disgusted,' Lierle Won't Seek Office In Young Republicans

Dean Lierle Jr., organizer and temporary chairman of the Young Republican league on campus, last night declined to become a candidate for any office of that organization.

"I don't believe the organization now represents what it ought to. The objectives of the Republican party seem to have been lost somewhere along the way."

"The recent petty power manipulation in the group made it the laughing stock of the campus, and those responsible are recruiting again."

"I'm disgusted with the petty bickering that's going on," he declared.

In addition, Lierle said, he will accept a job with the state Young Republican organization in June.

The campus organization last night approved a slate of nine candidates for its May 1 election of four new officers.

Running for chairman will be John Elliott, Robert Lorch and Alvin Jaspers. Vice-chairman candidates are James Goodwin and Robert Whiteside. Walter Johnson and William Fulton will seek the secretary post, with Ward Mc-

Campus ADA To Dissolve

Members of the campus group of the Americans for Democratic Action in a closed meeting last night voted 41 to 12 to "officially dissolve the organization," according to the James Goodwin, president.

He stated that the group had considered merely changing its name but decided to dissolve.

"The records are still being kept intact," he said.

This action resulted from the receipt of a letter last month from Student Secretary Alison Carter of the national ADA requesting that the local group not use that name.

Carter's letter was written in answer to Goodwin's request of national recognition. It said, in part, "ADA will never associate itself with any group that is primarily anti-Communist. The impression that your letter gives is that your group is primarily an 'anti-Communist organization.'"

In reply to this charge, Goodwin stated that the local group was not "anti-Communist but non-Communist."

The group had been active since it secured recognition by the university February 18.

Dramatic Performances Of Waverly, Sac City Schools Rated Superior

Outstanding dramatic performances for class B high schools in the current play production festival were cited in the University theater last night by Joseph Zimmerman, of Northwestern University, judge for the group.

Waverly high school's production of "A Night at an Inn" and Sac City's production of the first act of "Big Hearted Herbert" were given "superior."

The four productions given "excellent" were Missouri Valley high's "Sky Padder," Estherville high's "High Window," University high's "The Trysting Place" and Emmetsburg's "Grenachika."

Zimmerman also designated two actors and two actresses as having done outstanding acting. They were Marilyn Eaton of Knoxville, Celeste Gray of Missouri Valley, Dick Wall of Estherville and Herman Fuller of Sac City.

Breast-Feeding Better For Baby, Mother, Says Dr. Jackson

Babies should be breast fed and should not be too much sheltered from the world in which they have to learn to live, said Dr. Robert L. Jackson of the pediatrics department yesterday.

Speaking to approximately 50 nurses in Iowa City for the five-day meeting of the Public Health Nursing Institute, Dr. Jackson emphasized breast feeding, first, for the baby's health, and second, for the health of the mother.

"Human milk is generally believed to be nutritionally more adequate than cow's milk. The fat in human milk is easily tolerated by the baby while fat from cow's milk may cause intestinal upsets," said Dr. Jackson.

He said that one of the most common causes of infant eczema is cow's milk.

"Breast feeding is also better for the health of the mother, and cancer of the breast is known to be more common among women who have not nursed babies."

The doctor concluded that health education should begin with young couples contemplating marriage.

Kinnick's Parents to Receive All America Award

Captains Cup Presentation Here Monday

The All American Captains Cup will be presented post-humously to the late Nile Kinnick, great Iowa halfback of the 1939 Hawkeye eleven, at a dinner here Monday, April 14. Mr. and Mrs. Nile Kinnick, Sr., parents of the former Hawk star, will be honored guests at the dinner and will formally accept the trophy.

Kinnick was a fighter pilot in the war, attached to the U.S.S. Lexington. He was lost at sea June 2, 1943.

Christy Walsh of the All America board, who will present the trophy Monday night, will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Kinnick from Omaha to Iowa City. The Kinnicks reside in Omaha.

The dinner has been arranged by the University of Iowa Athletic Board, with President Hancher, Head Coach Eddie Anderson and a small group of Nile Kinnick's friends expected to attend.

Thirty-three former college football players received one or more votes for the All America Captains Cup in the ballot recently concluded. Kinnick, star of the famous Iron men in 1939, received 25 percent of all votes cast.

Two hundred and twenty living players, selected by the board in the past 23 years, participated in the voting and most of the 51 eligible players (1935-1939 group) for whom they were voted, served in the war. All had been out of college five or more years.

Dr. Steve Reid, star lineman at Northwestern in 1936, with an outstanding military record, was second to Kinnick in the voting. The following five players with high totals, followed Kinnick and Reid—Tom Harmon, Michigan, 1940; Clinton Frank, Yale, 1937; Vic Bottari, California, 1938 and Ray King, Minnesota, 1937. The Captains Cup goes to the player who, in an outstanding manner has "lived up to the ideals of an All American player—after leaving college."

Kinnick Admirer Repays a Visit

A boy who selected Nile Kinnick as "My all-time All American" will attend the dinner Monday evening honoring Iowa's famous halfback.

He is Edwin Rip Collins of Kearny, New Jersey, who met Kinnick seven years ago—in a Kearny hospital. Kinnick visited Collins following the prep star's loss of a leg by amputation. Collins, who attended St. Benedict's in Kearny, attributes his rapid recovery and inspiration to Kinnick's visit.

Collins was quoted as saying, "Nile Kinnick's visit when I was low gave me great courage and helped me to recover rapidly and I consider it a high privilege that I am to attend the dinner in honor of his memory."

Collins is now coaching baseball and football at North Arlington, New Jersey high school.

Dodger Official Hints Leo to Return in '48

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)—The first intimation from any Brooklyn Dodger official that Leo Durocher will return as the club's manager after his suspension terminates came last night from Walter O'Malley, vice-president of the organization.

Speaking at a dinner given by the Knothole club, Brooklyn fan organization, to welcome the Dodger home from spring training, O'Malley said:

"We're going to have a great team this year and to Leo and Laraine we're not saying goodbye but we'll be seeing you soon."

O'Malley said he expressed the sentiments of Branch Rickey, Dodger president, who he said was under "doctor's orders" in not attending the dinner.

Maple Leafs Win

MONTREAL (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs in one of the roughest games of the season, hammered out a 4-0 victory over the Montreal Canadiens last night to tie up at one game apiece their final round Stanley Cup playoff series.

Owen Leads Golfers

FRENCH LICK, IND. (AP)—Ben Owen of Lexington, Ky., took the lead at the end of the first round of the Midwest Amateur golf tournament yesterday with a card of 35-39-74.

Jackie Robinson to Play With Dodgers

DIXIE WALKER of the Brooklyn Dodgers is out at first base as Jackie Robinson of Montreal makes the catch in their game at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, yesterday. The Dodgers purchased the contract of Robinson, versatile infielder, yesterday from the Montreal Royals.

Leo's Fate Upsets MacPhail

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—President Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees made it plain at a press conference yesterday that he was chagrined at the one-year suspension slapped on Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers and that he will be glad to "see" Leo if and when the latter ever seeks a baseball job.

In at least semi-defiance of Commissioner Chandler's order Wednesday that all parties to the recent Yankee-Dodger squabble be "silenced," MacPhail talked to a room full of newsmen for upwards of an hour and answered a fair proportion of a score of questions thrown at him.

The Redhead declared at the outset in a prepared statement that "this club will continue to release and publish any and all information pertinent and proper in connection with the operation of this club."

Asked if he thought the penalty against Durocher was "unjust and excessive," MacPhail replied carefully:

"I may have some very strong and decided personal feelings in the matter. If so, I'm prevented from expressing them except through baseball channels."

To the question of whether he would be prepared to offer "Durocher a job with the Yankees next year, he gave an oblique yet crystal-clear answer. He recalled that Durocher, when asked during the winter if he expected to see MacPhail, had replied: "Sure, I expect to see MacPhail. He's my friend and he gave me my first chance to manage a ball club."

"I would like to say that I fully reciprocate Leo's feeling," MacPhail concluded impressively.

Although he did not say so directly, MacPhail implied that he would pay coach Charles (Chuck) Dressen his full salary for the month he is under suspension, thus more or less nullifying Chandler's penalty.

"My impression is that Dressen was suspended—'not fined,'" he said. Asked if that meant what it sounded like, he grinned: "What do you think?"

Robinson Leads Royals

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Montreal Royals, with Jackie Robinson, playing his last game for the International league champions, scored all three of their runs in the fourth inning yesterday to defeat the parent Brooklyn Dodger nine 4-3 in an exhibition that drew 14,282 Ebbets Field fans.

A base on balls to Robinson, first man up in the inning, started the explosion. Before righthander Ralph Branca could retire the side, Don Lund and Alex Campanis had belted two-run homers.

Brooklyn Buys His Contract From Royals

By JOE REICHLER
BROOKLYN (AP)—Jackie Robinson, brilliant Negro infielder, yesterday became the first of his race to break into modern major league baseball when President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers announced the purchase of his contract from The Montreal Royals of the International league.

No other information was given. The purchase price was undisclosed. It was a straight cash transaction with no clauses involved. Robinson, who appeared at first base for Montreal against the Dodgers in yesterday's game, will join his new club tomorrow.

Montreal is owned by the Dodgers and won yesterday's game, 4 to 3.

Watching yesterday's game with Rickey were Ford Frick, president of the National league, and Frank J. Shaughnessy, International League head. Frick declined to comment but Shaughnessy declared: "I am happy for Jackie. He is a great boy and deserves the chance. I feel certain he will make good. He was the best player in our league last year."

Robinson had a great season with Montreal last year, his first in organized baseball. He led the loop in batting with a mark of .349 and stole 40 bases. He also led all second basemen in fielding with a percentage of .985. The Royals won the pennant, playoffs and defeated Louisville of the American Association in the Little World Series.

Clyde Sukeforth, manager pro tem of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said last night that Jackie

Weather Permitting, Hawks Make Debut

Weather and diamond permitting, the University of Iowa baseball team makes its home debut tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock against Luther college of Decorah.

The diamond has not been used this season because it has not dried after persistent rains. If a bright sun and warm breeze cooperate with the efforts of the ground-keepers, the field will be in shape for the game.

Due to an epidemic of sore arms and legs, Coach Otto Vogel is uncertain of his starting lineups. Doc Dunagan has a leg muscle injury which may keep him from his shortstop spot for several games.

Robinson, Negro Infielder Purchased Yesterday From Montreal, Is 'A Cinch to Play for Us Tomorrow Against the New York Yankees.'

"Robinson will start, at either first or second base, if the Yankees start a left hander against us," Sukeforth added. "In any event he will get into the game. It is my idea he should play. I want him to feel at home in Brooklyn."

Sukeforth said that he "did not want the job" of managing the Dodgers throughout the entire year and Ray Blades, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and now also a Brooklyn coach, chipped in with "they would have to draft me. I am happy where I am."

The announcement of Robinson's purchase took the edge off speculation on the new manager of Brooklyn. Although Dodger officials kept mum on the matter, it was rumored that Ray Blades, current coach and a Rickey man from way back, would supplant the exiled Leo Durocher. Blades managed the St. Louis Cardinals under Rickey in 1939 and '40.

Seeds of Grapefruit League

SCHOOLBOY ROWE and Blix Donnelly checked the Washington Senators with six hits yesterday as the Philadelphia Phillies jumped on Buck Newsom and Rae Scarborough for 12 safe blows and a 4 to 2 victory.

DANVILLE, Va. (AP)—The New York Giants clouted Bob Feller freely yesterday, defeating Cleveland, 11 to 4, and increasing their lead in the 17-game exhibition series to 8-6.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Taking advantage of three Detroit errors, one of them First Baseman George Vico's wild throw to the plate on a squeeze play bunt that permitted the winning run to score, the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern association beat the Tigers, 3 to 2, yesterday.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Doubles by Bill Cox and Hank Greenberg and singles by Billy Herman and Jim Russell put the Pittsburgh Pirates out in front in the sixth inning and they went on to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 2, in the Browns final road exhibition game of the spring season.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Andy Pafko's three-run homer sparked the Chicago Cubs to an 8 to 7 win over the Memphis Chiefs of the Southern association yesterday in the National league club's road exhibition finale.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Unbeaten Navy and the Boston Braves played a 4-4 tie yesterday in an exhibition baseball game called after seven innings so the Braves could enplane for Boston for a scheduled clash with the Red Sox today.

Chinese Student— Studies Bicycles

By ROGER NEWBURGER
Ming Y. Mar's uncles graduated from the University of Iowa about a dozen years ago and returned to China to become pretty important men. One of them owns the South China air lines. The other is Chiang Kai Shek's minister of agriculture.

Ming, a mechanical engineering student, is specializing in bicycles.

The ricksha, he feels, is a weight on China's neck; the ricksha operators lead a robot-like life. Ming envisions himself mass-producing bicycles which he thinks would improve that situation. He looks still further into the future to the time when he might be producing motors to mechanize those bicycles.

Ming entered the university as a junior last September after spending some time in British Columbia where he polished up his English. During the war he served as an interpreter with our army when it arrived in China.

He is spending this Easter vacation on a tour of Illinois factories, visiting the Frank Foundries corporation in Moline, the International Harvester plant at Rock Island, the Caterpillar Tractor factory in Peoria and the Schwinn bicycle manufacturing company in Chicago.

After graduating next year, he thinks he'll work in a factory to gain practical experience, then possibly go into graduate study. His plans are only tentative because he thinks this vacation trip may give him some different ideas.

Ming likes this country, mostly because our people are "so friendly" and because our manufacturers are so nice about letting him inspect their plants.

We asked him his opinion about China's current strife. "You forget," he said. "I'm an engineer, not a politician."

AAU Wrestling Meet
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The senior National AAU wrestling championships, with one of the finest fields ever assembled, will get under way at the Olympic club today. A two day and night tournament will determine 1947 titles.

Zollners Set Record
CHICAGO (AP) — Ralph Hamilton, Indiana university's contribution to the Fort Wayne Zollners, pumped in 26 points last night to lead his club to an 86 to 87 victory over the Oshkoe stars — a tournament team scoring record which gave the Zollners third place in the Invitational Professional cage meet in Chicago stadium.

Racers Ask More Prizes
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Spokesmen for the American Society of Professional Automobile racing said yesterday they had received authorization from owners of 28 racing cars to withhold their entries in the annual Indianapolis speed classic May 30 until ASPA's petition for increased prize money has been settled with promoters of the Memorial Day event.

REDS WIN, 5-0
ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati's six-foot five-inch righthander, scattered seven Boston hits yesterday to give his mates a 5-0 victory over the Red Sox.

The Redlegs also hit safely just seven times but made three of them count in the sixth when they pushed over four markers. Bobby Adams started it off with a homer over the left field fence. Grady Hatton drew a walk and after Augie Galan had doubled, Ray Lamanno came through with a three-run homer.

About a third of a million Americans suffer permanent injuries in accidents every year.

Russia Giving Aid To Greek Rebels; Ambassador Says

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (AP) — Ambassador Vassili Dendramis of Greece charged yesterday that Russia and her Balkan satellites were "encouraging and strengthening" disloyal Greek minorities in efforts to bring his country under a "Communist dictatorship."

Dendramis and Warren R. Austin (United States) joined forces in a spirited defense before the United Nations security council of President Truman's plan for helping Greece and Turkey.

Austin rejected a charge by Andrei A. Gromyko (Russia) that military and economic help proposed by Mr. Truman would constitute interference in Greece's domestic affairs.

Austin said the Truman proposals were consistent with the U.N. charter and that both Greece and Turkey had directly asked the United States for help.

Gromyko is scheduled to speak again Monday (9:30 a.m., CST) when the council will resume discussion of Greece.

Official British reports speak of Egypt as being in the Middle East. The U. S. State Department refers to it as being in the Near East.

Full-Dress Parade to Climax Army Week

Celebration of Army Week in Iowa City will be climaxed with a full-dress parade at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow and featured by a demonstration by four P-51 Mustangs over the city at that time.

Led by Atty. Will Hayek, grand marshal, on a white horse, the parade will include marching groups from Iowa City veterans' organizations and auxiliaries, four musical groups and the university ROTC students.

Civil War Vet

One feature of the parade will be the appearance of Ebenezer McMurray, 103-year-old civil war veteran who will be riding in an automobile.

A reviewing stand will be located in front of the Englert theater. Invited to review the parade from this point are representatives from the veterans' organizations, Mayor Preston Koser, President Virgil M. Hancher, the superintendent of schools, regents of the DAR and representatives from the senior and junior chambers of commerce.

The procession will begin at the intersection of Court and Clinton streets at 10:30 a. m. It will proceed one block north to Burlington, east on Burlington to Dubuque, north to College, west to Clinton, north to Washington and three blocks east on Washington to Gilbert where it will disperse.

Four Divisions to Parade

Four divisions, each with a band, will make up the procession.

The first division, which will assemble on Clinton street south of Court, will be comprised of two police cars; Grand Marshal Hayek; the university band; three color guards in army, navy and marine uniforms; six massed color bearers; McMurray in an automobile; two cars with the DAR; two with the Women's Relief corps.

The second division, which will assemble on Harrison street east of Clinton, will include the Iowa City Moose drum and bugle corps, the two Veterans of Foreign Wars posts with auxiliaries, marching; the American Legion and auxiliary, marching; the AmVets; the American War Dads and the Reserve Officers association.

The third division, which will assemble on Court street east of Clinton, will be comprised of the Iowa City high school band; a float sponsored by the Boy Scouts; the American Veterans Committee with a float; the Disabled American Veterans in two two-and-a-half ton army trucks; marine corps recruiting vehicle; army recruiting vehicle; an army scout car towing an anti-tank weapon, followed by commercial trucks and automobiles and one or more wingless Ercoupe airplanes.

The fourth division, which will assemble on Court street west of Clinton, will be comprised of the university Scottish Highlanders and the 40 ROTC cadets.

"Shaping Up Well"

"The parade is shaping up very well and, if the weather allows, we should have a pretty good parade," Col. W.W. Jenna of the military department said yesterday.

The parade plans are being drawn up by a committee composed of Secretary Bob Gage of the Chamber of Commerce, Colonel Jenna and Cliff Richards, chairman of the Veterans' Organization council, sponsors of the parade.

Mayor's Proclamation

Text of Mayor Preston Koser's Army Week proclamation:

"Whereas the Army of the United States is a bulwark of our country's strength in time of peril and the faithful guardian of our dearly bought liberty in time of peace, and has since the inception of this nation stood between our freedom loving people and all aggressors; and

"Whereas the soldiers of our army continue in active service as loyal servants of our democracy, whose purpose is to insure the establishment of justice, tranquility and an enduring peace; and

"Whereas the president of the United States has this year set aside April 7 as Army Day and the week from April 7 to April 12 as Army Week;

"Now, therefore, I, Preston Koser, Mayor of Iowa City, Iowa, in order that we may give special recognition to our army, whose soldiers have gallantly secured and guarded our freedom since the founding of the Republic and have heroically sacrificed to bring to the world lasting peace founded upon justice to all mankind, do hereby proclaim Saturday, April 12, 1947, as a day of special observance for Army Week.

"I, therefore, urge my fellow citizens to be mindful of the army's needs, to the end that our soldiers may not lack the means to perform effectively their continuing tasks. There is no means by which we can better honor our heroic dead than by our support of their living comrades who carry on the mission they so nobly advanced.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Iowa City to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Iowa City on the tenth day of April in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-seven and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-first."

Twenty-nine boys will receive football and basketball awards at a special City Junior high school assembly today at 11:25 a. m.

Rummy Before Lunch

Two coeds have found a way to pass the time while waiting for service in crowded restaurants.

The resourceful women entered a restaurant during a busy hour yesterday. Finding a vacant booth, they pushed aside the dirty dishes and dealt a hand of rummy.

When menus were brought, they ordered and continued their game until, a few hands later, they were served.

Honor Group Names Four New Members

Names of four new members admitted to A.F.L. (All For Iowa) were announced yesterday by Herb Wilkinson, president.

According to Wilkinson, election of new members is based on the student's participation in five major fields of activity: scholarship, social and religious activity, athletics, publications, and activity in speech, music and dramatic art.

New members are Richard D. Yoakam, G of Pittsburgh; William J. Bauer, E4 of Iowa City; David O. Stone, L4 of Hawarden, and Robert J. Jensen, A3 of Davenport.

Yoakam is news editor of WSUI. He is president of Sigma Delta Chi honorary journalism fraternity, and a member of the student council.

Bauer is president of Associated Students of Engineering and Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity. He was named the outstanding senior civil engineering student for this year and is vice-president of Chi Epsilon, honorary civil engineering fraternity.

Stone is one of the two comments editors for the Iowa Law Review. He is treasurer of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Delta Sigma Rho (honorary forensic fraternity), and Order of Artus (honorary economic fraternity).

Jensen is president of Quadrangle and has been awarded the "I" letter for tennis. He is a member of the Quadrangle Association council.

Painters Begin Work After Wage Boost

AFL painters, idle on the Iowa City housing project for married students since April 1, will return to work today under terms of a new wage agreement providing them with an hourly increase of 17 1/2 cents.

R.D. Sharp of Metcalfe-Hamilton Construction company said last night the painters would return to their jobs but the majority of the 260 men who left work when contracts with employers expired March 31, will remain idle until negotiations in Cedar Rapids are completed.

The Iowa City men still not working are members of cement finishers, iron workers and laborers unions. According to The Associated Press, these unions are in "continuous meeting" with Allied Construction interests, contractors organization, in an effort to wind up negotiations.

The pay increase will boost painters wages from $1.47 1/2 to $1.65 an hour, stated Merton Nash, local union president, and Sven A. Hertel, painting and contractors association head.

Assault and Battery Charges Dismissed

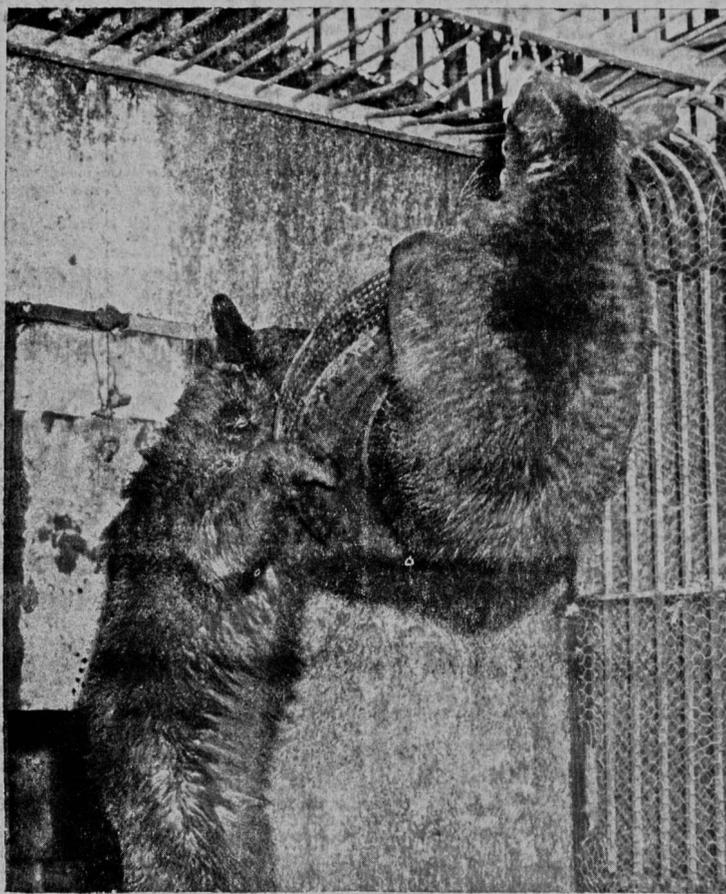

An assault and battery charge filed against Mary Tudor, 1209 E. Davenport, was dismissed in justice of peace court yesterday.

Mrs. Tudor was accused by Jeanne Nicolaysen, a roomer in the Tudor residence of "kicking and twisting her arm," during a scuffle over the use of a telephone, it was revealed in court.

After hearing the testimony of both women and Miss Nicolaysen's brother Donald Orville, Justice of Peace J. M. Kadlec dismissed the charge.

Attorney for Mrs. Tudor was John Knox.

NEWCOMERS BEAR WATCHING AT ZOO

SWINGING OUT IN CELEBRATION OF THEIR FIRST DAY in Iowa City, Hop and Skip put on a lively house warming exhibition. The two bear cubs (both a year old but big enough to be adults) arrived at City park yesterday from Baraboo, Wis. Purchased from money donated by the Eagle's lodge of Iowa City, the two bear cubs are taking the place of the 26-year-old bear that died last July. Hop is the frisky fellow in the tire, Skip is providing the momentum for the swinging. Park superintendent George Turecek has already grown extremely fond of the playful fellows performing their acrobatics. And, George says, they eat more cheaply than the old fellow did. Both Hop and Skip are vegetarians. (Daily Iowan Photo) purchases and distributes the product, keeping always in rhythm with the pulse of the public. And all these are means to a livelihood for hundreds of thousands of Americans, supplying
