Truman in New Stand Against Tax Cuts

Reduce Public Debt, He Urges

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman declared last night that a sharp increase in prices has "inflated the entire economic structure" and took a new stand against any income tax cuts now.

He issued a statement predicting a surplus of government receipts over expenditures of $1,250,000,000 for the present fiscal year which ends June 30. Mr. Truman had announced in a Jefferson day speech April 5 that a surplus was in sight, but did not disclose the amount until last night.

The president attributed the revision in estimates since his budget message went to congress in January to administration economies as well as to a sharp increase in prices "since the removal of controls."

He declared that now, when a balanced budget is being achieved, he wants to emphasize the need for reducing the public debt "while times are good."

"It is natural for taxpayers to wish to see taxes reduced," the president's statement continued. "But to do this now would promote inflation, so that the benefits of any reduction would be largely dissipated."

The president's statement came amid renewed activity over the income tax reduction pending in congress.

1. Senator Lucas (Ill.), Democratic whip, put forward a bill to cut income taxes next Jan. 1, instead of this year as the Republicans proposed.

2. The senate finance committee, of which Lucas is a member, set hearings to start Tuesday on the tax bill with Secretary of the Treasury Snyder as the first witness. Later, businessmen will be heard.

3. Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, made public a letter of GOP office-holders and party leaders saying that Mr. Truman's Jefferson day statement that we would support tax reduction "at a proper time" was "baldly political." Reece challenged the president to veto the proposed tax cut if he and the Democrats want to assume "the responsibility for delaying tax relief."

The president's statement was the first official estimate of the budget situation since his message to congress last January estimated a deficit for this fiscal year of $2,300,000,000.

What he called the "sharp improvement" resulted, he said, from holding expenditures below earlier expectations, even to the point of off-setting increases in "refunds, terminal leave payments and international payments" which exceeded earlier estimates.

"It is now estimated that expenditures will amount to about $41,250,000,000 in the fiscal year, or $1,250,000,000 lower than the estimate last January, the president said. Receipts were estimated at $42,500,000,000.

The president expressed regret that price increases had contributed to the improved budgetary situation, sending revenues ahead of earlier estimates by $2,300,000,000.

Mr. Truman's 500-word statement said he had carried out his resolve to balance the budget and provide for the reduction of the public debt.

"A good start has been made on this objective by bringing the debt down from its all-time peak of almost $280,000,000,000 to the present level of $258,000,000,000," he continued.

"The soundness of our policies in managing the debt is evident from the fact that almost all the reduction to date has occurred in the holdings of federal securities by banks. But the most important thing we can do in debt management today is to continue to reduce the debt as rapidly as possible."

Pigtails in Politics

COME RAIN OR SHINE, one-hundred co-eds on campus will be campaigning for Paul Van Order this week without cramping their hair style. Churchill Sees War, Wallace Tells Norse

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Henry A. Wallace declared last night that it was "a great source of sorrow to me" that Winston Churchill was not fighting for peace.

The former American cabinet officer told 1,000 Norwegian trades union leaders that Churchill "dare not confess publicly the private convictions of his group that war is inevitable."

"Peace is not something passive," Wallace said. "Since peace is a fighting cause, it is a source ain's great fighting leader cannot use his genius in fighting for peace."

"This great man says I will not reveal my ultimate goal. I say he dare not confess publicly the private convictions of his group that war is inevitable."

Two Killed In IC Wreck

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Central's City of Miami streamliner was wrecked near here yesterday, killing two crew members and injuring 99 passengers, 21 of whom required hospitalization.

E.C. Slingman, Illinois Central division chief dispatcher here, said "something went wrong" with the electrical switching system.

Slingman estimated the all-coach train, bound from Chicago to Miami, Fla., was going 75 miles an hour.

He said that although the remotely controlled switch was set for a crossover from one track to another, a block signal, synchronized with the switch, apparently gave the train crew no warning of the crossover.

Hunt for Blast Dead Continues in Texas

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP)—Sullen fires casting smoke shadows over tired Texas City crews burned today as rescue efforts combed beaches and probed haunted ruins of huge plants for more bodies.

Scores were found at the Monsanto Chemical Corp. plant, searched for the second day as it smoldered. Eight more were recovered from the water where the Grandcamp exploded four days ago and set off the chain of blasts that killed an estimated 580 and injured 3,000 others.

Eleven miles away, in Galveston, the coast guard continued its investigation into the cause of the initial explosion that eventually resulted in the sinking of the Grandcamp, the Wilson B. Keene and the High Flyer; in the destruction of the multimillion dollar Monsanto plant; in damage and destruction to other industries and stores and homes.

Plan Caucus Monday Night

An all-party caucus to be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow on the west approach to Old Capitol will give candidates for student council a chance to get more votes.

Tailfeathers, campus pep organization, will make a round of housing units before the caucus to rouse the students to attend. Elections will be the next day.

Candidates for the offices of delegates-at-large to student council and for offices of town men's and town women's delegates to the council will each have four minutes to speak. Some plan vote-getting stunts, Pat Richards of the council's election committee said.

In case of rain the caucus will be canceled, Dick Yoakam of the election committee said.

Richards said the caucus cannot be held in Macbride hall as last year because it is reserved for Kampus Kapers, campus show, now in rehearsal.

Cabmen to Present Case Against Fee

Local taxi owners and drivers will meet tomorrow with the city council to air their protests against a $2 license fee for cab drivers taking effect May 1 under a new city ordinance.

Vincent Shalla, cab company owner and spokesman for a delegation of taxi men who attended last Monday's council meeting, said at that time that drivers of other "commercial vehicles" should also be required to buy the licenses.

Councilmen agreed to call a meeting with the taxi drivers to hear their grievance and reach a solution. Tomorrow's conference is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the City hall's council chambers. The ordinance in question was passed last Feb. 10.

Labor Unions Plan Protests Against Anti-Closed Shop Bill

DES MOINES (AP)—Labor union officials throughout Iowa yesterday moved ahead with plans for a large-scale work stoppage and mass demonstration tomorrow against anti-closed shop bill scheduled to come before the Iowa house of representatives.

As union officials in various Iowa cities announced plans for motorcades to Des Moines ranging up to 1,000 cars in length, public officials took preliminary steps to arrange crowd and traffic control. Estimates of the anticipated crowd ran into the thousands.

State union heads asserted the demonstration was "spontaneous," that it was not a strike, and said essential public services and utilities would be kept in operation. There are about 160,000 AFL and 40,000 CIO members in Iowa.

Rep. Carl Burkman (R-Des Moines), chief sponsor of an amendment to add more power to the closed shop proposal which already has passed the state senate declared:

"This demonstration is definitely one of intimidation and this legislature will not be intimidated."

A. T. Stephens, district director of the United Packinghouse Workers (CIO), said reports from rank and file UPWA members indicated that "all 23 (packing) plants (in Iowa) affecting over 15,000 workers will be closed Monday." He said he had asked all locals to take precautions to see there was no meat spoilage.

"Monday will see one of the largest rank and file demonstrations in the history of our union," Stephens said in a statement.

"Locals have informed me that men, women and children are coming to Des Moines by cars, chartered buses and trains to watch the legislators attempt to slaughter us . . .

"There will be no signs of anything like a strike around packing-house plants. There will be no signs and no pickets."

In virtually every large industrial city in Iowa union officials held meeting yesterday or scheduled sessions for today to discuss what action they would take in connection with the demonstration.

Labor leaders said, however, that they had heard no discussion of any possibility that the demonstration might last longer than a single day.

Ben Henry, Iowa-Nebraska CIO director, added however: "If the house should postpone action Monday, I believe the boys would stay with them."

A. A. Couch, state federation of labor president (AFL), said that on the basis of calls he had been receiving from locals all over the state "a one-day work stoppage seems to be in the making."

In Des Moines a considerable curtailment of business and industry was in prospect for tomorrow. Announced union plans included these:

The 500 members of the Retail Clerks union (AFL), in a decision affecting many grocery stores and some drug and miscellaneous stores, decided not to work tomorrow. Most of the larger retail stores apparently will be unaffected.

The 2,000 members of the Truckers union (AFL), which includes drivers for food wholesalers and retailers, furniture stores, coal and ice dealers, city garbage collectors and others will not work.

The 1,230 members of the AFL Carpenters union will take a holiday tomorrow.

The 350 members of AFL painters local will take a holiday.

Iowa Power and Light company employees will join the demonstration but electric and gas service will be provided.

Bread and milk trucks and taxicabs probably will not operate although definite arrangements had not been completed.

Streetcars and curblineers will halt from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Union officials said special arrangements were being made to provide essential services including bread and milk deliveries to hospitals.

Reports from over the state indicated a somewhat similar pattern, in other large Iowa cities although in some of them the degree of unionization is less marked than in Des Moines.

Report Agreement On Steel Wages; Telegraph Strike Off

Reports were circulated yesterday that a wage agreement had been reached between the CIO United Steelworkers and the United States Steel corporation.

At the same time, the threat of a nationwide strike of Western Union employees was averted, but no break was evident in another communications dispute, the nationwide telephone walk-out.

Although reports of the steel wage agreement lacked official confirmation, the business news agency Dow Jones & company said the agreement had been reported by "usually authoritative circles."

The reports stemmed from discussions between Philip Murray, CIO president, and John A. Stephens, vice-president of the steel corporation.

Dow Jones said the settlement generally fits the pattern of the increases granted CIO United Electrical workers by General Motors corporation and Westinghouse Electric corporation, or the equivalent of 15 cents an hour.

Neither the union nor the corporation would comment on the reported settlement.

Meanwhile, western union officials announced they had reached an agreement with the AFL Commercial Telegraphers union, granting employees a five-cent hourly wage boost and other benefits.

At the same time, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the striking telephone unions federation, the National Federation of Telephone workers, urged "government pressure" against strikebound telephone companies to induce them to make a wage offer paralleling increases in other industries.

In New York, the AFL United Financial Employees union announced it has postponed its Wall street strike, which had been set for 10 a.m. Monday.

Dr. Cullen Accepts Medical Mission To Austria, Hungary

Dr. Stuart C. Cullen has accepted an invitation to participate in a three-month medical mission to Austria and Hungary, according to University hospital officials.

Chairman of the division of anesthesiology at University hospital, Dr. Cullen was one of 10 American, Canadian and Swiss scientists and physicians invited.

The mission is sponsored by the United Nations World Health organization and the Unitarian Service committee.

Purpose of the mission is to acquaint the medica Ipession and college of medicine faculties in those countries with medical advances developed during the war.

The group plans to leave June 26 and return about mid-September. Dr. Cullen said yesterday he did not know names of the other scientists invited.

Dr. E. D. Plass, head of the obstetrics and gynecology department, went on a similar mission last summer to Czechoslovakia.

PELLA GIRL WINS IOWA SPELLING BEE

DES MOINES (AP)—Marilla Vander Meulen, a 14-year-old Pella girl who likes to read Shakespeare for relaxation, was Iowa's new spelling champion yesterday.

She correctly spelled "hydrangeas" and "paralleling" to win the title in the Register and Tribune's twenty-second annual spelling bee, after a close last-minute bout with Herbert E. Hammer, 13, of St. Joseph, the second place winner.

Australian Engineer Compares Notes During Visit Here

High esteem for a University of Iowa professor brought an Australian visitor here this week.

G. W. Stranaghan, a management engineer of Sidney and Melbourne, said he came to Iowa City primarily to talk to Prof. Ralph M. Barnes of the mechanical engineering department. He said Barnes is well-known and highly regarded in Australian engineering circles because of his work in time and motion and wage incentive studies.

More Students There, Too Stranaghan is borrowing some time from his business trip in this country to visit some of our colleagues. He had already been to the University of California, Stanford University, California Tech and UCLA before coming here and plans to visit Massachusetts Institute of Technology and possibly Purdue on his rip to the east coast.

Comparing the crowded conditions of Australian and American universities, Stranaghan indicated that conditions are about the same in the two countries. He said his alma mater, Melbourne university, has doubled its enrollment since he was a student there.

Australian "G.I. Bill" Australia has its own "G.I. bill" which, although not as liberal as ours, grants some educational benefits to its veterans, Stranaghan said.

He is somewhat concerned that his pronunciation (he sounds his "a's" as we do our "i's") causes us confusion.

Stranaghan explained he has no trouble with our speech because Australians are "reared on a diet" of American moving pictures.

OF CABBAGES AND KINGS Republican Party Has Rebel Trouble

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS Daily Iowan Columnist. POLITICAL POTPURRI: Senator George Aiken, the Republican "young Turk" from Vermont, really laid it on the line in a speech to his party colleagues Friday... the GOP has very little chance of victory in 1948 as things now stand, said the New Englander, and he believes that the only two presidential possibilities who will even stand a look-in against Harry Truman 19 months hence are Harold Stassen or Thomas E. Dewey...

We're Asking Our Government to Be Big

To most Americans the phrase Big Government, which has come into common usage in recent years, connotes something distasteful, something to be feared and fought. The average American will oppose any move which he feels infringes upon his rights and freedoms. And big government is pretty generally thought of as presenting a threat to those rights and freedoms which we all hold so dear.

Iowan Can't 'Reflect' Student Opinion—Gordin

TO THE DAILY IOWAN: I was startled to read in The Daily Iowan that several candidates for the board of student publications have declared that the Iowan should reflect student opinion. As a candidate for the Board of Publications, I wish to make clear my position on this point.

All Campus Congress Explained by Heckt

TO THE DAILY IOWAN: As a candidate for delegate at large to the Student Council, I would like to explain a plan which would supplement and accentuate student government on the Iowa campus. This plan is not original but rather one which has been utilized on other campuses and has resulted in making student councils more effective.

Ex-Council Secretary Tells Needs of Group

TO THE DAILY IOWAN: During the year which I spent as executive secretary of the immediate forerunner of the council, the student committee on student affairs, and during the year during which I served as the first president of the council, I had ample opportunity to observe a few of the things that are more than necessary and indeed imperative to the successful working of such student groups.

Research in physics, medicine and engineering going on constantly in university laboratories is another job President Hancher thinks is part of the university's duty to its stockholders.

He says he believes that such research as the physicists' work in atomic energy, the doctors' experiments with curare as a possible cure for infantile paralysis and the engineers' work in hydraulics can eventually help solve the international problems of hunger, poverty, ignorance and disease.

Running a university that's educating 10,000 students is a big business. It's a business so big and complicated that few people know how it really works. A commerce student who comes here to get training as a public accountant isn't likely to find out that a hundred yards away under the physics building other students are doing advance research work in "splitting atoms."

Here in Iowa, the boys around the political cracker barrels are busy speculating about the 1948 Republican senatorial nomination

George Wilson's six-year term expires next year and there still seems to be some doubt as to whether or not he will seek reelection... Governor Robert Blue, say the rumor-mongers, would like a seat in the U.S. senate, so a behind-the-scenes arrangement between the Wilson and Blue camps is almost certain to be worked out before the GOP primary next spring...

A possible cause for Ohio Senator Robert Taft's sudden drop in popularity, as reflected in the national public opinion polls, may be the fact that his leadership on the senate labor committee, of which he is chairman, has been rebuked several times by members of his own party...

Mr. Hancher is the man whose ideas and background in practical knowledge give the university's program direction. University policy is based on his decisions. But to men under him he has delegated powers that affect the education students get here. The units these men direct will be discussed in other articles of this series.

We Need Facts on Fascism Too

One of the most alarming things about the current up-roar over the activities of the American Communists is the possibility that we may become completely blinded to other dangers that exist in our democracy. It will gain us little, for example, if in our eagerness to bar the front door against the Communists we allow the fascists to sneak in the back door. There has been considerable argument, especially on the philosophical level, as to whether communism or fascism presents the greater danger. We happen to think there is more danger of an American version of fascism taking root in this country. But the important thing to remember is that there is not just one threat but two threats. And the difference is only relative, depending upon the point of view. At the present time there seems a startling tendency to emphasize the danger of communism to an exaggerated point while the danger of fascism is either ignored or denied. Something like this has happened in the case of two pamphlets prepared by the Library of Congress. One brochure entitled "Communism in Action" is a carefully documented, objective study. It affords the public the basis of a better understanding of the workings of Marxist ideology and is a far cry from the loosely drawn reports by the un-American activities committee. In fact, the house administration committee considered the information so vital that they have ordered a sec-

Minority Problem Caused by Fear of U.S. Becoming Europeanized, Says Professor

Fear of the United States becoming Europeanized is one of the major causes for minority problems, Bessie L. Pierce, professor of history in the University of Chicago, said yesterday at the final session of the 25th annual history conference.

"The 38 million foreigners received into this country in the past 100 years have raised these fears," she explained. "Frequently such prejudices are judgements we pass before we have experience, or we clothe a group with the dislike or distrust we have directed toward an individual," she said.

Miss Pierce explained that children seldom have these prejudices unless taught them by their elders. She said that it is possible to modify them through the study of history which can demonstrate well that all peoples have made a contribution to the history of mankind.

These remarks came after Miss Pierce had outlined the period of American history from 1850 to the present in which she reflected changes in transportation, manufacturing, mining and agriculture. "The chief forces of this period are economic," she said. "It is characterized by rapid industrialization, the extension of the principles of organization in all areas of endeavor, urbanization and rural dislocation, the accumulation of surplus wealth, concentration of nationalism and patriotic fervor," she explained.

"We, as teachers, must try to understand and to interpret this period. Our failure to do so means an ignorant society and eventual national destruction, or at least obloquy. Had we done a better job in the past perhaps some of our national distresses might have been avoided," she said.

In the final lecture of the history conference, Walter L. Daykin, professor of labor economics declared that an open mind is essential to the solution of labor problems.

"Understanding the situation as it exists is necessary before labor problems can be solved. A prerequisite to understanding is an attitude of neutrality," Daykin said. "I don't think they can be solved by hate campaigns," he added.

Labor legislation was described by Daykin as always being an attempt to equalize the power of labor and management. He declared that congress has failed to strike a balance between the two powers.

The conference was sponsored by the university's history department, extension division, college of education and the graduate college. It was attended by teachers of history and social studies from schools and colleges in Iowa and neighboring states.

TWO QUADS DIE

ECCLES, Eng. (AP)—Two of the quadruplets prematurely born early yesterday morning to Mrs. Marian Lowe, 38, died late yesterday, and doctors said there was little hope that one of the remaining two, a girl, would survive. The doctors announced the death of a boy and a girl.

University Brides-to-Be

MR. AND MRS. J.J. SEYDEL, 630 S. Capitol street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Alyce Loretta, to Arthur Logan Saunders Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Saunders of Chicago. Miss Seydel is employed by Sears Roebuck and Co. and her fiancé is working with the A. B. Dick Printing Co. in Chicago. The wedding will take place April 26 in St. Patrick's church.

MR. AND MRS. A.W. MOELLER of Somers announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary A., to K.W. Statler, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Statler of Keota. Miss Moeller and her fiancé are both seniors at the University of Iowa. The wedding will take place June 29 in Iowa City.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS BEING MADE of the engagement and approaching marriage of Ninon Virginia Ganso, daughter of Mrs. Enell Ganso, New York City, to Robert S. Homes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Homes, New York City. Miss Ganso, whose father was an art professor at the university in 1941, is a sophomore in the college of liberal arts. Her fiancé is a sophomore in the college of medicine. The wedding will take place in June.

3 Years' Time Loss Students Watch Found After Long Wait

Einer M. Juel, university student, will have his watch back April 24 — three years after he reported it missing here. It is in Cedar Rapids.

On March 6, 1944 Juel told police that his yellow gold Hamilton wristwatch was taken from a shelf in Iowa Union.

April 16, police said yesterday, they received a letter from William J. Kudrna, Cedar Rapids detective, saying that the watch, inscribed with Juel's name, had been located in a pawn shop.

Kudrna related to police here that the watch had been pawned for $17.50 by a Cedar Rapids painter April 8, 1947.

The painter told Cedar Rapids detectives that he was a former university watchman and that on one of his rounds he found the watch on the ground near the art building. He told them that it was badly broken.

When the watch went unclaimed, the painter had it repaired, police here added. Juel, who lives at 1104 E. Burlington, will go to Cedar Rapids to claim it, police said.

Piano Selections Highlight Program

Piano selections from "Childhood", a suite written by Prof. Jacques Jolaf of the Cornell college music conservatory, Mt. Vernon, were played by Mrs. Jolaf on the Daughters of the American Revolution radio program over WSUI yesterday morning.

"Cantique d'amour" and "Caprice", two other original compositions by Prof. Jolaf, were sung by Frances Kacervosky, accompanied by Frances Swoboda at the piano. Both are music students at Cornell.

Professor Jolaf will play the "Ravel Concerto for Left Hand" with the Chicago Symphony at the Cornell May Festival, May 3. He was festival soloist with the Symphony in 1936, playing the Beethoven "G Major Concerto" with Dr. Frederick Stock.

The program, one of a series of original compositions by Iowans, was given by the Pilgrim chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Paul Shaw is chairman of the series.

Spanish Visitor Confers With Faculty on Statistics

Prof. Enrique Blanco, head of the statistics department at the University of Madrid, Spain, was in Iowa City this week, conferring with Professors A. T. Craig and Lloyd A. Knowler of the mathematics department and Dean Francis Dawson of the college of engineering.

Their discussions centered on statistical work done here with emphasis on quality control by statistical methods, according to Knowler.

Blanco is also visiting various Iowa manufacturing companies. He left Thursday for a trip to the Shaeffer Pen company in Fort Madison, but may return to Iowa City later.

Before the council can take action, it must be delegated more power. I will fight to obtain these powers. A vote for me will stand for:

- 1. I. D. cards for nurses and privileges for student wives.
2. Student representation on university committees.
3. Student voice in arrangement of important lectures and social functions.

Say Job Possibilities 'Excellent'

Speakers Cite Value Of College Training

By CARL ARP

Speakers at the recent business careers conference agree that employment possibilities for college graduates are from "excellent" to "good" now and are likely to remain so for some time to come, according to a poll made by The Daily Iowan during the conference.

The following questions were asked:

What are the chances of a college graduate for employment in your industry today? What are the probabilities of employment next year?

Has your college education benefited you or lack of one hindered you, in any specific manner?

Do you believe specialization or general education best prepares a college student for a business career?

If you entered college today as a freshman what would you study to prepare yourself for a career? How would you go about getting a job if you were to graduate in June?

What is your evaluation of the business careers conference?

J. S. Storm, secretary-treasurer of the Collins Radio Co., and Eugene McGuire, manager of the retail advertising department of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, said employment possibilities were "good." Iver Brecht, traffic manager of the Grain Processing corporation, remarked, "The employment outlook is very good in the field of traffic today. My prediction is it will be as good a year from now."

King Herr, secretary of the Interstate Finance corporation, and Robert Mandelbaum, assistant personnel manager of Younker's department store in Des Moines, both answered "excellent."

Value of Education
All questioned agreed upon the value of a college education from the point of view of getting facts, getting polish and learning how to meet people.

Robert Mandelbaum said, "My college education has greatly benefited me, not so much from the stand point of factual information, but more from the stand point of training my thinkg proscesses. A college education can not be measured in terms of dollars and cents." One speaker remarked that not having a college education had hindered his promotions.

The need for a broad general education was stressed by all speakers. Eugene McGuire recommended "about 75 percent general education and 25 percent specialization." Courses deemed essential by the speakers were economics, English literature, mathematics and science courses.

Iver Brecht had this to say about getting a job:

"Decide your type of work, pick out the location and environment you wish to live in and get the information regarding employment managers, industries, etc., from the Chamber of Commerce. Then write letters of application and follow them up if necessary. If you can't get the job you want take a job in that company and get acquainted with the party you wish to work for. By all means if you have any connections with specific companies take advantage of this if it is in your field."

The applicants' need for alertness and initiative were prominently mentioned by the speakers.

Pleased With Audience

Remarking on the conference, Frank Warner, secretary of the Iowa Bankers association, remarked, "I was very much pleased with the thoughtful and studious attention that the young men and women in the audience gave." Other comments were: "Very Valuable," "Excellent," "Wish there had been one when I graduated," "A fine thing," and "A practicable approach to a difficult problem."

With the exception of one speaker who said he would take a course in medicine if he were to go to college again, all questioned said they would follow substantially the same courses they took in college before.

More Power, More Action Wanted in Student Council

"What would you like to see student council do next year?" nine students were asked yesterday.

Marjorie Miller, A3 of Hillsboro: "To be 'the organization' on campus. More contact between students and the groups they represent."

Wayne R. Ames, C3 of Charles City: "I believe it should be stronger and more representative of the whole student body. Last year I didn't hear of anything they did. They should pay more attention to their duties and less to the publicity and honor of being on the council."

Marion Vander Velden, A1 of Monroe: "Have closer cooperation between racial groups. They can't do anything about these barriers in town refusing them hair cuts, but they can have a closer tie-up between these groups." John E. Perdock, A2 of Washington, Iowa: "I'd like to see them get more power. This student council has less power than any other council of the big 9. I heard that the other day on authority. Specifically? They should have some say in the selection of professors and on the ousting of them."

Beth L. Wilson, P2 of Iowa City: "One thing for sure, the pharmlcs should be represented. It seems that the liberal arts students take over on something like that. I can't think of anything that's drastically wrong."

Sal Lennarson, C3 of Gowrie, "primarily, I'd like to see them get a little more power. Right now it seems more like an honor job than any thing else."

Richard W. Erdenberge, A1 of Mason City: "Frankly, I don't even know what the student council is. I've heard of it, but I don't know what they're supposed to do."

Grace H. Harvey, G of San Francisco, Cal.: "I don't know anything about student politics. I'm not interested in that sort of thing. I go to class and study and that's all."

Wayne E. Amdor, A2 of LeRoy, Ill.: "Oh, I don't know. I'd like to see them do something about getting the wives into games and plays."

Iowa Rally Sweeps Purdue Series 5-4

Hawk Speed Brings Two Runs In Eighth Inning Uprising

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—After trailing 4-0 at the end of four innings yesterday, Iowa hitters began pecking away at a pair of Purdue hurlers to squeeze out a 5-4 decision and sweep the two game series.

Lefty Jack Bruner had a rough time for three innings, but then settled down to whitewash the Boilermakers for the last six frames. He allowed six hits.

The Hawkeyes won the game in the eighth inning. Behind 4-3 with one out Everett drew a walk. Don Martin poked a single to center and hustled on to second as Everett slid into third under Anderson's throw.

Lyle Ebner, Iowa catcher, then laid down a squeeze bunt and Everett raced in with the tying run. Martin was trapped off third on the play when he rounded the bag too far, but in the rundown he slid back into third safely.

Purdue got off to an early lead with Shortstop Johnny Galvin leading the attack. He smashed out a double in the first inning to score Martin from first base and scored himself on Aders single.

The Riveters scored another pair in the third as Galvin caught hold of one of Bruner's lefthanded slants and poked it for a homer again scoring Martin ahead of him.

Iowa's first two runs were accounted for in the fifth off Ivy Claxman. Purdue's starting pitcher, Singles by Bruner and McCarty, plus a streak of wildness by Claxman, pushed across the markers. The Hawks added another in the sixth on

LEFTY JACK BRUNER

Bruner then won his own game by besting out an infield hit while Martin was crossing the plate with that proved to be the deciding tally.

It seemed probable midway through the tilt that the umpires would be forced to call the game because of wind and rain. At that time Purdue was leading 4-2. But the weather got better and so did Iowa.

Cubs Turn Sluggers To Stop Cards 7-1 As Chipman Pitches

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, who had scored but two runs in their first three games of the season, finally found their batting eyes yesterday and pounded out a 7-1 victory over the World Champion Cardinals.

What started out like a south-paw pitching duel between Bob Chipman and Al Brazle ended in the seventh when the Cubs shelled the tall Oklahoman from the mound with a four-hit attack, including doubles by Phil Cavarretta and Bill Nicholson.

Murry Dickson stopped that assault, but the Cubs added another run in the ninth off Ken Burkhardt. Andy Pafko scored four runs for the Cubs, although failing to make a hit. He walked twice, was hit by a pitched ball once and reached first on forceout in the first inning. He stole second and tallied on Marty Marion's error.

Everett's double and a wild throw. This ran the score to 4-3 and set the stage for the eighth inning rally off relief twirler Mel Henson.

The victory left Iowa at the top of the Big Nine with an unblemished record in conference play. Next opposition for the Hawkeyes will be the Badgers of Wisconsin who come to Iowa City for a two game series next Friday and Saturday.

In other Big Nine games Saturday Illinois handed Ohio State its first defeat 9-1 while Minnesota to Northwestern was rained out.

Korea Distance Star Tops Boston Marathon

BOSTON (AP)—The small and wiry Yun Bok Su, a 24-year-old student at the University of Korea, out-ran a brilliant international field of 156 yesterday to win the Boston A.A. Marathon by two-thirds of a mile from Finland's Mikko Hietanen while setting a new course record of two hours, 25 minutes, 39 seconds.

That pair hit the man-killing stretch of Newton Hills running shoulder to shoulder and the Korean, member of a three-man team financed by the U.S. Army's occupational forces, ate them up after a slight mishap on a fall.

But that injury did not prevent him from pulling away from his capable Finnish rival on each of the ring of hills and he had the race all wrapped up five miles from the finish line.

Tuft college's star distance performer, Ted Vogel, finished third, Gerry Cote of Montreal, a two-time winner, fourth, and Ab Morton of Galt, Ont., fifth.

Giants Trip Bums 4-3

NEW YORK (AP)—Home runs by Johnny Mize and Billy Rigney plus some fancy relief pitching by Bill Voiselle enabled the New York Giants to make it two in a row over the Brooklyn Dodgers when they defeated their interborough rivals 4-3 before 52,355 cash customers yesterday yesterday. Robinson collected three hits in four trips to the plate.

Cards' Owner, Bidwill, Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—Charles W. Bidwill, 51 year old millionaire sportsman, died of pneumonia yesterday in the midst of apparently fulfilling a crowning ambition—building his bedraggled Chicago Cardinals into a national football league champion.

The free-spending Bidwill, owning a sports realm that also extended to two Chicago race tracks and four Florida dog tracks, died under an oxygen tent four days after being stricken.

Bidwill, a man of legendary generosity who was rightfully called "goodtime Charley" last winter had signed Charley Trippi, Georgia all-American halfback for a $100,000 four-year contract. The signing was marked by the biggest professional football ballyhoo since the days of Red Grange.

Lanier Breaks Away From Mexican Loop

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Lefty Max Lanier, whose sudden jump to the Mexican league early last season had a direct effect on the much-sought after improvement of player conditions in the major league, said last night that he was through dickering with the powers-that-be in Mexico.

He added that he was open to offers from semi-pro clubs in the states that might be interested in his pitching prowess. "I'm well fixed financially but I sure do want to stay in baseball," Max told a reporter last night. "I won't take a cut in salary to play in the Mexican league and I've contacted Jorge Pasquel my last time in the matter."

Hawklet Baseball Team Finds Waterloo Rough

Iowa City's Hawklet baseball team found the combination of rain and the East Waterloo nine too much yesterday and bowed 3-2 in a game called in the fourth inning.

On Friday the Hawklets lost a 1-0 game to West Waterloo as Deibler pitched a no-run, no-hit game. Doran hurled for Iowa City and allowed five hits. The run was unearned.

Iowa Golfers Rained Out

The scheduled golf match yesterday between Iowa and Illinois was called-off yesterday after the first flight had completed their first nine holes playing most of the time in rain.

Coach Kennett said yesterday that he didn't know if a future meet between the two teams could be planned as both squads face a full schedule.

Sports Shots

By Bob Collins

Just in case there was any question about it, the appointment of Burt Shotton as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers means that Leo Durocher will be back at the helm next season. It also may well mean that the old horse-trader, Branch Rickey, is going to take a more active part in field direction of the beloved Burns than heretofore. In any case Shotton is an old buddy of Rickey's and a member of the former St. Louis Cardinal co-prosperity sphere which Rickey set up.

The Dodgers are essentially a youthful block despite the veteran scattered throughout the starting lineup. Back of the club is a string of farm clubs which are well-stocked with youthful talent and which produced an impressive list of minor league championships last season. Shotton is about as good a developer of such players as one could find at a moment's notice and Rickey may have pulled another master stroke which will pay dividends in future years.

The fact that Shotton served a five-year hitch with the Phillies is hardly a recommendation and neither is his age pegged at about 45 years. But what stands out on the record is his work as manager of the Columbus and Rochester clubs of the Cardinal farm system in the late 30's.

Shotton won't inspire the Brooklyn faithful to new heights but he may instill a certain element of respectability and good taste which has been missing. Then after a year, let Mr. Durocher return. Time cures all things according to the oracles and perhaps Lippy Leo may gain wisdom with age and return a more mellow and agreeable individual. The Dodgers of '48, having profited by Shotton's knack of cultivation, may be all the ammunition Durocher would need to sweep the circuit. Then, what appeared a week ago to be a Brooklyn catastrophe may turn out to be a blessing.

There's always a lot of talk about the relative merits of college baseball as compared with semi-pro and professional play. This despite the legend of players who have graduated from college ranks into high-class leagues and made good. This year a couple of the Big Nine teams scheduled warmup games with professional teams of the Three-Eye, Class C league, and the results were a revelation. Purdue walloped Evansville, last year's league champion, and Illinois cuffed Danville. Just where Iowa fits into the picture or how they would fare in similar games is a question. But the 6-1 and 5-4 wins over the Boilermakers make it appear that the Hawks are as good a Class C team as one would want to find.

PERSONAL

Dear Joe and Jane:

The wonderful turnout for Alexander Nevsky was very heart warming. You know it's fun to be able to do what little we can for such an appreciative audience. So thanks for a grand evening (or morning?) We enjoyed being hosts.

Some think we have to give you a buildup on Carmen. It is one of the finest films to come to this country. We screened it last Sunday and the reviewers had nothing but praise. Sorry we must raise the admission to 50c. It's necessary on some of these new foreign pictures if we are to play them before they are a year or two old.

...New York charged $1.85 and Chicago will open at $1.50 for the same picture. We feel you'd like to see them now while they are the topic of discussion in all cinema circles and reviewed currently in Time, Life and New Yorker.

Stop in and let us know how you liked Carmen.

Vivian Romance Puts Zip into a Carmen Who is Fiery, Beautiful in French Film

By Dot Spalding

Iowa City has been very fortunately struck by a wave of European movie culture.

"Henry V" and "Ivan the Terrible" have set a hard pace, but there's one coming that has star-gazing approval from all the big-town critics in New York.

It's "Carmen," opening today at the Capitol. In the pre-showing a week ago, we found Carmen—the cigarette girl who lured men to their deaths without a flicker of remorse—a Carmen more real than any who have decorated the American opera or screen in a decade. We can't check back to the days of Geraldine Farrar, but we'd gamble this new Carmen, Vivian Romance, could out-do all the greats who have claimed the role.

The picture belongs to Vivian Romance from the very beginning. She's fiery, vivacious, beautiful, ruthless—adjectives which go for the entire film.

"Carmen" puts to shame again our Hollywood adaptations of the classics in literature. It has brilliant settings, high speed emotion, violence, and the shades of the mystic which underwrite the gypsy story of a wild greedy hussy who plays her role to the hilt. The movie is based upon Proper Merimees novel from which the opera is taken. Highlights of Bizet's opera score are used as musical background.

The cast of supporting actors includes a handsome newcomer from Italy, Jean Marais, who plays Don Jose with the sultry torment of a man unable to escape the spell of the bewitching Carmen. "One-Eye," Carmen's gypsy husband, is played by Licien Coedel, who makes his role as sweaty, ugly, crude and brutish as a tribal chief's should be.

The whole picture is vigorously well done. Fast-moving

English underlines keep the story under control, although if you know French you'll get more for your money because the English takes the edge off some very sharp dialogue.

The film overflows with life and vitality—with enough left over for two or three Hollywood duds.

OFF TO PHYS ED CONVENTION

Prof. Gladys Scott of the women's physical education department and Marjorie Wilson, associate in physiology, will take part in the program of the American Association for Health Physical Education and Recreation convention in Seattle, April 21 to 6.

Asks Subsidy For Artists

"A government subsidy for the arts is the most important aid that can be given professional artists," Robert Gwathmey said yesterday.

The visiting professional artist, from New York, was one of a three-man panel discussing "The Education of the Professional Artist," as a part of the art conference yesterday and today.

Representing art educators were Prof. Edwin Ziegfeld, head of the fine arts department at the Columbia university teachers college, and Prof. L. D. Longman, University of Iowa art department head.

All three men brought out the fact that the romantic concept of an artist is not consistent with facts.

Ziegfeld cited specialization as one of the greatest ills in art education. He said it should be approached in the same way as specialization in other fields. He pointed out that education for a professional artist should be flexible.

Ziegfeld explained that it is possible to get an education in art outside a university, but that a university is one of the easier ways of obtaining it.

Gwathmey agreed with this point of view and went on to say, "A real university has to have an art school."

"It is outrageous when an artist says he just 'pours out art,'" the New York professional said. "An artist absolutely cannot paint in a vacuum."

The panel concluded that an artist cannot expect the world to understand his work if he does not understand the world.
