GOOD MORNING, IOWA CITY!

Mostly cloudy with scattered thunderstorms today and tonight.

HOUSE PASSES STIFFER LABOR LAW

Bill Outlawing Closed Shop Passed, 74-31

Provides for Stronger Enforcing, Injunctions Against Violating Bans

DES MOINES (AP)—A bitterly contested proposal to ban the closed shop in Iowa won approval of the house of representatives by a vote of 74 to 31 late yesterday afternoon.

After a day and a half of heated arguments and many maneuvers, a measure more restrictive than one passed previously by the senate was sent back to the upper chamber for agreement in the changes.

After the house went into its second day on the measure, proponents and opponents agreed during a late afternoon recess to clear the decks so that final action could be taken before adjournment for the day.

The result was that dozens of amendments were withdrawn, scores of members waived their previous requests to speak on the bill and the climax came earlier because of the agreement.

The windup came after one amendment was defeated and the substitute bill was adopted as an amendment. The amendment defeated was by Rep. Harold F. Nelson (R-Sioux City) and it proposed banning injunctions in labor disputes.

Retains Bans
The measure as passed by the house retains the bans on the closed shop, union shop and check off which were part of the senate bill. The substitute, however, provided for injunctions against violations of the bans, would strengthen enforcement, and make the measure effective upon enactment because new labor contracts are now being negotiated.

Those who spoke against the bill were Reps. Carroll L. Brown (R-Rose Hill), Amy M. Bloom (R-Dayton), Albert G. Olson (R-Osage), John L. Duffy (D-Dubuque), J. E. Hansen (D-Dedham), Edna C. Lawrence (R-Ottumwa), Norman Norland (D-Kensett), Arnold Utzig (D-Dubuque), Clifford M. Strawman (R-Anamosa), Andrew J. Nielsen (R-Council Bluffs), Hugh W. Lundy (R-Albia), Ted Sloane (R-Des Moines), and William S. Beardsley (R-New Virginia).

Speaking for the measure were Reps. Harry E. Weichman (R-Newhall), N. F. Hicklin (R-Wapello), Walter F. Noble (R-Missouri Valley), William S. Lynes (R-Waverly), W. R. Fimmen (R-Blomfield), George B. Kester (R-Tingley), and Carl A. Burkman (R-Des Moines). It was Burkman who along with six others introduced the substitute bill as an amendment.

Kuester Excused
Speaker G. T. Kuester (R-Grisswald), was excused by unanimous consent of the house from voting on the bill after Beardsley requested such permission with the explanation that the action was taken "because our speaker has been fair and impartial in his rulings on the measure." These included one this morning for which Kuester called a one-hour recess in order to get an opinion from the attorney general's office.

Kuester twice during the final arguments shut off remarks which he declared to be on personalities and insisted that he speakers confine themselves to the issues in the bill.

Here are some of the statements made in the final arguments, which followed defeat or elimination of all of upwards of 40 amendments except the Durkman proposal:

Brown—"Any action should come from Washington (where a generally similar measure is before congress)."

Bloom—"There has been much said about the mandate given by the people in the last election. It was not a mandate, however, to lower the standards of the working people." (Gov. Robert D. Blue has been quoted as saying that because labor interests attempted unsuccessfully to defeat him and other Republican nominees in last year's election that that was a mandate from the people for restrictive labor legislation.)

Norland—Referring to the governor, Norland quoted from Blue's biennial address to the legislature (See LABOR page 7)

Wilkinson, Van Order, Gutz, Benson, Doty, McFarland Win Positions on Student Council

3,573 Vote In Elections

Pick Brooks, Dinning O'Brien for Student Board of Publications

By JOHN McDONOUGH
Fourteen candidates for student government survived from a field of 58 last night a day of voting which brought forth 3,573 voters in the university's heaviest elections.

Leading Melvin Heckt by seven votes in the day's closest election, Paul Van Order won election as men's delegate-at-large to student council along with Herb Wilkinson.

Women delegates-at-large are Janet Gutz and Beverly Benson. Student Publications board of trustees winners are Lester Brooks, Jack O'Brien and Steve Dinning. Town men delegate is Robert L. Doty. Town women delegate is Catherine McFarland.

Herb Wilkinson won the Tailfeather sportsmanship key over 12 other candidates.

Recount Maybe
Commenting on the men's student council decision, Heckt said last night, "I would appreciate a recount because the vote is so close but I suppose that is up to the election board."

Only two of the Student unity group's candidates were elected yesterday—Brooks and Dinning to board of trustees. Five others were defeated.

Herb Got 1222
Van Order, racking up 909 votes, trailed Herb Wilkinson's 1,222 as they became men delegates-at-large. Mel Heckt ran a close third with 902.

Janet Gutz with 1,101 votes led Beverly Benson with 1,024 in the contest for women delegates-at-large. Phyllis Oltman trailed Miss Benson closely by 88 votes with a total of 936.

Close Race
Lester Brooks, Steve Dinning and Jack O'Brien stayed close to each other through the ballot count and far ahead of the others. Brooks, leading constantly, polled 1,494. Dinning, trailing O'Brien most of the time, passed him to come in second with 1,330. O'Brien ended third with 1,262.

Brooks and Dinning won two-year terms on Student Publications' board of trustees and O'Brien a one-year term. Closest runner-up was Bud Booton with 1,084.

In the town women officers' elections, Ruth Reese nosed out Marian Lager as president, 52 to 49. Valorie Dierks defeated Anne Buhmann in the vice-presidency race, 71 votes to 31. Shirley Ann Spence beat Doris French, 56 to 46 to become secretary. Alicia McGivern, running unopposed for treasurer, received 90 votes.

All American
Wilkinson is a 23-year-old junior dental student. Last week he was selected to the second all-America team as a guard making the fourth year he has earned all-America honors. In 1944 he was a member of the Utah team which won the NCAA title. In 1945 he played on the Iowa team which swept to the Big Nine championship. After the recent season, (See ELECTIONS page 8)

GM Refuses to Raise Pay 15 Cents an Hour

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers union announced last night it had proposed a flat 15-cent-an-hour wage increase to General Motors but that the corporation had rejected the proposal.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said that three proposals were made to GM last night at a special two and a half hour bargaining session. Reuther said, were union counter-moves to General Motors' offer of 1 1/2 cents and an additional three and a half cents for six paid holidays. All three proposals were rejected.

Reject Offer to Let State Use Schick As Mental Hospital

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa senate adopted yesterday a report of the joint legislative committee recommending rejection of a federal offer which would have permitted the state to use the abandoned Schick army hospital at Clinton as a state hospital for mental patients.

Sen. Edwin C. Schluter (R-Clarence), chairman of the senate board of control committee and head of the legislative group which investigated the Schick installation, said the project was not feasible either from a financial or operating standpoint.

The joint committee went to Clinton last week to look over the hospital after Chairman Herbert Hauge of the state board of control had gone to Washington and obtained an offer whereby the government would give the installation to the state without cost if it were used exclusively as a mental hospital.

The Schick layout originally cost $8,000,000 and has been valued presently by the war assets administration at between three million and four million dollars. Veterans groups at Clinton have been endeavoring to get the U.S. veterans administration to use it for treatment of ex-servicemen in Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois.

The joint committee reported that federal authorities imposed too many restrictions on how the hospital should be used, and that it could not be put in shape for operation as a mental institution except at heavy cost.

PERMANENT FINGERPRINTS

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A prowler who attempted to open a building supply company safe in Winnfield, La., left fingerprints behind him in tangible form.

State police yesterday received for identification from Sheriff Bryant Scholars the tips of two fingers, apparently pinched off when the safe overturned.

Senate Passes Greek-Turkish Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate stamped approval, 67 to 22, yesterday on a momentous new departure in U.S. foreign policy by voting a $400,000,000 fund to stiffen Greece and Turkey against communism.

The bill, which provides financial and limited military assistance to these two strategic nations, now goes to the house, where the foreign affairs committee has approved a similar measure.

Before the senate vote, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) sought in vain to strike out a provision that President Truman may send military missions to Greece and Turkey to instruct their armies in the use of military equipment to be furnished. The vote against him was 68 to 22.

Led by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), the GOP-controlled senate bowled over vocal but numerically weak opposition to the new policy laid down by President Truman in a March 12 address to congress.

On final passage, 35 Republicans and 32 Democrats voted for the measure. Sixteen Republicans and seven Democrats opposed it.

Through five hours of ferocious debate voting began on amendments late in the afternoon, opponents assailed the Truman plan as one which would "destroy" the United Nations, invite retaliation by Russia and roll up tremendous expenditures which might bankrupt this nation.

Replying, Vandenberg told his colleagues that if congress fails to act "aggression gets the green light and the rest of the world, including America, gets the red light."

Vandenberg called "inflammatory" statements by Senator Johnson that the program can lead only to war with Russia.

Johnson, author of several opposition amendments, argued that congress is underwriting a "military alliance" with Turkey that invites Russian retaliation.

Denying that the proposal bypasses the United Nations, Senator Hatch (D-NM) said it offers the best hope for peace.

"If Turkey goes communistic—do not deceive yourselves—then will involve a "breach of the solemn covenant of the United Nations."

Aid Bill in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here, at a glance, is what the Greek-Turkish aid bill passed 67 to 23 by the senate yesterday and awaiting house action, would do:

1. Provide $400,000,000 before July 1, 1948, in loans, gifts and other advances (the form to be fixed by the president) for the two countries, with Turkey receiving $100,000,000 and Greece the remainder.

2. Authorize the furnishing of military equipment to the Greek and Turkish armies, with American military missions to give instructions for its use.

3. Furnish rehabilitation and relief, as well as military, funds for Greece but only military funds for Turkey.

4. Give the United Nations authority to halt the American assistance program when seven of eleven security council members or two-thirds of those voting in the assembly find the United Nations is prepared to take over.

5. Reserve the senate's right to accept or reject President Truman's appointments of the top directors of the program.

all that part of the world goes communistic," he declared.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill) declared the president's program will "lead us to freedom and peace," but Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said it

AFL Plans Campaign Against Labor Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL last night ordered a $1,500,000 advertising campaign in an "all out war" against pending labor legislation, as four senators announced plans to toughen the bill on which senate debate starts today.

AFL President William Green told a news conference that the 7,500,000 AFL members will be assessed at least 15 cents each to pay for the ads against "repressive and restrictive" legislation. He said these ads will be run full page in newspapers throughout the country.

"The American Federation of Labor hereby declares war against this legislation—an all out war for the preservation of the life of free trade unionism in America," said the AFL's executive council.

Report Agreement to Disburse $48-Million of State's Surplus

DES MOINES (AP)—A gentleman's agreement to disburse the state's $60,000,000 surplus down to a working balance of $12,000,000 reportedly was made off the floor of the Iowa senate yesterday.

The appropriations committee which includes half the membership of the senate made the gentleman's agreement.

Under the agreement, the senate would vote $13,000,000 a year of state school aid, $15,000,000 in lump-sum to farm-to-market roads, $4,000,000 in lump sum for board of control buildings, and $2,500,000 in lump sum for board of education buildings.

Increased appropriations for regular support of state departments and institutions, plus new appropriations made for conservation development, state assumption of the local tax loss through veterans' property exemption, money to match federal highway aid, and standing appropriations for homestead tax credits and old age assistance are counted into the figures the appropriation committee assembled.

Roughly, the committee calculated the state's income for the next two years at $123,000,000 from current income, including full collection of the individual state income tax next year.

This estimated current income, under the agreement, would be augmented by adding to it the $60,000,000 surplus, to make the income in sight for the next two years total $183,000,000.

Out of this $183,000,000 the agreement calls for spending $171,000,000 in two years. This would leave a $12,000,000 working balance on which the treasury would pay the bills and do its business.

Gov. Robert D. Blue, who has contended either for holding appropriations to current income and preserving the balance, or for disbursing the surplus equitably for emergency aid and permanent improvements, was consulted before the agreement was reached.

The governor confirmed that he had been consulted, and said that, although he had not been advised about the details, the program in general conformed to his second contention that, if the surplus were to be disbursed, it should be distributed equitably among a number of activities.

The agreement must be ratified by the senate and the house.

Letters to the Editor:

Protests Decision In Mayflower Case

(Once received, letters to the editor become the property of this newspaper and we reserve the right to edit them or withhold them altogether. Unsigned letters will not be published. Views expressed in letters do not necessarily represent those of The Daily Iowan.—The Editor.)

TO THE DAILY IOWAN:

On Monday, April 21, I was witness to an injustice that should go down in history as Iowa City's Dred Scott decision. The incident that I am referring to is the civil rights case being prosecuted against Charles James, proprietor of the Mayflower club.

It appears according to the decision handed down by Justice Kadlee, that the refusal to admit two Negro couples into the Mayflower club was not a case of discrimination but that the club was merely using its authority to bar disturbers or rioters. This provision is the only alleged restriction to membership in the Mayflower night-club.

How can the management have determined whether these people were potential rioters? Weren't they sold membership cards first, and then told that they could not be admitted? Didn't Charles James state that he did not restrict membership because of race, creed, or religion? Then for what reason were Bill Knox, Roy Culbertson and their dates prevented from entering his club?

These and other pertinent questions are allowed to go unanswered because the county attorney, Jack C. White, found it unnecessary to question Mr. James except on the most unimportant issue, that of whether these rules have been in existence since he, Charles James, took over the ownership of the Mayflower club.

Mr. White, in the previous hearing held Monday, April 14, did not even examine his own witnesses who were only too eager to let the truth be known, but instead allowed the cross examiner to intimidate them, asking irrelevant and leading questions, having no relation to the case at hand.

Can we let a miscarriage of justice like this go unanswered? Isn't there something that we as citizens can do to protect this very basic right as stated in our constitution? The loss of this case is not only a defeat for Mr. Knox and Mr. Culbertson, it is a blow struck at the very foundations of our democratic institutions, and if allowed to go unchallenged the road will be paved for more obvious and unhindered discrimination.

THELMA EDIS

Throws Hat in Ring; Has 4-Point Program

TO THE DAILY IOWAN:

This is to announce that I have decided to run for president. If there isn't any such office on the student council, then I am willing to be president of the student board of publications . . . or the university. I am not particular. I have been at this university going on three years now and my folks wonder why I am not getting anything out of my education, so I have decided to respect their wishes.

My platform is simple:

1. Set out trees around the warm air opening by MacBride hall. All winter the poches had to go a distance of several yards to find a tree.
2. Put the dirt back in Frivol.
3. Build escalators in Schaeffer and University hall. The funds can be easily raised by planting pedestrian parking meters along the riverbank.
4. Add a class to the curriculum in Statistical Measurements of Aliquot Alliteration at 6:30 a.m. for eager beavers who don't have anything else to do at that time.

I am backed by Bucolics Anonymous and the Will Candy Thrive Unabated organization. Ask any bucolic about my character and he will tell you I am. For my record, refer to the local W.C.T.U. headquarters.

Warning: do not vote for me unless you want a high-class, refined, peaceable student council.

The Conservative Way Fails

By SAMUEL GRAFTON
New York Post Syndicate

According to the New York Herald Tribune, administration economists have been whispering into Mr. Truman's perhaps red-denying ear the unhappy news that only 750,000 housing units will be started this year, as compared with 1,000,000 last year. This is very strange, because the exit of Mr. Wilson Wyatt as national housing administrator on December 4 was supposed to be the signal for a new burst of housing activity. Oh, those wonderful days of last December when so many little conservatives believed that we had only to throw out our housing controls, and get rid of priorities, and set our construction industry free (free, do you hear, free) to start a tremendous housing boom.

GRAFTON

Something must have been wrong with the theory, because it hasn't happened. And come to think of it, there has been a great deal of theoretical wreckage scattered over the landscape since late fall.

One can remember when senators pounded each other on the back in delight and gratification over Mr. Wyatt's resignation, and assured each other and the world hotly how now, with the silly priorities and allocations gone, houses would jump from the earth like the crocuses of spring.

'Bill of Rights' Suggested to Help Teacher Crisis

Salary Only One of Many Reasons for Deserted Classrooms

By RALEIGH SCHORLING
Journal of National Education Association

In recent months newspapers, magazines and government reports have printed convincing facts regarding the shortage of qualified teachers. The prospects of getting enough good teachers in the next decade are poor. The fact is that many able young persons now in training, who under proper conditions would prefer to teach, are rejecting teaching as a career.

These various reasons why teaching fails to attract as many able young people as the schools need are listed in the following bill of rights for teachers:

- 1) The right to teach classes that are not too large—in general, from 10 to 20 pupils. The average class size in the schools of the armed forces for more than 12,000,000 men and women was less than one-half of the actual class size of civilian schools in our metropolitan areas. Individual attention and proper guidance can not be given by a teacher with oversized classes.
- 2) The right to have time in the school day for planning. It is not sensible for a teacher to operate hour after hour without a plan. Moreover, it is a waste of public funds. Wise observers of high school instruction have stated time and again that more than half of the pupil's time is wasted.
- 3) The right of a 45-hour week. In general, the teacher's week should include 15 hours of teaching, 15 hours of planning and pupil guidance and 15 hours devoted to sponsoring extracurricular activities, participating in community activities and grading pupils' written work. No one knows the average number of hours per week for all teachers, but it is probably much closer to 70 hours a week than 45.

4) The right to an adequate amount of helpful and constructive supervision. In many of the schools of the armed forces an instructor was supervised from 40 to 60% of the time that he taught.

5) The right to adequate compensation for the full year of 52 weeks. The average annual salary of public school teachers, principals, supervisors and other instructional staff for the year 1944-45 was estimated at $1,786, more than $1,000 less than the figures used for bargaining purposes in strikes that threatened the nation's economy.

6) The right to keep from being lost in the profession. Many excellent teachers are lost in the vast numbers who, with relatively little ability, training and experience, come and go. To no small degree the gifted teacher is always in competition with all newcomers, however incompetent. Even the members of a strong school board may not be aware that they have especially fine teachers in their schools.

7) The right to work in a room that, with the help of the students, can be made pleasant and appropriate to the task to be learned.

8) The right to the same personal liberties which other respectable citizens assume for themselves as a matter of course. A community may well expect decency and idealism of its teachers, but it has no right to scrutinize every petty detail of their personal lives.

9) The right to an internship. No institution of teacher education can turn out a finished product. Yet seldom is the beginning teacher given a light assignment and an adequate amount of supervision.

10) The right to keep from being lost in the profession. Many excellent teachers are lost in the vast numbers who, with relatively little ability, training and experience, come and go. To no small degree the gifted teacher is always in competition with all newcomers, however incompetent. Even the members of a strong school board may not be aware that they have especially fine teachers in their schools.

There financial rewards are not sufficient to maintain morale. A good teacher has the right to be identified by professional recognition that will strengthen his hand in dealing with the public and the pupil.

OF CABBAGES AND KINGS Mutual Adds Stowe, Diet Better Now

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS
Daily Iowan Columnist

Iowa Citizens who heard Leland Stowe lecture on the SUI campus several weeks ago might be interested in knowing that the famous war correspondent and author "They Shall Not Sleep," "No Other Road To Freedom," "While Time Remains" will begin a 52-week series of news commentaries tonight over the Mutual network.

Stowe's program, to be carried over 55 stations, will be called "You—and the News" and will be under the sponsorship of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America. According to the radio analysts, it marks the first time in network history that a coast-to-coast weekly news commentary has been sponsored by a labor union.

Having Stowe with us each Wednesday evening for the next year should be a refreshing experience. Those who chatted with him when he was here last month were deeply impressed by his sincere desire to bring about understanding between the people of the United States and the Soviet Union and his deep insight into the contemporary problems confronting the war-devastated countries of Europe and Asia.

In a recent write-up of the Stowe radio series, the New York Times said that "the decision to sponsor a news commentary, according to Albert J. Fitzgerald, president of the union, was prompted by what the union calls a desire to counteract the growing imbalance in the radio of 'liberal' and 'conservative' commentators on the air."

Mutual Broadcasting System outlets in the midwest area include stations KCBC, Des Moines, and WGN, Chicago. "You—and the News" goes on the air at 6:30 p.m. (CST).

One of the amazing things about American politics and the two-party system is the kid-glove treatment extended one another by leaders sharing somewhat similar views on important issues while belonging to opposite parties. From 1942 on, the Franklin Roosevelt-Wendell Willkie relationship was a case in point. Both men had strong personalities and between them there was a high degree of mutual respect and admiration. For the most part, however—since the former was a Democratic president and the latter the titular head of the GOP—they refrained from issuing any sort of joint policy statements. Yet, with rare exceptions, each man artfully dodged having to comment on the political activities and pronouncements of the other.

And now comes the Henry Wallace-Harold Stassen affair. As leaders of the "liberal" wings of the Democratic and Republican parties, respectively, the former vice-president and ex-Minnesota governor have indicated in their speeches and writings that they actually see eye-to-eye on certain domestic and foreign policy matters.

Both men have long been in the forefront of the world government movement. Each, within his own party, has campaigned strongly for all-out United States support of the United Nations organization as the first step toward ultimate international federation. Stassen was one of the few GOP leaders who endorsed price control extension and a permanent fair employment practices commission, two measures for Wallace fought as a cabinet official in the Truman administration.

During the 1945-47 period, first Stassen, and then Wallace issued statements cautioning the state department against an anti-Soviet foreign policy. Last summer, at the American Veterans Committee convention in Des Moines, the 1500 delegates listened to the two men on succeeding evenings (Stassen on foreign affairs, Wallace on domestic) and came away generally convinced that they had heard the two outstanding liberal spokesmen in contemporary American politics.

One would think that, on some important issues at least, two such leaders should be able to get together. But apparently, as shown by their coyness last

Rats a Menace to Our City

Rats are ugly, loathsome creatures. They're even uglier when you realize they have filthy habits and carry filthy diseases.

We don't know the rat population in Iowa City, but from all reports they are numerous enough to give us cause for concern. It doesn't take one rat per family to make the public health situation acute.

It is disconcerting to realize that there are rats in all parts of the city—in the restaurant where you eat, in the basements where newspapers and old clothes are stored and in the alleys where trash is allowed to accumulate.

It is uncomfortable to listen to the verbal report of the restaurant inspector when he tells the city council that two restaurants especially are bothered with the problem of rats.

A district sanitary engineer told one of our councilmen last week that the city dump is a fine breeding ground for rats, and the dump caretaker told of seeing hundreds of "the devils" running around on the disease-laden trash at night.

It's disturbing to know that such a threat to public health exists in the city. But it's not fair at all that all the criticism and ill will coming from the airing of the rat problem should be directed at restaurant owners. What's the use, after all, of trying to get rats out of your own basement if the building next door harbors their offspring?

That's exactly the situation the restaurants are in. We've noticed dirty—even filthy—conditions in the basements of several restaurants within the past two weeks, and they're to be condemned for this lack of care. But no matter how clean a restaurant is, it is bound to attract rats from neighboring warehouses and alleys.

All this points up the simple facts that the citizen who leaves trash and garbage piled in his alley or his basement is as guilty of being a threat to the public good as a businessman with a dirty place of business.

It is obvious then that the problem of exterminating the rats in Iowa City is a community-wide problem. Why not make it just that—a city-wide project?

This is not merely a problem for the city council. Just as in the solution to the parking problem on downtown streets and the settling of the Brown street playground lease, the council is subject to and dependent on the will of the citizenry. Without the assistance of Iowa Citizens, any program started by the city council would be worthless.

They can, of course, assist mightily by instituting a more sanitary method of refuse disposal at the city dump where rats live happily in their disease-laden homes.

With the assistance of a professional exterminator, which the city has considered calling in, such civic organizations as Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Masons, Altrusa club, the League of Women Voters and others could arouse a civic interest in the proportions the "swat that fly" campaigns had in the 1920's. We'd wager they could get door-to-door assistance from veterans organizations, boy scouts—and every person who realizes that by not fighting rats he is contributing to a menace to public health and safety.

There isn't anyone in the city who is not concerned with this problem—and ridding the city of it should be (as grandmother used to say) "A rat-killing good time."

Let's Stick to the Facts, Boys

Representative Ralph D. Gwinn of New York has sent us a series of articles from the New York Sun by Phelps Adams which he says were used by the house labor committee in drafting the Hartley anti-labor bill.

We were not surprised by the vicious nature of the articles entitled "Labor Berserk" because we are familiar with Mr. Adams' writing and the rightist policy of the Sun. We were rather shocked, however, to learn that the house committee had made use of such utterly non-objective studies.

This would seem to indicate that the committee was more interested in grabbing at anything that would back up opinions they already had than in basing their conclusions on objective, intelligent studies of the actual facts.

If biased, exaggerated writing of the Phelps Adams type was considered by the committee as fact instead of just one extreme shade of opinion, it is small wonder that the Hartley bill turned out to be the wretchedly unfair thing that it is.

Peace Calls for Positiveness

If we are trespassing upon the territory of our good friends upstairs, the psychologists, we hope they'll forgive us. But we have our eye on a recently-presented senate bill which we think is chuck full of psychology.

Introduced last week by Senator Revercomb of West Virginia, the bill calls for setting up a department of peace. The job of this department would be to promote better understanding among the peoples of the world through colleges, churches and civil organizations.

When we first learned about this, we immediately thought about an old army friend of ours who used to hold some sort of record for hitch-hiking. He always managed to get picked up, no matter how little-traveled the road might be, and he always got where he wanted to go.

The reason for his success, he said, was quite simple.

Instead of standing on the side of the road, looking for all the world like a hero in his uniform and defiantly glaring at motorists who might pass him up, he merely extended his thumb in the conventional manner, smiled and nodded his head as if to say, "Yes, I'm going that way, too."

"That," he explained, "is positive psychology." Senator Revercomb's bill certainly brims over with positive psychology, as opposed to the negative psychology in which the department of war is foundering.

The road of peace is a little-traveled one; man has never advanced along it very far. Throughout history he has armed himself with the defiance embodied in everything from a stone axe to an atomic bomb.

But he is still as far away from where he wants to go as he ever was. Maybe he's been using the wrong psychology.

Mothers Day Weekend Slated May 9-11 By Mortar Board

Will Feature Song Fest. May Dance; Hancher Will Speak

TO WED MAY 5

The traditional Mothers Day Weekend, sponsored by Mortar board working with a joint faculty committee, is on the way back with a full calendar planned for May 9, 10 and 11.

The May Frolic, annual girl-take-boy dance set for Friday night, May 9, will officially open Mothers Day celebrations. Parents are invited to come or dance, or observe and will not need tickets.

Larry Barrett and his orchestra will play for the informal dance in Iowa Union lounge.

Saturday morning mothers will register at the Union. The Union plans to hold open house all day Saturday. The YWCA and YMCA rooms will be open and projects displayed, including a display sponsored by Craft guild.

The Botanical laboratories will be open Saturday from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m.

Something new in Mothers Day Weekend activities, a tour of housing units—has been arranged for Saturday afternoon. It will include everything from Currier hall to a barracks apartment.

Mortar Board to Tap Mortar Board will tap for new members at the Saturday night Mother-Daughter-Son program at 7:30 in Macbride auditorium. Steve Driftmeier, C4 of Shenandoah, and Dorothy Kottman, A4 of Burlington, will speak as representative son and daughter.

An informal talk will be given by the most typical Iowa mother, who will be presented at the Saturday night program. Pres. Virgil Hancher will also speak.

Sunday morning, Iowa City churches plan to extend special invitations to mothers. The traditional Mothers Day tea will again be given in the home of President and Mrs. Hancher Sunday afternoon from 3-5 p. m.

University Sing Festivities will end with another tradition of Mothers Day Weekend, the University Sing, set for 7:30 p. m. on the banks of Iowa river near the art building. Winners of the semi-finals, to be held this Friday, will appear in the song fest, singing one college song and one semi-classical number.

A "traveling" loving cup will be awarded the winning group. Special invitations are being sent to each student in the university, that such invitations may be forwarded to parents.

Because of the large crowds expected here for Mothers Day Weekend, students are asked to individually find accommodations for their parents.

Fraternities

SUI Membership Soars Over Ten Years

By R. BRUCE HUGHES

Membership in social fraternities at the University of Iowa is now at the highest peak in the past decade.

In proportion to the enrollment at the university, however, fraternity membership has decreased six percent from prewar years.

G. E. Marshall, head of the fraternity business office, estimates that approximately 1,050 students are affiliated, either as actives or pledges, with the 15 national fraternities maintaining chapters on campus.

Increase Over Prewar Years Although this is an increase of about 350 over prewar years, Marshall said the present proportion was only a little more than 10 percent of the all-time enrollment of 10,000. Normal membership before the war averaged about 18 percent of the enrollment, he said.

Most fraternities were feeding and housing the maximum number they could accommodate before the war. Now it is not unusual for a chapter to have half its membership living in dormitories or private rooms outside the chapter house.

Most chapters are taking advantage of the increased revenue from more members to pay off mortgages on their houses, hoping to avoid the situation which developed during the depression years when a dozen fraternities folded because of inability to meet their mortgage payments.

Only a few houses are debt free. Others have mortgages ranging upward from $10,000.

Fraternity Office Job The fraternity business office assumes general supervision of the individual chapters' financial transactions, requiring a bill or voucher before authorizing chapter treasurers to write checks. It audits each fraternity's books at the close of the month.

Fraternity chapters pay $300 each a year to maintain the office, while a third of its expenses are met by the university.

Collection of individual members' bills through the university treasurer's office also has boosted fraternities financially. Chapter treasurers prepare a monthly statement for each member, who pays for board and room, dues and assessments directly to the university.

The funds thus collected are deposited in the bank account of the fraternity.

Statistics Lie; Stork Brings 3 Girls, 0 Boys

Figures don't lie? Don't believe it.

There were about a million more boys than girls born in the United States between 1920 and 1940. Yet, when the stork visited Mercy hospital Sunday, he (she or it) forgot statistics and left three girls, no boys.

300 Police Officers Plan to Give Up Guns for Textbooks at Short Course

By M. R. MCCAULLEY

The chances of Iowa Citizens bumping into a policeman will be increased about three hundred-fold the last week in June.

From June 23 through June 27, an estimated 300 law enforcement officers will forsake their pistols and patrol cars for classwork in police investigation.

Application blanks have been sent to Iowa sheriffs, chiefs of police and other police officials for the 11th annual Peace Officers' Short course.

The five-day session will offer instruction in three fields: traffic, general police and investigation. Classwork is aimed to accommodate both the veteran policeman and the man just entering the profession. Advanced work is more specialized.

The advanced traffic class will be assigned intersections in Iowa City, where they can study at first hand and apply the three E's of traffic control — enforcement, education and engineering.

Members of the basic traffic class will study driver training, traffic arrests, hit-and-run investigation and accident reports.

The course in investigation will feature such angles as fingerprinting techniques, restoration of obliterated numbers, search of crime scenes, and questioning suspects.

General police classes at the basic level will deal with criminal law, patrol technique and public relations. Members of this group will also be given practical judo training and pistol firing.

Dean Mason Ladd of the college of law will lecture on the law of evidence in the general police advanced course.

Sponsored jointly by the college of law and the extension division, the summer course is in charge of a former lieutenant on the Kansas City, Mo., police force, Prof. Richard Holcomb.

Holcomb's headquarters are tucked away on the corner of the campus in the Bureau of Public Affairs, 7 E. Market street. However, he spends much of his time advising and observing police practices in various cities throughout the state.

A graduate of Iowa State college, with a master's degree from SUI, Holcomb has been a member of Montgomery Ward and company's investigation staff in Chicago and Kansas City.

Shoplifting by the public and stealing by employees were among the major problems encountered by the mail order house, Holcomb said.

Two workers who had a profitable racket re-selling automobile tires were caught by Chicago police following a routine speeding arrest. A toy gun — innocently left lying on the back seat of the car — looked suspicious to the policemen, who opened the trunk and found two new tires.

On another occasion, a woman shopper was spotted by an employee, slipping a pair of men's trousers under her coat. The thief took the pants to a restroom where she deposited her loot in a shopping bag — standard equipment of the veteran shoplifter, Holcomb remarked.

Since it was the company's policy not to consider an article stolen until it had been taken from the store, detectives did not approach the woman until she was on the street.

To their surprise, she opened an empty bag.

Thoroughly embarrassed, the detectives hurried away, with the lady on their heels shouting abuse for the insult. Several days later, the lady returned with her husband and Holcomb persuaded them to accept the balm of $25 trade in the store.

Holcomb told of a prospective customer who picked out a $400 fur coat and gave the clerk a $500 bill in payment.

The clerk, who had never seen such a large bill, sent it to higher echelons, where its authenticity could be checked. Meanwhile, the lady was outraged because her honesty was being questioned.

She refused to take the coat and demanded the return of her $500 bill — the real thing.

An hour or so later she was back again, apologizing for her behavior and admitting she couldn't find another coat that suited her.

The clerk, anxious to reestablish good will, immediately accepted the money this time and gave the lady the coat.

The second $500 bill was a phony.

When Holcomb was at Northwestern university's traffic institute, he conducted a research project correlating driving and drinking.

Eighteen hundred drivers were stopped at random in Evanston and given chemical tests. With three stiff beers, Holcomb learned, the driver's chances of an accident increased 33 times.

The number of drivers involved in motor accidents rose sharply with the amount of alcohol consumed, Holcomb concluded.

EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE SPEAKER

THE REV. HENRY ROBBINS, vicar of St. John's Episcopal church in Shenandoah, will be one of the speakers featured in the second annual conference of Episcopal students in Iowa. The conference will be held here Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Robbins will speak at 10 a. m. Saturday on "The Christian Faith."

Just Charge It, Please

The case of the absent-minded professor reversed yesterday when Gil Terrel, A3, Des Moines, reached for his billfold in a local cafe and found it wasn't there.

After he convinced the cashier to put his meal on the cuff, a frantic search led to discovery of the coveted money pouch precisely where he had left it—on his desk at home.

Accepted the money this time and gave the lady the coat.

Commission Reports Over 129,344 Used Recreation Facilities

The second annual report of the Iowa City playground and recreation commission filed yesterday in the city clerk's office shows that over 129,344 persons participated in the local recreation program in the year ending March 31, 1947.

The report was signed by the commission, headed by President H. S. Ivie, and the recreation department staff under Superintendent J. Edgar Frame. It lists receipts for the year as $12,479.82 plus a balance carried over from 1946 of $969.38.

Expenses during 1947 were $12,901.62, leaving a balance of $547.58. Playgrounds, playground improvement and the swimming program accounted for $2,774.44 of this; salaries, $7,402.05.

Receipts Listed City taxes accounted for $6,422.92 of the receipts, $6,000 being received from the Community chest. The city council granted a 1-2 mill tax levy from April 1, 1946, to March 31, 1947, for the community recreation program.

The report states that the 36-cent recreation cost to the Iowa City taxpayer and the 34-cent recreation cost to the community chest is 40 cents under the accepted national standard of $1.10.

It lists attendance to recreation activities as:

Recreation center, 44,472; playground, 15,982; Paper Doll club, 28,050; game room, 17,940; spectators, 12,420; gym, 7,199, and swimming program, 2,181.

City, junior and pee wee softball leagues; city, intermediate, senior and junior basketball leagues; a leadership training course; playground party nights; the ham radio club and the soap box derby were other recreation activities.

Future Plans The development of new playgrounds; multiple-use play areas; sled hills; increased indoor, swimming, ice and roller skating facilities; expanded recreation services to the public; additional community center facilities; improved equipment and storage facilities and a recreation bulletin service are listed by the reports as "planning for the future."

Waldbauer Recalls Memories of Past In Concert Tonight

Prof. Imre Waldbauer of the music department will revive old memories this evening in Iowa Union lounge, when he presents a recital of violin sonatas, assisted at the piano by Prof. Philip G. Clapp.

The university's violin professor remembers hearing his father and Johannes Brahms play Brahms' third violin sonata in D minor — the same sonata which will open tonight's program.

And the last pianist, before professor Clapp, with whom Waldbauer played the recital's closing number — Richard Strauss' "E flat" sonata — was Strauss himself.

The other sonata to be played tonight will be Mozart's "A major," which was composed in 1787 — exactly 100 years before the Brahms sonata was composed. Clapp says this sonata "like all of Mozart's best music, has a magical spontaneity which proves it to be as fresh and arresting today as at the time it was written." The work is in three movements.

The Brahms "D minor" is the last of Brahms three violin sonatas. Unlike Brahms' earlier violin sonatas — which are in three movements — the "D minor" is in four movements. Critics have described this composition with the term "appassionata."

The Richard Strauss "E flat" sonata was composed the same year (1887) as the Brahms "D minor." It is the only violin sonata by Strauss, the 83-year-old German master who is perhaps the most famous living composer. Though written in the composer's youth, this work is said to be full of Strauss' unique style. It is in three movements.

Maybe Brian Green Was Right

"We're Fryin', Brian!"

WE WERE SHOCKED when the Rev. Brian Green returned to England from his visit here during Religion-in-Life week in February and told his congregation that 90 percent of our male students and 70 percent of the college women have sex relations "outside marriage." But we were shocked even more yesterday when our roving photographers brought in this incontrovertible evidence that the Rev. Mr. Green was right.

BOTH SEXES CARRY ON RELATIONS LIKE THESE EVERY DAY—OUTSIDE OF MARRIAGE, TOO. It must be, as the Rev. Mr. Green points out, that "lack of emotional stability" is behind all this deplorable conduct. And it's obvious he hit the nail on the head when he said: "I don't think co-education helps correct this." No, Sir! Not one bit. (Daily Iowan Staff Photos)

Barracks Workers Back on Job After One-Day Walkout

Union painters, plumbers and electricians on the university barracks-apartment project returned to work yesterday after their one-day walkout in protest of the anti-closed shop bill in the state legislature.

Officials for the Federal Public Housing authority at the project said the carpenters had been off work since April 4 because of laborers' wage-negotiations.

The carpenters have not walked out, the officials stated. They will be unable to work until the laborers return.

Roy Skriver, AFL business manager in Iowa City, said AFL union men returned to work here yesterday after the Walkout.

Skriver, who was present at the Monday demonstration in Des Moines, stated his belief that the statewide union demonstration had some effect on the legislature.

Bowles Urges Board Set-up To Cut Prices

Group of Businessmen Would Study Problem And Give Suggestions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chester Bowles yesterday urged an attack on high prices through a board of businessmen set up to negotiate voluntary reductions. "Something has to be done quickly," he said.

Emerging after a talk with President Truman, the former OPA chief told reporters such a board, operating within a government department, "might be able to bring about moderate, reasonable reductions."

"If we wait until purchasing power dries up, there will be a collapse of prices," declared Bowles. He said price controls by government can not be restored. Bowles reported he had discussed some of his ideas with Mr. Truman who has hammered repeatedly at what he terms the economic dangers of price increases.

The stir over prices brought other developments: 1) A $5 drop in steel scrap in the Pittsburgh district. 2) Announcement of brief public hearings soon on the economic situation by a joint house-senate economic committee headed by Senator Taft (R-Ohio). This will follow a questionnaire to business, agriculture and labor representatives. 3) Taft viewed the big steel-CIO agreement for a $1 a day wage boost as likely setting a pattern that would forestall substantial price cuts in manufactured products.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) said in a separate interview he believes U. S. Steel can still cut prices. Lucas expressed belief corporation profits in general carry enough margin to raise wages and cut prices. Bowles said he believes business really wants to work this thing out and realizes the importance of getting together to do it. Under the plan he has in mind, he said, a purely voluntary board would give leadership to bringing about price reductions by making suggestions to business after studies of profits, wages and other factors governing each industry. Bowles said he accepted appointment as chairman of a national committee on economic stability, created by the Americans for Democratic Action. This organization is headed by Wilson Wyatt, former federal housing administrator, and Bowles said he will have a report ready for it in two or three weeks. "While I agree that a depression is not inevitable," Bowles told Wyatt in a telegram of acceptance, "immediate action is required to avert it."

'Quick-Trip' Mothers Stump Hospitals--Barnes

DES MOINES (AP)—Dr. Milford Barnes, of Iowa City, asserted yesterday that mothers who leave their beds a day or two after the birth of their babies are creating a new overcrowding problem in hospitals.

Speaking at the Iowa Hospital association meeting at Hotel Fort Des Moines, Dr. Barnes, of the State University of Iowa college of medicine, explained that obstetric departments were planned for bed, rather than for ambulatory patients.

That department, he explained, has become "an ambulatory housing service," with insufficient tub, shower and toilet facilities.

The mothers' urge to be up and about in a jiffy will change the type of obstetrical department service "more than we ever dreamed," Dr. Barnes added.

Visitors are 'Hazard'

Dr. Barnes declared that even a well-operated hospital has more hazards than a germ or two. "The number of visitors is appalling," he said. "There is a tremendous load outside traffic, so that a corridor becomes a street."

"We recognize visitors as necessary, but they carry hazards, because we have no control over their physical condition. They bring the community right into the bedroom."

Dr. Gerhard Hartman, of Iowa City, superintendent of University of Iowa hospitals, spoke at an afternoon meeting on "care of chronic patients in Iowa."

He said the care of persons with a long term illness concerns both the paying and the indigent patient.

Lack of Facilities

Dr. Hartman said Iowa has fewer facilities for the patient able to meet most of the bills for his care than it has for the indigent, who requires aid from county or state tax funds.

"General hospitals have been reluctant to accept these patients or to continue treatment beyond the time ordinarily required for the acutely ill patient," Dr. Hartman stressed. "This has been particularly true in recent years when

Two Bills Passed by Current Legislature Will Directly Affect University—Hancher

Two bills passed by Iowa's 52nd general assembly will have a direct effect on the University of Iowa, President Virgil M. Hancher told Kiwanis members yesterday.

Outlines Askings Set-up

Outlining the procedure whereby askings from the five educational institutions finally reach the legislature, the president explained that under the law, the board of education gives askings in even number years for bienniums starting in July of the next year. Each institution has its requests prepared by August of the even-numbered year. By September the board has them prepared for the comptroller and governor, who usually take action by December.

Although this year's assembly is overwhelmingly Republican, the division of opinion is along major issues rather than party lines. He added that this year's legislature is "more markedly a farmer group" than any other he has seen in the seven years since he assumed the university presidency.

Establishment of the handicapped children's hospital may be the beginning of a greater enterprise than is evident on the surface, he commented. But the bill has not been signed by the governor, and Mr. Hancher said he is "not sure it will be."

Eastern Town Cuts Retail Prices; Hopes Nation Will Follow

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP)—Merchants of this old seaport took a cut at the nation's cost of living yesterday by knocking down prices a flat 10 percent and then reported from crowded counters that the day's business was "much better than average."

The first day of the "Newburyport plan" brought out crowds of buyers and business observers to watch the 10-day experiment in which more than 90 percent of retailers in the city of 15,000 risked their own profits in the hope that "the rest of the country will follow us."

Biggest demand at the start of the cooperative cut was for men's furnishings and automobile supplies, and those shops reported lines of customers "loading up" at the counters with the new price tags.

One automobile dealer announced a 10 percent slash in new car prices for the 10 days. Still waiting out the experiment, merchant sources said, were the big chain shops. Sponsors of the plan said they hope to embrace these stores which reported to be awaiting authorization from their main offices.

From more than 90 of the city's 100 or so retail stores, merchants told of better than average sales on an ordinarily light day, but joined in emphasizing that full effects of the experiment cannot be known "until the week-end."

"They were optimistic over the plan's chances of catching on nationally and quoted wholesalers as saying they agreed with the idea. A department store official from Lowell, Mass., told the sponsors he was impressed and would suggest a similar plan in that city.

Neighboring communities of Amesbury and Portsmouth, N.H., sent over delegates who reported steps already underway to seek similar pledges from their merchants.

Communists Dennis, Josephson Face Contempt Actions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amid demands for a tougher policy to ward communists, the house yesterday voted contempt actions against Eugene Dennis, secretary of the Communist party, and Leon Josephson, described on the house floor as head of a ring that provided forged passports for Soviet secret police.

House members said Josephson, a Russian-born New York lawyer, is a key man in the international Communist movement.

As the house acted against him and Dennis, cries resounded that the justice department has been lax in prosecuting Communists for alleged violation of American laws.

"Where has the justice department been for the last 12 years?" asked Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) of the committee on un-American activities.

Both refused to testify freely to Thomas' committee. The house backed the committee overwhelmingly in citing them for contempt. The vote against Dennis was 196 to 1, with members not recorded by name.

There will be 13 drawings, 8 watercolors and gouaches, 40 oils, 38 prints and 30 sculptures. First and second place awards have been made in each classification, but award winners will not be announced until the opening day of the salon.

Zarilla's Blow Spoils Bobby's No-Hit Effort

CLEVELAND (AP)—Al Zarilla's single to center in the seventh inning spoiled what might have been Bob Feller's third no-hitter yesterday, the fast fireballer collecting his record ninth one-hitter, against the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 0.

Joe Gordon's three-run homer in the sixth provided the artillery for the Indians' victory as Feller was striking out ten men and walking only one, Jack Moss, first batter in the ninth. Only 29 men faced him.

Blazing Bob broke his major league record for one-hitters, set last year. Yesterday's start was his second of the season. He took a 2 to 0 loss on opening day here, from Chicago.

Bob fanned two men each in the first three innings, one each in the fourth and fifth, none in the sixth and one each in the seventh and eighth.

Gordon's homer reached Cleveland stadium's left field stands, scoring Les Fleming and Pat Seery. Lou Boudreau had opened the stanza with a single, but was forced by Fleming. Seery's single then put Fleming on second.

Cleveland gathered its first two runs on Hal Peck's single, scoring Ken Keltner, who had walked, and George Metkovich's single. The Tribe combed Muncie for nine hits before he was relieved by Cliff Fanning in the eighth.

Yanks Tip Red Sox, 5-4, on Keller's Hits

NEW YORK (AP)—Three New York Yankees hits, one a three-run homer by Charley Keller in the first inning and two automatic singles, enabled Floyd Levens to win a 5-4 decision over Boston yesterday in the first meeting of the two clubs this season.

What had been a duel of home runs turned into a battle of breaks in a wild eighth inning. Many of the chilled crowd of 25,053 fans had started home after Rudy York's homer with Dom DiMaggio on base had given the Sox a one run lead in the top of the frame.

The Yanks' winning rally started innocently enough on a walk to Phil Rizzuto by Earl Johnson, who had replaced Joe Dobson in the seventh. When Johnny Pesky dropped Johnson's peg on Bobby Brown's sacrifice bunt, all hands were safe.

Feller Gives Credit To Catcher Hegan, New Electric Jacket

By LARRY MARTHEY

CLEVELAND (AP)—Hickory cracked against horsehide and Al Zarilla's low liner looped lazily toward center field and dropped to the turf—with that swing Blazing Bob Feller missed his third no-hitter yesterday.

In the gloom and chilling 45-degree temperature of huge Lakefront stadium, Feller regained his mastery and mowed down the St. Louis Browns the rest of the way, 5 to 0, for his ninth one-hitter and a new major league record.

Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, who hurled dozens of classy games for the St. Louis Cardinals' Gas House gang, turned from his radio broadcasting mike and commented: "That was the finest game I have ever seen pitched by a right-hander."

Beaming Bill Veck, fiery Cleveland Indians' president, shivered under his tropical suit and asserted, positively: "That was the finest game I have ever seen pitched—period."

After his seemingly effortless twirling, Feller smiled happily in the dressing room and gave all the credit for the Tribe's victory to Catcher Jim Hegan's signal-calling, Joe Gordon's three-run homer, "plus the atmosphere—and my new electric heating jacket."

"It was a change-of-pace curve—that would have been a called ball—that Zarilla hit," Feller explained. "It was a clean single. I threw mostly curves today and they were breaking fine in the damp atmosphere—but from there on, I decided to blaze'em in."

Jackie Robinson scored the lone run of the game in the eighth inning. The infielder popped a single back of second, stole second and moved to third on Catcher Andy Seminick's overthrow. After Dixie Walker got a walk, Robinson romped home by the payoff counter as Gene Hermanski singled to center.

Dutch Leonard went the route for the Phils and was touched for nine hits after the third inning:

Cubs Bow to Reds, Miller in 10th, 7-6

CHICAGO (AP)—Shortstop Eddie Miller smashed out a homer in the second inning and then singled across the run that gave the Cincinnati Reds a 10-inning 7 to 6 victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday before 5,484.

Bert Haas had launched the 10th with a single off Paul Erickson, fifth pitcher paraded to the mound by the Cubs. Ray Mueller sacrificed and Eddie Lukon fanned. Manager Charlie Grimm spurned walking Miller and the veteran shortstop answered the challenge with a line single to center that sent Haas romping home.

Miller's homer was his fifth of the infant season. He has only two other hits, both singles, in the nine games played to date by Cincinnati. Other Red homers yesterday were authored by Bobby Adams and Mueller, each their second of the year.

Bresnahan Runs for Badgers—28th Trip to Drake Relays

By WILLARD WHITE

The trip to the 1947 Drake Relays in Des Moines will be nothing new for Iowa track coach, George Bresnahan. When he takes his Hawkeye squad to the 37th annual running of the event this weekend, it will mark his 28th trip.

Coach Bresnahan first visited the Drake meet in 1913 when he ran one leg of the university four mile relay event as a member of the Wisconsin cinder team.

As Iowa track mentor Bresnahan first broke into the win column in 1923 when his mile relay quartet toured four laps of the Bulldog oval in 3:16.9 to establish a meet mark that stood for 11 years. Iowa teams have since won seven times in that event.

Each year the Drake Relays committee selects a referee from ranks of the nation's prominent track and field coaches and officials to rule over the two-day running.

The records show that Coach Bresnahan not only received the signal honor of being named referee for the meet in 1920, but that he produced winners in four of the events, the half mile relay, mile relay, two mile relay and broad jump.

The Drake Relays are to collegiate track teams what the Kentucky derby is to horse racing. It is the big show. In the past 23 years Bresnahan-coached teams have won 13 relay events and 11 individual championships at big midwest show. Twenty four blue ribbons is an enviable record for any coach in this class of competition.

Topping the list of Old Gold relay teams was the 440-yard entry of Dooley, Briggs, Nelson and Owen who won that event at the Drake carnival in 1935. This year-

May Hold 2nd Holiday Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Officials of the American Society of Professional Automobile Racers last night assembled to discuss with several midwestern and eastern racing promoters the possibility of holding a Memorial Day race for name drivers who have refused to compete in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis.

Joe Lencki, Chicago racing car owner and spokesman for the society in its dispute over the purse size in the Indianapolis event, said the group "definitely has made plans to race somewhere on Memorial Day." The society has withheld 28 entries from the holiday classic at Indianapolis.

Lencki met earlier yesterday with Ralph Hepburn and Rex Mays, present and past presidents respectively of the society, which is demanding a prize money increase from $75,000 to $150,000 in the 500-mile event.

The Indianapolis Motor Speedway management already has announced the close of entries with a full field of 33 drivers.

Tennis Club Reelects Millikan President

The Iowa City Tennis association held its first meeting of the 1947 season last night in the engineering building and re-elected Dr. Clark Millikan president and John Ebert, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Millikan was nominated as Iowa City club representative to the Eastern Iowa District Tennis association meeting to be held at the Hotel Jefferson in Iowa City, Sunday, April 27.

The Iowa City association adopted a resolution urging all university tennis fans, women as well as men, to join the club for the coming season. Class A and B challenge ladders will be set up to give all members an equal amount of play.

It was also announced that the four day Eastern Iowa District meet would be held in Iowa City July 17-20.

 week when they were both registered at the same hotel in Stockholm. They are determined to avoid each other as much as possible. It is an unfortunate attitude, for it is beginning to look as though each man singly — within the framework of his own party — is knocking his head against a stone wall.

If Stassen and Wallace continue their peek-a-boo antics through the next 12 months, the Hannegans and Reeces, we may be sure, will have the 1948 national convention situation well in hand. The bellhops in Stockholm missed a good bet, for our money. The visiting American politicians should have been whisked down to the corner drug store and herded into one of those 25-cent self-photography booths for what might have been the political picture of the decade.

Imagine the looks on the faces of President Harry Truman, Democrat, and Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Republican, if they were to open their mail one of these mornings and be greeted with a candid snapshot inscribed: "To Harry and Arthur from your Stockholm buddies. We're thinking of you both constantly. Having wonderful time. TRI-partisanly yours. Harold and Henry."

PAUL ROBINSON

To Honor Six At Supreme Court Fele

Six men will be initiated into Order of Coif tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Macbride auditorium as part of a three-event celebration for the annual Supreme court day of the University law college.

Honorary initiate will be Justice John John E. Mulrone, who will come here with the Iowa Supreme court for the main feature of the day.

Other initiates will be John F. Stone, Thomas C. Teas, James N. Thomas, Harold J. Birch and Owen B. Overholt.

Members for Order of Coif are selected from the upper ten percent scholastically in the senior law class and from those who have made special achievements in the legal profession.

Preceding the initiation will be the feature of the day at 9:45 a.m. when Iowa's nine supreme court justices will hear four law students present a hypothetical appellate case involving the closed shop in Iowa.

Men who will present the argument are William Lewis of Davenport, appellees' attorneys, and Martin J. Purcell of Camanche and Peter A. Seip of Waterloo, attorneys for the appellants.

The men selected to present the argument, which is open to the public, have ranked highest during their entire three years of competition in argument at the law college.

A reception for the justices, faculty members, law students and their wives will be given at 4 p.m. in the main lounge of Iowa Union. Chief Justice Charles F. Wennerstrom will present awards to the students who gave the arguments.

ELECTIONS—

Wilkinson was selected to the West team for the East-West game in New York and also played with an all-star team against the Phillip's Oiler quintet.

37 Percent Vote

The 3,572-vote total was the largest in student council's two-year existence, but only because of increased enrollment—about 10,000 students. By proportion the 37 percent turnout was not as great as last year, when nearly 2,750 students of approximately 6,000 voted.

Three polls were used this year—in Iowa Union, East hall and the Quadrangle. In 1946 Iowa Union was the only polling place. Students cast 2,044 votes at the Union, 678 in East hall and 850 in the Quadrangle.

Landslides Last Year

One year ago, Herb Olson, incumbent president, and Bette Jo Phelan, delegate-at-large, were landslide winners, polling 1,557 and 1,443 votes respectively. Miss Phelan's total was 513 higher than the nearest competitor. This year, with the votes more evenly spread out, plurality winners were elected by smaller margins.

Nurses Couldn't Vote

This year as last year, the professional and graduate schools apparently did not participate to a great extent, according to Pat Richards, election committee chairman. Student nurses, lacking I.D. cards required for voting, were unable to cast ballots.

WISCONSIN REPUBLICAN WINS MILWAUKEE (AP)—Glen R. Davis, 32-year old Republican attorney from Waukesha, emerged the winner last night in a closely-contested race for the second Wisconsin congressional district seat left vacant by the death of Rep. Robert K. Henry of Jefferson, also a Republican.

'Don't Write If You Can Possibly Help It'

Poet, Editor Tate Tells of Difficulties in Writing Field

CRITIC AND WRITER discussed manuscript problems when Allen Tate, publishing editor for Henry Holt & Co., held a conference in writer's workshop yesterday with Warren Miller, A4, Iowa City. Tate, author and poet in his own right, is giving lectures this week before classes in literature and creative writing in addition to the workshop conferences. He leaves Saturday to attend a writer's conference at Grinnell College.

Do you want to be a writer? Don't do it if you can possibly help it was the advice Allen Tate, poet critic, and publishing editor gave in an interview yesterday in Hotel Jefferson.

"Don't try to become a writer unless you want to write so much you are willing to make sacrifices for it," he explained.

He said that there are too many writers and pictured competition in the field as being a survival of the fittest. "Even some writers who are fittest to survive become frustrated by discouragement in the beginning and they never succeed."

Writing Courses Save Time
Tate, who arrived by plane from New York yesterday, said that college courses in creative writing tend to save time for the average writer if they are conducted by a gifted person. He added, however, that a number of writers have become successful with only a high school education or less.

"The University of Iowa is unusually fortunate in establishing

Play Ratings Given For Class A Schools

Announced yesterday by the university extension division were top ratings for class A high schools and all community groups in this year's play production festival.

For class A schools, Cedar Falls and Marshalltown were rated "superior."

Davenport (Senior), Muscatine, Cedar Rapids (Franklin) and Waterloo (West) received "excellent" ratings.

In the class A community groups the Davenport Masquers of Friendly House rated "superior."

The Davenport Woman's club rated "excellent" in the class B community group.

Individual recognition in the high school group went to actors from Cedar Falls, Marshalltown, Muscatine, Davenport, Cedar Rapids (Franklin), Waterloo (West) and Ames (Senior).

Community group actors from Davenport, Cedar Rapids, Fairfield and Sigourney also received individual recognition.

Pharmacists Show Effects of Cancer

A display in the main lobby of the chemistry building this week shows the effect of cancer on the human body.

Specimens of infected body tissue were contributed for the display by courtesy of the pathology department of the college of medicine.

Helen Turnbull, P4 of Burlington, Wis., aided by other pharmacy students, prepared the window for competition in a national pharmacy week contest. The contest is sponsored by the American Pharmaceutical association and is open to any pharmacist or group of pharmacists.

Miss Turnbull said yesterday that the purpose of the displays is to show that pharmacists are interested in public health projects. "Prevent cancer" is the theme of National Pharmacy week.

Students who helped with the display are: Bob Riggs, P4 of Canton, Mo.; Mark Youngren, P3 of Boone; Norma Ems, P4 of Savageton, Wyo., and Dorothy Galvin, P3 of Waterloo.

Services Tomorrow For Michael Boarts

Funeral services for Michael Henry Boarts, former janitor of City hall, will be held in Hohenschuh mortuary at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Boarts died at University hospital Monday afternoon.

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Frank Mitchell, 832 Rundell street, with whom he lived; a sister, Mrs. Kate Connell of Iowa City; three brothers, Joe and William of Iowa City and Charles of California, and two grandchildren.

Boarts was born September 28, 1874, and was a lifelong resident of Iowa City.

TO DISCUSS TURK PROBLEM

"The Problem of Turkey" will be the topic of Prof. Ernest E. Ramsaur of the history department when he speaks from 7 to 7:30 tomorrow evening over WSUI.

Ramsaur has studied the Turkish language and taught at Robert college in Istanbul. While in the navy, he served in North Africa, Italy and Greece.

VISITING SPEAKER

ONE OF THE LEADING women in sales analysis, Bee Angell, head of a marketing research and consulting service at Washington university, will speak to the advertising evaluation class Monday.

Her topic: "Applications of Commercial Research." She will be honored Monday night at a dinner sponsored by Gamma Alpha Chi, professional fraternity, for women in advertising.

Almost 20 pounds of coffee per capita was consumed in the United States during 1946.

Kampus Kapers Show Good For One Laugh After Another

By JIM MCGUIRE

Admitting from the start that it is not professional vaudeville, Kampus Kapers pokes fun at its own acts and presents an evening of effervescent entertainment.

Bill Platt, master of ceremonies, kept last night's opening at a fast pace with a fresh line of patter which didn't even slow down for requested encores. From Jo Weaver's melodramatic interpretation of "Bird in a Gilded Cage" to the old time minstrel act featuring Dick Steckel, the show is good for one laugh after another.

Some of the gags show signs of wear but they are separated by enough original comedy dialogue to make them not too objectionable.

One of the charms of Kampus Kapers fifth annual musical, in addition to being unpretentious, is in its variety of acts. Leo Cortimiglia highlights the show with an accordion act and three vocalists deserve particular praise. Helen Mayel, a sultry voiced blues singer, does some nice work with "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em" and Russ Jonas and Grant Eastham

World Service Group Plans All-Campus Drive For Clothing

Plans for an all-campus clothing drive to be held during the week were announced yesterday.

The drive is being sponsored by the World Service commission of the Student Christian council. Containers will be placed in housing units for the clothing which will later be packaged for overseas distribution.

Jim Mortenson, A1 of Harlan, and Allon McGlothlin, A1 of Des Moines, are co-chairmen of the drive.

The World Service commission is a newly-formed student organization interested in (1) the world student service fund and other relief, (2) summer service projects for students and (3) other programs of international significance which may be developed in cooperation with like campus organizations.

The Rev. Fred W. Putnam is serving as a temporary chairman until a student chairman is elected at a meeting to be held April 28.
