CONFIDENTIAL GOVERNMENT REPORT:

Break in Prices May Not Come Until 1948

By SIGRID ARNE

WASHINGTON (AP)—That drop in prices which has been expected this autumn may not come until 1948.

A government economist told me that a confidential report says so. Government economic specialists size the situation up roughly like this:

1. Various large groups of Americans who buy from each other get pay boosts which about balance price gains.

Both factory workers and a broad group of non-factory workers (such as store help and people in the petroleum industry) got about 1 percent more pay from V-J day through the first round of pay increases.

2. The farmer, who made good profits through the war, has made out even better since price controls went out.

15-Cent Wage Boosts Granted By Three More Industries

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

General Electric, the Chrysler corporation and the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation yesterday granted their employees wage boosts approximating 15 cents an hour, bringing to more than 790,000 the number of workers in three major industries who have reached agreements at that figure.

The General Electric agreement for a 15 cent boost covered 125,000 employees in 14 states. The Chrysler contract, similar to one signed by General Motors Tuesday, provided a 1 1/2 cent increase plus six paid holidays and other changes and affects 70,000 production employees in five states.

The agreement with Jones and Laughlin, the nation's fourth largest steel producer, covered 15,000 employees in the Pittsburgh area and provided for a 12 1/2 cent boost plus other benefits which made the total "more than 15 cents."

2 Young Jews Kill Palestine Police Officer

JERUSALEM (AP)—Two young Jews who fired from a passing taxi cut down a senior Palestine police officer yesterday as he stepped from his automobile in Haifa, bringing to 14 the death toll in a week of venal warfare against the British by the Jewish underground.

The Jewish agency, political representative of the Holy Land's 600,000 Jews, was reported preparing new proposals to the Palestine government for combating terrorism. These include establishment of security patrols by armed members of Hagana, the reputed 60,000-strong clandestine Jewish "defense army" which works closely with the Jewish agency, a reliable informant said.

A. E. Conquest, head of the Haifa criminal investigation department, was shot twice in the abdomen by his assailants, whose taxi crashed into a traffic island as it sped from the scene. The two men leaped out and escaped on foot. A dragnet was spread out over the area immediately by police and military authorities.

Conquest, a veteran of 18 years service on the police force in the report of Haifa, succumbed from his wounds in a few hours.

The Jewish agency's plan for combating terrorists was expected to be offered to the Palestine government tomorrow.

In the current three week telephone strike, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, expressed hope that some settlement of the communications walkout might be reached before Monday.

The NFTW originally asked a $12 a week increase and later reduced demands to $6 or approximately 15 cents an hour.

Meanwhile in Washington the senate Republican policy committee announced plans to push a general labor bill to passage this week and said it would hold a Wednesday night session if necessary.

General Electric announced previously to yesterday's agreement that "as a result of contemplated wage increases" the company would be "forced to raise prices about seven percent on an average."

A union spokesman said the union believed "there is no justification for an increase in prices. . . . Our financial settlements were modest ones."

DETROIT (AP)—Current high prices may have forced a lot of potential buyers out of the automobile market, but there still remain enough to put "sold" tags on all the vehicles the industry is likely to produce for the next two years or more.

The manufacturers at present see no indications of a natural shrinkage in demand for motorcars.

There are many in industry circles who believe that once the problem of wage scales throughout the automobile assembly plants and their suppliers has been settled a sharp upturn in production volume may be expected.

3. The whole country has simply moved to a higher price level. The city worker and the farmer both pay—but may be able to pay—each other's higher prices. (Labor department statistics show that the food bill of the moderate income family jumped 95 percent from 1939 to February, 1947, but at the same time earnings in all manufacturing industries jumped 96.9 percent.)

4. A few comparatively small groups are getting squeezed—some white collar workers, some higher paid men in factories, some professional people. They can't buy so much. But their absence in the stores won't be enough to bring prices down.

The picture is vague because the federal government doesn't correlate the statistics it gathers. The agriculture department gathers them for farmers, the labor department for city people, and the federal reserve keeps an eye on industry and banks.

Much of the price annoyance is due to small shifts up and down the living scale which have happened to various groups of people because of prices. Here are two examples:

1. The farmer, in 1939, was making proportionately less than the city worker. Since then his cash receipts have jumped 200 percent. The national income in that period jumped only 133 percent, says the commerce department.

Food nicks more out of the family pay check. The city man kicks, but the farmer's wife can buy more for the house.

2. The biggest pay increases, percentage-wise (January, 1941, to October, 1946) went to people in the lower paid industries: leather, textiles, apparel, tobacco, furniture, paper and chemicals. That brought a whole new group of Americans into the butcher shops for meat into the clothing stores for suits.

They still don't live so well as people in higher paid work, but they live better than they used to. Their dollars help to drive up prices where goods are short.

The school-teacher pays more for a meal, a purse, a blouse. She is irritated because she has less left for a vacation. But the leather-worker, farmer and needle-worker have more. The teacher has slipped down the living scale in relation to other workers. But the others came up.

The labor department's consumer price index shows where the family purse is leaking the worst: from 1939 to February, 1947, all items which a moderate income family buys jumped 55 percent. But food jumped 95 percent.

The biggest jumps came in meat (105.5 percent) fruits and vegetables (107.5 percent); fats and oils (138.8 percent). By comparison clothing jumped only 79.7 percent and housefurnishing 78.5 percent. The nation's gas and electric bill was the only joy. It dropped 6.9 percent.

No one is sure how and when the price crack will come. No one is even sure that prices may not go up farther before they come down. Unions continue to get pay increases.

But some economists expect a price drop eventually. They hope it will come gently so employers can adjust and keep workers on pay-rolls. They say if prices continue to go up too much the crack will be sharp and there will be unemployment.

Some industries are voluntarily cutting prices. But the economists think the cuts are too small to mean much yet.

Some people are on a "buyers' strike," which may account for spotty reports that Easter sales dropped off. But the number is too small to mean anything to the general price level. People can't stop eating, and it is food that has gone up the most.

Business men could cut prices by cutting profits. But few of the economists expect this will be general, even though a good many major industries jumped their 1946 profits 100 percent over 1945. The baking industry, for example, and meat packing, distilling, cotton goods, silk and rayon, woolen goods, hosiery, clothing, tires, lumber, paper products, cement.

There's not much hope for anything but a seasonal drop in food prices until the new crop is in. If the crop abroad is good, the United States will ship less, food supplies will be back up at home and prices will have to come down. But if the crop is bad? It could mean continued high prices.

There are signs some people are running out of money. Installment buying has shot up. In 1946 Americans saved only half of what they did in 1945. Even so, they saved another $9,000,000,000. Savings now total $140,000,000,000, and the 1946 national income was $165,000,000,000. The price of things depends partly on what Americans decide to do with that money: spend it or sit on it.

1947 Legislature Finishes Work

DES MOINES (AP)—The 1947 Iowa legislature completed its work yesterday, 104 days after it convened.

It left to the final hour the decision on state aid to schools, one of the hottest among the many highly controversial questions on which it had to pass.

The last act was approval of a program for $13,000,000 a year in many types of educational support. Included was $7,375,000 annually for general aid, a brand new form of assistance in which all schools will benefit.

This was an increase of nearly $10,000,000 over the amount provided two years ago when the legislature first adopted the principle of school support on a substantial basis.

This was one of the contributing factors in the new record overall appropriations of approximately $160,000,000 for the next biennium. The total represented an increase of about $50,000,000 over the previous record amount appropriated in 1945.

Also in the dying moments, the legislature refused to take any action on long-standing proposals for more restrictive beer legislation. The last of three joint conference committees on a proposed beer bill reported it was unable to agree.

Another issue which failed to get anywhere was a proposal to

Marshall to Report on Conference Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall flew home from Moscow yesterday and took off almost immediately for a quiet Carolina resort to draft important reports to congress and the nation on the foreign ministers' conference.

These reports are expected to bear heavily on relations with Russia, and with the attitudes made clear at the Moscow meeting, which ended largely in disagreement.

President Truman interrupted a river cruise to meet Marshall. "I am most happy to receive you back with us," Mr. Truman told his top cabinet officer at the airport. "I am very pleased with what you have been doing. I know when you make the report to the country, the people will also be pleased."

That report will be broadcast from 7:30 to 8 p.m. (Central Standard Time) Monday night, 24 hours after a private report to

Father Divine Plans 350-Course Feast

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Father Divine, billiard-bald, five-foot Negro evangelist and self-styled "God," will celebrate the first anniversary of marriage to a 22-year old white girl with a seven-hour banquet of 350 courses.

Divine was wed to attractive, blonde Edna Rose Ritchings of Montreal last April 29.

Tuesday at Pinebrook, N. J.—one of several properties he owns and calls his "Heavens"—Divine and his bride will entertain hundreds of members of his religious cult.

An aide disclosed that 60 barrels of chickens will be served.

"It will take seven hours to serve the entire meal," the spokesman said.

"There will be 350 courses. About everything imaginable will be served."

Adolf Hitler Still Alive? Many Germans Don't Care

Stories of Escape Abound, But Legend Isn't Popular Yet

By LYNN HEINZERLING
BERLIN (AP)—The legend of Adolf Hitler—like his 1,000-year Reich, his new order and his intuitive strategy—hasn't taken any respectable shape yet.

Allied propaganda experts, who feared that a new survival myth would grow up around the wretched career of the fuhrer and serve as a rallying point for fanatic nationalists in Germany, are keeping their fingers crossed. Not so the Germans, however. Some of them revile Hitler, a few still revere him and the rest apparently don't care whether he's dead or not.

Two years after Hitler was reported to have taken his own life in the air raid bunker of his chancellery in Berlin, there is still responsible opinion that he is alive and living with his bride, Eva Braun, the mistress he is supposed to have married April 30, 1945. There are also at large in Germany a moderate number of German crackpots, prophets and trouble-makers who call the police whenever they get a new idea about Hitler's present whereabouts. But none of this adds up to much of a legend.

The most popular opinion held by those Germans who think Hitler still lives is that he is somewhere in South America, probably in Argentina.

One lady, however, reported to the police that the fuhrer broadcasts every night between 2 a.m. and 3 a.m. from some place in Chile. A much older report, never verified, was that Hitler was safe in Patagonia.

Another lady, who told the police that she had "prophetic powers," telephoned recently that Hitler was living near Tegernsee in the Munich area, but the police couldn't find him there.

The most recent report on Hitler was from a Berlinler, who said that every night he heard an unidentified voice on the radio telling the people: "Germans, do not despair. Endure this most difficult hour of your fate. The fuhrer is alive. He is recuperating."

One still hears the old stories that Hitler escaped in a specially-built submarine, by airplane or by slipping through the Berlin subway system. But all these tales suffer from the fact that nothing authentic has been heard from the fuhrer since May 1, 1945, when his body and that of Eva Braun were supposed to have been soaked in gasoline and burned in the courtyard of his chancellery.

The whole puzzling, contradictory story started with a German broadcast from Hamburg May 1, 1945, which said: "At the head of the brave defenders of the Reich capital, the fuhrer, Adolf Hitler, has fallen. Inspired by a determination to save his people and Europe from destruction by bolshevism he has sacrificed his life."

The Russians were then installed along Unter Den Linden, practically looking through the paneless windows of the shattered chancellery.

Moscow radio reported the following day that a search through Berlin had failed to uncover Hitler's body. The story of the suicide pact and the cremation of the bodies came later. But although the Russians found the bodies of many prominent Nazis in the courtyard, they never reported the bodies of Hitler and Eva Braun and many Russians believe that Hitler still lives.

It is generally acknowledged that cremation in the open courtyard of the chancellery would have been difficult and still portions of the body would still remain after the fire.

W.F. Heimlich, former chief U. S. army intelligence officer in Berlin, is one of those who believes Hitler is still living. After months of investigation, Heimlich says there is "not a single shred of evidence" that he died in the chancellery bunker.

under the reichschancellery in Berlin. Their bones have never been found and it appears likely that they never will be.

Trevor-Roper, now student of modern history at Christ Church college, Oxford, was granted permission after demobilization to researches in Germany into a book, "The Last Days of Hitler." His views are the official government view on the question.

According to Trevor-Roper's reconstruction, it was not until April 22, 1945, that Hitler at last, and for the first time, despaired of his mission. With Russian armored spearheads within Berlin, Hitler flew into a rage. All was over; the third Reich was a failure, and his author had nothing left to do but to die.

In those last days Hitler was married to Eva Braun, who for more than 12 years had been neither wife nor acknowledged mistress. Shortly after the ceremony, Hitler sat in his private

Evalyn Walsh McLean Dies; D.C. Socialite

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean, fabulous social figure who wore the evil-omened Hope diamond for a luck charm, died last night at the age of 60.

She spent her first years in a two-room log cabin and spent a good part of her later years in a mansion designed to entertain royalty. Death came at 5:15 p.m. (CST) from pneumonia, at her Georgetown residence, where she had been ill for several days.

She was a life of contrasts: She collected gems by the handful and pawned them often.

She had the great 44 1/2 karat Hope diamond blessed by a priest and claimed it brought her good fortune, but never would let her children touch it.

She entertained the world's notables at lavish parties at the family's "friendship" estate, a nd bought sandwiches for bonus marchers after the first World War.

She spent $104,000 and traveled half way across the country in an effort to ransom the kidnaped Lindbergh baby, only to learn she had been the victim of a hoax.

She recovered twice from narcotics addiction.

She was the widow of Edward Beale McLean, heir to the Washington Post and the Cincinnati Enquirer, and the daughter of Thomas Walsh who founded a huge fortune on the free milling gold of the Camp Bird mine in Colorado.

British Convinced Fuhrer is Dead

By NORMAN J. BADDERLY
LONDON (AP)—Hitler is dead. That is the official view of the British war office, based on the findings of H.R. Trevor-Roper, the officer assigned by the British intelligence bureau in Germany to investigate the circumstances and evidence of Hitler's death.

One or two officers, individually, admit the existence of the faintest ray of doubt, pointing out that you can't conduct a post-mortem or hold an inquest without a body. Conclusive evidence is lacking but it is likely that Hitler and Eva Braun were buried in a bomb crater near the bunker suite in the bunker with his wife, Martin Bormann, Goebbels, Frau Goebbels and Hitler's two secretaries, Frau Christian and Frau Junge. As they sat drinking champagne, Hitler spoke again of his plans of suicide.

On April 29 Hitler had his favorite dog destroyed and gave poison capsules to his secretaries. He apologized for giving them no better parting gift.

The next day Hitler lunched with his two secretaries and the cook. Eva Braun was not there. Preparations were already made for the approaching ceremony.

Hitler's adjutant Guensche sent an order for 200 litres of gasoline to be sent to the chancellery garden. Soon afterwards all guards except those on duty were ordered to leave.

After lunch Hitler came from his suite with Eva Braun for a final farewell. Then they returned to the suite. A single shot was heard. After an interval those outside entered and found Hitler lying on a blood-soaked sofa. He had shot himself through the mouth. Eva Braun was also on the sofa, dead. A revolver was by her side but she had swallowed poison.

Shortly afterwards, Arthur Axmann, head of the Hitler youth, arrived at the bunker and was admitted to see the bodies. In a little while Heinz Lange, Hitler's personal servant, arrived with another SS man, wrapped Hitler's body in a blanket to conceal the shattered head, and carried it out into the passage where other observers recognized it by the familiar black trousers. Bormann followed with the body of Eva Braun, which needed no blanket.

The two corpses were placed side by side, a few feet from the porch, and gasoline was poured over them. Then Guensche dipped a bag in the gasoline, set it alight and flung it out upon the corpses. They were enveloped in a sheet of flame.

For two and a half hours SS men poured more gasoline on the bodies.

OF CABBAGES AND KINGS New Phase in Debate On Foreign Policy

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS Daily Iowan Columnist

Two great United States citizens returned home yesterday. From the Big Four foreign ministers conference, just concluded at Moscow, came Secretary of State George C. Marshall. From a 14-day speaking tour abroad, during which he visited England, France and the Scandinavian countries, came former Vice-President Henry A. Wallace.

This week they will deliver their reports to the American people. Marshall is scheduled to give a 30-minute radio address tomorrow evening and Wallace is expected to speak over a national network on Wednesday.

Their talks will mark a new phase in the important debate over U.S. foreign policy and the Truman Doctrine, a debate which might well carry through to the 1948 presidential campaign.

The Secretary of State will tell us why the Moscow conference broke down. He will cite what are, in his opinion, the major issues dividing Russia and the western democracies in their attempt to reach an agreement on peace terms for Germany and Austria. He may explore the over-all prospects for lasting peace between the Soviet Union and the United States.

Marshall's report tomorrow will be the most significant statement to be delivered by a U.S. state secretary since Cordell Hull returned from Moscow in the fall of 1943, bringing with him a very optimistic analysis of the results of the first wartime foreign ministers conference.

At that time the diplomatic representatives of the United States, England, Russia and China declared that their "united action, pledged for the prosecution of the war against their respective enemies, will be continued for the organization and maintenance of peace and security. They also stated that they would confer and cooperate with one another and with other members of the United Nations to bring about a practicable general agreement with respect to the regulation of armaments in the post-war period."

When Hull left Moscow 42 months ago, the governments of Soviet Russia and the United States were in closer accord than at any time in the previous 25 years. Throughout the world, the peoples of the anti-fascist coalition held their heads high. Their hopes for peace and freedom were strengthened by the issuance of that joint four-nation declaration which sounded the first concrete note of Anglo-Russian-American unity.

Secretary Marshall brings no such declaration back with him from the recent Moscow Big Four meeting. Failure by the foreign ministers to agree on the German-Austrian treaties cannot, in any sense, however, be construed as a failure in statesmanship on the part of the American secretary of state. The big powers failed in April, 1947, where they succeeded in October, 1943, because the fear of annihilation by a common enemy—fascism—no longer dominates their respective policies. Where there was unity of purpose, there is now a clash of ideals. Where there was once trust and good will, there is now suspicion and misunderstanding.

Fear of the common enemy has given way to fear of each other. The first Moscow conference served to bring Russia and the western powers closer together. The international tension surrounding its counterpart this spring has, if anything, driven the two factions further apart.

George Marshall will speak bluntly and realistically in his report tomorrow evening. There will be no pseudo-optimism in his address. He is not a man accustomed to mincing words. He will lay the cards, face-up on the table as he attempts to outline for us the path he feels our government must now take with regard to its attitude toward the Soviet Union.

Wallace's speech on Wednesday, on the other hand, will undoubtedly attack the entire approach of the Truman administration to the question of Russian-American relations. The editor of New Republic magazine may call upon the governments of both nations to renew the spirit and trust and confidence which characterized their wartime strategy meetings.

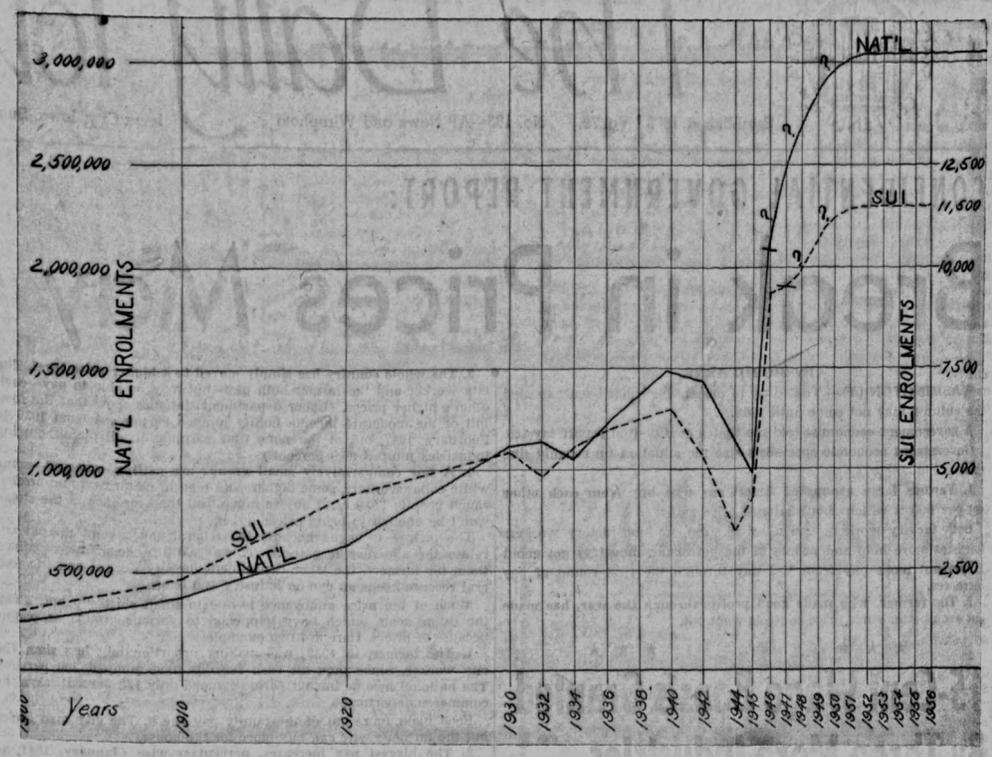

He will probably ask the president and the secretary of state to place first things first. An overall global policy agreement between the Soviet Union and the United States must precede attempts to solve the smaller, less relevant problems involved in the German-Austrian treaties—that, we venture, will be the gist of the Wallace message.

Both Marshall and Wallace know that those peoples whose hopes for peace and freedom were bolstered by the joint declaration of the big powers in 1943 are again looking to the leading statesmen of the world for guidance and strength. This week, those hopes will rest upon the foreign policy statements and sincere, forthright credos to be broadcast to peoples everywhere by two of America's outstanding citizens.

Past, Present, Anticipated Enrollments at SUI Compared With National Total

A look at the diagram above will show why university and college administrators in the United States feel the heat is on. Officials are preparing for an expected increase of 15 percent in the 1947 enrollment over that of 1946, and estimate SUI total enrollment at 11,500 when the national figures reach their peak in 1951.

Registrar Paul J. Blommers gives five reasons why enrollment figures this fall may reach 11,000. 1) A "backlog" of veterans who have not yet entered school. 2) A "high rate of persistency" among veterans. The ex-G.I. is showing excellent scholastic ability and so is likely to remain in school. 3) Larger high school graduating classes. 4) A more favorable social attitude toward higher education, and 5) Generally favorable economic conditions which enable more students to take college training.

The maximum number of students that this school could handle is about 11,500, Blommers believes. To serve more than this number would require further expansion of housing and classroom facilities and a larger staff of teachers.

Blommers declares the housing shortage is the basic reason why the school can not accommodate more than that number. Housing officials are becoming increasingly pessimistic over plans to finish present housing projects in time to meet student demands.

Predictions on national enrollment indicate a leveling off about 1951. However, John Dale Russell, director of the division of higher education, has said that there will be no significant reduction in the college population for the next 15 years.

SUI Students Fairly Tolerant In Attitude Toward Commies

By RICHARD WALK

A series of questions on communism asked by the Daily Iowan found University of Iowa fairly tolerant toward the Communist party. Two of the questions were previously asked by Gallup in August, 1946, and student opinion is more tolerant than national opinion as of that date. Of course, national opinion may have shifted but the relative liberality of student opinion has been noted many times in the Iowan's poll.

Students were also much less inclined to outlaw the Communist party than they were to have a federal law passed outlawing organizations like the Columbians and the Ku Klux Klan. Juniors, seniors, graduate and professional students were somewhat less inclined to outlaw the so-called terrorist organizations than the remainder of the student population.

Students were asked: "In general, do you think that most American citizens who belong to the Communist party in this country are loyal to America or to Russia?"

Table with 2 columns: Campus, Gallup. Rows: Loyal to U.S., Loyal to Russia, No opinion.

Those who thought they are loyal to the United States said: "Most of them are dupes." "I believe that they are loyal to democratic ideals, in general." "They are just trying to correct the democratic system."

"But they are not too loyal to anybody." "A lot of sincere intellectuals among the Communists—good Americans."

Students who thought they were loyal to Russia commented: "Loyal to the one Communist party." "Can't be loyal to U.S. and communism." "Should shoot them."

"Most Americans believe they are loyal to Russia. I do too." "During the war New Jersey dockworkers knew there were Communists there who were loyal to Russia—not U.S." "They reflect Russia's views completely."

Those with "no opinion" said: "They are loyal to neither country—Communists confused." "No one could state that with accuracy." "Some are Communists for the sheer sake of not being Republicans or Democrats."

"Hard to say, probably thing they are being loyal to U.S." "They should be given tests and watched."

Students were then asked: "Should U.S. Communists be permitted to hold civil service jobs (regular government jobs) in this country?"

We Can Give Homes to the Homeless

One of America's richest heritages is her tradition of welcome extended to the displaced of other lands. Today, nearly two years after VE day there are still one million homeless in Europe's displaced persons camps.

American aid—channeled through UNRRA is keeping the displaced people alive, but without citizenship or the facilities for conducting normal lives, the line which differentiates the spiritual no-man's-land in which they exist and the barbed wire of the war's concentration camps is very thin.

On June 30th UNRRA packs up its soup kitchens, its doctors, its briefcases and goes home. The UN International Relief organization, which was supposed to have stepped in and taken over the jobs of maintenance and repatriation, won't be ready. Its charter must still go through the mill of being ratified by the 15 key nations which are pledged to contribute 75 percent of its operating budget. The IRO cannot come into being without the initial support of the United States which must appropriate 45 percent of the proposed 160-million-dollar budget for the first year of IRO's operation.

Even if there were to be no dislocation in transferring these responsibilities from UNRRA to IRO, the mere feeding of these displaced persons is not enough. The big job is resettlement.

Of the eight million homeless persons in Europe at the end of hostilities, seven million have been returned to their homes. For either religious or political reasons the remaining million cannot be repatriated. If they are not to remain an unproductive sore on the side of an already feeble Europe, they must be resettled where their talents and energies can be an asset instead of a liability.

Resettlement means places for these people to go. Few nations are in any position to assimilate new population. Of those relatively undamaged by the war, Australia plans to take 70,000 immigrants during the next three years. But, two years will elapse before she will be able to admit other than non-British immigrants.

Canada has offered to absorb 4,000 Poles, those refugees whom she sheltered during the war and relatives of Canadian citizens into her already strained economy. South American countries will also take refugees which they can accommodate under present immigration policies, but not nearly as many as they could easily admit.

Between the Statue of Liberty and the displaced persons of Europe stands a formidable barrier of immigration restrictions which must be eased if the United States is to continue her leadership in the United Nations and the IRO. Apart from the consideration of long-range revision of our immigration laws, there are emergency measures which the United States can take if it is to aid in the solution of the problem posed by displaced persons. Present immigration policy was outlined in the immigration act of 1924 which attempted to restrict future immigration in the interests of maintaining the balance of nationality groups extant in the nation at that time. It limits immigration from quota countries (all of the European nations) to a total of 153,789 persons a year.

In an executive order of December, 1945 dealing with the problem of resettlement, President Truman said: "I consider that common decency and the fundamental comradeship of all human beings require use to do what lies within our power to see that our established immigration quotas are used to reduce human suffering."

As set up in the 1924 law, no more than ten percent of one country's immigration quota can be used in one month, the unused portion of the ten percent expiring at the end of the month. All unused quotas expire at the end of the year.

Since 1931 there have been more than 100,000 unused quotas yearly. During the war years immigration from the countries whose nationalities also now need resettlement was virtually impossible. On top of these curtailments the quotas are so set up as to favor immigration from northern and western European countries whose nationalities don't want to settle in the United States. By contrast, Poland who has 300,000 among the displaced persons enjoys a yearly quota of 6,500.

With the end of the war administrative abuses of the already limited immigration possibilities have added to the difficulties. With out changing the purpose of the immigration law we could use it more generously than we have.

Unused quotas from the war years could be opened up to the nationals of the countries affected. We could dispense with the monthly expiration of unused quotas at the same time that we increase the shipping facilities available to refugees. Temporary relaxation of these regulations would afford relief to thousands of the displaced persons without altering the intent of our immigration policy, for the national makeup of the entering immigrants would be constant with the proportion of nationalities now in residence.

The health, financial, sponsorship and army intelligence requirements would keep the quality of immigration high, while giving us the contribution of people trained in professions and industries advantageous to our economy.

If the spirit of America is to be taken off the books and given a living application, she must extend the same haven to the displaced of today that in the past brought to her shores the strength and courage of her founders.

Brown took a group of veterans who could not pass the entrance examinations, but who wanted a college education, and put them in a special veterans college, run, however, by its regular faculty and administration. The university is discovering that these "sub-standard" students are generally doing as well as the regular Brown students.

Apparently ambition and added maturity are making up for academic deficiencies. This experiment suggests that the desire to learn is more important than ability to learn, that education does not have to make for stratification of our society. It also gives weight to the American idea of "one education for all."

Letters to the Editor: Deplores 'Apathy' Toward Teacher Crisis

TO THE DAILY IOWAN: The general public has been made well aware of the critical teacher situation through the medium of press, radio, and movies. Horace Mann stated, "No nation can rise higher than its teachers, and no teacher will rise higher than his purpose."

Organizations such as the Future Teacher clubs will be needed more than ever during the years ahead and will afford one of the best opportunities for us to take our part in safeguarding education and democracy.

BEULAH KEMP, president University of Iowa's chapter, Iowa Future Teacher association

(The Iowan published two informative stories in the convention before it occurred, but did not carry a story after the convention since there was very little space and we did not feel that it had as much general interest as did some of the other material that day.

Also, Prof. Haefner's fine speech had been covered in two interviews—one on the economic aspect of German education and one on the German school systems. As for the implication that The Iowan is doing nothing to dramatize the critical teacher situation, a quick glance at the issues of the last two months will show that the problem has been dealt with frequently. We refer Miss Kemp to the Iowans of March 8 and 18 and April 3, 4, 23 and 24. We also refer her to the series of six articles by Winifred Shields going into the situation in detail locally and nationally which we published last fall. There are also two articles on this problem on our city desk at the present time which will be run as soon as possible—The Editor.)

Much as the American people seem to view education as the answer to all our ills, there are still some who tend to regard education—particularly higher education—as being only for the professional elite.

An experiment conducted at Brown university this past year provides a pretty fair argument to the thesis that "education's all right for some, not so good for others."

Brown took a group of veterans who could not pass the entrance examinations, but who wanted a college education, and put them in a special veterans college, run, however, by its regular faculty and administration. The university is discovering that these "sub-standard" students are generally doing as well as the regular Brown students.

Apparently ambition and added maturity are making up for academic deficiencies. This experiment suggests that the desire to learn is more important than ability to learn, that education does not have to make for stratification of our society. It also gives weight to the American idea of "one education for all."

21 Choruses In Semifinals Of Songfest

Choral groups from 20 housing units will sing in the semi-finals of the all-university song festival tomorrow night and Wednesday night in Macbride auditorium.

Five of the best choruses in both the men's and women's groups will perform again May 11, in an evening concert on the bank of Iowa river near the art building, culminating festivities on Mothers Day week end.

The winners in each division will receive silver traveling cups, now in the possession of Quadrangle and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Each group will sing two types of songs — popular or semi-classical and college.

Men's Groups

Tomorrow night at 7:30 choruses representing Quadrangle and five social fraternities will sing. Their selections include:

Quadrangle — "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and "The Whiffenpoof Song"; Sigma Phi Epsilon — "Temptation" and "Stein Song"; Beta Theta Pi — "Stars Fell on Alabama" and "Illinois Victory"; Theta Xi — "When I Grow Too Old to Dream" and "Purdue Fight Song"; Sigma Alpha Epsilon — "Begin the Beguine" and "Cornell Alma Mater"; Sigma Chi — "Summertime" and "Dear Old Nebraska U."

Women's Units

Choral groups from these women's housing units will appear at 7 p.m. Wednesday:

Delta Delta Delta — "Serenade" from "The Student Prince"; Alpha Xi Delta — "You and the Night and the Music" and "A-Going to the University"; Alpha Delta Pi — "I've Got You Under My Skin" and "Iowa Alma Mater";

Kappa Kappa Gamma — "Make Believe" and "Winter Song"; Pi Beta Phi — "Jealousy" and "Old Gold"; Chi Omega — "Time on My Hands" and "The Whiffenpoof Song"; Cooperatives (Dean, Fairchild and Russell houses) — "Can I Forget You?" and "Our Chicago"; Gamma Phi Beta — "All the Things You Are" and "Oh, Fairest Alma Mater"; Zeta Tau Alpha — "Yesterdays" and a medley of college songs; Alpha Chi Omega — "Zigener" and "University of Minnesota Rouser"; Kappa Alpha — "Dancing in the Dark" and "Eli Yale"; Clinton place — "With a Song in My Heart" and "College Moon"; Sigma Delta Tau — "Lover, Come Back to Me" and "Iowa Fights".

Two choruses from Currier hall will participate. One, under the direction of Marjorie Miller, will sing "Begin the Beguine" and "Canoeing on the Iowa River".

Roberson Will Head GI Insurance Week

Fred Roberson has been appointed by Mayor Preston Koser to serve as chairman of "GI Insurance Week" from April 28 to May 3, it was announced yesterday.

Purpose of the special week will be to urge war veterans in this area reinstate National Service Life Insurance which they have permitted to lapse since leaving the armed forces.

Working with Roberson, who is an Iowa City insurance underwriter and insurance officer for Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2481, will be Iowa City veterans' organizations and the Red Cross.

"Every veteran in this area who has dropped his GI insurance should secure full particulars from any of these organizations. It is easy to reinstate this valuable insurance," Roberson said.

These organizations are prepared to provide information and reinstatement blanks on which ex-servicemen can easily reinstate the insurance they held while in the service, according to Roberson.

For a limited time, veterans can reinstate GI term insurance merely by paying two monthly premiums and signing a statement that they are in as good health as at the time of lapse. In addition to the Red Cross and the Veterans' organizations, veterans may secure information from the Veterans Administration Contact office, room 205, Iowa State Bank and Trust building, or from commercial insurance agents, William J. Doherty, head of the contact office, said.

To Wed May 19

MR. AND MRS. LOCHER of Monticello announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Lillian, to Ambrose N. Strittmatter of Cedar Rapids, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Strittmatter of Des Moines. Miss Locher attended St. Mary's college, Notre Dame, and was graduated from the University of Iowa. She has been engaged in psychiatric social work in Iowa City. Her fiancé was graduated from Drake university law school. He is employed by the U.S. department of justice.

Engagement Announced

WILLIAM S. MUNRO, 518 Oakland avenue, announces the engagement of his daughter, Grace, to Henry E. Olmsted Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Olmsted of Charles City. The wedding will take place June 14 at the First Presbyterian church. Miss Munro will graduate from the university in June. Her fiancé is a sophomore in the college of liberal arts.

ROTC Students Form Gen. Mitchell Squadron

A group tentatively called the "General Mitchell Squadron" has been formed in the military department for air ROTC students, it was announced yesterday by Maj. Irving Parsons, sponsor of the group.

Benjamin B. Davis, A3, Cedar Rapids, has been elected temporary chairman of the unit. A committee has been appointed to draw up a constitution to be submitted to the members.

All ROTC students are eligible for membership although the group was planned primarily for air students. The next meeting of the organization will be at 7 p.m. Thursday, in room 124 of the ROTC armory.

The meeting will include a film communique showing the building of invasion ports for the European invasion and aircraft operations in the Pacific.

Mrs. E. L. DeGowin Wins Service Award

The University of Iowa chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service organization, presented its annual service award to Mrs. E. L. DeGowin, 1203 Friendly avenue, in ceremonies at Iowa Union last night.

Mrs. DeGowin received the award during a dinner dance in the River room.

She was selected from a list of 11 Iowa Citizens by the chapter for service to country, community, student body and the fraternity chapter.

Established last year, the award includes a plaque and permanent certificate.

Mrs. DeGowin is state president of the League of Women Voters and past president of the Iowa City group. She also served a term as Johnson county chairman of the cancer control campaign and is a former member of the Red Cross board of directors.

Included in the program last night was the installation of the new chapter officers. Conrad Wurtz, A3, Dowers Grove, Ill., was installed as president and Tom Neenan A4, Cedar Rapids, as corresponding secretary.

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED

Two building permits for residence-garage combination costing a total of $15,500 were issued yesterday by City Engineer Fred Gartzke.

One went to Walter Buchele for an $8,000 house and garage on Howell street between Kirkwood and Ginter avenues. The other was issued to Arthur W. Ingalls for construction costing $7,500 at 2119 "I" street.

SUI School of Religion--Educators' 'Dream Come True' Varsity Band

Foster Cites Interest Of Latin Americans

"Educational leaders throughout the western hemisphere are seeing in this school of religion at the University of Iowa the realization of a dream once considered impossible." This statement was made by Dr. O.D. Foster, originator of the plan for the school of religion and present guest professor in that school.

"Not only is the school of religion unique in its genius and cooperation by the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, but this is the only institution in America where these three faiths and the state are cooperating officially in the field of higher state education."

"There has been a great increase in the amount of foreign mail coming to the school since the war's end. People in many countries have written--some inquiring about the school and some praising the example of successful cooperation which it sets forth. Often they contribute books, messages and articles to its files."

Central Attraction

"The central attraction of the school is its educational philosophy in addition to its structural and spiritual genius. Statesmen and educators see in it the possible alleviation of the friction between church and state which has disrupted so many nations."

One of the leading Latin American prelates has said of the school, "On such does the hope of the future depend."

"For this reason, Dr. Foster points out, such men as a former judge on the World Court at The Hague, directors of national libraries and leading churchmen have written here, showing an increasing appreciation of the leadership the school is providing in the field of cooperation between church and state."

"Latin American leaders especially are showing a growing interest in the school of religion," Dr. Foster remarked. "As proof of this statement, he displayed three letters recently received--one from an official of the University of Mexico and two from leading citizens of Argentina."

The stamp on the letter from Argentina carried a picture of Franklin D. Roosevelt with the inscription: "Propulsor de la buena vecindad y abanderado de justicia social." (Propulsor of good neighborliness and standard-bearer of social justice.)

Pictorial Commendation

A recent article from a pictorial magazine published in Buenos Aires was enclosed in the other letter. Pictures of an imposing monument to the late President Roosevelt and the Four Freedoms illustrated the article. Roosevelt, the central figure of this white marble memorial, is seated in a manner similar to that of Lincoln in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. This memorial is to be located near the capitol in Buenos Aires.

"Both national gestures," Dr. Foster pointed out, "are examples of evidence continually coming to the school of religion of the desire for good will and understanding on the part of the South American nations."

School's 20th Anniversary

The school of religion will celebrate its twentieth anniversary on May 5 at the annual meeting of the board of trustees. The plan for the school was proposed by Dr. Foster while secretary of the American Association on Religion, whose board of trustees is composed of an equal number of Catholic, Jewish, Protestant and state university authorities.

Today the school has a five-man faculty, headed by Dr. M. Willard Lampe, and a total enrollment of 1,798. Dr. Lampe has been director of the school of religion since the time of its founding.

Math Teachers to Hold Annual Conference

Mathematics teachers will receive their annual conference May 2 and 3 in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. Prof. H. Vernon Price of the mathematics department, yesterday said this is their first meeting since 1941.

Price said the purpose is to suggest improvements in teaching methods.

Teachers will discuss such topics as the Iowa basic skills program in mathematics and the Iowa state mathematics program in secondary schools.

Prof. F. L. Wren of George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., and J. Harvey Croly of Franklin high school, Cedar Rapids, will be visiting speakers.

University faculty members on the program include Price and Professors Roscoe Woods, Herbert F. Spitzer, E. W. Chittenden, and Lloyd A. Knowler.

'Creative Liars' to Vie At Mountaineers Banquet

A tall-tale contest will be part of the program at Iowa Mountaineers' annual banquet in Iowa Union at 6 p.m. Tuesday. Five creative liars will compete for tale-telling honors.

Curtis Layton will give an illustrated lecture, using slides he took in the Pacific area. Color picture from the Alps will accompany a talk by Bill Rodgers.

Awards for the year will be made to Mountaineers at the banquet.

HOME EC CLUB — Home Economics club will meet at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow in Macbride hall dining room. Prof. John H. Haefner will discuss home economics in post-war German education.

SUPPER CLUB — Prof. Richard Holcomb will speak to members of the Sunday Evening Supper club at their meeting at 6:30 p.m., today. "Current Problems of Law Enforcement Officers" will be his topic. The group will meet at Wesley annex, 213 E. Market street.

IOWA CITIAN'S STUDY IN WOOD TAKES TOP PRIZE

THIS WOODCARVING IN SOLID WALNUT has won first prize for Mrs. E.F. Mason, 32 Olive court, at the Pacific Northwest exhibition, Spokane, Wash. The carving depicts three figures with heavy loads on their backs laboring up a hill. It is called "Progress". Mrs. Mason says the woodcarving has been purchased by the Spokane art foundation. Upon completion of Spokane's new civic auditorium, the carving will be placed there. Mrs. Mason, who has done woodcarving for 10 years in her basement shop, spent four months creating "Progress". A lecturer and sculptor as well as a woodcarver, she has given lectures and demonstrations throughout the country.

To Present Spring Concert

The varsity band, under the direction of Arnold Oehlsen, will present its annual spring concert Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the south music hall.

light classical and popular numbers and will feature a cornet trio composed of Mary Jane McCrea, Wendell McIntyre and William Ward.

This will be the year's first concert appearance of this band, whose members have served almost continuously throughout the school year. They were a part of the football band, and as a unit they played at home basketball games.

Although the original purpose of the varsity band was to serve primarily as a training organization for the concert band, this year's necessary rescheduling of classes has placed many students of outstanding musical ability in the varsity band. As a result, the quality of the organization is greatly improved over previous years, according to Prof. C. B. Righter, director of university bands.

There is no admission charge for Wednesday's concert. Tickets will be available beginning tomorrow in room 15, music building. A limited number of tickets will also be available at the door the evening of the concert.

If Marg Marsh should be seen strutting down the street as if she were "God's Gift to Mankind" it's only because Dr. Bach informed her class that there was "something about the marsh air which affects the men."

Since the season is changing, your wardrobe color schemes will be changing, too. This means you'll want to change your make-up . . . there's no better way than with WHETSTONE'S new make-up. ARTIST'S PORTRAIT MAKEUP. This thrilling new makeup comes in shades that match your individual skin tones . . . it's blended in glowing colors to enhance your natural charm. What's this we hear about the Phi Psis hiring the frog in "Moose" Cozad's throat for featured serenade vocalist? There's something about that croak that has all the lilies swooning when he vocalizes on a verse. (It just has to be the frog! It couldn't be "Moose")

In the spring a young man's fancy turns . . . but it won't turn toward YOU if you're wearing soiled clothes. DAVIS CLEANERS can put your wardrobe in apple pie order so that you'll stroll around campus lookin' spic n' span. Don't miff your chances with an unpressed suit or a soiled dress . . . let DAVIS CLEANERS insure you of a well-groomed appearance.

IT MAY BE A RUMOR! WE HAVE A BOARDER! . . . Our Guest Consultant for this week has decided to remain with us and so from this day forward Jim Carroll, Beta, will be a member of our happy, snooping family. And though his name won't sparkle on the masthead, his wit and wise (?) sayings will remind you of his presence. So from now on you can PUT THE BLAME ON JAMES, BOYS!

That gal's here again . . . to remind you that you haven't much time left to get that gift portrait taken by KRITZ STUDIO for Mother's Day! Hate to keep harping on the same subject, but just think how sorry you're going to be if you find out you've waited too long to make an appointment. You'll be even sorer when you see how attractive the pictures are that other people have had taken at KRITZ STUDIO for Mother's Day. Don't disappoint yourself and your mother . . . stop in KRITZ STUDIO and make your appointment tomorrow!

SAE specialty! . . . spur-of-the-moment parties . . . and what those fellas lack in preparation, they really make up for in good times!

McGregor made 'em BREMERS have 'em . . . and we know you'll want one of these light weight jackets. In three fine fabrics--water repellent poplin, zelandier cloth and Scottish Drizler these jackets come in tan, grey and maize. They're made with a zipper front, convenient patch or slash pockets and with plain or belted backs. The beauty of it all is that they're not only wearable . . . they're WASHABLE! Get one tomorrow at BREMERS, they're priced from $7.50 to $10.95.

Bob Spencer, ATO, is sporting a rough lookin' shiner . . . (black eye, that is). "Spence" still insists he ran into a door . . . all we can say is, "it must have been an awful BIG door!"

Plainnin' a picnic? . . . If you're rushed for time and short on supplies, let the MAIDRITE fill up your picnic hamper. Lucious maidrites, bottles of cool beverage, and mouth watering pie or cake. This is an example of the kind of picnic lunch the MAIDRITE can fix up for you. Don't fret and worry . . . hurry to the MAIDRITE for picnic goodies!

Where to Go . . .

Pretty Mary Kading, Currier Cottage 9, reflects the image of smart footwear for Spring and Summer from STRUB'S SHOE DEPARTMENT.

Mary is combining a pair of forest green alligator sling pumps with a matching green handbag selected from STRUB'S ACCESSORY DEPARTMENT. The platform soles of the chosen shoes accent her height and give her comfort through their good fit; there Camelleto shoes are also available in luscious ruby red.

Mary is also considering her summer choice from the two other styles; the brown and white spectator with the ledge sole and the white buck sling pump. She, like so many others, will want to round out her summer wardrobe with both of the pictured models from STRUB'S SHOE DEPARTMENT!

So you can't get to first base with that cutie you've been courtin'? Well, why not make a big hit by treating her to a picnic dinner from TWO MILE INN. With Betty up to bat for you, baking home-made pies and dishes, you can't strike out . . . Just drop in at Doc's TWO MILE INN, order your picnic dinner, and one--two--three, you're out again with a hot meal that's bound to melt anybody's frigid air. What teamwork!

Sounds as though this year's Miami Triad will go down as one of the year's big social highlights. It's too bad that there aren't more functions like it

Save money, time and effort by calling the LAREW COMPANY, 9681, and having them install a PERMUTT water softener for you. You'll have no more matted, skrunken sweaters because of hard water. You'll start getting clothes really clean, and with less soap. These are just a few of the savings that will start coming your way when you call the LAREW COMPANY to install a PERMUTT water softener in your home.

If you see any Kappas walking around on the ceiling, don't be alarmed . . . it's just the aftermath of their pledge's skip night. Their playful pledges turned all the furniture, including the rugs, UPSIDE DOWN! See what we mean???

Feast your eyes and tantalize your taste on BOERNER'S Special Sundae of the Week! Maple nut ice cream topped with hot fudge and dashed with whipped cream. So nourishing and tempting for that in-between snack you'll want to stop in BOERNER'S tomorrow and delight in their Sundae of the Week.

Then there's the Theta Xi who celebrated the tenth hanging of his pin recently.

In the spring a young woman's fancy turns towards thoughts of house cleaning (and not lightly, either!) Whether your house is a barracks apartment or a 10 by 15 room, SCOTT'S STORE has all the spring house cleaning supplies you'll need. Beat the heck out of your rugs and wipe the gloom from your windows . . . Get the best effects with the best equipment purchased at SCOTT'S STORE.

A WORD TO THE WEAK . . .

In the springtime it's very easy to put the heart before the course!

There was much speculation the first part of the week as to how sea-worthy ye old Phi Delt house is. Some thought it could make it as far as the dam before cracking up, while others contended it would go directly to the bottom. Fortunately the speculation was wasted effort as the swollen Iowa decided to recede and let the bungalow stay intact; at least till next year's overflow.

Salute of the week goes to a fella they call "MIKE." This cutie from Clinton is the top feminine morale raiser on campus. Everytime he sees a gal he knows, he comes out with something like, "Hi there . . . how's the cutest little gal on campus?" The fella all know it's just routine . . . but they love it! . . . they simply eat it up!

We aren't offering you a pin-up girl, but something just as inviting . . . pin-up lamps available at MULFORD'S. These handy little lamps are wonderful not only for lighting purposes, but they also improve the appearance of any room. No barracks apartment, room, or house should be without one. MULFORD'S also have fine floor lamps in a variety of styles. Stop in MULFORD'S and look over their assortment of lamps . . . priced at $2.50 and up.

When the SAE crew launched their "ship" last week their expectations were great. What they hadn't contemplated was that they had constructed a submarine . . . the "ship" sank but the anchor floated.

DO YOU FEEL LIKE AN EGYPTIAN MUMMY . . . pressed for time? Then why not give a yell for a YELLOW CAB! With flannels not far away and picnics and parties popping up, you can't waste time walking. If Cleopatra were in your shoes she'd DIAL 3131 for a YELLOW CAB . . . Why don't you?

The ol' lovin' cup is bubbling over this week! . . . On with the house signs of the Miami Triad members exchanged, no telling what's gonna happen . . . Imagine a Sigma Chi alum unknowingly sitting in the Phi Delt house with a Beta lighting his cigarette!

Italian Film Disappointing

Action 'Artificial', 'Melodramatic', but Music is Good, Anna Magnani 'Vivid'

By JACK O'BRIEN

"Before Him all Rome Trembled," new Italian film opening at the Capitol tonight, is the sort of cinema that will have most of the audience trembling and gnashing their teeth.

With only two large-scale post-war productions to their record, the Italians have managed to hit the two extremes of cinema drama. "Open City" is certainly one of the finest, most harrowing and realistic cinematic documentaries of a war-torn and accomplished. And the Italians did it.

But in "B.H.A.R.T." they have gone all the way in the opposite direction. The two hours' running time of the film seem interminable. The intentional humor just isn't funny and the unintentional is embarrassing. The actions is staid and artificial and an air of exaggerated, melodramatic unreality permeates the entire film.

The stars of a large Italian opera company double as undercover fighters and saboteurs. While on the stage they are convincing enough. But they carry over their posturing, flamboyant histrionics into their political activities to such an extent that no one can be surprised that they are discovered. The amazing thing is that, ultimately, they escape.

This is only possible through the cooperation of the Gestapo officials who are characterized as incredibly stupid in the broad terms of Hollywood caricature.

Hollywood might be excused for this, since most of the war-time film-makers didn't know a Gestapo chief from a Gilbert and Sullivan grenadier, but the Italians lived under the shadow of German occupation and it's surprising for them. Perhaps the influence of Hollywood films is greater than reality.

The film does, however, have two things to its credit:

Although they have an anesthetizing effect upon the film as a whole, the sizeable portions of "Tosca" reenacted in the movie are interesting and impressive in themselves. They are admirably well-sung and are highly recommended to lovers of good music.

Then there is Anna Magnani, the actress who won the National Board of Review citation for her extraordinary performance in "Open City." She is an actress of great talent and a vivid new screen personality. Her beauty has something of the handsomeness of Joan Crawford but there is a warm, rich-blooded earthiness about her that makes her seem vibrantly alive even on the screen.

She is a dynamic actress capable of searing the screen with deep emotional fire, as Tallulah Bankhead is. And it is frustrating to watch her in a film that allows her to do little more than smolder (in a sweater and a series of low-cut gowns, while the complications of the plot keep a reigned check on the conflagration she could unleash.

Even when mouthing someone else's arias she is fascinating to behold.

"Before Him all Rome Trembled" is not a very good picture but it has Magnani; and a picture with Magnani—even a bad picture, has something—something many a better picture could benefit from.

Home Ec Club Prepare Materials for Germany

ANSWERING GERMANY'S NEED for educational materials, Vivian Tamisica, A3, Missouri Valley; Mary Ann Riley, A4, Burlington, and Mary Rohner, A3, Iowa City, prepare a box of school supplies for shipment to a home economics class in Germany. Women in the Home Economics club here are responding to an appeal for educational supplies to be sent to German schools. The club's aim is to contribute educational material that can be used in German sewing classes. Items to be included in the shipment include pencils, half-used spiral notebooks and patterns.

SUI Debate Stars Will Argue on Radio Tuesday

The four Iowa U. debaters who tied for the Big Nine championship with Northwestern university will tangle in a radio debate Tuesday night.

On the subject of labor, the argument will be broadcast over WSUI from 7:45 p.m. to 8:45 p.m., before an audience in studio E, radio building.

Those participating will be Herman Robin and Leo Ziffren, affirmative and R. Bruce Hughes and Elbert Dempsey, negative.

The question will be "Resolved: That Labor Should Participate with Management in Directing the Operation of Industry."

Social Democrats Win Plurality in Jap Voting

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's Social Democrats surprised themselves yesterday by winning 143 seats in the house of representatives, giving them pluralities in both houses of the new Diet.

The party, moderately leftist, is outnumbered by a conservative coalition, but its leaders took the returns from Friday's elections as a mandate for tighter economic controls to combat the country's problems.

Complete unofficial returns gave the Liberals 131 seats, Democrats 123, Cooperatives 31, Communists 4, Minority parties 21, and Independents 13.

FIRE CAUSES $200 DAMAGE

Fire started by an overheated stovepipe caused estimated $200 damage at 6:30 a.m. yesterday to the home of A. C. Wotschek, 24 W. College street. The blaze spread from a wall near the stovepipe and damaged the floor of an upstairs room.

Firemen also answered a call at 2:15 yesterday afternoon for a grass fire at the junction of Park road and Rocky Shore drive. Whipped by a brisk wind, bonfire flames spread to a hillside before firemen arrived to extinguish the blaze.

China Gets U.S. Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman yesterday gave an unspecified number of naval vessels and floating drydocks to China and authorized the navy to teach the Chinese how to run them.

The president acted under a 1946 law permitting him to provide up to 271 vessels and craft to China. The act specifies that they must be unneeded by the U. S. navy.

The act requires congressional sanctions to turn over any battleships, aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines, and since Mr. Truman acted alone, presumably none of those types is involved.

The navy said that some American craft are already in use by the Chinese, having been part of lend-lease operations.

MORNING CHAPEL SPEAKERS

Members of the board of trustees of the school of religion will be guest speakers throughout this week on the University Morning chapel. This program is broadcast at 8 a.m. daily by WSUI.

Monday Dr. O. D. Foster will speak; Tuesday, Prof. Walter R. Goetsch; Wednesday, Prof. Bruce E. Mahan; Thursday, Prof. H. J. Thornton; Friday, Dean F. M. Dawson, and Saturday, Prof. Forest C. Ensign.

TO ADDRESS C. R. ROTARY

Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department will speak tomorrow at a noon luncheon meeting of the Cedar Rapids Rotary club. He will report on the views of UN general assembly and security council delegates as expressed at a recent meeting of political scientists which Porter attended in Philadelphia.

It requires about 195 minutes for the sun's meridian to cross the United States.

These Modern Doctors Can Do About Anything

You can't get your appendix removed on the run nowadays—almost.

Last Tuesday Steve Gerard, a pre-medical student at the university, drove his girl-friend to class in Macbride hall. Shortly after, he had an attack of appendicitis. Steve drove his car to Mercy hospital and in a matter of minutes was on the operating table. The next day doctors had Steve get out of bed for a few minutes.

Since then, he has been staying up more and more until yesterday he was up most of the morning. He would have been released from the hospital then except he has a cold and the doctors thought he should stay in bed another day.

Thus, Steve will be released from the hospital today, only six days after he was admitted.

He said: "I feel swell. Guess I'll go home to Sigourney for a couple of days and then come back Wednesday and go to classes."

They go for it...

Badgers Tumble Hawks From Conference Lead, 5-4, in 11 Innings

Demro's Neat Relief Job Almost Succeeds

By DON SULHOFF

Iowa's baseball team tumbled out of first place in the Western conference race when Wisconsin hung a 5-4 beating on the Hawks in a 11 inning game yesterday. The win evened the series between the two teams and gives Iowa a 3-1 loop record to Wisconsin's, 1-3.

Illinois, with a 5-1 record, went ahead of Iowa in the standings as did Northwestern which beat Ohio State two straight this week end for a 3-0 record.

It was the big bat of Wisconsin's first baseman Jim Butcher that won the game in the eleventh. Butcher slapped a triple just inside of third and raced safely home when Catcher Lyle Ebner booted Doc Dunagan's perfect relay to the plate.

Iowa didn't give up there, however, and in his half of the inning Dunagan led off with a single and scored to second when Centerfielder Stu Locklin made an error on the play. The threat was quickly snuffed out when Jack Dittmer lined to first and Dunagan was caught off second for a double play.

Third baseman Don McCarty rolled out to end the game.

The mishap in the eleventh ruined a beautiful job of relief hurling by Iowa's Wes Demro who replaced Lefty Jack Bruner in the third inning.

Bruner gave up two hits and three runs in the first and another run in the third before Demro came in and pitched perfect ball until Catcher Red Wilson smacked a double with two out in the ninth.

Throughout the nine innings he pitched Demro gave up only three hits — two of them extra base blows coming in the eleventh — struck out seven batters and allowed only four passes.

Except for Butcher's triple only two men got past first and Demro faced only 20 men in the first six innings he pitched.

With one down in the first Bruner walked Art Rizzi who went to second when Locklin lived on an error. A one run single by John Kasper and a two run blow by Jim Regan accounted for the three runs.

Wisconsin's run in the third came when Chuck Lowe doubled, Bibzi walked and Locklin tapped a single scoring Lowe.

Demro came in and left two men stranded when he made Kasper roll out to third and struck out the next two men to face him.

Iowa counted runs in the fourth and fifth and two in the sixth to tie up the game.

Hawk Golfers Defeat Bradley On Finkbine

The University of Iowa golfers swung to an easy 23 1/2 to 3 1/2 victory over Bradley, of Peoria, Ill., at Finkbine Field yesterday afternoon. The win was the second of the year for the Hawkeyes.

First foursome to take the field was Charles Updegraff and John Campbell for Iowa and Minor and Hutchins for Bradley, with Iowa edging the lead 2 1/2 to 1.

Bob Graham and Jim Rasley won the second foursome match against Bradley's Carlson and Ward, 3 to 0.

Leading off for Iowa in the third foursome were Knarr and Wilson who outpointed Bradley's Hansen and Watkins 3 to 0.

In single play Updegraff stopped Minor 3-0; Campbell defeated Hutchins 2-1; Graham trounced Carlson 3-0; Rasley halted Ward 2-1; Knarr beat Hansen 3-0 and Wilson defeated Watkins 3-0.

Bob Graham captured medalist honors with a 76 followed by 77 for Updegraff and Knarr. Wilson chalked up a 78 and Rasley shot a 79. Hutchins and Hansen rolled up a pair of 80's with Campbell, Minor and Watkins hitting 81's. Carlson and Ward trailed with 82 and 84 respectively.

It's Like Arguing With A Woman—You Just Can't Win

Texas, Ohio State Speedsters Lead Drake Parade

Cubs Nick Brecheen, Whip Redbirds, 4-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry "The Cat" Brecheen, who has tormented the Chicago Cubs for years, found his match in Bob Chipman here yesterday and the St. Louis Cardinals lost to the Cubs, 4 to 1, for their fourth straight defeat before a crowd of 34,922.

It was only Brecheen's fourth defeat by the Cubs during his career while he has beaten them 15 times.

Chipman allowed only six hits, one a homer by Del Rice, to register his second victory over the Cardinals this season. Brecheen was nicked for nine blows. Andy Parko pounded out a homer and single to drive in two runs and Stan Hack knocked in the other two with a double and a fly ball.

Hack was forced from the game in the eighth inning when he suffered a severely sprained ankle sliding into the plate.

Christy Harrod, Basketball Association of America official, is a lieutenant in the Cleveland fire department.

Dillard Takes 19th Straight Hurdle Victory

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

DES MOINES (AP) — Two track records were ground into the cinders at the 38th Drake Relays yesterday and another was tied as the record breaking field of 2,000 athletes ended their carnival unmatched in performance in the past five years.

Two more high school marks also were shattered, making a total of eleven broken prep and collegiate records in the two day contest.

A shirt sleeved throng of 13,000 basked in the warmth of a welcome sun.

Harrison Billard, long striding star from Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio, holder of six national hurdling titles, smashed the nine year-old Drake record for the 120-yard high hurdles faultlessly skimming the 10 barriers against a stiff wind in 14.1 seconds. This blotted out the former record of 14.2 established by Freddie Wolcott, Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, in 1938.

It was the nineteenth consecutive triumph this year for Dillard, winner of the 120-yard hurdles in the Penn Relays a year ago.

Ohio State's quartet of splendid hurdlers — Lloyd Duff, Richard Maxwell, William Seibert and Robert Wright — cracked the second Drake record when they were timed in :59.4 in the 480-yard shuttle high hurdle race. This clipped five-tenths of a second off the former mark hung up by Oklahoma A. & M. in 1941.

Ohio State's speedsters, after breaking the record in the shuttle hurdles, and winning the two mile, took their third relay triumph in the mile event in 3:14.3, only two-tenths of a second off the Drake mark the Buckeyes set in 1939.

The hardest working runners were the tireless lads from the University of Texas, winners of two sprint relays and second in the longer distance events.

Texas' sprint team captured the 440-yard university relay from Baylor by two yards in :412, third fastest time for event in the history of the carnival.

The amazing Texas sprinters came back to triumph in the university half-mile relay in 1:25.9, which tied the meet record made by Ohio State five years ago. Running for Texas in both spring events were Perry Samuels, Charley Tatom, Allen Lawler and Charley Parker.

Jerry Thompson, the 22-year old junior typhoon from Texas, was a work horse. After winning the two mile run in 9:30.6 and running anchor in the distance medley Friday, Thompson ran two terrific races today as anchor on the Texas two mile and four mile relay teams.

Drake won the four mile in 17:31.1, although Thompson turned in the fastest mile of all runners — unofficially clocked in 4:18. Bill Mack, last runner for Drake, outdistanced Thompson by 25 yards, but the Texas plodder was twice that far back when he started his mile.

Thompson made his second appearance in the two mile relay, which Ohio State won in 7:46 with

Illini Capture 3 Penn Titles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eastern quarters ganged up on Illinois yesterday and kept the Big Nine cinder kings from completely dominating the 53rd annual Penn Relays but the real villain in the plot was a freshman from New York university who shed his Army khaki only ten weeks ago.

Although they duplicated their feat of a year ago by winning three of the team championships, the Illini bid for an unprecedented quintuple victory was thoroughly squelched before an estimated throng of 40,000 at sun-drenched Franklin field.

For the second straight day, it was Reggie Pearman, gangling N. Y. U. freshman, who tossed the monkey wrench into the works by slipping past the Orange and Blue runners from the Western conference when they least expected it.

Having added the 880-yard relay title to their 440-yard and distance medley championships of Friday, the Illini passed up the four-mile event and shot for the two-mile crown, only to finish in third place behind Fordham and Manhattan.

To Honor Babe Ruth At Yankee Tilt Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Ruth Day will be celebrated today across the length and breadth of the land in a long overdue tribute to the spindly-legged Bambino who made the home run a national institution.

A shrunken version of his old robust self after 82 days in a hospital bed and a painfully slow recovery, Ruth will be present in Yankee stadium to appear in brief pre-game ceremonies that will be piped into every ball park and most of the homes of America.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, who has known Ruth since his early days, will deliver the invocation and blessings for his continued improved health. There will be brief remarks by Commissioner A.B. Chandler, and Presidents Ford Frick of the National league and Will Harridge of the American league.

Rapid Robert Bests Newhouser as Tribe Blasts Detroit, 6-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' fireball artist, hung up his second straight shut-out yesterday, a three-hit 6 to 0 victory over the Detroit Tigers and beat his arch pitching rival, Hal Newhouser, in the process.

The first Feller-Newhouser meeting of the season drew a crowd of 41,925, including some 25,000 women and children who were admitted free.

Feller, not quite as effective and slightly more liberal with hits than he was in his one-hit masterpiece against the St. Louis Browns last Tuesday, still was in complete charge. He fanned seven and walked six.

Newhouser was definitely off form and finally gave way to a pinch-hitter in the eighth after giving up three runs and eight hits.

Pat Seerey put the Tribe one run in front with his third home run of the season in the second inning.

Cleveland's big outburst came in the eighth off Rufus Gentry and Johnny Gorsica. With one away, Fleming and Seerey walked and Gordon singled to score Fleming.

Sports Shots

By Bob Collins

It just wasn't Iowa's day yesterday from the time the lusty wind from the west blew most of the infield into the third base bleachers. There were goals aplenty scattered along the 11-inning route, but the errors that really beat the Hawks were mental rather than physical miscues.

Wes Demro shook off his bad luck of the Luther game and really turned in a fireman's special. His control pitching in spite of the vicious cross wind was masterful. It's sure tough to lose after allowing only three hits in nine innings.

The play of Dittmer at second should convince all concerned that the kid from Elkader is here to stay—providing some pro club doesn't interfere and, yes, they are scouting Iowa.

Tough that Ebner had to mar a neat job of catching with his eleventh inning error as Butcher stretched his triple into a score. Lyle's mother was down for the game and, yes, she still loves him.

Both coaches had a few choice words for their respective teams. Wisconsin's Mansfield kept on shortstop Rizzi's back for five minutes for booting Smith's infield fly before he found out that Lowe had called the play.

While the baseball team was having its trouble with Wisconsin, the football squad was in the midst of another spring session of knocking heads. The squad has scrimmaged a few times and Coach Anderson and his aides are laying the ground work for next year's victories, we hope.

Wrestler Joe Scarpello and his heavyweight buddy, Bob Geigel, have reported for practice with the grid team and the addition about makes up for the temporary losses due to minor injuries. Jack Legg, halfback, fractured his wrist and Chick Snyder, guard, sprained his wrist in one of the scrimmages.

Em Tunnell, he of the swift foot and sharp passes, was in the hospital for five days with a mild attack of appendicitis. Things are better now for the Gremlin and he plans on being out for practice again Monday.

Spartans Stop Irish

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State cashed in on five extra-base blows yesterday to whip Notre Dame 7 to 4 for the Spartans' 10th baseball triumph in 12 games this season.

Michigan State got a total of nine safeties off lefthander Jack Campbell and relief man Walter Mahannah of the Irish but one was a homer by shortstop Marty Hansen, two were triples by Harry Hughes and Ed Barbaro and Frank Bagdon and Steve Sieradzki contributed two-baggers.

Little Hawk Golfers Win

Sonny Dean of Iowa City shot a
 79 over the Davenport Duck Creek golf course yesterday to win medal honors as the Hawk-let golf team won its first full length meet of the season against Davenport, Kewanee, Ill., and Dubuque.

Dean beat out J. Faurner of Davenport, last year's winner of the Cedar Rapids invitational tourney, by going out on the tough Duck Creek layout in 37 and coming home in 42 strokes.

The meet was scored on a matchplay basis with a five man team representing each school.
 The Hawklets matched cards successfully with each team and won their closet victory from Davenport 8-7.

In the team scoring the results were: first, Iowa City; second, Davenport; third, Kewanee Ill.;
 fourth, Dubuque.

Approve Loan Of $12,250 for New City Hall

Federal Loan Offer Will Be Considered By Council Tomorrow

Telegrams to Mayor Preston Koser yesterday revealed that the federal works agency has approved a loan of $12,250 for advance plans for a new city hall.

Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper and Rep. Thomas E. Martin both wired the mayor to inform him of the government's action. Further discussion of the city's federal aid request is due at a city council meeting tomorrow night.

Would Provide for Drawings

The request was filed early this year after councilmen at a Jan. 20 meeting authorized former Mayor Wilber J. Teeters to apply. A federal loan would provide money for an architect to draw plans for the proposed municipal building.

The city would have to repay the funds thus obtained in two installments — half when construction began and the remainder upon completion of the building. The FWA is empowered to advance money to communities for planning of non-federal projects.

Site for the proposed city hall was tentatively set for South Market square at the corner of Burlington and Gilbert streets, near the Community building.

Ask Aid for Benton Bridge

Application for federal aid also was made in January for a new Benton street bridge to replace the present condemned span. Government engineers have surveyed the site and estimated costs, but this loan has not yet been approved.

Additional discussion is due at tomorrow's council meeting on recommendations for improving the Ralston creek bed to prevent erosion and flooding. At the last council session, City Engineer Fred Gartzke was instructed to investigate the situation and report at a later meeting.

Choose Two Democrats As Temporary Officers Of Interim Committee

DES MOINES (AP) — The legislative interim committee, which will serve for the legislature in the next two years, chose two Democrats yesterday as their temporary officers.

They were Rep. Gene Poston, Corydon, temporary chairman, and Senator Robert C. Reilly, Dubuque, temporary secretary.

Permanent officers will be chosen at the committee's first meeting. All other members of the committee are Republicans, which held an overwhelming majority in the legislature.

Two Held for Larceny After Watch Theft

Two men were placed in county jail yesterday following their arrest Friday night on a larceny charge. Both waived a preliminary police court hearing and were bound over to the grand jury. They failed to post $500 bond.

They are Norman Buck, 22, 307 S. Madison street, and Melvin Cox, 19, Lone Tree.

The pair are charged with the theft of a wrist watch from the bus depot washroom Friday night. Police picked up the men after they had pawned the watch at a local shop.

Services for Mrs. Boss Will Be Held at 2 p.m.

Funeral services for Mrs. Rosa Etta Boss, 72, will be held at Beckman's at 2 p.m. today, with Dr. L. L. Dunnington officiating. Mrs. Boss died at her home, 719 Third avenue, Friday afternoon.

Surviving are one son, Arthur of Cedar Rapids; two daughters, Mrs. Edythe M. DeFrance and Mrs. Helen F. Cohenour, both of Iowa City; 12 grandchildren, five great grand children and two sisters. Her husband, Herbert E. Boss, one son and one daughter preceded her in death.

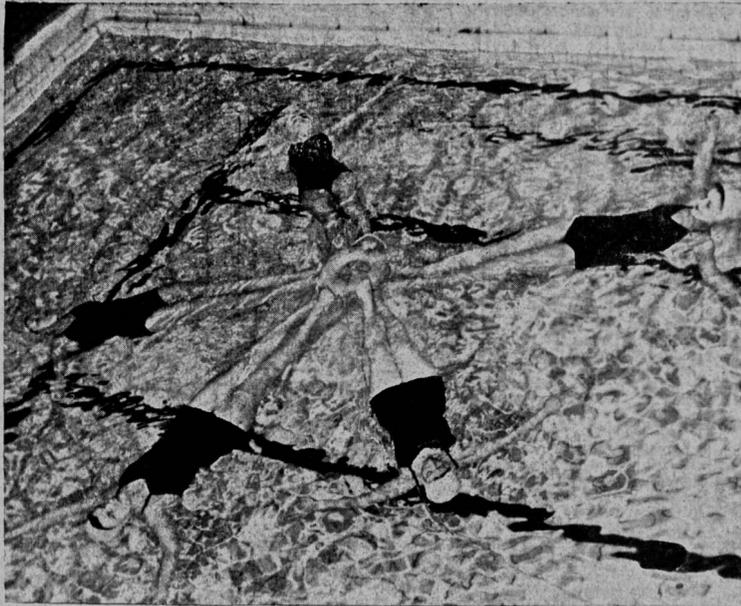

Mrs. Boss was a lifelong resident of Johnson county.

Seals Offer Preview of 'Aqua Moods' Show

With props including half a dozen sail boats, leopard skin suits, a mechanical seal and an outside paper-and-wood water lily, 30 members of Seals club will present their annual show in the fieldhouse May 9 and 10.

Tickets for 'Aqua Moods,' a part of the Mothers' Day week-end activities planned by Mortar board, will go on sale in Iowa Union Tuesday, for 50 cents each.

The women's honorary swimming club show will include Taboo moods, Moonlight moods and Blue moods, and in the finale, Centennial mood.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon chorus, directed by Bob Butler, will provide music for Centennial mood. Records and Hawaiian singers will be heard in the rest of the show.

Twelve-year-old Ruth Ashton will make her second appearance for Seals club. She will be a shooting star in a silver suit during "Moonlight Serenade."

Water ballet and synchronized swimming will be the major emphasis in "Aqua Moods." There will be one diving act.

Appearing in the leopard skin suits will be Shirley and Lois-Jeanne Long. Their duet will portray "Jealousy."

Featured in "St. Louis Blues" will be Lynn Otto and Nancy Scofield. A trio, Lucie Dean, Sally Henry and Anne Buhmann, will depict "Moonglow."

The show is under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Ashton of the women's physical education department.

Organized in 1921, Seals club gave its early shows with the men's swimming club Dolphin.

This is the club's first fieldhouse appearance.

Symphony Concert

The symphony orchestra concert, reported by the music department as being held today at Simpson college, Indianola, will not be given until Sunday, May 4.

Gage Warns Merchants Of 'Pledge' Gatherer

Robert L. Gage, Chamber of Commerce secretary, yesterday warned city businessmen to beware of an unidentified man gathering pledges for city adaptation of the "Newburyport price-cutting plan."

"The man claims he has the backing of WSUI and the two newspapers," Gage said. "The radio station and the newspapers say they have nothing to do with this petitioning."

Control Still Exists On Hotel, House Rooms Rented by Week, Month

Rent control is still in effect on all rooms rented on a weekly or monthly basis in hotels, rooming houses and motor courts. T. J. Wilkinson, area rent director, said yesterday.

He explained that recontrol of transient room rates is being carried on with an eye on local demand, stating that the demand for permanent rooms has decreased in recent months.

"I want to emphasize that permanent rooms in hotels have not been decontrolled," Wilkinson stated. "Permanent guests may keep their rooms with the assurance that there will be no change in their ceiling rent, and that they will continue to have all of the protection given by the eviction provisions of the rent regulations."

City Hi To Play 'Man Who Came to Dinner'

A three-act comedy, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," will be presented by the senior class of City high school May 8 in the City high auditorium.

Featured in the lead roles will be Casey Covert as June, Norma Gerard as Maggie, Bob Willhite as Whitesides and Don Fryauf as Bert.

Other cast members include Barbara Paulus, Shirley Cress, Shirley Simpson, Clara Crumley, Joyce Reicke, Candace Jaggard, Marion O'Conner and Dale Scannell.

Joe Cilek, Lloyd Rogler, Don Guthrie, Dick Beck, Jack Harris, Orville Miller, Tom Burney, Bob Wilson, Jim Poland and Paul Bowers.

Bud Means, Charles Kelly, Gerri Cannon, Leo Zeithamel, Austin Colony, Wayne Fliss, Bill Roth, Kirk Carson and Dick Drake.

Paul Bowers is in charge of staging, Gaylord Graham lighting and Patricia Tucker is line reader. The play is under the direction of Lola Hughes. Patti Ricketts is student assistant.

Files Negligence Suit Against Cab Company

Mrs. Mary M. Budreau, 211 E. Church street, filed a $2,025 damage suit yesterday in Johnson county district court against the Limited Cab company of Iowa City. Mrs. Budreau asks damages for injuries and expense she claims resulted when she was a passenger in one of the company's cabs, Feb. 17, 1947. In her petition she charges the driver with negligent operation of the cab. She asks that the case be heard before a jury. Will J. Hayek is her attorney.
