Elect Turner To Argonne Atomic Board

Prof. Louis A. Turner, head of the physics department, has been elected to the board of governors of the Argonne National laboratory for a three-year term.

He and Dr. Paul E. Klopsteg of Iowa State college were elected at the annual meeting of the laboratory's council of representatives Tuesday to succeed Dr. Arthur H. Compton of Washington university, St. Louis, and Dean Ovid W. Ebbach, whose terms expired Monday.

The Argonne National laboratory, to be located near Chicago, replaces the wartime Manhattan project. Under supervision of the atomic energy commission, its purpose is to stimulate research in atomic energy.

The University of Iowa is among the 25 midwestern universities and scientific institutions that have been participating members of the laboratory. The council of representatives decided Tuesday to enlarge its participating membership to 30.

A comparable laboratory has been established to serve the northeast and a third may be set up on the Pacific coast, Turner said.

He did not attend Tuesday's meeting in Chicago but Prof. James A. Jacobs represented this university there.

Prof. Farrington Daniels of the University of Wisconsin was re-elected chairman of the board of governors and Prof. F. H. Spedding of Iowa State college was elected vice chairman.

Willie Executed Wearing 'Sunday Pants'

By ELLIOTT CHAZE
ST. MARTINVILLE, La. (AP) — Willie Francis made his second trip to the electric chair yesterday, wearing his Sunday pants and his "Sunday heart."

The same chair which spared his life through a mechanical failure a year ago, took it this time, took it quickly, and apparently painlessly.

Electrocutioner Grady Jarrett threw the switch at 12:05 p.m. (CDT) and again at 12:06, and at 12:10 Willie Francis was pronounced dead.

He told me two days ago that he was going to "wear my Sunday pants and my Sunday heart to the chair."

"Ain't going to wear no beat-up pants to see the Lord," he said. "Been busy talking my way into heaven for the past year. Them folks expecting me to come in style."

Willie paid the legal penalty for the killing of Andrew Thomas, a druggist of St. Martinville, in a holdup that netted four dollars and a watch. Thomas' brother, Claude, who was chief of police here at the time of the slaying, was among the witnesses yesterday.

Francis went to the chair after a year's argument over the right of Louisiana to attempt an execution a second time after a mechanical accident had prevented the first try. The fight went all the way to the United States Supreme Court where the high justices divided five to four last January in ruling against Francis.

Only Thursday the Supreme Court had turned down another plea, which Willie's lawyer had taken to Washington without the knowledge of the condemned man.

Francis walked his last half dozen steps on earth yesterday without a flicker of fear or apparent excitement.

He caught my eye as the broad chest-strap was being fixed, and snapped me a jaunty one-fingered salute.

He said, "Hello," silently, moving his lips exaggeratedly to shape the word.

Asked by the electrocutioner if he had anything to say before going, Willie said quietly, "Nothing at all."

Would Start This July 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate finance committee voted yesterday to cut income taxes by 10.5 to 30 percent this July 1.

Over a full year's operation, committee experts estimated, the bill would save individual taxpayers $4,000,000,000. They would reap only half of that saving, however, in the last half of 1947.

The smallest taxpayers will get the biggest percentage deductions if the bill clears the senate and goes on the law books. The big taxpayers, of course, would gain the biggest individual benefits.

New withholding rates would take effect July 1.

The bill approved by the senate committee is an amended version of house bill No. 1, introduced by Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the ways and means committee, and passed by the house.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) announced the vote was 8 to 5.

The principal change from the measure passed by the house is the effective date—July 1. The house had voted to make the reduction retroactive to Jan. 1.

The senate committee inserted a new reduction bracket giving persons with net incomes between $79,728 and $302,396 a tax cut of 15 percent rather than 20 percent as provided in the house bill. This scale of reductions is set up in the measure:

Thirty percent for persons with net incomes (after exemptions and deductions) of $1,000 or less.

A flat 67 "notch" reduction for net incomes between $1,000 and $1,396.

Twenty percent for incomes from $1,396 to $79,728.

Fifteen percent for incomes from $79,728 to $302,396.

Ten, five-tenths percent on all incomes above $302,396.

Persons over 65 years of age also would receive an extra personal exemption of $500, regardless of whether some of their income is tax exempt.

The house estimated its bill would cut the individual income tax load $3,800,000,000. The senate set its estimate of the total reductions slightly higher.

HELICOPTER BURNS AFTER CRASH

A HELICOPTER, damaged while making a dive during a demonstration for high school students at Floyd Bennett field in New York, bursts into flames after landing on an airport apron. The craft lost its tail assembly when it struck the ground during a dive. The pilot pulled the airship up and was able to fly it to a nearby apron away from the crowd of pupils before the crash. The pilot was unhurt. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Defeats Every Effort to Limit Use of Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—A precedent-shattering $402,000,000 measure to bolster Greece and Turkey against Communist domination was passed by the house last night, 287 to 107.

On the final roll call, 127 Republicans and 160 Democrats voted for it. Against the measure were 93 Republicans, 13 Democrats and Rep. Marcantonio (AL-N.Y.).

Congressmen of both parties guarded it successfully from all attempts to deny the administration the right to use troops and military material in the effort. Other attempts to limit the program also were defeated.

Final approval followed four days of turbulent house debate dominated by angry legislative reaction to Russia's postwar activities.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four of Iowa's eight GOP representatives voted for and four voted against the bill which passed the house yesterday, authorizing a $400,000,000 loan to Greece and Turkey.

Reps. Cunningham, Hoeven, Lecompte and Talle voted for the bill, and Reps. Dolliver, Gwynne, Jensen and Martin voted against it.

Opposition cries that President Truman's program might mean war, counter claims that it would stabilize peace.

The strength of those supporting the measure was apparent from the ease with which they beat back the amendments. And at the end, a motion by Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.) to send it back to the foreign affairs committee for changes were shouted down. Hollifield could not even obtain a roll-call vote on his motion — he needed one fifth of those present to support his request for a roll-call, and could muster only 47 votes of more than 300 present.

The measure returns now to the senate, where it originally passed April 22 by a vote of 67 to 22, for action on minor changes made by the house. If the senate refuses to agree to the house changes, the bill will go to a conference committee for adjustment.

With official reports that the plight of Greece particularly is growing more acute daily as dollar credits are used up and British aid tapers off, the state department already has made plans to start the American assistance flowing as soon as Mr. Truman signs the bill.

A move by Rep. Lawrence Smith (R-Wis.) to refer the matter to the United Nations and permit American action only if the United Nations failed to move within 60 days collapsed on a standing vote of 137 to 65.

Hiatt Taken To Anamosa

JEFFERSON (AP)—Robert Hiatt, 29, of Pocahontas, sentenced yesterday to not more than one year in the men's reformatory, left three hours later for the Anamosa institution in charge of Sheriff William L. Davis.

Hiatt, a University of Iowa graduate and a World War II veteran, was tried on a charge of assault with intent to murder but was convicted of assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury.

The case involved the shooting last March 23 of Delmar Van Horn, 22, Jefferson farmer. Hiatt was convicted earlier this week by a jury of seven men and five women.

District Judge R.L. McCord, who had the alternative of sentencing Hiatt to up to one year of imprisonment or $500 fine, said in denying Hiatt's application for parole, "he should be happy to purge himself of the crime he has committed."

The defense contended that at the time of the shooting Hiatt was mentally unstable because he had been taking sleeping tablets. State witnesses described Hiatt as a disappointed son of Mrs. Van Horn, the former Dorothy Snook of Newton.

Germans Protest Ration Cut

BERLIN (AP) — Trade unionists in Hamburg quit their jobs at noon yesterday and with their supporters massed more than 100,000 strong before a red-draped balcony at union headquarters to protest food shortages in the British-occupied zone.

Italian Peace Treaty Wins 13-0 Approval Of Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The peace treaty for Italy, tagged "too harsh" by many Italian-Americans but upheld by U.S. officials as the best possible, won 13 to 0 approval of the senate foreign relations committee yesterday.

All work ceased except in essential services such as food distribution and public utilities. Alfred Kummernus, union spokesman, told the demonstrators "the bearable limit" had been reached. He said the workers would return to their jobs tomorrow.

Union leaders called the half-day Hamburg strike the biggest rally of Germans since the end of the war. Authorities placed 750 German policemen and 33 mounted officers around the five-acre open square into which the demonstrators crowded, but there was no disorder. The British held a company of soldiers in readiness nearby.

A like vote also sent to the senate the peace treaties for Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. A two-thirds vote is necessary for senate ratification and President Truman has urged immediate action.

Final approval by all the big powers would mean the withdrawal of occupation troops except for communication forces linked to the Russian zone of Austria.

Main opposition to the Italian treaty, which was hammered out by Big Four foreign ministers in Paris and New York, centered on its demilitarization clauses.

Critics say that this virtual scrapping of Italy's army and navy plus de-fortification of her northern boundary would open the strategic peninsula to the same sort of Communist encroachment President Truman opposes in Greece and Turkey.

However, Mr. Truman told the committee through Secretary of State Marshall that he does not share this view.

Objections were raised, too, to the reparations bill—$125,000,000 to Yugoslavia, $105,000,000 to Greece, $100,000,000 to Russia, $25,000,000 to Ethiopia and $5,000,000 to Albania.

James F. Byrnes, former secretary of state, and Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Connally (D-Tex.) all told protesting representatives of Italian-American societies that as delegates to the peace conferences, they did all they could to keep Italy's punishment down and succeeded in softening stronger Russian demands.

Showman Released From Work Camp

SAN DIEGO (AP)—George White, 55, former New York and Hollywood producer of girl show "Scandals," yesterday completed his year sentence for the "hit and run" traffic deaths of a newlywed couple and was released from the county work camp.

He actually served eight and one half months, his term being shortened by crediting of working time, for which he also received 35 cents a day.

Testify Against May

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top wartime generals said yesterday that ex-Congressman Andrew J. May of Kentucky asked them to help Garsson munitions firms which the government contends held the wartime house military committee chairman in their pay.

Gen. Brehon Somervell, retired army service force commander, and Eugene Reybold, former chief of army engineers, testified May interceded with them about contracts for the $78,000,000 arms-making empire.

Demos Offer All-New Labor Bill in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a stormy night session of the senate, a group of 11 Democrats last night introduced a complete substitute for the union-curbing bill the chamber has been debating two weeks.

Senator Murray (D-Mont.), offering it on behalf of himself and ten colleagues, said it meets President Truman's suggestions on labor legislation and covers other labor matters as well. But he did not specify that there was any precedent agreement to accept it, nor indicate whether administration officials had a hand in its preparation.

His action followed an unusual session which Mr. Truman held earlier today with seven cabinet members and other aides on labor legislation. The word after that conference, however, was that it was concerned principally with the anti-portal-pay bill. The President's official family was reported split on whether he should sign or veto that bill.

Murray said one section would carry out a recommendation of the President's labor-management conference that the U. S. conciliation be strengthened within the labor department. The pending bill would create a new mediation agency apart from the labor department.

The action of Murray and his colleagues in offering the substitute precipitated a bitter wrangle with Republican leaders.

Before this controversy, the senate had adopted amendments to make unions liable for damages in jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts, and to deny bargaining rights to a union if any officer is a Communist or sympathizer or could "reasonably be regarded" as one.

It had defeated an amendment by Senators Ball (R-Minn.) and Byrd (D-Va.) which would have outlawed the union shop and all other forms of compulsory union membership. It also had rejected proposals to permit employers to seek injunctions for stopping the jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

Stranger Hurls Co-Ed to Subway Tracks

NEW YORK (AP)—Hurling by a man head first into the path of an oncoming subway train, an attractive New York university coed was rescued by track workers yesterday while horror-stricken onlookers on the station platform seized her assailant and beat him into submission, police reported.

The man, Jack Didia, 28-year-old salesman, described himself as a veteran recently released from a mental hospital. Police said he told them he had suffered a nervous collapse during his war service.

Bertha Pataky, 21, of Brooklyn was standing on the platform chatting with another student, police reported, when Didia, without a word, grabbed her under the armpits and hurled her screaming to the tracks.

Miss Pataky's escort, Merwin Wolf, 21-year-old NYU freshman, told police he grabbed Didia and knocked him down "and others came over and started hitting him."

Miss Pataky, who said she never had seen Didia before, was taken to a hospital where he was treated for shock, cuts, and bruises of the face and right hip. Her fall to the roadbed forced some of her teeth through her upper lip, and several stitches were taken to the close wound.

Didia was booked on a felonious assault charge and sent to Bellevue hospital for observation.

Sally Rand Finances Scholarship at Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Sally Rand, who wiggled to fame behind a fan and a balloon, came out in the open yesterday with $1,000 for higher education.

Sally, who currently is swishing her fans in her traveling girl show at Decatur, Ill., said she and another show owner would jointly finance a $1,000, four-year Harold "Red" Grange scholarship at the University of Illinois in honor of the former football star.

Chinese Stage Rice Riots in Shanghai

SHANGHAI (AP) — Hungry for rice and angry at a government wage-freezing program Shanghai Chinese staged a wide variety of riots, strikes and sitdowns yesterday.

The demonstrations, intermittently in progress for several days, stepped up sharply as the continuing currency inflation pushed the cost of China's basic food farther out of the reach of the average person.

Owners of most rice shops refused to open up, despite a promise by mayor K. C. Wu of better police protection. One shopkeeper was arrested for firing a pistol at a mob. Other shops were bombarded with stones.

Shoves Partner to His Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A long and once-profitable panhandling partnership between two elderly Bowery characters, known in many an eastside dive as "Good Times Fred and Ed," ended yesterday—dissoved, police said, when Fred pushed Ed in front of a subway train, to his death.

A postwar business slump caused it, police said.

Fred—62-year-old Fred Dave Connors, who had a glass eye and posed as a blind man while selling pencils—was held on a homicide charge in the death of his partner, Edward Trudeau, 60.

Police said Connors told them the pair had made as much as $20 dollars to $25 dollars a day during the wartime boom—and liberally shared their prosperity with the boys in the Bowery bars—but that business had been terrible of late, which made Trudeau cranky and suspicious.

After a hard day's "work" yesterday, he said, the pair had netted only $6 dollars, as they stood on a subway platform last night awaiting a train, they got to arguing over division of the $6 dollars.

Connors got so angry, police said, he pushed his partner in front of an oncoming train—and threw his tin cup, pencils and cane after Trudeau. He was arrested a short time later.

As Connors sat pondering it all yesterday, police said, he told them simply that "I lost my head. Although he was my best pal, I pushed him in front of the train."

Pete Perini, Ohio State Smack Hawkeye Nine, 3-2

Buck Freshman Beats Faber With Five Hit Performance

By DON SULHOFF

Iowa's baseballers packed their Western conference title hopes in a box labeled "1948" yesterday afternoon when Ohio State's freshman hurler, Pete Perini, set the Hawkeyes down with five hits in taking a 3-2 victory.

It was the fourth straight loss suffered by Coach Otto Vogel's crew in Big Nine competition and practically wrote "the end" to any hopes of overtaking the high flying Northwestern and Illinois nine's which have lost two games each.

Perini pitched a masterful game, his mates gave him rapid fire support with three double plays, but it was Iowa's inability to clout the ball in the clutch and three timely errors that gave Hawk chucker Bob "Moose" Faber his second conference loss against the same number of wins.

All of Ohio State's runs were of the unearned variety and came in a fateful fourth inning when Faber allowed three singles, just half the number of hits he gave up all day. Moose was just as good as the Ohio State star and throughout issued no passes and whiffed five batters.

Perini, on the other hand, allowed three bases on balls while striking out six but when the chips were down his support had it.

The support showed up in the first inning after Bobby Smith had struck out and Bud Flanders hit a smashing drive to right field that went for a home run. Don Thompson was hit by a pitched ball but was caught off first at the end of a double play when Buck second baseman Al Aerni picked off Don Thompson's liner and threw to first.

It happened again in the second in practically the same situation but this time it was Don McCarty who was on first and it was Dale Erickson who drove to Shortstop Bill Cope.

The third Ohio State double play was the one that hurt.

It came in the seventh with Ohio State leading 3-2. Doc Dun-

... making the throw to the plate. Iowa's usually potent base running ran into trouble when three times potential Hawkeye runs met death at second on perfect strikes from catcher Norbert Ranz.

The two teams battle again today with Lefty Jack Bruner on the mound for Iowa and George Spencer handling the duties for Ohio State.

Iowa baseball fans who watched yesterday's 3-2 disappointment saw everything happen but a purple cow stealing home. Some of the plays were superlative exhibitions while a greater number were sad examples of what can happen when nine earnest young men try to capture the untamed horsehide.

The Buckeye half of the seventh inning was a nightmare and left most of the fans bewildered on two unusual plays. With the bases loaded Iowa's catcher Ebner fumbled a tricky pitch only to have the man on third break for home. Lyle and the runner waltzed all over the place and for a few minutes it was doubtful whether or not a run had scored. The ruling was that the Buckeye runner hadn't touched the plate after getting safely past Ebner and was out when Lyle tracked him down and tagged him.

The other play was a routine interference by catcher call which kept an Ohio State runner on first after apparently grounding out. A runner from third tried to score on the play but was sent back by the umpire who correctly interpreted the rule on the play. When the smoke cleared the Bucks had scored only one run but that was enough to wrap up the game.

Pete Perini was everything that advance notices had claimed. He was fast and showed more curves than the road to Cedar Rapids. But Pete met one of the best in Iowa's Faber whose work earned the praise of fans, teammates and Ohio State players alike. The two aces worked remarkably alike—both used their stuff affectively on and around the corners and kept the ball out of the slot.

The Hawks just couldn't get their show on the road as the hustling Buckeyes did everything right. Several times Iowa batters hit sharply on hit and run plays only to have the Buck infield shift into the path of the ball and convert it into an easy double play or an important out. The Iowa reign of terror on the basepaths backfired as three men were cut down trying to steal second base.

Best plays of the game were evenly divided. Iowa's Jack Dittmer shined on a low infield bloop which he picked from his shoe tops and doubled off a man on first, Ray Gebhardt, Ohio State rightfielder, really saved the Bucks from a pack of trouble when he turned acrobat to snare Thompson's vicious line drive which looked a clinch for two bases. Those sparklers more than offset the moments of ragged play which plagued even the best of teams.

Those people with more initiative than the average "river bankers," who like to go canoeing are going to have some excellent protection. Five University of Iowa swimmers, all senior Red Cross lifesavers, have been appointed by Coach Dave Armbruster to patrol the Iowa river in a motorboat. Dave Brockway, Erv Straub, Dick Lake, Duane Draves, and Paul Hutinger will be on duty from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on weekdays and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on weekends. Every night they'll be operating from 7 to 10 after which time sensible people aren't supposed to drown.

Jet Pilot, Phalanx Faultless Favored

BALTIMORE (AP)—Amid last-minute support for Faultless to give Jet Pilot and Phalanx a real "rattle" for the pot, a field of 11 three-year-olds was entered yesterday for today's 57th running of the Preakness.

Headed by the first five finishers in last week's derby—Jet Pilot, Phalanx, Faultless, On Trust and Cosmic Bomb, in that order—the three-year-olds will run for the glory, the necklace of black-eyed susans and a pay check that will be just about within income tax range of $100,000.

They'll all come parading out to the post at 4:10 p.m. (Central Daylight Time) today as the traditional "Maryland, My, Maryland" rolls out over what Pimlico country-uppers confidently forecast will be a new Preakness record crop of 45,000 or so.

"I decided to talk the thing over with some of the men because it would be such a terrible thing," Bredon said, "and I brought the matter up with two of my leading players. I was happy to find there was no dissatisfaction among the players. They never intimated that such a thing was even thought of."

Cubs Beat Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Chicago Cubs made Johnny Vander Meer's first start of the season an unhappy one yesterday as they clubbed his offerings for five hits and four runs in the sixth inning and then added another marker in the eighth to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 5-1.

A crowd of 2,200 saw big Bill Nicholson come through with the eighth inning score as he banged Relief Hurler Clyde Shoun's first pitch into the right field bleachers.

After having won only three of their first 15 starts, the Red Birds rallied to defeat Brooklyn twice, 2-1 and 5-1. Despite this, they were a gloomy crew when they pulled out for the west without their bellwether.

Cardinal Hopes Dimmer . . .

NEW YORK (AP)—The world champion St. Louis Cardinals, already beset with multiple troubles, suffered a further serious blow yesterday when their great first baseman, Stan Musial, was found to have acute appendicitis and was ordered to undergo an immediate operation.

Musial, left behind when the rest of the Cards entrained for Pittsburgh yesterday morning, booked passage on a plane leaving here late yesterday for St. Louis, hopeful that an additional examination by the club's physician, Dr. Bob Hyland, would gain him permission to postpone the surgery.

"I'd hate to leave the line-up right now," Musial lamented. "It isn't hurting much now. There's just a dull pain all the time."

Dr. C.R. Palmer, house physician at the New Yorker hotel where the Cardinals stop, recommended that Musial go on the table at once and yielded only reluctantly to the player's plea that he be permitted to fly to St. Louis.

Musial, voted the most valuable player in the National league last year, became ill Thursday and did not participate in Thursday night's game between the Cards and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

An operation, which appeared to be inevitable, would lose Musial to the Cardinals for perhaps a month—just when Manager Eddie Dyer's drooping champs were beginning to show some signs of snapping out of the slump that plunged them into the National league cellar.

After having won only three of their first 15 starts, the Red Birds rallied to defeat Brooklyn twice, 2-1 and 5-1. Despite this, they were a gloomy crew when they pulled out for the west without their bellwether.

Phils Stop Bums; Boston, Cubs in First

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies pulled the Brooklyn Dodgers down from first to third place in the National league standings last night elevating Chicago to first, with an eleventh inning rally for a 6-5 victory before 22,680 frosted fans. Emil Verban's two-base smash to left drove Andy Seminick home with the winning marker.

Verban's blow came with one out in the last of the eleventh, after the Dodgers had overcome a four-run deficit to send the game into overtime. The Phils had tallied five times in the second inning without ever getting the ball out of the infield.

Brooklyn fought back with a single run in the fourth and tied the score with four more in the top of the eighth before Emil Leonard relieved Oscar Judd on the mound for Philadelphia and ended the rally. Leonard finished the game to record his fourth win of the season against a lone defeat.

Hugh Casey, third Brooklyn pitcher, was charged with the loss. He had walked Seminick to start the Phil half of the eleventh and Lee Handley's sacrifice moved Seminick into position to score on Verban's two-base smash.

Feller Wins, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Joe Gordon's eleventh-inning single scoring Manager Lou Boudreau gave the Cleveland Indians a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Browns last night with Fireball Bob Feller limiting the Browns to four hits. It was the seventh straight loss for the Browns.

Plans Move Ahead for Night Softball Field at City Park

A drive to solicit funds for a lighted softball field here took tentative shape last night at a meeting of city officials, park and recreation commissioners and softball representatives.

Further plans to raise the estimated $2,500 necessary for setting up the field in city park will be handled by an athletic commission composed of John Wilson, sporting goods merchant; Ted Fay, fireman, and Al Mitchell, Press-Citizen sports editor. This body will work in cooperation with the city council, park and school boards and recreation commission.

Various local organizations will be contacted for financial assistance to erect light poles, a backstop and other field essentials.

Officials staked out a diamond in city park yesterday, for use by Iowa City youth teams and by a senior softball league "as soon as possible" after a schedule is drawn up.

It was brought out that the eight light poles needed can be purchased and erected for $100 each.

After official status has been given the three-man athletic commission, further details will be released and the drive undertaken.

Grand Jury Indicts Furman, 9 Others

The Johnson county grand jury yesterday returned 23 indictments, 14 of them against George Furman 312 First avenue, on charges of breaking and entering in the night time.

He was charged with breaking and entering the Farmers' Super market on two occasions, the Iowa Fruit company, Shellady's Super market on two occasions, National Guard armory, Mald Rite cafe, Hawksey super market on two occasions, Iowa City Bottling works, Howell-Shraden Drug company, Braverman and Worton garage, and the Ruan Transportation company and Superior Oil station, both at Coralville.

Other indictments returned by the grand jury include James Cedric King, carrying a concealed weapon; Norman Buck and Melvin Cox, larceny in the daytime; and separate indictments against Virgil Burnett, Alvin Troyer and Hubert Lynch for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

After the grand jury reported the indictments, Judge Evans dismissed the group subject to call until the September court term. The jurors had been in session since Monday afternoon.

Miss Yerkes Engaged

ANNOUNCEMENT IS BEING MADE of the engagement of Catherine Yerkes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Yerkes, Toledo, Iowa, to Burns Maxwell Byram II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burns M. Byram also of Toledo. Miss Yerkes is a junior at the University of Iowa and her fiancé, also a student, will enter the college of medicine next fall. The wedding will take place Aug. 10 at Toledo.

Power Fails Lights Go Out

Iowa City was thrown in darkness last night between 9:06 and 9:17 when the city's power supply suddenly went off.

Robert Lind, district manager of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company said that the power failure was caused by a minor breakdown at the Coralville power plant.

Although most city lights went out, university buildings stayed bright on their own power system, which was unaffected.

Live in One World, Wisconsin Professor Tells Philosopher

"Be world-minded; live in one world."

That was the advice given by Dr. Max Otto of the University of Wisconsin, speaking on "The Charted and the Uncharted" in the senate chamber at 4:30 p.m. yesterday.

Dr. Otto termed the part of the world that gives us security the "charted." When that world fails, he continued, we must approach the "uncharted."

The breakdown may happen to races or nations, as it did when the Greek city-states dissolved, the speaker stated.

Today, Dr. Otto continued, the modern nation-state is dissolving. The territory we must chart, he stated, is that of living in the world instead of our own small patch of it.

"We must do something where we live," the speaker said. He advised that we respect and honor ourselves, all others, the search for truth and the social institutions that make such respect and honor possible.

Dr. Otto's speech was a part of the three-day convention program of the western division of the American Philosophical association.

A panel discussion on "The Last Hundred Years in American Philosophy," will be led by Prof. Everett Hall at 9 o'clock this morning in the senate chamber. The panel is a part of the university's Centennial celebration.

CIO Public Workers List Aims at Meeting

United Public Workers of America, CIO, met in city council chambers last night in a campaign to recruit members from among university non-academic employees.

Allan Bjorklund, international representative, presented light "job conditions" to be corrected by the UPW. Among these were:

- 1) Inadequate wages to meet the rising cost of living.
- 2) Lower wages paid to women doing the same work as men and different wage scales for the same work in different departments and buildings.
- 3) Forced layoffs without job transfers to other departments.

Schawe, Pederson Win Wilson Memorial Prizes

Otto Schawe, G. Dubuque, and Virgil Pederson A4, Mason City, were awarded this year's Charles Bundy Wilson Memorial prizes in German language and literature, Prof. Erich Funke announced yesterday.

The awards are made annually on the basis of high scholastic standing and interest in the subject. Schawe received $42.50 and Pederson $21.25 from the income of the $1,000 endowment fund established in 1939 by Mrs. Frances C. Wilson, widow of the late professor.

The award was made on the birthday anniversary of Professor Wilson, who served nearly 50 years in the department. Head of the department from 1888 to 1932, he was a part-time professor until 1938.

'Aqua Moods' Opening Performance a Hit

When a small rectangle of chlorinated water can become a moon-strewn lake, a Hawaiian beach, a playground for red-rigged sailing craft and 30 water-wear mermaids, all within 90 minutes, it is an accomplishment.

The Seal club did all that and more in their show "Aqua Moods," which opened in the fieldhouse pool last night.

Colored light and graceful bodies flashed across the pool in a brilliant display of water ballet and skilled swimming. Appropriate music provided background for the moods of the 26-year old club's latest show.

For precision swimming and perfection of performance, the trio presentation of "Moon Glow" by Lucie Dean, Anne Buhmann and Sally Henry was outstanding in an outstanding show.

'D RATHER BE RIGHT Time to Blow Up the Myth of a Bipartisan Foreign Policy

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

It is about time we began to blow up the myth that there is a bipartisan foreign policy. There isn't.

When General Marshall begs, hat in hand, for the foreign broadcasts program, and for the cultural program, and for the foreign relief program, and when a Republican congress turns him down, it becomes impossible to talk any longer of a bipartisan foreign policy.

There is bipartisan feeling against Russia, but that is not the same as a bipartisan policy. The Republicans approve of General Marshall in his capacity as a sound and sturdy American, who will stand up against Stalin for what he conceives to be our country's rights, but they refuse to support him on the specific plans, methods, techniques he wishes to use to win his points.

In this sense, the "bipartisan foreign policy" accentuates the negative, and flies apart on the positive. At most, our "bipartisanship" amounts to a vague, blubbery, emotional agreement; it does not go beyond that. It is agreement on the thwarted and vexed feelings which underlie policy; but policy is not emotion, policy is program, and on that there is almost no agreement.

Actually, there is ground for saying that while the Democrats are re-sponding to their anti-Russian feelings by trying to build, more or less constructively, in the fields of foreign relief and cultural interchange, the Republicans are using their anti-Russian emotions as an excuse for retreat into a kind of cranky isolationism.

How else can one explain the vote in the house of representatives which cut our foreign relief spending from $350,000,000 to $200,000,000? The Democrats, as a party, voted 128 to 35 against the cut; the Republicans, as a party, voted 190 to 36 in favor of it.

Undoubtedly on a simple resolution announcing that Josef Stalin is a nasty man, both parties would vote very much alike; but that, again, is not program, and there is a certain national danger in the fact that what agreement there exists only on this darker and more destructive side.

As for the foreign broadcasts and the cultural program the Republicans are against them for many reasons, too many to be entirely convincing. They found these activities, first, on the ground that no specific law authorized them; then they fought them because the state department radio happened to review a book about Henry Wallace; next they hit the ceiling because they didn't like some of the American paintings which were sent abroad. But when there are so many reasons as this, there is perhaps only one reason, and that is that the Republicans are reverting to some of their old isolationist preoccupations.

They hide this retreat behind the handsome screen of the "bipartisan" foreign policy; but, as we have seen, their bipartisanship extends only to the more destructive aspects of our thinking, and reflects only the fact that they dislike and distrust one part of the foreign scene a little more than they distrust and dislike the rest of it.

Yet it is the constructive side of the program which alone offers hope that we can have something like a democratic gala on our side of the world, in our time; that we can, by helping friendly nations to their feet, and by convincing large numbers that it is fun to be free, set up a reliable counterpoise to Russia. Some Republicans, such as Mr. Stassen, are sharply aware of the negative content of the "bipartisan" policy, but they remain, of course, married to their party and are thus in a poor position to concede that the "bipartisan" policy is dragging its feet precisely because it has to carry the Republican weight.

We are obviously approaching a new debate on foreign policy; out of it must come a public realization that merely to have a low opinion of Mr. Stalin does not of itself qualify a man as a master of policy, a full partner in the production of the better world.
