

Attempt on Bricker's Life Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two pistol shots missed Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) yesterday in a burst of gunfire on Capitol Hill and police arrested a discharged capitol policeman on charges of assault with intent to kill the senator.

The accused, William L. Kaiser, calmly and cryptically told police and newspapermen:

"I did it to refresh his memory."

The shooting set the capitol in a turmoil yesterday in the midst of an unusual Saturday session of the senate. It took place in the subway linking the capitol with the senate office building.

Bricker was carried to safety by the little monorail subway car as it rounded a bend out of the shooter's range.

The silver-haired 1944 Republican vice-presidential candidate and a companion crouched behind one of the car's seats as it slowly got underway.

Bricker, apparently undisturbed, told reporters that Kaiser blamed him for losses in a building and loan association at Columbus about 15 years ago.

Records show that Kaiser was a capitol police appointee of his predecessor, Senator Huffman (D-Ohio). Bricker told a questioner he had nothing to do with Kaiser losing this job last April.

Kaiser was arrested by metropolitan police several hours after the shooting and many blocks from the capitol at a Massachusetts avenue address.

The Ohioan said it was the first time he had been under fire. He served as a chaplain in World War I.

Kaiser was identified by Bricker and J.H. Macomber, of the staff of the senate expenditures committee, and Jerry Albright, subway car operator.

After Albright delivered his passengers at the capitol end of the subway, the senator calmly left the car and walked upstairs to the senate chamber before asking senate aides to start police on the hunt.

Albright rushed back to the shooting site and told the still-armed Kaiser to get out. Kaiser left and was the object of a widespread manhunt for the next several hours.

Bricker said Kaiser fired the first shot at him from about 15 feet and that he and Macomber made a quick jump for the subway car.

"Let's get the hell out of here," Bricker was quoted by both Macomber and Albright.

"I slammed on the juice and started moving away," Albright said later. "Then the fellow with the gun came running out. He pointed the gun in our direction and fired another shot."

After the shooting Bricker said he didn't know Kaiser's name but had talked to the man several times because Kaiser claimed to have lost "money or a home" in the Columbus savings and loan case.

As Ohio attorney general, Bricker said he started action that caused this liquidation some 15 years ago.

"One time he (Kaiser) asked me 'When am I going to get my money back that you stole?'" Bricker recalled, adding that he told Kaiser he was sorry if he lost money but "there is nothing I can do about it."

Still Want Russia's Aid In Europe

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP)—Britain, France and Italy told the opening session of the Marshall plan conference yesterday that Russia and the absent eastern European nations still would be welcome to help in a continent-wide effort to rebuild a war-shattered economy.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared the conference was not intended to set up a permanent organization rivaling the United Nations. He said the conference members remained loyal to the U.N. and wanted to cooperate fully with appropriate U.N. organs.

Statements from 16 European nations met for an hour in the gilded grand banquet hall of the French foreign ministry. They elected Bevin presiding officer and named a working committee which immediately began a study of the British-French draft for European recovery with American aid.

The conference was called by Britain and France after Russia declined to have anything to do with the Marshall plan, enunciated by the United States secretary of state at Harvard university June 5.

The plan, briefly, envisions American aid to Europe after the nations of Europe have decided how far they can help themselves and just what help they will need from the United States.

Blood Gift Saves Youth

By MELVIN VAN DUREN

Nineteen persons each donated a pint of blood at University hospital yesterday morning to keep two and a half-year-old Dennis Vozikis alive.

Young Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vozikis, East Moline, Ill., cannot produce his own blood because of a rare blood disease.

The lodge members were told how Dennis was a healthy normal child most of the time, and played just like any other child.

But every few weeks, they were told, Dennis grows listless and loses his appetite. His blood supply has run low. Then his mother and father must bring the lad to Iowa City where doctors at University hospital give him a new supply of blood from the blood bank here.

Without new blood every few weeks, Dennis would die.

Last week, the secretary of the Eagle lodge at East Moline, Russell Swartz, chartered a bus for Iowa City. When the bus left East Moline yesterday morning, 19 men and four women were aboard.

It took two hours for doctors to take 19 pints of blood from the donors at University hospital later in the morning.

While Dennis' father was donating his blood with the rest of the group, he said doctors had told him his son's ailment was fatal. Science has found no cure for it. With the aid of transfusions, he said, "Dennis has lived longer than any other person afflicted with the disease."

Doctors have told him the unknown blood disease is rare in this country. He said they told him the disease is probably hereditary, occurring often in Mediterranean countries such as Greece. Doctors who have studied Dennis' case, he said, are going to write about it in medical journals.

"Our only chance," the father said, "is to keep my boy alive with blood transfusions and maybe science will find a cure for the disease before too long."

Czechs, Russ To Trade

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovakia and Russia announced last night a five-year agreement exchanging Russian food for Czech machinery and manufactured goods.

It was viewed as possibly setting up a basis for an eastern European economy of barter for nations not participating in the Marshall plan.

Informed sources said it seemed likely here that Poland and other eastern European nations which turned their backs on the Paris conference at a nod from Moscow might have been offered similar increased trade pacts to make up for the assistance they had hoped for in the general European recovery plan.

A communique announcing the agreement said that in 1948 Czechoslovakia was to receive from Russia 200,000 tons of wheat, 200,000 tons of fodder and maize, 65,000 tons of potassium and sodium fertilizers, 20,000 tons of cotton and unspecified quantities of oil, seeds, peas, lentils, phosphates, wool and iron, manganese, and chromium ores.

Bill To Pass, 'Undoubtedly' Tomorrow

But Senator Barkley Forecasts Quick Veto By President Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican sponsors failed in an effort to ram the $4-billion income tax cut bill through at a night senate session last night, and final action was put off until tomorrow.

A vote then—with passage assured—was arranged in an informal gentlemen's agreement between leaders of Democratic and Republican parties.

The GOP leadership once turned down such an agreement, but accepted it later after Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky told them he believed President Truman will veto the measure promptly without waiting the usual 10 days.

Barkley, in giving his ideas of what the President will do, shouted he was "astonished some Republicans apparently feared that either senate Democrats or Mr. Truman "would indulge in some kind of chicanery" to delay adjournment of congress July 26.

That adjournment goal is bound up in action on the tax measure. The President can, if he desires, wait ten days—not counting Sundays—between the time he gets the bill and the time he gives it his promised veto.

Delay in acting on the bill would cut the time for an override vote close if the President took the full 10 days.

With the informal agreement accepted, the senate recessed at 8:49 p.m. (CST) to noon tomorrow.

The decision came after nearly 10 hours of debate during which eight amendments by Senators Morse, (R-Ore), including one to postpone the effect of the tax cut for at least a year past next Jan. 1, were turned down.

Still to be acted upon was the controversial amendment by Senator McClellan (D-Ark) to extend so-called community property benefits to taxpayers of all the states.

The main question was not whether Republicans could mass sufficient votes to pass the bill—that was assured—but whether they would gain the two-thirds majority necessary to override a veto.

A vote on the veto test was not likely before Tuesday.

The bill would lop some $4-billion a year off federal taxpayers' bills, with individual cuts ranging from 10.5 to 30 percent.

Instead of being effective this past July 1, under the original bill vetoed by President Truman, it would become effective next Jan. 1.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) made a consistent effort during the day to secure adoption of a series of amendments to the bill, seeking to modify it or to change the effective date. He got support from Senator Langer (D-ND).

But they were rebuffed on two roll calls and six voice votes.

CIO to Test Labor Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Philip Murray of the CIO last night personally defied the Taft-Hartley act by endorsing Edward A. Garmatz of Baltimore, Democratic candidate for congress in a special Maryland district election Tuesday.

Seeking a court test of the act, Murray directed that his statement be printed on page 1 of the CIO News tomorrow. The law forbids "expenditures"—including comment in union-financed newspapers—in connection with federal elections.

This section was attacked in congress Friday night. Senators Aiken (R-Vt) and Hatch (D-NM) introduced an amendment to remove the ban. They called it an unconstitutional "invasion of the rights of free speech and a free press."

The CIO president said he was acting at the request of the CIO in Baltimore, and asked all members in that city to vote and work for Garmatz' election.

The AFL also has defied the act. It sent to all AFL unions the voting records of congressmen who supported the Taft-Hartley act.

2 Say Warden 'Half Drunk' When 7 Died

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP)—A Negro convict told a coroner's jury yesterday that Warden W.G. Worthy was a "half drunk" when prison guards opened fire with shotguns on 27 escaping Negro prisoners near here Friday.

Five Negroes were killed instantly, and two died later in a hospital. Six others were wounded.

Willie H. Bell, described as ring-leader of the massed break by Warden Worthy, testified the warden refused to let the prisoners enter the barracks after they were returned from a road project. Officials said the Negroes had refused to work.

Bell said he refused to step away from the group of prisoners, lined up in the prison yard, when ordered by Worthy "because I knew he wanted to kill me."

Worthy previously had said the break attempt and the volleys from the officers' guns followed an attempt by Bell to charge and disarm him. The warden shot Bell in the leg.

Another prisoner, Charles Veal of Atlanta, also testified before the coroner's jury that the warden "was drinking."

Actress Tries Housekeeping

Christabel Pactwa
A "Daredevil" in South Africa

DUBUQUE (AP)—A former London actress whose varied career includes a tour of South Africa as a stunt car driver has settled down to quiet domesticity in Dubuque.

She is Christabel Moore Pactwa, an attractive 25-year-old brunette.

Her husband, Tony, whom she married in London in February, 1944, when he was a yeoman third class in the U.S. navy, is a salesman recently transferred here from Hammond, Ind.

Born in Nova Scotia, Mrs. Pactwa moved with her parents to Miami, Florida, as a child and grew up there.

Later she joined a group of daredevil drivers who toured South Africa driving cars through walls of flame and into barricades.

She became an actress in England and in 1939 toured Italy with a London cast. They got out a week before war began.

Back in London she played a role in the play, "The Two Mrs. Carrolls" and met Pactwa while working as a Red Cross hostess.

"She was the only Red Cross hostess in London who could play pool," Pactwa says. "She could beat me, too, and still can."

Mrs. Pactwa says she likes Iowa for its beauty and its friendly people. She would like to organize an amateur little theater in Dubuque.

Arrest Two For 'Lifting' Atom Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI agents late yesterday arrested two former army sergeants accused of taking atomic bomb documents—some of them said to be "top secret"—from the Los Alamos, N. Mex., testing station.

The FBI making the announcement, told of recovering the documents and photographs of "the various phases" of the A-bomb from a variety of places—a student's room at Princeton university, a wall safe in Pennsylvania and a photography studio in Chicago.

The two men were identified officially as:

Alexander Von Der Luft, 23, arrested at his home at 418 Serpentine drive, Mt. Lebanon, Pa.

Earnest D. Wallis, 34, of 151 West Burton place, Chicago. He was arrested at his Paul Stone-Raymore Photography studio, 168 N. Michigan avenue, Chicago.

Lou Nichols, FBI public relations officer, told reporters that information uncovered by investigators "indicated no connection between these boys and foreign agents or foreign espionage."

In a statement the FBI said that complaints are being filed before the U.S. commissioner, Santa Fe, N. Mex., charging Von der Luft and Wallis with unlawfully removing and concealing documents in violation of the U. S. criminal code.

Upon conviction, the offense carries a penalty of a fine of not more than $2,000 or not more than three years imprisonment, or both.

The FBI explained that no charge could be filed under the atomic energy act since "the offense occurred prior to its enactment."

Cards Sweep Giants; Dickson Hurts 1-Hitter

Red Birds Win, 4-0, 11-3, Trail Ottmen by Two Points

NEW YORK (AP)—The surging St. Louis Cardinals pulled to within two percentage points of the third place New York Giants yesterday by clipping the New Yorkers, 4-0 and 11-3, before a paid gathering of 41,645 fans.

Little Murray Dickson stopped the slugging Giants with one hit in the opener, Ernie Lombardi's two out single in the second inning, while the Cards bunched four of their five blows off Monte Kennedy in the ninth to score all of their runs. Enos Slaughter highlighted the Cards' last frame flareup with a three-run homer.

In the nightcap, the cashing Red Birds clouted five New York hurlers for 15 safeties including homers by Whitey Kurovski and Del Rice. The Birds drove starter Hooks Iott from the mound with a six run, first inning uprising.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen went the route for the Cards and limited the Giants to seven hits in posting his tenth win of the year.

Bill Rigney and Johnny Mize accounted for two of the Giants' runs with first inning homers. The blows were the 11th and 25th respectively for Rigney and Mize and raised the club total to 110 for 73 games.

A's, Indians Split Twin-Bill

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians clung to fourth place in the American league race yesterday by salvaging the second game of a twin bill with Philadelphia, 5 to 4, after dropping the opener, 4 to 2.

Ed Killeman, who relieved Starter Les Willis in the fifth inning of the afterpiece, gained his first decision of the season, holding the Mackmen scoreless the rest of the way. Jesse Flores earned his fourth victory in the opener although he needed aid from Bob Savage in the ninth.

The nightcap was a see-saw battle which saw the Indians collect 13 hits off Joe Coleman, Savage and Russ Christopher. Hank Edwards clouted his sixth home run of the campaign with one on in the third inning.

Cleveland scored what proved the winning marker in the fifth on singles by Joe Gordon, Ken Keltner and Al Lopez.

The Athletics exploded for three runs, including Pete Suder's homer with one aboard, in the fifth inning of the opener. Al Gettel was tagged with the loss.

Flores kept the Tribe under control until the ninth when he needed relief from Savage after the Indians had tallied twice.

Used heretofore this season only on relief jobs, the lanky southpaw, besides checking Detroit's offensive, slapped out three singles himself to drive on one Boston run. Dom DiMaggio lofted a homer into the upper left field deck (off Al Benton for Boston's initial run in the first inning).

Lopat in Seventh Win as White Sox Thump Nats, 6-5

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox regained sixth place in the American league standings yesterday by closing out a four game losing streak with a 6-5 victory over Washington. Eddie Lopat, the Chicagoans' winningest pitcher, worked the route on a yield of 10 hits to bag his seventh triumph against as many losses.

The Sox scored all their runs off Marino Pieretti before he retired in favor of Milo Candini in the fifth inning. Rudy York batted home Chicago's first run in the first inning. He singled to open the fifth when the Sox added two more markers after a three-run fourth.

Washington threatened Lopat with four straight hits for three runs in the eighth. The Sox pitcher, however, braced to throw a double play ball to Stan Spence before Mickey Vernon grounded out.

Tom McBride led the Washington attack on Lopat with four straight singles for a perfect day.

Bums Pick on Cubs, 7-2, 6-5

BROOKLYN (AP)—The high flying Brooklyn Dodgers boosted their winning streak to six games and stretched their National league lead to three-and-one-half games yesterday by sweeping a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs, 7-2 and 6-5.

After Joe Hatten subdued the Cubs on seven safeties in the opener, the battling Brooks came from behind by scoring twice in each of the last two frames to make the nightcap with Carl Furillo driving in the winning run with a two-out single.

Hatten duded on even terms with Chicago's Doyle Lade until the sixth when Ed Stanky singled and Arky Vaughan tripled for the first run of the game. The Brooks shelled Lade from the mound in the seventh by scoring six times.

Trailing, 4-2 going into the eighth of the nightcap, Furillo singled with two out and Dixie Walker followed with a homer to tie the count.

The Cubs came back in the top of the ninth and scored once after two were down on Phil Cavarretta's double and Andy Pafko's single before Hugh Casey, fourth Dodger pitcher, could retire the side.

Eddie Miskis singled to begin the Dodgers' payoff rally. Miskis was sacrificed to second and Hank Borowy was called in to relieve starter Johnny Schmitz. Vaughan, pinch-hitting for Stanky, greeted Borowy with a run-tying single and moved to second on the throw to the plate. Jackie Robinson grounded out and Furillo then came through with his game-winning blow.

The victories enabled the Dodgers to sweep their five game series from the Cubs. The Brooks now have beaten the Cubs nine straight times and 12 out of 14 games to win the season's series between the two clubs.

Demaret, Hogan Lose First Match, Still Lead Inverness Golf

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Defending champions Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret suffered their first defeat in five matches yesterday, losing one up to National Open Champion Lew Worsham and Johnny Palmer, but they clung to the lead for the top prize of $3,000 in the Inverness best-ball matches with a "plus 13" score.

That gave them a five-point edge Ellsworth Vines, former amateur and professional tennis champion, and Clayton Heafner, the huge blond from Charlotte, N.C., who surged to a six-up victory over former National Open Kings Lawson Little and Lloyd Mangrum.

With the final two matches in the $10,000 best ball classic due today, it looked light a fight right down to the wire. Hogan-Demaret are favored to repeat since they meet two of the second division twosomes while Vines and Heafner must dispose of Ed Furgol, the sensational Pontiac, Mich., youth with the rigid withered left arm, and his partner, George Schoux of San Francisco, who are in third place after playing the tourney's most sensational golf.

The Vines-Heafner duo has a "plus 8" rating after winning four matches and losing a four-down decision to Demaret-Hogan, while Furgol-Schoux have "plus 7" despite a three-down defeat at the hands of the leaders. Worsham-Palmer are next with plus one, having won three matches by a single hole, and losing two by the same margin.

Rain Halts Iowa Tennis After 2 Titles Awarded CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—A heavy downpour yesterday rained out matches in the Iowa Open Tennis tournament here but not until two more championships had been determined and play in other divisions advanced all along the line.

Yanks Belt Browns Twice

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Clouting two homers in the first game and three in the second, the American league's front-running New York Yankees crushed the St. Louis Browns, 12-2 and 8-5, yesterday to run their winning streak to 12 games.

Joe DiMaggio and Billy Johnson each cracked three run homers in the opener as the Yanks walloped four St. Louis pitchers for 17 hits.

Tommy Henrich highlighted the windup victory by slashing out two homers while Aaron Robinson sewed up the game by clouting a two-run four-bagger in the eighth. Floyd Bevens started for New York and gave up the Browns' initial three runs in the third. Henrich homered in the fourth and the Yanks tied the score with a two-run rally in the fifth.

The Yanks went ahead, 5-3 when Henrich blasted Starter Jack Kramer for his second round-tripper of the game with one on in the seventh.

Karl Drews, who took over the Yankees' pitching duties in the fifth, blanked the Browns on one hit going into the seventh when he was relieved by Joe Page after being tagged for a double and infield single with two out.

Page, who won Thursday's night game with a ninth inning homer, halted the rally but was rapped for the Browns final two runs in the ninth before Jerry Witte lined into a game ending double play with two men on base.

Yanks Belt Browns Twice

New York Extends String, St. Louis Bows by 12-2, 8-5

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Clouting two homers in the first game and three in the second, the American league's front-running New York Yankees crushed the St. Louis Browns, 12-2 and 8-5, yesterday to run their winning streak to 12 games.

Joe DiMaggio and Billy Johnson each cracked three run homers in the opener as the Yanks walloped four St. Louis pitchers for 17 hits.

Tommy Henrich highlighted the windup victory by slashing out two homers while Aaron Robinson sewed up the game by clouting a two-run four-bagger in the eighth. Floyd Bevens started for New York and gave up the Browns' initial three runs in the third. Henrich homered in the fourth and the Yanks tied the score with a two-run rally in the fifth.

The Yanks went ahead, 5-3 when Henrich blasted Starter Jack Kramer for his second round-tripper of the game with one on in the seventh.

Karl Drews, who took over the Yankees' pitching duties in the fifth, blanked the Browns on one hit going into the seventh when he was relieved by Joe Page after being tagged for a double and infield single with two out.

Page, who won Thursday's night game with a ninth inning homer, halted the rally but was rapped for the Browns final two runs in the ninth before Jerry Witte lined into a game ending double play with two men on base.

Top Golf Aces Enter Western Amateur Meel

DES MOINES, (AP)—A fast field of golfers assembled at the Wakonda club yesterday for the Western amateur tournament as the gallery experts pointed the championship's top shooter—Frank Stranahan, Marvin (Bud) Ward and Ted Bishop.

The trio of U.S. Walker cup team performers was the object of the most lively discussion concerning a field of 110 players who'll battle it out next week for the championship Stranahan won last year by nipping Ward 1 up in 38 holes.

Ward, a two-time former National champ from Spokane, Wash., has been touring Wakonda's hills since mid-week getting ready for the big test. Bud planned to leave late yesterday for Waterloo, Ia., where he will play in the 36-hole Waterloo open today.

"I like to play in all the tournaments I can, so I decided to go up to Waterloo," Bud said. He'll return tonight to be on hand for the first 18 holes of qualifying play in the Western tomorrow.

Stranahan, the Toledo, O., sharpshooter, and Bishop, of Natick, Mass., 1946 National amateur champion, are due in today by plane.

The "big three" will head a contingent that John C. Kennan, executive vice president of the Western Golf association, called the "Best amateur field we'll have in any championship except the National at Pebble Beach."

Other prominent include Jim McHale of Wynnewood, Penn., who fired a 65, including a record-breaking 30 on the first nine, in one round of the National open; Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., Eastern Intercollegiate champ; Charles (Chick) Evans of Chicago, eight times western winner, and Gus Moreland of Peoria, Ill., another former titlist.

Robert J. Sweeney Jr. of London, Eng., an American native who was an alternate on the 1947 U.S. Walker cup squad was among the entries, as was young Mac Hunter of West Los Angeles, who lost his Western junior title this year.

Iowa will have 43 representatives in the tournament, including Fred Gordon of Belmond, the state champion, and Johnny Jacobs of Cedar Rapids, four-time winner before Gordon took over the title at Davenport two weeks ago.

The game literally ended with bang. It was early in the seventh storm clouds were rolling across when suddenly a thunderclap—apparently about 30 feet above Griffith field. By unanimous consent, the ball game was over.

Resolutions Spark Plan To Bolster U.N.

A most notable event occurred in the United States congress last Wednesday. A series of resolutions demanding that the United Nations be strengthened was introduced in both the house and senate.

Each resolution had bi-partisan support. Elsewhere on this page will be found the texts of the resolutions and the lists of the sponsors.

These are the resolutions referred to by Norman Cousins in his speeches here Friday and Saturday.

It is significant that both resolutions recognize that the present structure of the United Nations is inadequate. The resolutions state in clear and unmistakable language that the United Nations charter needs revision if war is to be prevented.

Cousins suggested these strengthening amendments: (1) preventing the secession of any member nation, (2) giving the U. N. compulsory jurisdiction, backed by overwhelming force if necessary, in all matters relating to world security and (3) giving the U. N. jurisdiction over individuals directly, and not through the states concerned.

Cousins said he doesn't like to be an "alarmist." Yet he demonstrated that world events have taken an alarming turn. The threat of war in the very near future is a distinct possibility.

How does that tie in with the senate and house resolutions? Simply that we have some sort of international machinery for the prevention of war in existence. But experience has proved its inadequacy to do the job it was set up to do.

There is, however, provision within the United Nations charter for amendments. The resolutions propose to use that amendment procedure to remedy U. N. weaknesses.

Perhaps events have gone too far to prevent another war. Perhaps the division of the world into two camps makes any reconciliation impossible. We don't know.

But we do think it would be nothing short of mass suicide to do nothing. The very least we can do is to attempt to bolster the U. N. to give it the power to prevent war.

It will be interesting to see whether the resolutions get public support. Can the "volcanic eruption" of public opinion that Cousins spoke of take place?

'As DP's Die, We Share the Guilt'

As congress considers the Stratton bill to admit displaced persons, we ought to realize that the World War II victors are partially responsible for the muddled state of displaced persons.

Our government, among others, officially maintained that no individual would be forced to return to his homeland against his wishes.

The U. S. backed the United Nations' International Refugee organization, set up especially to deal with the tragic problem. Now the U. S. refuses to take the lead in carrying out the project.

We ratified the Italian treaty, forcing 30,000 to flee to Italy from areas transferred to Yugoslavia. We approved the partition of Poland and re-arrangement of borders elsewhere, driving countless others into western Europe.

As former assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle (who participated in the recent Town Meeting here) has said:

"Not all of Europe's displaced persons are victims of Nazi cruelty; some are victims of allied mistakes . . . as they die we share the guilt . . . history takes its toll for guilt of this kind."

DP's are quartered — often like animals — in nations (notably Germany) unable to provide for their own citizens. Under the present program, they could impose an international relief burden of long duration.

From 1940 to 1946, only 15% of the total immigration quota into this country was filled more.

In European camps are about 850,000 to 900,000 DP's by official estimate. These Polish, Greek, Latvian, Lithuanian, Estonian, Finnish, Yugoslav men, women and children cannot return home.

Because of their race or political and religious beliefs, a return to their native lands would mean torture, enslavement or death.

According to the National Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons, 150,000 of those in camps are under 17 years old; nearly half of these are under six. What a fertile breeding ground for fear, despair and hatred!

The United States is asked to accept 400,000 DP's.

If the U. S. takes the first step, other nations probably will agree to admit their share. "If the U. S. does nothing, nothing will be done," Berle claimed.

All DP's would be screened by federal authorities before being approved for entry. Every sponsoring individual, corporation or agency must furnish an affidavit that the refugee under its supervision would not become public charges.

These Europeans would prove willing workers and could alleviate the shortage of farm labor and domestic servants.

In most cases, they would not create housing difficulties but would live with relatives and friends in rooms ordinarily unavailable to renters.

It appears that we could easily absorb these 400,000 Americans should value human life above selfishness.

Displaced persons are — after all — human beings. It's as simple as that. How interested are Americans in humanity?

Senate, House Resolutions Bolstering U.N.

Following are the texts of the bi-partisan resolutions introduced July 9 in both the house and the senate calling for strengthening the United Nations.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 23:

BE IT RESOLVED by the senate, the house of representatives concurring, that it is the sense of the congress of the United States that permanent world peace can and will be achieved through the United Nations, and to that purpose we believe that action should be taken under the provisions of the Charter of the United Nations to propose and adopt amendments and revisions that will strengthen the United Nations as an instrument to prevent war and maintain world peace.

Introduced by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) for himself and:

Senators Tobey (R-NH), Baldwin (R-Conn), Flanders (R-Vt), Cain (R-Wash), McMahon (D-Conn), Byrd (D-Va), Sparkman (D-Ala), O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Taylor (D-Idaho).

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 24:

WHEREAS all the world deeply desires durable peace, and

WHEREAS the United Nations was created as an instrument to preserve the peace of the world, and

WHEREAS experience increasingly indicates that the United Nations, in its present structure, is not fully adequate for this task, and

WHEREAS the United Nations charter in its article 109 provides a procedure whereby the Charter of the United Nations may be revised and amended.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the senate, the house of representatives concurring, that it is the sense of the congress that the President of the United States should immediately take the initiative in calling a general conference of the United Nations pursuant to article 109 for the purpose of making the United Nations capable of enforcing world law to prevent war.

Introduced by Senator Taylor (D-Idaho) for himself and:

Senators Chavez (D-NM), Johnston (D-SC), Murray (D-Mont), Pepper (D-Fla) and Tobey (R-NH).

The house resolution, a duplicate of Taylor's senate resolution 24, was signed by:

Judd (R-Minn), Hays (D-Ark), Richards (D-SC), Kefauver (D-Tenn), Byrne (D-NY), Mansfield (D-Mont), Mundt (R-SD), Hale (R-Maine), Muhlenberg (R-Pa) and Nixon (R-Calif).

Sideshow of Life

By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA — Engineer Frank Coulton, of the Reading railroad's Philadelphia to Doylestown, Pa., train, had a very "beezy" day.

The bees, enroute from rich honey farms at Jeanerette, La., to the National Farm school and junior college at Chalfont, Pa., arrived at the American express office here. They were loaded into the baggage compartment of Coulton's two car electric train.

The next thing Coulton knew he was slapping himself, with the bees swarming all over him. The train was delayed nine minutes. The bees escaped.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The army has hung up a "for sale" sign at Fort Lewis, offering 750,000 pounds of second hand bullets.

The buyer must take them "as is." They are imbedded in banks at the target range.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Mazlum Aras, 22, filled out an application for an automobile drivers' license. When he came to the question of whether he had a physical handicap, he replied "yes".

His description of the handicap: "I am a fast driver."

The application was started through customary channels to the state highway department for action.

LIBBY, Mont. — Many years ago pioneer miners dug 1,000 feet into an almost inaccessible Montana mountain before they finally gave up.

Their efforts yielded no precious metal.

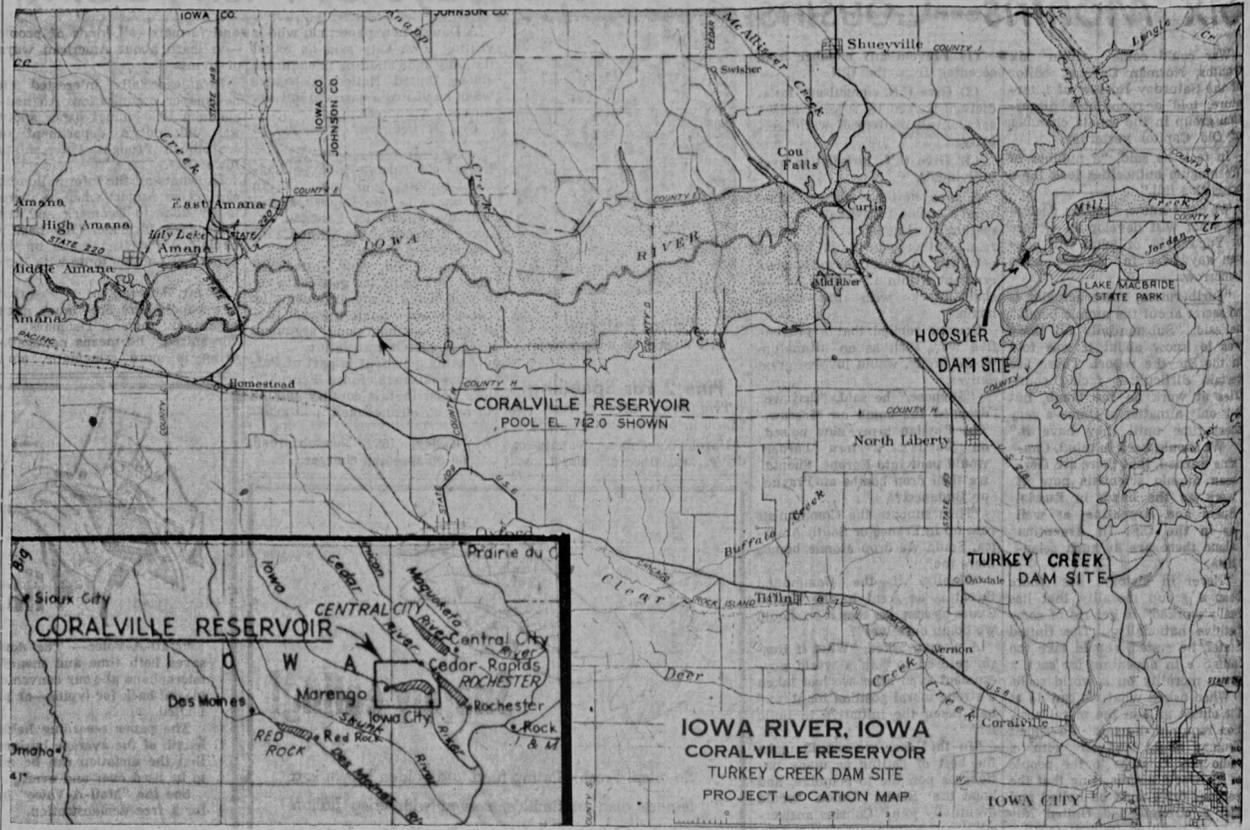

Today the mine produces heavily from a large vein of silver, lead and zinc ores.

Modern drillers simply dug another 50 feet and struck it rich.

SAN JOSE, Cal. — William Herwig took a $6,000 bath, he told police.

"I wear the key to my safe on a cord around my neck," Herwig explained, "But I took it off and laid it on a table while I bathed." While he washed the $6,000 vanishes from the safe, he said.

Map 2 Dam Sites For Iowa River Control

LARGE MAP—U.S. engineers' map shows exact location of the Hoosier creek dam site and the Turkey creek dam site on the Iowa river above Iowa City. Dotted areas indicate the land area that could be used by the respective dams to back up flood waters of the river. The Hoosier creek dam would not affect Lake Macbride but the Turkey creek dam would necessitate making the Lake Macbride dam higher and changing facilities of the park to make room for the planned reservoir. Areas below the dams would be protected in case of high water.

SMALL MAP—Inserted map shows the position of the Coralville reservoir project in relation to the rest of the state. The project is only part of large-scale long term plans for flood control of the Mississippi valley. Flood control of the Iowa river would aid flood control along the Mississippi because the flow of water would be less by means of control at the proposed dams. The project is being studied by U.S. army engineers. No money has been appropriated for work on the dams.

By JOHN CAREY
Two alternate dam sites have been suggested by the corps of engineers for flood control of the Iowa river above Iowa City.

Preliminary reports on the Coralville reservoir project were submitted recently by Col. William N. Leaf, district engineer for the Rock Island district of the upper Mississippi valley.

Main reports will be submitted through army engineer channels to the office of the chief in Washington, D.C., in September.

The reports serve as a basis for programming the project and to establish definitely the most suitable plan for flood control of the river. Members of congress and federal and other governmental agencies use the information.

The two proposed sites are the Hoosier creek dam site, 19 river miles upstream from Iowa City and the Turkey creek dam site, nine miles upstream from Iowa City, according to Colonel Leaf.

The map shows the location of the two sites and the shaded area indicates the reservoirs that could be used when the water reaches a flood stage.

The total capacity for storage of the upstream or Hoosier creek site is 400,000 acre-feet and the downstream or Turkey creek site has a storage capacity of 500,000 acre feet. (An acre foot is the amount of water required to cover one acre to the depth of one foot.)

"The Coralville reservoir would be used to control Iowa river flood water somewhat like this," the colonel explained.

"Openings through the base of the dam would be regulated with gates to allow river flows to pass through the dam when the flow is below bankfull level downstream from the dam.

"When the river flow into the reservoir would be great enough to overflow the river banks downstream from the dam, only enough water is released from the reservoir to produce bankfull levels below the dam.

"The balance of the river flow is retained in the reservoir. Then after the flood is past and the river inflow decreases below bankfull flows, release from reservoir storage is continued until all the flood waters stored have been released.

"The reservoir volume allowed to control of floods would be used only during flood periods and as soon as the flood had passed, this volume would be promptly regained in order to be ready for the flood to follow," he said.

The dam would be used for flood control only, not for power as the proposed Red Rock dam on the Des Moines river. The shaded areas on the map would not be inundated except under extreme flood conditions.

Construction of a dam at the Hoosier creek site would not affect Lake Macbride park because that dam would be located a short distance upstream from the park.

The construction of the dam at Turkey creek would require costly alterations to the Lake Macbride dam. However, Colonel Leaf termed these alterations "highly desirable."

It would be necessary to raise the lake dam to an elevation equal to or slightly higher than the spillway crest of the main reservoir and to rearrange and relocate facilities with the park itself, the colonel added.

The present Lake Macbride, which has a water surface area of about 179 acres, would be enlarged to a water surface of about 938 acres. At present the lake is rapidly silting up and its useful life reduced accordingly, Colonel Leaf explained.

Under the flood control reservoir project, the colonel said, the useful life of the enlarged lake would be almost unlimited.

The Coralville reservoir project was authorized by the Flood Control act of congress, June 1938. However, no funds have been appropriated by congress and no work can be done on the dam itself until the money is voted for the purpose.

None of the money thus far appropriated this year for flood control can be used for new work such as the Coralville project. The project is only a small part of long term flood control plans under study by the army engineers.

According to the original authorization, all costs of the construction must be borne by the federal government and none by the state. In case construction is approved, title to all lands, easements and rights-of-way for the project will be acquired by the federal government.

Johnson county residents in the shaded areas that would be flooded by the closing of either proposed dam during high water, have expressed dissatisfaction with the project. Although the dams would not back up water during the normal stages of the river, unusually high crests would force closing of the dams and flooding some of the shaded areas.

Areas below either dam would be protected, of course, and Iowa City and surrounding towns would not be subjected to floods like those that took place in June.

I'm Thinking About . . .

Eva and Her Local Protege, N. Cousins and H. Olson

By KEN BROJAC
"Eva, Eva, what are you then?" "I didn't tell anyone about them . . . that's a rough translation from a French poem dedicated to Eva, The Woman."

With a sigh we laid aside the latest issue of Time the other day, the one featuring the spread on the Argentinian rainbow, Eva Peron. It seemed to us, in our blissful naivete, that the glamorous Eva, a woman who knows how to take full advantage of her God-given talents was one of the last of a disappearing tribe—the gold-diggers whose national reign made Broadway tabloid headlines in the 20's and 30's.

We ran into a fellow the other day whose tale of a local 16-year-old he'd met on campus (some-where under a lamp-post) awakened us to practical reality.

"With a thousand bucks I could have a bed of roses," the pig-tailed jean-clad said.

After confessing that she had no unusual hobbies the lass went on to say that after getting out of high school . . . "I'd like to be an artist for awhile too. I don't care much what I do, just so I'm an artist." (Eva was an actress of sorts.)

She had an alert awareness of what was going on in the world . . . "Oh, I've seen lots of flying saucers lately . . . at night too, but I didn't tell anyone about them 'cause I didn't think they'd believe me."

When the fellow asked her just what she had seen, she replied . . . "Oh, what do you want to ask me all that stuff for . . ." (Or, at least, that's the way he told it.)

There's a lot more we'd like to ask her, of course, now or a couple years from now for whatever Eva is, she exists at home and abroad. Who can block the way of the transgressor when delinquency pays off so well?

Response to Norman Cousins' speech the other night ranged all the way from those who stayed for five minutes and left to those who followed Cousins to Larry Dennis' afterwards to absorb more of the same.

Sorriest comment (overheard) came from a couple of hearty students who wandered away from the lecture muttering . . . "We're fat and healthy here . . . don't see why some little guy like that should come around here and tell us what to think."

The comment itself is reason enough for Cousins' appearance. We may be fat but the kind of intellectual healthiness represented by Cousins doesn't exist here or anywhere . . . to the comforting extent it should.

But there's the other side of the local picture, too. Herb Olson told us the other day about a fan letter he got when he was still m.c.ing "Musical Chats."

"Dear Mr. Olson," the card read, "I think that Beethoven Fifth you played the other day is terrific. It really sends me."

War Books Deserve More Attention

Little attention has been given the excellent historical records of various battles of the war, which are published by the Government Printing Office.

The "American Forces in Action Series", a group of twelve books, are sold by the Superintendent of Documents at prices from 35 to 50 cents each. The books were written by the historical division of the war department.

Some of the encounters reported are St. Lo, Omaha Beachhead, Salerno, Guam, and Makin, as well as records of the Fifth Army and, the First Cavalry division.

These books are well made, printed in large type and written in clear and concise English. The writers avoid drama, emotion, and personality in their given the excellent historical records of various battles of the war, which are published by the Government Printing Office.

The series presents fine historical scholarship and does its best to tell exactly what happened at the different engagements. There are numerous maps, charts, and photographs included; also, personal interviews with the men active in the battles.

The "American Forces in Action Series", is written for everybody, with the belief that the citizens of a democracy, soldiers and civilians alike, are entitled to know what its army does. Every person who has ignored the books should write to the Superintendent of Documents in Washington for copies of these records.

George T. Hansen, national committeeman from Utah, said sentiment for a 1948 presidential nominee had not crystallized in the state but added that Dewey and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio had considerable strength.

Negroes Win Court Fight Over Voting
 CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—South Carolina Negroes won a court victory yesterday in their fight for the right to participate in the state's Democratic primary, limited by party rules since 1944 exclusively to "white Democrats."

U.S. District Judge J. W. Waring, 66-year-old Charleston-born jurist, held that "Negroes are entitled to be enrolled to vote" in the Democratic primaries. The case was brought by George Elmore, a Columbia Negro.

Waring, in another case, turned down the petition of John H. Wrighten, Charleston Negro, for a court order directing admission of "qualified" Negroes to the University of South Carolina law school.

But Waring ruled that Wrighten would be entitled to enter unless by the opening of the next school year the state provides an adequate course in the college for Negroes at Orangeburg.

One other alternative was possible, he said, that "the state furnish no law school education to any persons of either the white or Negro races."

In argument of the Elmore case early in June, attorneys for the Richland county (Columbia) Democratic executive committee and primary managers in one Columbia Democratic club, named as co-defendants, pointed out that in 1944 South Carolina repealed all statutes pertaining to primaries.

Thus, they contended, the party had become a private organization with full authority to stipulate who was entitled to membership and not subject to court regulation.

Waring commented, "To say that there is any material difference in the governance of the Democratic party in this state prior to and subsequent to 1944, is pure sophistry."

The Georgia legislature provided for a similar primary setup by an act passed early this year but it was vetoed.

No comment was forthcoming from Democratic party officials immediately.

for conspiracy to defraud voters, yesterday posted $1,000 bond for appearance tomorrow morning before Judge Albert A. Ridge.

Storm Cripples City Power

A sudden rain storm riding on a 50-mile-an-hour wind lashed Iowa City for an hour yesterday afternoon, causing havoc to telephone and power service all over the city.

Main trouble area was in east Iowa City where 20 blocks of residential homes were cut off from electric power for about four hours. Repairmen worked all last night restoring broken power lines, and service was not yet back to normal this morning.

About 300 telephone lines were put out of service from the storm, Howard Young, business manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, stated. Many phones were expected to be out of order yet today.

A twin-engine, 21-passenger United Airlines plane, due at 3:25 p.m., came into the airport during the full fury of the storm, but landed safely.

Robert Jehle of the Iowa City Flying service who saw the landing, said the plane approached the runway in almost zero visibility and was lost from sight in the landing. The pilot waited on the runway until the storm spent itself before taxiing up to the airport.

The 1.8 inches of rain which fell from 4 to 5:30 p.m. yesterday accompanied by dark skies and a whipping wind, sent Saturday shoppers scurrying for shelter.

Grant Bradshaw Divorce

Majorie Bradshaw yesterday received a divorce from James Bradshaw on a charge of cruelty.

The decree, handed down by District Court Judge James P. Gaffney, allowed Mrs. Bradshaw to resume her former name. The couple was married in Tia Juana, Mexico, April, 1946, and separated in September of the same year.

Mrs. Bradshaw was represented by Attorneys Swisher and Swisher. Floyd Brant was attorney for the defendant.

Dunnington Sermon Chosen 'Week's Best' By Episcopal Organ

Dr. L.L. Dunnington, First Methodist church, learned Friday that one of his sermons has been named "Sermon of the Week" for July 20 by "The Churchman," national organ of the Episcopal church.

Dr. Dunnington explained yesterday "The Churchman" chooses 36 sermons it considers best during a 9-month period which began last January. His sermon, "Brotherhood Demands Straight Thinking," was delivered February 16.

Dr. Dunnington received a $100 prize and his sermon will be considered in national competition with 35 others.

The winner in national competition will receive $1,000 and go to New York to be honored at a testimonial dinner in September. The winning sermon will be read over a nation-wide radio network at that time.

Second and third national prizes are $500 and $250 respectively.

Dr. Dunnington's sermon will be read over station WOR at 9 a.m., July 20, by Norman Cousins. Cousins who is editor of the Saturday Review of Literature lectured here Friday.

Students Present Play At Speech Conference

A demonstration rehearsal of a play and a pre-view discussion of next year's high school debate question were given by high school students yesterday during the third and last day of the university speech conference.

Both performances were held at Macbride auditorium under the chairmanship of Clarence Edney, assistant professor of speech.

The students are now attending an intensive six-week speech course. They are from different midwestern states and were selected for their ability in either dramatics or forensics.

Excerpts from the Quintero play, "The Women Have Their Way," were given in the demonstration. The debate demonstration question concerns compulsory arbitration of labor disputes.

By RENA MARCELLO

Marry the circus people and baptize their children on the broad back of Burma, the largest female elephant in captivity. That is part of the job of Doc Waddell, preacher for the Mills Brothers circus which performed in Iowa City yesterday.

Old Doc, who is 84 years old, joined his first circus, the John Robinson troupe, in 1872.

"Old Uncle John wouldn't let anyone join his circus unless he chewed tobacco," said the "circus bishop." "So, at the age of nine, I learned how to chew. Why, I got it down to a science," he said. "I could chew tobacco with the right side of my mouth and eat food with the left side, and never get the two mixed up."

The parson pulled out his licenses which qualify him as an Interdenominational Evangelist and Methodist minister.

"I was converted when I was 47," old Doc said, "and in '23 I was called to preach. I take no salary, and I hold no collections. Whenever I need anything, the hand of God reaches out and it comes."

Preacher Doc holds Sunday school class every day for the children with the circus.

"There are 25 little kids," he said, "Every day I tell them something good, and then give each of them a penny. You know," old Doc chuckled, "I always have 100 percent attendance."

The circus preacher says a prayer at the performance which marks the beginning of the annual circus pilgrimage. He told how he holds "remembrance services" in the towns where the circus has lost one of its troups.

Old Doc's face brightened as he explained that he would see his childhood playmate, William N. Fischer, 309 E. College street, while he was in town. They were both born in Portsmouth, Ohio.

The parson told about when he was with Buffalo Bill's troupe. "Bill was very dignified," he said, "He wasn't much of an

"Before I die," said the preacher, "I want to confer with John L. Lewis and see if I can't set up a coal miners' church. I'd love to go down into the mines and preach the word of God to those men."

52 Girl Scouts Enroll At Camp Cardinal

Fifty-two Girl Scouts have enrolled for the second week of Camp Cardinal beginning today at the Rotary Boy Scout camp west of Coralville.

Girls staying for the second week will be put in the pioneer unit which stresses outdoor cooking, campcraft and overnight sleepouts.

Janie Barnes, Jackie Tucker and Joan Slager were elected to the camp council last week. The campers elect members to this council weekly to help the staff plan the program.

According to Mrs. Hugh Carson, director, campers this week are Joanne Herrick, Marlene Lewis, Carolyn Flager, Mary Buckele, Audrey Thomas, Shirley Taylor, Beverly Gegerheimer, Barbara Brown, Jackie Tucker, Connie Wagne, Shirley Kupka, Janie Barnes, Shirley Scott, Janet Blecka, Sharon Kelly,

Patsy Crawford, Alma Hartley,

Leave For Wisconsin

Lee W. Cochran and John Hedges of the university extension division will leave today to attend the annual visual education institute at the University of Wisconsin.

Primarily for Wisconsin teachers, the institute will take up audio-visual education problems. Cochran will participate in two of the panel discussions.

THIS WEEK'S HY-HIT TUNE!! "PEG OF MY HEART," can be purchased at HUYETT WEST MUSIC STORE . . . There's a choice of records from which to make your selection . . . DECCA's Phil Regan or Art Lund on a MGM platter . . . HUYETT-WEST is the music center for SUIers, for HUYETT-WEST always has the most recent records in stock . . . For instance — right now they have a couple of your lesser favorites — "TEMPTATION" by Red Ingle and Jo Stafford . . . "THAT'S MY DESIRE" by Frankie Laine.

THEY'RE GIANT SIZED TO GIVE YOU BIGGER AND BETTER COOL SUMMER DRINKS!!!! Elephant-sized lemons and limes from the FRUIT BASKET with ounces and ounces of juice squeezed inside so that you can squeeze out a zipper, more tasty refreshing lemon-ade or lime-ade. It really hits the spot on a summer day when you're heated to the point of sizzling. It's at the FRUIT BASKET that you'll find delicious fresh fruits and vegetables—watermelons, peaches, and all the other varieties of such foods.

Tsk!!! Tsk!!!! Tsk!!!! Seen going (the proper word would be "sneakin'" or "slithering") into Currier Hall at 5:00 a.m. one morning wearing a newly acquired Beta pin was a lovely, innocent, naive co-ed!!!!!!!

Attention!!!! Attention!!!! All eyes are focusing on your LEGS!!!!!! (which isn't an unusual situation) HELENA RUBINSTEIN realizes that your legs need special attention in the summertime when it's much too hot to wear hose . . . She has a fine Leg Lotion and Minute Hair Remover which you can use on WHETSTONE'S . . . The Hair Remover whisks off the excess unpleasant looking hair and makes your legs smooth and even for an application of Leg Lotion. It's at WHET'S that you will find SUNTAN for make-believe tan—a super super preparation that you put on and it's impossible to tell that you haven't an honest-to-goodness tan from the sun . . . Find it at WHETSTONE'S!!!!

There's an open standing invitation from all the fellows out at the Sigma Nu house . . . They claim that their castle at 630 N. Dubuque is the coolest place in Iowa City on hot days and they invite all females on the campus to come out any afternoon (or night) of the week. (Doesn't seem like the most subtle or smoothest approach of the week, but guess there is a scarcity of women this summer.)

It's everything that a SUI student could ask for . . . ECONOMICAL so that you can save money for a vacation after summer school is over . . . SERVICE IS QUICK so that you needn't waste time sitting around when you could be studying or on your way to an afternoon or evening of having fun . . . FOOD IS TASTY AND DELICIOUS so you'll enjoy every bite to the Nth degree . . . It's the MAID-RITE, for all of these things . . . ECONOMY, FAST SERVICE, AND GOOD FOOD . . . Remember the MAID-RITE.

BOERNER'S have done it again . . . A special this week is the delicious Fresh Peach Sundae covered with frothy whipped cream . . . made especially for a refreshing spot during the hot summer days. After classes or for a mid-afternoon pick up, drop into BOERNER'S to meet your friends and enjoy a Fresh Peach Sundae . . . for the best in refreshments, BOERNER'S is the place.

Where to Go . . .

To be thoroughly satisfied in servicing your car RIGHT . . . GEORGE'S STANDARD SERVICE STATION is the place.

Getting set for a swimming trip to the Quarries are DU's Al Mathews, Dick Lewis and Milt Kapp . . . but before they go, they're filling up the tank with Standard White Crown gas.

GEORGE'S STANDARD SERVICE offers you a complete line of Atlas tires, batteries and accessories. We know you'll like our quick dependable service and benefit from using STANDARD products. Make your automobile headquarters at GEORGE'S STANDARD SERVICE, corner of Clinton and Burlington streets.

The heat on these hot summer days is wearing you to a frazzle . . . you're feeling hot, wet, and limp . . . just like an old dish-rag . . . When you're feeling at the parboiling point, think of what's happening to your clothes . . . They too are damp, limp, and worn to a frazzle . . . They need a cleaning job done far more often in the summertime than any other season of the year. DAVIS CLEANERS are reliable and dependable! Take your clothes to DAVIS so that you'll always look neat, and cool in the hottest of heat . . . DAVIS CLEANERS service is fast and the work they do is always a job "well-done"!!!!

Everybody comes running! . . . It's that wonderful SWANER'S MELLO-D Homogenized Milk that has children scampering home for more. The wise milk habit pays greater dividends for the future . . . the bone-building Vitamin D in SWANER'S MELLO-D milk makes it rich in proteins and minerals so essential to good health. Children and grown-ups like its fresh richness . . . remember, nutrition today for a better tomorrow means SWANER'S MELLO-D Milk.

Jim Reger and Tom Burke, Sigma Nus reached the amazing conclusion that third floor Currier girls are all pikers lacking the true university spirit . . . Such conclusion was reached after the two had spent some time calling every number on third floor trying to find someone to go out at 12:30 a.m. to do a bit of celebrating.

CUTEST COUPLE OF THE WEEK . . . Alice Dehn and Johnny Mitten!!!!!!!

Something worth remembering . . . You normally would have to cancel that golf game, picnic or swimming party . . . BUT . . . not when you can dial 3131 for a YELLOW CAB and solve your transportation difficulties. To make your problem seem even easier, we want to remind you that five can still ride for the same price as one . . . in a YELLOW CAB, that is! So, don't give up those precious hours of leisure, call YELLOW CAB and let us HELP you have a good time.

It's "picnic time" now that the rains have stopped and the ground has dried up enough to allow for lounging around for an afternoon and evening . . . DOC AND BETTY make picnics a snap for you . . . No work to speak of, for DOC AND BETTY will pack a complete picnic lunch of hamburgers, potato salad that's home-made and tastes like a delicacy you've never before had, cold drinks, and potato chips. Then you stop long enough to let Doc fill up the tank and you're off for a day of fun and frolic.

Law Students are always crying and complain' about the tough life they live beating the books buried in their respective cells (which we doubt) . . . but when they do go out, they really do a fine job . . . Proof positive was the party held at the Jefferson Friday night by the Middle-de-fest . . . Laughs . . . party-party . . . laughs . . . party-party . . . laughs etc.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK!!! Why does Ernie Youngstrom make a weekly week-end expedition to Burlington never spending any time at SUI????? Must be he's seeing Red!!!!!!!

It's Candy Wonderland at the DIXIE CARMEL CORN SHOP at 5 S. Dubuque street. If you want to be top man on the list just make her a present of deliciously different home made candy from the DIXIE SHOP. Freshly made each day in our own spic 'n' span kitchen with the best ingredients . . . Also, for quality in taste, the DIXIE CARMEL CORN SHOP always has a fresh supply of crisp, plain or caramel popcorn . . . Dial 6741 and let us fill your order for your next "gathering."

Seen headin' for the river-bank a couple of nights ago was Don Richardson . . . dressed for the occasion too . . . Old clothes, a battered hat and all the essentials tucked in various and sundry places on his person . . . All this just to interview an old river-bank bum was Don's explanation of his expedition . . . HA!!!!!!! likely story!!!!!!!
