Square vs. Triangular Diapers . . .

4-Cornered Pants Win Acclaim

By DON RICHARDSON
Diapers are safe emotionally. Checking on a theory that diapers are behind emotional disturbances, it was discovered that all but one family of the group surveyed used the safe, square fold. The triangular diaper is unsafe, because it is uncomfortable, according to the National Institute of Diaper Services. William R. Gause, Memphis, Tenn., president of the institute, claims that "improper diapering of babies can cause emotional disturbances which may affect an individual's entire life and so, indirectly, the course of civilization." Dr. Burrhus F. Skinner, chairman of the psychology department at the University of Indiana, goes one step further—his baby daughter spent most of her first two years and seven months, naked and happy. He claims, "It's obvious that wrapping a baby in clothes and blankets is a primitive, clumsy, and sometimes dangerous method of keeping it warm. Seven families who have a total of 12 children don't believe diapers have such importance. However, they do use the square type diaper. Mrs. R. F. Phillips, 422 N. Linn street, admitted having used the triangular diaper on her two and a half-year-old child. She not only opposed the theory but favored the "dangerous" variety of infant garb. "I think that it is less bulky than the other kinds. I think it makes the child more comfortable," she said. Ray Jile, 507 Iowa avenue, has tried both kinds on his two month old son and noticed no difference in the child's behavior. Giles said, "He's still as contented as ever." Dr. Charles Strother of the University of Iowa psychology department said the diaper might affect the child's adjustment if it were a persistent source of discomfort, but doubted if it would have any long range effect. He added, "There is no evidence to indicate, nor any reason to believe, that the individuals who have worn three-cornered pants are any less well adjusted than those who have worn square diapers." Dr. Marshall Jones, also of the university psychology department added, "It's just a sales gag. It's like this cigarette business—people can't discern one brand from another, except for the mentholated ones, in controlled tests." But who ever heard of a child wearing mentholated diapers?

Blue Refuses Tax Comment

HONOLULU, (AP)—Gov. Robert D. Blue of Iowa yesterday declined comment on his attitude toward a proposed special state legislative session to prevent the Iowa income tax from going from half rate to full rate in 1948. "I will not make any statement on reducing the income tax until I get home," the governor told The Associated Press in answer to a question. "I do not have sufficient information on which to base a statement." Any special session would have to be called by Governor Blue. A rising tide of discussion over the 1948 income tax has been churning the surface of Iowa politics since Governor Blue left early in July on a trip which took him to Washington to testify on flood control, thence to Salt Lake City for the annual governor's conference, and from there to Hawaii. The governor did not announce whether he plans to return to the United States by air or by ship. If he returns by ship he probably will not be back in Iowa in time for the annual governors' day event at Clear Lake Aug. 1, 2 and 3. The special session issue bubbled to the surface early this month after state figures showed the Iowa treasury surplus had jumped to $67,000,000 on a mounting inflow of sales and income tax receipts. This was far above the expectations predicted to legislators during the session when they voted to return to full rate state income tax collections next year.

Heat Reaches Year's High

A blazing sun pushed the thermometer to 95 degrees yesterday afternoon, shattering all previous heat records in Iowa City this year. Hottest day recorded previously was 94.3, June 28. Cool, 70-degree temperatures prevailed throughout most of the night Friday and early yesterday morning. But temperatures started to soar rapidly after 8:30 a.m. Maximum for the day was reached about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Previous temperatures for the week taken from civil aeronautics authority weather records ranged from a maximum of 84 degrees Thursday to a low of 47 degrees Tuesday morning. Day time temperatures generally ranged in the seventies and low eighties throughout the week.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Harry McGee's coon dog is strictly a specialist and McGee is ready to sell him down the river. The deputy won the dog at an East Texas coon hunt Sunday. He turned down $75 for the animal. Then the deputy went out to feed his chickens and discovered his coon-chasing dog asleep. Lying by the dog, also asleep, was a possum. Nearly were the bones and feathers of one of McGee's chickens which the possum apparently had killed and the dog helped eat.

Dominicans Await Attack

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Dominican Ambassador Julio Ortega Frier said yesterday a 3,000-man "army of Communist revolutionaries" from Cuba, Guatemala, Venezuela and Puerto Rico is poised in Cuba to invade the Dominican Republic.

The ambassador told a reporter he has information that a boatload of 1,000 men was scheduled to leave last night from the eastern Cuban port of Antillas.

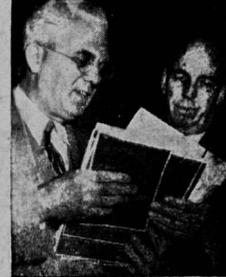

Antillas is about 400 airline miles from Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican capital, and about 250 airline miles from the nearest point in the Dominican Republic.

The entire Dominican army, the envoy said, has been fully alerted to meet the attack.

State Dept. Starts Search For Meyer

Hughes' Publicity Man Wanted by Senators Investigating Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating Howard Hughes' wartime plane contracts enlisted state department aid yesterday to find a missing witness who previously had told of lavish entertainment for a high government official.

The witness is John Meyer, former publicity director for Hughes. A senate war investigating subcommittee which opens hearings tomorrow questioned him in private June 3 and 4 but now has lost track of him and believes he is out of the country.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the subcommittee, told newsmen the state department has agreed to ask Meyer to return if he can be found and "if he does not, they will cancel his passport."

He also has been variously reported as in South America and Canada.

Ferguson made public a letter from Committee Counsel William P. Rogers to Noah Dietrich, vice-president of the Hughes Tool Co., in which Rogers said he understands that Meyer "is out of the country on business for the Hughes Aircraft Co."

"For reasons which you well know," Rogers wrote, "it may appear to the committee that Meyer is being kept out of the country to avoid public questioning about certain expense accounts of the Hughes Tool Co."

Rogers said also that Meyer's passport application said he wished to visit Ireland, France, England, Italy, Greece, Egypt, Palestine and Switzerland.

The committee has declined to make public Meyer's testimony but committee members who have seen transcripts of it described as "fantastic" the story he told, supplemented with expense vouchers, of paying girls up to $125 to go out to dinner in New York and Hollywood night spots with "very important persons."

Some 27 expense vouchers which Meyer turned into the Hughes Tool company showed he had spent a total of $6,000 on 27 occasions when he had one influential official as his guest.

The committee has declined to name any of the persons mentioned in the testimony or in published copies of expense vouchers found in the Hughes company files.

Senate in Sunday Session

Forrestal New Defense Head

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman made unification of the armed forces an actuality yesterday and named James V. Forrestal head secretary of defense. The President signed into law the bill congress finally gave him after two years of urging. He issued an executive order assigning the functions and responsibilities of the three co-equal branches—the departments of the army, navy and air force. Mr. Truman delayed his departure for his dying mother's bedside for 17 minutes in order to sign the legislation aboard his plane here. One reason for the haste was so that the senate might confirm Forrestal's nomination to the new cabinet post before its adjournment.

The pugnacious, square-jawed Forrestal, as secretary of the navy, was the last member of the late President Roosevelt's cabinet still in office. His selection as secretary of defense had been generally expected. While the law and the executive order are effective immediately, officials said extensive conferences among the army, navy and air de-

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, avowed candidate for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination, said yesterday "I would not consider running with Dewey."

The former Minnesota governor made the flat statement in reply to a reporter's question whether he would consider running for vice-president on a ticket with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

The next question, whether he would like to be coupled with Governor Earl Warren of California, either as presidential or vice-presidential aspirant, was answered with a smiling "no comment."

House Adjourns Early After Rushing Through Final Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, bitterly embroiled over the nomination of Philip B. Perlman for solicitor general, fought a political battle far into Sunday morning hours, long after the house had gone home from the first session of the 80th congress. Veteran capitol officials said it was the first time they could recall that congress had been in business session on the Sabbath.

Senator Brewster (R-Me), unsuccessful in getting the senate to adjourn until next January without action on the Perlman nomination, fought a delaying battle. He won part of the delay through a senate vote which permitted the clerk to read a long speech Senator Tydings (D-Md) made years ago against the nomination of Robert H. Jackson for the supreme court.

Brewster acknowledged that his move to delay the Perlman nomination was motivated by Democratic senators' successful efforts to hold up a vote on Republican demands for an inquiry into a Kansas City vote fraud case. The house, winding up in an outburst of song and fellowship, passed its last bill last night and quit finally at 10:32 a.m. (CST) But the senate, nerves and tempers on edge in its third long night session in a row, engaged in one row after another. It did confirm James V. Forrestal as Secretary of Defense by unanimous consent. Forrestal's nomination under the new act to put the armed services under a single head has been submitted just yesterday by President Truman before he flew to Grandview, Mo., where his mother died. But the question of confirming Philip B. Perlman of Baltimore for solicitor general brought on a fight. In the course of it, Brewster, objecting to the nomination, moved that the senate quit. Tydings demanded a roll call vote, and the motion was beaten, 41 to 38. Earlier senators spent two and a half hours debating a bill to change the army's promotion system from a basis of seniority to merit and finally passed it with minor amendments. The house, pausing in its singing, accepted them instantly.

Truman Signs GI Bond Bill But Urges Vets Keep Them

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman signed a bill yesterday allowing war veterans holding terminal leave bonds to cash them any time after Sept. 1 but advised them not to do it. "I wish to emphasize strongly that it is to the veterans' best interest that they keep their bonds if they do not absolutely need 'to cash them now,'" his statement said.

BATAVIA, (AP)—Netherlands communiques indicated last night that Dutch troops advancing in eastern and western Java had caught the main body of the Indonesian Republican army in a vise-like operation against the vast central section of the island. ## Lefty Outduels Bevens; DiMag String Broken

NEW YORK, (AP)—Lefty Ed Lopat brought the New York Yankees' slugging carnival to an abrupt halt yesterday with a neatly pitched three-hit victory over the league leaders to give Chicago a 2-1 victory.

Halting Joe DiMaggio's hitting streak after 13 straight games, Lopat lost his shutout on Tommy Henrich's 13th homer in the fourth. The only other Yankee hits were singles by Pinner Bill Bevens in the third and George Strinweiss in the sixth.

Strinweiss lost the game in the eighth with his error on Taft Wright's grounder that enabled Mike Tresh to score from third. Tresh had opened the inning with a single, taken second on Lopat's sacrifice bunt and advanced to third on Floyd Baker's infield out.

Tresh scored both Chicago runs as he walked, stole second and rode home on Lopat's single to left in the sixth to tie the score.

Lopat, the only consistent pitcher on Ted Lyons' staff, racked up his eighth win to nine defeats and his 10th complete game of the season.

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Bucky Walters turned loose some of his old pitching mastery yesterday, holding the Philadelphia Phils to two hits to lead Cincinnati to a 1 to 0 victory. The game was played in one hour, 28 minutes, the shortest of the season here.

Emil (Dutch) Leonard, who had defeated the Reds three times this year, was the losing pitcher. He allowed four hits in seven innings. Blix Donnelly finished the game.

Cincinnati scored its run in the fifth on a single by Eddie Miller, a sacrifice by Walters and a single by Benny Zientara.

Stahle's 9th Inning Hit Scores Colbert With Winning Run

Tom Stahle's ninth inning double scoring Clay Colbert from second gave the Complete Auto Cardinals a 1-0 win over the Me-Too Grocers of Cedar Rapids last night at Kelley field. Paul Reberly went all the way for the Cards giving up five hits and striking out 16.

Colbert opened the ninth by reaching first on an error by Shortstop Bob Boeck. With one out, he struck out.

Complete Auto Cardinals will meet the Eagles lodge nine of Cedar Rapids tonight in a double header at Kelley field. The first game will begin at 8 o'clock.

out Ralph Tucker walked, moving Colbert to second. Stahle then caught hold of one of Pete McGill's pitches and drove it to the centerfield wall to drive in the lone tally.

The Me-Too nine put on their biggest threat in the eighth. McGill started things off with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice. Ken Popp was safe at first when no play was made on his bunt. After both runners advanced on a passed ball, Reberly bore down and retired the next two men on a strikeout and an infield tap.

The Cards muffed a good scoring chance in their half of the eighth. Jack Kelso, the first man up, drove out a triple but didn't get any farther. Ed Colbert was out on a third-strike foul bunt and Reberly was retired on a grounder, short to first. Vic Rodenberg ended the threat by popping out to the shortstop.

Reberly's 16 strikeouts brought his total to 95 in 51 innings pitched since joining the Cards. It was his fifth victory against one set-back.

Dodgers Keep Seven Game Streak Alive, Beat Pirates, 6-4

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Pee Wee Reese's ninth inning double kept the Dodgers seven-game winning streak alive yesterday as the Brooklyn club banged out a 6-4 decision over Pittsburgh for their fifth straight success of their western trip.

Reese's blow broke a 4-4 deadlock that came about when the Pirates sputtered for four runs in the seventh on two walks, Wally Westlake's single and Jimmy Bloodworth's big three-run homer.

Carl Furillo opened the Dodger ninth with a single and was sacrificed to second by Dixie Walker. After Bruce Edwards was intentionally passed by Nick Strincevich, Reese unloaded his double to right, scoring Furillo. The Pirates then decided to walk Johnny Jorgensen, loading the bases. Reliever Hugh Casey beat out a bunt single, driving in Edwards with an unnecessary run.

Furillo's second-inning double followed by Edwards' single gave the Dodgers their first score off Starter Preacher Roe and Jackie Robinson's seventh homer with Ralph Branca on base accounted for two more in the third. Edwards' triple and Reese's seventh-inning single added up to the fourth score.

Mize, Cooper Homer; Giants Top Cubs, 7-3

CHICAGO, (AP)—Hooks Iott pulled the New York Giants out of their tailspin yesterday, halting their four-game losing streak with a 7-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Backed up by a 12-hit attack that included Johnny Mize's 30th homer of the season and Walker Cooper's 22nd, Iott spaced eight Cub hits to achieve his second win of the season. On June 24 he shut out Chicago with two hits, 11-0.

The Giants started early against Hank Borowy and kept banging away all afternoon as Charley Grimm paraded his pitching staff to the hill. Sid Gordon's triple following Willard Marshall's double and Walker Cooper's single gave the Giants their first two in the second. Gordon came in on Buddy Kerr's long fly.

After Mize followed Bill Rigney's single with his homer, a belt into the right field bleachers, knocking out Borowy in the third, the Giants added a sixth tally in the fifth when Bob Thomson singled, stole second and scored on Marshall's single. The final run in the eighth came off Russ Meers when Cooper hammered his into the right field seats.

Kerr's error followed by a walk to Peanuts Lowrey and Andy Pafko's triple gave Chicago two in the fifth and singles by Cliff Aberson and Bill Nicholson and Bob Sturgeon's outfield fly produced the final score in the ninth. It was Borowy's eighth loss, dropping him to the .500 mark.

TYLER, TEX., (AP)—The greatest collection of swimming stars in more than a decade is expected here next week end for the National AAU outdoor meet with at least two world records and several American marks due to tumble before the field of 150 splashes.

It will require four nights to complete the meet, which starts July 28. Every 1946 outdoor winner will be here to defend his championship along with most of this year's indoor titlists.

Wally Ris, University of Iowa star who is the indoor 100-yard free style champion is already entered.

Ris, who has been training in Detroit with Ohio State's ace, Bill Smith, left with Smith Friday for the Tyler meet.

Swimming Coach Dave Armbruster of Iowa plans to leave early tomorrow for Tyler where he will see the meet and also take part in the NCAA and NAAU diving conference.

Other Iowa team members entered in the meet are Pete Latona, diver, and Erv Straub, free styler.

Crossley Wins Publinks Long Putts Beat Beck

By MAURICE PUTNAM
MINNEAPOLIS, (AP)—Blonde Wilfred Crossley of Atlanta, Ga., the man with the automatic putter, yesterday won the National Public Links championship by pouring on the heat to match the 97 degree temperature. He defeated Avery Beck of Raleigh, N. C., 6 and 5, over the Meadowbrook municipal course.

A pair of long putts—each of them 30 feet—put the clincher on Crossley's victory. They came on the 28th and 30th holes. His long putt on the 28th gave him a par four and Beck missed a 12-foot putt for a five.

The last long putt of the day gave Crossley a birdie three to Beck's four. It was one of three birdies scored by Crossley during the 31 holes. Beck conceded a short putt to Crossley on the 31st, ending the match. Both scored par 3.

Beck and Crossley finished the morning round in two over par 74s with Crossley one up. In the afternoon, Crossley matched par on the out nine and was one under the next four holes, thus making him one over for the day. Beck was six over par for the day.

The Raleigh loan firm operator paid tribute to Crossley's putter, saying "Crossley's putting licked me."

Beck, usually a dead putter, rimmed the cup all day. Crossley lost no time in applying the pressure after the noon-time intermission. He started the final round with a one-up advantage despite Beck's rally on the second nine of the morning round.

They split the 19th in par fives and Crossley snatched the 20th, a 161 par three layout after Beck's drive hit a spectator's hat and bounced clear over the green, forcing him to chip back.

After they halved the next three holes in par figures, Crossley made it three up on the 24th with a birdie three.

A par four on the next hole made Crossley four up. Crossley was on the green in two and two-putted. Beck's second shot rolled a foot over the upper edge of the green and he had to chip back and take two putts.

30,000 Grid Ticket Applications Mailed

The University of Iowa football ticket applications are on their way. About 30,000 applications left Business Manager Frank Havlicek's office last night and are in the mail now.

Havlicek said that each envelope contained a schedule card, car sticker, application card for home and road games, information folder, season ticket application card and return envelope.

First returns of the applications are expected on Tuesday. They will reach midwesterners in about 12 states on Monday with early orders expected.

Havlicek said that he advises everybody planning to order tickets to do so as soon as possible, for attendance at the three home reserved seat games is likely to break present records and sell-out or near-capacity crowds may see the five road contests.

"We will fill orders as they are received and mailing of tickets will be done as quickly as possible," he said.

Reardon Denies Slow-Up Signal in Disputed Bums Tilt

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Beans Reardon, veteran National league umpire, denied yesterday that he had told Outfielder Ron Northey of St. Louis to "slow down" after Northey had smashed out a long hit last Sunday in a game against Brooklyn.

The disputed play came in the ninth inning as the Cardinals were leading 2-0. Northey smashed out a long fly which hit the top of a railing and fell back into the playing field. He slowed down rounding third and on a fast relay was out at the plate.

In the bottom half of the ninth the Dodgers poured three runs across the plate and "won" the game, 3-2. However, Ford Frick, National league president, Friday upheld a Cardinal protest and ruled the game should be replayed.

Beans last night gave The Associated Press this version of the play:

"I was umpiring on third and when Northey hit the ball I thought it had gone into the stands for a home run. When Northey rounded second and was coming into third I was waving my arms in a circle, signaling a home run.

"However, I did not speak to Northey. If anyone said anything to him it must have been Tony Kaufmann, the St. Louis coach at third.

"I know that Northey slowed down. If he hadn't I think he surely would have been safe at home. But I want to get one thing clear and that is I didn't tell him to slow down."

Hainline, Surface Play In Tennis Finals Today

TOPEKA, Kas., (AP)—Hal Surface of Kansas City, formerly eighth ranking national player, and Dick Hainline of Rock Island, Ill., will meet today in the finals of the Missouri Valley Tennis tournament.

Surface is seeded No. 1, but many fans favor the young University of Iowa collegian, who's National Public courts champion and defending Valley champion.

Cards Win Slugfest, 9-5

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves clubbed away at each other's pitchers last night with 22 hits—nine for extra bases—but the Redbirds pushed across enough runs to triumph, 9 to 5.

The victory, the second in a series of four off the visiting Braves, boosted the Cards more securely into second place but failed to help their race with Brooklyn who also won yesterday. The Braves opened the game with two runs on a double by Tommy Holmes, singles by Carvel Rowell and Connie Ryan and fielding bobbles by Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter.

But St. Louis jumped back on top in the second and stayed ahead the rest of the contest. Singles by Slaughter and Kurowski, a walk to Ron Northey and triple by Marty Marion sent loser Bill Voiselle to the showers. A scratch single by Starter Jim Hearn sent the Cardinals' fourth run home.

Williams Homers Twice As Sox Rout Browns

BOSTON, (AP)—Ted Williams collected two homers and Jake Jones one, each with one on base, yesterday as the Boston Red Sox collected 16 hits to smother the St. Louis Browns, 12-1.

Pitcher Joe Dobson won his 12th victory, walking none, fanning five and holding the Browns to six hits.

The Browns got their lone run in the first inning when Johnny Berardino singled and scored on Paul Lehner's freak triple to right center.

Study Shows More Boys Than Girls Have Speech Trouble

There are at least three times as many boys as girls who stutter, Dr. Hildred Schuell of the speech clinic reports in a monograph to be published in August by Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary society for women in education.

In her study of boys and girls, Dr. Schuell has found that growth processes and maturation processes proceed at a different rate. During the preschool and elementary school period, girls are probably physiologically and psychologically more mature than boys, she states.

One of the most significant findings, she said, was that about three times as many boys as girls have speech disorders, reading disorders and other kinds of maladjustments including behavior difficulties. The ratio is also found among boys and girls committed to institutions for juvenile delinquency, she said.

Possible causes, Dr. Schuell said, are slower physical, language and social development of boys. More pressure is put upon them to keep up with girls of the same age. As a result, they experience more conflict in most situations.

SUI Expects 1,000 Enrollment For August Special Sessions

Some people just can't tear themselves away from school.

Almost 1,000 students won't be satisfied with soaking up knowledge and culture for a regular school year plus the summer session. They'll also be registering Monday through Wednesday for the university's extra four-week session.

That means taking college work 12 months a year—there'll only be a three week break for them before the fall semester begins.

Paul J. Blommers, registrar, announced yesterday registration will be held July 28, 29 and 30 for students enrolling in both the veterans special session and the graduate college's independent study unit.

Eleven courses will be offered for the special four-week session, according to Dr. H.C. Harshbarger, assistant director of the summer session. "However, additional courses will be offered," he said, "if ten or more people request them and if instructors are available.

The following courses are now being offered:

The Greeks and the Bible, 11:1, 4 semester hours.
English and American Masterpieces, 11:2, 4 hours.
Modern Literature, 11:3, 4 hours.

Man and Society, 11:16, 4 hours.
Elementary Organic Chemistry, 4:21, 4 hours.
Principles of Economics, 3:4, 3 hours.

Principles of Accounting, 6:8, 3 hours.
Marketing, 6:131, 3 hours.
Comparative Governments, 30:4, 3 hours.

Introduction to Social Science, 11:12, 4 hours.
Special Readings and Projects, 19:191, credit arranged.

Blommers announced that registration must be completed for both the special session and the independent study unit by 5 p.m. Wednesday. This is the deadline for students who are now in the eight-week session but plan to enroll in the special sessions.

Registration materials will be issued only to students who present student number cards. New students can obtain their numbers by presenting admission statements to the registrar's office.

The special instruction period will begin Aug. 7, the day after the eight-week session ends. It will close Sept. 3.

On the average there are two total eclipses of the sun, over some part of the world, every three years.

Art Panel to Discuss 4 Summer Show Pieces On Tomorrow's Program

Four of the original paintings in the summer art show will be discussed at the last summer art round table tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the art auditorium.

Beckmann's "Begin the Beguine," Matta's "A Grave Situation," Kariol's "Flora," and Ernst's "Phases of the Night," will be referred to by the four-man panel.

In response to demands for explanations directly from artists, Ulfert Wilke, former director of the Springfield art association, will discuss one of his own paintings, "Bon Jour M. Courleat, Bon Jour M. Wilke."

Wilke, who has just completed work for an M. A. degree at the university, will be a member of the panel.

Other panel members are Jack O'Brien of The Daily Iowan staff; the Rev. Evans Worthley of the Unitarian church, and George Rickey, head of the art department at Muhlenberg college, now studying etching with Prof. Lasansky of the art department.

Rickey will act as chairman.

Students to Present Two Reading Recitals

Two reading recitals will be presented next week by students of interpretative reading in the auditorium of the dramatic arts building, Dr. Gladys Lynch of the speech department announced yesterday.

The first reading will be Tuesday at 4:15 p.m. Mrs. Davis Rhum, Oskaloosa, will read William Saroyan's "The Human Comedy."

The second reading, Thursday at 4:15 p.m., will be Jean Paul Sartre's play "The Flies" by Marshall Flaum, A3, New Jersey. Sartre is the chief exponent of existentialism.

The Vanishing Tribe Gets Federal Reward

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress believes it is time for the government to close out its business with the Laguna band of Mission Indians in California.
To the best of the government's knowledge, the band had dwindled down to Thomas Lucas of San Diego and his four minor children.
Therefore, the senate passed yesterday and sent on to the president's signature a bill to give the Laguna reservation in California to "the surviving members" of the band. It was passed by the house 10 days ago.
The Laguna reservation consists of 80 acres in San Diego county.

Nothing for Sensation Seekers in Lincoln Papers; Much for Historians, Scholars

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mine of background information but a blank for sensation-seekers was the appraisal yesterday of the Abraham Lincoln papers his son collected and sealed until 21 years after his own death.

Scholars and historians who began examining the Robert Todd Lincoln collection at the library of congress as soon as they were opened early yesterday called them an indispensable mine of information for students of Lincoln and the Civil War period.

The papers bring out no new skeletons from the closet of Lincoln or others of his day.

Roy P. Basler, prominent Lincoln authority, said nothing was found to support suggestions that high officials in the Lincoln administration might have been implicated in the plot to assassinate him.

There is one letter which scholars say could be construed as a refutation of stories questioning Lincoln's parentage. It was written to the rail splitter by John D. Johnston, his step-brother, saying that his father was dying and wished to see him "for you are his only child that is of his own flesh and blood."

Examination of the papers so far has revealed virtually no new information on the three women in Lincoln's life: Ann Rutledge, his boyhood sweetheart; Mary Owens, the comely Kentucky girl who rejected him; and Mary Todd Lincoln, his unhappy wife.

There is one short note from Mary Todd Lincoln to her husband in which she wrote, "Do wait & return with us."

Some Lincoln authorities believe that Robert Todd Lincoln, who was zealous in guarding the good name of his mother, destroyed all of her letters which came into his possession.

The collection contains the original of the well-known letter about Tad's nanny goat which Lincoln sent to "My Dear Wife."

The period covered by the dated documents extends from May 1, 1833—six days before the jobless young Lincoln was appointed postmaster of New Salem, Ill.—to April 14, 1865, the day of his murder.

The collection contains nearly 1,000 papers, including official documents penned by Lincoln himself. About 1,100 of the letters are from members of his cabinet. More than 1,200 letters are from his generals and over 100 from influential editors and literary figures of the period.

The Lincoln experts who checked the papers hurriedly yesterday say it is too early to attempt a final appraisal of their value. They emphasize that while the facts revealed by the collection so far are not necessarily spectacular, they throw much light upon the manner in which Lincoln handled the tough situations in which he was placed.

One of the experts said that the new material on Fort Sumter shows Lincoln's patient attempts to avoid war.

Asks Court Ruling To Evict Garage Renter

Charging failure to pay $2 a month rent, Dora Tucker yesterday brought suit to prevent Howard Holubar from use of a garage at 510 Iowa avenue.

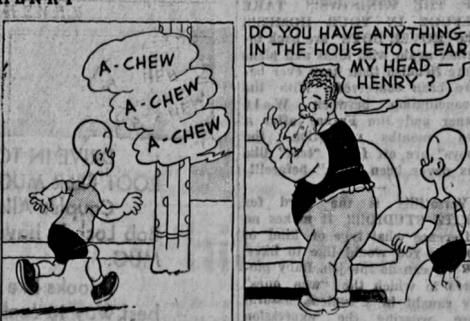

In a petition to the district court, Mrs. Tucker claimed Holubar rented the garage for his use July 1, 1946. This July 8, the petition stated, Holubar was served with a three-day notice of eviction.

Represented by her attorney, W.J. Jackson, Mrs. Tucker asks a court judgment removing Holubar from possession of the garage.

Congress to Probe High Living Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional inquiry into the high cost of living and other rising prices during the recess was assured yesterday.

At the same time Democratic senators opposed to a flurry of Republican-sponsored investigations they previously had blocked.

A $50,000 housing investigation by a senate-house committee.

A $15,000 senate agricultural study to seek a solution of long-range farm problems.

A five-month extension of the senate small business committee from Oct. 31 until next April 1 with $50,000 more to spend.

A $25,000 inquiry into foreign and domestic trade by the senate commerce committee which Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) said should look into the "Swiss watch trust."

Jensen Offers Water, Soil Conservation Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad national program of soil and water conservation under supervision of the agriculture department was proposed yesterday by Rep. Jensen (R-Ia).

A bill he introduced would enable the department to work with farmers through state authorities, setting up local soil conservation districts. The federal government would supply needed technical services and materials.

But the more thoughtful point out that Europe is unprepared and unfit physically and mentally for a showdown of force.

The majority, therefore, look for a continuation of the economic and political tug-of-war.

In this contest, there are three conflicting aims.

1. The Russians want to sovietize Germany.
2. The United States wants to democratize it.
3. The Germans seek a Bismarck to put Germany back together again.

The Russians recently doubled, then tripled, their propaganda staffs to woo German support.

But the Germans see a stream of factories, food and relatives going out of Germany to Russia, and are not easily won over by words.

The United States, too, has its troubles in Germany, although more favored by the Germans.

On the one hand the United States wants to rebuild German industry to provide a reasonable standard of living for Germans and make the western form of democracy attractive.

But on the other hand the United States does not want to give ammunition to French Communists for a rise to power in France. The French want the rest of Europe rebuilt first and Germany largely de-industrialized.

Many of the original advocates here of a "hard peace" for Germany have come to the conclusion that an industriously prosperous Germany is essential to Europe.

Authorities here expect a gradual economic and political evolution to unite Germany again.

'Back the Vet', Urge Officers Of War Dads

Mrs. A. R. Seibert, national president of the American War Dads auxiliary, last night urged about 61 delegates and visitors to the state convention in Iowa City yesterday and today, to back United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural organization.

She forecast that one day of the AWD national convention (to be held in Texas, September) will be spent in discussion of UNESCO. Speaking of patriotic groups, she said, "This will be the first organization in America to sponsor the UNESCO program."

She added that "doubts and suspicions" put in the minds of foreigners "by subversive people" could be dispelled "by education as to what we (Americans) are." We must teach them, she said, that "we're not going out to get colonies and build an empire."

She spoke of "the inroad of Communism", urging members to speak out against it.

She emphasized strongly, "Don't forget the veteran" now that it no longer seems "the smart, stylish thing to do."

Mrs. Seibert of St. Louis, Mo., was preceded in her address by C. R. Golly, Peoria, Ill., national treasurer. Calling himself "an old war dad", Golly decried members who fell away after the war.

Mayor Preston Koser, Iowa City, welcomed the delegates to the convention held in the club rooms of Veterans of Foreign Wars, post 3949.

Committee appointments were made yesterday afternoon. Today's activities take place in the D/L Grill, 10 S. Dubuque street. Breakfast and a talk by the Rev. Donovan G. Hart, pastor of the First Christian church, lead the morning's activities which include a joint formal business session. State organization officers will be elected.

For Legs of the Future— It's Red Silk Stockin's

Green perfume may still be mostly a song writer's brain child, but red silk stockin's are just around the corner.

That's the word of several hosiery dealers in Iowa City. They reported yesterday that fashion in the larger cities is turning not only to red in the stocking line, but also to green, navy blue, black and dark brown.

"In New York all colors are being sold," one store owner declared. "Chicago is selling darker shades of brown and gray," he continued.

Sales of darker hose have definitely increased in Iowa City, sales women reported.

"Black pearl, brown haze, brown wine and gray are the colors local women are selecting," a clerk said. "We just keep a few of the lighter hose on hand for those who haven't yet made up their minds."

"We can't see ordering any of the brilliantly colored pairs unless we have to," another clerk added, "but I believe the students will be calling for them."

One store has already ordered navy blue stockings. "A salesman showed us samples of navy blues and also hose with a reddish cast. We're going to stock the counter with the navy blue ones. Ought to have them in by fall," the salesgirl concluded.

All the stores reported that demand is increasing for the darker hosiery. "People are deciding the darker shades are prettier. They are especially popular with the younger women," a clerk said. "If we carry heavier hose that's dark, I think sales to the older

Five in Police Court

Not having a muffler on his car cost James D. Schlote, Coralville, a $4.50 fine in police court yesterday.

Donald Cox, 1503 Crescent street, was charged with disturbing the peace. He will work two days for the city to pay his $6.50 fine.

women may soar. I think the reason for the multi-colored fashion is that the manufacturer wants to promote sales. People will be buying stockings to match their clothing," she added.

The price range for browns, wines, blacks and grays is the same as that for lighter hose. But, according to price lists, red silk stockin's will cost Iowa City women about $1 more than the conservatively colored type.

There have been no reports as yet regarding style trends or prices of green perfume.

Geologists Review Their Deadwood Days On Field Trip

Tales of Wild Bill Hickock and Calamity Jane intermingled with facts about rock formations can be overheard these days in the geology library. Class 12:135 (more commonly known as the geologic field trip to the Black Hills) has returned.

Robert Smith, A3, Iowa City, and Charles Leabhart, A4, Tipton, were in the library yesterday working on their report of the trip, which is due Sept. 25. They seemed to be spending most of their time, however, looking over pictures of the six-week session and talking over days in Deadwood.

The historic town of Deadwood is two and one half miles from the Pine Crest Tourist camp where the class stayed. The 32-member all-male class spent much of its spare time in Deadwood.

From 8 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. they worked in the fields. "The field work was pretty much routine," Jim Baker, A4, Mt. Clair, N.J. said about the work.

As for the geologic benefits of the trip, Smith and Leabhart had very little to say. They were enthusiastic about the original face

'Good Humor' Man Likes Hot Weather

The temperature could hit 115 degrees in the shade and Bob Mongar would still have cool "good humor."

"I heard about those Good Humor carts in California so I named mine that. I've just had the cart about a week," he said yesterday. Mongar, who lives at 109 E.

Burlington street, claims to be the only ice cream man with a bell-tinkling cart in Iowa City. "I sell ice cream to men working on the huts around the hospital and to hospital employees."

"Some of the nurses come over from the children's hospital and buy ice cream for the children," he said. "A lot of people in cars stop too."

"Used to sell ice cream before the war," he reminisced. "Sold ice cream all over town for about eight years."

"I'd rather do this than anything else—like fresh air and meeting people. Some people are friendly and some aren't. I just park Good Humor in a nice shady place and occasionally eat an ice cream cone."

on the barroom floor, however. According to their story, many years ago in one of the Deadwood bars a picture of a beautiful lady was painted on the floor. Later it was cut out of the floor and hung on the wall for all to see.

Prof. J. J. Runner was in charge of the group. He was assisted by Prof. Carlton Condit and graduate assistant Tom Beveridge. During the course the group was split up into three sections and each instructor took turns directing fossil and rock study at different places in the Black Hills.

Two wills were probated yesterday in district court and executrices of estates named by Judge James P. Gaffney.

Appointed executrix of the estate of Dr. F. J. Rohner, former Iowa City resident, was his wife, Filomena Rohner. D.C. Nolan is the attorney.

Mary Hummer was appointed executrix of the estate of Paul L. Hummer, Iowa City grocer who died June 18.

Both appointments were made without bond.

Whiting Divorce Granted

Charging cruelty, Camille Whiting yesterday received a divorce from Nathan B. Whiting in Johnson county district court. The couple was married in 1938.

Sees Lights, Music 'Reshape Personality'

Use of music and colored lights to "relieve nervous tension and to reshape personalities" was demonstrated recently at the International convention of the Rosicrucian order in San Jose, Calif.

Mrs. W.F. Bristol, 606 S. Johnson street, who recently returned from the convention, witnessed the demonstration.

She said nearly 1,000 delegates from all parts of the world attended the demonstrations at the light and physics laboratories of the order.

Judge James P. Gaffney approved a property settlement made by the couple wherein each party kept possession of property in his name.

Arthur O. Leff was Mrs. Whiting's attorney.

Cerebral Palsy Victims Live in 'Tispy World'

Three types of cerebral palsy and their effects upon their victims were described yesterday by Dr. Martin F. Palmer, speaking to speech clinic students.

They are the athetoid, spastic and ataxic and, according to the director of the Institute of Logopedics at the Municipal university of Wichita, Kan., cause the victim to live in a strange, tipsy world of his own.

In the athetoid, he said, the muscles are relaxed, but when the sick person tries to do something a discharge of energy goes to the area of the muscles in use. Thus, when the victim tries to pick up a box from a table, for example, his arm weaves and his hand turns, twists and fumbles all over the table before he is successful in his attempt.

In an opposite type, the spastic, the muscles are rigid and tense. The spastic is relaxed only when asleep and cannot control his movements because corresponding sets of muscles work against each other.

The ataxic type, Palmer said, is characterized by no sense of balance and poor control of rate and extent of movement. An ataxic victim can keep himself upright when standing and walking by lining himself up with his surroundings, Dr. Palmer said. If he closes his eyes, he falls.

"They never report, 'I fell over,'" Palmer said. "They always say, 'The world tipped over on me.'"

Dr. Palmer's round table discussion yesterday and his lecture Friday concluded the series of lectures in the speech and hearing conservation conference for this summer. The conference was sponsored by the departments of speech, psychology and otolaryngology and directed by Dr. Jacqueline Keaster, otologist.

"Imports and exports are what keeps a country economically balanced," quoth any econ. book. If you don't have imports, you can't have exports. Wes Reger and Chuck Schafer are doing a bang-up job of keeping an even balance as far as State University of Iowa is concerned. Wes exports himself up to Cedar Rapids each week-end and Chuck imports a hunk of femininity from the same city. The boys should be given a medal of some sort for this great service to the University.

Rumor has it that Jack "Dumbo" Foley has been trying to get out from under. The bloated Fort Dodge "law student" offered Bob Bliss, his keeper, a pint of "you know what" if Bob would stop referring to him as Dumbo, the Elephant.

Come, Come, Dumbo, even an elephant should know that that's no way to bribe the "colonel." Besides, pachyderms aren't such bad people!!!

The heat on these hot summer days is wearing you to a frazzle, you're feeling hot, wet, and limp—just like an old dish-rag—When you're feeling at the parboiling point, think of what's happening to your clothes.
