Mystery Planes Still Missing; No Threat to Dominicans Yet

'Rumors of Plotting' Caused Coast Alerts, State Officials Admit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A state department relay of a "rumor" that seven fighter planes were poised in Florida "for a Caribbean destination" sent authorities there on a fruitless hunt yesterday while Dominican Republic air patrols got set to fight off an "invasion."

Strike Looms At Ford Co.; Talks Go On

DETROIT (AP)—A strike of 107,000 Ford Motor company production workers starting no later than Tuesday was authorized last night by the international executive board of the CIO United Auto Workers.

There still remained a chance, however, that a strike could be averted. The company and union have agreed to negotiate further today.

The union and company are deadlocked over a pension plan and insurance against provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The situation loomed as the gravest in Detroit since November, 1945, when the UAW-CIO led 175,000 members out on a strike against General Motors corporation that lasted 113 days.

Ford and the auto union opened their bargaining last May 5 with a UAW-CIO demand for a 23 1/2 cents-an-hour wage increase plus a pension plan.

An apparent compromise was reached June 27 when the company announced plans for a $15,000,000-a-year pension system plus a 7 cent-an-hour wage increase.

But the announcement apparently was premature since both sides later admitted they had become enmeshed in a dispute over details of the plan.

The UAW-CIO failed to confirm or deny official reports that factions within Ford local 600, largest local union in the world, were attempting to scuttle the pension plan in favor of a straight 15 cent-an-hour wage increase.

Meanwhile, on July 28 the UAW-CIO announced it was demanding contract provisions to exempt the union from any legal liability for contract violations as provided under the Taft-Hartley law.

Enterprising Pastor Rates as Renter; Others Wait Vainly

DES MOINES (AP)—More than 30 persons who waited throughout the day to rent a house, advertised for rent yesterday morning, did not get it. A pastor who didn't wait rented the house.

The owner of the house, a Fort Dodge resident, placed an advertisement declaring he would be at the house yesterday afternoon to interview prospective renters.

More than half a dozen long-seeking families showed up in the early hours of the morning to await the owner's arrival.

The first to spread a blanket on the front yard to keep watch arrived at 5 a.m. They were Mrs. Evelyn Peterson, her 16-month-old daughter, and her mother, Mrs. Martha Phillips, of Candler, Fla.

Mrs. Peterson's husband is a Purple Heart veteran working in a garage near the house offered for rent. At present the family of three lives in two rooms.

All morning the procession of would-be dwellers continued. They came by auto, street car and foot . . . and waited.

Shortly after noon, the Rev. Lyle Moyer, pastor of the Highland Park Church of the Nazarene, found out the last name of the owner. Thinking the owner might be in Des Moines, he called hotels until he located him.

The pastor did not disclose the owner's name.

The Rev. Mr. Moyer went to the hotel and drove the man to his house. There the owner announced to those assembled on the lawn that the house had been rented to an enterprising pastor.

Although many offered as much as $50 a month for the frame, six-room house, the owner rented it for $25.

Tells Advances in Atomic Energy Use

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—"Great achievements" in medicine, biology and industry have already been made with peacetime products of the nation's atomic energy program, a report issued yesterday by the U.S. atomic energy commission declared.

The report gave the first summary of progress in research conducted in institutions throughout the country since a year ago yesterday. That was when "radioisotopes" produced at this important site in A-bomb development first were released for sale and distribution to outside investigators.

"Radioisotopes" are radioactive forms of common and rare elements.

They can be used as atomic "labels" or "tracers" for the study of many chemical, physical, biological and industrial processes important to man.

The report:

1. Gives details of broad research on the agricultural front designed to achieve better crops, improved fertilizers, and better methods of combating insect pests.

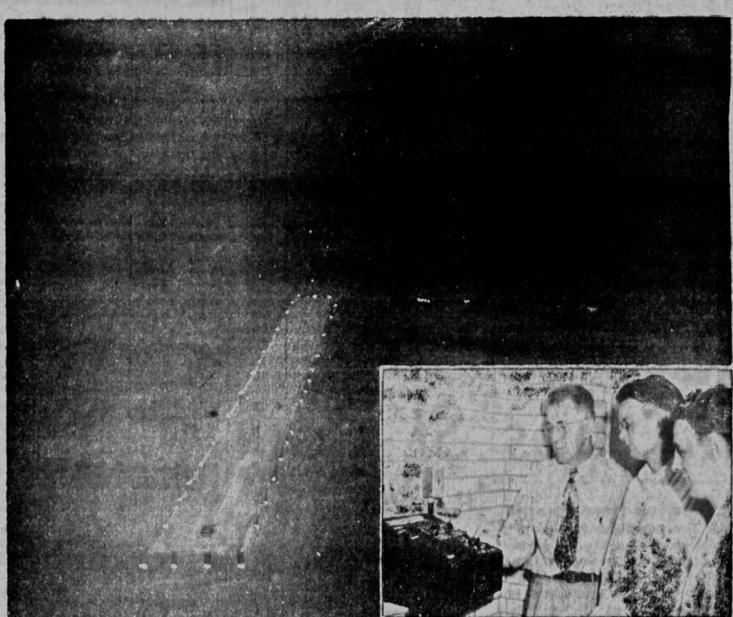

2. Tells of development of a new aid for the study of cancer production.

3. Describes use of certain radioisotopes in treating forms of chronic leukemia, Hodgkins disease, a blood disorder called "polycythemia vera", "lymphoma" and a thyroid disorder called "hyperthyroidism."

4. Relates how tuberculosis bacteria are being "tagged" with radioactivity in research designed to advance knowledge of how they invade and infect the body.

5. Tells of employment of radioactivity to "map" oil pools, to study the friction of metals, and to detect flaws in metals.

6. Describes a new clue to the mechanism of the plant disease "chlorosis" which costs commercial fruit growers millions of dollars annually.

NIGHT FLYING FOR PILOTS at the Iowa City Municipal airport became a reality Friday night when night landing lights were turned on officially for the first time. Since all three runways at the field are lighted individually for night landings, the above picture, taken from a plane piloted by Bud Cochran of the Iowa City Flying Service, shows one of the lighted runways from a pilot's viewpoint. In the lower left hand corner, Iowa City airport officials are shown inspecting the control box which operates the runway lights, the beacon and the electrically-lighted directional wind signal. Working the switch rheostat is Verne Bales, chairman of the Iowa City airport commission. In the center is Ole Sawyer, acting chief of the civil aeronautics administration station at the airport, and E.D. 97 Degrees Sets Season Record Here

After Friday's moderate temperatures, Old Man Weather pulled a trick out of his bag and gave Iowa City a sweltering record-breaker of 97 degrees yesterday, marking the hottest day of the year.

The mercury at 7:30 a.m. yesterday showed 70 degrees, and then began its rapid ascent. By 9:30 a.m. the temperature had risen to 88 degrees and by 12:30 p.m. it registered 94 degrees. Hottest point recorded yesterday came at 2:30 p.m. when the thermometer bubbled up to 97 degrees. At 4:30 p.m. the mercury had descended to 92 degrees and then fell to 85 degrees at 8:30 p.m. last night.

Highest temperatures recorded at the CAA weather station earlier were 96 degrees Wednesday; 95.2 degrees, July 29; 95 degrees July 26, and 94.3 degrees for June 28.

Humidity at 6:30 last night was 62 percent.

Want Dutch Forces Pulled Back to July 20 Attack Point

Odom Makes Preparations For Flight

CHICAGO (AP)—William Odom, 27-year-old former army air forces captain, completed last-minute preparations yesterday to take off at 7 p.m. (CST) today on a 19,600 mile speed flight around the world.

Odom, flying the Bombshell, a converted army A-26 twin-engine bomber owned by Milton Reynolds, Chicago pen manufacturer, said he expects to halve the 186-hour solo flight record made by the late Wiley Post in 1933.

His route calls for stops at Paris, France; Karachi, India; Shanghai, China; Tokyo, Japan, and Fairbanks, Alaska. While over Alaska, the lean, balding pilot said he plans to drop a wreath containing a shred of the fabric of the Winnie Mae, Post's round-the-world ship, near Point Barrow where Post and Will Rogers perished in a plane crash in 1935.

In April this year, with Reynolds and Carol Salle, navigator, Odom flew the Bombshell over his present route in the record time of 78 hours and 55 1/2 minutes.

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—The Indonesian Republic agreed today to stop hostilities on condition that Dutch forces be pulled back to the lines from which they attacked July 20 in Java and Sumatra.

The republic's reaction to a United Nations security council demand that both sides cease fighting was contained in a government statement broadcast from its capital, Jogjakarta, and heard in this center of Dutch colonial administration.

The statement said the republic as a sovereign power would send representatives to the UN's Lake Success (N.Y.) headquarters. It urged an on-the-spot investigation by a commission representing the 11 nations on the security council, which Thursday night told the Netherlands and the republic to lay down their arms and settle their disagreements by arbitration or other peaceful means.

Before the Dutch launched what they termed "police action" against the republic, they controlled only areas in Java around Soerabaja in the east, Semarang in the middle and Bandoeng and Batavia in the west and areas in Sumatra around Palembang in the southeast, Padang in the middle and Medan in the northwest.

Since then they have overrun much of the "rice bowls" of east and west Java, the rubber country around Medan and the oil fields around Palembang and have driven to within some 20 miles of the republican capital.

The conflict arose through disagreement over carrying out the Linggadjati (Cheribon) agreement of last March for a United States of Indonesia which would be a sovereign partner of the Netherlands under the Dutch crown, effective Jan. 1, 1949.

Dutch forces Friday consolidated positions in Java and claimed new gains in Sumatra while both governments debated their future courses in view of the UN action.

40,000 Attend Iowa Picnic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Iowans—nearly 40,000 of them—were as thick as the corn in their native state as the Iowa Association of Southern California gathered yesterday at Lincoln park for an annual mid-summer picnic.

Mrs. Mary S. Copping, 101-year-old resident of Pasadena, was the oldest former Iowan present. She hadn't missed a picnic since 1908.

The corn contest was won by Otis Lambert, Arcadia, formerly of Iowa Falls, who produced a 13-inch ear—pretty good for California, observers said, but stunted by Iowa standards.

The principal speaker was Asst. Atty. Gen. Everett Mattson.

Other speakers included former Gov. Frank F. Merriam, Judge Frank G. Swain, Harry S. Hargrave, and George E. Frazer. Donna Green, 19, Redlands, was crowned "Miss Hawkeye, 1947." President Joe Crail was master of ceremonies.

Says State Tax Cut Could Be Passed In Special Session

CLEAR LAKE (AP)—There has been enough change in sentiment to reduce state income tax by a special session of the state legislature is called, Rep. David G. Ainsworth (R-Spirit Lake) declared yesterday.

Ainsworth made the statement after contacting many of the legislators here for the ninth annual Governor's Day celebration this weekend.

About 125 legislators, both of Iowa's U.S. senators, and at least two of the state's congressmen were attending.

But absent was Gov. Robert D. Blue, only man authorized by law to call special sessions. He is enroute home by ship from Hawaii.

Lt. Gov. Kenneth A. Evans (R-Emerson), the governor's official representative, commenting on the possibility of a special session asserted, "I'm satisfied the governor doesn't want it. I don't think there will be one."

However, Ainsworth declared, "If the 30 who voted for the Morrissey amendment plus those who have expressed a change in attitude would vote together, the indications are there would be enough strength to make a change."

Iowa Highways Form Link in National Chain

Parts of four existing federal highways in Iowa have been designated by the public roads administration as links in a super-highway network proposed for the nation.

The highways, according to The Associated Press, are designed for:

- (1) Quick traffic movement between and through every state's major cities, and
- (2) For dependable and safe routes for industry serving national defense.

Iowa highways designated as links were: highway 6 from Davenport through Iowa City to Council Bluffs; highway 69 from Albert Lea, Minn., through Des Moines; highway 275 from the Missouri border to Council Bluffs, and highway 75 from Council Bluffs to Sioux City.

The highway design is:

- (1) Concrete or asphalt paving.
- (2) Four lane divided highways where 800 vehicles pass in peak hours; two lane highways in thinly populated areas.
- (3) A 250 foot right-of-way in rural areas.
- (4) Traffic lanes 12 feet wide on all heavily traveled routes.
- (5) No cross traffic at grades where traffic density exceeds 3,000 vehicles in peak hours.
- (6) Control of access, particularly in and near cities.

'Didn't Like Him'—Children Kill Baby

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Dist. Atty. David Carmody said yesterday that two four-year-old children beat to death a three-month-old baby in the northern New Mexico village of Chama late Friday because "they didn't like him."

Sheriff Dan Rivera of Rio Arriba county identified the baby as Juan Severo Montoya, Jr., and gave Carmody this story of the death:

The children—a boy and a girl, cousins—entered the Montoya home while the baby's mother was away. Finding the baby in his crib, the boy struck him with a heavy water glass and the girl hit him with a glass cooking utensil.

They then took the baby into the yard and threw rocks at him. When the baby's mother returned, they were trying to revive him by pouring water on him.

Meyer Tells Of Party Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—A story of $5,083.79 worth of gay entertainment supplied to Elliott Roosevelt and companions at the expense of Howard Hughes was spread yesterday on the records of the senate war investigating committee looking into Hughes' wartime plane contracts.

John W. Meyer, free-spending publicity man for Hughes who "never saw anyone else pick up (a check) in my entire war," told one New York night club party for Roosevelt costing $106 on the day the president's son drafted a report recommending a multi-million dollar government contract for Hughes' photo reconnaissance planes.

But before the senators got all the details of expense vouchers showing generous presents to girls, bills for liquor, theater tickets and even headache tablets, the hearing broke up until tomorrow in an angry dispute over Meyer's wartime draft record.

The plump publicity man testified that in 1943 he had introduced Roosevelt, then an air force colonel, to Faye Emerson, movie actress who became Mrs. Roosevelt.

Meyer insisted under questioning by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), subcommittee chairman, that it was his "job" to pay entertainment bills for Roosevelt and his friends, including gifts to the girls invited to parties in California, New York and Washington hotels and night clubs.

Senator Cain (R-Wash.) switched questions to Meyer's wartime draft deferment.

Tom A. Slack, Houston, Tex., attorney who has been representing the various Hughes companies at the hearing, protested that Meyer's draft record has no connection with the probe of airplane contracts.

Suffered 26 Years, But Now—Hope

PITTSBURGH (AP) Mickey Schuster, a Youngstown, Ohio, furniture worker, never wanted anyone outside his family to know he couldn't eat normally.

For 26 years all the food he has received has been through a tube inserted in his stomach. He didn't tell anyone—not even the girl he loved but never asked to marry him because of it.

Now Mickey is willing to talk about it because on August 25—his 29th birthday—he will enter Allegheny general hospital here for a rare esophagus operation which he hopes will cure him.

Back in 1931, Mickey, then 2 1/2; accidentally swallowed a can of lye. It seared the lining of his esophagus, closing it completely with scar tissue.

'Dead' Baby Finally Dies

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—A spark of life accidentally discovered in a two-pound baby as it lay on an undertaker's slab finally died yesterday.

The tiny boy's heartbeat lasted 12 hours from the time Embalmer Douglas Bryant heard a faint gasp on the mortuary table until the pulse ceased shortly after midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Warden, to whom the baby was born prematurely Thursday at their home in Coal City, made arrangements to bury their son today.

Medical authorities attributed the unusual incident to the infant's highly undeveloped state and to an apparent "slip up" in the front office of the Raleigh General hospital.

Dr. R. G. Broadus, medical director and chief surgeon at the hospital, said efforts to feed the baby with an eye dropper and by injections proved futile.

Bryant said he was called Friday after nurses reported the baby had ceased breathing and was growing cold.

After observing life while the infant was on the slab, Bryant and his assistant worked to resuscitate the boy and then hurried to the hospital to return him to an incubator.

Even then, physicians held out no hope, noting that the pulse rate was 60 to 70 beats a minute as compared with the normal 140. At 12:05 a.m. death came.

Dr. Broadus said that he was attending to duties elsewhere when the first call went to the mortuary and it apparently was due to "some slip-up in the front office."

Aroused Cubs Club Seven Dodger Hurlers, 12-7

Bums Fall As Chicago Posts 17-Hit Attack

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey and Eddie Waitkus, first two batters in the lineup, each walloped five hits in six times at bat and drove in four runs apiece as the Chicago Cubs hammered seven Brooklyn Dodger pitchers for 17 hits and a 12-7 victory yesterday. It was the Cubs' second consecutive triumph over the Dodgers who had beaten the Cubs 10 straight times earlier. Lowrey hammered a home run, two doubles and two singles, his homer coming in the second inning with two men aboard. The circuit clout gave the Cubs a 4-2 lead which they never lost during the three hours and nine minute struggle. The Dodgers cut the margin to 5-4 in the top half of the fourth, but a six-man Chicago rally in the fifth put the game out of reach.

Paul Erickson, fourth Cub pitcher, received credit for the win with the loss charged to Harry Taylor who started. The total of seven pitchers used by Brooklyn was one short of the major league record.

The defeat lessened the Dodgers' first place margin to eight and a half games.

Bosox Shade Tigers, 2-1

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams' 24th home run of the year, a two run smash which he drove into the left center field screen in the first inning last night enabled the Boston Red Sox to shade the Detroit Tigers 2-1 and snap a losing streak which had extended through four games.

A paid crowd of 32,794, many of them attracted as the fans, players and Red Sox family honored field Captain Bobby Doerr, brought the total attendance for the year at Fenway Park at 48 games on 41 days to 980,242.

Williams' homer scored Sam Mele who had tripled in the first inning. The Detroit run also came in the initial frame on Roy Cullenbine's single through short, George Kell's base hit into right field and Paddy Mullin's base knock between first and second.

That was all the scoring by either side as both the Tigers' Virgil (Fire) Trucks and the Red Sox' Tex Hughson settled down and pitched tight ball thereafter.

Bobby Doerr who was honored before the game with gifts unofficially estimated to total $22,000 in value, went hitless in four trips.

Reds Rally in 8th To Tip Boston, 7-6

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds took advantage of a lapse in Boston's defensive play in the eighth inning yesterday to chase over seven quick runs which gave them a 7-6 victory over the Braves before a crowd of 3,090.

It looked like St. Johnson, veteran Boston right-hander, had a 5-0 shutout victory going into the last of the eighth. He had scattered four Redleg hits and had never been in trouble.

Hugh Poland, batting for reliever Johnny Hetki, started the rally with a single and before the inning was over seven Cincinnati runners had crossed the plate on five hits and three errors.

The Braves got a rally started in the ninth but it fell one run short of deadlocking the game.

Buddy Behrens Victor In Junior Net Tourney

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Herbert (Buddy) Behrens, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., whizzed through Richard Mouldous, New Orleans, La., 6-2, 6-1, 6-1 yesterday to annex the 1947 National Junior tennis title.

It was a fitting climax to the colorful Floridan's career as a junior, for he lost out to Herbie Flam, Beverly Hills, Calif., in the 1945 semifinals and the 1946 finals.

Mouldous captured the boys championship in 1945. He will have his final chance at the title in 1948.

Earlier, Robert Perry of Los Angeles gained the boys singles crown by defeating Allen Cleveland, Santa Monica, Calif., 6-3, 6-3.

Behrens and Mouldous teamed together to take the junior doubles championship in a widely played contest, finally beating down Sidney Schwartz, Brooklyn, N.Y., and MacDonald Mathey, Princeton, N. J., 9-7, 12-14, 8-6, 2-6, 6-3.

Newton Here Tonight

The Complete Auto Cardinals meet one of the season's toughest tests tonight when they clash with Dee's Club of Newton in a pair of seven-inning contests at Kelley field starting at 8 o'clock. The visitors have won 14 straight contests so far this year and are reported to be a collection of all-stars from the washer city.

Ralph Tucker, playing manager of the Cards, is ready for mound duty once again and will hurl one of the tilts with Paul Reberry on hand for the other starting assignment.

White Sox Surprise Nats With 18-Blow Attack To Win, 13-1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators came out on the short end of a 13 to 1 score yesterday as the Chicago White Sox pounded 18 hits off three Washington pitchers.

Rudy York and Cass Michaels both scored home runs. It was Orval Grove's fourth win of the year.

York's 12th homer, delivered off Sid Hudson starting the fourth inning, launched White Sox scoring. They hammered Hudson for two more runs in the fifth and three in the sixth, then mauled Milo Candini and Scott Cary for seven hits and six runs in the seventh. Michaels' homer with none on in the eighth ended Chicago's scoring.

Every Chicago player got at least one hit and scored at least once, with Taft Wright and Luke Appling obtaining three hits each.

Haas Misses 3-Foot Putt, Chance to Tie

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Lew Worsham, the Pittsburgh pro who holds the National Open championship, carved out a 66, six strokes off par for the Keller golf course, to grab the lead in the St. Paul $10,000 Open tournament yesterday with a 36-hole total of 202.

His total was a stroke better than that of Fred Haas, Jr., New Orleans golfer-insurance broker who missed a three-foot putt on the 18th green and finished with a 68 for a 203.

Three of the entrants matched par 72 and 35 others of the 60-man field that started this morning had 71's or better.

Best individual card of the meet was turned in by Joe Coria, St. Paul professional, who scored a 65.

Worsham and Haas were four and three strokes, respectively better than their nearest competitor, Jim Ferrer of Chicago, who had a 70 and a total of 206.

Amana, Waterloo Hit For Iowa Semipro Title

ADEL, Ia (AP)—Amana won both its morning and afternoon games yesterday in the Iowa Semipro baseball tournament to boost its team into the final today against Waterloo. The game is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

The Amana nine first eliminated Adel, 9-4, and a few hours later defeated Audubon, 4-0.

Audubon had reached the semifinals with a 9-4 victory over Ottumwa. A victory for Waterloo in today's contest will end the tournament, but if Amana wins, a second game will be necessary. Waterloo, defending champion, is the only undefeated team in the tournament.

Pittsburgh Shudders Giants, 5-4, After Losing First, 10-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The New York Giants missed a grand opportunity to gain a game and a half on the first place Brooklyn Dodgers when they split a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates, losing the second game 5-4 after winning the opener easily 10-2. They did pick up a half game though, to cut the Dodgers' margin to eight and a half games.

Third baseman Frankie Gustine was responsible for the Pirate split, hitting his fifth home run of the season with two out in the ninth to win the final.

Larry Jansen pitched eight-hit ball to register his 11th victory in the opener while Lefty Fritz Ostermueller bagged his ninth win in the nightcap.

The Giants hit five home runs in the doubleheader, three in the second game, to increase their season's total to 144, thus establishing a new club record for this. The old mark was 143, set in 1930.

A's Outslug Browns, 8-5

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics drove Jack Kramer to the showers yesterday and came from behind to whip the St. Louis Browns in an 8-5 slugfest at Shibe park.

Though nicked for 11 safeties and relieved after eight innings by Russ Christopher, young Bill McCahan was credited with his third victory, his second over the Browns.

McCahan, who yielded only four hits throughout his last start against St. Louis, gave up seven in the first three innings and the visitors pushed over three runs.

But the Macks, helpless until then, lit on Kramer in the fourth for five singles and these, coupled with an error by Kramer himself, resulted in four runs. The first of two triples by Barney McCosky, a long fly, a bunt by Elmer Valo and a long single by Ferris Fain produced two more in the fifth.

The A's scored two more runs in the sixth off Cliff Fanning, third of four Brown pitchers.

Yanks Defeat Feller, Tribe In Double Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookie New York Yankee Righthander Vic Raschi gained his fifth straight victory and his first shutout yesterday when he blanked the Cleveland Indians 3-0 with three hits in the second game of a double header before 62,537 fans, the largest day crowd of the season.

The Yankees also won the opener 3-2 in 14 innings with Bob Feller pitching the first 12 innings for the Indians. The second game of the six and a half hour twin bill was halted after seven and a half innings because of darkness.

Raschi helped win his own game by cracking a double and single off Allen Gettel, and driving in Billy Johnson, whose 14th inning single in the opener, developed into the winning run, hit his sixth homer in the nightcap, to put his runs batted in total for the season at 60.

Joe DiMaggio got two hits for the day to drop into third place in the individual batting race as Lou Boudreau, playing manager of the Indians also got two hits to remain on top with .334. DiMaggio is hitting at .328. Joe, however, drove in a run to tie Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox for the lead with 71.

Verdeur Sets New Mark 200-Meter Record Posted in AAU Swim

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—Joe Verdeur of Brighton Drake swim club, Atlantic City, splashed to a new national and American record and came within 1.2 seconds of the world's record in the 200-meter breaststroke of the National AAU swimming and diving last night.

Verdeur, who had wiped out both marks this afternoon in the preliminaries with 2:41.2, came back to take the finals in 2:38.4. The National record, so known because it was set in AAU competition, was 2:43.3, made in 1936 by John Higgins of the Olneyville boys club of Providence, R.I.

The American record, so called because it was set in open competition, was 2:41.4, made also by Higgins in 1936.

Finishing second was Jose Balmores of Hawaii swim club and third was Don DeForrest of Brighton Drake swim club of Atlantic City. These two had the same registered time: 2:44.4 but officials ruled that Balmores was a fraction ahead. Bob Sohl of the University of Michigan was fourth and Ralph Wright of Honolulu, who swam unattached, was fifth.

Young Jimmy McLane of the New Haven (Conn) swimming club, whipped Bill Smith of Ohio State in the 400-meter free style, feature event of the meet, besting the holder of the national record by 20 meters. The time was 4:41.9 which was

Allen Stack of the New Haven club won the 100-meter backstroke in 1:07.8 to dethrone defending Champion Harry Holiday of the University of Michigan, who finished third. Stack's time was a second and a half over the national record. Second was Robert DeGroot of Ohio State.

Buy De Martini's 'Self Portrait' for SU

"Self Portrait," an oil painting by Joseph De Martini has been purchased by the university art guild and will be donated to the university.

Orazio Fumagalli, president of the guild, announced yesterday that $585 was paid for the painting which was purchased from the Macbeth art gallery, New York City.

The university film society, a part of the guild, raised money for the purchase by showing a series of six movies in the art auditorium each semester.

"Self Portrait," called "an excellent picture and a very good choice" by Prof. Lester D. Longman, head of the art department, was included in the last two summer art shows.

De Martini, in a conversation with Longman, said he considers this painting "unquestionably the best" of a number of self-portraits he has painted.

Members of the student committee which chose the picture are Keg Chandler, Joseph Domareki and Joseph Delauro.

The art guild is an organization open to all art students.

Herwig Files $1,250 Suit Against Alberhasky

Russell F. Herwig yesterday filed suit in district court against Joseph Alberhasky for $1,250 damages.

Herwig asked the amount for damages to his car and personal injuries he claims resulted from an auto collision with Alberhasky Feb. 28. The accident occurred near the north city limits on Highway 218, according to Herwig's petition.

Herwig charged Alberhasky with negligence in the operation of his car and asked jury trial of the case. Will J. Hayek is his attorney.

"SELF PORTRAIT," by Joseph De Martini, has been purchased by the university art guild for $585 and will be donated to the university by the guild.

Flying Club to Buy Second Plane; Cuts Membership Fee

The Iowa Flying club is reducing its membership fee from $200 to $85 and plans to purchase a second plane, an Ercoupe, John Donnell, president, announced yesterday.

According to Donnell, junior law student from Waterloo, an Ercoupe has been selected as a second ship because of its adaptability for cross country flights and night landings.

The club believes that with this new plane they will be able to take advantage of the lighting system just installed at the municipal airport.

The 16 member organization, composed of university students, faculty members and townspeople, was incorporated in October, 1946, and since that date has been operating with a Cessna 120. When their membership increases to 31 they will be able to purchase the new ship.

Experience of the members range from 3,000 hours in the air to beginners who have not yet soloed.

Those who enroll without a license are permitted to use the club's plane to take their lessons. Since the club charges its members $3.75 for each hour of flying time, beginners are able to save $128 during their training period. With the Ercoupe, Donnell announced, the club will be forced to charge its members $4.00 for each hour's flying.

Club members have flown the Cessna over 400 hours, some making trips as far as Boston. Two members attended the intercollegiate flying meet at Willow Run, Mich., last May.

New Law Causes Headache—

City Faces Assessor Problem

—But Public Will Still Pay

By ART HEUSINKVELD

Death and taxes still are inevitable for most of the harried human race, but the assessors of taxes in Iowa share none of this security.

Iowa City officialdom is scratching its head and pouring over the law books this week end, trying to figure out what to do with its present assessment setup.

The state legislature caused the problem last March when it passed what is known as the "county assessor bill." It changes the system drastically, giving certain cities the choice of keeping their own tax assessor or of uniting with county offices.

The matter came up here at last Thursday's city council meeting when Mayor Preston Koser called for study of the new arrangement. City Attorney Edward Lucas got orders to investigate the assessor bill and report his findings at the next council meeting Aug. 11. Meanwhile nobody seems to know what lies ahead for the assessor of Iowa City.

Briefly, here is what the new state law provides:

It abolishes the jobs of 1,600 township assessors and 900 city and town assessors, but it exempts Iowa's 21 largest cities from this provision. Iowa City is one of these.

It makes the county auditor ex-officio county assessor, giving him jurisdiction over the communities which formerly had their own officials. A chief deputy assessor would handle the actual work. He would have no power over cities choosing to retain their present systems.

Deputy assessors would be appointed by the county auditor from a list certified by the state tax commission as having passed an examination with a score of at least 70 percent.

Also established are a county board of tax review in each county, together with city boards in places which retain their own assessment setup.

According to the law, cities not going under the county plan must appoint an examining board in accordance with older state statutes. This board must hold examinations and then appoint a city assessor who would serve a term of four years.

Before the incumbent city assessor leaves office, a board of review must be selected under provisions of the Iowa Code. It would be a three-man group in towns the size of Iowa City.

One of the powers of taxing

Don't Tell, But There ARE Rooms for Rent

One Iowa City man is sympathetic.

The floor above the Central tavern, 203 N. Linn street, has been converted into two furnished apartments and twenty-one sleeping rooms. They are ready for occupancy now.

Don Alberhasky, owner, says rooms are for married couples only, "because they have been having such a hard time finding any place to live."

The two apartments, one composed of five rooms and the other of two, have already been taken, as have several of the rooms.

Alberhasky bought the space, which was formerly a hotel, two years ago. "Nobody has lived there for a year and a half," he said.

bodies coming under this setup would be to hire appraisers or experts who would help in evaluating property.

From what the assessor bill says about "appointing" city assessors, it would appear that Iowa City's method may be due for a change.

The post is now filled by voters in city elections every two years. Assessor William A. White holds the job now.

He works with a deputy hired to assist full-time with the job of assessing Iowa City's $12,781,000 worth of property (university holdings not included). Three to five part-time field men are employed for certain aspects of the work.

Deputy Assessor Frank Nesvacl said yesterday the new law is as vague to him as to several attorneys he has asked about it, but he did offer one opinion.

"I think we should run our own business," the deputy said, explaining that he believes the county plan would give county auditors "too much power."

Mayor Koser, still undecided pending the city attorney's report, said it might be more economical for the city to let Johnson county officials take over the assessment work.

Two courses are open now for council men to follow:

1. They can decide not to go in with the county and then pass an ordinance providing for selection of the city's own assessor. (The "examining board" must be appointed at least 60 days before the present assessor's term runs out.)

2. They can vote to accept the county plan and then pass a resolution to this effect at least 60 days before expiration of the assessor's term.

But several preliminary steps are necessary first. Examinations for deputy assessor jobs must be held before Nov. 15 this year so that on that date the state tax commission can give county auditors a list of who is eligible.

And before Dec. 1 this year the county board of supervisors must call a meeting to select a county board of review. This

Jiras Reveals Sale Of Local Stores; Kilroy's Sells Out

A major real estate deal was completed yesterday when Dr. Charles Jiras sold the building at 208-210 E. College street which houses the Swank Baking Co., Swails Refrigerator Co., and club rooms belonging to VFW Post 3949.

Louis Shulman, Iowa City attorney, purchased the building through the Josh Mann Real Estate firm. Although Shulman could not be contacted last night, it is believed the present tenants will remain in the building. Amount paid for the building was not disclosed.

Dr. Jiras, formerly of Iowa City, now resides at West Branch.

Announcement was also made yesterday of the sale of Kilroy's Grill to Clark Penland of 102 Clapp street. The restaurant which opened last spring was formerly owned by Ted (Duke) Curran and Russell Casson.

Penland said last night that he does not plan to make any immediate changes in the business but hopes to install a soda fountain at a later date. He will continue using student help on a part-time basis with approximately 15 men employed on shifts of seven each.

Soldiers' Stench Symptom of World's Ills

Two young British soldiers were tied to trees in a Palestine woods by men who call themselves Jewish patriots, ropes about their necks were tightened until the blood spurted from their veins, and, says the Associated Press reporter at the scene, "a stench of death permeated the whole area in the forest."

A "communique" from the killers said the soldiers were executed "for illegal entry into our homeland" as members of a "British criminal terrorist organization known to us under the name of the British occupation army in Palestine."

Actually, it was an act of revenge, the killing of hostages in return for British execution by members of the Jewish underground. The British committed the same kind of outrage when they killed—literally murdered—the Jews.

It's a pity that there is not in all the world a force which can step into Palestine and say to all the factions, "Now all of you be quiet until we can place this issue before a world court which will judge it on a basis of equity as best it can be judged."

A little different action took place in the UN security on the Indonesian question. Could not this same type of action be applied to Palestine?

There is a sickness in the world of which the Palestine situation is merely one symptom.

In the islands of the far Pacific fair-haired Dutchmen are plowing their way through rebellious natives. One of their main objectives is to open warehouses bulging with riches which they wish to ship to the western world.

In Greece, men equipped by Britain and the United States are killing men equipped by others outside the Greek borders as the great powers vie among themselves for control of the world.

In China the U.S. is embarrassed in trying to "hold the line" against the spread of totalitarianism by being forced to help a regime which is largely totalitarian, and shot through with unpatriotic grafters to boot.

The peoples of Europe cower while attempting to steer a course between a Russia which attempts to dominate them for the sake of expanding communism, and an America which needs them as a buffer against such expansion.

Submerged people everywhere have caught the feeling that the great powers, by their own quarrels, have so weakened themselves that they are no longer able to hold the reins of empire over the underdeveloped.

Mad retaliation, either by the British military or on the part of world opinion, will not serve to prevent recurrence of the deed in the Natanya wood.

The stench that arises there is from but one poekmark on the face of a plagued world. It is a case for the doctor, not the butcher.

Dutch, Indonesians Should Obey UN

The UN security council resolution calling upon both the Dutch and the Indonesians to cease fighting immediately and settle their disputes by arbitration or other peaceful means is clearly an order which should be obeyed in good faith by both parties.

The security council action, unprecedented in that it marked the first time in UN history that the peace agency moved directly to stop warfare, is an encouraging sign.

Encouraging too, is the recognition given by the action to the Republic of Indonesia. The negotiations between the republic and the Netherlands would seem to indicate that the Dutch themselves had recognized the republic as the de facto government of the area.

But it is important to re-establish this recognition in the security council. Further recognition came to the republic when the economic and social council voted to invited it to a trade and employment conference in Havana, Cuba, next November.

Your Economics Is Bunk, Mr. Taft

Candidate Taft offered some curious economic reasoning the other night in Columbus, Ohio, as he opened his presidential campaign.

In discussing the Marshall plan, Taft was quoted as declaring that his party is interested in reasonable loans to foreign countries "to go to work and help themselves, but I believe those loans hereafter should be confined to actual goods, machinery and equipment necessary to enable the countries which receive them to restore their own productive ability."

"Certainly," he is quoted as saying, "we must move very cautiously and be sure that additional loans really furnish incentive to the foreign peoples involved to work harder to support themselves and are not too burdensome on our own taxpayers."

Entirely apart from the point that stingy loans may backfire with economic depression that in the end will cost the taxpayers more than the original loans, Taft's reasoning about the form of loans bears examination.

He implies, without saying so, that loans of goods will be all right, but that loans of money are burdensome on the taxpayer.

As far as we can see, this is purely economic doubletalk. Either you accumulate goods or save money to loan foreign countries. Either way, you build up a surplus which you determine is better "spent" in loaning it than using it yourself.

Suppose we follow Taft's suggestion and make loans only of goods. Where do we get the goods? Simply by not consuming all the goods produced in order that there is a surplus to loan.

But suppose we loan money—or actually, create deposit credit. What happens? The money is used by the country to which the loan is granted to buy goods in this country. And again a certain amount of goods cannot be consumed by Americans.

In either case we are denying ourselves a certain amount of goods because we feel that it is to our own best interests that they be loaned abroad. Mr. Taft does have a point that loans of goods would prohibit expenditure of money for armaments and war purposes. Thus, if we loaned only economic goods, the Dutch and the British could not buy tanks and planes for purposes of war.

But apparently Mr. Taft did not mean this, for he spoke only of the burden of loans on the taxpayer. We fail to find any distinction between loaning goods or money. Apparently Mr. Taft wants to go back to the barter system of exchange.

A recent headline says "Racial Incident Stuns Norway."

The press account continues by saying the Norwegian press reacted violently to reports that an American Negro student had been expelled from a Berger hotel at the request of a white American tourist who resented the sight of a Negro dancing with a Norwegian girl.

The Bergens Arbeiderblad said it deplored the appearance of the "American disease," racial discrimination, in Norway.

And they used to say "freedom is exportable!" Norway has a right to be shocked, but Americans ought to be ashamed.

I'm Thinking About . . . Art, 'Eyes,' and a Waitress

By KEN BROJAC

The university's summer art exhibit has been packed into the past but artists and their doings continue to make news of a sort. An element of compromise marked this year's purchases. And the results will hardly incite the controversy that met the purchase of last year's Beckman.

The artist in the area were generally pleased with the purchase of De Martini's more abstract landscape, "Rock Forms and Sky" while the other powers involved, both directly and indirectly, are happier with Siporin's highly colorful and dramatic artistic editorial, "The Endless Voyage."

After the purchasing committee had done its deed the group of artists comprising the Student Art guild further balanced the score. They gave another nod to De Martini and used their own funds to purchase his very interesting "Self-Portrait" which in technique lies somewhere in between the other two purchases. It took three purchases to do it but now about every interest ought to be represented.

Dean Mayberry who poses for Joe Cox's drawing class broke into the news last week in a readable but slightly colored biographical feature which quoted him as saying . . . "Eyes, eyes, eyes staring at you . . . you feel like a rock or a tree."—or something.

She's a musician and travels through university life at a slightly hurried pace which seems to reach its climax when she's waiting on table. Last week a group of artists turned in their order slips with their requests drawn on the sheet. The artist may not, as Professor Lasansky said in a recent forum, care particularly whether the public gets what he's after or not. But it's doubtful, especially with only an hour or so for lunch, that they'd take the chance of confusing a waitress with an abstract or surrealist representation of a bottle of milk or a cheese omelette.

We'll wager a bright plaid shirt or a trip to the quarries that that bottle of milk looked not at all like a glass of iced tea and the omelette looked for all the culinary world like an omelette . . . if that's what they ordered.

Dinner's Ready and Hungry Preschoolers Respond

LUNCH TIME IS A SERIOUS TIME for hungry children at preschool, judging from their vigorous attack on this table of food. "We serve the children a lot of different foods and try to encourage them to eat new things," assistant teacher Kay Abrams said.

By JOAN LIFFRING

A 4½-year-old Iowa Citian in cowboy clothes went to preschool a few days ago and said, "I want a horse."

"What do you think you could use to build a horse?" the teachers asked the youngster.

He thought awhile and then suggested blocks. After that many of the children went "galloping" on wooden horses.

Three preschool houses at 9, 10 and 11 E. Market street are a part of the Child Welfare Research station. Altogether 105 children from two to five years old attended the schools which closed for the summer Friday.

"The youngsters used blocks to help them get on the horses," Dorothy Haupt, a head teacher, explained. "There was a large demand for stirrups and reins of string. Even paper faces were added to the horses."

One young Gene Autry trotted on a horse with a bright green paper face while Miss Haupt added the role of the teachers at the school "is one of guidance rather than one of telling the children what to play with."

Anne Nugent, a head teacher said, "Our philosophy is to treat the children like people. We try to set up an environment stimulating to each age group, so a child can have a variety of experiences with creative materials. We want to emphasize all parts of the program—physical, social and creative activities."

"We provide materials that can be used for 'dress up.'" We have purposes if the children want to go shopping and suitcases for traveling."

"Ordinarily art work is a part of the daily program," she added. "We don't put everything out every day. Variety is important. There may be a combination of activities such as a story and music time depending upon the interests of the children on that day."

"Part of the program is to take the children on excursions," Miss Nugent continued. "The children have visited a farm and the airport."

Miss Haupt said, "We've had about four movies at preschool during the year for the children. One time we had a movie about trains since the children were interested in them. The youngsters were quite expressive about the movies, mentioning them in their play afterwards."

One of the most important phases of the research program are the doll-play experiments, in which the child plays with dolls and a doll house, according to Dr. Robert R. Sears, head of the child welfare research station.

Doll-play reveals the kinds of attitudes the children have toward people they know, he said. "A child is given a doll house and dolls representing teachers, mothers, fathers and children," he explained.

"There is no one in the room but the observer and the child. The child is told he can do anything he wants with the dolls. What the child does shows emotional reactions toward other people that he doesn't dare to show in real life.

"The advantage is that no one will punish the child for making the dolls do some action not socially acceptable," Sears continued. "If the child feels like punishing a teacher doll, he may do so." This often rids the child of desiring to do unacceptable acts toward other people, he remarked.

"The children are like all the rest of us. They often have some emotions they want to get off their chests. The doll-play experiments provide an outlet for the child's emotions. The preschool children are normally full of energy and imagination," Sears concluded.

The preschool will reopen about Sept. 29.

Tintoretto, one of the greatest painters of the Venetian school, was named Jacopo Robusti. Tintoretto was a nickname, "little dyer," because of his father's occupation.

REMINING YOU THAT THIS COLUMN CONTAINS YOUR HY-HIT TUNE OF THE WEEK!!!!!!

The song you SUI students pick as your favorite of the week by a personal questionnaire. This is the last in this series for the summer, but be watching for it in this column again next fall.

W. O. "Haskins" of the Quadrangle may have been dealt a heavy blow by a recent air-mail letter received from San Francisco, but his expression failed to show any sign of emotion. The question remains . . . has true love flown away or will love find away next September???

Summer heat is not responsible for the sizzling, burnin' Bell Telephone wires between LC and Ft. Madison . . . instead, it's due to a flaming, passionate love affair between Jane Bushong Currier, and Pat Harris of Ft. Madison.

HOLD IT!!!! HOLD IT!!!! Ah-h-h there it is!!!! A lovely natural-looking portrait from KRITZ STUDIO. It makes no difference what type or kind of picture you want taken. The deep bond of "brotherly love" which exists among a fraternity's members couldn't be more explicitly portrayed than by the actions of John Porter, who is generously taking out absent brothers' girl-friends this summer . . . what a big heart that boy has!!!!

It's everything that a SUI student could ask for. . . ECONOMIC so that you can save money for a vacation after summer school is over. . . SERVICE IS FAST so that you needn't waste time sitting and waiting when you could be studying or on your way to an afternoon or evening of fun. . . FOOD IS TASTY AND DELICIOUS so you'll enjoy every bite to the Nth degree. . . IT'S THE MAID-RITE for all these things. . . ECONOMY, FAST SERVICE, GOOD FOOD! . . . remember the MAID-RITE!!

weather is harmful to your clothes and this is the time of the year when the greatest amount of protection should be given them . . .

DAVIS CLEANERS are gentle with your garments—there's no need to worry about clothes being ruined or worn thin thru the cleaning process. So take a tip from the graduate who's getting a degree . . . he's the man who knows that the work of DAVIS CLEANERS is one of the necessary things to be acquainted with.

FOR THE GRADUATE . . . HERTEEN-STOCKER'S have a beautiful jewelry for the girl graduate . . . lovely compacts, cigarette cases, rings, and costume pieces in gold or silver which suitably express your congratulations and best wishes.

It's PEARSON'S for PROTECTION from the summer sun and heat. It's PEARSON'S for YOU 'cause their fountain serves the coolest, most refreshing summer drinks which bring your temperature down to a "new low" from its "all-time high." Malts, cool

PEARSON'S have a selection of SUNGLASSES and SUNTAN OILS that are really fine for those afternoons of "lying out" trying to get tan. Make PEARSON'S the place for go for all your summer needs.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK??? What is the cause of the numerous ice-bags that have been floating about campus recently . . . hangovers . . . wisdom teeth . . . or just hot weather???

Could you kick yourself for not planning a big farewell picnic? Well, don't do that! Just get the gang together, drop out to the TWO MILE INN (that's BETTY and DOC'S) and let Betty fix a super-tasty lunch to take along . . . hamburgers, potato salad, homemade pies . . . it'll be no work for you, it'll be the easiest thing in the world to do.

Let Doc fill the tank of your car with gas, check the oil, and you're off for a big day with no worries in the world. Betty and Doc will fix you up with all the necessary items for the entire outing.

Charles "Bachelor and Bobby Socker" Rehling wishes to announce that as soon as a certain Tri-Cities cutie outgrows her formula, he is off to the altar. It seems that Charlie, a veritable Pled Piper of Hamelin, when it comes to the kiddies, has tooted his flute once too often . . .!

The only time Solon, Iowa, ever slightly resembled a desert island was last Monday night when a couple Currier girls, Gee Gee Jackson and B. J. Miller plus their dates were stranded on a stone bench for a lengthy while . . . when they finally got back to civilization it strictly wasn't a brass band that was waiting to welcome them . . . in fact, any resemblance between a brass band and a campus is purely coincidental.

PRESENTING . . . "DUMBO"!!!

"Sabu" Bliss, the elephant boy, was seen walking out of Iowa Supply with a book entitled "Care and Feeding of the Elephant" tucked under his arm. Upon making inquiry, we learned that Dumbo has been having trouble with his heat and massage treatments performed by a certain Westlawn therapist haven't done a bit of good. "Dumbo" is suffering and "Sabu" says any and all suggestions will be welcomed!

"Dumbo" Foley's recent book, "Dumbo on the Law of Parking Meters" Jungle Press, ($3.00) will undergo a revision this summer. When interviewed, Dumbo's most significant remark was, "All I know I learned in Ward's Barber Shop".

HAIL, HAIL, the gang's all here . . . the gang's always at BOERNER'S Soda Fountain where the best in delicious refreshments are served . . . and this week's SPECIAL is a Fruit Grape Ade . . . the ingredients, well, it contains grape juice, crushed pineapple, and carbonated water . . . all this for only 15 cents. So, next time you pass by, drop into BOERNER'S to cool off with a tall drink. Also, BOERNER'S can give you a tasty breakfast which includes Danish Rolls and a delicious cup of coffee . . . What ever it is, BOERNER'S HAVE IT.

Seemed like old times last Saturday night when the Sigma Nu's had one of the gayest parties of the summer session . . . lots of the old fellows were back . . . ever-one had a gala time . . . in fact, 'twas one of the "saying" events of an otherwise dull summer session!!!!

Pedestrians are not to be alarmed by objects seen falling or dropped from the roof of the Phi Gam house late at night . . . it's just that the summer heat has FORCED the "boys" to take "beverages" to the roof-top so that body temperatures may be dropped a few degrees!!!

Many puzzled and perplexed looks were cast upon Jean Clark and Ted Sessions when they were bundled up in hot wool sweaters last Wednesday afternoon (when it was 95 degrees in the shade) and embracing on the steps of Old Capitol. Incidentally, a FRIVOL photographer was also in the vicinity.

The BEST way to help you save time!!!

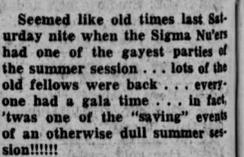

Now is the time when every thing begins to come at you all at once . . . and, naturally the best way to keep from wasting these precious minutes, is to dial 3131 for a YELLOW CAB to get you there and back. This also gives you a chance to sit back, relax, and enjoy the COMFORT and SAFETY of riding, when you call for a YELLOW CAB. Don't forget, to save time and energy for your daily doings, next time you saunter forth, call a YELLOW CAB.

THINGS ARE REALLY POPPIN' AT THE DIXIE SHOP!!! and when we say poppin', naturally it's the fresh, deliciously crisp Buttered or Carmel Popcorn featured at the DIXIE CARAMEL CORN SHOP . . . Located at 5 S. DuBuque St., the DIXIE SHOP is convenient for your downtown shopping tour. If you're in a hurry at noon, one of quickest and tastiest lunches you can acquire is the delicious home made candy from the DIXIE SHOP. Don't wait, next time you go by, stop in at the DIXIE CARAMEL CORN SHOP.

John St. Claire is a VERY fine boy, BUT . . . he drinks. . .

King "Romeo" Scott, the silent sage of Vinton, merely nodded wisely when queried about many mid-week trips to C. R. . . we think they have nothing to do with law school.

Best bet is that the conductor of the 1:05 train leaving C. R. for Lake Vermillion, Minn., Aug. 4th, was worried that Kathleen Cusack and Leslie Boysen will be aboard . . . OR . . . to the victor go the SPOILS!!!!
