Vote No Burlington Parking; Council OK's Keokuk Paving

By RAY HENRY
The ordinance to permit parking on one side of Burlington street was defeated and a resolution to authorize the paving of Keokuk street was passed last night by the Iowa City council.

Final reading of the Burlington street parking ordinance came up before the council with Alderman James Callahan, Charles T. Smith and William Grandrath in favor and Aldermen Max Hawkins and Frank Mighell opposed.

Although a majority of the councilmen present were in favor of the parking plan, state law requires a majority of the elected members to be in favor of the ordinance. This law makes it necessary to have four council members to vote in favor of the proposal, according to City Attorney Edward Lucas. Alderman Jones and Fryauf were absent.

Considerable controversy has arisen over the ordinance with Chief of Police E. J. Ruppert in opposition to it. He claims parking along Burlington street would be a traffic hazard.

Grandrath referred to Burlington street as a "race-track" and said parking cars there would slow traffic down.

Prof. Richard L. Holcomb of the university bureau of public affairs, took a speed check of cars traveling on Burlington street between Capitol and Clinton streets last Saturday and reported that few exceeded the 20 m. p. h. speed limit.

Ruppert said, "the solution to the speeding problem is to put stop lights at the Clinton, Linn and Gilbert street intersections."

A public hearing to hear objections to the paving of Keokuk street was held in conjunction with the council meeting last night.

A number of property owners along that street appeared at the hearing and stated that they were in favor of the paving. No one appeared to oppose the plan.

Of the 28 property owners on Keokuk street, which is approximately three city blocks, 15 of them had previously petitioned that they were in favor of the paving and six opposed the paving. State law requires a simple majority of the property owners to authorize paving of a city street.

The council voted unanimously to pass the resolution for paving Keokuk street.

Fred Gartzke, city engineer, has estimated the cost of paving at $17,540.75.

The council voted to hold a meeting at 2 p. m. September 22 to open bids on the paving. Bids must not exceed the estimated cost by 10 percent or new bids will have to be taken.

Power Plant Blows Up, Injures Two

BOONVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A boiler explosion last night in the Boonville municipal light and power plant injured two firemen and cut off all electric current in this city of 5,000.

The injured were Ora Wingate, 38, reported in serious condition at Leaconess hospital in Evansville, and Richard Axton, treated for burns. Rescue squads hunted through the debris with flashlights for other possible casualties.

City firemen reported that a pressure tank of the main boiler, 40 feet long and four feet in diameter, blew up and demolished 100 yards of brick wall.

The plant was completely out of operation and officials said it would take days, and possibly weeks, to restore power to the city.

As citizens stumbled about by candlelight and flashlights, the city council called an emergency session to hunt sources of emergency power. Councilmen said it was especially urgent to obtain electricity for the city ice plant, a creamery and a large chicken hatchery, as well as home refrigerators and lights.

British List Three Methods to 'Compel' Jews to Disembark

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—A British official said yesterday that no firearms or lethal weapons would be used to disembark the 4,400 uncertified Jewish immigrants from the Exodus of 1947.

(The Jews left Gibraltar Thursday morning aboard three British transports, with naval escort, for Hamburg but returned to port after one of the transports blew a boiler tube. The departure was delayed 24 hours.)

The British spokesman said three degrees of "compulsion" were available if the Jews refused to leave their ships on arrival here:

- First: Manhandling.
- Second: Ship's hosepipes.
- Third: Tear gas.

He added that compulsion would be used only if all means of persuasion failed and that the third degree would be "an absolute last resort."

Realty Boards Deny Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Association of Real Estate boards said yesterday a charge it broke the anti-trust laws was "outrageous" and apparently in "reprisal" for opposing federal controls over housing.

The association pledged itself to "fight" a grand jury indictment which charged Wednesday that it and the Washington Real Estate board conspired criminally to set commission rates on real estate deals in the District of Columbia. The association said uniform fees are in the public interest and help hold down housing costs.

In a statement issued by its president, Morgan L. Fitch of Chicago, the NAREB sized up the timing of the indictment obtained by the justice department as significant. It said it had been trying for a long time to protect property and home owners by opposing "certain types of federal legislation designed to maintain indefinitely and permanently the controls of government over the homes and property of the nation."

The statement went on: "Apparently the time has come when a citizen of this country cannot speak out without being served notice that he does so at the peril of criminal prosecution. This is a sad commentary upon the present status of law enforcement in this country."

The statement also said that the association had been trying for a long time to protect property and home owners by opposing "certain types of federal legislation designed to maintain indefinitely and permanently the controls of government over the homes and property of the nation."

Life in 6-Room Flat —With 16 Children

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Lescarbeau's private housing problem wasn't eased any yesterday by the arrival of twins, for that made 16 children in their six-room tenement.

Harold and Howard, who joined the Lescarbeau family Friday night, were the second pair of twin boys in the couple's 16 years of married life. The other pair—Louis and Leon—arrived six years ago.

Lescarbeau, 42-year-old carpenter, and his wife, 38, list their offspring's ages as 17, 16, 15, 14, 13, 11, 10, 9, 7, twins 6, 4, 3, and 2. Mrs. Lescarbeau comes from a family of 12 children and her husband was one of 18.

But the problem of housing their brood in one half of a two-family house isn't worrying Mrs. Lescarbeau too much. She says she hopes they'll have some more.

Seek Check On Budget

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) disclosed yesterday that congressional Republicans have demanded the right to make a "watch dog" check on the preparation of the new budget President Truman will submit to congress in January.

Bridges said the senate appropriations committee, which he heads, had joined with the house appropriations group, headed by Rep. Taber (R-NY), in a request that their representatives be permitted to attend budget bureau hearings when they begin late next month.

The New Hampshire senator told a reporter: "If we are going to economize intelligently in the next session, we must know the whole story, from the time the departments first bring up their requests until the President finally lays these down in a message," he said.

Congressional Republicans have complained that they had difficulty in trimming Mr. Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget this year because they found it impossible to ferret out details of departmental expenditures worked out months before. The amount of reductions they made in the President's estimates still is a matter of political dispute.

Bridges said he has no doubt that Mr. Truman will attempt to trim government expenditures in his new message.

"We have a campaign year coming up and I imagine that the Democrats who fought economy so hard in the last session will be all for it this time," he said.

Norway Plane Crash Kills 35 Persons

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Thirty-five persons, including an American woman, were killed yesterday when a Norwegian airlines Sandringham flying boat crashed against a mountainside in Northern Norway.

The crash occurred during fog and rain near Loedingen on Logoten island above the Arctic circle. The plane was en route from Tromsø to Stavanger.

The victims included 27 passengers and eight crew members. Among them was a Mrs. Jess (further identification not available) an American, who had been visiting in Borkenes near Harstad, in Northern Norway. Jan Reinis and Tatjana Sellingerova, both Czech journalists, and G. Heine, a Dane. The others were Norwegians.

The craft's chief pilot was Capt. Buer, a well-known Norwegian flyer. Jarle Ebbensen, the airline's chief inspector, also was a victim.

The plane, named the Kvitbjorn (white bear) was believed to have been flying at between 900 and 1,000 feet altitude. Persons living nearby said they heard a terrific explosion.

Remnants of the plane are in rugged terrain, making the salvage work difficult.

The accident was the worst in the history of Norwegian airlines.

Predict More Heat For Midwest Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Another warmup was in store for the Midwest today, but the Chicago weather bureau said it would produce just fair, dry and warm weather—not hot.

In Iowa City, the temperature ranged from 63 degrees at 5 a. m. to 93 at 1:30 p. m. The humidity was generally high throughout the day and was 97 at 10 p. m.

Warm temperatures prevailed yesterday in the Ohio valley, with most readings above 90. Cincinnati reported a mid-afternoon temperature of 94. Evansville, Ind., had 92, and Advance, Mo., 94.

It was cool in the Great Lakes region and cool in northern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan, where temperatures were between 60 and 70. Bemidji, Minn., had an afternoon high of 65 and International Falls, Minn., had 62.

The Atlantic coast had pleasant weather. On the west coast, temperatures were about normal.

Globe Girdlers Awe London

LONDON (AP)—When George Truman of Los Angeles and Cliff Evans of Washington, D.C., arrived here yesterday on their leisurely round-the-world trip in two light planes, they confessed acquiring a healthy respect for the Atlantic ocean.

"It's wide and wet and, at one stage, it nearly had us licked," Truman said.

"Our close call came over Iceland, which we knew was somewhere down below us, tucked away in the clouds. We had to come down to 500 feet to find a hole that enabled us to get our bearings. If we had missed Iceland, there just wouldn't have been any second spot to choose."

Truman and Evans, both former United States airforce pilots, started their circumnavigation of the globe from New Jersey on Aug. 8.

They had planned to land at Prestwick, Scotland, yesterday but finding it fogbound they landed and refueled in northern Ireland, then came on to Croydon airport yesterday afternoon. Their tiny planes taxiing jauntily beside a row of giant ocean-spanning airliners quickly attracted a crowd which marvelled that such midjets should have conquered the Atlantic.

"We marvel a little ourselves," Evans said.

Croydon airport records show the planes are the smallest that ever spanned the Atlantic. Occasionally, the pilots said, they stepped up their speed to 120 miles an hour, but most of their trip so far has been made at a cruising speed of 100 miles an hour.

They have been 42 hours in the air since they left Teterboro, N.J. Their stops have been in Maine, Labrador, Greenland, Iceland and Ireland. The small craft have a range of about 1,200 miles with extra fuel tanks. Bad weather is carefully avoided.

Weather Tinkerers Achieve Snow Fall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Snow fell in Washington yesterday—but only for a select group of army and navy officers.

To demonstrate the chain reaction method that has coaxed small quantities of snow and rain from clouds, General Electric scientists scraped a few flakes of a cake of dry ice and let them fall into a deep-freeze locker. Soon thousands of tiny glittering crystals formed within the locker, and turned into snow.

Dr. Irving Langmuir estimated that twenty cents worth of dry ice could produce 1,000,000 tons of water for hydroelectric power use, and $200 worth could make rain all over the United States.

The clouds have to be "supercooled" to begin with, he emphasized, since fantastic quantities of dry ice would be required to cool a warmer cloud to the necessary degree.

Capt. Howard Orville, navy meteorologist, hoped the process might be used to temper the fury of typhoons and hurricanes, and said the navy is planning to test this possibility.

Military men were reluctant to discuss tactical uses of weather control.

Holland Recovers Nazi-Filched Gems Worth $2,500,000

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Seventeen thousand carats of cut diamonds valued at $2,500,000, taken by the Nazis from Dutch merchants during the occupation, were returned to the Netherlands yesterday by a U. S. troop convoy.

Heavily armed, the convoy took the gems to Beek, a frontier town near Nijmegen, to turn them over to the Dutch economics minister.

"We are restituting the precious stones in time for Queen Wilhelmina of Holland's birthday on Sunday," said Col. William G. Brey, chief of the U. S. military government's foreign exchange depositary.

The diamonds were packed in 15 wooden cases. They were seized by the Nazis in 1942 when they ordered all Dutch diamond merchants to turn in their stocks. The Germans kept the stones at Arnheim, Holland, trying to force the owners to sell at "ridiculously low prices," Brey said.

After the Allied air-borne landing at Arnheim, the gems were transferred by the Germans to the Friedrichshall salt mine at Stassfurt, near Magdeburg in Prussia, where they were recovered in 1945, by the U. S. Ninth army.

Leaders Urge Training Law Before Legion

Volunteer Army Is Efficient, Has High Morale, Says Truman

NEW YORK (AP)—President Truman told the 29th national American Legion convention yesterday that in a world where "war remains a dread possibility," the nation "must be so strong that no aggressor, however rash can persuade himself that we are open to conquest."

In a telegraph message to the opening session at jam-packed Madison Square Garden, Mr. Truman expressed optimism, however, about the state of American armed forces, asserting they "are now on a volunteer basis high in morale and with increasing military efficiency."

Earlier, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had told cheering legionnaires he was solidly behind their drive for a universal military training law and a strong military establishment.

Dewey declared: "I urge that it is our duty to provide a program giving participation by all our young American men in a universal military training."

The titular Republican party leader, considered a top contender for his party's presidential nomination again in 1948, thus joined with Mr. Truman, head of the Democratic party, in espousing the training program. It was the first time Dewey had thrown his full backing behind the Legion's campaign for military training.

The President originally had been scheduled to address the convention in person but failed to make it because of "the unremitting pressure of official duties."

In advocating a universal training program, Mr. Truman said "against the possibility of total war, we must have the certainty of total defense, using every resource of our being in the effort."

The blue-capped legionnaires, who met for the initial session of their four-day convention, listened to a full afternoon of speeches by military leaders and other dignitaries before adjourning and turning to fun at the parade of 40 and 8, the organization's honor society.

James V. Forrestal, named by Mr. Truman as the nation's first secretary of national defense, joined the President and Dewey in urging universal military training, which he said was necessary to complement the unification program.

The final speaker at the opening session, Forrestal said the unification plan should give the United States "the most effective force for the maintenance of peace in our own—and I dare say—in the world's history," but he added its purpose was "not to start the country on the dangerous fatal road of conquest."

Newhouse 'Not Trying'

DETROIT (AP)—Hal Newhouse, blond Detroit Tiger lefthander, collared with an unimpressive record of 13 victories and 15 defeats this year after three straight "20-win" seasons, drew a $250 fine from Manager Steve O'Neill yesterday for "indifference" and the stout Irish pilot of the Tigers hinted there'll be more like it if the Tigers "aren't in there hustling like they should be."

Specifically Newhouse was charged with "an indifferent performance" in the third inning of yesterday's game when the Boston Red Sox ganged up on him for seven hits and five runs enroute to a 13 to 3 triumph.

O'Neill cited also Hal's "steadfast refusal to leave the mound" after being summoned to the bench.

"It didn't look good to have him arguing about being summoned to the dugout," O'Neill declared as the Tigers caught night train for St. Louis.

"I told him I ought to fine him $250 for the way he was acting and he continued to argue. There wasn't anything for me to do but hang it on him."

Newhouse, arriving to catch his train, declared he didn't talk back to Steve.

"I was bearing down all the time, I thought I could get 'em out and didn't want to leave," Hal said. "It's the first time I ever was fined by a manager and I don't see how he could have thought I wasn't trying."

Wager $10-Thousand On Bendix Races

HOUSTON, TEX. (AP)—It's a bet, oilman-sportsman Glenn H. McCarthy said yesterday.

McCarthy's souped up P-38 "Flying Shamrock," makes a faster trip from Burbank, Calif., to Cleveland in tomorrow's Bendix Air race than Paul Mantz's special P-51. McCarthy collects $10,000 cash from Mantz. If Mantz's plane makes the better time, Mantz collects $10,000 from McCarthy.

"We have both put up our money, in cash," McCarthy announced. "The $20,000 is being held in Los Angeles."

Under the terms of the wager, it's strictly a two-plane race for the money, he explained. The only call-off will be in the event that neither plane finishes the grueling 2,080-mile speed dash.

Mantz, winner of last year's Bendix event, is flying his own plane. McCarthy's plane will be flown by Jim Ruble, one of his personal pilots.

National Pros Ignore Junior Circuit

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Professional football league continues to take a "never heard of it" attitude whenever the All-America conference is mentioned, so its refusal to consider the proposal for a post-season game was to be expected.

The older circuit can't see what it considers the "upstart" loop at all, so it is only natural it can't hear it either.

As a neutral observer we can see both sides of the affair. From the standpoint of the longer-established National league, it is in the position of a grocer who long has done business at the same old stand and who suddenly is faced with competition from a new store across the street.

The old grocer just isn't going to do anything which would bring attention to his new rival, and the National league just isn't going to play a post-season game with the All-America and thus bring attention to that circuit.

The All-America considers itself on a par, from the standpoint of caliber of play, with the more or less ivy-draped National league, and maybe it is. Until their teams meet you have to draw your own conclusions on that point.

Any new business wants to progress as rapidly as possible, and to be recognized as a legitimate, soundly-established enterprise. The quickest way to do that is to gain public support and confidence, which the All-America apparently has done, and to National league into a game.

The National league still is taking the "go get yourself a reputation" attitude. It figures the All-America is only one year old and still in swaddling clothes, and that there is no guarantee it will survive.

If the All-America comes through the approaching season in good shape and promises to continue in operation indefinitely, the National league must eventually recognize it as a worthy rival, and, for protection against salary ment to force recognition. That's too much like trying to shame the gain recognition from established rivals, which it hasn't done.

We don't think so much of bringing the charity angle of a post-season game into the arguments and roster raiding, get together with it.

Meanwhile, the fans can sit on the sidelines and enjoy the squabble, and possibly actually benefit if the competition should reach the price-cutting stage. The athletes already have benefitted through drawing salaries which many of them most certainly would not draw were there only one league.

Unless an agreement is reached, the situation will settle into a test of which league can throw dollars into the river the longest. Right now the National league is willing to gamble it can discourage its rival and make it quit. If it finds it can't, the dove of peace will start cooing.

Rumor Notre Dame In Sugar Bowl Again

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The perennial "Notre-Dame-in-the-Sugar Bowl" gossip took a "possibly significant turn" yesterday with the first hint by Fred Digby, only newspaperman in the Sugar Bowl organization, that the Irish might consider playing in the local football classic.

Digby didn't say they would accept an invitation. The most emphatic he became in a column on the subject was a remark that the Irish "might be more inclined than ever before to look with favor" upon a bid if they finish their season unbeaten.

But that much from Digby, sports editor of the New Orleans Item, means more than a flat prediction from any other writer.

Fred can't help being the world's best informed newspaperman on Sugar Bowl matters, as he is the only one in the inside. Moreover, he is a close personal friend of Irish Coach Frank Leahy.

Grid Tickets Almost Gone

It is only the end of August, but it's later than you think—if you are considering ordering University of Iowa major home football tickets.

As of Thursday, August 28 at 2 p.m. the ticket situation was summarized by Frank Havlicek, business manager:

For the Minnesota game Nov. 15th, last of the season, tickets now selling back of the goal line on the south end of the west stand and on both ends of the east stand.

For the Illinois (Oct. 4) and Indiana (Homecoming Oct. 11) games, best available seats are in the vicinity of the 5-yard line but most of them are opposite the goal line.

Better seats are available for the Indiana game than for either of the others. We will have some on the lower rows between the 5 and 10-yard lines—but they won't last long if the present rate of ordering continues," Havlicek said.

Chicago Rockets Open Tonight

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—The All-America football conference tonight launches its second season in a key battleground city of its box-office scrap with the long-established National football league.

Coached by James (Sleepy Jim) Crowley, who last year was the new league's commissioner, the Chicago Rockets open a seven-game home season at Soldier field against the Los Angeles Dons.

There are no schedule conflicts between the Rockets and the rival National loop's Chicago Cardinals and champion Bears. The Rockets play all except one of their home games on Friday nights, while the Cards and Bears share the local scene on Sunday afternoons.

The Bears, although still licking their wounds from the recent 16-0 trimming by the College All-

Stars, still are the National league champions. The Cardinals, bolstered by All-America Charley Trippi, rate as one of the most improved clubs in the older circuit.

So Sleepy Jim Crowley has no small job in building up Chicago prestige for the All-America, especially since the Rockets last year bobbed around mammoth Soldier field aimlessly, most of the time without a catch and with front office inexperience.

Since he took over as coach and general-manager, Crowley injected new spirit in the Rockets and got himself a slam-bang fullback in Bill Daley to cavort in a high-powered backfield which also includes Elroy (Crazy-Legs) Hirsch and Bob Hoernschmeyer.

A crowd of 25,000 is expected at the inaugural tangle with the Dons whose attack mainly is built around the passing of Angelo Bertelli and Charley O'Rourke.

Mr. Hawkeye Football for 1947 is a player of 190 pounds and 6 feet 4 inch tall. He is 22 years old, a veteran of World War II, and a sophomore in the university, and taking either a physical education or a commerce course. These are the averages of personal facts about the 54 varsity football candidates who will report next Tuesday.

Severe bruises, cuts and muscle strains were sustained by Eric Wilson Jr., Iowa quarter miler, when he was pinned against the side of an excavation by a dirt slide while working on a ditch-digging job here. Wilson was caught from the waist down by the cave-in of a large section of the ditch. Quick work by other men, including Joe Byrd, Hawkeye tackle, saved the track man from more serious injury.

Hawkeye Briefs—Mr. Football for 1947

The Hawkeye business manager was frank to point out the exact situation so persons who are late in ordering will understand why they cannot obtain better seats.

"However, in Iowa's stadium the fans are much closer to the playing field because of the fact that there is no running track and because the stands are pitched at a better slant, so seats at the end of the stands are far better than in many other stadiums," Havlicek said.

Dodgers Pound Bruins; Lead by 7 Games

Bat Barrage Cracks Cubs Jinx, 6-2

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn's Dodgers made a big step forward in their drive for the National league pennant yesterday by defeating the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 2, as the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals dropped seven games behind by losing to the New York Giants, 6 to 5.

The Dodgers have 27 games left to play, the Cardinals 29.

Johnny Jorgensen, rookie third-baseman who has been on the bench for a week, returned to the Dodger lineup and belted Cub pitching for a double and a single that drove in four of the runs and spoiled Chicago Manager Charley Grimm's 49th birthday.

All of the Chicago runs were the results of Bill Nicholson's home-run bat, the outfielder getting his 18th circuit smash of the season in the second inning and then coming back in the fourth for his 19th.

Jorgensen's double bounced off the right field wall in the first inning and scored Ed Stanky, who had walked; Arky Vaughan and Gene Hermanski. Hermanski, who also got on base by a walk, had pulled up at third base but Umpire Beans Reardon ruled that the runner had been interfered with by Peanuts Lowrey, Cub third baseman, and sent the Dodger outfielder home.

The blow sent Hank Wyse to the showers and brought Hank Borowy to the mound. Bruce Edwards greeted him with a bouncer that zoomed over Lowrey's head to score Jorgensen.

Vaughan, who singled in the first, walked in the fifth and was propelled across on singles by Carl Furillo and Jorgensen. The final Dodger tally came in the eighth on Stanky's double, Jackie Robinson's sacrifice and Pete Reiser's fly to Phil Cavarretta.

Grimm used five pitchers, who were battered for 13 hits.

Braves Close Gap on Cards

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Braves yesterday moved within one game of the second place St. Louis Cardinals by twice beating the Cincinnati Reds, taking the opener 8-7 in 16 innings and winning the nightcap, called after five and a half frames because of darkness, 3-2.

Bob Elliott, Boston candidate for the National league's most valuable player award, knocked in his 100th run in the marathon opener, the longest game of the season in the National league. The lengthiest contest of the season was June 8 in the American league when Washington edged Chicago 1-0 in 18 innings.

Ed Ewart, fifth Cincinnati hurler, forced in the winning Boston run by walking Tommy Holmes with the bases loaded and two out in the 16th.

Starter Johnny Sain was hit hard by the Reds who clouted him for 11 hits in the first six innings. Included among the hits was Augie Galan's sixth homer of the year which he drove into the right field ball pen with two mates aboard in the fifth inning.

Eddie Lukon homered in the opening session of the darkness halted second game. It was the Cincinnati outfielder's ninth of the season. The Braves scored all their runs in the second on four singles and errors by Grady Hatton and Ray Lamanno.

Cincinnati's Mr. Miller Has Himself a Busy Afternoon

EDDIE MILLER, Cincinnati Red shortstop, put on the sprint act but was tagged out by Braves shortstop Dick Culler who has just taken throw from Catcher Hank Camelli to squeeze and attempted steal in the second inning of yesterday's first game in Boston.

Mize Homers As New York Sinks Cards

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Johnny Mize of the New York Giants took another large forward stride in his quest of a new major league home run record yesterday as he hammered his 44th of the year while the New York Giants were slapping down the faltering St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5.

The loss—the Cards' second in a row to New York and third in succession—dropped the Redbirds seven full games behind the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league race, as the Brooks clipped the Chicago Cubs 6-2.

Mize's circuit smash came in the first inning with two runners aboard. He parked it in the upper right field stands. It gave the Giants a 3-2 advantage, as the Cards had opened with two runs on Bill Rigney's boot of Stan Musial's grounder, Enos Slaughter's double and Ron Northey's single.

Thereafter the Cards' scoring was confined to bases-empty homers. Musial, Slaughter and Whitey Kurovski poked them.

Meanwhile the Giants picked up another pair in the third on a walk to Buddy Kerr, Willard Marshall's single to right which Northey mopped up for three bases, and Mize's double.

It was right-hander Larry Jansen's 16th victory against four defeats, and starter Murry Dickon's 13th loss against 10 wins.

Mize's homer put him five games and five days up on Babe Ruth's 1927 schedule when the Bam set the record of 60.

Red Sox Pulverize Tiger Pitching, 13-3

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Red Sox took a solid game-and-one-half grip on second place in the American league by pounding the Detroit Tigers 13 to 3 yesterday as Shortstop Johnny Pesky led a 22-hit attack by driving in five runs with four hits.

Edgar Smith, making his first start since moving to Boston from the Chicago White Sox, gained credit for the victory, a three-hitter, but had to have help from Johnny Murphy, who pitched hitless ball for the last four innings.

Barth Truckers Play Cards Here Tonight

There's softball action scheduled for Kelley field tonight when the Complete Auto Service Cardinals will cross bats with the Barth Truckers, of Greene in a twin-bill.

Paul Reberry, currently boasting a string of 14 hitless innings, will twirl one in the games for the Cards. The tall righthander has racked up three no-hit games for the season, two of them in his last two trips to the hill.

The Cardinals have a season record of 38-10.

Single Upset in First Round of Caddy Golf

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Thirty-two youngsters swept through the first round of match play in the second annual National Caddy Golf championship yesterday with but one upset, and the perpetrator of that modestly explained his feat with:

"Aw, I was putting and he wasn't."

Andy Korba, tall, blonde, 17-year-old from Binghamton, N.Y., was the kid who turned in the startling performance as he eliminated Dow Finsterwald, also 17, of Athens, O., 2 and 1.

When the smoke cleared after the opening 18-hole session, 14 Ohioans, seven New Yorkers, three Missourians, two Nebraskans, and one each from Kansas, California, Michigan, Indiana, Washington, D.C., and Colorado were still in there fighting.

Haynes Leads Chisox to Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pitcher Joe Haynes of the Chicago White Sox won a 12-inning victory over the Cleveland Indians last night 4-2, singling home the run he needed for his tenth triumph of the season.

The big righthander allowed the Tribe nine hits—five of them singles which got the home club off to a 2-0 lead in the first two frames. He gave no walks.

Davis Cup Tune Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The American and Australian Davis Cup teams put in their last serious practice licks on the Stadium court at Forest Hills yesterday in preparation for the five-match international tennis classic to be waged tomorrow, Sunday and Monday.

Haynes came to bat in the twelfth after Cass Michaels doubled and went to third on Mike Tresh's Texas leaguer to right field. His single over Boudreau's head scored Michaels, and Tresh came in later with an extra run on Taft Wright's fly.

Bob Lemon yielded the mound to Ed Killeman in the last inning after the first two batters hit safely and was the loser.

OK Armory as Skating Rink Site

Lambert Says Skating Will Start Tonight

By RAY HENRY

Permission to operate a skating rink in the Iowa City armory was given by the city council last night.

The resolution passed by the council authorizing the use of the armory stated that $40 per month rent will be charged. The city must pay for light, water, heat and access to toilet facilities.

The skating rink will be operated by C. L. Lambert and managed by Dick Schilder, both of Iowa City.

According to Lambert, the rink will go into operation at 7:30 tonight and will be open every night except Monday from 7:30 to 10:00.

A skating rink located in the City park by Lambert and Schilder was closed Aug. 16 because the county would not authorize them a permit.

The first reading of a city ordinance providing for a city assessor and his deputies was passed by the council last night. The ordinance must be read at two more council meetings before it becomes law.

The ordinance is the result of a new state law which gives a number of large cities in Iowa choice between having their own city assessor or a county assessor system.

The system will go into operation Jan. 1, 1948, following the passage of the ordinance by the council.

A proposal to install a neon "No turn" sign on the four sides of the traffic light at the intersection of Washington and Dubuque streets was referred to the council's police and fire committee and the chief of police.

The sign would be put in operation during heavy traffic hours at the intersection. It would be a blinker type of sign and operated from a master switch.

Chief of Police E. J. Ruppert said that he was in favor of the proposed sign because it would eliminate the use of two traffic police men on Washington and Dubuque during busy hour. It would provide better traffic regulation, he said.

The council also passed a resolution levying assessment on the following streets which have Ratchford was arrested Wednesday by police on a complaint filed by his wife, Henriette, who claimed he tried to attack her with a knife.

Dads' Ticket Sales Exceed 400 Mark

Ticket sales for the Community Dads field day in City park Sunday afternoon are "moving quite rapidly," Ted Fay, in charge of sales, said last night.

He estimated 600 to 700 tickets sold to date with 401 positively accounted for. Proceeds of the sales will be used to finance city recreational projects and to buy 16 bicycles for Johnson county boys and girls.

Meanwhile, the Dads have been practicing nightly for their encounter with a Moose ball club at the Sunday Field day in City park.

Community Dads will meet at 7:30 tonight in the council chambers of city hall to hear committee reports.

'Smoke, Smoke, Smoke' Still Leads List

Still heading the list of popular tunes for record collectors this week is "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke," by Phil Harris, "Peg O' My Heart," with the Three Suns and Red Ingles' "Tim-Tayshun."

In the popular album bracket Dorothy Shay has stepped up to join Billie Holiday's "Boogie Woogie, Vol. 1," and the Jolson "Souvenir Collection."

Leading off the classical singles with the "Warsaw Concerto" and "Jalousie," both with the Boston "Pops" orchestra, is "Variation on Theme by Paganini," with the First Piano Quartet.

According to saleswomen, Iowa Citizens' preference in the classical albums is the same as last week. Favorites among this group are:

Tschaikowsky's "Symphony No. 5," Tschaikowsky's "Concerto No. 1 in B Minor" and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade" suite.

"Kostelanetz Favorites" and "Kostelanetz Conducts" head the semi-classical albums bracket with the Morton Gould's "Rendezvous" close behind.

Favorite albums from musical shows on Broadway include: "Brigadoon," "Student Prince" and "Finian's Rainbow."

New novelty records coming up are "Friendship," with The Dorsey Family and "Puppy Love Song," with Blue Barron and Spike Jones.

Slated as "one to watch for" is the return of Phil Harris' "Darktown Poker Club."

Britain-U. S. Plan To Raise Ceiling on German Production

LONDON (AP) — The United States and Britain have decided to go ahead with their plan to raise the ceiling on industry in their zones of Germany despite French objections, it was announced last night at the conclusion of a three-power conference which opened six days ago.

The British-American plan will be announced today, said a French-British-American conference communique. Authoritative sources said it called for the production of 11,500,000 tons of steel annually, compared with the present ceiling of 5,800,000 tons fixed by the Allied control council for Germany in March, 1946. The French were understood to have asked that the ceiling be held to a maximum of 100,000,000 tons.

German steel production at present is well below the 5,800,000-ton ceiling.

The question also was left open concerning internationalizing the Ruhr, a point advocated by France, and the promise was held out that resources of the Ruhr would be available for the rehabilitation of French economy.

The communique said assurances were given that a British-American plan for management and control of the Ruhr coal mines "does not prejudice the future status of these mines and that it would not constitute an obstacle to the adoption of such measures as might be judged necessary to prevent the Ruhr from again becoming an instrument of aggression or to the adoption of such measures as might be established to assure other countries access to its products."

During the conference the French had urged that Europe's steel industry be centered around French, Belgian and Luxembourg mills and ore pits, instead of Germany's coal mines.

The communique disclosed that the delegates of all three nations finally had subscribed to the general British-American view that it was necessary "that German resources should contribute to the general rehabilitation of Europe"—a step in integrating the German industrial potential into the Marshall plan.

The communique said the three power talks did not "pre-judge" the level of industry which may be set for all Germany by the November meeting here of the council of foreign ministers at which Russia will be represented.

The conference was held at the instance of U.S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall who invited the French to state their views. Russia had protested the holding of the conference.

Contracts Let For New Lab Construction

The Iowa state board of education has awarded contracts totaling $91,379.90 for construction of the hydraulics laboratory annex, George L. Horner, university architect, announced yesterday.

The annex is to be constructed south of the hydraulics laboratory, which is located on Riverside drive, south of Burlington street.

The Kucharo Construction Co., Des Moines, was awarded the general construction contract. Their bid was $58,500.

The only other bid on general construction work was that of the R. W. Rinderneck Co., Inc., Cedar Rapids, $68,086.

Carstens Brother, Ackley, received the contract for plumbing and heating with a bid of $25,787.

Other bidders on the plumbing and heating project were V. J. Hagan and Co., Inc., Sioux City, $34,935, and Sanitary Plumbing and Heating Co., Davenport, $33,994.38.

The electrical work contract for the hydraulics laboratory annex was awarded Robbins Electric, Moline, Ill., for a bid of $7,092.90.

Other bidders on the electrical work were John P. Russell, Iowa City, $7,300, and Olds Electric Co., Davenport, $8,504.

Horner said work on the project would start immediately and be completed as rapidly as possible.

Four Federal Agencies Return to Washington After Wartime Sojourn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Budget Director James E. Webb yesterday gave official word for return to Washington of four federal agencies which were moved out in 1942 to free critical housing and office space in the wartime capital.

Officials said all would be returned this year, although the precise dates had not been determined.

'Shot' Steals Man For Wedding Vows

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A "shot" by a doctor enabled Kemble Stubblefield, 25, to get married Thursday night, even though he knew that in a few minutes he must enter a hospital and have his appendix removed.

Stubblefield became ill Thursday and visited a physician an hour before his wedding to Miss Mildred Schladensky, 23. He was told that his appendix must come out.

"I explained that I was getting married in an hour, so the doctor gave me a shot to ease the pain," he said.

The ceremony performed—though Stubblefield was half hour late in arriving—he immediately entered a hospital and the operation carried out.

"As soon as he gets well enough, we'll take a trip and then come back and settle down," said his new wife standing at the bedside.

New Leave Policy for GI Students

Student veterans under the GI bill will be eligible for 15 days' leave following any session beginning with the 1947-48 fall term.

Accumulated leave will be a thing of the past, according to an announcement by W.C. Ragan, assistant chief of registration and research section, Veterans administration regional office in Des Moines.

The 15 day leave will be automatically awarded unless the veteran himself takes the necessary steps to interrupt.

Each day of leave will reduce the veteran's eligibility time by one day.

GI's are jealously guarding their eligibility time, as indicated by statistics released yesterday by Dr. W. D. Coder, chief of the university veterans service office.

Of the university vets who interrupted their education for this summer, 69 percent took no leave. Three hundred fifty, Coder estimated, even took the trouble to interrupt for the 1946-47 Christmas holidays.

"The important thing to remember," said Coder, "is that the old system of accumulated leave is abolished, and that the 15-day leave will be awarded automatically unless the veteran declines it 30 days before the close of the term."

Refusal of leave will be made on regular interruption forms at either the East Hall or Iowa Avenue veterans offices.

Columbia Delegates Seek Revision of Defense Agreement

QUITANDINHA, Brazil (AP) — The Colombian delegation to the inter-American conference, still dissatisfied with certain features of the mutual defense treaty now virtually complete, prepared last night to fight for revision through committees and, if necessary, at the final plenary sessions.

Meanwhile, the drafting committee approved a vast "zone of maritime security," extending from pole to pole, and spreading from only a few miles off Russian Siberia to east of Greenland.

Under the treaty, any attack against this zone would invoke immediately joint armed resistance of all the signatory American republics.

The Colombian delegation said the group was dissatisfied because it feared the right of individual legitimate defense and the right to assist a nation attacked from within the hemisphere might be subverted by the provision for consultations to settle the dispute through peaceful means.

Colombian delegates said they wanted the right of individual and collective defense and assistance to have overriding priority in any enforcement action to maintain peace in the hemisphere. They declined to confirm or deny rumors they might not sign the treaty, pointing out they were awaiting instructions from President Ospina Perez.

A plenary session is scheduled for today to approve the full treaty text.

The committee on aggression will meet today to approve the report of the three-nation subcommittee which drafted the inter-American maritime security zone.

Details of this zone were disclosed by a high military delegate to the conference. The area includes Canada and the Canadian Arctic area, Puerto Rico, the Antarctic continent between 24 degrees west to 90 degrees west, the Falkland, South Georgia, South Sandwich, and South Orkney islands, and a vast north Pacific area from some 400 miles off the Russian Kamachka peninsula to the middle of the Bering Straits.

Specific limits extend from the north pole (latitude 90 degrees north) to a point off Greenland, latitude 74 degrees north, longitude 10 west. Thence it extends along a line between Iceland and

Begin Work on New Police FM Station

Police Chief E.J. Ruppert said yesterday that work on the new FM police radio station would begin Saturday.

A representative of RCA (Radio Corporation of America), in Kansas City, Mo., notified Ruppert by long distance telephone Wednesday, that men to install the newly purchased equipment would be in Iowa City Saturday to begin work.

Both Iowa City patrol cars and city fire trucks will be equipped with FM. The main transmitter will be at the police station.

At present, the cars are able only to call the station and receive from there. However, with the new type of broadcast, car to car and car to station communication will be possible.

The old transmitter is of the regular short-wave type, and static and interference held up many broadcasts to Fairfield, the eastern Iowa control station of the state highway police.

Ruppert said that if the RCA men cannot come to Iowa City Saturday, the equipment probably would not be installed until sometime in October.

He said the station should be ready in two or three days, and upon completion, will work with Maquoket, another control station.

A Scotch-Canadian, Sandford Fleming, in 1878, proposed the plan for adopting 24 standard time meridians, 15 degrees apart in longitude, starting from Greenwich.

Greenland to a point off Newfoundland.

Although Hawaii is not within the geographical limitations of the zone, the defense treaty places it under the same provisions.

Iowa State Fair Swings Back to Prewar Pace

THIS DUMP TRUCK served a dual purpose as a "grandstand" for owner Bud Heckart, Ottumwa, (left), and his guests when they watched the fair auto races and grandstand acts. The truck was backed up to the race track to give the men a close-up view as well as a liberal coating of dust as the racers careened around the track in near-100 degree weather.

"MY HAIR IS A SIGHT," apologized Duina Zacchini of the "Flying Zacchinis" (next picture) just after finishing her act. The Zacchinis spent eight years practicing at Tampa, Fla., then began performing publicly five years ago.

"PASSING LEAP" is what the "Flying Zacchinis" call their most difficult feat. Grandstand patrons were thrilled as Duina (left) traded places in midair with brother George (center). Key man in the "passing Leap" is brother Eddie (right). A stiff breeze required the Zacchinis to make careful wind allowances to assure no mistakes.

MUD IN YOUR EYE—a toast from winning driver Rabbit Musick to spectators hugging the north-east corner of the dirt track. Rabbit lapped the field twice, averaged better than 70 m.p.h. and edged out favorite Jimmy Wilburn. Drivers play for keeps in the fair races. One is still hospitalized in Des Moines, seriously injured when he rammed into a car stalled in front of him.

"IT'S A TERRIBLE RACKET but I wouldn't do anything else," said driver Kirk Washburn, Denver, Colo., (right). He started racing 25 years ago and his comrade, Shano Fitzgerald, Galesburg, Ill., (left), 31 years ago. Both are 47 years old and drive car number 47.

LEAD MAN is not always ahead in the auto races. Drivers jockey for position on the outside rail going into the turn, and the inside rail coming out of it. Straightened out and on the stretch, they pump fuel furiously with their left hands. Crowd along the fence in this shot has taken refuge from the pelting grease and dirt. The midway in the background boasts the famous Sally Rand show.

"BLUE BOY'S" SUCCESSOR, "GOLD LAD," needed relief from the heat. An electric fan was beamed on "Gold Lad's" snout. Carroll Anderson, Kellogg, sprinkled his 2 1/2-year old, 1000-pound, 1916 reserve grand champion bear about every fifteen minutes.

OLD CURETOL dominates the stage set miniature of the west approach to the Pentacrest on the University of Iowa campus. A wire recorder was demonstrated and a jar containing 250,000 units of penicillin was displayed along the photographic panels. Iowa State college, in another state board of education exhibit, displayed the western world's heaviest and purest casting of uranium. Opposite the educational booth was the fair art exhibit in which SUI artists figured prominently.

THIRTY-FOUR YEARS on the fair board, 23 years as superintendent of swine, is the record of Iowa City's E. T. Davis (left). He and Prof. Art Anderson of Iowa State college, admire the purebred Chester White bear of E. E. Williams, Iowa City.

ACRES OF PARKED CARS indicated record attendance. All time highs were established the first two days, slumped slightly thereafter, but stand to recover for a record-breaking fair total. Daily attendance was around 80,000 while temperatures hovered around 100-degrees. Everyone pays admission this year. Full stockpens, and demonstrations of new farm machinery mark the return of peacetime to the fair. Grandstand entertainments were back up to their prewar standard, according to some observers.

COLD DRINK VENDORS had some bad moments when the ice supply began to fall on the opening days of the fair. Relief was experienced when concessions received carloads of ice from Kansas City and elsewhere. A questionable dime's worth—shaved ice and colored flavoring in a paper cone—called "Snowballs" was apparently a good dime's worth judging from the number of customers. Today is last day of the 1947 fair. (Daily Iowan Photos by Bob Thompson).
