

Rain Cools Iowa City

Another of the long awaited rains came to Iowa City last night, starting at about 11:29 p.m., according to the weatherman.

The high and low temperature readings were 94 and 69 over yesterday. The temperature for Iowa City last night at 11:30 p.m. was 80 degrees.

South winds will continue today, and the day will be warm. A cold front, now in Nebraska, may or may not reach Iowa City, the weatherman said.

THE WEATHER TODAY

Cooler weather is predicted for the entire state of Iowa by tonight, with temperatures dropping to the mid-sixties. High today, however, will be around 90.

HITS U.S. ATOMIC 'TRUST'

Marshall Asks Quick Action To Aid Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall declared yesterday that some European countries will need American help this year "to meet the immediate threat of intolerable hunger and cold." He indicated that such help could not be given without a special session of congress, possibly in late October or November.

But Marshall stopped short of saying in so many words that a special session would have to be called.

In a news conference, Marshall also gave the following information on foreign affairs:

1. The American government is "gratified" at the formation of a coalition government in Greece which brings the Liberal and Populist parties into a single cabinet.
2. The United States is considering its next move in the Korean situation as a result of Russia's rejection Sunday of an invitation to attend a four power conference here on ways of restoring Korean unity.

The question of stop-gap aid to Europe has become "more immediate," Marshall said, due to the severity of last winter, bad droughts, increasing crop shortages and "restrictive financial measures which certain European governments have already been obliged to take."

Europe's immediate needs, Marshall said, "will clearly have to be given our urgent consideration and cannot await the completion of the broader study which the overall program demands."

'Return to Wartime Lend-Lease,' Bevin

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin, who called on the United States a week ago to distribute its $22,000,000,000 Fort Knox gold hoard throughout the world, recommended last night the revival of wartime American lend-lease to eliminate the chaos of European economic conditions.

"I do not mind whether it is lend-lease or that," Bevin told a group of visiting American legionnaires, referring to his proposal to redistribute "the Fort Knox gold."

"But all I say is this—that you can't get settlement in the world unless we get these economic conditions right."

Bevin's reference to the revival of lend-lease, the economic operation by which the United States helped finance and equip the allied armies and navies during World War II, was as brief and cryptic as his Sept. 3 proposal concerning the American gold stocks—a proposal which puzzled economists and government officials on both sides of the Atlantic.

It never was explained whether Bevin was speaking literally or symbolically about the Fort Knox gold and it was not determined until some time afterward that the Bevin gold idea was not to be connected in any way with the Marshall proposal for American aid for European reconstruction.

Marshall Plan Might Look Like Lend-Lease

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials said last night the Marshall plan to aid Europe might have some aspects of lend-lease in it by the time it finally developed.

But, these officials said, that if Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin suggested reviving lend lease as a speedy means of providing help to Europe before congress convenes, he is wrong.

The lend-lease act is officially dead, they pointed out, and specific congress authorization will be necessary to renew it in any form.

Little Hope for Plan Without World Trade

PARIS (AP)—U. S. Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton said yesterday "there is little hope" for success of the Marshall plan to aid Europe unless nations agree to reduce barriers to world trade.

Without this, Clayton said, whatever aid the United States extends to Europe under the plan will be no more than a "stop gap."

European Troubles Don't Hurry Truman; Hits Equator Today

ABOARD U.S.S. MISSOURI (AP)—Close associates of President Truman said yesterday there has been no discussion whatsoever of speeding up the Chief Executive's return to Washington in connection with reports of mounting economic troubles in Europe.

Meanwhile, Mr. Truman enjoyed the preliminary hi-jinks leading up to the traditional "crossing the equator" hazing ceremonies today.

As an advance taste of what the initiation rites may bring forth, a message from King Neptune formally "indicted" the President—who used to be a farmer—and his whole White House party as a "collection of lounge-lizards, sea-lawyers and plow deserters."

The mythical sea king's "order of the day" called for civilian initiates to garb themselves in bath towel turbans or baker's hats, loud shirts and garish neckties worn backwards, and wrong-side-front trousers with one leg rolled up.

Would Lend to British But Doubt Dollar Loans

LONDON (AP)—John J. McCloy, American president of the world bank, said last night that Americans were still willing to lend Europe money for "productive purposes" but were beginning to question whether dollar loans were the answer to Europe's problems.

His statement came as British leaders worked on a dollar-saving program of further curtailment in the military forces and plugged away with prospects of success at the industry-crippling Yorkshire coal strike—two phases of an economic situation which Winston Churchill said threatened "a winter of privation more severe than any we endured during the war."

Wainwright for Senate

DALLAS, Tex., (AP)—The Dallas Morning News says that a movement is under way to draft Gen. Jonathan Wainwright as a Democratic candidate for the U. S. senate next year to oppose the re-nomination of Senator W. Lee O'Daniel.

Wainwright retired as commander of the fourth army late last month.

General Wainwright was unavailable for comment.

World in Action—Around The Globe

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Major General Archer L. Lerch, military governor of U.S.-occupied south Korea, died today of a heart attack.

Death occurred at 7:45 a.m. The American commander became seriously ill August 29.

CHICAGO (AP)—The AFL executive council yesterday blamed Russia for "the turmoil and tensions that exist in many nations of Europe and Asia" and called for an immediate conference of the "Big Four" nations.

The council said the United Nations had failed as an organization to keep the peace, and proposed that President Truman, Premier Stalin and the heads of the British and French governments get together at once.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Firemen laboriously cut through the tangled wreckage of the river steamer "Island Queen," dragged the Monongahela river bottom, and sent divers into the murky stream yesterday seeking eight crew members missing after a terrific explosion and fire destroyed the boat yesterday.

Twelve bodies have been recovered, three of them unidentified. Thirteen of the 18 injured remain hospitalized.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declined yesterday to say whether he would run for president if nominated, though he "deplored" the organization of "draft Eisenhower" groups.

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—British officials in charge of the heavily-guarded camps for the 1947 Exodus Jews said last night the Jews were "being obstinate and giving us plenty of trouble."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's action in sending 4,311 Jewish refugees to Germany was protested by the United States, Secretary of State Marshall said yesterday.

He told a news conference that this government strongly disapproved and urged the British to reconsider the decision. The Jews had been intercepted on the ship "Exodus 1947" July 18 in an attempt to reach Palestine.

Gromyko Says UN Proposal 'Inacceptable'

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Russia charged yesterday that the United States is attempting to create a world atomic trust and dictate its atomic will on all nations. The United States denied the accusation as "false."

For 35 minutes Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, hurled charge after charge against the United States in the bitterest speech yet heard in any United Nations atomic energy organization.

He rejected the second report of the UN atomic energy commission, which was up for final action, as "completely unacceptable." He said the U.S. was trying to "undermine" attempts to achieve unanimous agreement on atomic control while at the same time voicing "high sounding" phrases for harnessing the atom.

The commission adjourned until today without a vote on the report.

In a statement to newsmen, the U.S. representative, Frederick H. Osborn called the Soviet accusations, in effect, "old stuff." Osborn said:

"The accusations made by Mr. Gromyko were in my opinion false.

"False statements are not made true by their repetition and this repetition has been going on for the past 12 months."

A U.S. spokesman said Osborn would ignore the Russian speech today in his comment on the report.

The occasion of the Russian attack on the U.S. position and motives was consideration by the atomic commission of a report setting forth principles involved in creating and operating an international atomic energy control system.

A majority of 10 delegates have indicated approval and in view of Gromyko's latest statement delegates said it was certain Russia and Poland would vote against it. The commission hopes to complete action today.

Stone U. S. Embassy

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Unruly crowds stoned the United States embassy and buildings housing American interests yesterday and students and bank employees paraded through the streets shouting "down with Yankee imperialism."

The demonstration was touched off by a United States note to the Colombian government seeking termination of certain privileges enjoyed by a merchant fleet owned jointly by Colombia, Venezuela and Ecuador.

Judge Drops Dignity; 'Tackles' New Duties

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Judge Samuel A. Weiss yesterday forgot his judicial dignity and remembered his days of college football as he used a flying tackle to bring down a man who had slugged a woman during a sidewalk argument.

"I just dove in," Judge Weiss reported as he ruefully surveyed his ripped suit and a battered left knee.

The judge, who is a professional football official and a former Duquesne university grid player, felled the man after a chase through downtown streets while amazed shoppers looked on.

The five-foot, four-inch common pleas judge said, "I saw the man hit the woman and blood gushed from her mouth. I ran toward him and he fled. I tackled him just beyond Market street."

Mystery Caller 'Most Popular' With Students

If anyone should care to — or dare to — hold a contest to determine "The Most Popular Person" as far as Cedar Rapids school children are concerned today, the odds are "sure" that a mysterious woman would corner at least 1,212 votes.

Such previous poll-winners as Babe Ruth, Roy Rogers and Frank Sinatra would find themselves running far behind a woman without a name whose only qualification seems to be that she knows how to use a telephone.

School had hardly re-convened following the summer holidays when it was vacation time again yesterday for the 1,212 students of Franklin high school in Cedar Rapids.

An anonymous phone call did the trick.

A woman, who can only be identified as the school children's friend, phoned the school saying she was calling from the board of education and directed that the school be dismissed because of the heat.

Following the phone call at 10 o'clock, classes were immediately dismissed and Malcolm Scott Hallman, principal of Franklin, who was on hand when the call came through innocently supervised the surprise dismissal.

First word that the unexpected recess was a fraud came from a meeting of the principals of the schools of the city with Superintendent of Schools Clyde Parker.

During the meeting Parker was deluged with calls from other schools saying that Franklin school had been dismissed and asking if they too should close scholastic shop.

Parker's response was voiced in the words: "We've been sabotaged."

It is believed that the mysterious caller also thoughtfully notified the school bus barns to send buses for the dismissed students, for they arrived at the school shortly after the group had been released from classes.

Cedar Rapids police have been called in to help trace the caller.

Expressing the feeling of the educators, Parker said, "We consider such an act as this far from being a prank.

"We will make every effort possible to locate the originator of the call and she will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law."

Although no students were canvassed for their opinions on the situation, it's hardly likely (unless we have a strange new generation) that they would reflect the anxious ire of the authorities.

The call probably came in response to many an unvoiced prayer of warm, still vacation-minded

Papers Ignore Lottery Laws

By The Associated Press

Taken to task by a postmaster for publishing a story about a man temporarily denied an automobile he won in a lottery, the St. Louis Star-Times served notice yesterday it would continue to publish such reports.

The Baltimore Sun papers executives also have been "cautioned" because the Sun carried a story about a drawing conducted by the city of Peoria, Ill. Sunpapers executives said they had not yet decided on a future policy.

Postoffice officials in Washington said warnings like those to the Star-Times and Sunpapers are routine. They disclaimed any "campaign" against newspapers carrying lottery stories.

students. Free to spend another day in such uncollegiate pursuits as swimming, movie-going and just plain loafing they are undoubtedly voicing prayers that the mysterious caller used a dial phone in a drug store.

Perhaps they could be heard comforting each other with "It isn't easy to trace a phone call, you know." Besides, the weather isn't nice like this at Thanksgiving and Christmas is a long ways off. There's many a school day between now and then.

Bums Down Cubs; Cards Clip Phillies

Chattin' with Chad

By CHAD BROOKS

Come next November 8, and the football Hawkeyes will invade Madison, Wisconsin, for their fifth conference gridiron battle of the year—and a game that should be their easiest of the league season.

The Badger football team, center-ring attraction at Madison each fall, just isn't going any place again this year—but over in the side-show one Harry Stuhldreher will entertain with his great balancing act once again, just to keep the fans interested.

Since Stuhldreher took over the Badger coaching duties 12 years ago, Wisconsin has finished in the glorified air of the Big Nine's first division only three times—and twice it was by the bare margin of a fourth place finish.

Only in 1942 were the Badgers a factor in the championship race. And that year Harry's boys pulled a late season collapse and had to settle for second place.

Every year the wolves have yelled long and loud for Harry's scalp—and every year Stuhldreher has held on for one more season. It will be much more interesting to follow his attempts to hold on again this season than it will be to watch the Badgers' futile efforts to win games.

On the playing side of the Wisconsin picture, things are certainly anything but rosy. Gone from the '46 team are the only two really good ball players—Halback Don Kindt and Center Fred Negus.

Returning are seven of last year's regulars—four of them in the line.

Tom Bennett at left end, Dick Loeffe at a tackle and Guards Ken Currier and Jerry Frei are of the four veterans up front. But only Currier has proved to be of top flight Big Nine caliber. The rugged guard should be one of the year's greats.

Rounding out the seven starters in the Badger forward wall will probably be End Hank Olshanski, a minor letter winner in 1942 who has been in the service since; Bob Freud, reserve tackle last fall, and Bob Wilson, number two center on the '46 team.

The three returning backs, Quarterback Jack Wink, Right Half Clarence Self and Fullback Earl Maves, will team with wartime star Jug Girard to give Stuhldreher an adequate backfield combination.

Wink, who first lettered with the great 1942 Badgers, is a smart field general and a rugged blocker. Will be very good when the Badgers use their old Notre Dame "box" offense, but can't pass well enough to be of much use in the new "T".

Self, a 180 pound junior, is neither big nor fast—but then Stuhldreher can't be too choosy.

Maves, a veteran of both the '42 and '46 Badgers, is a powerful fullback who has never quite lived up to his terrific promise. Was the most successful Wisconsin ground-gainer last year.

But the only real Badger hopes for an occasional 1947 grid victory ride with this boy Girard. He broke into Wisconsin football history in 1944 as a freshman and amazed everyone with his passing and kicking.

He then went into the army and served in the European theater before being discharged this spring.

Could be an All-American playing on a good team—has a chance for all-conference honors playing with the 1947 Badgers.

On the roundup, the line is very weak, the backfield is talented, Girard's passing could help make them tough once in a while.

Probable finish—eighth.

Irish Claim Iowa Sell-Out

Escapee Enrolls to Play for Dr. Eddie

A mental patient escaped from the Veteran's hospital, Downey, Ill., appeared in Iowa City Tuesday to enroll in the university and play football for Dr. Eddie.

John Porter, 26, Warrensville, Ill., was taken into custody in the registrar's office by Patrolmen O. A. White and Gus Stimmel when he attempted to register for the fall session, police said.

Police had been notified by the man's father of his intent to enter the university.

Porter became violent when told he was being returned to the hospital following arrangements by the Red Cross.

Blackwell Injured, Shelled by Braves, 8-0

CINCINNATI (AP)—Boston hit Ewell Blackwell and three succeeding Cincinnati pitchers for 15 hits, including two home runs, yesterday to win the final game of the season between the clubs as the veteran Clyde Shoun held his old teammates to five hits in registering an 8-0 shutout.

Blackwell, who was knocked from the box by the St. Louis Cards in the fourth inning last Sunday, left yesterday's game in the seventh after Shoun had singled. He was holding his side as if it hurt him as he left the mound. The Braves had pounded him for nine hits and two runs.

7th Inning Blast Stops Chicago, 5-1

CHICAGO (AP)—Brooklyn experimented with Jackie Robinson in the clean-up spot, but it was a team job of power hitting and brilliant fielding which pulled the league-leading Dodgers over the budding slump with a 5-1 win over the Chicago Cubs yesterday.

A three-run punch in the seventh inning, including a two-marker homer by Little Eddie Stanky, clinched the Dodgers' finale at Wrigley field and ended a three-game losing streak.

The triumph, 15th over the Cubs in the season's 22 meetings, temporarily put the Dodgers five games in front of second-place St. Louis booked against Philadelphia in a night game at St. Louis.

The deciding tally came in the seventh, with the score knotted at 1-1, when Dixie Walker opened with a double and scampered home on Spider Jorgensen's two-bagger. Then Stanky banged his homer, his third of the season.

Robinson, making his first appearance as a clean-up batter, collected a pair of singles in five trips and scored the fifth Dodger run in the eighth with a brilliant base-running display. Jackie singled, stole second by a mile, loafed to third on an infield out and then raced home on an infield out with a sprint that caught the Cubs napping. His theft was Robinson's 25th of the season.

Joe Hatten got his 14th win against eight defeats, but he wasn't around at the finish. Fireman Hugh Casey, who came to Joe's rescue in the seventh, was aided by two fielding gems by center-fielder Carl Furillo.

Cards Paste Phils Behind Brazle, 4-1

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Nicking Philadelphia hurler Dutch Leonard for a run at a time the St. Louis Cardinals went on to a 4-1 victory over the Phils behind the four-hit pitching of Al Brazle. The triumph keeps the Redbirds four and a half games behind the league leader Brooklyn club which won yesterday.

The Phils got the first run in the top of the second on errors by Erv Dusak and Marty Marion after Buster Adams and Lee Handley started the rally with singles—Adams making the score.

The Brides came back fast, getting Ron Northey on base when Howie Schultz let Northey's grounder get through him. Morion came up with the first of his three hits, this one a triple, sending Northey across the plate.

Brownie Spurge Routs Athletics for Sanford

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Five runs in the fifth inning carried the St. Louis Browns to an 8-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in their final appearance of the season here yesterday. Walt Judnich and Jeff Heath each contributed two-run homers to the winning cause, while Sam Chapman slammed one for the A's.

Fred Sanford hurled his sixth triumph by limiting the Macks to five safeties, while Dick Fowler was charged with his 11th defeat. Fowler gave up nine hits before leaving the game with one out in the seventh. Carl Scheib relieved and yielded four more hits before the finish.

Page Hurls Yanks To Win Over Tribe

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Page trudged out of the bull pen for the 51st time of the season yesterday and hurled the New York Yankees to a 7 to 4 decision over the Cleveland Indians that stretched the victors' American league lead to 12½ games as Boston lost to Detroit.

Any combination now of six Yankee victories or Red Sox defeats will clinch the 1947 pennant for the New Yorkers.

Vic Raschi started for the New Yorkers but was sent to the showers in the sixth. The southpaw reliever then allowed one hit and fanned six in three and a third innings.

Kiner Hits 2 Homers; Giants Nip Bucs, 3-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Husky Ralph Kiner belted two homers for the Pirates yesterday but the New York Giants came from behind to beat Pittsburgh, 3-2, yesterday for their fifth consecutive victory and their third straight over the Bucs.

Kiner's two four-baggers gave him a total of 43 for the year and moved him within three of New York's Johnny Mize, the major league leader. Mize was held hitless in four trips to the plate.

Bosox Blank Detroit, 5-0

BOSTON, (AP)—Scattering eight hits and working his best in the tight spots, Freddie Hutchinson yesterday hurled the Detroit Tigers to a 5-0 shutout victory over the Red Sox before 9,253 paid fans. The triumph moved Detroit within a half game of the second place Sox.

Seven of the nine Detroit hits were off the delivery of starting and losing Boston Pitcher Earl Johnson in less than three innings. Fritz Dorish replaced Lefty Earl in the third with one out and pitched one hit ball through the eighth inning.

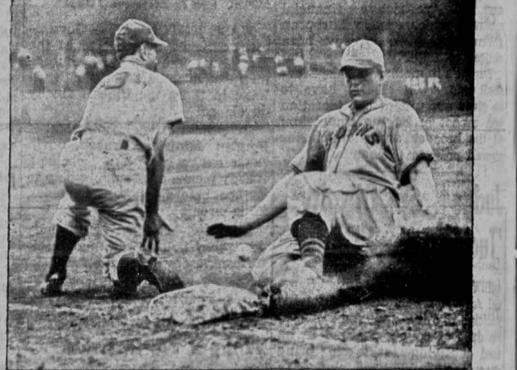

Skeeter Webb's double and Bob Swift's single were good for a run in the second.

Singles by Ed Mierkowitz, Jimmy Outlaw and George Kell and Hoot Evers' double gave the Tigers three more in the third.

The winners added their fifth run at the expense of Bob Klingler, third Boston pitcher, in the ninth. Eddie Lake walked and scored on Roy Cullenbine's triple off the grandstand wall in right field.

The Sox threatened in the eighth when they filled the bases with two out but Ted Williams, the league's leading batter who was hitless all day, skied out to short.

Iowa's Corn Crop 'Poorest Since 1936 Drouth'

Heat Kills 40 Million Bushels; State Ranks Below Illinois

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa's corn crop, on the basis of Sept. 1 conditions, will be the state's poorest since the 1936 drouth, the Iowa crop and livestock reporting service said yesterday.

The hot, dry August weather withered production 40,000,000 bushels in 15 days to an estimated total of 347,340,000 bushels compared to the Aug. 15 estimate of 387,030,000 bushels.

Thus, for the first time since 1936, heat-plagued Iowa dropped from first place among the country's leading corn-producing states. Illinois, which usually runs second to Iowa in corn production, had a Sept. 1 estimate of 351,930,000 bushels compared to Iowa's 347,340,000 bushels, the lowest since 1936.

The 40,000,000-bushel drop, considerably greater than the national drop of 33,000,000 bushels was the figure which put Iowa second to Illinois.

The soy bean crop stood the hot and dry weather of the last six to eight weeks better than corn. The crop was placed at 30,719,000 bushels as of Sept. 1, compared with 34,960,000 bushels harvested last year. This is higher than the 1936-1945 average.

The estimated yield per acre for 1947 corn was placed at 35 bushels, which was seven bushels less than the Aug. 1 estimate. The prospective crop is 48 percent below the 1946 record production of 661,620,000 bushels.

"Because of lighter soils," the reporting service said, "parts of the south central, southeast and northeast areas have been the hardest hit, and field travel indicates that at least 10 percent of the acreage in these areas will not produce any grain corn worth harvesting."

The service said the corn crop was "very uneven and spotted even within fields."

"There will not be much of a soft corn problem, the service reported, with the keeping quality of the corn "materially improved at the expense of yield."

"There has not been moisture enough to properly fill the ears, and kernels will be shallow, test weight will be light with a low shelling percentage," the reporting service said.

About 60 percent of Mexico's population is of mixed Indian and European descent.

Rep. Martin Warns: Watch Your Taxes

Representative Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City gave members of the Lions club a short lesson in constitutional history yesterday.

Speaking at the regular weekly meeting of the Lions in Reich's pine room, Martin sketched the background and development of the U.S. constitution.

In conclusion, Martin remarked about taxation and the nation's fiscal program.

"I am not worried about this nation and its existence as long as we keep our bearings," he said. "But we still have a need for watchfulness, particularly with regard to taxation."

Martin went on to say that he was particularly interested in taxation because he, as a member of the ways and means committee, came into very close contact with the nation's tax program.

"The power to tax is the power to destroy," Martin told the Lions. "With an unlimited tax schedule we can, while purporting to carry out existing powers, destroy the substance and stability of the nation."

PAST PRESIDENTS' PARLEY—Past Presidents' parley will meet with Mrs. William Edwards, 911 E. Washington street at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Shortage Will Cause Higher Food Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Still higher food prices were predicted by government officials today as the agriculture department estimated that the badly-damaged corn crop will total only 2,493,913,000 bushels, smallest yield since the 1936 drouth year.

"This is about 27 percent under last year's crop of 3,287,927,000 bushels. Today's forecast, based on conditions as of Sept. 1, compares with an estimate of 2,437,000,000 bushels made on Aug. 15.

On the other hand, today's monthly crop report estimated that the amount of wheat yielded by the nation's farms will be the greatest in history—1,408,602,000 bushels.

The short corn crop, agriculture department economists said, will be reflected ultimately in higher prices for meat, poultry and dairy products.

The lack of corn to feed cattle, hogs and chickens to marketable weights will force farmers to use millions of bushels of wheat for their animals instead of selling it on the market.

Already warned that the United States cannot continue its present rate of overseas grain shipments, the world's hungry nations can expect, officials predicted, an almost immediate review of this country's export commitments.

The agriculture department reported that prospective yields of

Orders Release Of Ex-Wac

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—A final order for the release of Ex-WAC Capt. Kathleen Nash Durant from the Alderson, W.Va., Reformatory for Women on $5,000 bond was signed yesterday by U.S. District Judge Ben Moore.

District attorney Leslie E. Given notified the court that the government might appeal Judge Moore's decision in a habeas corpus proceeding that Mrs. Durant was a civilian and not subject to an army court martial.

She was convicted by court martial in Germany and sentenced to five years for complicity in the theft of the Hesse crown jewels.

Sanitary Check 'Commendable'

But Infractions Are Found in Some Places

A sanitary check of 15 city restaurants, taverns and drug stores yesterday by City Health Commissioner Dr. D. F. Fitzpatrick and Health Inspector Charles J. Schindler, brought a report of conditions generally "commendable."

However, "a few" infractions of state and city regulations were found, the commissioner stated. It was requested that corrections be made in these cases.

He promised a "follow-up" inspection to see that recommendations were carried out. "Not a fly-by-night proposition," is the way the inspection was described.

"There is no place where we found a strict violation of the law but . . . perhaps some carelessness," he said.

Present phase of the inspection will not be completed for another few weeks, it was indicated. All establishments in the city that handle food, especially perishable food, will be thoroughly examined, Dr. Fitzpatrick promised. There would be no exceptions.

Scheduled for examination are all drugstores, grocery stores, hotels, restaurants, taverns, candy stores and where ever else food is handled. Inspections will be made at irregular intervals throughout the year by the commissioner.

"We hope to have it (the present check) completed by the time the university opens," he said. University classes begin September 22.

Schindler said he was "really pleased" with the results of the day's work and he noted some improvement had been made in sanitation. Inspections are made by the city inspector every 30 days.

Both men agreed sanitary conditions here would measure up to those in most cities in the state.

Noting that the food problem here is complicated by the number of transients, students and tourists passing through the city, the health commissioner said he intended to see there is "good food for our own citizens and also for the transients."

Taft-Hartley Act Supporter Captures Congressional Seat

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Complete returns from the 8th Pennsylvania congressional district election showed yesterday a 17,602 vote plurality for Republican Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, supporter of the Taft-Hartley labor act. Republican leaders of the state and nation hailed the result as a victory in the first test of public sentiment on the new law.

The 37-year-old speaker of the state house of representatives received 47,780 votes to 30,178 for Democrat Phil H. Storch, 36, president of the CIO-Lehigh Valley newspaper guild.

Mrs. Robert Hoyt

BERNADETTE LYON, daughter of Mrs. J.C. Lyon, Cedar Falls, was married to Robert Hoyt, Denver, Colo., in St. Patrick's church, Cedar Falls, on Saturday, Sept. 6. The Rev. J. Mauer celebrated the nuptial Mass. Attending the couple were Maureen McGivern, A4, Iowa City, Helen Zimmerman, Waterloo, and James Hoyt, Detroit, Mich., the bridegroom's brother. A reception for about one hundred friends was held at the bride's home following the ceremony. Mrs. Hoyt was graduated from the State University of Iowa school of Journalism in June, 1946. She is employed as a feature writer for the Denver Register, Denver, Colo. Her husband was graduated from St. Norbert's college in West De Pere, Wis. He is sports editor of the Denver Register. After a wedding trip the couple will be at home at 2024 Vine street, Denver.

230 Receive Places on New Waiting List for SUI Housing

A total of 230 applications have been made for married student quarters to be applied to the new waiting list in the housing office, Mrs. Imelda C. Murphy, housing director, said yesterday.

The new list was opened at 8 a.m. yesterday and only "a handful" of students were waiting at Old Capitol's doors to sign for quarters, Mrs. Murphy said.

Thirty-five applications were made in person and 195 out-of-town requests have been received in the mail, she explained.

Describing housing facilities as "chock full," T. M. Rehder, director of dormitories said that future assignments (from the new waiting list) will depend on openings created when present occupants vacate their apartments or trailers.

He cautioned that applicants on this list should not expect to get housing this fall.

Total temporary housing will accommodate 931 married couples and their families when construction is completed in mid-September.

Housing officials have indicated that undergraduate women and married students will be hardest hit by the lack of quarters.

An off-campus housing drive, August 1-16, aimed at finding more quarters for the above two groups, drew a total of 68 responses from townspeople. This number fell short of the goal sought. Richard Sweitzer of the housing office said there was still an urgent need for 400 to 500 rooms in order to house the expected record fall enrollment.

Joe Dolezal Heads Iowa Police Assn.

Assistant Police Chief Joe Dolezal is the new president of the Iowa state policemen's association.

Formerly first vice-president of the organization, Dolezal was elected at the association's annual convention in Burlington, September 8, 9, 10. He succeeds Leo Allstot, Mason City.

Iowa City delegates who attended the convention were James J. Dalton and William J. Holland, patrolmen. Dolezal attended in the capacity of first vice president, an office he was elected to last year.

Dolezal joined the Iowa City police force in 1926. Before the war he served as a director of the state association. In 1929 he was promoted to night captain on the Iowa City force, and in 1935 he became assistant chief of police.

Dolezal's duties as president will require him to preside at the next association convention, meeting in Waterloo next September, and also at interim meeting of the board of directors.

Purpose of the organization, he said, is "for the betterment of our pension system and the protection of our civil service rights."

The state auxiliary's president, elected at the convention, is Mrs. Robert Lazonby of Clinton. The Iowa City local has no auxiliary.

Other officers chosen at Burlington are Glen Walters, Cedar Rapids, first vice-president; Lester Donaldson, Ames, second vice-president; George Kean, Sioux City, secretary-treasurer, and John Davis, Dubuque and Harold Berneman, Waterloo, directors.

Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Evelyn Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland F. Thompson, Tama, to John A. Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Montgomery, Corydon.

The wedding took place Saturday, Sept. 6, in the Coralville Bible church. Mr. Rudolph Messerli, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Montgomery is a graduate of the State University of Iowa.

school of nursing and has been employed at the University hospital. After a short trip, the couple will be at home in Iowa City, where Mr. Montgomery will be enrolled in the university.

City School Enrollment Increases 55

Enrollment in the eight public Iowa City schools reached 2,186—55 higher than last year—as the first week of classes began. Further increases are expected in the next two or three years, Superintendent Iver A. Opstad said yesterday.

Parochial school enrollment 613, was over last year's 609, it was also reported yesterday.

City high school's enrollment stood at 737, with 44 more students this year than last. Principal Ralph A. Austermler believed that classes might possibly be added in English, Spanish and history. The freshman classes, he said, were filled immediately.

Although no quick increase is expected, Opstad believes that G.I. babies are "as good a guess as any" as reason for the expected enrollment rise during the next few years. Also, there will be increase due to general community expansion, Opstad said, with establishment of the veterans' hospital contributing to the increase.

St. Patrick's parochial school, according to the sister superior, has 313, under last year's enrollment of 326. St. Mary's school has 300, an increase over last year's 283.

Although the sister superior of St. Mary's was unable to give the exact figures, she said some students were turned down for lack of facilities.
