

Hated School—Kills Self

POLSOM, Mont. (AP)—A coroner's jury decided yesterday that a 15-year-old Flathead Indian reservation boy shot and killed himself because he hated to go to school. Testimony brought out that Louis Ashley objected to school, and when caught "playing hooky" Tuesday was told he would have to return to classes. Instead, the youth went to a bunkhouse near here, got a .22 caliber rifle and shot himself in the head.

SILENCE SLOT MACHINES

President Smiles While Aides Smart

ABOARD THE U. S. S. MISSOURI, (AP)—President Truman faced the awful wrath of King Neptune and talked himself out of it, but top White House aides got "the works" in traditional cross-the-equator hazing ceremonies yesterday.

While Mr. Truman chuckled gleefully, his dignified military and diplomatic aides ran the gamut of punishment meted out by King Neptune's minions.

Willy-nilly, they clutched electrified "shocking" ladders, gulped noxious fluids, got smeared with paint and grease, submitted to mustard massages, smarted under violent paddling, and were ignominiously tossed backward from chairs into a dunking tank.

As the age-old rites progressed, marking the transition from land-lubber "polliwogs" to full-fledged "shellbacks" who have crossed the equator, it came Mr. Truman's own turn to face the baleful glare of leering King Neptune.

Among other things, he had been indicted by the mythological god of the seas as "a vile land-lubber and polliwog."

With deadpan solemnity, Mr. Truman began to plead his case. He had no "adequate defense," he said, to the charges against him. "I sincerely hope that you will be as merciful as possible to these poor polliwogs," he went on, gesturing to his aides. "They have no prerogative—not until they arrive back in the United States."

"But the commander-in-chief of the navy does have a prerogative which he does not intend to use, however."

Mrs. Truman escaped punishment, and daughter Margaret was required only to sing "Anchors Aweigh" with a sextet of polliwog seamen.

Storm Nears Truman Ship

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A severe tropical storm was whirling across the Atlantic last night in a west-northwestward path at about 15 miles per hour, apparently increasing in intensity, the weather bureau reported.

The storm was moving on a route that would cross the path of the battleship Missouri, returning President Truman from the Rio De Janeiro conference but that were nearly 1,000 miles apart.

The weather advisory said the storm was attended by winds of about 60 miles per hour near the center and gales extended outward to about 100 miles from the center.

It was expected to reach hurricane intensity last night and to continue its west-northwestward course.

The Big "M" was miles away from the storm, but unless she reduces speed apparently was headed for rough, but not necessarily dangerous weather.

Report 18 Killed In Ocean Explosion

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Eighteen men were killed and 34 others "terribly burned" by an engine room explosion aboard the refitted British luxury liner Reina del Pacifico last night, a doctor who attended the men reported early today.

The doctor said 15 were killed outright and three others died before they reached shore. He expressed doubt that all of the injured would survive.

The explosion ripped through the 17,702-ton motorliner, whose name in English means "Queen of the Pacific," during a trial run in the Irish sea after being reconditioned from wartime troop service.

There have been no reports as to the cause of the blast. The coxswain of a lifeboat which brought some of the injured ashore said earlier he believed 20 persons were dead and 80 injured.

Fight Costs With Chain-Phone-Calls

Prices Spiral As Protests Gain Strength

CHICAGO, (AP)—A chain-telephone-call buyers strike and union operated retail stores were thrown into the fight against rising food costs yesterday, but prices of several important household budget items continued their upward spiral.

The price situation attracted comment from such varied groups as a senatorial committee, which said it saw some reductions possible, and a clergyman who planned to take up the problem with his parishioners at a prayer meeting.

In Washington, Sen. Myers (D-Pa.) urged a special session of congress in early November to deal with the soaring cost of living and problems of aid for europe. Export demands have been a major factor in driving up domestic food costs.

Meanwhile, hogs at Chicago advanced to a new record high. Butter, eggs, sugar and cocoa also raced up the price ladder, but grains tumbled while cattle barely held steady.

Here were the day's developments: In Springfield, Ohio, Mrs. Nellie Strong, a 31-year-old woman confined to her home with rheumatic fever, inaugurated a chain-telephone call buyers strike. She is asking each person she calls to make five calls to other persons, urging consumers to strike against rising prices.

Mrs. Strong called upon the city's clergy to aid her and the Rev. H. B. Hughes of the First Church of Nazarene said he would ask the support of his congregation at a prayer meeting.

In Detroit, two locals of the CIO United Auto Workers entered the grocery business. A local at Briggs Manufacturing company announced it would open a store Sept. 20 for its 16,000 members. Ford's Highland Park local established a store for its 10,000 members last Saturday.

"We are thoroughly disgusted with the lack of government action in harnessing runaway prices," Anthony Cerwinski, president of the Briggs local executive board, said.

In Washington, Senators Flanders (R-Vt.) and Baldwin (R-Conn.) said they expected the congressional investigation of prices to bring about some reductions in the cost of food and clothing.

"We are hopeful that if it is true that there are any unconscionable profiteers they will be warned by this investigation," Senator Baldwin said. Several senatorial groups are conducting the price investigation in various parts of the country.

In Vienna, Ga., Senator George (D-Ga.) predicted there would be no return to price controls, but said there is a possibility of rigid controls over exports. He said any broad foreign relief program will result in keeping prices up in this country.

An implied warning that American grain exports must be reduced has been sent embassies in 20 countries, Lincoln White, press officer of the state department, disclosed. He revealed that the embassies had been informed of prospective short corn and oats crops.

In Washington, Italian Ambassador Alberto Tarchiani discussed Italy's grain needs with Assistant Secretary of state Norman Armour. Tarchiani gave Armour a copy of a speech made Wednesday by Italian Premier Alcide DeGasperi, in which the Premier said Italy's grain allocations were "absolutely insufficient".

Larger American shipments were urged. White corn reached $3.00 a bushel at Omaha, a new record. This is a scarce type of corn, most corn being of the yellow variety. At Chicago cash corn dropped 1 to 4 cents a bushel.

State Order Puts Clamps On Gambling

'Nobody Here But Us Chickens,' Say City Club Operators

The jingle of hundreds of dollars in nickles, dimes, and quarters in Iowa City slot machines was virtually silenced last night following a "crackdown order" issued earlier this month by the state attorney general.

Slot machines in various local veterans' and private clubs had either disappeared completely or were locked in steel cabinets.

Attorney General Robert L. Larson told Iowa's 99 county attorneys in letters mailed from his office September 3 that "laws prohibiting gambling in the state of Iowa must be enforced."

"As attorney general of Iowa, I, therefore, request you and all law enforcement offices of your county to take such action that may be advisable and necessary to enforce the laws relating to gambling and gambling devices," the letter said.

The "there ain't nobody here but us chickens" attitude prevailed when questions about the who and why angle of the local shut-down were asked.

Johnson County Attorney Jack C. White said yesterday he "understood" all clubs had discontinued use of their slot machines, but said he knew of no concerted drive to stop them in Iowa City. He said no raids or arrests had been made.

White said he thought the slot machines might stay locked up for some time.

However, the manager of one Iowa City veterans club said that he had "heard" a county order had been issued to halt the machines at midnight last night.

Internal revenue records Nov. 30, 1946 showed 844 federal permits for "coin operated gambling devices" had been issued to private clubs, lodges, veterans' organizations, etc. in the state of Iowa.

The record showed that these clubs operated 2,900 "one armed bandits."

State law forbids possession of slot machines.

However, the 1947 Iowa legislature passed a law authorizing two percent tax on slot operated devices. This new move will therefore, cut down revenue which the state would be collecting.

Larson's letter specifically stated that the recent legislature did not legalize such devices as slot machines when it passed the tax law.

The American legion club had removed its slot machines Wednesday night.

Fairview golf course by Wednesday afternoon had locked up its slot machines and the local Amvet's club was not operating its machines yesterday afternoon.

The VFW's post 2581 locked up its machines yesterday and the Moose lodge club rooms had no machines in sight yesterday afternoon.

Manager of the Eagles club said last night, "There are no slot machines up here."

The VFW's post 3949 seemed to have missed the boat because the bartender there last night reported machines in his club were still in operation.

Authoritative sources say that the Elks lodge had removed its slot machines last night.

Runaway Bus Kills Girl

CHICAGO (AP)—A young woman was crushed to death yesterday and 40 persons were injured when a double-deck bus went out of control and crashed into a stalled bus which had discharged its passengers.

Most of the injured had been passengers on the stalled bus, also a double-decker, and were clustered around the vehicle on Lake Shore drive waiting for the approaching bus to pick them up. Both were Chicago Motor Coach company buses.

Wallace Attacks Foreign Policy

General Punctures 'Draft Ike' Moves

NEW YORK (AP)—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday again disavowed efforts to draft him as Republican candidate for the presidency but his remarks shed no light on whether he would reject a nomination offer.

At a news conference at Columbia university, whose president he will become next year when he retires from the army, Eisenhower characterized any draft movement in American politics as "an artificial stimulant."

He underscored his comments by asserting "I do not think a man who has been a professional soldier should be in any political capacity. I do not think it is good for the army and it is not good for the soldier."

The purpose of his three-day trip here, he said, was "to get better acquainted with Columbia and look around the surrounding country for a place where my wife and I can settle down."

Declining to elaborate on his remarks concerning politics, Eisenhower said, "the job at Columbia is big enough to challenge the capacity of any man."

Epidemics Break Out In Punjab Kasur Camp

NEW DELHI (AP)—The first outbreaks of long-feared epidemic disease were reported in the refugee camps of the Punjab yesterday as communal rioting dwindled in Old and New Delhi.

A high military spokesman said 400 cases of cholera, with a 10 percent mortality rate, were reported in the Kasur refugee camp near Lahore, which is in the Moslem section of the Punjab.

Miners' Vote Ends Wildcat Coal Strike

LONDON (AP)—A wildcat coal strike that had crippled industries and deepened Britain's economic gloom was settled yesterday with a back-to-work vote of Grime-thorpe colliery workers in Yorkshire.

Two thousand workers voted unanimously to end the five-week walkout next Monday. Labor sources said the 38,000 who were still striking in sympathy would go back to work automatically.

Sees Entire World Run by Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry A. Wallace said last night that "under the present administration Wall street is all set to run the world."

He told a Madison Square Garden rally sponsored by the Progressive Citizens of America:

"Under the Republicans Wall street ran America; under the present administration Wall street is all set to run the world."

Speaking on the eve of the anniversary of his address last September attacking American foreign policy which resulted in his ouster from President Truman's cabinet Wallace again lashed out at the administration's foreign program, charging it was dominated by investment bankers and military men.

He also singled out former President Herbert Hoover, saying: "Forty-six days after the death of Franklin Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover was welcomed at the White House. Two years later it is Hoover's thinking which guides our foreign policy."

Wallace reiterated that he intended to "work within the Democratic party," but he did not close the door completely on a third party.

"If the Democratic party is a war party, if my party continues to attack civil liberties, if both parties stand for high prices and depression—then the people must have a new party of liberty and peace."

Wallace said "the Russia haters won an overwhelming victory in the congressional elections" of last November, commenting that "so decisive was their victory that the Democratic administration decided it would try to out-red-bait the red-baiting Republicans."

But, he declared, "the war-with-Russia hysteria is a propaganda weapon of reactionary capitalism. We are paying for it at home in high prices and economic instability. People the world over are paying for it in an armament race which is criminal in a world that can't stand another war."

Atom Body Reports Despite Russ 'No'

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The United Nations atomic energy commission disregarded bitter Russian opposition yesterday and approved its second report stating general principles for creation and operation of an international atomic control agency.

The roll-call vote was 10 to 1. Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko said "No" and Poland abstained.

Canada, the United States, France, Britain, Brazil, China, Belgium, Australia, Colombia and Syria made up the majority.

The ballot came after the United States' Frederick H. Osborn answered a volley of Russian charges with a counter-charge that the Soviet Union had impeded the work of the commission since its start 15 months ago.

The result showed clearly that Russia would veto—unless she reverses policy—any atomic treaty based on the principles approved by the majority in this report.

Student Kills Young Bride

DENVER, (AP)—Murder charges were filed yesterday against Charles E. Geiser, Jr., 23, who told police he recited "until death do us part" as he blasted five bullets into his 17 year old bride of less than three weeks.

Deputy District Attorney Raymond E. Banks recommended the Denver university student be held without bail.

Geiser said in a signed statement to Det. Sgt. Arthur Shotwell, that he punctuated each word of the marriage vow with a blast from the pistol pointed at Gertrude (Sue) Geiser, a car hop from Kansas he wooed after she waited on him in an eating place. She died almost immediately of wounds in the face and arms.

Fourteen year old Sylvia McNabb, sister of the slain girl, witnessed the shooting in Mrs. Geiser's one room apartment where she lived after separating from Geiser three days after their Aug. 22 wedding.

Geiser after the shooting notified a woman friend who summoned police.

Chinese Communists Release American Pilot

TSINGTAO, China (AP)—Lt. Richard A. Winters, U.S. marine corps pilot, returned safely to Tsingtao yesterday after having been held by Chinese Communists since his plane was forced down by bad weather on the Shantung coast Aug. 27.

The U.S. navy announced that release of the Gordon, Neb., flier followed protracted negotiations with the Communists.

Angry Crowd Hurls Rocks at Consulate

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The American consulate was stoned without any damage being done, the statue of Ferdinand de Lesseps, Suez canal builder, damaged and an attempt made to burn the British consulate yesterday by crowds of angry Port Said Egyptians protesting at failure of the U.N. security council to oust British troops from the Nile valley.

An American witness said the crowd was "composed mainly of kids who were having a grand time throwing rocks without knowing whether their target was American or something else."

JAMES H. DAVIS, 22-year-old marine, rests in a Washington hospital after jubilant antics caused a fractured ankle yesterday. Lavagetto's Run-Scoring Hit Gives Ralph Branca 20th Win

By JACK HAND
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Cookie Lavagetto's single with the bases loaded and one out in the eighth inning scored Carl Furillo with the run that gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the opener of their crucial three-game series last night and increased the Dodgers' first place lead over the Cards to five and a half games.

The tense struggle, witnessed by 9,452 fans lasted two hours and 54 minutes as the lead see-sawed between the two contenders with Harry Brecheen, the 1946 World Series hero, and Young Ralph Branca, the Dodgers' 21-year-old flash, hooking up in a duel that finally provided Branca with his 20th victory.

Neither Brecheen nor Branca was around at the finish. The Cat having been knocked out of the box by Lavagetto's hit in the eighth. Branca, in and out of jams all evening, followed Brecheen to the showers in the same inning after two successive singles had put him in trouble.

Lavagetto's single was a fast-dropping fly ball that Enos Slaughter couldn't reach in left field, propelling Carl Furillo across the plate with the big run of the evening. Furillo opened the inning with a single to center. After Bruce Edwards grounded out, Dixie Walker walked.

A costly error by Rookie Second Baseman Nippy Jones filling in for the injured Red Schoendienst, set the stage for Cook's blow. Marty Marion scooped up Pee Reese's hard smash at deep short and threw to Jones in an attempt to force Walker but Jones dropped the ball. Lavagetto, batting for Spider Jorgensen, then earned his year's pay check.

Howie Pollet followed Brecheen to the mound after Lavagetto's winner but he was too late while Hank Behrman, the fellow Pittsburgher couldn't use, throttled the Red Birds after replacing Branca when the champs threatened in the eighth.

Branca yielded two runs in the second, both his own fault, on singles by Enos Slaughter, Ron Northey, his own wild throw, a hit batsman, a wild pitch and a double play that scored a run.

Jackie Robinson's 10th homer, with Ed Stanky on base, squared matters in the fifth and the Brooks broke out front in the seventh on Jorgensen's double followed by an intentional pass to Robinson and Pete Reiser's run-producing single.

Back came the Cards to tie the score on Jones' first major league homer, a 400-foot smash high into the left field bleachers.

With the all-important opener in the bat bag, Manager Burt Shotton of the Brooks said he probably would start Hal Gregg winner of three and loser of five against George Mungler (14-4) in tonight's game. With a 5 1/2 game lead and only 15 to play, the Dodgers counted the day a success.

Brecheen had a no-hitter until Furillo singled with one out in the fourth but he had walked two to the third. In the third Robinson and Card Catcher Joe Garagiola appeared to have words as the Dodger first sacker came to the plate. Garagiola whipped off his mask and started jawing but plate Umpire Butch Reardon stepped in to take charge. When Coach Clyde Sikeford rushed to the plate to protest, Reardon shoved him away and resumed play after a tense interlude.

Boxing Bouts Cancelled

The boxing bouts scheduled for Kelley field last night were cancelled due to the rain and will be held next Thursday night, Bob Rossie Sr., local promoter, announced yesterday.

Pirate Star Ties Mize at 47

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ralph Kiner hit four home runs to tie New York Giant Johnny Mize for the National league leadership at 47-all and to spark the Pittsburgh Pirates to a double victory, 4-3 and 10-8, over the Boston Braves before 7,010 yesterday at Forbes field. Mize also got his 47th yesterday.

Kiner Hits Four Homers Paces Bucs In Twin Win

The opener went 13 innings, Kirby Higbe going the distance for the Bucs and winning his own game with a home run off Johnny Sain in the final frame.

Kiner hit one home run in the first game but outdid himself in the nightcap, in which he smashed out three circuit clouts in the first five innings to drive in six Pirate runs.

He went three for six in the opener hitting a single, a double and his first home run of the afternoon. In the nightcap the slugger had three for four and all of them were homers.

Bill Voiselle started the second game for the Braves but lasted through only 3 1/2 innings before he was relieved by Walt Lanfranconi. During Voiselle's stay on the mound he gave up seven hits and five runs. Lanfranconi hung around for 1 1/2 innings, just long enough for him to lose the game.

Elmer Singleton relieved Ernie Bonham for the Bucs in the fourth and was the winning pitcher. Bonham was shelled for five runs and eight hits in the first three innings.

Boxing Split With Tribe, Hold Lead Over Detroit

BOSTON (AP)—The second place Boston Red Sox split a twin bill with the Cleveland Indians yesterday and thereby maintained a half game edge over the third rung Detroit Tigers who divided two with the front running Yankees.

The Indians took a free hitting opener 10-8 and the Sox won the darkness-abridged closer 8-3. The nightcap was called after five and a half innings.

Joe Gordon set a new Cleveland record for home runs by a right handed batter by poling his 27th of the year in the opener in which he drove in six runs.

Newhouser Tosses Six-Hitter as Yanks, Tigers Split Twin Bill

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees moved a step nearer the American league flag yesterday when they divided a double-header with the Detroit Tigers, winning the second game 11-5 after Hal Newhouser had beaten them 7-2 in the opener.

The Yankees split together with the dividing of a pair of games by the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland reduced the magic number to four. That is the combination of games the Yanks must win or the Red Sox must lose in order to insure the flag for the Yanks.

The Yanks spotted the Tigers four runs in the first inning of the nightcap, then came out to score four runs in the third and six in the fourth innings to win.

Joe DiMaggio, who was held hitless by Newhouser in the opener, connected for his 19th home run, a double and single to lead the Yankees. Bill Bevens, who replaced starter Charley Wenzloff in the first inning after Roger Cramer, Ed Lake and Pat Mullin had cracked home runs, held the Tigers to one run the rest of the way despite nine walks. Lefty Stub Overmire was the loser.

Newhouser twirled a six-hitter to register his 15th win against 16 losses. The loser was Frank Shea.

World Series Plans Announced; Yankees American Loop Cinch

CINCINNATI (AP)—The 1947 World Series will begin in Yankee stadium in New York either Sept. 30 or Oct. 1, depending on the outcome of the close flag race in the National league.

At a meeting here yesterday, baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler and representatives of first division clubs in the National league apparently considered the New York Yankees a cinch to cop the American league pennant, because they announced the following two schedules of games for the diamond classic:

The series will begin Sept. 30 if New York in the American league and Brooklyn in the National emerge as pennant winners. There will be no open dates between games in Yankee stadium and Brooklyn's Ebbets field.

The series will get underway Wednesday, Oct. 1 if the Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals win in their respective circuits.

In event the World Champion Cardinals win their second straight pennant, games will be played in Yankee stadium Oct. 1 and 2, Oct. 3 will be an open date to permit the teams to travel to St. Louis for the third, fourth and fifth games Oct. 4, 5 and 6.

Should the series go the open route, Oct. 7 would be an open date to permit the teams to return to New York for the final two games Oct. 8 and 9.

Should Brooklyn be the National league contender, the first two games will be played in Yankee stadium, the next three on Ebbets field and the last two, if necessary, in Yankee stadium.

With but one exception, all games will start at 1:30 p.m. Should Brooklyn oppose the Yanks, the game Sunday, Oct. 5, will get underway at 2:05 p.m. All times will be the time zone of the home team.

Ticket prices in New York and Brooklyn: bleachers, $1; general admission, $4; reserved grandstand, $6, and box seats, $8.

With one exception, the same price schedule will prevail at St. Louis. Reserved grandstand seats will cost $6.25, with the extra quarter covering a special Missouri state tax.

Commissioner Chandler said exclusive radio broadcasting rights for the series had been purchased by the Gillette razor blade co., but that television rights had not been sold.

Indoor Workout For Hawks

Yesterday morning's rain forced the Iowa football team to resort to confines of the fieldhouse to have their before noon workout. Due to the absence of Dr. Anderson, who was detained in Des Moines with Fullback Bob Smith, Assistant Coaches Frank Carideo and Jack Meagher took charge of the drills.

Attired in their street clothes, the players walked through their offensive plays and specialized on perfecting their plays. Various players alternated at certain positions.

The afternoon workout consisted mainly of hard dummy scrimmages. Only casualty of the afternoon was Tackle Jim Shoaf who bumped his shoulder and went to the showers early. He will be back in action again today.

Taking Time Out

With Buck Turnbull

News from North Dakota State has finally started to drift into Iowa City. The Bisons, who open the Iowa schedule here a week from Saturday, have lost five of their all-conference players including Little All-American Cliff Rothrock and will bring a rather weak crew into Hawkeyeland. . . . They boast 17 lettermen, two of high caliber. Dennis Drews and Bob Heer showed up well at the Dakota school last fall. . . . Their first string is reported to be fairly decent but other than that, there is nothing to speak of. . . . And to think that the score last year was 39-0.

A quick glance at the Minnesota roster shows that there is only one senior on the entire squad of 61. . . . He is Steve Sillanoff, center and captain of the Golden Gophers. . . . The majority of the rest of the team is sophomores—so look out for Coach Bernie Bierman's men next year and the year after. . . . Bernie admits that they are not title contenders this fall but he expects to do all right in years to come. . . . He has one big problem this season and that is molding a backfield which will show a little power. . . . Right down through the first six teams, Bierman can't assemble a set of backs averaging more than 175-pounds.

Coach Fritz Crisler of Michigan isn't worrying too much about the weight of his boys. . . . He is going to depend on speed and perfect execution of plays to make the Wolverines click. . . . So far, Crisler's average line is 188-pounds and his backfield barely scales 180. . . . Crisler says his big worry will be in reserve strength—"definitely weaker than last year."

Illinois boasts a full roster of 72-53 of whom are from the home state. . . . The Hawks have a total of 53 on the squad right now and 33 are from Iowa.

Something novel out Princeton way. . . . Coach Charlie Caldwell and 62 grid candidates practice from 9 to 11 every morning and then rest for 7 hours. . . . Back again at 6 in the evening, they work for 2 more hours. . . . "The boys don't fatigue as much," the coach said.

Rain pulled Iowa's grid squad into the fieldhouse yesterday morning and the boys walked through plays. . . . Quite a number of the Hawkeye candidates are nursing minor aches and bruises. . . . Em Tunnell is still resting on the sidelines with his bad knee and doesn't expect to be back at work for a few more days. . . . Big Jim Shoaf, tackle, injured his shoulder just bad enough for Dr. Eddie to give him the rest of the day off. . . . End Jack Dittmer has a broken blood vessel in his left thumb obtained during a baseball game a few weeks back when Jack was playing for the Amara team. . . . Quarterback Al Di Marco still has a sore right thumb but it is healing fast. . . . Bob McKenzie and Dittmer got opposite each other on the line of scrimmage yesterday and McKenzie came out of the battles with a chopped up face. . . . Big Bob is right proud of his new car which he drove all the way from Tonkawa, Oklahoma, for the opening of practice—a 1929 Model A Ford.

The terrific enthusiasm which is being built up for the Iowa-UCLA game two weeks from next Friday has prompted six Iowa radio stations to form a special network to bring the play-by-play broadcast to the Hawkeye fans here at home. . . . Station KRNT will originate the broadcast and five other stations will hook up to the KRNT play-by-play description.

Loren D. Gorden, president of the University of Iowa Alumni Club of Chicago, has announced that the alumni group will attend the Iowa-Notre Dame game en masse next October 25. . . . The club has made arrangements for a block of tickets on the Iowa side of the field. . . . Their present schedule calls for a special train to leave Chicago the morning of the game and return shortly after the contest.

Silence on MacPhail Confab

CINCINNATI (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler practiced again yesterday what he has been trying to preach to Larry MacPhail—silence—after a conference with the loquacious one in connection with statements he made about that forbidden subject, Leo Durocher.

As was the case when MacPhail was called on his green carpet last April for criticizing the suspension for the season of the Brooklyn manager, the big shot of baseball declined to discuss yesterday's confab with the fiery president of the New York Yankees, which followed a meeting to plan for the 1947 World Series.

Interrupted in his talk about the series by a question as to what the score was with the New York Yankee president, Chandler cried: "That's all; that's all."

MacPhail also was silent as to what took place.

Chandler began an investigation several days ago into statements attributed to MacPhail last week concerning the Durocher case.

When Chandler suspended Durocher on April 9 he issued an order that no one in the controversy involving Durocher, MacPhail and Rickey could discuss the subject.

'No Rules' for Recruiting—Neely

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP)—Coach Jess Neely of the Rice Owls football squad maintains "there just aren't any rules" on the recruiting of athletes.

Neely says also that he is "tired of the deceit."

"As near as I can see," Neely told the Star-Telegram in an interview this week, "nobody is paying the slightest attention to the rules. It is the worst in the history of the conference."

Neely said that in addition to the board, room, tuition, laundry, books and small amount of spending money allowed under conference regulations, Rice athletes also have outside "jobs" that pay between $15 and $18 a month.

Neely also said that the new regulation—to conform with the NCAA code—which requires athletes holding campus jobs to work on the campus 160 hours each school year will not be adhered to.

Mercy Hospital Addition to Begin in October

The Daily Iowan
ESTABLISHED 1868

Expansion Will Cost $850,000

A five-story, $850,000 expansion to Mercy hospital will probably be underway late in October, Sister Mary Rita, Mercy hospital superintendent, announced yesterday.

The addition will be T-shaped, and three story wings will be built on the north and south ends along Van Buren street. The entrance to the addition will be on the north wing.

The brick and terra cotta construction will match the present structure, and make room for 94 additional beds giving the hospital a total of 225 available beds. The new addition's architecture is such that three more stories could be added if needed. The sister said.

The fifth floor will contain an obstetrics department and three nurseries. The fourth floor will accommodate patients' bedrooms and new suites for interns. The third floor will hold new operating rooms.

The second floor is designed for orthopedic patients' rooms, a re-modeled pediatric department and new administrative offices, it was stated.

Central supply quarters, a pharmacy, a pathological laboratory, a physical therapy department, dining rooms and a kitchen will be built on the first floor.

Patients will have promenade decks in the addition's lower wing and a terrace in the court between the present structure and the wing on Van Buren street.

The contract was let to the Tunnick construction company of Davenport on a cost plus basis. Of the $850,000 total cost, $206,000 was given by over 2,200 Iowa City contributors in a fund drive late in 1946. Although the first estimates, a year ago, ran close to $600,000, the Sisters of Mercy, Chicago province, who had planned to raise two-thirds of the amount, had to raise their share to $650,000 because of higher building costs, the sister stated.

The addition's architects are Schmidt, Garden and Erikson of Chicago.

With over 50,000 persons in the Iowa City commercial area dependent upon Mercy hospital, the building has been cramped for space during the last few years. At times, only emergency cases could be taken care of, while more space was available only by placing beds in the ends of halls.

Bevin's 'Gold Plan' Endangers U. S. Aid

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(F) Foreign Affairs Analyst

Ernest Bevin's pinwheel economic theorizing in the past few days is causing a lifting of eyebrows in the United States. The question frequently raised is whether he knows where he's going, or what he intends to do when he gets there. Dispatches from London indicate the same question is being circulated in Whitehall.

Washington officials have been diplomatically forebearing in discussing Bevin's recent suggestions that America redistribute (give away) her gold or reestablish lend-lease. But behind the scenes they are fuming at the damage he is doing in this country to the whole idea of American aid for Europe.

"If he'd talk less, and consider what he does say more carefully," one observer said yesterday, "there'd be a lot better chance for congressional approval of what it's going to take to help Europe."

People in Washington understand that Bevin frequently speaks for the benefit of his own internal political situation. But it does no good with American public opinion.

The agriculture department has just told the American people that shipments of wheat abroad makes them pay more than a dollar a bushel above what they would otherwise. People know the situation in England and Europe is costing them heavily and will cost them more. It's a time for calculated, reasoned and gentle apportion.

There is doubt in America whether Britain, through her socialization program, is not failing to do all she could for herself. The unbending American stand against British plans for socialization of industry in Germany is a direct reaction to that.

The American people have just heard through Joseph M. Dodge, Detroit banker and chairman of the four-power commission which has been trying to do something about a peace treaty for Austria, that no amount of U.S. goods, dollars or credit can do the European reconstruction job until the Europeans pitch in themselves. "The failures abroad," he says, are "failures of production. They are the failures of socialism and communism."

Every interest of the United States demands that she do everything possible to put England and Europe on their feet. Washington is trying desperately to develop a program for doing it that can win public approval.

Ernest Bevin has been a foremost complainer that the preliminary stages of international negotiation, where diplomats are not in a position to commit themselves, are hampered by too much publicity. "Thinking out loud," by important public officials about unproved economic theories falls in the same category.

Two Divorce Petitions Filed in District Court

Two divorce suits have been filed at the office of County Clerk R. Neilson Miller.

Leona Stone has filed a petition for divorce on grounds of cruelty against Donald J. Stone.

The Stones were married September 20, 1946, and separated August 1, 1947.

Rosa Ambrose has filed a petition for divorce against Fred H. Ambrose on grounds of desertion.

The couple were married July 10, 1915. The plaintiff claims she was deserted by Ambrose July 1, 1944.

Swisher and Swisher are attorneys for both defendants.

Charge 3 With Attack Of Lake Andes Marshal

LAKE ANDES, S.D. (A)—Deputy sheriff W. E. McCabe of Charles Mix county said yesterday that two men alleged to have been involved in an attack on a Lake Andes marshal pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to kill, were held in jail and was due to appear in court this morning, McCabe said.

McCabe said the men were employed on the Fort Randall dam project at Pickstown and he listed their addresses as Council Bluffs, Iowa. The deputy sheriff said the fracas started when the marshal objected Tuesday night to the drinking of beer on a Lake Andes street.

Seven stitches were required to close a wound in the head of the marshal, Ray Lawler, according to the deputy sheriff.

McCabe said the men who pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to kill, were Gale L. Fouth and George Sarra. They were placed under $5,000 bond which was not furnished. Harold E. Kitchare was held in jail and was due to appear in court this morning, McCabe said.

Post Office Rules Papers May Run News About Lottery

WASHINGTON (A)—The post-office department reversed itself last night and ruled that newspapers may legally report on "a newsworthy event" in which there is incidental mention of a lottery.

It held that it was proper for the St. Louis Star-Times and other papers to carry stories about the Negro who was temporarily denied an automobile he won in a lottery.

The St. Louis paper had been cautioned by Postmaster Bernard F. Dickmann of St. Louis, who said the paper would have been barred from the mails, under anti-lottery laws, had publication of the story been noted at the time.

Last night, Frank J. Delany, the department's solicitor, wrote Dickmann that after consultation with Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan, "I have concluded that despite the literal wording of the law it was not intended to exclude from the mails publications of such items... which have a news value in their own right and in which the lottery element is only incidental to a newsworthy event."

"This law was not designed to suppress information of news value to the public, even though incidentally connected with a lottery."

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday at the office of County Clerk R. Neilson Miller to James J. Morgan and Patricia Ann Trvdik, both of Linn county, and Harold A. Parkam and Betty J. Alomia, both of Chicago, Ill.

Lack of Photographic Equipment Handicaps Police

A 'CHECK ARTIST' forged the check under Patrolman White's hand. He was apprehended by city police. Other examples of the use police make of photographs are shown on the bulletin board. They include accidents, drownings, 'mug' shots, etc.

(Photos by Bob Thompson)

FROM THE IMPROVISED WASHING TANKS in the sink and to the left of Patrolman White come negatives from which prints are made to be introduced as evidence in court. Police also take photographs for the county sheriff's office.

Old City Council Sliced $200; Hopes Rest With New Council

By JIM BECKER

Iowa City's police couldn't shoot a mug if he walked into the station and posed for the shot.

The reason? They don't have a camera. "Mugging," by the way, is the process of photographing, fingerprinting and recording information on suspects taken into custody. To "shoot a mug" does not involve pointing a gun and pulling the trigger.

With the force's only camera returned to the factory for shutter repairs, police find themselves handicapped in an essential phase of modern criminology — photography.

Patrolman O. A. White yesterday showed a group of reporters what the local force had — and didn't have — in the way of photographic equipment.

Among the "haves" were a contact printer, a sink and washing tanks, a dryer for prints and an assortment of crime pictures that would do credit to any police force.

All of this equipment, White said, was donated to the city police by a local service organization in April, 1946. It is an army surplus photographic field kit.

Among the "have nots" of photographic equipment, were the lone camera (missing for shutter repairs), an enlarger and the files that make tracing and apprehending of criminals a surer thing.

However, the police have access to an enlarger—when the camera is around to take the pictures. The use of their enlarger is donated by a local club. Without this, police would have to be content with contact prints, 4x5 inches, White pointed out.

The photo laboratory, in the basement of the police station is now supported by funds taken from the force's budget for "office equipment," White said.

A request to the old city council that $200 be granted specifically for photographic equipment in this year's budget was denied, police say.

However, in hopes the new council will reconsider the request, the police budget beginning April 1, 1948, contains a similar item of $200 for photographic equipment and supplies, according to Chief Ed Ruppert.

An example of photography's importance, even in minor police duties, is shown in White's story of the Iowa City girl who ran away from home. Police took a picture of a regular commercial portrait of the girl who ran away from home. Result: the girl was located in Seattle, Wash.

In accident cases, the use of photographs as evidence also have aided justice, White indicated. He pointed to a picture of a wreck taken on a city street. The driver of one of the cars involved was fined $27.50. The pictorial evidence demonstrated his guilt in the accident.

Ambition of the police is to build up a large, cross-indexed file of "mugs" to be used in cooperation with police all over the nation in tracing law violators. But a large file would cost money, police point out.

In spite of handicaps, police have taken more than 100 "mug" shots in the past year. In addition, city police have taken pictures for the sheriff's office—on no budget.

MAKING A PRINT is Patrolman O.A. White. The contact printer shown is part of the surplus army field kit donated to the city by a local service organization in 1946. Well satisfied with this piece of equipment, police are short on other necessary articles for satisfactory photographic work. Automobile battery boxes have been improvised to serve as washing tanks for film.

CHECKING OVER FILES are Police Chief Ed Ruppert and Patrolman O.A. White. Photographs and records in the files enable city police to keep track of missing persons, chronic offenders, and cooperate with police in the state and nation in their law enforcement efforts.

Goal of this year's drive is $17,952, which is $3,058 less than last year's goal of $21,010.

One reason for the smaller goal is that the local recreation program, carried previously as a benefiting organization, has been dropped and will be supported by taxes.

The Y-Teen organizations will be carried this year and have been scheduled to receive $531.91.

Other benefiting organizations and the amounts which they have been allotted are: Boy Scouts, $8,510.64; Girl Scouts, $5,638.30; PTA, $851.06; City hall rest room, $771.27.

Campaign and fund administration expenses are estimated at $1,648.94.

Order Speedier Handling of Iowa City Area Rent Cases

A speed-up in the handling of local tenants' complaints and landlords' petitions for rent increases has been ordered for this area, according to T. J. Wilkinson, director of the Iowa City rent control area.

On the authority of Tighe E. Woods, deputy housing expediter for rent control, this action was ordered so there might be the fullest possible realization in the next six months of the provisions of the federal housing and rent act of 1947.

Wilkinson, who has just returned from a Chicago rent conference, said he is instructed to exercise in greater degree than ever before a "common sense" approach to the correction of inequities in rents.

"The joint responsibility of the rent director and the rent advisory boards for a proper administration of the rent law was also emphasized," he said.

There was also some discussion at the conference of the recently announced regulation amendment which states that where substantial hardship in rental return can be proved by the landlord, the area rent director must now grant an adjustment in an amount necessary to relieve the hardship.

This is in contrast, he pointed out, to the previous rule that a hardship adjustment was limited to an amount which would bring the rent into line with rentals for comparable accommodations.

The amendment making this change had to do only with the hardship grounds on which a landlord may ask the rent office for increased rent. There are 14 other grounds.

Falls 'Long Way' From RI Bridge

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—James J. Green, 24, of Ollie, Ia., was rescued from the Mississippi river here yesterday after what police said they believed was a leap from the Centennial bridge, the highest structure crossing the river here.

Green was pulled from the river early yesterday by Sgt. Willis Lucas and Patrolmen Ernest Sampson of the Rock Island police. A guard on the bridge heard Green's cries for help, and notified police who put out in a boat to rescue him.

Chief of Police William J. Wilkens said a warrant would be issued for his arrest on charges of disturbing the peace when he is released from the hospital.

Green told Detective Sergeant Claus Miller that he didn't remember how he got in the river, but that he recalled that he "fell a long way."

Snake-Handling, Poison-Drinking Preacher Freed

SUMMERVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A charge of manslaughter filed against the Rev. Gordon Miller after a member of his flock drank poison as a test of faith was thrown out of court yesterday.

Miller was indicted after the death of Ernest Davis, 33, who drank poison at a rural religious service conducted by Miller. Testimony was presented at a preliminary hearing that both Miller and Davis drank from the same glass after the preacher told Davis: "I warn you not to take it unless the Lord directs you to."

"I'm so happy I could start a meeting here on the court house steps," the preacher said.

His snake-handling cult was jubilant over the decision and started making plans for a big religious celebration Saturday night five miles from Adairsville, Ga., in an open field. The service will be in charge of F.L. Fowler, 43, father-in-law of Miller.

Fowler invited all the court spectators to attend the Saturday night meeting. He said he would have snakes and would try to get poison. If unable to obtain poison, he said he had a quantity of lye and would drink that if the spirit moved him. "I've never conducted a service in which the spirit did not move me," Fowler added.

Ballpoint Millionaire

Wants to Free Himself

—To Study Aviation

CHICAGO (AP)—Milton Reynolds, who ran the ballpoint pen idea into a multi-million dollar fortune within a few months, said yesterday he was putting his pen company up for sale.

"I'm interested in freeing myself from some of my business interests to devote more time to aviation research," Reynolds, 54, said in an interview. In April he flew around the world with Capt. Bill Odom and in August he financed Odom's record world hop of slightly more than 72 hours.

Reynolds said he would like to close a deal whereby he could remain a director of the company after its sale.

His career has been one of big gains and big losses. In the autumn of 1945, when the public was looking for Christmas gift items, he brought out the ballpoint pen for $12.50. He brought out new models frequently and by last Christmas a set of three of his pens was selling for $9.99.

He clipped his price again and in April of this year introduced a new model, writing in two colors, for 98 cents. A one color job now costs 59 cents.

He said his company has 110,000 dealers, ships 60,000 pens a day and is 500,000 pens behind in orders. He tapped the foreign market on a series of airplane flights in which he conducted his own sales campaign.

At 20, he said, he became a tire dealer and in six years built up a million dollar fortune. At 30 he was broke. His next big break came when he brought out a printing device to manufacture show cards for department stores. His contacts in this field gave him the skeleton organization for his pen merchandising.

A single idea once made him a half million, Reynolds related. He flew in a load of cigarette lighters from Mexico and the lot was gobbled up by a hungry market.

His ball pen was as well received by the public. In the first three months his firm netted $2,000,000.

County Attorney Jack C. White represented the state while Ingalls Swisher was attorney for both defendants.
