

You Can't Believe All You See

FREMONT, NEB., (AP)—A new twist to the time-worn "broken speedometer" excuse earned a $10 fine for a youth up before Police Judge R. A. Winkleman on speeding charges. The youth explained, "Since my speedometer was broken the only way I could tell how fast I was going was to watch cars near me. The only car nearby was the police car following."

Larson several weeks ago notified county attorneys that the law banning gambling devices must be enforced. It is illegal even to possess a slot machine in this state.

Got a Cold in the Head? Go to Bed! Or Drop Dead

A LOT MORE SNEEZING is in order this fall, doctors feel, and Bob Schmidt, A3, above could well be you—or maybe you know how he feels? The reason given is that students returning from all parts of the country—with colds—are mixing with large groups of uninfected students.

CURE FOR A WHEEZE is demonstrated by Donna Jensen, A3, (above). "Stay out of circulation as much as possible," is the doctors' advice for a cure. That's not easy for talented Donna.

GET PLENTY OF SLEEP, the doc says. Mary Kay O'Brien, A4, is willing to do that—but taking medicine isn't as pleasant. Staying in bed is the quickest way to fade the red from a cold-bitten nose; but it isn't the easiest cure. (Daily Iowan photos by Dick Davis)

Vanderbilt Upsets Northwestern, 3-0

Last Period Boot Wins

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Vanderbilt's scrappy Commodores ruined the debut of 31 year old Bob Voigts as Northwestern's football coach yesterday by scoring an upset 3 to 0 victory in the final four minutes before a crushed crowd of 42,000.

Zack Clinard, a reserve quarterback, playing his first college game, booted a 13-yard field goal from placement to give the southerners their spectacular triumph. They outruled, outscored, and outpassed Northwestern's Wildcats far worse than the statistics indicated.

Northwestern, making six costly fumbles, and playing a ragged game on the ground and in the air, never advanced beyond Vanderbilt's 33 yard line, although the "Cats", stung by defeat, ripped to the 34 yard stripe in the closing seconds only to lose the ball on a pass interception after passing and running for gain of 45 yards from their own 21.

Vanderbilt, missing three previous scoring chances, climaxed a 86 yard drive in the fourth period to score with Bob Bery, Joe Hicks and Jimmy Wade lugging the ball from Vanderbilt's two yard line on a punt return. Wade, whose passing and running accounted for 110 yards of Vanderbilt's total of 233, carried the ball the last three smashes to hit the 3-yard stripe. Then Clinard dropped back for his successful field goal.

Hoosiers Halt Big Nebraska Team, 17-0

LINCOLN (AP) — An Indiana team that overcame a big weight advantage of Nebraska's line by speed and agility whipped the Huskers yesterday 17 to 0, before a crowd of 32,000 fans gathered to watch the last of the current 12-game series between the Big Nine and Big Six teams.

The victory was the seventh in a row over Nebraska for Indiana. Indiana began the victory march on the last play of the first quarter when George Taliaferro, the Negro star, intercepted a Nebraska pass and raced it back 15 yards to the Indiana 48.

The interception set the Hoosiers on fire, and in seven plays they were down on the Husker five. The big punch in this march was Dick Deranek's 20 yard sprint. At the five Taliaferro was injured and taken out, but his replacement, Hugh McKinnis, promptly drove to the one. Then Nebraska was penalized half the distance for offside and on the next play Harry Jagade punched over. It was 7 to 0 as Rex Grossman kicked the point, and stood that way at the half.

The Hoosiers broke in again in the third period. They pounded and passed from their own 24 to the Nebraska one, the final play of the series being a dandy Nick Sebek to Joe Mihajlovich pass for 17 yards.

Surprising California Upsets Middies, 14-7

BERKELEY, CALIF. (AP) — California's hard-hitting Bears turned in one of the smashing early season football upsets yesterday by defeating Navy 14-7 before a sell-out crowd of nearly 80,000 fans.

The Bears making a gridiron comeback under the coaching of Lynn Waldorf, rushed over a second period touchdown on a pass and two smart runs to assume the lead they maintained to the end.

They added to the advantage with a 64-yard run by Fullback Jack Jensen to a touchdown in the fourth quarter to apparently clinch the victory in resounding fashion only to have the hard-fighting Midshipmen make it a ball game with a score of their own.

END STAN GORSKI (82), of Northwestern, misses in a desperate leap to halt Vanderbilt Halfback Bobby Berry (27). Berry went six yards before he was halted on this play in the second half of the game. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Army Stops Villanova

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army's green football team carried on the winning ways of its departed All-America backs, Gleen Davis and Felix Blanchard, by downing Villanova 13 to 0 yesterday.

Frequent penalties, mostly against Army at critical points, marked the Army's 29th straight win.

Recovered fumbles set the stage for both of Army's touchdowns. Halfback Bill Gustafson fell on a Villanova fumble on the Wildcats' 14 near the end of the first half and datted all the way to the goal line on the next play. Midway in the third period, Ralph Pasquariello, 220-pound Villanova full back, dropped the ball on a line buck and Elwyn "Rip" Rowan, fuback, recovered on Villanova's 23. Bobby Stuart ripped off 21 yards at his right end, and Winfield Scott went around right end from the three to tally.

Outplayed Colorado Nicks Cyclones, 7-0

AMES (AP) — A second quarter 48-yard pass play gave the highly favored Colorado Buffalos a 7-0 victory over the Iowa State Cyclones yesterday, and the Buffs were happy to get by with that slim margin.

For a lighter, but gritty Cyclones eleven, starting on their own 20 in the closing minutes of the game, moved to the visitors' one-foot line before they were stoned on downs with about 45 seconds of playing time remaining.

The Cyclones piled up 13 first downs to their heavier rivals' eight and outgained them by rushing, 133 yards to 72. The lone score came about midway of the second period with the ball on the Iowa State 48 yard stripe. Quarterback Dick Schrepferman tossed to Ed Pudlik, who took it on the 10 after it had bounced off the fingers of the Cyclones' Don Ferguson. Prdilik went over standing up. John Zisch converted.

Illinois Edges Stubborn Pitt, 14-0

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — A high-spirited, stubborn Pittsburgh gang stalled Illinois' football machine for three quarters yesterday before a second-string halfback, Dwight Eddleman, punched over two touchdowns in the final period to give the Illini a 14-0 victory.

A crowd of 22,079 turned out in perfect weather to watch the Illini open their 1947 season and maintain a record of never succumbing to Pittsburgh in five meetings to date.

Although shoving the lighter Panther crew around most of the game, Illinois—rated a first-division team in the forthcoming Big Nine title campaign after winning the crown last year—appeared pitiful slow.

With fullback Russ Steger carrying the ball at least 50 percent of the time, he Illini roled up 154 yards by rushing in the first half but twice fumbled away scoring opportunities.

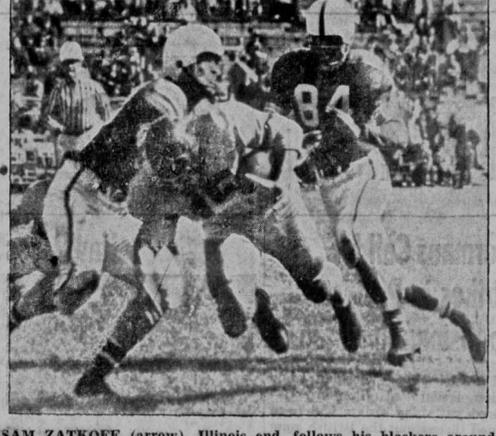

The Panthers crossed midfield only twice. Their best penetration was to the 35 on a 19 yard pass from Billy Lee to Carl Despasqua.

Illinois scored at the outset of the last period. Art Dufelmeier stole Lou Ceconni's pass to set up a 48 yard march. Steger hit the line twice and Moss passed nine yards to end Sam Zatkoff to put the ball on the 25. Then Moss tossed five yards to Eddleman who galloped the rest of the way.

Tiger Win Ends Indian Hopes For Third Place

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers tallied the winning run on Joe Gordon's boot of a grounder in the eighth inning yesterday and added an "insurance" tally in the ninth to eliminate the Cleveland Indians from third place contention, 4-2.

Hal Newhouser gained his 17th victory by scattering seven hits and fanning eight, while Bob Lemon suffered his fifth loss.

Gopher Luck Stops Washington, 7-6

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota opened its 1947 football season with a 7 to 6 decision over Washington yesterday, with luck having a large part in a game played in a rain which prevented anything in the way of fancy football.

Washington outplayed Minnesota in the second half and kept the outcome in doubt virtually to the final whistle. The Huskies scored in every period yesterday, with luck having a large part in a game played in a rain which prevented anything in the way of fancy football.

Fumbles were frequent because of the slippery ball and it was a Washington fumble that led to Minnesota's touchdown. The ball popped out of the hands of Freddy Provo, Washington's stellar left half. Bud Grant, Minnesota end, grabbed it in mid-air and raced 19 yards for the tally. Don Bailey, substitute quarterback, added the point that proved to be the margin of victory.

Washington's touchdown in the third period came on straight football. In all, there were 13 fumbles. The Gophers committed 10.

Georgia Tech Swamps Tennessee Vols, 27-0

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia Tech swept an easy 27-0 victory over Tennessee yesterday.

A capacity crowd of 40,000 looked on as the Vols, outclassed in every department, fought valiantly but never got their running attack clicking. The Jackets drove 81 yards for the first touchdown, 85 for the second and 41 for the third. The final was a 33-yard sweep with a sub halfback, Billy Queen, going the last 24 yards. George Mathews, veteran lefthalf, scored the first three touchdowns.

Michigan Whips State, 55-0

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Rolling just about as they pleased by land and air, the talent-heavy University of Michigan Wolverines got away to an impressive start on their 1947 football campaign yesterday by slapping Michigan State 55 to 0 before 70,115 fans.

JACK WEISENBURGER, Michigan back, carries the ball for seven yards before being stopped by Michigan State Quarterback George Guerre. (AP Wirephoto)

Michigan marched 53 yards for a touchdown the first time the Wolverines got the ball and scored at least twice in every period but the last.

Bob Chappuis, star Toledo halfback who established a Big Nine ground gaining record for the Wolverines last season, counted three of the touchdowns on smashes of five yards or less and Jim Brieske, the place-kicking machine from Harbor Beach, Mich., booted seven conversions in eight attempts.

Fullbacks Jack Weisenburger, Sophomore Dick Kempthorn, powerful Danny Dworsky, End Leonard Ford and Halfback Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, who played wartime ball at Purdue as a navy trainee, joined in the Wolverines' touchdown parade with one apiece.

Michigan State, making its debut under Head Coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn, formerly line coach at Michigan under H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, didn't penetrate beyond midfield until the last play of the third period and never got beyond the Wolverine 37 yard line.

The Spartans never were able to get an offense going as Michigan piled up the identical point total of last year's 55 to 7 victory. The 55 point margin was Michigan's widest over State since 1922, when the Wolverines won 63 to 0.

Idaho Dumps Stanford
PALO ALTO, CALIF. (AP) — Idaho's surprising Vandals, under their new Coach Millard "Dixie" Howell, scored an upset yesterday by knocking over the Stanford Indians, 19-16.

Hawks Face Veteran Illini Squad Saturday

Iowa's Hawkeyes, with a 1-1 record in non-conference games so far this season, will face their opening Big Nine opponent here next Saturday when they meet Illinois.

The Illini will come here with one game behind them, a 14-0 win over Pittsburgh yesterday. Last year's conference champions and Rose Bowl winners will field an all-veteran team against the Hawks. Last year Illinois started Perry Moss, Capt. Art Dufelmeier, Paul Patterson and Russ Steger in the backfield. That same quartet is listed as probable starters in the tilt next Saturday.

Professor Arthur Van Duren of the University of Michigan faculty, watched the opening of football practice at Ann Arbor for the 28th consecutive season this fall.

Ohio State Stumbles Past Missouri, 13-7

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio state's Bucks, eched by Missouri for two periods, came from behind in the last three minutes yesterday to snatch a 13 to 7 victory for their new coach, Wesley E. Fesler.

A crowd of 59,444 watched the Bucks stage touchdown marches of 75 and 84 yards, with Fullback Joe Whisler, 220-pound junior from Willard, Ohio, going over for the two markers.

In between those Ohio onslaughts the Tigers paraded 76 yards to send sub Fullback Ed Quirk of St. Louis over from the five for the score giving Missouri a 7-6 lead which it retained until two minutes and 40 seconds before the finish.

Although Whisler scored the touchdowns, it was Alex Verdova, substitute right halfback from Lakewood, Ohio, who carried the Bucks practically single-handed to the winning score. The 186-pounder, who has been on the sidelines during much of the training with an injury, wheeled into the game in the final minutes when the Bucks had the ball in mid-field.

His first run, a stuttering, whirling trip around end, was good for 27 yards. Whisler went for five, and then Verdova drove over for another 14 yards. That put the ball on the seven, and the Bucks made it in three more plays.

Pupa's Passes Give Tarheels 14-7 Win

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Two perfect passes by big Walt Pupa gave North Carolina a 14 to 7 football triumph over Georgia yesterday after the Bull Dogs had taken an early lead and had kept the Tar Heels' famed running back, Charlie Justice, fairly well shackled.

One of the Pupa's tosses, in the third period, tied the score and the other, fired with less than three minutes to go, won the game. It was a sweet triumph for Carolina after its loss in the last Sugar bowl game to the Athens Bull Dogs. The defeat was the first suffered by Georgia in 18 games.

HALFBACK RICHARD BRAZELL of Missouri skirts end for five yards in the first period of yesterday's game. Ohio State Fullback Ollie Cline (left) made the tackle with the help of End Dave Bonnie (84). (AP WIREPHOTO)

ees $1-Million Series Gate, Record Player Cut in Making

NEW YORK (AP)—The subway World series returns Tuesday after a six-year lapse when the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers open their best-of-seven scramble for probably the richest player pot in history at the Yankee stadium.

The Yankees go into the opener as early 2 to 1 favorites partly on the basis of 26 American league wins to 17 by the National since 1903. Unless there is a four-game sweep, another $1-million series is in the making. With the Yanks selling standing room in advance, a new single game attendance mark probably will erase the 69,990 figure set at the stadium in 1943.

President Larry Macphail of the Yankees believes the stadium will gross "about $300,000" per game. If that happens, the player pool should approximate $600,000 for the first four games with winning cuts approximating $7,000 although the Ebbets field capacity is slightly less than half of the stadium's 73,000. The all-time high for a winner is $6,544.76 by Detroit in '35.

On the ball field it figures to be a contest between Brooklyn's base path speed and opportunist baseball against the heavy guns of the Yankee's home run attack, backed by superior pitching. It will be the 15th series for the Yanks who have copped 10 and the fourth for the Brooks who haven't won yet.

Stephens' Single Gives Browns Split With Sox

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Vern Stephens' tenth inning single with the bases loaded gave the St. Louis Browns a 3 to 2 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the second game of a double header yesterday after the Browns lost the opener to Chicago, 2-1.

Les Moss homered in the fourth for the first two St. Louis runs in the night cap but Taft Wright pinch batted two runs home in the eighth with a single to tie the score. Cass Michaels' knocked the winning blow, a two-run single, in the fourth inning of the first contest.

Dobson Stops Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ted Williams hit his 32nd home run of the year with two on in the first inning as the Boston Red Sox maul-ed Washington, 8-1, here yesterday. Joe Dobson limited the Senators to five hits in winning his 18th game.

SUI Trains Most Speech Correctionists

One-fifth of Members In Speech Association Are Iowa Graduates

The University of Iowa has trained more speech correctionists than any other American university, according to figures released in the current issue of the Journal of Speech Disorders by Prof. D.W. Morris, secretary-treasurer of the American Speech Correction Association.

The American Speech Correction Association is the national professional society of speech pathologists and correctionists.

Thirty percent of all professional members and fellows in the association have received their professional degrees from the university of Iowa. These two groups comprise the highest grades of membership in the association. Twenty percent of the association's total membership are Iowa graduates.

The following figures for the four top schools show the number of association members in the designated categories of the respective schools as reported by Morris:

Professional Members	Fellows	Total
Iowa	17	29
Northwestern	6	3
Wisconsin	10	10
Columbia	4	8

Iowa graduates who are officers in the association include the president, Prof. Herbert Koepf-Baker, University of Illinois college of medicine; secretary-treasurer, Prof. D.W. Morris, Ohio State University; vice-president, Prof. Grant Fairbanks, University of Southern California; journal editor, Wendell Johnson, director of the University of Iowa speech clinic; counselors, Prof. Clarence T. Simon, Northwestern University, and Prof. Ernest H. Henrikson, University of Minnesota.

The speech pathology program was begun here at the university in the early twenties and has been developed steadily since that time. The program comprises research, professional training and clinical services. It involves the cooperation of the departments of speech, psychology and child welfare, the colleges of medicine, dentistry and education, and other administrative units of the university.

Samuel Calvin, Peck Memoirs Published in SUI History Series

Two centennial memoirs, "Samuel Calvin," by Prof. Harrison J. Thornton of the history department and "Washington Freeman Peck," by Dr. John T. McClintock of the school of medicine, have been published by the University of Iowa press.

These memoirs are the sixth and seventh published from the series of 11 biographies written about the outstanding men in the history of the university.

"Calvin was the man who established all the natural science courses at the university, teaching all of them himself during the early years," Thornton said. He quoted Calvin as saying, "I not only occupied a chair, I occupied a whole settee."

Peck founded the department of medicine, and later, the college of medicine, said Thornton.

The other five works which have been published are: "George T. W. Patrick," by Herbert F. Martin; "Charles Bundy Wilson," by Mrs. Nellie Slayton Aurner; "Amos Noyes Currier," by Prof. Luella M. Wright; "William Galt Raymond," by Prof. B.J. Lambert; "George T.W. Patrick," an autobiography.

The memoirs which have not been published are: "Benjamin Franklin Shambaugh," by Mrs. Nellie Slayton Aurner; "Isaac A. Loos," by Karl Loos, his son, and Mrs. Helen Loos Whitney, his daughter; "Thomas Huston MacBride," by Mary W.C. Schertz and Walter L. Myers; "Bohumil Shimek," by Prof. Walter Loehwing. Thornton hopes to have all printings published this year.

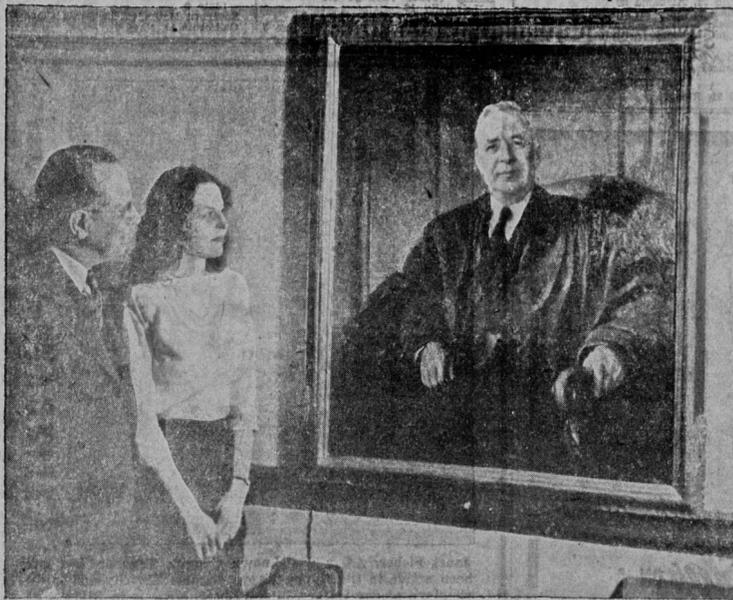

The collection of biographies will be gathered and bound in two volumes edited by Thornton.

Present Rutledge Portrait at Iowa Union Today

An oil portrait of U. S. Supreme Court Justice Wiley B. Rutledge, painted by Harold Brett, will be hung today in Iowa Union, Earl E. Harper, director of the Union and of the school of fine arts, announced yesterday.

Justice Rutledge was formerly dean of the college of law from 1937-40. He has served on the supreme court since 1943. The class of 1946 presented the portrait to the university.

Tom C. Teas, Mason City lawyer and university alumnus, served as chairman of the senior memorial committee that purchased the painting.

Brett painted the portrait of Justice Rutledge in Washington, D. C. For many years he worked as an illustrator of magazines and books.

Licenses to 3 Couples
Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Lester Bailey, Vinton and Florence Brown, Mt. Vernon; William Rusbult and Gertie M. Daniels of Williamsburg, and Ray E. Cox and Helen E. Whiting, Cedar Rapids.

Dean Mason Ladd of the college of law hopes to have Rutledge come to the university for a formal presentation of the portrait sometime this winter.

The university owns one other portrait painted by Brett. It is a portrait of Eugene A. Gilmore, 16th president of the university. He was the president until 1940, directly preceding President Hancher. Given by the class of 1940, this portrait hangs in the board room of Old Capitol.

Como Heads List; Shay Album High

Perry Como's "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" still heads the list of popular records with Iowa City collectors. Sharing honors with this old favorite is Tex Beneke's "When Summer is Gone" and Dorothy Shay's "Feudin' and Fightin'".

Leading off the popular albums for the fourth consecutive week is the Dorothy Shay collection followed closely by the Three Suns and a newcomer to this bracket, Gene Krupa's "Tuxedo Junction."

Topping the semi-classicals are "the Warsaw Concerto" and "Jealousie", both with the Boston "Pops" orchestra, and "Hora Staccato", with Jasha Heifetz.

Preference in the classical album group centers on these three: "Scheherazade," Montieu and the San Francisco Symphony, "Rachmaninoff Concerto No. 2," Rubinstein, "Tchaikowsky Concerto No. 1," Horowitz.

Making a bid for the college crowd along with "Glenn Miller's New Album" and Tex Beneke's "Prom Date," is Kay Kyser's "Campus Favorites."

Finds Russians Reliable Traders

Shipper Blasts Nationalism

By DON RICHARDSON

You can do business with the Russians.

That is the opinion of Lawrence A. Divine, an executive of the United States Lines, Inc. Seated in his room at the Hotel Jefferson, Divine stated that the Russians still have money and are reliable businessmen.

"They are practically the only foreign country which has the money," the 52-year-old shipping executive added. He arrived in Iowa City Friday to visit his son, Allen Divine, who is a freshman in the University of Iowa.

Brushing back his thinning black hair, Divine talked about the financial dealings of the Russians. He said, "I have yet to hear of any purchase they have made which was not completely paid in terms of the contract. They make a contract with you and it's good."

Asked where Russia obtained the dollars, Divine shrugged his shoulders and replied, "They have some gold which is just as good as dollars."

During the war, he said, his firm, which is the largest steamship firm in the United States, "handled a tremendous amount of shipping" to the Soviets. One of his most interesting shipments was a complete electrical unit which could supply electricity to 500,000 people. "All they had to do was plug it in."

AMTORG, the Russian purchasing agency, is still shipping great quantities of materials from Seattle, the New York executive said. Divine emphasized, "You don't sell them anything. They buy it. They come here, do their own buying and their own shipping."

Last week he saw Russian purchasing agents at the machine tool show in Chicago. In the old Dodge plant, he said, from 15 to 20 Russian buyers inspected 20 million dollars worth of machinery in operation.

"Here was the real might of America for everyone to see," Divine stated.

The Russians, he believes, came here to look over the maze of presses, grinders, drills and planers in order to resupply their factories. Their machine tools, he explained, were destroyed during the war and can't be replaced "in five minutes."

Divine shifted in his chair and began talking about England. In the 20-year period that he has served the shipping corporation, he has seen much of Germany and France and lived in England in 1938.

"The British," he said, "advertise 'Buy British and Ship British'."

Overcoming such a nationalistic spirit is a difficult job, according to Divine. Graduating from Yale in 1917, he became "a goodwill artist" and worked against nationalism which, he believes, hinders free trade.

Divine blames nationalism for war. He said, "The only thing I fear in the international situation is this spirit. Nationalism will bring war to every country just as it did World War II."

"We don't have it here," he said. "Americans don't care if goods are shipped on American bottoms. They aren't interested."

Restating his point, Divine nodded and declared, "I'm sure that nationalism is one of the biggest things which brought on World War II."

War with Russia, he believes, is unlikely at the present time. "I don't see how, as trade conditions are now, Russia can go to war," Divine said.

Council To Award Ralston Contracts, Hear Dump Issue

Meeting of the Iowa City council will be held tomorrow night to let contracts for the construction of the retaining wall along Ralston creek.

Bids for the project will be opened tomorrow afternoon at 2 in the council chambers.

The retaining wall will be built from the south side of Benton street along the west side of Linn street to 230 feet south. The project will also include the straightening of Ralston creek from the south end of the retaining wall.

Also included on the agenda for the meeting is an explanation by Charles Alberhasky as to the use of his property. The property has been referred to by one council member as an "unauthorized, impromptu" dumping grounds.

The council last Monday gave orders to the chief of police, city attorney and health inspector to take whatever move necessary to stop the dumping of refuse in the old railroad right-of-way on the Alberhasky property.

Division by Court Asked In Wolrab Estate Suit

Kathryn E. Shebetka yesterday filed suit in district court asking for an equitable distribution of the estate of the John S. Wolrab, deceased.

Defendants in the suit are John S. Wolrab, and Elizabeth Wolrab, administratrix for the estate. All three are heirs of Wolrab, who died intestate.

The petition states that each are entitled to a share of the estate and the heirs seek the judgment of the court in making the division.

Approximately 34 Johnson county clubwomen will attend the fall meeting of the first district, Iowa Federation of Women's clubs Thursday in the Methodist church in Washington, Iowa, according to Mrs. Jacob Van der Zee, president of the Iowa City Woman's club.

Clubs from Johnson county sending delegates to the convention are the Iowa City Woman's club, I.F.E. club, Solon Study club, West Lucas Woman's club, Entre Nous, and the Searchlight club of Lone Tree.

The delegation will leave Iowa City on a chartered bus at 8 o'clock Thursday morning for

Two Civil War Vets To See Dedication

Iowa's two living Civil War veterans will be present today at ceremonies designating Highway 6 as the "Grand Army of the Republic" highway.

John P. Martin, 100, Sutherland, department commander of the GAR, will arrive in Iowa City by auto, according to Wilbur F. Hathaway, regional commander of the Sons of Union Veterans. Ebenezer J. McMurray, 103, Iowa City, the only other living Civil War veteran will be present to unveil the marker.

The dedication ceremonies will take place on the west approach to Old Capitol at 2 p.m. In the event of bad weather the ceremonies

THREE DIE AT SUI HOSPITAL

Three Iowa residents died yesterday at the University hospital. They were: Mrs. Glatha Isbell, 33, Maquoketa, admitted Sept. 7; Mrs. Bessie Walter, 59, admitted to the hospital May 3; and William Rybolt, 79, admitted Aug. 28.

Washington. Women from nearby towns have been invited to join the group here for the trip.

Mrs. A. D. Wiese, Manning, president of the Iowa Federation of Women's clubs, will have charge of the program in which work of the federation will be explained.

will be held in the Senate chamber.

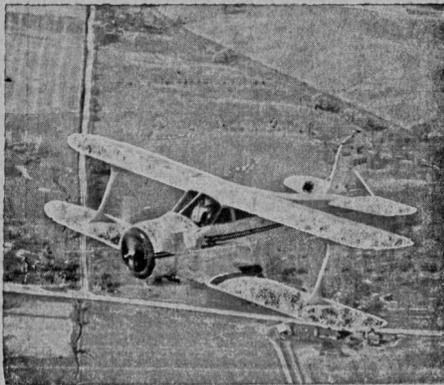

Gov. Robert D. Blue will be the principal speaker at the occasion. William Peterson of the state historical society will preside.

The measure authorizing the honorary name for the highway was passed by the last session of the state legislature. Before 1937, similar measures had been passed in all states east of Iowa and signs erected in some of them, Hathaway said. States along the highway west of Iowa have also passed acts with the exception of Utah and Nevada.

Present plans call for the erection of about 75 signs in Iowa by the end of this year, Hathaway said. He emphasized that the signs would "in no way interfere with present highway markers."

The plan for naming the highway first started in Delaware. At the national encampment of the GAR at Washington, D.C., in 1936 the idea was carried further by members of the Sons of the Union veterans, Hathaway said. Highway 6 was chosen because it is the longest highway in the northern states.

Other speakers at the ceremonies today will include Mayor Preston Koser and Dean Bruce E. Mahan of the university extension division. President Virgil Hancher will not be present as was originally announced.

Nile Kinnick Awards Await Hancher's OK

More than $15,000 worth of scholarships is being awarded to 105 university students, Dean C. Woody Thompson, chairman of the university committee on student aid, announced yesterday.

Thompson's did not reveal recipients of the Nile Kinnick award, which will be announced later, pending the approval of President Virgil M. Hancher.

Scholarships to be presented include the Carr, Laverne Noyes, Student Aid, Pritchett, Merit and I-club.

In the colleges of liberal arts engineering, commerce and pharmacy, 15 students showed above average ability necessary to receive the Carr scholarship. They are:

Mamie Black, Logan; Ruth Collier, Cedar Rapids; Betty Drees, Carroll; John R. Hotz, Rockford, Ill.; Rosalie J. Ketchum, Freeport, Tex.; Richard A. Lowenberg, Donnellson.

Maureen P. McGivern, Iowa City; Julia Matheson, Williamsburg; Phyllis Martin, What Cheer; Olive Ann Meining, Detroit; Betty Jo O'Brien, Red Oak; Andrew C. Smith, Charles City; Dixie J. Snider, Iowa City; Joan and Joyce Womelsdorf, both of Freeport, Ill.

The Laverne Noyes scholarship to direct blood descendants of World War I will be awarded to 34 students. Candidates for the award are required to have one semester of college work and a satisfactory scholastic average.

They are Patricia J. Barnhouse, Newton; Barbara J. Beechler, Rock Island; Joy A. Bowers, Lawrence; Delores Budiselic, Des Moines; Jacqueline T. Carberry, Cedar Rapids; Marthabelle Cooley, Knoxville; Roger Crabbs, Cedar Rapids; Robert J. Forest, Clinton; Gene W. Play Area Lumber Ready Soon; Gates Installed in Fences

At a meeting of the coordination committee for the construction of 29 temporary housing-area playgrounds, Roger Barnst, chairman, announced that lumber for the work will be available in 10 days.

The playgrounds will be built by the veteran fathers in each area. Mothers will take turns watching the children at play after completion of the projects.

Purpose of the playground is to provide a safe area in which to place the children while student-parents can do their house-work and homework.

The project was begun last July after the Iowa department of the American Legion auxiliary had voted a donation of $50 for each of the 20 playgrounds.

Barnst also announced the installation of gates for the remaining playground fences, which completes the fence construction. The cost of erecting the fence was equally split between the married students and the university.

The committee plans to conduct one final drive to get the playgrounds inaugurated in each area. Plans for construction of equipment are now being drawn up. The committee, which is made up of students and student wives, also decided to appoint new members to their group. There will be one delegate from each housing area.

Present committee members are Mrs. Joseph Clyde, Westlawn; Mrs. David Owens, Newton park; Mrs. Leo Sweeney, Riverside; Martin Dimbat, Riverdale; Mrs. Donald Larkin, Quonset park, and Roger Barnst, chairman, Westlawn.

Choose Erickson To Head Civil Engineers

Robert F. Erickson, E3, was elected president of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers here at the chapter meeting last Wednesday.

Other officers include Jack H. Mehrhoff, E2, vice-president; George S. Overby, E3, secretary and Robert Evans, E2, treasurer.

Prior to the election, Prof. C. J. Posey outlined the aims and fall program of the parent and student society.

Can We Understand Russia?

(The Last of a Series)

So far in this series on understanding Russia, we have considered different approaches to the nature of our relations with Russia, how best to deal with her diplomatically and general comments on her economic and political systems. Some have been sharply critical of Russia and others have been more friendly. Then we looked briefly at her attitudes toward religion, conditions in her satellite countries and her concept of "democracy."

Today we delve into the nature of her culture, the essence of the east-west conflict. Then we turn to an analysis of the contrast between Russia and the United States. And finally we state briefly a few conclusions.

John Macmurray, professor of moral philosophy at the University of Edinburgh, whose books have been widely read in this country, is the author of the pamphlet, A Crisis of Culture: the USSR and the West.

He says the cleavages between Soviet Russia and the western nations reflect the conflict between east and west. An understanding between them is imperative, but he is not sure that it can come about before another world war ensues. To achieve such an understanding "must constitute one of the major transformations of history. It may well be the substance of an epoch."

Up to now "the history of western Europe has been" the history of the world, and human development has been shaped to the fashion and confined within the limits of the west-European tradition.

"Today this has ceased to be true." The initiative is no longer coming from the west. The major tensions which now set the direction and the pace of progress do not lie within Europe, but between the United States of Europe and the Soviet Union.

Russia, Macmurray contends, is not eastern but eastern European. In other words, "Russia is part of Christendom. She shares with us the influence of Christianity and of the Hebrew culture from which Christianity sprang. And since Russia took her Christianity from Byzantium, she shares with us also the influence of the cultural tradition of ancient Greece. What is foreign to Russia is the influence of Rome."

Macmurray points out that the Russians level against people of the west the same charges that we hurl at them. They believe that to the western peoples force is the main reliance.

"The idea that the Russians have never cared about freedom and so do not miss under the Soviet dictatorship is," he says, "surprisingly widespread. It is, however, entirely groundless. Even a superficial acquaintance with Russian literature is enough to show that the passion for liberty is as characteristically Russian as it is English."

The Russians are convinced that they are truly democratic because democracy with them means rights in the ownership of land. While in the west the democratic struggle has centered about control of the legislative assembly, in Russia "it remained to the end a struggle for the communal ownership of the land."

Also, Russia stands in contrast to the west in that the western democracies believe that "ideas determine action; Russian democracy is materialist; it believes that action determines ideas."

Next we turn to an article by Barbara Ward of the staff of the Economist (London).

She undertakes to discuss the problem of realizing a free society in terms of a confrontation of the United States and the Soviet Union and its implications for Great Britain.

"One must admit that a very strong weight of argument appears to lie on the side of America. Soviet Russia as a state is hostile to religion. Communism as a philosophy is based upon the denial of God. The spread of Russian power has reinforced the hold of authoritarian government in eastern Europe."

"One the surface, America stands out in contrast. It is true that in the United States no organized governmental philosophy is as at work to produce the 'monolithic state.' It is true that within the 48 states a most rich and a most pleasing variety of types and organizations freely exist. The standard of living and with it the elbow room achieved by 'free capitalism' is the greatest the world has ever seen."

But Miss Ward regards America as basically materialistic. She relates an experience in America. She urged a group of businessmen to consider steps toward avoidance of another depression, among them "a long-term policy of exporting capital goods to the rest of the world." There followed an hour's fierce attack upon 'communist' government intervention in business. But at the end one business man said, "I believe what you have heard this evening is your last chance of not committing suicide."

Miss Ward is appalled by the political tyranny manifest in Russia with her secret police and her concentration camps.

Yet she sees "a Christian truth in Communism's concern for the poor, the outcast and the exploited which explains its appeal to the young and to many mature and noble minds. (A Communist army gave the land to peasants in Hungary.)"

"The freedom, the elbow room, the atmosphere of experiment in America appeals to me—but not the look on the face of a certain noted American when he said the United States needs a slump 'to make labor more docile,' nor the tedious emptiness of so much in American culture—radio, magazines, newspapers—nor the deep rooted materialism which infects even religious bodies."

In conclusion:

1. Our best chance of understanding Russia lies in frank recognition of differing concepts of political and economic methods.
2. These differing concepts are most likely to clash in areas where each country is competing for the allegiance of as yet undecided peoples.
3. In these areas the United States philosophy has a better chance of surviving peacefully if it recognizes the peoples' yearning for security after centuries of war and poverty.
4. Understanding Russia is largely understanding our own possible reactions if faced with a choice between political liberty and economic security. The Russian answer is economic security enforced by a police state. We dare not let our feeble reply be political liberty at the expense of individual economic chaos. Our hope of never having to make that choice lies in the performance of an abundant economy within the framework of political freedom. Performance and not words are the standards. If that economy distinguishes through our own bungling and selfish ineptness, then we will thoroughly understand Russia.

For if history is any guide, we will make the same choice she has made.

U. S. AIR FARCE

Looking Ahead—

1948-'49 Spending Viewed at 3 Billion Under This Year's

WASHINGTON—It's a good bet that government spending next fiscal year will be about $3,000,000,000 under expenditures this fiscal year—not taking "Marshall Plan" developments into account.

Work on the budget for the 12 months beginning next July 1 has begun, but experienced appraisers think spending will run around $3,000,000,000, compared with $37,000,000,000 in the current budget.

If there's a slump, expenditures for relief, public works etc., would lift the total considerably. Tax collections would fall off at the same time.

CONCILIATION TEST
WASHINGTON—Cyrus S. Ching, affable chief of the new Federal Conciliation and Mediation Service, may have to take dramatic action to keep his first big case from blowing up.

After three weeks of intense mediating, efforts to settle the Bethlehem shipyard dispute came perilously near a breakthrough.

Bethlehem refused to budge during most of that time, insisting on revising wartime contracts in keeping with postwar retrenchments. The CIO marine and shipbuilding workers want to hold their wartime gains and seek the 12-cent hourly wage increase granted by some other ship builders.

BOOM OR BUST?
WASHINGTON—Most government economists appear to feel that a business bust of some sort is pretty certain if things go on as they are, but they're pretty uncertain about that "if."

Some figure that there'll be more inflation in the form of wage increases to catch up with higher living costs and that the result will be postponement of a bust—but that eventually it will be a worse one.

Note that Preston Delano, comptroller of the currency, went beyond all other official utterances when he said that the nation already is in the "full swing of a severe and dangerous inflation."

PEOPLE
LONDON—Prime Minister Attlee is expected soon to give Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade, wider powers for dealing with the economic crisis.

WASHINGTON—James M. Landis is trying to end persistent reports he will resign as civil aeronautics board chairman and has told friends he would accept reappointment Dec. 31.

WASHINGTON—Dr. L. Neftali Ponce, who resigned as Ecuadorian ambassador when his government was overthrown by a military coup in August, will stay on. By the time his resignation reached Quito the military regime had been tossed out again.

BRITISH COAL
LONDON—Deputy Prime Minister Morrison's recent statement that Britain might resume coal exports this year, despite shortages at home, apparently was made without consultation with union leaders.

Some influential labor leaders say that the workers will demand that full supplies first be made available to British industry, lest foreign industries get a head start and cause unemployment at home.

COTTON EXPORTS
WASHINGTON—A $6,000,000 credit to cotton exporters is expected to be arranged within the next few weeks by the export-import bank and private banks interested in foreign trade. The exporters are expected to put up a few millions too.

The deal would be similar to that arranged recently to finance cotton shipments to Germany, in which the "G-M" bank advanced $19,000,000 and the exporters $1,000,000.

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON—President Truman finds himself in the middle of the toughest squeeze play of his White House career as the related issues of foreign aid and high domestic prices boil toward an inevitable crisis in coming months.

White House aides and the top echelon of the administration are busily at work trying to develop a program which will strike a balance between spiraling food and other prices and the necessity of maintaining European governments to keep them from chaos and Communism.

Any course to be pursued will require congressional action unless the chief executive decides the situation is too explosive to bring it up for solution. But inaction, the responsible capital sources believe, may well result either in a runaway domestic inflation or a disintegration of pro-democratic governments in western Europe—possibly both.

Mr. Truman has been long committed to a program of American-spirited relief for Europe's ailing economy. Should congress fail to back his policy, it is likely that commodity prices would halt their upward climb—probably drop sharply to relieve the present clamor against the high cost of living.

The long-term cost of such solution, however, might well be the establishment of an entirely new balance of power lineup in Europe, with Russia in control of the heavy side of the international scale.

POWERFUL POLITICAL WHIRLPOOLS and eddies are churning in the wake of the abortive Eisenhower-for-president boom, disavowed by the army chief of staff, but thundering louder day by day in Republican circles.

Should a Taft-Dewey stalemate or any other combination of the political numbers result in an Eisenhower "draft" at the GOP national convention next year, the result would be an almost certain "draft" of Defense Secretary James Forrestal as President Truman's running mate.

Obviously, the Democrats would feel they must counter an Eisenhower ticket with a man whose war record was almost as brilliant. The Democrats will claim Forrestal's record as wartime undersecretary, then secretary of the navy, is as distinguished as Eisenhower's.

Forrestal, in event of an Eisenhower nomination, will have no choice but to run with Truman. He will be told it is his duty. At present, Forrestal is content to be the nation's first defense secretary, but an Eisenhower nomination would change all that.

Strong feeling now exists in the GOP that if "Ike" is "drafted" to head the ticket, either Minnesota's former Gov. Harold Stassen or California's Gov. Earle Warren must be his running mate.

Stassen is believed willing to run with Eisenhower. Should Warren decline, certain GOP elements would go after Speaker Joe Martin.

SENATOR ELMER THOMAS (D-Okla.), has returned from Europe convinced that the world would be better off economically if all countries adopted the gold ounce as the monetary unit.

He says the problem now is very much like that of the 13 states after the revolutionary war. Each had its own type of money. He says some states used nails, others tobacco, still others wampum.

They had trouble because states using nails could not get wampum to trade with wampum states. They cured their troubles by adopting the same standard of money—the dollar.

Thomas declares that if all nations adopted the gold ounce as a standard, European countries would not have the "dollar shortage" ailment from which they now suffer.

AVIATION
WASHINGTON—United Airlines will use the instrument landing system (ILS) this winter but will not fly at the lower altitudes it makes permissible. The extra altitude will be used as a safety factor for another year.

MONTREAL—The council (CAP) of the International Civil Aviation Organization has ended a quiet but intense internal dispute by deciding to fill the post of deputy secretary general. Tim O'Driscoll of Ireland is likely to get the job.

WASHINGTON—The president's air policy commission is writing its final report as hearings go along. Final decisions will be made at the last minute, and it's hoped the report will be ready for Mr. Truman by Dec. 31.

WASHINGTON—It has been decided to open the world conference on a pact on exchange of air rights at Geneva Nov. 3 instead of Oct. 27.

CANADIAN COIFFURES
WINNIPEG—Hair dresser Charles Tugwell says Western Canadian wheatfields are "inspiring a lavish treatment that is quite original." Fall styles "sweep the hair upward."

SCIENCE
LONDON—Dr. T. Pomfret Kilner told the international surgeons conference that highly developed skin grafting techniques now leave the surgeon free to cut out large areas in combating malignant diseases "unfettered by a fear of leaving disfigurement or deformity."

NEW YORK—The Latin verb "video," meaning to see, is emerging as the terse, one-word identification that the television industry has been looking for—something like "radio."

Urges Hiring of Women
CANBERRA (AP)—Australian Minister for Labor and National Service Edward J. Holloway has appealed to employers to take more women into factories and offices, many on a part-time basis.

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

Conservative Worship of Words

By SAMUEL GRAFTON
New York Post Syndicate

There is something almost metaphysical about the conservative swing which has overtaken America. There was that well-to-do housewife who appeared as a witness before the New York hearings of the congressional subcommittee which is investigating prices. She said she was for lower prices but against food subsidies.

When reporters asked her to define subsidies, she didn't seem to know much about them, but she was against them anyway, because they "increased the cost of government."

How many echoes of how many suburban political conversations on how many porches are wrapped up in that one brisk comment, one cannot say.

Actually, of course, the good lady is quite wrong. Our abandonment of food subsidies has almost certainly increased the cost of government, rather than reduced it. For the price rise which promptly followed abandonment of subsidies has made necessary an increase of benefits to veterans and increased pay for federal workers.

It now costs twice as much to feed a soldier as it did a short time ago. The government has to pay over two dollars per bushel for relief wheat, instead of the dollar or so that was the price during subsidy time.

But, as I say, the new American conservative swing has about it almost a metaphysical air. It has in it a quality of word-worship. Any step which nominally reduces "the cost of government" is good; therefore let us take it, even if it increases the cost of government, and of living. The word, not the reality, must be served, for the word is the tyrant of the new conservative tendency.

Now let us turn to an entirely different case, that of Senator Homer Ferguson, of Michigan. He has a word, too. His word is "private."

He addresses the word. It rolls on his tongue like a precious morsel. The senator wants us to abandon the Marshall Plan, because it involves loans to governments (bad word) and he wants to replace it with loans made to private companies abroad, or to private companies in America for investment abroad, in order to save private enterprise.

Of course Europe might drop dead while the slow process of setting up such private loans was going on.

There are those in Europe who will want to eat in a month or two, long before any incidental benefits resulting from a loan to a private Thameside widgeot corporation could save them. Western Europe might even go Communist because of the delays involved in Ferguson's method for saving private industry.

But the new-style American conservative, stuck on a word, and lost in metaphysical contemplation of it, will not allow himself to be capsized by such alarmist talk.

To him the word is reality, and reality is the word. We walk through a mist, a fog of such words, and devotion to them is the chief sign of the political change which has overwhelmed America. Like the use of the word "freedom" to describe a situation in which you are forced to eat margarine when you want butter.

Ferguson is leaving shortly, with other members of the appropriations committee, for a trip to Europe, to survey current conditions. But he is already on record as unalterably opposed to loans to foreign governments. His course of action suits the new metaphysical conservatism very well. He has already given us his plan. His voyage to see what is going on is a footnote.

Swedish Economist Sees U. S. Business Jolt
STOCKHOLM (AP)—The director of the Swedish business cycle institute, Prof. Erik Lundberg, predicts a brief business recession in the United States "within a rather short time."

"But this recession is likely to be of rapidly passing character," the Swedish economist said in an article in the industrial journal "Fagersta Forum."

He cited the rapid increase of prices, with purchasing unable to keep pace.

SUI Artists Win Top Prizes in Exhibits

University of Iowa artists won a variety of prizes and recognition at many midwest exhibits last summer.

Paintings by both professors and students were shown at the Iowa state fair, the Illinois state fair, the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis, and the Chicago Art Institute. Mauricio Lasansky, Humbert Albrizio and Malcom Myers, faculty members, exhibited work at the Denver art museum.

In the oil painting class at the Iowa state fair all but one second and two third prizes were awarded University of Iowa artists. Byron Burford, art department instructor, won first prize for his painting, "One of These Long Hot Summer Days." "Pieta," by Dorothy L. Eisenbach, former summer school student, and "Trailer View," by Hayward L. Oubre, G, also received first awards.

Joe Cox, assistant professor, and Leroy Burket, assistant in the art department, both received second prizes for their paintings. Paul Running, G, Lee Chesney, G, and W. K. Nowack, G, took fourth place honors for their paintings.

Mauricio Lasansky, associate professor, won a first award for his engraving entitled "Composition." Lee Chesney was awarded second place; Ray French, G, won fourth.

Frederi Schlesselman, G, won second place for his sculptury entitled "Restless Rest." Joan Cox, G, received fourth award for a composition called "Head."

rell, the wife of Sturat Edie, both received awards in the water color division.

Art students Dorothy Eisenbach, Dorothy McCray, Margaret Olney, Richard Olney and Ruth Wahlberg had their work at the Walker exhibit. Shirley Hammond and Ulfer Wilke, assistant professors in the art department, also were represented at the exhibit.

At the Chicago Art Institute's exhibition Ruth Wahlberg, university graduate, won honorable mention. Lasansky served as a member on the jury.

Lasansky and Albrizio won purchase prizes from the Denver art museum.

Russia Plays a Tricky Game in Korea

By JAMES D. WHITE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russia, in proposing withdrawal of Soviet and American troops from Korea, acts upon an assumption that the United States will not agree.

The assumption is well founded under present circumstances, which Russia helped to create by prolonging the deadlock with America over the question of leading Korea into self-government.

These circumstances add up, from the American standpoint, to the virtual certainty that Korea would be plunged into civil war if military occupation forces were withdrawn before establishment of a stable government. Southern Korean leaders agree.

The northern communists and their real and prospective supporters in the south could quickly acquire control of the entire country. This is true, an American expert in Korea informs me, because if REMINDING YOU TO WATCH THIS COLUMN EACH SUNDAY FOR YOUR HY HIT TUNE OF THE WEEK!!!! The song SUI students pick as their favorite of the week by a personal questionnaire will be announced each Sunday in this column. Watch for it, its the tune you choose . . . it's yours.

What's more and better than ever, every Monday noon Jerry Feniger will play this particular disc over WSUI's "RHYTHM RAMBLES." Just flip the dial of your radio to 910 at 12 noon and keep listening . . . Sometime during that half hour of music your HY HIT TUNE will be played!!!

HY HIT TUNE OF THE WEEK!!!!

Introducing the song you students chose as your favorite for the past seven days . . . "I WISH I DIDN'T LOVE YOU SO." HUYETT WEST has your popularly picked tune by Helen Forrest, and the same tune by many others will be available soon. Also in stock is Elliot Lawrence's recording or the same disc by Alvino Rey. Whichever you choose, it's a cinch to be good and you'll find your choice at HUYETT WEST. Another very popular record is "Song of the Indians." You can't go wrong, it's by Jo Stafford and Red Ingie.

The undercover slant on the Zeta house reveals something new and different. It's a radio, not an ordinary one you understand, but a shocking fuchsia colored mechanism that Marilyn Mariner painted to go with her aqua room. Sounds gay!

With the exotic charm of deep, dark Africa, NAYLON matching lipsticks and nail polish will help you cast a spell of excitement and enchantment . . . at WHET'S, in such warm and bewitching shades as "Congo Magic," "Night Fire" and "Barbarian," these NAYLON products by La Cross may not make you a woman of mystery, but you'll be the girl of his dreams, instead.

Also, new at WHETSTONE'S is the new non-smear polish remover, "OILEX." It, too, is a "must" for your cosmetic kit, for with it you can redip the same piece of cotton to remove all the polish on your nails! . . . Perhaps how it works is another African mystery, but you can get it at WHET'S.

"We've got everything; the Chi O's mean, 'except a housemother! A cook, a maid, a furnace man, but no iron hand is around to rule the Chi O roost!" They continue, "10:30 hours are strictly enforced." That's cooperation!

Baby your youngster with SWANER'S MELLO-D homogenized milk. Even if he isn't old enough to walk or talk he'll hold out his appreciation for it . . . And, you'll like to serve him SWANER'S MELLO-D MILK, too, for with the new sanitary, scientific cap that's no spilling or leaking. Airtight, it seals in all the rich body-building vitamins, minerals and proteins . . . So for healthy bodies and happy children, serve your family dairy products from SWANER'S.

"A home away from home" — That's what your room can be if you brighten it up with lamps from MULFORD'S ELECTRIC SERVICE. Frilly pin-up and table lamps in a variety of pastels will add a cheery glow to even the darkest of corners. Soothing atmosphere can also be added to your room with a mellow-toned Emerson radio which MULFORD'S also has. Stop in or call MULFORD'S ELECTRIC SERVICE . . . They have what you want in electrical appliances. Orders totaling over $1 will be delivered free of charge.

A young freshie, noticing Jan Gutz attired in a black gown and cap at an orientation party, asked, innocently, "Is this where we sign up for Mortarboard?"

Honey chile, if yo' mouth is waterin' for a big, juicy watermelon, the patch for you to pick from is at BRENNEMAN'S. Or, if you indulge in the extra-curricular activity of apple-eatin', why not get your supplies at BRENNEMAN'S? . . . There you'll find your favorites fruit in all sizes, shapes and colors — large luscious Jonathans, tasty Grimes Golden apples and red Delicious ones. *For your fun-filled parties and picnics or own snack-time pleasure, pack home a sack full of fruit from BRENNEMAN'S.

It might prove verrrry interesting to know which occupant of Currier Cottage No. 12 is called "gargles" and just where and how she got her nickname!

A trip to DAVIS CLEANERS will give your wardrobe that new look. Don't fret when you find a spot on your favorite suit or dress, send it to DAVIS CLEANERS and it will be ready to wear to the next party. Look assured by being assured that your clothes are neat and clean. The service at DAVIS CLEANERS is dependable, reliable and quick. Send your garments to DAVIS CLEANERS for a cleaning job that's well done.

Hey coeds! . . . What's your appearance rating??? If you have uneven hem lines, missing buttons and snaps, or lumpy plackets, it's a sure cinch you aren't making a good appearance!! SINGER'S have all those little necessities that make for good grooming — hem gauges, thread, zippers, dress shields, snaps and buttons. Why take chances on appearing sloppy when for a small price you can always look your best? Stop in SINGER'S and stock up, 'cause remember, "Fashions may change but good grooming is always in style!"

Hold it! . . . Don't move! . . . I want to remember that expression always. Let KRITZ STUDIO capture you at your loveliest in one of their original portraits. Soft shadows and flattering highlights bring out your own natural beauty. It's you at your best in a KRITZ portrait, so stop in and make your appointment soon!!

No matter if you're anticipating a football game or your favorite fall sport . . . you'll have the answer to solid warmth and comfort if you choose a SPORT KING from BREMERS.

Talking over the freshman football prospects with two players are Marian Brown, DG, and Herb Williams, Phi Gam . . . Warmly dressed in these all wool SPORT KING plaid coats from BREMERS, "Sam" and Herb are prepared for the cold weather.

These models are tailored with slide fasteners, double pockets, and full belts. Sizes are from 34 to 46, and are priced at $18.50.

Suits are in the campus swing again this fall with an even larger popularity poll . . .

From ALDENS wide selection, Betty Dickenson, Currier Hall, has chosen this $49.95 Swansdown original in green and mocha brown glen plaid. Her hat is the new burnt brandy . . . and her shoes, purse, and gloves are of gleaming black calf.

It all adds up to a mighty smooth girl with a smooth outfit from ALDENS.

So you don't know what to wear! . . . Your cottons need washing, your other clothes need cleaning and to top it off, you're too busy to tend to them. Well, madame, let NEW PROCESS LAUNDRY AND CLEANERS simplify things for you with their "Twin Service." — Long established as one of Iowa City's best laundries, now the NEW PROCESS also has the newest, most modern dry cleaning equipment. So remember, . . . one phone call, one stop, and soon your clothes are spotless.

"Wash day blues" carried away on the strains of your favorite melody! . . . Music while you wash. No, it isn't a day dream . . . it's the LAUNDROMAT! Everybody is talking about the LAUNDROMAT because it offers such an economical, time saving way to wash. You simply take your clothes to the LAUNDROMAT and while you sit and listen to your favorite songs on the juke box, your clothes wash, rinse and are completely dry by the time you're ready to go home. So why have "blue Monday," or any other day of the week? . . . Stop in or phone the LAUNDROMAT, located at 24 South Van Buren, phone 80291.

With a lost look in her eye, she turned to another girl in the registration line and asked, "Where do I go for personal hygiene?"
