ILLINOI STAGGER HAWKS

Overell Jury Split, Excused Until Morning

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—The jury trying Louise Overell and George (Bud) Gollum for the murder of her parents advised Judge Kenneth Morrison last night that it stood numerically 11 to 1, without disclosing whether the vote was for conviction or acquittal.

Jay Porter, foreman of the jury, informed the court he believed the jury could reach a verdict.

The jury was summoned to the courtroom by Judge Morrison after it had been deliberating for 26 hours.

"Do you believe you will be able to reach a verdict?" asked the jurist.

"We hope so," answered the foreman.

Judge Morrison then excused the jury until 9:30 a.m. (PST) (11:30 a.m. CST) Sunday when it will resume deliberations.

The jury then retired to the hotel where it was locked up for the night.

Gollum grinned all over his large face when the jury made its announcement and told newsmen: "It looks like an acquittal."

Louise, 18 year old heiress, was emotionally upset and turned away when newsmen attempted to interview her.

Defense Counsel Otto Jacobs expressed highest optimism over the standing of the jury and said he was confident both defendants would be acquitted when the jury reconvenes tomorrow.

The jury poll marked a climax in the trial of the college sweetheart in the yacht explosion deaths of her parents, Financier and Mrs. Walter E. Overell. The 18-week murder trial was the longest on record in American court annals.

When the jury came in, the little courtroom was still packed with spectators who had been waiting all day long for a verdict.

Four times earlier the jury had asked for exhibits in the case.

Accused of kidnaping the nine-months-old Craig S. Moyer they had reared the first six months of his life, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Carleton, Davenport, were released from the Atlantic, Ia., jail on bond. Charges were brought by the mother, Mrs. Getrude Moyer, Des Moines. The Carletons are required to appear before the grand jury in Atlantic, Monday.

South Charleston, W. Va., recorded an odd accident yesterday when a steamboat ran over an airplane and demolished it. Frank Isaac, pilot of a seaplane, miscalculated the shadow of electric wires on the Kanawha river and altered his course, crash landing in the path of an oncoming ship. He was treated for cuts on the ear.

According to Harry Booth, president of the Des Moines Industrial council (CIO), that organization opposes any anti-Taft demonstrations by its members during Senator Robert Taft's (R-Ohio) visit next week. Earlier the Iowa Federation of labor announced it had asked its members to ignore Taft completely.

Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) predicted yesterday that Republicans will sweep six western states he has just visited and elect a president and congress in 1948. He will probably make known to the Ohio Republican Central committee about Oct. 24 his decision on whether to seek actively his party's top nomination in next June's Philadelphia convention.

The United States is renouncing an Italian battleship and other war vessels, awarded this country under the peace treaty, as another effort to aid Italy's non-Communist government, American officials reported yesterday. Combat ships returned to Italy must be scrapped, but auxiliaries may be put back into service.

Will Request Brewers Halt Use of Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of the brewing industry yesterday agreed to recommend to the nation's brewers an immediate stop to the use of wheat or table grade rice in beer, in furtherance of President Truman's aid-to-Europe program.

The representatives, of the United States Brewer's Foundation and The Small Brewer's committee, also agreed to recommend the release for food use of all stocks of wheat owned by the brewers or under contract to buy. The latter stocks are estimated by the brewers' spokesman at over 200,000 bushels.

The action was announced at the White House. It was taken at the request of Charles Luckman, chairman of Mr. Truman's citizens food committee, and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, after a secret, six-hour conference yesterday.

Frank Mason, executive director of the United States Brewers' Foundation, said the industry representatives could not go beyond a "recommendation" for fear of running afoul of the anti-trust laws.

But Secretary of Agriculture Anderson advised reporters not to expect any curtailment as great as that announced by the Distilled Spirits Institute Friday night.

The whiskey distillers' organization, representing more than half the industry, agreed to halt the use of wheat entirely.

White house officials indicated President Truman, in his broadcast to the nation tomorrow at 9:30 p.m. (CST), will give the nation a more specific goal of saving than the "buy wisely, eat sensibly, waste nothing" slogan of the food committee.

The broadcast will include addresses by Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Commerce Harriman, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, and Luckman.

World in Action— Around The Globe

Thousands of Belgians joined American officials yesterday at Antwerp in tribute to 5,600 American war dead who sailed for New York harbor aboard a U.S. Army transport, scheduled to arrive about Oct. 25. Belgians pledged care for the remaining graves "as if their tombs were our children's."

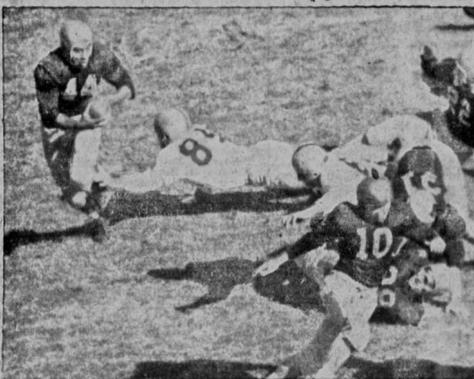

Dr. Max Planck, 89, originator of the quantum theory which provided one of the basic propositions underlying the splitting of the atom, died Friday night. Goettingen university clinic announced yesterday. The German physicist had ranked with Albert Einstein as one of the world's foremost scientists.

The United States yesterday told United Nations it would "explore" a French proposal to refrain from placing blame on Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria in the hotly debated Balkan problem. Delegate Herschel V. Johnson said the U.S. is also interested in a Belgian proposal of a Balkan commission which would render no verdict against the three countries.

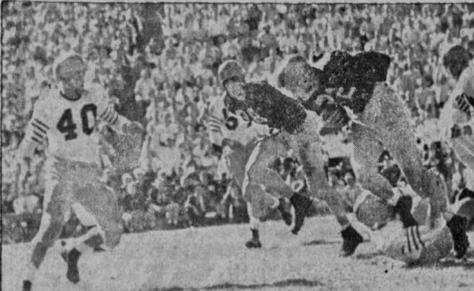

In a report by Chairman John R. Steelman, the Scientific Research board told President Truman yesterday "the possibilities of atomic warfare" make it advisable for key industries, scientists and laboratories to be scattered more widely throughout the nation. It proposed U.S. program needs be organized and directed toward national goals. The board also recommended top salaries for government scientists be increased.

The Chinese Communists smashed the all-important Peiping-Mukden railway at many points and skirmished within 10 miles of Chagchun yesterday, gaining sharp advantages in the opening phases of the new campaign for Manchuria.

And This Is How It Happened

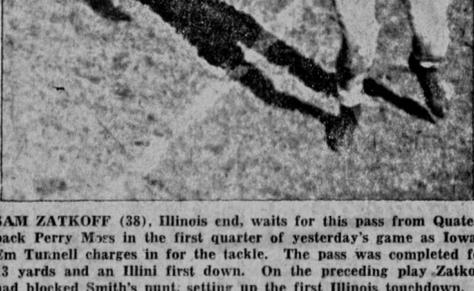

FIVE YARDS FOR THE HAWKS—Emlen Tunnell skirts the Illinois end for five yards on this first quarter play. Illinois Back Burt Schmidt (on ground) makes a futile attempt to halt the Iowa back as Bud Kaisershot (10) forms interference for The Gremlin. Shortly after this play the Illini blocked an Iowa punt and went on to rack up the game's first touchdown.

IOWA'S BOB SMITH is on his longest run of the day in the first quarter of yesterday's contest. Smith (22) went for 10 yards and a first down as Guzowski (28) goes out to block. Closing in for the tackle is Dike Eddleman (40). This play was the first run off the single wing by the Hawks this season. Iowa alternated the single wing with the "T" all day to add deception to the attack.

SAM ZATKOFF (38), Illinois end, waits for this pass from Quarterback Perry Moss in the first quarter of yesterday's game as Iowa's Em Tunnell charges in for the tackle. The pass was completed for 13 yards and an Illini first down. On the preceding play Zatkoff had blocked Smith's punt, setting up the first Illinois touchdown.

ILLINOIS DRAWS FIRST blood in the first quarter of yesterday's game. In this play Steger plunged over from the one-yard line. The Hawks had held the Illini to four yards on three running plays after Illinois had a first down on the five before Steger scored. Steger is under the pile of players. Other Illinois players are Dike Eddleman, (40) and Wrenn (26). Iowa players visible are Tunnell (44) and Guzowski (28). (Daily Iowan Photos by S. J. Davis and Dick Davis)

Moss' Tosses, Three Breaks Ruin Iowa Grid Hopes, 35-12

By CHAD BROOKS Managing Editor

Fabulous Illinois officiated at the last rites for Iowa's once proud gridiron Hawkeyes yesterday afternoon, parlaying three very big breaks and an often brilliant passing attack into 35 stunning points and a top-sided 35-12 victory.

And in losing, Dr. Eddie Anderson's worst fears for his Hawkeyes were realized.

The big Iowa line was always good—at times great—but their lack of backfield speed limited the Hawk attack to near futility and the Hawk defense to a series of desperate attempts to stop the passing of Illini quarterback Perry Moss.

Yet, even had the Hawks boasted a pair of Buddy Young's in the backfield it is hard to see how they could have matched the Illini yesterday. The boys literally ran into a buzz saw.

If anything, this Illinoi team is stronger than the 1946 outfit that grabbed a conference championship and romped on to a great Rose, Bowl victory.

Mr. Moss was a very heady individual, using the power of Full-back Russ Steger as the perfect complement to his own amazing pitching.

This team may not be on a par with Michigan's Big Nine favorites—but as long as Mr. Moss is on the mound they'll always be dangerous.

Even so, with Iowa's glaring weakness and Illinois' greatness, it was still anybody's ball game until mid-way in the third quarter when the visiting warriors got break number three.

The Illini were leading 21-12. And were on the warpath deep into Iowa territory once again when little Ray Carlson grabbed a fumble by Warrior captain Art Dufemeier in the air . . . broke into the open with a two man escort . . . was pulled down from behind as the escort went merrily on its way . . . and returned the favor by fumbling into the waiting arms of Illini Dike Eddleman.

It should have been an easy Hawkeye touchdown, narrowing the margin to a very weak couple of points. But, instead, it was Illinois' ball and Illinois' game as the Warriors simply poured on points from then on in.

The luck of the Illini, almost completely manufactured by the eager Warriors, started fast and continued apace.

The game was only a few minutes old when Em Tunnell dropped an Eddleman punt on his own 18 and Sam Zatkoff grabbed it for the Illini.

Six plays later the rough Mr. Steger plunged from the one for a touchdown.

And four minutes later, while Iowa's Bob Smith was attempting to punt, the same Zatkoff crashed in from his end spot . . . blocked the kick . . . and the Illini took over on Iowa's 36.

Three Moss passes moved to the six. Steger plunged for four. And Eddleman crashed over the Iowa right guard for touchdown number two.

Don Maechtle, the Illinois kicking specialist, converted twice.

Early in the second period Illinois returned the favor. Eddleman fumbled on his own 33 and Bill Kay pounced on the ball for the Hawks.

Two Tunnell passes, the second one complete to the Illini one on pass interference, and some rugged line bucking by Ron Headington set up the first Hawkeye score.

Headington scored it with a one yard plunge.

But the Illini still left for the intermission with a two touchdown—and 15 point—lead.

Late in the period, Chick Maggioni returned a punt to the Iowa 38 and Perry Moss started pitching strikes. He hit Jim Valek for eight . . . connected with Joe Buscemi to the 16 . . . and teamed with Buscemi again to the 10.

Reserve fullback Burt Schmidt moved to the one in three plays and Moss clawed his way across for touchdown number three. Maechtle, naturally, tossed in the gift point.

Iowa took the second half kick-off—and Mr. Headington took over. He smashed through the Illini forwards for four, one, sixteen and seven yard gains before an offside penalty gave the hawks first and 15 on the Illinoi 47.

Al DiMarco then pitched a long one to Tunnell and the Gremlin made a great grab between two would-be defenders on the Warrior 17.

Headington smashed to the nine

Give Priority For Shipping Quarry Fence

A special type of non-climbable fence to enclose the old stone quarry on N. Riverside drive definitely will arrive here next week, representatives of the Keystone Wire company, Peoria, Ill., told The Daily Iowan yesterday.

The fence, on order by the university for over four months, will provide greater safety for the children of Templin park barracks residents.

When informed of the near-drowning of young Phil Penningroth, 5, who fell into the quarry while playing on Friday, W. A. Zimmerman, territory representative, said he had obtained a definite promise from his company that the "highest priority" will be given the order.

L. W. Hesse, national representative, told The Daily Iowan that the company would ship the fence on the first Iowa City-bound truck, which he said would be faster than rail shipment.

Sandra, 6, another daughter, suffered severe cuts and bruises about the face, arms and body. Her condition was reported as "fairly good."

Olson, who suffered a crushed head, and Becky, whose skull was fractured, were killed instantly.

The automobile, which was demolished, was carried about 50 feet. All the victims were thrown from the car.

Yanks Need One More Win

By GAYLE TALBOT BROOKLYN (AP)— Frank (Spec) Shea, brilliant freshman pitcher, and the great Joe DiMaggio combined their talents yesterday to give the Yankees a tense 2-to-1 triumph over the Dodgers in the fifth game of the World Series at Ebbets field and move the Bronx Bombers within one victory of their 11th world championship.

Cookie Lavagetto, the Dodger pinchhitter who bounced a game-winning double off the fence in the ninth inning to win Friday's thriller for the Flatbushers, went down swinging for the final out yesterday with the tying run on second base. It was too much to expect Cookie to do it twice in a row.

Shea, in racking up his second victory of the playoffs, pitched a superb four-hitter and knocked across the Yankees' first run off young Rex Barney, the losing Brooklyn flinger. DiMaggio smashed his second home run of the series into the left field upper-deck in the fifth frame to provide Shea with all the margin he needed.

Brooklyn scored its lone run off the Naugatuck, Conn., right-hander in the sixth when he issued two walks and Jackie Robinson, Dodger first baseman, drove a single off Shea's glove into center field for a single. Shea's dramatic strikeout of Lavagetto as Dodger fans prayed for another miracle was his seventh of the contest.

Although Brooklyn threw four pitchers into the fray, including the every-ready Hugh Casey for the third in as many days, it was not necessarily as a tribute to Yankee power. Outside of the two vital blows by Shea and DiMaggio, the only other hits the winners collected were a single and a double by Tommy Henrich and a double to the fence by Shea after two were out in the eighth.

DiMaggio's circuit blow, in fact, possibly saved the clipper from going down as the official goat of the game. In three other attempts the Yankee star rapped feebly into two double plays and struck out, each time with runners on base.

It was a tight, well-played game, the second in a row in a series which had threatened to go into the books as possibly the worst ever. For the second straight day the interborough rivals left their funny faces at home and played it straight, and the crowd of 34,379 was appreciative.

Barney, 22-year-old surprise starter for the Dodgers, gave up both Yankee scores before he had to be lifted soon after DiMaggio's blow, but he did surprisingly well, considering everything. It was the first game the kid from Omaha had started since July 4, and he was as wild as the northern winds, but the American leaguers had a tough time getting him out of there.

In the four and two-thirds innings he worked the young fireballer issued nine walks, within one of the new world series record set only Friday by the ill-starred Bill Bevens of the Yanks, yet only one of them figured in the scoring against him.

Shea's control, on the other hand, was immaculate through the early part of the game, and he didn't let a Dodger reach first until Peeewe Reese worked him for a walk with one out in the fourth. Thereafter the Yankee star gave up two passes in each of two following innings, and one of them, opening the sixth, led to Brooklyn's only run.

Iowa Coach Praises Line

Thinks Hawks Played Well, Breaks Costly

By BUCK TURNBULL
Sports Editor

All was silent... words were few and far between... a cleated shoe was flung into a nearby locker... muddy jerseys were peeled off in utter disconcert... and then the team tramped into the shower.

These were all prevalent in the Iowa football team's locker room yesterday afternoon after their hard-fought battle against a red-hot Illinois team. They had been beaten but Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson was not as sad as might be expected.

"Why, they played a heck of a ball game," Dr. Eddie said. "The big question mark before the game started was how our line would do—and they answered that question with good hard football."

But looking over the players themselves, they were all dejected. Emilen Tunnell was probably in the lowest spirits. "It was the worst game I ever played," Em remarked. Apparently he forgot the beautiful catch he made on one of Quarterback Al DiMarco's passes in the first half. Many thought that Em was the best all-around player on the field.

Most of the Iowa players had little to say in regards to the game—all they wanted to do was get dressed and leave the locker room.

But in the dressing room of Illinois, all was a different story.

They were all happy and had good reason to be. Coach Ray Eliot was very well pleased with the way his boys had played throughout the whole game. "But don't take anything away from Iowa," Ray said. "They've got a fine team."

Illini Line Coach Bert Ingwersen sidled into the conversation with a "Boy, what a ball game! Our fellas were really fired up for this game."

Players jostled about all in a hurry to get out and get back to Champaign.

"You know," Ingwersen laughed, "we'll be back in Champaign for dinner tonight. It'll just take us about an hour and a half by plane once we leave Iowa City."

Ingwersen then turned his attentions to the Iowa team with the same opinion that Eliot had voiced. They were good and you can't take anything away from them. "But I do think they miss Dick Hoerner at fullback. Why, he was a heck of a fullback," Bert said.

"But you know what really beat Iowa today," Bert said. "The way our boys were keyed up. We showed them the movies of last year's Iowa game (the 7-0 win for Illinois) and they saw that they were definitely a better ball club. And they also wanted to get out and show everybody they were, too. I think that we'll be tough to beat from now on."

Naturally, we were very curious about the Illini engagement in New York next Saturday with an Army football team that has gone undefeated in their last 30 games over a four year span. So we put the question straight to Eliot and Ingwersen—Do you think that you're ready for Army now?

Eliot's reply was, "Gosh, I don't think we'll ever be ready for them." Ingwersen said, "We're just hoping."

Russ Steger, bull-necked Illinois fullback, was one of the first dressed but still looked none too happy.

"I didn't feel too well during the game," Russ said.

A victim of chronic airsickness which washed him out of the Naval air corps, Steger felt very bad Friday after the Illinois team had flown into Cedar Rapids from Champaign.

We asked Russ how he felt about the return trip back to Champaign via the air. "Aw, I'll be sick all the way back," he pouted.

Asked what he thought about the line play of the Iowa team, Russ said, "They were darn good in the first quarter but I think they slowed down a lot towards the end. And I think that the Iowa line-backers this year are a lot tougher. They really tackled."

Steger also voiced the opinion that Illinois was a better team this year than the Rose Bowl champions from last season.

Back to the Iowa dressing room. Most of the players were straggling out but the coaches were still there mulling the game over among themselves.

"It was just the breaks," Dr. Anderson said. "Bing! they had two touchdowns right off the bat and lead 14-0. But I actually thought we had a very good chance of beating Illinois—we just couldn't get off on the right foot."

"I was completely satisfied with our line play," Dr. Eddie said. "As for our pass defense, we're going to have to work very hard on that this week."

Dr. Eddie was very concerned over the large injury list. Quite a few of the linemen have bad legs. Among these are: Jim Cozad, Don Winslow and Bo McKenzie.

"And what about the backfield?" Dr. Eddie said. "We don't have any right halfbacks left and are weak in replacements for fullback. I started my only right halfback (Bud Kaisershot) and he got hurt. He probably won't be able to walk on his bad leg tomorrow."

"After that I had to use Fullback Bob Smith and Left Half Johnny Tedore in the right half slot—that's how bad things got! We have requested Dell Bartells to turn in his suit—he just wasn't trying." Bartells had started at right halfback in the opener against North Dakota State.

Another backfield injury was Fullback Ron Headington who lead the Hawkeye rushing attack yesterday with a total of 60 yards gained. He was carried from the field in the middle of the fourth quarter but was reported after the game as not in too serious condition.

The men in the press box got a big kick out of the Tailfeathers stunt before the game started. It consisted of two Indians carrying a huge sign with the words "Big Nine Champs". They then took the A out of the last word, substituted a U and made it read "Big Nine Chumps". On the other

Boilermaker Rally Upsets Bucks, 24-20

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue university's Boilermakers, losing the lead three times, hammered back to defeat Ohio State's Buckeyes, 24 to 20, yesterday.

It was Purdue's first Western Conference victory in two seasons and the first for Coach Stewart K. (Stu) Holcomb, former Army line coach and one-time team mate of Ohio State's Coach Wesley Fesler.

Only two breakaway sprints by Halfback Dave Sensenbaur—one a 97-yard kickoff return—enabled Ohio State to make it a close game. Purdue turned loose a ground attack, something it wasn't supposed to have this year, that did most of the damage.

Bob DeMoss, Purdue's 500-percentage passer over two seasons, finally got the line play and running assistance he needed to give his quarterbacking a change of pace.

Badgers Garner Tie With Hoosiers, 7-7

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP)—Earl Maves of Wisconsin scooted 70 yards yesterday to get a 7-to-7 tie with an Indiana team which played in Wisconsin's territory most of the afternoon.

The squat Badger senior broke through the center of the line when the Badger fortunes were low in the last quarter and not a Hoosier could lay a hand on him as he raced to the goal line 70 yards back.

George Talaferro, Indiana's brilliant sophomore led his team on a series of sustained drives but only one paid off, and that in the third. He crossed up the Badgers after a series of line plays and passed to End Lou Mihaljovich in the end zone.

Minnesota's Gophers Dump Huskers, 28-13

LINCOLN, NEBR. (AP)—Minnesota handled Nebraska mercilessly in the first half and the fourth period yesterday to crush the Huskers 28 to 13 in a Big Nine-Big Six inter-conference game before 36,000 fans.

Minnesota marched 68 yards from the opening kick-off for their first touchdown and tallied again in the second period.

Wildcats Upset UCLA

Northwestern Nips Favored Bruins in 4th Quarter, 27-26

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A fourth-string halfback, speedy Jules Siegle, grabbed a 33-yard touchdown pass in the fourth period to hand inspired Northwestern a sizzling 27-26 win over heavily-favored UCLA before 44,000 at Dyche stadium yesterday.

The actual victory margin was provided by Quarterback Jim Farrar's point-after-touchdown, but Siegle—in the first and only play of the game—broke the back of the heralded Bruins with his payoff snatch from Farrar in the closing period with Northwestern behind, 26-20.

The Bruins blew a 13-0 lead in the second period and were demoralized by two sensational Northwestern touchdown runs in the third period—a 93-yard kickoff return by Frankie Aschenbrenner and a 66-yard punt return by Tom Worthington.

UCLA had been rated a 13-point favorite, over the Wildcats, who were defeated in their opener last week by Vanderbilt, 3-0.

Worthington, a second string halfback, also counted on a 16-yard pass from Quarterback Don Burson.

Northwestern outgained UCLA, in first downs, 13 to 11, cashing in mainly on 12 completions in 23 forward passes for 132 yards. The Bruins, wasted a ground attack which out-stripped the Wildcats, 205 to 153.

The scoring merry-go-round started with all the ear-marks of an easy UCLA triumph as the Bruins cruised 59 yards and 31 yards for a 13-0 lead in the second period. Jack Myers climaxed the first drive with a smash over from inches out and the second score came on a 15-yard pass from Carl Benton to Johnny Roesch.

Northwestern banged to its first score of the season when Burson flipped a 16-yard payoff pass to Worthington, capping a 37-yard rally. Then came the thrilling kick returns for touchdowns by Aschenbrenner and Worthington to give Northwestern a 20-13 lead in the third period. UCLA flared back for two more touchdowns in the same period. Then came Northwestern's game-deciding pass in the fourth period.

Yanks Confident, Praise Shea

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN (AP)—Allie Reynolds, the Creek Indian from Oklahoma, gave out with a shrill war whoop as he pushed the Yankee dressing room door open for yesterday's hero, Frank (Spec) Shea, whose four-hitter squelched the Dodgers 2-1 in the fifth World Series game.

Then the 25-year-old Naugatuck, Conn., freshman's mates began to give Shea the hero treatment. Rushing over as he began to strip off his uniform, a dozen Yankees hugged, mauled and kissed the husky moundsman whose superb performance put them out in front, 3 games to 2.

When he got his breath, the usually modest Shea pounded his chest and with a hint of a swagger said "Well, I got 'em today and we'll get 'em again."

The Dodger dressing room was as subdued as it was tumultuous Friday.

Only Manager Barney Shotton kept on smiling and wise-cracking.

His pitching choice today, when the Dodgers must win to stay in the series, will as he says "probably be Vic Lombardi—but I don't think so. It's just a wild guess."

Michigan Rolls Over Outmanned Stanford

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Grinding out four rapid-fire touchdowns in the first 8½ minutes of play, Michigan's powerful Wolverines piled up a 42-0 half time lead yesterday and went ahead to paste Stanford's outmanned Indians 49 to 13, before 66,100 fans in their first football meeting in 45 years.

Not since Jan. 1, 1902, when Michigan's point-a-minute powerhouse slapped Stanford 49 to 0 at Pasadena in the "Daddy" of all Rose Bowl games, had the two teams met on the gridiron.

On the second play after the opening kickoff, Bob Chappuis, talented Toledo, Ohio, halfback, heaved a 50-yard pass to End Bob Mann back of the Stanford secondary for a touchdown that was hardly a hint of what was to come.

Lujack Leads Irish Over Stubborn Pitt After 1st Half Score

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Notre Dame gridiron express ran late yesterday but Engineer Johnny Lujack's adroitness brought the Fighting Irish home on schedule with a 40-6 victory over a surprisingly tough band of Pitt Panthers.

The Irish scored in the first six minutes as Terry Brennan of Milwaukee plunged three yards for a touchdown in climax to a 57-yard march. But from there on until the last few minutes of the half, it was strictly a Pitt show.

Pitt recovered a fumble in mid-second quarter and went on to score, sub Halfback Carl Despasqua of Williamsport running over from seven yards out. Notre Dame blocked a placement by Halfback Louis Cecconi.

Lujack, the Connettsville, Pa., brain behind the Notre Dame "T" took over from there. He fired the first of three touchdown passes to sub End Douglas Waybright of Saugus, Mass., in a 10-yard scoring play which climaxed an 80-yard march. The half ended, with the Irish leading 13-6.

Army Rolls Up Score Over Colorado, 47-0

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Coach Earl Blaik and his Army football team staged an experimental Saturday at the expense of a big but lumbering University of Colorado squad yesterday, entertaining a crowd of 21,000 by rolling up a 47 to 0 score.

Blaik used 46 players, including 18 backs. Most of them gained through and over the bulky Colorado line, which was able to stop the Cadets only once.

Columbia Throttles Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A superior Columbia eleven, bottling up Navy's impotent attack, most of the way, dealt the Midgies their second defeat of the season yesterday, 13-6, in a hard-fought but drab game.

Asks Curb on Fire Hazards

In a Fire Prevention Week proclamation, Mayor Preston Koser called upon the people of Iowa City "to do all we can to lessen the fire hazard."

The annual national drive to prevent fires begins today and will continue Oct. 5-11.

In the proclamation, Mayor Koser said:

"The strain on human life makes it imperative that we preserve all our resources and all our substance. In every possible way we must stop these leaks where they occur. One of the greatest of these is the fire hazard."

Iowa City suffered a material loss of $25,616 in the first eight months of the current year, according to Koser.

"To a large extent, this is needless waste and can be prevented," he said.

Fire Chief J. J. Clark recommended the following steps for the prevention of fires:

1. Get rid of papers, rags, and furniture stored in basements, closets and attics.
2. Do not use inflammable fluids for cleaning.

3. Have cleaning plants and chimneys cleaned.

4. Install fire resistant roofing on dried-out wood shingles.

5. Clean gas and electrical equipment and replace worn cords.

Clark said that during the week, firemen would carry on a general inspection of the town. Fire prevention talks and fire drills will be given by firemen at the city's public schools.

Chest Given 3 Pre-Drive Gifts

By BOB HOOVER

With three contributors jumping the gun with their pledges, the annual Community Chest campaign will officially get under way with a "Kick-off" breakfast for solicitors in the business and professional division at 8 a.m. tomorrow in the D and L grill.

Emil G. Trott, general chairman of the drive, announced yesterday that a national firm and two clubs had already made "generous" donations.

Trott said, "I have no doubt but that this year's quota of $17,952 will be met, and I feel sure that Iowa Citizens will continue to over-subscribe generously to the Community Chest as they have in past years."

"Our chief aim is to meet our quota within the allotted time, Oct. 6 to 20," he added. "The work of the division leaders, captains of the organizations and the chest headquarters staff in organizing the drive has been excellent. With their cooperation, together with the work of the solicitors, who will make the actual calls on the donors, we undoubtedly will achieve our goal."

Tomorrow morning workers in the seven divisions will begin contacting persons throughout the university and city.

The business and professional division, with Co-chairmen D.R. Williamson and Luther E. Burkett, has a quota of $9,003.62. With Mrs. I.A. Rankin as chairman, the residence group's goal is $2,328.78. The university division, headed by Prof. C.P. Berg, seeks to raise $3,113.51, while the University hospitals, under Glen E. Clasen, have a goal of $1,160.60.

The amount sought by the national firms division, whose chairman is Kirk A. Wickersham, is $2,265.20. Goal for the city schools division, headed by Donald Seavy, is $232.33.

The clubs and lodges division has no quota since it was newly organized this year and quotas are based on the amount a division took in last year. Gus A. Pusateri heads this group.

Anyone desiring to make his contribution direct to the Community Chest may take his pledge to headquarters in the council chamber at City hall, where Mrs. J.L. Records, chest secretary, and her assistants, Mrs. M.F. Neuzel and Mrs. Francis Boyle, will take care of it. The headquarters will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. daily. The telephone number is 8-0171.

Agencies participating in the Community Chest funds this year, and the amounts they are allotted, are as follows:

Boy Scouts	$8,510.64
Girl Scouts	5,638.30
PTA (milk fund)	851.06
Community rest room	771.27
"Y-Teens"	531.91
Campaign and administration	648.94

These agencies, and the amounts they receive, are named by the board of directors of the Community Chest. Chairman of the board is H.S. Ivie and Prof. Roscoe Woods is the treasurer. Other members are Emil G. Trott, Dale W. Welt, D.C. Nolan, Miss Pauline Kelley, I.J. Barron and Prof. R.H.

Ojemann, last year's drive chairman.

Commenting on this year's selection, Chairman Trott said, "Every participating agency represents a worthwhile cause and the money which is allotted them is carefully budgeted."

Each organization submits a request to the board of directors showing how it intends to use the money. This year all requests were allowed in the full amount. Although all organizations asked for more, the chest budget is less than it was a year ago.

The difference is accounted for in the fact that the "Y-Teen" organization was substituted this year for the city Recreation center and the amount the Recreation center received in the past is much more than the "Y-Teens" ask.

The Recreation center was not included this year because the last state legislature gave the city power to treble the amount available from taxation for the center. The board of directors thought, Trott said, that since it was possible to raise the money by taxation, they couldn't conscientiously ask people to include it in the chest budget.

The board felt that raising money by taxation should at least be tried, Trott continued. In case circumstances should warrant it in the future, the recreation center may be returned to the chest budget, he said.

GOP Leaders Plan Western Strategy

Republican leaders in the eleven states of the Pacific coast and the Rocky mountains confer in Salt Lake City next Thursday. These eleven states will have 166 of the 1093 delegates to the 1948 Republican national convention. That amounts to 14 percent. It is slightly greater than the strength of these states in the electoral college—71 of the 531 electoral votes, or 13 percent.

This discrepancy in percentages arises chiefly from the fact that the southern states have in the convention proportionately less strength than in the electoral college. Even so, some Republicans argue that the 166 delegates in the convention from the ten states of the solid south—exactly the same number as from the eleven states of the west—are too many, even though the solid south accounts for 21 1/2 percent of the electoral college.

The argument is that states which have no chance of going Republican should not have much voice in determining Republican candidates and platform. The southern Republicans retort: "How're we ever going to build up a real opposition party in the South if we're completely eclipsed in national party affairs?"

Only two of the eleven western states voted for Dewey in 1944—Colorado with 6 electoral votes, Wyoming with 3. However, each of the nine western states which voted for Roosevelt gave him a smaller proportion of its vote than in 1940.

If the 1948 Democratic vote in each of these states should show the same reduction from the 1944 Democratic vote as the 1944 Democratic vote showed from the 1940 Democratic vote, two more western states would be in the Republican column in 1948—Idaho and Nevada.

Two others would be about "even Stephen"—Montana and Oregon. Only five would remain Democratic—Arizona, California, New Mexico, Utah, Washington.

This is clear evidence that Democratic leaders had better be developing campaign strategy if they hope to gain votes in this area.

Even more to the point in raising Republican hopes of carrying the west as a whole in 1948—Only three of the eleven western states voted Democratic in the congressional election of 1946—Arizona, New Mexico, and Wyoming. The Republican proportions of the total vote in the West in 1944 and 1946 were as follows:

GOP VOTE
	President 1944	Congress 1946
Arizona	41 %	31 % (a)
California	43 %	54 % (a)
Colorado	53 %	55 1/2 % (b)
Idaho	48 %	58 1/2 % (a)
Montana	45 %	53 % (a)
Nevada	45 1/2 %	55 1/2 % (a)
New Mexico	46 1/2 %	48 1/2 % (a)
Oregon	47 %	65 % (a)
Utah	39 1/2 %	51 % (a)
Washington	42 %	54 % (a)
Wyoming	51 %	44 % (a)

'Culture' at the Iowa Union

Ever wonder about culture? Or, have you ever wondered about Culture? For that matter, what about pseudo-culture? You might have found the answers the other night in the music room at the Iowa Union. Spend a few days noting the classical music lovers, and you'll find that they divide into groups at least at the union. There are those who patronize the music room regularly, and there are those who come occasionally.

Vote 'Yes' on City Swim Pool Election

What appeared to be a wide difference between these two groups provided plenty of opportunity for speculation one night recently. The "regulars" were comfortably hidden behind magazines and textbooks listening to Beethoven. A young "occasional" with that I've-never-been-here-before appearance slipped quietly in and disappeared in a corner.

No one noticed him. He didn't fall asleep, as some do. He didn't read. He just listened. For an hour he sat motionless except for furtive, widely-spaced glances at the others. Then, when only one record remained to be played, he tipped to the hostess and whispered something to her.

She smiled and nodded, then pulled an album from the rack. "This is 'Peter and the Wolf' by Prokofiev," she said. A minor cultural revolution, at least a demonstration, occurred. Some of the "regulars" merely raised their eyebrows. Others looked at each other and smiled. A few stared at the newcomer as if he were mad. Three walked out in disdain.

The "occasional" looked as if he wanted to die. He smiled in rapture during the music; he hung his head in humble pain when the narrator described the story behind the music. He was obviously uncomfortable for 23 minutes. Someone played Brahms next, and it must have been something more "cultural" because the three voluntary exiles returned to their seats. Others stopped yawning and went back to sleep. The visitor took this occasion to slip out very quickly. But, he thanked the hostess as he passed her. She smiled sweetly again. Well, what about culture or Culture? What about pseudo-culture? When do you have which, and when? One reason he may not be is that the Americans who propose to help him speak a somewhat different

Basic Differences Between Europe-U.S. Add Trouble to European Aid Debates

By JAMES D. WHITE, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst. Basic European-American differences are causing trouble as the great American debate over aid to Europe gets under way.

These are historic differences in the habits of Europeans and Americans. They are reflected in the widespread American doubt about the willingness of Europeans to help themselves, and in the European suspicion that (A) nothing can really be decided until the 1948 U.S. election, and (B) Americans want to make Europe over in the image of free American economic enterprise.

If you start out by assuming that Europeans are human beings, you have to grant also the known effects on human beings of years of malnutrition and economic frustration during the war and the postwar stalemate.

Malnutrition cuts down working ability and increases touchiness. Try going hungry for a month or two. Allowing for such things, however, the natural conclusion is that any European with any sense would want to help himself all he could—if he could see his way clear.

Why doesn't he see his way clear? One reason he may not be is that the Americans who propose to help him speak a somewhat different

New children's books at the public library are available regularly now, according to librarian Joyce Nienstedt. The books may be checked out for two weeks. The children's story hour, also a Saturday feature of the library, will be held at 2:30 each Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Norma Carney, head of the children's department, will read the following stories: "Curious George Takes a Job" (Rey); "McEligot's Pool" (Dr. Seuss); "Michael Angelo Mouse" (Evans); "Hercules" (Gromotky); and "The Big Fur Secret" (Margaret Wise Brown).

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

GOP: An Infuriated Fowl

By SAMUEL GRAFTON, New York Post Syndicate

I know a Republican woodpecker who lives two from the right in a row of Lombardy poplars, and who, when I taunt by whistling "Dixie," sometimes comes down to public affairs with me.

The other day we kicked around the subject of the coming presidential election.

"The old one-two," said my woodpecker friend. "That's how we're going to accuse them of not having stopped Russia, and we're also going to cast doubt, scorn and reservations on the so-called Marshall plan."

"You can't do both," I protested quickly. "It wouldn't hardly be fair."

"The old one-two," repeated the infuriating fowl. "We're going to say that the New Deal spinelessly turned Europe over to Stalin, and we're also going to say that the trouble with the Democrats is that they've been busybodies, poking around in foreign countries and telling them how to run their lives, creating the impression that we're imperialists who want to boss the world."

"But both arguments cannot possibly be sound," I pointed out. "They cancel each other."

"Never mind. It's the one-two. We're going to say it was a mistake to set up the international bank, and that the idea of the bank is unsound, and we're going to suggest that the international bank take over a part of the problem of saving Europe."

"That would be playing both ends against the middle," I observed bitterly.

"One, two, button my shoe," replied the extraordinary bit of poultry before me. "The old one-two. Hit 'em, and then hit 'em again. We're going to insist on keeping our veto power in the security council, and we're going to recommend forming a new United Nations without Russia if she insists on keeping and using hers."

"But you'll get all tangled up if you try an approach like that," I warned.

The jubilant bird did a somersault at that, almost falling off his twig.

Meanwhile, the American emphasis on free economic enterprise (especially when Communist propagandists pick it up and run it through their loudspeakers) reinforces the European suspicion that America wants to impose an American pattern on Europe.

For the European, that pattern went out the window years ago.

Despite price drops, the report points out, bank debits in all Iowa cities were up 28 percent for eight months in 1947 over the same period in 1946. The price gain, using 1935-39 as a base index of 100, increased from 129.9 in January, 1946, to 157.1 last June.

An eventual decline in prices may be expected when bank credits are expanded to the legal limits, the Digest reports.

"Right and left and right and left," chattered the creature, who had now worked himself up into a state of excitement. "Rock 'em back on their heels. We're going to say that the Democrats were too soft with Russia until Vandenberg got into the picture, and we're going to say that the trouble with the Democrats is that they go ahead and make policy without letting the Republicans in on it."

"But that's contradictory," I said. "It comes very close to being obscurantism, not to say a begging of the question, and in addition . . ."

"It's the old one-two, though. We're going to point out that foreign loans are taking our food and resources and raw materials away from us, and we're also going to insist that the proceeds of every foreign loan we make be spent in America, for American goods and services."

"But, look," I said, "You can't say all of those things. It's a mixture of contradictory elements. You just can't do it!"

"Can't we?" sneered my little feathered friend. "Didn't Senator Taft just say every bit of it, in his speech at Tacoma?"

Even the fall Paris fashion shows are threatened by labor trouble. The shows may be postponed because of a threatened strike of 15,000 seamstresses.

The seamstresses earn 57 francs (50 cents) an hour after serving a five-year apprenticeship. They are asking for a six-franc an hour bonus for quality production.

Never mind. It's the one-two. We're going to say it was a mistake to set up the international bank, and that the idea of the bank is unsound, and we're going to suggest that the international bank take over a part of the problem of saving Europe.

Around the Campus

Arose at the crack of yawn to find the sun streaming in through the windows and expected to see the temp soar into the late eighties.

Breakfasted at the Union with Walt Reno, ATO, and Dick Bloomberg, Phi Gam . . . noticed 91 McLaughlin and Dave Schell, Phi Psi's, having coffee while pondering over the Daily Iowan.

Picked up ID card and am still amazed at the lack of red tape this year over last. Think congratulations in store for the U. on their fine job in the midst of mass confusion.

During lunch wondered why the U. couldn't have a name band for Homecoming when Iowa State is sponsoring Tex Beneke and ork. Sorry to have missed Governor Blue's speech on Communism and making a mental note to take a deeper interest in state affairs.

Walking along Clinton street happened to glance at the shimmering dome of Old Capitol and tried to evaluate the gold leaf contained therein . . . arriving at no conclusive decision other than Homecoming badges featuring this Neoclassic structure, relieved my troubled mind concerning the economic system of our great land by the imaginative tremble heard by the changing of the dollar within the coming week.

Premised self not to miss the opening premiere of the Capitol's "Well Digger's Daughter", opening Sunday.

Unbelievable! . . . Too good to be true! A week's laundry completed in the time it takes to play a few hands of bridge! And the best part of all is the fact that you CAN PLAY BRIDGE right while your clothes are washing! Utopia? — No, it's the LAUNDROMAT. Just bundle your laundry up — take it down to the LAUNDROMAT and while your clothes are washing, sit down and chat or play bridge to the strains of your favorite song. Need we say more? . . . Call (80291) and make your appointment at the LAUNDROMAT, 24 South Van Buren street.

Ever tried to lace your shoes or thread a needle in the dark? If you care to try, just call up Jan Lieberknecht, amateur electrician. Why, just the other night she did an excellent job of getting her wires crossed and blew a fuse. (Her land lady just about blew something else!) She must have had connections, though, for it was fixed in fifteen minutes flat.

WERE THROUGH REMINDING YOU TO WATCH THIS COLUMN EACH SUNDAY FOR YOUR HY-HIT TUNE OF THE WEEK!! You should know by now that the song SUI students pick as the favorite of the week, by a personal questionnaire, is announced each Sunday in this column . . . Watch for it, it's the tune you chose . . . It's yours.

What's more and better than ever, every Monday noon JERRY FENIGER will play this particular disc over WSUT's "RHYTHM RAMBLES." Just flip the dial of your radio to 910 at 12 noon and keep listening . . . Sometime during that half hour of fine music your HY-HIT TUNE will be played!!

HY-HIT TUNE OF THE WEEK!!

Introducing the song you students chose as your favorite for the past seven days . . . "NEAR YOU" . . . HUYETT WEST has your popularly picked tune by golden voiced Francis Craig, and if you prefer . . . the same record by the Andrew Sisters or Elliot Lawrence's fine herd. HUYETT WEST is prepared to accommodate you with any selection you'll need to complete your collection. All popular discs on MGM, DECCA, COLUMBIA, ETC. One of our finest and we might add, it's going fast — is Harry James' "LOVE AND THE WEATHER". Whichever you choose, it's a cinch to be good and you'll find your choice at HUYETT WEST MUSIC STORE.

"Four-cast" for your future is a set of four colorfully tubed lipsticks now on sale at WHETSTONE'S . . . Done up in different shadings for blondes, medium browns, brunettes, red-heads or silver grays, each lipstick is right for you when you wear a costume in the color family of the lipstick case. With black, navy blue, white, or neutrals, choose your lipstick for the effect that you want to create—classic, romantic, daring or discreet. It's a "Four-cast" that even the weatherman couldn't be wrong about, so get a set at WHET'S — four dollar tubes neatly packaged for $3.50.

"Sweeter than the sweetest" . . . luscious, mouth-watering candy at the CARMEL CORN SHOP. That sweet tooth of yours will stop aching in record time when you bite into a piece of the CARMEL CORN SHOP'S creamy, delectable fudge or hand-made chocolates, just full of that melt-in-your-mouth flavor! Besides that, the CARMEL CORN SHOP has pop corn, caramel corn, and pop corn balls like you've never tasted before. Say, just talking about all the delicious morsels at the CARMEL CORN SHOP has my mouth waterin'. I'm going to run right down and stock up on sweets. Why don't you????

And when they got there, the living room was bare. No men were draped on the chairs . . . Oh, the disappointment in Pi Phi eyes. Wednesday night, when two devilish seniors began a demonstration of the buzzer system, Mary Ann and "Posie" proceeded to confuse their sisters who had dates . . . And they succeeded!

DIAMONDS . . . Helen Maley, Alpha Chi, from Ray Guth. Gale Everette, Zeta, from John Gartzke, Iowa City. Betty Bordy, SDT, from Al Cutler, Phi Ep.

Breakfast with Tom Breneman . . . a little gabbing with Gary Cooper . . . and a trip back home on the train with Pat O'Brien! What a time the team had! Best of all, though, was getting a glimpse of Jane Russell, "BEAUTIFUL" star of "The Outlaw."

THE PLACE: Whetstone's Soda Fountain . . . where everyone meets for the best treats in town . . . home made pie, sandwiches, cakes, ice cream, etc. . . . WHET'S quick, easy service eliminates any unnecessary waiting.

THE PEOPLE: A familiar face behind the fountain is George Crum, who is finishing his 34th year serving WHET'S AND YOU. Having stopped in after class for a quick treat are Anne Irwin, Gamma Phi, and Jerry Thornton, Phi Delt.

Another great feature at WHETSTONE'S is their cosmetic department, which is fully stocked with both men and women's toiletries . . . remeber, to satisfy your wants, WHETSTONE'S is the place to go.

To turn a house—or a trailer, barracks, or two-room flat—into a "home" fix it up with furnishings from KIRWAN'S FURNITURE STORE. At KIRWAN'S there's just the chair or lamp to fit that bare corner—and also your purse. In fact, you'll find everything from pictures for your walls to rugs for your floors, all reasonably priced. Home may be where you find it, but to make it "Home, Sweet, Home" buy your furnishings at KIRWAN'S FURNITURE.

Wait 'til the JELLO advertisers "get hold" of Pat Holland. They'll say to heck with vitamins and Jack Benny . . . Overheard her tell Jo Chipman, "It's really good for you, Jo. It's made of glue and gives you strength."

WATCH FOR THEM AT THE STADIUM . . . Look around you between halves . . . man, how many Mt. Rock coats you'll find! You'll know them instantly too! They're the coats that fit their owners . . . but in case you couldn't get a ticket, stop into BREMERS and look at the coats we're showing . . . top quality . . . smart styles . . . makes these top coats sterling values. A tremendous selection in coverts, gabardines, twills, chevots, and tweeds . . . $50.00 to 80.00. Remember, for the finest in men's wear . . . it's BREMERS.

If you're having love troubles, cease to brood! There are a couple of Phi Psi's who are working their way through college givin' advice to the lovelorn. They'll be more than glad to fix you up!

PINNINGS . . . "Tish" Maloney, Tri Delt, to "Juke" Luce, Phi Delt. Dore Lou Green, Kappa, to Larry Copeland, Delt. Bernie Ellison, Alpha Chi, to Don Soppel, Beta.

Sit beside her, sippin' cider, from BRENNEMAN'S at your next fun-fest . . . Yep, "Injun Summer" will soon be on the war-path with hay-rack parties and picnics. That means good times and good eating if your food supply comes from BRENNEMAN'S store house. What could be better than hot dogs, big red apples, roasted marshmallows and donuts, downed with several swigs of apple cider? Getting hungry? Well, start picnic planning and be sure to shop at BRENNEMAN'S.

Second floor Currier hall was in an uproar this week when fire blazed in Bev Adcock's room. Everyone was yelling for a guy called Tom (he's the janitor). Fatalities were some treasured dance programs.

Step into the fashion spotlight! Be dressed for Homecoming in clothes from WILLARD'S. WILLARD'S carries an extensive selection of clothes for fashion-conscious coeds. Be in the know! See the new lines!

You can achieve the casual or sophisticated look you desire by wearing clothes for your personality from WILLARD'S. Make it a point to select the additions you need to your wardrobe at WILLARD'S soon.

"Pretty as a picture" . . . IF the picture is a KRITZ STUDIO portrait. You'll be thrilled with the natural beauty and charm KRITZ will put into a portrait of you. That gal or guy in your life will start caring all over again when he sees the perfect likeness of you which only KRITZ STUDIO can photograph. Make your appointment now to have a portrait taken at KRITZ STUDIO — a picture you'll be proud to give your friends and will be even prouder to receive.

He can't boil water, but he was boiling mad . . . The cook's day off and assistant cook, DU Bob Renfro, was going to show his brothers what's cookin' . . . Then they skipped off to Cedar Rapids and left him holding the coffee bag. Well, here's to a bigger and better home economics department, eh, Bob?

Don't look sloppy! Keep your clothes neat and clean; Send your soiled garments to DAVIS CLEANERS. DAVIS CLEANERS do quality work in record time. For a lasting first impression be neat as a pin in clothes you've sent to DAVIS CLEANERS.

Look nice at parties by having a thorough cleaning job done on your good clothes and for class by keeping sweaters cleaned and trousers and skirts freshly pressed at DAVIS CLEANERS.

Jack O'Brien's pinning to Helen Drees is really "ducky" . . . It's a "Ruptured Duck" pin, that is!

"Shine on, Shine on, Harvest Moon"—while we jog along on a good old fashioned hay-rack rented from CHARLES STUART . . . It's autumn and the weather's fine for the furnished picnic on his farm two miles out of Iowa City. Then it's the long way home, after an evening of fun-making and frolic. Another speciality is MR. STUART'S Sunday morning hay-rack ride and breakfast . . . How's about it? Aren't you in the mood for a big hay-rack ride? Well, just phone 6430 and start party planning, now. You can hire up to three racks accommodating twenty to twenty-five each and only 50 cents per person.
