Long Arm of Law Proved Too Short

DETROIT (AP)—They tried substituting six trained men for one small machine at the busy corner of Davison and Livernois yesterday afternoon—and the confusion was awful. The six men were policemen. They tried to substitute their whistles and flailing arms for the calm operation of a traffic light. And by the time the machine was restored five accidents had occurred.

THE WEATHER TODAY

Fair weather today. Monday is to be fair and mild. The high today will be in the middle 70's and the low tonight, 40 to 45.

Last Quarter Surge Gives Ohio State Two Touchdowns

By CHAD BROOKS
Managing Editor

COLUMBUS, OHIO—One defensive lapse, so stunning as to be almost unbelievable, ruined an otherwise perfect Iowa afternoon in Ohio State's giant stadium yesterday as the Buckeyes exploded in the final 52 seconds of play to earn a 13-13 tie with Dr. Eddie Anderson's Hawkeyes.

The game had been all Iowa until those disasterous closing minutes—when Buckeye Sprinter Jim Clark swept wide on a deep reverse, Hawk End Hal Shoener went down under a flood of blockers and Clark dashed 42 yards down the right sidelines for a first down on the Hawk 13.

And reserve End Fred Morrison carried it over in two end around plays—both smashing inside Hawkeye left tackles.

In the first half, Iowa had things completely their own way. Al Di Marco's passing dynamite exploded for two touchdowns. Bob Smith, Emlen Tunnell and Ron Headington took turns running the Bucs ragged. And Ohio State left for the intermission very thankful to be trailing by only 13 points.

But in the second half something happened to Hawkeye hopes.

Di Marco lost the magic touch. A series of breaks gave Ohio State the spark they have been missing all year. And Coach Wes Fesler's glamor boy backfield finally opened up in all their glory.

Ollie Cline, 210-pound sprinter who starred for the Bucks two years ago, was the key to Ohio State's comeback.

Cline's terrific line smashing and dangerous broken field speed—once past the line of scrimmage—kept the Hawk defense in close.

And clever Buck Quarterback Pandel Savic took complete advantage of resulting weaknesses to run back wide and handsome on a series of reverses, double reverses and end around sprints.

Hawkeye football faithful got a brief preview of what was coming when Ohio State opened the final period with an 80-yard touchdown march, sparked by Savic's 28-yard toss to Buckeye speedster Bob Brugge.

A pass came on the third down with eight to go. The Buck drive seemed to have bogged down completely, but when Mr. Brugge grabbed the ball practically out of Lou King's arms, it was first and goal to go on the Hawk six and a brand new ball game.

Cline scored that touchdown on one terrific plunge—over the same Hawkeye left guard spot that Morrison picked for his all-important six point dash nine minutes later.

Hawkeye guards had nothing but trouble all afternoon, and only great defensive play by Co-Captains Herb and Hal Shoener kept Ohio from breaking loose earlier.

This boy Brugge, playing for the first time this year after being benched by a pre-season leg injury, is the toast of Columbus sportswriters—he's the boy that took best advantage of Cline's defense tightening antics—and for our book Ollie Cline earned the Bucks their tie.

There's another little yarn connected with O. E. Moldea, Buckeye place kicker extra-ordinary. Moldea lost one extra point as Jim Cozad broke through to block an attempt on a play that brought the wrath of the partisan crowd down on Referee Blake—it did —then drove straight ahead to the Buckeye eight yard line.

Em Tunnell circled right end for two, Headington plunged to the five and DiMarco dropped a perfect pass to Smith in the end zone. Headington converted.

Then, the first time Mr. DiMarco got hold of the ball in the second quarter, the Hawkeye pass-master engineered an 88 yard touchdown drive from his own 12.

A 35 yard broken field dash by Bob Smith and DiMarco's 16 yard toss to Hal Shoener sparked this drive, with DiMarco tossing to Herb Shoener for six points from Ohio's five yard line.

The Hawks had but two more chances to sew up the game in the second half, but both times DiMarco's failure to rediscover his magic cost Iowa points.

Early in the third period, Hal Shoener grabbed Sensenbaur's fumble on the Buckeye 38. Headington and Smith moved to the 25. DiMarco passed to Hal on the 10 and then the roof fell in.

Smith picked up only one yard on a quick opening play and DiMarco took to the air. The first toss was over Tunnell's head in the end zone. The second was completely out of the end zone.

And the fourth down attempt was knocked down by a lineman.

Later in the period, Herb Shoener recovered Joe Whisler's fumble on the Hawk 40 and a Headington, Smith, Tunnell running trio smashed to the Buckeye 35 in five plays.

The Grmlin picked up two more, Smith got one and DiMarco tried again. But this time his toss fell well behind End Jack Kelso and Smith punted on the fourth down.

Probably the biggest reason for DiMarco's second half troubles was the hard charging Buck line, which almost rushed him out of the ball park time after time.

Can Spend $20 Billion on Europe—Krug

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Krug informed President Truman yesterday that the United States could carry out a $20 billion program of aid for western Europe without seriously draining its resources.

Such a program, said Krug, would pay for itself in speeding up imports to this country, and it would help knock the world economy off the dead-center upon which he said it has become stalled.

But the venture cannot succeed, Krug added, unless Americans cooperate in the President's grain-saving program, and unless certain export controls are retained to make sure this country's steel doesn't go into some other nation's beer cans.

Mr. Truman, releasing a bulky report on national resources and foreign aid prepared by a committee headed by Krug, pointed out, however, that the information must be fitted in with forthcoming reports on (1) the economic impact of foreign aid and (2) the "character and quantities" of resources which may safely be utilized for foreign help.

"Aided by these three interrelated studies," said the President, "and by information assembled by the state department concerning the needs of other countries and the measures of self-help and mutual help being taken by these countries, I shall prepare recommendations to the congress on the nature and extent of a balanced foreign aid program.

"The remaining two reports will also be made public as soon as they are completed."

American Girl Escapes Russia

FUERTH, GERMANY (AP)—Irma Mohaupt, 22-year-old American-born girl, told a story yesterday of escape after three years in a Russian work camp, of walking until her feet were swollen, and eventually reaching freedom in the American zone of Germany.

The girl's story began in Yugoslavia where she said her German-born father was killed before her eyes by partisans, and where she said she saw Soviet troops shoot six German soldiers on a dance floor—then hold a dance on it.

The five-year story was ended by her own efforts, she said, after the U. S. state department was unable to accomplish her repatriation.

The young woman is waiting to sail from Bremerhaven Oct. 29 for New York. Her passage was arranged by United States consular officials acting on behalf of her uncle, Karl Mohaupt, of her native Cincinnati.

Describing her experiences in the work camp in the Russian Ukraine, she said she carried rocks "up five flights of steps so they could repair a building," and did other hard work such as loading trucks with stone and material.

"We walked six kilometers (3 1/2 miles) to work and six back and there was no time off at all during the day," she said, adding that she saw other men and women waste away and die.

She finally escaped, she said, by bribing the prison commandant and the doctor "with 500 rubles which she had earned by sewing at night."

In six weeks her health was restored. So she fled one night with a German girl. They walked by night and hid by day. Finally they boarded a German train which got them to Hof on the border between the Russian and American zones. They left the train and sneaked across at another point.

German police took her to Munich, her identity was established and her troubles were over. She since has learned that her mother still lives in Beodra, Yugoslavia.

Issue 7 Subpoenas For Meter Hearing

Seven subpoenas were issued yesterday for witnesses in the temporary injunction hearing Monday at 2 p.m. on the purchase of 250 "Miller" parking meters, according to a reliable source.

The subpoenas issued for the defendants were for Alderman Max Hawkins, Police Chief Edward J. Ruppert, Patrolmen Donald Purvis and Oliver White, Prof. Richard L. Holcomb, City Clerk George Dohrer and Ray Henry, reporter for The Daily Iowan.

The injunction petition was filed Thursday by John Lindsey, 718 S. Capitol street, who seeks to prevent the city from buying meters from the Duncan corporation.

If the court decides in favor of Lindsey, then another hearing will be held to determine whether a permanent injunction should be issued.

Defendants are Mayor Preston Koser, Dohrer and the meter company. City Solicitor Edward Lucas

Union To Cease Record Making

CHICAGO (AP)—James C. Petrillo announced yesterday that union musicians would be barred from making any records or radio transcriptions after Dec. 31, but recording industry sources said they anticipated the move and had enough unissued records to last from one to five years.

The fiery boss of the AFL federation of musicians said his 225,000 members were "destroying themselves" by making records and transcriptions and added, "there will never be any more phonograph records or transcriptions made by members of the musicians union."

The ban, which Petrillo said was voted unanimously by the union's executive board in a closed session, brought a quick reaction from trade sources in the industry.

"The big three—Columbia, RCA Victor and Decca—have been making records so rapidly in recent months, both here and abroad, that they can continue to issue records for at least two years," said one man in New York long associated with the industry.

Another spokesman pointed out that the major producers have had access to music for Hollywood musical productions which will not be released until next year, and that master recordings of the music already have been made for future record sales.

Andrew Wiswell, vice-president in charge of records for Muzak corporation in New York, said the firm had a backlog of "new transcribed music to last for at least one year" and a library of 5,000 selections which might be drawn upon for "an indefinite period."

However, Petrillo said the ban also would end "canned" shows being turned out by the networks and this posed a different problem. These so-called "canned" programs are produced expressly for radio broadcast and are not for sale to the public.

Motorcyclists who parked their machines on the strip also were given summons to appear in court Monday. Police said next week motorists will face a two dollar tow charge in addition to the usual fine for this violation.

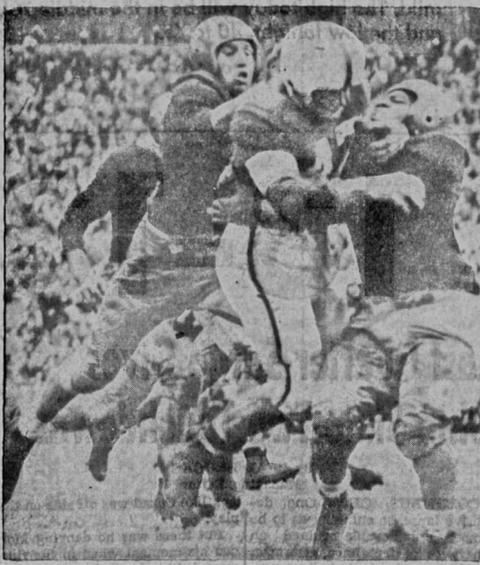

Boycott UN Overhauling

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Soviet Russia and her satellites yesterday boycotted the first test vote on Secretary of State Marshall's proposal to overhaul United Nations machinery and indirectly served notice they would refuse to sit in a year-around assembly even if approved by a majority of the members.

The ballot on referring the Marshall proposal to a drafting subcommittee was 38 to 0 with Russia, White Russia, Soviet Ukraine, Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia refusing to vote. Four Arab nations abstained.

A moment later the assembly's 7-nation political committee voted membership on the subcommittee to Russia, Czechoslovakia and 13 other nations. The Russians and Czechs immediately announced that they would not participate even in drafting work because the whole plan was "illegal."

Illinois, Michigan Romp to Victory

Gophers Fall Before Moss, Illini, 40-13

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP)—Perry Moss completed seven passes in seven tosses yesterday—two of them spiraling to long touchdowns—as Illinois' high-octane football team crushed Minnesota 40-13.

The ponderous Gophers entering the important Big Nine game with a string of three victories, suffered their first defeat of the season before a wildly cheering partisan crowd of 56,084 in Memorial stadium. It was the worst lacing Minnesota had received from Illinois in the 18-game rivalry between the two schools which began in 1898.

Moss, hurled a 25 yard scoring pass to Dwight Eddleman and then followed up with a 54-yard aerial play to Art Dufelmeyer for two touchdowns in the first period.

The Gophers, rammed 60 yards for a touchdown at the outset of the second quarter. During the march, fullback Bill Elliott knifed for 40 of the total yards and capped the effort by smashing over from the six.

A few plays later, Eddleman hugged Harry Elliott's punt, faked a hand-off to Dufelmeyer which drew the Gophers' tackles to one side of the field, then streaked 89 yards down the opposite side-line.

Minnesota shook off this dazzling play by scrambling 97 yards only to be denied entrance through the touchdown gate. Everette Faunce, the Fergus Falls, Minn., speedster, set the drive in motion by returning the kickoff 59 yards.

Illinois line, which let the Gophers seep through for 251 yards in the course of the game, cemented and held for downs on the three as time ran out in the half. From then on it was a rout, as the Illini piled up two more touchdowns in the third period and one in the last.

Purdue Tramples Boston U., 62-7

BOSTON (AP)—A vastly superior Purdue football team, scoring almost at will after the opening period, ran rough shod over the outclassed Boston university Terriers, 62-7, yesterday before a sadly disappointed 11,446 crowd at Fenway park.

Paced by a group of hard-running backs, the Boilermakers tallied in every period. With the exception of a brief spell in the second period when Boston unity tallied its lone touchdown, Purdue's powerful football forces kept the play deep in the Terriers' territory.

Ken Gorgal, at quarterback, raced 65-yards down the left side-lines in the final minute of that quarter soon after Harry Szulborzki raced 85-yards on a similar play.

The Boilermakers continued their scoring spree while piling up a total of 353 yards gained in rushing against 36 for the Terriers, and added another 135 yards by passes against 55 for the losers.

Taliaferro Runs Wild; Hoosiers Whip Pitt, 41-6

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—George Taliaferro, Indiana's three-way ground gainer from Gary, performed as though taking a screen test for the all-American team yesterday as the Hoosiers mauled Pittsburgh's Panthers 41 to 6, before 25,000 Dad's Day fans.

The 195-pound Negro half back ran over two touchdowns, passed for two others and mixed aerials with plunges to the complete bewilderment of Pitt's hard-trying but outgunned eleven.

Pittsburgh, as in its beatings by Notre Dame, Illinois and Michigan, again put on a good show at the start and the first quarter was scoreless. Then Indiana pushed over three touchdowns in the second period, added another in the third and picked up two more in the final quarter.

Longhorns Overcome Arkansas Lead, 21-6

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The mighty Texas Longhorns displayed a brutal ground attack yesterday to smash the University of Arkansas, 21 to 6, and mark their fifth successive victory of the season and their first in Southwest conference play.

The great Bobby Layne's passing powers were laid aside as a drenching rain fell on a crowd of 28,080 in Crump stadium which was "home" for the Razorbacks for this one day.

Texas smashed across the goal three times, traveling 25, 56 and 72 yards after being jolted by the fancy footwork of Arkansas' Clyde Scott who sped 47 yards for a first period score.

Then, after each team took turns in threatening several times, the Badgers, capitalizing on a "break" drove to the only touchdown in the final minutes of action.

Wolves Club Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Michigan's Wolverines, bidding for a Rose Bowl date, swept to their fourth consecutive lopsided victories yesterday in burying Northwestern's injury riddled eleven under a 49 to 21 score.

The Wolverines scored seven touchdowns and rolled up a total of 500 yards gained in rushing and in the air to Northwestern's 317. Northwestern, playing without the services of five injured regulars, made a praiseworthy showing, particularly 21 year old Art Murakowski, who scored Northwestern's trio of touchdowns.

Jack Weisenburger, with Chalmers Elliott and Bob Chapuis, led Michigan's attack.

Two touchdowns came in the first six minutes of play. Derrick Rottier ran Worthington's punt back 54 yards to Northwestern's nine and Elliott scored. Michigan counted again from its own 41. Fonde scoring on the fourth play.

Late in the first period, Worthington ran a punt back 13 yards for Northwestern and Aschenbrenner, Tunnick and Murakowski reeled off three first downs to the seven, Murakowski scored from there and Farrar converted making the score, 14 to 7.

Northwestern launched another drive as the game went into the second quarter, but Stonecifer dropped a pass in the end zone. From there on, until the Wildcats' two scoring strikes in the last period, it was Michigan's power demonstration.

Kentucky Tops Vandy NASHVILLE, TENN. (AP)—Kentucky's Wildcats had their backs and their "T" formation functioning to perfection yesterday to defeat the hitherto unbeaten Vanderbilt Commodores, 14-0, in a Southeastern conference contest.

Irish Beat Stubborn Nebraska, 31-0

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Halfback Coy McGee, 158 pound Texan, provided the spark which swept unbeaten Notre Dame to a methodical 31-0 triumph over stubborn Nebraska yesterday before a capacity 56,000 crowd at the home opener of the Fighting Irish.

Although little McGee who wears a size five shoe, scored only one touchdown, his scab-back running line, plainly helped the Irish to their third straight victory.

Evidently still holding his Irish under wraps for the Army game Nov. 8, Coach Frank Leahy permitted second string Quarterback Frank Tripucka to see more action than heralded Johnny Lujack at quarterback.

Nebraska's best showing was in the second period when the Huskers advanced to the Irish 13 on a march from their own 32. But Notre Dame's bull-dozing line pushed the Huskers back 17 yards on two attempted passes and that ended all Nebraska scoring hopes.

Michigan State Dumps Iowa State, 20-0

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's Spartans collected three touchdowns in the first half with a spirited running attack to down Iowa State 20-0 yesterday before 20,987 Homecoming day football fans who braved a drizzling rain.

The Spartans struck quickly for two touchdowns in the first six minutes of the opening period. Then George Guerre scored on an 87-yard touchdown run in the second quarter before the game bogged down in a scoreless second half marked by fumbles and frequent penalties.

Michigan State fielded its first football team in 1896.

Navy Beats Big Red In Wild Tilt, 38-19

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Navy's sputtering football machine finally clicked as it did in the waning moments of the Army game a year ago and trounced Cornell, 38-19, to end an 11-game win famine.

With Reeves Baysinger, and Bob Home at the controls, the Middles simply packed too much offensive power for the big red in a rock-and-sock-em game witnessed by 33,787 paid.

Measured in 1940 dollars, consumer expenditures in the United States rose $8 billion dollars between 1940 and 1944.

Jitterbug Champion Turns—

From Ballroom to Classroom

—Wants 'Rug-Cutting' Twins

By FRANK HOLOWACH

From champion jitterbug to diligent "bookworm" in two easy lessons is the story of Mrs. Dorothy N. Barbour, A3.

The jitterbug championship came in 1938 when she and her partner took first prize in a "Big Apple" dance contest in California.

Washington, D. C., was the classroom for the first "lesson." As a WAVE in the office of naval intelligence, she replaced a sailor who was leaving to enter flight training. When he returned she married him.

The second lesson started at Grinnell college last year and is continuing at the University of Iowa this fall. Doty is majoring in Spanish, a language she says she will use if she ever returns to California.

However, she is waiting for the day her husband completes his school work and they can start raising a family.

"I think I'd like to start out with twins—perhaps twin jitterbugs," she said.

Her husband, John Barbour, is a graduate student majoring in editorial journalism. The couple lives at 421 S. Dubuque street.

In between her language lessons Doty struggles to train her husband to dance a mild form of the rumba. In rug-cutting language, John is strictly a "square."

"He's doing all right. He didn't dance at all when we were married," said the 5-foot-2 campus wife.

This is all a bit strange because, before her marriage, Doty was half of the champion jitterbug team of California. Even after joining the WAVES she spent all her spare time giving exhibitions at nearby navy bases and hospitals.

Since nickels and jukeboxes go together like ham and eggs, Doty, whose maiden name was Nickel, can't be blamed for early devoting a major part of her time to the art of jitterbugging. A native of Oakland, Calif., she started dancing at 14.

After winning the "Big Apple" competition with her partner, Tony Himenez of Alvarado, Cal., the couple rated sixth in an auditorium contest against 30 couples. They went on to win first in the followup contest of 50 of the best teams.

The Nickel-Himenez team won 15 contests in the next three months. In six months they had earned $350 each and five gold loving cups.

In the state championship contest staged at the barbecue inauguration celebration of California Governor Culbert L. Olson in January, 1939, the team did its celebrating by winning the gold cup and $100 each.

Then they took first place in the six-week contest at the Golden Gate exposition on Treasure Island.

Although jitterbugging can be rough stuff, Doty never had any need for the bumps and bruises doctor.

"The dances which Tony and I did were mostly in a very fast tempo, with fast twirls and dips—

Ex-Jitterbug Mrs. Dorothy N. Barbour Between Lessons Hubby Learns To Dance which probably was what won for us—but we never had a spill," said the jitterbug dancer.

"We were always able to make enough room for ourselves by going into one of these fast twirls. Other dancers would give way to make room."

John, a native of North Carolina, was a navy Lt. (jg) in the war. Fast flying took much of the fast dancing urge out of him, and he is content to let his wife have all the claim to the dancing profession. One thing he claims left-handed credit for, though:

"The 'Big Apple', in which Doty won her first contest, originated in my home state," he said.

Set Hearing Tomorrow On Pool Site

A public hearing on the swimming pool site will be held at the City council meeting Monday night.

The hearing was requested by the council at its meeting Oct. 13, following a 4 to 3 vote to turn down a proposal to build the pool at City park.

At that meeting Alderman Max Hawkins asked the council to accept the community zoning and planning committee's 1941 and 1944 recommendations of the park site.

The Hawkins move, however, was opposed by Aldermen James Callahan, Charles T. Smith, Frank Fryauf and William Grandrath.

The position at the meeting argued that another site near city high school be chosen, and that they wanted a public hearing to find out where Iowa Citizens wanted the pool built.

Grandrath said: "We will be falling down on our election platform that promised the people they would choose a site. I think we should have a public hearing to see what the majority wants."

Hawkins said that, "We also have promised the people we would get a pool built as soon as possible. If we change the site, it will take another three or four months to get the plans changed and the construction started."

The number of divorcees per 1,000 U. S. population rose fairly steadily from 1.9 in 1939 to 3.6 in 1945.

Razor's Edge Is Dull in This Business

Shaving mugs and long, shiny razors are fast disappearing from Iowa City barber shops.

Local tonsorial parlors are specializing in "haircuts only," according to Carl A. Larson, who stands behind the first chair in a local shop.

Larson contended that so many men now shave themselves that "most barbers are incapable of shaving anyone anymore." "But," he adds, "we don't care because we have too much to do as is."

He said that barber shops are still favorite places for airing opinions and settling international problems. "We have to listen and like it," he smiles.

"Next to school, our customers (mostly students) like to talk about sports," Larson said. "When they run out of sports talk they start on the news."

Larson foresees no prospect of a raise in prices here for a haircut for "a good while yet." "We'll coast along," he shrugged, "although we deserve more than 75 cents for a haircut."

When a book-laden student strode in, he dropped his brief case and climbed into the chair. Larson smiled a "Good morning" to him and proceeded to ready the customer for a haircut.

He didn't ask the customer if he wanted a shave.

Seven High School Seniors To Take Scholarship Exams

Seven Iowa City high school seniors will be among an estimated 500-600 students in the state taking the Pepsi-Cola scholarship examinations in February.

The students, recently elected in their schools, are James Berg, John Carson and Annis Howell, University high school; Roy Duffy and Janet Greer, St. Patrick's school; Helen Lekin and Esther Sladek, St. Mary's school.

First prize to the person ranking highest in the state will be a four-year college scholarship including tuition, books and $25 a month at any college he desires to attend.

Other prizes to winners will be ten cash awards.

The examinations, given in the individual schools under the supervision of the school principal, are held throughout the country. However, Iowa City students will compete only with other Iowa students. Each school is allowed one candidate for every 20 students. School Spirit: Worship of Athletic Teams?

The remarks of an Indianapolis sports writer who covered the Iowa-Indiana football game here last week are printed elsewhere on this page today.

They form the background for delving into this intangible thing called school spirit. It's peculiar that discussion of this subject pops up during the football season. And therein we think lies a clue as to why there isn't more school spirit at Iowa.

We think that this insistence on wild, enthusiastic cheering of the football team on any occasion as proof of school spirit is plain bunk. Too many people think of school spirit as applying only to vocal support for the athletic teams. This attitude is especially prevalent among athletic departments—not only at Iowa but at plenty of other colleges and universities.

According to lots of people on this campus and columnist Harrison, anyone who goes to the pep rallies, cheers madly at the games, talks reverently of the coaches and has only praise when the team gets soundly trounced—has school spirit.

Questions such as these are completely forgotten: Does he REALLY like it here at Iowa? Is he willing to live in a trailer in order to get an education? What has he ever done to help the school? Has he ever attended a Student council meeting? Does he have a shamefully thrilling experience on seeing Old Capitol framed by the setting sun?

Will he be a booster for Iowa after graduation? Will he encourage his children to come to Iowa? Will he support the Alumni association?

There are lots more questions that could be asked—but the point is there's a lot more to school spirit than waving a pennant at a football game.

Since so many people concentrate on school spirit only in connection with athletics, is it any wonder that when the athletic teams don't come up to expected standards there is a lag or let-down in that spirit? Of course not.

If people are going to continue to think of school spirit only in connection with athletics, that spirit will rise and fall with their successes or failures.

After the dual losses to UCLA and Illinois, there WAS a definite lack of spirit. After the Indiana victory, there was a notable upturn. It's too soon to tell how the tie with Ohio State will affect school spirit.

You know the old saying: Ye reap what ye sow. So those that sow the idea that school spirit depends on the athletic teams reap their just reward when school spirit falls when the football team isn't doing so well.

In our opinion, the student body has no more duty to worship the athletic teams than to applaud loudly every play in the theatre—each should be considered according to its merits.

We do think the student body ought to be realistic about its athletic teams. We're about the smallest school in the conference and practice probably the least subsidization of the teams. Therefore, on the basis of material and money available, Iowa does as well as any other team in the conference.

The point is, if school spirit is based on athletic successes alone, it's bound to be low at least half the time.

So we suggest a shift in emphasis. Instead of thinking of school spirit in terms of how much you cheer the football team, let's think in terms of how much the individual student helps a great university be even greater.

Columnist Criticizes Iowa's School Spirit

(From Indianapolis Star)

(This column by Harold Harrison, Star sports columnist, was written after he had watched the Iowa-Indiana game here last week—The Editor.)

School spirit naturally is a very intangible factor in connection with the success or lack of success of a college football team.

But if spirit contributes anything to a team, therein probably lies part of the answer to the fact that University of Iowa's grid teams have been more or less mediocre during the past years.

The school spirit at Iowa is bad—to say the least—and it's something members of the Hawkeye athletic family recognize and will talk about.

It isn't that the students are apathetic about their team. Many of them are frankly and openly derisive about the players and the coaches.

(Before the Indiana game) the Hawkeyes held a pep session on the steps of the Old Capitol. It was broadcast and in several downtown student handouts I heard nothing but jeers and the poking of fun at the team and the coaches.

One particularly loud individual came up with "ah, he wouldn't even make a good chambermaid," when Iowa's coach, Dr. Eddie Anderson, was mentioned.

Later Dr. Karl Leib, Iowa's faculty representative in The Big Nine, and other faculty members admitted frankly at a press and largely is a minus quantity.

One faculty member expressed the belief, however, that it was due to the post-war presence of so many older students. But Indiana, Purdue and many other schools also have those older students and they don't have the hooting attitude toward the football team that is prevalent at Iowa.

The derisive attitude even extends to the humor. In one near campus spot the walls are covered with humorous paintings from around the school. One is a painting of the scoreboard which says: "Wisconsin 20, Iowa fights!"

Naturally there are gripes and complaints when a team is a heavy loser, but I've never observed such a jeering attitude at either Indiana or Purdue, even during their leanest years.

Complains of Noise In Reserve Library

TO THE DAILY IOWAN:

I would like to register a complaint against conditions in reserve library. I happen to be one of those unfortunate students who have reading assignments in reserve for three classes.

The first week and one-half it was closed. This is the fourth week of school and by now I have many assignments down there.

Perhaps my ears are especially sensitive, at any rate I find it impossible to study amid the din raised by the ever present saws and hammers.

In my opinion that repair work should be done while the library is closed on week-ends, or the library should be permanently closed and assignments down there postponed until the workmen have finished. The situation at the present time is intolerable.

DIETRICH NEUMANN

(Your worries are over—R. J. Phillips, superintendent of university maintenance and operation, says the repair work's all completed now—The Editor)

May Increase U. S. Aid

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Administration officials said yesterday this country may have to increase rather than cut the $22,400,000,000 total of European requests under the Marshall plan.

Electric Rates Decline

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The federal power commission reported today that the average monthly home electric bill in cities of 2,500 or more has declined an average of 22 percent from 1935 to 1947.

The commission said the consumer now pays an average bill of $1.20, a drop of 22 cents from

BAPTIZING THE KID

Kentucky T-H Law Test Holds Spotlight in Off-Year Elections

Kentucky's governorship race, in which the Taft-Hartley labor law has been seized upon by the Republicans as the main issue, holds top national interest in next month's odd-year elections.

There will be other attractions in a few statewide contests, such as the Democratic senatorial scrap in Mississippi, veterans' bonus referendum in New York and Ohio and four special congressional elections, as well as scores of county and municipal races.

Election day is Nov. 4, but one of the special congressional elections—in Massachusetts—will be held Nov. 18 after an Oct. 28 primary. The four house contests are to fill vacancies. No upsets are expected. Three of the districts were represented by Republicans—Massachusetts 9th, Indiana 10th, and Ohio 4th—and the fourth, New York 14th, by a Democrat.

Kentucky voters will elect a governor, other state officers and members of the state legislature. They also will decide whether to call a constitutional convention to write a new state charter.

In the governor's race are U. S. Rep. Earle C. Clements, Democrat, who has the support of organized labor primarily because of his veto to uphold the veto of the Taft-Hartley act, and State Attorney General Eldon S. Dummit, Lexington Republican. Both are 50.

Louett Ross Todd, GOP national committeeman, says Kentucky is the first state where a statewide political campaign is "squarely based on whether or not the Taft-Hartley is a reasonable labor-management code."

Todd predicts a Republican victory by between 30,000 and 50,000 votes. Clements disputes this, saying he will carry every congressional district except the 9th. There are nine districts in the state. Other statewide and district voting include:

MISSISSIPPI—Ejects a senator to succeed the late Senator Bilbo (D) from among six Democrats and one Republican; also a governor and other state officers and members of the state legislature.

At least two of the six Democratic candidates for Bilbo's seat of 14 house terms, and Forest—Rep. John E. Rankin, veteran Jackson, who was Bilbo's attorney—are outpoken "white supremacy" advocates and defenders of the state from what they call "outside persecution."

NEW YORK—Votes on a proposed constitutional amendment to permit an estimated $400,000,000 bonus to 1,600,000 veterans of the World War.

PRAVDA ATTACKS RELIGION MOSCOW, (AP)—Komsomol Pravda, the newspaper of the Communist youth league, criticized the magazine Bolshevik Youth yesterday for countenancing religion among young Russians.

"A young person cannot be a member of Komsomol (the youth league) if he is not free from religious convictions," the newspaper said.

EARLE C. CLEMENTS Opposes T-H Law

ELDON S. DUMMIT Supports T-H Law

World War II. The amendment was voted by the 1945 and 1947 legislatures and provides for individual payments of $50, $150, and $250, depending on place and length of service.

If approved, the bonus will be financed by a bond issue to be redeemed by a one-cent a pack increase in the state cigarette tax and a raise, in effect, of 20 percent in the state income tax.

NEW YORK voters also will pick a successor to Rep. Leo F. Rayfiel (D) in the 14th (Brooklyn) district.

OHIO—Votes on veterans' bonus amendment providing up to $300,000,000, of which $275,000,000 would be raised by a bond issue and the rest appropriated from the state's present surplus funds. The 15-year bonds would be served by a state tax and $12,000,000 annual appropriations from general funds. Bonus payments would be $10 a month for domestic and $15 for overseas service.

A special congressional election will be held in Ohio's 4th district to fill the seat vacated by Rep. Robert F. Jones, Lima Republican, who resigned Sept. 2 to become a member of the federal communications commission. In this Republican stronghold the candidates are William M. McCulloch (R), Piqua attorney and former speaker of the state house, and Joseph B. Quatman (D), Lima lawyer.

INDIANA—In the 10th congressional district, which borders on Ohio's 4th and like the 4th has been Republican by good margins since 1938, voters will choose a successor to the late Rep. Raymond S. Springer (R). The contestants: Ralph Harvey, New Castle farmer (R); Frank A. Hanley, Muncie business man (D); and Carl W. Thompson, Prohibitionist.

NEW JERSEY—Ballots on a new state constitution replacing one adopted in 1844.

MASSACHUSETTS—Ejects (on Nov. 15) successor to the late Rep. Charles L. Gifford, 9th district Republican who died Aug. 23 while in his 14th house term.

Candidates will be chose Oct. 28. Among the more important municipal elections over the country in cities of 100,000 population and over (mostly for mayor, but not all) include:

CALIFORNIA—Sacramento, San Francisco.

INDIANA—Fort Wayne, Gary, Indianapolis, South Bend.

KENTUCKY—Louisville.

MASSACHUSETTS—Boston.

MICHIGAN—Detroit.

NEW YORK—Albany, Buffalo, New York (on repeal of proportional representation method of electing members of city council).

OHIO—Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, Youngstown.

Flays Democratic Bosses

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
King Features Syndicate

NEW YORK—In the years before 1932 we read much moralistic political literature about the sordid bosses of the Republican machines. I need not call the roll to those who were then able to sit up and take notice of political affairs and it would not interest new citizens of the generation which had to fight the war who were only children then.

One of them was Boss Penrose, a monster of hideous mien, whose like would never walk the earth again if the party of Roosevelt, the New Deal, were given a chance to destroy evil and purify the beautiful democratic process.

And there were the Ohio gang who had nominated Warren G. Harding in a smoke-filled room, frustrating the will of the people, although the people elected Harding and Coolidge and rejected Cox and Roosevelt a few months later.

The contrast between the pretenses and the actual morals of these Democrats is so terrible that it stuns. I doubt that the people of today realize what awful cynics these were who came appealing to them as crusaders and reformers. Without knowing it, we are dazed by many blows that have benumbed our sense of right and wrong.

The memoirs are still accumulating. We have had Jim Farley's and Ed Flynn's. Ed Kelly, who quietly picked up his hat and left politics by a side door into the alley after he had wrought great harm to the American people's confidence in self-government, has told us his story in a hasty, superficial series in the Chicago Herald-American.

He withheld much. But, even so, his mere recollection of the nomination of Henry Wallace in 1940 and of Harry Truman in 1944 is a chapter in degradation.

I may be naive in believing that the people matter; that it is important that their confidence in self-government be maintained. If the people, too, grow cynical. But, if the people, too, grow cynical and all of them come to think of politics as a dirty racket, the men who disillusioned them will be finally responsible for a calamity much worse than the loss of any mere election and the graft and the gaudy power to tear up traffic tickets.

We have had the stories of Farley, Kelly, Ed Flynn, Madam Perkins and Elliott, and now Morgenthau is running serially and about to be released in a book. It is a terrible confession, taken all together.

Even Mrs. Perkins, who professes to be an idealist, seems to be so far gone in the cynicism of the New Deal that she never even questioned in her mind the right of Roosevelt to name Wallace vice president of the country.

By the time she wrote her book she surely must have known about Wallace's strange involvement in an oriental cult of fools who worshipped as their god a Russian adventurer in high standing with the Kremlin.

She knew all this undoubtedly and yet it did not occur to Mrs. Perkins to comment on Roosevelt's appointment of this strange man to be the next vice president in an offhand way by telephone from the White House to her in Chicago.

Our people think they elect vice presidents; Mrs. Perkins gives no indication that she shares this delusion, and yet she is, according to the New Deal religion, a consecrated person, a sort of holy woman, devoted to "democracy."

Farley's memories were depressing. It was absurd of him to believe that he had any qualifications for the presidency, but we do hold that every schoolboy has a right to aspire to the White House and to be foolish. But Jim condemmed himself in explaining why he did not tear into Roosevelt and try to destroy him after 1940, when he might have served his fellow-men.

His personal feelings are unimportant to the people. Convinced as he was of his old friend's perfidy, Farley had a greater duty to the people than to his own sensitive interest. He had been more responsible than any other individual for Roosevelt's rise to this power and he now was in a position to expose him.

Ed Flynn's story is only a little less depressing than Elliott Roosevelt's juvenile babbling about when his father decided to hand over the Balkans and eastern Europe to Soviet Russia.

Flynn tells, without a qualm, of giving money to one of his county leaders with which to buy votes at $1.75 each, raising the ante on the Republicans, who were paying $1.50. He says he learned a lesson when the Democrat lost and showed up in a new car, but it was only the sort of lesson that a man learns when he engages to buy a pound of cocaine intending to peddle it, and the cocaine turns out to be bicarbonate of soda and egg-salt.

We are left to believe that he saw nothing wrong in his conduct. It was bad judgement but not immoral.

Greek Ministers Hit Communist Propaganda

ATHENS, GREECE, (AP)—The Greek government, acting on the initiative of its liberal ministers, struck hard at Communist propaganda last night and closed Communist party and EAM newspapers by police action which may have been agreed to by the American and British embassies. No arrests were made.

Martin Urges 'Big Stick' in U. S. Policy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
America should speak softly but carry a big stick with respect to Russia, Representative Thomas E. Martin, Iowa City, told members of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce Friday.

Martin urged a preparedness program that would "earn the respect of nations that respect only power."

He asserted that "our play with so-called aid to Europe is directly connected with power politics in the Balkans and we'd better keep our eyes open or we're due for a smack in the nose like we got at Pearl Harbor."

Stating he was not ready to announce his 1948 campaign plans, Martin indicated tax revision would be one of the number one items before the next congress. He said that personal income tax items may be written into the revision.

Martin will address members of the American Legion auxiliary at a meeting at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the Community building. His topic will be "Universal Military Training."

Women Gardeners To Entertain Clubs At All-Day Display

An all-day garden display and program has been planned by the garden department of the Iowa City Woman's club Tuesday in the lower lounge of the Community building.

The West Chester Garden club, Wellman Garden club, Centerdale Woman's club and Johnson County Farm Bureau women will be special guests for the day.

Registration will begin at 10 a.m., followed at 10:30 by a talk on "Annals in Iowa Gardens," by Prof. L. C. Grove, assistant horticulturist from Iowa State college, Ames.

The West Chester club will show motion pictures during the noon hour, including one taken of the Iowa City women who attended the garden meeting of the West Chester club last year. Mrs. Jacob Van der Zee, president of the club, will offer piano selections of Russian music. A picnic luncheon is planned for the noon hour.

Grove will give an illustrated talk at 1:30 p.m. on "Perennials in Iowa Gardens."

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. L. V. Dierdorff, Mrs. F. A. Danner, Mrs. Ernest Wagner, Mrs. C. A. Bowman and Mrs. J. J. Ost-tiek, reception; Mrs. E. C. Howe, Mrs. Boin Hunter, registration; Mrs. Gordon Bennett, Mrs. Horace Stuck, Mrs. P. J. Donnelly, Mrs. J. J. Lechky, Mrs. O. N. Riggs, social; and Mrs. E. F. Wickham, Mrs. W. T. Goodwin and Mrs. A. O. Klaffenbach, executive.

'Raid' Catches SAE's With Their Chips Down

TRAPPED LIKE THE IVORIES IN A DICE CAGE are these Sigma Alpha Epsilon members and friends in a mock raid by off-duty policemen Friday night. First stop in the raid was the roulette table where bewildered Sig Alph's stood around and watched Policeman "X" scoop up huge sums of cash (also fake). Some of the guests broke for the exits while others laughed nervously and just hoped it wasn't true.

"FOLD UP THE TABLES—THE PARTY'S OVER!" But it was really only beginning, as they found out later. They also discovered the entire farce was staged by Keith (Pete) Glasgow, A2, SAE member, with the aid of some cooperative policemen—plus photographers and reporters from The Daily Iowan. The raid was made in only partial strength since one other off-duty policeman refused to be routed out of bed to join the fun. While flashbulbs popped and police thoroughly disrupted the "gambling," SAE guests reacted in many ways. A little hard knot of blase souls sat in the "bar" room during the raid, sipping cokes and holding tightly to their dignity and drinks.

GAMBLIN' JUST DOESN'T PAY, HONEY! Couple under the table are Lyn Melrose, A2, and Brad Daniels, A2. Like the raid, the money and the gambling, there's something about this picture that looks posed. Only near "incident" of the raid came when one SAE, out to protect the honor of his house and his date (not necessarily in that order), threatened to smash a photographer's camera. A short dash by the cameraman averted the danger. Evening ended happily when police broke down before pale-faced Ed Kemp, SAE president, and began to laugh. Explanations followed and guests began to breathe again. "I knew it was a phoney," some said. Their jeers were weak.

U. S. Can Avoid Russian War If False Impressions Are Discarded, Schaefer Says

By JERRY JONES

"War with Russia is not inevitable, but it is probable that we will go to war if we hold on to the false impressions we now have," said Prof. Kurt Schaefer in an interview concerning the speech he will give Thursday night in the Geology auditorium.

"The United States social system could never survive such a war," he added.

The lecture by Schaefer on "Russian-American Antagonism" is being sponsored by the World Affairs forum. The speech will concern difficulties which might lead to war and present day factors which are producing mutual misunderstanding between Russia and the United States.

"It is important to get away from emotionalism," Schaefer said. The sudden change from pro-Russian attitudes to definite anti-Russian beliefs is sheer emotionalism and will lead to war unless stopped.

We must learn to face problems rationally without the ideas of "good will and friendship" which we now have, he said. They are all right, he commented, but will not solve any problems.

Schaefer came to the United States from Europe in 1938 and said at that time he found the American people had the same attitude toward Germany that they now have toward Russia. At that time he warned that we were headed for war, but no one believed him. The naivete of the American people on international relations is appalling to a European, Schaefer remarked.

Prior to coming to the United States, Schaefer spent five years, from 1933 to 1938, in London. He was an economist for the city of Berlin until 1933 when the Nazis came to power and he left the country.

Portugal and Spain together are about five times as large as Pennsylvania.

Lindsay Advocates Teacher Exchange By U. S., Britain

There is a great need for better cooperation between British and United States educators, according to Kenneth Lindsay, member of the British parliament representing the combined English universities.

Lindsay will speak before the Humanities society at 8 p.m. Monday and before the Great Issues class at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in Old Capitol. His topics will be "Recent Developments in British Education" and "European Cultural Recovery."

The British author and lecturer advocates a program of teacher exchange, as well as frequent visits by inspectors and administrators in all branches of education, as a way of bringing about better understanding.

As both an educator and a statesman, Lindsay foresees an inevitable increase in the interdependence of Great Britain and the United States. He considers education as the prime factor in keeping controversy at a minimum as the two countries come to depend more and more on each other.

Tunisia in North Africa has about the same number of people as Oklahoma.
