Voters Group Again Attacks Walt Disney

Says He Hinders Unit Trying To Preserve Democracy in U. S.

By CARL BERGER

Mrs. Elmer DeGowin, state president of the League of Women Voters, issued a statement last night in the latest round of the Disney vs. League - Hollywood-Communist free-for-all.

"I hope the people of Iowa," she said, "take note of Mr. Disney's retraction of his statement to the un-American activities committee linking the league with Communist-front organizations."

"The people of the state who know the league were amused because the charge was so absurd," she said. "The real aim of our organization is to make democracy work by urging and helping citizens to take their part in government."

Mrs. DeGowin released a statement made by the national president of the league which continued an attack on Disney, despite his wire to the house investigating committee Saturday saying he had had no intention of "criticizing the league."

Miss Anna Lord Strauss, national president, declared Disney "through his testimony has made it difficult for the very forces of democracy he is interested in preserving."

"Branding the league as a 'Communist-front organization' on the basis of what a few individuals are alleged to have said or done in 1941 is so patently irresponsible a statement that those who know the league will not be disturbed by it," she said.

The original accusation was made by Disney in testimony Thursday before the house committee investigating Communism in Hollywood. Disney named the league among other Communist-front organizations which had launched a "smear" campaign against him at the time of a strike in his studio in 1941.

Disney later sent his retraction to the house committee saying "I want you to know I had no intention of criticizing the League of Women Voters as of now. Please see that this is read to the committee Monday and is added to my testimony."

Office Workers Die In Attempt to Climb N. Mexico Mountain

SANTA FE, N. M., (AP)—A guide who led two women office employees on a tragic climb up New Mexico's second highest mountain told yesterday how one of the women slid to the brink of a ravine. After futile rescue efforts, both women later tumbled to death during "a night of horror."

The story came from Sam Martin, Truchas village farmer, who said he sought for hours to aid them as the pair clung to an icy rock, weeping and pleading, "please do something, we're freezing to death."

The women, both secretaries at the atomic energy commission's Los Alamos project, were Frances B. Krauss, 34, former WAC from Baltimore, and Mildred Hartig, 25, of Evansville, Ind.

Weary soldiers and state police brought out the battered bodies by horseback and ambulance yesterday afternoon, more than 24 hours after starting a search.

A coroner's jury found the two died from the double effects of injuries and exposure to near-zero weather on 13,275-foot Truchas peak, in the Sangre de Cristo mountains, 40 miles northeast of Santa Fe.

Martin, who accompanied the amateur climbers into the mountains last Saturday morning, and State Policeman Jerry Brunk found the bodies Sunday night.

Chicago Girl 'Kills Sister' With Scissors

CHICAGO (AP)—A two-year-old argument between two teen-aged sisters over the borrowing of each other's clothes was ended yesterday. Police Capt. Daniel Healy said, when the younger girl hurled a pair of scissors and fatally wounded the elder.

Adeline Sawistowski, 18, was injured fatally when the scissors, with seven-inch blades, embedded themselves in her chest. Healy said her sister, Irene, 16, threw the scissors in an argument after Adeline had accused Irene of lending a girl friend a dress Adeline had bought a month ago.

The police captain said Irene gave this version of the tragedy: The argument which had flared intermittently for two years, started again at lunch yesterday. After the meal, Adeline was seated at the kitchen table, Irene at the sewing machine.

"After we had finished eating," Healy quoted Irene as saying, "we just kept arguing about everything. I got so mad I just picked up whatever was at the sewing machine and threw it at Adeline. Adeline got up and staggered over to the kitchen sink. She didn't know what happened. I started screaming."

The girls' mother, Mrs. Margaret Sawistowski, told Healy she knew nothing of the tragedy until she heard a scream "and Adeline was staggering around the room and bleeding." The girl was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary's hospital. Police detained Irene without charge.

Silence Settles on 'Gay' Gibson Case

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Thick legal silence—customary in British criminal cases as soon as a suspect has been charged—settled yesterday over the mystery of actress Eileen "Gay" Gibson, who vanished from a ship's cabin in her nightgown.

James Camb, 30-year-old deck steward, was charged formally with the slaying in magistrate's court, although no evidence that a murder had been committed was offered during the four-minute arraignment.

Camb was ordered held without bail until next Monday.

DeGaulle Demands Dissolution Of Assembly, New Elections

PARIS, (AP)—General De Gaulle made his first open bid for return to power in France yesterday with a demand for dissolution of the national assembly and the holding of new general elections.

He said the results in the municipal elections, where anti-Communist Rally of the French People (RPF) party won nearly 40 percent of the vote, justified that action.

Parliamentary sources said the immediate effect of his move would be to produce a slight majority for Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier's coalition cabinet in a vote of confidence to be posed when the assembly convenes today.

These sources declared all "republican forces" were opposed to De Gaulle's proposal, and predicted that the Communists, who have bitterly assailed Ramadier's regime, would abstain when the vote is taken Thursday.

De Gaulle's statement was attacked immediately by the Communists. Florimond Bonte, a spokesman for the party, said the proposals were a maneuver for personal power backed by reactionary capitalists abroad.

De Gaulle said the Communists had lost "at least one-seventh of their electors and many municipalities." He said, "Many citizens who were led astray by these bad apostles on the road of unhappiness and servitude, are expressing their will for social justice and national renovation."

He said the feat of the RPF in getting more votes than any other party in the elections showed that he present government represented "only a feeble national minority."

Believes Foreigners Aided Mikolajczyk

WARSAW (AP)—A Polish government spokesman said yesterday there was "circumstantial evidence" that foreign help enabled Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, anti-Communist leader of the opposition Polish Peasant party, to flee Poland.

Most Poles believe Mikolajczyk will turn up in England, but there was no official word on his present whereabouts.

The sportsman was asked whether any foreign power had aided Mikolajczyk in his flight, and he answered there was "circumstantial evidence" to that effect. He declined to elaborate.

(In London, C. P. Mayhew, British undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the house of commons Mikolajczyk would be given sanctuary in England. Close associates of the Polish leader in the British capital said he was safely out of his homeland.)

BOB NOBLE

SUI Officials To Investigate Noble Accident

Iowa City Attorney Arthur O. Left arrived in South Bend, Ind., last night to represent the attorney general's office in the investigation of the death of two students and injury of six persons when a University of Iowa automobile struck a group of students there Sunday.

Two university faculty members, James Jordan of the information service and Loren Hickerson of the Alumni office, were also there to represent the university.

Robert D. Noble, University alumni official, was the driver of the car which crashed into the group of students as they crossed an unmarked intersection early Sunday between the Notre Dame and St. Mary's campuses.

According to The Associated Press, Coroner Marion W. Hillman said the investigation was being slowed by a search for a missing witness. Witnesses, he said, reported the automobile nearest the accident scene was a 1936 model car which had stopped on the highway to allow the students to cross.

Dead, in the accident, were Marie Des Prese, 19, Grand Rapids, Mich., a junior at St. Mary's, and Joseph Hailer, 20, Los Angeles, a junior at Notre Dame.

Noble received a fractured leg and was taken to Memorial hospital in South Bend, where his condition was "fairly good," last night.

In a phone call to The Daily Iowan Jordan said three other persons were injured in the incident. (See NOBEL ACCIDENT, page 4)

Backs Meter Purchase By 5 to 2 Vote

John Lindsey To Ask Permanent Injunction Against City's Action

By RAY HENRY

By a five to two vote the city council last night overrode Mayor Preston Koser's veto of a resolution to buy 250 parking meters from the Duncan Meter corporation.

Koser vetoed the resolution Oct. 24. It was originally passed Oct. 13 by a five to two vote of the council.

He said last night he did not know exactly when he would sign the contract for the purchase of the meters.

Following this action, John Taylor, attorney for John Lindsey of 718 S. Capitol street, said he would ask for a permanent injunction to stop the city from buying the meters.

Aldermen Max Hawkins, James Callahan, Charles T. Smith, Frank Fryauf and William Grandthor voted to override the veto after Hawkins read a report from the council's parking, public safety and police committee.

The report was in answer to Koser's veto statement and said, "The veto message apparently can be summed up as containing three objections: 1. Confusion. 2. Lack of manpower in police department in the proper handling of the meters. 3. Lack of help for sorting and counting of money."

Committee members Callahan, Fryauf and Hawkins said in the statement the "confusion" claimed by the mayor because of two differently operated types of meters would not materialize.

155 one hour automatically operated Park-O-Meters now on the streets were erected in December 1946. The Miller meter made by the Duncan corporation is manually operated.

The report said the Chamber of Commerce Parking committee recommended two-hour meters be installed.

"With a two-hour meter being installed," the report said, "the general public must realize that there is to be some difference in meters and in the operation of meters."

"The directions would be different and the timing would be different, and we feel that a different type of meter more definitely calls to the public's attention the fact that a different parking zone has been established."

The committee's statement said, "The shortage of manpower is helped rather than hindered by the installation of additional parking meters."

"Under the present circumstances the police department cannot efficiently mark cars with chalk that are parked on the streets with time limits on them. By use of the meters, the police will be able to check more time parking areas in the business district regularly."

"Insofar as lack of help in counting and sorting money is concerned," the report said, "it has been in everyone's mind that additional help would be secured" for this purpose.

The question of purchase of the meters came up when the council chose to buy Miller meters for about $80 each to supplement the Park-O-Meters which were purchased for $65 each.

Lindsey on Oct. 16 petitioned the Johnson county district court to issue a temporary injunction against Koser, City Clerk George Dohrer and the Duncan corporation to stop the purchase.

Oct. 20 a hearing on the injunction was held and Judge James T. Gaffney dismissed the hearing.

Irish Climb to Top Rung

Wolverines Drop to 2nd, Texas Third

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame, still supposedly playing "under wraps," moved to the head of the class yesterday in the weekly Associated Press poll of football writers, supplanting still-unbeaten Michigan.

The Minnesota Gophers apparently rubbed some of the glamor off the Michigan machine before succumbing, 13-6, for the writers shunted the Wolverines into second place. A week later they commanded 147 of 168 first place votes. This time they grabbed only 69 with 78 of the 185 ballots listing the fighting Irish at the top of the heap.

Texas remained a strong contender for top honors with 25 firsts and Pennsylvania, gaining strength on its 21-0 win over Navy, was named No. 1 by 11 voters.

Coach Frank Leahy's Irish slipped past Iowa, 21-0, without showing too much of their attack to future rivals. With Navy scheduled to test them Saturday in Cleveland fans may learn more about the true strength of Notre Dame.

The point score from the most extensive weekly poll in many years showed Notre Dame at 1734 holding a slim 45-point edge over Michigan at 1689 with Texas a close third at 1516.

Pennsylvania moved from eighth to fourth on its Navy success. The big battle on the Pacific coast resulting in a 39-14 decision for Southern California over California sent the victorious Trojans into fifth place only a few points behind Penn. Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf's Golden Bears fell out of the first 10.

Georgia Tech enjoying a breather with The Citadel, moved up a peg to sixth position and Penn State advanced from ninth to seventh by outlasting previously-unbeaten West Virginia, 21-14. The Southern Methodist Mustangs climbed to eighth place on a 7-0 win over U.C.L.A. Duke's stock soared on the Blue Devils' 13-6 conquest of Wake Forest and they came all the way from 15th to 9th position.

Despite Army's upset loss to Columbia, 21-20, ending their nonlosing string after 32 games, the Cadets managed to hold 10th place in the rankings, only two points ahead of Illinois which played an 0-0 tie with them earlier.

Illinois' loss to Purdue sent them tumbling to 11th but oddly enough the victory didn't help Purdue too much nor did Minnesota's sturdy stand against Michigan give them much of a boost in the standings.

Team standings with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses).

1. Notre Dame (78).....1734
 2. Michigan (69).....1689

Purdue-Irish Return—'No'

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—Would Stu Holcomb, whose Purdue Boilermakers upset Illinois, 14-7, last Saturday, like another crack at Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, who beat his club, 22-7, three Saturdays ago?

"Hell, no," Holcomb told the Herald-American quarterback meeting yesterday. "Once a season is enough against that outfit."

Holcomb, former aide to Earl Blaik at Army and a strong candidate for coach of the year laurels in his first Purdue season, said his Boilermakers emerged from their triumph over favored Illinois "talking Rose Bowl."

"But honestly, we're not that good," he grinned, "and the dog-gone balloon even may burst on us this Saturday against Iowa."

Should Illinois defeat Michigan at Champaign this Saturday, and Purdue beat Iowa, Minnesota and Indiana in its remaining conference games, the Boilermakers could finish in a title tie and get Rose Bowl consideration.

Although Holcomb implied that Purdue could not improve on the stand it made against Notre Dame on Oct. 11, he said it was "hard to answer" the question of whether the Irish were stronger than Illinois.

"Every team has its bad day and Illinois still is a great team in my book," Holcomb said.

Army, Holcomb said, also had a "bad day" in its upset by Columbia, but he added that Blaik's Black Knights this year were "average" as Army teams go and may lose to Notre Dame, Penn and even Navy.

Holcomb said his Purdue attack was patterned after Army's, but that while the Cadets gunned for long gains the Boilermakers had a shortgain system. "The longer we kept the ball, the better," he flipped.

Athletic Director Guy Mackey of Purdue lauded Holcomb for "the most remarkable job of coaching" that he had seen in 20 years of conference association. The Boilermakers finished last in the 1946 league race.

Frank McCormick, Minnesota athletic director, declined to pick a winner in this weekend's Illinois-Michigan battle, but said the Gophers, who scared the Wolverines before losing, 14-7, got a tougher game from the Illini. Minnesota lost to Illinois, 40-13, on Oct. 18.

"I haven't noticed any weakness in either Illinois or Michigan," McCormick amended, "but it's true we made a lot more mistakes against Illinois than against Michigan."

Ken Block ran for one Section F touchdown and passed to Don Vonberg for the winning score. Don Montgomery dropkicked a field goal for Section A and Spence Easley circled end for their only touchdown.

Injuries Hurt Irish; Simmons May Start

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Floyd Simmons was listed yesterday as probable starting fullback for Notre Dame's game with Navy next Saturday after Trainer Hugh Burns reported both John Panelli and Mike Swistowicz on the injured list.

Swistowicz suffered a groin injury in Notre Dame's 21-0 conquest of Iowa last Saturday and Panelli still is suffering an elbow injury from the Nebraska game two weeks ago.

Purdue Works to Stop Iowa's Hard-Chargers

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue university's football squad settled down to preparations for next Saturday's game with Iowa yesterday after hearing a warning from Scout Mel Taube that "Iowa has a squad capable of beating any team on its schedule."

The Boilermakers who bore the brunt in Purdue's upset victory over Illinois last Saturday, 14-7, came through the game in good physical condition, but were given only a light limbering-up drill yesterday.

Taking Time Out

With Buck Turnbull

Iowa plays heads-up football against Notre Dame. Northwestern continues to roll in their 7-6 win over Indiana. Purdue surprises the football gentry again with a 14-7 victory over Illinois. Hapless Pitt, loser of four straight games, squelched Ohio State's up-and-coming hopes with a 12-0 whitewash. Columbia's mediocre eleven breaks the 32 game streak of mighty Army. 21-20. SMU clubs the great Bruins of UCLA, 7-0.

And why oh why couldn't Minnesota's hopped-up Gophers have beaten Michigan. That would've made the weekend very complete in unbelievably upsets. But we'll still hand it to Coach Bernie Bierman's Golden Gophers with the comment, "It ain't easy."

Following the Iowa-Notre Dame game Saturday, we squirmed and fought our way through the fleeing mob outside Notre Dame stadium and didn't feel much better than a sardine when we accomplished our mission of crashing the Irish dressing room. There were more people weaving in and out of the lockers trying to talk to all the heroes than there were leaving the stadium itself.

After long minutes of battling we finally cornered Irish Coach Frank Leahy in various stages of getting dressed and answering all kinds of questions at the same time.

"The Army game?" Leahy was asked. "Well, I'll say one thing. It's a great compliment to Coach Little of Columbia. And it couldn't happen to a finer fellow. He's a great guy and deserves all the credit in the world."

The Notre Dame players were in no mood to think about giving credit to the Columbia coach. It seemed that everyone connected with the Notre Dame team had come to one unanimous conclusion. "Why did Army have to get beat?"

All-American Quarterback Johnny Lujack, when asked what he thought about the Army defeat, said, "I think I can speak for the rest of the team when I say that we're all pretty disappointed. We definitely wanted to be the ones to stop Army's string after what they did to us during the war. But we'll still beat them, don't worry."

Lujack was then asked if there was any fact in the statements that have been coming out of South Bend saying Notre Dame is weaker this year than last. "Well, Johnny said, "of course we haven't been running up the scores as much as last year. But we've been coming along slow and improving with every game. Today was our best showing of the year."

Then Johnny said, with considerable emphasis, "Mark my words. By the end of the year we'll be the greatest team in the country!"

Tackle Ziggy Czarowski felt the same way. "Sure we're coming along slow. Just building up 'inertia' you know."

Many people have been wondering why Notre Dame's speed-demon halfback, Bob Livingstone, has not been used very much this year. This question also puzzles the Notre Dame students themselves. In four games previous to Iowa, Livingstone had been used sparingly if at all.

Finally, midway in the third quarter Saturday, the Irish students started to chant, "We want Livingstone!" This went on for about five minutes before Livingstone made a brief appearance in the final quarter.

Every week the Notre Dame student newspaper prints a picture and story of their athlete of the week. Last week the Irish paper brought the whole deal to the surface when the picked Livingstone, although he had played very little previously, as the Notre Dame athlete of the week.

Off in a far corner of the Notre Dame press box sat two hard-working Purdue scouts getting all available material on the Hawk-eyes for the game at Lafayette Saturday.

As the game wore on, one scout nudged the other and whispered, "Gosh, that Tunnell is a rough back. The boys are going to have to watch him."

"Yeah," said the other, "he's the best back I've seen this year."

After End Jack Kelso had snared a couple of passes from Al DiMarco, the first scout remarked, "We'll have to watch that Kelso, too. He's their best end."

Then when the Hawks opened up with the Notre Dame box, not a murmur came from the scouts' corner. They were too busy writing.

The Iowa coaches continued to rave about Guard Joe Grothus yesterday. Joe was a standout through more than three quarters of the Irish tilt before he was rested in the final stanza.

Then there's the story of the Notre Dame student who bet his bottom dollar on the parlay cards. It seems that the student picked seven teams and had six winners going into the last quarter of the Iowa-Notre Dame battle. But the poor boy had taken the Irish on the parlay and given the Hawk-eyes 26 points.

A Day Off for the Hawkeyes

Dr. Eddie Anderson rested his Hawkeye gridmen yesterday afternoon while the rain poured and held a brief meeting with the squad, going over the movies of the Notre Dame game and bringing out a few of the mistakes.

The Hawks came out of the Irish game with no serious injuries and only the usual bumps and bruises. Iowa will start preparation for Purdue—the third straight road game—this afternoon.

Scout Waddy Davis warned the Hawks yesterday that the Boilermakers are very tough. They have improved every week and their play against Illinois was very good, both offensively and defensively.

Statistics released yesterday show that the Hawk gridgers lead their opponents in the first six games in total yardage, 1,678 to 1,588. The rivals lead the Hawks in rushing by exactly 200 yards but the Iowa aerial game outshines the opponents, 795 to 505.

The Hawks have launched 106 passes, completed 52, with eight intercepted. Opponents have hit on 41 out of 100 with six interceptions.

Em Tunnell has produced the best running game of any individual Iowan with an average of 6.3 yards. The "Gremlin" has carried 41 times for 260 yards.

Al DiMarco continues to lead the team in total offense with 424 yards in 83 plays.

Quality Control Experts Meet

The fifth conference sponsored by the University of Iowa on quality control by statistical methods will open today at 9 a. m. with registration at Old Capitol.

Prof. Lloyd A. Knowler of the mathematics department said yesterday 150 delegates were expected for the executive conference today. The other nine days of the conference will be concerned with trainees.

Delegates will come from industrial plants throughout the United States. Quality control by statistical methods refers to the application of statistics to all steps of a manufacturing process to insure quality standards in the finished product.

Dean F. M. Dawson of the college of engineering will preside over the morning session today. The delegates will be welcomed by Dean E. T. Peterson of the division of research and teaching.

Knowler will talk on purposes and methods of statistical quality control and Ernie L. Fay of Deere and Co. will speak on its application and results.

The afternoon session will be presided over by Prof. H. O. Croft of the mechanical engineering department. S. C. Amren will tell of quality control at the Minneapolis-Honeywell company. Prof. Allen T. Craig of the mathematics department will discuss statistical methods in industry.

A panel will close the afternoon session with a general discussion of questions raised by the audience. The panel will be composed of Prof. John A. Henry, University of Illinois; Dr. Carl E. Noble, Kimberly Clark corporation; Prof. Mason E. Westcott, Northwestern university and Amren, Craig, Fay and Knowler.

PERSONAL NOTES

Prof. Carl H. Menzer and John P. Highlander, director and program director at WSUI, are attending a series of radio conferences in Chicago this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sixta, former university students, visited friends in Iowa City yesterday. Mrs. Sixta is the former Joyce Blomquist, Aurora, Ill. The couple left for Washington, D. C., where Mr. Sixta is a diplomatic courier in the state department foreign service.

Guests at the home of Jean Vandermark, C4, Mediapolis, this weekend were Kathleen Stille, A2, Alta, and Eleanor Stille, A2, Schaller.

Knights of Columbus and their guests were entertained at a "Halloween Masquerade" last night in the clubrooms of the KC hall. Larry Hunter's orchestra provided music. Committee members were Mr.

Frenchmen Find Americans 'Insensitive'

EUROPE NEEDS UNDERSTANDING as well as food, according to these three new instructors in the French department—Augustin Girard, Paris, Georges Maret, Marseilles, and Jean Normand, Brest.

By RENA MARCELLO

Three young Frenchmen, who came to the university this fall to act as informants in the French department agree that Americans answer Europe's need for food, but fail to answer her plea for understanding.

Jean Normand of Brest, Augustin Girard of Paris and Georges Maret of Marseilles admitted that it was hard for the average Americans to understand Europeans, since they had not shared the same experiences.

Girard, who received his master's degree in classics at Paris, said that Stephen Spender, the English poet who was here last week, was the person who impressed him most since he came here.

"He is very sensitive to the sufferings in Europe today," said Girard, "and he is concerned with his fellow men."

Maret, who is working for his master's degree in commerce, thinks the main interests in Iowa are hogs, corn, beer, women and football.

After having spent a year at Hamilton college in New York, he feels that people in the east are more interested in Europe and its culture than are middlewesterners.

Normand, who studied English in England for a year, spoke with a combined British-French accent. He came from a town which was destroyed by American planes and German fire.

The young Frenchman told about the confusion of the European people.

"In Europe the people are searching for something—they don't know what it is. This is what causes errors," he explained. "The people are like comets in the sky, looking for a safe place to land."

The three will further discuss their views at an informal public gathering sponsored by the French department in the music room of the Hubhub room at Hotel Jefferson today from 4 to 6 p. m. and Mrs. Joe Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Olin Hauth, Mr. and Mrs. William Machovac, Mr. Louis Burke and Wesley Hunter.

The Rev. Fred W. Putnam, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, left yesterday for Evanston, Ill., where he will be the new pastor of St. Matthews church. Mrs. Putnam and their son, James, are visiting in Minneapolis and will join him in Evanston.

Traditional Fall Tea Planned Tomorrow In Hancher Home

Approximately 230 women will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher, wife of the president of the university, tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5 at the traditional fall tea.

Special guests will be 123 new faculty women and wives of new faculty men.

Assisting Mrs. Hancher in the receiving line will be the wives of the deans. They are Mrs. C. Woody Thompson, Mrs. E. T. Peterson, Mrs. Chester Phillips, Mrs. A. W. Bryan, Mrs. Paul Blommers, Mrs. R. A. Kuever, Mrs. Earl J. McGrath, Mrs. Mason Ladd, Mrs. F. M. Dawson, Mrs. Carlyle Jacobsen and Mrs. Bruce Mahan.

Parlor and dining room hostesses will be Mrs. M. E. Barnes, Mrs. Paul Brechler, Mrs. Stephen Bush, Mrs. Ralph Fenton, Mrs. E. A. Gilmore, Mrs. Judah Goldin, Mrs. E. E. Harper, Mrs. Louis Turner, Mrs. L. D. Longman, Mrs. Ewen MacEwen, Mrs. Baldwin Maxwell, Mrs. John McClintock, Jacqueline Keaster and Mrs. Philip Mechem.

Anne Pierce, Mrs. Harry Plum, Mrs. E. G. Schroeder, Mrs. Charles Rogler, Mrs. C. E. Seashore, Mrs. Erling Thoen, Mrs. Clarence Van Epps, Mrs. Arthur Steindler, Mrs. Charles Righter, Leulu Smith and Mrs. W. T. Root.

National Guard Display To Arrive Tomorrow

A national guard motor caravan will display military equipment tomorrow, beginning at 9 a. m., on the Englert theater block of Washington street.

The caravan will include an armored car, a 150 millimeter gun with prime mover, a completely equipped ordnance truck, command car and three jeeps. Three trucks will show foreign weapon trophies, a new type machine gun and a P51 airplane engine.

Cargo tonnage handled on the Great Lakes in 1945 exceeded all exports and imports of the United States at all salt water ports.

Young Demos To Organize Campus Group

An organizational meeting to form a Young Democrats club on the university campus will be held tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in room 221A Schaeffer hall, Henry C. Allan, A3, Chicago, announced yesterday.

Allan said the move to form an SUI Young Democrats club distinct from the county organization was an outgrowth of a suggestion presented last Thursday night by State President Jack C. White to the Johnson county young demos.

White will be the principal speaker at the Wednesday meeting. A temporary list of officers and by-laws will be voted on, Allan said, and action initiated to obtain a university charter.

White said that if the group is successful in its organizational plans, a charter by the state young Democrats probably would be issued. The SUI chapter then would be eligible to elect delegates to the Young Democrats national convention in Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 13-15.

Council To Discuss Cheerleader Trips

The student council will discuss tonight a long-range program for sending SUI cheerleaders to all out-of-town football games. The group will meet in Old Capitol at 7:30.

Council members also will make recommendations for a proposed revision in the university party set-up and consider further plans for the campus chest drive and the production of Panacea, student show.

The revised plan for university parties will be announced next week. The executive committee of the council, the union board and the Central Party committee have been working on it for several weeks.

Part of the plan is expected to be the creation of a party fund so that "big-name" bands can be hired for one or two dances a year.

The council probably will decide tonight which organizations will receive the funds collected in the Campus Chest drive this year. The drive will be conducted Dec. 1 to 5.

12-Year-Old Finnish War Orphan 'Adopted' By Alpha Phi Omega

A Finnish war orphan has been "adopted" by Omicron chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

The group will contribute $8 a month toward the 12-year-old boy's support, enough so that he can attend school, according to Secretary Robert Martin, A3, Hamburg.

The payments are handled through the Save the Children federation, which has offices in New York and Chicago.

Alpha Phi Omega members also will send food and clothing parcels directly to the Finnish boy, Martin said.

The child now is living with foster parents who cannot afford to take proper care of him and send him to school, according to Martin.

Local members have not yet learned the child's name. They expect a letter from him soon, now that the first payment for his support has been made.

SUI, Oxford Debaters Meet Nov. 7

Will Discuss Anglo-U. S. Tie To Avert War

Oxford university will meet the University of Iowa for the second postwar international debate Nov. 7 in Macbride auditorium, according to Prof. A. Craig Baird of the public speech department. This will be the 20th international debate held on the University of Iowa campus.

Merrill T. Baker of Davenport and David Corwin Cornell of Knoxville are two members of the Iowa team which will take the affirmative against the Britons on the question, "Resolved: That the danger of war can best be averted by an all-purpose Anglo-American alliance."

The third member of the Iowa team will be announced sometime today, Baird said.

The three Britons will debate at 50 American and Canadian universities and colleges October through January. They are Sir Edward Charles Gurney Boyle, Baronet, Mr. David Kenneth Harris, and the Honorable Anthony Neil Wedgwood Benn.

Boyle, whose father, Sir Edward Boyle, was chairman of the Balkans committee from 1924 to 1945, attended Eton college and Christ church, Oxford. During the war, he was associated with the British foreign office. He is now librarian of the Oxford Union society.

Grandson of a South Wales miner, Harris attended Tunbridge high school and Wadham college, Oxford. In 1940, he was with the Royal artillery, and later was a liaison and staff officer with the RAF. He did psychiatric research with the Medical corps in 1945 and is now a member of the Oxford Union society.

Wedgwood Benn attended Westminster school and New College, Oxford. His father is the Right Honorable Viscount Stansgate, P.C., D.S.O., D.F.C., president of the World Inter-Parliamentary union. Wedgwood Benn served in the RAF as a pilot-officer from 1943 to 1945. A member of the British Labour party since 1942, he was selected as a Parliamentary candidate for the Labour party this year. A Bachelor of Arts, Philosophy and Economics, he is working on a further degree to be taken in June, 1948.

Baker, of the Iowa team, now in his second year in the law college, resides at 710 Kirkwood avenue. A member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, he also belongs to Delta Theta Phi, professional legal fraternity, and Delta Sigma Rho, honorary speech fraternity.

He has been active in intercollegiate debate, and was a runner-up in the Big Nine tournament of the 1945-46 season. He served as a lieutenant in the United States army air forces from February, 1942 to December, 1944.

Cornell, now residing at 105 North Gilbert street, is a member of Delta Sigma Rho and Phi Beta Kappa. Now a candidate for an M.A. degree in history, he received his B.A. degree at Iowa in 1947. He won the LeFevre prize for oratory in 1942.

Cornell served 42 months in the United States army and at the time of his release was staff officer in the adjutant general's department in the European theater.

Decisions in the international debates are made by the audience on the merits of the question. This year, the affirmative team will be comprised of two Iowans and a Briton. Two Britons and one Iowan will debate for the negative side.

Last year Iowa faced Cambridge university in the first postwar international debate. Leo Ziffren and R. Bruce Hughes debated the Cambridge team before a capacity crowd. The question then was: "Resolved, that in the opinion of this house formal dissolution of the British Empire would be in the best interests of world peace."

There will be no admission or reservations and the public is invited. The Institute of International Education, New York, is the sponsor of the international debates.

Girl Scout Executive To National Convention

Mrs. Hugh Carson, executive secretary of the Iowa City girl scouts, will be the local delegate to the National Girl Scout convention in Long Beach, Calif., Nov. 4 to 7.

Mrs. Carson will lead convention delegates in a discussion on "Implications of Youth's Viewpoint for Our Program in Our Community."

She also will be voting delegate from the local chapter in the election of national officers.

In addition to the regular business meeting and election of officers the delegates will form a two-year plan of work for girl scouts in this country. Emphasis will be placed on participation of girl scouts in community affairs.

Play Safe—Police Ready 'Goblin Patrol'

Kiddies, more than the goblins may get you the night of Halloween if you don't watch out.

Every available member of the police force will be on duty Oct. 31, Chief E. J. Ruppert said. They don't mind if the young spooks have a little fun, but the officers will be on guard to see that no property is damaged.

According to ghostly tradition, witches sail through the air with the greatest of ease on their jet-propelled brooms and hobgoblins tie themselves in knots performing pranks that night.

The ethereal spirits can get away with impish tricks for there's no enforceable law against them. But there is a law against marking and destroying private property, and flesh-and-blood police will be on the watch for roving youngsters, causing wanton damage.

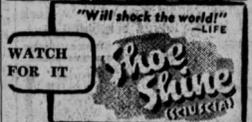

Grotesque masks are plentiful, however, for those people who need them. And the old game of "tricks or treat" may still be played as long as the tricks and treats and housewife's patience hold out.

floats the scouts are making—but that's about all the information they will release.

One information leak comes from Den 5 of the Longfellow pack. Mrs. Osmar A. Dettman, den mother, reveals that the cubs are using the theme of the month "In Old Mexico."

The "Iron Curtain" will be lifted when the Halloween parade gets under way Friday night, and the floats roll out along with others planned by Iowa City youngsters.

26 City High Musicians Win State Auditions

Twenty-six Iowa City high school musicians won top ratings in auditions held Saturday in Washington, Iowa, for the all-state mass concert to be held in Des Moines Jan. 2-3.

Competing against 20 other schools in southeastern Iowa for membership in the orchestra, band and vocal concerts, City high school placed the most number of students. Davenport was second high with 15 band and orchestra members winning auditions.

The mass groups of high school students in January will include a 300-piece band, 250-piece orchestra and 150-voice chorus.

Those chosen for the chorus were Dick Williams, Dick Buxton, Barbara Nolan, Kitty Kelly, Arlene Wolfe, Jack Toenniges, Jim Barnes and Junetta Kemp.

Winners for places in the state band and orchestra were: Jane Woodburn, Dick Houston, Nancy Spencer, Joan Hunter, Rose Marie Baker, Doris Hall, and Harriet Woods, violin; Signe Opstad, cello. Gwen McComas, Charles Keislar, Paul Benjamin and Don Brice-land, clarinet; Bill Hart, baritone; Doris Hay, cornet.

Alternates will be Bob Gower, cornet; David Smith, drum; and Janice Krattet, trombone.

The trip to the mass concert in Des Moines will be financed by the Iowa City music auxiliary. City high's music directors are Thomas N. Wikstrom, chorus; Armand E. Vorce, band; and Larverne Wintermeyer, orchestra.

Display 'Life' Pict Nov. 2-15 at Iowa

A selection of 64 pictures from the files of Life will be exhibited in the Iowa Union from Nov. 2-15.

The exhibit is under sponsorship of the school of art, Union board and Life feature photographs of the national and international events of the last decade.

Featuring photographs worthy for their news and artistry, the exhibit includes the work of photographers as Margaret White, who did a picture of SUI veterans last spring, and Fritz Goro.

'Top Secret' Iron Curtain Drawn On Cub Floats

"Top secret" is the word for cub scout activities this week as the junior scouts plan floats for the Halloween parade Friday.

Reasons for the cub "gag rule" is that the little cubs want to keep their ideas secret from rival dens. Besides, they like the surprise angle.

The cubs, ranging from 9 to 12 years, are going at this new kind of Halloween stuff with enthusiasm, their den mothers report.

Mrs. A. M. Maris, den mother of the Longfellow pack, insists that the floats are not elaborate.

"Our husbands said it would take us at least three weeks and $100 to make a float. So far, ours has cost us nothing."

"Mother's sheet and pillowcase" will furnish most of the costuming, and the rest is being made from scrap materials.

Tombstones, ghosts, scarecrows in cornfields and a fairy tale theme are included in some of the
