

Never Underestimate the Power—

BALTIMORE (AP)—Carl Green told police recently he started to raise his hands in the best tradition when a man came into his grocery store brandishing a revolver. "Keep your hands down—I want everything you've got," the gunman ordered. Green started to hand over his cash. His wife dropped a dishpan in the adjoining kitchen. The gunman almost jumped out of his skin. He fled.

Next Budget Of 40 Billion Is Forecast

Authorities Expect Current U. S. Surplus To Top All Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's next budget will call for the government to spend almost 40 billion dollars during fiscal 1949, which begins next July 1, authoritative sources estimated yesterday.

Despite sizeable reductions in domestic spending, foreign aid under the proposed Marshall plan will push total spending to around $39,500,000,000, topping the current fiscal year figure by $2,500,000,000, they forecast.

These authorities, who cannot be identified, said the government has the biggest budget surplus in its history virtually in the bag for the current fiscal year, but increased spending and tax cut possibilities make next year's outlook cloudy.

The uncertainty of the business situation beyond next July makes a hazy outlook, too. These authorities summed it up like this:

1. If business continues to boom, wages and prices keep climbing and tax rates aren't cut, revenue could soar as high as $45,000,000,000 in fiscal 1949, allowing the Marshall plan and a $5,000,000,000 surplus too. But that is an all-optimistic view.

2. Tax cuts like some that have been proposed could knock off all or most of the surplus, and a business and employment bust could cause a deficit of several billions. But that is an all-pessimistic view.

On the more predictable spending side, authorities said the administration will probably save around $2,500,000,000 by cutting domestic spending but the Marshall plan program bids fair to soak up that saving and add an equal sum in extra costs. (This is based on the assumption that congress will approve the Marshall plan.)

Turning to the budget for this fiscal year, they forecast that, barring a tax cut in early 1948, which the administration is sure to oppose, the government will have a surplus possibly six times bigger than the $1,155,000,000 record of fiscal 1927.

Spending, they said, probably will be held down to the $37,000,000,000 presidential estimate, despite initial Marshall plan aid.

As to revenue, they said it will top the present budget estimate of $41,667,000,000 by at least $1,000,000,000 if tax rates are kept at present level.

Seven State Survey Indicates Tax Slash Justified In Iowa

DES MOINES (AP)—A survey of comparative taxes in seven states indicates that a reduction in Iowa income tax payments would be justified.

Gov. Robert D. Blue has called a special session of the legislature to accomplish continuation of the half rate income tax collection that has been in effect for the last five years in Iowa.

A survey made by the Des Moines Register indicated that even at the half payment, the Iowa income tax still is greater than that in any adjoining state except Wisconsin, and total taxes paid in Iowa are greater than in any of the other six states except Nebraska.

The states figuring in the survey were Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas.

A married man making $4,000 a year with two dependent children, and owning a home valued at $7,500, mortgaged for $4,000 at 4 percent interest, and owning a 1941 Chevrolet two-door sedan, would be taxed the following amounts for all state taxes in the various states compared:

Lincoln, Neb., $651.99; Des Moines, $641.62; Minneapolis, Minn., $620.99; Madison, Wis., $561.04; Kansas City, Mo., $533.36; Huron, S. D., $542.45; Springfield, Ill., $478.66.

Threat of Civil War Hangs Over Italy, Ex-Premier Warns

ROME (AP)—Francesco Saverio Nitti, 79-year-old former premier, gravely warned Italy yesterday that she was in danger of drifting into civil war.

The leftist newspaper La Repubblica, which follows a Communist-like line, declared however that "there is nobody who wants revolution."

Answering its own question in a large headline, "Will There Be Revolution?" La Repubblica backed up its opinion by printing sample quotations from leading Italian politicians.

Nitti's "Manifesto to the Nation," written after weeks of private negotiation trying to find some area of agreement among bitterly contending forces, declared "we are witnessing a continuous, and always more dangerous, process of division among the parties and among Italians."

Citing strikes and disorders which have taken a toll of 24 lives in about two weeks, Nitti said "it is necessary to flee the specter of civil war."

His solemn warning was drowned out, however, by the headlines on an acrimonious debate in the constituent assembly over Friday's "umbrella insurrection" at Milan.

The big city, heart of Italy's heavy industry, was back to normal yesterday after a truce agreed to let the leftist governor, Ettore Troilo, remain temporarily in office.

The partisans who had surrounded the palace in protest against Troilo's withdrawal thereupon agreed to disband and call off their city-wide strike.

Brave Little Child Wants 'Her Legs'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two policemen tip-toed to the bedside of a little girl in Women's Homeopathic hospital yesterday and one of them asked, "Can we get you anything? A nice dollie, maybe? Is there anything you want?"

Tears rolled slowly down 6-year-old Mary Etta Jordan's face.

"Just my legs," she choked.

But the only legs Mary Etta can ever have will be artificial.

Her own were amputated Tuesday after the wheels of a trolley car ran over them as she was hurrying to school.

The two policemen who visited her yesterday brought her to the hospital.

And the tears they saw splash down the little Negro girl's face have been rare since she has known that her legs are gone.

To make sure that Mary Etta will be fitted with artificial legs, donations have started rolling in to Miss Myrtle Stanton, the hospital administrator.

Thirty-four donors have given $233.50 and several givers have requested that their donations be used immediately for flowers, candy and toys.

Mrs. Mary Etta is the only child of Mrs. Marion Jordan, who works at a Cigar Manufacturing company.

Vet Rejects Loyalty Oath

ASHINGTON (AP)—A 22-year-old World War II veteran who lost his left hand as a result of combat had the veterans administration in a quandary yesterday over his refusal to sign the federal loyalty questionnaire.

VA officials said that the veteran, Walter E. Davis, told them he would not sign the required questionnaire on "general principles." Davis is employed in the VA insurance department.

The officials said that Davis is a "very competent" employe and they have no doubt as to his loyalty. But they pointed out that every government employe is required to sign the statements. Otherwise the employe must either be discharged or asked to resign.

Swedes Seek Loan

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A diplomatic informant said last night a Swedish government delegation is en route to Washington to negotiate a dollar loan. The informant said Sweden probably would place her immediate need at over $100,000,000.

Army 'Rips' Past Navy, 21-0

Rowan Star Of Triumph

By GAYLE TALBOT
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Led by their brilliant 172-pound fullback, Elwyn (Rip) Rowan of Memphis, Tenn., the Army Cadets rang down their season with a convincing 21 to 0 victory over Navy in a colorful spectacle before 101,500 fans at Municipal stadium yesterday.

The vast throng, which included President Truman and scores of other notables, saw the West Pointers rack up touchdowns in each of the first three periods and completely outclass the Midshipmen through the second half. The chief executive, sitting on Army's side of the field, stuck it out to the end.

Rowan, sparkplug of Army's attack, passed 19 yards to Bill Kellum of Eastland, Texas, for the victors' first score in the opening period, and then broke the Middies' hearts with a sensational 92-yard touchdown dash from scrimmage early in the second stanza.

The final Army score came when John Trent, an end, intercepted a desperate Navy pass and raced 21 yards across the goal line.

Rowan's beautiful scoring run, on which he burst through his right tackle into the clear and sprinted almost the length of the field without being touched, practically broke up what had promised to be a Homeric tussle. The Navy team never recovered from

French Government, Labor Deadlocked On Ending Strikes

PARIS, Sunday (AP)—The French government and labor were deadlocked in a tense atmosphere of political crisis today over a drastic measure to stop strikers from molesting non-strikers in a walk-out of 2,000,000 workers.

Both the government and the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT) wanted to return the workmen to their jobs by tomorrow.

But the government insisted that it would discuss modification of its proposed "law for the defense of the republic" only after receiving written assurance from the CGT that the strikes would end.

CGT leaders said they would give such assurances when they had been advised that the government was ready to withdraw its bill now before the national assembly.

In the assembly Communists resorted to every obstructionist method possible under French parliamentary practice to slow passage of the measure which would provide imprisonment and fines for those molesting non-strikers or inciting them to leave their jobs.

At one point Interior Minister Jules Moch cried in the heat of debate that if Communist obstructionism continued, the government would put the law into effect by decree.

The assembly was in continuous session most of the night. The cabinet met almost without a halt in the assembly corridors. A CGT delegation was in permanent session in the labor ministry. Daniel Mayer, minister of social affairs, ran back and forth between the cabinet and the labor leaders with propositions and counter-propositions.

The stalemate between the government and the CGT was reported to have produced a threat of defection within Premier Robert Schuman's week-old coalition government.

Yesterday the session of the assembly was suspended once when Communists began singing a couplet from a French revolutionary song and other members burst into the Marseillaise. Schuman once was stopped from rushing upon Jacques Duclos, secretary of the Communist party.

Molotov Hits 2-Zone Plan For Germany

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov condemned in advance yesterday any attempt by the western powers to establish a provisional German government over their occupation areas. He indicated Russia would not allow such a government to speak at the peace table.

An American source said Molotov told the Big Four foreign ministers council: "If an ersatz government was set up for bi-zonal (the economically merged British and American zones), it would not be adequate to speak for Germany."

As the first week of the conference ended without agreement on any major issues, Molotov demanded that the establishment of a central German government be required before a peace conference is held. He met a solid lineup of foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France who disagreed with him, informants said.

Officials present quoted U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall as saying:

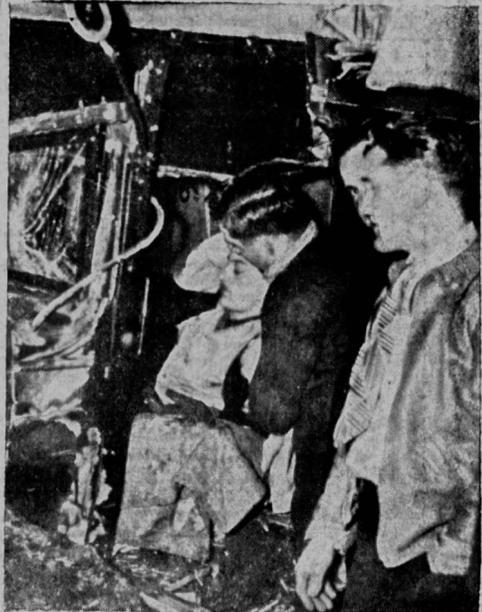

"We regard both the question of a peace conference and establishment of a German government as important. I hope there will be an adequate German government before the peace conference gets underway, but neither should depend upon the other."

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault also opposed Molotov.

For the second successive day Molotov attempted to get from the western powers some intimation of their plans if the four powers fail to reach an agreement at this conference on Germany's future. It marked the second time he had referred to possible moves by the western powers to set up a provision German government for their zones.

The western powers never have acknowledged the existence of such a plan officially. The United States, however, has been reported in diplomatic quarters as ready to advance such a proposal for fusion of the British-American-French zones of occupation if a peace pact for all Germany cannot be obtained.

Lucas Spurns Governor Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Lucas (D-Ill) took himself out of the Illinois Democratic governorship race yesterday in an action interpreted as leaving him available for possible nomination as his party's vice-presidential candidate.

Lucas said President Truman and other party leaders had urged him to remain in the senate, where his present term expires in 1951. Lucas is senate minority whip, a position in which he is charged with lining up party colleagues for important votes.

Whether Mr. Truman's desire to have Lucas remain in the senate would lessen the Illinois lawmaker's chances of obtaining second place on the 1948 ticket remained an unanswered question.

Most Unions File Affidavits, Comply With T-H Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Half of the national unions in the CIO and two-thirds of the national unions in the AFL have filed non-Communist affidavits with the national labor relations board.

That was announced by the board yesterday.

At the same time, General Counsel Robert N. Denham announced that nearly 30 percent of the various affidavit forms submitted by unions to the NLRB were faulty in some way.

And if the NLRB officials aren't satisfied that the law has been complied with, they send the form back to the union.

6 Arab Nations Walk Out As Protest

Threaten Uprisings Against Any Attempt To Carry Out Decision

NEW YORK, (AP)—Partitioning of Palestine into Jewish and Arab countries was approved by the United Nations assembly late yesterday. Arabs here and in the middle east promptly threatened general opposition and uprisings against any attempt to carry out the assembly's decision.

The six Arab nations represented here walked out of the crowded assembly hall in protest after charging bitterly that the UN charter had been "murdered" by the majority verdict.

The first reaction from the middle east came from Iraq. Riad el Solh, premier of Lebanon, told newsmen there that "we are waiting, prepared to march on to our objectives when the time comes." It was noted that he spoke shortly before the assembly acted, but he renewed the Arab threat to act against any partition move.

The assembly's final vote approving the Soviet-American proposal to set up independent Jewish and Arab countries in the Holy Land by Oct. 1 was 33 to 13.

This was well over the requirement for approval by two-thirds of those delegates present and voting. The 13 opposed to partition could have been defeated by a minimum of 26 affirmative votes. Ten nations abstained and Siam was absent. Britain abstained on all voting on Palestine.

Soon after the crucial vote on partition the 1947 assembly adjourned. The final session began Sept. 16. The next assembly, unless a special session is called, is slated to meet in some European city next September.

The decision on Palestine found the United States and Russia teaming together for one of the few times in UN history. It was the only important question which arose during the 11 weeks of the 1947 session on which the two big powers agreed fully.

The Jewish Agency for Palestine called the decision a "noble" one and said its first concern was to try to help the refugees who have been attempting to get to Palestine from Europe.

As the Arab delegates left the assembly hall, Faris el Khoury of Syria, served notice that the decision will be opposed "by all Arabs."

16-Year-Old Girl Kills Grandmother, Brother In Chase

DYERSBURG, Tenn. (AP)—A 16-year-old blonde told police yesterday she slew her "fussing, fighting" grandmother and 14-year-old brother with an automatic shotgun because she feared a beating for running up a telephone bill.

Ruby Mae Sorrell was quoted by Sheriff John Yarbrow as saying she shot and killed Mrs. Mary Lou Sorrell, 59, and Edgar Wade Sorrell when they chased her from their farmhouse. The bodies were found shortly after dawn yesterday.

She said she made frequent telephone calls to a cousin in Memphis. The telephone bill was delivered yesterday.

"My grandmother and brother were chasing me," she continued. "I thought they were going to beat me because of the telephone bills."

Arrested on a first-degree murder warrant as she sipped coffee in a Dyersburg restaurant, the girl told police she went to Memphis, 70 miles away, after the killings. She said she walked about the city until morning, then returned to Dyersburg where she took a hotel room and slept until 11 a. m.

When arrested, the sheriff said, she was in company of a man booked as Jerrard McKenna, 23, Palisades Park, N. J. Yarbrow said the man was charged with violating the age of consent, and was held for the grand jury under $1,000 bond. McKenna said he met the girl in the Memphis bus station.

SMU Rallies to Tie TCU, 19-19

Doak Walker Steals Show

FORT WORTH, TEX. (AP)—Southern Methodist stormed back with only 20 seconds to play yesterday to tie Texas Christian, 19-19, in one of the thrillers of Southwest conference history.

that overflowed TCU stadium watched the great Doak Walker keep Southern Methodist in the ranks of the undefeated. It was Walker who scored two touchdowns and kicked an extra point to give the Methodists a 13-12 lead at the end of the third period and it was Walker whose great kick-off return of 55 yards put Southern Methodist in position to score that dramatic touchdown that kept the Mustangs unbeaten in 10 games. The tie gave Southern Methodist the undisputed Southwest conference championship by one-half of a game.

It was a battle between bowl teams. Southern Methodist plays Penn State in the Cotton bowl Jan. 1 while Texas Christian meets Mississippi in the Delta bowl at Memphis.

The Frogs jumped to a 6-point lead midway in the first period on a 50-yard drive with Lindy Berry's pass to Morris Bailey for 33 yards, the main punch in the surge. From the 13-yard line Pete Stout carried four times and chucked over for the score. Wayne Pitcock missed the conversion.

The Horned Frogs increased their lead to 12 points early in the second quarter after Orein Browning intercepted a pass on his 36-yard line and scattered to the Methodist eight. Berry gained six yards in three tries, then Stout climbed over right guard for a touchdown. Pitcock's try for point was blocked by Sid Halliday, Southern Methodist's great end.

Southern Methodist got back into the game late in the period on a 62-yard dash around right end by Walker. The Methodist star was back to pass, could find no receivers open so he cut to the right and, picking up blockers as he ran, scattered down the sidelines to score. Then Walker kicked the extra point. Southern Methodist took the lead on the last play of the third period and again it was Walker who got the job done.

Tech Clips Georgia, 7-0

ATLANTA, GA. (AP)—Georgia Tech's Orange Bowl-bound eleven, expected to present a strong passing attack, failed miserably at it at times but connected on a 13-yard scoring heave for a 7-0 victory over Georgia yesterday.

A capacity crowd of 38,000 witnessed the bruising football battle which was marred by numerous fumbles, costly penalties and injuries, and a first half in which neither team threatened seriously. John Rauch, Georgia's ace passer, just failed to become the fourth collegiate passer in history to complete 100 passes in a season. He connected on 10 of 21 heaves for a total of 98 yesterday. It was Rauch's passes, mostly to Dan Edwards, that kept the underdog visitors in the game.

Disclose Ticket Sales Plan

Persons wishing to obtain tickets for Iowa's eight major home basketball games can apply for ticket application material beginning tomorrow, Business Manager Frank Havlicek announced yesterday.

Applications for material must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Filled-in application forms and remittances will be accepted by the department of athletics beginning Monday, Dec. 8. Remittance must be by check or money order and again a stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Sales on this basis will be discontinued after Dec. 20.

Havlicek emphasized that the 1947-48 regulations limit the sale to each person of only two conference games. No one will be allowed to buy tickets for more than two conference games and those applicants for more than one game should indicate games they wish to attend in order of preference.

The new regulations, according to Havlicek, are designed to give more people the opportunity to see the conference games. Last year individuals could buy four tickets for two conference games. Since the intersectional games with Harvard and Princeton will be played during Christmas vacation when most of the students will be absent, there will be no limitations on number of tickets sold for these games. Reserved seat tickets will be sold for $1.50 and general admission tickets will be sold at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under twelve. These are the reserved seat games: Dec. 31—Harvard Jan. 3—Princeton Jan. 10—Purdue Jan. 17—Indiana Feb. 2—Northwestern Feb. 9—Illinois Feb. 21—Wisconsin Feb. 28—Minnesota

STARKVILLE, MISS. (AP)—Charley Conerly reached the climax of his brilliant football season yesterday with a superb performance which gave the University of Mississippi a 33 to 14 victory over Mississippi State—and the Rebels' first undisputed Southeastern conference championship.

 Time and place: Monday, 8 p.m., Iowa fieldhouse.
 Tickets: General admission only.

It's opening night for the Hawk-eyes. The night is tomorrow. The time is 8 o'clock. The foe is Carleton college of Northfield, Minn. The game is the first of 19 scheduled tilts for Iowa in three months and the first of six non-conference games before the Hawks begin the Big Nine title race Jan. 5.

Other facts about this season... it is No. 47 for Iowa... it is No. 6 for Coach Lawrence "Pops" Harrison... The Hawks will be after their 27th straight non-conference victory in the fieldhouse... and they will also be in quest of their 45th win on the home floor in 48 contests.

Harrison has announced a tentative starting lineup which includes four major lettermen and one player from last year's B squad. The four letter-winners are Murray Wier and Floyd Magnusson at the forwards, Leonard Metcalfe at center and Jack Spencer at guard.

The newcomer from the B team is Tom Parker, a good shot and smooth-working ball-handler. The average height of the team will be a little over six-feet, one inch.

POPS AND HOPE—Iowa basketball Coach Pops Harrison ruffles the hair of his star forward, Murray Wier, before the opener with Carleton tomorrow night. Wier is the Hawks' main offensive threat, having scored 559 points for Iowa in three seasons. (Daily Iowan photo by Joe Shquist)

Carleton will bring a veteran team to the Hawkeye court averaging a flat six-one. The first five is headed by Guard Jack Thurnblad, who scored 291 points last season. Wally Ulrich, forward, made 216 points, and Harper Richardson hit for 206 a year ago. With this offensive punch, they could pose a good threat to Iowa's consecutive non-conference winning streak.

With Buck Turnbull

(Last in a series of three columns on Iowa's 1947-48 basketball team.)

Little Murray Wier paces the seven forwards back for the Hawkeye cage season along with two other letter-winners from last winter, Stan Straatsma and Floyd Magnusson.

These three will have to carry the brunt of the Iowa offensive attack, especially when the conference games begin in early January. However, to put them on the spot now would be a little unfair.

The non-conference games should give a good indication of what is in store for Pops Harrison's crew. Will his centers be able to battle against superior height? Will there be any reserve strength at all? And who is going to do the scoring?

In past seasons the only player on the present team who has shown that he can score and score in the big figures is Wier. Some consistency from Magnusson and Straatsma and the continuation of the crazy antics of the Muscatine "Fireball" might be just the medicine Dr. Pops needs.

Wier has played three seasons here at Iowa competing in 53 games. Now in his final year, he has already scored 559 points and is regarded by most Big Nine coaches as the hardest player in the league to guard.

Everyone who has seen the "Redhead" perform knows of his uncanny shooting. Beyond this, he is a constant ball-hawk, runs all the time and is a good dribbler. Practice drills so far have shown no change in his play.

Who will win the Straatsma-Magnusson battle for the other forward post, only time will tell. Both stand six-feet, two-inches tall. Both served in the navy. Both have shown flashes of excellent form and scoring ability. Both were twice all-state selections in high school. Straatsma is from Sioux Center while Magnusson is from Fort Dodge.

Two other forward candidates are Bob Vollers and Jack Wishmier. Vollers was a member of last year's B squad. He is also a two-time all-stater, hailing from Keokuk. Wishmier won a major letter with the championship team of 1944-45 and a minor "I" in 1945-46. He is from Van Meter.

IT DOESN'T SEEM LOGICAL....

THE MASTER AND JOURNEYMEN BARBERS realize that a dollar is a lot of money to pay for a haircut. But a look at the prices of other common commodities and services show the $1 haircut to be not so startling after all!

For instance, the three basic essentials of living — food, clothing and shelter. Everyone knows that the prices of these necessities have made substantial increases since the days of 50-cent haircuts. And don't forget all the luxury items such as movies, tobacco, public utilities and personal services.

The barber has been caught in the spiral of inflation along with everyone else!

Since the dizzy inflationary spiral began its ascent, we have read daily news items about the never-ending chase of labor costs and prices. Each tends to "out-scramper" the other.

The greatest expense of the Master barber in Iowa City is his labor costs. With the exception of rent, his operating expenses are relatively small, as in the case of most other personal service types of business. The Master barber, who is the shop owner, is responsible for the welfare of his employees. He must assure them an adequate living wage.

Remember, the journeyman barber in Iowa City has earned, in the past year, an average wage of only $48.50 per week. Compare this with the wages of other skilled union workers, like the carpenter, the brick-layer and the machinist.

The Master barber looks forward to the day when he will be able to decrease haircut prices. Until that time, be sincere with yourselves in considering our position.

"IT PAYS TO LOOK WELL"

Tennessee Fights to Win Over Vandy, 12-7
 KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A scrapping Tennessee football team that had been defeated often, simply wouldn't be beaten yesterday and came from behind to trample Vanderbilt, 12 to 7.

A partisan throng of 35,000 cheered the Vols to their third straight victory and their fifth of what has been the worst season in 16 years of coaching for Gen. Bob Neyland.

Tennessee's line, with seven senior forwards playing their last game for the Vols, spelled the difference between the two highly-keyed elevens.

Some Protect Interests of Others—Even Today

Two red-nosed boys of no more than 8 years braced themselves against the glass of a local toy window yesterday. They pointed out the beauty of an electric train to one another while an elderly man stood behind them with an "I-remember-when" grin on his face. The gentleman finally interrupted the boys long enough to hint that "Santa might bring you one if you're good." "That's what I tell him," whispered the older boy with a knowing nod in the direction of his younger charge who was still engrossed with the sight of the train. The smaller boy whirled around with, "Listen, I just been pretending to believe that stuff so Mom and Dad wouldn't feel bad!"

HI-HIT TUNE OF THE WEEK!!!
Introducing the song you students chose as your favorite for the past seven days . . . Vaughn Monroe's "Dance, Balderina, Dance."

For that midnite spread . . . there is one necessity . . . SWANER'S Mello-D-Milk . . . a perfect complement to any food you might have. Mello-D-milk is that rich, healthful milk that's so delicious with sandwiches, cookies, or just alone. This quality milk also has a standard seal cap with a convenient "pouring lip" . . . which eliminates the necessity for glasses. Next time you invite your friends in your room for a snack . . . make sure there's a bottle of SWANER'S Mello-D-Milk on hand!

Is your car ready for holiday journeys . . . Even if it's just a 5 minute trip down town, or a 50 mile trip home, don't take a chance on your car spoiling your fun. GEORGE'S STANDARD SERVICE STATION can help you avoid this . . .

The living of all on your list will be enriched for many years by the appliances you select at the LAREW COMPANY.

Dancing and romancing . . . dates in December you'll always remember . . . flurries of snow and a hurry home for the holidays. Signs of the times and three good reasons why NEW PROCESS LAUNDRY AND CLEANERS should get your wardrobe ready for winter festivities. Formal, tuxes, date dresses, suits and warm "fun" clothes will all be bright and spotless after a trip to NEW PROCESS, thanks to their quick, quality service. Of special interest to the men is the new "tux" cleaning equipment recently installed at NEW PROCESS. So fellas and gals, before that date with "St. Nick" or "Baby 1948," remember your formal attire has a date with NEW PROCESS LAUNDRY AND CLEANERS.

Winner of the week in the Chesterfield contest at Joe's was Tri Delt Marilyn Johnson . . . Must have been good but Johnny won't reveal the witty ditty she composed for a cartoon underline. Maybe she can't remember!

"MEETCHA AT THE MAID-RITE," "MERRY CHRISTMAS" and "HAPPY NEW YEAR" . . . three familiar greetings this time of year. And, all three mean good times and good eating. But "MEETCHA AT THE MAID-RITE" is a year 'round yell and isn't usually as far away as Christmas and New Year's . . . Nope, it's just a few steps from campus and a favorite spot where all the gang gathers . . . So, "MEETCHA AT THE MAID-RITE!"

Harriett Bigus, the fabulous non-talking gal on campus, is talking! . . . and such a nice voice she's been hiding all these weeks!

Browsing about the BOOKSHOP, I spied three collections of fascinating photographs which are bound to make an ideal gift for someone on my list. (Preferably near and dear, especially near, to me, so I can enjoy them, too.) For mom and dad, the book "I Remember Distinctly" will bring back fond memories, for it is filled with the antics . . . (Charlie Chaplin, Model T's, and flapper gals) . . . of the times between the two last wars. For the sportsman . . . (that's Une!) . . . is a collection of pen and camera flight studies called "Prairie Wings". And, for sis, the book "Ballet" filled with brilliantly clear studies of beautiful ballerinas and character shots of famous ballet. It's a real document of dancers as well as photography. Be sure to stop in the BOOKSHOP and see these three collections!

Dashing frosted prancing colts with gold decorate clear glasses of another Libbey Safedge set at WAYNER'S. These sophisticated glasses make a gift long to be remembered.

The Phi Chis have developed interesting little "between study" recreations lately. Crocheting door knob covers (pink and blue in colors), and even inventing. Latest invention to come from that house is a square bathtub . . . to prevent after-bath rings, of course.

Only 19 days and 12 hours 'till Christmas vacation. Don't let it catch you unprepared! . . . have your clothes cleaned at DAVIS CLEANERS for the busy holiday season. Peeked thru the glass doors the other day and saw Donna Jensen and Jim Sommers very intent on something on the table. Opened the door and walked in and investigated. Why, of course . . . they were eating a BOERNER'S delicious hot fudge sundae . . . cuz only one of BOERNER'S sundaes, made with delicious ice cream, rich hot fudge, and topped with creamy whipped cream could cause that much concentration on the part of two such active campus figures. Donna and Jim will vouch for BOERNER'S hot fudge sundaes . . . stop in and try one yourself! . . . all that goodness for only 25 cents.

Chest Drive Begins Tomorrow

Mayor Koser, Hancher Give Full Support

With the six-day Campus Chest drive starting tomorrow, university, city and student leaders yesterday urged students to give the drive their full support.

President Virgil M. Hancher declared, "I am very much in favor of the Campus Chest drive and hope it meets with the generous response of the students so that the projects included will be well supported."

Mayor Preston Koser said, "I heartily endorse the Campus Chest drive which begins Monday. The organizations benefiting from the drive represent worthy causes and should be supported generously by the students."

Jan Gutz, A4, spoke for the student council in President Mel Heck's absence. She said:

"The student council feels sure that every student realizes the great importance of the Campus Chest drive this year. We hope each student will give willingly even if it means he may have to dig a little deeply. We are sure that the $10,000 goal set by the Campus Chest committee will be reached and we hope, topped."

Solicitors will begin contacting students in organized housing units tomorrow. Town students will be reached through a house-to-house canvass. A booth will be set up in front of Old Capitol for those students who cannot be solicited through an organized group.

Campus Chest was originated in 1945 to consolidate the numerous groups to which students were asked to contribute during the school year. All campus solicitations for this year will be made in one six-day period Dec. 1 to 6.

COMMENT Around Town and Campus

By RAY HENRY and RICK TIMMINS

One of the big reasons Iowa City's new parking meters haven't gone into operation is that the police can't find an additional man for the department.

For three or four years, the department has been undermanned. Right now it could use four more patrolmen. Ollie White says he can remember when positions on the force were greatly sought after. No one even applies these days.

However, a large percentage of the new meters are being used by Iowa Citizens although they haven't been officially opened for business.

Perhaps Iowa Citizens are playing it safe after a recent episode in Des Moines. New parking meters were recently installed there. They too were not lawfully in effect when one out-of-towner and several local residents received tickets for not donating their nickels.

The case went before a local magistrate and the tickets were torn up. But the whole deal must have left a bad taste in some mouths because of the obvious rudeness of the officer issuing the tickets.

The famed Metropolitan opera company is attempting to ban photos from the premises. The company claims there has been too much bad publicity in recent years emanating from flash bulbs.

Of course, it could be pointed out that if they removed the bar from the Met and concentrated on musicals, untimely publicity might be eliminated.

Or could it be the productions are so dry there is a need for something to quench the customer's thirst? They could serve cokes.

Iowa City politicians are wondering about the chances of having a favorable bond issue election on the Benton street bridge project.

The recent parking meter and swimming pool uprisings have overshadowed all other civic projects. Widespread publicity of these two issues may have put the damper on another very worthy city improvement.

The city is considering an improved method of refuse disposal. The sanitary land-fill method was pushed last spring by Alderman Charlie Smith, but not until recently was the council particularly interested.

The system under consideration covers the refuse with a layer of dirt and eliminates the fly and rat menace.

Application Blanks Ready for Staff of 'Code for Coeds'

Application blanks for staff members of "Code for Coeds" will be available beginning tomorrow afternoon, according to Elaine Lenney, president of the University Women's association.

The blanks may be picked up at the reception desk in the office of student affairs, University hall, and will be due Dec. 15, Miss Lenney said.

The code is published each year by UWA and is distributed to each freshman and transfer woman student before she enters the university.

It is designed to present the customs and traditions of the university and to give new women students an idea of the proper clothes and room accessories to bring with her.

The code also includes etiquette hints, a list of organizations and honorary societies at the university, some tips on dating and an introduction to campus dorms and "hangouts."

Other assignments include Billick as social chairman, Joyce Bahl as publicity chairman and Bissel as editor of the student paper, "The Newsmen."

The council meets every other Tuesday in the Iowa Union conference room.

Sell Tickets Tomorrow For Wolfe Lecture on World Affairs Friday

Tickets to the Henry C. Wolfe lecture on international affairs Friday at 8 p. m. in the Iowa Union will be available at the union desk tomorrow at 8 a. m.

Students must present their identification cards for the tickets. Wolfe, who has recently returned from a European tour, will tell "What's Happening in World Affairs."

Prof. James A. Jacobs of the physics department will speak on "High Vacuum Pumping Techniques" tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. in room 301, physics building.

Iowa in Focus—Statewide Spotlight

MARION (AP)—An explosion and fire caused damage estimated by Cedar Rapids Fire Chief L. E. Cooper at $75,000 to four stores and the Eagles club in Marion before it was brought under control at 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

Fire departments from both Marion and Cedar Rapids fought the blaze, which started shortly after 1:50 p. m.

No one was injured. Involved in the fire were the Kendall Hardware store, the Kopecky Grocery and Market, the D. A. Stany Insurance agency offices, housed above the hardware store, the Eagles club, above the market, the Edison Drug store and apartments on the second floor of the drug store building.

An explosion in the basement of the hardware store started the fire, Chief Cooper said.

The building housing the hardware store was built by the present owner's father in 1894, following a fire which wiped out the entire block.

DUBUQUE (AP)—Virden Halsey, 27-year-old precision grinder at the John Deere plant here, startled rent control officials when he announced that the six newly remodeled apartments in the old hotel building he bought recently would be rented only to families with children.

Halsey came to Dubuque nine months ago from Alto, Ill., but met a blank wall of refusal from landlords who he said, would not rent to him because of his two children, aged 6 and 7.

Fearful that Christmas would find him still separated from his family, Halsey bought the old Globe hotel building across the Mississippi river in East Dubuque, Ill., and remodeled it to make six apartments in addition to the one he is occupying.

The last family moved in Friday and with his own two children, who were brought from Alto yesterday, he estimates that there are "more than a dozen" small fry in the building. That doesn't include the ones over ten years of age whom Halsey considers "practically grown up."

CLINTON (AP)—Melvin Crowley, 38, a railroad company employe, suffered a stroke last night and died soon afterward in a hospital here. His mother, Mrs. Laura Crowley, 65, died of a heart attack while en route to the hospital to be with her son.

DES MOINES (AP)—A Citizen's handbook on government, entitled "You Are Democracy," will be introduced by the League of Women voters of Iowa at a luncheon here Friday.

Gov. Robert D. Blue will be principal speaker. Other speakers will be Mrs. E. L. DeGowin, Iowa City, state league president; Mrs. Glenn Gray, Burlington, state handbook promotion chairman; Mrs. James Schramm, Burlington, editor of the handbook; Jessie M. Parker, state superintendent of public instruction; Mrs. Lois Holter, Ames, member of the league's national board; and Mrs. John Rehnann, Des Moines, head of the luncheon committee.

Eighty thousand copies of the handbook will be distributed throughout the state.

TAMA (AP)—Tama County Attorney Walter J. Willett announced last night he plans to go to Washington to confer with Iowa congressmen on problems of law enforcement on the Sac and Fox Indian reservation here.

Concern over law enforcement on the reservation was heightened recently when an elderly man was severely beaten by two allegedly intoxicated Indian boys. County authorities could not punish the culprits because they lacked jurisdiction over the reservation.

The two youths could not be punished by federal authorities because there is no federal statute covering such an assault.

AMES (AP)—Iowa State college will celebrate the 90th anniversary of its founding with a day-long program next March 22, Dr. Charles E. Friley, president announced yesterday.

OSHKOSH, Wis. (AP)—Edwin Lornson, 31, Des Moines, yesterday was sentenced to one to two years in Waupun state prison on each of four counts brought against him by District Attorney John A. Moore.

Lornson pleaded guilty before acting Municipal Judge D. E. McDonald to two counts of non-support of his former wife and minor child; another charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and one of forgery of his former wife's name. The sentences will run concurrently.

Support the Campus Chest Drive

Look around you at the glowing faces on the campus. Yes, health is a wonderful thing.

Yet, about 1250 students now on the SUI campus are doomed to die of one disease—cancer. There is approximately one chance in eight that you yourself will be in this group. Not a pleasant thought, is it?

Cancer knows no laws—it strikes everywhere, at young and old. One American dies every three minutes from this dread sickness. It strikes one out of every two families on the average. World War II took many lives but cancer killed twice as many people as the war over the same period of time.

Cancer is not an enemy that can be sought out and killed with minimum effort. The only way it can be fought effectively is by continuous research. And research takes money.

An organization crusading against this greatest of all killers is the American Cancer society which has granted research funds to many universities, including Iowa, for study of methods to combat cancer.

This society is one of several worthy groups that will benefit from the Campus Chest drive which starts tomorrow and ends Saturday, Dec. 6, with a tea dance at Iowa Union.

Other organizations to benefit from the drive are the World Student Service fund, United Negro College fund, Nile Kinnick Scholarship fund, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, an emergency fund and the National Student association.

The goal of the 1947 Campus Chest campaign is $10,000. The committee is asking each student to donate a minimum of one dollar to reach this objective.

One dollar is little enough to ask for such a deserving cause. It is the only time during the year that students are asked to contribute. If separate collections were made for each of the organizations supported by the drive, a dollar wouldn't go very far.

Students are urged to give all they can afford—at least a dollar—when a Chest solicitor contacts them next week. A generous contribution will help fight cancer and support other deserving organizations.

Stassen—Willing to Stand Up and Be Counted

Whether or not Harold Stassen wins the Republican presidential nomination, the American people have been subjected to a new type of candidate.

While other presidential hopefuls are desperately evading current issues, Stassen boldly asserts his views. People in some quarters dislike this forthright attitude. They believe a man seeking the presidency should remain silent until coaxed into accepting the nomination and then blossom forth as the champion of the people. But Stassen wants the nomination badly enough to make an early all-out effort to obtain it.

We hope Stassen doesn't land in the head office at the White House, but we do admire the confidence and candor he has displayed on his campaign tours.

Stassen won the applause of some of the nation's tough-minded editors last week. He invited their roughest questions and gave them frank and honest answers even when expediency might have called for "soft-pedaling." Stassen feels that if he can't speak his mind, he doesn't want to be in politics.

Stassen's tactics may prove in the end to be bad politics. It's too early yet to tell. But his actions stand in marked contrast to those of some other Republican candidates—particularly Thomas E. Dewey.

We don't particularly like what Stassen says, but we admire his willingness to stand up and be counted. There's a growing inclination, we feel, throughout the country to be shifty and evasive.

It seems very few people want to stand up and be counted. They prefer the backdoor method of issuing statements through "spokesmen," of letting it be "known in official quarters," or "spreading the word" through trusted lieutenants.

Some of this hesitancy is probably due to the complexity of political questions. It's pretty hard sometimes for a man to make up his mind.

But the American people have been subjected to a new type candidate, one that wants to be president and is willing to make an honest, all-out effort to get the job. He's willing to stand up and be counted.

Cold Pekinese

Now Hot Dogs at Headquarters

Patrolmen James Dalton and William Holland yesterday morning delivered a bunch of Pekinese pups.

Mrs. Everett Holst, West Liberty, had the pups in the back of a pickup truck yesterday when it collided with a car driven by Frank J. Sullivan, Carbondale, Ill., on the corner of Dodge and College streets. Mrs. Holst feared the pups might freeze because she could not deliver them in her damaged truck.

Proving that a tender heart lay behind the police badge, the patrolmen took the pups into custody and placed them in the warmer atmosphere of the police station.

Nurses Alumnae Meet

The University Nurses' Alumnae will meet Wednesday at 7:45 p. m. in the Westlawn parlors. Annual election of officers will be held.

New Barge Developed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A landing barge that can "walk" across soft snow, mud, and bogs with 60 tons of men and equipment has been developed by the navy.

China Schools Are Desperate

(Mr. Yu is a graduate student in journalism here. He graduated from the University of Nanking, majoring in English. He worked for the OWI in China as chief translation editor and publications officer during the war—The Editor.)

By FREDERICK T. C. YU

With a bloody civil war in full swing, the political situation so tumultuous and mad inflation running riot, the present picture in Chinese universities is gloomy.

Most Chinese universities are handicapped by financial difficulties. This can be easily explained by the fact military expenditures take almost 80 percent of the entire national budget. Presidents, are desperately trying to keep universities running. They even find it difficult to repair the buildings damaged by the Japanese during the war.

Students are crowded in prison-like dormitories. Rooms which were scheduled for two persons before the war are now crammed with six or eight persons in double-decked beds. There is no heat in the rooms. And many dormitory windows are glassless.

Inflation Menaces

Skyrocketing inflation menaces Chinese students. Besides struggling for assignments, the students have also to worry about their daily living. Many students whose homes were either ruined by the Japs or recently destroyed by the Communists during the civil war have been studying and living on the scholarships or subsidies provided by the government. But the sum is meagre.

Many Chinese students are suffering from malnutrition. To the Chinese students, eating has become a way of life rather than an enjoyable habit as it was to them before the war.

The sons and daughters of wealthy businessmen and government "big shots" form, of course, an utterly different picture in the Chinese universities. As their purses are ample, they are extravagant. But the number of such students is small—and they will not be discussed here.

Political Conflicts

The scholastic atmosphere which once existed among universities in China is badly disturbed by the malicious plot of the Communists and by the long conflicts between the various political parties in the universities.

Communist agents are sent in disguise to various universities.

It has been the traditional strategy of the Communists to cause riot and terror in the society whenever they can. They seize every possible opportunity to start "absent-from-class" movements, demonstrations and the like.

Political conflicts also exist among the other political parties. This has angered most Chinese students. There's even discord between the smaller units of Kuomintang who are under the same banner of San Min Chu I.

For instance, the San Min Chu I corps, founded by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has seldom been satisfied with what Kuomintang persons are doing.

The majority of students in China, however, are more interested in books than in politics. It is the minority which disturbs the majority. This minority, belonging to various political parties, is sent to universities to "work" as agents rather than to study.

Bright Side

Nevertheless, there is a bright side to college education in China. This is represented by the professors who still work hard though on the brink of starvation. To make it more clear, it may be necessary to compare the income of a professor before and after the war.

In prewar days, a professor would receive a salary as high as $600 in Chinese money, and in many universities even houses and fuel were provided. In terms of U. S. money the sum was approximately $200.

But, now, a professor can get as much as two or three million dollars as his net salary. This sum sounds tremendous but, unfortunately, is very small. It is just about equal to $25 in U. S. money.

A ready-made suit which costs $45 in Iowa City costs about three million dollars now in China.

Sacred Profession

But it is encouraging that most professors still work hard and stick to their teaching job, which they regard as "sacred." They struggle to earn their living by teaching more hours in other institutions or by writing.

Many professors who work so hard to teach children of others have found it difficult or even impossible to send their own children to schools. This is especially true this year since most schools have raised tuition.

Admission Difficult

There is no tuition, of course, in the national university. But to get admission to a national university (almost to any university) is difficult. The National Central university presents a good example.

Last summer, about 30,000 students took the entrance examination but only 1,000 passed and were admitted. And the university was really doing its very best to receive the 1,000 students, as it has too many for its limited space and dormitories.

This situation can be explained. The number of middle schools has been increasing since the war against Japan began in 1937, while the number of universities remains the same. It is also true that education has spread during recent years although the average standard of students lowered.

It might be well to point out that there seems to be a difference in the aims of college education in China and the U. S.

Accent on Books

The American universities seem to stress the value of a college education as a means of getting a living. In China, the emphasis of university education is more on the "bookish" aspect.

In regard to the differences of students' spirit in the two countries, the American universities have placed more accent on youth. The "extra-curriculum" which is an important part of an American university is not so highly esteemed in Chinese universities. Students in the Oriental world do not have so many parties, fraternities, speeches and other activities.

Students here, rather than the professors, it seems, are the center of the university. The professors are taking more or less of an advisory and subordinate standing.

In China, the picture is completely opposite. Words from a professor are mostly taken as gospel truth by Chinese students.

I was greatly amazed on my second day at this university to read in The Daily Iowan the suggestion that students grade their professors. Such an idea would just be impossible in China where professors are pre-eminent.

Iowa Angus Reserve Champ

CHICAGO (AP)—"Bennie" a 925-pound Angus, shown by Verne H. Carlson, 19, of Camanche, Iowa, was acclaimed Reserve Grand champion of the Junior show at the International Livestock exposition today.

Iowa made a clean sweep of the fat cattle carlot contests, showing the grand champion load and finest of each breed.

Karl Hoffman, Ida Grove, Iowa, captured the grand championship with his load of 15 Herefords under the 1,050 pounds each, after first winning the championship of that breed.

Schmidt Brothers of Delmar, Iowa won the championship of the Angus breed, showing steers under 1,050 pounds and Hugh Morris of Ainsworth showed the championship load of Shorthorns. The latter were in the 1,050 to 1,150 pound class.

Art Collection To Be Shown

The Van Epps collection of 42 paintings valued at $10,000, which were recently given to the university by Dr. Clarence Van Epps of Iowa City, will go on exhibition at the Iowa Union Sunday, Dec. 7.

Van Epps will present the paintings to President Virgil M. Hancher in a formal program at 4:30 p.m. Dec. 7. Music will be played over the Union loud speaker system and coffee will be served.

Students and the public may vote for the painting they like the best from Dec. 7 to 14.

Van Epps has offered a $25 prize for the best critical essay about the collection. The essay must be typed and at least 2,000 words long. They should be turned into the office of Earl E. Harper, Union director, by Dec. 20.

Chemistry Addition Nears Completion

The chemistry building addition, last federal works administration project at the university, is expected to be completed this week.

The two story structure will house the unit operation laboratory for chemical engineering, and a physiology laboratory.

The chemical engineering department said they would begin moving equipment in immediately after the building is completed. They said they hope to have the laboratory in operation for the next semester.

University Theater Slates Mystery Play

"The Tidings Brought to Mary," a mystery play by Paul Claudel, will be presented at the University theatre Dec. 8 to 18th, the dramatic arts department announced yesterday.

Directed by Prof. E. C. Mabie, all the action in the play takes place in France at the end of the Middle Ages.

Cast members are as follows: Patricia Weir, Violaine; Henry G. Lee, Pierre de Craon; Anne Reed, Mara; Julia Elder, mother; Marshall Fiaum, Anne Vercors; Theodore Paul, Jacques Hury; Raymond Hill, Mayor of Chevoche; Hilliam Countryman, Apprentice.

Jane Buckley, Charlotte Croft, Mary Beth Jensen, Patricia Lanier, Laura Tallman, James Amo, Mervin Aptak, Jack Barber, Carol Houser, and Robert Morrison are workmen and villagers.

Information regarding ticket sales will be announced later.

Engle Leaving SU To Write Poetry

Prof. Paul Engle, of the English department, will leave the university next month for an indefinite period to begin writing a book of poems under a fellowship recently granted to him by the Newberry library of Chicago.

Engle, who teaches the writers and poetry workshop courses, will spend his leave of absence in the east and in Florida. He will base his volume of poems on American historical materials.

Among his books of poetry which have been published are "America, 1941," "American Child," "American Song," "New Englanders" and "Corn."

Andrew Lytle, instructor in the writers workshop course last year, will replace Engle.

Lytle wrote the novel, "A Name For Evil," published last September by the Bobbs-Merrill company, New York. He is also the author of "At The Moon's Inn" and "The Long Night."

The 'Mikado' Returns

City High Chorus and Orchestra To Present Lively Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta

The colorful Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "The Mikado" will be presented by City high school musicians next Thursday and Friday evenings at 8:15 in the school auditorium.

Banned in many eastern cities during the war because of its Japanese theme, the famous operetta tells an amusing story of the Mikado of Japan and his son, Nanki-Poo, who falls in love with Yum-Yum, a beautiful Japanese maiden.

For the first time in recent years the operetta will be given entirely by the school's music department. Formerly the Iowa City Music auxiliary assisted in music productions.

Tickets will go on sale at Spencer's Harmony Hall Tuesday.

Accompanied by a 40-piece orchestra under the direction of Lawrence A. Wintermeyer, the cast and 50-voice chorus will be directed by Thomas N. Wikstrom.

The cast is as follows: Jack Toenniges, the Mikado; Leonard DeFrance, Nanki-Poo, his son; Ralph Reeds, Ko-Ko, lord high executioner of Titipu; Dick Williams, Pooh-Bah, lord high everything else; Dick Buxton, Pish-Tush, a noble lord; Pat Kelly, Yum-Yum; Kitty Kelly, Pitti-Sing;
