ALTON, Ill. (P)—The city's new fleet of modern enclosed garbage trucks went into service and the collection was thorough-going.

Finding her refrigerator on the blink when she returned from a shopping trip with a new garbage can and $6.61 worth of groceries, Mrs. Charles Foster placed the groceries in the can and set them in the crisp outside air to keep fresh.

Along came a shiny new truck, but her dash to the back door was a little too late.

French Pass Anti-Strike Bill, 403-183

Only Communists Vote Against Act Giving Premier Broad Powers

PARIS (P)—The French national assembly approved Premier Robert Schuman's anti-sabotage and strike control bill early today after more than five days of bitter debate. The bill is designed to arm the government against a growing wave of industrial strife.

An official count showed the assembly approved the measure 403 to 183. Only the chamber's Communists voted against the bill.

The vote came as mass demonstrations and damage to industrial equipment grew to alarming proportions throughout the nation and leftist-inspired strikes appeared to be declining.

Under the terms of the law Schuman will have a new weapon against the rising incidence of sabotage. The law probably will be put into effect later today when it is published in an official government bulletin.

As finally approved, the new law raises the maximum prison sentence for sabotage from six months to 10 years and fixes fines as high as one million francs ($200,000). The use of fraud, threats or violence to start strikes, keep them going or spread them will be punishable by maximum five-year prison terms and fines up to 500,000 francs ($4,000).

One section of the law which was under heavy fire as a violation of freedom of the press was eliminated yesterday. It made equally punishable the "direct provocation" of sabotage or illegal strike tactics by "speeches, cries, threats, writings, printed matter, signs, posters or tracts."

Meanwhile, rescue workers dug throughout the day in the debris of the Paris-Lille express, derailed near Arras by what two cabinet ministers said was sabotage. Interior Minister Jules Moch announced that 20 persons had been killed in the wreck and 40 injured.

The derailment, announced in the assembly 15 minutes after it had passed the second article of the strike-control law, raised a furore in the legislative body.

It was the 11th such rail incident since the nation's strike wave began three weeks ago.

Rep. Eaton Claims Russians Are Out To Conquer World

WASHINGTON, (P)—Chairman Eaton (R-N. J.) of the house foreign affairs committee declared yesterday that Russia is out to conquer the world. His committee produced U. S. army figures to show that the Soviets have an army of 4,050,000 to help in the attempt.

Eaton appeared before the house rules committee to get clearance for the opening of debate today on a bill authorizing $590 million in emergency, stop-communism aid to France, Italy, Austria and China.

The rules body recommended that the bill be opened for amendments after 12 hours of debate, which will take place today and tomorrow.

"What could stop Russia from taking over all of Europe in 24 hours?" asked Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), a member of the rules committee.

"Not a thing," Eaton replied.

Some members cited the implied Soviet menace as a reason for raising the emergency relief fund to the $597 million already authorized by the senate for the three European countries only, leaving aid to China until later.

But the foreign affairs group stood by its own figure, saying in a report:

"We must not fall into the Soviet trap of bleeding ourselves white economically through expensive, extended and ineffective aid plans. We should plan our aid to other countries so as to remain strong at home, while strengthening free nations for all eventualities."

The committee said China, left out of the President's stop-gap aid program, "is rapidly approaching the time when aid would be too late."

30 Killed In Palestine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jews and Arabs clashed in a bloody machinegun battle between Tel Aviv and Jaffa in the Holy Land yesterday as Arab demonstrations against the United Nations' decision to partition Palestine extended across a wide sector of the Middle East from Egypt to Iraq.

Unofficial estimates for two days of fighting in the Holy Land ranged up to at least 30.

The fighting which centered on the narrow line dividing Jewish Tel Aviv from Arab Jaffa, simmered down late in the afternoon, but only after troops enforced a round-the-clock curfew.

Lecture Notes Are Back As Firms Merge

Student lecture notes are here again.

The notes are being published under the name SUI Notes, and represent the merged efforts of the students who put out Student Associates and Campus Notes last spring.

Robert Morris, Harlan Hall, Frank Kypreos and Robert Norris publish and edit SUI Notes. Their staff, made up of students, includes three notetakers and five persons who type and assemble the publications.

The two publishing outfits joined forces in order to decrease operation costs, stop duplication of effort and eliminate a split market, Morris explained.

Faculty members who have been asked about the lecture notes do not oppose the idea, said Morris, except those in the college of commerce. They didn't forbid publication of commerce lecture notes, he explained, but they will not endorse the enterprise.

The lecture notes are recommended as a study aid, Morris pointed out, not as a substitute for attending class. "They are made for those who have difficulty taking notes," he explained.

The courses covered by SUI Notes must have an enrollment of at least 400 students, said Morris, since it wouldn't be economically practical to put out notes for a course with a smaller enrollment.

To preserve the continuity of a professor's lectures and to expedite production, a copy of the notes contains an organized and detailed outline of a week's lectures, Morris explained.

Outlines of the semester's ninth week's lectures for introduction to psychology, introduction to social science (first semester) and western civilization (first semester) are now for sale.

Copies of the first week's notes will probably be ready by next week, Morris revealed.

Nab Convict Who Escaped in Plane

JACKSON, TENN. (P)—Sheriff Tom Lewis reported last night the capture of Charles Lee McIntosh, 24-year-old escapee of the U. S. medical center at Springfield, Mo., when the federal convict's stolen light plane crashed about 25 miles south of here.

McIntosh and four companions fled from the U. S. medical center at Springfield Monday night. Three of them terrorized a farm family Tuesday night and made off with guns, clothing, money and an automobile.

Officers at Springfield believed McIntosh took a plane and flew away from a Springfield airport in a drizzling rain yesterday morning.

At Wolf Island, Mo., Claude Thompson said a man resembling a description of McIntosh landed an Aeronca plane in his bean field yesterday and took off after receiving five gallons of gasoline.

Wolf Island is about 250 miles south of St. Louis.

NAM Head Calls CIO Demand a 'Balloon'

NEW YORK (P)—Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said yesterday he believes CIO President Philip Murray was "sending up a trial balloon" in announcing that his unions would ask "substantial" pay hikes when present contracts expire.

"If I were Murray, I'd send up a trial balloon and find out how the American people and CIO members feel about another wage increase," Bunting told a news conference at the NAM's 52nd annual congress of American industry.

Bunting was asked what his answer would be to Murray if he were "a $50-a-week steelworker," Bunting answered:

"I might say, well you got me a wage increase and you got me another and each time the cost of living went up and it hasn't done me any good. If there's any other way I'd like to see it."

Bunting's conference was held shortly after he had asked labor to forego demands for further general wage increases, in a speech that highlighted the opening session of the three-day congress.

The proposal mystified the diplomats and apparently foreshadowed some new move in Soviet tactics.

O'Neill-Sangster Suit Postponed by Court; Settlement Rumored

A $25,000 damage suit, Edward O'Neill vs. Earl Y. Sangster, resulting from Regina O'Neill's death here June 12, has been "postponed indefinitely," Judge Harold D. Evans said yesterday.

The case originally was scheduled to begin trial today in Johnson county district court.

One of the attorneys in the case said last night the postponement may be an attempt to settle the suit out of court.

Sangster, 1106 E. College street, is owner of the Yellow Cab company in Iowa City. He owned the cab involved in the collision which fatally injured Miss O'Neill.

Her father, who lives near Morse, brought the suit as administrator of his daughter's estate. Miss O'Neill's fiancé, Robert Ruess of West Liberty, was driving the car in which she was riding. Charles Jacobs was the driver of the cab.

Four other suits against Sangster are pending as a result of the collision.

Attorneys D. C. Nolan, William J. Jackson and Harold O. Keele represent the plaintiff and Ries, Dutcher and Osmundson are attorneys for Sangster.

Return Verdict In Utility Case

The Johnson county court jury yesterday returned a sealed verdict on a $4,000 damage claim for condemnation of land by the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company of Rock Island, Ill.

In the case, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Troyer, Ethel M. Troyer and Alva J. Troyer, all of Sharon, asked for the damages resulting from installation of the electric lines on their property.

The verdict, returned after 4½ hours deliberation, will be announced today by District Judge Harold D. Evans.

He said the trial of a similar damage suit against the power company may be started Monday at the courthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob J. Yoder, Kalona, seek $4,000 damages for condemnation of their land for installation of the electric lines in the second case.

William H. Bartley, Messer, Hamilton and Cahill represent the plaintiffs and Ries, Dutcher and Osmundson are attorneys for the power company.

Broadcast Says Some Stores Closing Doors

Rumors That Soviets Will Devalue Money, Up Prices Start Run

WASHINGTON (P)—The state department's official "Voice of America" radio broadcast overseas in 23 languages last night a report of "a wave of panic buying" in Moscow and other Russian cities. The program was not beamed at the Soviets.

"The buying runs were reportedly caused by widespread rumors of impending price increases and changes in Soviet currency," the broadcast said, adding:

"The raids for durable goods reached such proportions that some Moscow stores were said to have been forced to close their doors."

The official radio's dispatch was under a New York dateline and was ascribed to "reports reaching here from Moscow."

It was supplemented by more detailed reports from authoritative sources here which said there were runs on savings banks and that Moscow was swept by rumors the Soviet government was preparing to put out a new currency issue tomorrow which would devalue the ruble.

There was no immediate confirmation in dispatches of Moscow news correspondents, which are subject to transmission facilities under Soviet control. A secretary at the Soviet embassy here denied knowledge of such developments.

The supplementary reports, which come from persons in a position to know of Moscow developments of the last few days, nevertheless added such details as that a main Moscow department store had closed its doors, along with all its branches, and posted signs reading "store closed for repairs."

Other closed stores were said to have posted signs saying inventories were in progress. Buyers reportedly were eager to exchange rubles for dry goods, jewelry, rare books, furs—any durable goods.

The reports here said that because of pressure to withdraw funds from saving banks, withdrawals have been limited to 200 rubles a day. (At the official rate, a ruble is valued at 20 cents American money, but its purchasing value varies. The diplomatic rate is 12½ cents U.S. currency.)

Judge Sympathizes With Meek Pianist Who Strangled Wife

BALTIMORE, (P)—Larry Riemer, the meek little piano player who amazed everyone by marrying the tattooed lady and then did it again by killing her, got a year for it yesterday.

Judge Joseph Sherbow said it all goes to show what a woman can do to a man.

A jury convicted the 37-year-old husband of manslaughter last week. The evidence was that Agnes Riemer, 57, and covered from head to toes with exotic needlework, badgered him into taking her out on the town the night they had been married four months. Riemer spent most of the evening trying to keep her decently quiet. Finally he strangled her with his belt. He said he didn't remember it.

"This is the amazing case of an unassuming, passive individual, content to go along quietly, harming no one, and happy that he is left alone and not bothered."

"She urged him to marry her. She bought the license. She had the apartment."

"He put up with an incredible amount of obscenity abuse. For four months he was able to tolerate the situation. Then, suddenly, he strangled his wife to shut off her torrent of verbal abuse."

"The jury brought in the most lenient verdict possible—and recommended mercy. They must have taken into consideration the four months of tortured existence through which he lived."

Housing Areas Find They're 'Sticks In Mud'

SUI To Act To Improve Roads

Action to improve deteriorating roads in temporary housing areas was promised yesterday by R. J. Cotter, manager of married students housing.

Cotter said the housing office and physical plant department of the university "are doing everything possible to get immediate action on road maintenance."

The action came after complaints about the slowly deteriorating roads in the temporary housing areas were received at the housing office.

An inspection of Finkbine and Stadium park revealed many deep-rutted sections of road and mud seeping through the layer of cinders.

The worst road deterioration occurred in Finkbine where foot-deep water stood stagnant in ruts caused by the tires of heavy trucks and other vehicles which enter the area daily.

Mud and cinders cling to the shoes and legs of anyone walking through the area.

Cotter said several complaints had been received but added that the whole road network in the temporary housing areas would be acted upon.

Claims Durocher Signs With Bums

Daily Mirror Says 'Lippy' Back in 1948

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Daily Mirror said in a copyrighted story last night that Leo Durocher has signed a contract to manage the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1948.

The Mirror said Durocher flew from the west coast to Dodger President Branch Rickey's farm at Chesterdawn, Md., and there penned the contract yesterday.

Rickey made his decision to re-hire Durocher, who was under suspension during the 1947 season, after getting the green light from Commissioner A. B. Chandler at a conference in Cincinnati earlier this week, the Mirror said it had learned.

Durocher was suspended by Chandler for "conduct detrimental to baseball" at the start of the season. The suspension ended with the last game of the world series.

At the same time, the Mirror said it had learned from another source that Dixie Walker, hard-hitting Dodger outfielder, had been traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates and had already signed his Corsair contract for 1948.

At Chesterdawn, Mrs. Rickey said her husband had gone to New York, but neither his home nor office telephones were an-sured. Virtually the entire Dodger front office staff is in Miami attending the minor league meetings.

The Mirror said that both Rickey and Durocher left Maryland immediately after the contract signing to come to New York where the Dodger boss was to prepare a formal announcement. Rickey said here last week that he expected to be able to announce his managerial selection by Dec. 10.

Notre Dame Heads West for Tilt With Trojans Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—Notre Dame's undefeated, untied football warriors rolled out of rain and snow swept Chicago last night for Los Angeles to engage Southern California Saturday in what Coach Frank Leahy expects to be Notre Dame's toughest game of the 1947 campaign.

The contest, bringing together two of the few undefeated major college teams, will be played in the Los Angeles coliseum before a crowd of more than 102,000. On the basis of their showing, the Irish, currently the nation's No. 1 college team, can win or lose their second consecutive national gridiron mythical championship. Also it could be Notre Dame's first undefeated, untied season since 1930, the famed Knute Rockne's last year of coaching. He was killed in March, 1931, in an airplane crash.

Coach Leahy shepherded a squad of 39 players, including the injured Terry Brennan, spearhead of Notre Dame's ground attack. Brennan, who suffered a knee injury in the 59-6 victory over Tulane, may see only limited action, if he gets into the game at all.

Jersey Joe's Last Request—New Referee

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The curtain of silence which has separated Jersey Joe Walcott from the outside world for the past week parted slightly yesterday to permit the challenger's manager to say that both he and Jersey Joe would like to see some referee other than Arthur Donovan in the ring Friday night when they tackle Joe Louis at the Garden. "I am not questioning Donovan's ability, you understand," said Joe Webster, the Camden cafe proprietor who handles Walcott. "Neither am I questioning his honesty. But he has handled most of the champions fights and I think the fans, as well as myself and Walcott, would welcome a change."

A glance at the records shows that Donovan has, indeed, presided as the third man on 12 of the 23 occasions Louis has defended his title since he knocked out Jim Braddock in 1937. He worked the champion's most recent fight, when he knocked out Tami Mauriello in the first round 14 months ago. Many qualified observers regard Donovan as the best in the business.

"I have no man in mind to suggest to the athletic commission," Webster continued. "Any one besides Donovan will delight me. I think this is a sportsmanlike request and I hope the board will act favorably on it."

Walcott, himself, didn't say anything. Having finished his regular training Tuesday in silence, the challenger—father of six—put on the finishing touches at Grenoch, N. J., yesterday in a gymnasium session so private that even his sparring partners were made to stay in the yard.

Louis once was asked facetiously if it were true that he carried a "house referee" with him (meaning Donovan), and the champion replied with a dead pan that it sure was. "Want to see it?" He asked, and held up his huge right fist for inspection.

The champ completed his boxing chores at Pompton Lakes, N. J., yesterday, and plans no more than road work and setting-up exercises today. He expects to scale about 212 to Walcott's 194. There was talk yesterday that the odds against Walcott might mount to better than 10-to-1 before the bout.

Ramblers Dump Clinton, 40-35

Locals Battle Back To Win 5th of Year

By JOHN C. MCINTOSH

A fighting St. Mary's team that just wouldn't be beaten came from behind last night to annex their fifth victory of the season, winning over St. Mary's of Clinton, 40-35.

It was strictly a team victory for the Ramblers. Playing without the services of their ace guard, Paul Flannery, the Ramblers broke a sleeper in to take his place. Dale Seydel stepped into the shoes of Flannery, and although giving him seven inches in height, more than made up for it in fight and speed. He notched 11 points to take scoring honors for the Ramblers and played a stellar game on defense.

Long, who has been a standout guard all season, played a brilliant game. He was out reached from the start, but fighting and driving every inch of the way, he dominated the defensive court.

The rest of the scoring was evenly divided for the Ramblers between five other men who saw action. Milder, who entered the game in the third period, netted seven points during his short stay in the game. Suplee, dependable forward, dropped in eight.

St. Mary's of Clinton lacked aggressiveness and spirit in the final analysis these proved to be the margin of victory.

The box score:

ST. MARY'S (IOWA CITY)	ST. MARY'S (CLINTON)
Suplee, f. 12	Milder, f. 12

Jaycees Set Gloves Program

The Jaycees put their golden gloves program into high gear at Tuesday night's meeting when they named chairmen for the various committees.

Luther Burket, chairman for the local golden gloves, indicated all boxers interested in the program should contact him or Trainer Paul McNally, C4 of Cascade. Training for the bouts will start the latter part of December, Burket said.

Committees and chairmen as named are:
Finance, Stephen G. Darling; Ticket, Doug Williamson; Floor arrangement, Wayne Putnam, Jr.; Usher, Roy Holdt and William Grandtrah; Boxers maintenance, Harry Dunlap; Publicity, Paul De Camp; Locker room, Russell Mann Ring, Edgar Vassar; Equipment and prize, Emil Traott and Edgar Frame; Lighting, Don Powell; Check room, Cliff Hoag; Master of ceremonies, Jack C. White, and Referee, "Tom" Hart.

The event is open to all amateur boxers. Burket felt many university men who gained experience elsewhere might be interested in participating. He extended a special invitation to these men to enter competition.

Indians Sell Fleming, Buy Elbie Fletcher

MIAMI, FLA., (AP)—Cleveland picked up veteran first Baseman Elbie Fletcher from Pittsburgh and shunted first sacker Les Fleming to the Pirates' Indianapolis farm yesterday as trading action showed the official opening of the Minor league convention into the background.

The Pirates, who were able to waive the talented but 30-year-old infielder out of the National league, recently acquired Ed Stevens, a first sacker, in a deal that also brought Stan Rojek from Brooklyn to Forbes field.

Pittsburgh earlier strengthened its infield by buying Romanus (Monte) Bagall from Brooklyn's Montreal farm for a reported $35,000 and second Baseman Jimmy Woodworth and third Baseman Vic Barnhart.

Taking Time Out

With Buck Turnbull

Somebody had to stick his neck out sooner or later. So Clair Bee, basketball coach of Long Island university, decided that we've had enough football until New Year's Day—he's already predicted how the college basketball teams are going to finish next March.

In a recent magazine article, Bee announced his first 20 selections, including Wisconsin, defending Big Nine champs, fourth, and Illinois two runs behind in sixth place. These were the only two positions the Big Nine could garner.

But Mr. Bee must have skimmed over the Western conference in short order when he listed his top ball clubs—or else his mid-western scouts got the wrong propaganda.

Anyway, we've heard an awful lot of rumors about the red hot ball club being groomed up in Minnesota. Even the Gopher coach thinks they've got the conference championship cinched—that is, except for 12 basketball games.

We'd be in favor of dropping the Badgers out of fourth place and replacing them with Minnesota. As for Illinois and their sixth place spot—a coin flip between the Illini, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin is about the easiest way to settle it.

As might be expected, Kentucky's powerhouse of powerhouses is given the nod for first place. No argument here. The Wildcats again will have five all-Americans sitting on the bench while five boys, who are just a little bit better, are murdering their rivals. The Wildcats of Kentucky have two of last year's all-Americans, Center Alex Groza and Guard Ralph Beard, back in the fold.

Notre Dame, who didn't rate in Bee's book last year, have now jumped into the nation's No. 2 spot. Maybe they're not a football school after all. The Irish boast two of the country's best cagers in Leo Barnhorst, already being mentioned for all-American, and last year's freshman ace, Kevin O'Shea.

Holy Cross, not given a tumble in last year's predictions, are now

No. 3 in the nation after copping the NCAA tourney last winter. Utah's Invitation tournament champs are still in the first ten, having jumped from ninth to fifth.

Bee's reasons for giving Kentucky the No. 1 rank are: (1) their high caliber of play last season, and (2) most of their same team is back for another hardcourt campaign.

After relating that Notre Dame and Holy Cross are both loaded with talent, Bee goes on to say that Illinois may squeeze in with the Big Nine title—reason, the pressure's on Wisconsin. But still no mention of Minnesota, Michigan or Indiana.

The top twenty:
1. Kentucky 11. Duquesne
2. Notre Dame 12. West Virginia
3. Holy Cross 13. North Carolina
4. Wisconsin 14. State
5. Utah 15. Arkansas
6. Illinois 16. Tulane
7. Washington 17. Oklahoma
8. City College of New York 18. Oklahoma A&M
9. Oregon 19. Kansas
10. Wyoming 20. Texas

Glen Kremer, a major letter winner on the Iowa basketball team in 1943-44, plans to have an operation performed on his injured shoulder some time this winter and has high hopes of donning an Iowa uniform next season.

Kremer, from Dubuque, played in a dozen Hawkeye games before entering the service in 1944. He returned last season to play in a few ball games before a bad shoulder sidelined him.

We see where Mickey Marty, ace basketball star of Loras College is still in his same old form. Loras opened their season with a resounding 60-44 win over Platteville (Wis.) Teachers Tuesday night with Marty pouring in 18 points.

Don't Force High Standards For Retarded, Educators Say

By FRANCES NESHEIM

Both the mentally retarded and the handicapped child are placed in school situations where they face failure instead of the success they need for improvement, educators were told here yesterday at sessions of the conference on educational administration and supervision.

Speakers were Prof. Samuel A. Kirk of the University of Illinois on "The Lower Ten Percent," and University of Iowa Profs. Wendell Johnson and James Curtis on the speech handicapped child. Kirk said school standards are set for average children, and mentally retarded children cannot possibly meet them.

The only way the mentally retarded child can learn, Kirk asserted, is by concrete and practical education, because he cannot grasp the abstract.

He said that most schools do not place a child in a special class until he has failed a grade at least twice. By then his successful adjustment is difficult.

He maintained that a child can feel successful if he is placed in a smaller class with individual attention and a reduced curriculum. Then he is not judged by standards he is unable to reach.

Kirk gave three classifications of the mentally retarded: the feeble-minded, who are uneducable and can be excluded from public schools; the educable mentally handicapped whose learning ability is limited, and the slow learners.

Special education should be given the educable mentally handicapped, he said, but slow learners do not need it unless they are not well-adjusted.

Kirk admitted that special education programs are difficult to establish in a predominantly rural state such as Iowa because the students needing the program are so scattered.

The need for success was also brought out by Professor Johnson in his talk "Who Is Handicapped by Whom?" Speaking particularly of the speech handicapped child, he said we should avoid ideals and standards that are too high for the child to reach.

"The stutterer has to have conditions that encourage him to talk the best that he can," he said.

The worst kind of parent or teacher for a stuttering child is one who wishes him not to stutter. He should not be made to conform to standards if he is not able to, he said.

Two things can be done for the speech-handicapped, Johnson believes.

1. Encourage him to do the best he can in those things he's handicapped in.

2. Have him evaluate himself and set up a goal not of conformity but of individuality.

Final sessions of the two-day conference, attended by nearly 300 educators, were held yesterday afternoon. Speakers were Prof. J. A. Van Zwoil of the University of Iowa and Willis A. Whitehead, Ohio state university. They discussed school district reorganization and the planning of a school plant.

Cedar Rapids Firm Begins Interviews With Job-Seeking Engineering Students

Job interviews for senior engineering students began yesterday when Mr. O. H. Tousey of Penick and Ford, Ltd., Cedar Rapids, conferred with student engineers interested in sales work. The interviews are the first of a series being conducted between the students and company representatives.

The interviews will continue through May 20, Norm Engert of the engineering library said yesterday.

Senior and graduate students can make interview appointments with Miss Engert in the library, 106 engineering building.

Today representatives of the General Electric company, K. A. Hills and C. E. Schonover, will interview senior chemical and mechanical engineers.

Tomorrow C. L. Claxton of Swift and company will confer with senior civil and electrical engineers. A representative of the Bureau of Naval Personnel will also interview students tomorrow.

Next week, representatives of Western Electric of Chicago and Northwestern Bell Telephone of Des Moines are among those who will meet with students, according to Miss Engert.

William Bauer To Head Omicron Delta Kappa

William Bauer, G, Iowa City, was elected president of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary fraternity for upperclassmen, at a luncheon meeting Tuesday noon in the Iowa Union private dining room.

Other officers elected were Michael Enich, L3, Boone, vice-president; M. L. Huit, G, Iowa City, secretary; and Leo Ziffner, L1, Davenport, treasurer.

Girl Scouts Prepare Xmas Tree Display

A Christmas tree exhibit will be on display at the Girl Scout office, 119 1/2 E. College street, from Dec. 10 until Christmas, according to Mrs. Hugh Carson, local executive secretary.

The exhibit will be open to the public from 2 to 4 p.m. Dec. 15 through Dec. 19.

One large Christmas tree, decorated in the American custom, will form the center of the display. Streamers will run from this large tree to seven smaller Christmas trees, decorated in the custom of seven European countries. The exhibit will show which Christmas tree decorations came to the United States from these seven European countries.

Local intermediate Girl Scout troops are in charge of the project. Each troop is studying the Christmas customs of one of these seven European countries in preparation for making the decorations, according to Mrs. Carson.

Campaign Extended For Children's Aid

The Iowa Children's Home society will continue its financial campaign, Mrs. William Holland, chairman of the drive in Iowa City, announced yesterday.

Approximately $600 has been collected in the drive, which began Nov. 21 and was scheduled to end Dec. 1. Iowa City's goal of $850 is part of the $1800 quota for Johnson county. Opening date for the Johnson county drive will be announced later.

Mrs. Holland said that no further attempts would be made to contact Iowa City residents for contributions. Anyone interested in contributing is asked to send donations to the Iowa Children's Home society, 222 Savings & Loan building, Iowa City.

The society is the official state organization for placing adopted children in permanent homes and working with delinquent children.

Lectures on France To Be Presented at Woman's Club Program

Mrs. Paule-Helene Aspel, graduate assistant in the Romance languages department, will be guest speaker at the joint meeting of the Iowa City Woman's club drama and music departments today at 2:30 p.m. in the Community building clubrooms.

Mrs. Aspel, wife of Prof. Alexander Aspel, will talk on Christmas in France.

A mixed chorus from University high school under the direction of Delores Sanders will present Christmas music, and Mrs. R. G. Busby will discuss the music of France.

Tea will be served by hostesses Mrs. John Reilly, Mrs. Walter Murray, Mrs. Dwight Edwards, and Catherine Mullin.

Earl Miner, L2, Mt. Pleasant, was the installing officer.

Damages Total $155 In Two Car Accident

An accident involving cars driven by Carl Swalls, 1854 Friendship street, and Edgar N. Eggers, West Branch, occurred Monday morning at the Dodge and Market street intersection, according to accident reports filed yesterday by both drivers.

The reports listed damage to the Eggers' car at $80, and to the Swalls' automobile at $75. No one was reported injured.

Ask Memphis Students To Southwestern Forum

Students whose homes are in Memphis, Tenn., are invited to attend an intercollegiate forum sponsored by the student council of Southwestern at Memphis during the Christmas holidays, according to a letter received from Robert Amis, president of the Southwestern student body. College activities, curriculum and religion will be discussed.

Those interested should write to Miss Wendell Phillips, Southwestern at Memphis, Memphis, Tenn.

Will Discuss A-Energy At Chemists' Meeting

Atomic energy and radiation chemistry will be discussed by Dr. Milton Burton of the University of Notre Dame at the Iowa section meeting of the American Chemical Society, Tuesday, December 9.

A dinner in the private dining rooms of Iowa Union will be served at 6:15 p.m. for all members. The meeting and discussion will take place in room 321 of the Chemistry building at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Stanley Wawzonek, 1948 chairman of the Iowa section will preside.

Builders Bid For Carrier Construction

Proposed permanent additions to Currier hall dormitory will cost at least $453,805, it was indicated yesterday by bids received by the board of education's building and business committee in Old Capitol.

The committee received five bids for completion of the north wing and expansion of the dining hall to accommodate 150 additional women.

The north wing addition would increase Currier's housing capacity to 780.

This figure is $114,939 more than the cost of the addition constructed in 1938 to house 214 women.

The Kucharo construction company, Des Moines, and Viggo M. Jensen and company, Albert Lea, Minn., submitted general contract bids yesterday for $406,680 and $379,990 respectively.

A $49,950 bid was received from Carstens Brothers company, Ackley, Ia., for plumbing, heating and ventilating work.

Robbins company, Moline, Ill., and Olds company, Davenport, submitted bids for $33,432 and $23,865 for electrical work.

During the war, for economy reasons, the Germans developed uses of relatively low purity oxygen for accelerating steel production and for synthesis of gasoline from brown coal.

600 To Graduate In SU's Largest Midyear Ceremony

The University of Iowa will celebrate the largest midyear commencement in its history Saturday, Jan. 31, when approximately 600 students will be awarded degrees.

Although the midyear graduation is usually held in the Iowa Union, the increased number of candidates for degrees may require the use of the fieldhouse for the ceremonies.

Degrees were awarded to 440 students in the midyear exercises in 1947.

University registrar Ted McCarell stated that it is impossible to determine the exact number of candidates as yet because applications for degrees are still being received and deletions may be made.

The approximate number of degrees to be awarded in each classification are: bachelor of arts, 238; bachelor of science in commerce, 92; bachelor of fine arts, 5; bachelor of science in physical education, 3.

Bachelor of science in chemistry, 1; bachelor of music, 5; bachelor of science in nursing, 1; bachelor of science in engineering, 36; juris doctor, 40; master of fine arts, 4; master of arts, 75, and doctor of philosophy, 28.

Plan Clothing Drive For Europe, China

An all-campus clothing drive for needy Europeans and Chinese will be staged Dec. 14 to 20 by the World Service commission of Student Christian council and Women's Recreation Association.

The clothing will be shipped directly overseas to individuals, commission president Jack Thomson, A2, of Cresco, said yesterday.

Letters about the clothing drive have been sent to persons in Czechoslovakia, France, Yugoslavia, Poland, Germany, and China, who attended the Oslo Youth Conference in Norway last summer.

University housing units will be contacted about the placement of containers for the clothing.

Name Soucek To Head Cherokee State Mental

Dr. Adolph Soucek, graduate of the University of Iowa, has been appointed as acting superintendent of the Cherokee State Mental hospital, according to an announcement by P. F. Hopkins, chairman of the board of control.

The appointment of Doctor Soucek, former assistant superintendent at Cherokee, followed the resignation of Superintendent Charles F. Obermann.

Doctor Soucek was born and schooled in Iowa City. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Soucek, reside at 727 N. Lucas.

VA Warns of Restrictions On GIs Who Drop Schooling

Student-veterans who drop out of schools and colleges before completing their course are cautioned by the Veterans Administration that they will have to comply with more strict requirements to get a VA certificate to re-enter training under the G.I. bill.

The VA explained that veterans must have a supplemental certificate of eligibility when they change from one school or training establishment to another.

A veteran who interrupts his training of his own volition at a time other than at the end of a term, semester or training period, will not be issued such a certificate until he establishes satisfactory evidence that:

(a) His interruption resulted from good cause, such as illness, economic conditions, or other circumstances beyond his control.

(b) The institution or establishment in which he was training is willing to reaccept him as a student or trainee.

Johnson Will Speak On A-Bomb Controls

The question of political control of the atomic bomb will be raised this evening in Macbride auditorium when Prof. Jack Johnson of the political science department addresses members of the atomic energy forum.

Johnson will replace Prof. C. Addison Hickman of the college of commerce as tonight's speaker. Hickman has been called out of town to attend the funeral of his father.

The national implications of atomic energy, according to Johnson, boil down to the decisions of the governments involved and the affect this power will have on their national policy.

Johnson will be introduced tonight by Dr. Arthur Roberts, professor of physics. The meeting at 8 p. m. is open to the general public and a discussion period

Landlords File Less Increases in Rent Leases Last Month

Iowa City landlords filed 42 percent fewer rent-increase leases with the local rent office in November than in the previous month, T. J. Wilkinson, area rent director, announced yesterday.

Last month, 44 leases incorporating a 15 percent rent increase were received, of which 3 were rejected, compared to 76 filed in October.

Deadline for filing leases, which both landlord and tenant must sign, is Dec. 31, and they must extend until at least Dec. 31, 1948.

Since the present rent law went into effect July 1, 451 leases have been received, Wilkinson said.

Petitions for rent increase, which must show cause, dropped a third, with 24 received in November and 38 in October. Three of last month's petitions were denied.

Those accepted were granted on 26 reasons, with almost half allowed because of increased services.

Four were hardship cases, one due to increased occupancy, and five were granted because of major capital improvements and peculiar circumstances.

Petitions may be filed until the present law expires on Feb. 29, 1948.

Plan Law Group Dance

A semi-formal dance for law commons residents will be held tomorrow evening from 9 to 12 o'clock in the law commons lounge, Maurice Stark, social chairman, announced yesterday.

Bill Meardon and his band will provide the music.

Hungarian Pianist On Concert Program

Georgy Sandor, Hungarian-born pianist, will appear in Iowa City next Wednesday in the second of the 1947-48 concert course series, Prof. Charles B. Righter announced yesterday.

The concert will be at 8 p. m. in the Iowa Memorial Union. Students may secure tickets next Monday by presenting identification cards at the Union desk. Tickets will be available to the general public beginning Tuesday for $1.20 including tax.

Sandor has made concert tours of both the United States and South America since his arrival in this country in 1939. His appearances as soloist and with the symphony orchestras were interrupted in 1942 when he joined the army, serving in the signal corps, intelligence and special services. Following his discharge he presented recitals in Carnegie hall and again toured North and South America.

He studied piano under the Hungarian composer Bela Bartok and gave world premiere performances of Bartok's third and last piano concerto after the composer's death.

Hold Joint Luncheon

Delta Sigma Pi and Phi Gamma Nu, professional commerce fraternities for men and women, will hold a luncheon today at 12:30 p. m. in Iowa Union.

Guy Ames, C4, Iowa City, will act as toastmaster at the joint luncheon. Jerry Coughlon, C4, Port Dodge, is in charge of arrangements.

Midwest Physiologists Draw 10 Universities, Mayo Clinic to Meeting

SUI Newspaper Survey Shows Editors How To Improve Reader Appeal

A report on a readability survey of 20 representative Iowa newspapers by Arthur Wimer of the school of journalism and John Carey, G, will appear in the January issue of the Iowa Publisher. The survey was conducted by the school of journalism bureau of newspaper service of which Wimer is the head and Carey is an assistant.

Its results will indicate how this group of daily weekly newspapers can improve reader appeal.

Wimer said yesterday the bureau is now prepared to handle similar surveys for any Iowa newspapers requesting the service.

Whitesel Sees Inertia As Greatest Threat To Marshall Plan

The greatest threat to the success of the Marshall plan is not Russia, but "inertia," Prof. Russell G. Whitesel of the political science department and Leo Sweeney, associate in economics and commerce, told United World Federalists last night.

They agreed that "we will make or break the long-range program ourselves" depending on whether we give Europe the aid required for recovery.

If the Marshall plan is carried out as a long-range program, Europe and Russia will be glad to trade with western Europe, declared Sweeney.

Whitesel labeled the plan "double-barreled." It is not aimed solely at the economic recovery of Europe, he said, but also directed against the spread of Communism.

Which barrel is considered most important will be revealed when the administrator of the plan is announced, he added. "If the state department is in charge of administering the plan, political implications will be most important. If another agency administers it, the stress will be on the economic aspect rather than the political."

Whitesel recommended that no political strings be tied to aid given Europe. Socialist governments are freely selected and we should be concerned with the substance of democracy in Europe and not the form, he said.

Hormel Employment Manager To Speak At Information First

"Labor and Management Get Together" will be the topic of the third University Women's association Information First lecture, Thursday, Dec. 11, Sue Gronna, chairman announced yesterday. Fayette Sherman, employment manager of the Hormel company, Austin, Minn., will be the speaker.

Elaine Lenney, UWA president, announced that 15 applications had been received for University Sing chairman.

Committee members elected by the council to consider the applications are Jean Gavrinsky, A4, Centerville; Priscilla Garrett, A3, Des Moines; Marion Rees, A1, Carroll, and Janet Gutz, A4, Hampton.

Miss Lenney told the council that applications were available in the Office of Student Affairs for editor, art editor and freshman staff member of "Code for Coeds."

The editor will be chosen on the basis of writing ability and the originality and uniqueness of the theme she presents for the Code, she said.

Applicants for art editor will be required to submit samples of their drawing. The freshman member of the staff will assist the editor in writing and each is requested to enclose a specimen of her writing with the application blank, Miss Lenney explained.

U. S. Olympic Team Threatens to Withdraw

CHICAGO, (AP)—The United States Olympic committee yesterday threatened to withdraw all of this nation's teams from the 1948 winter games if the Swiss organizing committee adheres to its preference for the ice hockey entry of the "professional and commercial" amateur hockey association, but that drastic step seemed unlikely in immediate reactions to the ultimatum.

Exhibit 24 Prints by Nahum Tschacbasov

Twenty-four prints by Nahum Tschacbasov are on exhibit in the main gallery of the art building. The show will continue until Dec. 12, the art department announced yesterday.

One of Tschacbasov's prints was included in the selection of the eight best prints of the year by the Art News Annual. Twelve of the prints in this show are done in black and white. The others are in color. Tschacbasov created the work exhibited in less than five months.

He has used animals, human figures and abstract forms for subject matter in the etchings.

Tschacbasov has said that he believes the prints have influenced his painting, and that his painting has had an effect on the prints in the field of tonal color.

Prof. Mauricio Lasansky of the art department will demonstrate the process of making a print for university students sometime during the exhibition. The date of the Lasansky talk has not been decided yet.

November Attendance For City Recreation Center Totals 4,608

Attendance at the Iowa City Recreation Center totalled 4,608 for the month of November, according to a report issued yesterday by J. Edgar Frame, director of the center.

Total attendance for the year to date is 9,653, as compared with 12,179 for the same period last year. The activity report showed 7,874 took part in activities.

How Now, Old Friends?

The paradox of inaction in the face of aggressive counter-action popped up in three rather surprising places yesterday. While the locations were far removed, they're all vitally bound up together. Italian Communists have moved their strategy of terror involving strikes, demonstrations and political violence from northern to southern Italy.

French Communists still have some 2 million workers out on strike. They reluctantly retired from their sitdown strike in the national assembly only after Communist Deputy Raoul Calas was forcibly ejected from the chambers.

The concluding scene in this three-act play took place in Washington. In the face of open, violent opposition to orderly government in France and Italy, a group of Republican congressmen called for whittling down the $590-million emergency European aid program.

This seems almost inconceivable. It's not true, the newspaper reader can say. He can logically convince himself it isn't true. These are the boys who are the loudest (and sometimes the most glaringly ignorant) shouters against communism. They are the ones who have done the most to whip up the anti-communism hysteria in this country. But logic won't work.

When they see the whites of the big bear's eyes, suddenly their shouting becomes mere pool hall conversation.

One begins to suspect they aren't so sincere about opposing communism, after all. Because that's one of the primary aims of the European aid measure—but it proposes to do it by building sound economies and insulating people's stomachs against the inroads of chaos bred from hunger. We think this is a more intelligent approach than dropping atomic bombs.

Let it be thought that opposition to the stopgap aid program centers exclusively in the Republican party, it's well to note that half of the six votes cast against its passage in the senate came from Democrats. The 53 favorable votes there meant a top heavy majority—but the vote was merely for authorizing the program. A more bitter battle is expected when the money actually is appropriated.

The opposition would make a better case for themselves if it did not appear—on the basis of their quibbling about the exact amount of aid—that they are interested in fighting communism only when it means smearing any who happen to disagree with them.

It's interesting to note that the minority Republicans and Democrats—shades of Joe—are joined in their opposition to the temporary European aid plan by The Daily Worker. Another loyal supporter thrown in for good measure is The Chicago Tribune. What a twosome!

We wonder what the anti-Communists in Italy and France think about these congressmen. We doubt that in the midst of their battles against spreading chaos they have been encouraged to fight on.

Campus Chest Helps Negro Colleges

"Of course I'm interested in improving racial relations," says many an S.U. student. "But what can I do as an individual to achieve this end?"

The $64 dollar answer to that question is—support the United Negro College fund by contributing to the Campus Chest drive now in progress.

The United Negro College fund provides a new and basic approach to the cure of malignant American illness—racial inequality. Providing education for Negroes gives them a chance to assume responsible positions in society as doctors, lawyers, teachers, etc.

Most Negroes are in the lower income brackets and cannot afford to attend the large eastern and northern colleges. Private Negro colleges with lower tuitions are therefore a necessity if the Negro's educational lot is to be improved.

These colleges, however, have found it increasingly difficult to finance their educational programs. The situation reached a crisis in 1944 and the United Negro College fund was organized in the hope of solving the problem.

Drives for funds proved successful and, in 1946, $930,000 was collected for the benefit of 33 Negro colleges. The 1947 drive is expected to raise about $1,100,000. Each college participating in the fund is an accredited institution and offers a complete four year course.

These colleges are worthy of support. They supply a leavening influence in our multi-racial population. They provide a practical means by which students can help their less-privileged counterparts and at the same time contribute to the solution of a knotty problem confronting American democracy.

Russia Won't Pull Out of U. N.

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Some students of United Nations procedure believe they have found a way by which Russia can stick to her boycott of the new "little assembly" and still participate in any decisions.

Since the interim committee actually amounts to a committee of the whole, it can, by a few flips of the wrist, become a special session of the general assembly.

When the little assembly, made up of the same people who constitute the general assembly minus the Russian bloc—has threshed over a situation and decided on a recommendation, any country can ask Trygve Lie to call a special session. He would pull the governments of the member nations and, if they agreed, the little assembly would become the big assembly, and the Russians could walk right back in without loss of face.

The idea is to preserve the utmost general participation in U. N. activities and not to regularize the situation in which the western and eastern blocs work against each other.

It is clear now that, while the Russians are boycotting the little assembly, the Korean and the Balkan commissions, and while they do not participate in the work of the trusteeship council or of six other specialized U. N. agencies, they definitely have no intention of pulling out of U. N.

The little assembly is going to be an unequalled forum for propaganda. The U. S. idea in setting it up was to keep a constant light on various world issues and to focus the force of its opinions on the veto-hampered security council. But the U. S. also is still trying to keep the door open at all times for any change in Russian policy.

The Russians would find it extremely hard to answer, from outside the assembly chamber, the pressure which will be brought there for an end to the obstructive tactics which are holding back world rehabilitation.

The little assembly will not be an importantly decisive group. It is on a kind of "one year probation" to determine its usefulness. It is principally an investigative body.

The U. S. delegation at Lake Success is reported still hopeful that the Russian bloc will reverse its decision to boycott the group. Maybe "wishful" would be a better word than "hopeful." Sir Hartley Shawcross of Britain and other delegates are less sanguine. As Shawcross put it, "It is just as well that we realize that there are two worlds, and go ahead and work accordingly."

But the idea for as much Russian participation in U. N. activities as possible is still likely to prevail. Some of the smaller nations, worried by the expense of keeping delegations constantly at Lake Success, may not be too active in the little assembly, and may object to too frequent general assembly sessions, but this is not expected to prove an important barrier.

Both Tricky Splits

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT Civil Liberties Issues and You

By SAMUEL GRAFTON
New York Post Syndicate

I pity those who consider they are not called upon to defend the civil liberties of the dismissed Hollywood writers, and who feel that they will wait for a happier occasion and an easier issue on which to make their civil liberties fights.

There are no happy occasions in the defense of civil liberties. Civil liberties cases always revolve around relatively unpopular figures, taking unpopular positions, usually against the majority view. Where these elements are missing there is, usually, no civil liberties case.

Very few people ever get into trouble on civil liberties by endorsing the majority view, and the number of beloved national figures, popular and appealing, who have their civil liberties taken away is extremely small.

Those who say, then, that we need not concern ourselves about this case because the issue is the allegation of communism, or even the refusal of the Hollywood figures concerned to declare themselves on communism, are talking nonsense. Who do you think that those who make free with civil liberties are going to pick for their tests, Santa Claus?

Those who intend to reserve their defenses of civil liberties until such time as, say, someone threatens the civil rights of Senator Taft, or Bernard Baruch, have chosen remarkably easy careers for themselves, including the one of waiting until it is too late.

There is often a kind of borderline element in civil liberties cases. That is what makes them civil liberties cases. It is precisely on the borderline of belief and behavior that civil liberties are easiest to attack and hardest to defend, which is why the pitched battles take place there.

But the center is safe only when the borderline is safe. And it is a shrinking borderline; it has a dreadful, elastic quality; with every defeat for civil rights; it snaps in closer, and he who dodges a fight on the borderline will find only that he has made an engagement for another, closer to home.

Is this rhetoric? Let us see. Six weeks ago the average American student of government would have said, without hesitation, that any American had a right to think as he pleased politically, to keep his sympathies private, and to hold his job regardless of his political feelings or his willingness to discuss them in public. Who will say so now?

What has happened to the 10 Hollywood figures, in being cited for contempt of congress, and in being, perhaps, deprived of their livelihoods, is serious. But what has happened to the thirty thousand other workers in the motion picture industry is even more serious.

One of their rights has been eroded and washed away; the effect is as sweeping as if a new amendment to the constitution had been adopted, or a new law passed. All this has been done without legislation, and without negotiation; there has been a change of status for all workers in the industry, and in related industries.

and it has taken place between minutes, without their participation or consent.
Yet how can one defend the thirty thousand without defending the 10? How can you fight the battle, except where the battle is? You may regret that the battle has been joined on what I do.

Atomic Science is Proven Aid to Medicine

"Medically applied atomic science has already saved more lives than were lost in the explosions at Hiroshima and Nagasaki," writes Cecil Forbes Hanna of Walla Walla, Wash., in the current issue of Hygeia, health magazine of the American Medical Association.

Used to trace the behavior of the blood in various chemical solutions, radioactive isotopes helped to discover the preservative keeps blood cells alive long enough to make the blood bank system possible. The same tracer technique prevents many needless amputations by determining when blood circulation to an injured arm or leg is unimpaired.

The supposedly incurable disease called leukemia, in which the bone marrow produces abnormally large numbers of white blood cells; overactivity of the thyroid gland, and polycythemia, characterized by an excess of red blood cells, are all conditions which have been alleviated by atom therapy. Current research on radiations and cancer promises even more for the future, the writer points out.

"An isotope atom of any chemical element is one that is lighter or heavier than a normal atom of that element," Hanna explains. "Despite this weight difference isotopes possess exactly the same chemical properties as their normal brothers."

"However, many of these freakish atoms are radioactive, like the normal atoms of radium. The combination of chemical identity with regular atoms plus the emission of rays makes these isotopes valuable as tracers of events within living organism and as carriers of healing radiation into otherwise unreachable recesses of the body."

With approximately 100 isotopes of the various elements, produced in the chain-reacting uranium piles at Oak Ridge, now available for research at low cost and in relatively large quantities, the previous rate of progress in atomic medicine should be greatly accelerated.

In leukemia, injections of radioactive phosphorus lodge mainly in the long bones that are over-producing the white corpuscles, and invisible beams of energy reduce the activity of the bone marrow so that the white cell count begins to drop toward normal.

In polycythemia most of the injected phosphorus is absorbed by those tissues which are over-producing the red corpuscles, and again the rays emitted by the isotope atoms reduce the output.

When the thyroid gland is over-active doctors use radioactive iodine for the thyroid absorbs more than 99 percent of all iodine present in the body. The excess activity of that gland also frequently ceases as a result of the punishing rays.

Cancer is another disorder in which there is overproduction; groups of body cells grow so wildly that they destroy vital organs, Hanna observes.

"Clearly this suggests a degree of similarity between cancer and the above diseases which atom therapy has been shown to relieve. Since, in addition, physicians can remove some malignant growths by exposing them to x-rays or radium rays, you can see the basis of science's dream of combating cancer internally with radioactive atoms. . . . A chief obstacle is the fact that no isotope now known is assimilated by the cancerous tissues alone. Therefore the killing rays would attack all parts of the body."

But, the writer continues, "if scientists could determine 'why' radiation inhibits the development of certain cells, they probably would quickly find the 'how' of a cancer cure."

With the Biochemical Research foundation pressing that particular search, "other experiments are probing the possibility that cosmic rays are a contributory cause of cancer. Physicians have found that these rays, which originate in celestial atomic explosions, are weaker at the equator than in the temperate zones." What is more, the writer says, "cancer is less prevalent in the tropics than in cooler regions."

Today's Lesson in Unionism

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
King Features Syndicate, Inc.
Let us consider, as today's lesson in unionism, the contrast between the royal and aristocratic class of the teamsters' union and the rank and file, personified by Harry Mitchell, who drives a truck in Cincinnati, 11 or 12 hours a day, for $55 a week, minus deductions.

In the November issue of the Teamster, the official circular of King Dan Tobin's royal court, Mrs. Mitchell, the mother of four children, the oldest 15, said they had not had butter in 18 months and that most of their days were meatless days.

In the same issue, Otto H. Frobe, of Cincinnati, the secretary-treasurer of local 100, admitted that this union, had bound the men to work for as little as 81 cents an hour. Recently they struck to escape the starvation standard imposed on them by their union.

There have been the extreme of poverty. Now for the riches, extravagance, pomposity and arrogance. The union bosses have opposed the Taft-Hartley law which restores to the rank and file some of the rights which the Wagner act obliterated. The drivers have nothing to do with the appropriation of union money for politics or the content of the union publications which they pay for.

They just pay the bills. The same issue of the Teamster reports that the American Federation of Labor adopted two bites to raise money to try to destroy the Taft-Hartley law. The AFL raised the per capita tax on more than seven million members by 50 percent and levied a $2,000,000 special tax for the same purpose. The millions who understand and desire the Taft-Hartley law nevertheless must pay.

In the Teamsters' own financial statement, the cost of publishing the International Teamster is stated as $243,313 a year. This garbage, is strictly personal publicity for old King Dan. For several years, Lester Hunt, a professional newspaperman, was editor and imposed on the sheet some semblance of journalistic integrity. But Hunt was too refined, too educated, too ethical. An intelligent man couldn't help shaking his head or smiling behind his hand at Tobin's colossal love of himself and his attempts to "write."

Tobin named himself editor. This is a sample of the bilge that Tobin prints about himself, the cost of which Harry Mitchell and thousands of other teamsters may pay out of wages of $55 and less.

Tumult and Shouting

We are determined to liberate that sacred country—dear Palestine, for which your grandfathers struggled. We are looking for freedom everywhere from east to west. We will start a struggle in Palestine and the final victory will be ours. . . .

We know our enemies. We will go to them, we will fight them in regular armed struggle. ABDEL RAHMAN AZZAM PASHA secretary-general, Arab league

The United Nations should not try to impose one dominant culture upon other nations. It should create and enforce just one law, a law that says, "You shall not attack your neighbor." DOROTHY THOMPSON

There seems no sense to what the house members are doing, unless they are playing pure politics or making changes just for the sake of change. Whatever the cause of their actions, they are stalling the necessary help for Europe. Such tactics can be disastrous now. THE MIWAUKEE JOURNAL

A return to OPA means an end to economic freedom. An end of economic freedom in time of peace leads to the end of political freedom. SEN. ROBERT A. TAFT

When the little assembly, made up of the same people who constitute the general assembly minus the Russian bloc—has threshed over a situation and decided on a recommendation, any country can ask Trygve Lie to call a special session. Campus Groups To Discuss Co-ordinating Body

Will Eliminate Overlap of SUI Activities

A possible University of Iowa central student governing body to coordinate student activities will come up for decision tonight when representatives from campus organizations meet at 7:30 p. m. at 301 University hall.

A new student constitution and an all-campus congress appeared last night as two possibilities for improved student government which may emerge from the discussions.

Purpose of a new constitution would be to eliminate the overlapping activities and powers of campus groups by redefining their authority and redefining their powers.

Lack of clarity in the definition of powers given to individual student organizations is a fundamental weakness of the present set-up. No organization exists that has the power to cope with inter-organizational or campus-wide problems.

Action by the Student council to coordinate activities at present can come only at the "request" of individual groups.

If approved by campus organizations, the constitution would probably be submitted to the student body for ratification. Some form of governing body would be needed to administer and interpret its provisions.

The all-campus congress would include representatives from each student organization, housing unit and college who would act as an advisory group between students and campus organizations.

It would function to better campus cooperation and eliminate overlapping activities by recommending changes in the constitutions of individual organizations.

Campus organizations sprang up in the past as new needs arose. Their constitutions, though approved by the university, were not subject to the appraisal of any overall coordinating agency, resulting in numerous conflicts. For example, many organizations sponsor lectures and there is an inevitable conflict between them over speakers, meeting places and time of presentation. Elimination of this overlapping would be one of the purposes of a central governing body.

An interim committee which has been investigating improvement of student government will report on the possibilities and problems involved in forming such a body but will not propose any specific plans regarding its structure, according to Chairman Tom Neenan, A4.

Other members of the committee are Virginia Anderson, A4, Catherine McFarland, A4, Mary Vande Steeg, A2, Ruth Reese, A4, Paul Lange, C4, and Ralph Brown, C4.

Band Leaves Critic Puzzled

By JOHN L. HARVEY
Those who heard the university band last night may have wondered just what it was trying to prove. Don't expect me to tell you; I don't know either.

For instance, just what is the point of having a band play a keyboard work such as a prelude from "The Well-Tempered Clavier"?

To be sure, Stokowski and others have accustomed us to this sort of thing, but the fact remains that it is an utter violation of Bach's intentions. One can play the Beethoven Fifth on a piano, or Ravel's "Pavane" on a mouth-organ, but there is a very large question as to whether it is worth the effort. At any rate a band, however good, is hardly a suitable medium for Bach's intimate keyboard works.

Even more puzzling was the inclusion on the program of the "Farewell" scene from Wagner's "Die Walkure." Wagner wrote this for (a) large orchestra complete with strings, and (b) a baritone voice. With both parts missing, the sounds that resulted had very little resemblance indeed to what Wagner wrote.

Again, it is hard to understand just what is gained by noisily orchestrating a two-piano work such as Debussy's "Cortège."

In all fairness, it should be added that the band sounded like a better than average specimen of a college band in action and, in-works that were reasonably suitable to the medium, sounded pretty fair. Prokofiev's "Athletic Festival March," Shostakovich's "Golden Age" dance, and German's "Richard III Overture" were done quite passably. But no amount of musicianship can make a band into either a symphony orchestra or a piano.

One curious exception was the performance of Smetana's "Moldau" which, as far as tonal texture goes, did approximately re- create the sounds of the original. This work, which might have been thoroughly successful, was spoiled by a rather metronomic beat and some awkward disposal of dynamics. The band played loud and the band played soft, but in this work the band didn't play medium-loud. Consequently, the different repetitions of the theme were not well differentiated, with results which were a little monotonous.

Such encores as "O Susanna" and "Ciribiribin" were more appropriate, and went off pretty well.

Indian Women Get Jewelry, Not Rights, Native Student Says

By MARIE KIERNAN
Indian women are the "banks of India."

Ranjana Sidhanta, G. Lucknow, India, last night told members and guests of Phi Delta Kappa, educational fraternity, that Indian men, having deprived their women of all rights, give them jewelry instead.

"But they are not allowed to touch their deposits," she said. A wife's jewelry does not indicate a man's affection so much as it proclaims his social status, Ranjana added.

While women in America regard education merely as an "interim" until marriage, women in the East are out to be free and education is their means to freedom, she said.

"Only a woman who can earn her own living can be free in India. She can do that only if she is educated."

"The British have done nothing to free the women of India," Ranjana declared. To educate women and free them from purdah (seclusion) would involve interference with religion, contrary to British policy, she explained.

There is no free education in India. Ranjana cited dual education as one of the obstacles to achieving it. As long as Indian society persists in segregating women, she said, dual education will be necessary and, "Indian economy cannot afford it."

Economic progress in India will greatly aid education. Industrialization will open employment opportunities to give incentive to education.

"At present," Ranjana said, "only teaching and nursing are open to women."

"Of course, she added, "there is always marriage."

Campus Chest Contributions Reach $1,016 on Third Day

Contributions to the Campus Chest drive dribbled in slowly yesterday with a total of $1016 turned in by solicitors.

The success of the drive now depends on the conscientious attitude of the individual solicitors, said Chairman Ray Tierney.

Dramatizing the drive tonight will be a Campus Chest caravan complete with sound truck, band and procession of cars. The caravan will stop at housing units, fraternities and sororities to get reports from solicitors on collections made.

Starting at the Quadrangle at 7 p.m., the caravan will visit the west dorms and then proceed to fraternity circle. After crossing Iowa river, the procession will stop at fraternity row, Currier hall and surrounding sororities. The safari will end at Quadrangle about 9 p.m.

Sponsored by Interfraternity council, Hillcrest and Quadrangle, the caravan is headed by Bob McCoy, A4, Des Moines.

Maple Leafs, 4-1

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs marred "Lester Patrick" night for the New York Rangers last night, registering a 4-1 victory before 15,925 fans at Madison Square garden to take first place in the National Hockey league.
