ST. JOHN'S, N.F.L. (AP)—A burglar borrowed a trick from Santa Claus yesterday and failed miserably.

The thief and a companion tried to break into a bakery. One fled across the rooftops. The other, emulating St. Nick, disappeared down a chimney.

His muffled cries showed police he was wedged halfway down the stack. Patiently, brick by brick, they worked down to the man in 2 hours and then jailed him.

Big 4 Talks End; Wider Rift Foreseen

U. S., Britain, France May Speed Unification Of Western Germany

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER LONDON (AP)—Almost the last barriers to outright political and economic war between the western powers and Russia were swept away yesterday in the collapse of the Big Four conference in Germany.

The most acrimonious session of the council of foreign ministers since the end of the war adjourned yesterday after 17 fruitless sessions without even completing an agenda, conference briefing officers said. Neither a time nor a place was set for another meeting.

The United States, Great Britain and France may now be expected to move with speed and precision — probably early next year — to unify western Germany and join its resources with the Marshall Plan for reconstruction of western Europe.

The restraints on western policy which existed before the failure here—a failure that eliminated the last chance of Big Four unification of Germany — have ceased to be. Zone merger, which in the case of the British and American zones has been purely economic, may now become the basis for western German political administration as well.

The plans and speculations of western diplomats—which are yet to be confirmed by formal policy decisions of their governments — have been known for weeks. It was against the consolidation of western Germany as well as for Russia's reparations claims that Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov fought hardest in the conference.

It is not known what Russia intends to do. The Russians do not telegraph important punches. They are capable of swift, decisive action, and in the present crisis such action is expected of them.

Persons closely associated with Marshall speculate that once the western powers begin to unify western Germany, the Russians will undertake the open creation of a political structure in the east.

Despite Russia's Revalued Currency, a Suit Will Cost a Family Over One Month's Wages

MOSCOW (AP)—The 200 million citizens of the Soviet Union found out yesterday what they will have to pay for food, drink and clothing with the new paper rubles their government will issue in its currency reform program for battling speculation and inflation.

Lists were printed showing the retail prices to become effective today with the end of rationing. At the same time the banks will begin a week-long exchange of new rubles for old on a cash basis of one new ruble for 10 old ones.

On money already on deposit in savings banks the exchange rate is one new ruble for one old for the first 3,000 rubles. On deposits totaling more the rate is one-for-one on the first 3,000, two-for-one for three old on the next 7,000 and one new for three on all above 10,000.

The price schedule disclosed that a man's worsted suit will cost 1,400 rubles in urban and 1,500 in rural areas, and a woman's woolen dress 510 rubles in urban and 560 in rural areas.

Wages are not affected by the new currency program, and retail prices will be under state control.

(Purchasing power of the average worker and farmer remains the major factor. There were no figures on average wage scales, but a dispatch from Moscow in 1946 gave 1,260 rubles as the monthly income of "an average Russian family" in which the father, a crew foreman in the lathe department of a factory, got 870 rubles.)

(Such a family would have to save for a considerable period to afford a man's worsted suit for 1,400 rubles or a woman's woolen dress for more than 500 rubles.)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Official Washington labeled Russia's newly announced currency revaluation program "severe" last night and the state department's "Voice of America" questioned whether it would succeed in curbing inflation within the Soviet Union.

"Voice of America" broadcasts beamed to many foreign countries took the line "Who's got an economic crisis now?" one official said, referring to frequent Moscow radio predictions that the U. S. economy was near a breakdown.

State Group Gives O. K. to Hospital Annex

A "go-ahead" signal on a two-year-old $45,000 appropriation for the children's hospital addition here was given yesterday by the legislative interim committee in Des Moines.

The committee also approved the board of education's award of a $128,765 contract for installing two stokers and repairing two boilers at the university power plant. They deferred action, however, on a $25,000 request for campus improvements.

The children's hospital appropriation will be used for construction of the first floor for one of the two proposed west wings. The addition is to help relieve overcrowded conditions and to house the new department of psychological service.

The money originally was set aside by the 51st Iowa general assembly, but action on its use was deferred.

It is expected that the board of education will advertise for bids for this project in the near future.

In addition to approving the power plant bid of the Winger Construction company, Ottumwa, the committee appropriated an additional $16,000 for the project. The committee approved $120,000 Oct. 10 for the work and $8,765 of this new allocation will be used to make up the difference in the contract. The remainder of the money will be used for the installation of combustion controls.

The request for a $25,000 allocation for campus improvements involved landscaping and work on sidewalks and roads.

The committee also:

1. Deferred action on an Iowa State college request for $11,950 for black-topping roads in the married-veteran housing areas.

2. Granted Iowa State college $10,000 to employ an architect to design a $200,000 veterinary diagnostic laboratory.

3. Accepted from Iowa State college $11,950, realized from the sale of furnaces at the college's now discontinued Camp Dodge annex. They placed the sum in the committee's contingent fund.
4. Approved final plans for utilities, pavements, sidewalks and grading at a duplex residence area at Oakdale State Sanatorium.

The U.S. Today— Nation In The News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HAROLD E. STASSEN declared yesterday in Washington that any "insiders" who may have been speculating in commodity markets "should get out of the government." He mentioned Edwin Pauley as a case in point. He demanded that President Truman publicly list any of them engaged in such transactions.

A DOZEN persons were injured, two of them critically, in an explosion yesterday at a building of the Celanese Corporation of America in Newark. A reporter said the scene looked like "a direct bomb hit." Rescue squads delved into the rubble for hours after the blast in search of dead or dying, but they found none.

THE UNITED SHOE machinery corporation—described by the justice department as the only firm in this country able to equip a shoe factory completely—was accused yesterday of being a monopoly. Attorney General Clark filed a suit in Boston under the Sherman anti-trust act seeking to compel the firm to sell some of its plants and reveal to competitors "all patents and know-how relating to shoe machinery." The company denied the charges.

UNION OFFICIALS for the AFL Western Union workers yesterday set Dec. 23 as the strike date if a walkout is called. Officials said preliminary checks of a nationwide strike ballot showed the vote was running 10 to 1 in favor of a walkout to enforce their demand for a 15 percent wage increase.

MARGARET TRUMAN was offered her big chance yesterday—Broadway and $10,000 weekly. Owners of the Chicken Roost, a Times Square restaurant, wired the President's daughter an offer of that sum if she would appear there after her Washington concert Dec. 22. The owners offered to change the restaurant's name if she so desired.

Asks Lewis To Reconsider WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL president William Green yesterday appealed to John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers to "reconsider" their break with the AFL. "The membership of the AFL sincerely regrets the withdrawal of affiliation on the part of the United Mine Workers of America," Green said.

$4,000—And He Kicks it Around

A young dentist nonchalantly kicked $4,030.95 down an alley in Iowa City yesterday.

Dr. James H. DeYarman, a graduate of SU's college of dentistry last March, was walking on Clinton street to his office in the Savings and Loan building yesterday noon when he noticed a long, black purse in the alley.

Thinking the purse was empty, "I gave it a boot," he said. But "it felt like there was something in it."

"There was $209 in cash and the balance in checks," he calmly related.

On examining the checks, DeYarman found all were endorsed by Racine's Cigar store.

The doctor said he wasn't particularly surprised when he saw the money.

He reported his find to the police yesterday afternoon and Racine's reported their loss also during the afternoon.

But the checks and money were still in DeYarman's possession at midnight last night.

This was the second time DeYarman's sharp eyes have recovered lost money. In Muscatine last March, he found a billfold with $65 in it. He returned it to the owner without reimbursement.

26 In GOP Vote Against Debate Limits

Halleck Doubts House Can Act on Controls Before Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican drive to jam through a "voluntary agreements" system of fighting inflation fell 58 votes short of its mark in the house yesterday and prospects were that any cost-of-living program must wait until January.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, Republican floor leader, said after his party's defeat that it would be "impossible" now to get any anti-inflation program before the end of the special session, scheduled for Friday.

Actually, the Republicans rolled up a majority for their program—202 to 188. But a two-thirds majority was needed under the procedure followed, which barred all amendments from the floor to the measure, by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.).

Seven members of Iowa's all-Republican congressional delegation voted for the GOP anti-inflation measure. The eighth Iowan, Rep. John Gwynne, was not listed as voting.

Democrats, who seethed over the no-amendment rule and a 40-minute limitation on debate, stood solid and not one of them voted for the bill. Twenty-six Republicans came over to side with them in opposition.

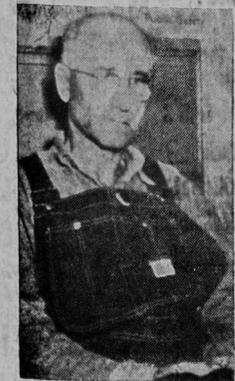

The no-amendment rule barred the Democrats from getting a vote on any of President Truman's anti-inflation proposals, such as the authority he asked to impose price, wage and rationing controls on selected areas of the economy.

The Wolcott bill provided, among other things, for agreements among industries to take steps—short of price fixing—to hold down prices for the public good.

Democrats and Republicans both sought to pin the blame for no price-curbing legislation on the other side.

As soon as the vote was known, Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) made public an administration proposal for wholesale price controls, plus possible retail controls if the wholesale restrictions do not work.

While the house debated, Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) came up with a bill to freeze prices of all commodities at levels which prevailed at the close of business last Saturday.

Ex-Convict Admits Murdering Farmer, Authorities Report

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—The story of a slaying in which a wealthy Council Bluffs livestock trader and farm owner was shot and his body burned under a pile of corn cobs was disclosed yesterday by Max Studer, agent of the Iowa bureau of criminal investigation.

Studer said Corliss R. Bruntlett, a 50-year-old Council Bluffs farmer and ex-convict had related he shot Percy J. Smith Dec. 8 after forcing the 57-year-old man at gun point to write Bruntlett a check for $9,800.

County Attorney Don Jackson said last night first degree murder charges will be on file against Bruntlett in municipal court this morning.

Assembly To Hear Blue Today

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa's legislature will convene in special session at 10 a.m. today to determine whether or not to reduce the individual state income tax payments for 1948 on 1947 income.

The business of the special session is to adjust the amount of income tax to be paid next year in the light of what now may be expected to be the revenue.

Gov. Robert D. Blue, who called the special session was expected to tell the legislators that full collection of the state individual income tax next year would produce $25 million and that this amount is not necessary.

Senate Republicans plan to hold a caucus immediately after the session is convened and the routine business of organization is transacted. If the caucus has not completed its work by 2 p.m., the hour at which the governor will deliver his message, it will recess to go to the house chamber to hear the message.

House Republicans said they did not plan a caucus. The caucus matter to be considered probably will include drafting a rule limiting the session to the subject of income tax reduction and the senate to consider informally first by the whole body or a bill passed by the house.

The full income tax rates in the Iowa individual income tax law are 1 percent on the first $1,000 of net income; 2 percent on the second $1,000; 3 percent on the third; 4 percent on the fourth; and 5 percent on all additional income.

Congress Speeds Foreign Relief Bill To The White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress approved a $597 million Christmas present for France, Austria, Italy and China yesterday and sent it to President Truman for wrapping.

The compromise emergency relief bill, designed to help the foreign countries through the winter and to resist communism, was passed in the senate by a voice vote and adopted by the house 2 hours later by a roll call vote of 313 to 82.

Iowans Cunningham, Dolliver, Hoeven, Jensen, LeCompte and Talle voted for the bill. Gwynne and Martin opposed the measure.

Mr. Truman was expected to sign the measure, officially known as the foreign relief act of 1947, last night or today. His signature will permit the first $150 million authorized by the act to begin flowing immediately.

Before the senate voted, Vandenberg said China "richly deserves" American help but declared it would be futile to grant it unless the administration brings forward a definite program.

"Money without a plan is rat-hole money," said the Michigan senator, who as chairman of the foreign relations committee quarterbacked the relief measure through the senate.

Urges 2 Years of Free College

WASHINGTON (AP)—Removal of all religious and racial barriers to learning, together with "greatly" expanded federal aid for education, were demanded yesterday by a White House commission.

President Truman's 28-member commission on higher education, in its first report, set a goal of 4,600,000 students in college by 1960, nearly double today's total of 2,340,000.

Dean Earl J. McGrath of the University of Iowa college of liberal arts is one of the members on the commission. He visited President Truman Friday when the group submitted its 103 page report to the Chief Executive.

It denounced the segregation of Negroes from whites in the dual systems of 17 states and the District of Columbia as well as the "quota system" by which, it said, many colleges deny admission to "certain minorities, particularly to Negroes and Jews."

The commission, headed by George F. Zook, president of the American Council of Education, recommended also:

Free public education through the first two years of college—the "traditional freshman and sophomore years"—and a reversal of the trend toward higher tuition fees in the last two years.

Financial help to competent students who otherwise could not complete the first 14 years of schooling, and aid to deserving students through a federal program of scholarships and fellowships.

Five Games Scheduled For JV's

To Meet Muscatine Junior College In 1st Tilt Thursday

By JOE NOBLE

A belated rush to obtain opponents for the SUI junior varsity squad has resulted in five games to date, Coach Wendell Hill announced yesterday.

The "B" quintet will meet the Wisconsin Jayvees here Feb. 7 and will travel to Madison in a return game Feb. 14. Two contests have been scheduled with Muscatine Jr. college; there, Thursday Dec. 18 and here Feb. 9.

The latest game to be booked is with Boone Jr. college here on Jan. 10.

Uncertainties in announcing coaching assignments delayed schedule planning and late requests for games with other schools were refused because of completed schedules.

Hill has not given up, however, and is trying to put a few more schools on the list before the end of the season.

The group under Hill's tutelage now numbers 19 with several new candidates reporting for practice. Bill Gallagher, Davenport, a "B" team member last year, reported last week. John Massman of Chariton and Tom Clithero, Atlantic, are two recent additions to the squad.

One loss was suffered in Dick Wagner of Waterloo who underwent an operation for a knee injury. He will be out the remainder of the season.

The caliber of the lot appears to be mediocre after their performance in two games. There are some standouts however. Dick Reid, the blonde-haired forward from Wilton Junction, has been a mainstay on the court so far. He scraps hard and is one of the fastest men on the floor. He has led the scoring in both "B" squad games with 19 points.

Elwin Duhm, Sterling, Ill., is an outstanding guard and will probably see almost full-time action at that post. In the contest with Dittmer's Demons it was Duhm who dumped in the winning basket in the overtime period.

Hill remarked on some improvement in Bob Yeager, six-foot eight inch center, but the jayvee tutor couldn't call him nearly ready for varsity consideration. The lanky Sioux City boy works diligently in every practice, but still appears to be green and slightly rough around the edges. Right now he doesn't look like a pivot possibility for next year, but persistence has paid off before.

Tankers Tackle Freshmen

Coach Dave Armbruster's swimming Hawks will get their first public wing-dipping tomorrow night in an intra-squad meet with the frosh team.

Iowa is giving its fans an early look at the team which is out to better that third place showing in the conference meet of last year, and is basing its hopes on the promises flashed by some individuals in the National AAU and other meets late last season.

The freshman contingent which will challenge their big brothers is one of the strongest mustered by Armbruster in recent years and collectively can show a list of prep-school clipplings as impressive in length as those belonging to Wally Ris.

Led by Ris, who is captain this year, the varsity will meet the frosh threat with a squad of standouts for every one of the nine events slated.

Dick Maine, Dick Lake and Wally Ris, Iowa's trio of world record holders in the medley relay over the 150-yard distance, will probably be at those posts for the 300-yard event tomorrow.

Maine and Duane Draves are expected to complete in the 150-yard backstroke, and Lake and Larry Larimore will have all eyes upon them in the 200-yard breast stroke.

Ris, present NAAU champ at the 100-meters will undoubtedly be shown at that distance for the regulars. Kenny Marsh and Denny Hoffnagle are a pair of other able sprinters at Armbruster's call.

Irv. Straub and Paul Hutinger, two conscientious workers with bright futures, will hold down the varsity distance and middle distance assignments, joined by Ed Berge.

Straub, in addition, can be counted on by Armbruster to furnish a strong leg in the 400-yard freestyle relay. At the National AAU meet last spring, Irv moved into the shorter distance and churned his way to a time of 51.8 seconds.

Pete Latona and Bill McDonald, veteran diving artists, will control attention at the three-meter high board.

Few of the frosh have not been included in the AAU's all-American prep team, and all claim a listful of regional championships.

Rusty Garst, number-one all-American prep swimmer at both 50 and 100 yards, Jack McDonald and Bill Hark will get the nods at sprint slots.

Bowen Stassforth and Bud Griesbach, backstroke; and Dick Keith, breaststroke, are counted on to press the regulars at those events. Tom Christ and Herman Lehman are the leading frosh distance men, and Kenny McKenna will be alone in contesting diving honors.

Anxious Moments

IOWA COACH Pops Harrison (right) and his assistant, Herb Wilkinson, look a little worried as they view their Hawkeyes in action on the basketball court. Or maybe they're thinking of the conference schedule!

College Punters Reach New High

Hawks Leave Town Saturday

Iowa's Hawkeyes, boasting three non-conference victories at home this season, will take to the road for the first time to meet Washington university at St. Louis Saturday evening.

The Hawks have now averaged 68.6 points a game to 40 for their opponents. Iowa boasts a shot percentage of .314, a marked drop from its standing following its first two games. The aggressive North Dakota defense kept the Hawks from getting their usual number of close-in shots Saturday.

Murray Wier is the leading scorer with 57 points and a .423 percentage. Leonard Metcalfe boasts a scoring record of 27 points on a .363 percentage. Although he is third in the scoring column with 24 points, Roger Finley has the top percentage, a red-hot .611.

Coach Pops Harrison's team showed improved reserve strength in the North Dakota game. Considering the rapid improvement of Bob Vollers, Harrison now has four top-line forwards. Murray Wier appears to have a starting berth cinched. Stan Straatsma and Floyd Magnusson are both highly regarded, although Magnusson has been off on his shooting.

At guards, Jack Spencer, Bill Hall and Bob Schulz have all shown good play. Spencer is a definite starter while Hall and Schulz are evenly matched. Either combination has shown that it could be effective.

Report Grothus Has Another Year Left

Joe Grothus, Iowa football guard, has reportedly been granted another year of collegiate eligibility by the conference eligibility committee.

Grothus played the season's opener against Great Lakes in 1944 and then entered military service. He played at California in 1945, and returned to Iowa in 1946 and 1947.

On the grounds that his withdrawal early in the 1944 season was due to circumstances beyond his control, the committee decided to grant Grothus another year of eligibility.

Fans Lose Chance To See Iowa Grid Films

Thousands of fans outside of Iowa City will be deprived of the chance to see films of the Iowa football games next year due to a new conference ruling.

The rule stipulates that the athletic department or extension division may not send its movies out unless in charge of a member of the university staff, Director Paul Brecher said.

Since the films are distributed on a circuit of clubs, schools and civic groups, which takes weeks to complete, in many cases it will be impossible to have a staff member accompany the pictures.

'Footsie' Palmer Of N. Carolina State Sets Punting Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic bureau isn't prepared to say that college football is using a rabbit ball, a development some suspected of baseball last season.

Nothing like that. But no matter whether they're kicking with gas, the bureau will shake a fistful of gridiron statistics in support of its conclusion that the foot definitely has returned to football with the past season boasting the flossiest punting since 1939.

As for individuals, Leslie "Footsie" Palmer of North Carolina State set a collegiate all-time mark with a 43.3 yard average for his 65 spirals, greatest number ever punted by a season leader.

And as for the teams, 11 clubs boasted an average of better than 40 yards per boot, something that hasn't happened in such profusion since 1939. There were only three last year, none in 1943 and 1944 and only two in 1944.

Duke captured the punting crown with its 41.9 yard average.

Palmer's record performance surpassed the old standard set in 1939 by Dick McGowan of Auburn—43.0. He got his toe-hold over Lehigh's griddle-wrestler, Forrest East, by just 3.6 inches per punt difference.

Previous to Palmer, the greatest number of punts by a season leader was 60, by Bob Waterfield of U.C.L.A. in 1944.

Buck Overtime Win Oddity of Year

Grid Freak—Score After Game Ends

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio State's 7-6 victory over Northwestern, engineered some three minutes after the final gun, was considered the principal oddity of the 1947 football season by coaches, athletic directors and writers answering an Associated Press poll.

A fourth down Ohio State forward pass from Northwestern's seven was blocked and hauled down by the enemy as the game apparently ended. The field was flooded by fans and bands while the officials tooted for attention.

Northwestern had a 12th man on the field and the play was called back for infliction of a five-yard penalty to the Northwestern 2 from where the Ohio quarterback threw a touchdown pass into the end zone to Jim Clark.

Twice Ohio State got chances to break the tie by booting the extra point. On the first try which missed, Northwestern was offside. The second was good and it was a 7-6 final win for Ohio in the wildest finish of the year.

Buried in the early season confusion was a Sept. 27 night game incident in a Richmond-Washington and Lee battle.

Brian Bell, the Washington and Lee fullback, took a kickoff and ran 94 yards for a score that eventually won the ball game. As he raced past his own 40-yard stripe with a single blocker in front of him, two Richmond tacklers closed in on him. As they were about to go after Bell, a Richmond newspaper photographer shot off a flash bulb to get an action picture.

The two Richmond defenders, apparently blinded by the flash, went after the blocker, Mike Boyda, nailing him to the turf, while Bell was left with a clear field.

Len Booth of the Washington and Lee news bureau says his school's athletic council is awarding a monogram to the photographer as their "star" of the Richmond game.

Fans at the Louisiana State-Mississippi game got a boot out of the oddity contribution by Y.A. Tittle of LSU. Intercepting a pass from Charlie Conerly as Barney Poole lunged for the ball, Tittle found himself with the ball but no belt. He ran up the field, holding his pants with one hand and the ball with the other.

Three sets of identical twins played for the Culver Military academy at one time and a 120-pound girl, Frankie Groves, played a high school game at Stinnett, Texas.

Stray dogs ruffled the officials' dignity at Cornell and a jack rabbit had to be ejected from a Thanksgiving Day clash between Utah and Utah State. Some 78,000 fans at Franklin field waited with wonder while a wobbly gentleman held up the kickoff before the Army-Penn game, looking for a misplaced friend in mid-field.

Pete Dorset's 10 straight completed passes for Cornell against Princeton provided an Ivy league oddity. The east also had a 100-yard run by Dave Millman of New York university against Bucknell.

Despite its poor season, Ohio State packed in 428,197 fans and Michigan's brilliant offense often mystified the officials who chased the wrong ball carrier.

And, lest we forget, Army finally lost a couple of ball games.

Irish After Win No. 6

St. Patrick's cagers, with five consecutive victories under their collective belts, will face another tough foe when they meet Immaculate Conception of Cedar Rapids here tonight.

The Cedar Rapids five has won three games this season, including a 37-31 triumph over St. Mary's of Iowa City last Friday night. The team has lost three games.

One of those defeats came at the hands of St. Patrick's of Cedar Rapids, the team who gave the Irish such a tussle last week.

South Quad II Wins In Overtime Game

Intramural basketball went into the third week of play last night with the competition becoming rougher as the teams eyed the play offs which will be run off a few weeks after Christmas vacation.

In the games last night South Quad II edged Law Commons A 18-16 in an overtime, and the Dean Bruins outlasted Schaffer 23-21 to highlight the evening.

Council Plans Group to Work With Library

The Student council will discuss the formation of a student advisory library committee at a meeting at 7:30 tonight in Old Capitol. Purpose of such a committee would be to meet regularly with the library staff and inform its members of student opinion on library conditions and hours. Winner of the $40 prize for the best script submitted for "Panacea" campus show to be produced in March, will probably be announced at the meeting, according to Jean Sprott, A3, Grand Haven, Mich. A director may also be named.

Application blanks for the Panacea music contest are now available at Iowa Union information desk. A $40 prize will be given for the winning musical score to accompany the script selected.

Campus Chest Chairman Ray Tierney, A4, Perry, will report on the division of funds received from the drive ending Dec. 9. Tierney said yesterday that a few contributions have been received since the drive's end.

A report on Christmas vacation transportation facilities will be presented by Bob Brose, A2, Garner.

Results of the Iowa regional NSA convention held at Grinnell Dec. 13 and 14, will be given by council members who attended. They are Al Trick, A4, Des Moines; Catherine McFarland, A4, Hampton, will report final plans for the all-student Christmas carol sing to be held Dec. 18.

PERSONAL NOTES

Beauty operators of three Iowa City beauty establishments and one from Cedar Rapids met for a 6:30 Christmas dinner last night in the Rose room of Hotel Jefferson. Employees of Cleona's Beauty salon, Fashion Beauty shop and Mary Ellen's Beauty salon, all of Iowa City, and Mary Nell's Beauty shop in Cedar Rapids attended the dinner. A gift exchange followed the dinner.

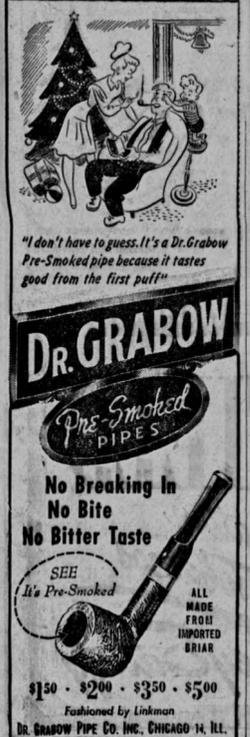

S.S. Kresge company employees and their husbands or wives will be entertained at a Christmas party tonight in the Rose room of Hotel Jefferson. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock. A. H. Ashley, chairman of the arrangements, will be assisted by W. A. Nockunas.

The student body of the Iowa City Commercial college and members of Alpha Iota, business women's sorority, and Phi Theta Phi, businessmen's fraternity, will hold a party Thursday night at 8 o'clock at 203 1/2 E. Washington street. Mrs. F. H. McCabe, vice-president of the college, will be assisted by Rita Cole.

Teachers at Horace Mann grade school had their annual Christmas dinner last night in the school dining room. Husbands and wives were invited and gifts were exchanged.

Police Court Fines Two
Charles J. Connell, A3, Cedar Falls, paid $27.50 in police court last night after being fined by Judge Emil G. Trott for driving away from the scene of an accident.

William D. Swaim, E2, North Platte, Neb., paid a $2 fine plus a $2 tow-in charge for parking in a prohibited zone.

Flora Whiting Engaged

MR. AND MRS. C. G. Whiting of Mapleton announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Flora, to James S. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Baker, Montclair, N.J. Miss Whiting, a 1946 graduate of the University of Iowa, is employed in the office of student affairs. She was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Baker, a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, is a senior at the university. The wedding will take place Dec. 29 at 4 p.m. in Mapleton.

Party Bound

APPROPRIATELY GARBED FOR THE usual round of holiday parties is Miriam Showalter, A1, Kokomo, Ind. For this season Miriam has chosen a two-piece white silk jersey dinner dress. Her torso-length tunic sparkles with gold sequins and is worn over her accordion-pleated formal skirt. The new sleeve line is also a note of current fashion interest.

Woman's Club Holds Xmas Party Today

Mrs. C. S. Williams will discuss Christmas customs in other lands at the Christmas party meeting of the Iowa City Woman's club home department today at 2 p. m. in the Community building club rooms.

Mrs. A. M. Ewers will talk on Christmas cookies and canaries. Members are asked to bring favorite cookie and candy samples and recipes.

The group will sing carols and tea will be served by Mrs. E. F. Wickham and Mrs. W. F. Bockenhein.

Hostesses will be Mrs. L. V. Dierdorff, Mrs. C. C. Erb, Mrs. Glenn Eves and Mrs. Lee Coony.

The women will meet at 10 a. m. in the club rooms and a sack luncheon will be served at noon. Craft groups meeting will be shell-work, textile painting, plastic weaving and candle making.

Student Council To Survey Nation-Wide Faculty Grading

The University of Iowa has been chosen to conduct a national survey of faculty grading for the National Student Association. The selection was made at a meeting of the NSA regional assembly Dec. 13 and 14 at Grinnell, according to Al Trick, A4, Des Moines.

The Student Council will send out questionnaires to 100 or more schools to find out how many have used a professor rating system and how successful it has been, Trick said.

Trick, who attended the NSA meeting as a Student Council representative, was elected chairman of the regional national affairs commission which promotes and supervises surveys and other activities in the Iowa region. Trick is chairman of an SUI committee which has been investigating faculty grading to determine whether it should be adopted here.

Other council delegates at the meeting were Catherine McFarland, A4, Marshalltown, and Virginia Anderson, A4, Harcourt.

The assembly wrote and adopted a regional NSA constitution, and planned the first year's program. Grinnell college will conduct a student government poll of all Iowa schools for NSA. St. Ambrose will investigate the possibility of a debate program among Iowa colleges. Loras college will investigate a plan to provide scholarships to Iowa students for study within the state and abroad.

The group also discussed an NSA program to hold a "culturale" this summer at one or more universities to be selected later. Purpose of the "culturale" would be to exhibit the work of educational institutions throughout the country in such fields as art, drama, athletics, dance and music.

Schools represented at the meeting were Iowa, Grinnell, Loras, St. Ambrose, Briar Cliff, Mount Mercy, Marycrest and William Penn.

The conference was the first regional convention of the recently formed NSA which Student Council joined this year. Purpose of NSA is to provide for cooperation and exchange of ideas among students of American colleges and universities.

St. Mary's PTA Club To See Xmas Program

A Christmas program has been planned for St. Mary's PTA members this afternoon when they have a regular meeting at 2 p.m. in the assembly hall of St. Mary's school.

The program will be presented by first and second-graders at the school.

Mrs. John Dee, PTA president, will preside at the business meeting. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Joe Ponce and her committee.

John F. McNamara Funeral Services To be Held Today

Funeral services for John F. McNamara, 82, retired Iowa City furniture dealer, will be at 9 a.m. today at St. Patrick's church, with burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

McNamara died late Saturday night in a Davenport hospital where he had been a patient with pneumonia. His Iowa City home was at 530 E. Davenport street.

A furniture dealer in Iowa City since 1924, McNamara retired in March, 1945, because of poor health after 21 years in business. He was associated in business with a son, Jay J. McNamara, and two grandsons.

He was born May 19, 1865, at Xenia, Ohio, the son of Michael and Mary Barclay McNamara. As a young man he went to Fulda, Minn., where he was engaged in furniture and undertaking business.

In 1888 he married Delia Hogan. In 1908 the couple moved to Washington, Iowa. He was in Washington until 1924, when he came to Iowa City.

He is survived by his widow; two children, Jay J. McNamara and Mrs. R. J. Phillips, both of Iowa City; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Slattery, Mrs. Margaret Slattery and Mrs. Catherine Conway, all of Ohio; seven grandchildren, and six great grandchildren.

McNamara was a member of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church and of the Knights of Columbus. His body will be at Hohenschuh mortuary until the funeral.

ODK Names Ziffren To Panacea Board

Leo Ziffren, L2, Davenport, was appointed to represent Omicron Delta Kappa on the Panacea committee at a meeting held yesterday noon in Iowa Union.

Panacea is sponsored by members of the Student Council, ODK and Mortar Board.

Dr. C. Woody Thompson, director of the bureau of economic and business research, and Marion L. Huit, secretary of the local ODK chapter, installed the Alpha Xi chapter of ODK at the University of Missouri Sunday.

Catholics Plan Party
The Newman club will hold a Christmas party for its members at the Catholic student center Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

CUT HAIR WAS ALMOST ANKLE DEEP in Children's hospital wards Sunday morning when Iowa City barbers gave a free haircut as a Christmas present to about 71 hospitalized children. Making sure he has that well-groomed look before Santa comes around is two and one-half year old Billy Hardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hardin Jr., 160 Riverside Park. Ticking hairs cause many discomforts, so Billy neutralized the situation with the barber's duster. Intent on giving Billy a good haircut is Carl Larson. Although all of Iowa City's barbers volunteered, only 10 were needed. Besides Larson, they were Joseph Meyers, Raymond Goodyear, Merle Fowler, Jack Crayne, Claude Higginbotham, Forest Allen, Frank Spratt, Dean Bebe and Leonard Spratt. (Daily Iowan Photo by Dick Davis)

Draft Report On Coralville Dam Project

DES MOINES (AP) — The special seven man committee on the Coralville dam project indicated at the close of yesterday's meeting that a final report on the project would be ready for Gov. Robert D. Blue later this month.

Blue appointed the committee to study the proposed $12,000,000 construction of the Coralville dam nine miles upstream from Iowa City.

H. Garland Hershey, state geologist and chairman of the committee, adjourned yesterday's closed session with the recommendation that a final report be drafted and submitted to the seven members by mail or that another session be called later. Hershey, meanwhile, will make a "progress report" to Blue.

The committee did not announce what action it took on the request from W. K. Kennedy, an Onslow lumberman, that another public hearing be held or for permission to submit additional evidence. Kennedy, who says he represents 684 property owners, opposed the project at the hearing in Cedar Rapids last week.

L. C. Crawford, associate director of the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research, reported on the Cedar Rapids meeting at yesterday's committee session here.

The objectors say the project would be a waste of funds, inundate about 30,000 acres of improved land and force 1,500 persons from their homes.

The University of Iowa has announced its support of the project in order to safeguard property against future flood damage.

The state's final recommendation to army engineers will be made by the governor himself, Hershey said. If approved, the dam will be built by federal funds.

Des Moines (AP) — The Iowa Flood Control association formed a permanent organization here Sunday and a proposal was made that the state legislature, opening today, name an interim committee group to study Iowa flood control problems.

Atty D. C. Nolan, Iowa City, will head the committee which will prepare permanent articles for the association and submit nominations for officers at the January meeting.

The organization, which has been only temporary, will coordinate soil conservation, flood control and erosion problems throughout the state.

Plan French Theme For Party at Union

A party for persons interested in French will be held in the river room of the Iowa Union at 7:30 tonight, according to Jacqueline Ragner of the French department.

The program will include a satire on radio programs in French, an impersonation of Maurice Chevalier, by Paul Opstad, A3, and a talk on Christmas in French, by Georgette Gregoire, instructor in the French department.

Allan Kaplan, A2, will act as master of ceremonies, and Eileen Serschen, A4, will lead the singing, accompanied on the piano by Augustin Girard, instructor in the French department.

There will be dancing and refreshments will be served.

CHRISTMAS CAME TO IOWA UNION yesterday when members of Union board decorated a 24-foot evergreen tree in the main lounge. Lighting on the huge tree, which cost $50, was done by university electricians. Shown putting the finishing touches on the tree are Willie Cadwalader, A2, Bettendorf, on the ladder, and Peggy Inman, A2, Keokuk.

Jurors Chosen for S. H. Johnson Trial

Jurors for the case of the State of Iowa vs. Stanley H. Johnson were chosen yesterday when the trial opened at the Johnson county courthouse.

Johnson, who was indicted by a grand jury here in September, is charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He was arrested August 19 in Iowa City. Johnson was convicted on a similar count in 1942 and 1946.

The jurors are Avis Hunter, 1164 E. Court street; Clara F. Starr, 812 Kirkwood avenue; Mae Nash, 510 S. Clinton street; Victoria Houston, 1133 E. Court street; Dorothy G. Darling, 1207 Seymour street; Agnes Griffin, 1028 Newton road; Arthur R. Craton, 1020 E. Fairchild street; Marie Lorenz, 418 River street; Reno Kron, Riverside; Fred Eastland, North Liberty, George Klaus, route 4, and Frank Lovetinsky, West Branch.

Attorneys for Johnson are E. P. Korab and A. C. Cahill. County Attorney Jack C. White will represent the state.

Forum to Air Plan Of Military Training

The Johnson county chapter of the American Veterans committee announced Monday they will sponsor a radio forum, open to the public, December 18.

The discussion will be held in studio, E in the Engineering building from 7:30 to 8 p. m. with the universal military training bill as the subject.

During the broadcast the audience will be permitted to ask the speakers questions regarding UMT.

Col. W. W. Jenna, of the university military department will speak in favor of the bill; Prof. Manfred Kuhn of the sociology department will speak in opposition. Prof. Orville Hitchcock will act as moderator.

'Man of the Year' Poll Closes Christmas Eve Jaycees Remind Voters

Ted Stuck, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, yesterday reminded Iowa Citizens that Dec. 24 was the deadline for nominations for "young man of the year."

Nominations, he said, should be sent to Awards Committee, Junior Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box No. 784, Iowa City.

The winner will be nominated by residents of Iowa City and surrounding area and be selected by a group of leading citizens, separate from the Jaycees. The young man, Stuck said, will receive the first postwar "distinguished service award."

Instructors To Give Two Parties for City High School Musicians

Music students at City high school will be entertained at two parties given by their instructors this week.

Tonight the cast and chorus of City high's operetta, "The Mikado," will have a hayride and party. Thomas N. Wickstrom, music director, will accompany the students.

Mr. and Mrs. Laverne A. Wintermeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Armand E. Vorce and Irene Gianedakis will have a party Thursday night for orchestra and band members who were in the operetta. The party will be from 7:15-10 p. m. in the school social hall.

Journalism Group To Elect Officers

An election of officers of the Associated Students of Journalism will be held tomorrow in the basement of East hall from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Journalism students will vote according to classification.

About 120 students were present in the River room of Iowa Union Sunday night when the group held its first meeting since 1943. At the meeting officers for the association's council were nominated and Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school of journalism, outlined the purposes of the organization in the principal address.

Positions to be filled in tomorrow's election are president, vice president and council member-at-large from each class.

Students elected to the offices of president in the senior and junior classes will automatically become president and vice-president, respectively, of the organization. The posts of secretary and treasurer will be determined by the council.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Arrives Here Today

A mobile X-ray unit will arrive this afternoon at the city hall as part of Johnson county's program to discover tubercular cases.

The unit, which can X-ray 30 persons per hour, will be in operation from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Miss Elizabeth Budreau, public health nurse, yesterday said persons who wish to have chest X-rays made should contact her at the Johnson county courthouse or be present at the city hall when the unit is functioning.

The chest X-ray tests follow a county-wide canvass by Miss Budreau to find persons who have positive reactions to tuberculin skin tests. Part of the cost of the program comes from the sale of Christmas seals.

Who Is Loyal to America?

(First of a Series)

Who is loyal to America, anyway? Is a Communist? A Fascist? A Republican? A Democrat?

Who can safely be employed by the government? Will wholesale "security" firings lead to a witch hunt? Should a man who differs in fundamental beliefs be allowed to express them—and still hold a government job?

These are some of the questions raised by the loyalty investigations now underway by the government. They are important to each one of us—for they concern the constant dilemma of a democracy. How free can we be without destroying freedom?

This series will attempt to provide some of the background of the question and then some conclusions.

The "loyalty" investigation was begun under an executive order issued by the President on March 21, 1947. He issued it after considering the recommendations of a commission appointed by him in the fall of 1946.

The order provided for an investigation of the loyalty both of applications for federal civilian employment and those already in service. Provision was made for hearings, right of counsel, and the like.

The order was promptly criticized. It specified as a test of loyalty "membership in, affiliation with, or sympathetic association with, any foreign or domestic organization," or group, "designated by the attorney general as totalitarian, fascist, communist, or subversive."

Its language was so general that it aroused fears as to what might be done under it. The New York Times said, "We must hope that the new order will not be used to penalize liberals who believe in a democratic Spain or even those who think we should send food to Yugoslavia. We must not shoot down free opinion while attempting to eliminate the advocates of totalitarian serfdom."

Under this order investigation of some 1,900,000 federal employees has been going on. The civil service commission has overall responsibility but the investigations are conducted by the FBI.

In the meantime Congress, through a rider attached to the 1948 appropriations bill, required the peculiarly sensitive agencies of the government such as the state department, to discharge not only disloyal persons, but those who because of the ideas they hold, their habits, or associations may be "security risks." It was under this law that the widely publicized discharge of ten state department employees occurred last summer.

The newly created central intelligence agency, which is a clearing house for government intelligence reports, has discharged a number of employees, reported to be 12.

On Oct. 7, the state department promulgated a set of "security principles" in which "security risk" was defined in five categories. They are given in full:

"1. A person who engages in, supports or advocates treason, subversion, or sedition; or who is a member of, affiliated with, or in sympathetic association with the Communist, Nazi or Fascist parties, or of any foreign or domestic party, organization, movement, group, or combination of persons which seeks to alter the form of government of the United States by unconstitutional means or whose policy is to advocate or approve the commission of acts of force or violence to deny other persons their rights under the constitution of the United States; or a person who consistently believes in or supports the ideologies and policies of such a party, organization, movement, group or combination of persons.

"2. A person who is engaged in espionage or who is acting directly or indirectly under the instructions of any foreign government; or who deliberately performs his duties, or otherwise acts to serve the interests of another government in preference to the interests of the United States.

"3. A person who has knowingly divulged classified information without authority and with the knowledge or with reasonable grounds for the knowledge or belief that it will be transmitted to agencies of a foreign government, or who is so consistently irresponsible in the handling of classified information as to compel the conclusion of extreme lack of care or judgment.

"4. A person who has habitual or close association with persons believed to be in categories 1 or 2 above to an extent which would justify the conclusions that he might through such association voluntarily or involuntarily divulge classified information without authority.

"5. A person who has such basic weakness of character or lack of judgment as reasonably to justify the fear that he might be led into any course of action specified above."

The following rules for weighing evidence were laid down:

"1. A former course of conduct or holding of beliefs will be presumed to continue in the absence of positive evidence indicating a change, both in course of action and conviction, by clear, overt and unequivocal acts.

"2. There will be no presumption of truth in favor of statements of the witnesses in any hearing on security risk, but their statements will be weighed with all the other evidence before the hearing board, and the conclusion will be drawn by the board.

"3. If a reasonable doubt exists as to whether the person falls into one of the categories listed above, the department will be given the benefit of the doubt, and the person will be deemed a security risk."

Procedural safeguards were set forth providing for hearings, with advance notice; specification of charges, and right to be represented by counsel. However, the department retained its right to present its own evidence in secret—for security reasons.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Inflation in a Planned Economy

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

People with just an ordinary understanding of economics will do just as well to sit back for a while and see what happens in Russia (as far as we will ever be permitted to see) before trying to make up their minds as to what all the flurry over the ruble is about.

The usual rules do not apply to a totalitarian economy, and the recollection of prewar predictions about the shakiness of Hitler's Germany are sufficient to cause wariness now.

Only a few things seem fairly clear.

The one result overshadowing all others seems to be that the government has, by one swipe of the eraser, reduced its bonded debt to the people of Russia by some two-thirds. This is described as the last sacrifice the public will be called on to make for World War II.

It is quite possible that this mobilization of the country's wealth in government hands is calculated to create a sounder currency to help establish a "ruble bloc" within the Russian sphere and combat the dollar and sterling areas which are cooperating in the Marshall plan.

Also the devaluation is an admission that the vaunted totalitarian economic system is subject to the same inflationary troubles that beset the rest of the world. Abolition of rationing, thrown

AS PEGLER SEES IT— Hollywood Cleans House at Last

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (King Features Syndicate)

The movie industry has firmly determined to eliminate from its payrolls 10 persons who recently were haled before the United States congress and refused to say whether they were members of the Communist party, a subversive organization.

If my ears do not deceive me, the magnates and their counsel meant these dismissals to be accepted as proof that they had cleaned house, absolutely, a little later, to be sure, but better late than never. That makes the score: 10 babies down; a hundred more to go.

Illusion is the great art of the moving pictures. I hope the masters do not deceive themselves, but that is as it may be. One thing I can tell you plain, however: they haven't deceived the committee on un-American activities.

They did not proceed against these 10 until the industry had been dragged in leg-irons and handcuffs, so to speak, before the committee. The agents of the industry tried to ridicule the committee but the fact finally got across to the people of the United States that this committee represented and actually personified them. It is a "committee of the house of representatives."

All of a sudden, the men who represented the industry, stopped short and went into a solemn, frightened huddle in New York. The "people" were good and sore at them for paying unbelievable salaries to men who were in a position to poison the stream of culture and make it a sewer by the time it flowed through the theaters on a thousand main streets; tactics of spending that has gone on here the past 15 years, you will be dead as mackerels after next November.

The American people want some common sense in the operation of our government, our people want less taxes, more food and at lower prices. We do not want higher wages and less food, we want more work, longer hours, more food and commodities that will bring lower prices. That will make America happy and prosperous.

We must watch our exporting that robs us of lumber, steel, foods, and so forth; thus a scarcity, thus higher prices. Too much money and too little merchandise make high prices.

Wake up, you congressmen. Make American strong and take care of your own people.

As I see this bill stopgap relief, we are leading America to worse conditions, not better. Let charity feed France and Italy. They will and can do it. It did it before and can do it now.

I do think it is our business and we should demand that they (Europeans) exhaust their own resources before they come here with a tin cup in their hands.

The time has come to put a stop to government by hysteria and emotion. The people are demanding it and if we do not give head to that demand there will be a lot of new faces in the 81st congress.

The American people are becoming weary of being played for suckers, and if there is anyone who doubts the accuracy of that statement let him go home for two or three weeks so that he may bring himself up to date.

Rep. Harold Knutson (R-Minn.) page 11, 270

who refused even to say whether they were for or against the United States.

They were good and tired of being lectured on "Americanism" by malicious doctrinaires who either came here from Europe or stretched an ear toward Europe for their guidance. The racial and social problems of the United States are peculiar and our own, and are not to be dealt with peaceably by iron rules devised by Europeans.

Now, if Hollywood had an intelligent respect for the dignity and pride of the people of the United States, the industry would have taken the initiative, itself, long ago, to eliminate the Communists.

How?

Well, how does Hollywood usually get rid of people who, for reasons of personal vengeance and racial bigotry are marked for elimination? By nodding them out, that is how. It has been done for years.

"Sorry, nothing today." But the industry wouldn't take the initiative.

This time, though, the "representatives" of the "people" were sure-footed, cool and aggressive. They took no monkey-business. They were ready to prove with Communist party cards and other part records that a group of pampered volunteers, forever snarling about our wicked system and the denial of opportunity, were Communists.

And so the industry curled up and quit and tried to make a virtue of an act done under compulsion. It fired 10 men.

But there are still a hundred left. At least a hundred.

Gleanings From the Congressional Record

Grant unto us the understanding that the law of goodness is mightier than the rule of intellect. Help us to endeavor uprightly to give to our thoughts a logic that is made superior by our integrity and personal characters.

In these most urgent hours, let us show forth a zeal to create a new and better order for stricken humanity.

Prayer by the chaplain, The Rev. James Shera Montgomery at opening of the house session Monday, Dec. 8, page 11, 265

All you think of is spend, spend, spend.

I want to warn this Republican-controlled congress that if you are going to carry on the New Deal to the public as a sort of shock absorber, doesn't seem to mean much. Regardless of rationing, Russia just doesn't have enough consumer goods. No monetary, juggling can offset that. Even with comparatively good crops this year, Russia doesn't and never has produced enough food.

Her people, in the best times, can never eat as well as do the other peoples of the western world even in the worst depressions.

But in any evaluation of Russia's general position it must be borne in mind that, to a certain extent, her shortages are planned shortages. For 25 years she has spent a major portion of her national budget on armaments and on the development of heavy industry which can produce more armaments when needed. Everything has been subordinated to give her foreign policy the backing of her every possible ounce of military strength.

When the answer to the present monetary upheaval is found, it very probably will be discovered somewhere within that policy.

LETTER FROM TURKEY TO THE DAILY IOWAN:

It was a real pleasure to hear from Iowa again and to learn the news of SUI through your kind letter. In response to your request I would be glad to write the following few lines about myself and the new happenings over here in Turkey.

I received an M.S. degree in civil engineering from SUI in 1940. After coming to Turkey, I served in the Turkish army, and now I am working in the bureau of waterworks in the department of public works of Turkey. We deal with the irrigation, drainage, flood control of lands and the water supplies of cities. We believe that we are playing a big part in the development of our country.

At the present time there is much work done in the construction of airports, harbours and highways. The first by the Westinghouse company and the others by means of the recent American aid.

We are modernizing and mechanizing the military forces by this aid whereby a large number of men are released from the army to help the agriculture and the industry which were in a difficult situation during the recent war years due to manpower shortage in the civilian fields.

Since a few years ago we have two political parties instead of one. In the national assembly representatives from both parties discuss any governmental activity as freely as in other democratic countries.

In closing, I wish to take this opportunity to recall the memorable days spent in Iowa and the wonderful university life which had attracted me so much, and send my best wishes to the readers of The Daily Iowan.

WOMEN IN INDIA TO THE DAILY IOWAN:

Sometime back your paper reported a talk regarding the condition of women in India. The rights of women in India are much more than in many other countries of the world.

This can be established by the fact that there are women in such high positions as cabinet members, governors of provinces, leaders of delegations to foreign countries and ambassadors.

TUMULT and SHOUTING

No nation can establish democratic government for another nation. But a nation can do much to promote the cause of democracy in another by helping to avoid the conditions that usually lead to totalitarianism and to bring about the conditions that favor the growth of democracy.

DR. THEODORE H. CHEN

I wish it to be clearly understood that the United States is not prepared to agree to any program of reparations from current production as a price for the unification of Germany.

GEORGE C. MARSHALL

As long as allies were needed in the war against the common enemy they mattered; not inconsiderable promises were made to them and obligations were entered into. But that was during the war. Little was left of these promises when came the time for peace-making.

Recalling again the Yalta and Potsdam agreements, I am bound to state that the Soviet Union is not asking but demanding that the question of reparations be at long last decided. The Soviet Union insists that agreements regarding reparations should not remain on paper but should be carried out as has been decided.

V. M. MOLOTOV

I charge that insiders in national administration have engaged in profiteering in food which has raised the price of food to the American people.

HAROLD E. STASSEN

The cost of living in this country must not be a football to be kicked about by gamblers in grain.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN

My faith is in the free market place of thought, from which I deeply believe that the truth will emerge the victor. I believe that if democracy meets the Klan or communism in the market place, democracy will triumph.

W'D RATHER BE RIGHT

Bless Our Happy Home

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

Margaret called Harry at his place during the morning.

"Al's coming to dinner," she said.

"Al?"

"You remember. You met him at mother's once. He's in town for the week, and he called."

"Wasn't he a beau of yours?"

"Almost. Not really. A n d don't be squify. He's very nice."

Harry remembered Al. He was the one who drove a Cadillac in a Buick neighborhood.

He called Margaret back toward noon, but another girl in her office answered.

"She's out shopping, Harry. Said she had to get a new dress."

Oh, great, thought Harry. Great-t-t, with three t's on the end.

He walked home at the end of the day, slowly, with a funny kind of reluctance.

It wasn't just that Margaret was putting herself out to be attractive to a prosperous former beau. It was what it meant. It meant that the way they dressed, ordinarily, and the way they lived, wasn't quite good enough for inspection.

The flat in the brownstone was home, and they had pulled it together with excitement. But maybe, when looked at by an outside pair of eyes, it wouldn't be home at all, but just a couple of dim little rooms, furnished with too much gayety and not enough furniture.

Perhaps they'd only been telling themselves they'd made a home, and under an unfriendly glance the good, successful feeling about having made it might collapse, like a faltering joke. Maybe it hadn't been a good idea to use red bricks for bookends.

It was like playing, making a home that way, out of odds and ends, but it might miss with someone who wasn't part of the game.

He popped into the liquor store, on impulse, and bought two bottles of Hermitage, '37.

Of course, Paul, his wine expert friend, always said that wine had to rest six weeks to be drinkable, but maybe this once it would be all right, and it would dress up the dinner.

Then, carrying the bottles, he found himself becoming angry.

What the hell am I trying to do, please the guy?

Maybe I ought to learn some funny stories and card tricks too, to make him happy.

He popped the apartment door open, and looked around for Margaret.

"Where's the new dress?" he asked.

She looked at him with innocent eyes. "In the closet," she said. "I'm saving it for Saturday when you and I go out." She pointed to the wine. "What's that?"

"Oh, nothing," he said. Some wine. Thought I'd put it down, to have it when I need it. It has to lie for six weeks, you know." He shoved the bottles into the living room cupboard, and turned gravely back.

They traded glances, and began to laugh, the laughter of those who know each other's arms, still laughing, when the doorbell rang.

Flood Damage Light In Johnson County

Johnson county suffered the least damage of any of the 21 counties in the Iowa flood zone this year, the midwestern area headquarters of the American Red Cross announced.

One hundred families suffered some loss in June floods and storms in Johnson county, but only 36 required Red Cross relief and rehabilitation funds. Expenditures amounted to $60.50 for food, clothing and maintenance, and $62.22 for building and repair.

Total funds expended in Iowa this year for relief and rehabilitation were over $758,000. Wapello county, center of the flood area, received nearly $556,000. Building and repair, replacement of furniture, food, clothing and maintenance made up major relief costs.

Overall statistics from the nation reveal 1947 as the worst disaster year since the 1937 floods. Fires led the list with floods second. Of the year's 10 million dollar relief budget, the Red Cross has expended about 9 1/2 millions to date.

Bureau of Public Affairs Moves to New Location

The Bureau of Public Affairs is being moved today and tomorrow from 7 East Market street to rooms 203 and 204 old dental building.

The combined university photographic service will be moved into the Market street building in about a month, according to Richard L. Holcomb, associate professor of public affairs.

Porter, Mosse Talk On World Federation

Whether a federal world government should be established will be discussed tonight by Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department and Prof. George L. Mosse of the history department at 8 p.m. in 221A Schaeffer hall.

Sponsored by the university chapter of United World Federalists, the discussion will cover the following points:

1. Are the nations of the world, especially the United States and Russia, ready to accept a federal world government?

2. What specific amendments to the United Nations charter would be necessary to change it into a blueprint for world government?

3. How could laws passed by a world general assembly be enforced?

4. How do individual nations now feel toward world government?

Lawrence E. Dennis, instructor in political science and journalism, will be moderator. A question period will follow the discussion.

Naval Commander To Address Reserves

Former servicemen who were radio and radar operators and technicians will meet tonight to hear Comdr. D. R. Peavy of the ninth naval district, Great Lakes, Ill., in the engineering building.

The meeting will be held at the quarters of Electronic Warfare company 9-120, volunteer naval reserve group which was installed here last month. It will begin at 8 p.m.

Commander Peavy will arrive here today to visit the site of company operations, and check plans for the installation of equipment, which is now arriving.

The meeting is open to all former radio and radar men, who served with any branch of armed forces, and are interested in joining the naval reserve and the local company.

Iceland Awaits Its 13 Santas

By MERRITT LUDWIG
 "You Americans have one Santa Claus, but in Iceland, we have 13!" Ingi V. Egilsson said yesterday. Egilsson is a pre-dental student from Reykjavik.

INGI EGISSON

"And the children weren't always happy to see our Santa Clauses," he added.

Iceland's 13 Santas were originally spooky characters, not the jovial, round-bellied heroes they are today. The 13 were brothers who lived in the mountains of Iceland, according to legend.

Every year they visited on Christmas eve to play all sorts of pranks. It was the duty of one Santa, known as "he who peeks through the window," to scare the youngsters.

Another known as "he who steals some meat" would slip into the kitchen and make off with part of the Christmas dinner while the family was in the dining room.

These were the legendary Santas who by now have become very much like the beloved Saint Nick American children love.

"Gledileg Jol," is "merry Christmas in Icelandic, and according to Egilsson, his little island country is due for one of its merriest Christmases this year.

He said the war brought extreme prosperity to his country. As in America, however, inflation has followed.

Icelanders make a two and a half day celebration out of Christmas. Festivities begin Christmas eve when the Christmas trees are decorated and one of the Santa's comes around with presents for everyone.

The Santas have to import most of their gifts, said Egilsson, because Iceland is primarily a fishing and agricultural country.

Icelanders traditionally have turkey for Christmas dinner, said Egilsson. They stuff the turkey with fruits such as dried prunes and plums.

A special Icelandic Christmas treat is pudding made from rice, milk, raisins and nuts. Apples and oranges, which must be imported, are a luxury for children and adults alike.

Egilsson, who has been in Iowa City for 11 months, will spend this Christmas with Icelandic friends in Chicago.

Foreign Group Plans Christmas Party Here

Twenty-five foreign students have indicated they intend to remain in Iowa City during the Christmas holidays, Dick Sweitzer, faculty advisor, said yesterday.

A social program for the holidays, including a party at the Baptist student center and a possible sleigh ride, is being planned by the group.

Any foreign students who plan to remain in Iowa City during Christmas vacation and are interested in the social program are asked to contact the office of student affairs.

Strategic Intelligence Lecture Wednesday For Air Reservists

Prof. Arthur H. Moehlman of the college of education will address the Iowa City detachment, 211 Air Reserve Composite Squadron, on "Strategic Intelligence" Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in room 124, fieldhouse.

Moehlman served in the military intelligence department during the war.

According to Roger Barnet, training and personnel officer, the meeting is open to all former officers and enlisted men of the air forces.

Mountaineers Plan Invasion of Three Mexican Peaks

Seven members of the Iowa Mountaineers will leave here this weekend to climb Mexico's three highest mountains, John Ebert, mountaineer president, said yesterday.

Mickey Thomas, Bruce Adams, Harold Peters, George Tanner, Earl Carter, Stan Kaiser, and Ebert plan to scale Mts. Citlaltepelt, 18,700 feet, Popocatepetl, 17,894 feet, and Iztaccihuatl, 17,323 feet. Wally Adams, former vice-president of the club, is flying from South America to join the group in Mexico.

The mountaineers plan to climb Citlaltepelt Dec. 25 and 26, Popocatepetl Dec. 27 and 28, and Iztaccihuatl Dec. 29 and 30. These three peaks have never been climbed before in a nine day interval. They are among the seven highest mountains in North America.

The Club de Exploraciones de Mexico will honor Iowans for each summit reached. The Mexican club and a climbing group from the University of Puebla, plan to climb one mountain with the mountaineers. All outing members are invited to join the Mexican club.

The three groups may test some high altitude mountain radio equipment, according to Ebert.

Mountaineers will start back to Iowa City Dec. 31. Cars driven by Tanner and Peters will provide transportation. They will travel via Keokuk, Jefferson City, Dallas, San Antonio, Mexico City and Chalchicomula.

Mountaineers To Hold Yule Party Thursday

A Christmas party will be held by the Iowa Mountaineers on Thursday from 8 to 10 p. m. in their club house behind South Quad, Martha Ann Isaacs announced yesterday.

Members should bring white elephant gifts, which will be distributed by Santa Claus.

Joan Wareham, Dorothy Wagner, Anne Fenton and Marla Miller will sing.

Stan Kaiser and Charles Beye will give readings. Christmas carols will be led by Joan Cox. Folk and social dancing will be part of the program.

Reservations may be made by calling Martha Ann Isaacs (116-29F5) by tonight.

16 Law Students to Argue Mock Case in Chamber Tonight

Old Capitol's senate chamber becomes the University of Iowa Court of Appeals at 7:30 p.m. tonight when the law college juniors open their law arguments.

The 16 law students who won in last year's junior cases will compete during the four arguments this year for the final case on Supreme Court Day, April 8, 1948.

Before Judge Paul H. McCoid of Iowa's 20th judicial district, Jerome Druker, Boone; James Shelton, Ames; J. Erland Baumert, South English and Elmer M. Jones, 2117 Muscatine avenue, will argue the fictitious case tonight.

The City of Pumpkin Center is appealing a verdict by a lower court jury which granted $12,500 to Frank Jones for personal injuries and damages to his automobile. Jones sued the city after his car was struck by the city's fire truck while it was going to a fire at the John Beck farm.

Baumert and Jones will argue for the city and Shelton and Druker will represent Frank Jones. Attorney Arthur O. Leff is directing the arguments.

The public is invited to the arguments. Four more law students will argue a case at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the senate chamber.

Community Dads to Drive for Members

Community Dads' appointed Newton Mulford and Morris Hammond co-chairmen of a membership drive to start immediately, at their meeting last night in the community building.

Committees headed by Charles T. Smith and William Grandrath will seek sport films from SU and permission from a theater to show the pictures to Iowa City children.

Jack C. White's rules change committee will study changes to allow Dads to charge membership dues. Membership under present rules comes automatically with attendance at one meeting.

"The Dads' expanded program can't run on contributions alone," Doug Fairbanks pointed out.

Wives will be guests at a potluck supper preceding the next regular meeting, Jan. 5 at 8:15 p.m.

Confer Tomorrow On Assessor Post

A special meeting of the city council, the county board of supervisors and the Iowa City school board will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the city hall to select the new city assessor.

Mayor Preston Koser yesterday called the meeting of Johnson county's three taxing bodies, which have one vote each in the selection of the three men eligible for the assessor post.

Candidates are William White, present city assessor, William Kanak, assistant county auditor, and Frank Nesvacil, assistant deputy assessor. They qualified for the post by passing written examinations earlier this month.

The assessor examining board will make up and give examinations for deputies after the assessor is chosen. William R. Hart is chairman of the examining board.
