DENVER (AP) — Leap year bargain: Justice of the Peace David Oyer said yesterday he will marry any couple in 1948 for only $1 if the girl admits she did the proposing. That means Oyer would tie the knot gratis because the $1 must go to the city as a registration fee.

FBI Probes Graham's Grain Deals; More Traders Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New York brokerage house notified Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) yesterday that the FBI has called on it for information on the grain trading activities of Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, President Truman's personal physician.

Knowland is a member of a senate appropriations subcommittee which is looking into reports that government "insiders" profited from speculation in foodstuffs.

He told reporters, however, he did not know why the FBI was inquiring into the White House doctor's account, since it is not illegal to trade in grain or other commodity futures.

The California senator has been insisting that the exact nature of the business arrangements between Graham and his brokers be made clear.

After he was listed as a speculator last Monday, Graham issued a statement saying he turned some money over to the broker with instructions to "use his own judgment." Bache & Co., the brokers, said Graham was kept fully informed on every transaction.

FBI headquarters here declined to comment on Graham's or any other individual brokerage account, but acknowledged that since last November it has been conducting a general investigation of the effect of grain speculation on the retail price of grain products.

The inquiry was undertaken after President Truman had asked for an investigation of grain speculations.

Meanwhile, another list of government employes reported to have traded in commodities was given to the investigating senators.

The list named 17 department of commerce workers who hold assignments ranging from patent examiner to airport engineer. Their names were furnished by Under Secretary of Commerce William C. Foster. The department conducted a survey of its employes at the request of the senators.

The appropriations committee announced that the state department had furnished the names of three of its employes who have reported trading in commodities since July 1, 1946.

They are: Paul F. McGuire, associate division chief of the office of financial and development policy; John C. Montgomery, and William C. Brister, neither of whom was identified as to position.

Bing Crosby Leads 1947's Box Office

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bing Crosby for the fourth successive year was the screen's top box-office attraction in 1947, The Motion Picture Herald announced yesterday after a poll of exhibitors.

Others in the first 100, in the order of their ranking, are:

Betty Grable, who moved up from ninth place last year; Ingrid Bergman, second in 1946; Gary Cooper, who also was fourth last year; Humphrey Bogart, who moved up from sixth; Bob Hope, Clark Gable, Gregory Peck, Claudette Colbert and Alan Ladd.

Schuman's Regime To Stand or Fall On Tax Vote Today

PARIS (AP) — The life of the government of Premier Robert Schuman was in jeopardy last night even as it agreed in a treaty to conditions of American winter aid.

There was considerable doubt whether the stooped, balding premier, who less than a month ago beat down a Communist-led strike surge, could push through an angry national chamber of deputies an unpopular income tax bill to raise an additional 125 billion francs ($1,041,000,000).

The premier took the drastic step yesterday of withdrawing his original anti-inflation tax bill which had been trimmed and manhandled by the legislators. He submitted a new "compromise" measure and declared he would resign unless it is passed without change.

"The country must know that we have behind us a parliament which has confidence in us and accepts its responsibilities," he declared.

The chamber was summoned to an extraordinary session beginning today to consider the new bill, and the finance commission of the assembly went into what appeared would be an all-night session to complete its report on the measure. Rightist and Peasant deputies apparently were in no mood to approve the bill without serious changes.

In signing the treaty with the United States agreeing to the conditions set by congress for $522 million in aid for France, Italy and Austria, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault declared this was "a document to be remembered forever in the history of a friendship of centuries."

Bank Employes Strike In Italy; Wages Unpaid

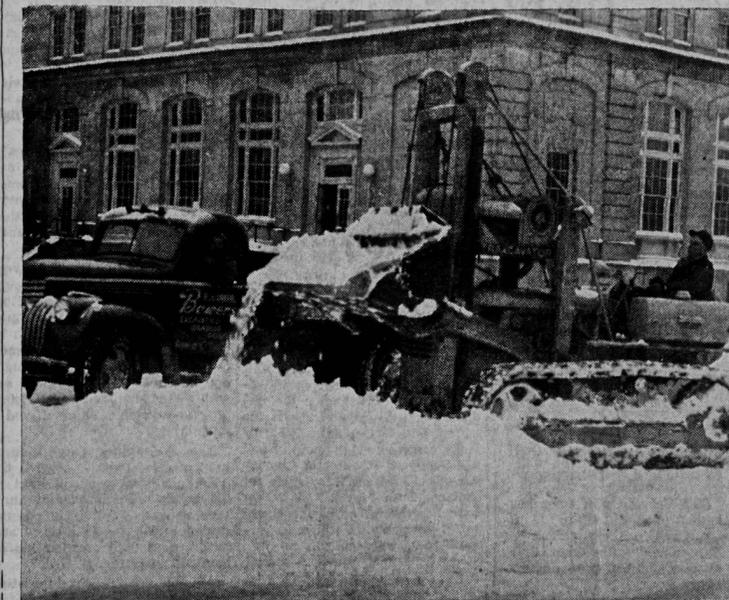

ROME (AP) — Thousands of Italian workers are going to be without their weekly pay envelopes today because of a nation-wide strike of bank employes.

Approximately 80,000 bank workers struck New Year's eve for renewal of their national contract which contained temporary pay increases. Four hours of discussions with employers failed to bring agreement last night.

This means that firms accustomed to drawing payroll money late Friday or Saturday morning can not pay off.

The Communist-dominated Italian General Confederation of Labor voted sympathy with the bank employes.

WORKMEN were busy with snow loaders yesterday removing the snow from downtown streets so that traffic could move more easily, as Iowa City began to dig itself out of Thursday's 6-inch snowfall. The big task of clearing the streets was expected to be finished by today.

Believe Safety Fuel Will Help Protect Planes From Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's special air safety inquiry board urged in a final report yesterday that individual airlines concentrate within their separate organizations the responsibility for safety of their passengers and personnel.

The majority report said that in its judgment "the greatest single contribution that could be made to fire protection is the development of a real safety fuel having a less volatile quality than the aviation gasoline now being used." It urged continued research.

The report proposed regular meetings of all who have an immediate concern with safety matters, such as maintenance officials, engineers, dispatchers and pilots. For the second phase the board proposed "something akin to a safety director."

The board said it isn't possible to govern irregular or contract air carriers under safety standards equal to those of regular air lines, but it said the standards now applicable to irregular carriers can "certainly be elevated."

The board said it had no reason to warrant any change "in the fairly unanimous opinion that use of parachutes (by airlines) would be undesirable as well as impractical."

Strike Rulings Set Precedent For Taft-Hartley Labor Law

Two precedent-making decisions under the Taft-Hartley labor law were made against unions yesterday even as new strikes broke against four overseas communications firms and an oil refinery.

In one decision, Examiner J. J. Fitzpatrick of the national labor relations board, ruled for the first time that a union had engaged in unfair labor practice.

In the other case, Federal District Judge Stephen W. Brennan at Utica, N.Y., issued an injunction against the AFL teamsters local 294 to prevent six alleged unfair labor practices. This was the first court injunction under the new labor law, the NLRB said in Washington.

Fitzpatrick found that a strike of four union carpenters, members of local 74 of the AFL carpenters union at Chattanooga, Tenn., had committed a secondary boycott, a violation of the Taft-Hartley law, in striking during a remodeling job to make their employer "cease doing business" with non-union workmen from a flooring installation firm working on the same project.

Brennan's injunction was to restrain the teamsters from insisting that the Conway express company pay to the union the equivalent of the wages for a union driver, as penalty for a trip handled by a non-union driver. The court called this "featherbedding."

Two unions, the CIO-American communications association and the independent All-America Cables employes association, were involved in the overseas communications strike of 3,500 workers demanding a 30 percent pay boost. The four firms handled an estimated two-thirds of message transmissions between the U. S. and abroad, and they said they operated at a loss in 1947.

IC Digs Out of 6-Inch Snow

By JO SMITH
The year of 1948 was off to a bad start so far as Iowa Citizens were concerned as they shoveled and plowed their way out of Thursday's 6-inch snowfall.

Street department crews began removing snow from downtown streets at midnight Thursday and planned to work all last night. Greatest damage in the storm area was reported by the telephone companies. Thousands of breaks in telephone lines and broken telephone poles in the immediate area were hindering repair service by approximately 200 workmen, including crews from distant points as far as Webster City.

The Northwestern Bell Telephone company office here hoped to have at least limited service in most of the area by noon today, Roy A. Williams, manager, reported.

Service to the near-by towns of Wellman, Lone Tree, and Hills was restored yesterday afternoon, but circuits still were closed to West Liberty, Downey, and West Branch. Washington, almost virtually isolated, could be reached only by a roundabout circuit.

It will be several days before normal conditions will be restored, according to Williams. Most of Iowa City streets are open, according to County Engineer Fred Gartzke, and workmen expect to complete removal of snow from downtown streets by noon today.

Cars parked overnight in the downtown area were hindering operations by the snow loaders, Gartzke said. The state highway commission reported highways out of Iowa City are cleared of snow, but removal of ice has not been too successful.

The county roads were cleared of drifts by last evening, the county engineer's office reported. Workmen have cleared the roadways and sidewalks on campus and in the housing areas, according to R. J. Phillips, maintenance superintendent.

United Air lines expects to have passenger service resumed today. Flights have been by-passing Iowa City and stopping at Cedar Rapids, with passengers from Iowa City being sent to that point.

Buses were leaving on schedule from the Union bus depot although some buses arriving in Iowa City from the east were delayed.

Rock Island trains were running 3 to 4 hours behind schedule, except for the eastbound local. There were no communications to the east. Interurban service between Iowa City and Cedar Rapids was operating on schedule.

Telegraph service out of Iowa City was normal, according to the local Western Union office, except to Ft. Madison and Keokuk to the southeast.

The local emergency amateur radio service offered six portable units to help keep communication open to near-by cities, and assisted in getting important messages in and out of isolated communities in southeast Iowa.

FRANCE AND AUSTRIA yesterday signed agreements with the U. S. accepting conditions laid down by congress in granting them a share of $522 million winter aid. The state department announced at the same time an initial $69,300,000 allotment to France of cereals and coal and a $21,294,000 allotment to Austria for a varied list of products. Italy also will share in the assistance. Italy's formal signature to a similar agreement is expected today.

SECRETARY of Agriculture Anderson last night expressed belief that meat rationing will be put into effect after congress gets back. He said he thought that the country will want rationing of meat by spring, but that such a program "must have a general voluntary acceptance in order to be successful." He said, "It is the strong demand that is shooting meat prices up."

HIGH BRITISH government officials disclosed last night in Jerusalem that wives and children of British officials in strife-torn Palestine "are being urged" to leave the country as soon as possible. They said there were no official plans yet for formal evacuation. Meanwhile, 12 more persons were killed in the Holy Land yesterday. The unofficial count of violent deaths rose to 519 since the UN voted for partition.

GREEK TROOPS that relieved the Konitsa garrison New Year's Eve moved westward out of the town yesterday to mop up guerrilla holdouts hampering the entry of further reinforcements, an Athens newspaper reported. The correspondent also reported a new battery of guerrilla artillery began firing yesterday at troops south and west of the Bourouani bridge, seven miles west of Konitsa.

SPEAKER Joseph W. Martin Jr. predicted yesterday that the house will pass a tax reduction bill this month. He expressed doubt that the senate would pass a tax cut bill in January, but he said action by the house would serve notice on the White House that such legislation was on the way.

Last of 12 Colorado Escapees Captured

CANON CITY, COLO. (AP)—A family was terrorized throughout Thursday night by the last of the Colorado prison's escaped convicts before he was captured early yesterday, a few hours after he relaxed his vigil to let the family's sick boy be taken to a doctor.

The surrender without a shot by murderer James Sherbondy, 28, spun the last threads in the pattern of bitter reprisal for the 12 dangerous criminals who broke out of the cellblock called "little Siberia" Tuesday night. None made good in his bid for freedom. Two were slain, four more were wounded, another was beaten by a hammer-swinging ranch wife and all the rest but Sherbondy were back behind the walls 18 hours after the break.

He told Warden Roy Best and newspapermen he "had a hunch" he would be taken, but "I couldn't let that little kid die."

The "little kid" was Jerry Bauer, 7-year-old sick son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer, who lived at Garden Park, a community three miles north of Canon City. The convict had terrorized the family during the night.

Declares Cost for First Year May Reach Four to Five Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Taft of Ohio called yesterday for an agreement among congressional Republicans on a GOP version of the Marshall plan.

Taft told a reporter he can not support President Truman's proposal for a four-year outlay that might, the senator said, total upwards of $20 billion. The administration has put the cost at $17 billion.

But he said he was "very anxious" that the Republicans get together as soon as possible on a program of economic assistance to western Europe.

"I think we will have to spend between $4 billion and $5 billion in the first year in helping European nations help themselves and thus aid them in containing communism within its present bounds," the Ohioan said.

"But if the administration insists on the Marshall plan in its present form and resists changes in it, then cannot support it."

The administration's program, based on proposals made by Secretary of State Marshall, envisions aid to 16 western European countries and western Germany.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) disclosed meanwhile that he has asked the Brookings institution, privately endowed research organization, to survey the chief proposals that have been made for operating the European recovery program.

How the program should be run is "one of the major problems," said Vandenberg, chairman of the foreign relations committee. He added that there is "wide divergence of opinion."

The senator said he expected the institution to present "the most thorough and the most authentic studies" on the question to the foreign affairs committee by mid-January.

Taft, at a news conference later, said he thought Vandenberg's decision "a very good idea."

Officer Reports Bird Admits Other Murders

TACOMA, WASH. (AP)—Pierce County Undersheriff Joseph Karpach said yesterday that Jake Bird, doomed slayer of Mrs. Bertha Kludt, has signed a written confession admitting "about six or seven other murders."

Karpach would not reveal the names of Bird's other victims nor details concerning them, but he said he expected "developments" within the next few days.

Bird, 45, sentenced to hang Jan. 16 for the Kludt murder, admitted in death cell interview with a reporter Thursday that he killed Mrs. Marie Manners, 81, at Pueblo, Colo., but he gave no details.

In Iowa, Governor Blue has ordered an inquiry after receiving word that Bird admitted a 1928 slaying for which an Iowa man has served 19 years of a life sentence.

IOWA CITY motorists found their cars half buried yesterday morning under snowdrifts after the New Year's day storm of ice and snow. Scoops and shovels were busy removing the blanket of snow, but the layer of ice underneath the snow was more difficult. Little Hawks Whip Clinton Quintet, 45-26

Balanced Scoring Attack Leads to Easy City High Win

By 'SPANK' BROTHERS
City high's Little Hawks started out the new year in grand fashion as they defeated Clinton's River Kings in a Mississippi Valley conference game on the City high floor last night, 45-26.

Balanced scoring among the starting Hawklet five proved the deciding factor in the outcome of the contest. Every man in the Little Hawk starting lineup scored three points or more. Bill Reichardt, City high forward, was high point man for the evening with 13 points. Bob "Whitey" Diehl scored five times from the floor to net 10 of the Red and White points.

Jack Harden Leads Los Angeles Open; Hogan, Spiller 2nd

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leading the field with the tournament favorites in close pursuit, Jack Harden, 33-year-old ex-GI from El Paso, Tex., fired a subpar 67 yesterday in the first round of the annual $10,000 Los Angeles open.

On stroke back of the Texas professional were defending Champion Ben Hogan and a Bill Spiller, 24-year-old former Los Angeles red cap, who carded identical nine holes scores of 36-32—68 for the par 35-36—71 layout of the Riviera Country club.

South Africa's Bobby Locke and former U.S. National open Champion Lloyd Mangrum of Los Angeles, finishing the round as fog and darkness closed in, matched scores with 70s, three strokes back of the darkhorse pace setter Harden.

Sam Snead, a former Los Angeles open winner, and Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., one-time PGA titleholder, quit the course at the 12th hole, both even with par, and will finish the round today.

Locke, who picked up $24,327 in tournament play in this country last year, shot a 34-36 and Mangrum 35-35—both good scores in view of the hurrying darkness.

Vic Ghezzi, Kansas City, Kan., had a 69. He won the event in 1935.

Even with par 71 were Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena and Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich.

Bracketed in the 72s were 10 players, including the low amateur for the day, Bruce McCormick of Los Angeles, who had a 32 going out and blew to a 40 coming back.

Also at 72 were PGA Champion Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, Argentina's Roberto de Vincenzo, National open Champion Lew Worsham and Johnny Palmer of Baden, N. C.

UP FOR TWO POINTS — Rox Shain (16), Iowa City high school center, arches a shot toward the basket in last night's Clinton-Hawklet game. Others shown in the picture are Gene Hettrick (12), City High forward, and Guard Domasalla (35) and Forward Ferguson (32), both of the River Kings. The Hawklets won easily, 45-26. (Daily Iowan Photo by Pete Dickinson)

Big Gene Hettrick fashioned 10 counters also, even though he missed 11 of 14 gift tosses.

The Clinton defense, in an effort to stop the big Hawklet pivot man, fouled frequently and as a result the River Kings lost their first string center, Holcom, via the personal foul route early in the second half.

Both teams played ragged defensive ball and the passing was none too accurate at times.

The game opened as though it was going to be a thriller but the thrills lasted only the first eight minutes.

"Whitey" Diehl of City high and "Lindy" Lane, Clinton forward, scored three fast field goals before the first period was a minute and 15 seconds old. Diehl made an uncanny push shot from the side and Lane, on the receiving end of the fast break, also eased one through the netting from the corner of the floor to start a hectic first quarter which ended with the score all tied up at eight points apiece.

After that the outcome of the game was never in doubt.

The Clinton sophomore team defeated the Hawklet sophomores in a preliminary game, 39-29.

Butler Rolls Over Hoosier Five, 64-51

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Butler university's Bulldogs poured in baskets from all angles last night to defeat Indiana university, 64 to 51, and finish as the top team in the first annual Hoosier collegiate basketball classic at Butler fieldhouse. Butler defeated Purdue Thursday night, 52 to 50, and Indiana trounced Notre Dame, 72 to 46.

Notre Dame outlasted Purdue 42 to 40 for consolation honors.

Indiana, hitting from everywhere against Notre Dame Friday night, had lost its accuracy overnight while Butler was just as hot as it had been in beating Purdue's Bollermakers.

Butler connected with 21 of 69 field goal attempts while Indiana eked off only 18 of 72. In the last half Indiana made only eight of 28 shots from the floor.

Indiana's Hoosiers held an eight-point lead late in the first half but Butler hustled back to take a 32-28 advantage at the midway point.

Indiana crawled back to a one-point lead early in the final period but Butler poured in five quick points and won going away.

Guard Jimmy Doyle, who repeatedly streaked under the Indiana basket, was Butler's top scorer with 17 points. Charley Maas contributed 16 points and Bill Shepherd 10. Center Charley Meyer's 12 points were high for Indiana. Both Meyer and Center John Barrowcliff of Butler fouled out of the game, in which 45 personal fouls were called.

Hawkeye Cage Squad To Fly to Ohio State

The University of Iowa basketball team will fly to Columbus, Ohio, for their opening Big Nine game with Ohio State Monday night, it was announced yesterday.

The Hawks will leave Iowa City with a 12-man squad along with Coach Pops Harrison and Trainer Doyle Allison Sunday afternoon. The trip will take three hours.

If weather conditions are bad, they will take the train.

Pacific Coast Praises Michigan Wolves Celebrate Rose Bowl Triumph With Evening Out

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Michigan's all-conquering Wolverines, the plaudits of Rose Bowl observers still ringing loud in their ears, boarded a noon train yesterday taking them back to their Ann Arbor lair.

Coach Fritz Crisler, his 44 players and assistants left on a special section of the Santa Fe Super Chief at 11:59 p.m. (CST) after an "evening on the town" celebrating their tremendous 49-0 victory over Southern California's Trojans.

"Relax and enjoy yourselves" was Crisler's only post-game instructions after the game. And they immediately struck out for the bright lights of Los Angeles and Hollywood.

Injuries in the contest were minor. All-America Bob Chappuis, who passed and ran to a new Rose Bowl record of 279 yards, aggravated a torn leg muscle which he claimed "slowed me up some."

End Dick Rifenburg, who caught one touchdown pass, came out with a hurt shoulder, and his running mate, Bob Mann, suffered a knee injury.

The Wolverines carried armfuls of newspapers aboard the train, planning to spend most of the homeward trip reading their rave notices which included unstinted praise for their speed and blocking, as well as their much-heralded deception.

Cage Official Blasts Coaches Eastern Referee Says Coaches Should Change Rules to Stop 'Whistle-Tooting'

NEW YORK (AP)—There may be too much whistle blowing at college basketball games but the fault lies not with the officials as has been charged by court mentors, but with the coaches themselves, Matty Begovich, leading eastern referee, declared yesterday.

"If you want to eliminate some of the whistle tooting," Begovich suggested, "don't hint to the officials to overlook fouls as some coaches have been quoted recently as asking, but do something about the rules. That is where the fault lies—in the rule book. And who makes the rules? The Coaches Rules committee."

Begovich's heated reply was directed mainly at Coaches Wilbur Johns of UCLA and Jack Gray of Texas. Johns, who also happens to be chairman of the Rules committee, stated at a luncheon here last week that in his opinion "the officials were ruining the game for the fans with too much whistle blowing."

Gray, in viewing a game between Pennsylvania and Illinois two weeks ago, remarked "I thought one of the officials would swallow his whistle. It hardly ever left his mouth."

"It is unfair to criticize the officials as spoiling the game for the fans," Begovich protested. "It's those new rules that cause all the whistle blowing. What people don't consider is that basketball as played yesterday is far different from what it used to be years ago. It has been speeded up tremendously. From a slow deliberate style, it has changed to a race horse style with players moving at top speed most of the time."

"Consequently many more violations are being committed than previously," he added. "The officials must adhere to the rules. If in his judgment a foul has been committed he has no recourse but to blow that whistle and call it."

"Johns' statement that officials often anticipate fouls and blow their whistles as a matter of course is ridiculous. Officials don't cause fouls and no competent official blows the whistle except when necessary. In fact, top-notch referees try to avoid namby-pamby fouls in order not to spoil the game for the fans."

"A referee must have undergone a long term apprenticeship and must be fully qualified before he is allowed to handle a college game by Asa Bushnell, chairman of the Eastern College Athletic conference. Bushnell keeps tabs on all officials and makes all the assignments."

"Let all those who are sniping at the officials consider this point," Begovich warned. "If we overlooked some infractions, it would only cause some players to commit more fouls and before you know it the game would be out of control and a player might become injured. Remember, there is nothing a referee would like more than to officiate a game in which no whistle need be blown."

Hawks Face Princeton Tonight

Final Iowa Tune-Up Tilt

The University of Iowa basketball team goes into its last tune-up non-conference game tonight before embarking on a long, arduous Big Nine schedule with Ohio State at Columbus Monday night.

For the second time this week the Hawks will entertain an Ivy league team from the east, this time the Princeton Tigers from New Jersey. The Iowa casters defeated Harvard New Year's eve, 61-41.

Game time is 8 p.m. in the Iowa fieldhouse.

The Tigers will bring the shortest team in point of overall height that has faced the Hawkeyes this season, averaging a flat six-feet. The Hawks will average close to six-two.

As was the case with Harvard, this will be the first meeting of a University of Iowa athletic squad with a team representing Princeton with a team representing Princeton.

But for Frank Cappel, Tiger coach, it will be an old experience to field a team against the Hawks. Cappel coached at Michigan from 1929 to 1938.

Iowa Coach Pops Harrison is expected to start the same five men that opened against the Crimson of Harvard—Murray Wier and Floyd Magnusson, forwards; Red Metcalfe, center, and Bob Schulz and Jack Spencer, guards.

Leading the Tiger attack will be three veterans from last year's team, including Captain George Lawry, forward, who set an all-time Princeton scoring record of 295 points last season. Joe Holman, the other forward, made 174 points last season and Guard George Sella averaged 13 points per game on the Tiger freshman five.

There will be plenty of seats, both reserved and general admission on sale for the game.

The probable starting lineups: St. Mary's high school of Iowa City will play a preliminary game with Immaculate Conception of Charles City beginning at 6 p.m.

Big Nine Race Opens Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Nine basketball race will open tonight with a two-game card featured by defending Champion Wisconsin's clash with unbeaten Illinois, currently stamped as the team to beat for the conference crown.

In addition to the Illini invasion of Wisconsin, Northwestern and Ohio State launch the conference campaign at Columbus, Ohio. Two other Big Nine quintets, undefeated Iowa and Michigan, see action tonight in non-loop jousts, the Hawkeyes seeking their sixth straight win against Princeton at home and the Wolverines invading University of Toledo.

Harry Combes, only new coach in the conference, has assembled a surprising Illinois team which fashioned a sizzling average of almost 65 points per game in defeating Coe, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Washington State (twice) and Harvard for a perfect 7-0 pre-campaign record.

The Illini will face a Badger outfit which tuned-up for the conference chase with an unimpressive 4-3 record, but still is unbeaten this season on its own court and packs enough scoring punch to spring an upset.

Michigan or Irish? AP to Poll Question

NEW YORK (AP)—Which is the better football team—Michigan or Notre Dame?

This hot stove—or is it hot gridiron?—question looks like the winter's major subject for debate.

So The Associated Press, conductor of the weekly football polls during the regular collegiate football season, is polling member newspapers throughout the country.

Each paper is to ballot on which team it likes—as of now—Michigan or Notre Dame.

The regular AP poll closed after Dec. 6 with Notre Dame ranking first with 1,140 points, and Michigan second with 1,289.

Votes must be in by noon Monday, Jan. 5.

Robert Layne Myers First IC Baby of 1948

THE WINNER of the 1948 Daily Iowan baby derby, Robert Layne Myers, who weighed in at 8 lb. 3 oz., is shown resting on his laurels after greeting the new year when it was 1 hour and 40 minutes old. The two pleased looking persons are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Myers, 419 S. Governor street. (Daily Iowan Photo by Dick Davis)

Bobbie Wins Daily Iowan Baby Derby

By BOB HOOVER
Husky 8 lb. 3 oz. Robert Layne Myers arrived to greet 1948 at Mercy hospital just 100 minutes after weary old 1947 slipped away, winning the 1948 Daily Iowan baby derby and prizes from 20 Iowa City merchants for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Myers, 419 S. Governor street.

As the first 1948 baby born in Iowa City, Bobbie will receive everything from 60 quarts of milk to a bottle of cod liver oil, even a box of cigars for pappa to pass around.

Bobbie, who wasn't scheduled to arrive until Jan. 8, gave his parents "quite a surprise" by coming with the new year. Mama arrived at the hospital at 11:50 p.m. New Year's eve.

He was delivered by Dr. Pauline Moore, assisted by Nurse Marilyn Suplee.

A boy was just what daddy ordered, too, what with a step-daughter five years old and a daughter who will be 13 months old tomorrow.

Myers has lived in Iowa City about 16 years, coming here from Newton. His wife, the former Margarite Machovec, is a native Iowa Citian.

The Myers' were married April 28, 1946, after Robert had spent four years in the Marine corps, part of the time in the south Pacific. Myers drives a taxi for the Varsity-Hawkeye cab company.

Robert Leonard said his son was named Robert Layne after a fellow cab driver who stood up for the couple when they were married.

Following is a list of cooperating merchants and their prizes:

Kelley cleaners, $5 worth of dry cleaning or laundry.

Woodburn sound service, recording of baby's first words.

Curtis florists, flowers.

Student supply, piggy bank.

Yellow cab, ride home.

Dixie Donut shop, 4 dozen donuts.

Mulford electric, bottle sterilizer.

Swaner dairy, 30 quarts of milk.

Condon's, baby blanket.

Fruit Basket, basket of fruit.

Boerner's pharmacy, quart of cod liver oil.

Young's studio, free photograph each month for six months.

Morris furniture, nursery seat.

Aldous flower shop, flowers.

Herten & Stocker, baby locket and bracelet.

Racines, box of 50 cigars.

Pipal's market, picnic ham.

The Book Shop, baby record book.

Model dairy, 30 quarts of milk.

Reich's cafe, dinner for parents.

Although husks of coir, made from the cores of coconuts, is not as strong as other ropes, it has a remarkable buoyancy and does not rot easily.

Kelley To Direct Red Cross Drive

A. O. Kelley, Iowa City insurance agent, will direct a county-wide 1948 Red Cross campaign, beginning March 1. The announcement was made Thursday by Dean Wilbur J. Teeters, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter.

About 75 percent of the money will be used locally. Johnson county is permitted to retain more money than some other counties because aid is given to a larger number of veterans.

Normally, less than 50 percent of the national goal of $74,000,000 is intended for local chapters. Majority of the funds goes to the national organization for relief in disaster areas.

Marriage Licenses Drop One in 1947

The number of marriage licenses issued in Johnson county in 1947 was lower than the number issued in 1946—but it's nothing to worry about.

The 1947 total of 862 licenses was only one less than the 1946 total.

In the district court, just above the office where District Court Clerk R. Neilson Miller issues the marriage licenses, 89 divorces were granted in 1947. Divorces totaled 109 in 1946 and 80 in 1945.

On the basis of 1947 statistics, there was one divorce for every 9.6 marriage licenses issued.

Offers Assistance on Income Tax Returns

C. J. Hutchinson, deputy collector of the internal revenue bureau, yesterday announced the hours for the internal revenue office in the post office.

The office will be open for assistance and advice in the preparation of federal income tax returns and estimated income tax reports.

The hours are from 7:45 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. daily except Saturday and Sunday until January 15.

Hutchinson said that offices in Cedar Rapids and Davenport will also be open additional hours for advice during this period.

Farmers who are required to file an estimate of their 1947 income, farmers who wish to amend an estimate already filed, and persons who have a taxable income of more than $100 on which withholding tax did not apply, must have their returns in by January 15.

Two Damage Suits Start 1948 Session in Johnson Court

The first district court trial in Johnson county in 1948 is scheduled to begin Monday at 10 a.m. when attorneys begin selecting a petit jury to hear the case of Robert Meade vs. the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway company.

Meade is suing the railway for $823.25 damages he claims resulted when a Crandic interurban struck a tractor-trailer outfit owned by him. The accident occurred at the intersection of Madison and Court streets Dec. 15, 1946. Meade's petition states that Vincent Kinney, then employed by Meade, was driving the tractor.

Meade is represented by Attorney Will J. Hayek. The railway is represented by D. C. Nolan and a Cedar Rapids attorney.

Scheduled to follow the Meade-railway trial is the suit of F. J. Peterson vs. Victor R. Breza. Peterson seeks $1,847.93 damages from Breza for damages to Peterson's truck. Peterson's petition charges that the truck was damaged when it was hit by a car driven by Breza on a county road north of Solon.

Peterson is represented by Edward L. O'Connor and a Clinton attorney. Breza is represented by a Cedar Rapids law firm.

Three other civil cases and seven criminal cases are scheduled for trial during January.

Wallace's Third Party

Wallace Truman Taft

Will The Left Elect the Right?

A few weeks ago Henry Wallace announced he'd support Senator Taft in preference to President Truman. Then next day he took it back, claiming it was all a big joke.

When Wallace made his third party announcement this week, he just emphasized that he meant what he said the first time, after all.

That's the only way we can interpret his decision to quit the Democratic party and run for president as an independent.

The split in the Democratic party can only aid Senator Taft. As the Ohioan said on the night of Wallace's announcement, "It can't do anything but help."

Wallace's candidacy, then, is likely to give Taft the nomination without too much opposition. The Ohioan is certainly the darling of the standpatters who control the Republican party. The only chance for a "liberal" of any kind on the Republican ticket would be if a vote-getter were needed.

But with Wallace splitting the Democrats, Taft's nomination is made that much more likely. And his chances of election are also thereby increased—providing that Wallace sticks it out and is able to obtain a place on the ballot in crucial states.

Wallace's supporters know full well he hasn't a prayer for winning the election. But his strength might be enough to insure the election of an arch-reactionary.

Now wouldn't the Wallace crowd feel proud of themselves if that happened? Yes sir, they could go down in history as the "liberals" who elected Taft to the presidency of the United States! If there is any common meeting place for politicians after this life, Wallace and Taft ought to be forced to play the same harp—what wonderful accompanists they are, and what a team!

The issue is not peace, as Wallace would have us believe. That is a smokescreen, designed to draw attention from the political facts of life.

The issue is not whether the Truman administration is perfect—no administration is or could be. And we have at times tried to point out some of its shortcomings.

The issue clearly is whether a group of die-hard "liberals" will sacrifice the country to a die-hard reactionary for the sake of their own petty vanities and stubborn unwillingness to get along on anything but their own terms.

Wallace had it right the first time—the issue is Taft or Truman.

Cooperation Asked in Shoveling Sidewalks

Not all Iowa Citizens can use an army flame-thrower to remove snow from their walks—as this soldier is doing. But they can still get the job done.

The recent heavy snow has made sidewalks dangerous. Older persons and children will find them especially hazardous.

This is a plea to shovel your sidewalk.

It's our business to report the news—but we don't want to report that some person slipped and perhaps badly injured himself because of unshoveled walks. And we're sure you wouldn't want to be the cause back of that injury.

Old Man Winter is a dangerous enough foe without giving him added cause for glee. If sidewalks are promptly cleared of snow and ice, walking will be much more convenient and less dangerous.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS—

China Knows '48 Is Year of Decision

By FRED HAMPSON
AP Chief of Bureau in China
SHANGHAI (AP)—China, probably the world's most serious infection point of war and want, heads into the new year with growing apprehension that 1948 will be a year of decision.

of warlords and limited to certain provinces whose economy was controlled largely by foreign influence or management.

China fought that kind of war for some 20 years without seriously undermining her national life.

Now extraterritoriality is gone and the foreigner is pretty much a bystander watching the Chinese themselves throwing China's entire resources into the civil war, and the drain is a thousand times greater.

China is trying to fight this kind of war after being half wrecked in eight years of war with Japan.

1948 Rounds Out the 'Decade of Destiny' Which Brought War, Then Uneasy Peace

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — With the dawning of 1948, the United States and the world round out what historians already are calling "the tremendous decade—1938-48."

In ten short years most of the civilized nations of the world have spun the cycle from widespread peace to all-pervasive war and back to peace again.

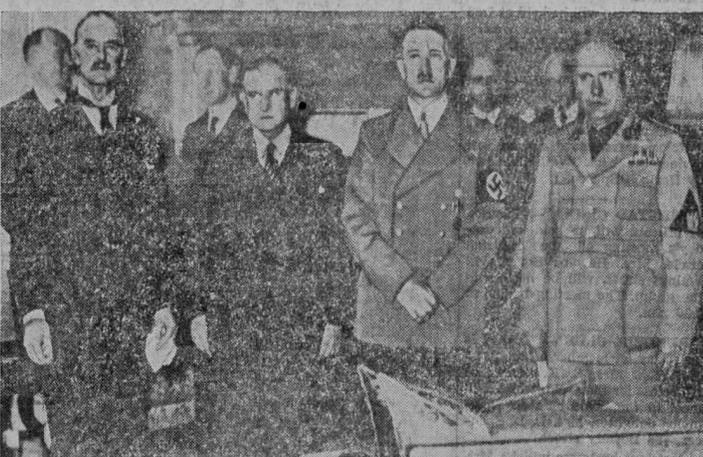

The year 1938 probably will go down as the beginning of the action-packed 10 years that saw the Fascists of Hitler, Mussolini and Japan swept to destruction, and the emergence in 1947-48 of an entirely new cast of main characters on the world's ever-changing stage.

Smack in the middle of the tremendous 10 years just passed came discovery of atomic energy, now viewed by scientists — the longest range observers of all—as the opening of the Atomic Age.

It was in portentous 1938 that the Munich pact emboldened Hitler and Mussolini a year later to plunge the world into its second world war within a quarter of a century.

WHEN New Year's eve was celebrated 10 years ago, the big names in the news included Adolf Hitler, Neville Chamberlain, Edward Daladier and Benito Mussolini.

Harry S. Truman was a freshman United States senator from Missouri, Clement A. Attlee was just another Labor party leader in England, Gen. Douglas MacArthur was a retired United States Army general coaching a neophyte

THE MUNICH BIG FOUR — British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain (left), French Premier Eduard Daladier, German Reichschancellor Adolf Hitler and Italian Premier Benito Mussolini.

Phillippine army of scouts, and Dwight D. Eisenhower, Omar Bradley, and the late George Patton were up-an-coming members of the "new crop" of Army general officers.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was anxiously watching the retreat of the recession that had been grimly reminiscent of the not long gone depression.

Winston Churchill still was a British voice crying in the wilderness against appeasement of the Nazis, and biting off the fighting words that stamped him as the logical man to whom the English would turn when unprecedented crisis confronted them after the collapse of Chamberlain's abortive effort to "preserve peace in our time."

Russia unfolded its constitution before a skeptical world and held "popular elections" to the supreme Soviet. One Josef Stalin, was a "candidate" in that election, and in January, 1938, took his seat in the Kremlin as one of the official delegates.

Carol was king in Romania, preparing to abolish parliamentary government and step closer to the expanding Nazi orbit which eventually would add him to the growing company of "royal tramps" soon to be scattered to the four corners of the earth feeding on past glory.

Riding high were arrogant Joachim von Ribbentrop in Germany and Mussolini's ill-fated son-in-law, Galeazzo Ciano, preparing to officiate at the carving up of Czechoslovakia and never dreaming what the "tremendous decade" had in store for them.

The Loyalists of the Spanish civil war were in their final death throes, and along with the firecrackers heralding the advent of 1938 and the tumultuous 10 years were bombs that screamed down on Barcelona, killing 1,000 men, women, and children in a grim warning of what soon was to be visited on other European and Asiatic cities on a vastly greater scale.

Quietly working in modest laboratories over the world were men and women whose names then were known mainly to scientists, but who now are among the top personalities as a troubled world tries to see what the new 10 years will bring—either a new destructive cycle or the building of a lasting structure for peace.

In their scientific publications the physicists were writing with tense excitement of experiments

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

New Year's Eve Party

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

The boss called Harry in. "Harry," he said, "you wouldn't mind taking just one little out-of-town trip for me, would you? I'm afraid it means getting on the train early New Year's eve, but you'd be back in twelve days."

And miss a week of classes, Harry thought. Yet he knew that a young man on the way up was not supposed to be impulsive, and certainly not stubborn. Both very bad.

"Sure I mind," he said, however. "I'd like to get out of it, if I could."

"All right," said the boss, in an unpromising tone.

Then, naturally, Harry worried about it. It would make a pleasant New Year's eve and day to be home. But it might not make so good a year to have started that way.

He walked home, and he thought: Well, that's one thing my night classes give me that's not included in the tuition. If I didn't have them as my big interest, I'd never have said no. I'd be a pretty scared fellow.

He pushed the door open, and there was a dog on the rug, a small, frightened, roach-built, vaguely spaniel type.

"Found him on the sidewalk," said Margaret. "He doesn't like snow, and I took him in. The janitor says he's been around for weeks."

Harry leaned over to pet the small beast, who backed away.

Then Margaret looked up and told him.

"Jerry's lost his job," she said. "Owooh! thought Harry. Sign and portent? Symbol? His friend, Jerry, with whom he so often discussed the economic situation in the general. Now they would have to discuss it in the particular."

"You ought to call him," said Margaret. "He sounded this morning as if he'd like to talk to you."

"All right," said Harry, and sat down beside the phone. Maybe he should have taken that trip, and forgotten about his classes. It was going to be one of the less memorable New Year's days.

The phone rang, then, and it felt as if it had jumped under his hand. He picked it up.

"Hey, Harry," said Jerry. "I've got New Year's all fixed. We'll all drive to my dizzy uncle's up in the hills on New Year's eve, and get some skiing in next day. What do you say?"

"What about our job?" asked Harry.

"Oh, that. I have a new one. I'm selling cars, and I have the use of one."

Harry hung up. It would be a funny little caravan, leaving from in front of the brownstone on New Year's eve. A little car full of insecurity, himself a bit concerned about his job, Jerry with one foot in a new one, and Margaret, who was staking her whole life on his becoming something through his evening classes.

The neighbors would look through their windows and see the gay party taking off. But what a wobbly party with the little insecurities propping each other up, and making a kind of security, even if only a temporary one, even if only a party, out of the whole. That was the way it was, he thought, a slightly rickety structure, but good for the years, as the multiple insecurities braced each other.

He looked at the small, quivering animal, eyeing him bleakly from the rug.

"We'll take the dog, too," he said. "He belongs."

'Old Look'

'New Look' Now Old As 1947, Writer Says

As "we the women" follow the New Year (we are always being accused of following something) we must discard something that we have been chasing since the middle of June—"the new look."

For no longer can our 1927-length skirts and our century-old dropped neck-lines be labeled "new," but must become part of "old" 1947 and therefore the style of the moment must be called "the old look."

Perhaps if "it" is thus retitled, the women of America can relax a bit. The volumes written describing every detail of what the woman dressed to perfection should be wearing turned millions of scrutinizing and critical eyes upon our wardrobes. We were straining to watch up and keep ahead, if possible, with the "new look," even in the face of strong opposition. We were visibly tiring from such terrific effort.

But from this morning forward, dressing to the 1947 dictates of the fashion designer, the garment manufacturer and the fashion magazine should be relatively effortless.

Today the "new look" is, as has been proven, the "old look," and obviously it is much more relaxing to conform to the old than it is racing to meet the new, be it dress, speech, manner, society or prices. Now, if the "old look" will wait for us!

Joyce Carlton Wed To Robert Payne in Florida Ceremony

Before a candle-lit altar banked with poinsettias and potted palms, Joyce Carlton and Robert Payne were married Dec. 29 in the First Methodist church at Plant City, Fla. The Rev. H. Carter Hardin performed the double ring ceremony, which was held at 5:30 p.m.

Maid of honor was Marian Miles, Plant City. Bridesmaids were Patricia Carlton, Bartow, Fla., cousin of the bride; Patricia Payne, sister of the bridegroom, Oelwein; Betty Ruth Goode, Holopaw, Fla., and Barbara Boring, Wildwood, Fla. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Roger Nichols, Waverly, was best man. Ushers were George and Bruce Carlton, brothers of the bride, and David Walden, all of Plant City, and Warren Payne, brother of the bridegroom, Oelwein.

Wedding music included "A Winter Sunset," "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," "The Lord's Prayer," "Because" and "Oh, Perfect Love."

Mr. and Mrs. Payne took a wedding trip to Cleveland to attend the Methodist Student conference.

The bride, a graduate of Plant City high school and Florida State College For Women, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James DeWitt Carlton of Plant City, Fla.

Mr. Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Payne, Oelwein, was graduated from Oelwein high school and the University of Iowa.

Princess Elizabeth 'Woman of the Year'

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Woman's Editor

Because a royal love story for a while overshadowed news of threatened wars and current disasters, editors of Associated Press newspapers have voted Princess Elizabeth of England the woman of the year.

Results of the annual poll were almost unanimous, proving that even in a hard-bitten modern world, scarred by catastrophe, the romance of a beautiful princess and her Prince tops politics, intrigue and treason in public interest.

Among other women voted outstanding in their respective fields for 1947 are four new personalities who zoomed into the news spotlight for first time this year.

Dr. Gerty Theresa Cori, joint winner with her husband, Dr. Ferdinand Cori, of this year's Nobel prize for medicine, was voted outstanding woman in the field of science. Both Drs. Cori are faculty members at Washington University, St. Louis.

Hailed as the singing sensation of the year, Dorothy Shuddy, the young singer who suddenly found herself famous for her hill-billy songs, "Feudin' and Fightin'," won top position among women in radio.

Pretty June Lockhart, 22-year-old daughter of veteran character actors Gene and Kathleen Lockhart, was voted outstanding woman of 1947 in drama after her sensational hit in the play "Love or Money," which opened late this year.

Named this year's queen of He is now enrolled in the Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill. The couple will make their home in Evanston.

beauty was Barbara Jo Walker, of Memphis, who was crowned Miss America 1947 at Atlantic City in September.

Familiar names make up the rest of the list. They are: Sarah Gibson Blanding, president of Vassar College, named for the second consecutive year the outstanding woman in the field of education.

Ingrid Bergman, two-time winner of the designation No. 1 woman of the movies.

Babe Didrikson Zaharias, again voted outstanding in the field of sports, after becoming the first American woman to win the British woman's amateur golf championship.

Dorothy Shaver, president of the New York department store, Lord and Taylor, named for the second time outstanding woman in business.

Rebecca West, voted tops in the field of literature because of her recent sensational book, "The Meaning of Treason," expanded from her news stories on the trials of British traitors.

Eleanor Roosevelt, voted outstanding in public service because of her active role in the United Nations.

Love Conquers Even A Locked Courthouse

Resourceful Kenneth L. Lintz, 18, Kalona, didn't let a closed Johnson county courthouse stop him from getting his marriage license—the first issued in 1948.

R. Neilson Miller, clerk of district court, told Lintz late Wednesday afternoon that the courthouse would be closed New Year's day, and Lintz didn't have all the necessary documents to get his license Wednesday. But Miller said he would be in his office preparing his quarterly report Jan. 1.

Thursday forenoon, Lintz came up the fire escape, tapped on Miller's window and got the license.
