WASHINGTON (AP)—The supreme court held yesterday that California discriminated unconstitutionally against a citizen of Japanese ancestry when it seized lands which his father, ineligible for citizenship and therefore barred from landownership, had bought in the son's name.

The court came close to throwing out a provision of the California law.

Chief Justice Vinson wrote: The discrimination is based solely on his parents' country of origin.

Another 6-3 ruling granted a new hearing to Mrs. Marianna von Moltke of Detroit, convicted of aiding a Nazi spy ring.

Mrs. von Moltke, German born wife of a former instructor in German at Wayne university, contended she was "misled" by FBI agents into pleading guilty. She also asserted she was denied aid of a lawyer.

In another civil rights case, the court set aside the conviction of Albert Lee, a Jackson, Miss., Negro, sentenced to 18 years in prison on a charge of assault with intent to rape.

Lee in appealing contended that a purported confession in the case was "extorted by duress, fear, threats and physical violence."

Vote Negroes to Separate Oklahoma Law School

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—The Oklahoma state regents for higher education yesterday established a Negro school of law in Oklahoma City as a branch of Langston Negro university.

A Negro leader said there would be "no acceptance of a Jim Crow law school."

The school was established after the supreme court of the United States ordered Oklahoma to provide equal law school facilities for Negroes and whites.

Oklahoma's constitution requires separate schools.

Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher, 23-year-old Negro woman who sought for two years in the courts a decision to permit her to enter the University of Oklahoma law school, filed application to enroll Monday morning. She would make no comment on the regents' action.

The new law school must be established by next Monday to meet the needs of Mrs. Fisher, honor graduate of Langston university at Langston, Okla., the state's only institution of higher learning for Negroes.

Reverend Dunjee, a national director for the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, said, "I can't see how the regents can give us a school next Monday which is equal in faculty and facilities."

Some GOPers Urge Rationing of Meat

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Republicans proposed yesterday to ration meat, if necessary in a time of shortage, and to extend rent controls for more than a year.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) and Rep. Javits (R-N.Y.) introduced a bill to give the agriculture department $1-million to print ration books and otherwise prepare to ration meat "when the crisis comes upon us, if it does come."

Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) and Baldwin (R-Conn.), two lawmakers who say they "don't like rent control," introduced their bill to extend controls until June 30, 1949.

An Ives-Baldwin statement said extension "is necessary to prevent unbridled bidding for needed and limited living quarters."

Taft said Mr. Truman's request for power to put on rationing and price controls where he thinks they are needed to fight inflation is "fundamentally the wrong approach."

Accuses House Group Of 'Intimidating' AFM

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich) accused the nation's four major radio networks yesterday of trying to use house labor committee hearings "to intimidate the American Federation of Musicians" during contract negotiations.

His charge was hotly denied by Mark Woods, president of the American Broadcasting Co., inc., and Chairman Hartley (R-NJ) added that he takes "full responsibility" for calling the current sessions.

Lesinski asked whether major networks are holding back the development of FM because of their large investments in standard broadcasting equipment.

Woods declared he has "never seen any indication" of such a thing.

Marshall Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Francis Case (R-S.D.) told the house yesterday he is doubtful Secretary of State Marshall is the "best fitted man" in the nation for his job.

"It may be heresy, but great man as he is, I have my doubts that he is the best-fitted man in the country for secretary of state.

His thinking is typical of the career military mind turned to diplomacy."

International Hint of Agreement In Indian Warfare

LAKE SUCCESS, (AP)—Hints of "some agreement" in the Kashmir dispute emerged yesterday from a secret conference between Indian and Pakistani delegations arguing the case here before the security council.

India has charged that Pakistan aided tribal invaders who have penetrated a considerable distance into the princely state in northernmost India.

OTHER UN ACTION:

1. The Arab higher committee for Palestine formally notified the UN it would not take part in discussions on the partition of the Holy Land.

2. Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko told the political committee of the UN atomic energy commission that the delegates were "wasting time" studying organization of a world atomic control machine before agreeing on the "important question of principles."

3. G.J. Van Heuven Goedhart, editor of the Amsterdam newspaper "Het Parool," was re-elected chairman of the UN sub-commission on freedom of information and of the press.

Bernard Baruch Has Busy Day Advising Congress on ERP, Taxes

He Proposes 'Global Strategy' for United States Peacemaking Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "global strategy for American peacemaking," with this country pledging itself to wage war if necessary to defend a new European union against aggression, was proposed yesterday by Bernard M. Baruch.

The 77-year-old financier couched his proposal with a call for a two-year production drive "to work for peace as we worked for war" here at home and for "a bold, resolute, concerted attack against the clawing fears of inflation and of another war."

He said this country should offer to buy all the world's raw material surplus for the next five years.

Baruch approved in general the administration's $6.8-billion European recovery program.

He took sides with the administration on the question of how European aid should be managed, saying congress should give "full operating powers" to a single administrator responsible to the President and secretary of state in foreign policy matters.

A number of influential Republicans are contending that operation of the program should be divorced from the state department.

The tall, silver-haired advisor to many presidents urged that "the countries of Europe — as many as are willing — band themselves into a political, economic and defense union under the united nations."

The U.S. "and such others as will join us," he said, should "mutually guarantee the nations entering this union against aggression."

"By guarantee," Baruch said vigorously, "I mean a firm promise to go to war in joint defense if any of them are attacked."

Baruch said he thought the U.S. might well ask strategic bases "for our mutual protection" from countries getting help from us. Similarly, he said, we would be wise to seek strategic raw materials from them.

Baruch hammered home his view that the Marshall program

Individuals Should Forget About Tax Reductions for at Least Two Years

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The nation's income tax payers were urged by Bernard M. Baruch yesterday to forget about a tax reduction for the next two years.

But the "elder statesman" proposed to congress a reimposition of an excess profits tax on corporations—at 50 per cent of wartime rates.

"Postponing tax reduction for two years is not asking too much when so much is at stake," Baruch said in calling for "substantial lowering of the nation's debt, which is a terrible threat to our security."

Baruch, before the senate foreign relations committee, disagreed both with Mr. Truman's $40-billion income tax cut and with the bill by Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) for a $5.6-billion tax slash.

Where Mr. Truman called for a new excess profits levy to offset the 3.2-billion reduction, Baruch asked for the corporation tax to pile up more money to retire the debt.

Baruch also recommended a rollback of farm prices, postponement of wage increase demands and continuation of rent control.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, meanwhile, declared that "general (total) tax reduction must wait until the present inflationary pressures have subsided."

Snyder indicated anew, in his annual report to congress, that the President would veto any tax cut not offset by an increase somewhere else to keep total revenues up.

Other important developments on the taxes-spending front:

1. The American Farm Bureau federation said, "we believe that during a period of inflation, is not the time for any material reduction in income tax rates."

Federation President Allan B. Kline said farmers "are willing to forego a temporary gain for the long-time objective of greater stability in prices and in our domestic economy."

2. Secretary of Commerce Harman appeared before the committee and endorsed Mr. Truman's tax proposal.

BERNARD M. BARUCH

alone is not enough to ensure peace.

"If its objectives are to be realized," he said, "it must be accompanied by two further actions — we must stabilize America for peace; we must develop a global strategy for American peacemaking."

Other points in Baruch's "peacemaking" program:

1. That European countries organize to "liberate and use every productive resource of the continent," with international control of the Ruhr, "so as to protect the peaceful interests of Germany's neighbors."

2. Stabilization of European currencies with "realistic" rates of exchange.

3. Extension for three years of the President's authority to make tariff agreements with other countries.

4. "Settle realistically all pre-war and wartime intergovernmental debts" such as the $1 billion in "frozen" sterling which Britain accumulated during the war.

5. Continuation of "the British and others" of their imperial preference trade systems for three years.

Foreign—Gandhi Better, Jews Kill 5 Arabs Peace Group Meets in India

NEW DELHI (AP)—A physician's report said last night that Mohandas K. Gandhi was "better but still weak" following his 121-hour fast. The wizened Indian leader had to be carried in an armchair to his evening prayer meeting.

Gandhi expressed his "personal gratitude" for messages which came to him from all over the world after he ended his fast Sunday.

Meanwhile, the central peace committee of Moslems, Sikhs and Hindus, whose peace pledge led last night under the chairmanship of Rajendra Prasad, president of the All-India congress.

During the day Pakistan officials announced they would join British and Indian officials today in talks on release of sterling balances. This was hailed as evidence of additional harmony brought about by Gandhi's fast.

Despite developments in New Delhi the fighting continued in Kashmir state.

Jewish Attacks Raise Palestine Toll to 901

JERUSALEM (AP)—Jewish attacks on Arab villages killed five Arabs yesterday as mass burial rites were held for 35 members of Hagana who were slain in an Arab ambush last Friday. The 35 included one American student.

In the port city of Haifa Jewish and Arab workers clashed on the crowded docks and military sources said one Jew was stabbed to death. The unofficial death toll since the Nov. 29 UN decision to partition Palestine mounted to 901.

The 35 members of Hagana, the Jewish militia, were buried in Kfar Etzion, a Jewish settlement in the Judean hills south of Bethlehem. They were wiped out in an Arab ambush along a camel track on which they were moving to reinforce the defenses of Kfar Etzion.

One of the dead Jews was identified by Jewish sources as Moshe A. Pearlstein, 22, Brooklyn, New York. He was one of 137 former American soldiers of Jewish faith listed by the American consulate as studying in Palestine under the GI bill.

State Hospitals May Get Federal Grants Soon

DES MOINES, (AP)—R. C. Hanlon, head of the hospital division of the Iowa health department, said yesterday he believed federal grants for the proposed $8.4-million hospital building program in Iowa will be available in the next six or eight months.

Federal grants will total $1.4-million a year, or $2.8-million for two years. Since the government puts up $1 for each $2 raised locally, two years of federal funds will reflect an $8.4-million program.

Three months after the state hospital plan is approved by the U. S. public health service, Hanlon said, "the first allotment of approximately $1.4-million will be divided among the high qualifying applicants."

"After July 1 another $1.4-million will be available for distribution. Thus, it is believed that within the next six or eight months, two years of the five-year allotment will be available for hospital construction in Iowa," he explained.

Jimmy's New Masters Promise 'No Baths'

By WAYNE SCHAKEL

A dog who needed a friend and two boys who wanted a dog are a happy threesome this morning. It all happened at the Iowa City police station.

The dog is a pup of nondescript breed who was turned in at the station Sunday. The boys are Don Mahanna, 12, and Robert Stevenson, 9, who live at 131 1/2 S. Capitol. The three of them got together yesterday evening when the boys delivered a paper to the station.

Without any delay the boys named the pup Jimmy. They were very pleased to learn from Daily Iowan reporters that Jimmy was an appropriate name. The reporters knowingly agreed that it was a happy accident that the dog and the name went together.

Don is an old hand as a dog owner. He's had five of them and is sure of the best methods of care. Jimmy's fur may be a little dirty but it's "no baths in the winter. I made my mind up a long time ago," Don asserted.

Don's father, C. F. Mahanna, hopes that Jimmy lasts a little longer than his five predecessors.

And Jimmy—well, he's probably looking forward to more good food like the lunch he shared with Policeman Jake Moore Sunday night.

TOO MUCH GOPHER SIZE—Jim McIntyre (23) and Ed Kernan (6) are all alone in the stratosphere on this rebound. Bud Grant (13) of Minnesota and Bob Vollers (26), "Red" Metcalfe (22) and Murray Wier (17) look on helplessly.

McIntyre Hits 36 Points; Wier Gets 30

By BUCK TURNBULL
Sports Editor

Minneapolis, Minn.—Long, lean Jim McIntyre sent Iowa to its second Big Nine defeat this season here last night, 72-56.

The towering center from the University of Minnesota ripped 36 points through the nets to set a new Gopher fieldhouse record. The previous high, also held by the six-foot, nine-inch center, was 32 points.

But big Jim didn't overshadow his rival for conference scoring honors, Iowa's Murray Wier, by too great a margin. The unconscious red-head had his best night this year, exactly matching the total he scored here at Minnesota last year—30 points.

The Hawks and Center "Red" Metcalfe held their own against big Jim and the Gophers for the first 15 minutes of the game. In fact, the Hawks led for the first 11 minutes. But when Reserve Bill Appenzeller put Minnesota in front, 18-16, with a driving lay-up with a little less than nine minutes remaining in the half, Iowa never returned to the lead.

Minnesota led at halftime, 35-29.

Little Wier left the floor for the intermission with 21 points, far ahead of McIntyre who had 14. But whatever hopes the Hawkeyes had of coming back in the last half and squeezing out a victory, big Mac quickly dispelled. He rimmed all 16 of Minnesota's points in the first eight minutes of the final period.

At that point the Gophers led, 51-41, from whence they proceeded to advance the margin to 60-45.

McIntyre then hit his final two baskets, one on a hook shot and one on a tip-in, and left the ball game with four and one-half minutes remaining. He received a tremendous ovation from the 14,063 fans.

It was a good night's work for the big boy—he connected for 14 field goals in 23 attempts and eight free throws in ten tries, further advancing his conference scoring leadership.

The Hawks never gave up fighting to the final seven seconds when Wier cupped his final point on a charity toss. But they were soundly beaten. They were out-rebounded and out-shot for 31 minutes of the game.

For most of the second half, their play at times bordered on the dull side, and excepting Wier, they couldn't hit a bean stalk with a broom handle.

All this time, McIntyre kept pumping in lay-ups with monotonous regularity. The only other Iowan who hit double figures was Metcalfe—who incidentally did as WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) called on the Republican party last night to adopt programs that will prevent Russia from gaining "an atom of satisfaction" from a GOP presidential victory in November.

Firmly opposing isolationism, Knowland said Republican success at the polls should strengthen "the system of collective security."

Henry Wallace Promises To Speak in Iowa City

Henry Wallace will speak in Iowa City sometime this spring, according to Cliff Richards, A. J. temporary chairman of the Johnson county chapter of Progressive Citizens of America.

Richards, who met Wallace at the second annual PCA convention in Chicago last weekend, said the third-party presidential candidate promised him he would speak here—probably in April.

Richardson was elected Iowa representative on the national PCA board of directors. Iva Reed, A. J. Lisbon, New Hampshire, was elected to the national board of the Young Progressive Citizens.

Other students who attended the convention as observers were Emanuel Beller, G. New York City; Arnold White, G. Brooklyn; Herman Schuchman, G. Newark, N. J., and David Coffing, A. J. Vinton, Iowa.

Will Locate on Third Floor of Whetstone Bldg

The Johnson County Broadcasting corporation yesterday leased the third floor of the Whetstone Drug building, 106 1/2 E. Washington street, to house the studios of their projected commercial radio station, according to Robert E. J. Snyder, president.

Remodelling will begin in the "very near future," Snyder said, with the station scheduled to begin broadcasting early next summer.

The new station's studios will include a control room, news room, music room, three broadcasting studios and several offices, Snyder explained. The building will also be re-painted.

Officers and major stockholders of the corporation are Snyder, who will act as general manager of the station as well as president; Elliott D. Full, vice-president and chief engineer; Gene Claussen, secretary and news director, and Herbert D. Olson, treasurer and program director at the station.

Approval of the facilities by the civil aeronautics authority is now awaited. Call letters have not yet been assigned to the 1,000 watt, sunrise-to-sunset station, which will operate on a frequency of 800 kilocycles.

Duven's Fall Stems Flood; Heavies Tell

By JOHN HOLWAY
University of Iowa wrestlers surged back from a 12-0 handicap and captured the last four events to give the Hawks a 14-12 win over Colorado State here last night.

The Rocky Mountain visitors had gained the first four decisions before Iowa's Don Duven, 155 pounds, threw Don McMahon in two minutes of the second period. From there the Hawkeys, needing at least a decision in every remaining match, outpointed the Greeley, Colorado squad the rest of the way.

Heavyweight Dick Woodard applied the clincher with a 6-4 win over willing but hopelessly outweighed John Hancock Jr. Woodard needed all his 220 pounds to beat his wily foe. Hancock, who weighed in at 185, rallied in the third period, but was checked successfully by Woodard.

Actually, Mike Howard's victors needed Don Duven's fall to gain the win instead of a tie. The long-armed Hawk had McMahon under control all the way, and applied a half-nelson to press his foe to the mat in five minutes flat.

NCAA Champ Joe Scarbello, 175, decisively valiant Bob Klune, Rocky Mountain crown-bearer, 12-7, and Ray Carlson, 165, shut out Mel Spence, 4-0, to account for the rest of Iowa's points.

Don Rodenborn of Iowa, 136, lost a wild contest to plucky Joe Arnold of Ft. Dodge, Iowa, 13-12. Rodenborn led Arnold throughout most of the match, often by only a single point, as the two changed positions furiously. Arnold managed to come out from under the Iowan with seconds to go and held on to his advantage until the whistle.

Gordon Larson of Iowa, 128, was worn down by Ivan Gilbaugh, last year's Rocky Mountain conference champ, and dropped a closely-fought 2-1 decision in the final period.

Aki Matsuoka, a mat-wise 121-pounder, whipped Iowa's Vern McCoy, 5-1. Also conference champion in 1947, the crafty Californian made his experience tell in the final two periods.

Colorado State's fourth Rocky Mountain king, Lester Davison, completed his team's mastery in the lower-weights with a 2-0 win over Dick Barker. The mountaineer held Barker with a leg scissors grip until he scored his two-point come-out in the last period.

CHICAGO, (AP) — The United States Olympic committee has voted, 68 to 6, to withdraw all American teams from the winter games at St. Moritz, Jan. 30-Feb. 8, if the Amateur Hockey association's much-disputed entry is permitted to compete.

Last Second Shot Gives Illini Victory

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Van Anderson, substitute forward, meshed a rebound shot in the last second of the game last night to give Illinois a 46-45 Big Nine basketball triumph over Indiana.

The Illini lagged 18-16 at halftime and were buried 41-30 midway in the final period after Ward Williams and Don Ritter combined for 11 Indiana points in the drive.

In the next five minutes Anderson and Bardette Thurlby scored four points apiece to fire an Illinois rally which cut the Hoosiers' lead to 45-44. During this spur, Norbert Herrmann and Ritter were the only Indiana players to score.

After both teams went scoreless for two minutes, Indiana gained the ball out of bounds in the final 14 seconds. Chuck Meyer, 6 foot 5 inch Hoosier center, was poised to throw the ball in but officials ruled that his foot was inside the court on the toss in. Illinois then took possession and Anderson flicked in the winning field goal.

The game was tied 11 times, eight times in the first period, in registering their third Big Nine victory in five starts, the Illini attempted 100 shots and made only 18. Indiana, losing its fourth conference decision in five games, hit 16 out of 44 shots.

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
MUSCATINE — St. Mary's of Muscatine put on a last quarter rally to defeat St. Mary's of Iowa City here last night, 34-32. The win avenged a loss at the hands of the local five earlier in the season.

The Ramblers held a commanding lead throughout most of the game, but fell behind in the final period when Regulars Johnny Sueppel and Paul Flannery were evicted via the five-foul rule.

In a slow first period, the Ramblers outscored their opponents, 8-3. By halftime they had raised their margin to a commanding 22-9 edge.

The host team started their surge in the third period and closed the gap to 30-21 by the end of the quarter. The Ramblers held a 31-27 margin at the automatic time-out, but they wilted in the last moments.

Guard Lewig and Forward Lober paced the winners with 13 points each. Lewig was the big gun in the late surge by the home team.

Buzz Mottet and Paul Flannery shared scoring honors for the local five with 10 points. Johnny Sueppel contributed 8 points to St. Mary's cause.

Gilmer Signs With Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Football league's greatest passing team yesterday hired one of the nation's finest passers.

Harry Gilmer, a four-season standout at the University of Alabama, signed a two-year contract with the Washington Redskins.

Everyone was quite coy about how much cash Gilmer will get. But he said he had agreed to a "lot less money" than was offered him by the Brooklyn Dodgers of the rival all-American conference.

He signed with the Redskins, Gilmer said, because he thinks in the long run the payoff will be greater.

The Redskins use the T formation, and Gilmer thinks a quarterback will last longer in that system.

Certainly the Redskins have a potent argument to prove that point.

Their present quarterback, Sammy Baugh, was 33 last year, and yet was good enough to break almost every available passing record.

So now all Gilmer has to do is to beat out of a job the man who probably is the best passer in the business.

But he doesn't seem worried. "I think Baugh can help me," said Gilmer, "and maybe when he's ready to step down I'll be ready to take over."

Irish Lose To West Point

St. Patrick's threw away a nine point last quarter lead to give St. Mary's of West Point a 41-38 victory Sunday afternoon in West Point.

The Irish were well on their way towards their eleventh victory of the season when the collapse came. St. Pat's passing, which had been sharp and accurate all afternoon, suddenly became erratic. Their defense fell apart, giving the West Pointers easy chances to score.

Sunday's showing was a disappointment for St. Patrick's since they had defeated the West Pointers, 43-30, in an earlier game at Iowa City. This was the final game for the south siders before they meet St. Mary's next Thursday in the renewal of their inter-city rivalry.

Forward Mel Vonderhaar of St. Mary's led all scorers with 18 points.

O'Connor was high point man for the Irish with 14 counters, many of them on long shots that had the St. Mary's crowd gasping. ### Riggs Swaps Styles With Jack Kramer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In the biggest transformation since Dr. Jekyll turned to Mr. Hyde, professional tennis' two championship protagonists have swapped court styles.

Bobby Riggs, "the biggest little man" in tennis, candidly admits that big Jack Kramer has made him change his game. That's quite a statement from the cocky Riggs, whose policy heretofore has been to tell everyone who would listen that he is the greatest tennis player in the world and then go out on the court and prove it.

The professional tennis group of Riggs, Kramer, Francisco (Pancho) Segura—the two fisted racket-wielder from Ecuador—and Dinny Pails, Australian precisionist, rolled into Philadelphia over the week end in Riggs' new car; apologized for being 45 minutes late and then charmed a press gathering with tales of much gold and great tennis.

Riggs, as good a public speaker as he is a tennis player, told of the "New Riggs."

"I've always been known as a defensive player; a 'cheese champion' who loafed and wanted for the other man to make a mistake. "Early matches taught me at once I'd have to become an offensive player if I was to liek him and retain the Professional Tennis championship," Riggs said.

Strengthen Grasp On 1st Place

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's Badgers put down a second half Purdue uprising tonight and defeated the Boilermakers, 49 to 44, to remain in first place in the Big Nine basketball race.

The Badgers controlled the rebounds and looked like an entirely different ball club than the team that lost its first conference game to Michigan last Saturday, 43-38. It was Wisconsin's fifth Big Nine triumph in six games, and Purdue's second loss in four games.

Williams led the Boilermakers' methodical attack, getting an even dozen points, all but one in the second half.

Bill Berberian, Purdue's veteran guard, shadowed Cook so closely that the Badger shotmaster was held to ten points. Center Don Rehfeldt again took over the Wisconsin scoring chores, getting 14 points to lead the scorers.

UWF Names 12 Advisors in Slate for '48

David M. Stanley, president of the Iowa branch of United World Federalists, yesterday announced the formation of an advisory council which will recommend courses of action for the Iowa organization to take in its 1948 program of political action.

The program was decided on by delegates from nine Iowa chapters at a planning conference held Jan. 10 in Iowa City. The political action plan is aimed at "selling world government to the public in 1948."

"Prominent Iowans have been contacted and have agreed to serve on the advisory council," Stanley said. "Not all of them are members of UWF, but all are interested in world government and will give us support."

The first 12 members of the advisory council announced are Forrest W. Seymour, editorial page editor, Des Moines Register and Tribune; Robert M. Blakely, editorial writer, Des Moines Register and Tribune; A. A. Couch, president, Iowa State Federation of Labor; Frank Miles, correspondent for veteran publications, Iowa Daily Press association and radio station WHO.

Alice Myers, president, Iowa Association for Adult Education; George Olmstead, Brigadier General, Officers Reserve Corps; J. C. Pryor, Burlington attorney; Forrest B. Spaulding, librarian, Des Moines public library.

Robert L. Roach, Muscatine insurance company owner; Rabbi Irving J. Weingart, Des Moines; Bishop Elwood Haines, Episcopal Diocese of Iowa; Rev. Grant A. Butler, chairman, Iowa Civil Liberties Union.

Prof. E. G. Peterson and L. D. Doty will leave today to attend the 95th meeting of the American Society of Engineers in New York, Jan. 21-24.

Dean F. M. Dawson and Prof. Hunter Rouse, also of the college of engineering, left for New York two days ago to attend the same meeting, where Rouse will present a paper.

Highlight of the meeting, according to Doty, will be a discussion on the Panama canal to be conducted by engineers from the canal zone.

PERSONAL NOTES

Carolyn Williams, Manly, was a weekend guest of her brother, Richard, C3.

Melvin Justice Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Justice, 521 Kirkwood avenue, arrived from Finland yesterday morning to spend a month at the home of his parents. He is serving in the merchant marine.

He has been recuperating at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson, Gowrie.

Mr. Anderson plans to join his family here in ten days to continue work on his master's degree in chemistry. They will live at the home of Mrs. Anderson's father, Charles H. Metzger, 722 Kirkwood avenue.

FAMOUS PAINTINGS

MALLE BABBE (The Witch)
Rapid, Hasty Dabs of Paint.

Laughter Typifies Hals' Work

By JOAN LIFFRING
Laughter and merriment characterize Malle Babbe (The Witch) by the famous Frans Hals (1580-1666). This is one of 30 Metropolitan masterpieces here.

A master of brilliant brushwork, Hals' ability to record momentary facial expressions—especially laughter—was unequalled.

Hals painted in flat tones. Always in a hurry to get the painting done, he stopped using bright colors for a scheme of black, white, greys and flesh tones. His brush strokes are rapid, hasty dabs.

At the age of 36, Hals painted his first authentic work. All records of his training and earlier work are lacking. Despite brilliant success as a portrait painter, he was never wealthy. He was constantly in debt during the last 20 years of his life.

The Laughing Cavalier and The Bohemienne are among his most famous paintings. He also painted many large group pictures.

Malle Babbe's laughing is so captivating to the observer that her messy, rather sordid clothes are overlooked. Hals ignored her ugliness, emphasized her joviality. Although the artist could have satirized her, he treats her kindly.

It is difficult to think of Malle Babbe in terms of a witch. A kindly-looking old woman, she heartily enjoys life, whatever wickedness she may possess.

Earl Lemons Leaves For Air Corps Training

Earl H. Lemons, C3, 331 S. Johnson, left for Offutt Field, Neb., yesterday to begin a three year enlistment in the army air corps.

The former SUI student will attend an air force technical school for training as a control tower operator.

Lemons was a first lieutenant in the air corps during the war. He will begin his present enlistment as a sergeant.

Chittenden to Conference

Prof. E. W. Chittenden of the mathematics department will attend a topological conference in Chicago, Jan. 22-24.

Hick Hawks Plan Folk Dances Tonight

Arnold Fox, instructor in the English department, will lead a group from Hillel foundation in Palestinian folk dances at an open meeting of Hick Hawks tonight at 8 p. m. in the women's gymnasium.

The group will be dressed in jeans and shirts, typical of the Palestinian farmer of today. Members of the group include Deborah Cohen, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Jeanne Berson, Des Moines; Estelle Simon, New York, N. Y.; Lois Stang, Woodmere, Long Island, N. Y.; Mervin Aptak, Tulsa, Okla.; Albert Krizberg, Jersey City, N. J.; Burton, Wiemer, Dubuque and pianist, Shirley Elman, Davenport.

Fox will teach several simple dances as well as give a demonstration. Featured dances will include "The Double Hora," "Mayim," "Ari-Ara," "The Hora from Sarid," "Dundal" and "Sham B' Eretz" Israel. The dances were taught to members of the Hillel foundation by persons from Palestine who have toured youth groups in America.

Research Institute Appoints Three Men

Three new members have been appointed to the board of consultants of the Iowa institute of hydraulic research, Prof. Hunter Rouse, director of the institute, announced yesterday.

They are Dr. M. L. Nichols, chief of research, soil conservation service; U. S. department of agriculture; C. G. Paulsen, chief hydraulic engineer, U. S. geological survey, and G. B. Schubauer, chief of aeronautics, U. S. bureau of standards.

The retiring members whose terms expired in 1947 are Prof. Boris A. Barkmeteff, Columbia university; W. G. Hoyt, water resources committee, U. S. department of interior, and Dr. H. U. Sverdrup, Scripps institute of oceanography.

The Iowa institute of hydraulic research is a separate unit on the university campus devoted to fundamental research in hydraulic engineering. Its board of consultants advises on research problems.

Peace Disturbers Fined

Edward John Barnes, Tiffin, and LaVern Harold Christensen, West Branch, were fined $17.50 each in police court yesterday by Police Judge Emil G. Trott for disturbing the peace.

Ice-Skating, School Spirit Before Council

The improvement of student ice-skating facilities will be discussed by the Student council at 7:30 tonight in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Paul Lange, C4, Cedar Falls, and Francis Cavoretta, A3, Laurence, Mass., have been investigating the possibility of erecting lights and shelters for skaters at the lagoon north of University theater.

Lange said there was little possibility that this location would be used because of the mechanical and financial upkeep involved but that the committee had another plan in mind.

A report on the strengthening of school spirit will be given by Janet Gutz, A4, Hampton.

William Reis, C3, Omaha, Neb., will outline the possibility of improvement in the placement service of the liberal arts college. Reis began investigation of the university placement service because of student complaints that job-getting facilities are inadequate.

Production progress of "Panacea," all-university stage show to be given in March, will be reported on by Jean Sprott, A3, Grand Haven, Mich.

The remainder of the meeting will be devoted to organization of business for next semester.

Drivers Beware—Yield the Right-of-Way and Obey the Law

This Driver Yielded the Right-of-Way But Those Who Don't Imperil the Lives of Others

Two recent local accidents involved the question of whether the drivers of the automobiles yielded the right-of-way to pedestrians as required by state law. Those accidents point up the vital necessity of both drivers and pedestrians knowing the law—and obeying it.

Some Iowa City drivers apparently regard their auto horns as instruments to repeal the rights of pedestrians. You can observe the result of such thinking at two Clinton street intersections every day.

People are forced to wait to cross Clinton street at its intersections with Iowa avenue and Jefferson streets in front of the campus. But automobiles race by with horns blaring. Pedestrians edge out into the street and finally make a mad dash for the far curb. They dodge cars whose drivers do not seem to care whether any one is in their path. Some drivers actually seem to try to frighten people by loud horns and narrow margins of safety. Courtesy is rare indeed.

These drivers should realize that not only are they endangering lives but they are breaking the law. It is not the stubborn pedestrian trying to take something from the motorist. The motorist actually is taking what the municipal code states belongs to the pedestrian.

These Clinton street intersections, and others, do not have traffic signals. There are no policemen permanently on duty. There are crosswalks, marked or unmarked, at these and many other intersections in Iowa City.

Section 890 of the municipal code states that in such cases the pedestrian has the right-of-way over vehicles.

Those drivers who are discourteous—those who are foolhardy—those who for any reason do not regard the safety of others, should be careful for their own sake as well as the safety of pedestrians.

The law states they are wrong—and provides a penalty.

Letter to Pegler
TO THE DAILY IOWAN:
The following is a copy of a letter I am sending to Westbrook Pegler in regard to his article on Jan. 17:

XXIX
"When in disgrace with fortune and men's eyes
I all alone beweep my outcast state
And trouble deaf heaven with my bootless cries
And look upon myself and curse my fate,
Wishing me like to one more rich in hope,
Featured like him, like him with friends possessed,
Desiring this man's art and that man's scope,
With what I most enjoy contented least;
Yet in these thoughts myself almost despising,
Haply I think on thee, and then my state,
Like to the lark at break of day arising
From sullen earth, sings hymns at heaven's gate;
For thy sweet love remembered such wealth brings
That then I scorn to change my state with kings."
William Shakespeare.

I had meant to type a letter to you in proper form and vent my spleen at your article on actors, but I chanced to read this sonnet by a man who devoted most of his life to the lowest form of literature and suddenly my balance returned and I recognized you for what you are.

This will be long remembered, far past the hollow dust your name will dwindle into, or even the names of the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith and even Madam the Honorable Eleanor Roosevelt.

Ah, sir, a brain surgeon would be destroyed and an electrician ignored. What brave new land have you formed for us?

Never mind, I'm really not interested for I, thank God, live in a still free land, and sometimes life is simple. I don't have to read your column, nor even hear your blind and egotistic drivel.

And in future years, if I should ever come to Washington, I'll bring my integrity and wisdom and throw my copy of R. E. Sherwood's "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" right into your smugly empty face.

Till then,

On Wallace
TO THE DAILY IOWAN
I believe that the editor of The Daily Iowan has over-looked some vital points in his hope that Henry Wallace withdraws his candidacy.

First was the Look magazine poll of 57 Washington newsmen before Wallace announced his candidacy. If Truman is the Democratic candidate, 48 of them predicted a Republican victory because of a low vote.

In the last 60 years the Democrats have elected only two men president, Wilson and Roosevelt, both strong progressives.

Since the Republican vote fluctuates little, the deciding factor is the independent voter. If there is a man worth voting for he will vote, otherwise he stays home. He does not vote for the lesser of evils.

This, of course, effects the congressional elections. When Roosevelt ran in 1944 he received 25 million votes. In 1946, after a year of Truman administration, the Democratic vote dropped to 15 million. Those 10 million lost votes decided the election. In 93 congressional districts, 5,000 votes on either side were decisive.

The candidacy of Henry Wallace will get out those lost votes and elect a progressive congress. There are progressive Democrats running, the third party will endorse them and insure their election. Where there are only machine candidates, the people will have a choice.

When Roots Take Hold

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

Margaret felt she knew Harry's moods pretty well. She considered that this was a help in keeping their relationship pliable and prosperous.

On this cold night, she watched him, as he stood by the window and looked out on the street.

"We've been home too much, she thought, instantly. He'd like to be out somewhere.

"This place is a snug little box," he said slowly, "in a shivering world. A world made of jello."

He doesn't have to be sarcastic, she thought. It isn't so little.

"I can see thousands of people out there, somewhere," he said, "sitting in bars and diners, and talking about is there going to be war, or is there going to be peace. But we have our little nest. Tight. No problems. A warm little box floating in a world made of jello."

"Let's go somewhere Saturday night," she said. "We've been home a lot."

"No," he said. "I like it this way."

Big, noble fellow, she thought. It would be better if he said what he meant. He had been a great cafe sifter before they had married, a big after-midnight blaker. Then her mood softened. It might be a little tough on a certain kind of man, she thought, to wake up after he was married, and realize that he had made ten thousand dates, with the same person, all in one sentence.

Next morning, Jim, her young cousin, surprised them by dropping around for breakfast.

"I've got a job in the neighborhood," he said. "Grocery store. Thought I'd have some coffee with you."

Margaret watched Harry's face. She knew that he did not like unexpected visitors very much. He looked unconcerned, probably trying not to show his irritation.

"Want to go out to dinner to-night?" she asked, as he left her on the landing.

"Oh, I don't know. We'll see," he said, indifferently, and clogged down the stairs. It seemed to her he was hurrying to get away, though it was several minutes before his usual time for leaving.

She waited for him that evening, at the shopping corner, two blocks from their flat.

"Hello!" he said, "you sure know my route."

A voice inside her shrilled, in high, private soprano; he does feel dull. Same routine, every day, every evening. He does!

"Honey," she said. "We don't have to eat at home tonight. We could have some seafood somewhere, and see a newsreel."

He stopped on the pavement beside her.

"But why?"

"Well, Jim's there, again. He dropped in after work, and he's been sitting around. I'm sorry about it, dear, he's kind of mak-

Plan Drive To Aid German Students

A drive to aid German university students has been organized by the German department in cooperation with Delta Phi Alpha, German language honorary society.

Prof. Erich Funke, head of the German department, yesterday said supplies collected will be sent to the University of Frankfurt and other German universities.

All student supplies, such as textbooks in the sciences and engineering, paper, pencils and erasers will be accepted, Funke said. Personal items including clothing, shoes and soap will also be collected.

The drive, which began yesterday, will last until Saturday. Contributions may be delivered to any office of the German department, located on the second floor of Shaeffer hall.

Reports of German student needs brought back by John Haefner, assistant professor in the history department, and other faculty members who visited Europe, stimulated the relief program, Funke said.

Army Student Pilots To Fly New Jet Ship

Student pilots in the army air corps will be given P-80 training, according to the air-training command.

A program will be set up soon giving the student flyers in single-engine advanced flying schools 20 hours in the jet-propelled P-80.

Supervisory personnel and instructors of air training command believe that the jet fighter is easier to fly than the conventional reciprocating-engine fighter planes now used. They think the comparatively inexperienced student pilots will not encounter any difficulties in flying the jets.

ing our place his headquarters. I'm sure he'll stop, after a couple of days . . .

But she saw that he wasn't listening and that he was smiling. It was the one smile that she knew was all right.

"What's the matter?" she asked.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

U. N. Faces Trouble in Korea

By JAMES D. WHITE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Latest news from Korea suggests that the U.N. commission headed that way is in for trouble which could reproduce on a larger scale some of the unhappier features of Greece.

The commission's task is to supervise elections in both the American and Russian zones, not later than March 31, leading to a united provisional government for the now divided country.

The U.N. set up the commission after the United States put the question up to the assembly last fall, despite Russian objections. The Russians boycotted the whole show and countered with an interesting proposal that both American and Russian troops withdraw from Korea by Jan. 1.

I have just learned that, despite the fact no Americans believe the Russians would actually withdraw their troops, Koreans of various political hues think there is a distinct possibility they may do so for propaganda purposes.

Whether likely or not, such a withdrawal would have definite effects, none of them good from the American standpoint.

If it did not force a parallel American withdrawal from the south, it would fan popular resentment against the presence of any foreign troops—American or otherwise.

It would hasten graduation of the present interim government in southern Korea into something decidedly more tangible, which in turn would stimulate outright independence of the Soviet-sponsored regime in the north.

This does not mean that the Russians would be so inflexible as to keep the commission out of the north, even though they boycott it and probably never would allow an election in their zone which involved American-approved candidates from the south. However, if elections are held in the American zone anyway, Koreans believe this too might provide the north with an excuse to declare independence.

That would enhance the danger of civil war, which would become virtually certain if both occupation armies were to withdraw.

This is because Communists run things in the north while avowed rightist enemies of communism are in an improving position to step into power in the south. Both, incidentally, have real and potential military force.

While the American military government has been trying to promote the beginnings of self-government among southern Koreans, my informants say that AMG now looks with less disfavor upon the aspirations of the outstanding rightist leader, Dr. Syngman Rhee, to form a southern Korean government.

Regardless of his personal inclinations, Dr. Rhee's active support among Koreans is such that any government he might form could hardly fail to aggravate matters.

Supporting Dr. Rhee are the national police, said to be still made up 80 percent of policemen who served the Japanese. These police enforce regulations, apparently with AMG approval, which forbid meetings of more than four Koreans without a police permit, and impose an 11 p.m. curfew.

Also behind Dr. Rhee is the national youth movement, whose leaders consciously imitate the Hitler youth organization with military drills and terrorism throughout the south. Last July the interim assembly at Seoul allotted the outfit more than 19 million yen for the current fiscal year. This would be about 10 percent of the budget, approved by AMG, which totaled more than 17 billion yen and gave its largest slice, a billion, to the monopoly bureau which administers the economic interests left by the old Japanese Oriental Development Co.

It is against such a background that the Russians and Communists have been making propaganda headway in a battle which has been helped until recently by rightist agitation against the American occupation. That is the situation the U.N. commission is heading into.

The Red Cross will furnish blood free to hospitals.

The organization will pay all costs related to research, staffs of physicians and nurses and technicians, special equipment, packaging, distribution and breaking down the blood into its parts.

Some blood parts in concentrated form aid in preventing disease and promote recovery of the patient. In addition to the blood and plasma, the National Blood program will provide other blood derivatives, such as:

Serum albumin, used for shock and certain kidney diseases and other conditions.

Immune serum globulin, for modification or prevention of certain infectious diseases, such as measles.

Red Cross Launches Drive To Keep Blood Banks Full

By GORDON NIXON

The wartime Red Cross program of "Give Blood for a Serviceman" is being converted to peacetime.

The Red Cross has set the wheels in motion for a national system of blood banks to aid the sick and injured in every American city from New York to San Francisco.

The Red Cross hopes Americans will give at least 3,700,000 pints of blood to the banks yearly. According to Iowa University hospital price of $25 per pint, this would amount to $92,500,000.

The blood will cost nothing to persons needing blood, but a charge will be made for doctor or hospital services.

Donations to the first blood bank began early this week at Rochester, N. Y. It is estimated the blood program will be completed sometime between 1951 and 1953.

Five blood centers in different regions of the United States will be in operation soon.

Blood centers will be located in 140 principal cities, and 250 smaller towns will have secondary centers. People in villages and on farms will be served by several hundred blood banks on wheels.

The Iowa City chapter of the Red Cross said no word has been received concerning a Red Cross blood bank here. The chapter emphasized the plan is not in full swing yet and will take several years to complete.

Mrs. Henry Taylor of the Cedar Rapids Red Cross headquarters hopes a center will be located there. She said that during the war Iowans had to go to Chicago, St. Paul or St. Louis to donate blood to the Red Cross.

Dubuque has the only Red Cross walking blood bank in Iowa, she said. A donor is called in when his type of blood is needed. The blood he gives is used within a few hours and not stored.

Dr. George F. Lull, secretary and general manager of the American Medical association, said the blood supply now in some cities is inadequate. The remainder of 13 million pints of blood Americans gave during wartime will probably be gone by July.

The Red Cross will furnish blood free to hospitals.

The organization will pay all costs related to research, staffs of physicians and nurses and technicians, special equipment, packaging, distribution and breaking down the blood into its parts.

Some blood parts in concentrated form aid in preventing disease and promote recovery of the patient. In addition to the blood and plasma, the National Blood program will provide other blood derivatives, such as:

Serum albumin, used for shock and certain kidney diseases and other conditions.

Immune serum globulin, for modification or prevention of certain infectious diseases, such as measles.

Blakely Gives Atom Talk Thursday

Robert J. Blakely of the Des Moines Register will speak at the last session of the atomic energy series in Macbride auditorium, 8 p.m., Thursday.

Blakely's talk will replace a round-table discussion as previously announced. It will mark the first appearance on the series of a speaker other than a university faculty member.

An editorial writer for the Des Moines paper, Blakely is the author of the first series of atomic energy articles to appear in an American newspaper.

As the result of these articles, the writer went to Washington at the request of the atomic energy commission and laid the groundwork for the first state-wide experiment in presenting atomic information to the people.

He returned to Iowa and visited most of the major educational institutions. Blakely spoke before the SUI great issues class on Dec. 16, 1947, outlining the value of public education for the new energy.

The writer recently returned from the University of Chicago, where he visited Atomic Bomb's birthplace, and talked with scientists interested in its development.

Blakely is a graduate of the University of Iowa school of humanities. During the war he served as a first lieutenant of the marine corps in China.

Trott Postpones Smith Trial To Next Monday

Trial of Vernon E. Smith, Home-stead, was postponed until next Monday in police court yesterday by Police Judge Emil G. Trott. Smith is charged by police with failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

The charges were filed after Smith's automobile struck James H. Falls, 311 S. Dubuque street, at the Burlington and Dubuque street intersection. The accident, which occurred at 12:04 a.m. Sunday, resulted in numerous cuts and bruises to Falls.

University hospital attendants report Falls' condition as satisfactory.

A human being transferred to conditions similar to those found on the surface of the planet Jupiter would be simultaneously frozen, asphyxiated, poisoned and pressed to death by his own weight and the weight of the atmosphere which is about a million times the weight of the atmosphere on the earth.

For the first time in the history of University hospitals all facilities—925 beds—have been opened to full use.

Hospital staff members began preparing the last unused ward for occupancy Friday. Yesterday at 2 p. m. the first patient, Mrs. Dagmar Peterson of Spencer, was admitted.

Women medical patients will use the 23-bed ward known officially as C44.

The badly needed space is now open because the state legislature gave the hospital $2,278,500 for the fiscal year July 1, 1947, to July 1, 1948.

This is a larger sum than has ever been appropriated before and allowed the hospital to permit each of Iowa's 99 counties to send one-third more patients.

Opening of this ward puts in use the last of 100 beds not used for hospital purposes before. University hospitals' Superintendent Gerhard Hartman stated, "Our commitment to the legislature to open urgently needed hospital care areas for the indigent sick of Iowa is now completed according to schedule."

The hospital now has enough nurses to take care of additional patients because it publicized the advantages for working here in out of state cities.

These advantages at Iowa University hospitals include a 44-hour week and salaries starting at $205 per month.

During the last year, 18,496 patients were admitted to University hospitals. Hartman said the best way to judge volume of hospital service is by patients served.

"On this basis," Hartman added, "the University hospitals rank ninth among the 15 largest general hospitals in America and second among the four largest state owned general hospitals."

Sheriff Goes After Man Charged With Desertion

Deputy Sheriff Marold Glaspy left this morning for Peoria, Ill., to return Omer Terhune, to the Johnson county court on a charge of desertion.

His wife, Stella Terhune, Lone Tree, received a decree of separate maintenance Sept. 13, 1947, and the court ordered that she receive $35 weekly for alimony and support. She was also granted custody of three minor children.

Terhune, who has been working in Peoria as a carpenter, has failed to make any payments to his wife and family.

Last Available University Hospital Ward Receives Patients

FOR THE FIRST TIME in history University hospitals open all 925 beds to patients. The 23 bed ward, opened yesterday, is shown receiving its first three patients: Miss Dagmar Peterson, Spencer; Miss Lois Breckenridge, Davenport; and Mrs. Mildred Jackson, Washington.

Extensions For Airlines Postponed

North-south air service through Iowa City received at least a temporary set-back yesterday with CAB postponement of hearings on proposed airline extensions.

The board was scheduled to hold hearings Monday on extensions submitted by Eastern airlines and Mid-Continent airlines. The two corporations asked permission to run lines from:

1. Minneapolis to St. Louis with Iowa City included in the list of stops.
2. The Twin Cities to Chicago.

According to an Eastern airlines letter to the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce, the postponement came after Chicago and Southern airlines asked to be included in hearings concerning the Twin Cities to Chicago proposal.

If an air route extension through Iowa City is granted at some future hearing, possible north-south air service would be opened to Waterloo, Davenport, Cedar Rapids, besides the Minneapolis and St. Louis terminals.

Even CAB approval would not necessarily mean immediate service through here. Some circles feel that getting permission for extensions is a "dog in the manger policy" to keep other lines from getting permission for the same route.

Whether or not Iowa City would provide sufficient traffic with Cedar Rapids as another stop less than 20 miles away remains a question.

Engineer Reports Paint on Radiators Affects Home Heating

If your home is overheated or underheated, you may be able to remedy the situation by repainting your radiator.

That's the conclusion reached by Eugene Larew, E2, Iowa City, in the current issue of the Iowa Transit, college of engineering monthly student publication.

The magazine will be distributed today, Editor Mark Meier, E3, Iowa City, announced yesterday. Larew points out, "Under otherwise identical conditions, a radiator coated with a metallic paint will emit considerably less heat than one coated with a non-metallic paint."

When a radiator is heated, Larew explains, most of the heat is distributed through the room by convection, circulation of the heated air.

Some of the heat (usually less than 50 percent) is emitted by radiation like the sun gives off heat. The amount of radiation is affected by the surface from which the heat is transferred. Therefore, the top coat of paint influences the amount of heat radiated.

If your room is chilly, painting your radiator with a non-metallic paint will make it warmer, according to Larew. If a radiator is located next to a poorly insulated wall, the heat loss at that point can be reduced by painting the backside of the radiator or the wall behind it with a metallic paint.

Metallic paints are the color of the metal or alloy of which the pigment is made, Larew states.

Non-metallic paints are available in almost any color, according to Larew.

McGrath on Sunday's Chicago Round Table

Dean Earl J. McGrath of the college of liberal arts will appear on the Chicago Round Table Sunday at 12:30 p. m. in a discussion entitled "Education for All."

University Speakers To Meet Wisconsin In Debate Tonight

An inter-collegiate debate between Iowa and Wisconsin will be held tonight at 7:30 in Old Capitol. Dr. Orville A. Hitchcock, associate professor of speech, will preside.

Representing Iowa will be Virginia Rosenberg, A4, Burlington, and Maureen McGivern, A4, Iowa City. Two women from Wisconsin university will arrive here today to participate in the second of a series of home-and-home debates.

The proposition for discussion will be resolved: a federal world government should be established.

The audience at the open meeting will be invited to express its opinions of the question both before and after the debate.

FBPW Initiates 8, Hears Dr. Tidrick

Eight women were initiated into the Federated Business and Professional Women's club last night following a dinner and business meeting in the private dining room of Iowa Union.

Those initiated were Blanche Bohach, Vivian Kershner, Mildred Shaffer, Ethel Haggeman, Lola Hughes, Edna Flesher, Marian Volding and Velma Miller. Mrs. V. A. Gunnette was re-initiated.

Following the dinner, Dr. R. T. Tidrick of the University hospital spoke and showed movie slides of burns. He discussed minor and major burns and treatment required for them.

Emphasizing the prevention of burns, Dr. Tidrick stated that "treatment of burns is like locking the barn door after the horse has been stolen."

"Instilling a sense of responsibility in people would do much to help prevent fires and burns," said Dr. Tidrick.

Pledges to Honor Actives

A party for the actives of Gamma Alpha Chi will be given by the pledges at 8 o'clock tonight in the YW rooms of Iowa Union.

Blue To Pass Flood Control

Gov. Robert D. Blue said yesterday he would accept the federal government's proposal for a $12-million Coralville flood control project and the Turkey Creek dam site, according to The Associated Press.

A special seven-man committee appointed by Blue to study the project recommended last Friday he accept the proposal.

The project proposes construction of a dam 1,400 feet long, 90 feet high, 580 feet wide at the base and 22 feet wide at the top, with a 17-mile long conservation pool behind the dam.

About 24,000 acres in Johnson county, 8,000 in Iowa county and a small acreage in Linn county are involved in the project. The dam site is nine miles north of Iowa City.

Col. W. N. Leaf, head of the Rock Island district army engineers, indicated a few weeks ago that construction would begin when and if congress made the proper appropriations, estimated at $12,000,000.

Construction would take about five years, engineers estimated. Farmers living in the area would be allowed to remain there if they choose for almost the entire construction period. The project would displace or effect 830 persons.

Landowners were assured by Leaf they would receive fair prices after careful appraisals of their property.
