India Outlaws RSS, Hunts Suspects In Gandhi Slaying

NEW DELHI (AP)—The government outlawed the RSS last night and began one of India's greatest manhunts for conspirators in the assassination of Mahatma Gandhi.

A communique said the RSS "cult of violence has claimed many victims, latest and most precious being Gandhi himself." RSS stands for Rashtriya Swamya Sevak Sangh (National Volunteer Corps).

High police officials said a mass roundup of persons prominent in RSS and another militant Hindu organization, Mahasabha, already had begun. They estimated that 700 or 800 would be arrested throughout the country. Estimates of the number already seized ranged from 300 to 500.

Delhi police arrested more than 200 in raids beginning before dawn.

Narayan Vinayak Godse, held as Gandhi's assassin, was believed to have made statements implicating a number of persons.

Police were particularly active in Bombay province, stronghold of the RSS, and at Nagpur, its headquarters.

Tanks and troops in force marched through Delhi's streets as the roundup proceeded.

The RSS advocates driving all Moslems out of India and making the country all Hindu.

"Iron Man" Sardar Vallabhai Patel, home minister and outspoken against Moslems, issued the communique announcing the organization henceforth was illegal.

The statement declared RSS members "have indulged in acts of violence involving arson, robbery, dacoity (robbery by gangs), murder." It said they had engaged in collecting arms, exhorting the people to terrorist methods, and had attempted to enlist police and the military in their criminal activities.

Printing presses and other properties of the RSS were ordered confiscated.

Shyama Prasad Mookerjee, minister of industries and supplies who entered the cabinet as a member of RSS, was said by his secretary to be indisposed. He was unavailable for reporters' questions.

The government banned further demonstrations such as that in New Delhi Tuesday when marchers shouted slogans against the Mahasabha. This was in line with the government's appeal to the public not to take the law in its own hands.

Atlee Asks Voluntary Wage, Profit Freezing

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Atlee called yesterday for the freezing of profits and wages to combat spiraling prices.

He urged the freeze on a voluntary basis and under the honor system, but with it went a threat to use wartime powers of price control if inflation goes unchecked.

The prime minister risked the ire of the trade unions—the backbone of his labor party—in his call for self sacrifice by all classes of British society. The appeal was contained in a white paper, published by the government and read by Atlee in the house of commons.

GERHART EISLER (left), labeled by the department of justice as the No. 1 Communist in this country, is shown as he left federal court in New York yesterday accompanied by an immigration guard. Eisler was arrested Monday on a warrant issued by immigration authorities. He appeared in court on a writ of habeas corpus to seek his freedom on bail pending deportation hearings. Decision was reserved by Federal Judge Edward A. Conger. Eisler is being held at Ellis Island. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Strong Irish Vote For New Parliament

DUBLIN (AP)—The Irish in great numbers voted yesterday for a new parliament. The dominant issue was whether to oust Prime Minister Eamon De Valera from the power he has held for 16 years.

EAMON DE VALERA

Many politicians saw in the unusually heavy vote a sign that the Fianna Fail leader may lose his majority. De Valera has declared he will resign if his party fails to secure the 74 seats necessary for a majority. He has declared he would refuse to form a coalition government with other parties.

Conclusive results are not expected before tomorrow. The complicated count under the proportional representation system will start today.

Say British Fight Syrian-Clad Arabs In North Palestine

JERUSALEM (AP)—Arabs in Syrian army uniforms battled a British army unit last night in northern Palestine, an army statement said. One Arab was killed and six captured.

The army said the Arabs blazed away at a truckload of sixth airborne division troops guarding the northern Palestine borders.

The Arab attackers were believed to be Syrian-trained volunteers of the "people's army for Palestine," and used French rifles and some automatic weapons.

A Damascus dispatch quoted an officer of the people's army as saying that 600 Arab fighters crossed into Palestine Tuesday night over the River Jordan and moved into prepared positions 37 miles inside the Holy Land.

The dispatch quoted a source close to Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji, people's army commander, as saying 7,000 Syrian-trained men were now in Palestine awaiting orders for a general offensive.

Additional violence during the day in Palestine included the killing of two Arab women by snipers in Jaffa. An Arab and two Jews were killed in scattered clashes. Three Jews injured in attacks on buses in Haifa Tuesday died of their wounds.

House Takes Fuel Oil Conservation Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house took steps yesterday to make more fuel oil available. It voted to stop conversions of government heating plants from coal to oil or gas.

The house commerce committee at the same time asked immediate investigation of reported increases in fuel oil prices resulting from shortages.

In passing the independent offices appropriation bill the house adopted an amendment prohibiting the federal works agency from using any funds to change furnaces over to oil or natural gas. Both of these heating fuels are scarce in many sections of the country.

Rep. Heselton (R-Mass) introduced the amendment to prevent oil conversions. The gas conversion ban was proposed by Rep. Coffin (R-Mich).

Heselton reported that many government buildings have been converted to oil use within the past few months despite the impending shortages.

House Passes First Big 1948 Appropriations Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first big appropriation bill of 1948 skimmed through the house yesterday after a brief flareup over President Truman's $700,000 emergency fund.

The $991,518,551 bill finances a score of miscellaneous federal agencies, including the White House, for the fiscal year starting July 1. The total is $56,280,313 below the President's budget estimates—a cut of about six percent.

The vote that sent the bill to the Senate was 339 to 10. All 10 negative votes came from Republicans.

The skirmish over the President's emergency fund developed over an amendment by Rep. Rees (R-Kan.) to take $200,000 off the $700,000 recommended by the appropriations committee. The President had asked for $1-million, twice what he was given for the year ending next June 30.

Plan New Voluntary Rationing Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government prepared yesterday to launch a sweeping food rationing campaign on a voluntary basis.

Representatives of 18 consumer, producer and distributor groups will meet Friday with Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to map details of the nation-wide program.

Charles F. Brannan, assistant secretary of agriculture, will head the new food saving campaign. Originally started by the citizens food committee last fall, it has been carried on until now under the direct leadership of the cabinet food committee.

Although no details of the new drive have been revealed, it is understood major emphasis will be placed on meat. But other items in the housewife's food budget are expected to be covered.

Justice Department Plans Taft-Hartley Test Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The justice department said yesterday it will take before a grand jury soon a test case on the Taft-Hartley labor-management relations act.

The statement was made in an announcement by Attorney General Clark that the department "is about to conclude its investigation of certain reported violations" of the act. Clark's office declined to be more specific.

Both the CIO and AFL have invited a test of sections of the act prohibiting expenditures of union or corporation funds in connection with a federal primary or election. The labor organizations contend this section is unconstitutional.

They used their union publications, which are supported with union funds, to take sides in a congressional primary in Baltimore and in other congressional primaries late last year.

A court ruling that those provisions are unconstitutional would kill them, but leave the rest of the law in effect. Only the supreme court could give a final decision and that might take several months or even years.

Orders Hiatt Transfer To Insane Ward

DES MOINES (AP)—Herbert Hauge of the state board of control said yesterday he has signed an order for the immediate transfer of Robert Hiatt, 29, Anamosa reformatory inmate, to the institution's criminally insane ward.

Hauge said the order was based on a statute and a report of Dr. R. A. Stewart, superintendent of the Independence state hospital, that Hiatt, Pocahontas war veteran, is a victim of dementia praecox, paranoid type.

Hiatt was convicted of assault with intent to do great bodily injury in the shooting of Delmar Van Horn near Jefferson last March. Van Horn shortly before had married Dorothy Snook of Newton, with whom Hiatt had become acquainted when they were students at the University of Iowa.

Hiatt, whose one-year term was shortened by good behavior, will complete his sentence next Sunday, Hauge said. Dr. Stewart made the examination at the request of County Attorney L. F. Wilcox of Jefferson.

Hauge said he expected Reformatory Warden Foss Davis would receive the transfer order today and make the change immediately.

In accordance with the law, two psychiatrists will make another examination of Hiatt next Saturday. After they make their report it will be up to the board of control to say whether Hiatt shall stay in the insane ward or be transferred to a state mental hospital.

Hauge said the psychiatrists probably would be Dr. L. R. Ristine, superintendent of the Mt. Pleasant state hospital, and Dr. Wilbur R. Miller, superintendent of the state psychopathic hospital at the University of Iowa.

The order for Hiatt's transfer to the insane ward followed conferences here yesterday between County Attorney Wilcox and Assistant Attorney General Clarence A. Kading, and between Kading and Hauge.

At Pocahontas, A. J. Shaw, one of Hiatt's attorneys, said any effort to have Hiatt committed to another institution would be resisted "with every force at our command."

Shaw declared he was convinced Hiatt is not insane, and said that "my correspondence with him recently doesn't indicate the least thing wrong."

Warehouse, Supplies Burn in Ft. Madison

FORT MADISON (AP)—A four-story brick warehouse, filled with groceries and other merchandise was destroyed by fire last night.

Firemen from five fire companies battled the blaze for more than three hours. It was still burning at a late hour last night but was believed under control. The blaze was discovered about 6:30 p. m.

One early estimate placed the loss at $500,000.

The building was owned by Ray Rump, wholesale grocery concern.

The warehouse also contained considerable supplies and equipment belonging to the Sheffer Pen company of Fort Madison.

The Coca Cola Bottling company had about $75,000 worth of equipment in the structure.

UN Releases Economic Report

Survey Indicates Food Top Problem

By MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The United Nations published its first big survey on world economic conditions last night, but important data on Russia was conspicuously lacking.

The 257-page report compiled by the UN department of economic affairs contained these major conclusions:

1. Food shortage continued to be the world's top economic problem.

2. The United States is the only big power exporting more goods than it is importing.

3. Inflationary price movements threaten to "destroy the progress already achieved" in European recovery.

4. "Concerted national actions" are needed to keep down prices of goods going into foreign trade.

One of the major difficulties in world recovery, the report said, was the "dollar crisis." It was this "crisis" which led to the Marshall plan.

The UN economists explained in this way: import requirements of Europe can be met only with U.S. goods. Most European countries have exhausted their dollar supply. They are unable to get more by selling goods to the U.S.

This situation, the report said, has made "external aid" from the United States "a major issue" in 1948.

The report, in addition to dealing with economic problems on a world-wide basis, also surveyed regional problems in Latin America, Asia, Europe, and the Middle East.

UN officials said last night that Russia had submitted two weeks ago a production report from the Soviet planning commission. This information, all previously published in Moscow, arrived too late for inclusion in the UN survey, they said.

The Soviet report said Russia's economic production is back to pre-war levels.

Although Soviet statistics were almost entirely lacking, the report contained a substantial amount of information on several other eastern European countries, including Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Romania and Bulgaria.

In one conference to Russia, the report said Soviet trade with her eastern European neighbors had been heavy immediately after the war but that since then "there has been a progressive decline."

The report quoted the official Soviet news agency, Tass, as saying that Russia's total production for the last quarter of 1947 had reached the per-war level. No specific figures were given, however.

Effects On Living Costs Not Known

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Commodity, stock and bond prices dropped sharply, without any news development to account for the break, in the nation's markets yesterday.

Most experts said frankly they didn't know whether it was just a temporary setback or a prick in the postwar price balloon.

Nor could they say whether the present high cost of groceries and other items in the family budget might go down as a result.

Wheat futures dropped 10 cents a bushel—as much as they can in one day—at Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City.

Stocks fell $1 to $5 a share in a 1.2-million turnover at New York, the widest break since last May. Railroad led a broad decline in the bond market.

Cotton broke more than $6 a bale at one time but made some recovery. Final prices at New York ranged from $3.55 a bale lower to 35 cents higher.

It was much the same story in gold, cottonseed oil, crude rubber and most other commodities. The Associated Press commodity index reflected the sharpest break since September, 1947.

Cattle prices remained firm, however.

Market men and economists generally noted that there has been no sudden change in two "basic factors" affecting the price structure.

That is, European requirements under the Marshall program are reckoned about the same as they have been all along. If these had been revised downward, a drop in prices undoubtedly would have followed.

Also, industrial output continues at the recent high level—a fact that ordinarily would mean steady prices.

In Washington, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson offered several possible causes for the skid in commodity prices.

One, he said, is that prices have been too high and perhaps a realization of this has "begun to take hold of the markets."

Another is that many speculators have left the market as a result of the recent investigations and publication of traders' names.

A third is that the world wheat supply is better than it seemed likely to be a few months ago—and the more wheat there is, the lower its price tends to be.

Secretary of the Treasurer Snyder touched on the boom-bust question earlier. He said the government would proceed "judiciously" in paring the national debt because of the possible effect on business and industry.

If the government doesn't tread lightly, Snyder indicated at a news conference, banks might be forced to refuse new loans or call old ones. Either would be a symptom of "recession."

Rapid retirement of the debt, particularly that held by the federal reserve banks, could have sharp effects on the lending ability of banks which deal with the public because:

1. The government would get the money for debt retirement from banks which hold government funds. Bank depositors are now paying taxes by checks to the tune of billions of dollars a month, and the government can draw the cash for them out of the banks as it chooses.

2. If the government paid off debt held by the federal reserve banks, the money would not get back into the hands of the ordinary banks or of the public, but would in effect "disappear" from circulation.

The belief that the break was merely a temporary trend was held by James S. Bennett and Co., Chicago grain traders. The Bennett company said "spot (cash) wheat is selling at too great a premium over the futures to expect further declines."

On the other hand, two other large Chicago trading concerns, the Uhlmann Grain company and Goodbody and company, insisted that the downward surge was a definite "deflationary trend." The Uhlmann firm said it expected increased sales by farmers in view of the sudden decline.

There were few exceptions to the general decline, which extended through a wide range of commodities and the stock and bond markets.

Dimitrov's Fatherland Front Turns Bulgaria To One Party State

By WES GALLAGHER

SOFIA, Bulgaria (Delayed) (AP)—Bulgaria became virtually a one-party state Tuesday night under the iron guidance of its Communist premier, Georgi Dimitrov.

About 200,000 Bulgars heralded the change by parading past a reviewing stand where Dimitrov stood, flanked by a Russian general. They shouted themselves hoarse acclaiming the 65-year-old chief of state.

Bulgaria's transition was accomplished by a reorganization of the Fatherland Front, which the Communists dominate. Until now, it had been a name for a political coalition. The Fatherland Front now becomes a political party embracing all other Bulgarian political parties and virtually all mass organizations and even individual persons with no political allegiance.

A congress of the Fatherland Front adopted at a two-day meeting a program aimed at completely Sovietizing Bulgarian life.

Included in this program were some of the following:

Closing of all private religious schools and taking over by the state of all public education.

Socialization of industry and creation of state and cooperative farms.

A drive to amend the "hard terms of the peace treaty and entry of Bulgaria into the United Nations."

A foreign policy based on indestructible friendship with the Soviet Union.

Construction of the Fatherland Front as a single public political organization of the Bulgarian people.

The opening of state, municipal, and national stores, bakeries, restaurants and the creation of state monopolies in tobacco, alcohol, liquid fuel, and salt.

Warns of Soviet Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) said yesterday that this country should get ready for a sneak Russian attack that would lay waste to cities and defenses, kill 30-million of our people and put a "foreign military commissar" in charge over the ruins.

"This is not 'idle fantasy,'" Wiley said, but "a grim possibility."

We should even consider "legislation by television," the senator said, so that "senators and congressmen from 30 to 40 points in the country might be able through the medium of television to pass the necessary laws in the event of attack."

Wiley's views were published in the Reserve Officer, a magazine.

Says Marshall To Request More Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall was reported ready to ask another billion dollars or so for foreign spending.

And Marshall himself said further military aid to Turkey and Greece is being considered by the state department.

Senator George (D-Ga.) of the foreign relations committee said he had been informed that about one billion dollars would be asked for aid to China and for occupation costs in Germany, Austria, Japan and Korea.

George told reporters his information came from a source he considered reliable, but declined to give particulars.

This extra request, on top of the $6.8-billion Marshall is asking for his European recovery program, would raise foreign spending proposals to nearly $8-billion.

Marshall told a news conference the state department is considering all the facts in connection with the $100-million military aid program to Turkey.

That was his reply when asked if additional aid is under study in view of the scheduled return of Maj. Gen. Horace L. McBride, head of the U.S. army ground forces mission to Turkey, in the near future.

Marshall said also that the department is trying to determine whether more money will be needed for the Greek aid program when the present $300-million appropriation expires June 30.

The secretary urged anew that congress act on the European recovery program by April 1, and Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the senate foreign affairs group said later that he thought this could be done.

Turkish Ambassador Recalled From Moscow

ANKARA (AP)—Turkey has recalled her ambassador from Moscow, it was learned here last night.

The sudden diplomatic move was a "tit for tat" answer to Russia's refusal to return her ambassador to Ankara, it was learned.

The foreign office declined immediate comment on the withdrawal of Ambassador Faik Zinni Akdur from Moscow.

The Russian government recalled its ambassador, Sergei A. Vinogradov, in the fall of 1945. Although there have been recurring reports that he would return, Russia still is represented by a chargé d'affaires here.

The Turkish Press and political sources have said that Russia was seeking certain territorial concessions in Turkish areas. Vinogradov's recall presumably was caused by Turkey's refusal of Russian demands.

Ten Golden Glovers Crowned Champions

Three Crowns Garnered By Iowa Citizens

By HANK ALLAN

Ten fighters were crowned 1948 Iowa City Golden Glove champions last night in the Community building, to climax two nights of action-packed amateur boxing.

The new champions are:

- 112—Jim Murphy (Worthington)
- 126—Ike Wallace (Cascade)
- 135—Don Barnes (Iowa City)
- 135—(Open) Red Wallace (Maquoketa)
- 147—Leroy Long (Cascade)
- 147—(Open) Dick Fischer (Kansas City, Mo.)
- 160—Jimmy Sorenson (Toledo)
- 175—Dick Goenne (Iowa City)
- Heavyweight—Maynard Parker (Iowa City)

Don Barnes, a lightweight with a heavyweight wallop, walked away with the evening's honors. Barnes belted southpaw Jack Potter to the canvas three times in a semi-final bout, the last trip carrying the Tiffin boxer completely out of the ring to bring a halt to the slaughter. In the finals Barnes chilled Don Burns of Tiffin in 53 seconds of the first round.

Jimmy Sorenson, the left-handed puncher from Toledo, continued his winning ways by taking a top-sided decision over Bill Kurlmeyer, a game fighter from Cascade in the semi-finals, and halting Joe Merfield of Cascade in the third round of the championship bout.

Four hundred pounds of beef clashed in the final fight in the heavyweight division, with Mickey Barnes and Maynard Parker, both of Iowa City, providing the fireworks. Barnes, evicently out of shape, tired in the second frame and was hanging on the ropes when referee Hart stopped the proceedings.

As usual there were some amazing exhibitions of raw courage. Clair Howell, a lanky 135-pounder from Elkader, took a terrific beating from tough Don Burns of Tiffin. Burns landed punch after punch on Howell's jaw, but the game Elkader boy wouldn't go down. Bill Kurlmeyer, a 160-pound Elkader scrapper, was dumped 3 times by hard hitting Jimmy Sorenson, but was fighting back furiously at the final bell.

Some sort of award should have been presented to the capable referee, Rev. Donovan Hart. Three times the local pastor was spilled to the canvas by the wild-charging batters and often haymakers.

just missed the former "Tommy Maroon's" jaw.

The most confusing happening of the evening's offerings was the "open title" won by Dick Fischer, 1947 Kansas City Welterweight Golden Glove Champion. Fischer won the title without fighting in a tournament bout. However, he fought an exhibition with Novice Champion Leroy Long of Cascade, and showed that he was indeed a clever boxer by toying with Long throughout the match.

The sportsmanship award, a gold cup donated by John Wilson of Iowa City, was surprisingly enough awarded to Dick Goenne, the newly crowned 175-pounder. Goenne won an unpopular decision over Howard Bowers of Elkader in a very ordinary scrap.

The results of the semifinals and finals:

112-pounds—Jim Murphy (Worthington) by KO over Carol Heurteret (Maquoketa) in 3rd round.

126-pounds—Don Barnes (Iowa City), KO over Jack Potter (Tiffin) in 3rd round.

135-pounds—Don Barnes (Iowa City), KO over Pat Wheeler (Elkader) in 3rd round.

135-pounds—(Open) Red Wallace (Maquoketa) KO over Joe Merfield (Cascade) in 3rd round.

147-pounds—Leroy Long (Cascade) decision Arnold Hanson (Iowa City).

160-pounds—Jimmy Sorenson (Toledo) decision Bill Kurlmeyer (Elkader).

175-pounds—Dick Goenne (Iowa City) decision Jimmy Sorenson (Toledo).

Heavyweight—Maynard Parker (Iowa City) decision Mickey Barnes (Iowa City).

Dick Goenne (Iowa City) decision Howard Bowers (Elkader).

Heavyweights—Maynard Parker, Iowa City, stopped Mickey Barnes, Iowa City, 1:15 second round.

Open division—135-pound class: Red Wallace (Maquoketa) decision Billy McVey (Worthington).

Illini Wrestlers Hit

The University of Illinois wrestling team yesterday lost two of its star performers, both Big Nine champions, due to ineligibility. The wrestlers are Dave Shapiro and Lou Kachiroubas.

Taking Time Out

With Buck Turnbull

Who will it be? The center problem on the Iowa basketball team now rests with five players, all of whom stand a good chance of grabbing the job for the remainder of the season.

Coach Pops Harrison surprised quite a few eager fans yesterday afternoon during the practice session when he inserted big Bill Kay, tackle of football fame, into the line-up in a brisk scrimmage. The native of Walnut, Iowa, shifted his gridiron weight around pretty "cagily," too.

When asked if Kay, who stands 6 feet, 5 inches tall and carries 215 pounds up and down the hard court, was out for the team, Pops replied, "Yes, he'll be working out with us for awhile. You can't tell what will happen."

So there it is, fans. Something to turn over in your minds, anyway. In reality, Kay would measure to the same proportions of George Maddock, husky Northwestern center who performed here Monday night. If remembered, Mr. Maddock, who is a tackle on the Wildcat grid team, captured a good share of the rebounds during his stint against the Hawks.

But Maddock has been lumbering along with the Northwestern five since last November and gained a lot of experience. Kay has played little basketball in recent years but did play in high school. He's a junior with one more year of football left.

Meanwhile, the top two contenders for the spot vacated by Red Metcalfe, who is now scholastically ineligible, Don Hays and Roger Finley, took a regular afternoon's work-out yesterday. One of these two should get the call against Purdue.

However, there has been considerable talk of shifting Forward Stan Straatsma into the pivot. Straatsma is a tricky operator off the post but his height disadvantage is still questionable. The fifth possibility is another footballer, Tony Guzowski. An end on the grid team and a guard with the eagles, Tony also took a brief try in the center position yesterday.

Pops is still undecided but he has good reason to be. It will be quite a problem to get another center who will come close to measuring the agility, ball-handling and scoring punch of Metcalfe.

It's a cinch that someone besides Murray Wier, who is now averaging 23.6 points in conference games so far, is going to have to start scoring in double figures if the Hawks have any title hopes remaining. Better balanced scoring would help, too.

The Hawks leave for Lafayette Friday via airplane. They'll return immediately following the game.

A note from down Des Moines way—Dick Yoakam, sportscaster for WHO and former university student, is the father of a six-pound baby boy born yesterday. "Yoke" has many friends here, formerly working on The Daily Iowan and WSUL. He broadcast the Iowa football games for WHO this past season.

During "Yoke's" writing days with the Iowan, he was sent to cover the Hawkeye game with Notre Dame at South Bend.

After the game was over and "Yoke" began to write his story, an elderly, gray-haired gentleman lounged back in a seat in the press box and glanced at the eager reporter.

Leaning over he introduced himself, "Pretty exciting game wasn't it. My name's John Kierman of The New York Times."

"Yoke" gulped and squeaked back, "Glad to meet you. My name's Yoakam of The Daily Iowan."

Controversy Ended; Cubs Get Zoeterman

CHICAGO, (AP)—The Chicago Cubs yesterday won a 10-club scramble to sign George Zoeterman, 17-year-old left handed high school pitcher star.

Zoeterman was signed to play next season with the Decatur, Ill., club of the Three-I league, a Cub farm. His progress to pitching duty with the Cubs will depend upon the showing he makes at Decatur. He will join Decatur March 29 at its spring training camp at Selma, Ala.

No Tickets Remain For Iowa Basketball

Iowa Athletic business Manager Frank Havlicek announced yesterday that there would be positively no more tickets on sale for University of Iowa basketball games for the rest of the season.

This announcement was made previously January 19, but the steady flow of orders has continued to come in.

Only reserved seat tickets were put on sale, and no general admission were available. Due to the large enrollment these tickets are held for the student body.

However, people who are interested will be able to get good radio coverage of all the contests. WSUI, the university-broadcasting station will air all games, and for individual games this station will be augmented by others.

American Places In Olympic Ski; Button Looks for Skating Win

Hettrick 1st in Valley Scoring Holcomb 2nd

Gene Hettrick, City high's ace center, took over the individual scoring leadership in the Mississippi Valley conference by virtue of his performances against Dubuque and West Waterloo last week. Hettrick's total of 118 points is just shy of the 17-point per game mark.

The Hawkllets, as a unit, dropped to two full games behind league-leading Davenport as a result of their loss to West Waterloo. The Imps have won eight consecutive conference games, most of them by top-heavy margins. Iowa City is deadlocked in second place with McKinley of Cedar Rapids. Each boasts a 6-2 conference record.

Holcomb of Clinton has passed Skip Greene of Davenport in individual scoring. Holcomb now ranks second with 104 points in nine games. Greene has competed in eight contests, collecting 99 points.

Topping this week's schedule is the Davenport-Iowa City contest here this Friday. Earlier in the season the Blue Devils took a decisive win over the Little Hawks at Davenport. However, the Hawkllets are out to revenge that defeat, as Coach Gil Wilson's charges need a win to stay in the conference race.

The standings:

Sweden Still Tops; U. S. 7th

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP)—A pretty western housewife, her pigtail flying, plummeted down a zig-zag alpine snow course yesterday to accomplish something no American ever had done before—win a medal in an Olympic skiing event against Europe's masters.

Mrs. Gretchen Fraser, a modest 115-pounder of Vancouver, Wash., scored her unprecedented personal triumph by placing second in the women's alpine combined ski test, in which she was edged out of first place by Trede Beiser of Austria by the nearly invisible margin of 37 one-hundredths of a point.

The highest American—man or woman—ever placed before in an Olympic ski event was 11th.

The combined is a ski event in two sections, the first a downhill race and the second the slalom, in which the contestants speed in and out between markers set on a precipitous slope. Mrs. Fraser finished 11th in the downhill on Monday, but her speed and grace today all but carried her to the championship.

She flashed down the course twice in 61.8 and 59.2 seconds for the second-best elapsed time of the day—2 minutes, 1 second. Miss Beiser, the winner, totaled 2 minutes, 10.5 seconds for the two runs, but her better placing in Monday's downhill enabled her to squeak through over the American matron.

The day's results left Sweden still on top on the Associated Press scoreboard, and pushed France above the United States despite Mrs. Fraser's brilliant showing.

The team standing last night was: Sweden 60, Norway 48, Switzerland 45, Finland 38, Austria 36, France 27, United States 20, Italy 11, Holland six, Belgium three, Hungary three, Britain, two, and Canada one-fourth.

The cresta slidding run, put off from yesterday, may well go to Jack Heaton, of New Haven, Conn., winner of the event in 1928.

North Carolina State Top Offensive Team; Aggies' Best Defense

NEW YORK, (AP)—North Carolina State's "Hoosier Hotshots" are running away with the major college basketball scoring race. Averaging 78.2 points per game in their first 20 starts through Jan. 31, the Southern conference leaders enjoy a comfortable margin over runnerup Rhode Island State.

A 98-point splurge against Hampden-Sydney and two freescoring flings against Furman and Wake Forest solidified North Carolina State's lead. The Wolf-pack has scored 1,564 points in 20 games and that doesn't include 81 against North Carolina last night.

Rhode Island's second place average of 75.5 was piled up in 12 games according to figures compiled by the National Intercollegiate Athletic Bureau on games through Jan. 31. Bowling Green was third at 72.5, Western Kentucky fourth at 70.8 and Bradley displaced Kentucky in fifth position with a 70.6 average. Lawrence Tech was seventh with 69.4 and Indiana State was tenth with 67.4.

Oklahoma A. & M. continued to sport the best defensive record, allowing only 33 points per game to the opposition in 17 contests. Alabamnia's 37.1 point average was next best, followed in order by Wyoming, Penn State, Tulane, North Carolina, Siena, St. Louis, St. Bonaventure and Hamline.

Best free throw shooters were the Texas cagers who cashed in on almost three shots of every four from the 15-foot line for a 72.5 percentage.

Northwestern was third in the free throw column with a rating of 67.8 and Wisconsin was fifth with a 67.2 percentage.

Oregon State's field goal percentage of 38.0 was tops in that department.

Southern Methodist committed the fewest personal fouls and Iowa State the most. Iowa State made 333 fouls in 14 games for an average of 23.8 per game. Indiana was second in that department with 231 fouls in ten games for a 23.1 percentage.

"TO LIVE IN PEACE" INTERNATIONAL PRIZE WINNING FILM Makes Premiere Appearance at Capitol Playhouse Friday

CAPITOL PLAYHOUSE AGAIN HAS THE DISTINCTION OF BEING 1ST THEATRE IN U.S. TO PLAY A PRIZE WINNING FILM FOLLOWING WORLD PREMIERE IN N.Y.

MIRELLA MONTI and GAR MOORE in a scene from "To Live in Peace".

THE NEW YORK TIMES By BOSLEY CROWTHER

The revived Italian film industry, which has sent us such powerful post-war films as "Shoe Shine" and "Open City," has now sent another one along that takes a place of distinction among the fine motion pictures of our times. Less grim and emotionally lacerating than the two pictures mentioned above, yet equally (if not more) absorbing in its keen comprehension of mankind, it follows a rich vein of satire in its bold tragic-comedy. "To Live in Peace" is its title and it replaced the long-run "Open City" at the World last night.

As did those two previous pictures, this one also explores the extraordinary effects upon people that derive from a climate of war.

But where "Shoe Shine" and "Open City" were on levels of violence and concerned various strata of society complicated in urban life, "To Live in Peace" finds its substance upon a much more tranquil plane and among a group of peasants who are closer to nature and to the soil.

Actually, it is the story of the reactions of some Italian villagers to their moral responsibilities when they suddenly find in their midst a wounded American Negro soldier and an American journalist, both of whom have escaped from their Nazi captors and are lost behind the lines. And particularly it is the story of one stout and self-respecting villager who is sick of political dogmatism and who rallies the other villagers to the moral test.

On a broader basis, however, it

ACCLAIMED BY LOCAL FILM CRITICS AT PREVIEW

DR. L. D. LONGMAN—"Very moving! Keeps high standard set by Open City and Shoeshine. Don't miss it!"

DR. GEORGE KERNODLE—"A beauty . . . tears, laughter, everything . . ."

DR. JAMES LECHAY—"In one word 'great!' A real cinematic experience."

MISS TACIE KNEASE—"Everyone should see it. A thought provoking picture at an opportune moment."

MISS FLORENCE CHURCHILL—"Excellent! A touching story of human kindness."

is a study of fundamental humanity and of the towering irony of simple people of peaceful disposition being compelled to hate one another because of war. And it is in this area of contemplation that the superior satire of the story is achieved—first in the attitude of the peasants toward the soldiers and, second, in the disposition of a Nazi to the American Negro when both are drunk.

There is beautiful compassion and glowing humor in the caution yet determination with which the villagers hide the two Americans, after children have found them in the woods, and treat and protect them with the same husbandry that they naturally give all decent living things. But the height of the side-splitting irony comes when the one Nazi guard in the town gets rip-roaring drunk, finds the Negro (who is hidden in a wine cellar and has got drunk, too) and goes howling through the night and the village with him, leading the villagers to assume the end of the war. The nocturnal merger of all divisions and then the tragic realizations in the morn make for some of the most indignant derision of anti-human factionalism that we've seen.

Not only is it a good story, but it is pungently and creditably played by a fine cast.

"To Live in Peace" does that wonderful thing in supporting our faith in humanity in an enjoyable and moving way.

Race Restrictive Covenants—Public Action Illegal—Private Action OK?

(Second of a Series) We pointed out yesterday that the supreme court has held that cities could not zone their residential districts on the basis of race. Private citizens, however, have secured segregation laws through another device: the race restrictive covenant.

Need for Warming Words

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

I keep thinking of a family more petroleum products than which maybe doesn't exist. Let's say this family was on relief in New York City, eleven, twelve years ago. We had an unusually hard winter back then, I think it was in '36, and this family, perhaps, was very cold that year.

He Tried to Give His House Away; Tenants Refuse It

NEW YORK (AP)—A landlord tried yesterday—right in court—to give the house away to the tenants. Sam Yachter was too disgusted, his lawyer said, with complaints about the refrigerator, the roof, the windows, the hot water, and at the moment—the heat, that he would be "tickled to death to get rid of it."

Blue's Father Terse; Message Sent In Verse

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Robert Blue of Iowa may not know it, but his father was something of a versifier during his career as a railroad engineer. Historians assembling data for the Chicago and North Western railroad's centennial observance came across this distress message sent by engineer Blue to his master mechanic in Winona, Minn., sometime in 1910:

Five Ways To Make Money by Writing

By HAL BOYLE. NEW YORK (AP)—An old editor, his eyeballs calloused from years of newspaper prose, once told me: "Son, there are five subjects people always are interested in—an easy way to make money, sex, dogs, birds and the weather."

pest, where it is a favorite among the people who live under the shadow of the hammer and sickle. A hungry Hungarian dog met a well-fed Hungarian dog and was invited to share the menu at his kennel. But a doubt flickered in the hunger-pinched brain of the Austrian dog and it inquired: "Before I come, you'll pardon me if I ask whether there isn't some catch? Doesn't your master exact some teeny-weeny uncomfortable demand on you for feeding you so well?"

get a wink of sleep. It kept dunking itself all night, and I couldn't take my eyes off it. And look at it now—it's still doing it. Get that bird out of my sight, or I'll never get well." That brings us to the weather. Well, the Providence (R. I.) Evening Bulletin has found that the 1948 edition of the "Old Farmer's Almanac" has a clean beat to date over the U. S. weather bureau in predicting this winter's storms.

Unemployed Iowans Receive Larger January Payments

January payments to unemployed Iowans showed a substantial increase over December, according to the Iowa Employment Security commission in Des Moines.

But the increase amounted to only about one-half as much as in the same month a year ago, the commission reported Monday.

Veterans and other unemployed Iowans drew $654,237 in readjustment allowances and unemployment insurance benefits in January, which is almost a 50 percent increase over the preceding month.

In January, a year ago, veterans alone drew $1,022,000 in allowances, the commission revealed.

The decrease is attributed to the fact that more veterans now have steady employment and that seasonal layoffs during winter months have been less because of favorable weather.

Housing Area Married Vets Face Possible Rent Increase

By JOHN WEBER

There is a strong possibility that rents in SUI married student housing areas will raise soon unless the federal public housing authority changes its rent scales.

An FPHA report from Washington, D.C. last night said the change in veterans' rental costs have not yet come up for decision. Mrs. Imelda C. Murphy, manager of dormitory assignment office here, said yesterday that under the present FPHA rent scale, rents for individuals within certain income brackets would automatically increase if President Truman signs the bill increasing veterans' subsistence allowances.

Veterans' families living in expensible trailers would be hardest by the increase. Under the current FPHA rent scale, families living in expensibles must pay rent equal to one-fourth of their income if they make between $90 and $130 a month.

This means that veterans' families who live in expensible trailers with one or more children and who now get $90 a month, would have to pay an additional $7.50 rent.

Under the present FPHA rent scale, veterans' families living in standard trailers would have to pay an additional $2.50 monthly rent. Those living in cottage or quonset apartments would not be affected unless their government subsistence allowances are supplemented by private incomes.

Private trailer rents are not included in the FPHA rent scale. These rents are set by the university.

V.S. Copeland, manager of dormitory operations, said, however, the university does not base private trailer rents on the owner's ability to pay but upon the cost of operation. He also said if any changes were to be made in private trailer rents, ample notice would be given in advance.

In some instances, private trailer owners pay the same rent as those living in government trailers. J. Robert Cotter, manager of married student housing, explained this is because the rent received is not applicable to the installation of the government trailers but to the cost of operation only.

"It costs just as much to maintain a private trailer as it does for maintenance of a government trailer," Cotter said.

According to Cotter, rents from private trailers are applied to laundry and toilet facilities, electricity, minor repairs, streetlights, night watch service, fuel for heating and cooking, garbage and trash disposal and administrative service.

As far as government housing units are concerned, Copeland said the rent charged under FPHA includes not only the use of the unit but also all utilities.

Gehlback To Speak On Labor Today At Information First

H. Hunter Gehlbach, vice-president of the United States junior chamber of commerce, will open the second semester of Information First series today at 4:30 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

A University of Iowa graduate, Gehlbach will speak on "Six Months Under the Taft Hartley Act." A discussion period will follow his speech.

Gehlbach has both a B.S.C. degree and a J.D. degree from the University of Iowa where he was president of All For Iowa, honorary for outstanding men; editor of Hawkeye in 1934; president of the senior law class in 1936, and student editor on the staff of the Iowa Law Review.

While a senior in the college of law, he was a research assistant to Prof. O. K. Patton. He was also a member of Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity.

During his association with the jaycees, Gehlbach has served as secretary-treasurer of the Illinois junior chamber of commerce; national director representing Illinois on the board of directors of the United States junior chamber of commerce, and president of the Illinois state organization.

A member of the Chicago and the American Bar associations, Gehlbach lives in Evanston, Ill., where he is attorney in the legal department of the Borg-Warner corporation.

Italian Girl Came to New World in America

CELEBRATING THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY of her arrival in the U.S. from Italy are Linda and John Crivaro. Linda arrived in the states Feb. 5, 1947 and in Iowa City with her husband last fall. They are living at the Van Meter apartments while Crivaro is taking a pre-medical course.

By GORDON NIXSON

A year ago today pretty Linda Iannaccone stepped off an Italian liner and upon American soil at New York for the first time.

As many other girls from abroad have done she came to marry her soldier sweetheart.

But unlike most of the other girls, she had come from a former belligerent country—Italy. The 21-year-old woman spent the first 20 years of her life in Fascist Italy.

In the 365 days following her arrival, Linda rode pullman half-way across the United States married John Crivaro of Des Moines, enjoyed Iowa's state fair and settled down to keeping house for student-veteran Crivaro at Iowa City.

Linda was working for the Red Cross in a Naples, Italy hospital when the Americans entered in the fall of 1943. The Americans took over the hospital and Crivaro was attached to it. He and Linda met in November, 1945.

One of the first indications Dan! Cupid was at work was when Linda didn't charge Crivaro for some Red Cross music records he had broken.

They became engaged and when he left for the states in February, 1946, she was to follow as quickly as possible.

Linda's mother wasn't too happy about her bambino's plans, but she gave her consent partly because she had been here once and liked America and Americans.

Another clincher was the several letters Crivaro wrote each day. Once, a pile of 20 came at once.

All immigration red tape was finally cut and on January 25, 1947, the small black-haired girl started from the sunny shores of Italy to the unknown land of America.

The boat docked in New York at 10 a. m. on Feb. 5. Fiance Crivaro was nowhere to be seen. Eight hours of nervous deck-pacing followed. She later found out he hadn't received the cablegram giving arrival time she sent when she left Naples.

The bride-to-be wired Crivaro of her plans and then caught the train for Chicago.

Crivaro's mother had a big breakfast celebration for the happy newcomer the next morning when they arrived in Des Moines. But Linda was too excited to eat anything.

The wedding was delayed until the end of Lent season, in spite of Crivaro's objections. With less than a month of her visa left, they were married April 13 of last year.

Last fall they came to Iowa City and were lucky enough to find an apartment. While her husband is taking his second year of pre-medicine, Linda is swelling the $90 subsistence by working in University hospital.

She said that not many girls go to universities in Italy because it costs so much. She went to school in her hometown of Naples for 12 years. She compared the last four of them to four years of our colleges study. They charge tuition for the last four years of high school.

"An American wouldn't find people as friendly in Naples as I have found Iowans," she said. "Why, I always get a seat when I take the bus to work. In Naples, the men don't offer their seats even to women with babies."

Linda came to the right state for one of her favorite foods. She loves corn—on the cob, fried, popped and escalloped.

She and her husband spent a day at the state fair last summer and saw about all the exhibitions and side shows. But she remembers most the fluffy cotton candy. "I tried to get some in my mouth," she laughed, "but it was just no use."

She admires the grocery stores and department stores in Iowa City. "At home there is a store for each separate item and in all of Naples there are only two or three department stores."

Blaming the Naples black market she said, "You start early in the morning to look for food. You can't plan your meals, you just serve whatever you are able to buy."

Warn Vets Can Not Duplicate Training

According to a recent ruling by the Veterans Administration, World War II veterans are ineligible for training under the GI Bill or the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16) while taking training in other federal-financed courses.

The ruling held that the two veterans' training laws were not intended to duplicate training of veterans already enrolled in other funds or from Federal funds.

The Veterans Administration said that certain courses financed by Federal appropriations are available to veterans as well as to other persons, and are separate from the two veterans' training laws.

These courses are:

1. U. S. Public Health training programs for persons receiving fellowship or salaries from state courses of study and receiving benefits from other United States Government appropriations.

2. U. S. Maritime Commission training programs.

Payne To Open 'Religion In Life Week'

Dr. Paul Calvin Payne will give the "Religion In Life Week" opening address on "Author of Liberty" Sunday at 8 p. m. in the Union lounge. The Rev. Mr. Payne is the general secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian church.

"Religion In Life Week" will be held next week from Feb. 8 through Feb. 13. Dr. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, said yesterday.

A meeting will be held today at 4:30 p. m. in the YMCA rooms of the Union for 150 student campus leaders to discuss plans for the religious week.

This religious emphasis week has been held from time to time by the university for the last two decades.

"Some type of religious week is a major feature of almost all of the state universities and colleges in the country," Lampe said. He added that generally the week is either centered around one speaker or a team of speakers. This year "Religion In Life Week" features a team of 11 speakers.

The Rev. Mr. Payne is a member of the executive committee of the International Council of Religious Education. He was a Cornell university pastor in Ithaca, N. Y.

3. Resident training programs in hospitals, clinics, medical or dental laboratories owned or operated by the U. S. Government.

4. Residency training for physicians and dentists in the Department of Medicine and Surgery of the Veterans Administration.

When veterans complete their training under other Federally supported programs, they then become eligible to continue their studies or take other training under provisions of the GI Bill or Public Law 16.

UWA Selects Staff Of 'Code For Coeds'

Carolyn Ladd, A2, Iowa City, was appointed editor of 1948 Code for Coeds, UWA publication, and Lucille Durham, A3, Knoxville, Iowa, art editor, according to Elaine Lenney, president of the University Women's association.

Selections were made from applications submitted to the UWA council. The editor was chosen on the basis of writing ability and originality of the theme, and the art editor on the basis of drawing samples, Miss Lenney said.

Outstanding applications will be given to the new editor from which she can choose her staff. Sue Gronna, P2, Minot, N. D., was re-appointed chairman of the Information First series for next year, Miss Lenney said.

Cause for American Pride

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

* Just ten stirring sentences in all. But they are an immortal expression of democracy and freedom. Shown here, in Abraham Lincoln's own handwriting, is part of the manuscript from which he spoke on the afternoon of Nov. 19, 1863. The original, along with more than a hundred documents famous in American history, is on exhibit aboard the "Freedom Train". This train is now on a nationwide tour. Watch for its arrival in your area!

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth, upon this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation, so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met here on a great battle-field of the war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it as the final resting place of those who here gave their lives that this nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we can not dedicate — we can not consecrate — we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who wrought here have consecrated it far above our power.

Be proud of what you write . . . and the way you write it!

Pride comes with the possession of a Parker "51". For this is the world's most-wanted pen . . . flawless in its beauty and performance. It writes in a way that does you proud. No urging. No coaxing. The "51" starts instantly. Coasts across the page with clean, easy strokes. Two sizes: regular "51" and new demi-size. Both with choice of custom points.
