Romania's Ex-King Mihai and Press
Hope for Non-Communist Revolution

LONDON (AP) — Young Mihai of Romania declared yesterday his abdication had been forced and he would not be bound by it.

His country, he said, was being ruled by a government "installed and maintained in power by a foreign country."

He made his statement to a group of nearly 100 newspapermen, then boarded a train for Southampton to catch the Queen Elizabeth which leaves for New York today.

If his statement was meant as a new claim to the Romanian throne, Mihai did not say so in that many words. He did not mention Soviet Russia by name, but the implications of his statement ranged all the way from hopes for an anti-Communist revolution in his homeland to mere disappointment at loss of his crown.

Mihai arrived in this safe political exile from Paris in time for lunch with Britain's royal family at Buckingham palace. He met the press and read a carefully prepared statement, his first on the abdication of Dec. 30.

Mihai refused to answer any questions after reading his statement, offering no clue whether he might attempt to set up a government in exile.

Later when Mihai boarded the Queen Elizabeth in Southampton he said: "I am very hopeful that one day I will return to my country."

He said he would be back in Europe soon to marry Princess Anne.

"We hope to be married in Denmark," he said, "and in the near future."

He would not speculate on the possibility of finding political support in the U.S.

Says Communists Make Move Against Austria

VIENNA (AP) — A reliable government source said last night the Communists were making the first moves in what appeared to be a general offensive against the Austrian government.

The source said a recent strike movement, centered primarily in Soviet-controlled plants, was a blow at both the government and the association of trade unions.

He charged that Soviet occupation headquarters is aiding the Communist party. He said the Soviets refuse to deliver to the Austrian ration system produce from the estates they administer. This refusal, he said, keeps the ration at a minimum and encourages what he termed "staged" food riots and demonstrations.

Urge Vote On Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — United States officials insisted last night that the United Nations security council vote soon on endorsing partition of Palestine.

The first test ballot in the council may come today.

Europe Waits For Italy's April Elections

By JOHN P. MCKNIGHT

ROME (AP) — The battle was joined yesterday for Italy's elections April 18. These elections may be Europe's most momentous political event of the next two months.

Yesterday was the last day the country's numerous political parties could put up candidates for the republic's first parliament. The makeup of parliament may decide whether Italy falls into the Communist camp.

He said he would be back in Europe soon to marry Princess Anne.

"We hope to be married in Denmark," he said, "and in the near future."

He would not speculate on the possibility of finding political support in the U.S.

Arrest Leader of Czech Student Affiliate Group

PRAGUE (AP) — Security police announced last night the arrest of Felix Uhl on charges of complicity in setting up espionage centers in the American zone of Germany. Police said Czechoslovakians were fleeing to those centers.

Certainly a clean-cut Communist victory in the fight to elect 574 deputies and some 400 senators would throw the western powers' long-range strategy far astray.

At least 12 parties and coalitions had filed nation-wide slates of candidates and several others were expected to do so before the deadline last night.

But the big fight is between the Christian Democrats, Premier de Gasperi's party, "Popular Front."

However, the Communists, still largely faithful to a truce on political violence that was signed a few weeks ago, have made no bones about their well-organized underground, their hidden arms, their "shadow government" which they say is ready to take over.

What their policy would be if they fail to win control in the election is the nation's biggest question.

All Italy is waiting for the answer. No one these days is making vacation plans, signing long-term apartment leases, starting new businesses, buying new clothes. "After April 18," they say.

Senator Seeks Rebuke

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Wherry (R-Neb) yesterday asked midwestern railroads to rebuke an official who labeled the federal barge lines socialistic.

Report Troops Mass At Guatemalan Border

GUATEMALA (AP) — Troops movements on both sides of the border were reported yesterday as Guatemala's wrath against the British over possession of British Honduras mounted.

The government said army units had been sent to the frontier adjoining British Honduras to prevent a possible British invasion.

Col. Alejandro Maldonado, governor of Peten province, told the government he received reports that about 1,500 British troops had taken up positions in British Honduras at the Guatemalan border. He said he was en route to the border to verify the reports.

Wedemeyer Urges U. S. Fight Against Chinese Communists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man who wrote the "secret report" on China, Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, said yesterday this country should help in the fight against Chinese Communists.

Wedemeyer, admitting "honest differences" with Secretary of State Marshall, thus lined up with General Douglas MacArthur. Their joint opinion to the house foreign affairs committee:

Economic aid, as proposed by the Truman administration, is not enough.

MacArthur cabled the committee from Tokyo Wednesday that "one major frontier is no less important than another" in resisting the assaults of political despotism."

The general said China, whose government is locked in a civil war with Communist forces, is one of the major frontiers.

There was no official comment from the state department on either General's testimony. Officials appeared to agree, however, with the general idea that economic help to continue fighting Communism should be backed by guns and planes.

A western senator yesterday proposed stretching the Monroe doctrine to cover Europe, the Middle East, Asia and the South Seas.

Senator Malone (R-Nev) said we must decide which countries in those areas it is "necessary for us to currently protect for our own ultimate safety."

Then, he told the senate, we should serve notice that "if the integrity of these nations is

Finns Appear Ready To Talk With Russia

HELSINKI, FINLAND (AP) — Finland appeared ready last night to begin talks with Russia in answer to Prime Minister Stalin's request for a friendship and mutual assistance pact.

The stand of most Finnish political parties, however, indicated that Finnish negotiators would attempt to steer clear of opening the way to a purely military alliance.

The parliamentary group of the Social Democratic party was emphatic in opposing a military pact. The party has great influence among workers and fills 48 of Parliament's 200 seats.

The group stressed the need for defining a clear basis for negotiations leading to a possible pact.

The question whether Finland should move a step closer to Russia's eastern bloc rested with President Juhu Paasikivi. As soon as the Social Democrats conveyed their views to Paasikivi, he called a meeting of his closest advisors. There was no announcement as to the results of the meeting.

Russia Protests U. S. Planes in Far East

LONDON (AP) — Russia has filed a second protest against the activities of American airplanes in the Far East, the Moscow radio said last night.

A broadcast heard in London said the Soviet Union had made a new protest over "continued violations of the freedom of merchant shipping" by U.S. planes off Japan.

It was the fourth Russian protest to the U.S. in the past six weeks concerning American activities in the so-called military field.

Certainly a clean-cut Communist victory in the fight to elect 574 deputies and some 400 senators would throw the western powers' long-range strategy far astray.

At least 12 parties and coalitions had filed nation-wide slates of candidates and several others were expected to do so before the deadline last night.

But the big fight is between the Christian Democrats, Premier de Gasperi's party, "Popular Front."

However, the Communists, still largely faithful to a truce on political violence that was signed a few weeks ago, have made no bones about their well-organized underground, their hidden arms, their "shadow government" which they say is ready to take over.

On-the-Job Wage Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — More money for veterans taking on-the-job training was agreed upon yesterday by senate and house committees.

They fixed ceilings of $210 a month for veterans with no dependents, $270 for those with one dependent and $290 for those with two or more.

Canada Tightens Border

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada has ordered its border police to stop any alien Communists who seek entry into the country, a government informant said yesterday.

The instructions were issued as a result of a cabinet decision to move against Communists from other countries.

The decision was said to be aimed particularly at Communists who are known to have been entering Canada from the United States in recent years as labor union officials.

Market Basket Climbs 5 Cents

By PAUL LUCKINBILL

Reversing a two-week trend of sharp decreases, the Daily Iowan market basket index climbed to $16.94 yesterday, a rise of five cents.

The reversal of the index trend came simultaneously with a rise in the Dunn and Bradstreet index of wholesale commodities which increased the first time since the recent market slump.

Prices generally remained steady with only five price changes discovered, three of them one-cent increases.

Butter, which has dropped off every week since Feb. 5, declined one-cent, selling for 83 cents.

Prices generally remained steady with only five price changes discovered, three of them one-cent increases.

One-pound cans of shortening jumped back up to 49 cents after selling for 48 cents one week. Few stores had any of the popular groceries indicated they were going to sell butter at cost today as a "special" for their customers.

The better cuts of fresh beef and pork began to increase in price as center cut pork chops rose to 64 cents, a two-cent change.

Meat managers predicted prices for all fresh beef and pork if the strike scheduled for March 16 by 15,000 Iowa C.I.O. union meat packing plant workers goes into effect.

Two managers disagreed as to whether the strike will create a shortage of meat here. One butcher explained that he believes independent meat packing plants will be able to supply grocery stores in Iowa City with sufficient

Harriman Refuses to Give Up Loyalty Papers on Dr. Condon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce department refused last night to turn over its loyalty check papers on Dr. Edward U. Condon and the House un-American activities committee announced plans for a public "showdown."

Dr. Condon is the head of the national bureau of standards. He had been described by an un-American activities subcommittee Monday as an official who "knowingly or unknowingly" mingled with alleged Russian spies.

Secretary of Commerce Harriman wrote the House group last night that he would not accede to its demand for the files of a department board which cleared Dr. Condon in a loyalty check.

Harriman did say in view of the public interest in the matter "I believe that it would be desirable to have the case reviewed by the loyalty review board of the civil service commission."

He said he intends to ask for such a review and to send the board the "relevant papers."

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) said the House committee "now will hold public hearings on this case."

Mr. Truman sent his request to both the union, an AFL group, and to the Carbone and Carbon Chemicals corp. While company officials did not comment immediately, Cyrus S. Ching, U.S. conciliation director, told reporters he was confident the firm would go along.

Ching has said that a stoppage would have "grave national implications."

Mr. Truman, concluding his 10-day vacation here, also said that he will appoint a formal board of inquiry today.

Stassen Says 'No' To 3d Party Idea

HANOVER, N. H. (AP) — Harold E. Stassen said yesterday he did not approve of Henry Wallace's third party, even though it would tend to split the Democrats.

This rule has been established since the time of President Washington, who declined to comply with a congressional request to forward certain documents in the custody of the executive branch of the government.

The Republican presidential aspirant made his comment at a forum on the Dartmouth college campus, where more than 2,000 students gave him an enthusiastic reception.

Laughter broke out when one student asked him: "Do you approve of Wallace's third party even though it would tend to split the Democrats?"

Solemnly, Stassen replied, "No. The best interest of the country can be served by a two party system."

Market Basket Climbs 5 Cents

By PAUL LUCKINBILL

The opposite opinion was expressed by another butcher who said there are few independent companies around Iowa City to fill the larger orders for meat.

Flour, one of the first items on the index grocery list to reflect the market slump, rose one-cent, selling for 94 cents.

A further price rise was predicted by one grocer.

The drop in oat prices on the market had no deflationary effect on breakfast foods as is indicated by a rise of one-cent on small boxes of oatmeal. They're now selling for 18 cents.

The cost of each food item is weighed in accordance with the amount of that item a student family of three uses in a week.

Carrie Bright

Carrie Bright, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Slaughter, 119 S. Linn street, was cheerful last night after narrowly escaping serious injury Wednesday afternoon from an accidental gun shot wound in the arm.

After penicillin was administered yesterday, the boy still had a slight fever.

He was shot while walking to school. Carrie, a schoolmate, Ronald Dickerson, 8, son of Mrs. Sherwood Dickerson, 119 S. Linn street, discovered the pistol among some loose boards in an alley.

They stopped to examine the gun and it went off, the bullet passing through Carrie's arm.

Frightened by the shot, the two boys dropped the gun in the snow and went on to school, remaining there all afternoon. The wound did not bleed much so Carrie did not complain of his injury until 6 p.m.

After school, he went to the laundry where his mother is employed, but did not mention the incident.

Little Hawks Rip Ambrose Five, 57-47

By AL SCHMAHL
Assistant Sports Editor

Davenport took a thrilling 50-44 overtime win over Clinton and Iowa City outclassed St. Ambrose of Davenport, 57-47, in the district tournament AA final played at the Iowa fieldhouse last night.

In the first game of the evening Gene Hetrick poured in 24 points to pace the Hawks to a victory.

The game was loosely played with much of the scoring coming on long push shots. The first quarter saw the Saints take a 13-11 lead, but the Hawks came back in the second period to take over a 27-20 halftime advantage.

By the end of the third period the Hawks had raised their margin to 55-37 when Hetrick did most of the scoring off the post.

The Little Hawks started the last period red-hot and pushed their margin to 55-37 when Hetrick, Beals and the Fenton brother combined talents with a series of push shots.

Then the Saints came to life and cut the lead to 57-47, but the game came too late. Bill Fenton hit a push shot shortly before the final gun to close out the scoring.

Bob Coryn paced the St. Ambrose scoring with 14 points.

In the final game Davenport showed championship form when they poured in eight points in the three-minute overtime period to beat the River Kings.

The first half was a see-saw affair. Clinton held a 16-11 quarter lead, but the Imps had a 25-33 halftime advantage. The Blue Devils were content to pass the ball around until they saw an opening, while the River Kings did virtually all of their scoring from well out on the floor.

The third quarter saw the Imps pull away from their rivals. Davenport held a 37-30 third quarter advantage. The last period began slowly. With two minutes to play, the Blue Devils held a 42-36 advantage.

Then Jack Holcomb hit a jump shot to cut the margin to 42-38. With 30 seconds to play Hans Andersen came out of a jumble of players under the basket and put in a lay-up.

With 13 seconds to go, Bill Lane hit a long hook shot to send the game into an overtime. In the extra period it was all Davenport and the Blue Devils won going away, 50-44.

Tom Stenger and Jim Stange scored 15 points apiece for the winners, while Lane made a like number for Clinton.

The victories sent Iowa City and Davenport into sub-state play. Both will be in action in the tournament here next week which will run Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

May Replace Tresh

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Catcher Aaron Robinson, acquired by the Chicago White Sox from the New York Yankees, is battling to replace the Veteran Mike Tresh as the No. 1 catcher with the Sox. Tresh has been the top catcher for the Chicagoans for ten years.

Wier will report for drills about

of Notre Dame will lead the western aggregation. It will be little Murray's first appearance in the east.

"I have always wanted to play in the Garden," Wier said yesterday, "and naturally am very pleased to get this chance."

Besides breaking the Big Nine season's scoring record this winter and the four year scoring mark, the Western conference service bureau announced yesterday that Wier also broke the three year standard. The record of 512 points was set by Johnny Kotz of Wisconsin during the 1941-42-43 seasons; Wier eclipsed that mark by three points during his final three years—1946-47-48.

'Set Line,' Don't Let Russians Go Beyond It, Says Shelley

To stop Russian "expansion" we must "set a line" beyond which we will not allow the Russians to go, and we must "serve notice that we will enforce it."

This is the way to "stop the Russians," in the opinion of Jack Shelley, news director of radio station WHO, Des Moines. He spoke yesterday afternoon to an Information First audience in the senate chamber of Old Capitol on the topic "Where Do We Go From Here?"

Tall, nattily-dressed Shelley, veteran war correspondent, fears the Russians are following Hitler's pattern of conquest. A clear understanding of what we will do and where we stand will help clear the tense, international atmosphere, Shelley said.

One of his greatest fears, Shelley said, is that the Russians may miscalculate U.S. intentions—as Hitler misjudged British willingness to fight before the last war.

Basic understanding with the Russians must come from the individual first, then step by step, lead to national and international understanding, Shelley said. He called for an expansion of "social research" to enable men to better understand one another.

The problem that accompanies this lack of understanding is a lag in sociological progress compared to the technological advances we have made, he pointed out. "Our ability to make machines and use them was the chief factor in the allied victory," he declared. Yet we have been unable to keep pace as human beings with the progress we have made in this area, he said.

This problem is illustrated in sessions of the UN in New York, Shelley said. He told of our genius in providing translations in these sessions so that an observer may be able to follow the argument of delegates from all nations.

But the observer suddenly realizes, he said, "that these wonderful inventions are being used to make understandable to him another row between the U.S. and Russia."

In reference to the recent Czechoslovakian crisis, Shelley said he has had the feeling that this has "all happened before." He finds himself "saying the same things on the radio I was saying a few years ago."

Shelley spoke of his experiences as a war correspondent in the Pacific and European theatres. Referring to the Japanese surrender ceremonies aboard the battleship Missouri in September, 1945, Shelley said, "We thought—at last it's over. This can never happen again."

Now he is afraid it can happen again.

Young GOP Forum Sets Its Standard For Marshall Plan

A Young Republican-sponsored panel last night rehashed the pending Marshall Plan, came up agreeing on "hands off" administration, "no political strings" and that "congress will buy it only on a fight-Russia basis."

Prof. Leo Sweeney of the economics department recommended that the 16 nations to receive aid under the plan be allowed to administer it "completely."

Sweeney would limit United States administration to allocation of funds according to the nations' needs and representation only in an advisory capacity concerning the actual spending of the money.

Prof. Hugh Kelso of the political science department was convinced the Marshall Plan "has degenerated from the high plane on which it was conceived into a program of containment of Russia."

The friendship of European nations and their voting help in the United Nations was set forth by Prof. Hew Roberts of the college of education as a desirable result of the carrying-out of the European aid plan.

He also urged the midwest to "see to it that the plan, when passed, is not just a one-year plan, as certain Iowa senators want it to be."

Sweeney set the minimum aid figure at $25-billion, an estimate supported by both Kelso and Roberts as "cheaper than World War III."

Koser Announces
Meeting To Appoint
New City Assessor

Appointment of a new city assessor will probably be made this afternoon at a combined meeting of the city council, school board and county board of supervisors. Mayor Preston Koser said yesterday.

The joint meeting will be held at 4 p.m. in the city hall council chambers. The post was left vacant when William J. White, assessor for the past 26 years, died Feb. 17.

Under the provisions of the new state law regarding assessors, Frank Nesvacil, deputy city assessor, and William Kanak, assistant county auditor, are qualified for the appointment. Both men passed the state examination for assessors given late in 1947.

If agreement on the appointment is not reached at this afternoon's meeting, the Iowa code requires that a new qualifying examination be given.

Ask Married Students To Tell Income

Married students living in university housing areas must report all changes in income (increase or decrease) at the dormitory assignment office, 25 N. Dubuque street, by 5 p.m. today.

The announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. Imelda C. Murphy, manager of the dormitory assignment office.

Under a recently revised rental adjustment policy, increases in married students' incomes must be reported every three months instead of six. All those failing to report will be required to forfeit back rent.

Income is considered to be any amount of money received including gifts, dividends, inheritances etc.

Margarine Taxes Face Public Resentment

The house agriculture committee has scheduled hearings next week on bills to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine.

The federal tax on colored margarine is 10 cents a pound, so little is produced. Uncolored margarine is taxed one-fourth cent a pound. The chief line of attack on the federal tax is the inconvenience caused housewives who must color the margarine themselves.

In addition to these federal taxes, state taxes also impose serious restrictions on the sale of oleomargarine. The sale of colored margarine is prohibited in Iowa. This has the effect of classing it with narcotics.

A tax of five cents a pound is imposed on uncolored margarine. (Receipts from this tax are detailed elsewhere on this page.)

These federal and state taxes mean you're paying 15 cents a pound for the privilege of using uncolored margarine. That's pretty steep tribute when medical men acknowledge the equality of nutritive value between margarine and butter.

Repeated tests have shown that oleomargarine is equally nutritious as butter. (See the latest medical report reprinted elsewhere on this page.)

Dairy interests, both in congress and state legislatures, have successfully fought efforts to repeal these taxes. That is, they have consistently supported these taxes which are virtually prohibitive and which, in any event, add unjustly to the cost of oleomargarine.

Repeal efforts are said to have a better chance in the current congressional battle because of the expanded efforts of the cotton and soybean growers who are backing repeal. Both are interested parties because much of the vegetable oil in margarine comes from these two products.

Oleomargarine is a "hot potato" in this state because it so vitally concerns one of our own major industries. Why this barrier of "untouchability" that closes off the facts about margarine?

Have we not advanced to the stage where we can calmly discuss the matter without blind economic pressures interfering?

A few years ago a report on oleo from a research project at Ames touched off a state-wide controversy. We are sure the dairy farmers did not improve their case.

They simply demonstrated one of the worst examples of the bad effects of "pressure groups." The college finally was forced to recall the report. That must have cost Ames a great deal of respect throughout the nation. Its academic freedom was sacrificed to the dairy farmers.

In these days of high prices, oleomargarine taxes are a serious vexation to the housewife. They impose an added cost that cannot be economically justified.

They result from unwillingness to take advantage of our industrial progress. That, in anybody's language, is economic inefficiency.

It is generally assumed that these taxes protect "the farmer" in his natural desire to sell as much butter as possible. That assumption is only partially true—because the taxes protect only a certain type of farmer. Or they protect any given farmer only on certain types of crops.

What about the Iowa farmer who grows soybeans as well as keeping the usual number of cows? He is prevented from selling his soybeans in greater quantity to margarine producers. But he gets a better price for milk because the price of butter is supported by taxes on margarine. Isn't that just taking money out of one pocket and putting it into the other? And in the meantime, the consumer loses.

There are some mitigating factors to consider. The oleomargarine tax is but one example of a tax designated not to raise revenue but to prohibit sale of a certain product.

Other such taxes—both state and federal—are imposed on a variety of products.

This means the problem often involves one state's attempt to gain an economic advantage over another. The federal tax is similar to the protective tariff imposed on imported items. It operates to keep them out or at least keeps high the price of the "protected" product. And we know what a struggle it has been to establish any long-range sense in our tariff policy.

Looked at in another way, the problem is somewhat similar to that raised by the musicians—fear that improved technology will force them out of the market. That fear is as real to the dairy farmer as to the musician.

One fights the encroachment of technology with a "royalty" demand and the other imposes a heavy tax on his competitor. Both are using the same weapon.

The solution is not easy in either case. It's hard for individuals to look at economic matters in the "long run." That may work out in the books, but it doesn't mean much to the individual involved. He fears he will be bankrupt by the time the "long run" straightens things out.

It may be that pressure from housewives will force repeal of the oleomargarine tax. If it does, the dairy farmer has no right to complain.

In a "pressure group economy," it's as natural for the budget-pinch housewife to fight back as for the dairy farmer to seek protection in the first place.

Excerpts from the Iowa Code

Following are quoted sections of the Iowa code regulating manufacture and sale of oleomargarine:

Sec. 3063. COLORING IMITATION BUTTER OR CHEESE No imitation butter or imitation cheese shall be colored with any substance and no such imitation product shall be made by mixing animal fats, vegetable oils, or other substances for the purpose or with the effect of imparting to the mixture the color of yellow butter or cheese.

Sec. 3069. SALE OF IMITATION PRODUCTS Every person owning or in charge of any place where food or drink is sold who uses or serves therein imitation butter or cheese . . . shall display at all times opposite each table . . . a placard . . . with the words "Imitation . . . served here."

(This shall be) printed in black roman letters not less than three inches in height and two inches in width, on a white card twelve by twenty-two inches in dimensions. The blank after the word "Imitation" in the above form shall be filled with the name of the product imitated.

Sec. 3093.1. OLEOMARGARINE Oleomargarine, butterine or other products made in the imitation . . . of natural butter . . . shall not be used as a food in the college for the blind, the school for the deaf, or any state institution under the management of the board of control.

Sec. 3100.7. TAX IMPOSED There is hereby imposed, levied, and assessed, an inspection fee and excise tax of five cents upon each pound of oleomargarine sold, offered or exposed for sale, or given or delivered to a consumer; said fee and tax to be paid to the secretary of agriculture prior to any such sale, gift, or delivery.

Following are receipts from the Iowa tax on margarine, as reported by the state department of agriculture:

Two-Year Medical Study Shows Butter, Margarine Have Equal Nutritional Value

Margarine fortified with vitamin A has a nutritional value equal to that of butter, according to a two-year survey conducted by the University of Illinois department of pediatrics.

Results of the two-year study of 267 children were published in the Feb. 7 issue of "The Journal of the American Medical Association."

The study was conducted in two Illinois orphan institutions where the diet could be regulated.

One group of 130 children ranging in age from three to 16 years was the "margarine group," while the "butter group" was composed of 125 children ranging in age from six to 17 years.

The "margarine group" received only that substance as the table fat in the diet. It was used on bread and vegetables, as well as in making of pastry and in frying. The second group of children used only butter for the same purposes.

Trained diabetics supervised the diet in each institution so that 25 to 30 percent of the total calories were supplied by fat. The margarine constituted approximately 65 to 70 percent of the total fat calories, the report indicated.

Regular checks, under medical supervision, were made of the height, weight, red blood cell count, and hemoglobin determinations were made on each child after the study was started and again one year later, the report said.

Specialists in pediatrics supervised the medical care of all the children, according to the report, and a record was kept of the character and duration of all illnesses contracted by the children.

"Growth of the group fed margarine, as determined by increases in height and weight," the report stated, "was comparable to that of the children fed butter, and to standard height and weight values for the same age group."

"Furthermore, it was noted that in the margarine group there was no increase in the amount of illness. Illnesses in general had been on the decline in the margarine group for the last four or five years, and this decrease in the incidence of illness continued during the period of study."

Although the margarine was fortified with vitamin A, the report said, "at no time during the period of the study was it considered that vitamin A played any definite role in the results of the study." The reason: the margarine contained an amount of vitamin A equal to that present in average butter. The margarine was similar to that sold to the public.

"The children in the margarine group experienced a high degree of good health during the study, and in comparing their health to that of the butter group it appears to have been much better," the report concluded.

"When infirmary records are compared it is readily seen that the margarine group fared much better than the butter group. We are not making any claims that the margarine group were healthier simply because their diet contained margarine. Other variables are more like-

Need for Greater Unity

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

tive role, or, in fact, any consistent role, externally.

But we can reach toward internal unity only along the line of liberalism; a liberalism stout enough to keep anybody who wants to from jumping up and starting a third party in the north, and strong enough to turn the splitting tactic against southern conservatism, by releasing liberal energies there.

It means a try for the unity we had under Roosevelt. It may not always have seemed like unity at the time, but it was better than anything prevailing now. The Democrats can make a try, if not for the greater unity, at least for the lesser disunity.

But they can do so, I believe, only by dropping Truman, and by reaching out for a new man for the new chapter.

Shame on Us

TO THE DAILY IOWAN:

In your editor's note to my Thursday letter to The Daily Iowan you stated "They were thinking, we would say, of a liberal who doesn't necessarily think of Russia as lighting the way to liberalism."

This practice of implying that anyone who happens to be slightly more left than yourself takes orders from Moscow is indeed a violation of your integrity.

Do you intend to follow this practice of using a red paint brush to smear those who support Wallace? If so, you will gravely disappoint the majority of your readers whether they be left or right in their political views.

E. C. RICHARDS, JR.
President,
"Wallace for President club"

'Two Can Play...'

We interpreted Mr. Richards' letter as an attempt half to be serious and half to be humorous in suggesting that the Young Democrats support Wallace after urging Mr. Truman not to run. Our note was in the same vein—The Editor.

To Install FM Radios in Sheriffs' Cars

The Johnson county board of supervisors yesterday approved the installation of two-way frequency modulation radio sets in the sheriff's and deputy sheriff's cars, according to Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy.

The units will be the same as those now used by the Iowa City police department. They will cost about $500 apiece, Murphy said.

Although there will be no radio set in the sheriff's office, he and his deputy will be in contact with the police sending set and will work through them.

Murphy estimated that the sets will be installed in about 30 days. "We will be available at all times through the sheriff's office and the police department," he said.

Murphy proposed the installation of the units to the supervisors.
