

Didn't Look Before Leaping

OXFORD, ENGLAND (AP)—Undergraduates of Oxford university's labor club voted Miss Anne Whates as the girl for whom they would most willingly jump in the Little Isis river.

Yesterday hundreds of people watched as six boys proved it and jumped in.

But one analysis of the balloting revealed that ten percent of the voters thought they were voting for the girl they would most like to throw in the river.

Recess Negotiations Between Chrysler, CIO Auto Workers

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers, seeking an end to the 15-day strike at Chrysler's auto plants, last night recessed their negotiations until 11 a. m. (CST) today.

Negotiators for the auto company and the UAW conferred for nearly nine hours yesterday and ended their session shortly before 10 p. m. (CST) with a terse "no comment" from both sides.

The long negotiating session, which included both afternoon and evening meetings, led usually reliable observers to believe a settlement of the tieup might not be far off.

The resumption of negotiations between the company and the UAW came a day after General Motors reached agreement with the union on new wage figures for GM workers.

The UAW, prior going into a huddle with the Chrysler officials yesterday, disclosed that it had again cut its wage demands on Chrysler to an hourly basis of 17 cents.

The concession was disclosed at the start of the first negotiations since prior to the walkout 15 days ago of 75,000 Chrysler workers.

Originally the UAW had demanded 30 cents. It cut this to 17 but went back to 30 when Chrysler withdrew its rejected offer of six cents.

Yesterday's negotiations were agreed to after the intervention of Gov. Kim Sigler earlier this week and came on the heels of General Motors' historic 11 cents an hour agreement geared to the cost of living.

Whether the GM agreement, covering 225,000 workers, was to provide a pattern for Chrysler remained to be seen, however.

Last Monday Sigler had prevailed upon both parties to resume negotiations.

White House Refutes Rail Control Demand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nationalization of the railroads is not being considered, the White House said yesterday.

Charles G. Ross, President Truman's press secretary, answered a question about it in one word: "No."

The subject of nationalization was brought up by reporters as a result of a union demand that the government "begin preparations" to buy the railroads.

Such a step could be taken only with congress approval. And congress, judging from its frequent criticism of nationalization of industry in other lands, is in no mood for that.

The demand that the government "begin preparations" to buy the rail carriers came from 20 railroad unions. Their leaders, however, did not appear to be in agreement and spokesmen for railroad management made light of the proposal.

Lewis To Meet With Anthracite Operators

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John L. Lewis meets with anthracite operators today to discuss a new contract for 80,000 hard coal miners.

It will mark the first contract talks in two years between United Mine workers' officials and the hard coal operators.

He served notice on Ralph E. Taggart, chairman of the Anthracite Operators committee, that he wants a new contract for his anthracite diggers by June 10.

Local — Search For Hooded 'Mystery Men' SUI Officials, Police Check 'Following' Mystery Incident

University officials and local police are investigating an incident involving two students from India and two unidentified men Tuesday night.

According to one of the students, who asked that their names be withheld, he and his companion were followed and chased by two men after leaving the Engineering library Tuesday night about 11:30 p.m.

Richard Sweitzer, advisor to foreign students, last night declined to discuss action which the university was taking in the matter. He added, however, "I think you can assume that whenever an incident occurs in which a student is involved, the university looks into it."

The Indian student gave this account of the incident:

He and his companion heard someone following them as they walked through the corridors of the Engineering building.

After leaving the building they noticed two men, dressed in raincoats and rain hats, following them. They were unable to identify the men because of a covering which the men had over their faces.

After unsuccessfully trying to dodge their pursuers, the Indian students went into the Maidrite cafe, 15 E. Washington street. There they called police who escorted them to Hillcrest.

At Hillcrest they started for the room of another Indian student. Before reaching the room, they were chased by the same two men, but were able to enter the room before being overtaken. The Indian students summoned police a second time.

Later they returned to their own rooms, one of the students living at the Quadrangle and the other in Hillcrest.

Another incident involving two men, who were dressed in rain attire, occurred at the Chemistry building about midnight Tuesday. Prof. Robert C. Lommasson of the botany department reported that the two men threw pebbles at the window of the room in which he was working.

At first, he said, he ignored the men but finally opened the window when they repeated the pebble-throwing.

"Come out, we want to talk to you," one of the men said in a "sullen voice," according to Lommasson.

He said the men left when he refused to leave his work. He then called the police who reported to the Chemistry building about ten minutes later.

After they had made an investigation, Lommasson said, one of the police officers related the incident with the Indian students at the cafe. The officers were then called to the Quadrangle for a second time.

Wallace Plans To Stay In Presidential Race

COEUR D'ALENE, IDAHO (AP)—Henry A. Wallace said yesterday he will remain in the 1948 presidential race until the last votes are counted in November.

Arriving here from Coos Bay, Ore., for a third party rally, Wallace replied to a Chicago address by Arthur Krock, chief Washington correspondent for the New York Times. Krock said Tuesday he believed the former vice president will abandon the race before November.

House Extends Trade Act With Congressional Check on Tariffs

Viriden Decides To Stay On In Dept. of Commerce Job

Marshall Refuses 'Churchman' Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said yesterday he will not accept the annual award of The Churchman magazine because the publication engaged in world political discussions of a very marked character.

Marshall explained why he was turning down the award after Dr. Guy Emery Shipley, editor of the unofficial Episcopal magazine, had made public correspondence with one of Marshall's assistants.

The award is given annually to a person The Churchman believes has promoted good will and understanding among people. Previous recipients include the late President Roosevelt, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the late Wendell L. Willkie and General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Marshall told newsmen in Washington that he had first accepted the offer of the award, believing The Churchman was the official or semi-official publication of the Episcopal church.

He said he later learned that it did not have an official standing.

Marshall said that because of the magazine's world political discussions, he did not believe it would be proper for him to accept the award.

Shipley said he was "amazed" at Marshall's refusal.

Shipley was one of seven Protestant clergymen who visited Yugoslavia last year and reported they found complete freedom of worship under Marshal Tito.

WASHINGTON (AP)—John C. Viriden, his loyalty doubly stamped with approval, decided yesterday to stay on in his high department of commerce job.

His daughter Euphemia, with whom he broke because she took a job with the Soviet news agency Tass, stayed on likewise in her job, transmitting news dictated to her by Tass reporters.

Viriden resigned last Friday, after Rep. Crawford (R-Mich.) had called attention to his daughter's employment. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer asked him not to quit, and President Truman assured him in an unusual letter yesterday that "my faith in your loyalty is unshaken."

The presidential letter apparently prevailed upon Viriden. Yesterday Secretary Sawyer issued a statement saying:

"I am pleased to say that Mr. John C. Viriden has withdrawn his letter of resignation and will continue to carry on the work of the office of industry cooperation as he has in the past."

This office guides the work of voluntary agreements by industry to direct steel and other scarce material to essential uses. Viriden is a former Cleveland industrialist.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) had said in effect that he believed Crawford would back down, but Crawford suggested that Ferguson had better not predict "what some other fellow is going to do."

Further as to Ferguson's statement, Crawford said he stood on his suggestion last week that resignation is the best course for "federal officials having known red relatives on federal payrolls."

International — Seek Open Danube; Benes Ill

Marshall Tells of New Effort Toward Free Danube Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall revealed yesterday the beginning of a new effort to open Europe's important Danube river to unhindered navigation.

The U. S. hope is to break down a major barrier to the free flow of trade between eastern and western Europe by getting Russia and its satellite countries to agree to unrestricted Danube shipping.

Marshall announced at a news conference that the United States had proposed a Danube conference of the big four powers plus central and eastern European nations. It would be held in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, beginning July 30.

The meeting, if the Russian bloc countries accept, could provide a test of the Soviet government's expressed desire for better relations with the United States.

In another statement, Marshall reported that big four negotiations on an Austrian independence treaty in London have been temporary suspended. He blamed Soviet "delaying tactics" for this latest failure of the big powers to agree on a pact, which would end the occupation of Austria and restore its freedom.

American officials said the question of free navigation of the Danube is one of the basic issues in European recovery. The river is the continent's great traffic channel.

They also said that it provides a direct clash between Soviet interests and those of the United States and the western European democracies.

Already, the Russians are reported to have set up companies jointly with Yugoslavia, Romania and Hungary which in effect give the Moscow government control of the vast bulk of traffic on the river.

Polish-Americans Held

WARSAW, POLAND (AP)—Hopes of 19,000 persons in Poland who claim American citizenship and want to go to the United States faded yesterday.

Poland ruled that persons born abroad anywhere of Polish parents are Polish citizens exclusively, regardless of the date of their birth.

The Polish government says every Pole is needed here to help in reconstruction work.

Reports Say Benes Condition 'Critical'

LONDON (AP)—A Czech diplomat in close touch with the Prague government reported yesterday that 64-year-old President Eduard Benes is gravely ill and is "not expected to recover."

A Czech information ministry spokesman denied last night in Prague that Benes is seriously ill. He said the president walked with Mrs. Benes last night in the garden of their country home and later received a visit from a personal friend.

However, another usually well-informed Prague source who cannot be identified by name said that Benes' doctors were worried about his condition and were taking every precaution.

The names of two men as a likely successor in event of his death were immediately mentioned by persons in close touch with the Czechoslovak situation. These were Klement Gottwald, Communist premier, and Zdenek Fierlinger, pro-Communist Social Democrat.

The frail Benes' disappearance—either by death or resignation—would have deep political significance for Czechoslovakia. For one thing, with him would go the country's last tie with the west.

A leader in the long struggle for liberation from the Hapsburgs of the Austrian empire, Benes was an exponent of democracy and was one of the founders of the republic as the late Thomas G. Masaryk's most trusted lieutenant.

The informant said he had suffered two strokes recently, the first last fall.

Smut's Party Leads

PRETORIA, UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA (AP)—Prime Minister Jan Christian Smuts' United party took a wide lead yesterday in incomplete returns from Tuesday's general parliamentary elections.

Unofficial returns from districts where the vote count has been completed showed Smuts' party has won 35 seats, the Nationalist party six and the Labor party four.

It was estimated that more than 70 percent of the electorate voted, making it the greatest turnout in history.

HOW IOWANS VOTED

Six Iowa congressmen voted with the majority yesterday when the house voted for a one-year extension of the trade agreements act.

They were Cunningham, Hoeven, Jensen, Le Compte, Martin and Talle.

Gwynne and Dolliver were listed among the 16 paired for the bill. All eight are Republicans.

U. S. Opens Trade Door To Finland

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States yesterday cut a hole in its barrier against industrial goods shipments to Soviet-dominated eastern Europe to let production equipment get through to Finland.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer announced he had approved the granting of licenses to ship the Finns $3,890,000 worth of power generator parts, machine tools, steel products and other materials.

It was the first big shipment for any eastern country to get clearance since a virtual ban on production goods exports to that area was clamped down March 1.

Sawyer said he expects to give further clearances for shipments to Finland "in the near future."

The commerce department chief gave no explanation for his action, but other officials indicated that it fitted into the developing administration policy of trying to remove east-west European trade.

The clearance granted for shipments of goods Finland can use to increase its production is expected to benefit the U.S., which gets news-print in particular from Finland, and also to benefit Russia.

Finland still owes Russia almost half of a $300 million bill for war reparations which it must pay off by September, 1952. The reparations pact calls for shipments of certain goods to Russia on scheduled dates.

There is some feeling in diplomatic quarters here that failure of the Finns to make the reparations deliveries might give Russia an opening for cracking down on Finland.

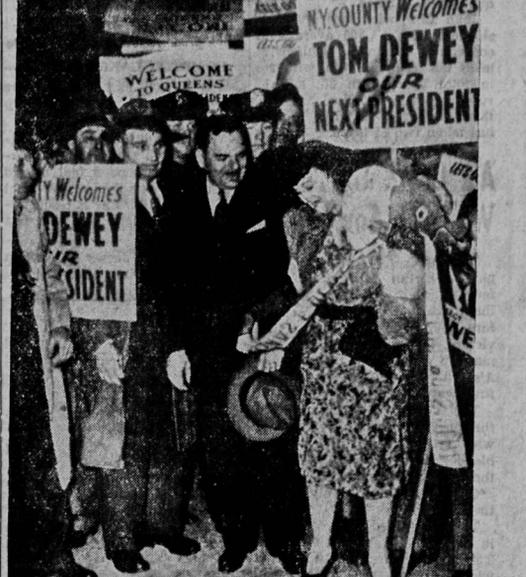

Plan Civil Rights Tag; Puts Draft Bill in Doubt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of the draft bill was thrown more than ever into doubt yesterday when Senator Langer (R-ND) announced he would try to attach a civil rights program to it.

Langer said his proposed amendment would, among other things, bar all forms of racial discrimination under selective service.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), acting Republican leader of the senate, told reporters such a move would inevitably mean a filibuster by some southerners.

Palestine — Reject Truce Proposal; U. S. Looks to Evacuation of Americans

Arab Nations Reject UN Cease-Fire Order

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The Arabs rejected last night a United Nations cease-fire order for Palestine.

But they asked for the security council to state promptly whether it could offer any acceptable terms for a political settlement that might stop their war with Jewish Israel in the Holy Land.

The result last night of long conferences here and at Arab league headquarters in Amman, Trans-Jordan, is that the fighting goes on and the Jews have declared unacceptable the conditions laid down by Arabs for a truce.

The Arab countries individually said they could not stop fighting as long as Israel claimed existence as a nation.

They demanded also that the UN ban imports of arms to the Jews and limit Jewish immigration in Palestine.

The individual replies were considerably sharper than the note to the security council from the Arab league chiefs meeting in Amman.

The league did not specifically accept or reject the cease-fire order.

Dr. Najj Al-Asil of Iraq read the Arab league reply to the council. He said the Arabs have no guarantee that the cease fire would stop Zionist violence. The Jews, however, informed Trygve Lie, UN secretary-general, that the provisional government of Israel had ordered its forces to stop shooting on all fronts at 10 a.m. (CST) if the other side did likewise.

May Fly Americans From Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States made ready yesterday to evacuate by air its citizens in the Middle East "in case of need."

"In view of unsettled conditions" in the area, the state department announced, about two dozen airforce C-47 transport planes have been sent to Cyprus from Europe.

They are being held at the Nicosia airport on Cyprus "should they be required to evacuate American citizens," the announcement said.

The department did not estimate how many Americans might be removed if unsettled conditions centering around the Jewish-Arab fighting in Palestine became worse. There are about 12,000 Americans in the Middle East. Some of them could be removed by ship.

Holy Land Battles Despite Deadline

CAIRO (AP)—The battle of Jerusalem raged on yesterday and the security council's deadline for a cease-fire in the Holy Land passed almost unnoticed.

As U.N. truce efforts collapsed at Lake Success, Arab legion armor and dynamiters pressed closer on a 200-yard square of Jewish-held rubble in Jerusalem's Old City.

The British-controlled Near East radio said the defenders had been split and that an Arab ultimatum had been given to Jewish Irgunists entrenched in the great Hulva synagogue to surrender or die by being blown up.

An Associated Press dispatch from inside the Old City said Arab officers expected a collapse of the Jewish defense "momentarily."

The Near East radio station said Jewish residents of Old Jerusalem were under almost continuous shellfire. It said modern Jewish-held buildings in modern Jerusalem had been bombed by Arab planes for the first time.

The broadcast said the biggest Egyptian bombers yet, with fighter escort, had bombarded Jewish Tel Aviv.

Hawk Thinclads Participate in Big 9 Track Meet This Weekend

15 to Journey To Madison For Event

Track Mentor George Bresnahan will take 15 track and field men to Madison, Wis., this weekend to participate in the Big Nine championship meet.

The Iowans will field at least one man in each of the 13 individual events with a mile relay team also entering. Trials will be held tomorrow in the 100, 220, 440, 880, both hurdles, shot, discus and broad jump.

Heading the Hawkeye squad is Russ Merkel, leading scorer this season with 51 points. Merkel's 23.9 for the 220-yard low hurdles is one of the best times in the conference. He has also run the 120-yard high hurdles in :14.7.

Merkel will have plenty of competition in the 120-yard high hurdles from Lloyd Duff of Ohio State. Duff has clipped one-tenth of a second off the high hurdle mark of 14 seconds set in 1937 by Bob Osgood of Michigan.

Iowa will field two top contenders in the high jump event. Jack Weik and Dick Erdenberger each have gone 6 feet, 3 inches this year which might place them. Illinois' Dwight Eddleman is rated as the conference's top high jumper. The lanky Illinois ace has done 6 feet, 7 inches indoors and might wipe out the 6-7 1/2 record set in 1938 by Dave Albritton of Ohio State.

Two other Western conference records are almost sure to fall this week at the outdoor meet. Michigan's Charles Fonville, who already has a world record of 58 feet 3/4 inch up for approval in the shot put, is a cinch to break his own conference mark of 54 feet 1 inch.

Fortune Gordien of Minnesota is almost equally certain to shove aside the discus mark of 174 feet 1 inch set in 1941 by Archie Harris of Indiana. Earlier this year Gordien hurled the discus 175 feet 7/8 inch.

Other possible record breakers are Charley Peters of Indiana in the 220-yard dash. He has run that distance in 20.9 seconds on a straightaway and might better the oldest record on the conference books—31.6 seconds set by Archie Hann of Michigan in 1903—on one curve of the Camp Randall track.

CARRYING IOWA'S HOPES in the Big Nine track and field championship are high-stepping Russ Merkel, left, and Vernon Coffey as they warmup for tomorrow's meet at Madison. Merkel and Coffey have run one-two all season for the Hawkeyes.

Other Iowa entrants are Vernon Coffey, hurdles and broad jump; Jack Copeland, half mile and mile; Otis Finney, mile relay; Ike Johnson, low hurdles and broad jump; Keith Keller, two mile; Ray McCreery, half mile; Elliott McDonald, half mile; Bobby Nelson, shot and discus; Tom Sangster, 440 and 880; Dick Washington, 100 and 220; and Eric Wilson Jr., 440 and 220.

Schmitz Hurls Cub 4-1 Win Over Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—Johnny Schmitz hurled the Chicago Cubs to a six-hit victory over Brooklyn last night, 4-1, with the help of homers by Bill Nicholson and Hal Jeffcoat.

Willard Ramsdell was touched for both homers in his seven-inning stint. Nicholson opened the scoring in the fourth and Jeffcoat hit his after Ed Waitkus walked in the seventh.

The Cubs picked up their other run in the fourth after Nicholson's fourth homer on a double by Clarence Maddern and Roy Smalley's single.

Golfers, Net Team Seek Honors

Iowa's tennis and golf squads are at Northwestern this weekend for the Big Nine conference championships.

Coach Don Klotz took a revamped net team to Evanston yesterday afternoon. Ralph Brown was moved up to the number one spot in the Hawks' lineup, replacing Sid Newman, who was shifted to Brown's old position. Marion Neely was substituted in the fourth-seeded groups for Paul Hasbrouck who will not compete because of exams. Other men who will see action are Bill Metz, Bill Crain, and Earl Cathcart.

The Iowans will take a dismal 6-8 record to the Northwestern asphalt courts. The half-dozen wins came against non-conference foes. In the single-elimination play, the Hawkeyes will compete in six singles divisions and three doubles contests.

Northwestern, paced by last season's titlist Ted Peterson, will face a possible dethroning from Michigan or Illinois, both winners over the Wildcats in dual meets.

Led by Skip Carlson and John Campbell, the Hawk golf team will warm up today for the conference tourney in a dual encounter with Purdue. The linkmen have grabbed eight of ten dual meets thus far and broke even in four with conference rivals. Carlson hit a 67 for 18 holes in one dual clash and Campbell has stroked a 69.

Undeclared Michigan will defend its golf championship in the two-day medal competition starting tomorrow. The Wolverines expect to receive their stiffest opposition from Minnesota, Purdue, and Northwestern. Eighteen holes will be played tomorrow and the final 18 on Saturday.

Other Iowa golf-men competing at Evanston are Jim Rasley, Donald Matheson, and either William Martin or Jerry Bloomquist.

Juniors Meet W. Liberty

Iowa City's Junior Legion team will play West Liberty today at 4 p. m. on the City high diamond. Maury Christensen will pitch for the Juniors.

Three Spots Still Open in Speed Classic

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Only three vacancies remained in the 33-car starting lineup for the 500-mile auto race Monday after seven additional cars qualified yesterday at Indianapolis motor speedway.

Mack Hellings, Burbank, Calif., won the $500 prize for the day's best qualification time. He made the ten-mile trial run at an average of 127.968 miles an hour in a new four-cylinder Kurtis-Kraft owned by Don Lee, Inc., Los Angeles. Only five earlier qualifiers made better time.

Thirty-four unqualified cars remained at the track after yesterday's tests. They will have one more chance to get into the lineup Saturday afternoon.

Other qualifiers were Tony Bettenhausen, midwest racer from Tingley Park, Ill., in the Belanger Motors special; Tommy Hinnershitz, Reading, Pa.; Kurtis-Kraft special; Bill Sheffer, Los Angeles; Sheffer Offenhauser; Paul Russo, Kenosha, Wis., federal engineering special; Harry McQuinn, Indianapolis; Lynch Motors special, and Johnny Mauro, Denver, Alfa-Romeo.

Bettenhausen's speed of 126.398 miles an hour was the best that has been made by one of the string of new Kurtis-Kraft cars at the track. All of them are powered by four-cylinder Meyer-Drake engines. Bettenhausen's car, owned by Murrell Belanger of Lowell, Ind., set a world's record for a one-mile track at Springfield, Ill., last fall. This is its first race at Indianapolis.

Al Miller, Standish, Mich., ran into tough luck trying to qualify for his 13th Indianapolis race. His Tucker rear engine special threw a connecting rod on the first lap of his qualification run and it is out of the race. The car was entered by Preston Tucker Jr. but it had little in common with the Tucker automobile. It is one of three rear-engine cars built by Harry Miller in 1938. They were exceptionally fast but none of them ever finished the 500-mile grind.

Johnny Parsons, Burbank, Calif., also failed in an attempt to qualify a Granacer V-8 special owned by Anthony Granatelli, Chicago. Mechanical trouble stopped him on the first lap of his run.

Sixty-four cars were at the track yesterday after three new arrivals. Joe Thorne, Los Angeles racing veteran, towed in a six-cylinder Thorne-Sparks. The 12-cylinder-car owned by Lawrence Jewell, Detroit, also arrived, along with a Studebaker-powered racer entered by Paul Kuehl, South Bend, Ind.

The Fans Haven't Realized It Yet — But They'll Miss Fireman Casey

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn fans probably don't realize it yet, but they are going to miss Hugh Casey tremendously during the next 60 days, or as long as it takes him to recover from injuries suffered when he dusted off a flight of stairs, with his back.

There is something so solid and comforting about the big lug as he ambles in from the bullpen to take over somebody's unfinished mound chore. With his moon face lopsided from a huge chaw of cut plug, and his uniform straining at the seams like a sack of oats, his whole appearance and demeanor said: "Don't get excited folks; we'll take care of this right away."

Somehow his size and slow, deliberate movements seem to fit exactly anybody's idea of what a relief pitcher should be like. Plodding along as he does, he looks like a farmer at peace with the world coming in from a day in the fields instead of a guy entering a hot ball game in a hot spot.

It takes a serene, unexcitable man to be a relief pitcher. Almost invariably they come into action when the outlook is bleak. There are men on the bases, the thick part of the batting order is coming up, and the game hinges on the ability of the chucker to get the men out. It's no place for a guy with butterflies in his stomach.

Casey fits the pattern, not only looking the part but having the disposition, and when he took over the fans breathed much easier. He wasn't always successful, of course, but he was charged with only four defeats last season while winning 10 games, and he saved innumerable games for other pitchers.

This year his luck hasn't been so good. In fact, in his frequent appearances during the recent losing streak he had his best pitches draped against the fences the same as the other Brooklyn hurlers. But the season is young, and, plump and aging, he could be counted on to do his best work when the hot weather arrived.

Now he is gone for a spell. Maybe for longer than anyone thinks, because at his age a man doesn't come back from injuries quite as rapidly as do the youngsters.

Eddie Stanky . . . Dixie Walker . . . Cookie Lavagotto . . . Al Giofriddo . . . Vic Lombardi . . . Hal Gregg . . . and now Hugh Casey. All prominent figures in the Dodgers' surge to the pennant last year and in the World Series, and now no longer with the club.

Maybe the team would be doing better right now if it had those men back, but that's one of those unanswerable questions.

The Dodgers under Leo Durocher are in an unenviable spot. During the years when he was riding high Durocher went out of his way to make enemies around the league, and there are a lot of elephants around the circuit when it comes to memories.

They will be gunning for Durocher, and it will be the team's tough luck that it is the innocent victim of the feud.

The other clubs can avenge themselves against the manager only by knocking his team lopsided, and that's what they'll be trying to do.

Anyway, with Casey out of action Durocher's troubles are multiplied. The big, amiable guy was quite a relief to have around.

Giant Uprising Tops Cards, 10-7 Scribes Pick Louis to Win 3-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Sports writers who saw the first Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott fight believe the Jersey veteran has a better chance to reverse the verdict than their brethren who weren't present.

In both cases Louis is favored to retain his title when the two Negro battlers meet again at Yankee stadium, June 23. But close to one-third of the writers—11 of 34—who saw the first bout and who participated in a nationwide Associated Press poll figure Jersey Joe will lift the crown.

The overall voting showed 230 writers lining up behind the champion with only 52 stringing along with Walcott.

The 23 first bout observers picking Louis all predict the champion will win by a knockout. The Brown Bomber won a much disputed 15 round decision last Dec. 5 in Madison Square garden. Seven of them like the fifth round as the finisher, five favor the third and four the seventh. None expects it to go beyond the ninth.

Most of Walcott's supporters, on the other hand, figure the Camden, N.J., campaigner will out-punch Louis over the 15-round route. Eight of the 11 see a finish fight. Two picked Walcott to refrigerate Louis in the eighth and another thinks it'll be the second.

Of the 282 writers who made a choice—including those who did and did not witness the Dec. 5 scrap—a total of 228 predict the champion will store Walcott away somewhere along the route. The fourth and fifth are the most popular rounds.

Only two say they expect the brown bomber to prevail after being carried the limit. Twenty of Walcott's backers foresee a knock-out over the champ.

N. Y. Gets 8 Runs in Eighth Inning Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Rallying for eight runs in the eighth inning, the New York Giants topped the St. Louis Cardinals, 10-7, last night to cut the Red Birds' National league lead to 1 1/2 games.

Stan Musial's eighth and ninth homers went to waste as the Giants surged to victory before a roaring crowd of 44,128 fans.

Unbeaten Howie Pollet appeared to be coasting toward his fifth straight win with a 7-2 lead in the eighth. However, the Giants routed Pollet on Bobby Thomson's double and Johnny Mize's single.

Then they bumped Red Munger for his second loss. Sid Gordon walked after Willard Marshall fanned and successive singles by pinch hitter Johnny McCarthy, Buddy Kerr and Jack Lohrke chased Munger. Hits by Bill Rigney and Whitey Lockman took care of reliever Gerry Taley and the Giants added a final run off Ken Burdhardt on Thomson's single, his second hit of the inning.

Reds Capture 8-5 Win From Braves

BOSTON (AP)—Rallying behind Hank Sauer's 10th homer of the season, the Cincinnati Reds came from behind to snatch an 8-5 win over the Boston Braves last night before 18,839. While gaining their first win in three starts against the Tribesmen, the last-place Redlegs chased Warren Spahn, the Boston southpaw ace, with a two-run barrage in the sixth to take command.

Spahn gave way for Clyde Shoun, another pitcher, after Johnny Wyrstek doubled in Tommy Stallcup and pinch-runner Frank Baumholtz to give the Reds a 5-4 lead.

Iowa Meets Purdue In Closing Games Of Baseball Season

Iowa's baseball team winds up its 1948 season tomorrow and Saturday with a pair of games with sixth-place Purdue.

The Hawkeyes, after a third-place berth in the Big Nine's final standings, will probably use ace Jack Bruner against Ervil Noel in the opener. Wes Demro will hurl the finale against the Bollermakers' Melvin Hensen.

Iowa has won four of seven conference games while Purdue, one of the two teams with a 14-game league schedule, now has a 6-4 record. The Bollermakers defeated Michigan earlier in the season and hold a pair of decisive victories over Minnesota. The visitors' other two wins came over Wisconsin, the team that conquered Iowa twice.

John Chinewicz tops Purdue's sluggers with a .385 average in conference games. Chinewicz leads the league in hits, with 20; in total bases, with 30; and in runs batted in, 11. Noel has won three of four starts while Hensen has taken two of three.

A's Chalk Up Fourth Win; Top Sox 7-1

CHICAGO (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics recorded their fourth straight victory by toppling the Chicago White Sox, 7-1, before 2,897 persons yesterday. The victory, highlighted by Joe Coleman's five-hit pitching, was the A's fifth in nine games of their first western swing.

The A's were held hitless until the fourth by starter Orval Grove, who retired after the winners bled three singles with his throwing error for a 2-0 lead.

Chicago scored its only run in the same inning. The A's pushed across five runs in the seventh on only two hits. This meager swatting was sandwiched around three of Chicago's four errors and three walks to wind up the scoring.

Louis Not Fast Afoot But Still Sharp of Wit

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (AP)—Joe Louis isn't as fast as he used to be but his wit is as sharp as ever.

When told that Jersey Joe Walcott was laying off yesterday because of an infected foot caused by a splinter, the heavyweight champion said, "I'm not surprised. I guess he got that from fast starting."

Louis meets Jersey Joe again at Yankee stadium June 23.

AIR-MINDED?

Many of the top men in the class of '48 want careers in aviation. But aviation is a specialist's field—and the way to move up fastest is to learn one of the skills or trades that are needed. That's just what you can do under the U. S. Air Force Aviation Career Plan.

If you're a high school graduate, between 17 and 34 years old, you can select the specialized training you prefer, qualify for it before you enlist, and be sure of assignment to it after basic training. Get a head start today by asking for all the facts at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station or Air Force base.

Tigers Capitalize on Wildness of Yank Pitchers, Win 7-3

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers capitalized on the wildness of New York Yankee pitchers to beat the world champions 7 to 3 here yesterday before a crowd of 18,915 fans.

The losers outhit Detroit 12 to 6, but Paul "Dizzy" Trout bore down in the clutches to register his fourth win of the season as against an equal number of defeats. Yankee starting pitcher Frank Shea was the loser.

Shea and relief hurlers Joe Page and Tommy Byrnes gave up

10 walks and four of the Tigers who got on via walks scored. Karl Drews, the fourth Yankee pitcher, did not pass a man in his 1 1/3 inning workout.

The Tigers did not get a single extra base hit, but the Yankees got to Trout for six extra-base wallops. New York shortstop Bobby Brown led the hitting parade with two doubles and two singles, while catcher Yogi Berra hit his fourth homer of the season.

Schuschnigg To Give Talk

Ex-Austrian Leader, Waymack, Mumford In Summer Lectures

Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg, former chancellor of Austria, will speak here June 18 on the summer session Friday evening lecture series.

He is one of three lecturers to speak here in June. In order of dates, the series will be:

W. W. Waymack of the Atomic Energy commission will speak June 11 on "What is Atomic Energy?" He was formerly chief editorial writer for the Des Moines Register.

Dr. Von Schuschnigg will lecture June 18 on "The Problems of Central Europe." He was the Austrian chancellor during Hitler's reign in Germany. Lecturing in the United States for the past year, he will remain in this country as a teacher at St. Louis university next fall.

The third speaker, Lewis Mumford, will talk here June 25 on the "Foundations of World Order." He is a prominent writer and teacher of English literature. This past year he was guest lecturer at Dartmouth college.

All three lecturers are expected to stay for an informal Saturday morning round table, according to Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion. They will answer questions on their lectures of the night before and discuss other subjects pertaining to the lectures.

The lectures will be held on the west approach to Old Capitol at 8 p. m. if the weather permits. If not, they will be held at the same time in Macbride auditorium.

This summer's series will be the 13th year they have been held. Lectures will also be given in July, but the list of speakers will be announced at a later date.

Ask Coed Rushes To List Addresses

University women planning to participate in rushing during the 1948-1949 school year should leave their names and summer addresses at the office of student affairs, Leah Mendelson, Panhellenic council president, announced recently.

This request has been made in order that the 1948-1949 edition of the Panhellenic handbook can be mailed to prospective rushes.

Plans June Wedding

MR. AND MRS. HENRY GRABER, Mt. Pleasant, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Anna Mae, A2, to Orion Mansel Huffer, E3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray N. Huffer, Shenandoah. The wedding will take place June 13 at the First Methodist church in Iowa City. Miss Graber is a graduate of Wayland, Iowa, high school. Mr. Huffer is a graduate of Shenandoah high school. He is a member of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, the Associated Students of Engineering and the American Society of Mechanical Engineering. The couple will live in Iowa City.

Dates, Times Set For USNR Work

New dates and times for Iowa City naval reserve activities were announced yesterday by Lt. Comdr. Al Mitchell.

Drills for Electronic Warfare Co. 9-120 will be held each Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. in room 301, engineering building, Mitchell said.

Office hours for volunteer training activity, including enlistments, issue of training courses and progress examinations also have been changed to Wednesday. They will be held from 4 to 5 p. m. and from 7:30 to 10 p. m.

Revision of ninth naval district radio schedules is the reason for the change, according to Mitchell. Under scheduled operations, the company contacts other stations between Omaha and Chicago.

Mrs. Schwob Elected

Mrs. Harlan H. Schwob, 1107 Rochester avenue, was recently elected president of the Child Conservation club.

Other officers elected were Mrs. M.L. Mosher, vice-president; Mrs. Ray Thornberry, second vice-president; Mrs. Harold Franklin, recording secretary; Mrs. C.P. Peterson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Allen Wolfe, treasurer.

21 IC Girl Scouts Receive Award Badges

Twenty-one Girl Scouts from troop 26 of St. Patrick's school received badges last night for scout work done this year. The badges were awarded at a party given by members of the troop for their parents and friends in St. Patrick's auditorium.

Those awarded badges were Pat Holland, Janet Jones, Kathleen Walters, Marjorie Streb, Jean O'Brien, Mary Jean Davis, Margaret Pechous, Mary Jean Schneebelen, Ilene Moore, Julia Fay, Janeal Boyle.

Patricia Theobald, Francine Billick, Sheila Cunningham, Genevieve and Ann Denney, Carolyn Cooney, Suzanne Englert, Sally Carrel, Celeste Kirwan and Gretchen Karsten.

The program included a style show presented by troop members.

June Graduates To Get Final Week Instructions

Candidates for June graduation will soon receive letters of instruction concerning commencement week events, Prof. F.G. Higbee, director of convocations, announced yesterday.

Higbee also said that no tickets for commencement exercises will be required since the fieldhouse is expected to accommodate the entire commencement crowd.

Joanne Huck To Marry

PLANNING AN EARLY JUNE WEDDING are two university students, Joanne Huck, A2, and Robert Frenchick, A3. Miss Huck is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Huck, Des Moines. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Frenchick, Sioux City, was graduated from Central high school, Sioux City. The wedding will be held June 6 at St. John's Lutheran church, Des Moines.

Preview Planned For Summer Art Exhibit

The art department will give a preview of its fourth summer exhibition of contemporary art beginning tomorrow.

Although the regular display won't officially open until the first weeks of the summer session, paintings are being hung in the main gallery and auditorium so students can see them before vacation.

Included in the show are 108 paintings selected by Dr. Lester D. Longman from artists and galleries in New York City.

Saddle Club Announces Summer Riding Plans

A schedule of trail rides for the summer season was announced at a meeting of the Saddle club Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Fitzgarrald and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Fitzgarrald, 335 S. Duquesne street.

The first trail ride will be Sunday, June 13. Members will meet at the Charles Stuart home on Rochester road, Route 5, at noon. Future trail rides will be held every other Sunday throughout the summer.

New members of the Saddle club include Mr. and Mrs. Howard Marquis, Keota, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gough and Russell Krall, all of Iowa City.

Fred Darley To Head Christian Fellowship

Fred Darley, G. Fayetteville, Ark., has been elected 1948-1949 president of the Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship, it was announced recently.

Other officers are Mary J. Holbert, Washington, Iowa, vice-president; Lynette Bauman, Storm Lake, secretary, and Gerald Mollman, Cedar Rapids, treasurer.

John Montgomery, Corydon, contact chairman; Dorothy Rastovac, Johnston, Ia., publicity chairman; Bill Miller, Kewanee, Ill. and Norman Carson, Beaver Falls, Penn., social committee co-chairmen, and Shirley Brown, Washington, Iowa, missionary chairman.

Guided of the Presbyterian church will hold a potluck supper at 6 p. m. tomorrow in the church parlors. Hostesses are Mrs. Ardis Kirby, Mable Gould, Edna Flesner and Helen Goodenow. Mrs. Carl Erik Raestad will speak on "Life in Norway."

Personal Notes

Guests of Pres. and Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher, 102 E. Church street, are their mothers, Mrs. M.P. Hancher, Rolfe, and Mrs. C.C. Cannon, Paullina.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo O'Meara, Coralville, are the parents of an eight-pound five-ounce son, born Monday at Mercy hospital.

A daughter weighing five-pounds, thirteen-ounces was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leekband, 451 Riverdale, Monday at Mercy hospital.

City To Meet Contractors

Council Committee To Discuss Building Local Pool This Year

The city council's grounds and buildings committee will meet this afternoon at 4 p.m. with many of the city's contractors to attempt negotiations for the proposed swimming pool.

The meeting was scheduled after a long discussion at Monday's city council meeting. The council is trying to find if the city can let separate contracts to various contractors and get the pool built this year within the $112,500 limit.

Ned L. Ashton, pool engineer, said Monday night that he thought the contracts could be negotiated within a week and it would be possible to build the pool this year within the cost limit set.

General contractors who will be invited to the meeting include M. D. McCreedy, Hubert Miller, Frank Burger, Virgil Bowers and Ralph Wildman.

Contractors invited for other construction phases are Telford Lawre, plumbing; Nate Moore Jr., electrical; Bill Russell, electrical; Flesler and Keppler, concrete workers; George Nagle, lumber; Carl Swigert, lumber; Eldon Miller, trucking; Carl Chadek, trucking; Dwight Edwards, water company, and Mike Dunlap, implement dealer.

Others invited to the meeting are William Bartley, city attorney; Francis Suplee, park commissioner; Robert Lind, Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company; Kenneth Cline and Irving Weber of the recreation committee, and Dave Armbruster, SUI swimming coach.

Burgett Finds Parking A $16.50 Problem

In police court yesterday parking troubles cost one person $16.50 in fines plus $2 for towing charges.

Jerry Burgett, Burlington apartments, paid $2 on each of 4 charges of parking in prohibited zones and 2 charges of left-wheel-to-the-curb parking; $1 for each for two meter violations, and $2.50 costs.

William S. Cohen, A2, Des Moines, was fined $4.50 for making a U-turn.

A Physics Class Can Be A Thrilling Adventure

Professor Doubles As Ringmaster To Entertain Drowsy Science Students

HALF-MILLION VOLT HAIR-DO resulted when Prof. John A. Eldridge, physics department, touched the Van de Graff generator. In this generator, an endless belt built up a high voltage in the ball. His hair stood on end due to the intense electric field developed around his body. As the current was low, Eldridge was not in danger. In this experiment, the class saw a miniature atom smasher in action. (Daily Iowan Photo by Phyl White)

By BOB HIGGIN

A couple of elephants lumbering across the room wouldn't surprise the students in Prof. A. Eldridge's physics class.

If the student arrives at the 7:30 class a bit drowsy, he is rudely awakened by the Eldridge "three ring circus." A gyroscope whirrs like mad. Colors flash about the room from a revolving wheel. A weird looking whistle sounds off at intervals.

The ringmaster, Eldridge, keeps these acts going in a miraculous manner. Screeching noises, pungent odors, clouds of smoke fill the room; and yet through all this, the professor clowns and coordinates his pet experiments.

This bewilders some students. Others gaze from one ring of activity to another.

Out of this pandemonium, a puzzled student asks the answer to a previously assigned problem. Momentarily scratching his head, the unpredictable professor works the advanced calculus problem in his head. Some of the students almost fall out of their seats at this performance. However most of the class takes his mental gymnastics without blinking. By now they are conditioned to the unusualness of their professor.

But these cool heads in class are startled when he goes through one of his favorite stunts. With a nonchalant air, he sends a one-half million volt spark through his body. At that instant, his long white hair stands straight up on his head!

Before his stiffened hair has relaxed to normal, Eldridge is off on a new project. His students are mystified. He holds a handful of wooden blocks above the table. As the professor drops each block, it produces its own musical tone.

Combining these strange tones, Eldridge produces a familiar refrain. "Auld Lang Syne" is soon proving a theory of sound.

Leaving his physics recital, the professor begins a more active experiment. A "whirling dervish" would have trouble keeping up with the special Eldridge spin when he attempts to demonstrate a large gyroscope. Although six feet, the aging professor can whirl with the rest of them. His motions are not in vain. Students see the centrifugal force laws become valid. Women in the front 200, hasn't a chance under the Elcist in their laps at any moment.

Slowing down from his maddening pace, Eldridge swings into a dance routine from which "Little Egypt" could learn a couple of tricks. "This Egyptian dance explains the elements of a sound wave in a manner the shimmy artists would be at a loss to comprehend," said the professor.

Bonnie Gets Special Service from Evanston Police Men

AT YOUR SERVICE was the attitude of two of the 89 city policemen in Evanston, Ill., Nick Ney (left) and Jack Smith (right) as they greeted Elsie "Bonnie" Bonhivert, 23. Bonnie injured her spine in a fall in 1942 when her mother couldn't obtain a taxi in the rain. Chief of Police Carl Ekman made it a written order that a police car take her to and from the doctor's office, now three times a week. (AP WIREPHOTO)

P. T. Barnum had his Jenny Lind. J. A. Eldridge has his own soprano. With a few gulps of hydrogen gas, his faltering base becomes a soprano of which Jenny would be proud. By this vocalizing, he shows the effect of light gas on his vocal cavities.

Eldridge hardly restricts his musical endeavors to his "hydrogenated soprano." His students search in vain for "Rhythm Rumbles" on radios they have constructed in the laboratory. After the professor comes to the radio operators' aid, the "Saber Dance" blares out in the laboratory. This convinces them that Prof. Eldridge possesses a special "electronic touch."

Eldridge said, "The laboratory should cease its extraneous existence as an isolated system of verifications, manipulations, computations and reports, and begin to teach physics."

Does this professor know the students in the laboratory? During the first day of class, all prospective physicists troop individually before his miniature camera. This picture-taking technique is the envy of many amateur photographers.

In a matter of weeks, he knows most of his students by name. The struggling student hoping to remain obscure in a class of over 200, hasn't a chance under the Eldridge system.

Eldridge explained, "Physics can be a thrilling adventure and a good deal of fun. If the student becomes just a little excited about the subject, the moral and mental training and the practical values will come of themselves."

Haman Sues for $100

Gilbert Haman, Lone Tree, filed a $100 suit against Daniel J. Winter, 812 S. Dubuque street, yesterday in Johnson county district court.

Haman said the suit resulted from non-payment of a promissory note written by Winter on Feb. 25, 1946, and due Aug. 25, 1946.

Jack C. White and Glenen R. Bowen are attorneys for Haman.

Henderson, Haddy To Give Piano Recitals

Friday recitalists this week will be Lester Henderson and Richard Haddy, both pianists. The student musicians will share the program scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in north music hall.

Henderson will play Beethoven's Sonata, opus 31, no. 3, and four Debussy compositions: Canope, La Puerta del Vine, La terrasse des audiences du clair de lunes, and General Lavine-eccentric.

Fantasy and Sonata in C minor by Mozart and Excursions, opus 20, Nos. 1 and 4, will be played by Haddy. To conclude the concert, which is the 56th in the student series, the pianists will play a duet, Variations on a theme by Haydn, opus 56, by Brahms.

Senate Astonished by Material In Voice of America Texts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astonished and angry, the senate heard today that the Voice of America has been broadcasting such information as: "New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin."

The reaction was terrific. "This stuff!" deplored New England Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass). "Drivel, nonsense and downright falsehoods!" shouted western Senator Hatch (D-NM).

Senator Connally (D-Tex) said the authors were "saboteurs" who had "libelled and slandered" Texas.

The outburst was touched off by the reading of excerpts from scripts broadcast last December and January to South and Central America.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind), who read the excerpts, said he will introduce a resolution tomorrow for an investigation to "get all of the facts."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) told the senate it should "revoke immediately this (Voice of America) appropriation until we know that every word is supervised."

Congress has voted to appropriate $27-million for the state department to use for the Voice of America broadcasts.

Capehart said the series from which he read purported to deal with life and history in the 48 states as seen through the eyes of two travelers.

One script, dealing with Utah and Nevada, noted that Nevada's two principal cities are "in competition." It said that "people get married in Las Vegas and divorced in Reno."

Capehart said this was "enlightening." The American people, he added, are spending money "to send that sort of trash over the radio."

The same script referred to Brigham Young, leader of the Mormons, as "carrying a bottle of whisky in one pocket and a cad of chewing tobacco in the other," but not using either.

"Some fool broadcast that sort of information throughout the world," Capehart shouted. He also said that the script tried to represent Utah as a "communist or socialistic state."

Turning to Alabama, Capehart said the script referred to the city of Birmingham as being "poorly made." He quoted the script as saying the city "was constructed in a hurry, and they have not had time to improve it."

The same broadcast referred to Alabama as the "darkest" of all states, with this explanation:

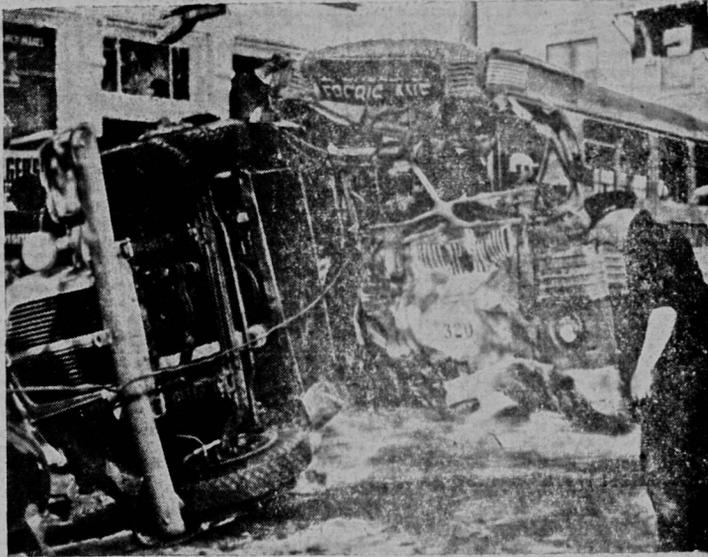

"In no other part of the United States have the colored people suffered and struggled so much as here."

Senator Eastland (D-Miss), noting the absence of an Alabama senator, took the floor to denounce the broadcast as a "contemptible, damnable lie."

Senator Smith (R-NJ), a member of the senate foreign relations committee, said he has asked the state department for an explanation. He said the broadcasts read by Capehart had been "farmed out" to the National Broadcasting company, and were neither written nor supervised by the department.

Columbus Fire Truck Collides With Motor Bus

FIREMAN LOUIS MARTIN, 68, was killed and nine persons seriously injured yesterday in Columbus, Ohio, when a fire truck collided with a city motor bus. Emergency squadmen are shown working in the bus to release the driver, John Tipton, 31, (with bandaged head) who was trapped in the wreckage 45 minutes. He was seriously hurt. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Macaroni Singers Disturb the Ladies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Twenty women told common pleas judge Vincent A. Carroll yesterday they had no objection to music but that the night long singing by employees of the Philadelphia Macaroni Co. is just too much.

"When the plant went on a 24-hour, seven-day schedule during the war we didn't mind," said one of the complainants. "We realized it was turning out macaroni and spaghetti for our boys in the armed services. But the war's over and we think it's about time for peace and quiet to return to our neighborhood at night."

Judge Carroll agreed and was about to sign an order requiring the factory to shut down from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. Then he said he would see if the factory management would take that action voluntarily.

14-Year-Old Killed in Holdup Prank at School

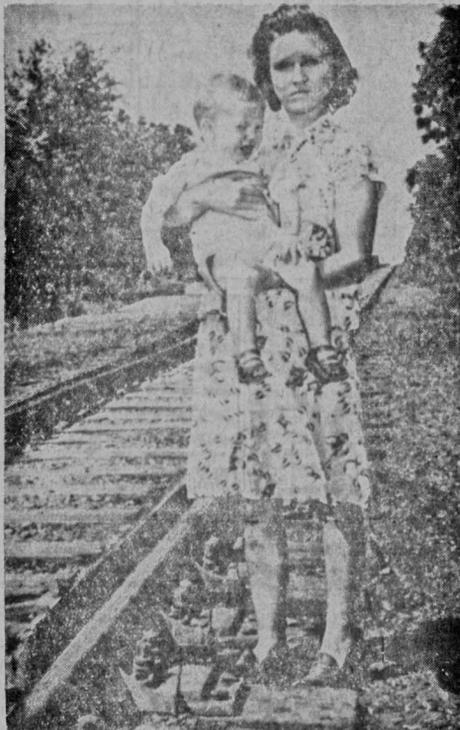

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 14-year-old boy was fatally shot yesterday when a comrade staged a "hold-up" as a prank on the grounds of Samuel Gompers Junior High school, police reported.

Donald Brooks was struck below the heart by a .25 caliber bullet, and died en route to a hospital. Police said the prankster, 13, became frightened and fled.

Detective C. P. Roberts said the youth with the gun was showing it to some companions, then said: "Here comes Donald. Let's pretend we're holding him up."

Detective L. A. Belle said the boy, Dickie Harrell, was found six hours later, wandering in a dazed fashion in the streets. No charges have been filed against him, and the officer said the boy probably would be released.

July Aviation Class Needs 400 More Men

Men who want to fly still may qualify for the July aviation cadet class of the airforce, according to Maj. Irwin M. Parsons, instructor in the military department.

Almost 400 vacancies exist in the class of 1,040 scheduled to begin July 1. An additional 1,300 men will begin training in October, with larger classes scheduled for March, July and October of 1949.

The flight training is open to all unmarried male citizens between 20 and 26 1/2. Applicants must have had a minimum of two years of college or be able to pass an equivalent educational examination.

Graduates of the 12-month pilot training program receive pilot's wings and commissions as second lieutenants of the airforce reserve. Up to five percent of each class will be offered regular airforce commissions immediately upon graduation. Additional opportunities to qualify for regular airforce commissions will be available during the regular tour of duty.

Starting pay upon graduation is $336 a month. If the officer marries, he will receive up to $372 a month.

Basic flight training is given in single-engine AT-6s. Graduates receive either advanced single-engine instruction in P-51s or P-47s, or advanced multi-engine training in B-25s. Top single-engine students receive jet training in two-place training P-80s as part of the year's instruction.

Detailed information on the program is available from Parsons at the armory.

There are 50 persons scheduled to take the examinations June 1, 2 and 3 in the state house in Des

2 Plaintiffs Win In Auto Collision Suit

Joanna Files was awarded $350 and Stephan Douglas Files, $800, in their joint damage suit against Grace Dautremont, Riverside, in Johnson county district court yesterday.

The suit grew out of an automobile collision which occurred on highway 6 near Coralville, July 2, 1947. Mary Jane Files filed suit for Stephan Douglas Files and L. O. Files for Joanna Files.

The jury heard the testimony Monday and Tuesday. It deliberated for two hours Tuesday afternoon to reach a verdict. W. T. Hageboeck, 437 Hutchinson street, jury foreman, returned the sealed verdict which was opened by Judge Harold D. Evans yesterday morning.

Will J. Hayek represented the plaintiffs. Attorneys for the defendant were Messer, Hamilton and Cahill.

Moines, and 65 will take the examination June 8, 9 and 10 in the law building at SUI.

Logic in Govt. Ownership of Rails

The call of 20 railway unions for government ownership of the railroads presents a logical argument that cannot easily be overcome. Indeed the railroads have become so vital to "national health, welfare and security," as they are declared to be under terms of an injunction authorized by the Taft-Hartley act.

The rail unions have simply carried that point one step farther. Such an industry as is affected with the public interest ought to be owned and operated by the public, without private profit.

The question involved is one of a public utility. All authorities agree that a public utility is in a different class than ordinary business which is dependent largely upon private decisions for its operations.

Thus far, our method of dealing with the railroads as a public utility has been to place them under general supervision of the interstate commerce commission and then to insist that they compete with one another as an additional regulatory technique.

But this competition has largely been fictional rather than actual. So that in the past years it increasingly has been recognized that what of necessity is a public utility should be actually that—public both in its ownership as well as its motivation.

Clearly the impasse of government seizure and an injunction prohibiting strikes—while at the same time the government either will not or cannot legally negotiate wages—cannot long continue without grave injustice.

The injunctive tool based on the recognition of the railroads as a public utility cannot be used at the same time to force almost involuntary servitude.

There is good justification for believing that labor difficulties in public utilities may require some special consideration. But what is sauce for labor ought also to be sauce for management.

Where Do We Go From Here?

The parking situation in East Iowa City is becoming critical, but where besides Farmer Zeke Jones' 40 acres isn't it?

We must blame our forefathers for lacking the foresight in not having provided modern, adequate parking space for each business establishment. But how could we expect them to prophesy that someday everyone would own a "buggy"?

Possibly our future generations will criticize our judgment in not providing landing space for their helicopters.

Some campus towns have solved the immediate problem by forbidding students to have cars. If the university should enact such a rule, pity the flat-footed student who has 10 minutes to tramp the itinerary from the theater building to Parking areas dispersed around the city and campus seem to be the only immediate solution. But if we consider the long range view, with the city and campus rapidly growing, and Detroit producing thousands of automobiles every year, we will soon be back where we started—only a little farther away.

Some day we may have to park our cars in huge fields beyond the city limits and take the "commuter" to the city and campus. With two cars in every garage, maybe the university and the city could afford a subway where students could be shot in a tube from a biology class to a lecture in political science.

But then there are the helicopters.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

What Will the Russians Do Now?

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

After the first flurries of the Russian "peace offensive," during which Europe was wondering whether the United States and the USSR intended to try to settle the affairs of the world between themselves, the situation seems to have settled down without seriously damaging the morale of Communism's foes.

The uppermost question now is whether Russia, having perceived that mere talk is insufficient to produce a truce in the cold war, will resume her frontal attacks or will make some further moves to try to produce a feeling of false security among her opponents.

The situation in Finland may provide a clue.

The Finns, disturbed by the activities of their Communist minister of interior, have ousted him, and the Finnish communists have reacted with demonstrations and strikes. This is the first time since the war that a Russian-sphere country has dared to contend openly for this police-controlling ministry post which is always the first goal of the Communist infiltrators.

Russia, apparently "cooled off" in Finland by world reaction to the coup in Czechoslovakia, had been expected to return to the attack when the time was more opportune.

Then came the recent U. S. policy statement which enabled Molotov and Stalin to grab their olive branches. They hoped to confuse what had become a clear-cut issue between East and West by reducing the tension which had caused it.

There was speculation that they knew they had reached the limit of "peaceful" aggression and would attempt now to lull their opponents to sleep while they prepared for the long pull toward world Communist hegemony.

But it is evident that they have failed to slow down the American-European drive toward an economic and military establishment which would be too strong to attack.

Will they, then, go ahead in the last country they might take over without starting a war, and wait until later for the long term period of preparation they are believed to need before they can risk their final showdown with the democracies?

The situation in Finland itself will probably determine that for the moment. The recent rioting in Bogota, set off by the assassination of a popular leader, demonstrates how the Communists are always prepared to take advantage of events.

If local Communists demonstrate sufficient strength in Finland, or can create a serious cabinet crisis, the directors of the world revolution can be expected to move in just as they did in Czechoslovakia.

That would mean another shot in the arm for western rearmament and western cooperation against Communism. The Kremlin may figure that doesn't matter much; that the West now knows what Moscow has known all the time—regardless of lulls or of momentary expediency, the fight is on until the Communist imperialists either win or are completely eliminated.

County Demos Plan Election Caucuses

Johnson county Democrats will meet in caucuses throughout the county Friday at 7:30 p. m. to select candidates for election at the June 7 primaries as delegates to the county convention.

The county convention is scheduled for 10 a. m., July 2, at the courthouse.

All Iowa City and precinct caucuses will be held in the court room of the courthouse Friday night. Township groups will gather in their regular polling places.

It Will Neither Kill Nor Cure

'How 'Friends of Democracy' Works

Friends of Democracy is a non-sectarian, non-profit, educational organization, incorporated under the laws of Missouri. Its national director is L. M. Birkhead, a Unitarian minister from Kansas City, recognized as one of the nation's foremost authorities on un-American activities.

How does the organization examine, determine and combat un-American activities? This is the way they explain it:

"A prominent citizen in a large midwestern city wired Friends of Democracy that a man with a questionable background was about to be appointed to the school board in his town and, if appointed, probably would become head of the board. 'What is this man's record,' the citizen wanted to know, 'and if it's bad as I suspect what is done about it?'"

"The man's record, as Friends of Democracy's information service revealed, included his being an American Firster before the war and an officer in American Action, Inc., the postwar coalition of Coughlinites, bigots, fascist-sympathizers, white supremacy advocates, and super-nationalists."

"Friends of Democracy airmailed a report on the potential school board member to the midwestern city along with suggestions for fighting the appointment."

"Requests like this pour into FOD every day. Let's look at the record:

"1. Upton Close, the super-nationalist radio commentator who claims that Friends of Democracy cost him his spot on the Mutual broadcasting system in February, 1947, resumed broadcasting over three powerful radio stations in Mexico and a series of independent stations in the United States."

"After FOD reports on Close's propaganda line were sent to Secretary of State Marshall and the federal communications commission, and the U. S. stations allegedly carrying his broadcasts, Close was dropped by all three Mexican stations and all but a handful of the stations here."

"2. Gerald Winrod, the 'Jayhawk Nazi,' and close to a dozen extreme fundamentalists of his variety, began broadcasting over powerful Mexican radio stations. After Friends of Democracy sent exposes on each of the broadcasters to Secretary Marshall and the FCC, the Mexican stations refused time to the entire group. Winrod not only blamed FOD for the Mexican action but also for the difficulties his group encountered in buying radio time over U. S. stations."

"3. The Chicago Tribune and New York Daily News for years have been the darlings of America's bigoted and super-nationalist groups."

Friends of Democracy during this time has been hammering out exposes and subsequently: the Chicago paper threatened an infringement of copyright suit against the Broom, anti-Semitic weekly published in San Diego, and the News Syndicate company (owner of the N. Y. News) did slap an infringement of copyright suit on the Broom's editor.

UN's FAO Says —

Pity the Poor Yak

—Not Sissy U. S. Cows

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—And now, stand by for an item of international importance:

The cows of this country are sissies.

No, I'm not kidding. And neither is the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations, which brought the whole thing up.

U. S. cows—and cows of other agriculturally advanced nations—are highly specialized creatures.

Same with other beasts and fowls. Our pigs are the pork choppingest. Our chickens are the cacklingest. Our sheep the sheepishest.

Sounds good, doesn't it? But there's a catch. If these cows, chickens and pigs are to live and prosper, every thing must be just so.

That's where the United Nations' agriculturist lives in. They think improved livestock would make this world a better place in which to live.

So they have come out with a book called "Breeding Livestock Adapted to Unfavorable Environments."

They find that years of study have gone into developing livestock for rich farmland—and only a few minutes of study have been

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

The Cry for Peace

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

When an American ventures the opinion that perhaps we ought to discuss peace with the Russians, he is more than likely to be denounced as an appeaser. In addition, the chances are good that he will be talked down as a wishy-washy character, lacking in backbone. If he has enough standing, like a preacher or a teacher, so that his critics are inclined to be charitable about him, they may say that he is a man possessed of noble ideals, of course, but ideals that are perhaps a little too good for this world.

If this is true of Americans who talk peace, it ought maybe to be true of Russians who talk peace, too. The Russians have made a couple of offers of peace discussions during the last fortnight.

But the interesting thing is that we have not dragged out our vocabulary about wishy-washiness, appeasers, etc., to describe the new Russian peace moves. We seem, if anything, a little alarmed about them; we speak of them as constituting a "peace offensive."

The word "peace," which we consider weak on American lips, rather startles us when we hear it on Russian lips. Same word. Yet nobody says, ah, that Stalin, he's gone wishy-washy, no backbone any more, an appeaser, yet; and certainly nobody around here has remarked that he has ideals that are perhaps too noble for this world.

The cry for peace, so disdained here at home as weakness, seems almost disruptively strong, when uttered from abroad.

A vague doubt stirs as to whether we have really thought through to what it means, in a time like ours, to raise the slogan of peace, and as to whether there is not a touch of immaturity in the casual manner in which we appear to have decided that this slogan is a weak one.

Nothing could have seemed much weaker than the blank negatives with which we met the Russian overtures, or our hasty efforts to improvise some sort of answer. Whether those overtures were sincere or not, they were stronger than our responses.

The plain truth is that in our day, in our world, the slogan of peace can be wielded like a sword, and we are led to the odd conclusion that the "tough" line may not be nearly as tough as we like to think; it may indeed be not very tough at all.

For peace is a policy; to raise the slogan of peace is to offer to set the world right; it is an offer to solve problems.

As against this, the "tough" line seems merely feeble, for it bids the world to wallow contentedly in its unsolved problems for an indefinite number of years; it invites mankind to build arms, and then hope for the breaks; it makes the confident prediction that our futures will be insecure; it raises complicated and unprosperous perspectives. It is, in actuality, not a policy; it is only organized doubt.

Perhaps we are wrong in our hasty decision that the cry for instant peace, which rises so high in the hearts of all mankind, is not fit to come from a he-man's lips. It may make a louder and more positive noise than we know.

Perhaps we are giving too much away; perhaps we are talking each other into a misinterpretation; perhaps to most of the world the discussion of its problems, and the raising of demands that they be solved, are indeed man's work, with nothing of softness in it.

For if we are right, then "insecurity" must be a fine word, and "chaos" a delightful one, and we ought, perhaps, to reorganize the rest of our lexicon, too, in accord with the shifted meanings of our age.

An Object Lesson in the Economy of Safety

THE DRIVER OF THIS CAR can well testify to the truth of the slogan "Safety Doesn't Cost . . . It Pays" which the Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce has adopted for its six-month safety campaign. The group hopes to make every local motorist and pedestrian safety conscious and to make Iowa City a safe place in which to drive and to walk.

Safety Doesn't Cost . . . It Pays

More than 30,000 Americans die each year as a result of traffic accidents. Here are some facts and figures on this national scandal:

Reckless passing causes 13 percent (49,000) of the fatal accidents

Excessive speed causes three out of every 10 fatal accidents.

Three out of every four pedestrians killed in traffic accidents (12,000) contribute to their own deaths. Eighteen percent of adult pedestrians thus killed were crossing against signals. Sixty percent of the children killed by autos were either playing in the streets or crossing between crossways.

Drunkened driving results in 20 percent of the traffic fatalities. Approximately 85 percent of such accidents occur at night.

Twenty-four percent of all fatal accidents happen at intersections; 12 percent on curves.

More than half of the drivers killed in grade-crossing accidents last year disregarded signals.

Defective auto mechanism resulted in 18 percent of all fatal accidents. Safety Doesn't Cost . . . It Pays.

Divorcee Advertises To Wed For $10,000; Gets 14 Offers

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Lawlor, comely 28-year-old divorcee, yesterday got 14 quick offers from prospective husbands willing to pay her $10,000 and support her and her two children.

She announced she would interview the bidders at the Long Island night club where she works as a hatcheck girl, and make her decision within a week.

"I have just enough money to last me that long," she said.

The offers came within a few hours after her "wife for sale" story appeared in the Hempstead Newsday. The paper published the story after she had submitted this ad for the "Situation Wanted, Female" column:

"Wife for sale. Divorcee, blonde, attractive wants man to marry and support her and two children. Must be willing and able to make immediate $10,000 cash settlement."

She said the man must be "of a decent type" and "not too old," as well as the possessor of $10,000.

Married at 15 and divorced five years later, Mrs. Lawlor said she wanted the money to guarantee security for herself and the children, Dorothy, 11, and Tommy, 10. She said she was tired of the eight-year struggle to provide for them.

"I just don't believe in love," she said. "But surely somewhere, there must be a man who wants a wife and two fine children. Perhaps we could learn to love each other after a time."

The divorcee said she previously has not lacked for admirers and some have urged matrimony. But none had $10,000.

Wallace Group Sends Member To Protest Mundt Bill Hearings

Gilbert Leff, university student, will leave this morning for Washington, D. C., where he will represent Students for Wallace in protesting hearings on the Mundt bill, David Coffing, chairman, said last night.

Leona Rubenstein will also leave today, making other stops before going to Washington, he said.

The purpose of the trips, Coffing said, is to "protest the speed with which reactionary forces are attempting to stampede the Mundt bill through the senate."

Another delegation from Students for Wallace will start for the capitol the beginning of next week, Coffing added.

Youth Pleads Not Guilty To Operating Automobile Without Owners Consent

Norman C. Griffis, 18, Davenport, yesterday pleaded not guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

He was arraigned in Johnson County district court on an information filed by County Attorney Jack C. White. Judge Harold D. Evans continued the case.

Griffis was arrested ten days ago when the car in which he and Raymond D. Jacobs, 32, were riding ran out of gas in front of two patrolmen, a sheriff and a deputy. The officials spotted the car as one that had been stolen in Solon.

Griffis is in the Johnson county jail.

Stork Confuses Life For Zoo's Rhea Family

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Family life is a bit tangled these days for two pairs of rheas at the Philadelphia zoo.

The rhea is a large ostrich-like bird with certain peculiarities. The female lays the eggs, but the male sits on the nest to hatch them.

Not long ago one female laid an egg and her mate promptly went to work. Then another egg appeared and the other male climbed into the nest. Now the two little rheas have been born and others are on the way.

Zoo officials said they have given up trying to figure out which baby rhea belongs to which pair of rheas.

Man, 40, Beats Mother, Grandmother To Death

WARREN, MINN. (AP)—A 40-year-old man confessed Tuesday to Sheriff Oscar Toftner that he killed his 65-year-old mother and his 89-year-old blind grandmother with his fists.

The beaten bodies of the women were found Monday in their farm home near here after Clarence Lindstrom came into the sheriff's office, said: "I killed a couple of people," and asked to be put in an institution.

2 Iowa Counties Report Total of 14 Polio Cases

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—Two new cases yesterday boosted the polio count in Harrison and Pottawattamie counties to 14.

Rep. Ben F. Jensen (R-Ia.) advised from Washington he was asking the U.S. Public Health Service and The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to send investigators into the area.

Of the 14 cases reported to date, 10 were in Harrison county. Six were in Mondamin alone.

Rev. Craig To Address City High Seniors at Baccalaureate Services

City high school baccalaureate services for graduating seniors will be held Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The Rev. Evans A. Worthley of the Unitarian church will give the invocation and benediction. The baccalaureate address will be delivered by the Rev. John G. Craig of the Congregational church.

They'll Be in Your Salad Soon

AS IOWA CITY GARDNERS look hopefully to see results of their early spring planting, one local man has 230,400 cabbage, tomato, pepper and celery plants popping out of the earth. He is the greenhouse man, who planted his first seeds as long ago as February 10. Almond Anderson is shown above watering cabbage plants in one of the nine glass sheds at Aldous greenhouse, Dodge and Church streets. Boxes called "flats" hold 12 dozen plants. There are 1600 of these flats at the greenhouse, each seeded as the plants are sold. (Daily Iowan Photo by Frank Holowach)

A JOB...an Education...and a FUTURE for the 35 RIGHT YOUNG MEN

First, let us tell you who we are. Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane are brokers in securities and commodities, as well as underwriters and distributors of security issues.

We think it's pretty important what people do with the money they save—so important that the job of helping them with their investments should be handled only by men who are equipped for that work by character, intelligence, and thorough training. The same holds true for men who help move our great commodity crops to market. For qualified young men, we think there's a real opportunity in the investment and commodity business.

Three years ago, we organized the first class in the Merrill Lynch Training School for approximately 30 carefully selected young men. We hired them to go to school under top-flight teachers for six months. Then they took jobs in various of our 97 branch offices, most of them in or near their old home towns.

The Training School was a success. Six classes have now graduated, and a seventh is in session. Almost 200 men (and two women) have completed the course, and almost uniformly they have rolled up excellent selling records. Some of them have already advanced in the home or field offices.

Because they have made good, we are organizing an Eighth Training School Class.

In this class, beginning August 2 in New York City, we will give the course to the 35 best men (or women) we can find.

These people will be paid while they learn. The rates of pay are varied on the basis of marital status and working (or military) experience. (Average for current class: $270 per month).

On successful completion of the course, each of these people will have a good job and, we hope, a good future.

If you would like to be considered for admission to this course, we obviously have to know a good deal about you. For instance, as a starter, we want the following information:

1. Name, address, age, marital status
2. Experience, working and military
3. Educational record (degrees, courses of major interest, grades)
4. Extracurricular activities and interests
5. Why do you think you would be interested in a career in the securities business?
6. What do you consider would represent success when you have reached the halfway mark in your business career?

If you would like to apply formally for admission to the Eighth Merrill Lynch Training School Class, write down the answers to these questions, plus anything else you'd like to tell us about yourself, and bring them to me or mail them to me before July 9th.

Chicago Housewife Wins Soap Contest, Fans Herself With $25,000 Prize Check

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago housewife took the stunning, but thrilling, jolt of a $24,900 surprise yesterday—and only stuttered a little.

Then a few minutes later she grew weak in the knees, got the trembles and had to sit down and fan herself with the only thing at hand, a $25,000 check.

She is Mrs. Florence Leadinghouse, 50, grey-haired mother of two grown sons whose only previous contest winnings totaled $2 for a cookie recipe.

She was informed she had won a $100 runner-up prize in a soap company contest by selecting Baltimore as the mystery city and writing the best 25-word essay.

The contest was called the "hidden treasure contest." The object was to determine in which city the imaginary hidden treasure was buried. Various clues were given for a number of weeks over all the soap firm's radio shows.

Near the end of the contest, a clue was given which accentuated the words "ball", "tea" and "more."

Dressed in a blue print silk dress, blue straw hat and blue cloth coat, she came downtown to pick up her check.

Then before a studio audience of more than 100 in the Sherman hotel, she was handed the check—folded and held by the announcer so it could be read only line by line. She had to get her glasses out of her purse to read it.

When she came to the amount

Jake Bird Argues Own Case; Loses Latest Court Battle

OLYMPIA, WASH. (AP)—Jake Bird, condemned ax slayer who argued his own case in the state supreme court, lost another round in his legal battle for life yesterday.

The high court ruled against the transient, five to three. Bird, once reprieved on the eve of his scheduled hanging, had asked the court to require the superior court at Tacoma to prepare a record of his trial at county expense. The transcript of testimony is needed to perfect an appeal.

Bird is under death sentence for the ax killing of a Tacoma woman. Authorities have quoted him as admitting a series of killings across the country, over a period of many years.
