

Was It Red Tape This Time?

MADERA, CALIF. (AP)— Jesse D. Clevenger got a $374.73 bonus travel pay check this week. It was due him for separation from the army in the Philippines. So what? Well, it's been due Clevenger, now 73, ever since the Spanish-American War.

Chrysler Strike Ends With 13-Cent Hourly Wage Hike

DETROIT (AP)— The 17-day Chrysler strike was settled last night for a flat 13 cent hourly wage increase. The corporation's 75,000 CIO united auto workers got two cents more an hour than General Motors' 225,000 employees under an adjustable wage formula.

The strike was called May 12 over the Union's demands for a 30-cent raise and several non-wage benefits. The increase will boost Chrysler's average hourly wage for production workers to $1.63.

Salaried employees' pay boosted about nine percent, with a floor of $20 a month.

UAW officials said the strike would be called off officially at midnight last night.

Norman Matthews, director of the UAW's Chrysler department and leader of the strike, said the Chrysler strike had "cracked the solid opposition to wage increases in the auto industry, a position in which auto management was allied with the steel, electrical and other industries."

John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, who conferred with both groups, said through a White House spokesman:

"No progress has been made this week."

It was announced, however, that the railroad and union leaders will return to his offices next Tuesday morning. No definite hour has been set.

The union committee, which includes spokesmen of the engineers, firemen and switchmen, left the White House at 5:30 p. m. (CST) and the operator's representatives left ten minutes later. There was no across-the-table bargaining, Steelman said. He conferred with each group separately and did not get them together.

Steelman called leaders of both sides to the White House after Justice T. Alan Goldsborough had extended until June 11 the temporary court order that prevented a rail strike.

The White House announced in mid-afternoon that the negotiators were there.

Steelman, a White House spokesman said, wanted to talk to them about something he "has been working on for some days."

Chrysler declined comment as to whether car prices would be raised as a result of the settlement.

The agreement came without a wage reopening clause in the two-year Chrysler-UAW contract which was to have run until next April.

At the same time the contract was extended until Aug. 1, 1950, with one more wage reopening after June, 15, 1949.

General Motors' new two-year contract with the union gears an immediate 11 cent increase to the cost of living and will be adjusted up or down according to the government consumers price index.

Chrysler's new agreement guarantees the full 13 cents until the contract expires.

The UAW said the settlement would cost Chrysler $23.7-million a year.

Philosophically, Smuts remarked, "These things happen. What is to be will be."

Personally defeated in his own constituency, he will retire to his farm at Doornkloof.

Among Nationalist members elected to Parliament is at least one who was interned during the last war, and a number of others who openly sympathized with the Germans. Descendants of German immigrants are numerous in the Nationalist and Afrikaner parties.

Malan himself has disavowed the support of Nazis and Fascists, and the leaders of the party describe themselves as democrats. But inside the party are many who would like to see South Africa break away from the British commonwealth and form a republic, who have a strong isolationist outlook and are untiring in their fight for the rights of the Afrikan speaking section of the population which forms more than half the white population.

Malan said no. He said Iranians are Mohammedans but are not on good terms with the Arabs.

John D. Jernegan, chief of the state department's division of Greek-Turkish-Iranian affairs, disclosed the plan to ship military supplies to Iran.

All the tanks, fighter and cargo planes, guns and ammunition and other military supplies earmarked for Iran are surplus, he said. Their original cost was around $60-million, he added.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) asked if there was any chance that the Iranian army might use them against the Jews in Palestine.

Jernegan said no. He said Iranians are Mohammedans but are not on good terms with the Arabs.

CONFIRM NEW SECRETARY WASHINGTON (AP)— The senate yesterday unanimously confirmed Charles F. Brannan to be secretary of agriculture.

The house expenditures subcommittee headed by Chenoweth is the first to hold public hearings into a travelogue series broadcast by NBC last winter for the state department. Separate inquiries have been launched by the White House and two senate committees.

"If the Mundt-Nixon bill were to pass, the Communist party would not perjure itself by admitting any resemblance to the monstrous caricature of its nature and purposes drawn in this bill," he said.

The measure would establish heavy fines and jail sentences for trying to set up a foreign-controlled totalitarian dictatorship in this country.

He declared the western democracies can win the cold war only if this nation sticks to its firm policy toward Russia.

Marshall took this stand in a speech prepared for delivery to the General Federation of Women's clubs. It was his first important discussion of U.S.-Soviet relations since the Russians launched their "peace offensive" three weeks ago.

The secretary accused the Soviet Union of "completely distorting the meaning" of American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith's statement on American policy to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov early this month. By striking out two key sentences when Smith's statement was published, Marshall said, the Russians sought to create a false impression that the United States was making overtures for a cold war settlement.

MacArthur Note Reaches Washington

MacArthur Postpones Return, Fears Charges of 'Politics'

WASHINGTON (AP)— General Douglas MacArthur told congress yesterday that he doesn't want to come home now. Such a journey, he said, would be misunderstood as "politically inspired."

So MacArthur said he would rather postpone his return from Tokyo until after the Republican national convention, which meets June 21 in Philadelphia. He has said previously he would accept the nomination for president if it is offered.

The general replied yesterday to an invitation by the senate appropriations committee to testify on spending for the Far East. In a telegram to Chairman Bridges (R-NH), MacArthur noted that he already has expressed his views on this subject and that basic policies have been determined.

Senator Bridges, chairman of the appropriations committee, said he would place the MacArthur message before the committee next Tuesday.

"I don't believe the committee will press for his return," he said. "Tied to the Orient since the war by his duties as supreme Allied commander in Japan, the 67-year-old Arkansas native disclosed in his message that he's homesick. He has not been in the United States since 1937. But he added:

"It would be peculiarly repugnant to me to have it felt that I sought to capitalize to political advantage, as many have frankly urged, the public good will which might manifest itself. For such good will would find its inspiration in the Pacific war victory."

The National Broadcasting company, through Vice-President Charles R. Denny, took a share of the blame for the broadcasts.

"We are not ducking responsibility," he said, and then declared that his company has no evidence of any sabotage attempt.

State department officials also accepted partial blame for the broadcasts. "In the future, we must have prior supervision over every one of these scripts," said George V. Allen, assistant secretary of state.

Chenoweth told Allen sternly: "Congress never intended for the state department to turn over all responsibility to the NBC or any other private broadcasting company."

The house expenditures subcommittee headed by Chenoweth is the first to hold public hearings into a travelogue series broadcast by NBC last winter for the state department. Separate inquiries have been launched by the White House and two senate committees.

Austin Joins in Request For UN Force To Stop Fighting in Holy Land

Feed Artillery Into Battle for Latrun

Outnumbered Jews In Surrender in Seige

CAIRO (AP)— Arab legion and Israeli commanders fed armor and artillery into the mounting battle for Latrun last night after hungry, outnumbered Jews in Jerusalem's Old City surrendered to King Abdullah's siege forces.

The victory of the Trans-Jordan troops in the Old City was not a decisive one. The battle for a bigger prize—all of Jerusalem—was being fought out 14 miles west of the Holy City on the vital highway from Tel Aviv.

Israel's army announced that its troops captured the Arab villages of Belf Jiz and Beit Susin just south of the highway and a little more than a mile from Latrun.

An Egyptian defense ministry communique said last night Egyptian bombers attacked and dispersed Jewish troop concentrations which were attempting to open the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv road at Bab El Wad, 11 miles west of the Holy City. Bab El Wad is four miles east of Latrun. The number of planes or troops involved was not given. The communique also said Egyptian planes raided Jewish settlements between Tel Aviv and Gaza.

A Tel Aviv dispatch said there were indications the Latrun engagement might be the decisive one in the Palestine war. The British-controlled Near East radio quoted a correspondent as describing the battle there as the largest yet fought in the Middle East war.

The Jews began the offensive Monday and met a heavy concentration of Arab forces. Beit Jiz and Beit Susin fell to the Jewish troops after they swept south of the highway in a flanking move Thursday night.

To open communications to the 80,000 to 90,000 Jews besieged in the modern sections of Jerusalem the Jews must not only clear Latrun, the site of a picturesque monastery of monks pledged to silence, but also must gain command of the heights overlooking Bab El Wad gorge.

Both Arabs and Jews threw aircraft into the fighting which is spreading over the hills where Richard the Lion Hearted was turned back from his crusade.

The Jews in Jerusalem's Old City gave up after holding out for 11 days against the pounding of Arab legion guns and dynamite. Their captors found them without food and short of ammunition.

Delegates Cheer as Austin Supports Russian Proposal

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)— The United States joined amid cheers yesterday in Russia's demand for United Nations force to stop the Palestine fighting.

U. N. delegates generally concede, however, that the security council is not yet ready to approve the strongest measures possible under the charter.

Instead, informed sources said, the council was more likely to adopt some version of Britain's plan for one final try at peaceful mediation before getting tough.

France and Colombia endorsed the Russian resolution during the afternoon session but the council did not reach a vote Thursday night. It adjourned at 3:53 p. m. (CST) until Saturday at 8:30.

The council received a telegram from its American-Belgian-French truce commission in Jerusalem saying the Holy Sepulchre was in imminent peril from Arab bombardment.

Another telegram from the same source said the Jewish military commander in Jerusalem had informed the truce commission the Jews would take reprisals on Holy places if the Arabs continued to shell the great synagogue.

These communications apparently were sent from Jerusalem before the Arab capture of the old city yesterday.

Andrei A. Gromyko, soviet deputy foreign minister, fighting to persuade the council to take strong action to stop the war, said he wanted to speak Saturday before a vote is taken.

Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate, told the council "the United States supports the draft resolution proposed by the Soviet Union." The Russian measure was almost identical with a U. S. proposal ditched by the council last Saturday.

Cheers and hand-clapping broke out as Austin spoke in the crowded chamber.

These terms are that the 41 come back to the United States instead of going to Palestine.

The men were forcibly removed from a United States merchant ship by the Arab state of Lebanon. Lebanon contended they intended to fight against the Arabs in the Holy Land.

U. S. efforts to get them released unconditionally failed. They then were faced with a choice of staying indefinitely in concentration camps or coming back to this country.

The state department announced that they had been polled and that all had chosen the latter alternative.

When Michael J. McDermott, state department press officer, made the announcement to newsmen, one reporter asked whether the arrangement was not a blow to U. S. prestige in the Arab world. He said it was not.

Purdue Rips Past Hawks, 9-3

Boilermakers Get 14 Hits; Iowa Held to 4 by Henson

By AL SCHMAHL
Assistant Sports Editor
Purdue's Boilermakers went on a batting binge yesterday to roll over Iowa's baseball team, 9-3. The Boilermakers pounded Jack Bruner and Dick Hoeksema for 14 hits, including four triples and three doubles.

Melvin Henson, Purdue right-hander, set the Hawkeys back with four hits, two of which came in the ninth inning. In that frame Bob Smith hit a line-drive home run to right center for the only extra base blow garnered by the Hawks.

Bruner, Iowa's starting pitcher, completely baffled the Boilermakers for three and two-thirds innings, but then Purdue unleashed its powerful attack for four hits and four runs in the fourth.

With two men out in front, Stan Aders, who paced the Purdue attack with a triple and two doubles, hit a sharp ground ball down the left field line. It rolled all the way to the fence for a triple.

John Chinewicz, the Boilermakers leading hitter, followed with a line single to center to score Aders. Norbert Adams added a ground single to right, and then Bill Long poked a long drive to right center, scoring both runners. Long, credited with a triple, crossed the plate as Dale Erickson fumbled the ball, giving the Boilermakers a 4-1 lead.

The Hawks had scored in the first inning as a result of two Purdue errors. Smith got a life on an error by Shortstop Henry Stram. Erickson hit a short fly ball to center and Chinewicz overthrew first in an attempt to double Smith. Smith took third on the play and scored on Jack Dittmer's fly to right.

Smith got Iowa's first hit in the third, but was stranded after stealing second base.

The Boilermakers added single runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Ken Gorgal singled in the fifth and gained second when Erickson errored on the play. Aders double scored him with the fifth Purdue run.

In the sixth, Bruner walked Adams to start the inning. Long doubled to advance Adams to third with no one out. Then Bruner struck out Bill Berberian. On an attempted squeeze play, Henson missed the bunt, Adams charged home, but Umpire George Magerkurth ruled him out as Henson interfered with Catcher Lyle Ebner's attempt to tag Adams.

Henson singled on the next pitch to score Long, and Stram followed with another single. But Bruner cut off the threat by striking out Gorgal to end the inning.

Olin Martin's triple opened the seventh, and he scored when Aders doubled behind him. Three infield outs stifled that Purdue attempt.

Hoeksema took over the pitching chores in the eighth, and set the Boilermakers down in order in that inning. But the Purdue boys found Hoeksema's offerings to their liking in the ninth as they combined singles by Gorgal and Chinewicz and a triple by Adams for two more runs. The Boilermakers led, 9-1.

Up until the last half of the ninth, the Hawks had been held to two hits by Henson. Smith's single and an infield single by Erickson, but Smith, leading off in the ninth, found a pitch he liked and blasted his home run.

Erickson grounded out, but Dittmer drew a base on balls, the first walk issued by Henson. He took second on a wild pitch and moved down to third when Ebner smashed a single off Henson's glove. Tedore flied to center, scoring Dittmer, but Al DiMarco ended the game as he forced Ebner at second.

The win moved the Boilermakers ahead of Iowa in the Big Nine race. Iowa has a five and five record, while Purdue has won seven and lost six.

Tomorrow's game will end the season for both teams. Ervil Noel, Purdue southpaw, will face Wes Demro in the finale which will be called at 2 p.m.

Wildcats, Wolverines Set Tennis Pace

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP)—Northwestern, defending champion, maintained its lead in the Big 9 tennis meet yesterday with a total of 17 points at the end of the semi-finals—2½ points ahead of Michigan.

Michigan and Northwestern enter today's finals with four survivors each in the singles. The Wildcats, however, have three doubles teams still in the running and the Wolverines two.

Other scores after yesterday's second round: Wisconsin, 10½; Illinois 7, Minnesota 5½, Ohio State 2, Purdue 1, Iowa 1, Indiana failed to score.

Northwestern's chance of retaining the singles crown was blasted when Andy Patton of Michigan downed Ted Petersen, the Wildcats' defending titlist, 8-6, 6-4. Patton and Ken Boyum of Minnesota tangle for the single championship today.

Singles—Semi-finals:
No. 1—Andy Patton, Michigan, beat Ted Petersen, Northwestern, 8-6, 6-3.

Cubs Outslug Cincinnati, 10-8

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati scored eight runs on homers last night but they were not enough as the Chicago Cubs came up with five- and four-run innings and went on to win, 10-8, before a crowd of 18,972. Hank Sauer, Redleg left fielder, clouted his 11th and 12th round-trippers to drive in four runs. Grady Hatton and Johnny Wyrostek also homered for the losers.

The Reds gave starter Howard Fox a 7-0 lead in the first two innings. Hatton connected for a three-run blow in the opening frame before Sauer clubbed his first of the evening, and then Cincinnati outfielder came back with another in the second, good for three runs.

But the Cubs shelved Fox from the mound in the third with a five-run outburst.

After Wyrostek had extended the Redleg lead to 8-5 with a homer in the fourth, Chicago bounced back with four runs on five hits and an error in the sixth off Kenny Raffensberger and Harry Gumbert, the third Cincinnati pitcher.

The Cubs added a final marker in the seventh on a walk and two hit, one of them by Al Doberner, the winning pitcher.

Gumbert was charged with the loss, his second as against five victories.

Hawkeyes Golf, Tennis, Baseball Teams Play

City high golf and tennis teams will enter Mississippi Valley conference meets at Cedar Rapids today.

Franklin of Cedar Rapids is favored in the golf meet while City high is probable winner in the tennis.

West Waterloo's baseball team will come to Iowa City today and face the Little Hawks on the local diamond at 11 a.m. The game is scheduled for 11 to be finished in time for the Iowa-Purdue game in the afternoon. Doran will start for the Little Hawks. They will be seeking their second victory in three starts.

Wildcat Golfers Set Pace; Hawkeyes 9th

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP)—Northwestern, led by Bill Stiecklen's 74-73-147 over the par 71 Northwestern university course, took a 13 stroke lead yesterday at the halfway point in the Big Nine golf meet.

The Wildcats, who haven't won a conference golf crown in nine years, enter today's final 36 holes with a five-man team aggregate of 762. Defending champion Michigan is second with a 775 total, only one stroke ahead of Ohio State. Purdue has 784, followed by Minnesota 787, Illinois 802, Indiana 806, Wisconsin 808 and Iowa 812.

Thirty-six hole scores of Iowans: Iowa—Jim Rasley 79-77-156; Gene Mathews 79-77-156; Skip Carlson 79-80-159; John Campbell, 80-78-158; Gerald Bloomquist 89-87-176; Bob Graham 87-90-177; Best 5-man team score 812.

Buckeyes Pace Track Qualifiers

Iowa Places One in Finals

quarriers, nine to eight, but in the finals the defending champion Illini are expected to feel the loss of such 1947 stars as Herb McKenley, Bill Mathis and Johnny Twomey, all individual champions last year.

Northwestern qualified seven, followed by Minnesota and Indiana with six apiece, Wisconsin with four and Purdue and Iowa with one each.

Defending champions had easy sailing in the warm-up which produced four new Camp Randall records along with the two conference marks.

As well as Fonville, Gordien and Barten, Northwestern's Bill Porter showed he was ready for a successful title defense. Double champion Porter romped over the 120 high hurdles in :14.3, for a new stadium record, and loafed to a :24 heat win in the 220 lows.

Ohio's Buckeyes, displaying fine balance, qualified 16 athletes in this afternoon's nine-event preliminaries at sun-drenched Camp Randall stadium. Finals in all 13 events are scheduled yesterday afternoon.

The Buckeyes, who placed three men in the six-man 440 finals and four among the nine 880 qualifiers, probably will get their most serious opposition today from Michigan. The Wolverines' Herb Barten easily won his half-mile heat and looms as a double winner in the 880 and mile today.

Phillies Whip Giants, 6-3; Ott Protests Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Home runs by Dick Sisler and Eddie Miller and Richie Ashburn's four hits sparked the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-3 victory over the New York Giants last night. The Giants announced they were playing the game under protest in the ninth inning following a disputed play at second base.

In the ninth, with Giants on first and second, Buddy Kerr hit to Pitcher Dutch Leonard who tossed to Emil Verban at second for a force out. The ball hit Verban's glove and bounded into short left field but third base Umpire Art Gore ruled that Verban held the ball long enough to retire the runner. Manager Mel Ott of the Giants announced that he was playing the rest of the game under protest.

After the play, Leonard hit Pinch Hitter Les Layton with a pitch to load the sacks. He then fanned Bill Kenney for the second out. Ken Heintzelman was called to pitch to the left-handed hitting Whitey Lockman and struck Lockman out to end the game and save the decision for Leonard.

Sisler provided the Phils with a 3-0 lead in the first inning when he homered with two on off Larry Jansen. The Phils picked up single runs in the fifth, seventh and eighth, the last run being Miller's homer.

In addition to his homer, Sisler collected two singles while Ashburn banged out four hits and scored three runs.

Stranahan Reaches Finals in Britain

SANDWICH, ENG. (AP)—Frank Stranahan, the golfing Adonis from Toledo, stroked his way brilliantly into the finals of the British amateur yesterday but Willie Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., the defending champion, couldn't make it.

Willie, youngest of a famous golfing family, bowed out on the 18th green after having waged a gallant uphill fight against Charlie Stowe, an English Walker Cup star, in the semi-finals. It was the first time in six rounds of title play that Turnesa had been carried past the 15th hole.

The wealthy young mid-westerner, making his third bid for the British crown since the war, whacked the Brazilian sensation, Mario Gonzalez, 4 and 2, in his morning match, and then stopped Denis Martin, a 41-year-old London stockbroker, 3 and 1.

Dodgers Edge Braves

BOSTON (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers last night whipped the Boston Braves, 7 to 5, in a two hour and 58 minute contest before 37,627 paid fans, the largest home crowd of the season. The loss dropped the Braves into a tie for fourth with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Athletics Whip Yanks, 6-3 For Sixth Consecutive Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Nelson Potter turned in a two-hit pitching chore after relieving Lou Brissie in the fifth as the league leading Philadelphia Athletics defeated the New York Yankees, 6-3, last night for their sixth straight victory.

Tribe Defeats White Sox, 2-0

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox loaded the bases three times but failed to score and the Cleveland Indians defeated the Tribe, 2 to 0, last night before 18,082 persons.

Cleveland scored its first run in the sixth. Jim Hegan was safe on Tony Lupien's two-base throwing error. He got home on Larry Doby's long triple, Cleveland's second hit off Haysen.

The winners posted their second run in the ninth. Manager Lou Boudreau banged his thirteenth double of the season as a starter. Eddie Robinson's single scored the Tribe boss to assure Cleveland's fourth victory in five games over Chicago.

When Black walked Lupien and pitched a single to Taft Wright with nobody out in the eighth, Christopher replaced him. Ralph Weigel, first batter to face him, walked to again fill the bases.

Bob Kennedy, Don Kolloway and Cass Michaels all grounded to the infield as Cleveland retired two runners at the plate and the third at third base to save its fifth, shutout triumph of the year.

Nats Nip Sox, 2-1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Early Wynn's pinch single scored Couden Glienwater from second base with two out in the seventh inning last night to lift Washington to a 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. The defeat dropped Boston into seventh place as the Senators moved into sixth.

Brownies Nip Tigers; Now in 4th Place Tie

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Browns moved into a virtual tie with the Detroit Tigers for fourth place last night when they downed the Bengals, 5 to 4. Bob Dillinger's third hit, a sacrifice, and Gerry Priddy's single produced the winning run in the seventh inning.

Timely hits by Al Zarilla and Paul Lehner plus errors by Catcher Bob Swift and starting Pitcher Art Houtteman enabled the Browns to build up a four-run lead before the Tigers exploded for a quartet of runs on their own account in the sixth.

Students Present Marionette Show

Culminating a semester's project in art and history, a marionette show was given yesterday morning by the 7A1 class of Junior High school at an assembly program.

Three stories written earlier in the semester were selected for staging. They were "The Modern Argument" (a take-off on the Sir Walter Raleigh-Queen Elizabeth theme) by Betty Barick; "Words on Wings" (the story of Johannes Gutenberg's first printed book) by Darlene Hansen and "The Story of Christopher Columbus", by Carolyn Boener.

The 20 marionettes in the show were handled by Dale Harned, Diene Hansen, Karen Liechty, Carole Buckman, Margaret Justice, Sarah Jane Davis, Sally Stoskopf, Carolyn Boerner, Shirley Scott, Walter Armfield, Alan Moore, Bob Carson, Jim Kelso, John Larew, Betty Barick, Betty Scott, Corrine Braverman and Sue Kringle.

Mrs. Betty Eller, art supervisor, and Mrs. Doris Rhum, history instructor, directed the production.

Struggle Forward for Peace

It is possible that the United States actually wanted to open "talks" with Russia when our Ambassador to Moscow General W. Bedell Smith told Molotov that the United States would be willing to discuss an international settlement.

But there is real reason to doubt that a cigar and tete-a-tete between President Truman and Premier Stalin would either be possible or fruitful.

In the first place, it is necessary to decide what kind of settlement we'd like these two heads of state to make. The affairs of diplomacy are obviously not run on the basis of social amiability nor were they ever.

The only compromise Mr. Truman and Mr. Stalin could make is one of dividing up the world, it appears, for we have nothing to offer Russia in return for her relaxation of pressure in western Europe—except to declare a set of boundaries to the two spheres of influence.

To declare such boundaries is intervention of the first order. It means that Mr. Truman would have to give away things that are not even his to handle. It would mean sharing the world like sharing a fat cut of pie.

But even this drawing of boundaries would not solve the fear of war in which such a settlement would be reached—even if the boundaries could be drawn. Any such dividing the world would either give potentially greater power to the United States—to which Russia could not agree—or would consolidate the Russian sphere at potentially greater power than the United States—to which we could not agree.

Even if the boundaries hit the theoretical point of power balance, the United States would be forced to impose her power over her sphere to consolidate her forces or face the immediate loss of advantage. This is manifest: any agreement reached by Truman or Stalin would have an essence of power—a military flavor.

The fact that the late President Roosevelt met with Stalin and made agreements at Teheran and Yalta alters this conclusion not one whit. Those agreements were political expedients taken in time of war; and despite the term "waging the peace," peace is not waged like war.

That alternative then? Bi-lateral negotiation with the U.S.S.R. will not solve the dilemma. This lends credence to the State Department "quickie" that there are at present the international organizations and forums for carrying out any real and lasting settlement of the Russian-American conflict, although it cannot be said that the UN and its auxiliaries are providing the best showing in this field at present.

We would suggest that patience and continued striving toward world government—and strengthening of the importance of UN in international affairs—are called for now. We would suggest that impatience and hysteria—and nationalism on both sides—are the greatest deterrents to peace.

On a Brighter Note

(From Iowa City Press-Citizen)

Incidents which occur in the classroom at the University of Iowa seldom are reported. But one which happened this week deserves some kind of special mention.

The school year is nearing a close and this week marks the final session of most of the college classes before semester examinations.

A course entitled "Religion in Human Culture," of which Dr. Howard Thurman, a noted religious leader, is the lecturer, was meeting Wednesday for its final lecture session.

This class, a core course, is an unusually large one, numbering nearly 300 students. It is so large that during the semester its sessions have been held in the Chemistry auditorium.

At the close of this final meeting, Dr. Thurman ended his lecture, gathered up his papers and prepared to leave in his customary manner. But the students, instead of jumping from their seats to hurry to the next class, did a strange and heart-warming thing.

These 300 students never budged from their seats when the lecture was over. Dr. Thurman hardly had finished speaking when the class burst into spontaneous, vigorous applause that continued, according to some of the students present, for at least two or three minutes.

Such a lengthy applause for a professor in the classroom is, in itself, unusual. Besides that, the spontaneity and sincerity of it made it probably one of the finest tributes a teacher ever could receive from his students.

But the deep significance of it lies in the fact that Dr. Thurman is a Negro and he has been speaking on a campus which less than a year ago had to admit the unfortunate incident of the beating of a Jewish student.

Last German POW's Leaving England; Some With Regret

British Conscience at Ease as Repatriation of 517,000 Nears Close

By ALVIN STEINKOPF
LONDON (AP)—Great Britain is seeing the last of a lot of visitors. Two British steamers, shutting back and forth across the North sea are taking home the rear guard of 517,000 German war prisoners.

Some Germans and British, on the whole, are content that this last chapter of war's aftermath is drawing to a close, but many departures have been heart-wrenching. Some of the prisoners have been here more than three years.

Repatriation has dragged out, but British officials insisted that the country has gained no financial benefit from these hundreds of thousands of able-bodied men. They were useful, perhaps even vital, in the gathering of Britain's first two postwar harvests. But keeping them has cost the government 300,000 pounds ($1,200,000) a year.

Some months ago there was marked speed-up in repatriation and lately prisoners have been leaving the United Kingdom at the rate of 22,000 a month. The program should be completed some time in July. Then there will remain only a few high officers, some of whom are reluctant to go home, and a few thousand who are managing to stay as civilians.

One of the officers who will stay a while is Field Marshal Gerd Von Rundstedt, 73 and ill. Another is Field Marshal Walther Von Brauchitsch, once chief of staff of the German army. A third is Field Marshal Eric Von Manstein. There have been reports that the war crimes commission has not finished with them.

Some Germans will stay voluntarily, but it was not easy for them to get permission to remain. By mid-day 20,332 prisoners had persuaded the British to release them here.

They are becoming foreign civilians, able to live and work here under regulations applying to all foreigners.

Most of those allowed to remain are working on farms. They have not been promised British citizenship, but most of them believe they will get it within a few more years.

A comparative few have married British girls. Marriage was prohibited during and immediately after the war, but then regulations were relaxed.

The typical German prisoner worked a 48-hour week on a farm, lived in a camp and earned 15 shillings ($3.00) a week, of which he saved six shillings ($1.20). Incentives were offered for good work, so that exceptional prisoners were paid more. Employers paid the war office the prevailing wages of British workers.

Prisoners are sent off with "one stout pair of boots, British battle dress in good condition and kit (linen and toilet articles)." Fifty-six pounds of baggage is transported for each man, 112 pounds for each officer. Every man is permitted to carry five pounds of personal baggage and "all the books he can lift."

The British do not care what kind of books, counting it an advantage to get any sort of English literature into Germany. Most prefer to take back solid works on economics, scientific subjects and political philosophy.

Fear of FBI Sent American Communists Underground Last November, Says Hoover

NEW YORK (AP)—Communists went underground briefly last November when the party was erroneously informed it would be outlawed and mass raids would occur, according to F. B. I. Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Communist steps were in the offing. He said "Communism's greatest appeal is to some of the foreign-born and their offspring, although their propaganda does not flourish among the great majority of foreign-born who come to America."

The federal bureau of investigation head, writing in the current issue of Redbook magazine, said "pandemonium reigned" in party circles for 30 days.

"Party records were either destroyed or removed and hidden," he said. "Party leaders went into hiding. Huge stocks of printing supplies were quickly assembled and hidden. . . secret printing plants were set up so that propaganda work could continue."

Hoover commented that "this cloak-and-dagger hokum of the Communists and their stooges is quite revealing."

"It indicates the state of the comrades' nerves and the quality of their intellect."

Hoover did not elaborate on what caused the party to believe that mass raids and other anti-

In proof, he cited a recent FBI review of the origins of 5,385 leading members of the Communist party. Of these, 91.4 per cent, 4,555; were of foreign birth, married to persons of foreign birth or born of foreign parents. Only 411 were negroes, and of the remaining 4,985 more than 50 per cent traced their origins to Russia or her satellite countries.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS — Palestine Truce Hangs on U. S., Britain

By J.M. ROBERTS JR., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Hope for a truce in Palestine depends far more heavily on the outcome of current Anglo-American negotiations than on anything the Arabs and Jews are likely to do.

cease fire deadline, and if the British continue their military support, there is every indication that the United States will lift its embargo on the shipment of arms to the Middle East. President Truman apparently has said as much to President Weizmann of Israel. While this technically would permit shipments to both sides, its effect would be to put the United States on the Jewish side militarily, in opposition to the British arms on the Arab side.

The crux of the matter was reached when Britain's foreign minister Bevin was asked in parliament how he could join in the United Nations cease fire request while still supplying arms and officers for the Arabs.

This is what Bevin and U. S. Ambassador Douglas have been threshing over during the past few days. Not only peace in Palestine, but also Anglo-American relations, are heavily involved.

American officials are pursuing a course of watchful waiting with regard to the effect of the cease fire order itself, but there seems to be little hope that the Arabs will lay down their arms while permitting the Jews to consolidate their hold in Palestine. The Arabs are not expected, as long as they have British support, to settle for any truce that recognizes the partitioning which has been effected by Jewish arms.

If, then, the Arabs ignore the

There is no indication that the United States has presented its views to Britain in the form of an ultimatum, but there is little doubt that the representations have been strong.

The British have said that they will stick by their commitments to the Arabs until the United Nations declares Arab activity illegal. If the Arabs defy the cease fire order it would be easy to infer that illegality existed. But British-Arab relations are such that Bevin may prefer a positive U. N. declaration. Then he could tell the Arabs that Britain still loves them, but must obey a U. N. mandate.

'Grease Job'

The CIO Views the Mundt Bill

(From The Union News Service)

The Subversive Activities Control act of 1948, a product of the blundering house un-American activities committee, is a legislative monstrosity.

Its sponsors say its purpose is to really put the squeeze on the Communist party, which, from our viewpoint, would be a laudable undertaking.

But we're not so sure that the "cure" wouldn't be as bad as the disease.

We think the bill couldn't be enforced and that it would be held unconstitutional. We believe it would turn the Communist party into an underground movement.

Our chief concern, frankly, is over the effects the measure would have on civil rights and the manner in which it could be used unfairly against labor unions and other liberal groups.

The measure—usually referred to as the Mundt bill—would do much to give legal standing to that damnable farce known as "guilt by association."

It would penalize citizens because of their beliefs and not necessarily because of their acts.

The Mundt bill is based on the completely false idea that communism is a "disease" that can be cured by potent legislative medicine—requiring Communist and other "front" groups to register, removing contributions to "front" groups from the tax exempt category and imposing stiff penalties for violations of the act itself.

Members of the un-American activities committee could have spent their time better by designing legislation designed to remove the conditions under which the seeds of communism take root and grow. They could have made a real contribution by sponsoring bills to improve the workings of democracy, strengthening our civil rights and improving the living and working conditions of those most susceptible to red doctrine.

Instead, they concocted a dangerous monstrosity which fails to recognize that communism gains no foothold where there is real democracy and real prosperity.

WOMAN SENT TO CLARINDA

DES MOINES (P)—The State Board of Control yesterday ordered that Mrs. Doris V. Maxwell be sent to the Clarinda State Hospital for the Insane.
 Held for the ax slaying of her invalid husband, William Maxwell, on May 17, Mrs. Maxwell was found insane by a district court jury Wednesday.
 Sheriff Howard Reppert said he planned to take Mrs. Maxwell to Clarinda yesterday afternoon.

Resident of 'New Town'

A RESIDENT OF DOBIEGNEWO, POLAND, carries water through the town's ruins. The town, formerly called Woldenberg, was situated in German Pomerania but became Polish territory after World War II. All Germans were sent beyond the new boundary of the Oder river and replaced by Poles. The town was the scene of fierce fighting between the Russians and the Germans.

Lawrence Dennis Accepts Position At Kansas State

Lawrence E. Dennis, instructor in journalism and political science, has accepted a position at Kansas State college, Manhattan, Kansas, it was announced yesterday. He will serve as associate professor in the Journalism department there starting June 7.

LAWRENCE DENNIS

structing at SUI and plans to complete requirements for his doctorate in absentia.

His new duties will include teaching interpretive writing and public opinion and affairs. He will also do work on research projects.

While at SUI, Dennis has been executive secretary of the state American Veterans Committee, a radio newscaster on the university's station, WSUI, and a political columnist for The Daily Iowan.

He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, the American Association of University professors, and United World Federalists.

Dennis, 27, is a married veteran with a wife and one child.

Johnston Posts $3,500 Bond

COLUMBIA, MO. (AP)—A veterinarian University of Missouri journalism professor, charged with sodomy, posted $3,500 bond and was released from the Boone county jail late yesterday.

The professor, E. K. Johnston, will have a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Temple Morgett here June 11. The hearing, originally set for June 2, was set back to give Johnston's attorney, Edwin C. Orr, time to study the case.

Earlier yesterday the professor was relieved of his teaching duties.

Johnson, 50, professor of advertising, and two other men were charged with sodomy Thursday in connection with what Prosecuting Attorney Howard B. Lang Jr., called a "homosexual ring."

The other men, Willie Coots, 39, a gift shop employee and Warren W. Heatman, 35, veteran administration on-the-job instructor, waived their preliminary hearings. They are being held for the June term of circuit court under bonds of $2,500 each.

The county prosecutor said both Coots and Heatman signed statements that "mad parties" were held at Johnston's apartment here and at a cabin near Salem, Mo., where as many as 30 persons gathered to indulge in homosexual practices.

Asks Health Officials To Aid in Cafe Cleanup

DES MOINES (AP)—L. J. Radke, executive secretary of the Iowa Restaurant association, yesterday asked the Iowa Public Health association to give full cooperation in the move to improve restaurant sanitation throughout the state.

Radke said his organization could only request attendance at the schools being conducted for waitresses, but that city health officials have authority to require such attendance.

He said that the restaurant association's objective is to see that sanitary food is served under sanitary conditions.

Hydraulics Institute Improves Facilities, Expands Equipment

New and greatly expanded facilities will be available to SUI hydraulics students for the fall semester.

Laboratory accommodations will be doubled and much new equipment will be added, Prof. Hunter Rouse, director of the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research, said yesterday.

Current expansion is made possible by two events:

1. Construction of a new $91,000 hydraulics laboratory annex, which is now near completion.
2. Closing of the engineer corps sub-office, which has occupied two floors of the hydraulics laboratory for several years.

"For the first time since the war, the institute will be able to provide reasonable accommodations for its greatly increased numbers of students and employees," Rouse said.

The annex will be used primarily for research in the basic laws of stream sediment. This work will be directed by Emmet M. Laursen, research associate, under the sponsorship of federal, state and private agencies.

Attached to the annex will be large air tunnel for use in the study of underwater ship resistance. This work, done under government contract, will be headed by E. G. Peterson, research associate.

Plans include a new lecture room, new student shop, and more undergraduate laboratories and study rooms. A new electronics shop and instrument room are also planned.

Four new units of experimental equipment are under design and construction. Their use will be supervised by Donald Metzler, research associate.

The federal government is sponsoring the building of a new water tunnel which should be ready for final installation sometime in the fall, Rouse said. It is being designed by Charles A. Lamb, research associate.

Beardsley Deplores Tax on 'Daily Bread'

SHENANDOAH (AP)—William S. Beardsley, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, called again yesterday for removal of the state sales tax on foods.

"The governor claims that without a tax on our daily bread, the prosperous state of Iowa cannot support its government," Beardsley told a Shenandoah audience. "This claim is inaccurate."

The candidate declared that the treasury is "stuffed with $117-million." The removal of the state tax on foods, he asserted, would decrease the income ory about $10-million, "while the surplus is being increased $17-million a quarter."

To Close Memorial Day Offices in the city hall and Johnson county court house will be closed Monday, May 31, in observance of Memorial day, it was announced yesterday.

This One Wants a House

AFTER READING in the newspapers about a Hempstead, N.Y., woman who advertised for a man with $10,000, attractive Mrs. Dorothy McDonald offered to marry the right man for a home and $10,000. Divorced from the man she married during the war, she has a boy, three years old, and a girl, 2. "I want a man I can be proud of—whose worth while," she said. She is 23, has blue-green eyes and light brown hair, is 5 feet, 8 1/2 inches tall and weighs 135 pounds. (AP WIREPHOTO)

New Flight Connects With 'The Hollywood'

Airline connections from Iowa City to Lincoln, Neb., now permit local passengers to make connections with United Airlines' recently inaugurated New York-to-Hollywood Mainliner, according to B. D. McWilliams, local station manager.

"Flying 'The Hollywood' is something special," McWilliams said. "The flight was designed primarily for the motion picture industry. It lands at Burbank instead of Los Angeles, cutting travel time to the film colony."

The flight leaves Iowa City at 12:10 p.m. and reaches Lincoln at 2:45 p.m. The Hollywood-bound plane leaves Lincoln at 4:55 p.m., arriving in Burbank at 8:25 p.m. (EST).

The New York-bound planes leaves Lincoln at 3:45 p.m., reaching New York at 9:25 p.m. (EST). Both flights are non-stop from Lincoln, McWilliams said.

To Stop Removal of Soil from Airport

The Iowa City Airport commission will enforce measures to prevent persons from hauling away airport property soil near the airport east of Highway 218, Prof. H. O. Croft, head of the mechanical engineering department, announced yesterday.

Croft, secretary of the commission, said the group has also ruled that "unwieldy objects" cannot be dumped on the airport property adjacent to the city dump except when directed by the dump caretaker.

The soil is being saved for use as fill material in the construction of the Benton street bridge, and as top soil for the new swimming pool grounds, according to Croft.

Seek Removal Of Officials

INDEPENDENCE (AP)—A petition seeking the removal of three Buchanan county officials and the Independence city marshal was filed with County Clerk Arlee W. Blank yesterday by 15 residents of the county.

The petition alleged that beginning early in 1947 the officials had shown favoritism in conducting liquor and gambling raids at Independence, Jessup, Hazelton and other places in the county. It listed 12 counts in which various kinds of official misconduct were charged.

The officers whose removal was sought are Sheriff Emery Hart, Deputy Sheriff Verle Meggers, County Attorney Allen Smith and Independence Marshal Fred Green.

The petition was filed on behalf of the 15 signers by Attorneys Walter F. Maley and John P. Mc Nerney of Des Moines.

Expect No Drop in 1948 Food Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Food prices aren't likely to drop much this year, according to experts.

Here is why: (1) they expect economic activity to remain high, and (2) no marked change is in sight in consumer spending.

The report, by agriculture department economists, cited tax reduction, foreign aid, and a probable hike in defense funds among factors tending to maintain economic activity.

The report said food will be more plentiful as supplies increase seasonally in late spring and summer. However, compared with the same period last year, the total will be slightly less.

During the summer, market supplies of meats, turkey, and most manufactured dairy products, and fats and oils other than lard, are likely to be smaller. Summer oranges also will be fewer.

The report said that for 1948 as a whole, food consumption per person will be slightly under last year, but still about 12 percent above the prewar (1935-39) average.

The reduction will be largely in meats, dairy products and poultry. The per capita consumption of fresh and canned vegetables, potatoes, canned fruit and fruit juices, dried fruits and margarine is expected to exceed last year.

Moellers Plan Picnic

Staff members of University publications and WSUI will be entertained at a picnic at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Leslie G. Moeller, 623 E. College street, tomorrow at 12:15 p.m.

All editors and desk editors of The Daily Iowan, Hawkeye and Frivol, and staff members of the advertising and radio departments are invited.
