STOCKHOLM (AP)—A woman at Torshaella in central Sweden placed her perambulator at the side of a house, picked up her baby and went in through the doorway. A minute later a 4-year-old boy came tumbling out through a window on the fourth floor and landed safely in the perambulator.

London Dock Workers Vote To End Strike

LONDON (AP)—London dock workers voted yesterday to end their unauthorized strike after Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government received emergency powers to cope with the situation. The workers, who have been out 16 days, decided to return to the wharves today. Some strikers already have gone back to work in London and in the Liverpool-Birkenhead area. More than 30,000 men were idle in the two regions Monday.

Fishing Plug Plugs 'Plug'

PIERRE, S. D. (AP)—Fisher Ed Michaelson, Pierre, caught a big one but it got away. Casting for bass, Michaelson felt his plug snag on the back-cast. Turning, he found it caught on a horse which galloped away, taking the lure and most of Michaelson's line with it. Michaelson managed to save his rod and reel.

Food Supply Still Good, Soviet Says

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Marshal D. Sokolovsky held out hope last night that the Soviet land blockade of Berlin may be lifted before the city's food runs out. The Russian commander, replying to a British demand that he lift the blockade or take the blame for starving the German residents of the American, British and French sectors of Berlin, said he learned the city had food on hand to last for "several weeks."

President Signs Bill Benefiting Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill designed to build up America's reserve forces by giving officers and men more liberal retirement benefits was signed yesterday by President Truman. The measure also overhauls the army and air force promotion and retirement systems.

Mr. Truman termed the law a "very significant step" in bolstering the national defense. He said the added incentive of better pay would establish a "career reserve."

He asked that the regular services work with the reserves in "full partnership."

Under the new law, passed by congress June 14, members of the army, navy and air force reserves are given retirement credit for time spent in the reserves. In the past they were entitled to pensions only if they had enough time on active duty, or were disabled in active service.

Now, however, a member of the reserve can retire at the age of 60 if he has been in the reserves and regular service 20 years or longer. Those now in the reserves must have been in active service in World War I or World War II.

Retirement pay will be based on a complicated point system. First, a man receives one point for each day he served on active duty in the regular armed forces.

Then he gets a certain number of points each year in the reserves figured on this basis: 15 points per year for membership in the reserve; one point for each armory drill, or about 45 a year; plus points for field training, usually about 45 a year. Unless a man makes 50 points a year, he does not qualify for that year.

This accumulated total, at time of retirement, is divided by 360, which gives what is called the point years.

Finally, the point years are multiplied by two and one half percent of the base pay, plus longevity, of the highest grade ever held. (Longevity means the boost in pay a man gets for years in service—so much each year.)

The last figure is the percentage of the pension.

The pension can not be greater than 75 percent of the highest active duty pay drawn by the person receiving the pension.

The new retirement law applies not only to army, navy and air force reserves, but to marine and coast guard reserves and national guard. The national guard is considered part of the army reserves.

Women in the armed forces reserves also will benefit under the new retirement law.

Death Toll 3,155 In Jap Earthquake; Thousands Injured

FUKUI, JAPAN (AP)—The estimated toll in Fukui's earthquake disaster was placed yesterday by U.S. military government officials at 3,155 dead and 7,520 seriously injured.

That included both this ruined silk-making city of 80,000 and the rest of Fukui prefecture which was ravaged by Monday's great earthquake. Settling shocks struck yesterday, but they were light.

Relief workers, both American and Japanese, were working through the smoking ruins of Fukui looking for more victims.

(General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo said the possibility of a serious epidemic was "practically nil" thanks to prompt medical measures on the spot. A relief train carrying medicines and vaccines was enroute from Tokyo.)

If the casualty figures are confirmed it will be Japan's worst post-war disaster. A quake late in 1946 killed 1,354 in the Osaka area.

Dazed Americans, all of whom came through safely, told how the earth heaved and tossed like the deck of a ship at sea for five minutes. Their homes crashed about them as they fled.

The fires came then with such speed that few could save anything but the clothes they wore. Many felt they were lucky to be alive for the roads to safety were choked with debris.

Some of the safe were scratched and bruised but of the small American colony of 200 or so in Fukui there was not a serious injury.

In the wreckage of one movie theater alone rescue workers found the bodies of 200 children.

Harvester Workers Strike; Negotiators Work for Settlement

CHICAGO (AP)—Nine International Harvester company plants were closed by a strike yesterday, but negotiators kept the bargaining talks going in the hopes of reaching a speedy settlement.

The question of when a company offer of an 11 cents hourly wage boost should become effective appeared as the chief stumbling block.

More than 35,000 workers were affected when the CIO united farm equipment workers union called the walkout at the expiration of the old contract Monday midnight.

A spokesman for the company said the employer offered yesterday to make the wage boost effective as of yesterday and to continue other provisions of the old contract for one year. However, he added, the union requested that the pay boost be made effective retroactive to June 14. The company declined, but agreed to meet with the union again on this issue.

All 35,000 workers affected by the plant closings are not represented by the CIO-UFEW. Supervisory workers and members of some craft unions reported for work at some plants although production lines have halted, the company said.

British Occupation Of Holy Lands Ends

HAIFA (AP)—The remaining handful of British troops early today began their final evacuation from Palestine.

Lt. Gen. Hugh A. MacMillan, commander of British troops in Palestine, issued a proclamation formally ending Britain's "military jurisdiction" in the Holy Land at midnight last night.

Then, for the first time since Viscount Allenby marched into Palestine during World War I, Britain's 31-year military occupation ended.

The few remaining troops are expected to be embarked on troopships before noon, leaving Haifa in Jewish hands under the supervision of United Nations truce observers.

It was apparent that angry feelings between Britons and Jews would persist right to the end.

As a parting gesture Jewish officials here invited MacMillan to luncheon yesterday. But the intended love feast turned into a washout—all because of the daring theft of three British tanks last night.

Army sources said MacMillan promptly cancelled his plans to attend the luncheon when told of the tank theft. Three Cromwell medium tanks—considered among the British army's best—were driven out of Haifa airport hangar early today.

Surprised guards chased the tanks as they smashed through the airport fence. But only one was recovered. It was abandoned.

'Statewide Service' Of SUI Hospitals Cuts State's Needs

The "statewide service" of the University of Iowa hospitals yesterday brought a reduction in the scope of the state hospital construction program.

The action was taken by the state hospital advisory council in Des Moines. The council reduced the state's estimated hospital bed needs from 12,420 to 11,520.

"The total bed needs of each area were reduced by its proportionate share of the University of Iowa hospital services," the news section of the hospital plan stated, according to The Associated Press.

President Virgil M. Hancher and Gerhard Hartman, superintendent of the University hospitals, previously had opposed the state hospital building plan, because the project did not recognize "the statewide service program" of the University hospitals. The two men could not be reached for comment last night.

Hancher was attending the state board of education meeting in Cedar Falls.

Hartman was at the Des Moines meeting of the advisory council as "the vice-president of the group and not as a representative of the university," according to Carlyle Jacobsen, executive dean of health sciences and service.

Jacobsen emphasized that the university did not urge a reduction in the building program but asked that "recognition of the services which we render for the state" be made in the plan.

The hospital construction program, a $20-million project, will use federal and community funds to set up local hospitals throughout the state.

Three To Discuss Campus Talk Policy

CEDAR FALLS (AP)—The state board of education yesterday named a three-member committee to discuss policy on political meetings at Iowa education institutions under its control.

The committee, named by President H.C. Shull on authorization by the board, includes Mrs. George L. Kyseth, Clarion, chairman; Richard H. Plock, Burlington, and W.S. Rupe, Ames.

Mrs. Kyseth is a Democrat and Rupe and Plock are Republicans.

The action was taken following requests by some groups that the board revoke its longtime ban on campus speeches by political candidates.

The next scheduled meeting of the board is Sept. 14 at Ames.

Henry C. Shull, Sioux City, was re-elected board president for two more years. Three members of the finance committee, including W.R. Boyd, Cedar Rapids, also were re-elected.

The board also approved the extension of the appointment of Dr. Arthur Steindler, professor and head of the department of orthopedic surgery at the University of Iowa, for at least six months more.

The appointment was extended from July 1 to Dec. 31 of this year. Dr. Steindler, who reached 70 last spring, had been listed for retirement.

Charge Lies, Slander, Spying

BELGRADE (AP)—In angry defiance, Yugoslavia's Communist party accused the Russian-led Cominform last night of lies and slander. It declared firmly its relations with Russia "must be based on confidence and not on spying."

This in general was its 10,000-word answer to the Cominform's condemnation of Premier-Marshall Tito's regime and its call upon "loyal" Yugoslav Communists to overthrow the country's leaders unless they mend their "nationalistic ways."

With language unprecedentedly harsh for exchanges between Communist comrade countries, the Yugoslav party denounced as absurd a long list of Cominform charges, ranging from hostility toward Russia to attempts to curry favor with western nations.

"Among the most serious slanders against Yugoslavia," the statement said, was a charge of dealings with powers, outside of the Soviet bloc.

"Assertions that Yugoslav leaders are preparing to make concessions to imperialists—and now bargain with them on the independence of Yugoslavia—are completely fabricated," it said.

The sharply worded Yugoslav answer was tempered only by a declaration that "direct contact" between the Bolshevik party of Russia and Yugoslav party organization is necessary to iron out differences.

"Only in such a way will there be a solution," the statement said.

"The central committee of the Communist party of Yugoslavia needs the help of Russia," it added.

But this apparent willingness to conciliate the differences was advanced without a sign of knuckling under to Russian pressure.

One by one, the statement denied the Cominform's accusations that Yugoslavia has strayed from the party of Marxism and from close cooperation with the Communist countries into the errors of nationalism.

It claimed, moreover, that those accusations were laid down without Yugoslav Communists having been given a chance to defend themselves.

Studebaker Resigns U. S. Education Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. John W. Studebaker resigned his $10,000-a-year job as U. S. commissioner of education yesterday because he could "no longer afford to remain in the federal government."

Accepting his resignation effective July 15, President Truman wrote Studebaker that "I can fully understand the situation."

Studebaker announced later that he would become vice-president and chairman of the editorial board of Scholastic Magazines.

Education commissioner for 14 years, he wrote the President: "Along with too many other men, the time has now come when I can no longer afford to remain in the federal government."

Studebaker, 61, was born in McGregor, Iowa, and worked his way through college as a union bricklayer.

Studebaker supervised the expenditures of federal funds by land-grant colleges, administered federal vocational education laws, conducted educational research and provided consultative and advisory services to school officials.

The resignation leaves Associate Commissioner Edwin H. Miner in command unless a new commissioner is appointed.

Miners Charged With Unfair Labor Practices

WASHINGTON (AP)—A unit of the United Mine Workers of America was charged yesterday with blocking 445 miners underground in West Virginia to compel them to join the union.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the national labor relations board, announced the charges in a formal complaint against District 31 of John L. Lewis, UMW.

Denham's complaint said UMW members blockaded the exits of four Preston county, W. Va., mines last March, forcing the miners to stay underground until they signed union membership application cards.

The ADA chief contended Mr. Truman is far from having the nomination "bottled up." He added that if either Eisenhower or Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas declares his candidacy the President will not be nominated.

The ADA, anti-Communist "liberal" group, has campaigned among convention delegates and party leaders for an "open convention." It has favored either Eisenhower or Douglas.

Henderson predicted Eisenhower could beat Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential candidate, but said he believed Douglas would "have a tougher time."

He estimated that with 618 convention votes required for nomination, the President could count only on a "shaky" 310 pledged or instructed delegates.

Henderson said he is convinced Douglas' name will be put before the Democratic convention starting in Philadelphia July 12. He also is convinced, he added, that Douglas will "make no move one way or the other about it."

Of Eisenhower, Henderson told reporters: "My guess is that his name will be placed in nomination, unless something drastic intervenes."

"I know the majority of the people of the U. S. want Dwight Eisenhower for president, and it certainly will be a political farce if the man the people want is not considered for the nomination."

"I've always assumed that if Eisenhower is drafted he could not do otherwise than accept."

Says Eisenhower Will Accept Draft

By D. HAROLD OLIVER WASHINGTON (AP)—Leon Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, said yesterday there is a rising tide of sentiment for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He said he felt Eisenhower would accept a draft.

The former OPA administration also told a news conference he thinks there is a possibility that President Truman "will listen to the advice of good friends and loyal Democrats" and withdraw his candidacy.

Henderson said the Democratic national committee and the White House are "putting on pressure trying to induce people to get on a bandwagon that really has no wheels and no modern atomic age propulsion."

He apparently referred to a call at the White House yesterday by Daniel J. Tobin, teamsters' union (AFL) president and former Roosevelt campaigner who recently was quoted as refusing to serve as an Indiana delegate to the national convention.

Tobin, after a 75-minute conference with the President, refused to shy whom he favored for president. Mr. Truman's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, said the President and Tobin "had a very pleasant talk about the political situation."

Henderson said his "second-hand knowledge" is that the President has been advised by certain leaders that "he cannot win in November and that he will be charged with the disintegration of the Democratic party" if he runs.

Will Dewey Bristle Be — First Executive Duster

By ARTHUR EDSON WASHINGTON (AP)—If Thomas E. Dewey is elected, he will bring the first presidential mustache to the White House since William Howard Taft left there, 35 years ago.

Only nine of the 33 men who have been presidents have worn whiskers. This foliage has varied in whisker content from the full, shaggy dog beard on James Abram Garfield to Taft's droopy handlebars.

Dewey would be the first to come up with the small, well-trimmed, bristle-brush type mustache.

The Edson Mustache Surveying corporation for this very purpose supplies this additional information:

The first president to go in for a beard was a Republican, Abraham Lincoln, the first GOP president. He started something. For though his immediate successor, the unfortunate Andrew Johnson, was beardless, the next six men to hold the job came up with a splendid whisker crop.

Look at the list: Ulysses Simpson Grant (short beard, but thick), Rutherford Birchard Hayes (white, straggly), Garfield (see above), Chester Alan Arthur (sideburns, very beautiful), Grover Cleveland (well-fed mustache) and Benjamin Harrison (well trimmed as a hedge, which it resembled).

William McKinley broke the monotony, but Theodore Roosevelt and Taft wore mustaches. So did two recent vice-presidents, Thomas Marshall and Charles Curtis.

But fashions, and mustache trends, change. The last six presidents like the first 15, have been clean shaven.

Will the mustache come back? Will Dewey set a new style? See this paper Nov. 3 for what may be a start on the answer.

Cold Treatment Heats Wrath of Brooklynite

NEW YORK (AP)—Things blew hot, then cold yesterday for Samuel Hemelfarb, 29, of Brooklyn.

Hemelfarb, perspiring in the 89-degree heat, backed his two-ton refrigeration truck into a curb. It brushed the bumper of a parked car whose driver stepped out to protest. Too hot to argue, Hemelfarb shrugged his shoulders and stepped into the near-zero cold of his truck's refrigeration compartment to haul out an order.

The angry motorist slammed the door, which locked automatically, and sped away.

Shivering but not under the collar, Hemelfarb was released 15 minutes later by police.

U. S. Women In Semifinals At Wimbledon

LONDON (AP) — America's "Big Four" of women's tennis slugged their way into the Wimbledon semi-finals yesterday without losing a set.

Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., hardest hitter of the group, played only four games before her opponent, Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, turned an ankle going after an errant serve and was carried from the court. Miss Brough was leading 3-1 when the default came.

Mrs. Margaret Osborn DuPont of Wilmington, Del., the defending champion, beat Mrs. Jean Nicoll Bostock, best of Britain's women, 7-5, 6-3.

Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., crushed Mrs. Nellie Landry, the French champion, 6-0, 6-2, and Mrs. Pat Canning Todd of La Jolla, Calif., outplayed Jean Quertier of Britain, 6-2, 6-4.

In the semi-finals tomorrow, Mrs. DuPont will play Miss Hart and Mrs. Todd will renew an old rivalry with her fellow Californian, Miss Brough. Miss Brough and Mrs. DuPont will be favored to reach Saturday's final.

An x-ray of Shirley Fry's swollen ankle at a Wimbledon hospital showed there was no break and she returned after several hours to watch the matches.

Frank Parker of Los Angeles and Bob Falkenberg of Hollywood, favorites in men's doubles, looked the part in slugging Franka Kukuljevic, a naturalized Indian, and Vlodimir Vochica of Czechoslovakia, 6-1, 6-2, 3-6, 6-0, to go into the semi-finals.

Their semi-final opponents will be the promising new Australian combination of Jack Bromwich and Frank Sedgman.

The second American doubles team of Gardner Mulloy of Miami and Tom Brown of San Francisco had a catfight on its hands in putting off the Argentine pair, Alejo Russell and Enrique Morea, in the day's best match on the center court. The count was 9-7, 4-6, 3-6, 9-7, 6-2.

Mulloy's infected feet have about healed and the Miami star looks in top form for his semifinal singles clash with Falkenberg today. Bromwich faces Josef Asboth, the Hungarian automaton, in the opposite bracket.

Lopat Blanks Red Sox, 7-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Lefty Ed Lopat gained his fourth straight victory for the New York Yankees last night, shutting out the Boston Red Sox, 7-0 on three hits while the Yankees clubbed three Boston pitchers for 14 safeties before 70,941 fans.

The triumph moved the World Champion Yankees into second place, six percentage points ahead of the Philadelphia Athletics, who lost to Washington, and one game behind the front-running Cleveland Indians.

Lopat, in hanging up his sixth victory, gave his best performance since the Yanks acquired him last spring from the Chicago White Sox. No Sox runner was able to reach second base against the stylish southpaw.

Johnny Bests 'Cat' With Neat 4-Hitter

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Schmitz, hooking up in a brilliant slab duel with Harry "The Cat" Brecheen, interrupted the first-place drive of the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday when he hurled the Chicago Cubs to a 3-1 triumph before 17,158.

The lanky Cub southpaw doled out only four hits as he registered his seventh victory against eight losses. The lone run by the Cardinals came on the first of pair of doubles by Enos Slaughter in the fourth inning and a single by "Nippy" Jones.

That represented the only scoring in the game until the sixth when Brecheen, who had allowed only two hits previously, suddenly weakened. He was tagged for five straight hits after retiring the first two men and the Cubs pushed across all three of their runs.

Andy Pafko singled and stopped at third on Bill Nicholson's double down the right field line. Harry "Peanuts" Lowrey smashed a single over second that was knocked down by Marly Marion, Pafko scoring. Bob Scheffing lined a single to center to drive in Nicholson for what proved the decisive run. Clarence Maddern followed with a pinch single that counted Lowrey.

Brecheen, who eventually gave up eight hits, thereby lost his third game of the season against eight triumphs. A jinx to the Cubs throughout his career, the Cat had beaten them twice early in the season and now still owns a 21-6 lifetime margin over them.

Cards Meet Peoria; Try For Fourth Place
Manager Ralph Tucker announced last night that the Iowa City Cardinals and the Peoria Caterpillars will play a doubleheader tomorrow night at Kelley field. The two teams were rained out Sunday night.

The Caterpillars, currently in fourth place in the western division, will face Rock Island tonight. Iowa City could get into the upper bracket of the league by defeating Peoria. The Cards set back the Caterpillars in a twin-bill earlier this month.

Two Cardinal exhibition games and a donkey ball game will be on the weekend schedule.

The donkey game will be on Saturday night. The Des Moines Moose and the Des Moines Willie House Vets, 1947 state champions, will invade Iowa City on Sunday and Monday for double-headers. Friday night the Cards travel to Marshalltown.

DETROIT (AP) — Fireballer Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians showed his old time form yesterday as he scattered eight hits while beating the Detroit Tigers and Hal Newhouse, 6 to 2.

Feller, who fanned eight men and walked only two, was given a five run lead by his hard-hitting teammates in the first three innings. From then on, he seldom was in trouble as he coasted in with win No. 7 as against eight losses.

The game, billed as a pitching duel between Feller and Tiger ace Newhouse, was turned into a slugfest by the Indians as they drove Newhouse to the showers in the third inning.

Newhouse, who absorbed his sixth loss as against nine wins, was touched for seven hits and five runs in his two-and-two-third innings on the mound. Virgil Trucks relieved him and pitched shutout ball until he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth, with big Al Benton finishing up in the ninth.

Manager Lou Boudreau paced the Cleveland attack with three hits in four times up. His first wallop was a first inning homer with one man aboard and got Feller off to a flying start.

Charles Willing To Fight From "One To Ten" To Claim Title

BALTIMORE (AP) — Noting the sundry suggestions for selection of a successor to Joe Louis, a manager of Ezzard Charles, one of the leading contenders, declared yesterday, "it doesn't make any difference to us, we'll fight from one to ten."

Jake Mintz, who co-pilots the Cincinnati puncher with Max Elkus, said he was prompted to speak by English heavyweight Champion Bruce Woodcock wanting "in" any tourney, and Louis' proposal that the "top ten fight it out."

Sol Strauss, acting manager of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, said he considers only Charles, Joe Walcott and Light Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich worth mentioning as a successor.

"But we are willing to fight one or ten to prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that Charles is the best in the world," Mintz said. "We don't want the title handed to us, we want to fight for it," the manager said.

Charles is a devastating puncher with plenty of knockouts in his record. The Cincinnati destroyer has lost only one bout since getting out of the army, a split decision last July to Elmer (Violent) Ray in Madison Square garden.

"Since then Charles has knocked him out," Mintz recalls proudly. Charles is a natural light heavyweight and Mintz admits he probably won't be able to safely make more than 178-180 pounds.

"But weight makes very, very little difference," Mintz believes. "As long as he can retain his speed he can handle any heavyweight."

Henry Cotton Paces British Open Field

By GLENN WILLIAMS
MUIRFIELD, SCOTLAND (AP) — Nine American golfers, led by long-hitting Jimmy Thomson, stayed in the running for the British Open golf championship yesterday by qualifying for the last 72 holes of medal play.

Aging Henry Cotton, the British money player who is famed for halting American domination of the tournament back in 1934, paced 97 survivors through the 36-hole qualifying tests with a pair of sparkling 69's for a total of 138.

The top qualifying score of 152, which 178 players in the original field of 275 failed to reach, was the lowest in the history of the British Open.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, the British Amateur Champion, successfully advanced 'his bid for the "little slam" of golf by qualifying with 70-75-145.

Thomson, a professional who was born near this Muirfield course, needed 75 strokes yesterday.

DETROIT (AP) — Fireballer Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians showed his old time form yesterday as he scattered eight hits while beating the Detroit Tigers and Hal Newhouse, 6 to 2.

Feller, who fanned eight men and walked only two, was given a five run lead by his hard-hitting teammates in the first three innings. From then on, he seldom was in trouble as he coasted in with win No. 7 as against eight losses.

The game, billed as a pitching duel between Feller and Tiger ace Newhouse, was turned into a slugfest by the Indians as they drove Newhouse to the showers in the third inning.

Newhouse, who absorbed his sixth loss as against nine wins, was touched for seven hits and five runs in his two-and-two-third innings on the mound. Virgil Trucks relieved him and pitched shutout ball until he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth, with big Al Benton finishing up in the ninth.

Manager Lou Boudreau paced the Cleveland attack with three hits in four times up. His first wallop was a first inning homer with one man aboard and got Feller off to a flying start.

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 14th inning pinch slug by Howie Schultz, scoring Ted Kluszewski from third, gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night in a wild game witnessed by a crowd of 23,233. Pirate Manager Bill Meyer and three other Pirates were ejected by Umpire Bill Stewart in the 14th for protesting a play.

Cuttin' the Corners

With Al Schmah
Did you ever think of what the enactment of the draft law will do to college athletics?

The common consensus of opinion is that athletic teams representing our colleges and universities are just now, approaching their pre-war level of ability. It's taken this long to re-build the teams.

Even major league baseball is supposedly still on a sub-par basis, considering the years of 1938 and 1939 as par. Since college athletes, in general, are a younger lot than professional baseball players, that is probably even more true in the case of the collegians.

So how much will the draft act set back college athletics? The coming season is really the first in which non-veterans may fill key roles. There have been exceptions, of course, such as Bill Kay, Murray Iowa and Jack Dittmer here at Lwa. But next year the non-veterans may well decide the relative strengths of the different teams.

It is very doubtful that the draft will have any material effect during the next season. But after that Iowa, as well as all other schools, faces the distinct possibility of finding itself "hard put" to turn out strong teams. A goodly share of the veterans will have used up their eligibility by the fall of 1949.

Iowa has quite a group of freshmen who promise to do things for the Hawkeye football team this fall. Jerry Fiske, Jerry Long, "Chug" Wilson, Joe Paulsen, Max Sowers and Glenn Drahn, all potential stars, are also fresh out of high school with no service time behind them.

In Basketball Fred Ruck, Dick Weick, Kenny deKoster, Dick West and Ned Viquain all will be subject to the draft. The same is true of all the sports. Add to this list the large group of freshmen who will enroll this fall and the few old-timers like Dittmer who will be subject to induction, and you see just what the draft law might do.

Iowa is not alone. Purdue supposedly had the best freshman football squad in the history of that school last year. It won't help the Boilermakers to have a high percentage of that group drafted.

At Indiana half of the varsity football squad and two-thirds of the freshman griders will be subject to the draft. Sixteen basketball players out of the top 28 may wind up in uniform.

So the situation appears equally bad in all camps.

Hofmann's 'Work' an 'Inspired' Painting

(This is fourth in a series of articles on the fourth summer exhibition of contemporary art now being shown in the art building and the Iowa Union. Pictures chosen by the art department will be interpreted by students in the modern art classes.)

By MARGARET OLNEY

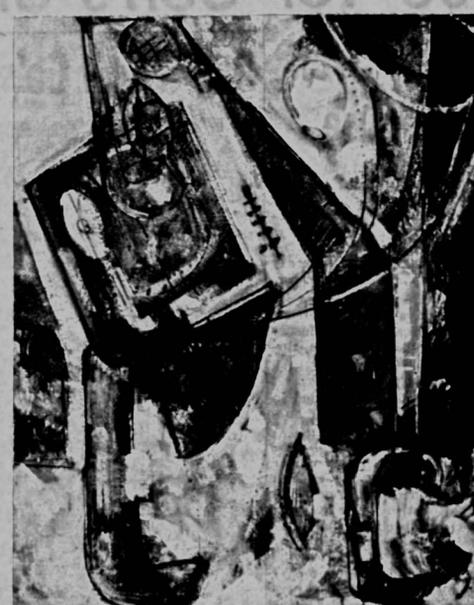

Hans Hofmann, associated with the Parson Kootz galleries group and generally thought of as one of the ideographic school, has done a painting called "Construction" which is somewhat more attractive than most of the painting produced by this group.

The reason is that Hofmann's painting is more intellectual than most ideographic painting, the principal of which is to paint completely spontaneously, without intellectual consideration.

This being true, Hofmann could not, strictly speaking, be one of the ideographic group.

Hofmann's painting displays a spontaneity in the quick, bold, black-line movements and deliberately casual application of paint. This makes it a seemingly "inspired" painting; not overworked to the point of dullness—as it could be. One feels that it must be a carefully planned painting.

Hofmann's combination of an intellectual concept and spontaneous execution makes the painting a success.

Sue for Son's $1,000 Insurance Dispute Over Guard Unit Gets Recognition War Clause

A motion in the $1,000 suit of Dr. Harry R. Jenkinson and his wife, Golda, 220 River street, against a Chicago insurance company was argued by attorneys and taken under advisement by Judge Harold D. Evans yesterday in Johnson county district court.

The Jenkinsons say they are beneficiaries in a $1,000 insurance policy the Great Western insurance company sold their son, Rogers Leighton, in 1932.

Killed in Action
Young Jenkinson was killed in a navy plane in action over Formosa in 1945.

The defendant, Washington National insurance company, Chicago, which merged with the Great Western company, has refused to make payment to the Jenkinsons.

The company claims the policy states that in case of death by war, it is only liable for the amount built up by premium payments unless it grants special permission to the policy-holder to enter the service. The insured man should notify the company so it can change its rates, the firm stated.

Jenkinson said the policy states his son was "unrestricted as to residence, travel or occupation," and therefore demanded the full $1,000.

Local Agent
The plaintiffs asked if the company was not liable for war deaths, why did the local agent continue to accept payments after he knew Jenkinson was in the service and say that would not effect the policy?

The agent did not inform Jenkinson's parents that greater premium payments would have to be made after the son's entry into the service, the plaintiffs said.

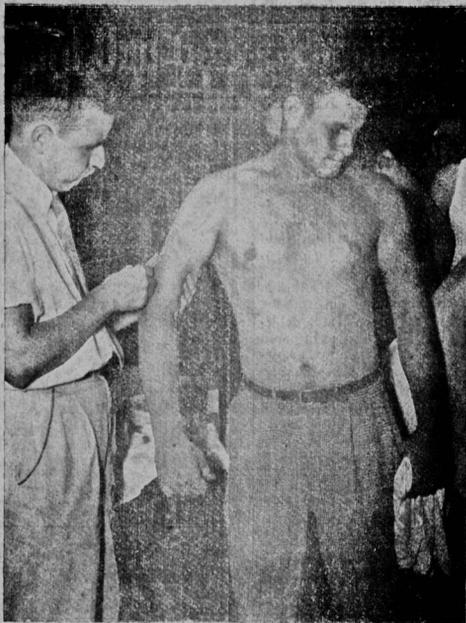

Case Bogs Down
These statements in the plaintiffs' pleadings the defendant wanted struck out. In day-long arguments on this motion to strike, the situation took on appearance of trying the case itself.

Frank F. Messer, plaintiffs' attorney, said the clause stating that the contract was void if the insured man entered the service in time of war would be declared unconstitutional if a case of this kind ever got to the U. S. supreme court.

It is against the "public policy" of the U. S. for a man to have to ask an insurance company for permission to enter the service, Messer argued.

Dan Dutcher, attorney for the defendant, declared Dr. Jenkinson had plenty of time to read the policy and should have known

Guard Unit Gets Recognition

RECEIVING A TYPHOID SHOT is John A. Evans, 19, AZ, 610 E. Davenport street, after a ceremony which formally recognized the new medical company of the Iowa City national guard last night.

The newly-formed medical company of the Iowa City national guard received federal recognition from Maj. Robert W. Green, regular army inspecting officer, at the armory last night.

Over 40 men and 4 officers participated in the ceremony which formally recognized the activation of the new company.

After the ceremony, the articles of war were read to the men. Then they received typhoid shots.

Commanding the new organization is Lt. Col. E. W. Paulus, local doctor and combat veteran of World War II. Capt. Frank L. Tallman Jr., 354 Person street, 34th division special troops executive officer, assisted in its organization.

The new unit comprises the clearing company for the 109th medical battalion of the 34th infantry division.

Iowa City was selected as the location of the medical company about the military service clause. The company has offered to pay the Jenkinsons the $268.28 in reserve that their son had built up in 14 years of payments.

because of availability of medical officers in the area. The company is the only unit of its type in the state.

The new company will share the use of the national guard armory on S. Dubuque street with the existing reconnaissance troop.

With the addition of the medical company, the total strength of the Iowa City national guard is 125 men and 10 officers.

Mayor Koser To Chicago

Mayor Preston Koser will leave tomorrow for Chicago to deliver the $276,000 in Benton street bridge bonds to the Harrison Trust and Saving bank.

These bonds were sold to the White-Phillips company in Davenport on June 1 and the Chicago bank was designated as the agent for handling of the bonds.

The delivery was authorized by the city council at the meeting Monday night.

Iowa Employment Office Helps 79 Job-Seekers Get Positions in June

The Iowa state employment office helped 79 persons obtain jobs during June, Mrs. Nellie C. Verdin, acting manager, said yesterday.

The types and number of positions filled were professional, 1; clerical, 14; farming, 11; service, 13; semi-skilled, 7, and unskilled, 33.

Of 601 persons who came into the office during June for employment, 120 were referred to jobs. However, only 79 of those referred to positions obtained employment.

Of the total number of job-seekers, 138 were women. Sixteen women were referred to jobs and all obtained them.

AD MEETING TONIGHT

Alpha Delta Sigma, men's professional advertising fraternity, will meet tonight at 7:30 in room E105 East Hall.

Okay Holiday Sale of Beer

The city council amended the beer ordinance at last Monday night's meeting to provide that beer can be sold in Iowa City on Memorial day, July 4 and any state or municipal general election day.

The only remaining holidays on which the sale of beer is prohibited are New Years and Christmas.

The amended ordinance refers to beer sold under Class B and Class C permits. Class B permits are for taverns and C permits are for retailers such as grocery stores.

The ordinance had the three required readings at the meeting and was passed unanimously by the council.

Tabulation of Pool Donations Starts Tonight

The Community Dads will meet tonight at 7:30 in the city hall council chambers to tabulate the business district donations for the swimming pool fund, William Grandrath, publicity chairman announced yesterday.

Grandrath urged all workers to be at the meeting and to bring the money collected and their receipt books.

Totals in the residential drive so far and the canvass of the clubs and lodges will be announced at the meeting, according to Grandrath.

The Dads are sponsoring the drive for $12,500 to complete the contracts for the swimming pool. The PTA is assisting in the drive in the residential area.

The $12,500 sum for the pool is to make up the difference in the $122,500 the city already has for the pool and the $125,000 estimated cost.

Contracts for the main parts of the pool and bathhouse have been approved by the council. Excavation for the pool started last week. The pool is expected to be ready for use next summer.

Youngdahl To Lecture Here

Governor Luther W. Youngdahl of Minnesota will give the fourth summer session lecture Friday at 8 p. m. His subject will be "Morality in Government."

Youngdahl will speak at the west approach to Old Capitol or, if the weather is unfavorable, in Macbride auditorium. Because of appointments in Minnesota, the governor will be unable to remain for the usual Saturday morning round table, Prof. M. Willard Lampe said yesterday.

Lampe remarked that Youngdahl had climbed to the top the hard way. As a youth, he worked his way through school. He attended public school in Minneapolis, the University of Minnesota, and completed his college course at Gustavus Adolphus college, St. Peter, Minn. Youngdahl also studied at the Minnesota college of law. After graduation, he spent three years as assistant city attorney of Minneapolis and then began law practice with Judge M. C. Tift.

Six years later Youngdahl entered his judicial career. He served as municipal judge in Minneapolis, then district judge in Hennepin county and finally as associate justice of the Minnesota supreme court. On January 8, 1947, he became Minnesota's 27th governor. Lampe said the lecturer is concerned with building good will between racial and religious groups, and that many of his public speeches aim at helping to promote a true spirit of brotherhood.

Dunnington Flying to Europe

Methodist Pastor Leaves in August

Dr. L. L. Dunnington, pastor of the First Methodist church, will leave La Guardia field, N. Y. in August for Europe.

He will tour European countries, including the Netherlands, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Italy, Germany, France and England, returning to Iowa City in time for the first double religious service in the Methodist church Sept. 26.

Dr. Dunnington said he has a two-fold interest in his proposed trip. At the request of Bishop Charles Brashares, he will inspect damage done to Methodist war-devastated institutions and return with a report of the rehabilitation in progress there. His report will be used by leaders of the U. S. general Methodist conference in sponsoring an assessment program of all U. S. churches to assist European institutions.

To Study Communists
Dr. Dunnington will also study the Communistic strategy of the present hour. He said he was especially interested in viewing peasant life to determine "why so many of the common people tend to embrace Communism when it is manifestly the very thing which will defeat their deepest hopes and aspirations."

The junior department of the Methodist church school gave Dr. Dunnington $50 to be used to alleviate suffering and "to do an individual job for them wherever I find the need is greatest."

Dr. Dunnington said he would probably spend the gift in some of the many orphanages housing children whose parents were gilled in World War II. "Since children are sending money, I shall try to use it in the interest of children," he said.

Attend World Conference
His first stop will be in Amsterdam, where he will attend the world conference of churches. From Amsterdam he will fly to Prague for a study of the Czech situation under the Communistic rule. The local minister last visited there in August, 1939 when Hitler dominated the country. He intends to contact the many friends he made at that time to learn about life under present conditions.

In Athens, Dr. Dunnington will confer with an Iowa City man, formally connected with the state department, who is well informed on the Greek situation.

The Methodist pastor will study political conditions in Rome and Paris. He plans to visit many of the villages surrounding these towns to acquaint himself with the life of the people.

Before Firing Squad
This will mark Dr. Dunnington's sixth study tour of Europe in the last 30 years. He was working on a YMCA project in Russia in 1917, when the revolution broke out. He attempted to hide out in a cellar but was discovered and brought before a firing squad. "Being able to talk myself out of it helped me live to tell the tale," Dr. Dunnington said.

In 1939 the Duluth Herald Tribune sent Dr. Dunnington to gather material for a series of 12 articles on the "Danger Spots in Europe." At that time, through association with a Warsaw public relations man, he gained information of German plans to begin an anti-Polish propaganda program on August 10 and to declare war Sept. 1.

Dr. Dunnington was in Warsaw when the newspaper boys screamed the propaganda, his column had predicted. He left Hamburg on the last boat before the war broke out.

Dr. Dunnington said he was unable to obtain a visa to permit him to enter Russia. He believes that he will learn much of life "behind the iron curtain" while in Czechoslovakia.
