Cominform Attack on Tito Shatters Harmony Among Russ Satellites

With the surprised western world looking on, Moscow bitterly attacked its satellite state of Yugoslavia, was hit back by Marshal Tito, and saw the whole affair turn into a dog-eat-dog battle among its puppet states.

Last Monday, Rude Pravo, official newspaper of the Czechoslovak Communist party, published a 3,000-word resolution drawn by the Cominform in a secret meeting in Romania.

Signed by Andrei Zhdanov (a member of Russia's politburo and often rated one of the three most powerful men in Russia), the resolution denounced Marshal Tito's leadership and demanded Tito's adherence to the Moscow party line.

Yugoslav leaders were accused of pursuing a hateful and slanderous policy and leaning their sympathy toward western methods. Yugoslav-U.S. negotiations over counter claims which would net Tito $30-million was singled out as an example of Tito's turning to the west.

Snapping back in angry defiance, Yugoslavia's Communist party immediately accused the Cominform of lies and slander, declaring its relations with Russia "must be based on confidence and not on spying."

The fight was on. This was the first known time that a satellite state had talked back to Moscow. Marshal Tito, quickly rallying Communist party members and the army around him, felt strong enough to talk back.

With Moscow stunned, Tito grabbed the offensive. Addressing Bulgaria and Albania, he proposed a Balkan federation in defiance of Russian wishes.

Bulgaria, under the heel of the Red Army, was in no position to play ball. Although its Communist leader Georgi Dimitrov is personally in favor of such a federation, his country quickly stepped in line with Russia and denounced Tito.

A new split occurred on the already strained scene when Albania jumped into the fun with a series of anti-Tito demonstrations. Albania had been "conquered" by Tito previously and weighed down with a customs union agreement.

While Tito was facing Moscow, Albania took the opportunity to bite at her chains. As the week drew toward a close Tito turned his attention on Albania.

Through all this, the west has been predicting a permanent split in the Russian sphere of influence. Too early to tell, the Tito rift may have grown too big to close up without leaving deep scars.

COLD WAR

Berlin Crisis Continues As Allies Fly in Food To Besieged Residents

First pushed into the background by the GOP convention, then by the Tito flareup, the Berlin crisis nevertheless loomed as the major point of cold war conflict.

The Russians kept their stranglehold on the city's food supply while the Allies continued making record flights to bring food to hungry Berliners.

Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky stood firm while British commander for Berlin, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, and U.S. Commander Col. Frank Howley, vented rage upon the Soviets.

"The people of the world will condemn unhesitatingly this effort to gain political advantage by an attempt to starve the helpless," Sir Brian declared.

Secretary of State Marshall asserted: "We are in Berlin as a result of agreements between the governments of the areas of occupation in Germany and we intend to stay."

Meanwhile, Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said food flights to Berlin would not let up; to back him up, the U.S. boosted the number of B-29 Superfortresses in Europe from 10 to 30.

Seeing the effectiveness of their starvation blockade slipping, the Russians resorted to a political boycott and withdrew formally from the four-power Kommandatura. The Allies immediately declared the Kommandatura would continue to function as a three-power governing body and continued to sit on the powder keg.

The Allies, meanwhile, gave the Germans the right to set up their own government in western Germany. Fearing it would cause a permanent split in Germany, German leaders summoned to Frankfurt hesitated. They decided to talk the plan over at a meeting of state presidents at Coblenz on July 8.

Elsewhere on the "fighting" fronts, ECA administrator Paul G. Hoffman told the Marshall plan nations that shipping "contraband" war supplies into the Russian sphere is a cause for halting Marshall plan assistance. This serious-

U.S. Seeks To Head Off Coal Strike

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government attorneys yesterday explored three different ways of seeking a court injunction to stop a coal strike Tuesday in the mines owned by the steel industry.

Officials said privately they probably will wait for the strike to develop before making a court move to stop it.

The steel industry has balked at giving John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers union the union shop arrangement signed by the commercial coal industry with Lewis. Steel contends that the union shop, as Lewis wants it, violates the Taft-Hartley Labor act.

In a union shop all employees must belong to the union within a specific time.

Failure to accept Lewis' terms means an almost certain strike in the steel-owned pits. Miners now are on their regular annual vacation, but they are not expected to return to the steel industry's so-called "captive" mines without a contract. The miners' vacation ends tomorrow night.

A strike of the almost 40,000 diggers for the "captive" mines would curtail steel production. Coal supplies are still short from last spring's six-week miners' pension strike. It is doubtful that the steel industry can buy enough coal elsewhere to fill its needs.

These are the three avenues open for government action to stop a strike:

1. A plea to the courts by Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the national labor relations board—but only after he investigates and issues a formal complaint on the steel industry's charges that Lewis is violating the Taft-Hartley act by insisting on the union shop provision.

2. White House seizure of the "captive" mines under the new draft law, because of the effect of a further steel shortage on defense production. As government employees under seizure miners could be barred by the courts from striking.

3. Use of the Taft-Hartley procedures for "National emergencies." This requires a finding that the nation's health or safety is imperiled and an investigation by a fact-finding board, before a court injunction can be asked.

Judges Recommend 12 Paintings to SUI

Twelve of the 109 paintings in the summer art show were recommended for purchase to the State University of Iowa, Prof. Lester D. Longman, head of the art department said yesterday.

Max Weber, dean of American modern painting, Daniel S. Defenbacher, director of Minneapolis Walker art center and Longman judged the show.

The university will announce which of the 12 paintings will be purchased later this month.

Selected were two paintings by SUI professors; Byron Buford's "Summer Event" and James Lechay's "Goldfish and Flowers."

Also chosen were Harold Baumback's "Green Street," William Bazotes' "Pierrot," Adolph Gottlieb's "Pursuer and Pursued," Jaun Miro's "A Drop of Dew Falling from the Wing of a Bird Awakens Rosalie Asleep in the Shade of a Cobweb."

Matta's "Wound-Interrogation," Everett Spruce's "Red Bull," Theodore Stamos' "Prehistoric Phase," Edward Stevens' "The Ancient Deities," Rufino Tamayo's "Girl Attacked by Strange Bird," and Max Weber's "The Three Patriarchs."

Truman Says Peace Is One Ambition of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said yesterday the United States, the "most powerful nation in the world," still has only one ambition — "Peace in the world and the welfare of the world as a whole."

He re-stated the country's aims in an informal address on the 100th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the Washington monument.

Mr. Truman told his audience on the monument grounds that we have fought two tremendous wars for freedom and liberty in the world; that we have no territorial ambitions, and seek no reparations.

"At the end of the last war," the President added, "We only asked for peace with justice in the world, and we asked that the United Nations be made to work for that purpose."

"We have spent all the time since the war in endeavoring to do just that."

Arabs Talk Peace With UN Mediator

CARIO (AP) — Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator for Palestine, met with Arab leaders for nearly four hours last night, presumably to discuss the Arab league's counter-proposals to his recommendations for peace in the holy land.

One high Arab official predicted Palestine warfare would resume.

All the Swedish court would say as he left the meeting was, "We have agreed to say nothing tonight."

Arab league sources have reported that the seven-member bloc of Moslem countries has rejected Bernadotte's proposals for ending the Arab-Jewish war.

Bernadotte said, following last night's meeting, that he would return to his headquarters on the Greek island of Rhodes Monday morning.

Asked whether he would visit Tel Aviv, capital of Israel, he replied that when he reached Rhodes he expected to find a message from Tel Aviv awaiting him.

Russ Refuse To Lift Block

BERLIN (AP) — The Russians refused yesterday to say they would lift their Berlin food blockade and Allied airmen prepared to give up their Fourth of July holiday to continue the flying breadline.

An American spokesman announced that Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet commander, met with U.S., British and French military commanders for 30 minutes. The spokesman said Sokolovsky refused to give any assurances about raising the blockade.

The meeting was in answer to a letter by British military governor Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, asking that a date be set for removing the blockade.

The Russian version of the meeting, given late last night by the Soviet news bureau, quoted Sokolovsky as blaming the western powers themselves for the present difficulties in Berlin.

According to the Russian agency, Sokolovsky told the western leaders the railway link between Berlin and the west "naturally needed repairs" after three years of hard use. He added that ensuring the supply of needs for 20 million Germans in the Soviet occupation zone was an important concern of the Russian military administration at the present time, the news agency said.

As the top officials met, airborne supplies streamed into Berlin, and after the fruitless meeting with Sokolovsky, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, announced the air lift will continue and be increased.

Clay added he thought the French would take part in the emergency air freight service to feed the 2,000,000 residents of Berlin's western sectors.

Those representing the western Allies at the meeting, held in Sokolovsky's Babelsberg villa on the outskirts of Berlin, were Clay, Robertson, and Gen. Roger Noiret, deputy French military governor.

Communists Routed In Finnish Election

HELSINKI, FINLAND (AP) — Finland's Communists have suffered a decisive setback, and the country appears headed for a course more nearly in the middle of the road as a result of parliamentary elections Thursday and Friday.

With returns nearly complete, results last night showed the Agrarian Center party had scored a strong victory, that the Social Democrats had run second and that the Communist-dominated Popular Democrats had come in third after holding first place in number of parliament seats since 1945.

The Popular Democrats lost 10 of their 51 parliamentary seats, The Social Democrats gained three and the Agrarians gained seven and surprised all observers. The Social Democrats had been expected to be the major party.

These three parties are expected to form a new coalition government with the prime minister being chosen from among the Agrarians.

Truman Signs Farm Price Support Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman signed a new farm price support program into law yesterday with another blast at congress for going "only part" of the way to "meet the problems of American agriculture."

The bill generally continues present price supports until 1950. At that time new and lower price supports will become effective.

War-time farm legislation expires at the end of this year. If the senate and house had failed to break their deadlock on the farm bill at the last minute, support levels would have dropped to 1938 figures on a few basic commodities. Supports for other products would have ended entirely.

In a statement criticizing the new bill, Mr. Truman said: "The 80th congress did nothing to meet the serious problems of rural housing, health and education."

Severs Trade, Political Ties; Tito Protests

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA (AP) — Albania slammed a twin blow at Yugoslavia, severing trade relations and telling Marshal Tito's military, political and cultural missions to get out, the foreign ministry declared yesterday.

Yugoslavia retored with an acid note, terming Albania's action "unprecedented," "brutal" and "grossly insulting" and a violation of international law.

It said Yugoslavia will hold Albania "responsible for all consequences."

The Belgrade radio recounted this latest episode in the Yugoslav-Albanian feud. The note said Albania:

1. "By a unilateral act... contrary to all fundamental principles of international law" had denounced "all economic agreements and protocols" with Yugoslavia.

2. Expelled Yugoslav trade, cultural and military experts, giving them 48 hours to leave.

3. Violated the Yugoslav-Albanian treaty of alliance by expelling the Yugoslav military mission.

The note, dated July 1, said that Yugoslavia had "in a friendly spirit warned representatives" of Albania to "remove obstacles which stood in the way of correct fulfillment of obligations" under the terms of the economic pact.

It said that up until June 29 —three days after the Russian-led Cominform fired its blast against Yugoslavia, Albania had not made a single protest against Yugoslavia's performance under the pact's terms.

It said the economic agreements, signed in November, 1946, were drafted for a 30-year period with a provision that they could not be terminated without notice in writing at least one year in advance.

Yugoslavia therefore will refuse to recognize Albania's action in declaring the cultural and economic agreements "null and non-existent," the note said.

Dillard Suffers First Defeat After 82 Wins

By TED SMITH
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Old reliables of American track—Barney Ewell, Gil Dodds, and Robert Bennett—teamed up with youngsters yesterday in an impressive show of Olympic talent at the 60th annual Amateur Athletic Union track championships.

The big surprise was the double defeat of Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace college after 82 consecutive victories, the longest string ever achieved. Ewell nosed him out by six inches in the 100 meter dash in :10.6, and Bill Porter of Northwestern won by two yards in the 100 meter high hurdles, Dillard's specialty, in :14.1.

SHADING BARNEY EWELL BY INCHES, Harrison Dillard, (right), Baldwin-Wallace, finished first in the semifinal heat of the 100-meter dash in National AAU competition. Later Ewell, (center), former Penn star, upset Dillard in the finals. Paul Bienz Tulane, finished third.

Two world records were bettered in the meet that drew 510 athletes. Herb McKenley of Jamaica Friday in a trial heat made the sensational time of :45.9 in the 400 meters, one tenth under a standard considered super-human.

In seven events American athletes made better marks than were achieved in the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin, promising well for this summer in London: 800 meters, 110 meter high hurdles, 400 meter hurdlers, pole vault, shot put, high jump, and discus.

A dark shadow was cast across American Olympic hopes, however, by the spring performances of two men who will run at London for rival nations—McKenley, and Lloyd La Beach of Panama.

Old timers came through bravely. In addition to Ewell, Gil Dodds, the flying parson who was laid low by bumps during the winter, came back convincingly to take the 1,500 meters in 3:52.1 despite the flying finish of Roland Stink of Southern California. Sink cut down Dodds' margin from a terrific 40 yards to a scant four at the finish.

Five creaking veterans of the team the United States sent to Berlin in 1936 were on hand to try again. They also performed gallantly. Joe McCluskey, 37, and balding, finished sixth in the 3,000 meter steeple chase and will go on to Evanston.

McCluskey was tenth at Berlin, and third in 1932 at Los Angeles when the men he ran against yesterday were toddling in the nursery. Dreyer, a Berlin hammer thrower, was third in this event.

Braves Batter Phillies, 11-6

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The rampaging Boston Braves smacked down the Philadelphia Phillies 11-6 yesterday and stretched their National league lead to four full games.

Big Bob Elliott, the loop's "most valuable player," last year, was a one-man wrecking crew. Bob rammed out two home runs—making it four in three days—and a triple and batted across five runs. He scored three himself.

Elliott was impartial to the pitching. His triple came off starter Ken Heintzelman, his first homer off Sam Nahem and his second, four-bagger off Walt Dubiel, fifth Phil flinger. Bob has now socked nine homers.

Earl Torgeson also knocked one out of the park for the Braves while Eddie Miller contributed a four-master in a losing cause. Richie Ashburn, Phil's center-fielder, got two hits including a triple and walked twice in five trips to the plate.

Warren Spahn was knocked down from the box in the eighth, but received credit for his seventh victory of the year.

Brough Wins Wimbledon Crown

LONDON (AP)—Led by belting Louise Brough, America's women tennis stars joined Australia's men in sweeping four Wimbledon championships yesterday as the famous fortnight, dating back from 1877, came to a close.

Miss Brough was a very busy girl. Already American singles champion, she added the all-England title to her collection by beating Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., 6-3, 8-6, in a hard-fought final, and then lent a brilliant hand in winning both the women's doubles and mixed doubles.

The blonde from Beverly Hills, Calif., thus became the first woman to capture all three Wimbledon titles open to her since Alice Marble swung the "hat trick"—as the British term it—in 1939.

Rules being what they are, Louise had to sit impatiently during the final of the men's doubles—an incredible affair in which the Australians, John Bromwich and Frank Sedgman, triumphed over Gardner Mulloy of Miami and Tom Brown of San Francisco, 5-7, 7-5, 7-5, 9-7.

Miss Brough and her long-time partner, Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del. won the women's doubles by trimming the defending champions, Miss Hart and Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of La Jolla, Calif., 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Then partnered by Bromwich, Louise topped off a big day by beating Miss Hart and Sedgman in the mixed doubles, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Kansas Defies Big 7 Ruling On Eligibility

LAWRENCE, KAN. (AP)—The University of Kansas defied a Big Seven conference ruling yesterday by deciding to permit five athletes—held ineligible under a reinterpretation of the rules—to compete this fall.

In a bristling statement, Chancellor Deane W. Malott announced that four freshmen and a basketball player, all veterans, will play if they wish to do so.

At Ames, Dean H.D. Bergman, faculty representative at Iowa State college, said the problem raised was one which probably would come before the next meeting of faculty representatives. The next scheduled meeting is in December, but a special session could be called if requested by the various conference schools.

The conference's faculty representatives, at a meeting in Lincoln, Neb., last May, decided that the circuit's eligibility rules should include as competition all years of junior college participation and freshman play against other freshman teams.

Malott, whose school finished in a tie with Oklahoma for the Big Seven football championship last fall, described the action as "retroactive and discriminatory against a group of veteran students."

"With the full approval of the Kansas State Board of Regents, the Board of Directors of the University of Kansas athletic corporation, and our director of athletics," he said, "I am informing the presidents of the other institutions of the conference that the University of Kansas will play in the 1948-49 year, if they enroll in the university and wish to play, Don P. Fambrough, Thomas A. Scott, Gene Sherwood, Marvin B. Small and John Eskridge."

The Jimmy Wilburn-Emory Collins private feud on the dirt track came to a quick halt Thursday night when Wilburn was critically injured in an accident at Oskaloosa.

They were scheduled to continue their battle at Hawkeye Downs in Cedar Rapids this afternoon. Up to the time of Wilburn's crash, he had won twice and Collins once in these meetings this season.

Wilburn's Offenhausen racer flipped off the Oskaloosa track in the first race and cleared a fence, landing 70 feet away. It took 15 minutes to extricate him from the badly smashed car.

With Wilburn out of the Independence Day classic, Collins' main rivals will be two other Offy drivers, Billy Snyder of Minneapolis, and Blazing Ben Musick of Dallas, Texas.

The superstition-defying Snyder, a high school teacher, will be behind the wheel of his Black Cat No. 13 Special. Musick has been in the dust-eating game for 19 years.

Two other boys, who have been crowding the Offy drivers, are Ernie Johnson, Sunday school superintendent from Christine, N. D., and Johnny Harper of Chicago. Johnson's car is powered by a double overhead cam shaft Ford engine, and Harper has a Crag Six engine with three carburetors.

The time trials will start at 1:30, and the first race at 2:30.

BOSTON (AP)—With sore-armed Dick Fowler keeping seven hits scattered, the hard-driving Philadelphia Athletics reeled off their 10th win in 11 starts by trouncing the Boston Red Sox yesterday, 8-2.

While notching his sixth win against one defeat, Fowler forced in Ted Williams with the first Boston run in the fourth. He gave them another in the ninth when Bill Goodman connected safely for his 11th straight game, Birdie Tebbetts also singled and two Bosox lashed long flies.

Indians Dip Browns On Robinson's Hits; Maintain Loop Lead

ST. LOUIS (AP)—With Eddie Robinson hitting a home run and a triple and Bob Feller keeping Brownie batters under control, the Cleveland Indians held their own in the American league race yesterday defeating St. Louis 8 to 2.

Robinson opened the scoring in the second with his circuit blow while no one was on base and Player-Manager Lou Boudreau duplicated the trick in the third.

But it was in the fifth frame that Robinson clinched the game, slamming the ball into right field to score Hank Edwards and Boudreau.

Newhouser allowed only two singles in the final six innings as he matched Cleveland's Bob Lemon atop American League Pitching records.

NEW YORK (AP)—Coming from behind with a four-run rally in the eighth inning, the New York Yankees yesterday defeated Washington 5-3 to even the series at one victory apiece.

A walk to George McQuinn to start off the last of the eighth got Sid Hudson in trouble. Yogi Berra followed with a single, Joe DiMaggio doubled McQuinn home and when Billy Johnson singled in the tying and winning runs, Hudson bowed out in favor of Earl Harrist. It was his seventh defeat. He has won three.

'Ike' Firecracker Set Off

Eisenhower's move among the Democrats. Leon Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, said sentiment for Eisenhower was rising and he felt sure Ike would accept a draft.

Former Lt. Gov. Handy Ellis of Alabama, the man who will lead the Alabama delegation, said he would be "tickled to death" to nominate Eisenhower himself at the convention. Ellis said he will wait to see if Texas or Kansas want to nominate Ike instead.

In a new letter, Eisenhower said, "When I made a public statement last January ('I could not accept the nomination even under the remote circumstances that it were tendered to me'), I did it only after earnest study to determine the field in which I might possibly be of some future usefulness.

"I am anxious to do my duty, but felt that it was my own problem to determine whether or not a sense of duty could call me into the political field."

The letter was read by Elliott Roosevelt to an ADA rally. Roosevelt stated the letter indicated Ike would respond to a draft.

Meanwhile, Mr. Truman told a press conference that he was in the race to stay and predicted nomination on the first ballot and a victory in November. Thinking differently on the last point, Republican nominees Dewey and Warren relaxed last week and prepared for a vigorous campaign.

State Guard Reaches Peak Strength; Political Ban Decision Dodged

The recent rush to join the Iowa national guard carried its ground force units 580 men beyond their authorized strength. No men will be dropped, however. The state board of education named a three-member committee to discuss policy on political meetings on Iowa educational institution campuses under its control. The state hospital advisory council in Des Moines reduced estimates for hospital bed needs in the state from 12,420 to 11,520 in recognition of the "statewide service" performed by the University of Iowa hospitals. The SUI administration is opposed to the state hospital construction program on the grounds that small hospitals throughout the state would reduce the efficiency of modern medical skill by scattering apparatus and experts.

'Bone Bank' Planned; Swimmer Drowned in Fieldhouse Tragedy

A bank for storing living bone tissue will soon be installed in the University hospitals. Iowa City School Superintendent Iver A. Opstad renewed requests for tuition for Finkbine Park school children who attend city schools. Since Finkbine is a tax-free housing area, Opstad wants the state board of education to pay the Finkbine tuitions. Samuel J. Elbert, 18, was rescued from the Fieldhouse pool. Efforts to revive him failed and he was pronounced dead.

Ton of Fireworks Arrives for Celebration

Horse Show, Concessions At City Park

More than one ton of fireworks arrived in City park yesterday for Iowa City's Fourth of July celebration tomorrow.

Workmen from the fireworks company began setting up ground pieces yesterday afternoon, while rides and concessions were going up on the Midway.

By late evening, City park had taken on the festive air intended for the event sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tomorrow's program includes, besides the fireworks display, a horse show and an exhibition by the Moose Grenadiers. Rides and concessions will be open all day. The program will begin at 2:30 p. m.

Park gates will be open at 9 a. m., Wayne E. Putnam Jr., president of the Jaycees, said. Price of admission at the gate will be 25 cents. Persons "under 8 and over 80" will be admitted free.

The fireworks display to be shown tomorrow "after dark" is "the most elaborate night fireworks display Iowa City has ever witnessed," according to Joe Schmitt, chairman of the Fourth of July celebration.

The $1,600 worth of fireworks includes ground pieces that are replicas of Old Capitol, the statue of Liberty, the Liberty Bell, the American flag, and a map of the state of Iowa.

The map of Iowa display will start the fireworks show. Iowa City's position on the map will be marked in red, and a sign, "Iowa City Welcomes you," will blaze a greeting to spectators.

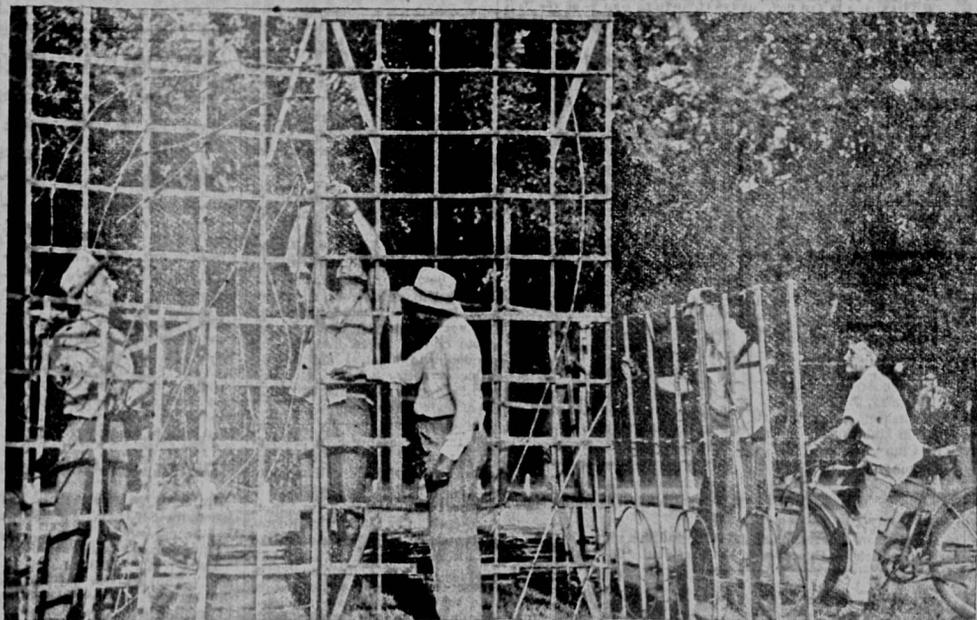

Eight classes of horses will compete in the horse show at 2:30 p. m. The Iowa City saddle club is cooperating with the Jaycees in sponsoring the horse show.

Several local organizations are sponsoring concessions on the midway in City park. Putnam said he had tried to get as many local organizations represented on the midway as possible.

Plans to spray the park with DDT were carried out Friday morning, Putnam said yesterday. He said the spraying had routed mosquitoes and other insects that brought complaints from those who attended the last Fourth of July celebration.

"The park is all set for families who plan to come early and bring picnic lunches," he said yesterday.

The fireworks display set pieces will be set up on the east side of the park ball field. Putnam said this layout allows spectators to view the show from the bank that borders the west side of the field.

Iowa Eavesdrops on History

Morrison Discloses GOP Delegation Listened As Michigan 'Switched' to Dewey

The Iowa delegation to the GOP national convention eavesdropped on a little history-in-the-making last week, it was revealed yesterday.

It all began during the crucial hours between the second and third ballots, according to Attorney William Morrison, Iowa delegate-at-large to the Philadelphia sessions.

The Iowa delegates decided to caucus in a basement room of convention hall when the convention adjourned after the second ballot.

Just as the Iowa group assembled, Morrison said, Governor Kim Sigler, head of the Michigan delegation, came in and asked how long the Iowa group would be using the room.

The Iowans invited the Michigan delegates to share a corner of their meeting place. The Michigan delegates filed in, led by Governor Sigler.

"We thought we'd listen in on what the Michigan delegation would do," Morrison said.

In a five-minute convulse the Michigan delegation heard Gov. Sigler read a message from Vandenberg releasing the Michigan delegates. The majority of the Michigan group were for Dewey, Morrison said.

"We knew how everybody stood in our delegation," Morrison explained. "Most of us were going to throw our votes to Dewey on the third ballot."

The Michigan delegation, he said, left the room—hope gone for their favorite son, Vandenberg, winning the nomination. The Iowa delegates left too, according to Morrison, to look for a quick snack before the convention met to ballot for the third time and unanimously elect Dewey to the number one spot on the Republican ticket.
