That's All for Awhile

CHAIRMAN HOMER E. FERGUSON of the senate committee investigating Communist activities in the United States is pictured above as he announced that the investigation would be suspended yesterday. The Michigan senator, a Republican, said the hearings "cannot proceed further at this time" because President Truman denies congress access to confidential "loyalty" records.

Says U.S. Sent Russ Material for A-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States shipped Russia a "significant" amount of uranium metal—the base stuff of atomic bombs — as late as 1945, Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) told the house yesterday.

He said it followed up shipments of 2,720 pounds of uranium compounds in 1943, when Russia was asking for the rare material by the ton.

McDowell is a member of the house committee on un-American activities which has been conducting a series of sensational hearings into tales of Communist spying in wartime Washington.

Hearings Suspended
The committee took a breather yesterday, but did so with a flourish. Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said a picked group from the committee had been dispatched to a secret rendezvous with a mystery witness. The point of contact was not disclosed.

Senate investigators, who have been conducting a parallel inquiry into the alleged Communist spy ring, shut down their hearings, too, after a brief morning session.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) complained that an order from President Truman has caused the withholding of loyalty files they need to check on charges of Communist infiltration into the government.

Describes Shipments
McDowell first told the un-American activities committee about uranium shipments Thursday, saying that a total of 1,300 pounds of compounds of the radioactive element had been shipped to the Soviets in 1943.

He more than doubled those figures yesterday in his speech to the house.

In addition to the 1,300 pounds, he said, 200 pounds of uranium oxide and 220 pounds of uranium nitrate, furnished by the S. W. Shattuck Chemical company of Denver, were shipped by air from Great Falls, Mont., to Moscow.

Canadian Shipments
Also, McDowell reported, 500 pounds of uranium nitrate and 500 pounds of black uranium oxide were furnished by the Canadian Radium and Uranium corporation, transported to Great Falls, and sent from there to Moscow.

McDowell said those shipments, made in 1943, were sent to Col. A. N. Kotikov of the Soviet government purchasing commission.

The actual uranium metal went in 1945, he said, declaring it was sent to the Soviets "to appease them." He told reporters he "understands" the amount was some 25 pounds.

Entertaining Is OK For GI Bachelors

FRANKFURT (AP) — American soldiers in Germany henceforth may entertain women in bachelor quarters.

A European command directive yesterday rescinded a previous ban in force since Jan., 1947, with the exception that guests of the opposite sex still cannot be entertained in army barracks.

Tennessee Balloting Beats Crump Men In Demo Primary

NASHVILLE (AP) — The potent E. H. Crump political dynasty of Memphis and a lesser Democratic organization long allied with it in Tennessee went down in stunning defeat yesterday as the final ballots were counted from Thursday's violence-punctuated elections.

While unofficial tabulations told a story of the Crump organization's thrashing in the statewide Democratic primary, the national guard moved into Benton in southeast Tennessee to quell continuing election strife which has left two dead and five wounded following a Polk county general election.

Last by Landslide
The landslide which engulfed the Crump forces was such as Crump himself had buried his opposition without setback in 20 years.

Crump's choice for governor, incumbent Jim McCord, seeking a third two-year term, carried only the tenth (Shelby county-Memphis) district and the first district in Republican east Tennessee.

His senatorial candidate, John A. Mitchell carried only his home district, the fourth in middle Tennessee, and the tenth. The state has ten districts.

Estes Kefauver Wins
Victors in the senatorial and gubernatorial contests were Estes Kefauver, veteran of 10 years in the lower house of congress, and Gordon Browning.

Kefauver was nominated to the senate seat now held by Tom Stewart, who sought reelection. Browning was nominated for the governor's seat he won for one term in 1937.

Democratic nomination in Tennessee usually means election.

But Roy Acuff, ballad singer nominated for governor in the Republican primary, and Carroll Reece, former GOP national chairman, nominated for the senate, said they'd make it a contest in the November general election.

A 3,000-word platform, adopted at the final session of the party's 14th annual convention, called on all Americans "who hate fascism to defend the rights of Communists," and lauded Russia as the world's "strongest bulwark for peace."

The platform, which announced support of Wallace instead of a presidential candidate of their own, said the Communists would back the progressive party without seeking any "special position" in it.

In announcing the reelection of William Z. Foster as national chairman as well as the reelection of the party's national committee, the convention asked Americans "to help explode the myth that Communists are foreign agents or advocate force and violence."

Envoys Meet with Molotov in 'Thorough' Three-Hour Parley

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau, and Frank Roberts, special British envoy, visited the Kremlin yesterday for another try at solving east-west differences.

It appeared last night that several more meetings may be in order before the current conversations come to an end. It was almost a certainty they would continue into next week.

A highly informed source said there may be another conference with the Russians today, but this is unlikely. A meeting tomorrow seems more probable, the source said.

Yesterday's conference with foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was described as "very thorough." It lasted three hours. Prime Minister Stalin was not present.

Although the going may seem slow, it was learned on excellent authority that there is no need for pessimism. In fact, the opposite is true. It was learned that the western power negotiations with Molotov are proceeding smoothly.

The western envoys' conference with the Soviet foreign minister lasted an hour longer than their meeting last Monday with Stalin. They emerged from it smiling but non-committal.

"We met with Molotov. No comment," Smith told newspapermen. All three went directly to the American embassy where they compared notes and ideas.

London dispatches said diplomatic circles there believed the three western powers had submitted specific questions which they believed should be discussed at a new four power conference on Berlin, Germany and perhaps Europe.

The dispatches said an announcement may be made this weekend of the time, place and scope of a new meeting of the foreign ministers council. State department spokesmen in Washington said no agreement on such a meeting has yet been reached.

A meeting of Secretary of State George Marshall, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister, Robert Schuman might be preceded by a get-together of their deputies to lay the ground work.

The last two meetings of the foreign ministers council—in Moscow, March 10 to April 25, 1947, and in London, Nov. 25 to Dec. 15, 1947—ended in a deadlock on peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Immediately after the three diplomats had reviewed what was said and agreed upon—if anything—at the Kremlin conference it was expected messages would start flying back to Washington.

Ewing Explains Use Of 'Borrowed' Cook, Criticizes Studebaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing, on the griddle for his dealings with a cook and a commissioner, yesterday

1. Said former commissioner of education John W. Studebaker used such poor judgment he had planned to fire him. But, said Ewing he "beat me to the gun" by resigning.

2. Flatly denied Studebaker's charges accusing Ewing of poor administration and of suppressing office of education attacks against communism.

3. Acknowledged that he used a government hospital cook to prepare meals at the FSA. But, he explained, the budget bureau had assured him the procedure was proper and added it will continue.

His blast against Studebaker followed a letter from Studebaker released to newspapers last Sunday, accusing Ewing of interfering with the office of education program for promoting democracy in schools.

Ewing told a news conference that this was all "pure poppycock and irrelevant and irresponsible innuendo." He said it doesn't require a sensitive nose to detect "an aroma of politics and pique."

Studebaker said one of his staff member's speeches criticizing communism had been censored.

Objects To Absences
As to Studebaker, Ewing said he had planned to discharge him because he was absent from his post so often on personal business.

He said Studebaker was in San Diego and Los Angeles for 121 days during the year April 1947 to April 1948.

In San Diego, where he is now visiting his son, Studebaker said he was unaware when he resigned as U. S. commissioner of education July 15 that Ewing was planning to fire him.

Explains Trips
Studebaker said he made four trips to the west coast in the 1947-48 period referred to by Ewing to attend meetings connected with education. He said: "Ewing himself approved the last two trips with full knowledge that the first two had been approved by his predecessor."

None was on personal business, Studebaker added. He said the 121 days mentioned by Ewing included some sick leave and annual leave time.

B-29s Finish World Flight

TUCSON, ARIZ (AP)—Space-slashing B-29's roared in and out of Davis-Monthan airforce base yesterday, cutting the world down to unimpressive size from a military standpoint.

Two Superfortresses completed the first round-the-world flight by the big bombers as dawn was breaking.

Stepping from the first plane to hit the runway, Lt. Col. Richard W. Kline of Haskell, Tex., remarked:

"Round-the-world flights can now be classed as routine stuff for B-29's."

Three hours earlier, eight Superfortresses of the 20th squadron had thundered into the darkness on a one-stop 6,000-mile flight to Lakenheath, England. A second squadron will leave early today and a third tomorrow.

Housing, Inflation Bills Revised As Special Session Nears End

By JACK RUTLEDGE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress defied President Truman last night by preparing to pass its own anti-inflation and housing bills today and then go home.

With GOP leaders in firm control, the legislature paid no attention to Mr. Truman's demand that it stop concocting "feeble compromises" and adopt his cost-of-living and housing programs.

The senate passed a home building bill minus the slum clearance and low-rent housing subsidies the administration asked.

The senate decided to vote at 2 p. m. (Iowa time) today on the GOP anti-inflation bill, already passed by the house. It is designed to restore wartime curbs on installment buying, and to restrict bank credit.

Democrats, in a last-ditch and probably futile effort, will try to substitute the Truman program of rationing and wage-control powers.

If all goes according to GOP plan, the extra session the President called will be over late this afternoon, and the legislators will be on their way home, probably to be followed by new denunciations from the White House.

The home-building measure would broaden government loan insurance aids on the building of houses costing $6,000 or less. It calls for a study to standardize building codes and measurements and would guarantee a return of 2 and three quarters percent on equality investments in rental properties.

The bill also would increase by 25 percent the secondary market for all veterans' guaranteed and FHA insured loans made after April 30, 1948, and make an additional $800-million available for loans on rental housing.

The anti-inflation bill is next on the senate books.

The senate banking committee went along with the house on its plan to bring back curbs on installment buying. However, it extended the effective date of the law to next June 30. The house had suggested the controls be imposed until next March 15. The senators also omitted provisions on gold reserves.

Senator Revercomb (R-Va) said Dewey asked revision of the law, which has been criticized on the ground that it discriminates against many Jews and Catholics.

Revercomb, chairman of the judiciary subcommittee, said that the issue cannot be "dealt with in haste or under pressure" and should be explored at hearings at the regular congressional session next year.

Chain Reaction Among Couches

Sofa Shifters Have a Field Day in Riverdale
When a student family in Riverdale moved from one trailer to another, they didn't know what they were starting.

They discovered that the studio couch (couch No. 1) in their old trailer was in better condition than the one in the new trailer. So they moved their couch with them. But before getting the poorer couch (couch No. 2) into the old trailer, a neighbor family saw it and decided it was better than their couch (couch No. 3).

So they traded. As the two families were putting the third-best couch (No. 3) in the neighbor's trailer, a third member of the neighborhood saw it and discovered that it was in better condition than his. So he traded. As the latest discarded couch (No. 4) sat in the yard, a family in a nearby expensible trailer asked if they might trade their couch (No. 5) for the better one in the yard. They traded. As it grew too dark to see outdoors, the last of the traded couches (couch No. 5) was placed in the condemned trailer. Everyone was satisfied.

Local Man Builds Best Safety Device

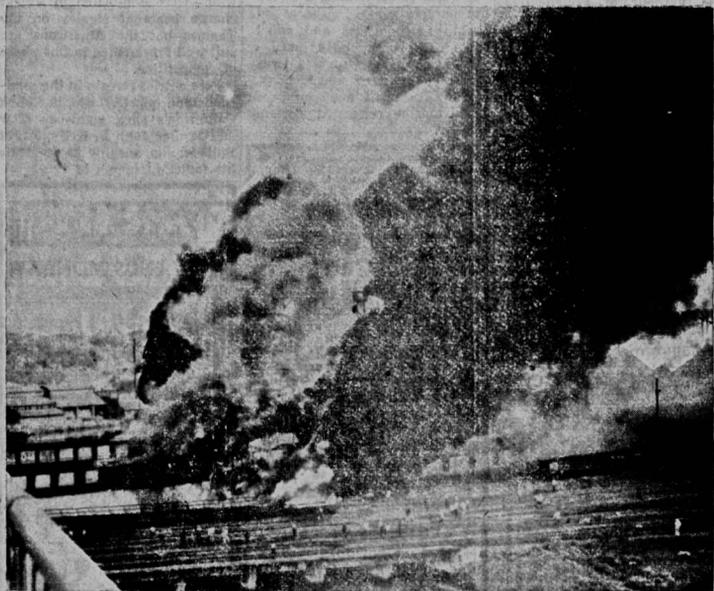

Howard Fountain, route 5, won the farm safety gadget award at the national farm field day near Anamosa yesterday, according to The Associated Press.

Fountain entered a floating grill designed to prevent drowning of children who fall into stock watering tanks.

Merlin Wilsell, Wyoming, Iowa, won the farm gadget contest with his home made motor-driven garden tractor.

A crowd estimated at between 35,000 and 40,000 attended the annual farm event, the nation's biggest grassland demonstration.

Blazing River Sets Bridges Afire

AFTER FIRE FROM A BURNING FREIGHT TRAIN SPREAD to an oil slick on the Menomonee river, three railroad bridges in Milwaukee began to burn yesterday. The blaze became a three-alarm fire before it was brought under control. No immediate estimate of damage was available.

Oskaloosans Protest Tree Cutting at Rally

OSKALOOSA (AP)—Over 400 citizens of Oskaloosa attended a mass meeting at the courthouse here last night and pledged their "moral support" in a battle to save 137 trees lining the route of U. S. Highway 63 through the town.

The trees were to be removed in a highway widening project to make the city highway route 44 feet wide as required by federal specifications.

A hearing has been set for Monday on a motion by the highway commission to dissolve a temporary injunction preventing the removal of the trees.

The injunction was granted Tuesday after a contractor's crew had removed about seven of the trees.

Will Read, chairman of the meeting said it had been called to "get the moral support of all the citizens of Oskaloosa to save the trees."

He said over 500 persons had signed petitions pledging their opposition to removal of the trees.

The petitions, to be sent to the city council and state highway commission, said that the trees "have an important part in the town and the lives of all citizens."

Slate Button Game For Nudist Party

MAYS LANDING, N. J. (AP) — One of the subjects discussed yesterday at the nudist convention was buttons.

Dr. Ilsley Boone, who operates the 150-acre Sunshine park at which the convention is being held, told the delegates: "We're going to have an old-fashioned party tonight." "We'll play 'Musical Chairs' and 'Button, Button, Who's Got the Button.'"

Asked how nudists played the button game, he said: "Oh, that's simple. We can hide the button in our hands or under our arms." A highlight of the convention would be a masked ball tonight. Boone said the only requirement will be a face mask.

Bucky Walters Named New Cincinnati Pilot

Taking Time Out

With Buck Turnbull

Come on, Connie; Just One More

Not to get too inquisitive, but what the heck do those Philadelphia Athletics have, anyway? Nobody seems to admit that the A's are a pennant threat. Not with any degree of certainty, that is.

We've tried to look at their situation statistically and find a number of interesting figures. Connie Mack's ball club comes under the classification of a good field, no hit team. Statistics show this in no uncertain form.

It has been clear all season that Mack boasts the best pitching staff in either league. If you don't believe this, common sense should sway you over. Any set of hurlers who can win ball games with very little hitting punch must be good.

Good Field, No Hit

Now to check the figures. In team batting, the Athletics are seventh in the American league. In team fielding, they are far and away the best in either circuit. They have 113 double plays, more than any other major league team; they have committed less errors, 61, than any of the other 15 teams, and have one of the four triple plays registered this season.

The excellent fielding and pitching must be the overwhelming factor in the A's surge this summer, for they are maintaining exactly the same team batting average, .252, which they had in 1947.

Obviously, then, Mack's unit would be a cinch for the junior league flag with a little batting. Yet the Quakers have three of the twelve .300 hitters in the loop in Elmer Valo, Barney McCosky and Heinie Majecki. No other team in the American league has more than two.

But from there on down the line old Connie's batting averages get slightly puny. In fact, the A's have no batter between .281 and .308.

Now to talk about something dear to Connie Mack's heart — his pitching staff. Ah, sweet bliss. If Connie loses a few winks of sleep over his lowly slugging, he can doze off in a hurry with a passing thought of his mound corps.

Four Philadelphia starting chuckers and one relief pitcher are in the percentage class above .556. Only the Boston Red Sox can count as many moundsmen in that category. Joe Coleman, whose pitching this past month has pulled the A's out of a number of slumps, and Lou Brissie have both won 11 games. Coleman has lost seven and Brissie eight.

Dick Fowler, top starter on the club, has notched 10 victories while losing but three. Carl Scheib's record is seven wins and five defeats. Bob Savage, who has made 25 relief appearances, has lost only one game while winning five. His percentage of .883 is tops for the league.

Now that we've discussed the good and bad points of the surprise team, let's see how it stands in relation with the other clubs. The Athletics have played better than .500 ball against every team in the circuit except the Cleveland Indians. The Tribe has mastered Connie's nine 11 times this season and dropped six decisions.

The Mackmen have a top-heavy lead over the second division and are two games up on the Yankees and Red Sox. They are six and four with the Yanks, eight and six with the Sox.

We have no particular favorite in the American league. Doings in the National league have always been the center of our interest. For right now we hope the A's don't fall into a tail spin. They've got too good a chance to cop the flag. We're joining the bandwagon and rooting, "Just one more for Connie Mack."

Sideline Sidelights

Note to Cubs' fans: Your team can't be as bad as the standings show. . . Team batting percentages say the Cubs are fourth in the senior loop, ahead of the fence-busting New York Giants.

Football season isn't far away. . . We were reminded of that fact yesterday when the University of Illinois mailed us their annual fall football dopebook. . . Another puzzler — whatever happened to Zoe Ann Olsen's diving form in the Olympics?

Five of the eight American league teams have more than 100 double plays this season. . . Not one National team has more than 90. . . Four reasons why the Boston Braves lead the National league — Pitchers Johnny Sain, Vern Bickford, Bill Voiselle and Warren Spahn. . . The only Cardinal hurler we'd take ahead of any of those four would be Harry Brecheen. . . The rest of the Cards — Brazle, Wilks, Hearn, Pollet, Dickson and Mungler — haven't shown the consistency of a pennant-winner. . . Now that we've said it, watch the smoke from St. Louis. . . Anyway, on paper the Red Birds should be leading the league by 10 games.

Feller, Tribe Top Yanks, 9-7

CLEVELAND (AP) — Home runs by a pair of ex-Yankees, Joe Gordon and Allie Clark, sparked the league-leading Cleveland Indians to a 9 to 7 victory over New York last night before a crowd of 71,268 — the third of the week to surpass the 70,000 mark.

Bob Feller received credit for the win, his first of the year over the Yankees, but he was replaced by Ed Killeman when the Yanks tallied four runs in the eighth. Russ Christopher replaced Killeman when the Bronx Bombers threatened in the ninth and ended the game with one pitch.

The Indian's victory coupled with the Athletics' loss to St. Louis puts the Tribe one-half game in front of the Mackmen in the American league pennant fight.

Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's playing-manager, did not play in the contest last night following an injury received in the Washington game Thursday. However, Johnny Berardino, who took his place, garnered two hits in three trips to the plate.

Eddie Lopat started the game for the Yankees, giving up seven hits and five runs in four innings. Tommy Byrne, Roy Embree and Joe Page were also used by the Yanks in that order with Lopat the loser.

Seery's 15th Homer Humbles Red Sox, 4-3

CHICAGO (AP) — Pat Seery's fifteenth home run scored three runs in the seventh inning here last night to give the Chicago White Sox a 4-3 victory over Boston before 27,428 persons. All of Boston's runs resulted from Vern Stephens' No. 23 homer off Bill Wight in the sixth.

Reds Release Johnny Neun For One-Time Pitching Great

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP) — Johnny Neun, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was released last night and Bucky Walters, one-time pitching great, was named as leader for the remainder of the season.

Neun has been with the club for the past year and a half. The club recently has had a losing streak but defeated the league Boston Braves three out of four games in a series that ended only Thursday night.

It was at Walters' own suggestion that his appointment be only for the remainder of the season.

Fourth NL Manager To Drop
Neun is the fourth National league manager to be dropped this year. On Friday, July 16, Ben Chapman was ousted at Philadelphia only a few hours after Mel Ott's release as boss of the New York Giants was announced.

Leo Durocher was shipped to the Giants by Brooklyn and Burt Shotton was recalled from semi-retirement to direct the Dodgers.

The Reds have won 44 and lost 56 under Neun this season. Much was expected of them this year but the entire team showed the effects of an injury to Ewell Blackwell, generally rated the loop's best pitcher.

Neun came to the Reds after directing the New York Yankees for a short period at the close of 1946. Prior to that he had bossed Yankee farms at Newark and Kansas City. He started his managerial career at Akron, Ohio, in 1935.

As a player Neun was with Detroit and the Boston Nationals. While at Detroit he gained fame for an unassisted triple play against Cleveland on May 31, 1927.

Walters came to the Philadelphia Phillies as an infielder and was remodeled into a pitcher

there. He was traded to the Reds in 1938. There he and Paul Deringer pitched the club to a National league pennant in 1939 and 1940. The Reds also won the World series in 1940, Walters pitching a pair of victories.

Giles Issues Statement
Reporters were handed a written statement by Warren Giles, president of the club which read as follows:

"Johnny Neun has been released as manager of the Reds and Bucky Walters has been named to pilot the club for the remainder of the 1948 season. Limiting the term to this year was at Bucky's own suggestion and with mutual understanding regarding the future.

"He certainly merits this opportunity and we have the utmost confidence he will do a fine job and become an outstanding manager. We are hopeful it will work out and he will continue long beyond this year."

Notre Dame-Hawkeye Grid Game Sold Out

The Notre Dame-Iowa football game here Oct. 23 is a complete sell-out, earliest single game sell-out in Hawkeye history, and no more ticket orders will be accepted.

Frank Havlicek, business manager of athletics, said the last tickets left the racks yesterday afternoon. This assures a total crowd of some 53,000 for the contest. It is the third straight year that the game with Notre Dame has attracted a capacity crowd—in 1946 at home and last fall at South Bend.

He said that numerous tickets are available for the Iowa home games: Marquette, Purdue at Homecoming, Wisconsin and Minnesota, but advised early placing of orders because the demand is unusually heavy.

formed him that he would like to step down next year. After a conference, it was mutually agreed, Giles said, that somebody else ought to manage the club for the remainder of the season.

Walters, who at 38, has reached the twilight of a great pitching career which has brought him 198 victories, said he was greatly surprised when he was given the news by Giles.

This is Walters' 11th season with Cincinnati. The Reds handed over $55,000 to the Phils together with Pitchers Al Hollingsworth, Peaches Davis and Catcher Spud Davis for the crafty righthander. Walters entered the big time in 1934 as an infielder.

He was recently taken off the disabled list and will remain on the active list.

Bums Spoil Walters' Debut, Drop Redlegs

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers spoiled the managerial debut of Bucky Walters last night as Young Rex Barney pitched the Dodgers to a 4-1 three-hit triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

Jackie Robinson socked a two-run homer for the Dodgers. Barney fanned nine.

The Dodgers could collect only seven hits off the offerings of Young Howard Fox and Ken Burkhardt but Robinson's blow, which came in the fifth inning, put the game on ice. Fox was the losing pitcher.

Braves Fall To Cubs, 5-4

BOSTON (AP) — Chicago's last place Cubs hopped off to a three run first inning and went on last night to shade the league leading Boston Braves 5-4. The loss reduced the Tribe's National league lead to three and one half games. A disappointed crowd of 15,401 saw the Braves leave three runners stranded in the last of the ninth. During the game the Braves left 14 runners on base.

Vern Bickford started on the mound for Boston but failed to get by first inning. The Braves added one run in their half of the first frame and the Cubs chalked up their fourth in the top of the second.

Bob Mathias Wins Olympic Decathlon

U. S. School Boy Triumphs; Draves Takes Diving Double

LONDON (AP) — America furnished the 1948 Olympics its best all-around athlete — decathlon Winner Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif. — yesterday and her gifted water stars splashed to three more championships in another glorious day for the red, white and blue.

These triumphs, coupled with a pair of sensational successes on the part of sturdy Europeans, headlined the seventh day of this international competition, staged in a cold drizzle.

Mathias, a 17-year-old high school lad who ripples with educated muscles, wound up a rigorous two-day, ten-sport grind with 7,139 points.

He started early in the morning with the 110-meter hurdles, followed with the discus and pole vault and finished the last two events—the javelin and 1,500-meter run—in semi-darkness.

Dog-track lights had to be turned on for the decathlon hardies after their competition ran into the late evening. Thursday's events were the 100 meter run, broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400 meter run.

Young Mathias' amazing proficiency in many athletic lines provided only one of the thrills for 55,000 fans who suffered through the dismal, drenching day at Wembley stadium.

Captures Third Title
The 30-year-old Dutch mother, Mrs. Fannie Blankers-Koen, made Olympic history by winning the 200-meter dash for her third championship of the games. Sweden's indefatigable Henri Eriksen scored a smashing upset to prevail in the grueling 1,500 meter run.

Another housewife—pretty, Brunette Mrs. Victoria Manalo Draves of Pasadena, Calif.—also wrote a new chapter in the Olympic books when she won the women's high board diving competition and set off a fast string of American triumphs.

This made an unprecedented women's diving sweep for the 23-year-old Californian of Filipino-English parentage, who earlier had taken top honors in the springboard. Patricia Ann Elsener, 18, of San Francisco was runner-up in the tower dive.

The U. S. yachtmen scored well again in the congested Torquay Harbor, winning the star class race and finishing third in two others. The Americans lead team placings in two classes—the star and international six meter—and have a good chance to win the overall championships, with three races remaining.

Two U. S. rowing crews—the pair oars with and without coxswain—were eliminated in second chance heats at Henley on the Thames but the Americans are still well represented in this phase of competition.

Five entries remain in the semifinals and quarterfinals, including California's eight-oar crew and Sculler John B. Kelly, Jr., of Philadelphia, seeking to duplicate his father's triumph of 1920.

Prepare Hoover Birthday Party West Branch Will Honor Favorite Son

WEST BRANCH — This tiny Quaker village of 800 is preparing a tremendous birthday party for its favorite son, Herbert Clark Hoover, former president of the United States, who will celebrate his 74th birthday here, August 10.

The humble, three-room home where the first president west of the Mississippi was born, will be the focal point for the day's activities.

VETERAN NEWSPAPER WOMAN AND AUTHORESS, Mrs. Maud Stratton will introduce her book, "Herbert Hoover's Home — The Story of West Branch," at the Hoover birthday celebration at West Branch, August 10. Acknowledged as the town's leading historian, Mrs. Stratton began her newspaper career 49 years ago. Said Mrs. Stratton, "I was just a scared little girl of 15 when I climbed upon a printer's stool in the back shop at the Times' office."

Robert P. Schmidt, writer for The Daily Iowan, yesterday visited West Branch for these highlights of the birthday celebration to be held Tuesday afternoon. Watch for Schmidt's coverage of the celebration in future issues of The Daily Iowan.

Activities. Around this hub, an estimated 15,000 persons will join West Branch in honoring Hoover on his birthday.

Within the town, an attempt will be made to recreate the scenes familiar to Hoover in his boyhood days. Antiques harking back to the days when his father, a village blacksmith, worked at the forges will be displayed in store windows. Colorful Quaker costumes worn by old-timers in the community will lend a splash of atmosphere borrowed from three-quarters of a century ago.

The celebration will be held on the new 25-acre addition adjoining the birthplace grounds. Parking areas for 10,000 cars have been provided and a special police force has been assigned patrol and traffic duty.

The nation's leading news and radio men will inform the country about the event, while Hoover's speech will be broadcast over the Central and Mutual networks and a host of regional stations.

Hoover, now visiting in California, will be accompanied here by his sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jr., and daughter, Jo Ann; and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hoover. The group will arrive in Cedar Rapids at 6:55 a.m. Tuesday and proceed directly to West Branch.

Immediately after his arrival he will meet with the board of trustees of the Herbert Hoover Birthplace society to discuss plans for the development of the new park area, recently added to the birthplace.

The ceremonies will begin at noon when the ladies of the Methodist church assisted by a corps of 25 waitresses will serve the former president and his 150 guests a chicken dinner on the lawn of the birthplace.

Opening the official ceremonies at 1:30 p.m., Rose Marie Jun, Cedar Rapids, will sing the "Star Spangled Banner." A parade of 25 high school bands and approximately 1,000 young folks representing various youth groups will follow this event. The musical and parade phase of the program will wind up with the "Washington Post March," "Iowa Corn Song," and "Happy Birthday."

Dr. Byron S. Hollinshead, chairman president of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, will open the platform program at 2:30 p.m., followed by an invocation by Dr. Virgil M. Hancher, president of the State University of Iowa. "We Welcome Him," a song written by Dr. J. A. Swisher of the State Historical society, will be sung by Forest E. Brown, graduate student from West Branch.

A survey of the birthplace history and future plans will be presented by Dr. W. J. Petersen, superintendent of the State Historical society of Iowa.

Among the gift presentations will be souvenir horseshoes forged by Hoover's father, Jesse Hoover, which will be presented to Hoover and his two sons, Herbert Jr. and Allan. The horseshoes mounted on hardwood plaques will be presented by William B. Anderson, president of the Herbert Hoover Birthplace society on behalf of the West Branch community.

An honorary Doctor of Humanities will be conferred upon the former chief executive by Dean John A. Fisher, Coe College, Cedar Rapids.

Gov. Robert D. Blue of Iowa will give the introduction to Hoover's address at 2:55 p.m.

Among the notables invited to attend the birthday celebration are Governor and Mrs. Blue, Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert L. Larson, Secretary of State and Mrs. Rollo Bergeson, the Honorable and Mrs. T. G. Garfield and the Honorable and Mrs. J. E. Mulrone of the Iowa Supreme court, L. Gov. and Mrs. Sioux F. Grigsby, of South Dakota and Director of Revenue and Mrs. Paul C. Rosenquist of Illinois.

Also invited to attend were presidents of all Iowa colleges, members of the board of curators and their wives and several industrial magnates.

The Hoover party will leave Tuesday evening for the east.

Dean Ladd Says Nation's Structure Based on Questions

The entire structure of our nation is based on the cross examination principle used by lawyers in the law of evidence, Dean Mason Ladd of the college of law said yesterday.

Explaining "What the Rules of Evidence Mean to You," Ladd addressed the Masonic luncheon group at the Masonic temple.

"That's why we have two political parties," he said. "One party serves as a check against the other."

When one party is in power, the other group criticizes and tries to point out means of correcting the policies of the other, he explained.

"Out of this process we get a 'testing' that gives security to our society."

He contrasted this system to the principles of Russia where the people are required to "accept" rather than question the governmental policy.

In the United States, he said, "Everything that is done is subjected to testing to bring out the truth and guide us on lines that are more nearly right."

Assured of Large Turnout for Trial

Almost 10 percent of the population of Oxford is scheduled to appear in police court Monday as witnesses at a trial.

Twenty-one subpoenas were issued Tuesday by Police Judge Emil Trott for witnesses for the state and 30 more are to be issued for witnesses for the defendant, Joseph Kinney, Oxford, charged with disturbing the peace.

The trial will be at 8 a.m. Monday in the council chambers of the city hall.

Farm Bureau To Hold Picnic at Park Today

Games and contests including a grandpa bottle filling contest and a grandma bubble gum contest will open the Farm Bureau picnic at 10:30 a.m. today in City park.

The program will continue with a picnic dinner at noon and an address by Prof. H.W. Saunders on "Rural Communities and Rural Schools" at 1 p.m.

A soft ball game at 2 p.m. will pit the 4-H all-stars against the Farm Bureau adults. The 4-H girls will play the second game of the soft ball doubleheader at 3 p.m.

McGrath To Speak At Regis in Denver

Dean Earl J. McGrath of the college of liberal arts left yesterday for Denver, Colo., where he will speak today on the Regis college campus.

McGrath will address an institute for Jesuit college undergraduates and assistant deans of the United States.

Glacier Bound—Start for Wyoming

Mountaineers on Way West

Thirty-seven Iowa Mountaineers piled into two canvas-covered trucks at 7:20 last night and began their 1,500 mile trip across Iowa, Nebraska and Wyoming to the largest glacier fields in the continental United States.

Five more Mountaineers will board the trucks when they pass through Des Moines today, and ten others, traveling in their own cars, will meet the group in Burris, Wyoming, where the Mountaineers will leave the trucks and load their equipment onto pack horses.

The pack horses will take the mountaineers nine miles over roadless, pathless mountain-country to their camp.

Thirteen women went along on this year's outing to Wyoming's Wind River Ranges which stretch across the continental divide.

The Mountaineers planned to arrive in Guthrie Center at midnight last night where they said they would sleep in the city park. Tonight, they will unroll their sleeping bags on the wide open spaces near the Nebraska-Wyoming border. The Mountaineers hope to arrive at their destination, Burris, Wyoming, tomorrow evening.

The mountaineers plan to return Aug. 26.

Kuever To Attend Pharmacy Parleys

Dean R. A. Kuever of the college of pharmacy will leave today by plane for San Francisco to attend the conventions of the American association of colleges of pharmacy and the American Pharmaceutical association.

Both groups will open their conventions there next week.

Kuever is a member of the committee on enrollment limitation and committee on professional relations. Both committees are scheduled to report.

Prof. Louis C. Zopf of the college of pharmacy will also attend the conventions. Zopf is secretary of the American association of colleges of pharmacy.

They will return to Iowa City Thursday.

UPHOLD OCCUPATIONAL TAX — FRANKMURT (AP)—The court of appeals, Kentucky's highest tribunal, yesterday upheld the city of Louisville's new occupational tax of one percent on wages, salaries and earnings.

Cross-Appeal Filed by State In University Property Case

C. of C. Reviews 1949 City Budget For 'Familiarization'

A special committee of the Iowa City chamber of commerce Thursday night reviewed the 1949-1950 city budget at a meeting in the chamber's office.

Robert Gage, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said that the purpose of the meeting was to familiarize the chamber with the budget, not to find fault with the budget. He emphasized that the review is very commonplace in chamber of commerce procedure.

Members of the committee participating were Horace Stuck, chairman, C. R. McCann, Mayor Preston Koser and City solicitor William Bartley. Other members of the committee not present at the meeting were Vern Capen and Bruce E. Mahan, dean of SUI's extension division.

The next meeting was tentatively set for next Tuesday. City Clerk George Dohrer probably will be invited to the meeting to help explain aspects of the budget.

The State of Iowa yesterday filed a cross-appeal at the Johnson county district court in a suit started by Celia Carson and involving part of the University of Iowa campus.

Represented by Arthur Left, attorney, the state appeal said the action was taken "for the purpose of not being bound by the rulings and determination of law by the trial court adverse to the defendant."

The statement referred to a ruling handed down by Judge James P. Gaffney in July. Although finding for the defendant (State of Iowa), Gaffney ruled that the city council in 1890 in deeding the land to the state acted illegally and the state legislature, in approving the action, acted illegally.

After hearing the case in district court, Gaffney awarded the case to the state on the basis of estoppel, saying the citizens of Iowa City had relinquished any claim to the land because they had allowed the state to occupy and improve the property.

Gaffney also ruled that Mrs. Carson and the persons in whose behalf she began the suit had no right to the property west of East hall on the university campus.

Earlier this week, Mrs. Carson's attorney, Dan C. Dutcher, filed an appeal to the state supreme court of the Gaffney ruling.

Funeral Wednesday For Sgt. J. Shimon

Funeral services for Sgt. Joseph J. Shimon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Shimon, 928 E. Davenport street, will be held Wednesday at 9 a. m. in St. Wenceslaus church.

Shimon died July 24, 1943, while serving with the army in Sicily. His body will arrive in Iowa City Tuesday morning.

The rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Hohenschuh mortuary. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. Graveside services will be conducted by the local American Legion post.

Surviving Sergeant Shimon beside his parents are two brothers, Vernal and Francis, Iowa City; two nieces and four nephews.

Pool Fund Grows As $27 Is Added

The Iowa City swimming pool fund climbed $27 closer to the $12,500 goal yesterday bringing the total collected to $10,309.91, the Community Dads announced.

The contributions yesterday came from the business district, making the total from that source $3,812.91.

William Grandrath, publicity chairman of the Dads drive, said yesterday that the committee in charge of the drive had sent letters to the towns surrounding Iowa City asking for returns on their drives for the local pool.

The totals from other phases of the county-wide drive are $3,395 from the lodges and organizations, $2,881 from the residential area, $166 from surrounding towns and $55 in other contributions.

Police Warn Cyclists: Obey the Laws, or...

The Iowa City police department issued a warning to local bicycle riders yesterday.

The department warned cyclists that they are not to ride double, they are not to ride without lights at night and they are not to ride on the sidewalks in the business district.

Police said they have had numerous complaints about careless riders and will begin picking up those who disobey the law.

To Test New Directional Range at Airport

The civil aeronautics commission station at the Iowa City airport will be testing a new high frequency omni-directional range in the near future.

The new range, which aids aircraft navigation, has an estimated value of $50,000. It will have 30 directional "beams," instead of four as the present system has.

The present system will not be completely replaced for about two years.
