Hoover Says We're 'Fuzzy' About America

Former President in Birthday Celebration During Homecoming

By ROBERT P. SCHMIDT
WEST BRANCH—Herbert C. Hoover, native son of this Quaker village, accused Americans of "fuzzy-mindedness" in their understanding of what the word America means yesterday in his homecoming birthday address here.

The gray-haired former president celebrating his 74th birthday and 20th anniversary in the same month that he opened his campaign for the presidency in West

Branch, added that it is those "moral and spiritual qualities in free men which fulfill the meaning of the word American."

While he spent the greater part of his speech on his boyhood and Quaker upbringing in West Branch, Hoover managed to punctuate his speech with clever anecdotes that prompted ripples of laughter from the 20,000 spectators attending the picnic. The speech was broadcast over the Mutual and Tall Corn network and several other regional stations.

The only living former president and only chief executive from west of the Mississippi delivered his speech from an improvised speakers' platform only a stone's throw from the humble cottage where he was born. The platform was decked with corn stalks and shocks of wheat. Hoover spoke into a cluster of microphones framed on either side by the national banner and the Iowa state standard.

Several comments reflecting his "rugged individualism" crept into his speech. Relating his humble frugal upbringing and the joys and sorrows of his boyhood, Hoover said his "social security had come from the family cellar, not from the federal government," and the crowd applauded mightily.

Apparently impressed by the many gifts and tributes paid him, Hoover had difficulty with the first part of the speech, paused after a few minutes, coughed loudly and then proceeded.

Members of the Hoover family who accompanied him to West Branch, and wife and daughter, Joan, 18; Mrs. Allan Hoover and son, Allan Jr., 9. The party arrived about 11 a. m. at the home where Hoover was born.

Hoover stepped from the car and entered the humble birthplace, pausing a few moments at the bedroom before leaving the house.

A meeting of the board of trustees of the Herbert Hoover Birthplace society followed immediately. The board discussed the improvement of the 27-acre addition to the birthplace grounds, the erection of a Quaker meeting house to serve as a museum for antiques representative of Hoover's boyhood days in West Branch, and the restoration of a blacksmith shop, a replica of the shop operated by Jesse Hoover, his father.

Also discussed were plans for creating a national park of the grounds, a state grove with 48 trees, one for each state in the union, and a county grove with 99 trees for as many counties in Iowa.

Fried Chicken Dinner
At noon Hoover lunched on fried chicken, potato salad, fresh corn off the cob, cottage cheese, sliced tomatoes, pickled beets and eggs, apple sauce and birthday cake. The ladies of the Methodist church served the dinner to about 110 guests.

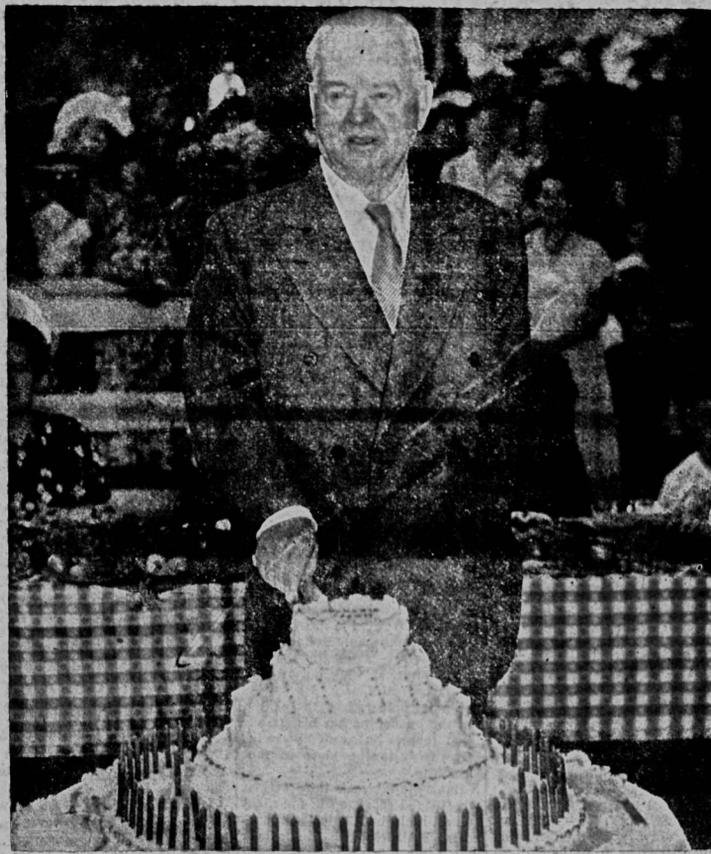

Several times during the meal friends interrupted Hoover to pay him birthday wishes while the crowd pressing around the table frequently broke into "Happy Birthday" melodies.

Brooks in Brook

Bob Brooks, former sports announcer for WSUI, now with KCRG, gave a special performance for the thousands of picnickers at the Hoover birthday celebration yesterday.

Attempting to hurdle the Wapsinoc creek which runs through the grounds, Brooks tripped over a telephone wire and landed with a big splash in the creek. Soaking wet, he struggled out of the creek amid laughs from the crowd and hastened off for a change of clothes.

FORMER PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER and his birthday cake with 74 red candles. Hoover was very nonchalant about the cake cutting ceremony in West Branch yesterday and made several slices in the pastry for the benefit of photographers. An estimated 20,000 persons attended Hoover's birthday party and honored the former chief executive on his return to his home town. One visitor, Mrs. William A. Smith of Dubuque, brought Hoover another cake because, she said, "he was born in the same county as I was."

Moscow Talks Reach 'Grim, Tough' Phase

LONDON (P)—Diplomatic sources reported last night that the fateful east-west talks in Moscow have reached the grim, tough bargaining stage with each side set to wrest the maximum in concessions.

British informants said establishment of a broad basis for four-power talks on all Germany has been held up by failure to hammer out a formula for settlement of the immediate problem of Berlin.

A Russian diplomatic informant close to the Soviet embassy complained the western powers went into the Kremlin "and offered exactly nothing."

The blackout on official news from the Moscow meetings still prevailed, but it was apparent the British foreign office felt the world would know the outcome by the end of the week.

The western diplomats conferred again in Moscow after Monday night's meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

British sources said there will be further meetings at the Kremlin, with the next one seeking to bridge the gap between eastern and western plans for restoring order in Berlin's chaotic currency situation and lifting the Soviet blockade of the city.

Patient at U. Hospital Believed Tick Victim

CENTERVILLE (P)—Miss Mary Caster, 45, of near Exline, was taken to University hospital at Iowa City yesterday suffering from an illness diagnosed as tick fever.

It was believed to be the second case of tick fever in Iowa this year.

The diagnosis was made by Dr. R. R. Edwards Monday. Miss Caster, who made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Steele near Exline, had been ill about 10 days. She was accompanied to Iowa City by Mrs. Goldie Dotson, a sister.

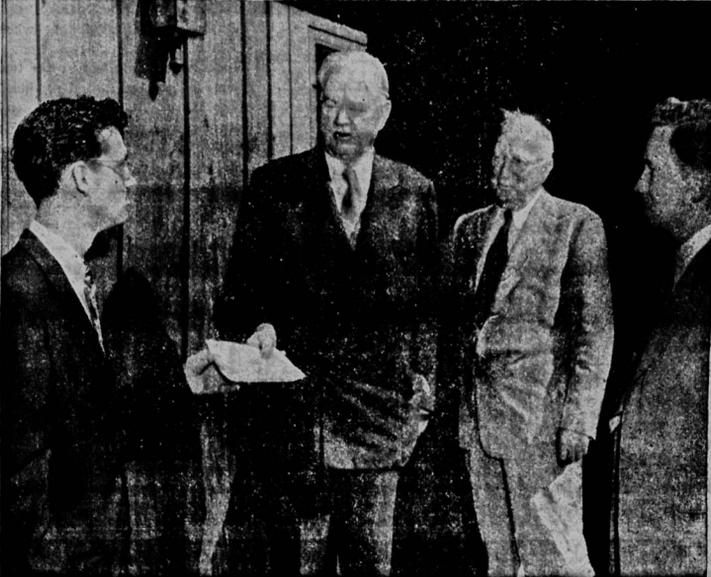

Dr. Edwards said Miss Caster told him she had found a tick on her body about 10 days ago. The doctor said she was "quite critically ill."

Committee Proposes Transfer of Control Of Guard to Army

WASHINGTON (P)—Congress should take the national guard away from the states and give it to the army so it can get into action quicker, a defense department committee said yesterday.

It proposed to combine the guard with the army's organized reserves; and the air national guard with the air reserve of the air force.

And it suggested that the states, in losing their control of the guard units, be allowed to organize local military units for internal security, trained and equipped by the armed forces.

All this was dumped into the lap of the Defense Secretary Forrestal by the so-called Gray board. Forrestal said it would be looked over by the secretaries of the army, navy and air force before any recommendation is made to congress.

The board was set up last November by Forrestal under Assistant Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray to recommend what should be done about all civilian reserve units of the armed forces.

The committee took notes of what is called two obstacles to quick mobilization of the guard:

1. Inability of the government to use the guard for federal purposes until congress formally declares a national emergency.

2. Time-consuming re-transfer of property and equipment from the states to the federal government.

The guard and reserves "are not now capable of participating effectively in major combat operations on M-day," the report said.

The adjutant general for Iowa said yesterday that "we of the national guard . . . will fight to the last ditch" the proposed annexation of the guard to the army's organized reserves.

"We are very definitely opposed to the proposal," Brig. Gen. Charles H. Grahl told a newsman. Gen. Grahl is with the 34th infantry division in summer field training at Camp Riley, Kan.

Gen. Grahl said the national guard historically is bound up with state activities.

"We will fight the plan through congress. I think there are enough former governors in congress to defeat it. I am confident all the states will join hands in fighting this thing," Gen. Grahl said.

House Investigating Committee Subpoenas Samarin and Wife

WASHINGTON (P)—Defying Russia's bitter objections, the house un-American activities committee yesterday slapped witness subpoenas on two Soviet citizens for its Communist spy hearings.

A third remained in the Soviet consulate in New York, but subject to possible subpoena if she emerges.

Somewhere in the U. S. A., committee agents handed orders to a 43-year-old mathematics teacher, Michael Ivanovitch Samarin, and his wife, who dropped out of sight after he sought an interview with the FBI Sunday. The committee hopes they can aid its inquiry into stories of Communist intrigue.

Committee Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) said the subpoenas were served but didn't say where. Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin has demanded of the state department that Samarin be delivered to Soviet officials for return to Russia. The department has politely declined.

Soviet Appeals

In New York, the Soviet consulate appealed to police to find Samarin. But at the consulate, efforts of the same police to interview the third Russian citizen in the case, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, met with failure.

The state department informed Thomas' committee that it could subpoena Mrs. Kosenkina if it can reach her, but that it can't enter the consulate without a warrant. And a warrant could be issued only if there were a suspicion that some crime was committed in the consulate.

Teacher 'Rescued'

Mrs. Kosenkina, 52, and like Samarin a teacher of children of Russian diplomats, sprang into the case last Saturday when she was "rescued" by the Russian consul from White Russians (anti-Communists) at a colony near New York. The committee would like to ask her what she knows about Communist operations in this country.

In the house committee hearing room itself, three more men who were wartime government officials denied accusations by Elizabeth D. Bentley that they had given her information while she was a courier for Soviet agents.

Deny Charges

William Ludwig Ullman, with the government from 1935 to 1946 in various agencies, called her a liar.

Duncan Lee, 33-year-old former operative for the office of strategic services, suggested she isn't rational.

Robert T. Miller, formerly in the office of coordinator of inter-American affairs and the state department, said she didn't ask him for information. He denied he ever was a Communist and so did Lee.

But Ullman refused to say whether he ever was a Communist, or

See Record Crops, Possible Reductions In Spiraling Prices

WASHINGTON (P)—Farmers are on a record-smashing food production spree which may help bring down the spiraling cost of living.

An agriculture department report on crop conditions as of Aug. 1 predicted yesterday that total production this year will top any other year—including the big war years—by 6 percent.

Record Corn Crop

In this astonishing volume is a prospective record corn crop. This means, officials said, that in time there will probably be a downturn in prices of meats, dairy and poultry products—now the chief worries of budget-pinned housewives.

A big assist was given by the weatherman. The department said unusually favorable weather in July—including "ideal corn weather" in the midwest—boosted the indicated production slightly more than 4 percent.

Other Good Forecasts

This picture of future abundance included forecasts of the second largest wheat crop on record plus crops of soy beans, rice, peanuts and pecans.

Corn was the big news of the report. This crop was put at 3,506,000,363 bushels—an increase of 177,501,000 bushels over a month ago, and a boost of 256,050,363 over the previous record of 3,249,950,000 in 1946.

Corn is the major raw material in producing meats, dairy and poultry products. The report indicated this year's big crop will be supplemented by a large volume of other feed grains and materials to create perhaps a new surplus.

Record Iowa Crop

In Des Moines a 1948 corn yield of 646,140,000 bushels—the biggest in history—was forecast yesterday for Iowa.

The forecast was based on Aug. 1 conditions and the Iowa crop and livestock reporting service added:

"Growth factors are favorable for maintaining the present excellent corn prospects excepting in the northeastern part of the state where more moisture is now in demand."

A per acre yield of 60 bushels was indicated for Iowa. This would equal the 1942 yield.

The record corn prospect for Iowa was the largest of any state in the nation.

Cafes in Kentucky Join Meat Boycott

LOUISVILLE, KY. (P)—More than 300 restaurants here will cooperate with a group of housewives who have instituted a meat boycott, it was announced yesterday by Carl B. Kaelin, vice-president of the Louisville Restaurant Association.

Kaelin said the association met on request of the housewives who have organized to combat the high price of meat. He said the restaurants had been asked to refrain from serving meat courses for the duration of the boycott, but the association decided against that.

"As public institutions, the restaurants can't refuse a customer in this manner," he said.

"Instead, we'll go back to the meatless Tuesday system we had during the war."

Tobin Deciding on Labor Post Offer

Russ Reject Trieste Plan

LAKE SUCCESS (P)—Russia yesterday rejected a United States demand that Trieste be given back to Italy and accused the western powers of creating a German-patterned Bizonia in the Adriatic free territory.

Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik told the security council that 21 nations had ratified the Italian peace treaty and any move to revise it was "unacceptable" to the Soviet Union. Britain and France support the American demand.

Malik said the U. S. and Britain were trying to sabotage the treaty and following the same policy of dismemberment used in Germany. What they are doing, he added, is creating a Bizonia in Trieste and annexing it to Italy.

Malik then backed Yugoslavia's charges that the UN and Britain have violated the treaty in the administration of their zone. The western powers promptly denied the allegations with American Delegate Philip C. Jessup accusing Marshal Tito of trying to annex the internationalized territory to Yugoslavia.

Cleveland Holds Slim Lead After Streak Is Snapped, 7-3

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Feller went down to his 13th defeat of the season here yesterday. Young Ted Gray snapped the Cleveland Indians' three-game winning streak, pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 7 to 3 victory.

Gray gave up all of the Indians' four hits and struck out 10 men in the 7½ innings he worked before Art Houtteman finished for the Tigers, fanning two more.

Pat Mullin's 15th home run, one of four hits the Tigers lunched in the fifth, produced three runs and pinned the loss on Feller. It was Detroit's third victory over Feller this year and the second time a homer by Mullin scored the runs that whipped him.

Johnny Lipon also homered for the Tigers but it was after Don Black had come on in to serve up the last two of Detroit's 10 hits.

New York Giants Have Nothing on Senior Chamber

Jaycees Swamped by Oldsters

By TOM MAHONEY The slugging New York Giants had nothing on the senior chamber of commerce last night, as the oldsters unlimbered their big bats for 28 hits, swamping the Jaycees, 25-3.

By winning the fifth annual game, the senior chamber retained the treasured "Ye Olde Gobboon." The win marked the second straight win for the seniors after losing the first three of the series.

The old men had it over the kids from the beginning when the senior chamber slammed five hits for five runs to rain the lead 5-2. From then on the Jaycees couldn't reach the winners.

Trying to pick a star from the crowd that played last night would be like looking for the proverbial needle in a haystack.

The old men proved that even though they may have rust in their joints, they have power in their bats. They out-hit the junior outfit, 28 to five.

The game was a pretty good example of how not to play ball, if the errors made in the game mean anything. The scorekeeper, Rev. D. G. Hart, could be called the hero of the night because he kept no record of the errors (no adding machine handy) and the teams can go down as playing spottless ball.

The Jaycees used every trick, and some twice, that they could think of to capture the victory for themselves. About six grapefruit were thrown by Jaycee pitchers during the game with the majority of them being smashed to bits by the surprised senior chamber players.

With cries of "pro" floating down onto the field from the several hundred persons present, senior chamber pitcher Steve Ordos fanned the Jaycees right and left. His pitching was so effective that in the first half of the fifth inning his entire team sat down and watched him fan the third man that frame.

Racing Cars Arrive For Soap Box Derby

AKRON, O. (AP) — Delicately balanced little racing cars began arriving by air yesterday for the 11th running of the all-American soap-box derby next Sunday.

A freight plane left Minneapolis yesterday, picking up ten cars in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

Derby officials reported the entry list was 148, after several cities cancelled their entries because of polio epidemics in their areas. Among the cancellations was San Diego's Gilbert Klecan, who won the 1946 championship.

Americans Given Relay Win

Unanimous Decision From Olympic Jury

By GAYLE TALBOT LONDON (AP) — America's sprint relay team—and Little Barney Ewell—won complete vindication yesterday when an Olympic jury of appeal decided unanimously that they won Saturday's 400-meter final fair and square.

After viewing still and motion pictures of the disputed race, the international body said it was satisfied that an error had been made in calling a foul on Ewell, the first American runner.

It ordered that the American team be credited with the victory with Britain second and Italy third.

In sustaining a vigorous protest lodged by Coach Dean Cromwell immediately after the race was run before 84,000 spectators, the jury found that Ewell had passed the baton to Lorenzo Wright, second American runner, well within the 20-meter change-over zone.

Ewell Gets His Medal Ewell, 30-year-old veteran from Lancaster, Pa., has been denying bitterly for three days that he delayed too long in passing the stick. The little Negro was heartsick at not getting the Olympic gold medal that he had trained for 10 years to win. He will get it now.

The American team, with Harrison Dillard running a sensational third lap and Mel Patton finishing strongly, hit the tape seven or eight yards ahead of the British. The great crowd was stunned when some 15 minutes later, the Union Jack was hoisted up the Olympic flag pole.

Shortly after the reversal was announced yesterday, the press was given a special showing of the film. The verdict was virtually unanimous that Ewell had let go of the baton like it was a hot brick at least a full stride before he hit the line marking the end of the change-over.

Official Judged Wrong Avery Brundage, president of the U. S. Olympic committee, and a member of the jury, said, "It was quite clear that we exchanged the baton two or three yards inside the marker."

"The official apparently had judged by the middle line and not the outside line, just as the boys told me last Saturday," he continued. "It was quite plain, although we had to run the film through several times in order to convince everyone."

"We are glad to put it right," said Lord Burghley, British chairman of the Olympic organizing committee. "There was no doubt from viewing the films that the baton was properly passed. There is no question that the second man had it securely before he left the exchange zone. The better team won."

Eleven Horses In Hambletonian Race

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP) — The luck of the draw put the favored Demon Hanover in the fourth post position — a favorable spot — for the Hambletonian classic at good time track today.

Eleven of the nation's finest trotters will shoot for a gross purse of $59,941, third largest in the history of the event. The winner is to get 55 per cent or $32,500. A record of around 20,000 is expected to jam the stands overlooking the kite-shaped track.

Names of the 11 horses were taken from the entry box after several owners had declared their charges out for one reason or another.

The main reason, of course, was Demon Hanover, the classy colt owned by Harrison Hoyt, the Connecticut amateur driver seeking to become the first simon-pure ever to guide a winner around good time's dusty turns in America's great sulky derby.

The Hambletonian is decided on the best two-out-of-three mile heats, with the first heat scheduled for 1 p.m. (CST) post time.

Rollo, owned by the Coldstream Stud of Lexington, Ky., got the No. 2 position. The veteran Driver Tom Berry, a two-time Hambletonian winner, smiled as he drew the good location.

With the sulkeys spreading over the track at the starting barrier, only eight horses can go from the first line, and the other three must take off in a second row, to some disadvantage.

Two of the prime contenders, Egan Hanover and Madison Hanover, were relegated to the rear starting row.

The triumph moved Boston past the Yanks into third place in the torrid American league race, two games behind the league-leading Cleveland Indians and runner-up Philadelphia Athletics. The Yanks, in fourth slot, are half a game behind the Red Sox.

Tex Hughson, who relieved Jack Kramer, was credited with his third win although he only faced DiMaggio and Larry Berra who made the last out.

Giants Tighten NL Flag Race by Beating Braves BOSTON (AP) — The fourth place New York Giants tightened up the National league pennant race last night by defeating the pace-setting Braves 6-5 before 32,931 fans. It was a painful loss for Nelson Potter, American league refugee who hurled fine ball, and was the victim of some shoddy fielding by his mates.

Hoover's Boast Started Football at Stanford

People hereabouts have been reading and hearing quite a bit about the birthday celebration of Herbert Hoover at West Branch yesterday. The 31st president of the United States spent his 74th birthday being honored at his birthplace.

Undoubtedly there are a number of local people who don't recall that Hoover also had a finger in the sports world many long years ago.

Leland Stanford university was founded in California in 1885 and soon after Hoover began his college education there. Then the unknown boy was full of athletic ambitions. He was an excellent shortstop in baseball and loved the game of football, although he never really played the sport.

But Stanford was sadly lacking in an athletic program to satisfy the youth. As was true of many colleges at that early date, the school had no football team. There was some competition in other sports but Hoover had his thoughts riveted on the gridiron.

During the same period the University of California, at nearby Berkeley, was the top gun in football on the Pacific coast. The Golden Bears were "it" in the top collegiate sport and many of the coast schools were afraid to schedule them.

Then one day Hoover happened to be with a few California students and football players in Berkeley. The topic of discussion varied on many subjects and then settled on football. Naturally the big university boys gloated about their prowess on the gridiron and it got under Hoover's skin.

Then it happened. The loyal Stanford student told the Californians they weren't so good — in fact, Stanford could easily field a team which would lick their pants off. And what's more, he, Herbert Hoover, was challenging them to a game.

That became the joke of the California campus. Little Stanford university thought it could beat the mighty Golden Bears! Hoover was the butt of the whole joke.

He called upon all the brawn of students who looked as if they could play the game. After their practice had progressed sufficiently, Hoover told them he was going to challenge California. They all liked the idea, never dreaming the Bears would accept it.

But to and behold, they did. A game was scheduled for one month from that day. Hoover really went to work then, trying to teach his teammates all the football he knew — he could have put his knowledge of the grid sport on his thumbnail.

As the game drew near, Hoover wasn't good enough to make the team himself. But he was the head coach, trainer, water boy and all the other necessary jobs. He even sold tickets prior to the contest.

Then came the game. It will probably go down in football history as one of the biggest upsets of all time. Yes, Stanford won — much to the amazement of even Herbert Hoover himself. He had made his boast good and California was embarrassed indeed over the joke the students had thought so funny.

Stanford continued football from that time on, becoming one of the nation's best in later years. In fact, much of Stanford's publicity came from its many fine football teams.

Herbert Hoover was quickly forgotten. The boy who had yearned to be a great athlete never realized his ambitions. The world of sports never really knew him but the United States will never forget him in the world of politics.

Kiner Hammers No. 29 As Pirates Down Cubs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ralph Kiner punched out his 29th home run of the season last night as the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 1, behind the seven-hit pitching of Hal Gregg.

Phil Cavaretta homered in the seventh for the only Cub run. The win was the second of the season against three losses for Gregg who made his first start since June.

Three Pirate double plays helped keep Gregg out of trouble. The Pirates teed off on Bob Rush in the first inning when Kiner got his two-run homer.

Four successive singles after two were out in the second produced two more Pittsburgh tallies and blasted Rush from the mound. He sustained his tenth loss of the year.

Youngsters Play Parts

"Ladeez and genulmen! The circus will start in a minute or two. Until we can get started you can buy peanuts and balloons!"

That was the opening statement, accompanied by a stirring-recorded march, at the Daredevil benefit circus at 911 Iowa avenue last night.

The thrilling display of wild animals, tight rope walkers and bareback riders was planned, promoted and performed by Karen and Peety Clark, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Rush Clark, 14 South Governor; and Tommy and Margy Knott, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Knott, 911 Iowa avenue. The Clark children are nine and six-years-old respectively, and Tommy and Margy Knott are six and five-years old respectively.

The circus, which took several days to plan, was performed in Knott's backyard at 7 p.m. yesterday. According to Tommy, ringmaster, lion tamer and tight-rope walker. "We got together the other afternoon and wondered how we could get money for the swimming pool."

The result of that meeting was an agreement between the Knott and the Clark youngsters that a circus would be the best means of earning money. They took the idea to their mothers who helped make costumes, typed advertising posters and served as dressing room attendants during the show. Admission price to the one ring exhibition was 10 cents for adults, five cents for children and all youngsters under the age of three were admitted free.

The total proceeds at the last counting were $5.45. That included the sale of peanuts, lemonade and balloons. The money will be given to the Community Dads for the swimming pool fund.

Amid the popping of balloons and the cries of peanut hucksters Billy Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Scott, 923 Iowa avenue and Pete Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stark, 943 Iowa avenue, the ringmaster, wearing top hat, cutaway coat, mustache and carrying a whip, called out the first act. "Ta Ta Raanaa!" went the brass section of the scratchy phonograph band and two performers in sparkling tights pranced out to display feats of courage on the tightrope. Peety, in the character of

HIS "TAMED LIONS" POISED ON THE TUB; Ringmaster Tommy Knott took the applause of the audience last night when the Daredevils circus presented their show at 911 Iowa avenue. Raising money for the Iowa City swimming pool fund, the circus had a full complement of lions "imported from Africa," acrobats, aerialists and even a strong man.

"Atlas, the Strong Man," lifted a 5,000 pound iron bar above his head with one hand and received thunderous applause for the feat. When the performers took too long in the dressing room the change for the next act, the ringmaster would whoop up the sales of balloons and peanuts, and once he came out and gave a little talk on the urgency of pulling rag-weeds. To make his point emphatic, he brought a ragweed with him and demonstrated how the lecherous plant should be dealt with.

Asks for Divorce In Suit Filed Here

Charging cruel and inhuman treatment, Gwynneth Bockenstedt of Decatur county yesterday filed a suit for divorce from Paul J. Bockenstedt of Iowa City at the Johnson county district court. She asked $75 judgment for alimony and support, interest in real estate owned by the couple and permission to resume her maiden name, Mortimore.

The divorce petition stated that the couple was married Oct. 5, 1946 in Kansas City, Mo., and separated May 31, 1948.

Sen. Bridges Acts To Deprive Ewing Of Government Cook

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Bridges (R-NH) acted yesterday to deprive federal security administrator Oscar R. Ewing of the government cook who had been preparing his lunches.

A senate appropriations subcommittee heard testimony last week that Neaser J. Kelly, $3,200-a-year cook, at St. Elizabeth's Mental hospital, a government institution, had been assigned to Ewing on a part-time basis to prepare his noon meals.

Bridges, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, wrote Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren that the General Accounting office had approved the transfer of funds which enabled the FSA to pay for Kelly's services.

But he said there is nothing in the official records of the transaction to show that Kelly was assigned to Ewing "for the purpose of cooking the administrator's noonday meals and the meals of the guests he might care to invite."

"In the judgment of the senate committee on appropriations this is a practice which is absolutely improper and which tends to circumvent the will of the congress in matter of granting appropriations," Bridges told Warren in a letter which he made public.

Truman Signs Housing Bill, Raps It as 'Short of Needs'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday signed a housing bill designed to make it easier to finance low-cost homes but rapped the measure as falling far short of what the country needs.

Blasting the Republican-controlled congress for "deliberate neglect" of people most in need of adequate housing, the President said he signed the "emasculated measure" only because it was better than nothing.

He had asked the special session to pass the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill containing provisions for low-rent public housing, slum clearance and aids for farm housing.

But congress ignored the government-financed projects listed in the T-E-W bill and passed a substitute measure offered by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis).

This is what the housing bill, now law, will do:

1. It will permit the federal housing administration to guarantee loans made to states, municipalities and non-profit corporations building rental housing.
2. Authorize the FHA to insure an additional $800,000,000 worth of mortgage loans on large-scale rental units where the cost for a family unit is not over $9,000.
3. Make it simpler for builders of pre-fabricated houses to get loans.
4. Speed building of housing projects by permitting builders to get 88 percent insured mortgage loans on projects of at least 25 homes costing $6,300 or less each.
5. On houses costing $6,300 or less, it will authorize government insurance on 95 percent buyers' loans and 90 percent builders' loans.
6. Permit government loans on veterans' cooperatives, boosting the allowable cost from $1,350 per room to $8,100 a unit. There is an alternate ceiling of $1,800 per room.
7. Authorize 90 percent loans on non-veterans cooperatives.
8. Guaranteeing up to 10 percent loans on constructions, mainly in rural and semi-rural areas, of homes costing not more than $4,500. The present ceiling is $3,000.
9. Permit banks to sell on to the government as much as 50 percent of their GI and FHA insured mortgages acquired after April 30, 1948. The earlier limit was only 25 percent.

Mayor Koser Says 'Too Much Noise' By Wedding Parties

In the future, noisy fast driving wedding parties will be brought into Iowa City police court and charges filed, according to a warning issued yesterday by Mayor Preston Koser.

The mayor stopped two wedding parties himself Sunday afternoon and told them to remove cans and other noisemakers from their cars.

He said that too many of the celebrating wedding parties have been driving too fast, driving recklessly and disturbing the peace.

The mayor's main objections center around parties who continually drive around the business district without much caution. He also said that fast driving near the hospitals with horns honking must be stopped.

Iowa City ordinances under which wedding parties could be brought into court include disturbing the peace, disorderly conduct, speeding, reckless driving and excessive honking.

The city council last night held the second reading of the proposed ordinance authorizing the issuance of $50,000 in swimming pool bonds.

The meeting was held at 5:30 in the mayor's office. The third reading of the ordinance will be held tonight at 5:30.

The council also accepted the bid of L. A. Norton for the moving of a quonset hut from Riverside drive to the city property adjoining the city scales. Norton's bid was for $300. The building will be used to house city street equipment.

Five carrier salesmen for The Daily Iowan yesterday sold a special Hoover edition of the Iowan at West Branch.

Under the direction of Jack Frye, of the circulation department, the salesmen were, Tom Kent, 302 Richards street; Joe Howe, 205 Highland drive; Dean Kelsey, 625 S. Dodge street; Dick DeGowin, 1203 Friendly avenue and Pete Stark, 943 Iowa avenue.

Youth Groups, Bands Parade for Hoover on Birthday

Crowd of 20,000 Fills West Branch

Heading the 14 high school bands and numerous parading youth groups was the V.F.W. band from Cedar Rapids, twice state champions.

Boy Scouts Parade
A troop of Boy Scouts followed the band, and a unit of Dubuque Boy Scouts dressed as Indians and wearing breech cloths and feathered headgear war-danced along the parade route.

Hoover plaques were awarded to the V.F.W. official band of the parade, the Monticello high school band, which won first place in class B competition and the West Liberty band, which won first place in class C competition.

Dr. Byron S. Hollingshead, chairman president of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, opened the platform ceremonies at 2 p.m., 30 minutes prior to schedule time.

Good Weather
The huge crowd gathered before the speakers' platform appreciated the cloudy skies and cool breezes that flowed in off the fields.

Rose Marie Jun, Cedar Rapids, sang the national anthem, followed by an invocation by Virgil M. Hancher, president of the State University of Iowa.

A song "We Welcome Him," written by J. A. Swisher, of the state historical society of Iowa was sung by Forest Brown, G. West Branch baritone. William J. Petersen, superintendent of the State Historical Society of Iowa, gave a survey of the proposed plans for the development of the new 27-acre plot added to the birthplace grounds.

Notable Guests
Among the notable guests introduced were Attorney General and Mrs. Robert Larson, Secretary of State and Mrs. Rollo Bergeson, the Honorable and Mrs. T. G. Garfield, the Honorable and Mrs. J. E. Mulrooney, and the Honorable and Mrs. N. R. Hayes, all of the Iowa supreme court; state representative and Mrs. Tom Martin, Iowa City and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison E. Spangler, Spangler is GOP national committeeman.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hanford MacNider of Mason City. MacNider was minister to Canadian relief while Hoover was president. Mr. and Mrs. James S. Pittenger were there representing the state of Nebraska. Pittenger is secretary of state in Nebraska. From South Dakota came Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Sioux K. Grigsby.

Several Gifts
Among the presentations given Hoover were scrolls from various youth groups in America, horseshoes forged by Jesse Hoover and mounted on hardwood plaques, and a doctor of humanities degree conferred by Dean John A. Fisher, Coe college, Cedar Rapids.

Governor Robert D. Blue, who introduced Hoover, had car trouble outside Des Moines, faded the highway patrol and was brought to the celebration by Patrolman Hummel of Marengo. Special police headed by Police

GARBED AS INDIANS, a group of senior Boy Scouts from Dubuque danced back and forth across the streets of West Branch as they took part in the parade at the Hoover birthday celebration in West Branch yesterday. Twenty-five bands, drum and bugle corps and groups of boy scouts, girl scouts and 4-H members marched in the parade. In the background can be seen the three-room cottage in which Hoover was born.

Officer Ollie White of Iowa City were on hand and Lieutenant Day of the highway patrol directed the 15 highway patrolmen who handled traffic at the celebration.

The estimated 10,000 cars at the event plumed bumper bumper would form a chain extending from Iowa City to West Branch and back again. No traffic accidents were reported and the only injury incurred in connection with the celebration was a broken arm suffered by Mrs. Anders Pedersen, West Branch. She fell getting down from a chair on which she had been standing to watch the parade. Only one lost boy was reported but he quickly rejoined his parents.

Received Guests
After the platform ceremony Hoover received several hundred guests on the lawn of the caretaker's home. Before leaving for Cedar Rapids, Hoover and his son Allan stopped for a brief visit at the cemetery in West Branch where Hoover's father and mother are buried.

The former chief executive is en route to New York and then on to Washington to head a committee on reorganization of the executive branch of the federal government.

THE IOWA CITY MOOSE GRENADIERS drum and bugle corps passes in review before former president Herbert Hoover. The Iowa City group took part in the parade at ceremonies in West Branch yesterday celebrating Hoover's 74th birthday.

Presidential Hopefuls Plan Campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Campaign plans for four presidential tickets began taking shape yesterday. In the next few weeks, the nation's voters will be caught in the hot, test cross-fire of stump speaking in many a year.

President Truman was reported planning a train-plane swing around the country with Republican congress his chief target. His first major speech may be a bid for the labor vote. National chairman McGrath urged him yesterday to accept an invitation to speak at a labor day rally in Detroit. He said he is hopeful the President will agree.

Where to hit the Republicans, and what with, will concern another White House strategy conference around lunch time today. The President will talk with his running mate, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, and officers of a Truman-Barkley club.

Dewey To Set Dates
Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will return to Albany today from his Pawling, N. Y., farm to talk speaking dates with Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., GOP national chairman, and with the executive committee of the Young Republican National Federation.

Friends of the New Yorker meanwhile reported he may make a less ambitious campaign than Mr. Truman. They described him as so confident that he will be elected Nov. 2 as the first Republican president in 16 years that he may confine his vote appeal to fewer than ten major speeches.

This, of course, would not rule out the many informal rear platform appearances that are traditional with a presidential campaign.

From New York it was disclosed that Henry A. Wallace will open his Progressive party campaign formally on Aug. 21 at Bridgeport, Conn., rally. Wallace plans extensive tours in September and October.

The fifth presidential ticket swung into action with a statement by socialist Norman Thomas hitting at the recent special session of congress. He said the session, "with almost nothing done, reflects little credit on congress or the President. Republicans, Democrats and Dixiecrats all played politics with the people's interest."

President Truman Denies Reports of Rift with Marshall

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman denied yesterday that secretary of state Marshall had threatened to resign because of a difference of opinion over the American policy toward Israel.

The New York Star had published a story that the President and Marshall were split over American policy and that Marshall threatened to quit.

Charles G. Ross, Presidential press secretary, early in the day said the report "certainly is news to me" when told of it. Later, after checking with the President, he said the President flatly denied the story.

Michael McDermott, state department press officer, also said "I'm sure there's nothing in that, because there is no conflict between the President and Marshall."

The Star had said the President wanted to grant the Jewish state a loan, extend full legal recognition and sponsor Israeli membership in U.N.

McDermott told a news conference the United States is considering a $100,000,000 Export-Import bank loan to Israel. It would be used for economic development.

McDermott said the question of giving full legal recognition to Israel is also under study.

McDermott said the U.S. would "view sympathetically" any application from Israel for membership in the United Nations "under the charter."

His reference to the charter was taken to mean that the American government would require that the state of Israel should meet charter requirements for membership, the principal one being that a state must be "peace-loving."

McNamara Asks Suit Be Dismissed

The McNamara furniture company, 229 E. Washington street, yesterday filed an answer in the Johnson county district court in the suit by Rembrandt Lamp corporation of Chicago.

The answer claimed that the McNamara company sent a check for $187.89 to the lamp company for goods received and that the check was accepted, endorsed and deposited in a Chicago bank, Feb. 4, 1948.

The answer asked that the lamp corporation's suit, seeking $54.21 judgment be dismissed.
