

Kills Self With Dynamite

HOPKINS, MINN (UP) — John Roushar, 68-year-old farmer, killed himself near his home here yesterday by lying on 56 sticks of dynamite and detonating the pile. Coroner Russell R. Heim said Roushar carried the dynamite to a field away from the house, removed his shoes and pants and lay on the heap of explosives.

Fear Armed Fight As Berlin Tension Grows

Marriage License Bureaus Swamped By Draft-Age Men

WASHINGTON (UP)—Business boomed at marriage license bureaus across the nation yesterday as hundreds of young men joined in a rush to beat the new peacetime draft.

Most major cities reported their license bureaus were "unseasonally" swamped by applications the first day following President Truman's order deferring husbands from the draft.

Most of the applicants, the bureaus said, were in the draft-age bracket—19 to 25.

Selective service officials here were philosophical about their potential manpower losses.

"Always Happens," said Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the draft.

"I suppose if you said all men who drank a certain kind of whiskey would be exempt from the draft there would be a lot of men drinking that kind of whiskey."

Then he added: "Oh, well, life goes on."

Six hundred young men—average age 22—lined up at the Brooklyn marriage license bureau. The bureau closed its doors an hour early after issuing licenses to 400 couples. Total at the bureau the same day a year ago was 114.

Swarms of young men converged on the license bureau in Minneapolis and forced the staff to work two hours beyond the normal quitting time. A city official said 65 licenses were granted compared with a daily average of 10.

He said license applications have been a "real headache ever since the President's announcement."

The Philadelphia bureau reported an "unseasonal" rush which produced 180 marriage applications. It was the bureau's second busiest day this year, topped only on June 12. Most of the prospective husbands, who were lined up four abreast at the peak of the rush, were between 19 and 25.

St. Louis also reported an upward surge in applications. License bureau employees worked for more than an hour after other city hall offices were closed.

Russian Soldiers Stab, Beat German Police in U. S. Sector

By EDWIN SHANKE

BERLIN (AP)—Russian soldiers beat and stabbed German police in the American sector of Berlin yesterday and American authorities expressed fear of a clash between occupation forces.

The Americans were seeking direct discussions with the Russians to arrange a truce between rival German police forces in the Soviet and western sectors.

Failing a settlement, an American spokesman said, "something might happen that will involve more than the Germans."

Talk in Street

Although attempts to reach high Russian officials were unsuccessful, two Russian officers told the U. S. deputy provost marshal in a street conference they would keep armed Soviet troops concentrated in central Berlin as long as the United States keeps military police there.

Yesterday, two American sector German policemen were attacked and carried off by the Russians. An official police announcement said the two men were accosted by "numerous" Russian soldiers who demanded they come along into the Soviet sector.

When they resisted, one was stabbed and the other knocked down with a rifle butt.

Clash Near Border

The incident occurred near the Anhalter railroad station in downtown Berlin, near the border between the American and Soviet sectors. Earlier, two other German police were kidnapped in the British sector. Five western sector police were kidnapped Friday. Of nine abducted in two days, three have escaped.

At least 20 western sector police have been seized since the police department was split by Russian refusal to accept dismissal of Moscow-trained Paul Markgraf as police chief. The dismissal was ordered by the anti-Communist city government.

Phone Russians

American officials telephoned Russian headquarters, seeking to arrange discussions to head off further violence which might lead to a clash between occupation forces. They were told the two top Russian commanders in Berlin were away for the weekend.

The international crossroads of Potsdamer platz, where the British, American and Soviet sectors meet, resembled an Armed camp yesterday.

Soviet soldiers, with tommyguns held at the ready, rode slowly along the square, just inside the Russian sector border. A few yards away military police stood by their vehicles.

Barbed Wire

Opposite them, the British have erected a barbed wire barricade. They also have painted a broad white line to mark the border and have erected new boundary signs in English, Russian and German. Behind the line, reinforced British military police units and British sector German police patrolled the street.

Strengthened American military police units were nearby. The western sector's police chief, Johannes Stumm, sent more of his men to the border zone.

The aggressive Russian tactics, in the British view, is an attempt to cause public confusion and turmoil in the hope of making the western allies' isolated position here untenable and so drive them out of the city.

Reuther Compares Wages and Prices

DETROIT (AP) — Walter Reuther said yesterday that automobile companies will collect nearly four times as much money under recent price increases as they will pay out in 1948 wage boosts.

The CIO united auto workers president said he based his statement on figures given out by the companies themselves.

Arizona Officials Arrest Woman Dressed as Man

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP)—Police yesterday announced the arrest in a downtown hotel of a 25-year-old woman who had posed for some years as a man under the name of Robert Stewart Nelson.

The woman wanted by Oakland, Calif., police on charges of grand theft.

When arrested Nelson was wearing woman's clothing.

Three SUI Artists Win First Awards In Iowa Art Show

DES MOINES (AP)—Twenty-nine Iowa artists—three from the University of Iowa—were named as prize-winners yesterday in the 1948 art salon show which will be on exhibit at the state fair.

The six classes in the exhibit were judged by Mrs. Katharine Kuh, associate-curator of painting and sculpture at the Chicago art institute.

The purchase prize winner of the 1948 show is Yvonne Turner, of Rockwell City, whose "Landscape" will be bought for $100. The painting will go to the Iowa department of public instruction.

Schulze Oil Wins

Three first places were awarded in the oil painting class. The winners are James Morrison, Des Moines; John Schulze, Iowa City, and Edith Sternfeld, Grinnell.

Schulze's prize-winning entry is a colorful expressionistic piece entitled "Fighting Cocks." Schulze is an art instructor at the State University of Iowa.

Miss Sternfeld's oil, "School Laundry," is brightly-colored realistic painting. She is head of the art department at Grinnell college.

All first-place winners in the oil division were awarded $40.

Albrizio Entry "Best"

Hailed by Mrs. Kuh as "the best single entry in the entire show," was a piece of sculpture called "Kneeling Figure" by Humbert Albrizio, Iowa City. It took first prize of $40 in the sculpture class.

Albrizio is head of the sculpture department at the State University of Iowa.

In the water color division, Jessie Loomis, Waterloo, won the $30 first prize for her "Snow Dunes." Second and $20 went to Alplid Olson, Sioux City, for "Beauty in Destruction."

Topping the drawing class was May Hohlen, Burlington, whose "The Studio at 197" was awarded $30.

Otto Oevirk took first in the prints class with "Crucifixion." He won $30. He is a University of Iowa student.

Mrs. Kuh described the state fair exhibit as "a very good cross section of what is going on in contemporary art in the United States."

New Drug Combats Hay Fever, Asthma

CHICAGO (UP)—A new drug, theophorin, has proved to be more than 90 percent effective in combating hay fever, it was announced yesterday.

The Illinois State Medical Society said clinical tests by Dr. John Peters showed theophorin gained "good results" in 66 out of 68 cases of hay fever, or 97 percent.

The drug also proved about 75 percent effective in treating asthma, Peters reported, and "100 percent effective in pollen and grass asthma."

Will the Smokehouse Be Next? Trap Is Set for Mystery Flames

By PAUL E. SVOBODA

MACOMB, ILL. (UP)—As hundreds of curious onlookers waited among the charred remains of Charley Willey's farmyard for the smokehouse to burst into flames, the state fire marshal announced that a lie detector may be used when witnesses are questioned.

Willey's house burned down last week after mysterious brown spots appeared on the walls. Then in rapid succession other farm buildings burst into flames and were destroyed.

But State Fire Marshal John Craig said he was going to get to the bottom of the thing. He relieved State Deputy Fire Marshal John Burgard of all other duties and placed him in charge of an investigation which "is to overlook nothing."

Persons involved, including neighbors of the Willeys, will be issued subpoenas when Burgard opens his hearing. The sessions will be held in farm buildings near the scene of the fires, Craig said.

In the meantime, Willey and his wife, Lulu, 63, waited patiently for the next building to go up in smoke.

"Those fires will come," Mrs. Willey said. "Just wait and see. They'll come even if there isn't much left to burn."

Burgard has discovered there have been other mysterious fires in the area in recent months. Yesterday he tried to spark the mystery flames into action by "arranging a setting" in the smokehouse.

He tacked newspapers on the wall in the same fashion as the papers which covered the wall of the second barn when it burned down Thursday.

A hot sun shone on the shack, and Burgard said the setting was about the same as on Thursday.

The mystery flames started two weeks ago. Brown spots appeared on the wallpaper in the house and in a few minutes they would break into flames. Willey pulled all the wallpaper down but the spots appeared on the bare boards and caught fire in the same manner.

The house burned down last Saturday. The Willeys moved into a barn. It burned to the ground Sunday.

Conference in Potsdamer Platz

AMERICAN MILITARY POLICE AND RUSSIAN officers conferred yesterday in Berlin's Potsdamer platz, crossroads of the U. S., British and Russian zones of the city. The area has been a scene of violence and several near riots in the past week. The sign in the background, printed in English, German and Russian, says: "You are leaving the American sector."

Cut in Excise Tax Seen as a Possible GOP Bid for Favor

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—With new income tax cuts unlikely, Republicans may bid for Mr. Average Citizen's favor with a campaign pledge to whittle the irritating excise taxes he pays.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) opened the door for such a promise in prediction that the next congress will undertake wholesale revision of the revenue laws.

But the chairman of the senate finance committee told a reporter before he left Washington on a vacation there is little chance of further cuts in income taxes next year.

"We've got to pay at least $2-billion on the public debt and after that we'll see what tax reductions can be made," he said.

"I think we can cut out some excise taxes but I don't see much room for general income tax reduction."

President Truman made the nation's finances something of a presidential campaign issue by contending last week that the country faces a $1-billion deficit. He blamed this in part on what he called congress' ill-timed slash in income taxes.

Republicans cried that the President's figures were phony. They said the country will have a surplus. Rep. Taber (R-NY), chairman of the house appropriations committee and a friend of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP presidential nominee, said the surplus might run as high as $5-billion.

Only time and the treasury's books will tell who is right—and then only long after the Nov. 2 election.

Millikin said he sees no reason why some of the more "irritating" excise taxes can't be dropped.

Joseph P. Ryan, longshoremen's president, said the union would obey the court and would continue to try to reach an agreement with shippers.

Mr. Truman had ordered Attorney General Tom Clark to seek an injunction averting the threatened strike on grounds that it would paralyze east coast shipping and imperil the nation's health and safety.

Yesterday's court order will expire Aug. 31, but Medina is expected to expand the 10-day restraining order into a full-fledged 80-day "cooling off" period.

Adjourn Telephone Talks Temporarily

CHICAGO (UP)—Representatives of the CIO communications equipment workers and the Western Electric company adjourned negotiations yesterday without reaching any agreement on a new contract.

A company spokesman said negotiators will meet again today or tomorrow. The union has threatened to call out its 24,000 members in 43 states unless the company meets its demands for a 31-cent wage increase.

Union officials said a strike date already has been set but refused to reveal it until after the negotiations indicate definitely that no agreement can be reached.

Union members staged a premature strike at the Northwestern Bell Telephone company exchange at Des Moines Friday because of the slowness of negotiations. It was the second unauthorized walkout since the sessions began Tuesday.

RANGOON, BURMA (AP)—An official government statement yesterday said that insurgents attempting to sweep down on Rangoon by road and river are converting Buddhist temples and monasteries into "armed fortresses" from which they ambush loyal troops.

Says Berlin Blockade Delays Big Four Talks

By R. H. SHACKFORD

LONDON (UP)—The first official hint on the progress of the secret "life or death" negotiations between the east and west in Moscow indicated yesterday that despite western arguments, the Russians are refusing to lift their two-month-old blockade of Berlin.

The British government publication "International Survey" dropped the first hard fact on the talks which began with Premier J. V. Stalin Aug. 2 in the privacy of the Kremlin. Of that meeting and the four that followed with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov only the hours and minutes of duration were divulged in official quarters.

"International Survey" issued every two weeks by the government's central office of information, summarized the Moscow conferences by giving their dates, Aug. 2, 6, 9, 12 and 16, and saying no statements had been made public.

Then it added, "The western powers have maintained their insistence that the Soviet blockade of Berlin, continued since June, should be lifted before discussions could begin on wider issues."

An end to the blockade is the first condition of the United States, Britain and France for broad big four talks on Germany.

The secrecy at Moscow, unknown in big four conferences since the war, was explained by one London diplomat who said, "these talks may be a matter of life or death for a lot of people."

"That is why so much care is being taken to prevent any publicity that might prejudice such important talks."

It appeared likely the sixth meeting of U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau and British special Representative Frank Roberts will take place with Molotov tomorrow.

Probers Seek Missing Facts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional spy investigators quietly began lining up three or four new witnesses yesterday in an attempt to get missing facts in the story of Alger Hiss, and Whittaker Chambers.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.), member of the house un-American activities committee, described the witnesses as "very important but not publicly prominent."

The committee plans to question them secretly tomorrow and Tuesday, then have them testify in public hearings Wednesday.

Wednesday is the day Hiss and Chambers have been summoned to confront each other in open hearings.

Chambers has testified he was a Communist from 1924 to 1937 and that Hiss was a member of an "elite" Communist underground that operated in Washington.

Hiss has denied Chamber's charges.

Greek Army Claims Victory in Grammos

ATHENS (AP)—Gen. Stelios Kiriakakis, chief of staff, announced at Kozane last night that the "victory of Grammos" has been won by the Greek army.

He proclaimed the triumph two months after the army launched its summer offensive against the Communist guerrillas of Markos Vafiades.

Returning to Kozane from the front, Kiriakakis told a reporter that most of the 5,000 guerrillas estimated last week to be still holding out in the Grammos mountains now "apparently have fled to Albania."

The closing phases of the Grammos campaign, finished in a whirlwind three-week drive, did not mark the end of the civil war. There still are two big problems to solve.

One is a method of sealing the Albanian and Yugoslav borders.

Second is the planning of campaigns elsewhere in Greece to clean up scattered guerrilla bands.

Atomic Cloud Is Found in France

CLERMONT-FERRAND, FRANCE (UP) — Officials of the French air force scientific bureau said yesterday the remains of a radioactive cloud have been hovering over Puy de Deome mountain near here since the atom bomb test at Bikini at June 30, 1946.

They described the cloud remains as "feeble," and said they were able to detect the existence of radioactive particles only by using precision instruments.

Braves Split with Dodgers, Hold Lead

Boston Wins Second Game Behind Spahn

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brilliant pitching on the part of Lefty Warren Spahn enabled the Boston Braves to remain one game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league's tight pennant battle yesterday.

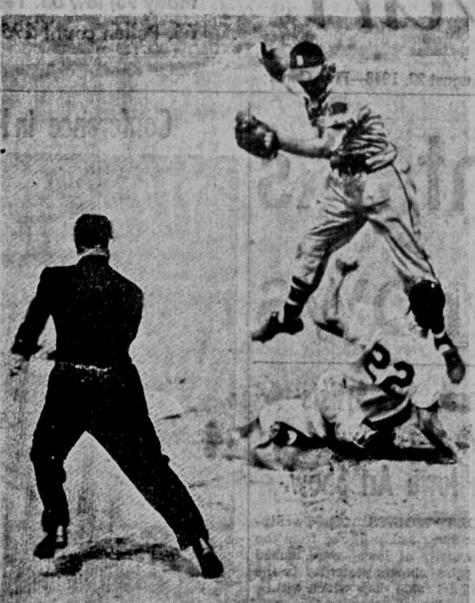

Spahn pitched the Braves to a 2-1 four-hit triumph over the Dodgers in the second game of a twin bill after the Dodgers had won the opener, 8-7, before 34,456.

The Boston southpaw fanned eight and walked only three in gaining his tenth triumph. He held the Dodgers scoreless until the ninth when with one out, Bruce Edwards belted his seventh homer.

The Dodgers gave Joe Hatten an early lead in the opener, scoring five times in the first inning and once in the second before the Braves tallied. Pee Wee Reese's bases-loaded single was the big blow in the Dodger's five-run inning.

Cardinals Tighten National Loop Race By Blasting Pirates

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals tightened up the National league pennant chase last night by taking an easy 9 to 2 victory from the fourth place Pirates, and pulling to within a game of the pace-setting Boston Braves. A grand slam home run by Ron Northey and some good clutch pitching by Red Munger helped the Cards to their fourth straight victory and their 16th in their last 21 games.

Munger, who posted his seventh victory to go with eight defeats, limited the Pirates scoring to Ralph Kiner's 32nd homer which came in the seventh inning and to a run-producing double by Johnny Hopp in the first. He struck out seven batters and forced the Smoky City crew to leave 11 runners stranded.

Big Ernie Bonham started for the Corsairs and gave Munger something of a battle until the fourth when the Redbirds drove him to cover. Kirby Higbe took over and after he loaded the bases by walking Enos Slaughter, Northey promptly unloaded them with a drive to the pavilion roof. The game was strictly no contest after that.

Jay Rhodemyre Chosen Stars' Most Valuable

CHICAGO (AP)—Center Jay Rhodemyre of Kentucky was named the most valuable college All-Star player against the victorious Chicago Cardinals Friday night in a poll of about 500 sports writers who covered the Soldier field spectacle.

Rhodemyre, a rookie with the Green Bay Packers of the National football league, was the first lineman ever selected in the 11 years a most valuable All-Star performer has been picked. Fourteen All-Stars received votes, but Rhodemyre had almost a two to one margin over the next closest candidate, Navy's Dick Scott, also a center.

IC Cards Sweep Doubleheader

The Iowa City Cardinals dumped an error-happy Waukegan nine twice last night in a National Softball league double-header, 6-2 and 6-0.

The Cards collected only nine safe blows in both games at Kellen field last night, four in the first tilt and five in the second, but ten Waukegan miscues helped them sweep the series.

In the first contest Iowa City took a one run lead in the third frame when the Pilot hurler, Stan Corgan, hit three Cards and walked one to push the run across the platter.

Citation Returns to Old Form

CHICAGO (AP)—The Calumet farm's great Citation, laid up for 30 days because of injury, returned to the races at Washington park yesterday and won a six furlong dash in galloping fashion from three opponents.

He shared interest on yesterday's racing program featuring the third running of the $43,950 Whirlaway stakes which was won by Colosal in record breaking time.

Colosal, owned by Fred W. Hooper, Montgomery, Ala., ran the mile and a eighth in 1:48 one-fifth to clip two-fifths of a second off the Washington park track record set by the famed Armed in winning the same stake a year ago.

Eternal Reward was second, Star Reward third and Stud Poker fourth in a field of seven.

Citation came through in splendid fashion yesterday, winning easily in the excellent time of 1:10 four-fifths.

His margin of victory over the next best of his opponents, Mrs. Rea Warner's King Rhymer, was two and one quarter lengths. Norman W. Church's Speculation was third. The winner paid $2.40.

Colosal was overlooked in the betting and returned $14.20.

Indians' Streak Snapped, 3-2

Bob Lemon appeared to be on the way to his 17th victory as the White Sox came to bat in the ninth trailing by a 2 to 0 count. Up to this point Lemon had blanked Chicago with four singles.

Pat Scerrey drew a walk to lead off. Catcher Aaron Robinson then smashed a home run over the right field fence to tie the score. Dave Philley followed with another circuit clout over the right field fence and the Sox were ahead 3 to 2. Randy Gumpert retired the Indians in order in their half of the ninth.

The victory enabled the Yanks to take third place from the Athletics.

The Yanks have won 66 games and lost 46 for a .589 percentage while the A's have won 68 and lost 48 for a .588 mark.

Porterfield checked the A's on four singles.

Mulloy Upset as Parker, Schroeder Win Casino Doubles

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Playing steady, workmanlike tennis, Frank Parker of Los Angeles, Calif., and Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., won the Casino doubles championship yesterday and virtually assured themselves of Davis cup berths.

The top-seeded pair defeated Irvin Dorfman of New York, and Tom Brown of San Francisco, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, without extending themselves in the 29th annual Newport Casino Invitation grass courts tournament.

Bracketed for the singles finals, meanwhile, as the result of yesterday's semi-final round, were Bill Talbert, of New York, and Harry Likas of San Francisco. They will meet today.

Talbert worked himself over a steep hump in turning back the threatening Philadelphia, Victor Seixas, 4-6, 8-6, 7-5, 6-0. Likas' victory came at the expense of the tournament's second-seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami, and provided the class grass courts event with an upset second only to that experienced by Schroeder's defeat.

The unseeded Likas registered an 8-6, 8-10, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2 win.

VanderMeer's 5-Hitter Whitewashes Cubs, 2-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny VanderMeer scattered five hits to hurl the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs here yesterday before 16,262 fans.

The Reds nicked Hank Borowy for both of their tallies in the eighth. Ben Zientara opened with a single and had to retire for Claude Corbett when he was struck on the right arm as Borowy tried to pick him off first base.

Johnny Wyrostek's second double chased Corbett home and Dan Litzwiler also doubled to count Wyrostek.

Haas Holds Slight Lead in Denver Golf
DENVER (UP)—Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, held grimly onto a two-stroke lead at the 54-hole mark in the $12,500 Denver Open golf tournament with a total of 201 after turning in a three-under-par 69 in the rain yesterday.

Haas played with Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., whose 203 total was good for second place, and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., who shot a one-under par 71 yesterday. Hogan had 70, two-under.

Heavy rain caught the three-some at the 16th green and both Hogan and Haas had bogey five on the 17th. It was the highest round either had shot in the tournament. The New Orleans pro's card showed round of 67-65-69—201 and Hogan had 66-67-70—203.

Promoter Blasts Louis' Statement

WASHINGTON (UP)—Matchmaker Gabe Menendez, who hopes to stage a world's championship heavyweight match here in October, protested yesterday against Joe Louis' statement that he would retire but try to keep the right to reclaim the title for six months.

Menendez wired President Abe Greene of the National Boxing association that the NBA "should pass judgment on such a matter and not the 20th Century club," which is run by Mike Jacobs.

Louis said his request that he be allowed to reclaim the title would be addressed to 20th Century.

"Isn't it about time Mike Jacobs' monopoly on the heavyweight title be broken?" Menendez wired Greene. "Where does Louis get off making such a request to the 20th Century club?"

Giants Topple Phils As Mize Belts Two

NEW YORK (AP)—Led by Johnny Mize, who socked two homers, the New York Giants came from behind and edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5 yesterday.

Mize opened the Giant scoring with his 30th homer of the year in the second inning and then highlighted a four run eighth inning rally by belting No. 31 with two aboard. Walker Cooper followed Mize's second four-bagger with his 13th round-tripper of the season to climax the big Giant uprising.

Browns Lose, Protest Game On Freak Play

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers won a disputed 6 to 5 decision over the St. Louis Browns yesterday as Manager Zack Taylor of the Browns played out the game under protest after an unusual play in which a newspaper photographer handled the ball while it was in play.

The dispute decision came in the last of the sixth with Detroit ahead 3-0, two men out and Shortstop Johnny Lipon on third.

Brownie Relief Pitcher Al Widmar uncorked a wild pitch which got away from Catcher Roy Partee and bounced along the third base line as Lipon broke for home.

The ball rolled into the hands of the photographer, who was standing near the coaching box and he tossed it underhanded back to Catcher Partee who tagged Lipon coming in.

The photographer, Tony Spina, of the Free Press, said afterwards he put his hand to protect himself and the ball "bounced" back to the catcher.

Umpire Ari Passarella first called Lipon out, touching off a parade of Tigers from their dug-out with Manager Steve O'Neill in the lead. After a hot argument, Umpire Passarella and Umpires John Stevens and Ed Rommel went into a huddle and ruled Lipon safe.

That brought Brownie Manager Taylor, Coach Fred Hofmann and the Browns onto the field and again the discussion got hot. But the umpires ruled Lipon was safe.

The Browns entered a formal protest and then played the game out.

Freddie Hutchinson was credited with his ninth win of the season, although he weakened in the ninth and required help from Ted Gray and Al Benton.

Blondie, Dagwood To Teach About Atoms

Scientific Jargon To Be Simplified

The comic strip—atomic scientists hope—is the new key that will unlock the mystery of atomic energy for millions of Americans.

The funny-page folk, used during the war to help pilots learn to fly, and in our schools to teach a variety of subjects, will tackle their toughest educational job to date when they take part in the Atomic Energy Exhibit, a feature of New York City's Golden Jubilee, being held August 23 to September 19.

Called to active duty by Lt. General Leslie R. Groves, former commanding general of Manhattan Project, Blondie, Dagwood, Mandrake the Magician, Popeye, Jiggs, and other famous comic strip characters responded nobly. They volunteered to star in a twenty-four panel, full-color exhibit planned to bring scientific jargon of atomic theory down to the every-day talk of Blondie's kitchen.

The comic and the atom got together when Mayor William O'Dwyer's committee on atomic energy, headed by Dr. John R. Dunning, Columbia University's eminent atomic physicist, was searching for a simple but effective method of reaching the general public.

General Groves, long a Blondie and Dagwood fan, suggested that the job be assigned to the comic strip. Joe Musial, veteran King Features Syndicate artist and comic book director, was called in to work with General Groves, Dr. Dunning, and Dr. Louis M. Heil, head of the Physics Department at Cooper Union.

From more than 200 pencil drawings, Musial made a series of comic panels showing what an atom is, how it is split, and what happens when it is split. Then Blondie and family were shrunk to molecular size on the hour hand of Mandrake the Magician's wristwatch, and finally made to disappear inside a molecule of water.

Serious-minded atomic experts chuckle when they see Dagwood stretched out on the water molecule saying, "It's soft as a mattress."

And in another panel, Dagwood works with a pile of protons and neutrons yelling, "Hey Blondie! Look! I can make gold! I'll be a millionaire!"

Fall from Pecan Tree Breaks Boy's Luck

ELLAVILLE, GA. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Phillips are very much worried about their 12-year-old son, Royce.

When Royce was four he swallowed enough poison, his parents said, to kill 15 men and was saved only by prompt use of a stomach pump.

A year later he drank kerosene and had a close call with pneumonia. That was just before he was kicked in the head by a mule.

Royce was recovering yesterday from a fall out of a pecan tree, in which he broke both arms.

GALES RIP ENGLAND

LONDON (AP)—Gales and heavy rain scourged the south coasts of England and Eire last night. A number of shipping accidents were reported.

Meal Prices May Go Higher, Says Agriculture Secretary

WASHINGTON (UP)—The agriculture department sees no hope for lower meat prices for another year. And in the next few months, they may climb even higher.

If meat costs do increase, as seems likely, agriculture secretary Charles F. Brannan said yesterday, 53 Republicans will be to blame.

He went on to predict that Americans will have five pounds less meat per person next year than this.

In a CBS radio interview, Brannan said the GOP-controlled congress "should have granted authority to stop the rise of meat prices and thus protect the country against the inflationary pressures that are fed by the meat shortage."

The only encouraging thing the department can see in the meat situation is that grain prices are beginning to drop to the point where farmers will find it more profitable to feed it to livestock rather than sell it.

But the department said that it will take at least a year to translate lower grain prices into more and cheaper beef and pork for the table.

Brannan said there probably won't be any "substantial increase" in retail pork supplies for another year. It will take longer for beef, probably two years, he said.

The price of grain, the department said, is more favorable for livestock feeding now than it has been at any time in the past 20 months.

Prospects of a bumper grain crop—some 1,300,000,000 bushels higher than last year—have knocked some prices below government support levels.

While beef will be a scarce item longer than pork, the department said, the cost of a T-bone steak can be expected to drop when pork chops become plentiful.

enough to relieve the pressure on beef supplies.

Brannan estimated next year's meat supplies at 139 pounds per person, compared with 144 this year and 127 pounds before the war.

"If income stays up, demand will stay up, and prices could further increase," Brannan said.

But "by a year from this fall," he added, "We should begin to see daylight." The big question meanwhile, he said, is how high prices will go.

In June and July alone, Brannan said, inflated meat prices cost consumers an extra $200 million.

Navy Gasoline Dump Fired by Explosion

GUAM (AP)—Fire raged through a huge U.S. navy gasoline tank farm here this morning after an early morning explosion the navy reported.

The scene was about five miles from Apra harbor.

Hundreds of American servicemen were in the fight to control the fire.

Casualties, if any, were undetermined, the navy said. Flames and smoke from the burning gasoline rose about 1,000 feet into the air, said a dispatch received at navy headquarters.

Warren Tells Eagles Of Social Security Need

SEATTLE (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren of California told the national convention of the fraternal order of Eagles yesterday "every working American should be entitled to the benefits of social security."

The Republican vice-presidential nominee called for better pension and social security systems at home and a program of "enlightened selfishness" abroad.

Wallace Takes Credit for Negotiations

BRIDGEPORT, CONN. (AP)—Henry Wallace, Progressive party candidate for president, claimed credit last night for the start of negotiations with Russia on the Berlin crisis.

In his first public appearance since his nomination last month at the third party convention, Wallace demanded:

"Would the men who tried to repudiate my letter to Stalin two months ago now be working toward a meeting with Stalin on the problem of Germany, if we progressives had not carried the fight on the cold war?"

The third party candidate also credited his party with:

1. Being a "vital element" in forcing the administration to recognize the new state of Israel.
2. Forcing both major parties to make statements against racial segregation and discrimination.
3. Preventing the enactment of the Mundt-Nixon bill to outlaw the Communist party.

Wallace preceded his review of the "accomplishments" of his new party with an attack on the present congressional spy hearings. He called the inquiry into Communist activity in the government "the greatest diversionary movement since Nero gave the Roman populace circuses."

"The people cry for relief from ruinous prices and they are given spy thrillers," he said. "They cry for houses and they are given witch hunts."

Asks for Divorce, Custody of Child

Patricia Schooley yesterday filed for divorce at the Johnson county court house from LeRoy Schooley, 14 E. Burlington street.

Charging cruel and inhuman treatment, she asked custody of a minor child, $75 per month for support and that costs of the court action be paid by the defendant.

The couple was married Aug. 16, 1941, at Kahoka, Mo., and separated July 28, 1948.

Swisher and Swisher are attorneys for Mrs. Schooley.

COMMUNISTS MEET

ROME (AP)—Italian newspaper reports said yesterday that Communists in the free territory of Trieste have been called to an extraordinary congress to decide their attitude toward Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

The Husband Search Is Over

Advertising Makes Wish Come True

SOMERDALE, N. J. (AP)—Annette Newman's widely advertised wish to marry a widower with "a lot of kids," came true yesterday as she said "I do," to John Taylor, father of six, aged five to 12.

The once-divorced Mrs. Newman married John Taylor, 30-year-old construction worker. Their wedding, solemnized by the mayor of this tiny south Jersey community, E. Ray Birkhimer, culminated a whirlwind bout of notoriety for Mrs. Newman who walked into a Samden newspaper office and announced she wanted a husband.

The resulting news stories brought hundreds of letters, a few of them containing offers of marriage.

List Three New Cases of Polio

Three new polio cases, admitted Thursday, were announced yesterday by University hospitals authorities.

Draft Registration Nears

Selective Service Officials Reveal Forms Men 18 Through 25 Will Receive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The postcard-size draft registration form was unveiled yesterday by selective service officials.

The four-by-six inch cards will be used to register an estimated nine and a half million men 18 through 25 between Aug. 30 and Sept. 18.

They are so simple that officials predict registrants can fill out the 16 questions in a matter of minutes.

At the same time draft headquarters made public the new forms, it issued detailed instructions to draft boards on how to handle the crowds and avoid bottlenecks.

Instructions carried suggested floor plans for local boards to follow. These call for separate handling of two groups—one, all veterans and 18-year-olds (not subject to the draft), and two, non-veterans 19 through 25.

Registration booths (to be announced locally) will remain open daily from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M., draft officials said here.

After registering, draft-age men will wait for classification forms which should be received within a week or two. These are much more detailed, and must be returned within 10 days.

A man's classification is determined by local boards from these second forms.

Sleepy Eye Folk Check on Morals

SLEEPY EYE, MINN. (UP)—There were no girly shows at the Brown county fair yesterday. Three indignant pastors and 200 Four-H farm youth club exhibitors combined to drive them out.

Fair Secretary William Lindeman had booked the dancing girls for the fair despite protests from three Sleepy Eye pastors who said that publicity about the girly shows was objectionable.

The fair board took no action until the farm youths withdrew their exhibits of livestock, canned goods, cooking, needlework and other crafts.

The board surrendered and canceled the girly show. "I hope the Four-H exhibitors will come back now," Lindeman said.

Can't Find 'Rosalie'? Don't Worry About It

'Rosalie' Again

By LESTER D. LONGMAN

It is always difficult to "explain" a painting to those who know nothing about art. What could one say in a few words about a Chinese Sim painting or a medieval icon that would make it seem less absurd to a sound, practical businessman or housewife? Images and ideas which are completely foreign always seem incomprehensible and often ridiculous. For this reason paintings of Western art, like the "Horse Fair," shown at the Art building last winter, seem absurd to the Chinese.

They can't understand why anyone would want to paint exact descriptions of appearances. To them that is not interesting; to most people of history it would be considered ridiculous. The leading painters of European and American art for the past fifty years think so too. They want pictures to be poems, not photographs. They want to explore human experience, to depict what people can feel about life and to create images of what people can imagine.

Some artists live more than others in the realm of imagination. In our university collection there are paintings by literal and descriptive artists, but the Miró canvas of "Rosalie" is a product of a very inventive and original imagination. The artist belongs to the modern surrealist school, which began in 1924. This school has endeavored to explore the new world of the subconscious mind which psychology has opened up to us in the 20th century. In case of Miró, his paintings are peopled with strange, exotic creatures who belong to no known category of zoological specimens, and yet are full of life and gentle whimsy, like some of the creatures you meet in "Alice in Wonderland." That book gives us a surrealist world, too, which those who have imagination and a good sense of humor enjoy very much. The irrational characters who caper through Wonderland say strange things that sound like the title of Miró's picture. It is nonsense from a certain point of view, but on the whole more sage than appears at first glance. So it is with surrealist humor like that of Miró.

One need not worry too much about finding Rosalie or the bird, the drop of dew and the cobweb, though if one finds it amusing to look, there is no harm in it. Surrealist pictures are intentionally ambiguous and enigmatic, like dreams, and so are the titles. This leaves you free to interpret it as you will, just as with dreams and fantasies. Maybe there is no Rosalie at all in spite of the title. Maybe she is a cow with big horns on both sides of the picture and big eyes at the bottom. I can see the cobweb on the right, some birds, and maybe the drop of dew, and some other things not mentioned in the title, but everyone may identify as he pleases. The important thing is the inventiveness and ingenuity of the concept, the sophistication of design, the outlandish world which the artist conjures up for our pleasure.

Business men should try it for advertisements. I think it would attract and hold attention. And if anyone has in his attic, or can make as original a painting, I should like to see it. Anyone with that gift will get himself a world reputation like Miró's. But don't bring me a copy or imitation of Miró; that's easy. You can't become famous by copying anything, not even photographs.

Miner's Pensions Start Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aged coal miners will start receiving pensions next month, marking an end to one of the famous labor-management struggles of modern times.

Officials of the United Mine Workers welfare fund made the announcement yesterday.

They have mailed to all local unions the application forms to be used by eligible miners in the bituminous coal industry who have retired or want to retire. They expect to mail out the first checks in September.

The amount will be $100 a month.

To be eligible, a miner must be 62 years or older. He must have a total of 20 years' service in the coal industry. He must be a member of the United Mine Workers.

And if he has already retired, he gets a pension only if his retirement came after May 28, 1946. If he retired on that date or earlier, he gets no pension.

Those were the terms of the agreement of April 12 between John L. Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges, New Hampshire Republican, constituting a two-man majority of the three-man board of trustees for the welfare fund.

The third man, coal operator Ezra Van Horn, sued to stop pension payments under this plan, and did delay them, but federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough found June 22 that the plan was legal, "reasonable and proper."

The bituminous coal miners, who number about 340,000 were on strike for a month, in March and April, because of the failure to agree on the method of paying pensions out of the welfare fund.

The same Goldsborough, on that occasion, fined Lewis and the union for contempt of court because they were slow in obeying a court order to end the strike.

Spaatz Says U.S. Must Develop First Supersonic Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States must be the first to develop a supersonic missile able to carry an atomic bomb 5,000 miles, says Gen. Carl Spaatz, recently retired air force chief of staff. The general made this observation in a 112-page report to Secretary Symington. The general summarized air force activities since V-J day, its long range program and its needs.

It was decided, Spaatz said, to give special emphasis to the long range missile at the start of the guided missiles program. He asserted there is no existing defense against such a weapon.

While not indicating when such a missile might be available, Spaatz said several years of operational experimentation will be needed to determine their ultimate characteristics, and associated techniques.

Spaatz, described as "foremost air strategist" by Air Force Secretary Symington in a forward to the report, said several major factors contribute to the nation's readiness in the skies. He listed these as "vital":

Research and development; a strong aviation manufacturing industry; a strong commercial aviation industry; a trained reserve, and continued public support "based upon thorough understanding of the role of air power in the age of air power."

Assault transports, Spaatz said, may replace the combat glider. The Northrop C-125 pioneer, a three-engine transport, is being studied for that purpose.

Spaatz indicated also that another Northrop plane, the B-49, a jet-powered flying wing bomber is being considered for use as a reconnaissance plane.

Control of drones or crewless aircraft from a distance of 75 to 100 miles is believed possible, although thus far the limit has been about 25 miles, the general said.
