WASHINGTON (AP)—The bureau of mines calmly announced, in its mimeograph monthly report, that U.S. gold production in June was 155,057 tons, compared with 155,034 in May.

Someone took a second look and hastily calculated that this was more gold than the whole world has yet produced. The bureau came through with a hasty correction.

It should have been 155,057 fine ounces, not tons.

Temperature Relief Seen Late Friday

Mercury Reaches 96 Yesterday Afternoon

Iowa Citizens will feel no relief until late Friday from the heat wave which has sent the mercury to the near-hundred mark, the weatherman said last night.

Showers and cooler weather are predicted for late Friday but Iowa Citizens today will feel temperatures in the nineties.

Yesterday the mercury rose to 96 at 1:30 p. m. and stayed at that level until 3:30 p. m.

Here's an hourly report by the CAA weather station at the Iowa City airport through the hottest part of the day:

Hour	Temperature
11:30 a. m.	93
12:30 p. m.	94
1:30 p. m.	96
2:30 p. m.	96
3:30 p. m.	96
4:30 p. m.	95
5:30 p. m.	91
6:30 p. m.	88

Everyone talks about the weather and yesterday some Iowa Citizens tried to do something about it. Two youngsters dispensed fresh, clean lemonade from a stand on Templin road near City park.

Streets Melting
Downtown streets were frequented by more men sporting shorts than are usually seen. The streets themselves didn't take the heat so well. Part of N. Dubuque street and Iowa street and Iowa avenue which recently received an asphalt covering turned soft and liquid under the sun's rays.

At the county courthouse County Clerk R. Nelson Miller and his assistants used a number of fans to move the warm, moisture-saturated air through the office.

In Des Moines all state offices, at least several downtown state offices, and some federal offices were closed early in the afternoon to escape the heat. The temperature there hit 97, causing the second consecutive day of early closings for the state offices.

There were exceptions, however. A weather bureau representative, when asked if that office would close early, replied, "We work all the time."

Farmers throughout the state, cheered earlier by the hot weather, yesterday found that the dryness had depleted soil moisture. A crop bulletin said the corn needed rain and experts said corn in some areas had been damaged "beyond recovery."

Only West Coast Cool
The heat wave extended from the Rockies to the Appalachian mountains. U.S. forecasts reported that readings of 100 or better were common throughout the area with LaCrosse, Wis., reporting 102. Milwaukee had 100.

The east coast also felt the warming blasts, but the full impact was not expected until today. By contrast, San Francisco reported a moderate 76 and Burbank, Calif., 78.

Vets Needn't File Certificates Early

Veterans will not be required to file eligibility certificates one month before entering the university this fall, William D. Coder, director of the veterans service office, said yesterday.

This point, he said, has been clarified by the Des Moines veterans office.

The veterans administration office in Washington, D. C. recently announced changes in the registration procedure for veterans and said veterans would require to file the certificates at least a month before entering training.

Later this year, Coder said, veterans may be required to file application for the eligibility certificates at least one month before entering training.

Law Students Study 'Cold' Facts on Hot Day

By TOM MAHONEY

With the temperature at 96 degrees yesterday afternoon, the college of law exhibited an example of "cold law."

"Cold law" is the name given to a rule of law which has no exceptions. There are no laws of this type.

Law Instructor A. Leo Levin jokingly told his property class yesterday morning that he'd appreciate it if someone brought a cake of ice to class in the afternoon in anticipation of a hot session.

"You're the most cooperative class I've ever had," were the only words Levin could think of when he walked into his afternoon class. There on his desk rested two large cakes of ice.

"Normally, I would think you were giving me the cold shoulder," he commented. But since he'd asked for it, there was not much he could say.

Taking the joke good-naturedly, Levin explained the connection between his proposed lecture and the frozen water. He said that in the first part of the afternoon lecture he planned to take up "water rights" and the subject seemed very appropriate.

About halfway through the lecture, he said he planned to talk on "nuisances" and by that time the ice would be a good example of one!

Then, after sending a member of the class out to form a drainage system for the melting ice, he began his lecture, unmindful of the ice. "Now in the case of . . ."

Announce Penalties For Hindering Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective service officials said yesterday that any person who speaks against the draft law might be liable under section 12 of that law.

They emphasized, however, that it was a matter for the justice department to decide.

The section of the law the officials referred to lays down punishment of five years, or 10,000 fine, or both, against "any person or persons who shall knowingly hinder or interfere or attempt to do so in any way with the administration of this title or the rules or regulations made pursuant thereto."

Award Scholarship to Carney

Dene Carney, SUI journalism senior and business manager of The Daily Iowan, was awarded the Des Moines Ad club's annual $500 scholarship advertising award yesterday.

The award was presented to Carney by Club President Murray Goodman at the group's meeting yesterday noon in Des Moines.

Goodman said the scholarship committee of the Ad club approved Carney after screening a number of candidates for the scholarship.

Carney, a veteran of two and one-half years overseas service in World War II, was graduated from Nevada high school in 1942. He is vice-president of the SUI chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma advertising fraternity.

The award was made to a university student after the advertising curricula of all the colleges in Iowa were investigated. A committee chose the University of

Rankin Wins 15th Term In Mississippi Primary

JACKSON, MISS. (UP) — Rep. John E. Rankin, outspoken advocate of white supremacy and states' rights, won a 15th term with surprising ease last night as both of his opponents in the Democratic primary conceded defeat.

Van Zwoll, who came to SUI in January, 1947, said the offer included a higher salary and a professorship in educational administration.

He will leave Iowa City the end of this week and will reside in Washington, D. C., three miles from the university.

At the present time he is completing work with Linn county (Cedar Rapids) officials on school reorganization. He has assisted the officials there for a year.

He taught general school administration courses here.

Van Zwoll received his doctorate degree at the University of Michigan in 1942. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Calvin college at Grand Rapids, Mich., and master of arts from the University of Michigan.

He has written articles on school public relations and planning of school buildings.

A life member of the National Education Association, Van Zwoll is also a member of the American Association of school administrators and the national council on school construction.

Cost-of-Living Raise for GM

May Contract Tied Pay to Price Index

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new upward leap in the cost of living, reported yesterday by the government, brought an automatic wage increase of three cents an hour to more than a quarter-million automobile workers.

The bureau of labor statistics announced that its consumers' price index hit a record high of 173.7 on July 15. The base, 100.0, is the 1935-39 prewar average.

Approximately 265,000 hourly-rated employees of General Motors will receive the three-cent increase. Under a history-making contract negotiated by the United Auto Workers-CIO last May, the pay of the GM workers is linked directly to the BLS index.

Their wages fluctuate one cent an hour for each 1.14 points the index goes up or down. The adjustments come four times a year. This is the first under the new contract.

The three-cent increase goes into effect in the first pay period beginning after Sept. 1.

Includes Salaried Employees
In addition to the hourly-rated employees, some 68,000 salaried employees of the giant motor firm will receive $25 extra in September and another $15 in December, or a total cost of living adjustment of $40 in the period between Sept. 1 and Dec. 1.

Thus, the company noted, approximately 333,000 of its employees will receive adjustments to compensate for the increase in living costs.

Under the GM contract which gave an immediate increase of 11 cents an hour, the CIO united auto workers and the corporation agreed to review the index each three months and revise the hourly pay rate upward or downward for each full index point above or below 169.3.

In no event would a decline below 164.7 provide for a reduction in the wage scale, however.

After the initial 11-cent increase in May, the average wage of GM employees was reported to be $1.61 an hour.

The living cost index has risen from 169.3, where it stood April 15, prior to the contract, to 173.7, an increase of 4.4 points. This was sufficient for a three cent raise, and almost enough for four.

The new GM raises will add $63,000 a day to GM's payroll for hourly employees, based on an eight-hour day. They will cost the corporation $4,420,000 in additional adjustments for salaried employees for the six months from July 1 to Dec. 1.

1.2 Percent Price Rise

The bureau reported a rise between June 15 and July 15 of 1.2 percent in the average prices of goods and services purchased by moderate-income families in large cities.

Retail food prices averaged 1.3 per cent higher; miscellaneous goods and services were up 2.2 percent; the fuel and ice group advanced 1.7 per cent; other major crops groups increased fractionally.

World Council of Churches Hears Clash on Communism

AMSTERDAM, THE NETHERLANDS (AP)—Clashing east-west views on Soviet policy and Communism yesterday were laid before the World Council of Churches by a U. S. Republican party foreign policy maker and a Czech professor.

John Foster Dulles, a Presbyterian lay leader and advisor both to the Republican party and the U. S. state department under a bi-partisan foreign policy, said:

"The Soviet Communist regime is not a regime of peace and indeed it does not purport to be. It may not and I hope that it does not, want international war. But if so, that is a matter of expediency, not of principle."

Dulles, who has been assailed as a warmonger by the Russians, told the assembly:

"Marxian Communism is atheistic and materialistic. Its leaders reject the concept of moral law. There is, says Stalin, no such thing as 'eternal justice.' Laws are merely the means whereby those in power carry out

Flashbulbs Tire Hospitalized Teacher

INJURED RUSSIAN SCHOOL TEACHER, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kasenkina prepared yesterday for her first meeting with the press since her leap from a third story window of the Russian consulate. She had agreed to tell reporters her own story of the leap but declined after cameramen's flashbulbs made her nervous. She is a patient at the Roosevelt hospital, N. Y.

Calls Off Quiz On Leap Story

NEW YORK (UP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina yesterday agreed to tell her own story of her leap from the Russian consulate but changed her mind at the last moment.

"The excitement has tired her and she doesn't want to see anyone," a police lieutenant said as he barred reporters from her room in Roosevelt hospital.

Newsreel and newspaper cameramen had been in her room and hospital authorities said they made her nervous with their flash bulbs.

As reporters approached her room, Mrs. Kasenkina called for her doctors and said she did not feel up to an interview. Dr. Joseph Ford, her physician, and Dr. Grant B. Penneyer, her surgeon, then cancelled the interview.

The hospital originally had planned to allow only a few reporters in her room, but more than a dozen tried to crowd in.

The reporters had been waiting since early morning to hear Mrs. Kasenkina's own version of her jump from the consulate and had submitted 13 questions in writing in advance.

Hospital attendants said Mrs. Kasenkina had nodded her head approvingly when the questions were read to her.

Spy Probe Witness To Appear Monday In New York Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional spy probes expect to subpoena a long-sought prize witness Monday — J. Peters, pictured by a witness as chief of a prewar Red underground in the United States.

Informed yesterday that Peters is due Monday at deportation proceedings in New York, acting chairman Mundt (R-SD) of the house un-American activities committee said "We are going to have our man there."

And in New York, Mrs. Carol King, attorney for Peters, said her client will be on hand.

Whittaker Chambers, claiming to have served the underground before renouncing Communism, has testified to the committee that to the best of his knowledge Peters headed it.

Immigration commissioner Watson B. Miller told the committee of the deportation hearing. The immigration service said it doesn't know where Peters is now. He is under $5,000 bond.

Mrs. King said in New York that her client "certainly will show up" Monday. She added that Peters' real name is Alexander Stevens, but declined to say where he could be reached.

Meanwhile, the house committee received an angry protest from Alger Hiss, former high-ranking federal official, who accused the committee of "verdict-first, testimony-later tactics" and urged the house group to "get down to business" in its spy inquiry.

BERLIN (UP) — Soviet and western allied officials conferred in secret yesterday on plans to "demilitarize" Potsdamer square in Berlin.

Soviets Reject U.S. Note on Teacher Case

Marshall May Give U. S. Reaction Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia headily rejected last night the United States' protest over Soviet actions in the Russian teachers' case and cut off all consular dealings with this country in retaliation.

The state department received a note from the Russian embassy after regular business hours last night, and officers said that was the gist of a quick, rough translation.

There was no official statement on the point, but diplomats said it was just what had been expected. There had been no decisions on the next U.S. move, if any.

Michael McDermott, department press officer, said the communication had not been fully translated, and for that reason he would not give precise quotations.

It maintained the Russian position in the case of Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina who jumped from a New York consulate window after Consul General Lomakin had "rescued" her from an anti-Soviet Russian retreat in New York state, McDermott said.

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet government has decided to sever all consular ties between the United States and Russia as a result of the Kasenkina case, the Moscow radio said yesterday.

Involved as the only consulates maintained by Russia in the United States—those in New York and San Francisco—and the existing American consulate in Vladivostok and the one projected for Leningrad.

It was from the Soviet Consulate in New York that Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, a Russian school teacher, leaped on Aug. 12, touching off a Soviet-American row.

The decision to close the consulates, the Moscow broadcast said, was disclosed in the text of the Russian government's reply to a U. S. state department note dealing with the case of Mrs. Kasenkina and another refugee Russian teacher, Mikhail I. Samarin.

First official U.S. reaction to the Soviet note may come at 10 a. m. Iowa time, when secretary of state George C. Marshall holds a previously-scheduled news conference.

It was emphasized that the closing of the consulates does not mean breaking of diplomatic relations. The Russian embassy in Washington, and the U.S. embassy in Moscow, which were established when the U.S. recognized the Soviet regime in 1933, were not affected by the action yesterday.

In complaining of the action of Soviet officials in the United States the state department had said:

"The government of the United States cannot permit the exercise within the United States of the police power of any foreign government."

Referring to the decision regarding the American consulates, the broadcast said the Soviet government decided:

"In accordance with the principle of reciprocity to consider the United States consulate in Vladivostok to be closed immediately. On the same basis to consider the agreement previously arrived at between the governments of the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. on the opening of a United States consulate in Leningrad as having lost its validity."

Consular Staffs Mum

NEW YORK (AP) — The Russian consulate was a scene of hurried activity tonight as men and women went in and out carrying baggage.

At San Francisco, the persons in Soviet consulate would not confirm or deny they had received orders to close along with the New York consulate.

Telephone calls to the consulates received advice to "call at 10 o'clock tomorrow, please."

Vern Stephens' Ninth Inning Homer Whips Cleveland, 9-8

BOSTON (AP)—A two run homer by Vern Stephens in the last of the ninth last night lifted the Boston Red Sox into first place in the American league, a half game over Cleveland's Indians, who were defeated 9-8 by the Sox in a rousing finish before 34,172 paid fans.

Stephens' homer, his 27th, was belted on the first pitch to him by Lanky Russ Christopher, fifth Cleveland hurler and the third used in the ninth by the Indians who dropped to second place.

Braves Rip Cards, Rout Brecheen, 9-3

ST. LOUIS—The Boston Braves had more on the bat than Harry Brecheen had on the ball last night as the Braves subdued the St. Louis Cardinals, with 18 hits, 9 to 3, before 31,434 fans. The victory put league-leading Boston three and a half games in front of the second-place Redbirds.

Johnny Sain breezed to his 16th victory as his teammates blasted Brecheen and three other Redbird hurlers almost at will.

The Cardinals took a temporary 2 to 1 lead in the first inning when Stan Musial clouted his 31st homer of the season with one on but Boston came back with three runs in the fourth and coasted from that point on.

Cardinal Ownership Change Never Announced

The news of the Iowa City Cardinals proposed plan to leave the National Softball league has caused a lot of comment, both pro and con, around town. Local people could not believe that the Cards were going to pull up stakes and head for new surroundings.

Bit by bit the workings of the Cardinal management are coming to light. For instance, we didn't know until yesterday that the Iowa City softball team is no longer owned by Ralph Tucker, who has been managing the ball club for two years. We have now been informed that Tom Kelley, former auto service dealer, is once again sole owner and operator.

Last year it was Kelley, with Tucker's assistance, who opened Kelley field south of Iowa City and started a softball team which played other teams in this area. Kelley was the original owner and his capital backed the undertaking.

It was a better than average country ball club, too. So much so in fact that the National Softball league became interested in pulling Iowa City into its fold. Early last winter Tucker purchased the team from Kelley and joined the National league. It was then up to Tucker to foot the bill with a good or bad ball club, a good or bad league finish and good or bad support from the fans.

Tucker figured the three would go hand in hand. He knew his team was pretty fair which should result in a good league standing and naturally good support from Iowa Citizens.

It was no soap, however. The Cardinals and the league were doing fine but the fans were not attending the games in the manner expected. Even when the best softball teams in the country played here, meager crowds were on hand.

The first week in August Tucker and Kelley had a meeting and it was decided that Kelley would take over the ball club again. This was one detail which many fans did not know. It was never officially announced.

Now that Tucker is no longer involved with the ownership of the Cards, he has been offered an excellent contract to manage another National league team. We are pretty sure Rock Island is after his services. Undoubtedly some of the Iowa City players would follow Tucker to Rock Island and a combination of the two teams would make a powerful unit.

We talked with Tucker yesterday afternoon about the possibility of his remaining here and keeping Iowa City in the National league.

"There is only one thing which would make me want to stay in Iowa City," Tucker answered. "If the fans would show enough interest to back my team and if local people would combine to raise money in order to keep it out of the red, I might reconsider. But I doubt if that will happen and besides, my other offer looks just too good to turn down."

Even if Iowa Citizens have not caught fire about their red-hot National Softball league entry, other cities around the circuit are well aware that the Cards are one of the best in the league. The Cards attract capacity crowds in Racine, Waukegan, Chicago, etc., but have to stand the loss in their own home town.

For example, Tucker said he received a phone call from Waukegan yesterday concerning the Iowa City doubleheader there next Sunday night. The advance ticket sales are overwhelming. "One of the Waukegan plants has a club called the Ego club," Tucker said. "The members have already sold 1,700 tickets for our game Sunday night at a dollar apiece. They'll have better than 3,000 fans for the game, just because the Iowa City Cardinals are playing there. That's how good the rest of the league thinks we are."

Emlen Tunnell, Iowa's star halfback in 1946 and 1947, hasn't even practiced with the professional New York Giants for one month but they are mighty pleased with his work so far.

Here's what one writer on a New York paper said concerning "The Gremlin" and the Giants: "The Blue backfield (Giants' first string) remains intact with Paul Gorenval running the team, Gene Roberts and Tony Minis at the halves and Joe Scott at fullback. This may be the best alignment available on the entire squad for starting purposes, but it is more likely that much shuffling around will be necessary before the final arrangement is determined. Certainly Emlen Tunnell, the Negro star from Iowa, currently limping with a sore foot, has been the best left halfback in camp so far and Tony Minis has not yet shown the great qualities he displayed at Penn and Navy."

Hawklets Strong; U-High To Rebuild

By JIM ROSE
Iowa City's two prep football teams, City high and University high, started sweating it out yesterday as they began preparations for the coming gridiron season.

At City high yesterday morning about 80 boys spent most of their time listening to Coach Frank Bates outline what's ahead of them. The rest of the week will be spent on fundamental assignments with no contact work until Saturday, Coach Bates said.

Bates has ten lettermen back this season and a number of other promising players. The letter winners are Dick Doran, Dick Williams, Dan Dutcher, Rox Shain, Gene Hettrick, John Fenton, Dave Crumley, Francis Baseley, Babe Snook, and Keith Hemmingway.

Another boy who should be an asset to the team is Clayton Yoder, a halfback. Bates rated him as the No. 1 back last season, but he broke his ankle in practice and was sidelined for the whole season.

Rox Shain will be called upon to fill the fullback slot vacated by Bill Reichart, who was named on the IDPA and Jack North's all-state first team.

Francis Baseley received honorable mention as a tackle, and should be better this year. Dave Crumley will probably get the center job he held last season without much trouble. Dick Doran and Dick Williams will again alternate at quarterback.

The Little Hawks face their toughest schedule in the history of the school this year, but it looks as if they will have the material to cope with the situation.

It looks like a dismal year at U-high with only four of last season's lettermen back. Only 28 boys reported for opening practice yesterday morning.

"I'll have to rebuild the squad completely, but I haven't anything to do it with," Coach C. O. Green moaned.

About the only thing there is to console him is the four returning boys from last year's squad which won two games, tied two and lost four. They are Bob Ojemann, regular fullback last season, and three other players who didn't see much action last year. Ronald Coldsnow, Arnold Schnoebelen and Jack Holderman are the other lettermen.

U-High will meet Wellman here Sept. 17. This year the Blues will enter a new league, the Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference.

Spencer Signs with Waterloo

WATERLOO, IA. (AP)—Jack Spencer of Davenport, former University of Iowa guard, has signed a contract with the Waterloo Hawks of the National Professional Basketball league, President Pinkie George announced yesterday.

Spencer, a Big Nine standout for several years, was a teammate of Murray Wier, the all-America forward who will play for Moline next winter. George said Spencer would be assigned to guard his former teammate when the teams meet.

Spencer and Wier were teammates at Iowa for four years, 1945-48. As a freshman in 1943-44, Spencer played with one of Iowa's greatest teams along with Dick Ives and Dave Danner.

Last winter Spencer's ball-handling and all-around ability was one of the factors which drove the Hawkeye quintet to second place in the Western conference behind Michigan. Following the season Wier was chosen Iowa's "most valuable" player by his teammates and Spencer was voted as the team's captain.

Dodgers Lose, 9-1

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodgers second baseman, was banished from the game last night for the first time in his major league career as the Dodgers went down to a 9 to 1 defeat at the hands of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Rookie Bob Chesnes allowed only four hits—two in the first inning—as he hurled his 10th win of the season against three defeats.

Tigers Topple A's

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Detroit Tigers drove Lou Brissie from the mound with a six-run attack in the third inning and went on to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics 7-4 last night. It was the A's fourth straight setback.

IC Cards Triumph in 14th, 5-4

A home run over the centerfield fence by Ralph Tucker and a triple by Tom Stahle scored three runs in the 14th inning last night to give the Iowa City Cardinals a 5-4 win over the Rock Island Hawks.

The Cards jumped off to a two-run lead in the first frame. The margin looked as if it was enough to beat the Hawks in the National Softball league game, but they came back to score a run in the seventh and another in the ninth to send the tilt into extra innings.

In the ninth, Ed Lindley doubled off Don Danner and Paul Reberry, pitching for his fourth consecutive night, came in to squelch the uprising after Danner had held the Hawks to six hits for the nine innings. However, Len Simmons laced down a bunt that rolled past Reberry scoring Lindley.

The game went on for four more scoreless innings until the big fourteenth. It looked bad for the Iowa Citizens when Lindley lifted one of Reberry's offerings over the left field wall with one mate aboard to give Rock Island a 4-2 lead.

In the bottom half of the canto, Bob Best led off for the Cards and grounded out. Duly Bailey beat out a bouncing infield ball for a hit. Then Tucker whacked Horace Long's first pitch over the fence to put the Cards back into the game with the score standing at four runs apiece.

Burich kept the rally alive with a scratch single and Stahle sent him home with the winning run when he slapped a triple into deep right field.

The Cardinals tightened their hold on second place in the western division of the league with a 25-won, 20-lost record.

Want To Buy a Bar?

Here's a Chance To Get 120-Year-Old Bar From Old City Park Pavilion

For sale—One solid mahogany bar about 25 feet long that may be older than the state of Iowa. Mrs. Louis Reichart, who owns the old City park pavilion is planning to sell the bar because the pavilion is going to be torn down to make way for a bath house that will be built in connection with Iowa City's new swimming pool.

The dance hall has already been removed from the building and the lumber was used to construct a house at 521 Holt street for Mrs. Reichart's daughter, Mrs. Mary Lowenbert. Mrs. Reichart will reside with her daughter after the pavilion is torn down.

Mrs. Reichart said her husband, now deceased, bought the bar about 40 years ago from a saloon keeper and made it into a soda fountain. He installed it in the pavilion and operated it for 37 years before his death.

"If I had all the money that went over that bar when it was in the saloon, I'd be rich," Mrs. Reichart joked. "I think the bar is 120 years old. I don't know where the saloon keeper got it before Louie bought it."

In her apartment adjoining the pavilion, Mrs. Reichart had an antique bureau that was sent to this country 160 years ago from Germany. In a corner stood a whiskey case that was used with the bar. Mrs. Reichart made it into a bookcase in which her daughter kept college books when she attended the university here.

Letter to Holland Information Gathered For H. Bosman

Mayor Preston Koser and Prof. William J. Petersen, superintendent of the state historical society, yesterday had prepared a letter to H. Bosman of Amsterdam, Holland, in answer to his letter received last Thursday. In his letter, Bosman had asked "The Burgomaster of the City Iowan" if he could give any information on a stamp issued in 1938 picturing Old Capitol. Mayor Koser turned the letter over to Professor Petersen and in a one page letter the history and description of SU's administration was explained to the Dutch philatelist. Now the only problem presenting itself is the address. Although the body of the letter was very legible, the address is rather illegible besides being complicated. TO ADDRESS '32' CLUB President Virgil M. ### Soldier's 'Dead' Wife Answers Phone

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — An army corporal who believed for five days that his wife was dead, was "flabbergasted" when he picked up the telephone and heard her voice, the wife said yesterday.

Cpl. Marion Williams, 33, flew back from Germany when he received a cablegram last Thursday that said his wife had died. The army gave him an emergency furlough.

But when the phone rang in the home of Mrs. Grace Williams, 30, Monday night, Mrs. Williams had a hard time convincing the corporal she was very much alive.

"I knew he was upset the minute I heard his voice," Mrs. Williams said. "He didn't hardly sound natural."

"Who is this," William asked. "It's me, Gracie," she replied. "Don't kid me," Williams said. "It can't be Gracie. I got a cablegram she died the 18th."

"Well, it's me, bud," Mrs. Williams said she told him.

The girls are Gletha Sue, 5, and Carlene Renee, 19 months.

Mrs. Williams said the American Red Cross learned the cablegram was intended for another Marion Williams, a soldier from Massachusetts, whose wife died after an operation.

Mrs. Williams waited for an hour at Union station here last night but her husband was not on an early train arriving from the east. She said he probably would arrive on a train due here at 1 a. m. this morning.

"I've a swell homecoming planned for him," she said. "He sure loves to eat and I've got the foods he likes all ready."

She said she had "a big kettle full of fresh green beans, a gallon of potato salad, and about a gallon of jelly."

"I'm awfully sorry the other man's wife is dead," said Mrs. Williams, "but I'm glad my husband is coming home."

Charge ITU Breaks Labor Law To Petition in Federal Court

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government today will charge the International Typographical Union (ITU) with continued violation of the Taft-Hartley law in defiance of a federal court injunction, it was disclosed yesterday.

A spokesman for general counsel Robert N. Denham of the National Labor Relations board, said Denham will file with the federal district court in Indianapolis a formal petition asking that the union be adjudged in contempt of court.

Denham has been investigating the union's activities for the past three months, and the spokesman said it is clear that the ITU has not obeyed an injunction handed down by Federal Judge Luther M. Swigert at Indianapolis last March.

Court Ordered
Specifically, the union was ordered to stop demanding a closed shop, to bargain in good faith and sign written contracts with the publishers, to stop trying to force the publishers to discriminate against non-union printers, and to stop all other actions in bargaining conferences which Denham believes violate the labor law.

If the ITU and its officers are found guilty of violating the injunction, they would be subject to fines and sentences.

ITU Attorney Henry Kaiser described the action to be taken by Denham as a "crude and dangerous perversion of the administrative process."

He charged in a statement that Denham and his staff had acted as the "craven and obedient servants" of Sen. Robert A. Taft, (Rep., Ohio) and Chicago newspaper publishers, against whom the union has been on strike for nine months.

Goes Around President
He accused Denham of acting without giving President Truman an opportunity to investigate and went on to say that the President had "characterized Sen. Taft's dictation of Denham's policies and actions as 'shocking.'"

Kaiser said the contempt citation was a further step in the "relentless drive" of Denham, Taft, and the Chicago publishers to "destroy" the union.

Union Attorney Gerhard Van Arkel reiterated the charge after Denham denied that Taft tried to get the board to crack down on ITU. Denham had said the ITU charges are "artificial smoke and no fire at all."

Van Arkel said his charges were based on "a so far unrefuted newspaper account in the New York Times of Aug. 14, 1948."

"That account," he said, "made it clear that Sen. Taft summoned NLRB attorneys to his office and in the presence of the Chicago newspapers publishers, some of whom had supported Sen. Taft's bid for the Republican presidential nomination, demanded that contempt proceedings be instituted."

State Fair To Show Two Exhibits from Psychopathic Hospital

The Iowa Psychopathic hospital, in conjunction with the Iowa Mental Hygiene society, will sponsor two exhibits at the Iowa State fair, J. R. Knott, head of the division of experimental and clinical psychology at the hospital, announced yesterday.

The fair opens Aug. 27 and closes Sept. 2.

One exhibit, entitled "Teamwork in Mental Hygiene," graphically illustrates the variety of specialized training needed to deal with the problems of each patient at the hospital.

The second exhibit will be a pictorial account of the role of modern electronic development in the understanding of brain disorders and mental disease.

In addition, the actual design and construction of a new automatic "wave analyzer" will be depicted.

Magazine Praises Woman's Painting

Mrs. Helen Cox, 132 Templin park, received special commendation in a recent issue of Time magazine for her thesis painting exhibited at the Addison gallery in Andover, Mass.

Her work was one of 113 prize student paintings from 25 of the country's best art schools. She did the painting as part of her thesis requirement for her master's degree in fine arts which she received at the June commencement.

Time wrote about the painting: "She sent a successfully elaborate still life of kitchen utensils hanging in mid-air; it was the happily screwball kind of experiment that professionals, with livings to make, seldom get around to."

Files Suit Charging Nonpayment of Note

Robert Milder yesterday filed a $322 judgment suit against Ray E. Evans in the Johnson county district court.

In his petition, Milder said that a promissory note, given by Evans July 31, 1946, and due 100 days after that date, was unpaid except for an $8 subscription to the Iowa City Press-Citizen.

He asked interest at 5 percent from July 31, 1946.

Pool Fund Gains As Grandrath Urges Payment of Pledges

After five days of inactivity, the swimming pool fund advanced $10 yesterday with a contribution from the business district phase of the drive. This brings the total collected thus far in the two-month drive to $10,761.79.

William Grandrath, publicity chairman of the drive, said that several potentially large contributions have been delayed and urged these places to turn in the money as soon as possible.

The Community Dads goal is $12,500. The money will be used to buy plumbing, heating unit and pool equipment. If the goal is not reached the pool will be without some important equipment, Grandrath added.

The totals from the various phases of the drive include $4,175.91 from the business district, $2,891 from the residential area, $3,405 from lodges and organizations, $209 from surrounding towns and $80.88 from miscellaneous sources.

LOUIS BADER DIES

Plan 'Draft' For Scientists

CHICAGO (UP)—The Argonne national laboratory, operated for the atomic energy commission by the University of Chicago, yesterday announced a plan whereby it can "draft" trained industrial scientists.

Under the agreement, the Westinghouse research laboratories, East Pittsburgh, Pa., will grant leaves of absence for any engineer or scientists needed for work at the Argonne plants.

Dr. Walter H. Zinn, Argonne director, said the project probably will require 20 to 30 Westinghouse men.

The Argonne national laboratory, now operating in 13 scattered plants, is consolidating its laboratories, Zinn said. The Argonne organization, which is the mid-west's center for atomic research and development, was begun in 1946 as the successor to the metallurgical laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Margaret E. Deane Appointed Counselor For Currier Hall

MARGARET DEANE

Ted Hartung Enters Fort Madison Prison

DES MOINES (AP)—Ted E. Hartung, former Des Moines prosecutor, entered Fort Madison penitentiary yesterday to start serving a one-year term on a charge of interfering with the administration of justice.

On good behavior the 43-year-old former attorney can be out of prison in nine months time. Hartung gave himself up to Sheriff G. A. Hall of Nevada shortly after 1 p. m.

Both the Iowa supreme court and the United States supreme court had turned down his appeals. An attempt to gain a pardon from Governor Robert D. Blue went unanswered.

The charge against Hartung arose out of an alleged attempt by Hartung to obtain false testimony from witnesses in a Story county rape case.

Minister Quits In Protest Against Tito

TEHRAN (UP)—Yugoslav minister to Tehran Azim Ali Hodzic and his staff have resigned in protest against he "Tito dictatorship" in their country and asked the Soviet government for protection, it was announced yesterday.

Endorsing the cominform denunciation of the Yugoslav Communist party, Hodzic charged that the party's recent congress in Belgrade was conducted under "a Tito-Rankovitch dictatorship and in an atmosphere of fear and terror."

Hodzic thus joined Radnja Golubovitch, former Yugoslav ambassador to Romania, in the apparently growing movement of Yugoslav officials into the cominform's anti-Tito ranks.

(In Bucharest, where he is living as a private citizen, Golubovitch charged yesterday that Col. Gen. Arso Yovanovitch, killed while trying to flee into Romania, had been murdered. He called upon Yugoslav Communists to withdraw support from Tito.)

In a note dated Aug. 20 and published yesterday, Hodzic said the Yugoslav party has created a fissure between Communists throughout the world.

"Not only Yugoslav Communists, but also all honorable Yugoslavs who love their country clearly know the Soviet Union's assistance is the only prerequisite for freedom and independence of our country and the best bastion against imperialistic slavery," the note said.

The entire legation staff was resigning, the note said, because the personnel did not want to assist in any policy directed against the Soviet Union, the Russian Communist party and "all new democratic countries."

Here's How You Can Hold Your Corn and Eat it, Too

WHY BRING UP MANNERS AT A TIME LIKE THIS? . . . asks eight-year-old Billy Curran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curran, 701 E. Davenport street, as he prepares to "dive in to" two delicious ears of sweet corn. Freckle-faced Billy is concerned about the "do's and 'don'ts" of sweet corn eating and it's a sure bet he doesn't eat it—two rows at a time!

"TOO MUCH SALT," EXCLAIMS BILLY. According to the experts, Billy could have avoided this by mixing the butter and salt before applying it to the ears. What Billy, no holders?

Use One Hand Only, Mix Salt and Butter

It is now being done in the best circles.

Contrary to common belief, the most dainty ladies and well-groomed gentlemen at formal dinner parties can at last give way to that urge to pick up an ear of corn and gnaw away.

However, the etiquette experts have thrown in a few "do's" and "don'ts" on eating corn-on-the-cob. These must be observed or you'll still be committing a social "faux pas."

"The hold" is one of the foremost rules to be followed. The "harmonica" grip is definitely taboo! One simply does not lunge at the ear, gnawing from left to right "harmonica" style. According to Emily and several other manner-monarchs, the ear of corn should be broken in half and eaten two rows at a time!

"The grip" is also important. Both hands are absolutely not used. The polite corn eater must somehow have the ear balanced while eating with one hand.

Some thoughtful soul was kind enough to invent holders which permit the use of both hands. However, if your host or hostess doesn't supply holders you have but one alternative . . . juggle!

One more word of advice. Instead of buttering and salting your ear of corn separately . . . mix the salt within the butter before applying. Also, the ear of corn is never completely buttered before eating. That's right . . . two rows at a time!

THE "HARMONICA" HOLD . . . condemned by etiquette experts is used by Billy. How's a fella supposed to hold on to the ear with one hand? Etiquette-minded grown-ups would be surprised how much better it tastes this way!

Emblem Planned For Aid Packages

WASHINGTON (UP)—A colored stars and stripes emblem will be stamped on every relief package sent abroad under the European recovery program so Europeans will know where the help is coming from.

Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman said the shield-like emblem is composed of four white stars on a blue background, under which run 13 red and white stripes.

It bears the statement: "For European Recovery, Supplied by the United States of America." The emblem apparently is part of ECA's answer to statements both in and out of congress that Europeans were not being told what this country is doing to help them back on their feet.

Death Benefits Show Increase over 1947

NEW YORK (AP)—Life insurance death benefit payments to Iowa families increased by $727,000 during the first half of this year over the corresponding period of 1947, the Institute of Life Insurance reported yesterday.

Death benefits paid in the last six months totaled $9,604,000. For the same period of last year they were $8,877,000 and for the first half of 1941 payments totaled $6,126,000.

The number of policies converted into claims was 5,938 during the first six months of this year, 5,779 last year and 4,690 in 1941.

Believe Electric Drill Caused Mine Explosion

WASHINGTON (UP)—A spark from a "non-permissible" electric drill probably caused the July 27 explosion that killed 13 Princeton, Ind., miners, the bureau of mines reported yesterday.

The board said that methane, an inflammable gas which had leaked from a sealed area in the mine, was ignited, causing the blast. The miners were using an electric drill of a type that has not received the bureau's "permissible seal of approval."
