Washington (UP) — Theodore Steelman, 39, was painting the capitol dome 175 feet above the ground yesterday when a 300-pound decoration gave way and toppled him off the ladder.

Unions Win Pension Test Before Court

Non-Communist Oath Upheld By 2-1 Rule

Chicago (AP) — The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals held today that qualified unions can require employers to bargain with them about pensions.

The court also upheld the constitutionality of a provision of the Taft-Hartley law requiring union officials to sign affidavits that they are not Communists.

The ruling sustained a National Labor Relations Board order that the Inland Steel Company must discuss pensions with the CIO United Steelworkers — if union officers sign non-Communist affidavits.

If upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court, lawyers said, the ruling will:

1 — Bring the entire subject of pension or retirement plans within the realm of collective bargaining. The order will apply to all unionized companies in interstate commerce. Employers will have to consult the recognized bargaining agent before changing the existing pension program.

2 — Deprive unions of the services of the National Labor Relations Board in collective bargaining elections and other matters unless union officials comply with the non-Communist provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Officials of several big unions, including the CIO United Steel Workers, the United Mine Workers and the CIO Longshoremen, have refused to sign non-Communist affidavits.

The court agreed unanimously on the pension issue but split 2-1 on the legality of the non-Communist oath requirement.

The company said it would appeal.

The case reached the court on appeals from the NLRB order of April 13 by both the company and union. The union held the non-Communist ruling was unconstitutional while the company contended the pension provision order was invalid.

FBI Jails Farmer On Slavery Charge

ST. PAUL, MINN. (AP) — A Minnesota farmer was arrested by federal agents last night on charges of holding an American-born Mexican in peonage at his farm for more than six years.

James J. Giblin, assistant U.S. district attorney, said the man jailed was George Stark, living on a farm eight miles north of Winthrop in Sibley county. He said the arrest came after Stark had been indicted by a federal grand jury, meeting here.

Giblin said the worker allegedly held in slavery was Francisco Rodriguez, 38, a native of Brownsville, Tex. He added that the man had been held on the Stark farm, unpaid and under threats, from March, 1941, until his liberation by Sheriff Frank Volinkaty of Sibley county last March 29.

Remington Threatens To Sue Bentley, NBC

WASHINGTON (UP) — William W. Remington, suspended commerce department officer threatened yesterday to sue Elizabeth T. Bentley and the National Broadcasting company for libel unless she retracts the charge she made over NBC that he is a Communist.

He told a news conference he will start suit against both parties if Miss Bentley fails to make a public retraction by noon, Sept. 30.

Vice-President Faces 'No Vacancy' in Capital

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Call off the election! Throw away the ballots!

There's no point in choosing a vice-president, folks.

He doesn't have an office to come to.

This sad news came out inadvertently yesterday when a photographer, acting on an impulse which is somewhat obscure to me, decided to take a picture of the vice-president's hangout.

"Imagine my surprise, Mac," he said. "He hasn't got any."

That's true, too. It must be sad news for the Messrs. Warren, Barkley, Taylor, Wright, et al. Here they are, running for an office which has no office space.

Hancher Greets New Students at Induction—

The 1948-1949 school year was officially opened yesterday morning when Pres. Virgil M. Hancher (center, at rostrum) urged some 3,500 students present to "pledge life-long loyalty to the ideals of scholarship and character . . . exemplified in the life of this university." A flag raising ceremony was held preceding President Hancher's address. Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, gave the invocation.

Party Heads Continue West Trek

Truman Flays Third Party

LOS ANGELES (UP) — President Truman last night battled Henry A. Wallace and the Progressive party for the votes of "disturbed liberals . . . sitting uncertainly on the outskirts of a third party."

The President denounced Wallace's party as being guided and used by the Communists, saying this "shows that this party does not represent American ideals."

He warned "any liberal" that it would be "folly . . . to put his hope in this third party."

Mr. Truman spoke here after a day's stump tour of the central valley of California, calling attention to his record in World War I and charging the Republicans with wanting to pull down farm price supports.

He spoke in a movieland atmosphere that had all the proportions of a Hollywood production. Myriad blue searchlights swept the sky and the President was flanked on the flag-draped platform by a number of Hollywood stars, including Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall and George O'Brien.

The President said the underlying struggle in the campaign is between Democrats and Republicans, between two sets of ideals.

Dewey: Keep Atom Secret

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (UP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey declared last night the United States will keep its atomic secrets until the threat of war is removed but must end its monopoly once peace is guaranteed.

The Republican presidential nominee, who expects to head the government in January, spoke before an estimated 15,000 persons in Montgomery high school stadium.

He said the government monopoly of atomic secrets and its development for military uses "must be maintained at all costs" until the threat of war is gone.

"But with this precaution for our security," he added, "it is perfectly clear that atomic progress cannot continue to be left exclusively to the government."

Dewey Delays Trip To 'Rescue' Editor

EN ROUTE WITH DEWEY — (UP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey late yesterday approved an unscheduled stop at Wickenburg, Ariz., rather than embarrass the editor of The Wickenburg Weekly Sun.

The newspaper had issued its first extra in history to announce the Dewey special train would halt there, not knowing a change in plans had eliminated Wickenburg as a stop.

Informed of the Wickenburg Sun's predicament, Gov. Dewey agreed to a five-minute delay for a rear platform appearance.

Marshall Warns UN War Threatens World

PARIS (UP) — Secretary of State George C. Marshall told the United Nations assembly yesterday that the world is threatened with another war, and he gave Russia plain warning not to mistake the patience of the United States for weakness.

Marshall pledged that the U.S. will seek in every possible way to end the present tension and uncertainty.

But, he said, it will not compromise essential principles or barter away the rights and freedoms of other peoples.

Marshall spoke at the opening of general debate in the third world assembly of the United Nations.

Paris (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall said last night he thinks U. S. peace efforts will succeed.

"We will succeed in our task, thanks to the honesty of our goal and the sincerity of our intentions," he told a group of French legislative leaders. He spoke briefly to the "Franco-United States friendship" group at a reception.

Hancher Opens School Term

3,500 Students Attend LA Morning Exercises

The State University of Iowa began its 1948-1949 academic year yesterday with the opening of classes at 7:30 a.m. and induction ceremonies at 8:20 a.m. and 8 p.m.

The morning exercises were brief, taking only 10 minutes. They included a flag raising ceremony, invocation by Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, and an address to the 3,500 students present by Pres. Virgil M. Hancher.

Second Induction

At the second induction ceremony, held last night in Macbride auditorium for the new students in the colleges of medicine, dentistry and pharmacy, Dean Mayo H. Soley of the college of medicine spoke on "The Professional Man."

Meanwhile, SUI students spent most of the first day filling out class cards and getting some idea of what their classes would be like.

Some professors charitably kept the students in classrooms only long enough to sign class cards but others started the year off on the other foot by launching into 50-minute lectures to the notebook-shy students.

President Hancher began his address yesterday morning by quoting President Lowell of Harvard who said:

"It is not surprising that universities become storehouses of accumulated knowledge because the freshmen bring so much with them and the seniors take so little away."

"He added, 'I hope that the latter part of this statement can never be applied to you.'"

The president pointed out that a very large "balance" is being deposited to the students credit "in this intellectual storehouse."

He said that no matter how extravagant or reckless the student is in drawing on this account that "no demand on this balance will be returned marked insufficient funds."

"And the more you carry away, the more nearly this university will have come to the accomplishment of one of its principal purposes," Hancher added.

Need Interest

Dean Soley warned new students in medicine, dentistry and pharmacy that interest is one of the most important factors involved in professional success.

Soley, who is beginning his first year as dean of the college of medicine, told the students they had already assumed some responsibilities of their respective professions

Yankees Drop Full Game Behind Leaders on 4-2 Loss to Chisox

Open Boston Series Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The Yankees' drive to make it a three-way tie for the American lead sliced into the rough yesterday as the New Yorkers suffered a 4-2 loss to the Chicago White Sox in their final game in the west.

As a result of the defeat, the 1947 world champions dropped a full game behind the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians as they started home to begin an all-important three-game series with the Boston club in New York today.

With only eight games remaining on the schedule for each of the contending clubs, Boston and Cleveland have won 91 and lost 55 games each and the Yanks have won 90 and lost 56. The Yankees and Red Sox meet five times in their remaining eight games while Cleveland finishes against Detroit and Chicago.

The combination of a 31-year-old southpaw, Frank Papish, and chilly, windy weather that limited the crowd to 2,746 stopped the Bronx Bombers yesterday. Papish yielded only six hits while Ed Lopat, who prefers to pitch in hot weather, gave up five painful blows and three runs in the fourth inning.

Papish, who had lost six games in a row, turned in his second complete game of the season and his second victory against eight losses. He received no little aid from the wind which blew in from the outfield. The Yanks didn't even threaten Papish seriously except in their two scoring innings and they left ten men stranded on the bases.

After each team scored a run in the third inning, the Sox settled things in the fourth when five hits were combined with a passed ball to produce Chicago's three runs.

Bucks Work on Defense
COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—The Ohio State coaching staff worked on the Buckeye defense yesterday in a brisk 70-minute workout. They expected a tricky offense from Missouri in tomorrow's opener here.

World Series Plans

THE BOSTON BRAVES began mailing their first batch of World Series postcards to lucky applicants yesterday, with only one victory by the Braves needed to insure their first October series since 1914. Mary MacKinnon of the Braves office staff holds the precious ducats.

Stubborn Bums Hang on, Beat NY, 7-1

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers remained, mathematically, in the National league pennant race yesterday, with only the New York Giants, 7-1.

The triumph moved the Dodgers one percentage point behind the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals and within seven games of the pennant-bound Boston Braves. The Braves and Cardinals were idle.

Brooklyn has seven games left to play and the Braves nine. One Dodger defeat or one Boston victory will eliminate the Dodgers. The Dodgers broke up a close ball game with a three run eighth inning rally that Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella featured with home runs off starting and losing pitcher Monte Kennedy.

Brooklyn nicked Kennedy for two runs in the second inning on two walks, a single, Johnny Mize's error and a fly out.

Mize atoned for his error when he hit his 39th home run of the season in the seventh inning to put the Giants within a run of a deadlock. Mize now is tied with Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner for the loop's home run leadership.

Iowa, Irish Wins Foreseen

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
NEW YORK (AP)—With one eye on that blistering baseball race and the other on a well-worn rabbit's foot, we move into the first football forecast of 1948, wondering what happened to the days when the first two or three weeks of the season were loaded with setups instead of upsets:

Purdue vs. Notre Dame
What a way for a pigskin prognosticator to start the season. The Irish have had some practice injuries but Frank Leahy has a habit of gathering up enough wholesome athletes to handle any situation. Stringing with a champion until he's licked, one small vote for Notre Dame.

Texas vs. North Carolina
The Longhorns usually start fast, then run out of gas in mid-season. The Tar Heels follow a reverse procedure. Texas apparently didn't miss Bobby Layne in last week's 33-0 inaugural against LSU, Texas.

California vs. Navy
Another of the top drawer inter-sectional struggles on Saturday's cards. Pappy Waldorf of the Bears seems to have it this year. A confident vote for California.

Villanova vs. Army
The Wildcats hope to make Army pay for past indignities. This corner looks for more of the same. Army.

Minnesota vs. Washington
Howie Odell, the Huskies' new coach, is ailing and this won't hurry his recovery. Minnesota looks like the team to beat in the Big Nine. Another vote for a visiting team, Minnesota.

Running rapidly over the chalk lines otherwise:

Friday Night
Southern California over Oregon State, Boston college over Wake Forest, Kansas over Denver, St. Louis over Drake, Detroit over Toledo, South Dakota over Omaha.

Saturday East
Yale over Brown, Cornell over NYU, Colgate over Buffalo, Lafayette over Fordham, Holy Cross over Georgetown, Columbia over Rutgers.

South
Tennessee over Mississippi State, Duke over North Carolina State, Georgia over Chattanooga, Kentucky over Xavier, Clemson over Presbyterian, Maryland over Richmond, Mississippi over Florida, Alabama over Tulane, Georgia Tech over Vanderbilt.

Southwest and Far West
Texas Christian over Oklahoma A and M, Texas A and M over Texas Tech, Oklahoma over Santa Clara, Baylor over Tulsa, Arkansas over East Texas State, Oregon over Stanford, SMU over Pitt, UCLA over Northwestern.

Hawks Await Marquette After Three Weeks of Hard Practice

With three weeks of hard work behind them, Iowa's Hawkeyes now await their football opener with Marquette in the Iowa stadium tomorrow afternoon.

Yesterday the Hawks held their last extensive workout before the non-conference curtain-raiser, once again concentrating a good share of the practice session on pass defense. This afternoon Dr. Eddie Anderson will put his charges through a light drill with game uniforms in the stadium.

Both Marquette and Iowa remain a mystery to each other. The two teams are undoubtedly expecting to meet a passing opponent, a fact which may throw the game into a wide-open affair.

Although Anderson has used Dick Meyer at first-string center this week, it now appears that Dick Woodard will get the call.

Parking Advice
Parking space in the vicinity of the stadium is limited to the north and south tennis courts and an area west of the baseball diamond.

Fans attending the Iowa-Marquette game tomorrow will be better off to park in University heights (west of stadium), Manville heights (north of U.S. highway 6) and the residential district east of Iowa river.

Saturday, The 215-pound Woodard moved back to the No. 1 offensive eleven yesterday afternoon.

Anderson now seems set on an offensive team of Bob McKenzie and Jack Dittmer, ends; Jim Shoat and Bill Kay, tackles; Joe Grothus and Ray Carlson, guards; Woodard, center; Al DiMarco, quarterback; Bob Longley and Jerry Fiske, halfbacks, and John Tedore, fullback.

Iowa has not had a serious injury during the entire three weeks of practice. Minor injuries have hampered Ron Headington, Jimmy Halliburton and Bob Cohrs but all three will be ready for action tomorrow.

The Marquette squad will arrive in Davenport this afternoon and hold a brief workout there later today. The Hilltoppers will stay at the Hotel Blackhawk in Davenport and leave by bus for Iowa City tomorrow morning.

Slaughter Leaves Hospital in Boston
BOSTON (AP)—Enos (Country) Slaughter, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder was discharged yesterday from St. Elizabeth's hospital after treatment for a fractured nose suffered in Wednesday's game against the Boston Braves.

Slaughter was struck on the bridge of the nose by a Nippy Jones' line drive in the fourth inning Wednesday as he ran from first to second on a hit and run play.

Kempthorn Ready
ANN ARBOR, MICH (UP)—Dick Kempthorn, first-string Michigan fullback, probably will be ready to start in tomorrow's opening game against Michigan State college.

Trainer Jim Hunt said Kempthorn's leg injury, suffered Wednesday in a scrimmage, was healing rapidly. Trainers earlier had feared that the powerful line-plunger would be out of action.

Coach Stu Holcomb said his starting lineup for Notre Dame was all set, except for center when he was unable to choose between rangy Bill Sprang and returned Regular Angelo Cannata.

Striving to Avoid Second Loop Loss—

Hawklets Visit Potent Wilson

City high's rejuvenated Little Hawks invade Wilson high of Cedar Rapids' stronghold tonight, hoping to keep in the thick of the Mississippi Valley conference race.

A loss, coming hard on the heels of the 13-0 setback by Davenport's Blue Devils last week, would virtually eliminate the Hawklets from title consideration.

Wilson is reputed to have one of its strongest teams in history. The record books tend to back up the Ramblers claim, as they have rolled to two successive triumphs in as many weeks. Both of these victories have come over highly rated foes — Waverly and East Waterloo.

Coach Frank Bates last night termed his team's blocking and tackling "much improved." These two factors combined last weekend to give the City high followers many bad moments in the Blue Devil game.

Coach Bates has drilled his squad hard upon fundamentals this week and said that his team should look much smoother against the Ramblers.

Severest blow to the Hawklet cause tonight will be the probable loss of the services of towering Gene Hettrick the Little Hawks' first string end. Hettrick has been missing from practice all week with an abscess under his arm. Bates announced last night that it was "extremely doubtful" whether he would be able to see action tonight.

This leaves City high minus one of its big scoring threats. This, coupled with injuries to backs Dan Dutcher and Jerry White have left a hole in the Hawklet attack. However, capable replacements, Dick Williams and Clayton Yoder, may help to bolster the sagging offense.

Coach Bates has indicated that he will stick to virtually the same forward wall that started the game last week with Henry Rate filling the hole vacated by the injured Hettrick at left end. Bates' club will operate again from the T-formation in tonight's contest.

The Ramblers of Wilson run from a deep punt formation, with the tailback about eight yards behind the line of scrimmage.

They operate behind a balanced line sparked by their classy performer, John Havlicek. He scored both touchdowns in the Rambler's defeat last week of Waverly.

The game is scheduled for 8 o'clock at Hill park in Cedar Rapids.

Ike Williams KO's Flores

By GAYLE TALBOT
YANKEE STADIUM. NEW YORK (AP)—Lethal Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., knocked out game little Jesse Flores of Stockton, Calif., in the 10th round of a rousing scrap at Yankee stadium last night to retain his world lightweight title.

Flores, down four times previously from Williams' smashing blows, finally succumbed to a terrific right uppercut which dumped him to his knees, and was counted out by Referee Mark Conn at 2:04 of the round.

In a 10-round companion piece which preceded the main event, Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson punched out a unanimous decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba in a non-title bout.

Williams, making his third straight title defense this year—a modern record in any weight division—slammed Flores to the canvas twice for counts of nine in the fifth round.

Twice more in the eighth Flores was dropped for counts of nine and eight, but until the instant that Williams finally nailed him in the 10th it looked as though the coast gamester would stick it out.

Three Phillie Errors Hand Reds 3-2 Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds took advantage of three Philadelphia errors last night to defeat the Phillies 3-2 in their final game of the season. Johnny Blatnik's homer accounted for the first Philadelphia run in the eighth.

Lefty Ken Raffensberger started on the hill for the Redlegs. After giving up 11 hits in seven and one-third innings, Raffensberger departed in favor of Harry Gumbert in the eighth. Raffensberger was the winning pitcher, his 11th against as many defeats.

Blix Donnelly was the loser. He has won five and lost seven.

U-High, Mt. Vernon Each Seek 1st Win At Iowa City Today

University high's Blue Hawks will try to regain some of the plummage they lost in last week's scalping by Wellman, today when they meet Mt. Vernon here this afternoon.

Mt. Vernon brings to Iowa City a dismal record which includes two losses against no wins.

The game which will open the Eastern Hawkeye conference season for the Blue Hawks, is scheduled for the university practice field at 3:00 p.m.

Fullback Bob Ojemann and End Arnold Schnobelen are the only two men assured of starting for the Blue Devils, according to Coach C. O. Green.

This will be the first game for the visitors in which they have actually commanded their full strength. Injuries contributed to their two defeats this season, 28-6 to Marion, and 7-0 at the hands of Anamosa.

U-High's loss was to Wellman, sparked by their all-round threat, Don Schwartzendruber who scored 31 points on five touchdown runs and a conversion.

Back Ronnie Coldsnow will probably receive one of the open positions for the Blue Devils. He is a converted guard.

Brennan to Start

SOUTH BEND, IND. (UP)—Terry Brennan will be Notre Dame's starting Left Halfback in the season opener against Purdue tomorrow, Coach Frank Leahy said yesterday.

Brennan, recovering from a knee operation, was not expected to see duty until later in the season. He has been Notre Dame's starting left half for the past three years, and is expected to be the spark plug of this year's squad.

Cubs to Slice Farm System from 18 to 10

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago Cubs announced yesterday that their baseball farm system will be pared next season from 18 to ten minor league clubs.

Jack Sheehan, director of the Cubs farm system, said that the eight clubs to be eliminated will come from the three lowest classifications of professional baseball.

Fifth-Inning Blast Wins for Senators

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A five-run fifth inning was sufficient for the Washington Senators to edge the St. Louis Browns, 9-8, last night after a two-run homer by Ed Stewart and a one-run triple by Sherry Robertson sent Washington away to an early lead. The Browns failed to catch up despite three runs in the seventh inning and two in the eighth.

The Senators, striking back after a near-record losing streak, chalked up their fourth straight victory. Rae Scarborough went seven innings for the Senators in gaining his 14th victory while Fred Sanford, the first of five St. Louis pitchers, absorbed his 20th setback of the year.

Election of district officers and reports from the 11 counties comprising the district will feature the day's business. Guest speaker will be Thomas E. Martin, congressional representative from the first district.

The morning session will be called to order in the Columbus Junction Community hall at 11 a.m. A potluck lunch is scheduled for 12:15 p.m. and the afternoon session will open at 1:15 p.m.

Billy Bishop to Play For Homecoming Dance; Tickets for 800 Couples

Music for SUI's Homecoming dance will be provided by Billy Bishop and his orchestra, Prof. Louis C. Zopf, chairman of the Homecoming committee, announced yesterday. Dancing at the informal party will be from 9 p.m. until midnight at the Iowa Union, Friday, Oct. 15.

Bishop, who is now playing in Chicago, plays the piano and acts as male vocalist. Alice Mann is his featured girl singer. Eight hundred tickets will go on sale at the Iowa Union Monday morning, Oct. 11. A limited number of tickets will be available for SUI alumni.

Alumni may obtain tickets by writing Prof. Zopf at the university's college of pharmacy before Oct. 11. The price of the tickets is $2.50 a couple.

Former Professor Wills Books to SUI

Prof. E. N. S. Thompson, late of the SUI English department, has willed the major part of his personal library to the university.

His will and codicil were admitted to probate today in district court. Prof. Thompson died Sept. 13.

The professor said in the codicil to the will that most of his library should be given to the university library, or to some other college that needs the books.

A set of Shakespeare and the works of Milton go to his niece, Olive Thompson.

The executor of the will, the First National bank, is required to post $25,000 bond.

P. B. Olsen is attorney for the estate.

Students May Drill with Local Guard

University students who are members of Iowa national guard units may drill, with one of the two units located in the army, Sgt. Edward W. Winden, 34th mechanized cavalry reconnaissance troop, announced yesterday.

However, he cautioned, "They must have a letter from the commanding officer of their home unit to the commanding officer of the unit they wish to attend drill with."

Members of out-of-state units may not drill here, he added.

Monday, drill night for the 34th, approximately 20 student guardsmen showed up, he said. Many did not have the proper letter and could not drill. The unit, which handles mostly field artillery and infantry guardsmen, expects at least 40 students eventually.

The other army unit is Company B 109 medical battalion. It drilled "five or six" student guardsmen, according to Sgt. Robert J. Lee. It drills Tuesday nights. Lee expects about 15 more.

The two units are 19 men short of their quotas, but both men said their units probably would enlist only year-round Iowa City residents.

South Quad Holds Smoker Wednesday

Two hundred residents of South Quad attended a smoker in the main lounge of the South Quad, Wednesday evening.

Virgil S. Copeland, university dormitories manager, and Walker McElheny, advisor in the office of student affairs, welcomed the residents to campus.

Mrs. Verne Spencer, manager of South Quad, was special guest of honor.

Plans for the Homecoming dance were begun at the first meeting of the union board Wednesday evening, according to Dr. Earl E. Harper, director of the Iowa Union.

Maurice Stark and John Tyson were appointed as a special committee to plan cooperation between the union board Carnival of Bands and the Student Community Chest.

A meeting for the election of officers and appointment of sub-committees was set for next Tuesday evening.

Damage Suit Filed Here for $658.02

A $658.02 damage suit was filed yesterday in Johnson county district court.

Donald R. Rovender, North Liberty, filed suit against Robert M. Harkins, Iowa City, and Richard L. Potter, formerly of Iowa City. The defendants operated the O. K. Body Shop.

The plaintiff charged negligence on the part of the defendants when the body shop was destroyed by a fire in which he said his car was totally demolished.

Rovender claimed the value of the car prior to the accident was $768.02 and the salvage value afterwards was $110. He charged the damage brought about by the defendants' negligence was $658.02.

A. W. Bass of Cedar Rapids and William R. Hart are attorneys for the plaintiff.

List $150 Damage in Accident Here

A loose steering knob was blamed for an accident at 3 p.m. yesterday after a car driven by Lester J. Akers, 503 S. Capitol street, smashed into a tree.

Akers said he lost control of the car when the steering knob slipped. The accident occurred near the intersection of Van Buren and Page streets.

Akers estimated $150 damage to his car and said no one was injured.

'Clever' Driver Plays Game With Motorists

Police were searching yesterday for a car with rear headlights, the latest invention for increasing the hazards of driving.

J. V. Carlton, 446 Second avenue, reported the car to police at 11:50 p.m. Wednesday. He said that the car passed him while he was driving and then flashed regular headlights, attached to the rear of the car, into his face.

He was temporarily blinded but saw the license number of the other car, he said.

Denies Taking Secret Plans

Former Sergeant's Bond Set at $3,000

CHICAGO (UP)—A former army technician yesterday pleaded innocent to federal charges of removing secret electronic plans from the Atom Energy laboratory at Los Alamos, New Mexico.

John Robert Lepman, 26, son of a wealthy Chicago milliner, told authorities he did not know the documents were secret and had planned only to use them as an aid in entering the radio business.

Asst. District Attorney Jack A. Welfeld said there appeared to be no foreign agency involved. Lepman was the seventh former soldier to be charged with removing secret data from the Atomic Energy project.

Welfeld sought a $5,000 bond when Lepman was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. But Walker set bond at $3,000 after Defense Attorney Leo T. Tierney argued that Lepman came from a "very highly regarded" Chicago family. A further hearing was set for Oct. 5.

The youth was in the army from 1943 to 1946 and received an honorable discharge. He worked as a technician at Los Alamos in 1946.

Welfeld said Lepman held a technical sergeant's rating at Los Alamos. He was accused of taking 51 drawings described as "blueprints of electronic circuits" from the project.

According to Welfeld, Lepman admitted taking some documents, but said he made no attempt to conceal them and thought they were not of a confidential nature.

Lepman said he knew some of the plans were "classified" material at one time but thought they were being "declassified" gradually. Welfeld quoted him as saying he was not sure of the importance of the plans to national security and tried to select ones he felt would not endanger security.

CHARGED BY THE FBI with violating atomic energy act, John Lepman (right), 26, of Chicago is escorted from U. S. commissioner's office by Benny Goldberg, deputy U. S. marshal. Lepman will be removed to Santa Fe, N. M., to face charges of stealing "classified papers."

Ralston Creek Work Enters Final Phase With Channel Project

Final work began yesterday on the summer-long Ralston Creek improvements involving straightening, widening and placing backfill between the Kirkwood street bridge and the Benton street bridge.

The $6,000 improvements are being made by Carl Chadek. According to W. H. Grandrath, chairman of the city council's special committee for the project, it involves about 300 feet of the creek and should be finished in a few weeks.

Included in the work is the reclaiming of a block of Linn street which has been washed away by the creek. Grandrath said that Chadek will start next Monday to straighten the channel. These first few days will be spent removing a large tree from the channel.

The entire Ralston creek project will cost the city about $9,500, according to Grandrath. About $2,000 was spent in cleaning out the east end of the creek and $1,500 in widening and straightening the channel north of E. College street.

Grandrath said that the money for the project was received by the city from the liquor tax and gasoline tax funds.

Organ Dedication by Zion Lutheran Church

The Zion Lutheran church, located at the corner of Johnson and Bloomington streets, will dedicate a new Reuter pipe organ at special services Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

The organ is to be dedicated to the young men and women of the church who served in World War I and II.

The Rev. A. C. Proehl, pastor of the church, will have charge of the dedication ceremony and Prof. August Engelbrecht, Wartburg Theological Seminary, Dubuque, will be the principal speaker.

Former SUI Athlete Honored

Cuhel, Wartime Correspondent, in Group Of 40 on Pentagon Memorial

A former SUI athlete, Frank J. (Babs) Cuhel, has been honored by a memorial now placed in the "working press" room of the Pentagon building in Washington, D. C.

The memorial, which honors the more than 40 war correspondents and photographers who were killed or died covering World War II, was dedicated by high civilian and military leaders of the armed forces Monday.

The former Iowa athlete, a correspondent for the Mutual Broadcasting system, was killed in a crash of a Yankee Clipper at Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 22, 1943, when transferring from the Pacific to the North African war theater.

Cuhel was an outstanding athlete here from 1923 to 1927. A native of Cedar Rapids, he starred in track as a hurdler and competed in the 400 meter hurdles in the 1928 Olympics at Los Angeles, Calif.

After graduation Cuhel became an office manager in the Dodge exporting division. He was in Borneo when the Japs struck and succeeded in escaping over the mountains and making his way to Australia. Shortly afterward he began working for the Mutual Broadcasting system as a correspondent.

Chan F. Coulter, 440 Grand avenue, also prominent athlete here during Cuhel's days on the SUI campus, yesterday recalled a telephone conversation with Cuhel in the Fiji islands in the Pacific late in 1942. Coulter, an officer with an infantry battalion, was participating in the Pacific conflict and Cuhel was returning to the United States for reassignment to the North African theater.

Tailfeathers' —

Flash Card System

— At Game Tomorrow

Student spectators will have an opportunity to participate in the halftime entertainment—a flash card stunt—at the Iowa-Marquette football game tomorrow in the Iowa stadium.

According to Dean Crawford, president of Tailfeathers, the flash card stunt has never been used at any of the Big Nine schools. This will be the first time it has ever been used at the University of Iowa.

Also on the half-time program will be about 50 high school baton twirlers from 10 or more schools. They will give a 6-minute mass demonstration of twirling to the accompaniment of the SUI football band, according to Prof. C. B. Righter, band director.

To Distribute Cards

Flash cards, used to form the designs in the stunts will be distributed just before half-time by members of Tailfeathers to students sitting on the west side of the stadium between the 30 and 40 yard lines.

Each of the 957 students in this section — 33 rows below the entryway and above the band — will receive four flash cards and an instruction card. Each flash card will have two colors. The instruction card will list the stunts, the row and seat number and date of the performance.

"Success of the stunt depends on the cooperation of everyone sitting in the section," Crawford emphasized. Students in this section should remain in their seats during half-time until the stunt is completed.

Here are instructions from Tailfeathers for each student participating in the five flash card stunts planned for Saturday.

1. Number of the stunt will be given over the loudspeaking system by a member of Tailfeathers.

2. Student should consult his instruction card to learn which color he should display for the stunt and have the card ready on his lap.

3. On the command "ready" he should grasp the card in the center on the outer edge of both sides.

4. On the command "up," he should raise the card straight up perpendicular to his face so that his hands are at eye level. Hold it there for five to 10 seconds until the "down" command is given.

5. Immediately get the card ready for the next stunt.

Watch Colors

Some students will have the same color for each of the five stunts, Crawford said.

The flash card stunt will be used at each of the five home games this season and will take place each time in the same stadium section. At each game the stunts will begin and end with a hawk.

Predominant colors in the demonstration at the game this weekend will be gold, black and white.

Stunts Planned

The stunts will be a hawk, "Welcome to '48 football," S U I, "Iowa Fights" and a hawk.

Ken Mounce is chairman of the flash card committee. The stunt is handled by Tailfeathers with the cooperation of the athletic department.

The football band will also play for the traditional flag-raising ceremony before the game.

The Moose Grenadiers, Iowa City drum and bugle corps, will perform at the game, Frank Havlicek, SUI business manager of athletics announced yesterday.

Construction of Two Buildings Approved By City Engineer

Five building permits for construction totaling $24,900 were issued yesterday and Wednesday by the city engineer.

Glen Kennedy was given a permit to build a $12,000 residence and garage at 1125 Seymour avenue. Kennedy will do his own contracting.

An $11,000 grocery store will be built in the near future by H. L. Beals, according to the city engineer's records. The store will be located at 122 Wright street and the Paulson firm of West Branch will be the contractors.

Two of the permits, totaling $1,500, were issued for additions to residences. Art Schreiber, 950 E. Davenport street, estimated his costs will be $1,000 and the remaining $500 will be spent by Raymond Mavis, 1725 F Street. Both men will do their own contracting.

Irvin H. Borts was granted the fifth permit for a $400 extension to his present garage in east Iowa City.

Highlanders Accept 34

Thirty-four girls have been accepted into the Scottish Highlander bagpipe band as a result of tryouts held during the past week, Pipe Major Bill Adamson announced yesterday.

The all-girl group now has 92 members, but according to Adamson the number of coeds will be cut to 75 near the end of the football season.

The kilt-clad lassies will make their first trip of the new school year Sept. 30 when they appear at the Railroad fair in Chicago. They will continue to Bloomington, Ind., and perform at the Indiana-Iowa football game Oct. 2 before returning to SUI.

New members of the Highlanders are Betty Jane Benz, A2, Oskaloosa; Joan Ann Bockenstedt, A2, New Vienna; Jean R. Bringle, A2, Estherville; Bonnie Campbell, A2, Des Moines; Patricia DeVilbiss, A2, Waukegan, Ill.; Bette Dye, A2, Bellevue.

CIO Official Gives Third Party Aims

The Progressive party will present "the opposite point of view" in this fall's presidential campaign, a representative of the CIO told the Students for Wallace at their first meeting in the geology building last night.

"There is no real controversy between Republicans and Democrats on foreign policy," Bud James, international representative of the CIO farm equipment workers, explained to the group.

James assailed the administration's policy as one aimed at "cracking up the Russian government in 10 to 15 years."

James added that Republican presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey and his foreign policy advisor, John F. Dulles, have endorsed and helped create President Truman's foreign policy.

The platform of the Progressives calls for a settlement of differences between the U.S. and Russia as the prerequisite for world peace, the CIO man explained.

Attacking the Republican-controlled congress, James tabbed it "a complete failure." It has done "absolutely nothing" in regard to housing, living conditions and prices, he pointed out.

Also at the meeting last night, Acting Chairman Larry Kaplan of Iowa City proposed a new committee set-up to the group for the coming year. Approval was postponed until the next meeting.

Committees he listed included (1) national affairs, (2) international affairs, (3) social, (4) civil rights, (5) student affairs, (6) publicity and (7) straw vote.

Tailfeathers

New Members May Apply Next Week

Applications for membership in Tailfeathers will be available at the Iowa Union desk Wednesday through Oct. 4, Dean Crawford, president, announced yesterday.

Any student in good standing in the college (maintaining grade point required for graduation) is eligible to apply. There is no set quota to be filled, but the organization needs "quite a few" new members, Crawford said.

All applicants will be interviewed by the officers of Tailfeathers.

Applicants will be asked to indicate on the applications when they will be available for an interview.

First big activity of the old and new members of Tailfeathers will be the sale of Homecoming badges. Other activities during the year include entertainment at football and basketball games and organization of pep rallies.

Thompson to Face Wisconsin Governor

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Republican Gov. Oscar Rennebohm and Democratic aspirant Carl Thompson will vie for the post of Wisconsin's chief executive in the November election.

Rennebohm, who advanced to the governorship from the No. 2 spot in March, 1947, following the death of Gov. Walter S. Goodland, won a smashing triumph over former Adjutant General Ralph M. Immell in Tuesday's primary. The vote, in 3,091 of the state's 3,140 precincts, was Rennebohm 274,003, Immell 196,722.

His opponent in November, a former army sergeant who was defeated two years ago in a bid for a congressional seat, smothered veteran William D. Carroll by 70,472 votes to 37,015 in 3,034 precincts.

The first bid for recognition on a statewide basis by a Henry Wallace-backed candidate failed to attract much attention among Wisconsin voters. Henry J. Berquist, unopposed people's progressive candidate, received less than two votes a precinct. His total in 2,910 precincts was 5,708 votes.

SUI ART AT DES MOINES Selected works of SUI art students are now on exhibit at the Des Moines Art Center, the art department announced yesterday.

When Miss Park informed the quartermaster general corps of her new idea they told her to bring it along to Washington and they'd have a look. But they added, they had enough olive drab (the kind that says) on hand to last till 1951.

"They might as well give that to charity," shrugs Miss Park. "It's just gathering dust in the barracks."

She can see it now, she says—a memorial day parade with all the girls stepping along in their "champagne beige" undies.

"Why, recruiting would pick up in a hurry," Miss Park added. "If the lady soldiers and sailors knew they'd get Juel Park pants along with their uniforms."

WACs Sag in GI Issue

Designer Suggests Lana Turner Type Lingerie For Women in Armed Services

By VIRGINIA MACPHERSON

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The lady who embroidered catchy sayings on Lana Turner's honeymoon scanties yesterday offered to fix up the WACS and WAVES "just as pretty underneath."

Juel Park, designer of expensive fluffly-ruffles for movie queens, has whipped up a batch of guarantees will boost the morale of the fighting forces. Female, that is.

"Everybody knows," sniffed Miss Park, "that those GI atrocities they have now sag and bag and wrinkle in all the wrong places. Why, they hang clear down to the girls' knees!"

No wonder, she says, the WACS and WAVES were always "A.W.O.L. underneath."

Woman First

"A WAC is a woman first and a soldier second," Miss Park added. "So they all went out and bought their own lingerie and stuffed the olive drab underneath in their foot lockers."

Miss Park felt so bad about the ladies' plight she sat down and designed a set of nylon panties, bras, and slips the like of which never came out of any army warehouse.

For the WACS she made 'em in "champagne beige," the same shade La Turner got married in. Waves' unmentionables come in "bridal white."

No Quotations

Miss Park admitted she'd had to curb the artistic talent that prompted her to decorate Lana's lingerie with appropriate quotations. (Just what they were she still refuses to say.)

But the new military brassiere, with enough uplift to keep any lady soldier always at "a-ten-shun!" is prettied up with brown rickrack. So are the slips and scanties.

The WAVES get the same design in blue.

Army Has Plenty

When Miss Park informed the quartermaster general corps of her new idea they told her to bring it along to Washington and they'd have a look. But they added, they had enough olive drab (the kind that says) on hand to last till 1951.

"They might as well give that to charity," shrugs Miss Park. "It's just gathering dust in the barracks."

She can see it now, she says—a memorial day parade with all the girls stepping along in their "champagne beige" undies.

Collegiate Chamber Recruits over 300 In Members Drive

The current membership drive by the collegiate chamber of commerce topped the 300 mark yesterday, according to Frank Barrett, president.

Recruiting tables were moved yesterday from the fieldhouse to the first floor hallway of University hall.

Barrett said the chamber hopes to enroll all students who are taking commerce, pre-commerce and economics.

Members were promised a "big program" for the year. This includes the commerce dance following the Notre Dame football game and the careers conference held in the spring.

The chamber also plans to sponsor a series of monthly coffee hours this year. At such times, guest speakers will lecture on training for jobs and vocational preparation.

Besides Barrett, officers of the collegiate chamber of commerce include Guy Ames, vice-president; Pat Van Liew, secretary; Jack Smith, treasurer, and Nevin Woodward, social chairman. Faculty advisor is Clark Bloom.

Vienna's Giving Up On Old Hitler Debt

VIENNA (AP)—Adolf Hitler still owes the City of Vienna $260—and the city is about ready to mark it off as a bad debt.

The money is owed for a grave ordered by Hitler for his niece, 17-year-old Angelika Raubel. Angelika's mother, Paula, was a cook in a Jewish university restaurant before Hitler made her his housekeeper at his mountain retreat in Obersalzberg, Germany.

Angelika went to Obersalzberg with her mother. She committed suicide in 1945 for reasons never made public. Rumors at that time said it was because Hitler transferred his affections to Eva Braun.

Hitler asked that she be buried in Vienna's Central cemetery, and paid the undertaker 10 schillings ($1.00). That was his last contribution. Since this was before the Anschluss, Hitler had to ask the permission of the Austrian government to visit Vienna for the funeral. Later, the city was afraid to bring the bill to the attention of Der Fuehrer.

How Disunited Can You Get?

If nothing else, the UN general assembly is predictable. Andrei Vishinsky's "disunited nations" blast sets up the cold war atmosphere which will soon turn the assembly hall into a battlefield. Always remember that Russia is outvoted heavily in the general assembly since each member nation has one vote and no veto power.

On the 14-nation steering committee, for instance, Russia has only Poland to vote its way. Consequently, every proposal that Russia opposes has been and will be voted on the agenda. Already Russia will have its dirty Balkan and Korean linen aired in the UN public.

It is no surprise, therefore, when Moscow newspapers gave prominent space to a story asserting that a greedy "American-controlled majority" grabbed all the chairmanships in the assembly organizational elections.

The Russian press blasted especially Herbert V. Evatt of Australia who was elected president of the assembly. True, Evatt is the champion of the small nation in the assembly and an outspoken opponent of the veto. But in this respect he is frequently at odds with the "greedy Americans."

Russia has vetoed applications for membership of Italy, Austria, Finland, Eire, Portugal and Transjordan. The reason: these nations were not Soviet satellites and would therefore vote independently also. Of course, in Moscow's eyes there is no such thing as an independent vote. If it is not Moscow-dominated, it must be American-dominated.

The end result is simple. The world sees Russia and its inferiority complex at its worst. The Russian bear and its concept of brute force cannot cover over all the proceedings.

Russia must act as one among equals. But it seems that Marx, Lenin and Stalin all forgot to lay down rules on this point. So the Russian delegation is stumped.

Before very long the UN delegates will zip up their brief cases, put on ear muffs and sit back. The Soviet propaganda blasts are due any day now. How disunited can you get?

What's Being Said

"Sentiment for re-enactment of national prohibition is developing and the liquor interests are becoming desperate in their fight against it"—Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin at the annual WCTU convention.

"We have the fifth column on the run in the United States. We can keep it on the run without resorting to trial by ordeal." Attorney General Clark as he called spy stories "preposterous." Clark also deplored the hysteria created by spy scares.

"We need a new, consistent, straightforward and undeviating national policy so that all the world will know that we believe in our hearts in freedom and that every act we are taking as a government is devoted to that principle"—Thomas E. Dewey speaking at Albuquerque in the type of verbosity which some people have labelled "clean campaigning" and others have called "over the people's heads."

"I must say that the trend of recent events has not been such as to encourage us to make public more information than we have hitherto"—British Defense Minister Alexander speaking on Britain's new rearmament program.

"Indiana farmers through their various, efficient organizations can handle their own problems and save the state hundreds of thousands of dollars annually"—GOP candidate for Indiana governor Hobart Creighton as he boasted that the Hoosier state has no department of agriculture; doesn't need one.

Result of Punt-and-Pray Tactics

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT For a Safe, Sane Election

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

I would like to try a small analysis of why the American people are, apparently, in a conservative mood.

Sometimes a face-saving explanation is attempted, as in the theory that the people are turning to the right because their newspapers tell them to do so. But many of their newspapers have been telling them to do so since about ten minutes after Roosevelt's first inauguration, and the theory does not explain why it has required fifteen years for the treatment to take hold.

And it is obvious that many of the issues which usually serve to keep the people on the liberal side are still very much extant, lack of housing, high prices, the cost of living pinch. This leads to the startling thought that whatever impulse it is that's making the people move to the right must be even stronger than their normal desires and irritations.

And I think they're scared. I think they've taken a good square look at a fluid world, and have got the wind up, and it's hard to blame them. They see France on the verge of what might become civil war; they have an immense feeling for France, and the spectacle stupefies them; it is as if they were to see Pike's Peak crumbling in a rainstorm.

They turn to the Republican party as to something fixed, old and familiar, in the same mood in which they are turning to historical novels, songs of the nineties, and operettas about old times—a similarity which explains much about present Republican campaign successes, so massive and so passionless, so big and yet so lacking in signs of exuberance and real popularity.

It seems to me the political decision is being made on these interior levels, far below the levels at which we talk about how the candidates stand on this issue and that.

In this setting, for the Russians to brush our politics aside with the simple comment that we are embarking on a right-wing conspiracy to take over the world, is bizarre. The Russian thinkers pride themselves on understanding that deep, complex relationships exist between all events and manifestations in this world—except in the case of Russian actions and American reactions, on which point they consider that there is absolutely no relationship.

The approach is like sticking one's head into a neighbor's window at night, scaring him into a whoop, and then complaining that his fondness for noise makes it impossible to live in his vicinity.

And here perhaps, we can begin to understand why the Wallace movement has not gained more adherents. Its jubilant leftiness, its feeling that we, to a great degree, are what's wrong with the world, its conviction that it's very rude of us to show alarm over immense and staggering political changes, all seem to the American middle class more like an enlargement of what it fears than like a cure for its terrors, not the answer, but the problem brought closer.

And an argument that links social reform with a general atmosphere of intellectual submissiveness to Russia will probably operate only to drive some people further away from reform. In the dim, interior spaces in which these decisions are being made, one can almost see Americans deciding even to give up reform, if that be the price for sticking to what they know, in contrast with other peoples who have been forced to give up what they know and are, as a presumed down payment on reform.

Guest Editorial

(The state board of education in its meeting on Sept. 14 deadlocked on the issue of the ban on political speeches within state educational facilities. An example of the state reaction may be found in this editorial from the Preston Times. Printed in part here is Times publisher-editor Edwin Black's reaction. Well-known in Iowa publishing circles, Editor Black expresses his opinions on his front page.)

The Clinton Herald stated Tuesday night: "In blunt, unsugared language, George I. Hall, of Lynnbrook, N. Y., grand exalted ruler of the BPO Elks, last night warned an audience of 350 men and women in the Modernistic that the hope for survival of America's democratic system of government rests in the hands of the nation's youth."

And that can only be accomplished through politics. Politics have a strangle hold on the nation and it is only through politics, and the power that political offices give, that the national life and future course of this nation can be governed. The young people in our colleges and universities should be REQUIRED to see and hear leading politicians when they appear on their campuses.

Politics affect the lives of every person in this nation. The outcome of elections are a vital factor in our very lives. The very life and future of the university itself can well depend upon the outcome of elections and the continuance of our present democratic form of government. The right and privilege of every boy and girl who has the ambition to attend colleges and universities can well depend upon the outcome of future elections.

Farfetched, you say? Individual freedom has been lost in many nations of the world. The right of the individual has been subordinated to the will of the state. It has happened there and unless America wakes up, it can happen here!

During the past four years this writer has become acquainted with many young men and women attending the State University of Iowa at Iowa City. We have found them to be intelligent, serious-minded young people. They must be intelligent to maintain their place in the university. Very few of a frivolous nature can long survive the competition and pace at the university.

These young people are thinking. They are reading and watching and observing and making up their own minds. They are not taking the promises of political leaders as the final word. Action to them speaks louder than words. I have heard a better analysis of conditions from university students than from some of the "big shot" politicians.

The university people have their own political organizations and are permitted to hold their political rallies and discussions. That is right and proper. They should also have the right and privilege of inviting and hearing candidates for political office.

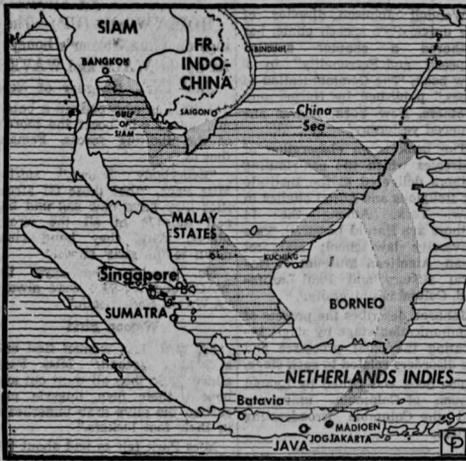

Dear Old Iowa and the stately board of control (we were going to say saintly) should trade in that burro cart for a stream-lined automobile and catch up with the rest of the world. That fine stadium out at Iowa is a wonderful structure. It would not collapse under the strain of a crowd listening to politicians.

Many of the leaders of tomorrow will come from the colleges and universities. An education may not be a requirement for leadership but it HELPS.

Take off the blinders, members of the state board. Wake up, look at the sun. It shines alike on Democrats and Republicans, yes, even the same on Wallace followers, Prohibitionists, etc. Make a rule that all parties can receive equal consideration at our state schools.

McBride's Haul

By BILL MCBRIDE

A conversation with an agent several days ago brought back memories of my pencil box and book strap days in the lower stages of education.

For years I haven't seen a pencil box. Maybe I just haven't been looking for them in the right places. I used to have one of the best pencil boxes in my class, and now what have I got... six pencils all in one shirt pocket.

My pencil boxing started at a tender age when I was given a small unfinished box with a sliding lid by a zealous shoe salesman. It had the word "Pencils" burned into the lid so there could be no mistaking its purpose!

The shoes cost $2.50, and the box was thrown in free. These days I spend $17.50 for a pair of shoes and don't even get a shoe box, let alone something to keep my pencils in.

By the time I reached fifth grade I had graduated to a four-drawer, super-pencil box. It was a little gem except for the fact that it was too large to fit into my desk. As a result some one stole it after the first six weeks of school.

On the day of the crime the box held a jawbreaker, five colored pencils, two pencil sharpeners (one in the shape of a dirigible, the envy of the class), a copper tube ideal for spit balling and the usual collection of pen points, compasses and erasers.

I'd know that dirigible pencil sharpener any place, and a jawbreaker is one of the hardest things in the world to hide and enjoy at the same time. If the culprit is in this vicinity I may have a pencil box after all this year.

In a discussion about the Dairy Cattle congress in Waterloo soon, I made a statement to the effect that I don't know a Jersey cow from a Guernsey.

The faculty member with whom I was conversing unconsciously replied, "You just don't have the proper pull." If he had known that he was saying I would give him the order of the Blue Moan.

According to an agent, a faculty member has turned his slight disability into an asset. The professor is a little hard of hearing and occasionally wears an electrical hearing aid.

The agent has observed the professor listening to a group conversation and deduced that he was saving his batteries by turning off his hearing aid when nothing important was being said.

Through the concentrated efforts of two or three agents I am prepared to give you the context of an important announcement now posted on the South Quadrangle bulletin board.

A resident in that building is tired of finding his automobile in a different spot each morning, so he wrote the following notice: "If you must show your strength by picking up my Crosley station wagon. Will you please return it where you found it. Thank you."

It is signed by Ray Gillet, and although its construction doesn't speak well for the communications skills department, the general idea is there.

Must be awful to wake up every morning and wonder where your car will be. Maybe you could buy a surplus navy anchor cheap, Ray.

The new head on this column is the result of Dick Spencer's cartooning ability. I hate to take a chance on hurting Dick's feelings, but he has second choice on this deal. Couldn't get a photographer to risk his equipment.

It turned out better this way. Dick's cartoon is really quite flattering.

Most people have been shrugging off the so-called Communist threat in the far east as something abstract—a threat on paper only.

To make things more lifelike, the infant Indonesian republic is battling for its life today against a Communist revolt. Last Saturday, Communist forces seized Madioen province and the third largest Indonesian city.

The revolutionaries called for an uprising throughout Indonesia—Java, Sumatra, Dutch Borneo and other islands. President Soekarno proclaimed martial law for workers in vital industries and prepared to battle the Communists.

The Dutch, retreating imperialistic power in the area, offered to help. But Soekarno, fearing the Dutch as much as the Communists, declined the offer.

Indonesian forces have launched a full-scale attack against the Communist rebels. The size of the rebel forces is estimated to be between 3,000 and 15,000 men.

The fact that Indonesia is becoming another China cannot be shrugged off. The democratic government set up under Soekarno with UN supervision is in danger of its life.

No one can blame the Indonesians for refusing to accept help from Dutch and British troops. They wish to retain their sovereignty. But there is another anti-Communist champion that can join the scrap as a welcome ally—the United States.

Millions of American dollars have been poured into Greece, Turkey and Berlin to check Russian expansion. But we have left the far east unguarded.

We are winning in Korea, stumped in China... but totally off guard in Indonesia.

The Communist revolt is not a local affair. Moscow has carefully built up a powerful nerve center in Bangkok, Siam, to direct

PRESIDENT SOEKARNO
... Another China

Communist agitation in the entire area.

Moscow-inspired violence is ringing through French Indo-China, Siam, Burma and the Malay peninsula as well as in Indonesia.

Unlike postwar Europe, Indonesia is not crippled economically. Strife with the Dutch and now with the Communists is checking the exports of tin, rubber, oil, copra, kapok, sugar, tea, tapioca and pepper.

But the islands have the goods. They are no longer colonies or trading monopolies ruled by the Dutch. America is looking for spheres where free trade can thrive. Indonesia is such a sphere.

Whether Indonesia accepts outside military aid to beat the Communists is not the most important point. The republic needs a clean bill of economic health for long-range stability.

Business sense—not just naked, unthinking force—can beat back the iron curtain in the far east.

'Bushhammering' Postoffice Steps

"WHAT ARE WE DOING? Bushhammering." That is the answer given an estimated 500 persons since Tuesday by Grant Stober (left), 1110 N. Dodge street, and Don Vrana, 630 N. Dodge street. They are refinishing the granite steps of the postoffice for the first time since the building was rebuilt about 17 years ago. Bushhammering takes the glaze, which appears after years of wear, off the stone. Stober and Vrana are really brick layers but stone finishing is part of a mason's job, they said. At the rate of 30 square feet per day, the resurfacing will be completed in about 12 days.

Peggies Park Babies, Weep Over GI Housing Picture

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Nine housewives named Peggy parked the kids with baby sitters yesterday and went to see a movie about their housing troubles on G. I. school allotments. It was so life-like they all wept buckets.

"They didn't leave out a thing," one pretty blonde gasped. "The heroine even blew a fuse trying to get nine extensions into one plug."

Twentieth Century-Fox invited the ladies out to preview "Apartment for Peggy," their movie about the housing shortage on college campuses.

In typical Hollywood fashion, they finished it up first and then decided to find out how right they were.

Since heroine Jeanne Crain's name is Peggy in the picture, they rounded up all the wives named Peggy in the veterans' housing center at the University of California at Los Angeles.

What surprised 'em most, the gals said, was 20th Century-Fox's restraint. Miss Crain didn't struggle along in a Mink-lined penthouse on $90 a month.

She lived in an attic and a crummy one at that. She guzzled pills three times a day because she was expecting a baby. She did her own washing in a public laundry. And she had to talk her husband out of quitting school.

"How true that is," the Peggys said. "It's a regular battle to keep our husbands in class. The worst time is halfway through semesters. They always want to chuck it all and get a job."

The girls decided maybe they were lucky, at that. They don't have to squeeze into trailers and attics, anyway.

"We have two whole rooms," one Peg said. "Of course, they're old barracks and the furniture's not much. And the baby has to sleep in the same room with us. But they're apartments, by golly."

All nine of 'em chortled in sisterly compassion when the student vets in the movie got to spouting Plato and looking down on their "illiterate" wives.

All but one of the Peggys had children—some had three—and they wept when Miss Crain's baby died at childbirth. The childless Peggy wept, too. She lost hers the same way.

The only thing they didn't like was the lipstick one G. I. wife found on her vet's handkerchief.

"The way the university works the boys," one Peggy snorted, "They don't have time to play around. Or energy either."

New Dependency Proof Needed for Disability Payments

Veterans with disability ratings of 60 percent or more who have dependents, were advised today by the veterans administration office here to submit documentary evidence of dependency promptly to the VA so that they may qualify for increased compensation payments.

According to William J. Doherty, officer in charge of the local VA office, the new law provides additional allowances for such disabled veterans who have a wife, children or dependent parents. The married veteran may receive up to $21 extra, with added amounts for additional dependents.

"Veterans whose dependents are listed in their VA claims folders as of Sept. 1, 1948, will have until Dec. 1 to file the evidence," Doherty reported.

These awards will be retroactive to Sept. 1, 1948, the effective date of the law, otherwise the effective date of the increase will be the date of receipt of the evidence.

As to the veteran's wife and children, certified true copies of public or church records usually are the best and most easily obtained evidence.

If for any reason the veteran cannot get these, he should submit the best evidence available, such as sworn statements of responsible persons. For parents, proof of dependency in the form of sworn statements as to income and property ownership are required.

Doherty said veterans may obtain assistance in connection with the filing of their claims at any VA office, or from service organizations and state agencies.

Hancher to Talk To Campus Group

President Virgil M. Hancher will speak on "Religion on the Campus" Sunday evening at the first regular meeting of the Roger Williams fellowship of the First Baptist church.

The campus group meets at 6 p.m. at the Roger Williams house, 230 N. Clinton street, home of Rev. and Mrs. Elmer E. Dierks. The Sunday night meeting is the first in a series of five orientation sessions.

On Sunday, Oct. 2, a skit, "Inside R. W.," will be presented and on Oct. 10, Earl E. Harper, director of the Iowa Union will speak. There will be a discussion on the field of social action at the Oct. 17 meeting and on Oct. 24 an international day program will be held with many foreign students in attendance.

Professional Club To Open Program

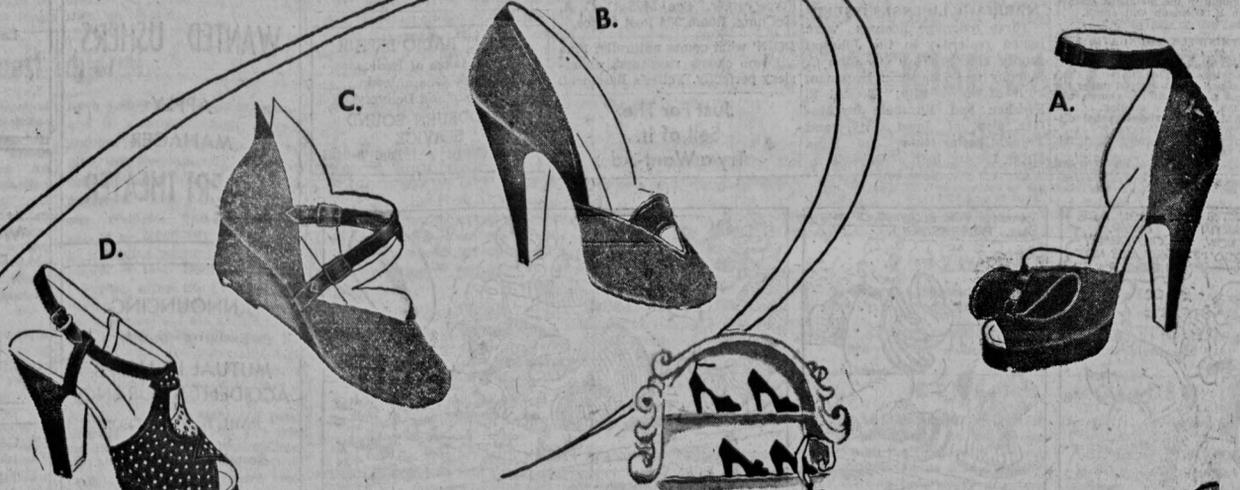

The Iowa City branch of the Federated Business and Professional Women will open the year's program Monday with a 6:15 p.m. dinner in the foyer of the Iowa Union.

Mrs. Helen Vanderburg, state president, will be the guest and speaker of the evening. She is also editor and publisher of the Shell Rock News.

Out-of-town members of the organization who may be studying at the university this year are invited to the meeting by Estella Boot, president of the Iowa City branch of the organization.

She asked that reservations be made with Miss Nellie Morey at phone number 9483 by tomorrow evening.
