WAUKON, IA. (UP)—Some northeastern Iowa farmers complain that wild deer are so numerous they destroy corn and gardens, but not Harry Davies. A calf on Davies' farm has refused milk each morning for the last two weeks because it had fed during the night from a doe which came out of the woods regularly and jumped into the calf pen. Davies' feed bill has dropped.

AEC Orders Union From Atomic Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's atomic plants were barred yesterday to labor unions with leaders suspected of Communist tie-ups.

David E. Lilienthal, atomic energy commission, chairman, signed letters ordering the United Electrical Workers and the CIO united public works of America to stay out of the atomic installations.

In each case, he said, information is available concerning "alleged Communist affiliation or association" of certain union officers.

Viewed in connection with the failure of the labor organizations' officers to sign non-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley act, he said, there is "a very serious question" whether the representation of atomic workers by such unions would be consistent with "that full and unqualified loyalty" to the interests of the United States required by the atomic energy act.

GE Notified
The notification went out in letters from Lilienthal to Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric Co. and William B. Harrell, business manager of the University of Chicago. The company and the university each operate atomic plants under government contracts.

Lilienthal's letter to Wilson directed GE not to recognize the electrical workers union at the new Knolls II atomic power plant at Schenectady, N. Y.

At the University of Chicago's Argonne atomic project, Lilienthal wrote the commission has been advised that a number of labor organizations, including the UPW, have been active in organizational work. As far as the UPW is concerned, he told the university to "continue to refrain from recognition."

In New York, Lawrence Kammet, publicity director for the UPW, said his union has not organized atomic energy workers "and we don't intend to."

In the same city, L. R. Boulware, GE vice president in charge of employ relations, complained that the commission's move was inadequate but said the company would "comply fully."

Both the United Public Workers and the United Electrical Workers have been under recent congressional scrutiny.

Communist-Dominated
Yesterday, and again today, the house labor subcommittee which is looking into the reported infiltration of Communists into labor organizations heard the electrical workers union described as the biggest Communist-dominated labor organization.

James J. Conroy, who identified himself as a former Communist and former UE member, made the statement yesterday. It was repeated today by J. B. Mathews, former investigator for the house un-American activities committee.

Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer of the electrical workers, and Russell A. Nixon, the union's Washington representative, declined to tell the subcommittee today whether they are or have been Communists. Like James J. Matles, organization director of the union who refused to answer a similar inquiry Tuesday, Emspak and Nixon stood on their constitutional rights.

Pres. Hancher to Attend Eisenhower Inauguration

Pres. Virgil M. Hancher will attend the inaugural ceremony for Dwight D. Eisenhower at Columbia university in New York, Oct. 12.

Hancher will leave Iowa City the first of next week to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the American Council on Education in Washington, D.C.

After the committee meeting he will leave for the inaugural ceremony.

Wallace Target of Eggs Again

HOUSTON (UP)—Eggs and tomatoes spattered radio microphones in front of Henry A. Wallace last night as he went before an unsegregated crowd of more than 3,500 to assert that his Progressive party had proved racial discrimination could be routed in the South.

Wallace paid no attention to the missiles as he put on his glasses, pulled his manuscript from his pocket and began reading his prepared speech.

Although he was greeted by scattered boos as well as eggs and tomatoes as he stepped to the microphone, his audience was heavily pro-Wallace.

Police Remove Man
One man, dressed in an open-necked sport shirt, hurled an egg at Wallace from a point behind the press box about 300 feet from the rostrum. A crippled man, sitting in the front row, struck at the egg-tosser with his crutch while the latter stood with his

Blue Cross Offers Hospitalization Plan To SUI Employees

University employees may apply for membership in the Blue Cross hospitalization plan tomorrow from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the business office in University hall or at the payroll office in University hospitals.

A. C. Marks, director of non-academic personnel, said yesterday that Blue Cross accepts new members only once a year. Staff members who want to enroll for the coming year must do so tomorrow.

New Contract
A new type of two-person contract is now available under Blue Cross, Marks said. It covers all services except maternity benefits for the employee and one eligible dependent at $2.50 per month. A new application card must be signed to transfer to this contract.

Individual membership can be secured for $1.25 per month. A family contract covering the employee, his spouse and all unmarried children between 90 days and 18 years of age, costs $2.65 per month.

Must Change Tomorrow
Present subscribers to a family contract who wish to change to the new two-person contract must do so tomorrow, Marks said. At the request of an employee, membership charges can be taken care of by the business office through payroll deductions.

Anyone who becomes a member of Blue Cross through the university, may continue his membership even though he leaves the university.

Russian Planes Dive At Airlift Transports

BERLIN (AP)—Nine Soviet Yak fighters made simulated diving attacks on two American coal planes on the Berlin haul yesterday.

American authorities said five Soviet fighters buzzed within 100 feet of one of the C-54 sky-masters in the Berlin-Hamburg corridor. Four fighters dived at the other Skymaster.

A strong written protest was sent to the Russians. It demanded "immediate and direct action" to make Russian fliers obey flight rules before a "serious incident" occurs.

The protest cited several other recent cases of "reckless" Soviet flying endangering American aircraft and complained that repeated oral protests "have been of no avail."

Season as Planned for Philadelphia Orchestra

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Orchestra association and local 77, AFL-American federation of musicians announced last night an agreement had been reached and the concert season will open tomorrow night.

The association cancelled the 1948-49 season earlier in the week, saying it was unable to meet the union's demands for a wage increase.

Indians Near Pennant Feller Hurls Vital Victory

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
Bobby Feller pitched the Cleveland Indians to a vital victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday. Although the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox won too, they were virtually out of the American league pennant race because Cleveland remained two games ahead with all teams having only three games to play.

Feller's 5-to-2 triumph, while the Yankees were beating Philadelphia, 4 to 2, and the Red Sox were whipping Washington, 5 to 1, meant the Indians could lose two of their three remaining games and still tie for the pennant. If they win two of the three they are in, regardless of what the Yankees and Red Sox do. And the Yankees and Red Sox play their last two against one another.

First Pennant Since 1920
So it seemed only a question of time until the Indians win their first pennant since 1920. They will rest today while the Red Sox entertain the Senators again and the Yankees and Athletics clash at Philadelphia. Tomorrow they open their three-game series with Detroit in their home park. Should both New York and Boston lose today, the Indians would clinch a tie for the pennant.

As the Indians moved to the brink of the World Series, disaster struck the National league representatives, the Boston Braves. Playing in a game which meant nothing so far as the pennant was concerned, outfielder Jeff Heath, one of the big sledge guns of the team, broke his ankle.

He will be out of the series. Feller, winning his 19th game of the season and his seventh in a row, pitched masterfully but needed the help of Second Baseman Joe Gordon, one of the game's greatest money players.

The White Sox touched him for two runs in the second inning and that lead stood up until Gordon came to bat in the bottom of the sixth with a man on base. He slammed a fat pitch by Frank Papius for his 32nd home run of the season and it tied the score.

Come From Behind
Ken Keltner, another money player, followed with his 30th homer which put the Indians in front to stay.

Berlin Crisis Goes To UN; Allies Say Peace Threatened

Motorist Pulls Reverse, Sheriff Pays

HAGERSTOWN, MD. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Robert Miller put a $2.45 pinch on motorist Chester Smith on a traffic charge—but Miller was the fellow who had to pay.

The Washington County Deputy was taking Smith to jail to post collateral. Once there, Smith gleefully swore out a warrant against Miller. The deputy sheriff, noted Smith, had driven the wrong way on a one-way street while taking him to the lockup.

City officers promptly arrested Miller who posted—and forfeited—$2.45 collateral.

Campaign Argument Not Disunity--Dewey

GREAT FALLS, MONT. (AP)—"Let no dictator or trigger-happy militarist anywhere" mistake campaign argument in America for disunity, Gov. Thomas Dewey said last night.

In the text of an address prepared for delivery in the civic center building at 9 p.m. Iowa Time, the Republican presidential nominee said:

"Let me send this message from Great Falls to Paris, and beyond Paris through the iron curtain:

"The Republican party is engaged in this campaign for the express purpose of bringing our people closer together so they can realize their great future and find peace with honor in the world.

Note of Caution
"And let no dictator or trigger-happy militarist anywhere make any mistake about that purpose."

The New York governor sounded that note of caution after a day of intense work on a major foreign policy speech he will make in Salt Lake City tonight. It will be broadcast over a national network (NBC) from 8:30 to 9 p.m., Iowa Time.

All through the west, Dewey has been hammering away at the theme this country's foreign policy has "wobbled" and that lack of firmness has caused confusion.

But he has backed up four-square the reference of the Berlin dispute to the UN security council.

Declaring the United Nations is "in the throes of a grave crisis," Dewey continued:

Must Not Misunderstand
"It is a moment in history, like never before, when our destiny and the fate of peace in the world depend on making clear to every foreign nation the fact that the American people are united. The totalitarian states must not misunderstand what is happening here."

Dewey will make a major campaign speech in Chicago on Oct. 26, Republican campaign headquarters announced yesterday.

It said the speech will be made in Chicago stadium, but that no other details have been arranged.

West, Then Chicago McGrath's Itinerary

Dean Earl J. McGrath said in an interview yesterday that he would not begin his duties at the University of Chicago until Jan. 1.

However, McGrath plans to leave Iowa City about Oct. 15. Between Oct. 15 and Jan. 1 he plans to visit colleges and universities in the middle and far west examining general education programs, he said.

McGrath resigned earlier this week as dean of the college of liberal arts to accept a professorship of higher education at the University of Chicago.

Action Termed Most Drastic

Council to Take Up Issue This Monday

PARIS (AP)—The Western Powers asked the United Nations security council yesterday to step into the Berlin crisis on the grounds that ruthless Soviet action threatens world peace.

The Moscow New Times predicted failure for the appeal which was presented to the council under the UN charter's most drastic provisions.

Informed sources said the council would take up the issue on Monday.

The United States, France and Britain handed in the hottest case in UN history on the 10th anniversary of the Munich pact—a forerunner to World War Two.

But where appeasement was the key in Munich determination to resist Soviet pressure was apparent in Paris.

The Western Powers said they would reserve to themselves the full right to take whatever measures were necessary to maintain their position in Berlin while referring the case to the UN.

Informed sources said this was a definite warning the three powers would not be forced out of Berlin.

The United States, France and Britain had announced last Sunday their decision to go to the council. Yesterday they filed their charges, with 30 pages of notes and documents supporting them, under chapter VII of the United Nations charter.

This chapter is the strongest in the charter.

The 800-word note sent to UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie without fanfare did not cite any article of chapter VII, but authoritative sources said the three powers would base their case on article 39.

This says the council shall determine the existence of any threat to the peace, breach of the peace, or act of aggression and make recommendations or decide which of its severest penalties it wants to invoke.

The council has the right to impose a land, sea and air blockade around a guilty country. If necessary, it can call on UN members to supply armed forces for military operations against the offender.

Delegates agreed generally that the Russians would veto any decision against them, however. This would probably result in the Western Powers taking the case to the General Assembly.

The Russians were silent in Paris as the charges were circulated, but in Moscow the weekly publication New Times said the appeal to the council would be unsuccessful.

It charged Secretary Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Bevin with directing a campaign for the "further ignition of war hysteria."

The notes from the three Western Powers were identical. They said Russia had created a serious situation by imposing the blockade on the western sectors of Berlin.

They said this conflicted with the rights of the British, French and Americans regarding the occupation of Germany, violated the UN charter and created a threat to peace.

Say Montgomery New 5-Power Head

LONDON (AP)—London newspapers reported in banner headlines today that Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery would head the new five-power Western Military Command.

The reports could not be confirmed officially. The military forces of Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg are involved.

The defense ministers of the five countries concluded a two-day secret meeting in Paris yesterday and decided to establish the permanent international command to prepare for defense.

Woodard Will Captain Hawks Against Indiana

Carlson May Not See Action

Dick Woodard, 215-pound center from Ft. Dodge, will captain the Iowa football team in its Western conference opener against Indiana Saturday.

Coupled with the announcement by Dr. Eddie Anderson that Woodard would lead the Hawks at Bloomington came the note that Ray Carlson, right guard and game captain against Marquette, would probably miss the Hoosier tilt.

Carlson has been hobbled by a knee injury but it had been hoped earlier that his knee would be improved by the end of this week.

It has not been determined whether Woodard responded to treatment properly and Carlson may not even make the trip.

Two other members of the Hawkeye offensive first team, Quarterback Al DiMarco and Halfback Jerry Fiske have also been hampered by injuries this week.

Fiske played in the Marquette game with a slight charley horse which continued to slow his running in recent workouts. His only work yesterday consisted of jogging around the field trying to loosen up the leg muscles.

DiMarco hurt his right shoulder in the Hilltopper battle and has done only light work in practice this week.

"I think DiMarco will be ready by Saturday," Dr. Anderson said yesterday. "He's resting his bruised shoulder this week."

Anderson also said that Ralph

Doran, one of the Hawks' hardest-running backs, has been bothered by a sore side. The senior halfback from Cedar Rapids made several long gains against Marquette.

Yesterday the Iowa squad worked on its blocking assignments. Defensive tactics against Indiana plays also came in for a good share of the afternoon's drill.

Anderson plans to take 36 players to the Indiana game. The traveling personnel will be announced this afternoon with the squad scheduled to leave for Indianapolis, 50 miles north of Bloomington, tomorrow morning.

The Hawks will remain in Indianapolis Friday night and travel to Bloomington Saturday morning by chartered buses. They will return to Indianapolis Saturday night and leave for Iowa City Sunday morning.

Hoosiers Anticipate Air Battle Against DiMarco

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (UP)—Indiana sharpened up on passing and pass defense yesterday in anticipation of an aerial battle Saturday with Iowa's Al DiMarco.

Coach Clyde Smith also concentrated yesterday's workout on rushing a punter.

Veteran Right Halfback John McDowell was still sidelined with a knee injury suffered against Wisconsin last Saturday, but team physician Charles Holland said he hoped McDowell could see action against the Hawkeyes.

Badgers Use Reserves

MADISON, WIS. (UP)—Reserves Tackle Bill Albright and Guard Nick Colias, worked with the Wisconsin varsity yesterday on defense in a strenuous scrimmage against the freshmen.

base, he pounded out a double that scored the fourth Cleveland run. A minute later he scored the fifth and final run of the game when Keltner again duplicated his feat—another double.

Feller yielded 10 hits, but outside of that second inning, he kept them so well scattered no damage was done.

The Yankees and Red Sox kept their flickering pennant hopes alive but their future was dark. To win the pennant outright they would have to sweep their three remaining games while the Indians lost theirs. With Bob Lemon, a 20-game winner, Rookie Gene Bearden, who has won 18, and Feller scheduled to do the pitching for the Indians against Detroit, their prospects were anything but rosy.

The Red Sox won behind the pitching of Ellis Kinder, who allowed 11 hits but bore down in the pinches. A three-run home run by Rookie Hank Bauer in the sixth inning gave the Yankees their victory. Relief Pitcher Joe Page and Allie Reynolds went in in the ninth inning to turn back a last minute Philadelphia bid for victory.

Heath was lost to his club as the Braves defeated the Dodgers, 4 to 3, behind Johnny Sain, hurling his 23rd victory of the season. The big outfielder had doubled with one out in the sixth and tried to score on a single by Catcher Bill Salkeld.

Gene Hermanski threw to Roy Campanella at the plate and the Dodger catcher tagged the sliding Heath.

Heath's spikes on his left shoe caught in the ground and both ankles were locked.

Three Big Chiefs

Liska Favors Purdue, Hoosiers

by JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—Giving a slightly-nicked crystal ball the second bounce on the midwestern football front:

Purdue 28, Northwestern 21 — This should be a whing-dinger which may go far towards clearing the Big Nine title picture.

Illinois 19, Wisconsin 13 — The Badgers aren't as bad as that 35-7 pasting by Indiana might indicate but Illinois was merely shadow boxing in routing Kansas State 40-0.

Indiana 21, Iowa 13 — Just trying to square things with Coach Clyde Smith against whom we voted last week to our sorrow, Halfback George Taliaferro is back in form, but those Hoosiers also are mighty hep this year in blocking and tackling which come ahead of fancy stuff in any league.

Michigan 20, Oregon 14 — They are saying nice things about the Webfoot out on the coast, but that long trip will get 'em.

Ohio State 18, Southern California 13 — our blue plate special. The Trojan line will find the Buckeyes a different outfit than it pushed around 32-0 last year.

Minnesota 14, Nebraska 12 — The Gophers have their eye on such later problems as Northwestern, Michigan and Purdue, but they shouldn't stumble here.

Notre Dame 28, Pittsburgh 7 — This one should tell whether Purdue is a Big Nine powerhouse or the Irish really are below par.

The Panthers bowed to Southern Methodist, 33-14, but they'll be a lot more inspired against Notre Dame.

Marquette 18, Detroit 13 (Friday night) — The Hilltoppers took a physical beating in their near upset of Iowa, but should have enough steam to rack up their fifth straight in the Marquette-Detroit rivalry.

Dick Dunkel's COLLEGE FOOTBALL POWER INDEX

EXPLANATION—The Power Index provides a direct comparison of the relative strength of any two teams for this season to date. Thus, a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger than a 40.0 team on their comparative records, in which scoring margin has been weighed against strength of opposition. This does not necessarily mean that a 50.0 team should defeat a 40.0 team by exactly 10 points in the future. Teams rarely follow past performance that closely. The Dunkel system correlates records of all college teams and was started in 1929.

'Straw Vote' Planned for SUI Soon

Tentative plans for a campus "straw vote" on national candidates as a preview to the November general elections will be presented to the Student council tonight for its approval.

Jim Goodwin, president of the university Young Republicans, will report on arrangements for the mock election at the first Student council meeting of the fall term tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Old Capitol.

The tentative plans to be presented by Goodwin were okayed yesterday by Dean Walter R. Goetsch of the office of student affairs. Goetsch said he will not give final university approval to the straw vote until the Student council sanctions the plans and returns them to his office for study.

Must Be Approved

If approved, the straw vote will be sponsored by the Student council, Council President Evan L. Hultman announced yesterday. Cooperating with the council and doing the campaigning for the mock election will be the three campus political groups—Young Democrats, Young Republicans and Students for Wallace, he said.

Tentative straw vote arrangements call for:

1. An electorate of all students.
2. A balloting system patterned after the campus elections in spring. Vote-casting will be rigidly controlled, with identification as a student necessary.
3. The straw vote taking place one to four days before the regular elections Nov. 2.
4. A big political rally in McBride auditorium the night before the straw vote. Each of the three campus political groups will be given 20 minutes at the rally for last-minute campaigning or whatever purpose each desires.
5. Balloting for president and vice-president of the U.S. Other candidates, possibly those for governor of Iowa and U.S. senator, may be added to the ballot.
6. Sectioning of students into seven wards according to housing units. Precinct captains representing the three political groups will be responsible for getting out the vote in each ward.
7. Tabulating of the votes by a non-partisan election board.

Set Rites for Crash Victims

Funeral services for two victims of a truck-car collision Tuesday morning on highway 218 will be held at 2 p.m. today at the Oathout Funeral chapel.

Rev. A. C. Proehl of the Zion Lutheran church will officiate at the double funeral. Burial will be in Meintzer cemetery near Bayertown.

Mr. Klein was born March 14, 1883, in Johnson county. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klein. He was married to Lottie Schenk in 1915. They made their home near Riverside.

Wayne Keeler was born in Iowa City March 13, 1945, and is survived by his parents and his grandparents, Mrs. Klein, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Keeler, Lone Tree.

Surviving Mr. Klein are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. John Liska, Riverside, Mrs. Stanley Keeler, Lone Tree, and two brothers, Jake and Henry, both of Hills.

Sleepy-Eyed Mitchum Pleads Innocent

MITCHUM AND FRIENDS pleaded innocent yesterday when the court failed to toss out narcotics charges against them. Hollywood attorney Jerry Geisler claimed the case wasn't "in the English language. . . . "was, "indefinite, uncertain. . . ." The judge promised to simplify language of the charge if that "would help the defense." Bobby-soxers who squealed at Mitchum's first appearance two weeks ago were quiet on his return appearance (right) with attorney Geisler. ## Cafe Blaze Stopped By Fire Department Severe fire damage was averted yesterday morning when the Iowa City fire department extinguished a blaze in the rear of the Maid-Rite cafe, 15 E. Washington street.

The fire broke out in a dishwasher and burned a small hole through the floor, directly beneath the machine.

Cooks at the cafe, reporting early for work, turned in the alarm at 7:00 a.m.

The dishwasher machine had been drained of water the night before, but the machine's heating element was left turned on.

Calm Before the Storm

The American Legion has apparently been infiltrated. After long years of fighting to maintain the finest old American traditions, this organization has now turned thumbs down on one of its oldest traditions—a tradition of wild national conventions. With the announcement of a crackdown on "hoodlumism", the Legion is attacking about the only "ism" they have never come out against. The Miami convention will be a lot of fun, they say, "clean American fun." That should leave hotel lobbies intact and Miami tempers a good deal cooler at the convention's end. Eliminating the destructive aspects of the traditional Legion convention is a very considerate move. More so because Miami has been selected for this year's convention city, and Florida has had about enough hurricanes for this season.

Naivete: Kindergarten Subversive Dept.

Ever attended a subversive kindergarten? Seen any grade-school kids stealing atomic secrets lately? Haven't? That's strange. According to information coming out of a congressional hearing, this country is headed for a revolution by 6-year-old Marxists. We're talking about the John W. Studebaker-Oscar R. Ewing feud now being aired. Recently Studebaker resigned as U.S. commissioner of education on the grounds that Ewing's federal security administration was censoring his work. More specifically, Ewing was charged with hampering Studebaker in fighting communism through the schools. Now Ewing is part of the Democratic administration and the Republican senate was looking for some election-time bones to pick. What should be more logical than a full-scale probe into the black matter. It had all the elements—a Democrat for the villain and the possibility of a Communist scare where one did not really exist. This last point was borne out in the hearings themselves. Studebaker was asked "Did Thurston (Ewing's assistant) ever say not to criticize communism?" His answer was no. In fact, the only indictment Studebaker could think of against Ewing or the FSA staff was "naive."

But if the federal government starts chasing naive people out of its ranks, the end result—after thousands of firings from every branch—would be . . . anarchy. Thank goodness, our professional politicians do not face the threat of unemployment because most of them are naive. But this is not the point. The hearings are being dragged on although the accuser has admitted there is nothing much to his indictment. Arguments are now going on because a Studebaker speech hitting the Russian "dictatorship" was drastically revised by the FSA to make the phrasing say "Russian system." Now baffle to the effect that school children should become government spies or may be Soviet spies is pouring forth. And more baffle mentions "junior G-men" in our schools. Just because the voters allow politicians of all parties to hold office—regardless of their naivete—it doesn't mean we can tolerate such nonsense.

What's Being Said—

"We must do our utmost to emphasize that religious survivals in our country play a reactionary, harmful role. They are hostile to that great cause for which toilers are laboring under the leadership of the Communist party"—from an article in the official organ of the white Russian republic. The Russians are beginning to look like the man who kicked his wife out of the house and then asked for a divorce on the grounds of incompatibility.

"They (the Russians) will take dramas, musicals, comedies, and they will take them without making any additions or cuts, or editing them in any way"—Eric Johnston, U.S. film czar, after a trip to Moscow convinced him that the Russians will distribute Hollywood films without using them for propaganda purposes. The big question, of course, is: can Abbott and Costello do a better job than Smith and Marshall?

Biggest case of inflated ego this week: "I charge that this report (on an alleged west coast espionage ring) was timed to coincide with the war fever now being fanned in Paris by the western statesmen under Secretary Marshall's prodding, in order to prevent the peoples of the world from securing lasting peace"—Steve Nelson, Communist official in Pennsylvania, charged with being a member of the espionage ring.

"Those battles get bigger and bigger every year"—104-year-old Civil War veteran William Osborn explaining why he likes the GAR encampments.

Under Observation — Peron's Revolt Scare An Anti-U.S. Move?

Peron and Wife Tell Crowd About Alleged Plot
The Argentine Constitutional Dictator Is No Fool . . .

By Daily Iowan Research Staff
Until concrete evidence turns up to prove otherwise, the charges of Argentine President Juan Peron that an American was leading a revolt against him may be a device for rallying anti-American feeling.

The trouble broke out last week when the Argentine government announced that it discovered a plot against Peron and his wife and had arrested many conspirators.

Then Peron personally told of the plot and accused John Griffith, former U. S. cultural attaché at the U. S. embassy, with leading the assassination attempt.

"After serving as a spy here, in this free and trusting country, protected by diplomatic immunity, he (Griffith) went to Uruguay and from there he is directing the revolt in this country," Peron said in a public address.

Peron subtly brushed aside the fact that Griffith was American with the remark "he has no right to be an American because he is an international spy."

But the average citizen, caught by the magnet of Latin America's superman-on-earth, did not miss the cue. Seventy-five persons were injured in the tumultuous demonstration in which crowds shouted anti-American slogans before the U. S. embassy.

Again it must be said that the alleged expose of a plot against the Argentine government may be legitimate. Meanwhile, there are implications that point in other directions.

While running for election, Peron was blacklisted by the U. S. government. After he was installed, it took a long while before the state department reluctantly accepted the fact that Peron was there to stay—for his elected term.

The U. S. government feared Peron's dictatorial leanings. But these fears have been only partially borne out.

The Argentine constitution provides for a term of six years for its president and also stipulates that he cannot succeed himself. Peron has seemed willing to go along with this but many of his supporters haven't.

Lively agitation is under way to amend the constitutional bars. Peron hasn't exactly squelched them.

Economics is another source of friction between the U. S. and Argentina. Peron took control of Argentina's exporting business—the lifeblood of the nation.

He first tried to peddle Argentine beef to famished Europe at prices that would put any black market operator to shame.

ASK PETRILLO TO MEET NEW YORK (AP)—The major recording companies have asked James C. Petrillo to meet with them to discuss ways of settling the 10-months old recording ban, it was disclosed yesterday.

JOHN GRIFFITH
Assassination Plot?

Then he anxiously sought to get in on the ERP act.

Theoretically, Latin America is to benefit from the Marshall plan by selling goods to Europe for dollars. A shortage of dollars is the biggest headache of South American countries eager to buy American goods.

But here again, Peron priced himself out of the market. South America as a whole has gotten little European business; Argentina has gotten none.

A major economic conference between the Americas has been scheduled for the fall, probably to be held in Rio. The possibility that Peron is trying to put the U. S. on the defensive as the conference draws near is a real one.

After all, Argentina's constitutional dictator is no fool. Not fool enough to let an alleged assassin plot get very far. And not fool enough not to make a big play for more American bucks.

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

Two Parties in Crime

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

We Americans are grateful for our two-party system and are accustomed, sometimes a little smugly, to give thanks that we are not as other peoples who are dragged down by the weight of eight parties, ten parties, or sometimes in hot years with lots of rainfall, twelve parties.

We feel that politics is very confused in the multi-party countries, as contrasted with the simplicity of our situation in which, normally, there are two parties, one in, one out, and both resigned to the fact that they must change positions frequently, like an elevator and its counterweight.

McBride's Haul

By BILL MCBRIDE

I never cease to be astounded at the unlimited bounds of the three-year-old mind. The astounder for today concerns a University hospital doctor's daughter with no little powers of observation and imitation.

The little girl's mother finished the family wash Tuesday while the three-year-old and her baby sister were taking a nap. Having finished her housewifely duties, the mother laid down for a nap too.

As soon as the mother fell asleep, the three-year-old popped out of bed full of worthy intentions.

Her first move was to roll up the rugs. Why roll up the rugs? . . . to scrub the floors, naturally. Get out the scrub brush . . . get out the bucket . . . Mommy's little helper's gonna scrub de floor.

After finishing the bedroom floor, she tackled the livingroom. A few swipes at the floor in there and scrubbing becomes monotonous.

What does one do when one is too tired to finish the living-room? Brush one's teeth, of course. Off to the bathroom . . . get out the tooth brush . . . get out the toothpaste. TOOTH-PASTE! . . . what pretty patterns toothpaste makes when squeezed from the big fat tube. Tra la, tra la . . . let's redecorate Mommy's bathroom—with toothpaste—toothpaste on the lavatory, toothpaste on the walls, toothpaste in the bathtub and toothpaste in the halls.

Enough dallying, we must get back to helping Mommy before she awakens. What to do, what to do . . . DISHES. Oh, jolly, jolly, we'll do the dishes.

There they are, all stacked neatly in the kitchen sink. We'll buckle right down and finish these before you say "Duz does everything."

Splash! Splash! What fun it is to help Mommy. Oops, a little slopped onto the floor. No time for details . . . must get the dishes done.

Hearken! What's that grinding noise? Mommy has awakened from her slumber, and it's her teeth that are grinding. She's standing in a puddle of water in her bedroom where you scrubbed the floor, little Miss Helper.

Mommy acts strange doesn't she? You'd think she didn't appreciate your help. Mommy knows about little girls, though. She looks over your work and says not a word . . . a few well-chosen grimaces . . . a deep sigh or two, but not a word.

Mommy mops up the excess water from the floors, rolls back the rugs, cleans up the kitchen and wipes the toothpaste from the bathtub.

"Where's the scrub brush?" Mommy says. "Scrub brush?" you say. Where did we put the scrub brush?

Trek to the bathroom . . . no scrub brush. Trek to the bedroom . . . no scrub brush. Trek to the living room . . . no scrub brush. We're tired of playing this game. Let's do something else, huh? Another sigh from Mommy, and the search is forsaken.

At dinner time that evening when Mommy went to the refrigerator to get Daddy his meal . . . SURPRISE, SURPRISE! There's the scrub brush hiding in the refrigerator. Why didn't we think of that before?

Tuesday afternoon I opened one of my two desk drawers and lo and behold, there was a Frivol. Some of you may wonder what Frivol is.

It is your humor magazine, and is edited, managed, written in part, copyread, rewritten, worried over, fought at, stewed, parboiled and delineated by editor Ken Eble and his staff in an old broom closet in the basement of East hall.

The aforementioned staff is by no means complete. There may be a place for you if you're a student and have a knack of saying things with a typewriter or can draw cleverly.

I was a little early in receiving my Frivol, but you should have yours by today. If you haven't you can drop down to room W-5 in East hall and register a complaint. It's worth the walk.

Leave Car Uptown, Roads to Be Oiled

Roads will be oiled today in Riverdale, Riverside, Templin, Quonset and North parks if weather permits, J. Robert Cotter, manager of married students housing, said yesterday.

Cotter asked that all cars be removed from roads and parking lots in these areas until the oiling is completed. He said this would take about two days.

Other housing areas will be oiled as soon as possible after the first areas are finished. Roads should be dry when oiled, he said.

Cotter said a coat of penetrating oil would be applied first, followed by a coat of asphalt and sand the next day. Roads will be ready for use as soon as sanded he said.

Work is being done by the Horrabin Contracting company. The contract was let through the physical plant department, Ray J. Phillips, maintenance superintendent, said.

Plan Review Of Guard Unit

Only one of Iowa City's two national guard units will receive a federal inspection this winter, according to Brig. Gen. Charles H. Grahl, adjutant general of Iowa.

This unit, the thirty-fourth mechanized cavalry reconnaissance troop, will be inspected Jan. 24.

The other army unit, Company B of the 100th Medical Battalion, will not be inspected since it has been activated only since June and is not eligible.

Grahl said only Iowa units activated for at least six months will receive an inspection.

The inspections have been scheduled by the commanding general of the Fifth Army, Chicago, from Oct. 4 through Feb. 11.

Unit records, unit personnel en masse and armory facilities will be checked during the inspection.

Report Good Crops Gardners Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett C. Gardner, 603 E. College street, returned Tuesday from a two weeks' motor trip on which Gardner, who is county agricultural extension director, observed crop conditions in 14 states.

The gardeners also visited their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Fredric E. Simpson, in San Angelo, Texas. Dr. and Mrs. Simpson are both SUI graduates.

The trip covered over 4,000 miles. They went east to Virginia first, then to Tennessee, then southwest to Texas. They returned home through Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska.

Gardner visited agricultural experiment stations in Virginia, Tennessee and Texas.

Farms in most of the states they visited had good crop prospects, but numbers of livestock were less than normal, Gardner reported.

They saw harvested tobacco in drying sheds in Tennessee and Arkansas. Gardner described the tobacco crop as excellent, but he said this year's cotton crop was only fair.

In the wheat belt, he said, the seeding had been delayed because of dry weather, but a very large acreage was being planted. Some of the wheat is already up, he added.

Gardner said he thought hay and forage crops were adequate in livestock raising areas, and the corn crop looked very promising.

Lighting For Downtown

The joint city council-chamber of commerce light committee will go to Rock Island, Ill., next week to study the new lighting system recently installed there. W. H. Grandrath announced yesterday.

Grandrath is chairman of the city council's light committee. He said that the trip was proposed by Robert Gage, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Mercury-Vapor Type

The new business district lighting system in Rock Island is the mercury-vapor type, according to Grandrath, and the joint committee will study this system before taking action on the local problem.

The lighting group is a standing committee of the council. A three-man committee was appointed last week from the chamber of commerce to consider with the council's committee the advisability of repairing the present Iowa City downtown lights or of installing a new system.

Survey Underway

Almost half of the 72 downtown lights in Iowa City are unlighted and the city council has only $300 set aside for their upkeep.

A new system would require assessing of the amount from the various property owners downtown.

The city engineer has been investigating grounded circuits in the wiring of the lights for the past week and a 100 foot section between Iowa avenue and Washington street on Dubuque has been replaced recently. Seven of the darkened lamps were relighted by this replacement.

No Report

A representative of the Westinghouse company visited Iowa City last week to begin a survey of the cost of replacing the existing system. No report has been made on his estimate.

According to Grandrath, Mayor Preston Koser, City Solicitor William Bartley, City Engineer Fred Gartzke and Gage will accompany the joint committee to Rock Island. While there they will also visit the Tri-Cities office of the Westinghouse company.

Members of the committee in addition to Grandrath are Aldermen James Jones and Frank Fryauf Jr., of the city council, and Roy Ewers, Joe Cilek and W. J. Jackson.

Jenna, head of the military department; Dean Bruce E. Mahan, director of the university's extension service, and William Petersen, superintendent of the Iowa historical society.

Dean C. A. Phillips of the College of Commerce will be introduced. Officers of the collegiate chamber and its board of directors will also be presented to the audience.

Barrett said all members of the organization and any other interested persons would be welcome to attend.

CAA Finishes Tuning New Range Finder

The civil aeronautics commission station at the Iowa City airport has finished tuning and adjusting their new high frequency omni-directional range.

The new range, which aids aircraft navigation, has an estimated value of $50,000. It will have 30 directional "beams" instead of four as the present system has.

According to G. S. Wight of Kansas City, engineer on the project, the frequency at which the communications station operates is now being used by the army. Consequently, the new range cannot be put into operation until that particular frequency has been released by the army. Just when the army will do this is not known.

Otherwise, the new $50,000 omni-directional range is ready for operation, Wight said.

The first designs for the directional range were prepared during the war and the first equipment here was installed last fall.

Van Dyke Leaves For School Meet

Prof. L. A. Van Dyke, director of University high school, is driving to Kansas City, Mo., today to attend a meeting of the North Central School Accrediting association.

Van Dyke is Iowa state chairman of the association and he will meet with the chairman of the 19 other member states.

According to Van Dyke, the association will consider revision of the accreditation of high schools in the 20-state, north central area.

Van Dyke will return to Iowa City, Oct. 3, he said.

Students for Wallace Elect Officers Tonight

The tea will be held in the Fellowship room of the Methodist church Wednesday, from 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Announce Director for Civic Music Campaign

Mrs. Frederick Schlesselman will direct the Civic Music association's membership campaign, it was announced last night by Dan C. Dutcher, association president.

The membership drive will start Nov. 1.

Association directors met last night at the home of Mrs. L. A. Rankin to plan the campaign.

McLean street; chairman of the parlor hostesses is Mrs. Eleanor Hageboeck, 437 Hutchinson avenue; chairman of the hospitality committee is Mrs. T. M. Rehder, 1181 Hotz avenue, and chairman of the registration committee is Mrs. Sam Saltzman, 232 S. Summit street.

According to Mrs. MacDonald, the tea is open to "all women who are interested in making democracy function more effectively."

A skit portraying the historical background and program of the league will be part of the afternoon program. The skit will be directed by Mrs. Robert Ohme, 615 N. Dubuque street.

The first general meeting of the league will be held Oct. 11, Mrs. William Porter, the league's president announced. Plans for a "get out the vote" campaign for the fall election will then be discussed.
