Notre Dame Three-Touchdown Favorite Over Iowa Today

A MAN WHO HELPED BEAT THE IRISH IN 1939. Ironman Al Coupee told the 1,000 Hawkeye fans at the pep rally last night that Iowa "should be ripe for a victory" today in its game with Notre Dame. Al, now sports director of radio station KRNT, Des Moines, told the students school spirit plays a big part in a victory. Then movies of the 1939 Iowa-Notre Dame game were projected on the screen while Coupee gave a running commentary on the action. Coupee and his teammates won that game, 7-6.

Security Council Gets Neutrals' Berlin Offer

PARIS (P) — A three-point proposal which may end the Berlin crisis was put up to the big four powers by "neutral" countries at a tense, dramatic meeting of the United Nations security council yesterday.

At the request of Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky the council adjourned until 3 p.m. Monday to give Moscow time to consider it.

Its approval, with Russia voting for it, would mean the greatest triumph for the UN since the Iranian crisis of 1946.

The proposal calls on the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia:

1. To prevent any incident which might aggravate the Berlin situation.

2. To remove at once all travel restrictions due to Russia's blockade and the counter-measures taken by the western allies; and to work out by Nov. 20 an agreement to make the Russian-issued German mark official for all four sectors of the city.

3. Within 10 days from Nov. 20, or on a date mutually acceptable to the big four, to open a council of foreign ministers "on all outstanding problems concerning Germany as a whole."

Thus if the proposal goes through, the big four foreign ministers may meet about Nov. 30 for a decisive and possibly historic attempt to compose the dangerous differences which have so long been accumulating between them.

Under the proposal, the big four powers would "put into effect" on the same day they were notified of its adoption, measures to end travel restrictions and negotiate a currency agreement.

GOP Spends Most In Senatorial Race

WASHINGTON (P) — Republicans are spending five dollars for every dollar spent by Democrats in the torrid election battle for control of the U.S. senate, official figures revealed yesterday.

The GOP is pouring money into the half-dozen states in which their senate chances are hotly contested while Democratic leaders report that they are campaigning on a "hand to mouth" basis.

Official spending totals submitted to the clerk of the house show the Republican senatorial campaign committee has advanced $164,650 while its Democratic opposite has spent $32,263.

Unclaimed Layette Lies in Postoffice

Iowa City postoffice employees are playing nursemaid to a baby's layette minus the baby.

The assistant postmaster's office said yesterday that the layette was sent by an unknown Iowa City resident to Waseca, Minn., Oct. 15. It was returned here from St. Paul because the the address had been torn off.

The layette is packed in a white corrugated cardboard box 14 inches square. Only an Iowa City postmark remains on the outer wrappings.

Army's Maternal Spirit to Guide Draftees

YORK, PA (P) — Gen. Jacob L. Devers told the mothers of America last night that every youth drafted into the army "will be treated as a human being, never a raw recruit."

The general, chief of army field forces, painted this picture of what will happen to the nation's youth in the peacetime army in an address to a Pennsylvania convention of the American War Mothers:

1. He will be sent to a post "as near home as possible."

Can history repeat itself? Exactly 27 years ago the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame brought an unbeaten streak of 22 games against Iowa and went down to defeat, 10-7.

Today power-laden Notre Dame, again unbeaten in its last 22 games, goes to battle against the high-spirited University of Iowa team here before a capacity crowd of 53,000 persons.

The Irish, who have a string of 16 consecutive victories since their 0-0 tie with Army in 1946, are rated as a three-touchdown favorite over the Hawkeyes.

However, Iowa fans can't help but think of other years when Old Gold elevens were placed in the same predicament but upset supposedly unbeatable Notre Dame teams.

The series began 27 years ago in 1921. That was the year Iowa, led by the stirring play of Aubrey and Glenn Devine, Duke Slater, Gordon Locke and Craven Shuttleworth, won SUI's only undisputed Western conference championship.

The next two games, played in 1939 and 1940, found Iowa on the victory end both times by scores of 7-6 and 7-0.

Notre Dame has locked the series at three wins apiece by soundly thrashing Iowa the past three seasons, 56-0, 41-6 and 21-0.

So the rubber match, which will conclude the series at least until 1950, will be played before the fifth sellout in Iowa history this afternoon.

Prof. Robert Bowman joined the ranks of the nation's football prophets yesterday. Also the poets. He predicted the outcome of today's Iowa-Notre Dame football game before his geography class—in verse.

"Tojo had the Zero
Hitler had the Stuka
But we've got DiMarco
Who's better than Tripucka."

His conclusion: "Iowa by 50 points."

Notre Dame, fresh from sacking Nebraska last Saturday, 44-13, undoubtedly will show the Hawkeyes the most diversified attack they will face this season. The Irish of Coach Frank Leahy are always a perfected unit.

But Dr. Eddie Anderson, end and captain of the Notre Dame team of 1921, is set to shoot the works this afternoon. His Hawkeyes have plays which have not been used before, and they hope to make them click.

Iowa enters the game in excellent physical shape except for Left Halfback Bob Longley, who will miss his second straight game due to a knee injury.

Longley's absence should be offset by Notre Dame's expected loss of its captain, Guard Bill Fischer, who has been sidelined with a dislocated elbow. Fischer accompanied the Irish traveling squad, which stayed in Davenport last night.

It could be that passing will play an important role in the outcome of the game. Both teams boast better than average T-formation tossers in their quarterbacks, Iowa's Ali DiMarco and Notre Dame's Frank Tripucka.

The Irish running game could be the crushing blow to Old Gold

Move Follows Violent Fighting Between Strikers and Guards

PARIS (P) — The French government called thousands of army, mobile guards and gendarmerie corps reservists to the colors last night and authorized security forces to shoot, if necessary, to cope with rioting strikers in the central France coal fields.

The government's order followed day-long fighting in which two strikers were killed and scores of persons wounded while attacking mines held by French troops and Republican guards.

Guns were fired by both sides for the first time in the 19-day coal strike.

Give Miners Guns

Communist-led miners were handed guns last night in what union leaders warned was for a show-down battle with 7,000 troops and guards quartered in Saint Etienne, in the heart of the central coal belt.

Twelve miles southwest of Saint Etienne, at the town of Firminy, two bloody clashes occurred yesterday.

At one mine, security forces fought off a Communist-led mob of 1,500. Guns were fired apparently by both sides.

Second Attack

A second gang of more than 1,500 attacked another pit and was routed by steel-helmeted guards wielding rubber truncheons and using rifles as clubs. Many strikers were marched away at gun point.

As fighting increased in intensity throughout the coal fields angry railroad, port and machine shop workers called strike-vote meetings, threatening to paralyze France's already crippled industry.

Premier Henri Queuille has summoned the cabinet in an emergency session to review the situation.

Asks to Quit GOP Speakers Bureau

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) last night asked to be relieved as chairman of the Republican national committee's speakers bureau so he can take an active role in his state's political campaign.

Horace M. Coates, Jenner's administrative assistant, said that technically the senator had not resigned, although some quarters predicted he would not rejoin the bureau.

Jenner, in announcing his move, said only that he had received "many appeals" to deliver political speeches in his home state.

This Guessing Game Is Easy After All

Smelling like roses after last Saturday's comparatively easy pickings, our experts launch into another day of football prognostications.

Since we like to get all the viewpoints of how to pick these gridiron games, we have at our guests this week a man who is familiar with watching football right on the sidelines.

One of the few persons who can wangle a sideline pass is Dick Kent, a university photographer. Our guests have the lowest average to date, but Dick hopes to pick up the stragglers this week.

Last week we won on five of our seven guesses, resting our season's record at 15 wins and 13 losses.

Now for today's top seven games in the middle west:

Iowa-Notre Dame — We can think of nothing better than the spirited Hawkeyes being able to spring an upset against the undefeated Irish. Our hearts rise with the Iowans — we're afraid Notre Dame has just too much. Final score: Notre Dame 26, Iowa 7.

Minnesota-Michigan — This is an important Big Nine tussle, especially if the Golden Gophers should come out on top. It could mean the Rose bowl for Bernie Bierman's eleven. Although the Wolverines can't go to Pasadena, they seem set for their second straight conference crown. Michigan shouldn't get side-tracked today. Final score: Michigan 27, Minnesota 6.

Purdue-Illinois — The Illini have nothing exceptional this year. On the other hand, Purdue is finally beginning to rebound from its three early season pastings. Szulborski, Adams, Gorgal and DeMoss will prove too powerful for Illinois. Final score: Purdue 27, Illinois 13.

Wisconsin-Ohio State — Psychologically the Badgers have a terrific edge. With all the rumpus over Coach Harry Stuhldreher, the Wisconsin players are actually glad they're not playing in Madison today. We like Ohio State, but wonder — should the Bucks lose — if Columbus will join in the latest vogue, a "Goodbye Fesler club." Final score: Ohio State 19, Wisconsin 14.

Indiana-Pittsburgh — The Hoosiers and George Taliroff are due to explode. This should be the day. Final score: Indiana 26, Pitt 6.

Northwestern-Syracuse — The Wildcats, handily, easily, unmercifully and what have you. Final score: Northwestern 39, Syracuse 0.

Missouri-Iowa State — We just threw this game in to boost the experts' records and for lack of another big midwestern contest. Missouri shouldn't have any trouble at home. Final score: Missouri 26, Iowa State 6.

The experts pick-em like this:

Harold Yegin (15-13)

Notre Dame 28, Iowa 7; Michigan 18, Minnesota 7; Purdue 20, Illinois 6; Wisconsin 14, Ohio State 7; Indiana 30, Pitt 7; Northwestern 42, Syracuse 0; Missouri 36, Iowa State 12.

Don Sulhoff (14-14)

Iowa 14, Notre Dame 13; Michigan 27, Minnesota 14; Purdue 25, Illinois 12; Wisconsin 14, Ohio State 13; Indiana 27, Pitt 6; Northwestern 34, Syracuse 6; Missouri 28, Iowa State 7.

Guest Dick Kent (12-7, guests' record)

Iowa 7, Notre Dame 6; Michigan 32, Minnesota 14; Purdue 20, Illinois 13; Wisconsin 14, Ohio State 13; Indiana 21, Pitt 14; Northwestern 40, Syracuse 6; Missouri 18, Iowa State 7.

Your predictions:

Iowa	Notre Dame
Michigan	Minnesota
Purdue	Illinois
Wisconsin	Ohio State
Indiana	Pitt
Northwestern	Syracuse
Missouri	Iowa State

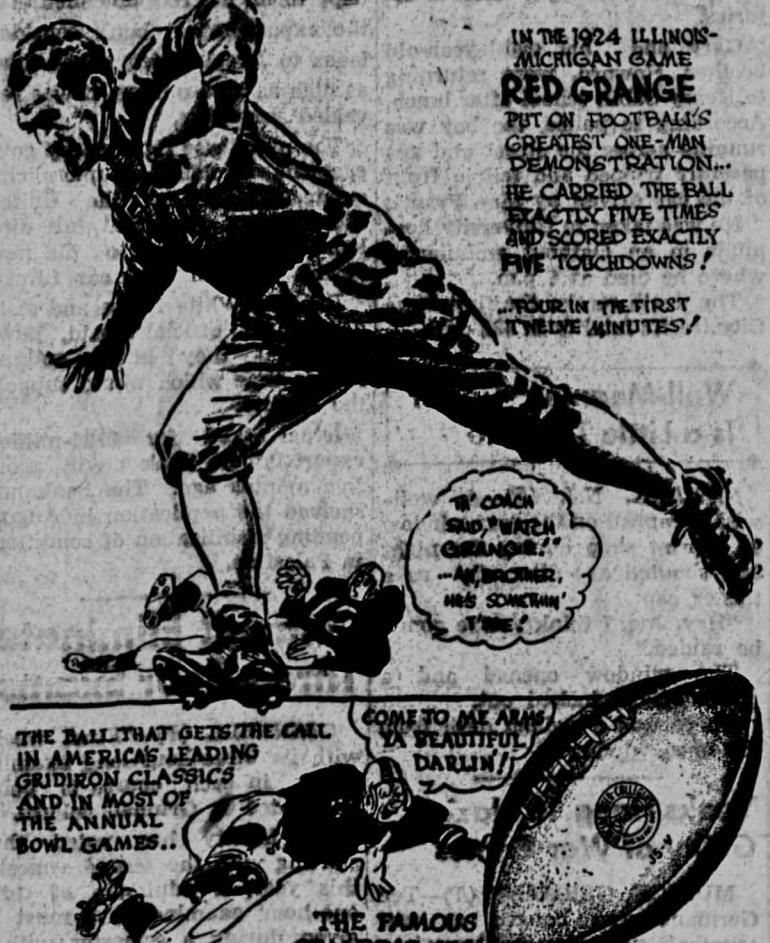

Football Peacemaker Now Joins NFL Fight

NEW YORK (P) — Alex Thompson, the young sportsman who owns the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, yesterday declared war to the death on the rival All-American conference.

In a radical about-face after having tried for two years to serve as peacemaker between the rival money circuits, Thompson declared:

"Any conciliation between the leagues now is impossible. I've made my efforts, and now the owners."

poor running game, which has netted a meager average of 2.2 yards per carry this fall.

Whether hours of practice on pass defense this week will pay dividends is another question. This weak spot has hindered Iowa all season.

Dr. Anderson has announced no lineup changes for the Irish struggle, still planning to put the burden of play on young sophomores. For the second week in a row two sophomores will be at halfback — Jerry Faske and Jimmy Halliburton.

The return of Center Dick Woodard, Iowa's game captain for the fourth straight Saturday, and Guard Joe Grothus from the disabled list should bolster the Hawk line considerably. Both saw only part-time action last week against No. 23.

With the thought of a possible upset flitting across the minds of many Iowa fans, one fact encourages them.

Three other Hawkeye teams were able to turn the trick over the Irish, and all at times when Notre Dame carried a winning streak of more than seven games against Iowa. And maybe the luck of the Irish will cease at No. 23.

Grid War Simmers As Agreement Fails.

CLEVELAND (P) — Coach Paul Brown of the All-American conference Cleveland Browns said yesterday professional football is a "sick baby" and that he is "disgusted" with it.

Despite the success he has enjoyed at Cleveland — the team won two league championships in two years and is headed towards a third — Brown indicated he'd be open to a college job, although he insisted he has received no definite orders.

"I am disgusted with the bickering and fussing between the National Football League and our conference," he said. "I'm a football coach and those arguments leave me cold. I don't like fighting between the leagues and never did."

Brown pointed out that he had a five-year contract with the Brown organization, and that it has two more years to run. "If I ever receive a direct offer from collegiate ranks, Mickey McBride (Brown owner) will be the first person I consult."

Brown made no secret of the fact that he has received feelers from alumni of various colleges, although he would not confirm repeated reports that both the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles were interested in his services.

Little Hawks Swoop Down On Clinton, Triumph 27-0

By CHARLES CARROLL

Iowa City kept its Mississippi Valley title hopes alive last night by smothering Clinton, 27 to 0, before 4,000 shivering fans on the visitors' field.

Scoring in every period, the Little Hawks buried Clinton's defending champions beneath an onslaught of dazzling passing and bruising gains on the ground.

A 57-yard march on the opening kickoff accounted for the first Iowa City tally early in the first quarter. Dick Doran's pass to Gene Hetrick covered 21 yards, to pay dirt.

A partially blocked punt set the stage for the next Little Hawk touchdown. Don Stamp, Clinton left half, was nicked by Hetrick and his boot fluttered to the 25 yard stripe.

Hard Snook caught the deflected punt and lugged it over the goal. Shain's attempt for the extra point was good.

Clinton posed its most formidable threat late in the second quarter when pass interference was called on Iowa City. The penalty placed the ball on the winners' 33 yard marker.

Stamp drove to the 27 before the River Kings relinquished the ball on downs.

The Doran-to-Hetrick combination clicked again in the third period for 32 yards, setting up the third Iowa City tally. Snook carried the ball over from the two. Shain's conversion was wide.

A punt by Shain which traveled 72 yards, set up the final marker. Shain booted from his own 15 to Clinton's 13 early in the final quarter.

Stamp's return kick covered 15 yards, going outside on the 26. Shain ripped off six yards, then Jerry Anderson pegged to Hetrick in the end zone.

Shain's conversion split the uprights.

After the final touchdown, Coach Frank Bamps emptied the bench with 50 Iowa City players seeing action.

The winners racked up 156 yards on the ground and 91

Dubuque Dumps Luther
DECORAH, Ia. (P) — The Dubuque Spartans kept their Iowa conference football record spotless last night by defeating Luther, 13-0.

The win gave Dubuque a record of 4 wins and no losses in the conference. Luther has won one and lost two. Dubuque is at the top of the conference standings.

Stamp's return kick covered 15 yards, going outside on the 26. Shain ripped off six yards, then Jerry Anderson pegged to Hetrick in the end zone.

Shain's conversion split the uprights.

U-High Wins, 13-12, On Ojemann's Pass In Closing Minutes

Bob Ojemann's touchdown pass to Ronnie Coldsnow with about a minute left in the game, let University high overtake Wilton Junction yesterday for a 13-12 victory.

Ojemann, who spent most of the game on the sidelines with an injured side, had just re-entered the game when halfback Dean Evans was hurt after running the ball to the 23-yard line.

Ojemann passed for the touchdown, tying Wilton Junction, 12-12, and then passed for the extra point to Arnold Schoebelen for the winning margin.

Trailing, 12-0 going into the second half, Dean took a Wilton Junction fumble on the U-high 14. Bob Ewalt, Ronny Coldsnow and Schoebelen brought the ball to the two, and Dean lurched over for the Blue Hawks' first score. Their conversion failed.

Ojemann played only a few moments of the whole game. Several minutes before he entered the game to pass for the final touchdown, he had been spilled hard after a 20-yard run and had to receive first aid on the bench.

Wilton Junction's first score came on its second play. Quarterback Jerry Norton fled 75 yards for a touchdown.

Again, at the end of the half, Fullback Jerry Hilgenberg passed to Norton, who bounced through three Blue Hawk tacklers to the goal to give the Beavers a 12-0 lead. The play accounted for 20 yards.

The victory padded the Hawklets' season record to six against a single loss.

Town Men Join in Last Of Open House Series

Town Men will participate tomorrow in the last of a series of three sorority open houses. Publicity Chairman Rex Parks said yesterday.

Parks asked Town Men members to meet on the east side of Old Capitol at 6:45 p.m.

Town 'n' Campus

Guests of honor will be the high school teachers.

The dinner is planned as an opportunity for mothers and teachers to get acquainted. No business meeting will be held.

Coffee and meat will be furnished by the association, and each of the mothers will furnish a covered dish. Guests are asked to bring sandwiches and table service for themselves.

Mrs. Ed Vesely Sr. is president of the P.T.A. for the coming year, and Mrs. R. H. Justen will serve as vice president and program chairman. Secretary-treasurer is Eleta J. Malmberg. Committee chairmen include: Mrs. Jess L. Rarick, social chairman; Mrs. Roy Ewers, publicity chairman; Mrs. E. R. Williams, hostess chairman; Mrs. M. E. Wicks, membership chairman, and Mrs. T. T. Brown, telephone chairman.

UN Cease-Fire Order Halts War in Israel

NIRAM, PALESTINE (AP) — The Negev sands were peaceful last night after a week of some of the bloodiest fighting in Palestine's war.

Israel ordered its troops to stop firing at 6 a.m. (local time), the hour set by the acting UN mediator, and last night United Nations officers reported:

"All is quiet. The truce is working."

The UN teams were touring the whole of southern Palestine in white jeeps under white flags.

In Cairo the Egyptian government informed the UN if also had ordered a cease-fire at the hour set by Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting UN mediator.

(Cairo reported anti-aircraft fire and a two hour air raid alarm Friday night, however. Jewish-held Haifa also reported an alarm at 6 p.m. and the sound of explosions.)

(Haifa dispatches said UN truce headquarters announced negotiations would begin at once to implement the security council's resolution for withdrawal of both sides to the lines held on Oct. 14 when the fighting broke out.)

Egyptian forces, driven from here, lashed at Niram with artillery until a few minutes before 3 p.m., the hour of the ceasefire order, then went silent.

Last to die in defense of the settlement was a young Jewish soldier killed by a shell fragment 12 minutes before the deadline.

The last half of the 60-mile road from Tel-Aviv to this Jewish outpost was flanked by Egyptian positions and Israeli gunposts taken from the Egyptians in the past week.

All along the highway young Israeli soldiers worked in the open repairing Arab positions taken in the week-long struggle.

New Rent Increase Procedure Available

Many "small landlords" have not taken advantage of the new streamlined procedure for securing higher rents, according to T. T. Wilkinson, area rent director.

Wilkinson was referring to the new short form petitions for rent increase, based on higher taxes and rising fuel costs.

"Apparently many landlords have not become aware of their opportunity, or are not clear as to who is eligible to use the new procedure. Actually, the substantial hardship petition is the most simplified procedure yet devised to seek higher rents," Wilkinson said.

He mentioned that quite frequently rent offices have heard appeals for an equitable system to compensate landlords for their higher expenditures.

"We now have the simplified petition form for owners of four units or less, but in general there has been no great response to this opportunity," the rent director stated.

Mountaineers Plan Outings Tomorrow

The Iowa mountaineers plan two outings tomorrow.

For those who like riding, a "Timber Trail Ride" is planned at Upmeier's ranch three miles north of Solon.

Don Strub, group leader, said they will leave the engineering building at 2:30 p.m. and return around 5:30 p.m.

An all-day hike from Swisher to North Liberty is also planned. Hikers will meet at the interurban station and ride the 10:00 a.m. car to Swisher. Then the hike will follow country roads and streams across fields to North Liberty.

The group will return to Iowa City by interurban arriving at 5:15 p.m.

Necessary equipment will include lunches, canteens and comfortable hiking shoes.

Plan Free Tests To Find Diabetics

WASHINGTON (UP) — A nationwide campaign of free laboratory tests will be launched during the week of Dec. 6-12 in an effort to find the estimated 1-million Americans believed suffering from hidden diabetes, it was disclosed yesterday.

Dr. Priscilla White of Boston, internationally known diabetes specialist, said the survey would be sponsored by the American Diabetes association.

The cooperation of local medical societies and public health departments will be sought to make the free tests available on a nationwide scale, she said. Arrangements for the survey still are being made.

Students Volunteer for Biochemistry Experiment

SUI HUMAN GUINEA PIGS TOAST HEALTH, luck and happy Thanksgiving, the day when they will eat again like their fellow students, and not in a chemistry professor's office. The students are acting as guinea pigs for a biochemistry experiment which should be completed a day or two before Thanksgiving. They are left to right, Bill Hartman, G, Rock Island, Ill., Thomas McBride, A2, Elgin, Ill., James Fife, G, Pittsburgh, Pa., Richard Shull, A3, Elmhurst, Ill., and Lewis Gardemal, G, Lake Charles, La. Another subject, James Hitchcock, A2, Des Moines, is not shown.

SUI Students Drink Steaks

Six Human Guinea Pigs Helping Scientists Discover Value of Protein Threads

Six SUI students are drinking their steaks these days as human guinea pigs on a biochemistry experiment started recently.

"Drinking your steak might seem like a good idea, but we'll stick to the good old medium rare type," guinea pigs said, whether it takes 40 minutes or 60 minutes.

The guinea pigs are James Fife, G of Pittsburgh, Pa., Lewis Gardemal, G, of Lake Charles, La., Bill Hartman, G, of Rock Island, Ill., Richard Shull, A3, of Elmhurst, Ill., Thomas McBride, A2, of Elgin, Ill., and James Hitchcock, A2, of Des Moines.

These men are helping scientists find if protein threads which the chemical companies produce are as valuable to the building and maintenance of our bodies as those we normally get in our daily diet.

What difference does it make if we get this protein fabric anyway? Many persons in many hospital beds might recover with the aid of the manufactured threads. These threads are amino acids. Presented in the form of casein hydrolysate they represent the digested form of various protein material.

They have invented two methods for wafer "munching." These are the multiple and singular methods. The multiple wafer eater generally picks up a number of the thin wafers, plasters them with butter and proceeds to munch.

Many hospitalized persons need large amounts of building materials to rebuild stricken tissue weakened by surgery and the aid of amino acids plays a big part in their recovery.

"We now have the simplified petition form for owners of four units or less, but in general there has been no great response to this opportunity," the rent director stated.

The problem today is the existence of supplying natural amino acids. But if the scientist can prove that the manufactured amino acid is as good as the natural form, cost will be cut to a point where the cell building substance may be available to all.

The students taking part in the experiment are living on a diet of wafers, lemonade, casein hydrolysate, sugar, butter, and vitamin pills.

How do they stay alive without meat, milk, eggs or other protein sources in their diet? The answer is casein hydrolysate. This substance contains amino acids which are the threads that go into the makeup of protein fabric.

The quantity of food is a problem," the guinea pigs pointed out. "Just try eating over a pound of these wafers, an eighth of a pound of butter, half a pound of sugar and the juice of six lemons each day — to say nothing about casein hydrolysate."

Mealtimes finds the guinea-pigs with their respective portions of wafers, casein hydrolysate, vitamin pills and other foods, joking about how they are going to eat the "huge" amount of wafers.

They have invented two methods for wafer "munching." These are the multiple and singular methods. The multiple wafer eater generally picks up a number of the thin wafers, plasters them with butter and proceeds to munch.

'Jitters' Disappears

Leaves 'Chico' and 'ChiChi' Behind

"Jitters," won't you please come home?

Wednesday night, the coal black Manchester dog disappeared from the Ray Dauber residence, 109 Grand avenue. Last night she was still gone.

But that isn't all. "Jitters" left behind her two young pups, "Chico" and "ChiChi," each of whom barely have their eyes open.

The Daubers have been trying all sorts of methods to get the little animals to take nourishment. They've been using a rubber glove with holes poked in the fingers. They've used an eye dropper and a teaspoon.

Yesterday, Mrs. Dauber said they were finally beginning to stick their noses down in a mixture of evaporated milk and syrup.

But the family would still like to have "Jitters" back. As Mrs. Dauber put it, she's been a "terrible pet."

"Jitters" is black except for a small white spot on her chest.

Soviets Draft Constitution For Germany

BERLIN (UPI) — The Communists unwrapped a plan for an eastern German government last night and American authorities predicted that it will work "only with the support of bayonets."

Otto Grotewohl, Germany's top Communist, outlined a proposed constitution for eastern Germany in a three-hour speech before the Communist-supported People's Council, which is recognized by Russia, but not by the western powers.

"The supreme body of state authority in the republic will be the People's Chamber," Grotewohl said. "It shall consist of delegates of the German people . . . the delegates will be representatives of all the people, subject only to their conscience and not tied by any orders."

An American spokesman said the constitution was drafted by Soviet military authorities in Germany and then sent to Moscow for approval by the Soviet politburo.

Western observers said the Russians already have purged nearly all opposition from their zone of occupation, and that the proposed People's Chamber would be packed with Communists.

Even then, one American spokesman predicted, the government will not work without the "support of bayonets."

If you were the President of A&P...

What would you do to make your A&P a better place to shop?

Have you ever said to yourself, "If I were the President of A&P, I know what I'd do"? I think there are many A&P customers who would like the opportunity to express themselves on the subject of their A&P. I really believe that from your side of the counter, you know A&P best. That's why I ask your opinion.

You can help to make your A&P an even better place to do all your food buying by sending me your suggestions . . . criticisms . . . opinions. For instance, what about our service? Is it as courteous and helpful as you would like it to be? Is it prompt and efficient, too? Do you always find all items plainly and correctly price-tagged—as they should be? What in your opinion are we doing that we could do even better? Or what are we not doing that you feel we should do?

I INVITE YOU TO WRITE AND TELL ME HOW YOUR A&P MAY SERVE YOU BETTER

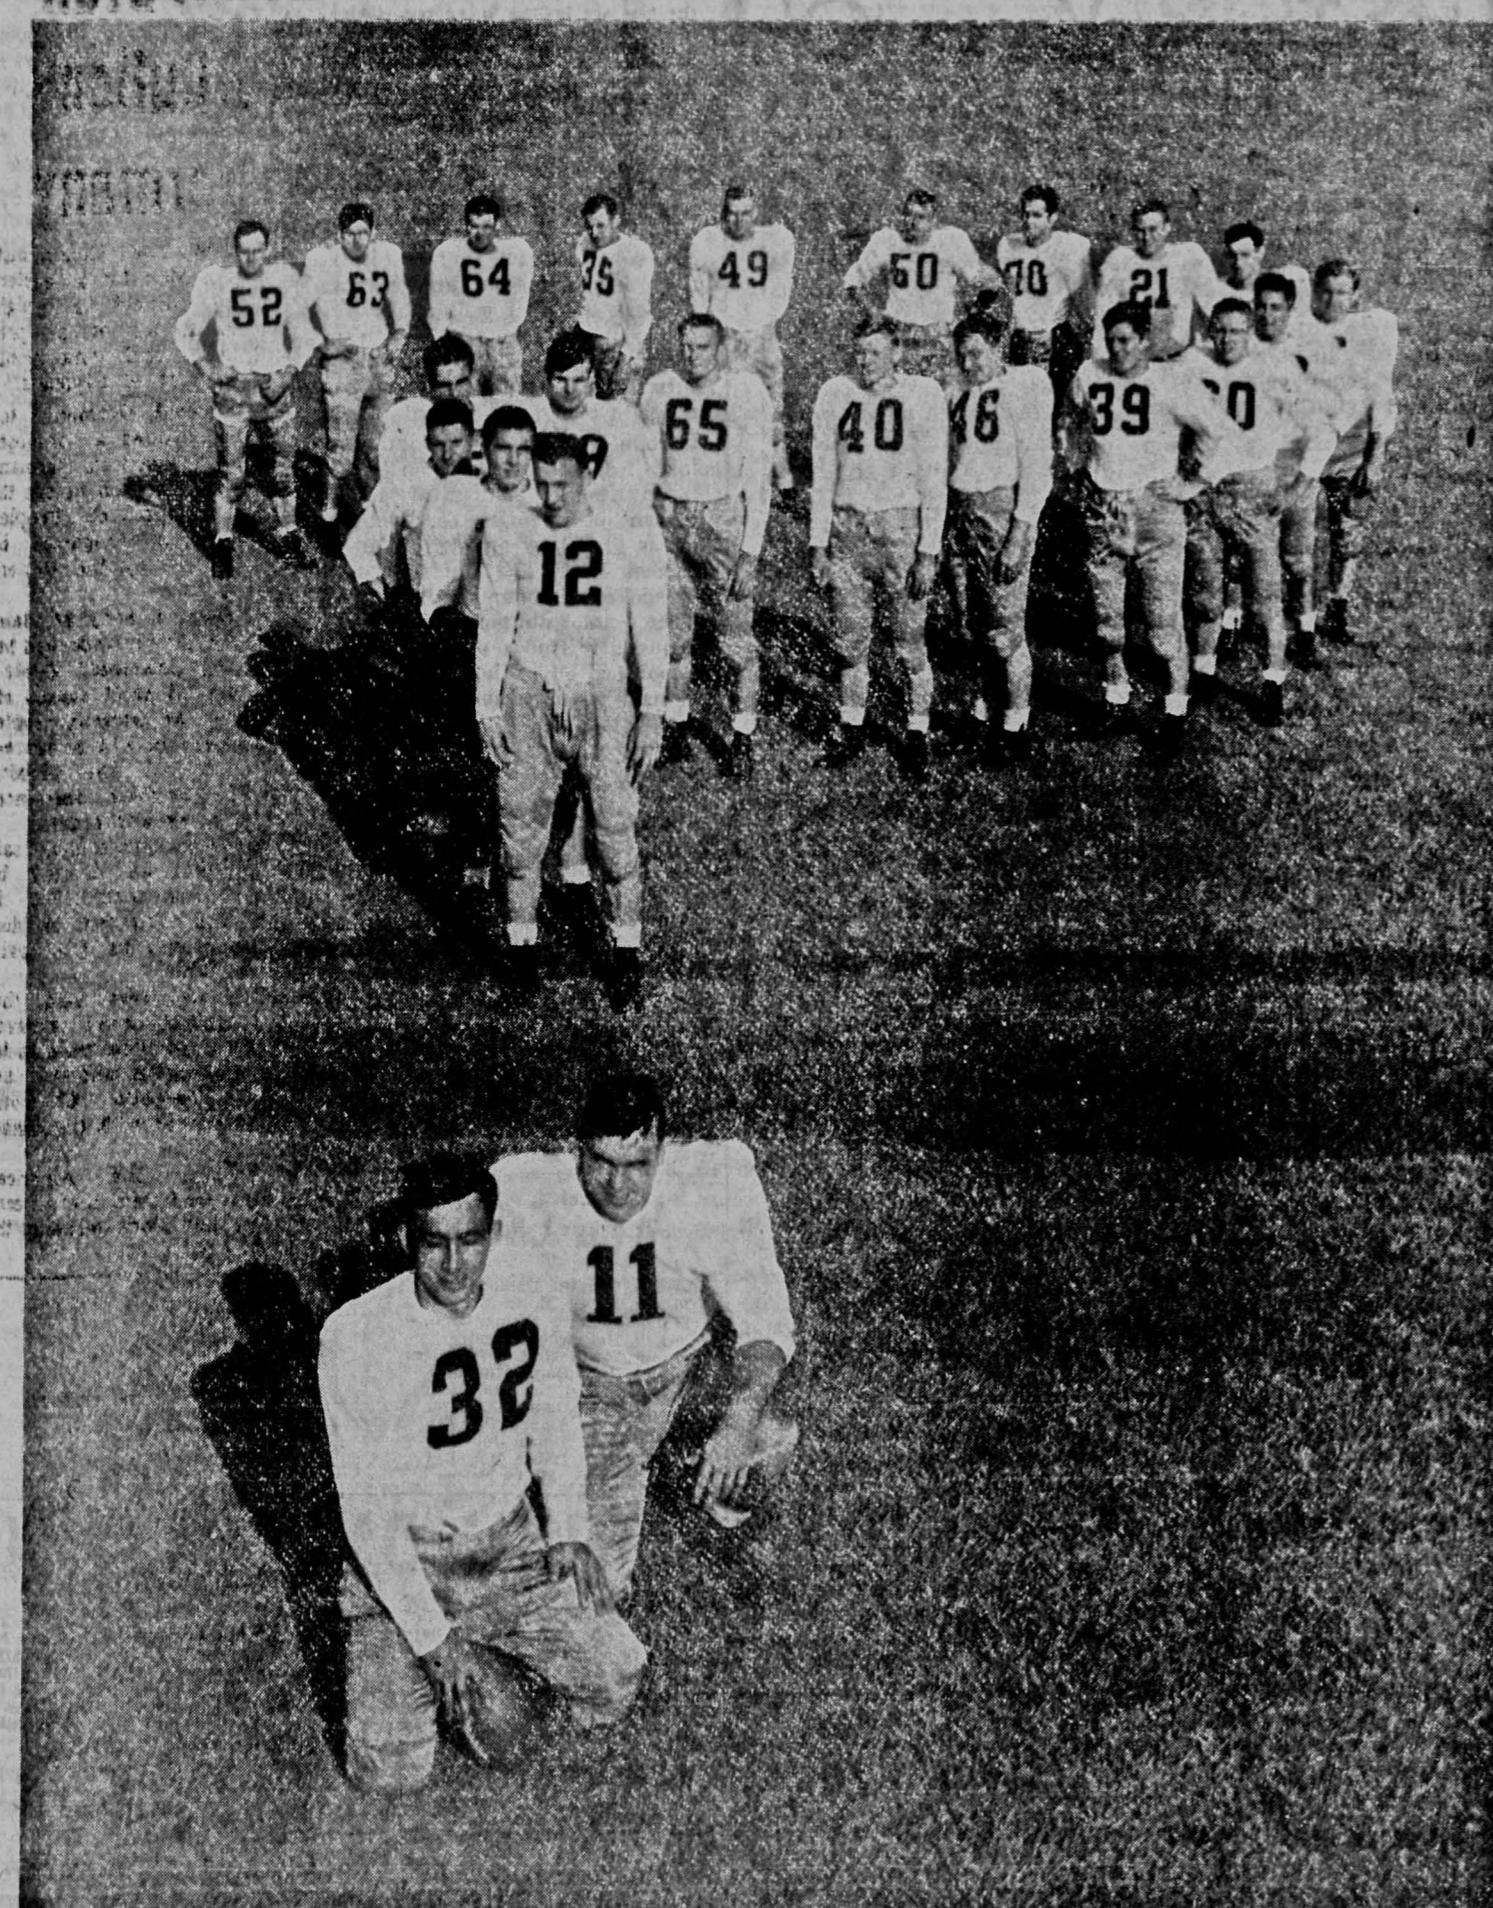

We of A&P want to make our stores the finest places of all in which to shop. That is why your suggestions, criticisms and opinions will be gratefully received and acknowledged. You see there are 100,000 employees of A&P from coast to coast jealously guarding the A&P reputation for courteous, honest, and efficient service. They never want to fail you in any way, but if they do, I am sure that they, as well as I, would appreciate your writing me.

Deadline on Your Duty

It's so easy to vote. Yet "I don't know how to vote. I'm afraid I'd just spoil the ballot" is one of the most frequent excuses given for not voting—especially among the just-turned-voters.

In the United States you are given credit for being able to vote and vote your own convictions. If the ballots appear to be long columns of names difficult to skim, it's to your credit. No one is forced to the polls with but one party to "x" in.

The process of voting is made as simple as possible. Today is the deadline for registering. You cannot vote if you have not registered.

Iowa has such a high literacy rate that no one is required to prove he can read or write when registering. All Iowa citizens have to do is report to the city hall and answer questions about home address and length of residence. You must have lived in one precinct for 10 days in order to vote. A change of address requires re-registering.

In Iowa City you need register only once, not before each election—unless you have changed your address.

If this is your first election, you will be asked to give a pledge in "I do" form attesting to your honest desire to become a voting citizen in the United States.

The places of voting will be published in the newspapers the day before and the day of the election. There is always a poll within a few blocks of your residence.

When you arrive on election day, a clerk will give you a form to fill in to acknowledge that you are the same person who registered to vote and that you haven't already voted in the election.

After the form has been checked against the records of the precinct, you will be given your ballot. The instructions are at the top.

At general elections—and this year's is general—there are three ways in which you may indicate your choice:

1. A straight ticket. By placing your "x" in the circle just preceding the name of your chosen party, you will vote for all the candidates listed in the column under the party name.

2. A split ticket. If most of the candidates for whom you want to vote are listed under one party heading, you may first mark the ballot as for a straight ticket, then place "x's" in squares in other columns for the candidate or candidates you wish to vote for from other parties.

3. A scattered ticket. If the candidates you choose to vote for are pretty well divided, or if you enjoy making "x's" in the squares, you may put an "x" in the box beside the name of every candidate you are voting for. In this case you do not mark an "x" in any party circle at the heading of the columns.

Voting is easy. It is your job. But remember, you cannot vote unless you have registered by today.

More Political Ban Confusion

(The newspapers of the state have taken up the issue of the state board's ban on political speakers. So far there has come to our attention no instance of defense of the board's action. One of the most outspoken opponents of the arbitrary and poorly-defined ruling is the Iowa City Press-Citizen whose latest editorial appears below.)

Two political speeches in Iowa City this week walk their interesting way right straight into the discussion of the political ban policy of the Iowa state board of education.

Rep. Sam Rayburn, Democrat of Texas, former speaker and minority leader in the U.S. house of representatives spoke Tuesday night at the Community building which IS NOT on the University of Iowa campus. Sen. Harry P. Cain, Republican from the state of Washington, addressed a meeting Thursday night in Macbride auditorium which IS on the university campus.

We doubt whether the arrangers for Speaker Rayburn's speech ever requested a hall on the campus, knowing full well the hazy policy of the state board of education under which terms Mr. Rayburn could not have appeared on the campus.

Why not? Because Mr. Rayburn happens to be running for reelection way down in Texas, a matter of not too much concern to any Iowa voter since Iowa voters can not vote for or against him anyway. It matters not either to the board's policy that ever since 1913 the voters in Mr. Rayburn's district have returned him to Washington.

Every congressman, if he so desires must run for reelection at each election every two years. Hence, for all general purposes, no congressman in the country can appear on an Iowa college campus under the state board's jurisdiction as long as he happens to be a candidate for re-election.

On the other hand, Senator Cain is permitted to speak on the Iowa campus because if so happens a senator does not have to run for re-election every two years. Senator Cain thus walked on to the campus a free man, so to speak, to give an address on behalf of any candidate or candidates he so desired to support. And he did just that.

To permit Senator Cain to speak on the campus and at the same time to deny (indirectly through the banning policy) Congressman Rayburn's appearance, is most difficult to justify in the eyes of the people when it is only on the basis that one is at present a candidate for public office while the other, who has been and probably will be a candidate again, just doesn't happen to be a candidate right now.

The examples of this week serve well to point up and emphasize further the utter silliness of the "splitting hairs" tactics employed in carrying out the political ban policy.

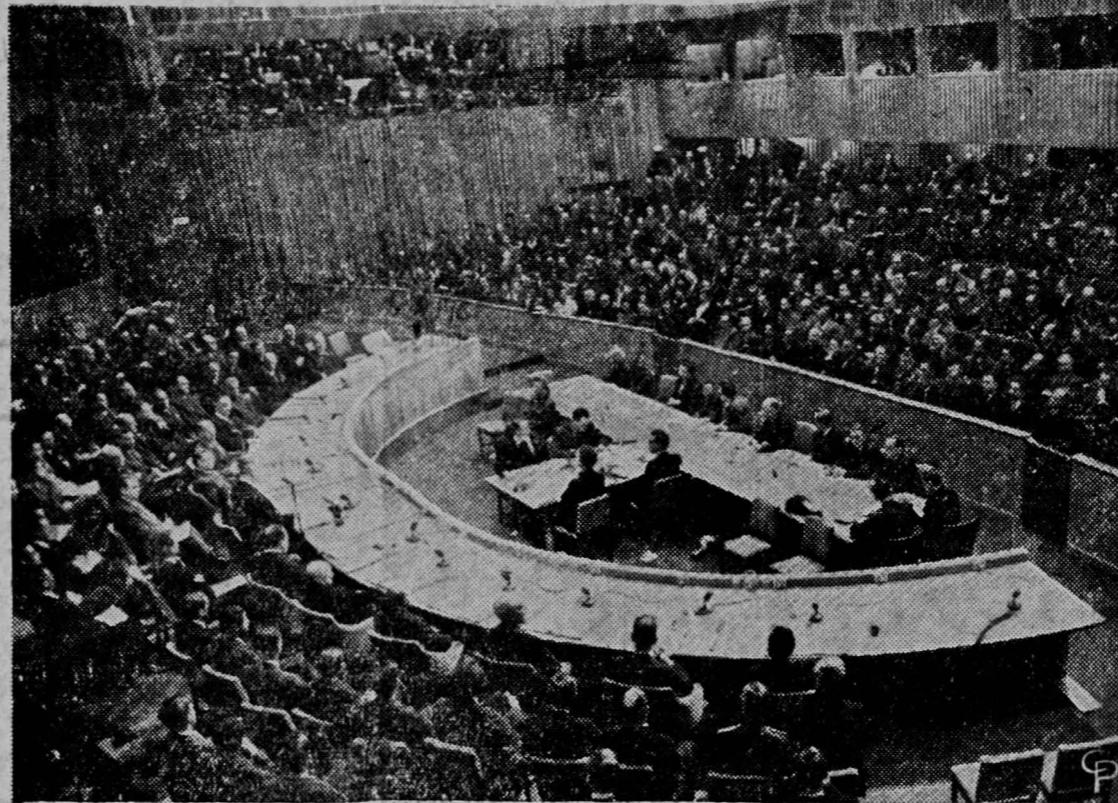

The state, it seems to us, only two courses of action open to the board. If the board wishes to persist in invoking the political ban policy as it has done throughout the current presidential campaign, the members should in all fairness establish a clear-cut, well-stated policy. If the board wishes to lift or liberalize the ban, which is to us the only sensible and desirable settlement in a freedom loving land, that action too should be forthcoming just as soon as possible.

Only through either one of these two moves can a semblance of the people's faith in the board on this issue be restored.

Sunday, October 24: United Nations Day—

World's Questionmark Is Three Years Old

THE BEGINNING—General view of opening session of the United Nations Assembly in New York City.

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Central Press Correspondent

NEW YORK — Still nearly as big a question mark as it was when it first came into being, the United Nations will mark its third birthday on Oct. 24. The date has been designated as "United Nations Day" in the United States.

Celebrations are scheduled also in other parts of the world, and the day sometime may become the first great international holiday.

However, universal observance of it, and even its status as a fully-fledged legal holiday in the headquarters nation of the United States, naturally is entirely dependent on the future of the turbulent UN.

Speech-making will not be the only sound proclaiming the occasion this year. Here on Manhattan's East river the steam shovels finally are at work digging the great hole that will be the excavation for the $65,000,000 UN home. In Paris the delegates to the general assembly are doing their own oratorical huffing and puffing.

Whatever the ultimate fate of UN, Oct. 24 undoubtedly already ranks with the world's most significant dates. On that day in 1945, the USSR added its signature to the charter which was hammered out from April 25 to June 26 of that year at the historic San Francisco conference on international organization.

Russia, which is one of UN's biggest critics now, brought to 29 the total of nations which were signatories to the Charter. The necessary number of ratifications having been gained, United States Secretary of State James Byrnes signed the protocol formally proclaiming that the charter was in force.

THE UN had been born, and within the memory of all but the youngest today, history had been made. There were many who fore-saw even then, however, that before long the two nations—the United States and Russia—who provided the cashsheet for events starting in 1944 at the Dumbarton Oaks conference in Washington would become the leaders of two great blocs threatening to make "United" Nations seem like a bitter irony to those who adopted the "One World" doctrine of the late Wendell Willkie.

Whatever else it has been able to accomplish in its stormy 36 months, the UN never has been lacking in crises.

Starting with Russia's first exercise in February, 1946, of the veto in connection with the evacuation of British and French troops from Syria and Lebanon, one pivotal event after another has flashed on the UN kaleidoscope.

The third birthday of UN, however, finds it trembling in the balance more than ever, and world peace seems to be teetering with it on the brink of the abyss.

More than fifty nations now have subscribed to the Charter pledging to maintain international peace and security, and to cooperate in establishing political, economic and social conditions favorable to peace.

YET A DOZEN storm centers are highlighted in the current Paris general assembly meeting. Any one of them could provide an explosion which would rock UN's foundations.

Paramount is the continuing tension between the east and west. The Moscow big four parleys, the struggle for Berlin, Italy's political instability, guerrilla warfare in Greece, political turmoil in France, Arab-Israel fighting in Palestine, Moslem-Hindu conflicts in India, the split in Korea, and the mounting climax of the civil war in China are hobgoblins which make UN's birthday seem appropriately close to Halloween.

Peace treaties ending World War II are yet to be written, the disposition of the colonies of the defeated Axis nations is yet to be decided, and colonial unrest in the Netherland and French East Indies provide further complications plaguing the youthful international organization.

UN's whole third year has been marked by frustrations. In May the atomic energy commission decided to give up and toss the atom bomb, say UN's advocates as its friends point out that in the international court of public opinion UN still packs sufficient punch that no nation wants to withdraw or take responsibility for eliminating it.

It still is "the last best hope for peace" in a world that for the first time possesses ultimate powers of self-destruction through the atom bomb, say UN's advocates as its friends point out that in the international court of public opinion UN still packs sufficient punch that no nation wants to withdraw or take responsibility for eliminating it.

The committee on conventional armaments completely bogged down in July after 16 months' efforts to arrive at a formula for world disarmament.

The UN military staff, charged with creating a global police force to protect the peace, reported in August to the security council that after two years of wrangling it had agreed to disagree on ways and means for establishing the over-all armed force.

IT WAS UNDER the gloom of the assassination in Jerusalem of UN Palestine Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte that the general assembly convened in September in Paris' somber Palais de Chaillot. One motion challenged the constitutionality of the indictments and the second charged that insufficient evidence was presented the grand jury.

Unless there is further delay, the trial of the 12 will begin in federal court here on Nov. 1.

TO THE EDITOR:

To say President Truman indulged in politics on his recent visit here but that a Republican senator—using campus facilities to laud Republican candidates Thursday night—did not, seems the height of hypocrisy.

Introduced by the Johnson county Republican chairman and standing before pictures of Republican presidential candidates Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren, Sen. Harry P. Cain supposedly spoke on Communist Russia.

The senator did not need to go to Russia to find a place where all political opposition is stilled. We have a comparable situation in Iowa today.

Under the guise of "no politics in state institutions," the Iowa Republican party has effectively kept both the Democratic and Progressive parties from using state property bought and paid for by taxpayers of all political parties.

Yet this same party has seen fit not to apply this rule to themselves.

To say that Cain's talk was permissible because he isn't a candidate is a plain use of "weasel words." Does not this attitude ignore the purported purpose of the ban which is to bar the use of state campus facilities for the support of specific political issues and candidates.

One must be very naive to consider Cain as non-partisan statements like Cain's "Vote for Dewey and Warren."

"Oh, consistency, thou art a jewel."

Candidates Aim Sights At City Votes

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Governor Dewey and President Truman both aimed their sights today at big city voters in the east and midwest during the wind-up week of the presidential campaign.

Their schedules for the remaining days until Nov. 2 showed that both the Republican and Democratic presidential candidates will visit Cleveland, Chicago, New York and Boston. There'll be other appearances for both, too.

Dewey Gives Advice

Dewey, whose aides say they are supremely confident, had a word of advice for GOP party workers Thursday. He told a meeting of several hundred of them in New York:

"There is increasing evidence of desperation on the part of the opposition and they may intensify their campaign of fear, vituperation and abuse."

"I urge all of you not to respond in kind under any circumstances, whatever the provocation."

Dewey headed back to Albany yesterday to begin work on his four remaining major speeches. He will leave there Monday midnight for Chicago.

Truman in Pennsylvania

President Truman, who says the pollsters who pick Dewey to win are in for a big surprise, charted a course through Pennsylvania today as a semi-windup to his campaign.

His Saturday schedule called for daytime speeches at Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Johnston, with a major speech at Pittsburgh tonight at 8 p.m. CST. Mr. Truman will return to Washington before starting out on his final campaign tour tomorrow night.

Ickes Remarks

At Great Falls, Mont., former secretary of the interior, Ickes, fired some critical shots at Dewey. Ickes, back in the Truman camp after differences with the President in 1946, said:

"Dewey has on his 'team' every isolationist, every reactionary, that he can find on the Republican side of the 80th congress."

Ickes said that Dewey has been making "indefinite, 'pretty speeches'" that sounds like "the Rover boys at Yale."

Ickes called for the re-election of Senator Murray (D-Mont.). "For the sake of Montana and liberalism."

Kappa Phi Sorority Initiates 29 Women

Twenty-nine women students were pledged to the Beta chapter of the Kappa Phi sorority, Methodist club, recently at the First Methodist church.

Miss Ellen Loan, vice-president, announced yesterday that the pledges are Pat Green, Emma Zelle Patterson, Margaret Fell, Delores Gunsolus, Ruth Nielson, Cara Walker, Mildred Dosedo, Ruth Ann Lowry, Beverly Petersen, Mary Ruth Offringa, Mary Lou Hemmingsway, Mary Jeanette Foster, Beverly Hoops and Dusty Rhodes.

Lois Dunlap, Wardine Rimes, Marilyn Wiese, Anna May Ingram, Jean Roberts, Joyce Mau, Mary Margaret Lee, Ruby A. Nicks, Nadine Bentzinger, Doris Junkens, Mary Nell King, Shirley Fleming, Marjorie Hundermark, Mildred Seedorph and Ann Bacon.

Prof. Spence Appointed To Airforce Committee

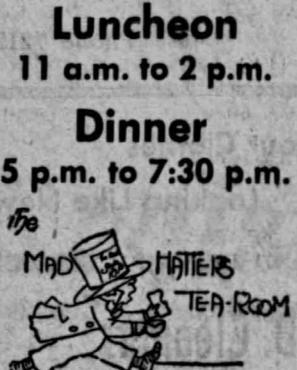

Kenneth W. Spence, psychology department head, has been appointed to a committee recently formed by the U.S. airforces.

The Human Resources Professional Advisory committee will review airforce research and development work. Chief areas covered by the group will involve psychophysiology, training, personnel, manpower and psychological warfare.

The first meeting of the newly-created group was in Washington, D. C., last week.

Voting Registration Heavy; Deadline Today

BIGGEST VOTE REGISTRATION IN HISTORY was predicted yesterday by city officials as Iowa City residents lined up at the city clerk's office to beat today's deadline. Residents who haven't previously registered must do so before noon today. This picture was taken late yesterday afternoon in the hallway outside the clerk's office. At times, the line blocked the sidewalk in front of the city hall. Registration has been so heavy that more registration blanks had to be obtained from Waterloo yesterday.

Services Tomorrow For Mrs. M. Wentzel

Funeral services for Mrs. Myra Groh Wentzel, 41, lifelong resident of Iowa City, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the First English Lutheran church. The Rev. Ralph Krueger will officiate. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

The body will be at the Oat-Hill Funeral Chapel until noon tomorrow.

Mrs. Wentzel died at 12:45 a.m. Wednesday at Mercy hospital after an illness of six months.

Born Aug. 29, 1901 she was the daughter of William J. and Josephine Groh. She lived her entire life at 12 W. College street.

She married Glenn Wentzel Aug. 2, 1930, in Nashua.

She was a member of the First English Lutheran church, Women of the Moose, Carnation Rebekah Lodge and Royal Neighbors.

Surviving are her husband and her mother.

Musicians to Attend Teachers' Meeting

Seven music department faculty members and two students will attend a music teachers' meeting in Ames tomorrow and Monday.

The meeting will be a convention of the Iowa Music Teachers Association and the Iowa division of the American String Teachers Association.

Students John Beer, trumpet, and Royal Burkhardt, trombone, and Prof. Hais Koelbel, cello, will play in an all-state symphony orchestra tomorrow.

Prof. Herald Stark will be chairman of a committee which will discuss judging high school solo voice contests Monday.

Katharine LaSheek will be a member of a panel meeting Monday which will discuss "What Shall We Do with the Freshman Voice." She will also give voice demonstrations.

Other faculty members going to Ames are Prof. William Gower, Prof. Imre Waldauer, Marianne Mikes and Eldon Obrecht.

District Court Judge James P. Gaffney yesterday granted the defendants in the Edward J. Dvorsky vs. Warren Harding Johnson and the Farmers' Cooperative Elevator company case-30 days additional time in which to file a motion for a new trial.

Any new motion in the case by the defendants must now be filed by Nov. 13.

A jury verdict Oct. 14 awarded Dvorsky, Solon farmer, $16,466.32 damages for the death of his son, Elwood, in a truck-pedestrian accident near Solon Jan. 26.

The defendants, represented by their attorneys, Ries, Dutcher and Osmundson, said illness and business duties prevented them from preparing a motion for a new trial earlier.

Final Effort to Fill Chest Quota Today

Awfully close but not quite. That was the Community Chest picture last night as only $177.82 stood in the way of complete success for this year's Iowa City drive.

It seemed to be all over but the shouting yesterday as Mrs. J. L. Records, community chest permanent secretary, reported total contributions amounted to $19,554.94.

Solicitors will ready themselves today for a final effort to push donations over the $19,732.76 quota.

Even if the community chest quota is filled today, chest headquarters will remain open for several days for the completion of bookkeeping work, Mrs. Records said.

Funds received in excess of the goal will be held as a community chest reserve.

Judge Grants Time For Filing Motion

District Court Judge James P. Gaffney yesterday granted the defendants in the Edward J. Dvorsky vs. Warren Harding Johnson and the Farmers' Cooperative Elevator company case-30 days additional time in which to file a motion for a new trial.

The Communist charges were made by William Brandt, who said he was expelled from the union when he opposed Communist infiltration. He claimed that the Communist party used "The Loft" as an inducement to join the party.

"The Loft," he said, was an upper-floor "hangout" where free food and soda pop was dispensed and young girls "who were indecent by the accepted standards" were introduced to the young men.

OXFORD MAN MISSING

Iowa City police were notified yesterday that L. M. Kelly of Oxford was missing since July 1. Edmund Kelly, the missing man's son, told police that L. M. Kelly is 52 years old; five foot nine inches tall and has grey hair.

Evades 'Communist' Question

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Hugh Bryson, California chairman of Henry Wallace's Progressive party, evaded answering whether he was a Communist yesterday before a house subcommittee investigating Communist infiltration in striking west coast maritime unions.

But a former member of Bryson's CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards union, who admitted one-time membership in the Communist party, testified that Bryson, Longshore Leader Harry Bridges, and six other CIO and maritime union officials "were and are" Communists.

Bridges and Walter Schneidermann, secretary of the California Communist party, were among 12 witnesses who dodged subpoenas to appear before the two-man labor committee composed of Reps. Charles J. Kersten (R., Wis.) and O. C. Fisher (D., Tex.).

Besides Bryson, Dave Jenkins, head of the California labor school that has been branded subversive by Attorney General Tom Clark, sidestepped a direct answer to the question of Communist affiliation.

Kersten said he would recommend that contempt of congress charges be brought against the pair "in about six weeks" in Washington, D. C.

The Communist charges were made by William Brandt, who said he was expelled from the union when he opposed Communist infiltration. He claimed that the Communist party used "The Loft" as an inducement to join the party.

"The Loft," he said, was an upper-floor "hangout" where free food and soda pop was dispensed and young girls "who were indecent by the accepted standards" were introduced to the young men.
