Marshall Finds Plot In Russ Peace Plans

PARIS (AP) - Secretary of State George C. Marshall declared yesterday Russia is waging a propaganda peace offensive with the real aim of wrecking the world position of the United States.

China Newspapers Proclaim 'Victory' For Chiang Army

NANKING (AP) - Pro-government newspapers proclaimed in extras yesterday a "major victory" over nine Chinese Communist columns along the Grand canal 160 miles northwest of Nanking.

(The Communist radio, heard in Peiping and San Francisco, made similar victory claims over government forces. The Communists said they were within six miles north of Suchow, last main base guarding Nanking.)

The officially-sanctioned Nanking reports said national troops savagely attacked and hurled back General Chen Yi's troops who were trying to cross the historic canal.

The reports said the Communists suffered 37,000 casualties and fled in disorder in a battle that began Wednesday night and lasted through Friday morning.

Government claims of victory and of enemy casualties usually are greatly exaggerated, but it was the consensus of observers in this capital that the main Communist drive against Suchow had been stopped, at least temporarily.

A government military spokesman has estimated more than one million men engaged in the battle, describing it as the greatest single engagement in Chinese history.

Koo, Bridges Ask China Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) - Wellington Koo, the Chinese ambassador, said last night "the Communist menace in China is the gravest of its kind in any part of the world."

The ambassador's comment came a few hours after Senator Bridges (R-NH) had proposed that President Truman call Congress into special session at once to increase American help to China.

Koo said he had no direct comment to make on the special session proposal but did declare in a statement that China "in the face of the Communist armed revolt to seize control of the whole country, has urgent need of aid and would welcome more aid and assistance given promptly."

Bridges said there is grave danger the Communists may engulf all of China "lock, stock and barrel" unless the Chinese government gets effective help at once.

Bridges' statement was issued through his office here.

Atlantic Pact Plan Goes Ahead Fast

LONDON (AP) - Plans for a North Atlantic defense pact calling for United States and Canadian military support if western Europe is attacked moved swiftly ahead yesterday.

The permanent committee of the Brussels pact powers—Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—met in secrecy to draft an alliance proposal which they hoped would be acceptable to the U.S. and Canada.

Greek Premier Resigns; New Regime Called for

ATHENS (AP) - Liberal Premier Themistocles Sophoulis resigned yesterday after guiding Greece through 14 months of economic crisis and civil war.

King Paul immediately called in parliamentary leaders to form a new regime.

Marshall said Soviet propaganda in the UN has not been successful. The great majority of nations in the world organization, he continued, have lined up solidly in their opinions on the world situation.

The secretary defined propaganda peace offensives as procedures designed to play upon the general desire for peace with the real purpose of wrecking the position of the United States.

Such propaganda efforts are very dangerous, he continued, because everyone sincerely wants peace but not mere propaganda for peace.

The secretary talked for about 90 minutes to about 30 American newsmen crowded into the press room of the United States delegation to the UN.

Although he would not permit direct quotations, Marshall said in brief:

1. The Russians grabbed up suggestions that President Truman and Prime Minister Stalin meet and used them for propaganda.

2. Russian propaganda in the UN assembly has not been successful. That is one reason why Stalin issued his interview last month accusing United States leaders of being aggressors.

3. The eastern bloc and the Communists increase their efforts to obstruct and destroy the European recovery plan each time it makes a forward step.

4. The European recovery program has made greater progress than is generally realized.

5. The United States is determined that the Berlin airlift will go ahead as long as is necessary.

6. The United States is looking to the six neutral countries in the UN security council to see what they might propose in the Berlin crisis.

7. The Greek problem is just one part of the big, world-wide problem affecting Russian-United States relations.

As regards Palestine, Marshall would not reaffirm his statement of last September that the United States would support the Bernadotte peace plan as the best basis for an Arab-Jewish settlement.

Fraternity's Chief Mum on Suspension

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) - National fraternity President Howard L. Hamilton said yesterday he considered "a private affair" the indefinite suspension of the Amherst (Mass.) chapter of Phi Kappa Psi for pledging a Negro student.

Hamilton said the college fraternity's 10-member executive council would decide whether to make the suspension permanent at a meeting later this month.

The fraternal head said the council, which voted unanimously to suspend the Amherst chapter for "unfraternal conduct," had agreed that no comment should be made.

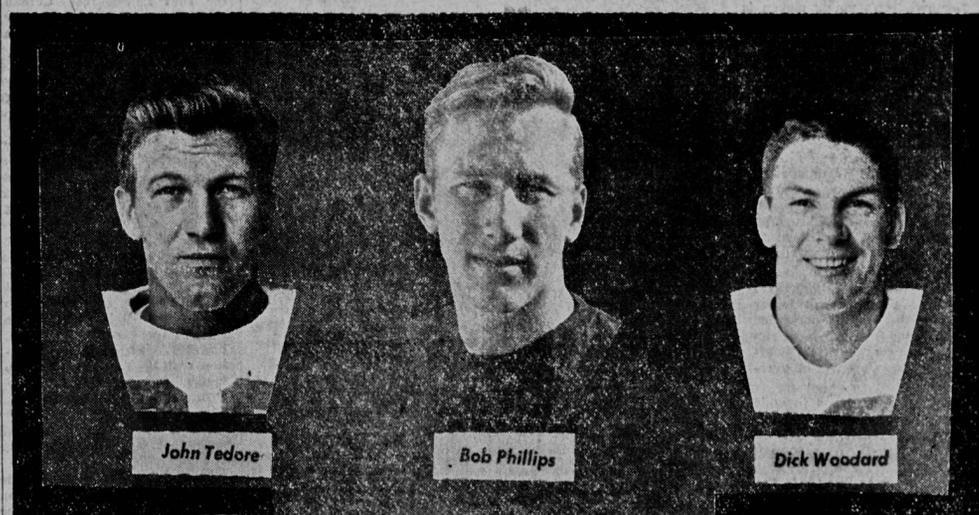

"I don't want to make any comment because it is too easy to be misunderstood," he added.

Amherst chapter officials said they still planned to initiate the student, Thomas W. Gibbs of Evanston, Ill., and 15 other sophomore pledges Nov. 23.

A spokesman said the chapter probably would become a local fraternity and improvise an initiation ritual not similar to the Phi Kappa Psi ceremonies.

Pays Through the Nose For Chivalry to Woman

MONTREAL (AP) - Arger Moreau, 40, saw a woman falling backward as a street car approached yesterday. Moreau rushed forward and pulled her to safety. In the excitement the woman's arm struck him in the face. Moreau went to a hospital with a fractured nose; the unknown woman went on her way.

Tell Rally Crowd - SUI Pep Is 'Great'

One of this year's largest SUI pep rally crowds last night heard two Iowa football players praise the students' spirit this year and urge more of the same for today's game with Minnesota.

Iowa tackle Bill Kay sounded the keynote of the team's spirit for the game when he said, "We're going to beat the --- out of Minnesota."

Kay, who after four years of competition plays his last home game for Iowa today, said the spirit of the Hawkeye cheering section this year is the greatest he's ever heard.

Johnny Estes, 1947 Hawkeye star who was injured this summer, spoke to the students by wire recording. Referring to the game's trophy, Floyd of Rosedale, Estes said, "The price of pork is going up, so why don't we keep the pig here?"

The crowd, estimated at about 1,000 by Tailfeather President Dean Crawford, was in a cheering mood and interrupted Master of Ceremonies Don Lay and Kay many times to cheer during their talks.

One of the highlights of the rally was a huge bonfire set off by torch-bearing students just before the cheering began. Following the speeches, about a hundred students took part in a snake dance around the fire.

Instead of the university band which has furnished music for previous rallies, a five-piece volunteer orchestra, led by Tom Kacere, accompanied the cheering students.

Minnesota Favored in Last Hawk Home Tilt

By BUCK TURNBULL Sports Editor

Rose Bowl hopes and revenge motives ride onto the gridiron with the Minnesota Golden Gophers here in the Iowa stadium this afternoon as they offer Iowa its last Big Nine test of the 1948 season.

Hawkeye Head Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson will celebrate his 48th birthday today as an expected crowd of 45,000 watches the game between the fighting Hawks and the husky, powerful Gophers.

In accordance with a Big Nine ruling for November games, the game will start at 1:30 p.m. to allow for early darkness.

It is possible that Minnesota could be the conference Rose Bowl representative, providing it gets by Iowa today and Wisconsin at Madison next Saturday. The Gophers would then be the logical choice for the New Year's Day game in Pasadena if Illinois should upset Northwestern one week from today.

Year-Old Debt Regardless of that fact, Bernie Bierman's eleven plans to repay a debt against the Hawks. Just one year ago Iowa humiliated the favored Gophers here with a blistering upset, 13-7.

Bierman has used that game to give his team a good psychological edge this past week, showing the players movies of Iowa's brutal treatment of them last year.

On paper Minnesota is a heavy favorite to overpower the Hawkeyes, having been lodged 14 points better than Iowa. Yet the Hawks have a strange faculty of playing spirited football when the chips are set against them.

Better Records On the ground, in the air and on defense the Norsemen have better records than the Old Gold team has had throughout the season. The Gophers rank first in the Big Nine on both offense and defense.

The passing of both teams should be of prime importance. Iowa is recognized as a passing outfit, but strange as it seems, Minnesota has thrown more passes this year than any other team in the conference.

Halfbacks Ev Faunce and Dick Lawrence of the Gophers were both ranked ahead of the Hawkeye passing wizard, Quarterback Al DiMarco, in last week's Big Nine individual statistics. Lawrence, a reserve halfback, is Minnesota's chief long passer.

Good Runners Faunce, Billy Bye and Fullback Frank Kuzma offer Bierman a running assault well diversified from the old-fashioned Minnesota single-wing. The power runner is Kuzma, already being compared with the great Bronco Nagurski up in Gopher land.

Dr. Anderson has hopes of pulling a few tricks that will baffle the Gophers. Realizing that outsmarting his bigger opponent may be the only way to bring victory to Iowa, Anderson and his coaching staff have drilled their charges hard and long this week on several new formations.

Fryauf, Doran are Cogs Halfbacks Don Fryauf and Ralph Doran are the main cogs in the trick plays, with DiMarco's faking in the T-formation and his passing arm looming as the best hopes of upsetting the dope.

The Gophers hold a long edge in the all-time series, 30-11, but Iowa has won two of the last three games. Nine of the Old Gold triumphs were scored here in Iowa City.

To the winner will go the bronze statue of the prize pig, Floyd of Rosedale, replica of the actual live hog of the Iowa and Minnesota governors' bet in 1935.

Russia's Vasilevsky Relieved of His Job

LONDON (AP) - The Moscow radio said last night Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky has been relieved of his duties as chief of the general staff of the Russian army.

It added that the reason was to relieve Vasilevsky of an excessive burden of work.

The broadcast, heard in London, said he would retain his post as deputy minister of the armed forces of the USSR.

The Soviet council of ministers has appointed Gen. S. M. Shtememko as chief of the general staff and deputy minister of the armed forces, the broadcast said.

Eastern Seaboard Longshoremen in Midnight Walkout

NEW YORK (AP) - A longshoremen's strike expected to tie up docks from Maine to Virginia became effective at 12:01 a.m. this morning. Ordered out were 65,000 workers.

The walkout threatens to paralyze a large segment of the nation's multi-million-dollar shipping industry. But effects were not expected to be widespread until Monday because of a normal week-end lull in ship-loading activities.

South Atlantic and gulf ports apparently will not be immediately affected by the walkout.

A New Orleans official of the AFL international longshoremen's association said dock workers there would abide by an agreement running through Dec. 9.

Galveston workers were expected to stand by a similar agreement and a Gulfport, Miss., shipping official said no strike action was contemplated by union men there.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the union, who ordered the east coast strike, said he didn't intend to call out the south and gulf port workers now.

He also said the east coast strikers would assist only in the movement of army shipments, not including Marshall plan aid as was previously announced.

"As long as we're having a strike, let's have a strike," he said without further comment or explanation.

Unions Agree With Railroads

CHICAGO (AP) - Three railroad unions whose strike threat last May was blocked by a last minute federal court injunction reached a wage settlement with the railroads yesterday.

They accepted a 10 cents hourly wage boost, retroactive to Oct. 16. The settlement, covering 250,000 engineers, firemen, and switchmen, completed the third round wage increases for five unions whose 350,000 members operate the nation's trains.

D. P. Loomis, chairman of the western railroads wage committee, estimated the settlement would add $40-million a year to railroad operating costs. An identical settlement reached Oct. 4 with the conductors and trainmen will add another $55,665,000 to costs, he added.

'Expert' Pickers All Above .500 —

Last Saturday was another good day for the gridiron guessers. At last all our experts find themselves with a better than .500 average.

Eric Wilson, director of Iowa's sports information service, did a good job of his pickings last week, hoisting our guests' total to 25 wins and 24 losses.

As the season nears its end, we're calling upon our secret weapon to give our guests a flourishing finish. He's Iowa City's football prognosticator par excellence, Joe Gerber of Racing's cigar store.

After last week's easy pickings our season's record stands at 33 wins, 16 losses.

Iowa-Minnesota — There is no reason why the Hawks can't score just as many points as Minnesota. They've played both good and bad football games this fall, but have shown on a number of occasions that they can score with the best teams. If Al DiMarco can have a passing day similar to the one against Notre Dame, the Gophers will be in trouble all day. We're rooting for the Hawkeyes. Final score: Iowa 29, Minnesota 14.

Notre Dame-Northwestern — Undoubtedly the Wildcats are keyed up at the chance to crack Notre Dame's winning streak. They've got a ball club which is capable of giving the Irish a battle, too. Notre Dame still has just a little too much. Final score: Notre Dame 27, Northwestern 14.

Illinois-Ohio State — The second longest football rivalry in the Big Nine continues at Champaign this afternoon in an Illinois homecoming game. Both teams have improved steadily over the season, but the Illini shouldn't get bumped in this one. Final score: Illinois 14, Ohio State 6.

Michigan-Indiana — Strictly a massacre. Final score: Michigan 41, Indiana 7.

Purdue-Pitt — The Boiler-makers have got to explode some time. Final score: Purdue 27, Pitt 7.

Wisconsin-Marquette — Wisconsin finally winning one for the home crowd. Final score: Wisconsin 26, Marquette 0.

Army-Penn — The Cadets will remain undefeated after today's tussle at Franklin field in Philadelphia, but they may get their hair ruffled by a good Penn eleven. Final score: Army 20, Penn 13.

Joe Gerber (25-24, guests' record)
 Minnesota 20, Iowa 13; Notre Dame 19, Northwestern 7; Illinois 7, Ohio State 0; Michigan 33, Indiana 6; Purdue 14, Pitt 0; Wisconsin 27, Army 21, Penn 7.

Badgers New Harrier Champ

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin nosed out defending champion Illinois yesterday to win the 34th annual running of the Big Nine cross-country championship.

It was the 12th team championship for the Badgers and the second year in a row that one of their runners copped the individual title.

Sturdy Don Gehrman romped over the four-mile course in Chicago's Washington park in 20:31.4 to lead the field. His time was five seconds off the record mark he hung up last year in winning the individual crown in 20:26.4.

Wisconsin won with 44 points, while Illinois flashed in second with 66. The Illini's Vic Twomey finished second to Gehrman in 20:40.

Purdue was third with 75 points, following by Indiana with 79, Minnesota with 93, and Iowa with 128. Ohio State was not scored because it entered three men instead of the normal five-man team.

The hill-and-dalers raced in wind and cold, but the footing was good on the damp ground. Wisconsin competed this year under a new coach, Guy Sundt.

Individually, James Orundard of Wisconsin finished third behind Gehrman and Twomey in 20:54; while Don Hurlbert of Purdue was fourth in 21:21 seconds flat, and Bob Downs of Illinois fifth in 21:00.5.

Meel Test In Wildcats

By GAYLE TALBOT
 NEW YORK (AP)—A high percentage of national football interest will center today on South Bend, Ind., where Notre Dame, meeting its stiffest test of the season, will be out to prove both on the field and on the scoreboard that it has a better team than Michigan.

Northwestern's young eleven is cast as the gridiron guinea pig, and is certain to prove a reluctant subject. The wildcats lost their only game to Michigan a month ago, 28-0. The undefeated Irish feel duty bound to inflict a worse beating than that on the boys from Evanston.

Michigan No. 1
 At the moment, Michigan stands No. 1 in the Associated Press weekly poll of the country's autumnal experts, with Notre Dame No. 2 and breathing down the Wolverines' necks. Army is No. 3 and California fourth.

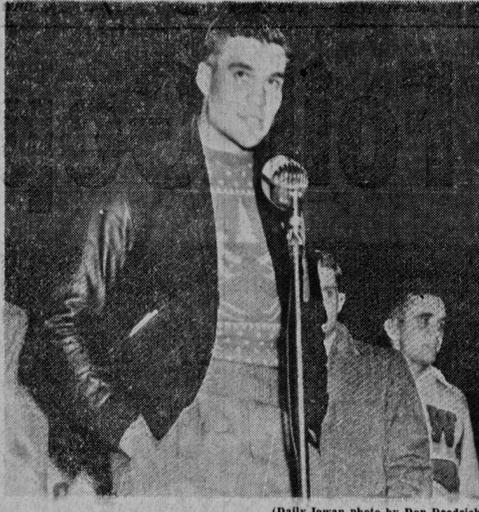

Dispatches from Indiana report that Coach Frank Leahy of the Irish is mildly perturbed that his lads feel they must run up a high score on the Wildcats. He fears they will be over-eager.

The only other game in which national prestige will be severely at stake is the meeting at Philadelphia between Army's undefeated speedsters and once-beaten Penn. In order to live up to their clippings the Cadets will have to wallop the Quakers good — better than the two-touchdown thumping administered by Penn State last week.

Wolves Show-In
 Michigan, safely past its most dangerous rivals, is considered a shoo-in against Indiana at Ann Arbor, while California's Golden Bears, hotshots of the western slope, are expected to take Washington State in stride at Berkeley.

Undefeated Clemson plays a big, rough Wake Forest team at Winston-Salem, and the press box observers down that way seem to feel that Clemson is in for a rude awakening. Unbeaten teams are becoming scarce as the season nears its end.

Bill Kay Leads Pep Rally

IOWA'S REGULAR RIGHT TACKLE, Bill Kay, is shown above thanking an estimated crowd of 1,000 Hawkeye fans who turned out for the pep rally for their great spirit in backing the team this year. At the rally, which was held at the parking lot south of the Union, Kay told the rosters that he and his teammates "would beat" Minnesota today. Kay, a senior who has played four years here at Iowa, will be performing in his last game before the home crowd.

No Irish-Michigan Tilt

SOUTH BEND, IND. (AP)—Notre Dame football Coach Frank Leahy said last night that University of Michigan authorities had discussed scheduling a game with the Irish, but that Michigan's commitment makes the prospect almost impossible in the immediate future.

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—There will be a clean hand towel in every New Jersey boxing ring hereafter. State Athletic Commissioner Abe J. Greene yesterday ordered referees to carry "a small, clean hand towel" as standard equipment to wipe boxers' gloves.

Bookie Racket Losing Money!

NEW YORK (AP)—Football betting has meant so little business in recent weeks that bookmakers, at least in New York, have started wagering against each other.

"Most of the bettors took a bath during the baseball season. Those that had any cash left by mid-September lost it all on the Tony Zale-Marcel Cerdan fight. There hasn't been any fresh money since," one of the bet-takers said yesterday.

A survey of New York betting was made after two successive Saturdays in which the college results followed expectations almost exactly.

On Oct. 30 a Denver tailor lost more than 400 suits to contestants in his radio guessing contest. Last Saturday 91 persons at St. Paul guessed correctly the outcome of 20 games and the Pioneer-Press paid out $9,342.50 to them. It was the first time in more than seven years that anyone had won.

The bookmaker, who wouldn't give his name, said his group sought football business at the start of the season. Most of it, however, was placed on favorites, with the result that bets no longer are being sought.

"Do you know," he asked, "that Notre Dame, Michigan and Army combined have played only two games that made money for the bookmakers?"

He explained that under the point-system of betting, Michigan "lost" to Illinois and Notre Dame "lost" to Purdue. Actually, Michigan and Notre Dame won those two games.

Crowned with Roses At Spinster's Spree

Bob Schulz, A3, Davenport, Phi Gamma Delta, last night was crowned with red roses at the annual Spinster's Spree as the most eligible bachelor of 1948.

His two attendants, announced at the Spree were Jerry Long, A2, Ottumwa, Phi Kappa Psi, and Al Meyer, A2, Des Moines, Beta Theta Pi. Each was presented with a red rose corsage by Joan O'Shaughnessy, University Women's association dance chairman.

Marjorie Irwin, A1, DeWitt, was chosen by chaperones to receive a silk scarf for designing the prize winning corsage. Her date, Roy Geiselman, Villa Park, Ill., wore a balsamwood model airplane. Dolls on the airplane wings held signs which read "I'm all up in the air about the Spinster's Spree," and "That's plane!"

Schulz, a hero on the basketball court, was voted by university women to reign the most eligible bachelor. He wore a corsage of ribbon and pipecleaners bent to spell his name and centered with the number of his basketball uniform. He is a physical education major.

Amused at the novel corsages, Gene Krupa's orchestra noted everything from toothbrushes to cigarettes in the shoulder arrangements.

Schulz received a $10 gift certificate from Bremer's. His two attendants each received $5 gift certificates from that store.

An intermission tea in the Iowa Union dining room honored Schulz and his attendants, the U.W.A. council, dance committee and the guests of honor.

Mr. Thomas, the Persecutor, Gets Prosecuted . . .

The Ruhr: A Dilemma Atop a Dilemma

While all the razzle-dazzle over Berlin is going on in Paris, Britain and the U.S. make a quiet, but strategic, move in Frankfurt.

This move—returning heavy industries of the Ruhr valley to limited German control—strikes at the core of Allied disagreement over Germany's future. In addition, it underlines the real area of disagreement between Russia and the west.

If anything, this week's move complicates the east-west struggle. More important for the present, though, it has brought about a clash between the U.S. and Britain on one hand and France on the other.

Briefly, the Anglo-American plan will work like this: The Ruhr valley coal mines and steel hearths are to be turned over to German "trustees" who will operate under the direction of small, powerful, all-German boards.

The trustees "will exercise all functions of ownership" except the distribution of profits. They may not sell their holdings without the approval of the Allies military government. Backers of Nazi aggression will be barred from trusteeships and control boards.

This decree—to go into effect "in the early future"—is designed to "break up excessive economic power" (26 great German industrial trusts, including the Krupp and Thyssen empires, will be sold) and "promote the more efficient organization of the Ruhr in the interest of German recovery."

France immediately protested the action. When the six-power conference on the Ruhr met in London Thursday, Frenchmen were talking openly about a split with the Allies if the Ruhr were returned to the Germans.

Stopping to look around a minute, the situation in west Germany looks like this:

Russia wants to jab her fingers into the industrial pie, demands heavy reparations and a share in the Ruhr's production. The Allies have resisted these proposals in view of disagreement on boundaries, currency and, now, Berlin.

France is faced with a narrow choice. She needs German production to foster her own recovery but is terror-stricken at the thought of a strong Germany. The French zone of Germany has run consistently at a deficit while the French have balked at joining the Americans and British in welding their zones for economy's sake.

France wants the Ruhr internationalized. Internationalization, in this interpretation, means control by western Europe. The U.S. and Britain have $5-billion tied up in western Germany for the next five years. They want a strong Germany to face Russia and to pump strength out to western Europe.

Their plans for a west German state have been hanging fire. Such a state is designed as the west's answer to Russia's refusal to reach a settlement for all of Germany. The prospect of having such a state confronting them prompted Russia to try to oust the Allies from Berlin.

Getting the Ruhr workshop running in high gear is vital to the Marshall plan. The Allies must agree among themselves on how this should be accomplished. A settlement to the Ruhr question is more vital to Europe's future than agreement on the superficial Berlin dilemma.

Editorial Survey —

SUI Chinese View Future

The situation in China doesn't appear so shocking to 20 native Chinese students attending SUI.

This conclusion was reached after these students — representative of the 56 Chinese Students here at SUI — participated in a Daily Iowan survey.

Of the 20 who participated, 12 stated that China's political and economic structures will improve considerably if the present National government went out of existence. Four believed the situation will not change with the Chinese Communists in power, and four had no opinion.

On the other hand, the students were almost unanimous in declaring that Chiang Kai-Shek is a dictator. These were some of their views:

"Chiang (Kai-Shek) is definitely a dictator because his word is law."

"He's a Hitler type who acts for his own gain and not for the benefit of the majority."

"He makes final decisions despite the supposedly constitutional government."

Other questions answered yes or no by the students, who, in some cases explained their reason for answering as they did, were as follows:

Q. Do you think the Chinese Communists are getting outside (foreign) military aid?

Twelve said yes, five answered no and three offered no comment.

Those answering in the affirmative were all in agreement that the Chinese Communists had no heavy war equipment in the past. Therefore, Russia is giving or had given them captured Japanese war material.

Those who said no pointed out that the Communists are using captured Japanese and Nationalist equipment, or that they are operating former Japanese munition plants in Manchuria.

Q. Are the Chinese Communists "Communists" in the Moscow-sense of the word?

Seven answered yes. They based their opinion on the fact that many Chinese Communist leaders received and are receiving their education in Russia. As an example of this, one student cited Lee Li-Shan, a Communist government official. Moscow-trained Lee believes in world communism, he said.

Eleven voiced disagreement. Their views went like this: "The Chinese Communist party is something like the United States Progressive party."

"It is a form of a democratic

ABOVE MAP shows grave military situation in China. Following up their capture of strategic Mukden with new blows, Chinese Communist forces have launched an offensive against the Nationalists on the Suohow front protecting Nanking and Shanghai. Black arrows indicate points at which the Communists have attacked, including a drive that has cut the Suohow-Nanking railroad, 100 miles from the capital. Only Nationalist success is reported from Tangshan (white arrow).

movement."

"The Communists are land reformers."

Another student said Communist Mao, a strong advocate of nationalism, wants China to find its rightful place in the family of nations.

Three gave no opinion.

Q. To what would you attribute the military defeats of the Nationalist army?

Each of the 20 students gave his opinion which boiled down to the following seven reasons:

1. Chinese people are tired of war — five years against the Japanese and now three years of civil war.

2. The morale of troops is low.

3. The government is corrupt.

4. There is a food shortage.

5. The major part of the army is comprised of the common people — the same type making up the Communist army. Therefore, the former lack the fighting spirit to war against their own class of people. (Why the Communists maintain a high morale is explained later in this survey.)

6. Jealousy exists between Whampao (China's West Point) generals and those who came up from the ranks.

7. Chiang's poor selection of generals and political officials is also responsible for the defeats.

Q. What is the chief cause of China's present economic plight?

All but two blamed eight years of war which prevented China from manufacturing or importing goods for domestic use. The other two put the blame on corrupt government officials.

Q. What is it like in Chinese Communist-dominated areas?

Nineteen didn't know, but one student said a friend of his, living in such an area, informed him that the Communists treat the farmers very well. The students said according to the information he received the Communists seek out wealthy landlords and punish them in the presence of poor farmers. (He didn't say how they were punished.)

Following the punishment, the landlord's land is divided among the farmers. This land reform program has been directly responsible for developing the fighting spirit of the Communist army. Sons of farmers enlisted and are enlisting in the Chinese Red army more or less to consolidate their parents' gain by fighting the Nationalists in order to prevent the latter from recouping the same area.

The student added that he was told that the Communist political staff is very efficient in getting things done.

Q. What class of people hold National government positions?

Seventeen students said upper class, especially the four wealthy and political powerful families; namely, Chiang, Soong, Kung and Chen. One student considered the Soong family the most influential since its children married into the Chiang and Kung families.

Three students said the officials ranged from middle to upper class.

Q. Do you consider the National government officials reactionary, liberal, radical?

Seventeen agreed these officials are reactionary. Three tagged them as liberal.

Q. If you speak in disfavor of the National government, will it be held against you in China?

Eleven said yes and pointed out that if one is caught speaking against the National government he is suspected of being a Communist. Furthermore, they said, one can't express his true opinion in China for fear of being jailed.

Seven said no, and two offered no opinion.

Q. Do you think there will be complete collapse of the National government?

Ten believe yes, four said no, and six didn't know.

Q. Will the Communists gain complete control of China?

This question and yes's split even on this question — eight against. Four didn't answer. Those who said yes did so because of the unchecked Communist offensive. The no's pointed out that China is too big to be conquered, or there will be some agreement over control between the outlawed liberals of China and the Communist.

Q. Do you believe the Communists will take orders from the Kremlin?

Yes — 7; No — 10 No opinion — 3

Q. If the Communists should gain control of China, what do you think their attitude will be toward the United States?

Eight said unfriendly; four believe friendly; three answered there will be a mutual understanding, and three offered no view.

Housing Preference for Vets

A new government regulation issued recently requires that housing accommodations completed after June 30, 1947 must be offered for rent or sale exclusively to veterans of World War II or their immediate families.

If the housing has not been sold or rented at the time of completion, it must be advertised in a newspaper on at least three days during the first 20 days after completion.

This new veterans' preference regulation applies not only to the first sale or rent but also to any later sale or rent.

The required advertisement of the housing must include the following:

(1) A statement that the property is offered for sale or rent exclusively to veterans of World War II or their immediate families, for the prescribed period. In order to be an exclusive offering to veterans, the advertisement must contain some statement such as "Offered exclusively to veterans of World War II." Any general offering of the property to anyone other than veterans of World War II, is a direct violation of the law.

(2) The sale or rental price.

(3) The name and address of the person authorized to sell or rent the housing accommodations.

Anyone seeking further information on this new regulation may call the Office of the Housing Expediter. This office is located in the Iowa State Bank building and the phone is 9466.

Demos Must Show Results, Says Senator-Elect Gillette

Victorious Democrats will have to put up a fight and show "they have the goods" if they want to continue in office, Senator-Elect Guy M. Gillette said yesterday.

Addressing a Johnson county Democratic victory luncheon at Hotel Jefferson, the newly-elected Iowa senator warned that the Democratic party will again lose its dominant position if it doesn't let the people know what it has done and what it intends to do for them.

Arrangements to have President Truman address the group of county and party leaders and workers by special telephone wire could not be completed. However, a letter from Truman's personal secretary was read stating the President's regrets that he could not attend the luncheon.

As the main speaker, Gillette called the recent election a great personal victory for that "one man army, President Truman." However, he said the important point was that the mass of the American people supported the principles of the Democratic party.

Overplayed Hand
"I think our opponents overplayed their hand," he said. "They shouted 'heaven, home and mother,' and didn't take a stand on any issue."

Referring to the Republican party, Gillette commented, "There are those who went to bed that Wednesday night sadder in heart, sadder in spirit and sadder in outlook," because they didn't believe in a government run by the people.

The white-haired legislator chided what he called large contributions from big money interests to help defeat him in his recent campaign. "They didn't hurt me one darn bit. The majority accorded to me was greater than I had anticipated even in my wildest dreams."

Senator-Elect Hubert H. Humphrey, mayor of Minneapolis, who was also to be at the luncheon could not attend because of another speaking engagement.

Praises Humphrey
"Praising Humphrey as a 'world of enthusiasm and competency,'" Gillette remarked that he hoped "Minnesota's facility for dropping a Ball (defeated Senator Joseph H. Ball) would be continued in today's football game.

Gillette and his wife will leave for Washington, D.C. immediately following the game to look for a home for the next six years.

Other speakers at the luncheon were William R. Hart, first district Democratic chairman, Judge James P. Gaffney and Norman C. Meier of the SUI psychology department.

After Meier defended the recent debacle of the poll-takers, Gillette laughingly commented that he intends to have an "excess property tax" passed as soon as he takes office.
