Murray Attacks CIO Leftists, Asks 3 Unions to Reorganize

PORTLAND, ORE. (AP) — Philip Murray, for years the peace-maker of the CIO, publicly switched yesterday into a lashing opponent of leftists and "unfit" unions within his own organization.

Before the opening session of the national CIO convention he demanded the reorganization of three unions which he said had failed in the CIO's mission "to organize the unorganized."

The CIO president's denunciation was unprecedented. It surprised even the executive board members on the platform with him. It stunned delegates. But it was popular.

Audience Cheers

They came to their feet cheering when he singled out the Office and Professional Workers and the United Public Workers as unions that are "obviously not sufficient." Both have been in the left wing of the CIO.

Leftists alone did not bear the brunt. He also included the Retail and Wholesale Workers as an "inadequate" union. This one generally has been in the right wing, although some locals, particularly in the New York area, have broken away.

He urged delegates to place the matter in the hands of the CIO executive board for "review and contemplated action."

Then Murray demanded the resignation of Communists who have failed as labor leaders.

Communism Not Question

He asserted, however, "It is not a question of Communism with me. If a Communist is leading a labor organization in the CIO, and, after years of existence he is unable to demonstrate his fitness to organize the unorganized, then in justice to the people employed in that industry he should resign."

Murray called the election of President Truman a defeat for the Communists.

"It is definitely a well-established fact that the Communist party about two years ago determined through the exercise of its might and power through Moscow to drive President Truman out of the White House. They did not care whether Dewey was elected or the devil was elected," Murray said.

"Together with others, we won that election and saved America," he said.

AFL Elects Green Again

CINCINNATI (AP)—The American Federation of Labor reelected 75-year-old William Green to his 25th term as president yesterday and adjourned its 67th annual convention.

Green pledged the organization to make repeal of the Taft-Hartley act its first goal.

"It is the dawn of a new day, a new experience, a new opportunity for the AFL," Green said after delegates gave him a rousing demonstration. He has been president since the death of Samuel Gompers in December of 1924.

"We are determined to exercise good judgment, to proceed judicially, to act together not as an organization but as citizens of the U.S.," Green said.

His remarks indicated the AFL's sober approach to what it thinks will be its increasing role as a result of President Truman's victory and the new Democratic congress.

Secretary-Treasurer George Meany and the 13 vice-presidents on the executive council also were re-elected without opposition.

Bad Days Ahead For City's Ducks

Holidays are bad days for the ducks in City park! Come Thursday and Thanksgiving day, park officials expect a drop in duck population. George J. Turecek, caretaker, said yesterday that the holidays take a heavy toll because "people just help themselves."

Apparently these ducks take their places on the feast tables of some Iowa Citizens who fail to realize that destruction of the fowl is expensive for the city.

Extra precautions have been taken this year to try to keep City park ducks off the local Thanksgiving day feast tables, Turecek said.

Thief Trims Shopper, Gets Car, 14 Turkeys

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Keimheim drove up to a market yesterday to buy cranberries, stuffing and all the trimmings.

When he finished shopping, he explained to police, he discovered a thief had stolen his car and the 14 turkeys inside it.

King George Suffers Blood Clot in Leg; Delays Royal Tour

LONDON (AP) — King George VI early this morning postponed because of an acute circulatory ailment in his legs the royal tour of Australia and New Zealand scheduled for next January.

An announcement from Buckingham Palace shortly after midnight said complete rest had been ordered for the 52-year-old British ruler.

Palace sources said the King will fill no public engagements for at least six months.

It was stated specifically the King "is suffering from an obstruction to the circulation through the arteries of his legs which only recently had become acute."

Palace informants said the main trouble lay in the condition of the sovereign's right foot. The King first complained about a loss of feeling in his right foot about two weeks ago.

The informants said there was reason to believe the condition of the King's right leg was caused by what is generally a blood clot. They said the condition probably had existed for a considerable time.

Sources at the palace said neither the King's doctors nor members of the royal family is worried about the monarch's health generally. The Palace announcement, however, said "a defective blood supply to the right foot causes anxiety."

Five physicians have been attending the King for more than a week giving him electrical therapy treatment will be continued.

The doctors attended the king during the exciting days before and after the birth of Princess Elizabeth's baby on Nov. 14.

Crowd Greets Hawks' Return

A crowd of about 200 persons—mostly students—welcomed the Iowa football team home last night from Boston. The Hawks ended the season Saturday, defeating Boston University 34-14.

While standing on the railroad station platform, the crowd group sang "On Iowa" and counted off the 34 points scored against the Terriers by Iowa.

Then someone yelled, "Here it comes," and the crowd fell back to allow the train to pull in.

As the team alighted a half-dozen students grabbed Dittmer and Ralph Woodard and hoisted the pair on their shoulders.

Dr. Eddie Anderson, Iowa grid mentor, said, in reference to the game, that the field was "pretty muddy and wet" but the boys were "trying out there" the first half. Dr. Eddie added wearily that it was a "good second half."

Boston was "more fired-up the first half and we were more fired-up the second half," was the comment by Game Captain Dick Woodard.

Bill Kay, all-conference tackle who scored Iowa's first tally, said that he "guessed" he always wanted to make a touchdown and the Terrier contest was a "good way to end the season."

Early Settlement of Dock Strike Unlikely

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes for a swift settlement of the costly 13-day-old east coast dock workers strike faded last night when the union turned down a compromise plan proposed by the shipowners.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL international longshoremen's association, said at the end of a three-hour meeting with the owners that the compromise, based on an employer welfare offer "has given us no concessions."

"We have no right to submit this to our membership because it is no different than the proposition rejected by the members," Ryan declared.

Truman, Marshall Walk to Lunch

ON THEIR WAY TO LUNCH after a foreign policy discussion, President Truman (left) and Secretary of State Marshall walk across Sixteenth street from the White House to Blair-Lee house, Mr. Truman's temporary residence. Also at the luncheon was the rest of the President's cabinet. Marshall returned from Paris yesterday morning.

Technicians Prepare To Split Atom Today

SUI's atom smasher, which was fired for the first time last week in a trial run, may smash its first atoms today.

This next step in the testing procedure of the device may be possible today if the beam can be focused, according to John Wahl, physics research associate. If the test is run today, hydrogen protons will be fired in an attempt to analyze their effect on an improvised target, Wahl said.

The object of the test run last week was not to smash an atom, but to direct an atom smashing beam down the accelerator tube, he said. The next step is to focus the beam, much as a flashlight is focused. Focusing will direct all particles at one point and give the beam greater power.

Wahl said the physicists would add the permanent target apparatus when the focusing proves successful. He said it would be many weeks before full scale nuclear research is possible.

When the giant Van de Graaff generator is completed, it is expected to fire atom smashing particles with an electrical potential of 5 million volts. Tests run in the near future will be conducted with potentials ranging from around 200 thousand volts, Wahl said.

He pointed out that before voltages approaching five million volts could be expected, many intricate adjustments must be made. One of the last steps in completing the smasher will be forcing a gas into the large housing tank to a pressure of 125 pounds per square inch.

Actress Loses Brooch, Gets Toupee in Return

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Allyn McLerie, of the musical comedy "Where's Charley," told police yesterday that an absent minded thief stole an heirloom brooch, clothes and a pearl ring from her apartment. However, the thief left behind his black toupee and a bottle of glue.

Russ Charges Partition Plan Favors U.S.

PARIS (AP)—Russia and Poland charged yesterday that the late Count Folke Bernadotte's partition plan was designed to give the United States and Britain military domination and oil monopolies in Palestine and the middle east.

Speaking before the United Nations political committee, which is debating Palestine's future, Russia's Semyon K. Tsarapkin demanded the withdrawal of all Arab armies from the holy land.

He also called on the general assembly to approve last year's partition proposals, which would assign the Negev to the Jews and set up two independent Arab and Jewish states.

Poland's Oscar Lange said the U.S. and Britain were responsible for the war in Palestine and accused them of hoping to bolster the crumbling British empire and expand the new American "empire."

The Bernadotte report chiefly would give to the Arabs the Negev desert, give western Galilee to Israel, set up free port areas at the port city of Haifa and the airport at Lydda, and called for U.N. control of Jerusalem.

It also would give some Palestine territory to Trans-Jordan, and set up a conciliation commission to settle boundary disputes.

Britain is sponsoring the plan. U.S. delegate Philip C. Jessup endorsed some parts of the report last week.

U.S. Again Asks UN To Admit Six Nations

PARIS (AP)—The United States, complaining that the United Nations stands "powerless before the Soviet veto," called last night for reconsideration of the six membership applications blocked by Russia.

Benjamin Cohen, in his first major speech as a delegate, said in the special political committee that the general assembly should order the security council to take up again the applications of Italy, Austria, Ireland, Transjordan, Portugal and Finland. Each has been blackballed by the Russians in the security council.

Old Alibi Works in Reverse

EAST HARTFORD, CONN. (AP) — Thirteen speeding cases presented in East Hartford town court yesterday resulted in 13 acquittals.

The verdicts were recommended by the prosecutor, J. Robert Galvin. He told the court errors ranging from two to 15 miles an hour had been found in the speedometers of the seven new police cars driven by the arresting officers.

Ring of Czech Spies Smashed in Germany

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (UP) American counter-intelligence corps (CIC) agents have smashed a Czechoslovakia spy ring in the Anglo-American zones of Germany with sudden, coordinated raids which netted more than 20 operatives, U.S. army headquarters at Heidelberg announced yesterday.

The men, seized Nov. 9, "will be charged with acts prejudicial to the United States occupation and will be turned over to United States military government authorities," the announcement said.

It said the men were of "mixed nationalities" acting "on behalf of Czechoslovak intelligence."

The investigation leading to the arrests was said to have begun in Dec., 1946, 14 months before the Communists seized power in Czechoslovakia.

The terse headquarters announcement said: "An investigation started in December of 1946. EUCOM (European command) agents on Nov. 9 smashed a spy ring operating in the United States zone on behalf of Czechoslovakia intelligence."

"Action was taken after conclusive documentary evidence of reports written by members of the ring for Czechoslovak intelligence officers."

"Most of the arrests were made in the Munich area, center of the ring. Other arrests were made in the British zone."

Breen Unhurt After Plane Forced Down

GLIDDEN, WIS. (AP) — Singer Bobby Breen, missing on an airplane flight since Sunday, was found yesterday on the edge of the dense Chequamegon national forest near here in northern Wisconsin.

Breen walked into a tavern in this small town and announced that his airplane had been forced to land.

Al Peterson, tavern owner, said that Breen was "all right."

"He walked right into my place and asked what all the fuss was about," Peterson said. Ground and air search parties had been seeking Breen since yesterday morning.

Breen's plane, piloted by veteran Kenneth Thompson, was more than a day overdue on a flight to the Hayward, Wis., from Waukesha, Wisconsin.

Truman, Marshall Confer on American Foreign Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) President Truman received a "very informative" report from Secretary of State Marshall yesterday on the whole field of American foreign relations, including the critical situation in China.

Word of the discussion between the two men in the president's White House office came from Press Secretary Charles G. Ross. Ross declined to reveal whether any decisions were made on China or any other foreign policy issue.

He also gave a no comment response to inquiries as to whether the talk had determined whether Marshall would remain as secretary of state.

Ross met reporters late in the afternoon after checking directly with the President to see what he could tell about the results of this first post-election conference between Mr. Truman and General Marshall. Marshall had returned from the United Nations meeting at Paris earlier in the day.

Ross told reporters that their discussion ranged over the whole field of foreign relations, including the situation in China, Asia as a whole, and Europe. He described Marshall's report as "very informative" and said the secretary of state would be "very informative" and said the secretary of state would be "very informative" and said the secretary of state would be "very informative."

Harriman met with the President for 25 minutes and said to reporters afterward: "I told him a feeling exists in Europe that liberalism is in the ascendency here as against the thought that reactionary tendencies were."

Committee Hits 2 Clergymen, Organizations

WASHINGTON — The House un-American activities committee said yesterday Communists are seeking to "corrupt" religion in the United States by infiltrating churches and church organizations.

And the committee pinned a Communist label on two clergymen, two religious organizations and the church magazine "Protestant."

It also said Communists have made inroads into other religious groups and have "sneaked" their propaganda into the magazine "Christian Register."

Tell Consequences

The committee said that if the Communists should seize power in this country —

"You would have to choose at once between church and communism. If you should choose the church, then prepare for persecution."

The house group's views are set forth in a pamphlet entitled "100 things you should know about Communism and Religion." It is one of a series of committee reports to be published before the end of the year, dealing with Communist influences and threats to various phases of American life.

'No Peaceable Life'

"You cannot be a Communist and believe in God," the report said. "That is the long and short of it. You cannot believe in God and have a peaceable life under Communism."

"In all their plans and actions, the Communists mark down religion as enemy No. 1."

The committee named the Rev. Claude C. Williams, Birmingham, Ala., a Presbyterian, as an "open type" of Communist. He is director of the People's Institute of Applied Religion, one of the two groups cited by the committee.

Name Minister

Another "open type" Communist, the committee said, is the Rev. Eliot White of Poselle, N.J., a retired Episcopal minister who, it said, has served as a delegate to a Communist convention.

The pamphlet said Williams' People's Institute was "one of the most vicious" of Communist outfits in that it "preaches Communist ideas, pretending they are Christian ideas." It said the organization has been listed as subversive by the justice department.

The other group cited was the Methodist Federation of Social Action with headquarters in New York. While not an official church unit, the pamphlet said, "it is trying to use the prestige of the Methodist church to promote the line of the Communist party."

Northwestern Students Celebrate Rose Bowl Decision

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY STUDENTS TOOK A HOLIDAY yesterday when they learned officially that their football team would participate in the annual Rose Bowl classic Jan. 1. Classes were picketed and later many students paraded on Evanston streets (above) and attended a mass meeting. The situation was similar in Berkeley when it was announced on the University of California campus that California's Bears would represent the west coast in the Rose Bowl. The students lit several bonfires and the celebration became so riotous that a dozen fire trucks and all available police cars were ordered to the campus area. For complete Rose Bowl story see the Sports page.

Bill Kay Named Tackle On All-Big 9 Team

McKenzie on Second Team; Five Other Hawks Mentioned

CHICAGO (AP)—Undeclared Michigan landed four places yesterday on the 1948 All-Big Nine football team.

Conference coaches, who annually select the team for the Associated Press, paid tribute to the title winners by voting them a predominate edge.

Runner-up Northwestern and third-place Minnesota were awarded two berths apiece. Iowa, Indiana and Purdue each received one.

Ohio State, Illinois and Wisconsin failed to place in the No. 1 lineup.

Michigan, whose champions won three backfield spots on the 1947 team, gained three line positions this time — Dick Rifenburg at end, Al Wistert, tackle, and Dominic Tomasi, guard.

Pete Elliott, the brain behind the Wolverines' flashy attack, was named quarterback of the all-conference group.

Completing the line, which averages better than 210 pounds per man, are End Bud Grant and Guard Leo Nomellini of Minnesota, Tackle Bill Kay of Iowa and Center Alex Sarkisian of Northwestern.

Rifenburg, great all-around end and leading big nine pass catcher, was the only unanimous choice. Named on the first team by each coach, he collected the maximum of 18 points.

The 250-pound Nomellini, offensive tackle and defensive guard bagged 17 points, being picked for a second team spot by one coach.

Other selections varied. The line-pulverizing Murakowski led the backs with 15 points. Szulborski, the conference's ground-gaining champion with 583 yards in 125 carries, and Elliott bunched 12 points apiece. Taliaferro, one of the nation's outstanding triple-threaters, received 11. Next in line was Ohio State's hard-punching Fullback, Joe Whisler, with eight which relegated him to the second

DiMarco's Passing Sets New Iowa Mark

It's Bears Versus Wildcats in Bowl

Cal Defeats Oregon In Final Ballot Tally

By BOB MYERS

PASADENA, CALIF. (AP)—It's California's Golden Bears versus Northwestern's Wildcats in the Rose Bowl New Year's day, and a golden opportunity for Cal's Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf to teach his old school new tricks.

The faculty fathers of the Big Nine and Pacific Coast conferences made their selections yesterday for the 35th edition of the Tournament of Roses football game—the sire of all bowl events.

And the coast representative will be California, coached by Waldorf, who used to ply his trade at Northwestern. Pappy made the Rose Bowl in his second year at Cal.

It will be master versus pupil, too. Northwestern, which won seven of its nine games, is coached by young Bob Voigts, a Wildcat tackle under Waldorf in the late 1930's.

The Jan. 1, 1949, version pits one of the two best teams in the Big Nine against one of the top two in the Coast conference.

There was never much doubt about the selection of Northwestern. Big Nine Commissioner K.L. (Tug) Wilson announced the Wildcats were a unanimous choice, despite finishing second in the league race. Champion Michigan, which whipped Southern California, 49-0, in the 1948 Rose fracas, was prevented from returning by conference agreement.

But California, which shared the Coast title with Oregon, apparently had quite a ballot battle with the Webfoots for the right to enter on the ground floor of the 93,000 capacity stadium.

PCC Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt declined to give the breakdown of the final tally, but did admit that the votes came in slowly, indicating at least several of the 10 faculty representatives were weighing the issues carefully.

Both Oregon and California were undefeated in conference play, but the Webfoots lost one non-league game to Michigan, 14-0, while the Golden Bears went through their full 10-game slate without tarnish.

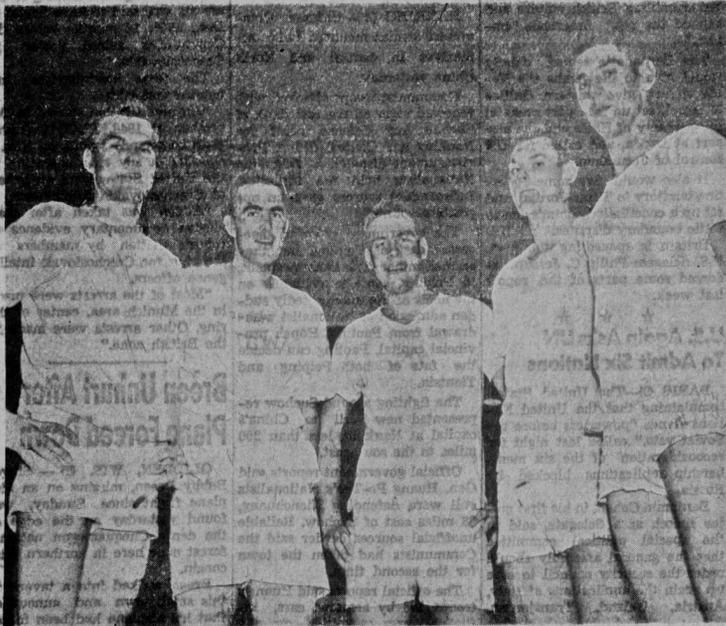

Northwestern lost only to mighty Michigan, 28-0, and Notre Dame, 13-6.

The selection touched off great celebrations at Evanston and Berkeley.

"I'm very happy for California and our squad," Waldorf said, "that we were selected to represent the coast conference. It is a great responsibility and we accept it as such. We shall do our best to win."

Up at Eugene, Ore., a dejected Webfoot squad got the bad news that they had been outvoted. Coach Jim Aiken said: "We're disappointed we were not selected. I feel that our team would have made a worthy representative. We wish California success."

High Hopes for Harrison

THIRTY-TWO FEET AND FOUR INCHES — that's the distance these small giants would measure if they were placed end to end. These candidates for center on the Iowa basketball squad are Don Hays 6'5", Roger Finley 6'6", Al Wiss 6' 5", Glen Dille 6'6", and Frank Calsbeck 6'6".

'Pops' Is 'Really Looking Up'

If little "Pops" Harrison's neck can stand the strain, the five giants towering above, are going to give the jovial Iowa cage coach a lot of pleasant gazing this winter.

Long despairing the lack of height he has been given to work with in past seasons, Harrison says, "now things are really looking up."

It's a problem of experience that will face Harrison in assigning his centers. There's also the problem that only one of these goliaths can play center at a time.

With the first game only a week and a day away, "Pops" is still considering moving one or more of his centers to forward.

Don Hays and Roger Finley are the only pivot men experienced to the Big Nine wars. The two stepped in as sophomores last season to take over for "Red" Metcalfe.

Hays led even all-American scorer Murray Wier last season in shooting percentage, with a 37.8. He was a little shy about shooting often, however, and averaged only about four points a game.

Hays, a highly-rated sophomore from Chicago, and Glen Dille, transfer from Oklahoma, are being considered for forward posts.

Dille and Hays operated in the front-line with the first team in various workouts yesterday, and Weiss took over center.

Veteran Bob Schulz and Newcomer Bill Andrews held down the two guard positions.

Back Sheds Tears Over Bowl 'Slight'

EUGENE, ORE. (AP)—After California was chosen for the Rose Bowl yesterday, Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin broke down and cried, and Oregon Coach Jim Aiken said "I think our football team has been slighted."

"I'm from West Virginia," Aiken said in his gravel-throated tones, "and down there we never forget a favor or slight."

He spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Oregon club. Earlier he said that while he was disappointed in the selection, "California is a fine football team and will do an excellent job in the Rose Bowl."

But at the luncheon he said he was not convinced California has a better team.

When Van Brocklin was called on to speak, he broke into tears.

St. Pat's Try for Third Win Tonight

After winning its first two games, the St. Pat's basketball team travels to Moline today to challenge St. Mary's.

A close contest is expected, this season, with the starting five averaging at least 6' 2". Wilson may use a ball possession style of play this season to utilize the Hawklets height best.

Reserved season tickets, selling for $5.00, to admit the holder to the home contests on Iowa City's 18 game season slate, can now be purchased.

Doran Best Runner; Dittmer Top Scorer

The pass throwing of Aerial Al DiMarco put two new Iowa records in the book during the season just completed. "The Arm" hit his receivers with 64 of 161 heaves for a new individual mark of 1,105 yards via the airplanes.

Also broken was the record for total yards gained on forward passing. The Iowans traveled 1,157 yards by air on 86 completions in 170 attempts. The old record of 912 yards was made in 1945, when Jerry Niles was Iowa's top passer.

DiMarco's individual passing broke the old mark held by Niles by 116 yards, also set in 1945, when he made 63 of his throws good for 889 yards.

The Hawkeye passing game topped the rushing mark by more than 100 yards. The Iowans averaged three yards a try with their ground attack, grinding out 1,028 yards over the season.

DiMarco, in his final season at Iowa, completed nearly 40 percent of his passes. The enemy captured 13 of his throws on interceptions and he hurled five touchdown passes.

The Hawkeye runners were paced by Ralph Doran, who had a 6.2 average. The Cedar Rapids senior gained 343 yards in 53 shots at the enemy line.

Don Fryauf ranked second with a 5.4 average and Mearl Naber, who missed several games, was third with 4.6 yards per try.

At the other end of DiMarco's aerials it was a close race between the two ends, Bob McKenzie and Jack Dittmer. McKenzie grabbed 22 passes for 382 yards and Dittmer had 20 catches for 374 yards.

Dittmer snared five touchdown passes, four from DiMarco, to top the scoring department with 30 points. Doran came just behind Dittmer in scoring with 24 points. He was third in pass receiving.

DiMarco led the team in total offense with 1,057 yards. He added a few yards along the ground, usually when he couldn't spot his receiver.

Glenn Drahn did all the punting. He booted 56 times and had a 37.9-yard average.

The Hawkeyes scored 19 touchdowns and successfully booted the extra point 13 times for 127 points. The opposition crossed the goal-line 21 times, converted 16 times and scored 142 points.

Iowa had 100 first downs to the opponents' 112. On pass interceptions the Hawks out-legged the enemy 123 yards to 83.

Home attendance averaged 39,594 per game, setting a new record for the five home contests. The Hawkeyes played before 212,708 at home. The attendance for the nine game schedule was 356,352.

U-Hi Gridders Led by —

SUI Student Coach

— To Conference Third

Ten weeks ago SUI Graduate Student C. O. Green, University high school football coach, was given little chance by crystalgazers to guide his Blue Hawks to more than one or two gridiron victories.

Green is a graduate assistant in physical education at the university. He was christened Charles, but prefers being called "C.O.," because "it prevents confusion with all other Charlie Greens."

The dismal outlook by U-high critics was well founded. Green's September hopefuls included just four boys who had ever played high school football before. But like a large number of the great-minds-that-probe-the-future, especially these days, the results upset the predictions.

By whipping Winfield three weeks ago for their fifth win, the Blue Hawks wound up third in the Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference.

Green's undergraduate work and football playing was for Missouri State Teachers college at War-rensburg, where he played varsity football before going into the service in 1943. A wee bit of a fellow at six-two, 200 pounds,

C. O. GREEN

Green answered his coach's needs at tackle for four years.

The former Sedalia, Mo., farm boy helped with the U-high coaching last year but didn't become head coach until this fall.

"I figure we had a pretty good season, the boys were always in there trying," Green said. "Beating Winfield in the last game, to grab third place was especially sweet."

The 27-year-old coach, now helping with basketball at U-high, sees the big difference in high school and college coaching in material and experience. "Here we take what we have and make a team, even when it means having blocking backs that weigh 125 pounds."

When his graduate work at the university is complete, Green, who is not married, plans to try for a coaching and teaching job somewhere in the mid-west.

Getting back to his Blue Hawks, Green told of a time before a road game when one of his charges found he'd brought two left shoes with him. It might have been food for fooling the enemy but not so comfortable on the feet. A substitute came to the rescue by having the same sized feet and the day was saved.

The road to a winning season wasn't smooth for Green and his Blue Hawks. After the first game, when Wellman stomped his boys, 57-7, the people who foresaw a poor year were already saying, "I told you so."

A week later U-high slipped by Mt. Vernon, 7-0, then on their third outing, trampled Wapello, 21-0. "What's this?" the doubters said, "two straight wins and not even scored on since the opening game!"

After bowing to West Branch, Coach Green's squad lost a heart-breaker to West Liberty in the last minute of play, 14-12.

Against Wilton Junction the Blue Hawks pulled out a hard-fought victory, 13 to 12. With three wins already tucked away, they went right on and won their remaining games, dumping New London, 13 to 7, and finishing out the season with the win over Winfield that meant third place in the conference.

Although Green attributes the success to his players, much credit should go to the coaching. As he put it, "some days your 125 pound blocking backs can turn the trick and make a winning combination."

C. O. Green's combinations turned that trick this year.

Cheery Thanksgiving Set for War Orphan

Thanksgiving may be a little cheerier this year for a 14-year old French boy, Gerrard Sattinger.

This French-Jewish war orphan was adopted last year by members of Hill foundation here through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, Inc.

Gerard's birthday this year coincides with America's Thanksgiving and his "foster parents" have speeded a Thanksgiving-birthday package to him containing clothes, food, toys and games.

The boy, his sister, Colette, and his mother now live approximately five kilometers from Paris. Returning there after liberation, they found their home stripped of everything and their resources gone. Forced to start anew, Mrs. Sattinger placed her children under the Foster Parents' plan and obtained a job in Paris.

"Mr. Sattinger was deported during the war for no other reason than his faith," the case history relates, "and as he did not return, it is safe to believe that he met his death."

"In this atmosphere of want and tension Gerard spent impressionable years during the war and he is highly nervous," his life data reports.

The electrical engineering field has whetted this young man's fancy. "I do very well in math," Gerard writes, "and am number 8 amongst 40 pupils. I would like to study electricity for I think it is a good field and in this way I could help my mother."

With unrelenting inquisitiveness Gerard asks: "Where is Iowa University?" "What is the geography of the United States like?"

GERARD SATTINGER

"In my school," he reports, "we play football amongst the fellows older than myself. I often receive a bloody nose." Thankful for his American benefactors, Gerard writes: "I pray to God that all who are so good to us will have all that they desire in life — good health and success."

Student Council to Propose New Election System Today

A special Student Council committee today will propose a new system for electing liberal arts class officers.

The three-man committee will report at a council meeting at 4:30 p.m. in the office of student affairs conference room, University hall. Its members are Council President Evan L. Hultman, Quadrangle Representative Dan Dillinger and Panhellenic Representative Alice Reinga.

This morning, they will take their tentative plans to Acting Liberal Arts Dean Dewey B. Stuit for university approval. Hultman said yesterday arrangements for a new liberal arts election system were started last summer under former Liberal Arts Dean Earl J. McGrath.

They have been brought to a head because liberal arts, at present, is the only SUI college that does have class officers. Cooperation with the Alumni office and work on university-wide projects has been hampered as a result, Hultman explained.

The council committee will propose these tentative plans to remedy the situation:

1. Emergency plans for this school year. Only senior class officers would be elected. They would represent all liberal arts students. Preliminary nominations would be made by a nominating committee named by Student Council and approved by the liberal arts office.

Officers would be elected at an open meeting of liberal arts seniors in Macbride auditorium early in December. Additional nominations from the floor would be entertained.

2. Plans for the future. Starting in March, 1949 officers for all liberal arts classes would be elected for the following year in the spring all-campus elections. This would necessitate two elections this school year. Senior officers for 1948-49 would be chosen in Dec., 1948; officers for all classes for 1949-50 would be elected in March, 1949.

At its meeting today, the council will discuss the appointment of a publicity committee and hear reports from the Panacea, NSA, library, election (the regular committee) and all-campus sing committees.

Hultman called today's meeting because of the interference of Thanksgiving recess with the regularly scheduled meeting date, Nov. 25.

CARE Asks Help Of Student Groups For Europe's DP's

The office of student affairs received a letter this week from CARE headquarters urging student organizations to lend a hand to displaced persons, students and teachers in Europe and Asia.

CARE is the Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc., a non-profit organization which last year facilitated sending of 70,000 packages from Americans to their friends in Europe.

Campus Chest Aids Three hundred dollars was set aside from SUI's Campus Chest proceeds to send three CARE packages to 10 different families overseas. Individual organizations have also sent packages.

Sending a CARE package periodically to some foreign family is a "fine way for student groups to participate," Richard E. Sweitzer, foreign students advisor, said yesterday.

Thirteen Types Thirteen types of CARE packages can be sent overseas for $10 each. The types include a standard food package, British food, Kosher food, Italian and Greek food, infant food, baby food, Oriental food package, layette, woolen suiting, blanket, household linen and knitting wool.

Because of the great need for fats in Europe today, CARE has set up a special lard package which can be sent for $5.50.

CARE address is 50 Broad street, New York 4, N. Y.

McBride's Haul

By BILL McBRIDE

The idea of a person getting his modifiers misplaced while speaking rarely goes farther than the immediate audience to whom the speaker addresses.

The first slip reported last week was gleaned from an Iowa weekly paper. The subject of the story was a reunion of some sort.

The story went on to tell who was present at the reunion and that it was the first to be held since 1933.

In the case of this story it probably could have been either left out or played to its fullest extent, but just blandly reporting the reunion was held in the John may have left readers with some doubt.

In Russia, I understand, reunions are frequently held on the Don (a river) and it is noteworthy that so far as the reports go, no reunion has ever been held in the Don.

If the John is an Iowa river, it is time cartographers got it on maps. Also, it is a little late in the year to be holding reunions in rivers . . . going on the assumption that the John is a river.

And then, too, it would be of interest to know if the reunion was held in the John in 1933 and what improvements have been made since then.

The next faux pas came not so much as an error in type, but as one of those instances where the human mind fails to scrutinize its product before releasing it to hawk-eyed Hawkeyes.

The story, headed Lovely Oddity, was one of those friendly green thumb affairs, relating how Mrs. Blank, raking leaves in her garden the other day, saw something red peeping through dead foliage.

I doubt if there are many who would consider the discovery of Japanese Quince world shaking, but for the benefit of those who would it was nice to relate the find.

The slip came in the last sentence of the story, and it would be interesting to learn how it came out.

The writer posed the question, "Has anyone else found anything strange, but nice in his garden?"

Why the "Nice" limitation? If someone finds simply anything strange in his garden it should be newsworthy. I knew a fellow once who found an old life preserver in his garden.

Now the fact in itself that he found an old life preserver may not seem strange, but when it is known that the garden was in Utah and the faint lettering on the preserver spelled Santa Maria, it certainly takes on a strange aspect, does it not? However, a rotten old life preserver could hardly be considered nice.

If the preserver had proved to be from the original Santa Maria, the fellow probably would have been in for a cash reward, and that surely would have been nice.

Unfortunately, a local historian upset that theory by explaining that a straggler from the Cortez crowd dropped it there. The straggler's name was Alphonse del Sopo, a superstitious individual who made the life preserver himself and carried it as a good luck charm. He lived in constant fear of drowning.

Del Sopo traveled three days before he discovered his loss, and finally lost his mind searching for the charm. Ironically he died in the middle of an arid region where a tribe of nomadic Indians found his skeleton. The Indian word skeleton was Sawleke.

They settled there, naming their village Sawleke Village. When the white man showed up years later, the pronunciation of Sawleke became corrupted to Salt Lake City, and has been referred to by that name ever since.

That certainly was a strange one, wasn't it?

Chiang Kai-shek

Shanghai is a wealthy prize.

Mao Tse-tung

STORM CENTER IN CHINESE battle scene is Suchow (see map, upper left). After a violent battle involving 1-million men, the Communists were thrown back from Suchow (see battle map below) but have rallied enough strength for a new strike.

Marshall are considering the China situation in Washington. Meanwhile, the political star of Mao Tse-tung, political chieftain of the Communists, rises higher as the Nationalist cause sinks.

Lin Piao, Manchuria conqueror.

Fu Tso-yi, Nationalist defender.

PITTED AGAINST each other in the mass Chinese struggle are Gen. Lin Piao, conqueror of Manchuria, and Gen Fu Tso-yi. Lin holds a slight numerical superiority.

The Chinese Nationalist rout was halted last week around Suchow. But the Chinese did not buy victory with that battle. They bought time . . . very little time.

Large-scale fighting is due to resume as soon as the temporarily scattered Communist troops can be rallied for another thrust.

Meanwhile, U.S. soldiers and marines are evacuating American citizens from Nanking, Shanghai and the U.S. fleet anchorage at Tsingtao, called the "safest spot in China."

In Washington, President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall are pondering the problem. American officials are not too enthusiastic about pouring more aid dollars into China. They feel it is too late. Yet the U.S. is obligated to stand behind the regime of Chiang Kai-shek.

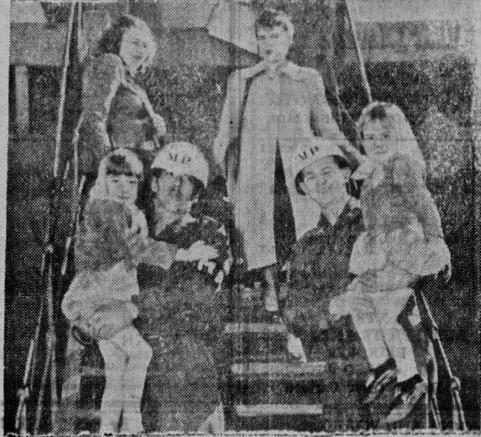

Behind the lines in China, nothing can stop the coming inflation. New currency issued a few weeks ago with 100 percent backing in gold—is now worthless.

If Nanking and Shanghai fall, Chiang is expected to move his capital to Canton and try to hold the Yangtze river line. By this time, industrial China will be in Communist hands.

The present lull is only temporary. The Suchow victory was only a stall for time. Nationalist China still has its back to the wall.

LATEST battle map: Nationalists claim Chinese Communist forces are in scattered retreat north, east and south of embattled Suchow (arrows), current danger point for the Chiang government in the China war. Communist rally is expected soon.

Evasive 'Ghoul' Disappears

NEW PRAGUE, MINN. — The ghost of New Prague apparently had vanished last night, but its memory lingered on.

Residents still talked excitedly of the hazy visitor whose reported appearance along streets at night and results in a six-car patrol from dusk to dawn.

Julius Bisek, a millworker, said he saw the apparition on a poorly-lighted back street.

He had stopped his car at a traffic sign and suddenly a block away, there it was—white and misty in the glow of his headlights.

"It was of medium height," Bisek told police chief John Nickolay.

Although no further visitations were reported, word of Bisek's harrowing experience spread until the weekly New Prague Times felt

Jury Suggests Jail Repairs, Physicals for Food Handlers

Eight indictments were returned by the grand jury for the November term yesterday in Johnson county district court.

The grand jury also inspected the county jail and recommended that suitable locks be installed and that a "thorough inspection of the concrete floor of the first floor of the jail" be made.

The jury also suggested complete physical examinations be required of all food dispensers in Iowa City. This would include all cooks, waiters and ice cream dispensers.

The jury pointed to the inadequate city and state legislation concerning public health on the prevention of social diseases.

Two indictments were returned against both Joe Ryan, Iowa City, and Charles Brown, Des Moines.

The first indictment charged Ryan with larceny. He was charged with stealing about $20 worth of paint from the Hawkeye Lumber company Oct. 7. Bail was set at $2,000.

The second charged him with taking part in the attempted county jail break here Oct. 23. Ryan was specifically charged with "assisting a felon to escape" after he was accused of taking part in jail bar-sawing operations at that time.

The indictment said hand saw blades and files were used in an attempt to help other prisoners escape.

Sheriff Albert J. Murphy discovered the sawed bars after receiving a "tip" that a break was about to take place. No one escaped and five inmates were put in solitary confinement.

Bail bond on the second indictment was set at $3,000.

Brown was indicted on a charge of breaking and entering "with intent to commit larceny" at the Riverside Inn here Oct. 1.

Cigars, candy and a small amount of change were reported stolen from the inn on that date.

The second indictment against Brown charged him with taking part in the county jail break attempt. He was charged with

"assisting a felon to escape" after being accused, along with Ryan, of taking part in the bar-sawing operations.

Bail bond for Brown was set at $3,000 for each indictment.

The fifth indictment charged Marvin Krauth with passing a bad check on the George Rebal market here July 20.

The charge said Krauth obtained money and groceries on that date by "purporting that the check was the act of another."

His bail bond was set at $2,000.

The grand jury was impaneled Nov. 15 and went into immediate session. They continued the session on Nov. 16, 17, 18 and returned the indictments yesterday.

Councilman Objects To Recommendations On Street Lighting

A city councilman last night objected to the Chamber of Commerce recommendation for city-wide assessment for a new "white-way."

Alderman W. H. Grandrath, chairman of the council's light committee, argued that other assessments, such as paving and sidewalk, are made against adjacent property owners and that residential areas get no benefit from downtown lighting.

He also expressed doubt that the necessary bond election could be held before February and prices might be higher then.

Alderman Clark Mighell, although not taking a definite stand against Grandrath, said residents should be proud to have a well lighted business district.

No action, either on the Chamber's recommendation or on Grandrath's objections was taken by the council on the matter. Following the meeting, Grandrath said that lighting proposals will be made at the Dec. 13 council meeting.

In other actions, the council:

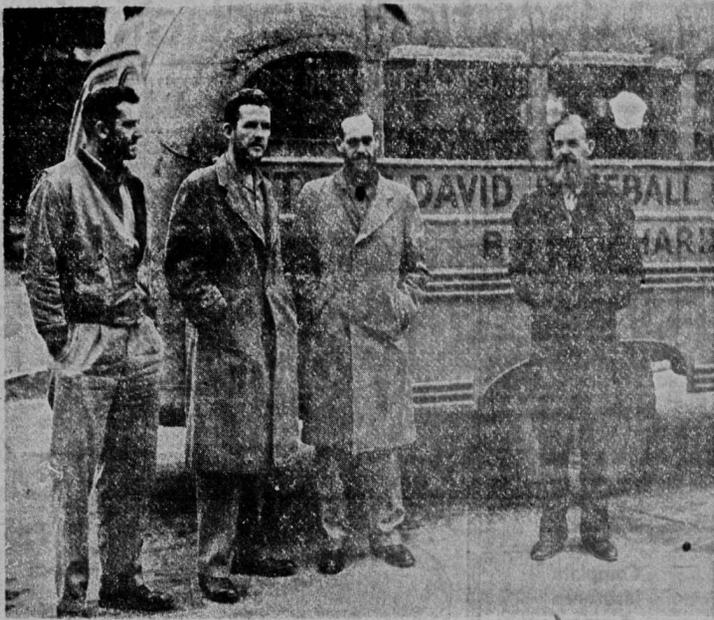

1. Received six recommendations from its zoning and planning commission on possible locations of a new city hall.

2. Authorized payments of $17,484 for 90 percent of the first payment on the Benton street bridge and $2,035 for 90 percent of the cost of a new stop sign for the Dubuque and Burlington streets intersection.

3. Received a bid of $935 for a push button electric school stop sign from the H. B. Allen company of Des Moines. The sign would be located at Court street and Muscatine avenue.

4. Placed on file the assessments for the $11,150 rock surfacing work done this summer on 19 streets and two alleys.

Never a Close Shave for These Cagers

THESE BEARDED GENTS OF THE CITY OF DAVID basketball team stretched their legs while their bus stopped in Iowa City yesterday afternoon. They were on their way to Mechanicsville for a game last night after playing in Golden, Ill. The fellow on the right is 54 year-old Curtis Richards, who performs on a slack-wire during half-time of the games. The others are (left to right) Bob Tarrant, forward; Bob Hallisey, guard, and George Anderson, manager.

Bearded Hoopsters Pay City Brief Call

The City of David basketball team, complete with a 54 year old gent who performs on a slack wire during game half-time stopped for a few minutes in Iowa City yesterday afternoon.

The busload of six players, the manager, and Curtis Richards, 54, who provides half-time color, stopped long enough for the men to stretch their legs and for the bus to be refueled.

Then they shoved off for Mechanicsville, where the bearded group performed last night.

Manager George Anderson explained that this was the original House of David team which hails from Benton Harbor, Mich. The group travels all over the United States in the course of a season, he said.

Thus far, the team has been even in the won and lost columns, one player said.

The group was traveling from Golden, Ill. where it performed last.

Highlanders, Weir To Perform

An Iowa flavor will be added to the All-Star basketball game in Chicago Friday by SUI's Scottish Highlanders and Murray Wier, Hawkeye All-American last year.

The Highlanders will perform during the half-time of the feature contest which pits the college All-Stars against last year's world's champions, the Minneapolis Lakers.

Wier will play for the All-Stars. Pipe Major Bill Adamson said yesterday that 26 Highlanders will leave Iowa City Friday morning on the 9:15 Rocket. These lassies will be joined by 15 others in Chicago, making a total of 41 performers.

The Highlanders will rehearse at Chicago stadium, the scene of the game, late Friday afternoon. Then they will eat, return to the stadium and perform before an expected sell-out crowd in the evening.

The group will spend Friday night at the LaSalle hotel and 12 Friday program. The opener will see the New York Rens take the following morning. The rest will scatter to spend Thanksgiving vacation elsewhere. Two games are scheduled for the
