Earthquake Rocks South California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—All southern California was rocked yesterday by a severe earthquake which apparently concentrated much of its force near Palm Springs and towering Mt. San Jacinto, 70 miles east of here.

At California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Dr. Charles F. Richter timed the quake's official onset at 4:43.42 p.m. (Pacific daylight time — 5:43.42 Iowa time).

He said its magnitude was 6.34 on a seismological scale which rates the world's most severe quakes at 8-12. The disastrous Long Beach quake of 1933 was 6.1-4, but occurred in a much more populous area.

The Caltech scientist put the apparent center at 100 miles south-east of Pasadena, roughly between the desert cities of Indio and Twenty-Nine Palms. Indio reported no damage.

Palm Springs police reported the rear of a furniture store collapsed in the first of three quakes at 4:45 p.m. in Arlington on the western side of Mt. San Jacinto, near Riverside.

In Los Angeles, a crowd of more than 100,000 was just filing out of giant Memorial coliseum, where Southern California and Notre Dame played to a 14-14 tie.

From Santa Barbara on the north to San Diego on the south, and inland to the Colorado, the tremor was reported varying in light to heavy. Palm Springs police said a water tank collapsed and a building at downtown Seventh and Hill streets developed a crack. There were wide reports of cracked windows, broken crockery and stopped clocks.

Huge Toll In Ship Disaster

SHANGHAI (AP) — More than 3,200 Chinese were estimated dead or missing last night in the explosion of an overcrowded refugee ship in the Yangtze estuary.

Lack of passenger records made possibly only the roughest figures. The exact toll never will be known.

Even approximate accuracy, however, ranks the disaster as the greatest in modern maritime history, including single-ship casualties of major wars.

Estimates of those rescued ranged from a low of 100 to a high of 700.

The 2,099-ton steamer Kiangyao sailed from Shanghai Friday for Ninghsien (Ningpo), 200 miles down the coast. It exploded about 10 p.m. Friday and sank within an hour, all available survivors agreed. Cause of the explosion was not known. Guesses ranged from Communist sabotage to a floating mine or possibly overtaxed boilers.

The loss was not discovered until yesterday morning, when a passing coastal ship sighted the funnel and a bit of wrecked superstructure protruding above the shallow water.

Miss UN Wears Napoleon Diamonds

Battered Palestine Proposal OK'd by UN Political Group

PARIS (AP)—A mangled British-American plan for a Palestine conciliation commission was approved yesterday by the United Nations political committee but final UN assembly approval was doubtful.

The vote in the 58-member committee was 25 to 21 for the drastically amended resolution originally introduced by Britain and supported by the United States. Nine countries abstained and three were absent.

Only a simple majority was required for committee approval, but a two-thirds majority of those present and voting is necessary in the assembly, where the same 58 nations are represented.

The Soviet bloc, with 6 votes, was part of the 21-nation minority which voted against the final draft. This group, including the Arab bloc, is in a position to kill the commission proposal when the resolution comes up in the assembly early next week.

One of Russia's main objections was to the arrangements for setting up the three-nation conciliation commission. She wants a stronger voice in selecting the three countries.

There still is a possibility of a compromise which would remove Soviet objections and swing the Russian bloc votes.

If the assembly fails to approve the resolution, the situation in effect would remain as it was before the assembly took up the Palestine question at this session.

Student Riot Kills Cairo Police Chief

CAIRO (AP) — Rioting students shouting Palestine and anti-government slogans killed police chief Selim Zaki Pasha with a grenade yesterday.

Police sources said three other policemen were killed and 18 wounded, in a battle at a university medical school. Two hundred fifty-nine students, most of them injured, were arrested.

The disorder occurred as Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting UN mediator in Palestine, was paying a visit to Cairo.

Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Noh-rashi Pasha, who was conferring with Bunche at the time, told reporters "these are elements of destruction. We are going to use all authority in our hands."

INNOCENT victim of the war in China is this Chinese baby huddled in a crude shelter in which he lives with his mother. The youngster was brought to Tsingtao from Communist-held territory when fighting broke out in the Tsingtao region.

See Major China Battle

NANKING (AP) — Official attention riveted yesterday on an impending collision south of Suchow by major Communist and Nationalist forces which may determine the immediate future of the Chinese government.

Chinese official circles displayed considerable optimism that a head-on clash would at least temporarily stabilize the situation. Well informed foreign military quarters expressed belief that even a partial success would give the government 60 to 90 days respite.

Three Communist columns, of about 50,000 men, already were reported engaging the govern-

Mme. Chiang To Take Appeal To Truman Early This Week

WASHINGTON (UP)—Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek will appeal personally to President Truman early this week for all-out U.S. help in China's struggle against Communists.

Authoritative sources said yesterday that a White House hearing for the Chinese generalissimo's wife would be arranged "within the next few days."

At her meeting with Mr. Truman, China's first lady will try to overcome administration reluctance to pour any more money into her homeland's civil war.

Earlier this week the President said he would receive Mme. Chiang. But he declined to give any hint as to when that meeting would be or whether he would be able to give her any encouragement.

Informants doubted that Mme. Chiang thus far has made any specific requests. She has talked informally with Secretary of State George C. Marshall but it was believed only to review China's military and economic plight.

On the basis of previous Chinese official statements, however, these informants believe Mme. Chiang later will ask:

1. A three-year American aid program of $1-billion a year. First ment groups about 30 miles south of Suchow.

(The Communists broadcast that this action was only ten miles south of Suchow, and that the government forces had fled westward after suffering "thousands of casualties without gaining an inch.")

Five of Chen Yi columns broke off their offensive on the Hwai river line some 100 miles northwest of Nanking and were marching about 70 miles north to reinforce the three Communist columns already there.

Two other Communist columns were reported moving south from east of Suchow to put a pincers on the government forces.

The former Suchow garrison, with some 110,000 men, was reported attacking toward the south. The 16th army group was on the west flank, the Second army group on the east, with the 13th army group holding the rear guard.

The 80,000 troops on the Hwai river already had been given a breather by the Communist shift northward.

Government hopes for a smashing victory, however, rested mainly on whether the 12th army group could break out of an eighty-day-old Communist encirclement 130 miles northwest of Nanking.

Order Renewal Of Spy Probes

Petrillo Stymied by Strong Union

CINCINNATI (UP)—James Caesar Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL), finally ran across some musicians he couldn't unionize yesterday.

Petrillo said he was walking through downtown Cincinnati when he met a group of Salvation Army musicians playing on a street corner.

"They sounded good," he said, "so I drop a five-spot in the box."

"Then I said to the fellow blowing the horn, 'do you guys belong to the union?'"

"Yes sir," was the reply, "we belong to the union for God."

"It stopped me," Petrillo admitted.

Clark Acts After Finding New Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Communist spy investigations were ordered resumed yesterday on the strength of sensational new evidence found hidden in a hollowed-out pumpkin on a Maryland farm.

The evidence consists of micro-filmed copies of top-secret documents stolen from the state department 10 years ago for transmission to Moscow by an alleged Communist underground.

The films were turned over to the house un-American activities committee Thursday by ex-Communist Whitaker Chambers, now a senior editor for Time magazine, who had concealed them in a pumpkin on his farm.

Committee investigators said they know who stole the secrets and will expose the thief or thieves in hearings starting Tuesday.

They clearly indicated that it was an inside job.

Soon after justice department officials examined the microfilm, the department ordered its special New York espionage grand jury to resume its investigations at 9 a.m. (Iowa time).

It was understood that Attorney General Tom C. Clark ordered the grand jury back into action after his espionage experts conferred during the afternoon on the evidence Chambers put at the disposal of the un-American activities committee.

The grand jury, which recently indicted 12 top Communist officials, has been in recess.

The house un-American activities committee refused to name names now, but Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee, said that when the hearings start Tuesday "we expect to show conclusively the source of these documents from the state department to Chambers."

Stripling said that anyone who had the microfilms and the original coded documents could have broken the American state department code.

Stripling announced that the hearings will begin Tuesday and that Chambers will be one of the witnesses. Subpoenas have been issued for the appearance of an unspecified number of other witnesses, including some handwriting experts and other technicians.

Stripling refused to say whether the committee would summon Alger Hiss, former state department official accused last summer by Chambers of membership in a prewar Communist underground of government employes. Hiss has denied Chambers' charges and is suing him for slander.

SUI's Speakers Take Top Forensic Honors

SUI speakers dominated first place positions at the intercollegiate conference on world problems which ended yesterday.

In team events, SUI debaters tied with the Municipal University of Wichita with seven wins and a single loss. Chicago university took third place with a 6-2 record.

William Shuttlesworth, A2, Cedar Rapids and Evan Hultman, A3, Waterloo, walked off with individual honors. Shuttlesworth took first place honors in the after-dinner speaking department and also managed a superior rating among individual debaters.

Hultman received superior ratings in both the individual debaters and discussion groups.

In the extempore speaking section, William Haese, Marquette won first place. SUI was blanked in that group.

SUI's Ben Crane, A2, Upper Montclair, N.J., earned an excellent rating among the public speakers. William Tincher, Wichita, received the only superior rating.

Other SUI students who received superior ratings in the discussion group were Hultman, Harold Tulchin and Jim Peck.

Individual SUI debaters who received superior ratings were Ed Diekmann, Henry Clark, Hultman and Shuttlesworth.

Chicago university placed three speakers in superior classifications of discussion and extempore groups, as well as earning third place in the debates.

The quartet of West Point cadets who participated in the seventh annual two-day conference failed to place in any of the five events.

Summary of Results

McKirahan Garage Destroyed by Fire

A little charred framework was all that was left of Robert McKirahan's garage at 727 Rundell street last night after a fire which started while the McKirahans were gone.

The Iowa City fire department answered the alarm about 7:45 p.m., in time to save another garage a few feet from the first.

Richard Mohr, 731 Rundell street, SUI student, turned in the alarm and tried to fight the blaze until firemen arrived.

MICROFILM EVIDENCE OF SECRET INFORMATION allegedly fed out to Communist agents before the war is examined by R. E. Committee hearings resume Tuesday.

Un-American Activities Committee Reports on Education — Says Secret Army Drilling Here

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house un-American activities committee said yesterday an estimated 800 Moscow-trained American Communists are "high officers of a secret army now being drilled to overthrow our government."

Where in the United States such a secret army is being drilled, the committee did not say in a pamphlet titled "100 things you should know about communism and education."

It said education is one of the ripest fields for Communist activity, explaining that many Communists and fellow travelers have bled into the American school system and constitute "a deadly danger."

"The Communists have always found the teaching group the easiest touch of all the professional classes for actual party zealots and fellow travelers."

The committee said the highest college of Communist training is the Lenin school in Moscow, where:

"Carefully selected Communists from the United States and other countries get a free course in factory sabotage, bomb-making, kidnapping, train-wrecking, mutiny, civil warfare, espionage, infiltration and other methods of wrecking a country."

It estimated that 800 American Communists trained at the Lenin school have returned to the United States to serve as "the high officers of a secret army now being drilled to overthrow our government."

In a preface to the report, the committee said this is what the Communists plan to do to the American child if they can control the American educational system:

"They mean to take him from the nursery, put him in uniform with the hammer and sickle flag in one hand and a gun in the other, and send him out to conquer the world."

"He will be guided from the kindergarten straight through to college so that he will have anything but a mind of his own."

"One of the Communist party's most powerful devices for catching youth," it said, "is that of using 'big name' agents to spark a campus rally or meeting which has as its real purpose the planting of party propaganda."

In some cases, it said, teachers slip propaganda into classroom work and textbooks and lead "gullible students into Communist-sponsored campus activities."

Hawk Cagers Smother Colorado Five Dille, Weiss, Hays Again Lead Iowa to Victory, 77-44

By BUCK TURNBULL
Sports Editor

Iowa's basketball Coach Pops Harrison loaded the hardwood with tall, small, lanky and hefty players at the fieldhouse last night, and combined they easily trounced Colorado college, 77-44. The victory was Iowa's second straight of the 1948-49 season and its 34th consecutive home non-conference triumph since the loss to Kansas in 1942.

As was the case in the Hawks' opening win over Omaha Wednesday night, the game developed into a rout in the second half and was strictly no contest. The shorter Colorado opponent just didn't have the height to battle against Harrison's stratospheric demons, Glenn Dille, Al Weiss and Don Hays.

Weiss Impressive
Harrison started the game with that trio plus Bob Schulz and Bill Hall at the guards. It is now quite probable that Dille, Weiss and Hays have won themselves regular berths for the rest of the season.

Weiss particularly impressed the estimated crowd of 9,000 with his smooth hook shot while working out of the pivot. The 6-foot, 4-inch center rimmed six field goals in nine attempts and added one free throw to lead the Hawk scorers with 13 points.

After the first 10 minutes of play Iowa led, 18-11, and 16 of the 18 points were cupped by Dille, Weiss and Hays. The Iowans pushed the advantage to 36-22 by halftime while Harrison was substituting freely.

With the game scarcely 10 seconds old Weiss pivoted out of the free throw lane and dumped in a hook shot. He added a free throw and Bob Schulz scored with a lay-up.

The Tigers from Colorado came back to knot the score at 5-all but never came that close again. Dille pocketed a hook shot; Hays found the mark with a one-handed push from the corner, and Weiss again drew the plaudits of the crowd with his pivoting hook shot.

The score then began to mount rapidly, but most of the points were falling in the Iowa basket. The Tigers were able to get their shots away, but weren't able to rebound their misses against the much taller Hawk-eyes.

The entire Iowa squad of 22 players took part in the game and 16 broke into the scoring column. Tom Parker was second to Weiss in total points for the Hawks with 10 markers.

WHERE'S THE BALL? — Here's the muddle caught by the photographer underneath the Colorado college basket last night as Iowa's Roger Finley (28) and Tony Guzewski (hand in Finley's armpit) stretch for a rebound in the second half. The Colorado players looking up at the ball (not shown) on its downward flight are (left to right) Ed Sestt (21), Dwight Hamilton (15) and Marvin Pexell (11). Late ND Score Averts Defeat

LOS ANGELES (UP)—An inspired University of Southern California football team snapped Notre Dame's winning streak at 21 games yesterday by holding the vaunted Irish to a 14-14 tie in one of the great upsets of the year.

A delirious crowd of 100,571 fans in Memorial coliseum saw both teams score in the final two and one-half minutes of play. And Notre Dame could thank its lucky stars for a pass-interference penalty in the end zone for setting up its tying touchdown 35 seconds before the game ended.

Gay — Miracle Man
Halfback Bill Gay was the miracle man who made an 83-yard kickoff return in those closing minutes and gave the Irish the opportunity to keep from being defeated as they trailed 7-14.

The entire Southern California team was responsible for the magnificent showing. But it was sub Quarterback Dean Dill, Halfback Jack Kirby and Fullback Bill Martin who were responsible for the two Trojan touchdowns.

Dill's passes to Kirby sent Southern California deep into Irish territory and Martin rammed over both touchdowns with Dill making the two all-important conversions.

Kirby got the Trojans started in the fourth period by intercepting an Irish pass and running to the Notre Dame 42.

Dill then heaved a 20-yard pass to Kirby, who got to the Notre Dame 18. And it was Dill who raced to the five yard line when he couldn't find a receiver open. Then Martin went to work and in three plays rammed over a touchdown to tie the score at 7 to 7.

USC Scores Again
But Southern California was not content to rest there, coming back in the last three minutes of play. Kirby squirmed for a 15-yard gain to the Irish 31 and on the next play End Ernie Tolman took Dill's pass on the 18. Dill then raced to the 12 and Martin teamed with Halfback Art Battle to work the ball down to the four, where Martin took it over.

The huge crowd went wild as Southern California led 14 to 7. But Notre Dame was not through fighting. It was then that Gay took the kickoff and raced from almost the goal line down to Southern California's 13.

Quarterback Bob Williams made eight yards on a sneak and then began passing to Gay in the end zone. The officials on the second of his heaves detected Center Gene Beck interfering with Gay and gave Notre Dame the ball on the one-yard line. Emil Sitko went over in two plays, and Steve Oracko kicked his second conversion of the day to tie the score.

Fumbles Costly
Two major factors were responsible for Notre Dame's failure to win after beating 21 straight opponents in two years of play. They were six fumbles and the injury of Quarterback Frank Tripucka on the last play of the first half.

On the third play of the second period, Tripucka passed 10 yards to End Leon Hart, and that All-America star raced 35 yards to a touchdown. At least six men tried to bring Hart down as he twisted and turned on his way to the goal line.

Gay's fumble late in the second period was responsible for Southern California moving to within a foot of a score. USC captured the fumble and the Irish 33.

The passing combination of Quarterback Dean Dill to Halfback Jack Kirby began clicking and two aerials took the ball to the eighth. There, Dill passed on fourth down to Art Battle on the one-yard line, and he dived forward but ran into a pair of Notre Dame linemen and was halted a foot from the goal.

MADISON (UP)—Wisconsin trailed by 15 points at the half last night but finally battled its way to a 67 to 63 overtime victory over Marquette. NU Rally Fails, 52-51

EVANSTON (UP)—A wild rally by Northwestern's basketball team fell short last night when Don Groggel sank a long field goal with 30 seconds to play to give Western Michigan a 52 to 51 triumph over the Big Nine cagers. Trailing by seven points at 49 to 42 with four minutes to play, Northwestern broke loose with Ray Ragelis, Jake Fendley and Cotton Hughes hitting to pull ahead at 51 to 50 with a minute to go.

Buckeyes Win, 60-48

COLUMBUS (UP)—Ohio State's classy band of one-year veterans led by Dandy Dick Schmittker, with 19 points, easily defeated Butler's basketball team, 60 to 48, at the fairgrounds coliseum last night.

Hoosiers Get 61-48 Win

BLOOMINGTON (UP)—Indiana's Hoosiers launched their 1948-49 basketball campaign last night with an easy 61 to 48 victory over DePauw university.

Michigan Wins, 66-33

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Michigan opened its 1948-49 basketball season here last night by easily trouncing Michigan State 66-33.

Plan Dinner For Orators

Winners in the county finals of the "I Speak for Democracy" high school oratory contest held yesterday will be announced tomorrow night at a banquet at Hotel Jefferson.

The dinner is given in honor of the contestants by the Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the contest. A $50 war bond will be awarded the first-place speaker by the Jaycees. Secondary prizes, contributed by local merchants, will also be given.

Ten orators from six Johnson county high schools spoke in yesterday's contest. Judges were Prof. A. Craig Baird of the university's speech department, Prof. H. J. Thornton of the history department and Dr. L.L. Dunnington, minister of the First Methodist church.

Pitcher will speak and Mrs. Zykowsky will outline plans made at the recent Chicago national Progressive party conference.

State Senator Leroy S. Mercer will address the SUI Young Democrats on Iowa's state legislative procedure at the group's next meeting at 8 p.m. Dec. 15 in room 225 Schaeffer hall.

Members from Iowa City, Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Waterloo, Ames and possibly other Iowa towns will be there, Larry Kaplan, SUI Young Progressive vice-chairman, said yesterday.

The purpose of the conference will be to form an Iowa YPA organization, Kaplan said. Officers will be elected and plans made for future action, he added.

Included in the SUI group attending the conference are Joe Howard, SUI Young Progressive chairman, Kaplan, Thelma Edis, publicity chairman, and Charles Muhlstock, chairman of the civil rights committee.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ARTHUR GODFREY probably would still be just a routine radio announcer today had he not arisen one morning nursing a dreadful grouch. He had to go on the air at 7 a.m.—and it was bitter cold and dark in the deserted studio. Suddenly he blew his top. "Isn't it ridiculous," he rasped into the microphone, "to be playing the William Tell overture at an hour when anybody with sense is getting some much-needed sleep?"

There followed a crashing sound over the air. Godfrey had broken the records into bits. "There!" he said. "If the boss is listening, you can bet I won't be here tomorrow. But shucks, who ever heard of a boss that listened at seven in the morning?"

When Godfrey was summoned to the boss' office four hours later, he confidently expected his walking papers. Instead, the boss assured him, "They tell me you were a riot this morning, Arthur. That's the kind of thing we want on this station. Keep it up!" Thus a new radio star was born!

Deadline for Filing New Rent-Increase Lease December 31

The deadline for filing rent-increase leases is four weeks away, area rent director T. J. Wilkinson said yesterday.

The Dec. 31 deadline applies to all rental housing that has not previously been under a rent-increase lease. Both landlord and tenant must agree to the increase in rent.

Copes of such a lease must be filed with the rent office within 15 days after its execution. The increase can be up to 15 per cent. If there has been a rent-increase for less than 15 per cent, it can now be rewritten and brought up to that amount.

Wilkinson said that the rent-increase leases executed now must run at least through Dec. 31, 1949, or longer if the tenant and the landlord so decide. The landlord can start collecting the increased rent the date the lease is effective.

"The rent-increase lease way of going about getting a higher rental return should not be confused with the opportunity of lords have of getting rent raises by petition on any one of the grounds," the rent official said.

Invitations to the Phi Rho Sigma's latest party told the guests politely to go to "Heaven and Hell." The first sight to greet the guests was St. Peter himself, standing at the "pearly gates." Cadavers, mummies, ghouls, saints and even a Scotsman were seen running around the place and were directed downstairs by St. Peter.

The Kappas have retirement problems. On the train returning from vacation, Jane Teuksbury learned from a fellow passenger that the Kappa retirement home in Florida, "Heartstone," only has room for 13. This upsets the plans of most of the Iowa chapter who were planning on applying. Maybe they could build an annex.

Here is the straight dope on a recent pinning reported by this column. Met on coke date Wednesday night. Thought it over Thursday. Dated on Friday. Pinned in Whet's on Saturday afternoon. How fast can you move?

We're a little late on this one but it's worth mentioning anyhow. Gene Buteler, Pi Kappa Alpha, really got it in the face from his date the other night... a sticky merange pie, that is. Occasion was a recent Pi K. A. party where the boys and their dates played "Take it or Leave it." Gene took it.

Another unusual form of pinning was used by Ron Coyne in hanging his pin on Donna Rogers of Northwestern U. Due to the unfortunate distance between Iowa City and Evanston and the excellence of the postal system, the whole operation was done by mail.

"You debauched little runt! You play around with Vorzet's wife Laura - The — But watch out... I've got an X-ray eye and I'll tell all! The Raven."

These threatening lines that have been appearing in Daily Iowan advertising this week are not the work of any blackmailing coed but are merely advance publicity for the French film, "The Raven", now showing at Ernie Pamos' CAPITOL THEATER. Those we've talked to having seen the show say it's all it's cracked up to be and more... a real thriller done in excellent taste.

Pete Hedland, Phi Delt, was all excited when he was quoted in the Daily Iowan the other day. The fact that his name appeared didn't bother him. It was the A-1 after it that he was worried about. Pete hadn't even registered for the draft yet, and thought they had already classified him.

Sidney Bechet, genius of the soprano sax and one of the all-time greats of jazz, is featured on a brand new Columbia album this week at SPENCER'S HARMONY HALL. The album is a "must" for any collector of New Orleans or "moldy fig" jazz. Four of the sides feature Bechet with Bob Wilbur's Wildcats, a group of young New York musicians devoted to playing only the authentic New Orleans style. These are spirited sides, especially "Shake Em Up" and "Kansas City Man's Blues", and capture the full feeling of Bechet's marvelous imagination and tone.

The other four sides are by the Quartet, and are actually Bechet solos. Tunes are "Laura," "Love For Sale," and "Just One of Those Things." Another new album at SPENCER'S, also in the jazz field, is the "Giants of Jazz" album, featuring music from the current movie, "A Song is Born." This album has a little bit of everything in it, including Louis Armstrong, Tommy Dorsey, Mel Powell, Benny Goodman, Charlie Barnet, and even the Golden Gate Quartet. The sides are as varied as the artists, too, and include everything from Dixie Land to Bop. Main feature of the album is a two-sided special labeled "A Song is Born" which includes all the above mentioned artists and more. This will make a swell Christmas gift for any movie or record fan. There's a good Tony Pastor record in at SPENCER'S HARMONY HALL, too. It's "The Chick Song" and "You Started Something."

Lost to Uncle Sam and the Army Air Corps Cadets is Sam Bishop, former president of Delta Chi. Sam was not drafted, being a veteran with three years of service. Maybe he just got tired of the whole thing.

Milwaukee Company to Install 2 More Sample Street Lights

Two more sample street lights will be installed in Iowa City Tuesday, Alderman W. H. Grandrath said yesterday. These samples are lights sold by the Line Material company of Milwaukee, Wis. A few weeks ago, a sample mercury-vapor light, furnished by the Westinghouse company, was installed at the corner of Linn and Washington streets.

The company will also make a survey of the street lighting needs here and submit plans and specifications to the city council, Grandrath, chairman of the council's light committee, added.

Although a bid of about $35,000 for 73 new street lights has been submitted by Westinghouse, the General Electric company, which also has made a lighting survey here, has not made any bid. General Electric planned on presenting plans for both systems to the city council.

Santa to Be Guest At Quonset Party

Santa Claus will be the featured guest at the Quonset Park Christmas party Tuesday from 7 to 11 p. m. in the downstairs room of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company.

Select Two Iowans To Intern at Illinois

Malcolm Campbell, assistant in the pathology department at University hospitals, and Bruce Ehmke, senior medical student at SUI, have been selected by the University of Illinois hospitals to serve one-year internships starting July 1, 1949.

Campbell graduated from SUI's college of medicine in March, 1948. A former resident of Malvern, he now lives at 211 Newton road. Ehmke, 109 River street, will graduate in June, 1949. Humbolt is his home town.

The two SUI men will be among 24 selected by the University of Illinois for internships. The 42-bed research and educational hospitals where they will serve the internships are located in the medical center district on Chicago's west side.

The paper was written in conjunction with Leon Buehler Jr., of the Creamery Package manufacturing company of Chicago, Ill.

Waterproof Treatment Given East Hall Wall

The west basement wall of East hall is getting a waterproofing job. For the last few days, workmen have been applying a coat of cement and covering it with a coat of tar.

The new coating of the four-foot wall will keep water from entering the basement walls and causing the plaster to become rotted, one workman explained. Work is being done by the university physical plant.

Business BRIEFS

The Putnam Welding service is preparing to give an electric hot-foot to ice-clogged water pipes this winter. Once upon a time, the only way to thaw out underground water mains was through use of a pick, shovel and a teakettle of boiling water.

But now these devices have been replaced by a heavy-duty, portable welding machine, which shoots a stream of direct-current electricity through the pipe.

Here's how it works. The two wires leading from the current generator are attached to points on the pipe. Distance between the two contact points varies in each case according to the accessibility of the pipe.

When the circuit is completed, a current of 400 amperes is turned on. Friction resulting from the resistance of iron pipe warms the area around the ice, causing it to lose its hold on the sides of the pipe.

Remodeling operations are now nearing completion at Brown's Unique cleaners, 216 E. College street. A thorough revision of the original floor plan has been made to provide for additional space for the new cleaning unit being installed by Don Brown, owner. A dressing room was moved to the rear of the building, a private office was removed and new receiving counters were placed nearer the front entrance.

Koza and McCollister's new

Christmas annex was opened for the holiday season this week. In space formerly occupied by the Barron Motor Supply company, the annex is located at the intersection of Linn and Washington streets. It features Christmas merchandise ranging from Christmas trees to fruit cakes.

Long lines of customers waiting for service are a thing of the past at the Iowa State Bank and Trust company. The bank's new addition, featuring six new customer windows was opened for business last Monday.

The addition is in space formerly occupied by Grimm's clothing store, and it doubles the bank's lobby space. A formal opening will be held soon, according to Ben S. Summerwill, president of the bank.

Gives Krall Divorce, Custody of Daughter

John J. Krall, 126 N. Governor street, was granted a divorce from Florence Krall yesterday in Johnson county district court after the defendant failed to appear at the hearing.

The plaintiff charged cruel and inhuman treatment. He was given sole custody and control of a minor daughter. Swisher and Swisher were attorneys for the plaintiff.

Science May Affect Price Cuts: Davies

It may be science that will lead the way to lower prices, according to SUI Prof. G. R. Davies in the current issue of the Iowa Business Digest.

Science in manufacturing, mining and agriculture may be effective in the fight against inflation, declared Davies, editor of the monthly publication of the bureau and economic research at SUI.

"With powerful pressure groups ready to create funds in their favor, it is hard to see how inflation can be permanently checked. But if applied science can run ahead of the pressure groups, or if the international situation clears, we might even have declining prices," Davies said.

Polio Cases Increase At University Hospitals

The number of polio patients at University hospitals started upward again yesterday after hitting a low of three Friday.

One new patient was reported yesterday. She is Shirley Kehe, 12, Denver, Iowa. She was admitted Dec. 3. Her condition was reported as serious.

Girl Scouts Again Help Seal Drive

Iowa City Girl Scouts, under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Carson, will put in over 800 hours again this year helping with the annual Christmas seal drive.

The Girl Scouts carry on this service project in connection with the Johnson county Tuberculosis association. Their job is to prepare the packets of seals for mailing.

Brownies fold the form letters and seals, Intermediate Scouts put the material in envelopes, and Senior Scouts take care of the checking and labeling.

Seals are mailed to approximately 34,000 residents of Johnson county, including 8,000 SUI students.

The drive began Nov. 22 but does not have an official closing date.

Ansil Chapman, chairman in Johnson county for the Christmas seal drive, said the returns so far just about equal the returns at the same time last year. He hopes the county's goal $8,500, will be reached by Christmas.

The bulk of the money collected remains in the county, Chapman said. Part of the funds are used to operate and maintain mobile units sent around by the state association.

Nybakken to Head Europe Tour

The bureau of university travel at Newton, Mass., recently informed SUI Prof. Oscar E. Nybakken that he has been selected to conduct a "Cultural Backgrounds" tour of Europe next summer.

Sponsored by the bureau, the tour is intended primarily for university students and graduates from throughout the nation. It will include visits to Italy, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Holland and England.

Plans are to sail from New York June 16, 1949, and arrive in Genoa, June 29. While at sea, Nybakken will conduct a series of informal talks and lectures to prepare for the journey through Europe.

High points in the itinerary include five day visits to Rome, Paris, and London. Four days will be spent in Florence.

Nybakken's tour has been planned for those interested in viewing and studying the historical influence of the Roman era through the remains of that civilization in Europe today.

The voyage to Europe has been purposely routed outward from the United States by the Mediterranean route so that the group

Manuscripts Added To SUI Collection

The SUI library recently received original manuscripts by Meredith Wilson and Darrel Garwood to add to its collection of manuscripts by Iowa authors. Assistant Library Director Grave Van Wormer said yesterday.

Wilson's manuscript was "There I Stood With My Piccolo." He is already represented in the Iowa Authors' collection by the original manuscript of his song, "Iowa, It's a Beautiful Name."

Garwood, already represented by his book, "Artist in Iowa: the Life of Grant Wood," added "Crossroads of America" to the collection. He received his bachelor of arts degree from SUI in 1933.

About 125 original manuscripts now comprise the Iowa Authors' collection.

TO THE EDITOR:
In reply to the charges made against the members of the SUI International club by Mr. Zoehrer in his letter to the editor in your Dec. 3 issue, I feel it my duty as a member of the club to make the following statement.

The International club was formed several years ago for the promotion of understanding and friendship among the students of various nationalities in this school but it has until now been a foreign students' affair. It is a shame that it has failed to attract the American students in general. The club, I agree, has many faults which we can correct by working together and not by fighting.

Last year, efforts were made to pass a constitution but all ended in failure because of conflicting clauses in the draft or lack of quorum. Mr. Zoehrer himself was one of the "disinterested group" in such business matters.

With the beginning of the new year, the need for a constitution for the club became more evident and hence a constitution committee was formed. A general meeting was called on Nov. 23. The meeting was on the open house basis as the club is open to all students. Advance distribution of the draft constitution was not made due to lack of time and funds. Mr. Zoehrer objected to the following two articles of the draft: "Any student can become an active member of the club upon payment of $1.00 per semester" and "Only active members can vote in the election of officers."

Mr. Zoehrer put forth much argument against these two statements but failed to make any concrete suggestions. No amendments of these were either put forward by any other member. Finally, as it was getting late, a motion that the draft constitution be accepted as it stood to be discussed at a later date and elections be carried on, was made and passed. Election of officers then took place in a democratic way. Mr. Zoehrer also took active part in it although he was so vehemently opposed to having it. Mr. R. E. Sweitzer of the student affairs office was present throughout the meeting.

Mr. Zoehrer asserts that constitutionally, we had no right to vote for officers unless we paid our dues. To whom do we pay our dues when we have not yet elected our treasurer? Imagine asking people to pay to acquire the right to vote in a student's organization. It would be buying voting power. Also the average student is reluctant to spend his few dollars. Some have daggers of debts hanging over their heads. Not all students here have the privilege of being members of government missions like Mr. Zoehrer.

ANALYSIS OF THE WORLD'S NEWS AS — IT HAPPENED LAST WEEK

Global

Madame Chiang Woos U.S.; Suchow Falls

The plot thickened in China last week while the western world winced, welcomed Madame Chiang and wondered how much longer the Nationalists could hold out.

In the United States, Madame Chiang Kai-Shek met with Secretary of State Marshall in his Walter Reed hospital retreat. President Truman was next on the visiting list.

Madame Chiang was soliciting one thing—dollars. And while she charmingly went about her work, her husband in China refused to make any comment on U. S. aid. He didn't want to pressure anyone.

With Nationalist press reports fighting a brilliant rear-guard action, Nationalist troops abandoned vital Suchow and retreated south to set up a desperation defense line somewhere along the 211-mile route leading to Nanking.

The decision rests with Truman and Marshall. Meanwhile, the Communist tide oozed steadily onward toward the Yangtze.

In the one-crisis-at-a-time minds of Americans, the China war blotted out the rest of the world.

In Syria the cabinet of Premier Jamil Mardam Bey resigned as the country erupted in a general strike and nationwide riot. Angry Syrians were demanding a resumption of the Palestine war.

From Japan, General MacArthur delayed the execution of six other condemned leaders while their appeal went to the U.S. supreme court.

The Guatemala government announced it had checked a plot to seize the military base in the port of Guatemala. And the Venezuelan military regime clamped down a curfew following its coup.

Security forces in South Korea were reported fighting off fierce attacks by north Korean Communist soldiers 50 miles south of the American-Soviet zonal border.

In Belgium, Premier Paul Henri Spaaks new Catholic-Socialist coalition government was given a 107 to 20 vote of confidence.

Dilemma-of-the-week award goes to the Italian navy ministry which was trying to raise enough money to pay for its largest battleship, the 35,000-ton Vittorio Veneto. The Italian supreme court gave it to the shipyard which built it. Unless the navy can pay its debt and buy it back, it may become a private yacht.

World Problem Meeting Convenes; Student Sues

Speech students from 16 universities and colleges met on the SUI campus for the seventh annual intercollegiate conference on world problems.

An SUI student, Robert C. Marshall filed a $25,000 damage suit in connection with the death of his 6-year-old son, Gerry, who was fatally injured when a car struck him last Oct. 22.

Author Harzell Spence, an SUI graduate, told an Iowa Union audience of his experiences in "pursuit of happiness." He recalled his search for a place in life which was capped by his famous book, "One Foot in Heaven."

Names in the News

Secretary of State Marshall—Returning from Paris he entered Walter Reed hospital for a physical checkup and a few days' rest.

Premier Themistocles Sphoulis—The aged Greek premier who collapsed in his office after a heart attack was slowly recovering. Physicians at first gave him no chance.

Frank Noyes—The 85-year-old journalist, one of the organizers of the present Associated Press and its president for 38 years, died in his Washington, D.C., home.

H. L. Mencken — The sharp-tongued "sage of Baltimore" suffered a "small stroke" and entered Johns Hopkins hospital. His condition was reported satisfactory.

Paul Hoffman—The ECA boss left yesterday for a cook's tour of China to help prepare the administration's answer to Madame Chiang's appeal for aid.

King George VI—Doctors said the general health of the British monarch has shown improvement and "there is less cause for immediate anxiety regarding the right foot." Because of an arterial ailment affecting his legs, the king cancelled all public engagements and a projected royal tour of Australia and New Zealand.

The Economy

Jobs for College Grads Leveling Off: Survey

A University of Chicago survey of 173 large corporations revealed that jobs for college graduates were leveling off from 10,000 this year to 8,700 next year. The slump reportedly follows the leveling off of postwar expansion programs.

Industrial production rolled to a new peacetime record in October, breaking through a previous peak which had stood for seven months.

The federal reserve board reported an upturn in output of durable goods sent its index of production up 3 points last month to a level 95 percent above — or nearly double — the 1935-39 average.

Labor

Union 'Raids' Plants; FE Unionists Defiant

An auto-borne band of 300 raiders invaded two struck Kalamazoo, Mich., factories. Before they left, vehicles were overturned and burned, workmen were beaten and equipment was smashed.

Later, Thomas Shane, CIO union steelworkers regional director, said his union was responsible for the raid. He charged the company had imported "strikebreakers" to snap the steelworkers' walk-out.

The left-wing CIO farm equipment workers weren't happy. Ordered by CIO chief Phil Murray to merge with the United Auto Workers, they snapped back a defiant no. Said president Grant W. Oakes, "Policy decisions in the FE CIO are made by the rank and file and not by decree."

Maritime strikes ended on both the east and west coasts. In Washington, representatives of state labor departments and union groups from 45 states and territories unanimously favored repeal of the Taft-Hartley act but disagreed over its successor.

The NLRB came out with some etiquette tips for bosses. You can ask your private secretary if she is a union member but not how she voted in a collective bargaining election.

Politics

Truman Spends Brisk Week; Scott Is Mad

President Truman and the nation's politics were re-established in Washington, D.C., once more. In rapid-fire order, the President discussed European aid with Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.), Secretary Marshall and ERP chief Hoffman; nodded approval of Herbert Hoover's plan to regroup approximately 60 federal agencies which now report directly to the Chief Executive; endorsed a "thorough investigation" of lobbying in congress; heard his top economic advisers say prices will inch down next year; stated flatly that his present cabinet would remain intact, and clamped down a veil of silence over the budget squabbles of government agencies.

GOP national chairman Hugh Scott wasn't liked. He called on Republicans to fight the "radical spendthrifts and their alien philosophy of government" who won the recent election by only a small majority.

The French delivered a note opposing the Anglo-American plan for turning the Ruhr's industry over to Germans. Instead, the French advocated de-cartelizing, de-Nazifying and supervising the Ruhr's industries.

Alabama's Gov. Jim Folsom asked the supreme court to force the state's 11 presidential electors to cast their votes for Mr. Truman instead of for the Dixiecrats.

Two GOP senators—Tobey of New Hampshire and Flanders of Vermont—said they were "pleased to join" senate Democrats in sponsoring a long-range housing bill. They hoped Sen. Robert Taft would join them when he returns from his European vacation.

McBride's Haul

By BILL MCBRIDE

If I had my way about it, no one would ever quote me on anything. Quotations have a nasty habit of popping back at the original quoter, making him look foolish . . . foolish is the mild word.

When you get right down to it, I don't even want to be quoted as saying I don't want to be quoted.

Recently I mentioned getting a haircut. As it stands now my hair remains unshorn. The reason why I haven't been to the barbershop is because I've been so busy explaining the growth of hair still untouched on the back of my neck that no time remains for barbershopping.

This summer I made the statement that I would wash the walls in our apartment. That statement is a little better than two-thirds fulfilled at this date. It is becoming increasingly difficult for me to face those half finished kitchen walls, and it just occurred to me that my honor is at stake.

Jeanne never asks when am I going to do something about our two-tone kitchen. She has never mentioned those walls at all. I think she was quite amazed that they were washed even to their present undeveloped stage.

The walls themselves are trouble makers. No sooner do I saunter into the kitchen than the walls start making trouble. They throw my vow to wash all the walls in our apartment right back at me, and there's no talking back to a wall.

The thing has come to such a sorry state that it is beginning to look as though I'll have to dig out the Spik 'n Span and go to work just to keep those churlish walls from blabbering my neglect all over the neighborhood.

You never know when a seemingly harmless sentence will go bad. Look at what happened to "Peace in Our Time." Several choice remarks made during 1948 will stick in the minds of many persons for some years to come. I'll cite four which come to mind without even trying.

"Dewey Defeats Truman."
"Yes, I read the text."
"Wait for that great silent vote!"
"But, mother, we ran out of gas."

There are a multitude of others, but those should be enough to impress you with the need for watching your step.

One of the finest examples of statements which would have gone better unsaid was pointed out recently by an Agent. It is to be found in the book "Public Opinion and Propaganda" by Doob.

The Agent who found this sentence is a good scholar, and says the book normally makes sense. If Mr. Doob persists in putting such ideas in print, however, he may soon find himself without a royalty to his name. He probably wishes he hadn't said it now, but then ignorance of the law is no excuse.

On page 110 it says, "In the United States, for example, wealthy people tend to be older than younger people."

What he probably meant is that wealthy people tend to be older than people who aren't so wealthy, but who can be certain . . . other than Mr. Doob, of course. I doubt if saying that poor people tend to be younger than older people would help straighten it out much.

A survey on Doob's sentence might indicate the United States doesn't necessarily have a monopoly on wealthy people being older than younger people . . . or older people being older than younger people.

The very nature of the statement carries an air of universality. It could be confusing in any language. For example, a man 34 years old would certainly tend to be older than his 12-year-old brother. But if his brother had died of Hoehs disease at the age of 12, there would be some room for doubt . . . doesn't it?

If advocates of birth control get their way in the future things will certainly be confusing to say the least. I'd rather not be quoted on that, however.

Home for Hollywood Hayburners

PIONEERTOWN, CALIF. (AP)—The wild west not being so wild any more, a western movie company is turning this desert village into a permanent cowtown.

This Hollywood version of the good, old days started out to be a resort for western movie stars with "millyuns." Even the stores of the tiny one-street town were built in old-fashioned western style to make outburner heroes feel right at home.

Made Movie Set

Then the picture company discovered the place, leased it, and made it one supercolossal movie set.

Pioneertown's great white father is producer Philip Krasne, who moved his company here for keeps to make "Cisco Kid" thrillers. Now you can't tell where real life ends and reel life begins.

The entrance to the village has a sign, "Pioneertown is This-a-Way." Next sign: "Horseless Carriages Ain't Aloud on Mane St." Even producer Krasne discreetly parks his Cadillac off the dirt street.

Unwestern Dishes

Krasne and Co. get chow at the Golden Stallion, which serves such unwestern dishes as eastern oysters at prices that would shock Mike Romanoff. This eatery also has 50 cent slot machines and "wild west" tunes like Dorothy Lamour's "One Rose" on the juke box.

Down the street are "Trigger Bill's Shooting Gallery," "Pioneertown Gazette," "Likker Barn," etc. The "Red Dog Saloon" has swinging doors, supplemented by the ordinary variety, and a beat-up unplayable piano for atmosphere.

Townpeople in Act

These places will be used as movie sets, and in between are propped real false-front sets imported from Hollywood. The town's 300 pre-Hollywood residents will get in the act, too. The barber who runs the "Klip 'n Kurl" will play barber for "Cisco Kid." The town electrician will work the klieg lights; the Red Dog bartender will act movie bartender.

"I'll import just stars like Duncan Renaldo and Leo Carillo," explains producer Krasne, who rules his wild west domain in cigar, bow-tie and finely-tailored frontier pants. "Most will settle down here, so I won't have to pay their expenses of commuting 125 miles from Hollywood."

He's making a home for himself, he added, out of a building marked "Nell's Ice Cream Parlor."
