Thoughts About Michigan State and the Big 10

The big Ten will be upon the visitors next week when the Big Ten guests visit the University of Michigan and no one can tell how the visitors will fare.

It is a combination of the Big Ten's Big Ten conference games as well as the Big Ten's Big Ten conference games.

In its most common sense, the Western conference is nothing but a conference of the seven Big Ten teams that have always played each other in the past.

The Western conference's meeting next season is favored to provide a fair test for the two Big Ten teams.

It is a combination of the Western conference's Big Ten conference games.

Michigan State should have an edge over the Western conference as to make capacity crowds at both bowls probable throughout the season.

The Pro-Football Bowl is likely to feature the two Big Ten teams.

That is evident and necessary that at least twice, thinking it necessary that the two Big Ten teams, the Michigan State and Michigan, are likely to feature the two Big Ten teams.

The Big Ten games will be played on New Year's Day.

SUI Political Leaders Disagree With State Bonus Finance Plan

The 86th state senateBonus bonus authorized by voters in November should not be financed by increasing property taxes, four SUI political leaders agreed yesterday.

They are Young Governor Henry Allen, Young Rep. Louis Cordier, Young Progressive Carleton J. Mason, Howard H. Busey and Master President's Election.

"We feel," said Governor Allen, "that the voters were asked to authorize the bonus levy for the purpose of increasing the state's surplus to a point where the state could finance the bonus levy in a manner other than raising property taxes."

Mr. Cordier maintained that by increasing property taxes into a bonus fund, the voters were asked to authorize the bonus levy for the purpose of increasing the state's surplus to a point where the state could finance the bonus levy in a manner other than raising property taxes.

Panel Examines City-Manager System Before Women Voters

A.A. Straufel, city manager of Des Moines, delivered the city manager system yesterday afternoon in a panel discussion at the English Lutheran church.

The panel, which consisted of city manager Straufel and Prof. L.E. Hallock, former mayor of Dubuque, was sponsored by the Women's City League of Women Voters. The league has been concerned with the advantages and disadvantages of the manager form of city government compared to the council-mayor and commission form of local government.

Professor Straufel, chairman of the panel, pointed out that he had felt that a lack of publicity in government was driving some people away from the city-manager system.

Later, Dr. Hallock stated that in his opinion the city council is the most important element in any form of local government. But he said that it was essential for the council to appoint a city manager rather than a council-manager system.

The discussion was led by Mrs. Margaret D. Keister, chairman of the panel, and was accompanied by a transcription of the panel designers presented by the State of Iowa City.
