Purdue Slashes Illini Leadership, 55-53

Boilermakers Drop Illinois From Big Nine’s Unbeaten

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Purdue defeated Illinois 55-53 and knocked Big Nine unbeaten status from the conference table last night by upsetting the Illini, 55-53.

It was a hard-fought game that was closely contested throughout the entire game. Purdue was never out of the game, with the Illini leading by as many as six points in the first half. The Illini’s most impressive lead was in the first half, when they led 25-19 at the half.

Purdue’s defense was strong, holding Illinois to only 43 points. The Illini’s offense was inconsistent, with three quarters of the game being tied at 42-42. Purdue’s defense was key in limiting Illinois’s scoring opportunities.

Purdue’s offense was led by guard Mark Williams, who scored 20 points, including four three-pointers. Williams also had five rebounds and three assists.

Illini guard Justin Medlin had 16 points for Illinois, but was limited to only 11 points in the second half. Medlin was double-teamed throughout the second half, making it difficult for him to find an open shot.

The Illini’s loss was their second in a row, and their third in the past four games. Purdue’s win was their third in a row, and their fifth in the past six games.

Illinois Coach Lew Alcindor said after the game, "We knew Purdue was a good team, but we didn't expect them to play this well. We had a tough time keeping up with them on the boards, and our shooting was off tonight. We'll have to regroup and get ready for the next game."

Employment Prospects for SUl Midyear Grads—

Job Outlook Spotty, but Good, Survey Shows

By TOM BUCK

With the winter employment season now well underway, a survey revealed yesterday that the employment prospects for many of the SUl midyear graduates were not as bright as had been expected. The four business interviewers in the Office of Career Development spoke with numerous employers in the area, and the results were somewhat discouraging.

AT THE BUSINESS and Industrial Relations Office, Governor Bessard reported that the employment situation for SUl midyear graduates had been somewhat improved. The Governor said that a survey of employers in the area had revealed that there were many more positions available for SUl midyear graduates than there had been in the past.

The Governor also reported that a number of employers had expressed interest in hiring SUl midyear graduates to fill positions in the fields of business and industrial relations.

For all we know they may be holding off because of the shaggy days, but everyone knows the possums can still find work if they want to. And we know that we can have Currier and Ives Housewives with Currier and Ives Houses.

Hiring to continue. This was the consensus of opinion among the interviewers. The interviewers said that they would continue to look for employment opportunities for the SUl midyear graduates, and that they were confident that they would be able to find work for them.

Professor Charles Jenkins, head of the Department of Business and Industrial Relations, said that the employment situation for SUl midyear graduates was much better than it had been in the past. He said that the employment situation had improved because of the increase in the number of employers who were offering positions to SUl midyear graduates.

The interviewers also spoke with a number of employers in the fields of business and industrial relations, and they found that many of them were willing to hire SUl midyear graduates to fill positions in their companies.

In Sui, China, "we have no political feelings," said China experienced property fights when Chiang was in power. "The Chinese people want to live."
