Pollsters' Conference Closes With Note from St. Augustine

Paul F. Lazarsfeld struck a parallel yesterday morning between the unsettled problems of sampling survey methodology and troubles experienced by St. Augustine in the fourth century.

Report Agreement On Principles for Scandinavian Pact

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Danish Minister Gustav Rasmussen said last night that Denmark, Sweden and Norway have agreed on five basic principles for an independent Scandinavian defense pact.

An attempt to reach detailed agreement will be pursued "very soon" in a meeting of the three nations' foreign ministers. The premiers of the three countries also will meet twice within the next three weeks and it is inevitable "they will discuss the defense union," Rasmussen said.

He addressed a news conference of 14 American newspapermen who came to Denmark for a three-week examination of the way the European recovery program is working in Scandinavia.

He would not predict whether the basic agreements probably will result in a Scandinavian defense union outside the scope of the proposed United States-backed Atlantic pact.

Rasmussen listed these five points of fundamental agreement: 1. Each Scandinavian country would defend itself against any armed attack "with all the means at its disposal."

2. An attack on any one of them would bring "all aid and assistance, military or otherwise," from the other two partners.

3. Defense plans, armed forces and production of weapons would be "coordinated" in peace time.

4. "The defense union shall stand as a regional security agreement within the framework of the charter of the United Nations."

5. If any of the three Scandinavian countries is attacked, "it may request help from other states outside the defense union, and each of the three countries shall itself afford all assistance necessary to make such aid effective."

Jet Power Booster Is Hinted for B-36

NORWALK, CONN. (AP) — Air Secretary Symington gave a broad official hint last night that the speed of the giant "intercontinental" B-36 bomber is being boosted by the addition of jet engines.

Moreover, he said, the plane, now powered with six reciprocating engines, is capable of reaching "any major industrial urban area in the world."

And it can hit a target with atomic or other bombs from altitudes above that used in the A-bomb destruction of Hiroshima, he contended.

Symington made the remarks in an address at a Lincoln day dinner here.

Wizard in Blizzard Sells Load of Cold

HETTINGER, N.D. (AP) — You've got to hand it to Lyle Markegard, local hardwareman. He delivered the goods.

It was 20 below zero last Wednesday when he took off to make a delivery to a farmer customer 20 miles away. But the weather was so bad, he stayed overnight before trying the return trip.

All day Thursday he bucked snow drifts and traveled only four miles. He spent the night at another farmer's home. He managed to get back home Friday.

The goods? A deep freezer.

Report Agreement On Principles for Scandinavian Pact

Quoting from the Confessions of St. Augustine, "For so it is, O Lord my God, I measure it and I do not know what it is that I am measuring."

Lazarsfeld called for cooperation between public opinion work and the social sciences.

Speaking at the same session, George Gallup declared, "The most important unsettled problem in the field of political predicting is the problem of how to identify voters and nonvoters."

Gallup said that another problem was that of "measuring prestige." He cited the sale of pocket books held either with a western theme or sex as unpredictable, adding that many people would buy such books although they might not admit it.

In closing, Gallup noted "We have gone a long way in measuring the intensity of opinion."

In the morning's first session, "Unsettled Problems in Social Science Research," Clyde W. Hart challenged social science researchers to answer the problem of "human values."

Hart, director of the National Opinion Research Center, Chicago, urged researchers to "go out and get the answers" to social problems, rather than try to figure them out with mathematical formulas.

"We must not limit ourselves to sampling and interviewing methods when the problem at hand warrants a case study," Hart said.

At the luncheon yesterday Norman C. Meier, director of the bureau of audience research at SUI, announced that the annual meeting of the American Association of Public Opinion Research will be held at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., in June.

The meeting of the World Association of Public Opinion Research will be held at the same time at Cornell.

Archibald M. Crossley, commenting on the conference, said the greatest good that came out of the conference was recognition of the fact "that social scientists and pollsters must work together."

Stuart Dodd, director of the University of Washington public opinion laboratory, said that "a lot of new ideas for research" were gained.

Gallup said, "This conference is unique in my experience. It is the first where the people wanted to hear what was said," adding that most of the people wandered around the halls in other conferences he had attended.

In a transcribed broadcast last night over WSUI, Gallup answered the complaints of many Americans that they never have been interviewed and did not know anyone who had.

He said that if 10,000 people were interviewed each week, it would take about 180 years to interview everyone in the United States.

A poll of the audience at Friday night's conference session, "Should Political Forecasts Be Made?" showed 129 in favor of political forecasts with 22 casting negative ballots.

Radars Screen Bill Advances in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A United States-Canadian plan to build a radar wall around most of North America cleared its first congressional hurdle yesterday.

A bill to authorize this nation's $161-million part in a warning screen at sensitive coastal spots and in Alaska was approved unanimously by a house armed services subcommittee.

Congressional military experts predicted the high-priority defense measure will be okayed next week by the full armed services group and will be swept along to prompt passage by house and senate.

Hungary Asks Recall Of American Minister

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary announced last night she has asked the United States to recall U.S. Minister Selden Chapin and to consider withdrawing an assistant military attache.

Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk accused President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Bevin in a statement of taking part in a "war of slander against Hungary."

Authoritative quarters said, however, that a break in diplomatic relations is not intended.

"Some other representative of the United States will be welcomed here," one said, "but we do not want Mr. Chapin to remain."

Ivan Boldizsar, under-secretary of state, said the recall of Chapin was asked in connection with the activities of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Roman Catholic primate convicted Tuesday on charges of treason, espionage and illegal money dealings.

The U.S. state department announced Chapin will be ordered home "for consultation." The department press officer, Michael McDermott, said the United States "reserved its position" in respect to his status.

Hungary previously expelled two members of Chapin's staff on charges that they were engaged in spying and smuggling men out of the country.

The Hungarian foreign ministry suggested that the U.S. legation "consider the necessity of removing" Lt. Col. Peter Kpesak, who is attached to the American military attache's staff, "before the Hungarian government will request them to do so."

A Housing Shortage? Even a Prison Has It

OSSINGIN, N.Y. (AP)—The housing problem has hit Sing Sing prison, too.

A prison census showed there are 1,851 convicts in the penitentiary and cells for only $,811. The overflow is being housed in temporary quarters.

Pope Asks Prayer To Remove 'Evils'

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII appealed to Roman Catholics yesterday for united prayers April 3 to remove world evils he said were specially virulent "in those countries where a conspiracy has been formed against the Lord and against His Christ."

The Vatican soon afterward announced excommunication of "all those who dared raise their hands" against Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, tried him or sentenced him. It threatened the same penalty for "all those who in the future should become involved in the same crimes."

The Pope himself did not name any nation or any international group in his denunciation of world evils. The Vatican announcement, however, left no doubt he was referring to communism and to the Communist-ruled states behind the iron curtain.

A Hungarian people's court sentenced Cardinal Mindszenty Tuesday to life imprisonment on a charge of treason.

The Pope praised the "ever closer alliances" of nations at one point in his 1,100-word Apostolic exhortation. Such units of states, he said, should ward off the disasters of "civil discords and wars which in the future, with new weapons, will cause immense destruction."

Gophers Tip Iowa, 54-49

By BUCK TURNBULL

MINNEAPOLIS — Iowa's dogged, determined basketball team fought Minnesota to a standstill for one full half, then wilted midway in the final period and lost a well-played 54-49 decision here last night.

A near capacity crowd of 15,795 saw the Hawkeyes hold the Gophers down to a close score, but Pops Harrison's unit took a brief lapse in the second half and couldn't quite close the gap.

Iowa remains in eighth place in the Big Nine, however, as Northwestern's Wildcats went down to Wisconsin, 56-52, and kept its cellar position in the conference.

Second Place

Minnesota, which has taken four straight wins over Iowa here in the Gopher fieldhouse since 1945, holds a firm grip on second place in the conference race behind Illinois.

To Iowa's credit, it is the only basketball team this season to lead the Golden Gophers on their home floor at the end of the first half. The Hawks took a 29-27 advantage when the furious opening stanza came to a close.

The Hawks rushed Minnesota all over the floor throughout the entire game using a man-to-man defense. The tactics upset the Gophers somewhat, holding Whitey Skoog to 15 points and Center Jim McIntyre to 13.

Exuberant

The Iowa players left the floor for the halftime intermission an exuberant bunch. They had played their hottest 20 minutes of basketball since the Big Nine race opened in January.

It seemed the Hawks had found themselves. Just to lead this powerful Minnesota aggregation for one half was an amazing accomplishment.

The Gophers, on the other hand, were a dazed crew when Coach Ozzie Cowles took them to the locker room for te break between periods.

Surprise

Cowles, suspicious that Iowa would probably open a bag of tricks, started the game with a mild surprise of his own. He kept one of his star forwards, Bud Grant, on the bench and started Wally Salovich.

Salovich was moved into the pivot with big McIntyre playing a forward. The surprise didn't work, mainly because the Gophers became flustered by Iowa's aggressive full-court press. Grant entered the game for keeps after five minutes of play and Iowa leading, 5-2.

Defense

Iowa opened the contest with Bob Schulz and Stan Straatsma at guards, Don Hays at center, and Floyd Magnusson and Charlie Mason at forwards. The latter pair were instrumental in the defensive moves which two-timed Skoog and McIntyre whenever possible. Schulz and Straatsma worked very well together as the starting guards. Straatsma's smooth floor play set up numerous Iowa scoring chances.

The game was a minute old when Straatsma dumped in a free throw and gave the Hawks a 1-0 lead. Two minutes later Salovich connected with a layup for the Gophers.

Then the Iowans jumped out ahead. Schulz and Straatsma hit two set shots in a row, and Hays countered with two free throws shoving Iowa out in front, 7-2. After McIntyre dumped in two charities, little Charlie Mason drove through the keyhole and scored a beautiful hook shot. Iowa led, 9-4, with six minutes gone.

Then it was the Gophers' turn. With McIntyre and Skoog finally finding the range, Minnesota tied the count at 9-9 and crept out into the lead for most of the remaining 12 minutes of the half.

Pivot Post The rough work in the pivot began to tell when Hays left the

Iowa Fans Treated Royally

Minnesota Students Return SUI Hospitality; Game Defeat Only Mar to Celebration

MINNEAPOLIS — As SUI Student Council President Evan "Curly" Hultman put it when introduced to the fans in the Minnesota fieldhouse last night, "The weather in Minneapolis is cold but the hospitality is very warm."

An Iowa contingent of 35 SUI students chaperoned by Dean and Mrs. Dewey B. Stuit was treated like kings last night in Gopherland.

They sat in reserved seats at the Iowa-Minnesota game, they got a big hand when they were introduced before the game, and they attended an all-university dance in the Minnesota Student Union after the game.

Relations If last night's affair was any indication of relations between the two Big Nine schools, it would seem that the breach between Iowa and Minnesota has been closed.

Gopher fans numbering over almost as many as they did their own favorites, which is all that can be asked of any crowd.

Gopher fans gave the Hawks a big hand when they came on to the floor, applauded them vigorously when they were introduced individually before the game and did the same as they left the scrap by substitution.

It was evident that fans in the far north don't like officials much better than Iowa fans or any other athletic crowd. Minnesotans, who sat on the edge of their chairs the first half as the Hawkeyes outscored the Gophers to take an intermission advantage, roared the usual number of concentrated boos — all of them at the men in the black and white striped shirts, not at the visiting team.

The contingent of Iowa students who were guests of Minnesota last night sang their way to Minneapolis by bus yesterday afternoon.

Greeted The 37 peace ambassadors were met at the Coffman Memorial Union by George Arneson, president of the Student Congress, and Al Upin, president of the Gopher Rooter club.

Hultman was introduced over the public address system before the game and at the same time Arneson thanked the Hawkeye fans for inviting Minnesota students to the Gopher-Iowa game recently at Iowa City.

After the game Hawkeye fans attended an all-university dance and a reception coffee hours. They were guests at fraternity and sorority houses last night and will return to Iowa City by bus today.

Philly Strikers Asked To Go Back to Jobs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The city council appealed yesterday to striking transit workers to return to their jobs while federal mediators tried to settle the wage dispute which reduced travel to foot and automobile.

The appeal carried a warning that Mayor Bernard Samuel would be asked to declare a state of emergency unless the stricken transit service was started again.

Superman Might Fill the Bill

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Riss Trucking company said yesterday it has received 150 answers to its job advertisement asking for:

"A man of vision and ambition, an after-dinner speaker, night owl, work all day, stay up all night and appear fresh the next day. Must be a man's man, a lady's man, a model husband, a fatherly man, a good provider, a plutocrat, a Democrat, a Republican, a new dealer, an old dealer, a technician, politician, mathematician and mechanic.

"Must be a sales-promotion expert, a good credit manager, correspondent, attend all rate meetings, funerals, visit customers in hospitals and jails, contact all accounts every six weeks. "In spare time look for new business, do missionary work and attend all local conventions. Must have unlimited endurance and be long to all clubs. "Must be an expert driver, talker, liar, hunter, fisherman, dancer, traveler, bridge player, poker player, golf player, diplomat, financier, capitalist, philanthropist and authority on palmistry, chemistry, psychology, dogs, cats, horses, blondes, brunettes and redheads. "Salary commensurate with ability." The company said it actually believes four of the applicants qualify. The job to be filled is that of a freight-traffic solicitor.

Two Buckeyes Nip Ris As Hawks Lose, 48 to 36

Smith Sets One Record

By JOHN HOLWAY
Daily Iowan Writer

COLUMBUS, OHIO — Wally Ris was beaten yesterday. The longest victory string in modern swimming was snapped when Bill Smith and Halo Hirose of Ohio State sneaked in ahead of Ris in their 100-yard race here last night.

As Ris faded, so went Iowa. The Hawks were washed aside, 48-36, by a jubilant Ohio team that had almost counted the meet a loss.

The finish of the 100 sent the judges stand into a dither. It was Ris' first defeat at 100-yards since the same Smith won over him in his first National AAU meet, back in 1944.

Ris' unofficial time of :51.9 was the poorest he has recorded in competition so far this year. Smith was clocked in :51.8 and won the split decision over Hirose with Ris third.

Ironically, a half hour earlier, Ris posted the best time of his life in the 200 only to see Smith finish ahead of him again. But the husky Hawaiian had to break his own intercollegiate record in beating Wally.

Smith did 2:08.2 as against his old record of 2:08.4 and Ris 2:10.5. Iowa floundered after the 100.

BILL SMITH

The Hawks couldn't make good on the seconds and thirds they had counted on.

Except for the backstroke where Duane Draves and Dick Maine controlled the field, Iowa gave away points they previously had chalked in their win column.

Iowa won both relays with little trouble, but lost the 50, which they had hoped to win, to Hirose. Smith entered the 440 and won it besides pulling Phil Knight along into second.

Bowen Stassforth won the breast stroke, but Larry Larimore, who led the field most of the way, gave out in the stretch and lost second and third both.

Smith, 215-pound son of a Honolulu policeman, personally escorted the Bucks to their win, scoring three firsts in his three events for 15 points.

His buddy from Honolulu, Halo Hirose, added a first in the 50-yard sprint and a second in the century for eight points. Bunny Nakama of Maui, added one more with a third in the 220-yard swim.

Altogether the Hawaiians accounted for exactly half of the Ohio State points, Smith 15, Hirose 8 and Nakama 1. They also were responsible for four of the Buckeye five firsts, not to mention the only record of the day.

Olympic Diving Champion Bruce Harlan was the only other Buckeye winner.

Iowa won the 300-yard medley relay, the 150-yard backstroke, the 200 yard breast stroke and the 400-yard relay.

Summary 300-yard medley relay—Won by Iowa (Draves, Stassforth, Strauer); second, Ohio State. Time 2:33.9. 200-yard breast stroke—1. Smith (OSU); 2. Ris (Iowa); 3. Nakama (OSU). Time 2:08.2. Resters Smith's own National Intercollegiate record of 2:08.4 set in Columbus in 1947.

50-yard freestyle—1. Hirose (OSU); 2. Garst (Iowa); 3. Congelliers (OSU). Time 0:53.6.

440-yard freestyle—1. Smith (OSU); 2. P. Knight (OSU); 3. Lehman (Iowa). Time 3:09.3.

440-yard relay—Won by Iowa (Busch, Straub, Garst, Ris). Second, Ohio State. Time 3:31.3.

Wolves Sink Hoosiers, 54 to 47 To Remain in Running for Title

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (UP)—Michigan, determined not to slow in its bid to retain the Big Nine basketball championship, last night beat Indiana, 54-47, before an overflow crowd of 10,500 fans.

The Wolverines were not to be jinxed by "foreign court" fears. They took control of the game immediately from the opening tip-off to score their fifth straight conference win against two setbacks.

Sparked by the methodical M. Suprunowicz, the Wolverines enjoyed a 10 to 1 lead after eight minutes of play and then coasted home.

Gene Ring got Indiana's first bucket before the ninth minute ended, but the Hoosiers could have thrown in the towel then. They never were in the game.

Suprunowicz took scoring honors with 23 points, 17 of them in the first half. Harrison, tallying nine markers in the second stanza, wound up with a total of 13.

Boilermakers Win

EAST LANSING, MICH. (UP)—Purdue combined accurate shooting and sharp ball handling last night to score a 66-48 basketball victory over Michigan State college.

The Boilermakers used second-stringers in running up a 25-16 halftime advantage. Then the varsity lineup came in during the second stanza to build up the final 18-point margin.

It was Purdue's 12th win of the season, against six defeats, while the loss gave Michigan State a current win-loss record of 8 and 9.

Illini Sock Buckeyes

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (UP)—The University of Illinois defeated Ohio State, 64-49, last night in a Big Nine conference basketball game.

In the first 55 seconds, Illinois scored six points and led 14-2 at the end of three minutes. Ohio State never was able to get the lead, as Illinois took an easy victory.

The halftime score was 37-20.

Ohio State made its last threat early in the second half when Bob Raediger's free throw made it 37-25, but the Illini quickly re-covered and the Buckeyes were left far behind.

Bob Donham and Dick Schmittner each made 13 points for Ohio State and Bill Erickson made 15 for Illinois.

Wisconsin Smacks Wildcats, 56 to 52

CHICAGO (UP)—Wisconsin won its second Big Nine basketball victory of the season last night, coming from behind in the second half to whip Northwestern, 56-52, before an estimated crowd of 13,000 in the Chicago stadium.

Wisconsin led momentarily as the game opened, but the Wildcats rallied and held an advantage all the rest of the first half. At the intermission it was 34 to 30 for Northwestern.

But Rehnfeldt caged four points as the final period opened to pull the Badgers into a tie and then Bob Mader dropped a pushup to put the Badgers ahead. Before Northwestern's sophomores steadied, Wisconsin had rolled to a 42 to 34 lead, and they were never headed.

Hawk Matmen Will Face Gophers Here Tomorrow

Two Olympic team members and a pair of Western conference title holders will feature the dual wrestling meet with Minnesota in the fieldhouse at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Joe Scarpello, Hawkeye 175-pound competitor who was an alternate on the Olympic team last summer will be in action, as will Verne Gagne, Gopher heavyweight who was on the Olympic team as a 191-pound grappler.

Minnesota will also present Captain Garth Lappin, 121-pounder who won the 1948 conference title, and Alan Rice, league 128-pound champion who now has moved up to the 136-pound division.

Iowa has defeated the Gophers in four of the last six meets, but lost a one-point decision last year, 15-14.

A HAWKEYE SHOT GOES FOR NAUGHT AS Iowa Center Roger Finley finds Gopher Guard Gerald Mitchell (35) too tough to handle. Finley played a fine game before fouling out in the tense struggle at Minneapolis. Iowa led 29-27 at the half, but the Gophers eked this one out, 54-49.

game in the middle of the period with three fouls. He was replaced by Roger Finley.

Finley stayed in the game until he had fouled out midway in the second half. He played his best game in an Iowa uniform during this time, battling on even terms with McIntyre and hitting six points besides — two push shots and one hook.

Mason's hook shot with one and a half minutes to go in the first half knotted the score at 25-25. Harold Olson's two free throws were matched by Magnusson's rebound before Schulz cracked the cords with a driving lay-up with 10 seconds to go. That set the halftime count at 29-27.

Exploded

But Minnesota exploded to open the final canto. Two Skoog push shots found the mark in the first minute and a long set by Olson boosted the Gophers out in front to stay, 33-29.

However, the Hawkeyes never stopped trying, even when the tally mounted to nine, ten and shots attempted, the game was very even. Iowa took 70 tries at the hoop and hit 18 for a better than average .257 percentage. The Gophers chalked up 20 baskets on 73 attempts for .277.

The Hawkeye traveling squad of 15 players left immediately after the game enroute to Iowa City by train, via Des Moines.

Newton Stops Hawklets, 36-32

NEWTON — Iowa City's Little Hawks watched a 22-19 half-time lead evaporate and succumbed to Newton high here last night, 36-32. It was the Hawklet's first setback after 15 straight wins.

The visitors took a 10-9 lead at the end of the first quarter as Whitey Diehl and Gene Hettick combined to make Iowa City's fast break work. Hettick took scoring honors for both sides, counting nine times from the foul line in addition to three buckets for 15 points.

Hitting well on long push shots, and aided no end by superb work off both boards by Guard Wendell Jones, the home team forged ahead at the end of the third quarter to lead, 29-26.

The last quarter saw a lot of rough play, with three men from each team fouling out. Among those to go were Hettick and Diehl, the latter with 6 1/2 minutes left in the game. Newton used two men on Hettick.

Forward Chuck Jariagin turned the tide in favor of the home team as he put in two baskets and a free throw to sew up the contest. He led his team's scoring with 11 points.

Irish, Ramblers Vie Again Monday

Iowa City's parochial quintets will clash in their rubber game of the season tomorrow night at City high gym.

In their first meeting this year St. Mary's triumphed, 37-29. St. Pat's roared back in the Diocesan tourney to down the Ramblers, 33-30.

The game originally was planned for Feb. 18 at St. Pat's gym, but was moved up after the Irish obtained use of City high's gym.

Marquette Edges Trackmen

Marquette university's track team defeated Iowa's thincalms in the Hawks' first dual meet of the season yesterday afternoon at the fieldhouse, 61-53. The meet marked Francis Cretzmeier's debut as Hawk pilot.

The outcome wasn't decided until the final track event, the mile relay. The Hilltoppers captured first place in the mile run to take an early lead, 5-4. But the Hawks managed to tie the meet three times before the two-mile run.

The Hilltoppers scored a grand slam in the two-mile, which presented Coach Mel Shimek with a 10-point advantage that the Hawks could not overcome although they did whittle it down to two before the relay.

Marquette's distance men used a neat bit of strategy in the two-mile. With Bob Mason acting as a "lookout" and calling the pace for Tony Glazer, the Hilltoppers were able to overcome every sprint effort by Iowa's Bill Bye.

In the 880-yard run, Marquette's Walter McCullough, believing he was on the last lap, gave out with a burst of speed on the final turn of the third lap to overtake Iowa's Jack Copeland and Elliott McDonald. He then dropped back into third place and eventually was beaten also by him teammate Jim Dorsey.

All of the events went according to the pre-meet dope except in the high jump, where Jerry Parr edged out Iowa's Dick Erdemberger.

Iowan Russ Merkel, who captured both hurdle events was the only double winner.

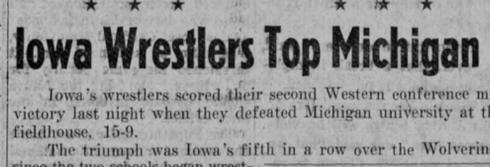

The Hawkeyes were unable to garner a first place in any of the field events. But their many seconds and thirds in field competition and their strength in the sprints kept the Cretzmeier-coached men in the running until the mile relay.

Dick Schmandt gave the Hilltoppers their large lead in the first quarter of the mile relay. Tom Sangster, running anchor for Iowa, gave a mighty burst of speed during his second lap but was unable to close the gap.

In the final event, the broad jump, Lory Plate hurled himself 21 feet 8 inches to sew up the meet for Marquette.

Topsey or Turvey?

IT'S HARD TO TELL who is on top, but Hawkeye Wrestler George Tesla (with head in picture) went on to score a 7-2 decision over Michigan's 155-pounder, Phil Carlson. His victory broke 6-6 deadlock. Hawkeyes went on to defeat the Michigan grapplers, 15-9.

Iowa Wrestlers Top Michigan

Iowa's wrestlers scored their second Western conference mat victory last night when they defeated Michigan university at the fieldhouse, 15-9.

The triumph was Iowa's fifth in a row over the Wolverines since the two schools began wrestling competition and the first time Michigan grapplers have appeared in the fieldhouse in 25 years.

Iowa scored victories in five of the eight matches, but the issue was in doubt up to the final match, when Hawkeye Heavyweight "Junebug" Perrin took the last event from Michigan's Byron Laskey.

All matches were decided by decision, with the two teams exchanging victories for seven of the eight events.

Hawkeye Captain Vern McCoy, 121-pound division, started the meet off with a rough three periods of wrestling with Bob Cunningham. McCoy scored the winning take-down midway through the second 3-minute period.

Joe Scarpello, Olympic alternate last summer, won his 175-pound match with an easy 13-4 decision over Jack Powers. Scarpello on several occasions almost

Hawk Matmen Will Face Gophers Here Tomorrow

Two Olympic team members and a pair of Western conference title holders will feature the dual wrestling meet with Minnesota in the fieldhouse at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Joe Scarpello, Hawkeye 175-pound competitor who was an alternate on the Olympic team last summer will be in action, as will Verne Gagne, Gopher heavyweight who was on the Olympic team as a 191-pound grappler.

Minnesota will also present Captain Garth Lappin, 121-pounder who won the 1948 conference title, and Alan Rice, league 128-pound champion who now has moved up to the 136-pound division.

Iowa has defeated the Gophers in four of the last six meets, but lost a one-point decision last year, 15-14.

Married Yesterday

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Noel

SUI Students Betty Miller, Carl Noel Wed

Betty J. Miller and Carl F. Noel were married yesterday at 4 p.m. in the Little Chapel of the Congregational church. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Miller, North English, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Noel, Spencer.

The Rev. John Craig officiated at the double ring ceremony. Felicia Barrowcliff, Bridgewater, was maid of honor and Richard Sheldy, Spirit Lake, was best man.

Mrs. Noel is a graduate of North English high school. She attended the college of liberal arts at SUI for three years and is now a second year nursing student at University hospital.

Mr. Noel is a graduate of Shattuck Military academy, Fairbault, Minn. He is now a senior in zoology at the State University of Iowa.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at 303 S. Capitol street.

Information First Sends Applications For New Leaders

Application blanks for Information First committee chairmen have been sent out, Sue Gronna, A3, announced recently. Miss Gronna is chairman of the Information First program.

Applications should be filled out completely and if there is a committee preference, it should be listed, Miss Gronna said. The applications are due March 4 and should be put on the University Women's association desk in the office of student affairs.

Some of the Information First committees are publicity, which includes radio, posters, newspapers and blackboards; contact; hospitality and program. Chairmen for these committees will be chosen from the applications. Girls who have demonstrated an interest in the Information First program will be chosen as members on these committees and their sub-divisions.

Information First is a series of informal talks by well known speakers on topics of general interest. Sponsored by UWA, Information First begins in the fall and continues through March.

5 Women Initiated In Rebekah Lodge

Five women were initiated into the Carnation Rebekah Lodge No. 376, when members of the group met in the I. O. O. F. hall Friday evening.

Initiates were Mrs. Edith Klenk, Betty Jo McCleary, Mrs. Sophia Karas, Mrs. Edna Red and Duane Perkins.

Out-of-town guests at the initiation were Mrs. Jack R. Hughes, Hollywood, Calif., member of the Hollywood Rebekah Lodge No. 375; Mrs. Forest McCleary, New London, member of New London Rebekah Lodge; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Davidson, Brooklyn, members of Deborah Rebekah Lodge No. 202, and Mrs. Fanny Meeks, Kalona, member of Rebekah Lodge No. 84.

Refreshments were furnished by a men's committee with W. O. Potter in charge.

Mrs. Melvin Van Duren

Mrs. Harold R. Spencer

Frances Schweitzer Weds M. Van Duren

The wedding of two University of Iowa graduates took place in Davenport on Jan. 29, when Frances Avalon Schweitzer became the bride of Melvin Van Duren.

Mrs. Van Duren is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Schweitzer, Muscatine. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Duren, Oskaloosa, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Van Duren received B. A. degrees from the school of journalism here at the State University of Iowa.

The bride is now employed at radio station KWPC, Muscatine, and Mr. Van Duren is wire editor of the Muscatine Journal.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Ben G. Whittington, 515 Finkbine park, are the parents of a 7 pound, 12 ounce girl born yesterday at Mercy hospital.

Sunday guests in the George L. Howe home, 416 Finkbine park, will be Mr. Howe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howe, Webster City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boyd, Waterloo, have been spending the weekend visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Hesse, 220 Finkbine park. Last night an informal party was held in honor of Michael Hesse's first birthday.

Dorothy A. Pearson Becomes the Bride Of Harold Spencer

The Congregational church was the scene of the marriage of Dorothy A. Pearson and Harold R. Spencer at 2 p.m. yesterday.

The bride, a former student at the State University of Iowa, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Pearson, 1320 E. College street. Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Spencer, route 5, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John G. Craig. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. William A. Miller, Charles City, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Barbara Cochran and Shirley Simpson, both of Iowa City.

The best man was Donald L. Spencer, Xenia, Ohio. Ushers were James Pearson Jr., Iowa City, and Wilson Bolen, Cedar Rapids.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the bride's parents' home. The couple left afterward on a wedding trip to Mexico.

Military Fraternity Gives Top Position To Harvey Jensen

Harvey F. Jensen, A2, Libertyville, Ill., was recently elected company commander of the SUI Pershing rifles, honorary military military fraternity.

Jensen, former executive officer of the unit, succeeds Rene C. Jacobs, Iowa City, who graduated last semester.

Four other officers were reelected to positions previously occupied. They are Everett Waller Jr., A3, Sioux City, adjutant; Jack W. Burns, A2, Cedar Rapids, finance officer; J. William Condon, A2, Iowa City, supply officer, and R. R. Brawner, A2, Iowa City, operations officer.

Initiation ceremonies were held in the senate chambers of Old Capitol last night for fourteen pledges, including Richard Christenson, A1, Cedar Rapids, whose name was omitted from a previous list of initiates announced Friday.

Iowa Beta chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon observed its 44th birthday Thursday night. Dean Emeritus W. J. Teeters, chapter head and one of the local chapter's founders, cut the giant foot-and-a-half wide birthday cake. Founded in 1905, Beta chapter began with 27 charter members. Nearly 50 members now live in the chapter house at 303 N. Riverside drive and an equal number of students on campus are pledges.

Union Board Plans Dance After Game

An open house dance will be held at the Iowa Union main lounge after Saturday night's basketball game, the Student Union board announced yesterday.

A special invitation has been extended to all new students to attend the free dance. Student Union board officials said they would like new students to become acquainted with the Union facilities.

The Criterions, a five piece band, will play for the dance. Vocalist Ginny is featured with the band.

In addition, bridge and ping pong tables will be available. The browsing library will be open and snacks may be bought at the soda fountain.

4-H Club to Hear Veterinarian Talk

Dr. Irvin Irwin, local veterinarian, will talk to the Blue Ribbon Winners 4-H club members on "Livestock Diseases" at their meeting Monday in the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric assembly room.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting also will include a talk by Alice Lord on the selection and feeding of 4-H club pigs. Emmett C. Gardner, county extension director, said yesterday.

It is an open session and anyone interested in enrolling in the club may attend.

'Ducks Unlimited' Will Honor 'Ding'

Wilson Abel, chairman of Ducks Unlimited in Iowa, yesterday announced the organization's second major waterfowl conservation project in Canada will be dedicated to J.N. "Ding" Darling, Des Moines Register cartoonist.

Abel said the new project is being dedicated to Darling "because of his great and untiring effort towards saving North America's wild waterfowl."

Lake Darling will be constructed with funds furnished by Iowa sportsmen. Abel estimated the project will cost $35,000 and will create 10,000 acres of waterfowl nesting grounds.

Someone Must Sit Mother Moves Home To Keep Sitter

A new twist on the baby sitter problem occurred last week in Quonset park, married students' housing area unit.

It all started when a housewife's neighbor, who was a baby sitter, moved to another housing area. The neighbor had been watching the baby everyday while the mother worked.

After the neighbor moved, the housewife could find no one to stay with her child. This meant she would have to quit her job.

Refusing to be minus a baby sitter, the mother rushed to the housing office, made arrangements to move to another housing area, and settled down again right next to her former neighbor.

Dime March Slow; Goal $916.28 Aways

The March of Dimes total edged slowly towards the $5,000 goal with returns from rural mailing cards adding another $7, Mrs. J. K. Schaal, chairman, reported last week.

The new total, $4,083.72, is $916.28 short of the goal. Donations and contributions will be accepted throughout the month of February, if mailed to March of Dimes, post office box 89, Iowa City, the chairman said.

Weiners, Kraut Hailed by Nation

Every dog has its day, but the "hot-dog" will have a whole week. This week is National Frankfurter and Kraut week.

This long-time team has been favorite since Grandmother's time. In those days, Granny would make kraut of her bountiful cabbage crop and serve it as a popular winter dish.

The Chinese are believed to have originated sauerkraut. The Tartars introduced the dish to Europe and from there it was brought to the United States. The American housewife teamed it with frankfurters and made it into a savory main course.

Today the dish can be prepared in 10 to 15 minutes, using canned kraut. Color, crispness and vitamin C won't be destroyed in the canned product if it isn't over-heated.

"Serve those Old Favorites and Save" has appropriately been the theme of kraut and frankfurter week. Last year's cabbage crop was plentiful and canned kraut is stocked in all stores at budget prices. Frankfurters are all meat with no waste to pay for and discard.

The easiest preparation of frankfurters is the quick boiling method. Place the frankfurters in water, bring to the simmering point and serve.

Fried frankfurters are tasty and also easy to prepare. Broiled franks, fixed in the following way make a very attractive and economical main dish. Slice the frankfurter, place a slice of dill pickle and cheese inside, wrap it in strips of bacon, broil and serve.

Nothing will ever replace the "hot-dog" as a favorite at football and baseball games, carnivals and picnics. It wouldn't be a ball game or picnic to thousands of American children and adults without a hot-dog with "lots of mustard."

THE HOUSEWIFE'S EASY WAY OUT IS A QUICK MEAL OF kraut and frankfurters. When Mrs. Arvin W. Fettkeller, 209 Riverside park, finds the clock is ahead of her meal planning, she enlists the aid of little Tommy and prepares this easy main course. Tommy scorns the cook-book because (even if he could read) recipes are not needed to prepare this dish.

Two Street Lighting Snares Face City Council Tomorrow

Downtown street lighting in Iowa City is the main item of business which will face the city council when it meets in the council chamber tomorrow night at 7:30.

Two snares have hit the street problem. Number one — should the city repair the old incandescent system or put in a new white way of mercury-vapor lights? Number two — who will pay for the lights?

Evidence that Iowa Citizens are not adverse to their old incandescent system was found in the city council's public hearing Jan. 24. Most citizens favored knowing the cost of repairing the old system before going ahead with plans for mercury-vapor lights.

City Engineer Fred Gartzke was directed to prepare a cost estimate for repairing the old system to be presented at tomorrow's council meeting.

Gartzke mentioned at a council meeting last fall an estimate of $15,000 to replace the underground wiring, now the source of trouble with the old whiteway. He emphasized, however, this was not a definite figure, and the cost would probably be higher.

Businessmen in general seem to favor new lighting over repair of the incandescent system. Many of them would be willing to pay the special assessment the council considers as a method of payment for the lighting.

Many business properties, however, are rented rather than owned by the businessmen. Many of the owners are in favor of the new system and would be willing to pay the special assessment.

Some residential property owners are in favor of a general assessment to pay for lighting. Most property owners, it seems, favor new lights just as they favored a swimming pool.

Only one bid on the cost of the new lighting has been submitted to the council. This is the $51,000 Westinghouse figure.

Four sample mercury-vapor lights are available to choose from if the council decides on new lights. One is from Westinghouse, one from the Line Material company, Milwaukee, Wis., and the other two from the General Electric company.

At tomorrow night's session, Gartzke's report on the cost of repair may solve the problem of old lighting. The vital question of who pays for the lights still remains a main snag to be overcome.

Soil Test Chairman Names County Head

M.F. Sullivan was named head of the Johnson county soil-testing program last week by Ray E. Smalley, county agricultural association chairman.

Sullivan is secretary of the Johnson county co-operative dairy marketing association. He and several assistants will take care of the soil testing program in Johnson county until the program is further organized, Smalley said.

Sometime during the spring an instructor from Iowa State college in Ames will give further instructions and demonstrations at county or district meetings here on the recently started soil test program, he added. These instructions will supplement the short training course held in Ames Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

For the time, Smalley said he and Sullivan would take the soil samples and forward them to the testing headquarters.

ELECTED TO BOARD
Milo Smith, 184 Riverside, was elected to serve on the married students' co-op board last week.

A law student, Smith replaces Sergt. Ken McCard who recently resigned from the board.

Mary Shimon Dies, Private Final Rites Set for Tomorrow

Private funeral services for Mrs. Mary M. Shimon, 78, for 62 years a resident of Iowa City, will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at the McGovern Funeral home. The Rev. Edward Neuzil will officiate.

Mrs. Shimon died Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. G. Glenn Swain, 827 Brown street, after a lingering illness.

She came to this country from Czechoslovakia and moved to Iowa City. Her husband, Frank J. Shimon, preceded her in death in 1915.

Her survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Swain, and Mildred Shimon, an employee in the Johnson county clerk's office; two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Zinkula and Mrs. George Thomas, both of Iowa City, and several nieces and nephews.

Two brothers and one sister also preceded her in death.

Friends may call at the funeral home until the time of the services. The family requests that no flowers be sent.

Three Deaths Reported At University Hospitals

Three deaths were reported at University hospitals Friday and Saturday.

Ray Good, Bellevue, died at 1 a.m. Saturday. He was admitted Jan. 21. Hospital officials said he was 34 years old and married.

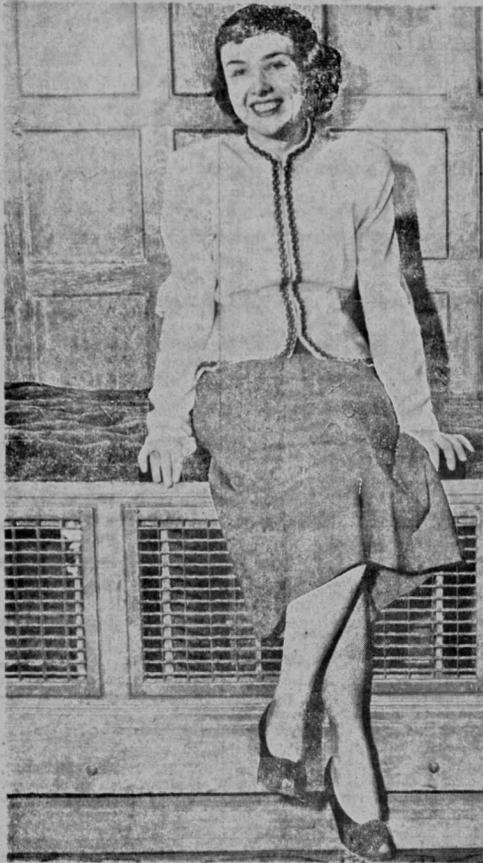

Mabel Fredrickson, Ottumwa, died at 7:35 a.m. Saturday at the age of 53. She was admitted Feb. 11.

William Bailey, 70, Centerville, died Friday at 10:15 p.m. He was admitted Jan. 23.

Calls Bonus Fight 'Clean'

Senator Says Beardsley's Plan May Pass

State Senator LeRoy S. Mercer of Iowa City yesterday predicted restoration and passage of Governor Beardsley's soldiers bonus payment plan by the house. The Chief Executive's proposal was defeated by a narrow margin in the senate last week.

"I feel the house will accept the governor's bill," Mercer said, but he added that if the element of switching support in the house follows the example given in the senate last week, then a chance remains for the senate plan.

The Johnson county senator said the fight in the legislature has been "clean" with "few personalities" involved. Politics have had little to do with legislator's sentiment toward the two different proposals, he said.

The senate last week rejected the governor's plan and substituted one of their own in the form of an amendment to the administration's bill calling for payment of $72,250,000 of the bonus from the state surplus.

House appropriations chairman, Harry E. Weichman (R-Newhall), will next week probably move to substitute the provisions of the administration's bill for the senate bill.

If a deadlock should develop,

Mercer said, a conference of house and senate members will be called and a compromise arrangement discussed.

The soldier's bonus was originally expected to run as high as $85-million, Mercer said, but he now believes when payments are made the figure might be as low as $75-million.

"But whatever the way," the Johnson county senator said, "the bonus will be paid."

"Payment should come some time in the middle of the summer," Mercer said. He thinks processing of claims will begin by June.

Increase of Indian Radio Sets Asked

NEW DELHI (AP) — A government committee has recommended that Indian manufacture of radio sets be stepped up sharply.

The committee proposes that 50,000 inexpensive sets and 20,000 expensive ones be built in India this year. Production would be expanded to 150,000 sets by 1951.

The committee also suggests that sets whose landed cost is $65 or less be imported on a quota basis. If India's yearly consumption was 50,000 sets and Indian factories were turning out 30,000, only the balance of 20,000 would be permitted to enter the country.

Australian's Injury Is Something New

MELBOURNE (AP) — William Brown, 67, of Lethbridge, near Melbourne, was admitted to hospital for treatment to an injury caused by a platypus.

His injury first was reported in the Geelong Hospital casualty book as a platypus bite. Later it was altered to a scratch.

(A platypus can bite with its ridged, bony jaws, and will do so when angry. It also can wound with its spurs, which are connected with poison glands, like the fangs of a snake.)

Chicago 'Valentine Girl' Gets Stacks of Mail, Likes Feb. 14 Better than Christmas

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO (AP) The Valentine girl looks forward to St. Valentine's day all through the year. "It's the best day," says the girl with the long, blonde curls and the bright blue eyes. "Even better than Christmas."

Why? Well, when it gets near Feb. 14, the postman brings her heaps of valentines from all parts of the world. They are big, and wee, and plain, and lacy. But all of them are tributes to the courage of Evelyn Valentine.

Keeps Smiling
Fate keeps knocking her down and she keeps getting up smiling. Rheumatic fever, at the age of four, weakened her heart. She has had two bouts with pneumonia. Then polio-crippled her left leg. Evelyn, 14 now, has spent most of her time in bed the last ten years. Her plight became known to the public in 1944. From then on she has been the "Valentine Girl" to thousands. She got 32,350 valentines in 1944, 64,000 in 1946, and 150,000 in 1948. The postman brought them in bundles. Tucked in some of them were notes from post-office clerks.

EVELYN VALENTINE

Glad to Do It
"You're making a lot of work for us," they wrote, "but we're glad to do it." There has been a steady flow of letters, too. Evelyn has tried to answer them but... "I write a few lines." She unconsciously draws a hand across her chest. "I get tired." She was strong enough to keep fairly well up with her school work when polio struck her down in the fall of 1947. But she rallied from the blow — and went into business! She opened a tiny card, gift and toy shop last November. She and her mother and stepfather moved into two stove-heated rooms in the rear.

Strength Overtaxed
Her mother did a lot of the work until she underwent an operation for cancer. Hobbled on crutches and waiting on the trade-overtaxed Evelyn's strength. Her doctor recently told her she may have to go to a hospital for rest and treatment.

Now she's back in bed. She lies there and reads her mail and thinks.

What does she think about? "Maybe it will be clear to you. Maybe it won't. But she puts it this way: "When you read in the papers how things are going wrong, and then get letters and valentines from so many nice people — well, you just can't see how such things can happen."

German Department Plans to Celebrate Poel's Anniversary

SUI will join colleges all over the country in celebrating the 200th anniversary this year of the birth of Goethe, the great German poet, Prof. Erich Funke, head of the SUI German department, said yesterday.

Funke is one of three regional chairmen of committees which will direct the celebration. His committee represents 500 mid-western and southern schools. The celebrations will include programs of speeches and 18th century music and drama. Funke is now compiling a list of 20 Goethe scholars from this area who will serve as speakers.

Since Goethe's birthday is August 28 during summer vacation, most schools will hold their celebrations either during this semester or after the beginning of the fall term, Funke said.

Icicles Dangerous, Barricades Go Up

Winter's secret weapon — the icicle — has brought an added hazard to sidewalks in Iowa City. Red and white danger barricades have been placed along the east walk of East hall to protect students from nature's falling weapons. The ground is strewn with broken fragments of ice.

A janitor commented, "Those icicles are heavy and dangerous — that's why we put the barricades out."

India's Molasses Good for Alcohol

NEW DELHI (AP)—India can increase 18 times her present annual output of 3-million gallons of power alcohol.

An official development committee reported to the government that 530,000 tons of sugar molasses available annually from Indian sugar factories could yield 53-million gallons of power alcohol. The molasses is thrown away now.

Experiment is being conducted in India whether alcohol by itself could be used as motor fuel. Presently it is mixed with gasoline in the ratio of one to four.

A Mature Study of Our 'Snake Pits'

Hollywood has no award that can do justice to "The Snake Pit," the motion picture based on Mary Jane Ward's revelation of what a mental patient thinks and feels and meets in a state hospital.

To see "The Snake Pit" is to learn, as nearly as an outsider can, what life in a mental institution really means. Nothing has been omitted from the movie that would give understanding to us, who, by the grace of God, are on the outside.

Every word, every act, and surely every thought is authentic. With rare discernment, Director Anatole Litvak and the producers have underplayed the horrors of our snake pits when it would have been very easy to overplay them.

The people who inhabit every mental hospital live in the institution where Virginia Cunningham (magnificently played by Olivia de Havilland) found herself. The woman who weeps to go home to her baby is there. We weep with her. And we laugh at the lace-bedecked grand dame, the ballet dancer, and the virtuous Magdalene — but with laughter that is close to tears.

The overworked, harassed employees — from the oddly assorted medical staff down to the kind and the unkind attendants — are typical of our state mental hospitals. With startling clarity, "The Snake Pit" spotlights the effects on the sick mind of all these types of staff members.

We see the sensitive soul groping painfully out of the darkness

Handicapped Youths To Be Given Party At Hospital School

A Valentine day party will be held tomorrow for the severely handicapped children in the hospital school at Westlawn, Miss Grace Chenoweth, teacher, said yesterday.

The party will begin at noon with a special dinner for the handicapped children. Nutcups, napkins and place cards carrying out the Valentine theme were made by the children this past week.

Following the afternoon rest period, Miss Chenoweth said the party will be continued in the Westlawn classrooms where games will be played. Opening the school's Valentine box will highlight the afternoon's activities.

Staff members plan to serve ice cream to the children. As an added treat the intermediate class made cookies for the occasion.

J. P. McEvoy, covering a big story, was rooming with a correspondent who kept him awake by moaning and tossing in his bed. "Whassa matter?" demanded McEvoy. "I promised to pay the INS man next door the hundred dollars I owe him first thing in the morning," explained the roommate, "and I haven't got it." McEvoy went to the window and hollered, "Hey, Considine, wake up." Considine appeared rubbing his eyes and grumbled, "What's up?" McEvoy explained, "I just want to tell you my friend here can't pay you that $100 tomorrow. He hasn't got it." Then he shut the window and said, "Go to sleep, pal. Now Considine can worry."

UNLESS SOMEONE pulls the stopper out of the Atlantic ocean this afternoon or some other equally distracting tumult occurs, greeting card manufacturers are going to rub their chubby little hands together in glee Monday over the thought of once more having suckered the American public out of its hard-earned cash.

But then I guess if the card makers didn't get it the government or payments on a new radio would.

ALL WEEK I have been meaning to look up St. Valentine's day in the encyclopedia, but just never got around to it. Now I have to resort to the 1949 Information Please almanac and Webster's pride and joy.

The almanac has nothing about Valentine day, but it does tell what the marriage prospects for single men and women are. That's pretty close to Valentine day statistics.

According to the figures, if you are a woman and are over 65 years you've got about as much chance of getting married as an armadillo playing squat tag with a Bengal lion.

Another interesting fact brought to light by this volume is that less than two-tenths of one percent of the males in this country under 15 years of age are married.

Just thought I'd throw that last sentence in for the benefit of any desperate 65-year-old spinsters among the reading public.

UPON CONSULTING Webster I learned that a valentine is "something, as an ornamental greeting of a sentimental . . . character, sent, usually anonymously, on St. Valentine's day."

This brings to mind a valentine sent by several friends to a particularly obnoxious army major when the friends learned they were on an overseas shipping list.

They visited a nearby turkey farm just before they left, and after obtaining enthusiastic approval from the farm owner, proceeded to fill a wooden box with what was on the floors of the turkey roosts.

THE MAJOR, who was expecting a box of avocados, was certainly surprised when he opened his valentine.

Being a frugal man, however, he took it home and used his valentine as fertilizer on his tulip beds.

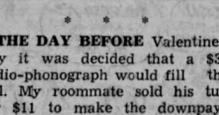

BEFORE THE war I had a roommate who, because his hair was fast growing thin, felt he should do something about his single status quickly before he became completely bald.

One day he found what he was certain was his dream girl. For several months I put up with a love-sick, balding roommate whose heart throbbed like an undershot water wheel each time the light of his life was mentioned.

The affair came to an abrupt end because of the valentine he sent her. For two weeks before Valentine's day, he window-shopped, worried and counted his money.

Both of us at the time were almost broke, but he insisted that he must buy a fancy gift for his one love. We investigated the price of roses by the dozen, by the gross and by the carload lot.

We pestered clerks about silver fox capes and jewelry and checked into the used car market, but none of these were quite what the lover wanted.

THE DAY BEFORE Valentine's day it was decided that a $32 radio-phonograph would fill the bill. My roommate sold his tux for $11 to make the downpayment, and happily presented the instrument to his girl friend.

Eight weeks later the love affair was over. The cause for the break-up was the direct result of an installment collector's call to the girl's home.

When the collector left, the radio went with him, thus proving that, although love may be blind, creditors most certainly are not.

ANALYSIS OF THE WORLD'S NEWS AS —

IT HAPPENED LAST WEEK

Mindszenty

Primate Is Sentenced To Life Imprisonment

While a shocked western world looked on, Hungary's Communist regime condemned Josef Cardinal Mindszenty to life imprisonment. The charges: foreign currency speculation, trying to overthrow the republic, treason.

In Rome, the Vatican immediately said that Mindszenty had proved himself "morally and civily innocent." In the U.S., Hungary's acting consul general in New York and seven other officials quit their jobs in protest.

Mindszenty planned to appeal to a higher court in the Communist version of a judicial system. He can still be sentenced to death.

The United States struck back in the only way it could, with words. Secretary of State Acheson called it Communist religious persecution that has sickened the free world. President Truman labeled the trial as "infamous" and a kangaroo court proceeding. He said officials were investigating to see if the conviction violated Hungary's treaties with other nations.

There was never any question that the primate would be found guilty and convicted once the Communists set out to try him. The big question was — and still is — how far will the Communists carry their fight against western religions.

Bulgarian Communists answered the question partially. They indicted 15 top leaders of the United Evangelical church on charges of spying, foreign currency violations and treason.

And the Czechoslovakian regime was stepping up long-standing opposition against the Roman Catholic church for opposing the Communist program. Indications on the weekend were that the Soviets may feel strong enough to banish organized religion from their great Slav empire.

Cold War

Norway Explores Pact; Austrian Parley Stalled

Shrugging off Soviet "peace offensive" talk, the U.S., Canada and five western European powers went ahead with their North Atlantic security pact negotiations last week.

After Sweden, Norway and Denmark failed to agree on a permanent three-way pact, Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange flew to the U.S. to find out what the initiation fee to the North Atlantic pact would be.

Russia was breathing down Norway's neck claiming the U.S. would demand bases in Norway to strike at Russia. Norway was assured by the west that this wouldn't happen but got no western support for the three-way pact idea.

In London, Russia shrugged off "peace" talk herself at a meeting of big four foreign ministers' deputies who have tried since 1946 to write an Austrian peace treaty.

The Soviets brushed aside her "family fight" with Tito and stuck by Yugoslav claims for 800 square miles of southern Austria and $150-million in reparations. To make sure the deadlock would stick, Russia threw in demands for the return of political exiles now living in Austria.

In Germany, the western powers stepped up their counter blockade of the Soviet zone by prohibiting truck traffic "to, from or through" the Soviet zone.

The Economy

Experts Speculating as Commodity Prices Sink

A flood of cattle streamed off the nation's farms and into livestock markets early last week, knocking prices down to the lowest point since OPA ceilings were lifted in October, 1946.

At the Chicago Board of Trade, wheat and corn futures nosedived before heavy government purchases on the weekend could ease the big price break. On Wall Street, stocks wobbled about, then broke sharply on Thursday wiping out around $800-million in market valuations of listed stocks.

The break carried prices back to the level of March 19, 1948, as measured by the general market average.

In Washington, the government's economic doctors chipped in to diagnose the trouble. Was the downturn natural? Is the immediate outlook more inflation or new recession?

Agriculture Secretary Braman ordered an immediate investigation.

DWIGHT EISENHOWER No Explanations . . .

tion by the commodity exchange authority of the commodity price drop. He later stated it looked like the peak of farm prosperity is past and that the nation will have to be protected against falling prices.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D - Wyo),

President Truman called for immediate laws to put his proposed $4-billion tax boost on the books. But his congressional leaders were in no hurry, preferring to watch economic developments for a little while yet.

The Hoover commission won a victory when the house voted to give the President authority to revamp the executive department, subject to a congressional veto. The measure cleared 356-9 and exempted only seven agencies. Hoover had warned that exempting too many agencies would nullify the effect of the streamlining.

Elsewhere on the political front, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, speaking at a Lincoln day dinner, conceded that GOP ranks are "split wide open" and urged the party to stop fighting inwardly and unite under a banner of progressive liberalism. He "me-too" new deal imitators, proposed to steer down the middle.

City's Scouts Climax Scout Week

Run the City For One Day

Iowa City's newly-sworn-in city council yesterday morning voted to finish the municipal swimming pool "by any legal means." The council also voted five-cent dues for local Boy Scouts.

These actions were part of the Boy Scout week climaxed in Iowa City when local scouts took over city government for the morning.

City Attorney William H. Bartley swore in the 13 scouts at 9 a.m., "according to the laws of the state of Iowa . . . and the scout laws."

It was a big day for the boys who were interviewed for a radio broadcast and met the officials whose duties they assumed for the morning.

Fire Chief Karl Vorbrick just missed going out on the truck to a real fire by taking office 45 minutes too late for the 8:15 a.m. fire at 1131 E. Burlington street.

Young Vorbrick, who celebrated his tenth birthday yesterday morning, is the son of Assistant Fire Chief Bill Vorbrick.

Alderman-at-Large Keith Jones accidentally got locked in a cell while the scouts were touring the police station and had to be rescued by Assistant Police Chief Joe Dolezal.

New council members used the cuspidors and had to be called to order twice by Mayor Jim Pearson Jr. At one point, the aldermen had to be given a five minute recess to talk over council business.

Council actions:

1. Passed a motion by Alderman Jones to ticket all improperly parked cars.
2. Referred to the parking and public safety committee a motion by Fifth Ward Alderman John Parsons to extend the new street lighting system and place stop lights at dangerous intersections.
3. Tabled a motion by Fourth Alderman Bill Bartley Jr. to extend fire protection to a five-mile radius of Iowa City.
4. Cancelled a previously carried motion by Third Ward Alderman Don Kobes that all scouts be admitted to yesterday's movies for five cents. Cancellation followed City Attorney Peter Pollock's announcement that the move might not be legal.

Two Car Accidents Reported to Police

Glen W. Parker and Merritt C. Ludwig, SUI graduate students of Iowa City, were driving cars involved in a traffic accident yesterday at 8 a.m., police reported.

The accident occurred at the University hospitals entrance on Newton road. Parker said damage to his car was about $25 and estimated $40 damage to Ludwig's vehicle.

An accident at 5:25 p.m. Friday at the intersection of Madison and Iowa streets was reported to police yesterday.

Drivers of the cars were Harlan D. Malcolm, A4, Belle Plaine, and John E. Maurer, G, Port Byron, Ill., according to drivers' reports.

Maurer estimated $60 damage to his car and $150 damage to the car driven by Malcolm.

They Enjoy Doing The Same Things

MEMPHIS, TENN. (AP)—Since they met a couple of years ago, the Jewells and the Thornburgs have enjoyed doing things together.

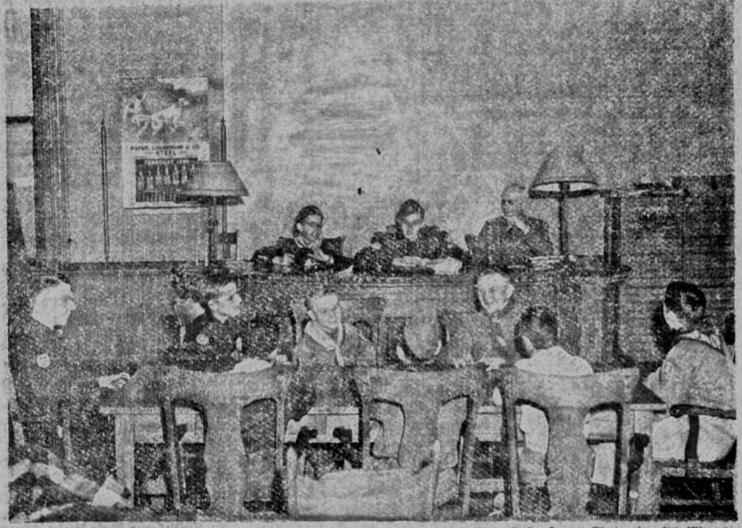

They live in the same house, and both husbands are truck drivers.

When Mrs. Jewell went to the hospital, Mrs. Thornburg went along too.

They had beds side by side and babies the same day — both girls. Mrs. Jewell named hers Ann. Mrs. Thornburg named hers Ann.

HOLDING THE GAVEL of authority is Iowa City's new pint-sized Mayor Jim Pearson Jr. Mayor Preston Koser presented Pearson with the gavel at swearing-in ceremonies in the city council chambers at 9 a.m. yesterday. Mayor Koser is giving Pearson instructions from the Iowa City municipal code.

'Overture To A Comedy'

Clapp's Work To Be Played

"Overture to a Comedy" written by Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the SUI music department, will be played by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Union.

"Overture to a Comedy" was written by Clapp at Ovington, Wash., during the summer of 1933 and revised in 1937. It was first played by the Cleveland Philharmonic orchestra, Dec. 28, 1940, and was performed by the St. Louis Symphony orchestra under Vladimir Golschman in 1943.

The "Overture" was played this year by the Minneapolis group in a concert Jan. 21 under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos, conductor.

The January playing of "Overture" marked the first time since 1928-29 that the Minneapolis orchestra has played any compositions of the SUI professor. During those seasons they played Clapp's "Norge," a tone poem for orchestra and piano, and a prelude, "Summer."

Clapp has also produced two

Business BRIEFS

Buying trips took a number of local business people to metropolitan merchandise shows recently.

Mrs. Helen Gettys, manager and buyer of Aldens millinery department, returned Friday from New York city where she attended a millinery show.

Mrs. Gettys reported that Parisian hats dominated the show and that flowers, feathers and veiling are being accented heavily this year. Large picture hats, cloche hats and bumper hats are very much in vogue this year, she said.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Jackson, of Jackson electric and gift shop, attended two gift shows within the past three weeks.

They attended the California gift show in Los Angeles from Jan. 23 to 29 and the International gift show in Chicago last week.

This year's displays of gifts, Jackson said, are more colorful than in the past, especially in the California show. Much work in gifts is being done this year in ceramics and copper, Jackson said.

Florists in Iowa City were doing a land office business during the last two days. They reported that pre-Valentine's Day sales were "very good."

Business boomed lustily last week at the Capitol theater and Ernie Pannos, manager, said yesterday that the eight day run of "Henry V" was the longest any movie at the Capitol had enjoyed since he took over two and a half years ago.

EBFilms Scholars To Enroll at Iowa

The State University of Iowa has been named one of fifteen colleges and universities where Encyclopaedia Britannica Films tuition scholarships will be awarded for summer study this year, the EB Films scholarship selection board announced yesterday.

The scholarships, awarded annually by EBFilms, producers of educational motion pictures, provide funds to cover the tuition expenses of school teachers and administrators who wish to take advanced study in audio-visual instructional materials.

Interested applicants should apply before May 1 to Dean E.T. Peterson, college of education, who will be in charge of selecting the scholars for this summer's program at SUI.

Byrd Thinks Taft-Hartley Law to Stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Byrd (D-Va) said yesterday that jinking the Taft-Hartley law for the Truman labor bill would be "little short of a tragedy" and could "lead to another depression."

Byrd predicted that congress will keep most of the Taft-Hartley law, and especially the 80-day injunction provision to block "national emergency" strikes.

McClellan Agrees
Senator McClellan (D-Ark.), in a separate interview, agreed with Byrd that the injunction section of the T-H measure should be kept. McClellan added:

"There will have to be a lot more of the Taft-Hartley law in the administration bill before I would vote for it."

The administration measure would repeal the Taft-Hartley law and substitute a modified Wagner act with no provision for court orders against critical strikes.

Humphrey Disagrees
Senator Humphrey (D-Minn) said last night he thinks the Taft-Hartley act can be repealed without the help of all the southern Democrats.

Humphrey predicted in a radio interview that enough Republicans will line up for repeal to offset Democratic defections.

He said Republicans will have to vote to scuttle the measure if they want to be re-elected.

Among those he thinks might vote for repeal, Humphrey named Republican Senators Saltonstall (Mass), Ives (NY), Aiken (Vt), Flanders (Vt) and Knowland (Calif). Of those, only Morse voted against the Taft-Hartley measure when it was enacted in 1947. Morse has said he will vote for repeal.

Hickerson to Soon Set Order Date for Official SUI Ring

The date when the official SUI ring may be ordered will be announced within a week, Alumni Secretary Loren L. Hickerson said yesterday. Final plans for ordering the ring are now being made by the Alumni association and the Student Council, he said.

The ring is to be available in a choice of black onyx, ruby or sapphire stones set in 10-karat gold, Hickerson said. Prices, including all state and federal taxes, range from $16.47 to $18.91 for the women's ring and from $22.57 to $26.23 for the men's ring, depending on the type of setting chosen.

"The alumni association and the Student Council have been interested in securing an official ring for quite some time," Hickerson said. He commended the present council for its work in making all the arrangements for obtaining the ring.

First Italian Minister Arrives in Australia

ADELAIDE, AUSTRALIA (AP) — Dr. Giulio Del Balzo, first Italian minister ever appointed to Australia, has arrived here.

Italy wants wool, wheat, and hides from Australia, the new minister said. In return she can export textiles, tractors, and motor cars, he said.

"In many ways, Australia and Italy are very near to each other," he said.

Cupid's Cards Are Naughty or Nice

SOMETHING SWEET OR SOMETHING SOUR? Like hundreds of other last minute valentine seekers, Stan Smith, A2, Iowa City, faced a problem yesterday. Should that valentine card for the "her" in his life be something amorous and flowery or something grotesque and unflattering? Valentine displays throughout Iowa City show that the business of saying either "I love you" or "drop dead" can easily be accomplished tomorrow by a nickel or up.

Pulitzer Winner To Speak

Pulitzer Prize Winner Nat S. Finney is slated to open the spring semester's Information First series at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. Finney will speak on "Science Gets into Politics," Suzanne Gronna, Information First chairman, said yesterday.

Other speakers scheduled to appear during the semester are Austin E. Finnessy, Feb. 24; Harold Ehrensperger, March 3, and Prof. Hew Roberts, March 10, and Miss Gronna said. The speaker for the March 17 lecture will be announced later.

Finney, manager of the Des Moines Register and Tribune's Washington bureau, received the 1948 Pulitzer prize award for distinguished reporting on national affairs. Last year he also received the Raymond Clapper memorial award.

Both awards were based on a series of articles Finney wrote on "Administration Plans to Impose War-style Censorship on Government Bureaus."

During the past three years, Finney has spent much time studying and reporting the activities of the federal government in science and technology. He is also a staff writer for Look magazine.

Austin E. Finnessy, slated to appear on Feb. 24, is director of education and public relations for the Iowa State Federation of Labor. His topic will be "The Way to Industrial Peace in Our Modern Industrial Society."

Harold Ehrensperger will speak on "The Ambassador to the Taj Mahal," March 3 during SUI's Religion in Life week.

Ehrensperger is editor of "Motiv," a national Methodist student movement magazine with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn. He has spent nine months in India and is interested in drama from the standpoint of religion.

Prof. Hew Roberts, department of education, will speak on some phase of the UN at the March 10 meeting.

Saint Helps Swains

Pitch Her A Li'l Woo

If you have been toying around with the idea of saying something sweet to your sweetheart, but at the right time always get tongue-tied, relax — a little old man years ago invented a gadget which may help you do it tomorrow.

This fellow's name was Valentine, and years before it ever entered your mind to stray from your dolls and electric trains, this guy started a fad which made the business of saying, "I love you," relatively painless.

Way back when Rome was a noun instead of a verb this guy Valentine started sending little folded pieces of paper with greetings on them to his good friends.

Valentine's activities in this field, as well as his life, came to rather an abrupt end when a Roman court tried him for a crime. Some versions say it was a religious matter, while others maintain his poetry was lousy and writing lousy poetry was a crime in Rome at that time.

But Valentine had a lot of friends. They began the practice of giving cards with greetings, usually of an amorous nature, every Feb. 14, the day that Valentine became a candidate for sainthood.

Today many Valentines stress honesty rather than flowery and flattering phrases. These creations, called comic Valentines, infer with grotesque and life-like caricatures that you're almost the equal of a gnat in intellectual capacity, or simply plead, "drop dead, twice."

So you bashful swains and ladies, get in the spirit of Valentine's day — send a loving Valentine to your heart throb. After all it's still a lot cheaper than Christmas — you only sign your life away.

Proof That Advertising Really Gets Results

LA JUNTA, COLO. (AP) — "We really got fine results with that want-ad," a customer told the cashier in the Tribune-Democrat office.

"Did you sell the clarinet?" asked the cashier.

"No, we didn't intend to sell it. We just wanted to scare our boy so he'd practice more."

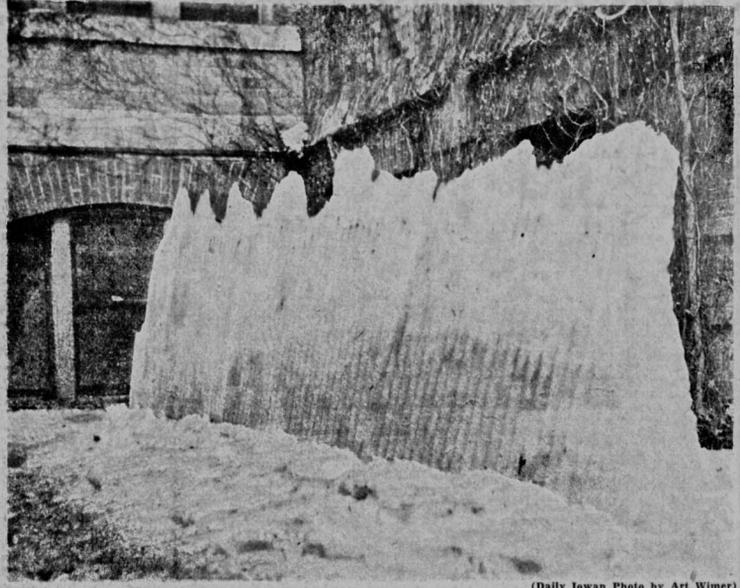

Rev. V. O. Wik to Speak To Baptist Groups Here

The Rev. Victor O. Wik, Des Moines, Christian education director for the Iowa Baptist convention, will speak at Roger Williams house tonight at 7 o'clock.

His speech, "What Baptists Are Doing," will follow a 6 o'clock supper.

Members of Judson fellowship will be guests of Roger Williams fellowship for the evening, Ray Davenport, president of Roger Williams, said yesterday.

British Composers Hail Baby Prince

LONDON — British composers are dedicating music to baby Prince Charles.

Three of them have done so already—by request of the British Broadcasting corporation.

Gordon Jacob wrote "Festal March"; Michal Tippitt "Birthday Suite"; and Herbert Howells "Corydon's Dance."

The BBC Symphony orchestra played them at the Albert Hall under the title, "Music for a Prince."

Kansan Writes For Iowa Law Review

G. Duane Vieth, editor of the Iowa Law Review, announced yesterday that the January issue has been published in the form of a symposium on the subject of recent developments in agricultural law and legislation.

Rep. Clifford Hope (R-Kan.), senior member of the house committee on agriculture, wrote the forward for the review, and other government agricultural experts and economists contributed articles, Vieth said.

Six SUI junior law students also contributed articles on the symposium subject, which are printed in the notes and legislation section of the review, Vieth said.

Students contributing are F. James Bradley, Marvin C. Hayward, Roger H. Ivie, Lynn E. Rhoads, Mary Ann Willet and Leo Ziffren.

Twelve Civil Cases Set for Jury Trial in February Court

District Court Judge James P. Gaffney last week assigned 12 civil cases for trial by jury during the February term of court.

Judge Gaffney set the first case for 10 a.m. Wednesday. The 80 persons drawn for jury duty are ordered to report at that time.

The cases assigned for trial by jury are Mary Ipsen vs. Louis F. Ruess, et al.; Robert Richey vs. Albert Pickering; Margat Bottomley, et al. vs. Treloar Trucking company; Davi L. Maher vs. George Graham, et al.; Earl Hinkley vs. Eastern Iowa Light and Power cooperative.

Robert C. Marshall, Admnr. vs. Mr. and Mrs. E. Frantz; R.J. Denkhoff vs. Walter Noack; Estate of Phillip Katzenmeyer, will contest; Bertha E. Williams vs. J.L. Johnston; George L. Marlas vs. Jos. J. Glassman.

Seibert vs. Iowa City Coach company, and Harriett Hoskinson vs. Roger Fallon, et al.

Judge Gaffney said the cases would be disposed of in order, but that the jury will be recessed from Mar. 1 to Mar. 15, both dates inclusive.

Billfold Reported Lost in Local Dime Store

Loss of a brown alligator billfold was reported yesterday by Mrs. W. O. Herten, 353 Person avenue, police said.

Mrs. Herten said she is certain she lost the wallet, containing a $50 bill and "four or five dollars" in change, in Woolworth's.

Her driver's license and charge account plates from Younker's in Des Moines and Killian's in Cedar Rapids were also in the billfold.
