Police Still Searching for Jail Escapee

Police and county officers were still searching late last night for 27-year-old Austin "Jimmie" Knight, who sawed his way out of the Johnson county jail sometime after 10:30 Friday night and escaped.

Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy said he discovered Knight's absence early yesterday morning. The prisoner had been in his cell at 10:30 p.m. Friday when he made his final check, Murphy said. Knight, who was indicted Tuesday by the grand jury for grand larceny, apparently escaped by breaking out a window pane in his second-story cell window, sawing off two steel bars and bending out a steel mesh screen.

After wriggling through the 9x12 and a half inch opening he had made, Knight lowered himself to the ground with a bed-sheet rope found tied to a cell bar, the sheriff said.

"Knight was of slight build," said Sheriff Murphy, "but still it must have taken him a long time to squeeze through that narrow opening."

The sheriff said Knight is a 27-year-old Negro, with brown eyes and a scar on the bridge of his nose. He is about six feet one inch tall and weighs about 170 pounds.

Knight is believed to have been wearing a gray sweatshirt and gray trousers when he escaped. He might also have taken his yellow straw hat with him, Murphy said.

Also involved in the escape, the sheriff believed, was the theft of an auto belonging to Louis Jett, 219 1/2 S. Capitol street.

Jett lives only two blocks north of the jail. He reported to police early yesterday morning that his car had been stolen sometime after 10:30 p.m. Friday night.

Jett told police his car could easily have been started since the key had been broken off in the ignition switch. He described the car to police as a green 1937 Ford two-door sedan. A state radio alarm for the car was broadcast immediately, police said.

Sheriff Murphy said early yesterday he had no clues as to how Knight got the instrument he used to saw his way out of the jail. No tools had been found inside or outside the jail.

Knight's description and a description of the car which he is believed to have taken were broadcast immediately in the hope of picking him up before he left the state, the sheriff said.

Knight lived in Iowa City at the time of his arrest, but he formerly lived in Hattiesburg, Miss. Knight was arrested Dec. 6, 1948, on a larceny charge. He was accused of stealing a camera owned by Dr. L. H. Jacques, Lone Tree, on Nov. 30.

He was bound over to the grand jury and indicted last Tuesday for grand larceny.

SHERIFF DIES

GLENWOOD (AP) — William De Moss, about 71, sheriff of Mills county for 20 years, died yesterday in Clarinda.

Young Urges T-H Tightening

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mining industry executive yesterday asked congress to help prevent Communism from "further infiltrating into our labor unions."

The appeal came from Howard I. Young, president of the American Mining congress, who said he spoke from "bitter experience."

But Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said American workers "don't need the government to come in and help them get rid of Communists."

Young told the senate labor committee considering a law to replace the Taft-Hartley labor act, that his viewpoint is only common sense in view of the fact that this country is spending "billions of dollars" abroad to keep communism behind the iron curtain.

Young made his plea in denouncing what he termed the "Communist-dominated" CIO union of mine, mill and smelter workers. After Young testified, Nathan P. Feinsinger, a member of the old war labor board, told the committee:

"In no case that I know of has the Taft-Hartley act served to improve relations between the parties gathered around the bargaining table."

Feinsinger, a professor of law at the University of Wisconsin,

Where Prisoner Escaped

IT WAS A TIGHT SQUEEZE but 27-year-old Austin "Jimmie" Knight managed to escape from the Johnson county jail late Friday night through this narrow opening. He broke out the glass, sawed off two bars and bent out the steel mesh screen before lowering himself to the ground with a bed-sheet rope. Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy found the opening measured 9x12 1/2 inches.

Ezra Pound Awarded Top Prize for Poetry

By W. R. HIGGINBOTHAM

WASHINGTON (UP)—Ezra Pound, bearded broadcaster for Mussolini charged with treason and adjudged insane, was awarded a top poetry prize last night by a committee of leading American writers.

The Fellows in American Letters of the Library of Congress gave Pound the first $1,000 Bollingen prize in poetry for his "Pisan Cantos," 11 poems written while behind U.S. army barbed wire in an Italian prisoner of war camp.

The award was established only last year by a grant from the Bollingen foundation, an educational institution with offices in New York. It is to be awarded annually.

Pound, now 64, is in St. Elizabeth's Federal Mental hospital here. Doctors said he has been unbalanced for years.

Pound's "Pisan Cantos" are the latest in a long series of spluttery poetic commentaries upon life and politics. They include lines in praise of Mussolini, for whose fascists he broadcast from Rome during the war, and such items as:

"Oh to be in England now that Winston's out.
"Now that there's room for doubt,
"And the bank may be the nation's."

He was indicted in July, 1943, while the war was still on. Captured, he was returned to his native land, a tweedy, broken, bushy-haired old man. His red beard was streaked with white. He was still loudly anti-capitalist.

HOWARD I. YOUNG

urged that the T-H measure be repealed. He called for re-enactment of the Wagner act with certain additions.

The committee is studying a Truman administration bill which would do those things, although the Wagner act additions it contemplates are not quite the same as Feinsinger advocated.

Hawks Trip Badgers

Mason's Late Free Toss Gives Iowa 61-60 Victory in Thriller

By BUCK TURNBULL

Their backs to the wall, defeat staring them straight in the eye, the Hawkeyes of Iowa roared in a brilliant second half surge to take a 61-60 thriller away from Wisconsin at the fieldhouse last night.

It was by far the most topsy-turvy basketball game seen at the fieldhouse this year and rivaled the excitement of the Dick Ives-Dave Danner-Murray Wier regimes of seasons gone by.

In winning their second Big Nine game of the season and climbing into seventh place in conference standings, the Hawks pulled out of a tailspin which found them behind by 17 points on two occasions midway in the first half.

Two unsung heroes came off the bench for Iowa to spark the lightning surge to victory. They were Bob Vollers, the Keokuk

A to F Tomorrow — Tuition Payments

Tuition fees for the second semester will be due beginning tomorrow, F. L. Hamborg, university treasurer, reminded students yesterday.

All students, including veterans and holders of scholarships of all types, must call at the treasurer's office not later than Thursday to complete their registration. A late fine will be assessed beginning Friday.

Hamborg said that all bills, including fraternity and room and board accounts due in February, must be paid before registration will be completed.

All students should call at the treasurer's office as nearly as possible on the following schedule: A to F, tomorrow; G to L, Tuesday; M to R, Wednesday, and S to Z, Thursday.

Auto, Two Trucks Involved in Accident: Eight Persons Hurt

Eight persons escaped serious injury early yesterday morning when the car in which they were riding was involved in an accident with two semi-trailer trucks near Coralville, highway patrolmen reported.

A ninth passenger, Charles Foster, 21, was described in "good" condition at University hospitals last night. Officials said he suffered a broken collarbone in the accident. They said the other injured were treated for minor injuries and released.

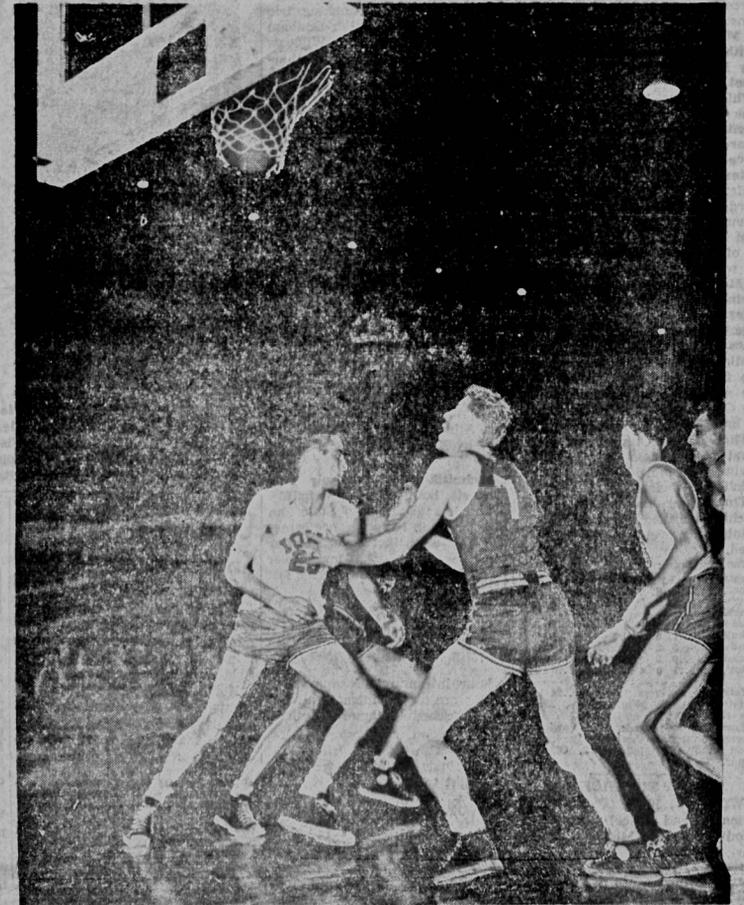

Police said less seriously injured were the driver, C. R. Foster, 42, his wife Verna, Gerald Foster, 23, and his wife Betty, their two children, Michael, 19 months, and Jacqueline, three and one half years old, Alice Bates, 27, and Ronny Foster, 10 years old.

All are residents of Rock Island, Ill., and were driving to Boone. Drivers of the two trucks, S. L. Richardson and A. M. Snyder, both of Des Moines, were not injured. Oathout ambulance attendants reported.

They said they were called to Wayne's corner, the scene of the accident by W. H. Bowers, sawmill operator at 1:30 a.m. yesterday.

Philly Strike Settled

PHILADELPHIA (SUNDAY) Philadelphia's striking CIO transit workers voted early today to end their 10-day walkout for an eight-cent-an-hour fourth round wage increase.

Here's the Free Throw That Counted

eyes started their march with seven minutes left in the opening stanza and never left until Mason dunked in the free throw which produced the one-point win.

The Badgers, led by their hook shot star, Center Don Rehfeldt, and Forward Danny Markham hit their hottest peak of efficiency before the game was six minutes old. At that point they held an 18-6 advantage and had hit seven of their first nine shots. Markham had four of the seven goals in only five attempts.

Wisconsin continued to mount the score while the Hawks fumbled numerous set-up shots, fired passes which found no receiver, and lost their opponents on defense.

Six minutes later and the score standing 27-10 against them, Pops Harrison's cagers had connected on only three of 27 tries at the basket. It was here, however, that they left their lethargic oblivion and turned into a unified ball club.

Mason sank two free throws. Vollers leaped high into the air to bang home a rebound shot. Vollers stood off in the corner and canned a push shot which reduced the deficit to 27-18.

Following a charity toss and a long set shot by Tony Guzowski, Calsbeek began his attack at the basket. His hook shot with two and a half minutes left set the count at 31-23. A half minute later he cracked the cords with a two-handed push shot on the dead run.

A free throw by Wisconsin's Bob Haarlow put the Badgers in front, 32-25, with 30 seconds left in the half. Then Mason arched in a long running push shot seconds before the period closed, setting the halftime score at 32-27, Wisconsin.

The game began to get rough towards the end of the half. Twenty-six personal fouls were called on both teams by the break between periods as well as one technical foul against the Badgers. A total of 48 personals were assessed against the two quintets by the time the game ended.

At the outset of the last half Iowa kept up its barrage at the hoop. However, it was not until seven minutes and fifteen seconds had ticked off on the clock that the Hawks were able

A Pennsylvania mail train crashed into the rear of said engine and caboose with the following results: Freight engine overturned, caboose smashed, diesel engine and four cars derailed, no one injured.

Man or Pig?

Big Hog Title Contest Ended by Frat

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP) — A contest to decide whether a hog can eat more than a man was cancelled yesterday because of "too much publicity that might be detrimental to the University of Michigan."

Paul H. Smith, junior engineering student at the university, and Broadview Perfect Lad, 165 pounds of high-class hog, were slated to participate in the gastronomic venture yesterday morning.

Each was to eat carefully-weighed portions of food, with the contestant downing the heavier amount in eight hours the winner.

But Alpha Tau Omega, Smith's fraternity, and Sigma Nu, backers of Broadview Perfect Lad, decided that "the publicity we're getting with this thing might be detrimental to the school and the fraternity."

"I think I would have won easily," Smith said. "We checked with some feed dealers who told us that a hog that size can eat only about six pounds of grain a day."

"By concentrating on bananas and heavy stuff, I could have done a lot better than that."

Gophers Stop Michigan

Stay Close On Illini Heels

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Minnesota stayed hot on the heels of front-running Illinois in the Big Nine basketball race by snapping a five-game winning streak of Michigan's defending champions, 54 to 47, last night before 10,000 fans.

Minnesota now has won eight conference games in 10 starts and Illinois, idle last night, holds a narrow percentage lead on seven wins and one defeat.

Michigan was unable to cope with the threat, constantly posed by Minnesota's giant center, 6-foot-10-inch Jim McIntyre. While the Wolverines covered the Gopher pivot man with both center Leo Vander Kuy and forward Hal Morrill it left others free to build up Minnesota's winning margin.

Harry Grant, junior Gopher forward from Superior, Wis., broke through for four baskets in the first half and finished with a total of 15 points to share top honors with Michigan's Bob Harrison.

McIntyre himself counted 12 points, the same as forward Meyer (Whitey) Skoog, who left the game in the last two minutes on personals.

Michigan made a fight of it for the first 10 minutes, which saw the score tied five times before the Gophers pulled away to a 24-18 halftime lead.

The Wolverines seemed to lose what effectiveness they had following the intermission, if they didn't lose their fight.

Throughout the second half Michigan trailed from six to 10 points and never seriously threatened.

Iowa Grapplers to Wisconsin

Coach Mike Howard and his Iowa grapplers travel to Madison, Wis., for a dual wrestling meet with the Badgers tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Hawkeyes have posted mat victories over Northwestern and Michigan in conference meets, while dropping a tough decision to Minnesota, 14-13, at the fieldhouse last week.

In the season's opener Iowa was tied by Wheaton college, a team that topped the Badger matmen 24-8. Earlier Wisconsin edged out Iowa State, 15-11.

Coach Howard's eight man squad will with one exception be the same crew that faced Minnesota. "Junebug" Perrin, who was outstanding in tying Verne Gagne, the Big Nine 191-pound champ last year, in the Gopher match, will be replaced by Bob Geigel.

The two heavyweights have alternated all season, neither being able to clearly decide the other. Wisconsin's standout is 165-pound Big Nine champion,

Cats Spill Ohio State

CHICAGO (AP)—Last-place Northwestern handed favored Ohio State a sharp upset, 62-50, in a Big Nine opener to a Chicago stadium basketball twin witnessed by 10,052 last night.

Sparked by a scoring triumvirate which out-talied the Buckeyes' heralded point-making trio of Dick Schnitter, Bob Donham and Bob Raidiger, the Wildcats broke up a nip-and-tuck duel midway in the second half.

The score was tied 11 times and the lead changed hands 11 times before Northwestern staged a surprising spurt which slowly left the Buckeyes behind.

Half way in the final period, the Wildcats nosed in front, 41-36. Ohio State was never able to get back into threatening position.

Ray Ragelis, Northwestern guard, did a great job of checking Schnitter. The sharp-shooting Buckeyes collected only nine points. So did Donham, guarded by Jim Barr and Raidiger who was shadowed by Northwestern's George Maddock.

The Wildcats were paced by Ben Sticken's 14 points, and 13 each by Maddock and Jake Fendley.

Schnitter collected only two baskets, both in the first half. The loss gave Ohio State an even break in 10 conference games and was a distinct surprise after the Buckeyes' 68-60 triumph over powerful St. Louis university last Monday night.

Four Intramural Cage Finals Stated Monday

Four intramural league final games are on the intramural basketball schedule tomorrow night.

At 8:30 p.m. on the varsity floor, Hillcrest C will meet Hillcrest E in the finals of the Hillcrest Heavyweight tourney.

Black will play Totten on the varsity floor at 6:30 p.m. They will meet in the final round of the Town lightweight league.

The Town heavyweight championship will be decided at 7:30 p.m. on the varsity court when Loyola meets Spencer.

In the professional Fraternity heavyweight final, Delta Sigma Delta will meet Nu Sigma Nu at 7:30 on the varsity court to round out basketball games for Monday night.

HAWKS—

This came on a Vollers' push shot which knotted the count at 41-all and set off a thunderous roar from the crowd which lasted for the rest of the game.

With the game tied for the first time, the Badgers began to show the tiring effects of the strenuous action. But they kept right on going.

Haarlow hit a hook shot which was matched by Guzowski's lay-up and the score was tied at 43-all. Then the Badgers pulled out ahead and they weren't caught again until the amazing Vollers put Iowa into the lead, 50-49, with a jumping push shot.

Mason and Calsbeek hit two baskets with Rehfeldt's free toss spaced between, and the score stood at 54-50 in favor of the Hawks with four and a half minutes to go.

Calsbeek suffered his fifth personal foul with three and a half minutes left and received thunderous applause for his fine work when he went out of the game. Free throws by Fred Schneider and Rehfeldt and a push shot by Markham tied the score again at 50-all with three minutes to go.

But back came Mason. Two charity tosses and a driving push shot by little Charlie jumped Iowa into the lead, 58-54.

Vollers and Haarlow traded free throws with less than two minutes left and the Hawks decided to stall out the 59-55 edge. Then Mason was fouled by Willis Zorn. With one minute remaining, Mason swished the gift try and Iowa seemed out of reach. To everyone but Wisconsin, that is.

Rehfeldt was fouled by Guzowski in the act of shooting. He made the first attempt, and then the Badgers took the ball out of bounds. Fifty seconds were left when Rehfeldt plunked in a hook shot, dropping Iowa's lead to two points, 60-58.

Tension mounted when Mason double-dribbled and Wisconsin took possession with 30 seconds to go. However, Doug Rogers missed a long set shot try and Markham fouled Bob Schulz in the ensuing melee under the backboards. Iowa chose to take possession of the ball.

But Schulz, in trying to pass inbounds, fired the ball right into Rogers' hands. The Badger guard flipped the sphere to Rehfeldt and he tied the score at 60-all with a lay-up. Twenty seconds were left on the clock.

Three seconds later Wisconsin's Bob Mader fouled Mason. The Muscatine star gave Iowa the 61-60 advantage when he calmly pocketed the free throw.

But all was not settled. Guzowski fouled Ronald Nord with 10 seconds remaining. Nord missed the free throw and the game was over.

Vollers and Calsbeek hit 14 and 13 points, respectively. Besides Mason's 19 points, Charlie went for most of the last half with four personal fouls against him. Mason had six field goals and seven out of eight free throws. Rehfeldt led the night's scorers with 21 points.

Iowa Five on Road Against First Place Illinois Tomorrow

High-scoring Illinois, leading the Big Nine with seven victories and one defeat, is next in line for the University of Iowa's basketball team when the two collide at Champaign tomorrow night.

The Illini, a cinch for at least a share in the conference title this year, were idle last night while the Hawkeyes were playing host to Wisconsin.

Tomorrow's game will begin at 7:30 p.m. Two Iowa radio stations, WSUI of Iowa City and KRNT of Des Moines, will air play-by-play accounts of the contest.

Iowa's 15-man traveling squad, plus Coach Pops Harrison and Trainer Doyle Allsup, will leave by chartered bus for Champaign today.

The players include Forwards Floyd Magnusson, Charlie Mason, Dick Riecks, Bob Vollers and Al Weiss; Centers Roger Finley, Don Hays, Frank Calsbeek and Glenn Dille; Guards Bob Schulz, Stan Straatsma, Tony Guzowski, Bucky Harris, Tom Parker, and Dick West.

Of those 15 Harrison will probably start Mason and Magnusson at the forwards, either Don Hays or Roger Finley at center, and Bob Schulz and Stan Straatsma at guards.

Illini Coach Harry Combes has four certain starters in Forwards Dike Eddleman and Jim Marks, Guard Bill Erickson and Center Wally Osterkorn. The other position will depend on the Hawkeye lineup.

Since Harrison has been sticking with a smaller, faster team of late, it is likely that Combes will start either Dick Foley or Don Sunderlage, both six-footers, at guard with Erickson.

However, if Iowa chooses to use added height against the Illini, Combes will counter with Walt Kersulis (6-4) at center, move Osterkorn to a forward and shift Marks out to a guard post.

Even though the Illini are the highest scoring outfit in the conference with an average of 59.8 points per game, they have only one player among the first 15 individual scoring leaders. Erickson is 10th in the league with 93 points.

CEDAR RAPIDS—Sky-scraping Gene Hettrick, genius of the basketball court, ran wild against Franklin of Cedar Rapids here last night as his City High teammates romped to a 76-40 triumph.

The 6-foot 4-inch Hettrick rammed home 35 points to establish an individual scoring record for City High on 11 fielders and 13 charity tosses.

Hettrick's performance also hung up a Mississippi Valley conference record of 279 points, 42 more than his contributions last year, the previous high.

The last tilt of the regular season for the Hawkeyes, the win left City High with a season's record of 17-1, and 13-0 in loop play.

At the end of the first period, City High held a shaky 15-14 advantage but with Hettrick's 13-point barrage in the second quarter the Hawkeyes pulled away to a 37-16 halftime margin.

With the Iowa City quintet on the long end of a 57-28 point deficit in the final period a bit of horsplay crept into the one-sided game.

Whitely Diehl hopped on Hettrick's back in the opening play of the final quarter and took a shot at the basket. After rolling around the rim, the ball rolled out.

Engagement Announced

MR. AND MRS. PETER GRAW, CEDAR RAPIDS, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Shirley, to Dr. Stanley H. Biber. Dr. Biber is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Biber, Des Moines. Miss Graw was a junior in the college of liberal arts at the State University of Iowa last semester. Dr. Biber received his B.A. and M.D. degrees from the University of Iowa. After their wedding in April in Des Moines, the couple will reside in Ancon, Panama, where Dr. Biber will complete his residency in surgery at the Gorgas hospital.

Bernice E. French Weds Gene Kaiser In Cleghorn Church

Two University of Iowa graduates were married at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 13, at the Presbyterian church, Cleghorn, when Bernice Eileen French became the bride of Gene H. Kaiser. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. French, Cleghorn. Mr. Kaiser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Kaiser, Iowa City. The Rev. O.H. Frerking officiated at the double ring ceremony. Dorothy McIntosh, Sioux City, served as bridesmaid and Stan C. Kaiser, Iowa City, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Janet Eileen French, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Jimmy French, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Donald Olsen, Sioux City, and Chester Tucey, Iowa City, were ushers. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for relatives and friends. Mrs. Kaiser is a graduate of the school of nursing at the University of Iowa and was employed by the University hospitals for a year. Mr. Kaiser was graduated from the college of electrical engineering at the University of Iowa and will be employed as an electrical engineer for the Consumers Power company at Jackson. On their return from a wedding trip, the couple plan to make their home in Jackson, Mich., after Feb. 21.

Count to Fourteen for Fashion-Wise Style

Rule Coeds' Guide To Proper Dress

Count past ten this time, count to fourteen!

The "fourteen count" is one of the oldest and one of the most important fashion rules. Applied to college coeds it often means the difference between whether you're stepping out well dressed — or over dressed.

The rule is simplicity itself. "Never wear a costume that comprises more than fourteen eye-arresting elements. You should be able to count up to fourteen — BUT NO HIGHER!"

The rule applies to women every day. For example, you want to look your best tonight. You wear a simple navy blue dress with gold rimmed buttons at the waist.

For this big date you want your accessories to have a festive air. You decide on a gold rhinestone necklace, two gold bracelets to match and some gold earrings plus your sorority button. A shiny gold ring with a ruby setting goes on one hand and you wear a shiny gold band on the other hand.

Your shoes are black suede with gold trimmed bows and you take a purse of shiny black leather with a gold clip. White gloves will match the white shorty coat with buttons. Since the coat seems just a bit plain, you add a jeweled clip on the lapel.

But no! Inflation of the "fourteen" count makes you miserably overdressed. The count comes to eighteen, four over the maximum for any girl who wants to look her best.

The rule works very simply. You count one point for each and every accessory. A clip counts one point, and so do earrings, pins or a bracelet. You count one point for each basic article of wear; the dress, shoes and coat.

But if the shoes have a buckle, a bow, or a platform with nail-heads, you add another point to the total. If the dress has buttons, bows, belts, or trim, you also add points for them. Gloves and purse add one point each, but stitching or buttons on them add another. Sequined fabrics, metallic cloth and highly-beaded materials count five in themselves. Before you leave your room you'd better remove at least a few of the ornaments. Off go the hair clip, a bracelet, the earrings, the clip from the coat and the rings. You change from the black suede shoes with the gold trimmed bows to plain black ones and now you are ready to go.

THE "FOURTEEN COUNT" RULE CAN MAKE A BIG, BIG DIFFERENCE. Jerri Briggs, A1, Des Moines, proves. At the left Jerri forgot and put on too many accessories. Gold clips and rings, rhinestones and gold braid all vying for attention make the total result unpleasant. Perhaps her best friend told her! At any rate a few less ornaments help Jerri keep in good taste. In the picture at the left, the "fashion count" comes to eighteen; at the right the count comes to only ten.

Jewish Group to Give Skit of 'Birth of Hillel'

A skit, "The Birth of Hillel," will be presented at Hillel house tonight at a party welcoming new Jewish students on campus.

Open house will be held from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., Social Chairman Dorothy Klawans, A3, Chicago, said yesterday.

Author of the skit is Al Klein, A2, Council Bluffs.

Also on the program will be impersonations by Herb Belkin, A1, Sioux City, and a piano duet by Lea Spiwak, A1, Ottumwa, and Rosie Katz, A2, Valley City, N.D.

Rev. Herrick Young To Speak Tonight

The Rev. Herrick Young, New York, will speak on "Talk of the World" at Westminster Foundation vespers today at the Presbyterian church.

A supper in the church parlors at 4 p.m. will follow his speech.

Mrs. Brainerd N. Covert, Presbyterian student director, said yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Young is secretary of the department of missionary personnel of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions.

He was a missionary in Iran from 1925 to 1935, Mrs. Covert said.

Memorial Fund for ROTC Loans

The Lt. Col. Zedford W. Burriss Memorial fund, contributed to the State University of Iowa in memory of a war hero graduate, will be used for loans to advanced ROTC students, university officials have announced.

The $2,000 trust fund was set up by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Burriss of Des Moines.

The student aid committee's approval and scholastic requirements and also their commanding officer's recommendation must be met by students applying for loans under this fund. A junior standing is also a requirement for eligibility.

For action as commanding officer of a heavy anti-aircraft artillery group in the invasion of the Russell Islands in the Solomons group in late 1942, Burriss was posthumously awarded the Legion of Merit with Presidential citation.

The citation reads in part: "Major Burriss . . . overcoming the manifold obstacles of unfavorable terrain and lack of adequate equipment, soon had his command prepared to function effectively . . . His astute planning and ingenuity . . . were reflected in the . . . high number of enemy aircraft destroyed . . . He served three years in the marine corps with service on South Pacific islands all the way up to Guam. Burriss died Oct. 9, 1944 on Guam. Graduated from SUI in 1937, he was cadet colonel of troops at the university.

Mothers Should Be Educators in Home, Prof. Roberts Says

"Too many mothers nowadays read children's books to their children but are never seen reading adult books," Prof. Hew Roberts of the SUI college of education yesterday told members of the American Association of University Women.

Speaking on "Education of Women in the Modern World," Roberts explained to his listeners at the Iowa Union that the new small family makes it necessary for the mother to be the educator in the home.

She must make the children feel they are an essential quality with other members of the home, he said.

Roberts defined the chief function of the American mother in the modern world as keeping herself sufficiently educated and adjusted to help her family develop and integrate in a "hierarchy of loyalties."

Loyalty to America is the most important loyalty, Roberts said, with loyalty to the state, economic group and the locality falling along in line.

High School Musicians Convene

Workshops Bring 500 SUI Visitors

Brass and woodwind ensemble workshop events drew a crowd of nearly 500 visiting high school music instructors, teachers and students to the north rehearsal hall of the SUI music department yesterday.

The program was the first of two such meetings to be held this month. A second, scheduled for Feb. 26, will feature vocal and string groups.

Yesterday's program included performances by the various high school ensembles followed by a discussion of each number.

Discussions were led by two outstanding men in the brass and woodwind fields. Lloyd Swartley, head of the public school music at Duluth, Minn., criticized the brass groups. George E. Wahn of Oberlin college discussed the woodwinds.

Schools represented on the program were Cedar Rapids (Roosevelt), West Liberty, Marion, Tipton, Iowa City, Davenport, Wyoming, Maquoketa, Anamosa, Clinton (Lyons), West Branch, Marenco, Centerville, Oelwein, Burlington, Le Mars, Creston, Waterloo (East), Chariton, Grinnell and Williamsburg.

"STRENGTH OF TONE IS THE THING," said Lloyd Swartley in his criticism of brass ensembles yesterday. Here, he is discussing the performance of a large brass choir from Maquoketa, during the ensemble workshops in north rehearsal hall.

'Our Town' Refreshing

— Lauds Directing

By BOB SENNISH

The Thornton Wilder play, "Our Town," which opened Friday night at the University Theater, mixes technical cunning with thematic innocence and manages to emerge a pleasant and interesting piece of work. A "theater" play is an extremely good one. But those who would plumb for "deeper meanings" would be cautioned to stop, because they've probably seen and heard this one.

"Our town" is, in a phrase, "grass-roots America." Any similarity between it and countless other small towns is strictly the point. The goodwives feed chicks, go to choir practice, shell peas and gossip like sixty. The men are fine and upstanding solid citizens — a truth attested to by the fact that some 80 percent of them are Protestant in faith, Republican in politics. The Catholic church is over in "Polishtown" — and the ranks of the Democrats are, presumably, too sparse to matter.

The production itself can be best described as "experimental." The play shuns sets and scenery and is thereby able to emphasize the more "human" elements of "our town." Most of the stage business is carried out by the pantomimes of the actors, which are synchronized with off-stage sound effects.

The University Theater's production may be evaluated as a strong and intelligent answer to the technical challenge which the play represents. The various pantomimes are done convincingly enough, the sound effects are not unnatural, and the dual presentation of onstage situations is timed in such a way as not to jar the audience's understanding of what is going on.

All this adds up as a tribute to the play's director, Lewin Goff. It would be over-generous to parcel out similar tributes to the members of the cast. Except for the pantomime, the roles are relatively simple and very stereotyped. In all fairness it must be added, however, that no one member of the cast turns in a performance which in any way harms or dissipates Mr. Goff's excellent directing. And such overall capability is, in the opinion of this reviewer, good acting "writ large."

The role of the stage manager (Shakespeare's "Chorus") receives good treatment in the always-efficient hands of Ray Hill. Most of the time Mr. Hill succeeds in rising above the cracker-barrel philosopher, a possible interpretation of the role. But most noticeable of Mr. Hill's attributes is his manner — for it is easy, graceful, and only rarely self-conscious.

It must be recognized that as Mrs. Gibbs and Mrs. Webb, Julia Elder and Kay Argo are similarly unaffected. Milo Hamilton, as George, seems aware that his is also a quite mediocre role and modifies its "aw-shucksiness" as much as possible. Similar notice may be given to Robert Paulus and John Anderson.

As Emily, Marcia Mary Healy is the one person whose role has any dimensionality to speak of. It is her fine work which, in the final episode, clinches the fact that there is a "great gulf fixed" between the living and the dead.

Notice, if you will, the satire which results from the "man in the audience" routine against the social critic, cultural dilettante, etc. It points up the impeccable plain-folksiness of "our town." To give an account of this quality, however, in the words of a certain Tom Wolfe character, would be like a trip down a sewer in a glass-bottom boat. Mr. Wilder's interpretation of "our town" is somewhat different.

But the matter of exposition is solved in "Our Town" by being episodic and by appealing to the imagination of the audience. The sum effect, due to the technical excellence alone, is indeed novel.

Faculty Members Work on Labor Relations

Five SUI faculty members are on a planning committee now at work on the pattern for the Iowa Institute of Labor - Management Relations, President Virgil M. Hancher announced yesterday.

Establishment of the institute is being undertaken by SUI in consultation with Iowa State college at the direction of the Iowa state board of education.

Representing SUI on the planning committee are Dean Harvey H. Davis of the division of research and teaching, chairman; Prof. Walter L. Daykin, college of commerce; Prof. Clarence M. Updegraff, college of law; Prof. Ralph M. Barnes, college of engineering, and Administrative Dean Allin W. Dakin, representing President Hancher.

According to Hancher the planning committee has already undertaken a study of plans and experiences of other universities which have institutes of this kind.

Farmers to Discuss Corn Borer Control

A meeting to determine the results of corn borer and weed controls will be held Tuesday in the Iowa City Gas and Electric assembly room, Emmett C. Gardner, Johnson county extension director, said yesterday.

Farmers who are interested in the use of chemicals and who used chemicals to control weeds and corn borer in 1948 are invited to attend the 1:30 p.m. meeting, Gardner said.

Former City High Instructor of Music Here for Workshop

Lloyd F. Swartley, former supervisor of instrumental music in the Iowa City public schools, returned here yesterday after an absence of ten years.

Swartley, who is now supervisor of instrumental music in the public schools of Duluth, Minn., came to Iowa City to serve as a clinic director in the one-day brass and woodwind ensemble workshop held at SUI's music department yesterday.

The Swartleys lived in Iowa City for six and a half years. During that time Iowa City high school's orchestra and band, under Swartley's direction, consistently won high ratings in state and national contests.

In the Swartley family wife and husband are both musicians and play in the Duluth Civic symphony. Mrs. Swartley plays the cello, Swartley the bass trombone.

While Swartley directs the band in Denfeld high school, Duluth, and supervises 1,200 music students in the other three high schools, Mrs. Swartley teaches orchestra and vocal groups in Superior State college.

Accompanying the Swartleys to Iowa City was Mrs. Addison Alspach, wife of Dr. Alspach, former member of SUI's music staff. Alspach is now head of the music department at the University of Minnesota-Duluth branch.

The Swartleys and Mrs. Alspach are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Himie Voxman while in Iowa City.

Heads for Currier Choruses Selected

Leaders and assistants for two Currier choruses which will enter the university sing in May were announced yesterday by Dorothy Myers, Currier council president.

Eleanor Briggs, A2, Lisbon, and Kay Phillips, A3, Des Moines, were named leaders.

Loretta Kluhl, A2, Murray, was named accompanist for Miss Briggs' group and Delores Lazio, A1, Davenport, will be secretary.

Currier girls selected to assist Miss Phillips were Harriet Pettigrew, A3, Ottumwa, accompanist, and Shirley Maurer, A3, Tipton, secretary.

Tryouts for all interested Currier residents will be held and the two groups will be chosen from these candidates. The tryout date has not been set, Miss Myers said.

By BILL McBRIDE

SOME OF THE campus wives were given their first opportunity to wear formals this year because their husbands had an excuse to dig out moth-balled uniforms Friday night.

It was these same husbands who three or four years ago could hardly wait to put those olive drab, navy blue and green green suits in storage, swearing never to don them again.

That's one of the strange things about a civilian army. When they're in service they spend all their time talking about the "outside," and when they're civilians again, they bore their wives, sweethearts and mothers to death with tales of valor, humor and pathos.

THE CROWD at the Military ball Friday was divided into three distinct groups: (a) non-veterans and their ladies (b) veterans (c) veterans wives and/or sweethearts.

The non-veterans and their ladies danced, drank cokes and talked of things people usually talk about at formal affairs.

The veterans clustered into little gabby groups, waving arms and crouching with fixed bayonets.

Veterans' ladies tried to look interested in the stories they had heard on many other occasions, but most of them succeeded only in remembering when the funny part of the story came . . . the smiles were not altogether convincing.

BY DRIFTING from one cluster of tale tellers to another it was simple to learn what branch of the service each speaker won the war with.

"And coming out of the fog to our starboard prow was a Jap cruiser, Hirofuchi type . . ." That's the navy.

"And when I came out of the soup I was flying wing tip to wing tip with a squadron of Stukas . . ." That's the airforce.

"And when the haze cleared there were 14 Mark IV's with their turrets blown off . . ." That's the tank men.

"And when we hit the beach they bustled loose with everything they had . . ." That's the marines.

"And damned if every man in the company didn't have diarrhoea . . ." That's the infantry.

HONORARY CADET Colonel Allie Lou Phelps was the best looking soldier of the lot. There were many remarks to the effect that she could command the regiment any old time she wanted to.

WITHIN ANOTHER two years many of those uniforms will be too small for such events. There is an appreciable gain of fatty tissue in the veterans ranks, and most of it establishes a beachhead at the waistline and rear echelon.

Soon the O.D.'s and the blues and the greens will have to be packed away for good, to be shown only on a hangar to wide-eyed grandchildren.

That's the dandy part about saving war stories. There is always another generation to stand around in awe while an old soldier fabricates tales of heroism.

I HAVEN'T seen so many good conduct medals since VJ day. If those veterans attending the Military ball had spent as much time polishing their brass in service as they obviously did for the Friday event, we would still be fighting the war.

All in all, it was really the ladyfolk who were the martyrs at the ball . . . particularly those in strapless gowns.

The result of constant contact of bare shoulders with cold, sharp-edged medals and ribbons gave them the chilled fantods.

Despite all this, I haven't heard one person say he didn't enjoy himself.

ANALYSIS OF THE WORLD'S NEWS AS —

IT HAPPENED LAST WEEK

Cold War

Russ to Deport Strong; AFL Asks 'Slave' Probe

During a week barren of sensational, spectacular or even hot news, the routine clawing of the east-west cold war commanded top place in the nation's press.

Anna Louise Strong — The pro-Soviet American journalist who has spent much of the past 28 years in the Soviet Union was arrested by secret police in Moscow — accused of being a spy.

Soviet newspapers carried the announcement: "The well-known American spy, the American newspaperwoman A.L. Strong, who penetrated the Soviet Union as the result of the negligence of certain officials . . . was arrested yesterday. Mrs. Strong was incriminated in spying and sabotage activity against the Soviet Union. It is reported that she will be deported beyond the confines of the Soviet Union within a few days."

Slave Labor? At a boisterous meeting of the UN economic and social council at Lake Success, the AFL produced affidavits from former inmates of Soviet slave labor camps. The U.S. delegation backed the labor organization in a resolution calling for an investigation of the Russian labor camps.

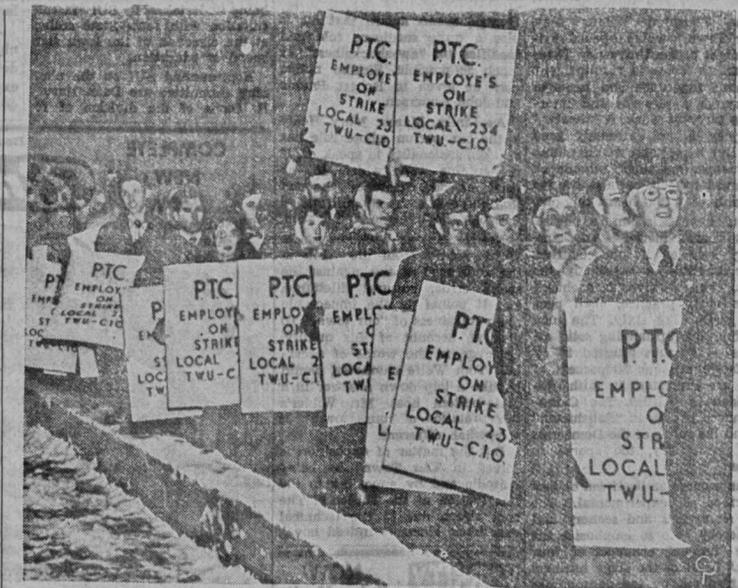

Trieste. Russia proposed that the UN security council name a Swiss lawyer as Governor of Trieste. But western spokesmen dismissed the proposal, pointing out that Russia has stalled agreement on a governor for the internationalized zone for the past 18 months. The west now wants to give Trieste to Italy.

Religion. Following the Mindszenty trial in Hungary, the puppet government demanded the recall of U.S. minister Selden Chapin. The minister left for home but the U.S. has taken no formal action to remove him or his staff. Hungarian minister to the U.S., Andrew Sik, was being heavily guarded after receiving a death threat from an embittered American who once was jailed by Hungarian police.

In Bulgaria, the trial of 15 Evangelical ministers accused of treason will begin next Friday. Meanwhile, the foreign minister introduced a government bill in the Bulgarian parliament calling for the cutting of all relations between Bulgarian churches and religious bodies in other countries.

WHO. Russia and two satellites stomped out of the World Health organization stating the agency was inefficient and over-expensive. It was the only UN specialized agency Russia belonged to.

North Atlantic Pact. Scandinavia continued to straddle the wobbly neutrality fence while the U.S. senate was making sure that the proposed pact would not commit the country to war without congressional sanction.

The Economy

Truman Is Optimistic, So Is Bell Telephone

Following the price breaks the week before, the Truman administration spent last week soothing troubled brows.

The President led the parade himself. He termed the present price drops the leveling-off that everybody has been expecting and stuck to his demands for a $4-billion tax boost. The administration, apparently sensing future living cost upsurges, sent an appeal to congress for anti-inflation powers.

Specifically requested are stand-by powers to impose controls over wages, prices and scarce commodities, plus power to build industrial plants if needed to speed production.

The world's largest corporation, the Bell telephone system, wasn't too worried about the future. It was considering a new stock issue to raise $391-million to finance a gigantic expansion and improvement program.

Congress

Administration Money, Exporting Bills Pass

To the tune of GOP shouts of "socialism" and 19 opposing votes, the house of representatives approved a miscellaneous appropriation bill.

ation bill of $471,895,177 to run 35 federal agencies and offices. The measure went to the senate.

The GOP fuss was over $2-million for a TVA steam power plant at New Johnsonville, Tenn.

Other GOP cries of "managed economy" greeted a senate-approved bill extending export controls until June 30, 1951, when it reached the house. It passed also, 259 to 102, and returned to the senate for approval of minor amendments.

Among the witnesses at senate hearings on repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, AFL President William Green said the closed shop ban is hampering efforts to drive Communists out of labor unions; Sen. Morse (R-Ore), said it was "an insult to loyal labor leaders" to have to swear out non-Communist affidavits; General Electric President Charles E. Wilson urged congress to keep injunction powers against strikes in atomic plants and other vital industries.

Chaim Weizmann Elected First Israeli President

Spotting the pin-points on this week's news map:

Israel — The nation's first elected assembly was sworn in. It promptly elected elder statesman Dr. Chaim Weizmann as Israel's first president. To add to the spirit, UN officials on Rhodes reported Israel and Egypt were inching close to agreement on a Holy Land armistice.

France — The cost-of-living index nosedived when farm produce prices crashed. Fear of new economic problems and unemployment cropped up.

Portugal — Puppet President Antonio Oscar de Fragosa Carmona, who has held the office since 1926, was re-elected for another seven-year term. It was the first time the government allowed an opposition ticket on the ballot in 22 years.

Far East — While Karen tribesmen stepped up their civil war against the Burmese republic, Siamese Premier Songram declared a state of national emergency in order to combat a growing threat of Communist domination.

Philadelphia Transit Strike Ties Up City

A strike of Philadelphia's CIO transport workers union had the city's subway, trolley and bus service paralyzed last week. Union-management negotiations for a pay raise continued through the week. The city's AFL taxi drivers union pulled a three-day wildcat strike on the Yellow cab monopoly. They returned when the company agreed to negotiate.

The feud between the CIO auto workers and the CIO farm equipment workers simmered last week. The UAW refused a FEW offer to hold a union member vote in the Iowa-Illinois "Quad City" area to decide which union would represent the workers.

The FEW membership heavily outweighs the auto workers' members in the Quad Cities. The UAW distributed organizing handbills at the International Harvester plant in Chicago without any violence.

Iowa

House Revamps Bonus Plan; State GOP Hit

Iowa's house of representatives turned down the senate's vets bonus plan financed mainly from the state treasury surplus. The house passed an amended bill financing $36,125,000 (half the senate's amount) from the surplus and raising the rest from bonds.

A bill was introduced in the senate calling for creation of an interim legislative committee to study the reorganization of state government departments and commissions.

Drake university Young Republicans requested the resignations of Harrison Spangler and Mrs. Charles Hickman as members from Iowa on the GOP national committee. The state GOP leadership was labeled "not representative and consisting of undesirable figureheads."

Enrollment Sets Mark; Mitropoulos in Bad Mood

committee tentatively set the date of campus elections as March 30 and tightened up candidate qualifications.

Dimitri Mitropoulos arrived in town with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra for a university concert series in a bad mood — his wallet containing $300 was stolen the evening before in St. Louis.

Names in the News

Mr. and Mrs. Laszlo Sulner — Two Hungarian handwriting experts, they escaped to Austria to tell American authorities they helped forge some of the documents used to convict Cardinal Mindszenty. They brought microfilm evidence with them.

Hazel Scott — The famed Negro pianist filed suit in a federal court for $50,000 damages from a Pasco, Wash., restaurant proprietor who refused to serve her.

Fred A. Hartley Jr. — The co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor law (who did not run for reelection in November) accepted the presidency of the Tool Owners union, described as an organization representing 50 - million Americans — "people like investors, farmers, small businessmen and those who live on savings or income from property." He will register in Washington as a lobbyist.

Army Secretary Royal — Upon returning from a tour of the Orient, he vigorously denied remarking to newsmen in Tokyo that the U.S. would withdraw from Japan in the event of war with Russia.

Americans May Run New Pact

LONDON (AP) — An American general, perhaps Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, probably will take over the top military job of planning Atlantic and western European defenses after the Atlantic pact is signed, it was learned yesterday.

Western Europeans expect such a development. Most of them want it. And many American officials believe it will be the only logical solution once the United States signs the proposed pact and starts to send arms to western Europe.

Eisenhower is the man most mentioned in speculation for the job of over-all commander or chairman. Such speculation has been spurred by his recall to Washington to be temporary chairman of the joint chiefs of staff during their discussion of armaments for Europe. The Atlantic security pact will unite nations with peacetime armies totalling well over 3-million men for joint defense against any surprise attack from the east.

The five western union powers — Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — already have established a joint military committee to make preliminary plans for a common defense. Their armies total 1,567,000 men and they reportedly plan to establish joint mobile forces totalling 50 divisions, or nearly 500,000 men.

With the signing of the security pact, the United States with its armed forces of 1,665,300 men and Canada with 39,000 armed men will join the western European nations in the greatest peacetime alliance in history.

Ring Sale Marks SUI Birthday

Prices Range From $16-$26

Opening sale of the new official SUI ring will coincide with the 102nd birthday of the university. First orders will be taken on Founder's day, Feb. 25, Alumni Secretary Loren I. Hickerson announced yesterday.

A special table will be set up in the lobby of the Iowa Union Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. by the Alumni association to handle initial sales. Rings may be ordered after Feb. 25 through the Alumni office in Old Capitol.

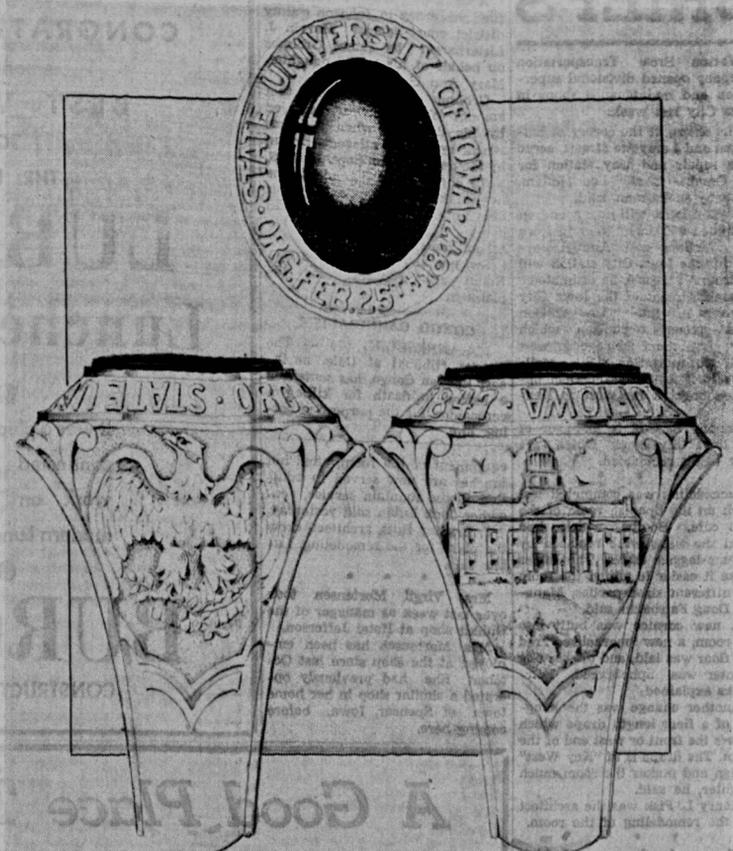

Students ordering the first 100 rings will be recognized as "charter wearers," Hickerson said. These first purchases, which will be extended to students only, will be kept on permanent record in the Alumni office, he added.

Details on the ring are:

- Type — A choice of three stone settings is offered — black onyx, sapphire or ruby — set in 18-carat gold. The medium size and weight of the ring is similar to the official University of Illinois ring.
- Price — Total cost of the ring including state and federal taxes is: women's 10-carat gold with black onyx, $16.47, with sapphire or ruby, $18.91; men's 10-carat gold with black onyx, $22.57, with sapphire or ruby, $26.23.
- Design — The words "State University of Iowa, Org. Feb. 25th 1847" will be inscribed around the oval-shaped stone. Replicas of Old Capitol and the university seal's hawk are inscribed on either side of the ring.
- Qualification — Student qualifications set by the Student Council permit undergraduates who have reached senior standing in the colleges of liberal arts, engineering, commerce, pharmacy and the school of nursing to purchase the ring. All students registered in the graduate and professional colleges (graduate, medicine, law, dentistry or education) may purchase the ring. All alumni who eligible for membership in the Alumni association may order the ring.
- Delivery — Rings ordered from Feb. 25 through March 25 will be delivered in May, according to the Balfour company, Attleboro, Mass., manufacturers of the ring. Orders placed after March 25 will be delivered upon receipt. Arrangements for mailing the ring to the purchaser's home may be made through the Alumni office.

The graduation ring is the result of arrangements made by the Student Council.

Last month the council recommended that an official ring be established and submitted specifications to the president's office.

SUI'S NEW OFFICIAL GRADUATION RING will go on sale Founder's day, Feb. 25. The ring will be available in a choice of black onyx, sapphire or ruby stones set in 18-carat gold. The words "State University of Iowa, Org. Feb. 25, 1847" is engraved around the oval-shaped stone as shown above (top). Replicas of Old Capitol and the university seal's hawk are engraved on either side of the medium weight ring.

Band to Try Singing Number

An experiment in singing bands will be featured Wednesday by the SUI concert band, Prof. C. B. Righter, director of SUI bands, said yesterday.

"Landighting," a selection by Grieg, will be performed at the 8 p.m. concert by a chorus of about 55 vocalists. These vocalists are members of the band chosen for their choral abilities. The rest of the band will accompany the chorus.

Baritone soloist for the "Landighting" number will be Offie L. Leeper, A3, Leon.

"Landighting," Righter said, was originally written for performance by a male chorus with orchestral or organ accompaniment. This performance will be the first by the SUI concert band.

The band, under the direction of Righter, will present the following program at the concert:

"Valse" from "The Sleeping Beauty" ..... Tschalkowsky

"Overture" - "Prince Igor" .. Borodin

"Pantomime" from "Il Cid" (including the March, Aria, and Finale) ..... Sacchini

"Landighting" ..... Grieg

"Polka and Fugue" from "Schwanda and the Bagpiper" ..... Weinberger

"Dance Bohemienne" from "The Fair Maid of Perth" ..... Bizet

"Menuet" (for woodwind band) .. Bolzoni-Righter

"Russian Sailor's Dance" from the

Razors Taboo in Engineers' Competition

Beards will begin to sprout on the chins of SUI's student engineers next week as the annual Mecca week beard-growing contest officially gets under way. Publicity Chairman Robert S. Stooker, E2, said yesterday.

According to the rules of the contest, all engineering students must forego shaving from tomorrow through March 17, or suffer the jibes of their fellow-engineers.

During the engineer's smoker the night of March 17, the beards will be judged and prizes awarded for the longest, the most distinctive—and the poorest. Any contestant showing signs of a recent shave will be automatically disqualified under contest rules.

The beard-growing contest is a part of SUI's annual Mecca week, which will disrupt the peace and quiet of the college of engineering from March 12 through 19. This traditional interruption of normal activities has taken place each year since 1910.

Other activities tentatively planned for Mecca week are: the hunt for the Blarney stone, hidden somewhere in or around Iowa city by last year's seniors; the Mecca ball; presentation of the Mecca queen, and open house for interested students and visitors.

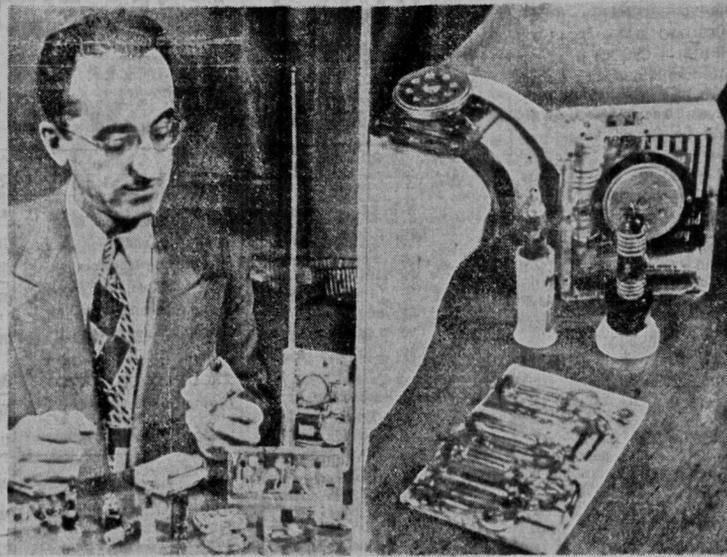

Mecca week was originally designed to honor St. Patrick, patron saint of all engineers. Stooker said. The word "Mecca" is composed of the first letters of the five branches of engineering—mechanical, electrical, civil, chemical and aeronautical.

Industrial Papers Judged by Pownall

Fred M. Pownall, director of publications at SUI and publisher of The Daily Iowan, served as one of the judges for the 12th annual contest of the Industrial Editors' association of Chicago recently.

Several industrial publications in the Chicago area were entered in the contest, in which winners are recognized for "exceptional accomplishment in editorial content, improvement and effectiveness of appearance."

Science Catches Up With Comic-Strip Hero

DICK TRACY'S WRIST-RADIO COMES TO LIFE as a result of the efforts of Dr. Cleo Brunetti, associate director of the Stanford Research Institute, Menlo Park, Calif. In the picture at left, Brunetti holds one of several miniature broadcasting sets he has developed. It is contained in a case no larger than a cigarette package and needs only a battery set before it can be operated. The wrist-radio is pictured at right strapped to Brunetti's wrist. Also on his desk are two lipstick-size transmitters minus batteries and microphones, the cigarette package set and a four-tube receiving set Brunetti designed for the tiny transmitter.

Pullman to Give Religion Talks

Returning next week for the second year as speaker for Religion in Life week will be the Rev. Tracy Pullman, minister of the Unitarian Universalist church, Detroit.

The Detroit minister is being brought here by students of the Unitarian church. During Religion in Life week, Feb. 27 to Mar. 3, he will participate in seminars and informal discussion groups.

The Rev. Mr. Pullman was very popular as a Religion in Life week speaker last year, the Rev. Evans A. Worthley, Unitarian minister here, said yesterday.

After returning to Detroit last year, the Rev. Mr. Pullman gave a sermon on his experiences as an SUI Religion in Life week speaker, the Rev. Mr. Worthley said.

In the sermon the Detroit minister said he was impressed by the interest of students and the questions they asked in discussion groups.

REV. TRACY PULLMAN

The Detroit minister has been active in social work there, participating in conferences on race relations and labor problems. He is also active in the Detroit round-table of Catholics, Jews and Protestants and is a member of the Detroit Youth commission.

The minister went to Detroit in 1940. He previously served as minister at Universalist church, Salem, Mass., and the First Unitarian church, Cleveland.

He attended Bates college, Lewiston, Maine; Tufts college, Boston, and St. Lawrence university, Canton, N.Y.

Concert Band Gives Drollinger Head Job

Ralph L. Drollinger, G, Iowa City, was elected president of the SUI concert band in last week's election. Prof. C.B. Righter, director, said yesterday.

Others elected to office were Edward L. Sullivan, A4, Iowa City, vice-president, and William R. Mumma, G, Jamestown, Mich., secretary.

Francis W. Kluesner, G, Dyersville, and Offie L. Leeper, A3, Leon, were elected as band council members.

The officers of varsity and concert bands and two council members from each band constitute the band council.

Business BRIEFS

Watson Bros. Transportation company opened divisional supervision and maintenance shops in Iowa City last week.

The shops, at the corner of Du-buque and Lafayette streets, serve as a repair and way station for the Omaha firm, Leo Mellam, company spokesman, said.

Watson Bros. will now spend an estimated $500,000 a year in Iowa City, Mellam said. Annual payroll for the Iowa City station will be around $250,000, he estimated.

Establishment of the Iowa City shops is in line with Watson Bros.' recent expansion which now gives them Chicago to west coast transportation rights, Mellam said. Previously the firm operated only as far west as Denver.

Francis L. Cox is manager of the Iowa City shops which are now being remodeled.

Remodeling was completed last week on the Spanish room of the D/L cafe. Booths which had lined the walls were replaced by chrome-legged tables. The tables make it easier to adjust the room for different sized parties, Manager Doug Fairbanks said.

A new cornice was built into the room, a new "marbelized" red tile floor was laid, and the serving counter was upholstered, Fairbanks explained.

Another change was the hanging of a floor length drape which covers the front or west end of the room. The drape is of "Key West" design and makes the room much brighter, he said.

Henry L. Fisk was the architect for the remodeling of the room.

The new lunch room at Lubin's drug store was opened officially Friday.

The newly remodeled room which seats 33 people now has four booths and two U-shaped eating counters.

A grill has been added to the

James Grolmus Files $25,000 Damage Suit

A $25,000 damage suit was filed yesterday in Johnson county district court against Marvin J. Listerbarger by James Grolmus on behalf of his minor daughter, Mary Ann Grolmus.

Grolmus asked damages in that amount for injuries received by his daughter when she was struck by an auto allegedly driven by the defendant on Sept. 12, 1945.

He charged the defendant was negligent in failing to have his auto under proper control and in driving at excessive speeds in a school zone.

Swisher and Swisher and D.C. Nolan are attorneys for the plaintiff.

CONGO CANNIBALISM

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — The district tribunal at Uele, north-east Belgian Congo, has sentenced a native to death for killing a companion for the purpose of eating him.

equipment of the room, and hot lunches are now served in addition to the fountain service, co-owner Jack Lubin said yesterday. J. Bradley Rust, architect, drew the plans for the remodeling, Lubin said.

Mrs. Virgil Mortensen took over last week as manager of the Dunkit shop at Hotel Jefferson.

Mrs. Mortensen has been employed at the shop since last October. She had previously operated a similar shop in her home town of Spencer, Iowa, before coming here.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

NATHAN AUSUBEL tells about a merchant from Chelm who drove his horse and loaded wagon to a neighboring town and was asked by a prospective customer, "What are you selling today?" The merchant whispered in his ear, "Oats." "Why the secrecy?" demanded the customer. "S-s-sh," soothed the merchant. "Not so loud. I don't want the horse to hear."

A chorus girl from the Ziegfeld Follies was tried for creating a disturbance in a bar and grill. The appreciative foreman of the jury announced, "We find the defendant curvaceous, breath-taking, lovable, calypsonian—and oh, yes, not guilty."

A teacher asked, "If a number of sheep is called a flock, and a number of quail is called a bevy, what would a number of camels be called?" The nine-year-old ad reader answered, "A carton."
