'American's' Book Hits at Diplomats

MOSCOW (AP)—American diplomats are the target of a little book — newly published by the Russians — which bears the name of Annabelle Bucar, the Pennsylvania girl who quit her job with the U.S. information service here a year ago.

The book is called "The Truth About American Diplomats." Its 132-pages contain such charges as these:

An "extreme anti-Soviet wing" of the U.S. state department is trying to foment war with the Soviet Union.

The U.S. information service is really a setup for intelligence work.

U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith operated in the black market and ordered Russian employees to sell valuables for him.

Counselor Elbridge Durbrow, a native of San Francisco, was an active speculator in the black market.

Large speculators go back to the United States with "tens of thousands of dollars worth" of art works, illegally exported.

Togliatti Says Pope Seeking Formation Of 'Holy Alliance'

ROME (AP) — Italy's No. 1 Communist, Palmiro Togliatti, yesterday leveled an attack on Pope Pius XII which may mark an important change in Italian Communist policy.

Togliatti released proof sheets of an article to be published over his signature in the Communist weekly, Vie Nuove, accusing the Pope of seeking a "holy alliance" against Communist nations. Its caption: "God and the Atlantic Pact."

The Communist policy in predominantly-Catholic Italy has been to avoid a fight with the Vatican. Observers feel abandonment of that policy would be an admission the Communists have failed to win Italy's masses with promises to improve their way of life.

Togliatti himself in the past has followed the Communist live-and-let-live attitude toward the Vatican. In the constituent assembly, he threw the Communist vote behind the church — state Lateran pacts.

His about-face came suddenly, and was phrased in sarcastic terms.

The Moscow-trained Communist chief wrote critically of the Pope's calling of special masses April 3 "to expiate the crime of the enemies of God" in sentencing Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary to life imprisonment.

He assailed, even more vehemently the papal statement welcoming "the steps that have been taken to unite states together in ever closer alliances" designed to avert war.

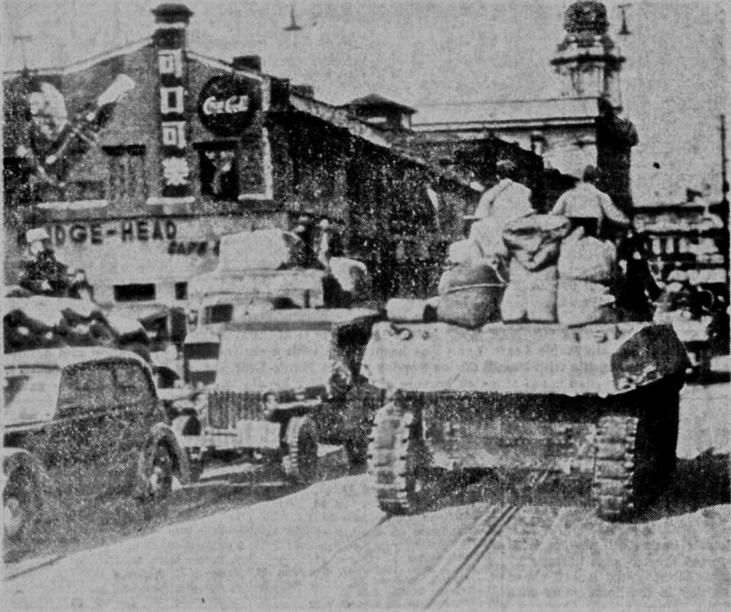

Togliatti called the latter statement an endorsement of the proposed north Atlantic defense alliance, formation of which the Russians oppose.

Truck, Bus Collide; Bus Driver Injured

Passengers on a city bus, loaded to capacity, escaped injury yesterday at 8 a.m. when the coach and a truck driven by Edwin E. Fuller of Victor, collided in the 500 block on S. Gilbert street, police reported.

William Kindl, driver of the bus, received chest and abdominal bruises and a bruised ankle when the impact pushed the bus' steering apparatus against him, police said.

Fuller was charged in police court with driving on the wrong side of the street, according to police reports. They said he was found guilty but the fine was suspended because of the icy street conditions.

Chinese Tanks Head North for Battle

Grades Ready Friday

Last semester's grades will be available to students Friday, Registrar Ted H. McCarrel said yesterday.

The grades will be distributed at the windows in the hall outside the registrar's office.

Hoover Commission Hands Agricultural Report to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hoover commission yesterday handed congress a report by its agriculture task force which opposed high, rigid farm price supports because they "expose the government to large financial losses."

The commission itself recommended a sweeping reorganization of the agriculture department to weed out "unnecessary employees" and eliminate "overlap, conflict and waste." It also called for an overhauling of the department's state, county and local units.

The commission submitted the price support report without comment and thus refrained from taking sides in the battle over rigid versus flexible supports which has split the congressional farm bloc.

But the task force endorsed the new system of flexible and lower supports which go into effect on 1950 crops unless congress changes the law. It urged that "no legislative action" be taken to extend the present high supports.

The report also said that congress should keep a sharper eye on the money spent for farm supports and bring into the open the amounts actually spent.

Czech Regime Marks Birthday By Tightening Security Moves

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA (UP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist regime yesterday marked its first anniversary by tightening security measures and ordering followers to "go over to the offensive" against their enemies.

It said these enemies were receiving financial support from the west and criticized party officials and members for "wavering" under pressure.

As the government began a series of official commemorations of the February 1948 coup, these were the developments:

1. Armed party members were ordered to patrol the streets of Prague.

2. A confidential party circular issued to its 10-man cells warned that "foreign imperialists" are Czechoslovakia's principal enemies and called for an end to a "tolerant" attitude toward "capitalist remnants."

3. Highways leading out of Prague were closely checked for several days last week. Even cabinet ministers were stopped for identification. The road — blocks disappeared over the week-end, but spot checks reportedly are still being made.

4. Police have been making identity checks for several days in street cars, cafes, and restaurants in Prague.

5. Saturday night, police threw a tight cordon around Prague's international telephone central — which would be a key point in any attempted disturbance — and scrutinized the papers of every visitor.

6. Parliament yesterday set the stage for a purge in the army by passing a bill to reorganize the officer corps and permit the dismissal of officers who "failed to comprehend the principles of peoples democracy."

Russ Official Urges 'Combat Readiness' On Army Birthday

LONDON (AP) — Marshal Nikolai N. Bulganin, Soviet minister of the armed forces, called on Russian soldiers last night to "indefatigably maintain constant combat readiness on a high level" because the United States seeks to rule the world by force, Moscow radio said.

Bulganin sounded the call in an order of the day to mark the 31st anniversary of the Soviet army, Moscow said.

"While the ruling circles of the United States of America seek to establish their world domination by force and pursue a policy of aggression and of unleashing a new war, the Soviet union is successfully carrying into life the plan for the development of the national economy and is perseveringly striving for a lasting democratic peace throughout the world," Bulganin said.

"In these conditions the Soviet armed forces must indefatigably maintain constant combat preparedness on a high level.

"The Soviet people may rest assured that our army, air force and navy will vigilantly stand guard over their socialist homeland.

Bulganin ordered 20 salutes of artillery fired in Moscow, capitals of Soviet union republics and in other cities in honor of the day.

Paper Plans to Use Label on Communists

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Journal of Commerce said last night that it will henceforth label as Communistic in its news columns all groups and organizations listed as such by the house committee on un-American activities.

The newspaper said the move was designed to force such groups "out in the open," and to "protect businessmen from unwitting exploitation by these subversive elements."

It planned to publish in its Wednesday editions a front page box explaining the policy, and a list of the 564 organizations cited as Communist or Communist front by the house committee.

Any reference to such organizations in news stories will be followed by a parenthetical identification of them as Communist, the newspaper said.

Thaw Increases Fear of Floods

Demonstration of Chain Reaction

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The family dog caught its tail in the washing machine gears yesterday, and Mrs. Marie Eldridge's wash day exploded into a chain reaction.

The gears locked, and an electric fuse blew out. Kenneth Eldridge, 6, went to the rescue of his pet, and was slipped on the cheek. The boy was taken to City hospital for treatment and then released.

Police extricated the dog.

Warm Spell To Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mild weather gave snow removal in the midwest a big lift yesterday.

It also renewed the threat of flooding.

The weather bureau issued a new alert to residents living along the Nemaha river in southeast Nebraska. It also warned that the Nishnabota which flows through southeast Iowa into the Missouri might also overflow with the renewal of thawing.

The Nemaha was down another foot at Falls City, Neb., to 14.34 feet yesterday, nearly 12 feet below the crest last week-end which caused inundation of about 23 square miles of bottom lands. Flood stage there is 21.50 feet.

Severe temperatures in the upper basin of the Missouri have helped hold back the flood threat.

From Oklahoma to North Dakota the weather generally was fair and sunny with above freezing temperatures. Much snow was reported melting and the weather bureau forecast a continuation of thawing temperatures today.

Warmer weather also prevailed over the northern rocky mountain states. Temperatures climbed to the middle and high forties in Montana, Idaho and north western Nevada. In Wyoming and Colorado they ranged from 55 to 60. In Utah, temperatures remained slightly under freezing.

The flood-threat extended to the Pacific Coast. In California, two communities in Del Norte county were menaced by the Smith river, already at road level. Telephone communication to the towns of Smith River and Fort Dick were cut off.

Over the eastern part of the nation, snow was reported in New England, with rain in New York, the middle Atlantic states and the Appalachian region.

French Cooperation Seen by Communist

PARIS (AP) — Maurice Thorez, secretary general of the French Communist party, predicted yesterday that the French people would cooperate with the Russian army in the event it occupied France in any future "anti-Soviet war."

Addressing an emergency meeting of the party's central committee, Thorez said the Red army would be received in France as it had been in Poland, Romania, and Yugoslavia.

He said he made the statement in reply to questions asked by "enemies of the people seeking to embarrass us."

If our people were dragged against their will into an anti-Soviet war, and if, in these conditions, the Soviet army, defending the people's cause and the cause of Socialism, was led to drive out the aggressors from our soil, could the workers behave differently toward the Soviets?"

Tuition Payments

Students whose last names begin M to R should pay their tuition fees at the treasurer's office today from 8 to 12 noon and 1-5 p.m.

The fine for late payment of fees will be an additional $2.00 on Feb. 25 with $1.00 added for each day of delay thereafter.

The assessment for late fee payment will apply to all students who have not paid their second semester fees by tomorrow at 5 p.m.

Keep Lewis in Mind, Coal Spokesmen Say

WASHINGTON (UP)—Spokesmen for the soft coal industry yesterday urged congress to keep John L. Lewis and the threat of another coal strike in mind in drafting a new labor law.

They strongly urged retention of the Taft-Hartley law, saying its injunction weapon indirectly forced Lewis, president of the United Mine workers, to call off his strike last spring.

The industry's views were presented to the senate labor committee by Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, and James W. Haley, secretary and general counsel of the National Coal Association.

The committee is nearing the end of hearings on the administration's bill to repeal the GOP-sponsored law outright and revive the old Wagner act with "improvements."

Moody pointed out that present contracts between Lewis and the bituminous producers expire June 30, and added:

"We feel that unless the safeguards of the Taft-Hartley law, which enabled us to reach a contract in 1948, are continued, the country may again face a crisis in coal."

Haley argued that use of the Taft-Hartley injunction last spring benefitted both the industry and the national welfare — "the national welfare far more than the industry."

The administration bill provides for a 30-day "cooling off" period in national emergency disputes and would require both parties to "continue or resume work." But there is not provision for an injunction to enforce it.

Sen. Forrest C. Donnell, (R., Mo.) asked Haley if he thought the administration approach would work.

Explosions Wreck Fireworks Plant

CANTON, MASS. (AP) — Three monster explosions blasted the Rockland Fireworks company to bits last night and terrified residents in a 20-mile radius.

Apparently no one was injured but the explosions shattered windows in homes as far as six miles away. They rocked houses in Boston and scores of south shore towns.

The three buildings of the company were completely leveled by the explosions and fire that followed. Half a dozen surrounding towns sent ambulances and the Red Cross dispatched a mobile unit from Brockton, but none was needed.

McGrath Asks More Senators

TOPEKA, KAN. (AP)—Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D—R. I.) said last night he will propose to congress that three senators instead of two be elected from each of the states.

The chairman of the Democratic National committee said he will present this "challenging" proposal to the nation's lawmakers this session as a means by which the federal government "may more efficiently meet its growing responsibilities."

In a speech delivered to a Washington day meeting of Kansas Democrats McGrath said increasing the membership of the United States senate by one third would accomplish these ends: Speed up the legislative process,

Strong Leaves Warsaw

WARSAW, POLAND (AP)—Anna Louise Strong, leftist American journalist deported from Russia, left Warsaw secretly yesterday. Her destination was not disclosed.

A Warsaw hotel said she had arrived there Saturday.

ELBRIDGE DURBROW

Washington, declared the charges are "completely without foundation." Durbrow, now attached to the army war college in Washington, said "this whole thing is absolutely cockeyed."

Miss Bucar was an administrative assistant in the information service. She complained in her letter of resignation last year that embassy policy was directed against the Russians. At the same time she disclosed she had been married 13 months before to a Russian singer, Konstantin Lapshin.

The book said Durbrow "decided all questions connected with embassy personnel" on his assignment there from the summer of 1946 to the summer of 1948. He was reported to have feared the influence of Russians on embassy workers and saw to it that individuals with Russian contacts broke them off, under threat of being sent home in disgrace.

Alleged Book Writer Defended by Father

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ivan Bucar, 53-year-old farmer, said yesterday he doesn't believe his daughter Annabelle wrote the book, published under her name in Moscow, which criticized U.S. diplomats and their actions in Russia.

Miss Bucar resigned her U.S. embassy post in Moscow a year ago to marry a Russian. She now has an infant son. At that time her father said he was disowning her.

"I'm not so sure everything is her fault now," Bucar said. "I don't think she wrote the book. I think they're just using her name."

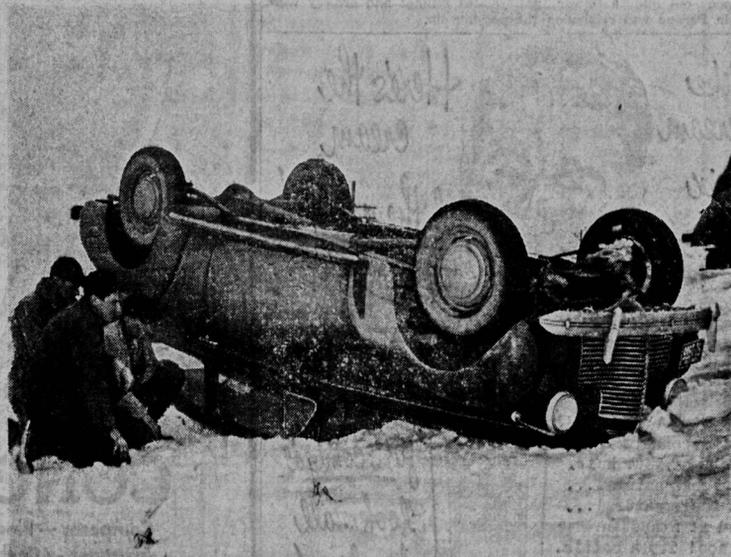

Bucar said U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith had told a daughter, Mrs. Emily Bylich, here last Jan. 3, he thought Annabelle's letter of resignation from the embassy in Feb. 27, 1948, "was written by a Russian general."

Fritz Kuhn Freed By German Court

MUNICH, GERMANY (AP)—A German appellate court yesterday freed Fritz Kuhn, former German-American bund leader and convicted major Nazi, by cutting his 10-year prison sentence to two years already served.

"No more organizations, no more anything," Kuhn said in reply to a question whether he planned to start another bund. He said "it feels very, very good" to be free.

Car Misses Road — Students Miss Class

TWO SUI STUDENTS MISSED AN 8:30 CLASS yesterday morning after their car left highway 218 just south of Iowa City and overturned. Jake Schnoebelen, A2, and his sister Joy, C3, were uninjured and a traveling salesman gave them a lift to their home at Sharon Center. With the help of friends they arrived here in time for their 9:30 classes. Looking over the damage yesterday were (left to right) Meer and Cecil Altmaier of Sharon Center and Lyle Zahradnek, Iowa City.

John Estes to Leave Hospital

John Estes, one of Iowa's most promising gridgers in 1947, said last night that he would leave University hospitals by ambulance for his home in Des Moines either this morning or tomorrow morning.

Estes suffered a serious spinal cord injury during an outdoor basketball game at a playground in Des Moines last July. The accident occurred when Estes stepped backward and tripped over another player.

Estes was brought to University hospitals in July and although paralyzed from the waist down, was able to attend the Purdue football game here last Oct. 16. He viewed the game from an ambulance at the north end of the field.

The backfield star, a quarterback in 1947, was used primarily on defense. Because of his speed Estes was shifted to halfback during spring football practice in '48, and was counted on as one of the first string halfbacks for the fall grid season.

A former all-stater at North Des Moines High, Estes plans to take things easy when he goes home. "I'll just rest at the house, but I may help my father out in his office and answer the phone," Estes said. His father, John Estes Sr. is a Des Moines mortician.

Estes praised the hospital for the way it has been treating him and said that he felt "pretty good."

At the time of his injury Estes had two years of eligibility left at SUI.

Macauley Given Pro Bid

National League Prepared to Make Him Basketball's Highest Paid

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ed Macauley, St. Louis university star, was told yesterday the National Basketball league is prepared to pay him the highest salary in professional basketball—if necessary—to sign him to a contract next season.

Doxie Moore, commissioner of the pro loop, came here to talk with the six-foot-eight all-America center who will graduate this spring.

Moore said he also sounded out Eddie Hickey, St. Louis university basketball coach, on whether he is interested in a National league coaching job. Hickey told him, Moore said, that "he is very happy in St. Louis and has a contract here, but that as you get older, that money looks awfully good."

Moore said Macauley promised not to sign a pro contract without first contacting the National league.

"There are several clubs in our league that are willing to go all out to get Macauley," Moore said. "We want him in the National league. If there is competition and bidding starts, we're prepared to pay him the highest salary in professional basketball."

The National league commissioner commented that the Billiken star will be in a good position to demand a fat salary for a pro contract. It is generally conceded the St. Louis Bombers of the rival Basketball association of America will make a strong bid for his services.

Later yesterday C.D.P. Hamilton, president of the St. Louis BAA club, announced the Bombers will make Macauley their No. 1 choice in the BAA draft.

Hamilton said he hoped to sign Macauley, and added: "However, Moore's remarks might make it more difficult to sign Ed. We purposely have refrained from talking to him because we don't want anything on the boy's mind except the job of beating the Oklahoma Aggies and the others (on St. Louis' schedule). We'll talk to him when the season's over."

St. Louis university and Oklahoma A. and M. play here Saturday night in a contest that probably will decide the Missouri Valley conference championship. The Billikens are rated the nation's second best college team, and the Aggies are rated third.

Representatives of National league clubs also have contacted Leo Barnhorst of Notre Dame with a view of signing him to a contract next season, Moore said. Moore said the NBL hopes to have a club at Indianapolis next year and added that Macauley and Barnhorst would provide a good nucleus for a new club.

Indiana Next Iowa Hurdle

Iowa's basketball players tried to forget the 80-point barrage by Illinois Monday and looked ahead yesterday to the home game with Indiana Saturday.

The Hawkeyes, back in eighth place in the Big Nine, lapsed back into the old low percentage habit at Illinois, making only .185 on field goal attempts. In beating Wisconsin the Hawks hit a respectable shot percentage of .267.

Indiana dropped five of its first seven contests but has recently staged a strong comeback. The Hoosiers now sport a 5-5 record in league play. Indiana has defeated Northwestern, Purdue and Ohio State, to rank fifth in the conference.

In January, Iowa lost to the Hoosiers at Bloomington, 50-39. The fast-breaking attack that has gained so much effectiveness recently is paced by Bill Garrett, Bill Tosheff and Lou Watson.

Garrett leads Indiana scoring with 93 points, while Tosheff has 87 and Watson 82.

Charlie Mason, Iowa forward, continued his fine play against Illinois. In the last four games he has scored 14, 13, 19 and 16 points. He tops Iowa's conference scoring with 95 tallies and for all games with 118.

Business Manager Frank Havlicek announced yesterday that general admission tickets will be sold for the Indiana game, the sale opening Saturday at 5:30 p.m. in the fieldhouse lobby ticket office.

Prep Cage Round-Up

Charles City, Mason City Top Class AA Fives in Northeast

This is the third of a series of articles on leading high school basketball contenders for the prep state cage championship. By ALAN MOYER Staff Writer

Northeast Iowa, although lacking a powerhouse prep quintet, has a number of schools capable of surviving the tournaments that lead to Iowa City. Only the southeast has a better chance to cop the state crown for one of its schools.

The fight in the northeast is centered in the double A group—the larger high schools that are assigned directly to district tournaments.

Charles City and Mason City are the pick of the AA teams and their records indicate they'll be able to hold their own against most prep fives.

Charles City would have to get the nod over Mason City when choosing the better of the two. The Mohawks dropped court duals to both Charles City and West Waterloo.

Charles City, tutored by Lloyd Gnagy, has triumphed almost all the way this year but on several occasions has squeaked by opposition by the narrowest of margins. The Comets had to go into overtime against Waverly and saved their own game by converting 28 of 43 free throws.

The Comets also won the Northeast Iowa conference title, but had a tough time outlasting third place Cedar Falls, 34-32, in clinching the crown.

Early in the season Mason City nudged Charles City, 42-40, on the Mason City floor, but in a return match Charles City triumphed.

Marshalltown Close Behind Right behind the AA leaders is Marshalltown. The Bobcats have had their troubles but still rate highly among district contenders.

West Waterloo, victor over Mason City recently, is a club troubled by inconsistency. The Hawkeyes are hard to beat on nights when their fast break is operating.

The Cedar Rapids public schools, three of them classed AA, have experienced rough sledding. Franklin started out well, but has faded. McKinley came within two points of topping Iowa City high and last Friday drubbed Franklin of Cedar Rapids, 45-21.

Waverly Tops A's Top among the A's is Waverly, with hot competition from St. Joseph's of Mason City, Britt, Forest City, Algona, and Immaculate Conception of Cedar Rapids.

The Cedar Rapids quintet, with an all victorious record against Iowa opponents, has drawn undefeated Marion in the first round of sectional pairings and may be destined for a short tournament life.

Waverly, not the power that marked several previous Gohawk fives, still has won most of its games. The Gohawk scoring twins, Dale Coonradt and Roland Arms, make Waverly rough on class A competition.

Forest City, eliminated in the substate finals last season, has all-state Herb Thompson back and until last week had lost but three tilts. One of the reversals came at the hands of St. Joe of Mason City, another A school with tourney possibilities.

Britt Strong Offensively Britt, holding one of the other two decisions over Forest City, has shown a high-gearing offense all season and may spring a surprise when eliminations begin.

Algona and Nashua, both with two early season defeats marring otherwise perfect records, are rolling at a clip that could carry them to Iowa City.

Hottest among the B teams that operate in the northeast is St. Columbkille of Dubuque. The little school has raced through the entire season without tasting defeat, some not by very wide margins but always enough to win. The team is paced by its rugged center, Les Teeling, who consistently scores in the twenties.

Hudson Attempting to Return Another Immaculate Conception team — of Charles City — is a tourney bidder. Led by Forward Jim Snyder, the Charles City five has staged a late season rush to rate over other outstanding B schools, including Luverne, Rudd, Lawler, Rake, West Union, Hudson, Denver and Holy Family of Mason City.

Hudson will be trying for a return trip to Iowa City. Last season Hudson was eliminated in its opener at the fieldhouse but this season has already tuckered away the Black Hawk county championship.

Denver, with only one defeat, and Rake, undefeated against Iowa competition, could go far in tournament play.

Luverne, although losing an early season decision to Mallard has dashed through the rest of its season undefeated. Coach Jim Manship has come up with another good team at Rudd, while Holy Family of Mason City is good one night and indifferent another. It lacks the consistency needed to stay afloat in the tourney grind.

Shows Good Form

THE LAND OF SUNSHINE AND SURFACES, California, has come up with an ice skater who can hold her own either in a beauty contest or on the ice. Pretty Helen Uhl, who will represent San Francisco in the world figure skating championship at Paris, displays her best form at London rink.

Four Intramural Cage Teams Advance in All-SUI Tourney

The Hillcrest C lightweights and South Quad II, Loyola, and Quad Upper C heavyweights won first round games in the All-University intramural basketball tournament last night in the fieldhouse.

Hillcrest C, the defending champ was soundly walloped by unheralded Loyola, 25-15. It was Hillcrest C's first defeat in two years.

Loyola got off to a flying start by scoring 16 straight points. They led at the end of the first quarter, 16-2. The Loyola sharpshooters hit eight of their first ten field goal attempts. Howard Shimon, with nine points, led the winner's scoring attack.

Loyola will meet South Quad II in a semifinal game tomorrow night.

South Quad II advanced to the semi-final round by taking a closely played contest from Nu Sigma Nu, 28-23. George Hand tallied 11 points, tops for South Quad.

Hillcrest C lightweights blistered South Quad I, 38-15. The lightweights will meet Sigma Alpha Epsilon tomorrow night.

Bob Foulke led the Hillcrest C attack with 18 points on eight baskets and two free throws. Don Humes scored six points to lead the losers. The game after the first six minutes turned into a rout as Foulke hit four straight fielders.

St. Mary's Romps In Sectional Play

St. Mary's got off to a flying start in high school tournament play last night when the Ramblers smashed Mechanicsville, 10-18, at Tipton.

St. Mary's gained a 14-0 lead by the end of the first quarter and on the shooting of Bale Seydel and Paul Flannery piled up a 27-2 lead by halftime. Mechanicsville never was able to get started, being held to one field goal during the opening half.

The victory was St. Mary's fifth straight, since the Diocesan tourney in Iowa City and the 70 points the Ramblers scored was their high for the season.

Governor Causes Unemployment as Bookies Swallow Bet Sheets

MIAMI — Florida bookies sought frantically yesterday for a way to make a dishonest buck, as Governor Fuller Warren's anti-bookie campaign went into its fifth day and threatened widespread unemployment in the fraternity.

The situation was desperate in the high-betting southern half of the state. In Miami Beach, bookies were eating their betting sheets when the cops hove into view, as the only means of eliminating evidence.

At Daytona Beach, a group of retail merchants got 200 names on a petition asking authorities to permit two bookmakers to reopen on their street. They said business had suffered since Mike Boisch and Matty Tracy were shut down during a local cleanup last fall. Three bookies were arrested in 24 hours at Miami Beach, where police and sheriff's deputies searched 300 known bookmaking establishments. The chief source of the bookies was Detective Pat Perdue, the one-man vice squad.

Perdue, who knows most of the bookies by sight, made his first contact in a plush Miami Beach hotel. When he walked into the lobby, he saw a bookie. The bookie saw him at the same time and quickly stuffed his betting sheet into his mouth.

Perdue walked up and delivered a great blow on the bookie's back. The half-chewed betting sheet popped out into a flower pot. While Perdue was retrieving the evidence, the bookie fled. Perdue stayed on the job, picking up two more bookies while sheriff's deputies nabbed one.

Warren ordered illegal horse race betting halted Friday, aiming his fire at the Miami area. Monday, he moved in on the numbers racket in Tampa, warning that he would send the militia, the FBI and any other force necessary if local authorities were unable to wipe it out. Local officials said they would try.

There was no evidence that the governor's warning was effective in Tampa, however. Numbers tickets were being sold, but new investigations of the racket and related killings and bribery were popping up.

Craft Club Members Have Fun Creating Articles

Finished Products Look Professional

By JEAN McFADDEN
Bookends! Candlestick holders! Silver trays! Jewelry! Leather goods! Why don't you make them yourself?

Handcraft club members meet every Monday night from 7:30 to 9:30 to make all of these things and many more. The club, sponsored by the Women's Recreational association, meets in the craft rooms of the women's gym and Holub house next door.

Laughing and joking prove that the creation of beautiful articles does not require solemn concentration. Having fun is one of the aims of the club. Another aim is to assure members that many lovely things don't have to be purchased from department stores and gift shops. They can be handmade.

Club Officers
Officers, elected at the beginning of the year, are Peggy Megchelsen, A3, Keokuk, president, and Kay Lowry, G, Des Moines, secretary. Prof. Miriam Taylor is faculty advisor for the club.

Women interested in ceramics meet in Holub house. Here they don aprons, roll up their sleeves and go to work molding and shaping wet clay. After the clay is worked uniformly to insure even consistency, it is molded, dried and finally glazed and baked in the kiln.

While many of the finished products look like professional workmanship, both Professor Taylor and club members insist they are still in the experimental stage. One of the troubles bothering women working with ceramics is presented by the glazing and baking process. To glaze a piece it must be painted and baked. The uneven expansion of the glaze and glaze, the finished article is sometimes expansion of the glaze and glaze, badly checked.

2,000 degree Heat
The kiln at the gym can be heated to 2,000 degrees centigrade by electricity. Professor Taylor glazes the clay used in her classes, and by the club, from the basement of an old brick factory north of town.

Other women spend Monday evenings working on silver or copper crafts. After the metal is shaped, it is polished to a high luster by whirling brushes. Jewelry, sandwich trays, ash trays, bowls and plaques are some of the more popular articles in this craftwork.

Membership in the club is not limited to University of Iowa students. Professor Taylor says the club includes Iowa City school teachers, students' wives, working people and students.

Show Ability
The women use their own imaginations and originality to create and design their projects. Many of the articles show real artistic ability, but both members and instructor claim that fun and success don't depend entirely upon such skills.

Professor Taylor has been doing craft work, both teaching and studying it, since the summer in 1936, when she was in charge of playgrounds in Grinnell. "It was so hot that we had to find something for the youngsters that would be easy to do," she said.

Teaches Children
Crafts were the answer. Professor Taylor taught the children to work with inexpensive materials. Helping the boys make bows and arrows and instructing the girls in making puppets to illustrate their favorite fairy tales was the beginning of craftwork for Professor Taylor. Since that summer, she has college Northampton, Mass., studied handcraft at Penman college in North Carolina, a school

Top man for Iowa was Charles U. Kelly, A2, Iowa City, with 367.

DIESEL LOCOMOTIVES HAUL MORE GOODS AND PASSENGERS . . .

. . . WITH GREATER SAFETY AND COMFORT FOR EVERYBODY

BECAUSE OF ITS MODERN, ALMOST FOOLPROOF DESIGN, THE DIESEL IS PRACTICALLY AUTOMATIC!

Yet leaders of two railroad unions demand extra men on diesels! Just plain feather-bedding—here's why!

Here's the truth about diesel locomotives. Diesel locomotives are equipped with every modern device for maximum safety. They have automatic controls. They can be operated safely by one man. But two men—an engineer and a fireman—are now employed on a diesel road locomotive.

Diesel locomotives—adopted by the railroads as one way of improving their service to you—have hauled millions of passengers in recent years with one of the best safety records in railroad history!

They have pulled millions of tons of freight millions of miles—also with one of the best safety records in railroad history!

Full Pay—No Work!

Leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen are now demanding an extra engineer and an extra fireman on diesels, claiming the extra men are needed. But the facts prove these men are not needed. They would just be drawing full pay for doing no work.

The railroads are placing an ever-increasing number of diesels in service—both passenger and freight. These trains are operated at speeds consistent with safety and good service—and on both counts their record tops all public transportation.

Feather-Bedding Is Against Public Interest!

If the ridiculous demands of these union leaders were granted, it would mean paying out millions in wages to men not needed in diesel locomotives.

The leaders of the Engineers' Union have threatened to call a strike to enforce their "feather-bedding" demands. Nevertheless the railroads are resisting—and will continue to resist—such "make-work" schemes which require payment for work not done—schemes which are contrary to the interest of the whole American people.

HERE ARE THE FACTS!

1. The safety record of trains pulled by diesel locomotives is the best of all public transportation.
2. Diesel locomotives provide the best working conditions locomotive engineers and firemen have ever enjoyed: comfort, cleanliness, ease of operation, maximum safety.
3. Diesel locomotives are maintained at peak operating efficiency.
4. The diesel is virtually automatic. It is equipped with the most modern safety appliances.
5. The diesel locomotive is the last word in railroad efficiency, safety and comfort.

Law Students Prepare Cases For Annual Spring Arguments

The spring semester freshman law arguments will begin next Monday and continue through March 29, Dean Mason Ladd said yesterday.

Dean Ladd said two arguments are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. each night, Monday through Thursday. One argument will be presented in the main lobby of the Law Commons and the other in the courtroom of the law building.

Practicing attorneys from Iowa City and surrounding communities will serve as presiding judges for the arguments. In past years, seniors in the law school have served as judges for the freshman arguments, Dean Ladd said.

Ten student directors, headed by Warren J. Wolf, L3, have been selected to prepare case briefs, arrange schedules, advise contestants and select judges. Law faculty members formerly directed the arguments, but this semester the work will be handled by the students themselves, Ladd pointed out.

Dean Ladd said the arguments are sponsored by the McClain law club. McClain is the name of a mythical state in which jurisdiction the cases will be tried. Iowa rules of appellate procedure will be used, however.

Two counsels will argue for the appellant and two for the appellee in each case, Dean Ladd said.

Monday night, R.M. Ackley, Ottumwa and J.W. Reger, Burlington will serve as counsels for the appellant in the case to be argued in the law building courtroom. Lon S. Bond, Indiana, Pa., and Edmund Carroll, Davenport, will be counsels for the appellee. Charles Hastings, Cedar Rapids, will be the presiding judge.

In the case to be argued at the Law Commons, Jack Osborne, Waterloo, and Mel Heck, Grundy Center, will be counsels for the appellant and Clark Sloan, Manchester, and David Shaff, Camanche, will be counsels for the appellee. Attorney Robert Daniel, Cedar Rapids, will be the presiding judge.

March 7 (courtroom). Appellants—H.K. Good and Leroy Bass. Appellees—H.V. Holmes and Robert Belknap. Presiding judge—J. Paul Naughton, Newton.

The vocal arrangement of "Landsighting," by Grieg, will feature a baritone solo by vocalist Offie L. Leeper, A3, Leon. This evening will be the first performance of "Landsighting" by the SUI concert band.

Included in the nine number program is the "Carnival Suite," a modernistic selection by Tansman. Tansman made liberal use of the dance band style and "blues" tempo throughout this number, Righter said.

Some Answers to the Question —

Is SUI's 1949-51 Budget Request Reasonable?

Seven million, seven hundred thousand dollars — that sounds like a lot of money.

But that is the figure the 53rd general assembly is being asked to appropriate for SUI's general operations budget.

Last year, SUI asked for only $3.6-million and there is a possibility, on the basis of these figures alone, that the university might be considered "a poor manager," "a spendthrift" or just plain "money hungry."

Here are some questions and answers concerning some possible misunderstandings of the requests for the 1949-51 biennium.

Q. Do these figures mean that the university's budget has increased by 114 percent?

A. No. The estimated budget has increased only 31 percent — about the same as other departments of the state.

Q. What funds do you mean? A. Besides the university's normal income (student fees, etc.), the university has received federal payments for G.I. education and has been using reserves built up from wartime training programs.

Q. Do veteran students provide greater income than non-vets? A. Yes. The government pays the fees of the veteran on a cost formula basis.

Q. Is vet enrollment falling off? A. Yes. Although the overall enrollment this year is higher than ever, the veteran enrollment is smaller by about 500.

Q. What about the wartime reserves? Are they exhausted? A. Almost. Available reserve funds for this year's budget are 37 percent less than those used during 1948-49.

Q. Does this mean that the $3.6-million annual appropriation during the past two years did not carry the state's share of SUI's financial load? A. Right. If the university had not dug into its reserves, the state would have had to appropriate $5.8-million instead of the appropriated $3.6-million.

Q. In other words, the university saved the state about $2.2-million during the past two years? A. Right again. That is why the $3.6-million 1947 appropriation cannot fairly be used as a basis for considering the university's present asking.

Q. The burden of heavy enrollments was an emergency, wasn't it? A. Yes. But the emergency has become permanent.

Q. What is the university planning to do with the $7.7-million? A. It is earmarked for salaries, support, maintenance and miscellaneous purposes.

Q. Isn't the university's salary scale adequate? A. Not if SUI expects to maintain its educational standards.

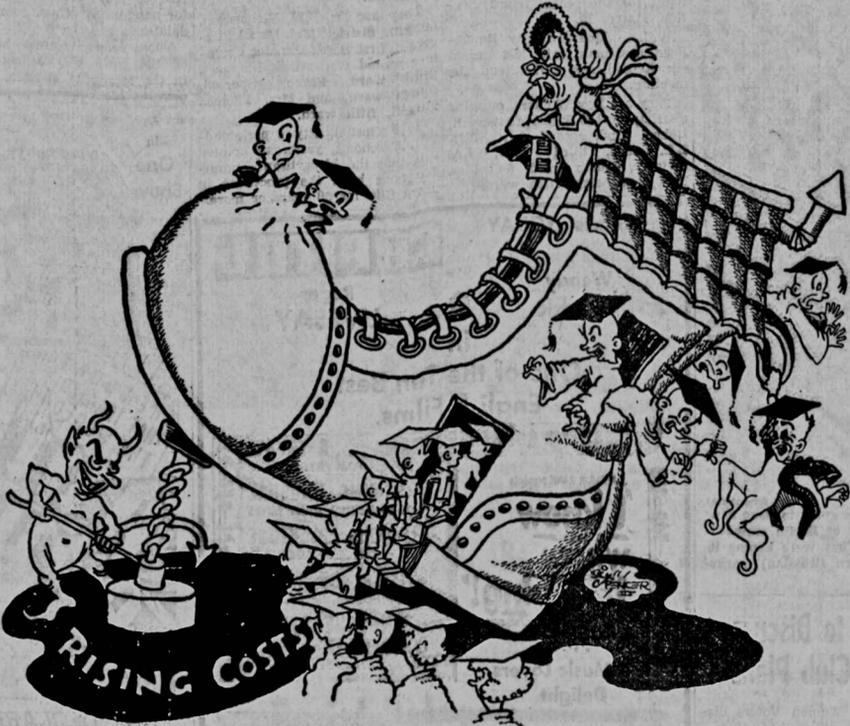

Q. Why have the support and maintenance figures risen? A. For the same reason that you can't buy a nickel cigar for a nickel anymore.

Q. Does the university have any other budget headaches? A. No. For the 1946-47 school year, Iowans spent 42 more times more money for liquor, beer and tobacco and smoking supplies than for education.

Q. What are the alternatives in the question of support for the university? A. There are three: a. To provide the funds, and thereby provide Iowa youth with the best in higher education.

b. To reduce the appropriations and force the university to limit its enrollment and its program.

c. To reduce the appropriations without limiting the educational demand, causing a rapid lowering of standards in faculty and educational program.

tain its educational standards. Of all the big nine schools, Iowa pays its faculty — professors, associate professors, assistant professor and instructors — the least.

Q. Will this year's requested increase in budget be a disproportionate share of the state's revenue? A. No. For the 1946-47 school year, Iowans spent 42 more times more money for liquor, beer and tobacco and smoking supplies than for education.

HIS MOTHER says, about the mice, maybe rats, which live in the building; "I wouldn't mind their walking around the floor so much, if only they wouldn't go near the crib." You can't say that isn't a reasonable, moderate and even liberal approach to the problem.

WHAT HURTS this veteran most, I feel, is a certain deep, consuming disappointment—a feeling that here you work hard, you stick to your job, you get sixty per, which isn't so bad, and then, because of the housing shortage and high prices, you find you don't get the things that all your life you had understood came with sixty dollars a week.

ONE FAMILY I looked in on lives on the edge of the lower east side. Their house is an elevator building, and they pay $48.50 for an apartment with one bedroom, which their child occupies.

These articles of furniture touch the walls and each other. One chair gets sunlight part of the morning. The husband is in a field connected with decorating; his great interest is in the arts.

And among the economies he has had to make is to give up the occasional purchase of art books and magazines, to cut out visits to the theatre, and entertainment of friends of like mind.

NOW MAYBE that's nothing. I can imagine the grimmer kind of social analyst pooh-poohing this as a problem. But I don't know. I agree with those who believe that a society which builds you up to feel it is right to have intellectual and self-improvement aspirations can't just laugh it off when it turns out you cannot afford such notions.

This husband, too, earns sixty.

When he was married he earned thirty-five and sixty seemed like a dream income. Now, with sixty, they just get by.

At the end of the week they owe nothing, save nothing and have nothing; theatre and books have had to be given up for food and for the clothes a white collar man needs.

And when a family of culture finds itself being cut off from the cultural life of our age, something, I think, is such a look around, as a fill-in for those moments when we are tempted to talk loosely about living standards, and about what we mean to do with and for the rest of the world. In that spirit I aim to go on with the story.

Open Houses Offer Fun Galore

Union a Circus In Third Party

By STANLEY BEITLER
There's a circus of fun waiting to greet you, if you know how to have fun.

At least 1,000 persons stepped out at the third post-basketball Open House party Saturday night in the Iowa Union main lounge. While the band played on boy met girl.

Like a night at the carnival, these regular post-basketball Open House parties offer gussy laughs, thrills at the games and maybe a few spills on the floor. Next week's party will even have movies.

It appeared, for a while last Saturday, that the freshmen had taken over the party and the girls and had sidelined the upperclassmen. But not much later, the latter came around from wallflower patch to tie the catch of girls.

At eleven o'clock, the stagline chanted for more "girls, girls, girls." One fellow whispered to his friend, "I told you we should have come earlier."

However, there was something for everyone to do. The merry-go-round of fun included dancing, bridge and ping pong games. You could have bought a snack at the soda fountain. And the reading rooms were open for browsing or resting a weary body while listening to the Critterions play.

An informal atmosphere surrounded the main lounge. Tuxedos and evening gowns were left at home and sports clothes were worn. A congenial spirit penetrated the room.

"This is great," Jack Golubovich, AI, Stratford, Conn., said. In his own enthusiastic language he said, "Every night somebody's popping, somebody's jumping. I've been at other Unions in the East but they don't compare."

"What I like here," he said, "is that you get to know anybody you want. People don't step over you here. They're friendly." He poked his friend as a girl walked by. "There's another bopper" and they moved on her trail.

Almost everybody agreed it was a wonderful way to spend the evening after basketball games because there was no place to go so late without spending lots of money.

Lois Pfler, A3, DeWitt, said "it's wonderful for students to have a place to come to."

"Yuh, it's cold outside," her boyfriend, Bernard Rosenberg, A3, Rock Island, said. "But seriously, it ought to become a part of the regular routine."

Frank Burge, assistant director of the Union, said "the idea was that of the Student Union board whose job it is to think up these functions. This was the third Open House," Burge said. "The others held in the River room went over so big, we decided to try again."

Nearby was Jim McKenzie, a Student Union board member. He explained that the Union board had a little surplus of funds by saving on other expenses "so we hired the Critterions and used the main lounge."

He said there would be another Open House party in the main lounge Saturday after the Iowa-Indiana basketball game.

"Our attraction Saturday," McKenzie said, "will be Disc Jockey Dave Stashower of WSUI to do a novelty stunt for us. He will play the famous old hit records of popular bands like the late Glen Miller and Artie Shaw. There'll be a good variety of music to dance to."

Rev. Hahn on Religion Program

The Rev. Reuben Hahn, Chicago, secretary of the Student Service commission, will come to SUI this weekend as Religion in Life week speaker.

Students of Gamma Delta, student organization of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will bring the Rev. Mr. Hahn to the campus.

The Rev. Mr. Hahn was instrumental in establishing about fourteen years ago the Student Service commission of the Missouri Synod of Lutheran churches, the Rev. J.F. Choitz, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church here, said yesterday. The Chicago minister was the first secretary of the commission.

As secretary the Rev. Mr. Hahn conducts an annual conference of district student workers. He is also responsible for a university pastors' workbook which lists religious programs to be used by them. The workbook is used almost verbatim by many university student workers, the Rev. Mr. Choitz said.

A planning commission, of which the Rev. Mr. Choitz is a member, assists the Rev. Mr. Hahn in setting up the workbook.

The Rev. Mr. Hahn was also instrumental in forming Gamma Delta organizations, the Rev. Mr. Choitz said.

Included in the Chicago minister's work is acting as director of student work of 729 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

His last visit to SUI was as speaker at a banquet of the Iowa conference of St. Paul's Lutheran church students in 1942, the Rev. Mr. Choitz said.

In February of this year the Rev. Mr. Hahn spoke at an Iowa conference of Lutheran students at Iowa State Teachers college in Cedar Falls. Fifteen students from SUI who attended the conference asked that the Rev. Mr. Hahn be brought here as Religion in Life week speaker, the Rev. Mr. Choitz said.

While at SUI the Rev. Mr. Hahn will speak on "Releasing Functioning Christians" at a luncheon at St. Paul's Lutheran church Feb. 28.

The Rev. Mr. Hahn attended Concordia seminary, St. Louis; the University of Alabama and Northwestern university. He began student work as Lutheran students' pastor at the University of Alabama.

Boy Loses Inches But Wins Footage

ALTOONA, PA. (AP)—Melvin Acker Jr., 18, is six inches shorter than he was eight months ago. It doesn't bother him a bit—he's hopeful of walking normally for the first time since he was four years old.

Melvin had to sacrifice six inches of his right leg to bring his height down to five feet, four inches. He had to spend many weeks in hospitals. Soon he hopes to make his final trip to the hospital.

Social Security Tax Remains Stationary; State Tax Increases

The rate for federal insurance contributions tax, more familiarly known as social security tax, is still one percent.

An increase in the tax rate on Iowa old age and survivors insurance has led many employers to believe that the rate on social security tax has also gone up. Kenneth Reid said recently. Reid is the manager of the Cedar Rapids field office of the social security administration.

The state tax rate has been increased from one percent to two percent for both employees and employers and has been in effect since Jan. 1, 1949, Reid stated. This tax covers city, county and state employees.

Mantz Sets Air Record, Houston-to-Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Paul Mantz established his 11th record Sunday by clipping 31 minutes off the Houston-to-Mexico City air mark.

Mantz zipped over the 780-mile course in his souped-up P-51 Mustang fighter plane in two hours, 10 minutes and 5 seconds. The three-time winner of the Bendix air race said he was slowed by mechanical trouble and headwinds of 35 miles per hour.

4 Counties Produce 70 Percent of Iowa's Coal, Report Says

Over 70 percent of Iowa's coal output comes from four counties—Marion, Mahaska, Appanoose and Monroe—according to the February issue of the Iowa Business Digest.

The digest is a monthly publication of the bureau of business and economic research at SUI.

Marion county leads in coal production. It produced almost one-third of the state's total in 1947—554,409 tons. Mahaska county was second, producing 334,280 tons. Appanoose and Monroe counties produced 165,028 and 152,728 tons, respectively.

Iowa's coal mining industry employed 1,912 men in 1947, according to a report of the bureau of mines of the U. S. department of interior. The state's mines were active approximately 180 days in 1947, or about one-half of the time.

Iowa's mines produced an average of 4.88 tons per day per man in 1947 as compared with the nation's average of 6.42 tons per day per man.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

BOBBY CLARK, one of the greatest comedians of our time, would like to revive the lion act he did in burlesque with his old partner McCullough. The manager of a side-show offered Clark a dollar to wrestle with a lion. When Clark demurred, the manager assured him, "Our real lion has escaped. Our real lion (McCullough) will wear a lion skin and the suckers will never know the difference."

Clark, of course, perked up at once when he heard this. And the real lion walked into the cage behind his back while he told the audience what he was going to do to the "king of beasts." The next ten minutes provided more laughs than any other act I can remember.

Clark whacked the lion with his cane, kicked it, played leap frog with it and waved a flashlight in its eyes. When the lion roared, he would cry: "That's great! You sure are fooling the audience." Occasionally he'd sniff and declare: "What a performance! You even smell like a lion."

For the payoff the lion would start chasing Clark around the cage. The manager yelled: "Hey, I've been trying to tell you! That's the real lion in there with you!" Clark's final speech was: "This is a heck of a time to tell me!"

Officials Split On Truman's 'Home Relief'

WASHINGTON (AP) — State officials split sharply yesterday over President Truman's plan to aid the nation's needy with a vast new "home relief" program.

Members of congress also were divided on the administration's proposal to expand the social security system by adding 20-million workers to the old age insurance rolls and increasing the benefits through more payroll deductions.

Under the proposal, the largest federal grants would go to those states having the lowest per capita income. The maximum payment toward which the federal government would contribute would be $100 per month for husband and wife, and $20 for each additional family member needing aid.

Participating states would put up from 40 to 75 percent of the cost, depending on their per capita wealth.

There was no estimate of how much the "home relief" program would cost. It would be in addition to the $1-billion a year the government now spends for aid to the needy, aged, blind and dependent children.

House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) conceded that congress may not bring in all the persons Mr. Truman wants covered in the new program. But he said, "There is no question but the major part of the program the President recommended will be adopted."

'People Eat Too Fast'

Noted Chef Reminisces About Art of Eating; Has Catered to Gourmets 45 Years

By CLAIRE COX
NEW YORK (AP)—People today eat so fast that they might as well chew on rubber bands as waltz rarebits, Waiter Rudolph Gobbi said yesterday.

Gobbi, who has been catering to the whims of winners and diners for 45 of his 67 years, said it breaks his heart to see chefs work and slave over hot stoves all day only to have some fashionably fastidious female gobble up her Goulash a la Tsarvitch so fast you'd think it was just a little old caviar canape.

"People today are in such a hurry," he said. "I wish they'd take the time to taste what they are eating. They spend more time eating than anything else but sleeping, but they eat only to have fuel enough to go on with whatever they are doing."

Gobbi came here from Italy as a young man to wait on the real gourmets, who used to gorge themselves silly at the St. Regis hotel in the days of Diamond Jim Brady.

In those days Papa reluctantly gave the family the rare treat of dining out in sables and formal gowns that had hung in the closet since the spring soiree, and it took them anywhere from two to four hours to plod at an Emily Post pace through a soup-to-nuts bill of fare.

But now, Gobbi lamented, the same kind of folk come in every night to the French restaurant where he is head waiter and eat their two-inch steaks in such a hurry you'd think they had ordered a ham sandwich.

"There still are some people who appreciate good food, but not very many," Gobbi said. "They take too many drinks before dinner and then don't order very much so they don't get too many calories."

He said men and women both eat a lot less than they did when he started waiting on tables and that the wives order much less than the husbands so they can that we take all the calories out of the food, in the hope that they will eat a good, square meal, but that doesn't help a bit," Gobbi said.

But Gobbi said he would never really complain in earnest about present day eating habits, unless people decided they'd rather dine at home than in a restaurant.

do all the talking while the men-folks eat.

Shipment of Steel Signals Last Step In Bridge Project

The first freight car of superstructure steel for the Benton street bridge arrived in Iowa City yesterday about noon, an E.V. Jensen Construction company spokesman said.

He said he expects the rest of the steel to be shipped as fast as it can be sent out of the fabrication plant at Gary, Ind.

Workmen said they will begin laying the telephone, electric and gas connections across the Iowa river in about a week.

The arrival of the first steel signals the beginning of the final step in completion of the $251,000 construction project. Steel webbing for the understructure arrived here in January, but no work could be done until the superstructure steel came in.

As a preparation against high water or floods, workmen have built a sod driveway out into the river to use as footing for putting up the superstructure steel. The man-made peninsula extends from the east bank almost to the concrete piling on the west side.
