Bulgaria Says 15 Churchmen Spied for U.S.

By DIMITER MISHEV
SOFIA, BULGARIA (AP) — The Bulgarian government yesterday issued a booklet accusing 15 indicted Protestant churchmen of using religion to cloak espionage activities for the United States and Britain.

Trial of the 14 men is scheduled to open here Friday. The 55-page booklet, printed in French and English, asserted that the government's case against the churchmen "has been proven."

(The United States government, in a protest to Bulgaria, called the arrests a "blatant terrorist effort" to intimidate religious denominations. The protest was rejected outright and almost immediately by the Communist regime in Sofia. The American note requested permission to have observers attend the trial. The Bulgarian decision on that request is still awaited.)

Britain
Britain also has denounced the trial and denied her diplomats in Bulgaria deal with spies. The British said they have been given permission to have two diplomatic observers in court when the charges are heard.

(The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, which started Protestantism in Bulgaria in 1858, declared in a statement issued in Boston that the arrests are part of a policy of "ruthless suppression of religious groups which are not wholly subservient to the state." It urged "all Christian people to pray for the people of Bulgaria.")

"A Cloak"
"Religion," the booklet charged, "happened to be a cloak for their criminal activities. The 15 men were caught red-handed in total espionage, treacherous activities and shady currency deals." The volume described the religious leaders as members of a "vast spy ring, deftly manipulated from abroad."
Legally, it alleged, their actions add up to espionage, and morally to "extreme turpitude — ignominious misuse of ecclesiastical garb and of religious freedom prevailing in the new Bulgaria."
The book contained purported depositions from all of the accused.

UNESCO Shelves Sex: Not 'Realistic'

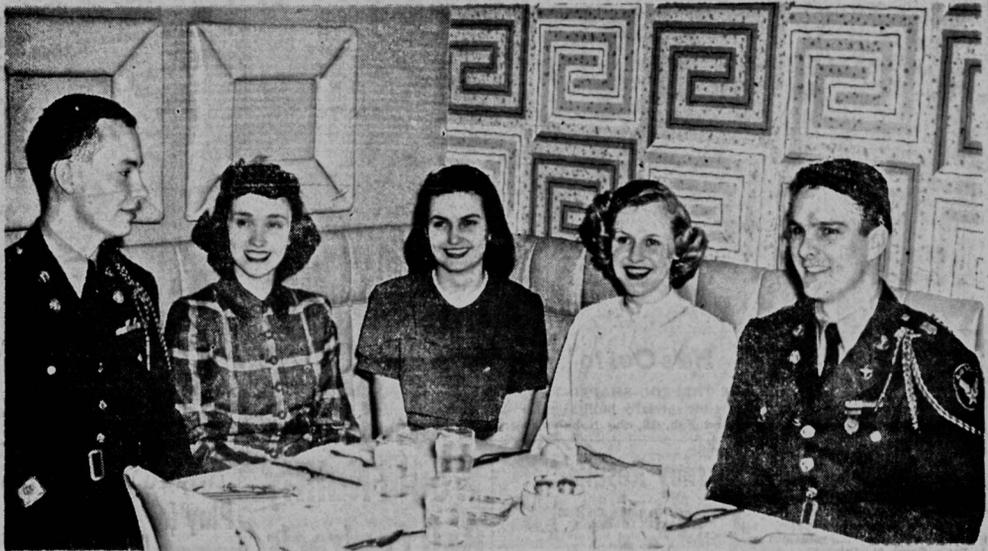

OTTAWA (AP) — The UNESCO study of sex at high altitudes is to be replaced by studies of problems of a more world wide nature, its deputy director general said yesterday.

Dr. Walter Laves, the American-born second in command of the United Nations agency, answered criticisms at a news conference that some UNESCO objectives verged on the fantastic. "Watch our program at the next meeting in Paris in September," he said. "It will be realistic."

"ARMY CAPTAINS NEVER LOOKED THAT BEAUTIFUL" is what a serviceman probably would say after looking at Honorary Captain Colleen Ann Sibert, A3, Waterloo, who sits between her attendants Joan Sywassink, A2, Muscatine (left), and Bonnie Haney, A3, Glenwood, honorary 1st lieutenants. The two admiring males are Pershing Rifle Captain Harvey Jensen, A2, Libertyville, Ill., and Everett Waller Jr., A3, Sioux City. Miss Sibert was selected to represent the SUI Pershing Rifles in the national contest to pick an honorary brigadier-general to be conducted by headquarters at Lincoln, Neb., March 7.

New Housing Bill Gets OK on Plan For 810,000 Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new federal public housing program hurdled its first senate barrier yesterday when a banking subcommittee approved a bill calling for construction of 810,000 units over a six-year period.
Chairman Sparkman (D-Okla.) said the housing measure will be placed before the full committee today. He predicted speedy approval with a joint Democratic-Republican bill reaching the senate Friday, or Monday at the latest.
The measure, which Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Cain (R-Wash.) said they will try to amend today, contains these four main sections:

1. A $1.5-billion slum clearance program. This includes $1-billion in loans and $500-million in grants over a five-year period. The money would be used to assist localities in clearing out slum areas to make them available for redevelopment. The loans would extend for not more than 40 years.

2. Authorization for the housing and home finance administrator to undertake broad technical and economic research programs with particular regard to (1) increasing home building and (2) cutting down costs.

3. A $262.5-million four-year rural dwelling and building program to be handled under the direction of the secretary of agriculture. Of this amount, $250-million would be in the form of loans, and $12.5-million in grants.
4. Low rent public housing — the most controversial feature of the bill. The 810,000 figure is a compromise between the 1,050,000 seven-year program proposed by Sparkman, and the 600,000 six-year program sponsored by a Republican bloc including Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

Senate-House Group Dissolves

DES MOINES (AP) — The eight-man committee appointed to iron out the legislative deadlock over financing of the state soldiers bonus broke up in disagreement last night.
The final split came after two of the four senate members rejected a compromise proposal said to have been endorsed by Gov. William S. Beardsley. The support of at least one of the two would have been necessary for an agreement.

The committee will report to the two houses today that it could not reach a settlement. This means that a new conference group of eight members — four from each house — will have to be appointed. It will take up where the first committee left off.
Rep. Clifford Strawman (R-Anamosa), one of the house conferees, said that the senate and house groups were about $10-million apart on the amount of money they thought should be taken from the state's surplus for bonus financing.

Surplus
It was the question of how much of the $100-million surplus should be used that originally developed the deadlock. The senate voted in favor of appropriating $72.5-million for bonus purposes. The house supported Beardsley's original plan to take $36,125,000 from the surplus and issue a like amount of interest-bearing bonds which would be backed by a state property tax.

The conference committee met once Tuesday and twice yesterday before breaking up.
Compromise
At its final session a compromise reported to have been approved by the governor was presented by the house conferees. This plan called for using $42.5-million of the surplus and the immediate issuance of $21,250,000 of interest-bearing bonds which would be retired in ten years. That would provide a total of $63,750,000 to be immediately available to pay bonus claims.
If this amount was insufficient, another $10,625,000 of bonds would be issued under the compromise proposal. They would have a 1964 maturity date.

Truman's Secretary Undergoes Operation
WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles G. Ross, press secretary to President Truman, underwent an operation at Walter Reed hospital yesterday.

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the president's physician, performed the surgery on Ross' right forearm. There was no announcement as to the ailment, but it is understood to involve a bone and tendons.

Diplomatic Deep Freeze While Airlift Buzzes, Pravda Fusses

BERLIN (AP) — Western military commanders extended their diplomatic deep freeze treatment last night to a big Red army day party in this focal point of east-west differences.

The Russians and their satellites keyed celebrations of the 31st anniversary of the founding of the Soviet armed forces to what they called "Anglo-American imperialism."
Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovskiy extended invitations for the Berlin party to the American, British and French commanders in Germany, who once sat with him on the four-power allied control authority.
None of the western commanders — U.S. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, British Gen. Sir Brian Robertson and French Lt. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig — accepted personally.
Instead, they followed a minimum response system, polite but cold, which they adopted toward Soviet social functions after the discussions here last spring. The western commanders assigned the heads of the three military missions stationed at the Soviet headquarters in Karlshorst to go to the party as their sole representatives.

Hundreds of Soviet troops, many of them looking no older than 16, marched in relays through the Brandenburg gate in Berlin to the stone and marble Soviet war memorial just inside the British sector. They placed flowers on the memorial. Surprising observers, the Yugoslav military mission also placed a wreath, though relations between the Kremlin and Premier Marshal Tito remain cool.

Few Germans paused to watch. Airlift planes plying Berlin over the Soviet blockade roared constantly overhead.

In Moscow, the Communist party newspaper, 'Pravda,' said editorially the Soviet army must strengthen its discipline and training because "ruling circles of the U.S.A. do not want a lasting peace." The army's chief of staff, Gen. S. Shtemenko, wrote that United States leaders seek to establish world domination by creating a war psychosis.

Israelis And Egypt Sign An Armistice

Then You Can Name Your Poison

DES MOINES (AP) — A bill to require that all liquor sold in Iowa be labeled with a skull and cross bones and marked "poison" was introduced in the state legislature yesterday.

The measure is labeled "an act to protect the youth of the state of Iowa against the use of liquor."

One section of the bill also would require labels to carry the words: "Antidote: Pour contents of this bottle in the sewer and place bottle in ash can."

Other Arab States May Follow Suit

By L.S. CHAKALES
RHODES ISLAND, (THURSDAY) (AP) — Israel and Egypt signed an armistice today that represented a major step toward restoring peace to the Holy Land.

Other Arab states began lining up to sign similar pacts with Israel, a fledgling state that proved its strength with victories on the field of battle.

Israel has scored, too, on the diplomatic front since its birth a little more than nine months ago.

The armistice was signed in the Yellow room of the Hotel Des Rhodes.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting United Nations mediator who worked incessantly since Jan. 13 to get both Israelis and Egyptians to agree, said other Arab states would sign similar pacts.

More Talks
Trans-Jordan will start talks with Israel here on Monday.

Israel has already held preliminary talks with Lebanon. A seven-man armistice commission, made up of three Egyptians, three Jews and Brig. Gen. William Riley, chief of staff of UN truce observers in Palestine, as chairman will supervise carrying out of the armistice.

Commission headquarters will be in El Auja, a town on the Egyptian border which was demilitarized and quit by the Israelis. The Israeli forces will also be withdrawn from Bir Aslu, which is south of Beersheba on the strategic north-south inner highway.

These two withdrawals are the only points where the Jews surrender territory or strategic points won in their October and December offensives in the southern desert of Palestine.

Outposts
They will be permitted to maintain outposts of platoon strength in the southern Negev desert and maintain "defensive" desert in 25 Israeli settlements which already dot the Negev.

The Egyptians will retain the Gaza coastal strip but will withdraw several miles from the Sinai frontier with an outpost at Abu Awgeils. The Egyptians will also evacuate Beit Hanun, which is north of Gaza and which will be demilitarized.

On the "eastern front" the Jews will maintain their present forces until the armistice with Trans-Jordan is completed.

Egyptian troops cut off from Gaza and under command of the Arab Legion in and south of Jerusalem will remain in their present positions until the Israeli-Trans-Jordan armistice is signed.

Students Heckle KKK South Carolina Rally

COLUMBIA (UP) — University of South Carolina students peppered a Ku Klux Klan meeting at suburban West Columbia with stench bombs last night while Grand Dragon Samuel Green was making a speech on white supremacy.

Burly Klansmen, assisted by police of West Columbia, dispersed the students, but they kept up their heckling from the edge of a vacant lot that Klan had rented for the meeting.

At least two stench bombs landed in the ring of Klansmen around the stand on which Green spoke. Black acrid smoke rose around the sheeted figures and generally smelled up the proceedings.

Continues Talk
Green continued to speak, reiterating his pledge to "shed our last drop of blood" to preserve white supremacy. His aides jumped off the stand to deal with the students.

A big Klansman wearing the regalia of a grand cyclops took charge. About 15 uniformed members of the West Columbia police forces then told the students to move on.

One policeman explained that the Klan had rented the lot and was entitled to its use. The students reluctantly withdrew, but continued to jeer and yell from the fringe of the meeting, attended by about 500 Klansmen.

Firecrackers
The students also shot off a few firecrackers and shouted at women Klansmen. "Hey honey, your slip's showing!"

A small Klansman ran up to the group of about 30 students and challenged any one of them to a fight but his fellows dragged him back and that was the nearest approach to actual violence.

Green shouted that if "you let President Truman ram this civil rights bill down your throats it will be legal for a Negro to come up on your porch and ask for your daughter's hand in marriage."

"She can always say 'no!'" chorused Green's hecklers in the student body.

Bill Would Protect Aliens Aiding U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Aliens who help U.S. spies abroad would be granted a sanctuary in the United States under a bill unanimously approved by the house armed services committee yesterday.

Spectators and newsmen were cleared from the room while the committee discussed the secrecy shrouded measure.

The bill would permit the U.S. central intelligence agency to offer the protection of residence in this country to foreigners who may risk their lives in aiding American agents overseas. Up to 100 such persons would be permitted to enter the United States each year, without regard to immigration laws.

Committee members said one aim of the bill is to attract renegade Communists with important information about countries behind the Soviet iron curtain.

Rocker Tips, Sends Tot Through Window

A six-year-old Iowa City boy was injured when he fell from a rocking chair through a second story window here last night.

Patrick Charles Akers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick C. Akers, 53 S. Capitol street, was standing in the chair, rocking back and forth, when it tipped, throwing him through the window glass to the yard below. He fell about 12 feet, police said.

The boy was rushed to University hospitals by police. Attendants reported him in "fair" condition. A report on the extent of his injuries was not available last night, hospital officials said.

Patrick, unconscious from his fall, was carried into the house by his mother before the police arrived.

He remained unconscious while police took him to the hospital. Patrick is a kindergarten student at Henry Sablin school.

Rl State Tops Offenses

Aggies Best Team In U.S. Defensively

NEW YORK (AP)—Rhode Island State leads in offense and Oklahoma A & M in defense but only Kentucky's great Wildcats rate in the first ten in both phases of play among the nation's major collegiate basketball teams.

Rhode Island's run and shoot lads have averaged 71.9 points per game in 16 contests through Feb. 19, according to the figures released yesterday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau. On the other hand Rhodey has permitted the opposition to run up 59.4 points per game, an average that would place it far down on the defensive list.

Oklahoma A & M has held its foes to 34.6 points in 20 tilts but has been able to compile only 46.5 points itself. The Aggies' offensive mark would put them 'way down in that department.

Kentucky, the No. 1 quintet in the nation, is tenth in scoring with 67.3 in 23 games and third in defensive play with 42.7 points.

That's a good example of how Kentucky wins. The Wildcats' average margin of victory is 24.6, far superior to their nearest rival, Tulane, Tulane, with 65.1 for and 46.8 against, has an 18.3 point spread. Loyola of Chicago is third with a 17 spread on 60.8 points for and 43.8 against.

Leaders of other departments include Loyola of Chicago in field goal percentage, .381; Davidson in free throw percentage, .716; and Gettysburg in fewest personal fouls committed, 14.1.

Homer Cooke Jr., director of the NCAB, points out that Providence has averaged the most personal fouls per game, 25.6, followed by Indiana, 25.3 and DePaul 25.2.

All three have had more attention from the referees so far than Iowa State last year. Iowa State committed the most personal fouls per game last season, 23.7.

Hawkllets, Bloodhounds Play Post-Season Tilt

Iowa City's Little Hawks, who concluded their regularly scheduled season last Saturday with a win over Franklin of Cedar Rapids, will meet the Fort Madison Bloodhounds at 7:30 tonight at the City High gymnasium.

The post-season game was scheduled to occupy an open date on the City High schedule produced by the advancement of the Franklin tilt.

The Hawkllet-Franklin game was originally scheduled for this Friday but was changed to last Saturday. This change in dates was made because Coe fieldhouse would not be available Friday.

Tonight's game will be the finale for the Little Hawks before tournament play.

Dressed in Satin — 'Gorgeous' Clips Foe

NEW YORK (UP)—Gorgeous George, the marcelled and run-furled grappler who raises turkeys on the west coast, laid an "egg" at the box office but stretched a "yegg" in the ring Monday night as wrestling returned to Madison Square Garden after an absence of 12 years.

The egg was a disappointing crowd and gate on the rainy night. The yegg was Ernie Dusek of Omaha who comported himself as a villainous cad during much of their "muscle comedy."

Referee Joe Gordon patted George's pale back at 25 minutes and 57 seconds of their scheduled 57th exhibition. And the crowd boomed lustily.

Although George of the long blond hair tried to be the nicer gentleman during the exhibition, his sissified appearance and mannerisms evoked little enthusiasm from the fans.

Headlocks Stun Dusek George stuck his stocky, cauliflower-headed opponent's shoulders to the mat after Dusek appeared to have been stunned by four flying headlocks—the "Gorgeous George special."

The ceremonies preceding the exhibition were better than the alleged contest.

Georgious George of Hollywood was given a grand ovation, and the organ played "pomp and circumstance" as George marched regally down the aisle. He was arrayed in a magnificent dressing gown of the slipper satin, covered with brocade lace. At the bottom was a border of roses and forget-me-nots.

Wore 'Loveliest' Headgear His marcelled, blond hair was covered with a green net containing emeralds.

George made this regal entrance before the 4,157 fans who paid $13,957, only after his valet—laid semi-blond and mustached Jackson Hunt—had gone around the ring, spraying it with a perfumed disinfectant. He used a silver-plated flit gun. Hunt was attired in formal evening clothes.

NCAA Reveals Cage Selections

CHICAGO (AP)—Arthur "Dutch" Lonberg, Northwestern university basketball coach yesterday announced the makeup of the 1949 NCAA basketball selection committee.

Lonberg, chairman of the NCAA basketball tournament committee, said the men selected will determine which eight teams will be selected for the championship tournament.

The NCAA membership of 385 active and allied members is divided geographically into eight districts for organizational purposes. A three-man selection committee has been appointed for each district and the chairman of each committee is a representative on the NCAA basketball rules committee.

The teams selected from the four eastern districts will compete in the eastern playoffs at New York, March 21-22; the four western district teams will compete at Kansas City, March 18-19.

The winners and runners-up from each playoff will play in the finals at the University of Washington, Seattle, March 26.

Lonberg said that is the policy of the tournament committee to discourage playoffs to determine a district representative. Playoffs, limited to one game, are authorized when in the considered opinion of a selection committee a play-off is necessary in order to make a choice.

Illini, Gophers Lead Big Nine Scoring, Threaten Records

Two Western conference records are likely to be cracked when the 1949 edition of Big Nine basketball comes to a close next month.

The league-leading Illini are a good bet to post a new season offensive average. Coach Harry Combes' club, playing without an individual star, has compiled an average of 62 points per game, according to Western conference statistics released yesterday.

The Illini will have to average a little over 65 points per game for the three remaining contests to surpass the mark established by the legendary "Whiz Kids" of 1943. The conference titlists of 1943 racked up a total of 755 points in 12 games for a 62.9 average.

The second team that will probably post a new league record is Minnesota. The Gophers now boast of a .322 field goal percentage for their 10 games. If they continue at this pace, Coach Ozzie Cowles' cagers will top the previous high of .298 set by the 1947 Badgers.

The Doug Mills coached Illini of 1943 are the only conference team to average more than 60 markers a game for the season. The closest rival was Ohio State. The Bucks had a 58.5 average in 1944.

Illinois will clash with Northwestern Saturday in a return engagement with the Wildcats after winning the first contest at Champaign, 85-66. The Illini have scored over 60 points in each of their last four games. Their last game was an 80-49 victory over Iowa.

Rookie Prospects Slim

Johnny Groth, Tiger First-Year Man, Best Bet In American Loop for Rookie Award

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UP)—When the American League's big-time pitchers start curving 'em in the spring, many a prospective "Rookie of the Year" will be boarding an outbound sleeper.

There isn't a single made-to-order Rookie star on the American League books at the moment, unless it's young Johnny Groth of the Detroit Tigers, up from Buffalo. The Tigers tabbed him as the new rookie crop is quite an assortment, including the son of Philadelphia Coach Earle Brucker, the brother of Yankee outfielder Charley Keller and a pitcher who won 19 games in the minors last season but now is slated for trial in Washington's outfield.

Only a test will separate the morning glories, has-beens and never-to-be's from the promising group that will be knocking on the doors at American League camps this spring with high hopes in their hearts. Meantime, let's take a look at the kids who figure to make it a fight.

Bill Veeck's Cleveland Indians, looking to the future when their aging infield will hit the skids, are coming up with infielders Al Rosen and Ike Boone. Rosen hit .327 for Kansas City last season, was voted the American association's top rookie. Boone hit .355 at shortstop for Oklahoma City in the Texas league. As prospects, they may be great but neither figures to oust Lou Boudreau, Ken Keltner or Joe Gordon.

Would Nullify 'Easy Ed,' Groza Play for All-Stars

ALBANY (AP)—A bill, which if passed, would invalidate all professional baseball contracts in the state, was introduced in the state legislature yesterday by two New York City Democrats.

The bill, designed because of Danny Gardella's $300,000 lawsuit against organized baseball, would make the reserve clause in contracts, null, void, and unenforceable.

The legislators, Sen. Alfred E. Santangelo and Assemblyman Louis Cluff, charged that the present practice of restraining baseball players from negotiating their own services with other ball clubs was "akin to peonage, and in restraint of trade."

"The Gardella case dramatically highlights the monopolistic practices of the baseball solons," Santangelo said.

Macauley is the first player named to the West squad by Valdal Peterson of Utah, the West coach.

Adolph Rupp, Kentucky coach who will pilot the easterners, already has picked four of his wildcats—Groza, Ralph Beard, Wallace (Wah Wah) Jones and Cliff Barker. Each squad will have ten men.

Newly-Formed Pro Grid Club Drops Voyles

BROOKLYN (AP) The newly created Brooklyn-New York combine in the All-America Football conference began operating officially yesterday with the announcement of a new corporate setup that moves Carl Voyles, erstwhile head coach of the Dodgers, out of the gridiron picture.

This was disclosed at a press conference at which Dan Topping, president of the baseball yankees, was announced as the president of the football club. Under the new arrangement, Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn club will be chairman of the board of directors.

The corporation will be known as the Brooklyn-New York football club, Inc. No decision was made on a name for the team that will play its home games in the conference at Yankee stadium.

The position of Voyles, who has served only one year of his three-year contract, is still in doubt, although Rickey made it clear the pact will be honored.

"Voyles will have no connection whatsoever with the football set-up," he said, "but he may be placed somewhere in the Brooklyn baseball organization. The details have still to be worked out. Carl may go to our Vero Beach, Fla., spring training camp and act as a running instructor."

Rickey emphasized that the move was not to be taken as a reflection on Voyles' coaching ability in any way.

"It is only that Strader (Norman Strader, head coach of the club) was given free reign to select his own assistants," he said. "Strader did not see fit to select Voyles and that was that."

Rookie Prospects Slim

Johnny Groth, Tiger First-Year Man, Best Bet In American Loop for Rookie Award

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UP)—When the American League's big-time pitchers start curving 'em in the spring, many a prospective "Rookie of the Year" will be boarding an outbound sleeper.

There isn't a single made-to-order Rookie star on the American League books at the moment, unless it's young Johnny Groth of the Detroit Tigers, up from Buffalo. The Tigers tabbed him as the new rookie crop is quite an assortment, including the son of Philadelphia Coach Earle Brucker, the brother of Yankee outfielder Charley Keller and a pitcher who won 19 games in the minors last season but now is slated for trial in Washington's outfield.

Only a test will separate the morning glories, has-beens and never-to-be's from the promising group that will be knocking on the doors at American League camps this spring with high hopes in their hearts. Meantime, let's take a look at the kids who figure to make it a fight.

Bill Veeck's Cleveland Indians, looking to the future when their aging infield will hit the skids, are coming up with infielders Al Rosen and Ike Boone. Rosen hit .327 for Kansas City last season, was voted the American association's top rookie. Boone hit .355 at shortstop for Oklahoma City in the Texas league. As prospects, they may be great but neither figures to oust Lou Boudreau, Ken Keltner or Joe Gordon.

To Arraign Austin Knight

Austin "Jimmie" Knight, who broke out of the Johnson county jail here Friday night, will be arraigned in court at 9 a.m. today to answer charges of larceny and breaking jail.

Knight appeared in court yesterday morning, but District Court Judge James P. Gaffney postponed arraignment until Knight could consult with his attorney, Clair E. Hamilton.

At the time of his escape from jail, Knight was awaiting arraignment on a grand jury indictment charging him with grand larceny. County Attorney Jack C. White has since filed an information against Knight charging him with breaking jail.

Knight escaped from jail Friday night after sawing off his cell bars and lowering himself to the ground with a bed-sheet rope.

He was arrested at 11:55 p.m. Monday in downtown Iowa City by county officers, after police had blocked off the area in which Knight had been spotted.

New York Minister to Talk Here

Appearing at SUI next week as Religion in Life week speaker will be Rev. George D. Kelsey, New York.

The New York minister is associate executive secretary in field administration for the Federal Council of Churches.

Students of Disciples fellowship of the First Christian church and students of Roger Williams fellowship, Baptist church, are bringing Rev. Kelsey to Religion in Life week Feb. 17 to March 3.

REV. GEORGE D. KELSEY

while at SUI Rev. Kelsey will speak at Religion in Life week seminars daily at 2:30 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. His topic will be "The Church — Politics and Economics."

As secretary for the Federal Council of Churches Rev. Kelsey presents and interprets the council's program plans and resources to state and area church groups.

Rev. Kelsey was a speaker at the Ecumenical Student conference held at Lawrence, Kan. last December. Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, pastor of the First Baptist church here, said yesterday.

The favorable impression Rev. Kelsey made on SUI students who attended the conference influenced the Baptist and Christian church student groups to ask him to SUI as Religion in Life week speaker, Rev. Dierks said.

Before joining the federal council of churches Rev. Kelsey was director of the school of religion at Morehouse college, Atlanta, Ga.

The New York minister has written a book called, "The Nature of Christian Ethics."

He attended Morehouse college, Andover-Newton Theological seminary and Yale university.

Before coming to SUI Rev. Kelsey will be Religion in Life speaker at Frances Shimer college, Mount Carroll, Ill., Rev. Dierks said.

RECORDS EARTHQUAKE

LONDON (AP) — E.W. Pollard, London seismologist, recorded yesterday what he described as a "very big" earthquake. He said it was probably in Asia Minor or Turkey. He said the tremors lasted two hours.

Just Tired

First Tire Change In Ten Years

Mr. Average Motorist, how would you like to have to change tires only once every ten years? That's the record of Iowa City's ladder truck number two.

Installation of new snow-and-mud-grip tires yesterday on the rear dual-wheels of the truck marked the first change of tires and tubes since 1939.

Snow-and-mud-grip tires are used on fire trucks because of the greater traction gained in comparison with ordinary tread tires equipped with chains, Fire Chief J.J. Clark said yesterday.

"We'll wear out two complete sets of cross-links on a pair of chains each year," Clark said, "but in the ten years the old tires were on number two truck we never had to use chains, because of the better performance of the lug-grip tires."

Regular policy of the fire department is to change tires every five years, but during the war years the tires purchased in 1939 were considered better than any available on the market, Clark said.

Palimpsest Relates Indian Chief's Life

"War Eagle" by J. A. Swisher, resident associate of the state historical society, is the lead article in the February issue of the society's monthly pamphlet, "Palimpsest."

This month's pamphlets were mailed to subscribers Tuesday.

Swisher's article is a history of the last Sioux Indian chief in the Iowa country, War Eagle.

Second article in the pamphlet is "Northern Iowa—1858." This is a collection of letters written by Henry C. Kelly and printed in the Dubuque Express and Herald during March 1858.

"Roving Correspondents" by William J. Petersen, superintendent of the society, tells how writing like Kelly's can be used in studying Iowa history.

Porter Blasts McGrath's '3 Senator' Plan

Sen. J. Howard McGrath's proposal to have three senators from each state instead of two, "will not get far," according to Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of the SUI political science department.

Porter flatly denounced yesterday the plan advanced by McGrath in a Washington-day meeting of Kansas Democrats at Topeka. Porter said the proposal was "without merit" and "not likely to strike fire with any group, including the Democratic party," of which McGrath is chairman.

proposal has been even seriously considered," the SUI professor said, adding that he cannot imagine why it has even been mentioned now.

Porter said he suspected such a move is not sponsored or even endorsed by the Democratic party, but is "McGrath's own personal idea."

Porter said that while he feels such a proposal "would not be calamitous," he can not see how it would do any good.

McGrath claimed in Topeka that such a plan would speed up the legislative process, distribute the load now being handled by too few senatorial committees, make organizations more alert and enable each state to be recorded on important issues.

It was the first of McGrath's claims that drew the biggest criticism from the SUI political science head. Porter said that it was the first time he had ever heard of making a legislative body more efficient by increasing its size. He said increasing the size of the senate would inevitably make it slower and more cumbersome.

Porter said he didn't understand how having three senators instead of two from each state would make political organizations more alert, but he acknowledged that an extra senator would enable each state to have more representation on committees.

He qualified this statement by saying he didn't think it was necessary for each state to be represented on each senate committee.

The SUI professor said if there were more senators and more representation on senate committees, each state would then naturally have its vote recorded on all important issues, but he discounted the importance of having this vote recorded for all of the states.

McGrath might better spend his time, Porter said, working on amendments to the constitution for the abolishment of the electoral college or for a uniform rule on suffrage, which are "more important by far" than having three senators instead of two from each state.

Jonson to Lecture About School Laws At ISEA Meeting

Kenneth L. Jonson, director of field service and professional relations for the Iowa State Education association, will speak Monday at the junior high school auditorium.

Jonson will address an all-county meeting of teachers on

KENNETH L. JONSON

"School Legislation," according to an announcement made by the ISEA. He is executive secretary of the Iowa Future Teachers association.

The ISEA field service director is also administrator of the association's employment information service. He is former executive secretary of the Iowa commission on teacher education and professional standards.

Harold B. Parker, Iowa City, is president of the Johnson county council of the ISEA. Parker, an Iowa City junior high school instructor, will be in charge of the Monday meeting.

Don't be Shocked At 'Timber' Calls

The sleepy student strolling down a campus walk needn't be too surprised if the sudden cry "timber" is heard. It's only a sheared branch loose from its moorings.

R.J. Phillips, head of the SUI grounds and building department, reported yesterday that most of the trees on the main campus—the campus east of the Iowa river—will be pruned in an attempt to eliminate the dead wood and branches.

The pruning has been going on this week and will continue "off and on" throughout the year, Phillips said.

Bids on Physical Plant, Library to Open Today

Bids on the revised plans for the physical plant shops and university library will be opened at 2 p.m. today in the house chambers of Old Capitol.

Revised plans resulted from the rejection of original bids in May, 1948. At that time the lowest bids exceeded the approved legislative interim committee's funds by $1.2-million.

SUI Atom Smasher Yields Million Volts

Over one million volts were generated by SUI's Van de Graaf type atom smasher during test runs yesterday, according to John Wahl, research associate.

This voltage is almost three times greater than had been generated in earlier testing.

To reach this voltage, pressure inside the generator tank was increased to about 23 pounds for each square inch, Wahl said.

Testing of the smasher was able to continue this week after Robert C. Grimm, mechanic, located and repaired a leak in the accelerator tube.

Workers on the smasher said they were lucky to find the leak as quickly as they did. The accelerator tube is over twenty feet long and is made of over a hundred small insulators fitted together. The seal between each of these insulators had to be checked to find the leak.

Continue Lawsuit to Break Will

Selection of jurors for a will contest lawsuit in Johnson county district court was continued yesterday until 10 a. m. today.

District Court Judge James P. Gaffney continued the case of Ipsen vs. Ruess until today because an unsuccessful attempt to settle the case yesterday morning delayed the selection of jurors for the trial.

The case is that in which six nieces and nephews are trying to break a will left by J. W. Ruess, who died Oct. 7, 1947.

Last October, a jury declared the will invalid on the claimed grounds that Mr. Ruess was mentally incompetent at the time the will was drawn up in 1942, and that he was influenced by four heirs who are listed as defendants in the case.

The Iowa supreme court reversed this decision, and the case is now up for retrial in district court on a motion by the plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs in the case are Mary Ipsen, Elizabeth Ruess, Geraldine Sheridan, Edward Bryan, Charles Bryan and Lorretta Loughlin. Attorneys for the plaintiffs are Robert Brooke, D. C. Nolan and Harold O. Keele.

The defendants are Louis F. Ruess, executor of the will, Raymond Hoffelder, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffelder and Hazel R. Consamus. Attorneys Pauline F. Kelly and Ries, Dutcher and Osmundson are representing the defendants.

Alumni to Celebrate Throughout Country, SUI 102 Years Old

The State University of Iowa will be represented at alumni meetings all over the country in commemoration of its founding 102 years ago tomorrow.

Max S. Hawkins, field secretary of the alumni association, will be guest speaker tomorrow night at the founders' day meeting of the SUI club of Kansas.

Loren L. Hickerson, director of the alumni service, will speak Tuesday at a reception for SUI alumni in Washington, D.C.

On March 3 he will talk at the Philadelphia SUI club founders' day dinner and March 4 at the founders' day dinner and first meeting of the newly-organized Buffalo, N.Y. club.

Campus movies and a message from SUI President Virgil M. Hancher will take the place of personal representation at tomorrow's founders' day meetings of the SUI clubs of Northern California and Wenatchee, Washington.

Bridegroom Couldn't Tarry for the Judge

A bride was left waiting in front of the police station yesterday afternoon while her husband was inquiring about a traffic ticket, police said.

The bridegroom's car and the car of another member of the wedding party were tagged with overtime parking tickets during the wedding banquet at the Jefferson hotel.

When police said the judge wasn't in, the bridegroom said he couldn't wait.

Deadline of Election Petitions Set by Council for March 19

Final filing date for candidate's petitions for the all-university elections was set as noon March 19 by the Student Council election committee yesterday.

Petition forms for the March 30 election will be available in the Office of Student Affairs beginning March 12. The petitions must contain signatures of 100 students, a new ruling set last week by the committee, before they may be filed.

The committee has been attempting to obtain voting machines from Johnson county, Committee Chairman George McBurney said. The machines would facilitate voting and possibly stimulate student interest in the election, he added.

Ballot Arrangement
Tentative arrangement of candidates on the ballots were approved by the committee following last week's decision to use more than one ballot to speed the voting procedure.

Present plans call for candidates for the Student Council, Student Board of Publications and the Tailfeathers Athletic award to appear on one ballot which all students would be eligible to use. University Women's association candidates will be on a separate ballot if voting machines are obtained.

Other Ballots
Other separate ballots will be provided for YMCA, Women's Recreational association, Town Women and senior class officer candidates. Separate ballots are desired because special qualifications of the voter is required.

The committee urges any organization not included in the above list who wishes to place candidates on the ballots to contact Chairman George McBurney.

A committee to handle publicity on the spring election was named. Members are Robert F. Crumley, C4, Iowa City, chairman; Daniel F. Dillinger, E4, Avoca, and Richard A. Dice, C3, Marion.

Council to Choose Centennial Envoys

Four student representatives to attend the University of Wisconsin centennial celebration will be selected at the regular meeting of the Student Council tonight at 7:30 in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Representatives to the March 24-26 celebration in Madison will take part in a "Symposium of Student Government and Higher Education," Council President Eyan L. Hultman said yesterday. The students will engage in discussing and analyzing problems relating to student government and activities on campuses, he explained.

Industrial Peace Theme of Talk

Austin E. Finnessy, director of education and public relations for the Iowa Federation of Labor, will speak on industrial peace at the Information First lecture at 4:30 p.m. today in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The title of Finnessy's lecture will be "The Way to Industrial Peace in Our Modern Industrial Society."

Finnessy attended Iowa State Teachers college where he majored in economics and the social sciences. He took graduate work in industrial relations at SUI and the University of Chicago.

He gained his background in the problems of labor and management by working for the Standard Oil company, the Solar Aircraft company, the United States employment service, and Drake university in Des Moines. Finnessy then began his work with the Iowa Federation of Labor in Des Moines.

Finnessy is chairman of the Federated Legislative council, a board member of the Midwest Institute of International relations and of the Polk county tuberculosis society.

He is a member of the program committee of the National Farm Institute, a member of the Des Moines Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Civil Liberties league, committee of foreign relations, and the Iowa Industrial Training council.

Finnessy is the second guest speaker of the spring semester lecture series sponsored by the

Kampus Kapers — Vaudeville Is Reborn

By CHARLES CARROLL

Vaudeville came back from its grave last night to present a lively 17-act show to a near-capacity crowd in Macbride auditorium.

The seventh annual production of Kampus Kapers, all-university variety show, offered a menu which satisfied all tastes.

There were singers with Irish brogues, sultry voices, and powerful lungs. There were dancers of the soft shoe and tap variety with a little modern ballet tossed in for good measure. There were slapstick comedy teams that went to any extreme to get a chuckle from the audience. And there was more.

After a shaky start the show swung into the song-and-dance routine of Jack Brooking and Jack Pedersen which just about stopped proceedings. Irish Jim Doyle let loose with a couple ballads, which smacked of the Land of the Shamrock and which DID stop the show.

A moody song and ballet skit presented by Jacques Fitzgerald and Connie Jewett met with the apparent approval of the crowd.

Buxom Beverly Bragg led a well-trained eightsome of precision dancers through a sprightly "Waitin' at the Church" act which was another crowd-pleaser.

The show will run tonight and tomorrow night. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

AAA Group to Go To State Meetings

The Johnson county AAA committee will attend the annual convention being held in Des Moines for Iowa AAA men today and tomorrow.

Committeemen attending from Johnson county are Ray E. Smalley, chairman; Dale Anderson, and A.B. Thomas, first alternate to the county committee.

About 300 committeemen will attend the convention from all parts of Iowa. Meetings, to begin at 10 a.m., will be held in the Savery hotel, for discussions and talks on Iowa's agricultural program for 1949.

Bi-Partisan Group Nominates Seven For School Board

Seven Iowa City men and women were unofficially nominated for three school board vacancies last night by a bi-partisan committee of four Republicans and four Democrats.

Five candidates who were recommended by the committee for the two vacant three-year terms include Irving Weber, Robert Osmondson, Alva Gathout, George Dvorsky and Mrs. C.L. Gillies.

Two Iowa Citizens recommended for the one-year term to be filled in the March 14 election are Mrs. Kenneth Greene and L.R. (Pat) Beals.

Glenn Griffith, present treasurer of the independent school district, was nominated for reelection to his present position.

The bi-partisan committee elected Robert H. Lind, committee chairman, and D. E. Borchart secretary. Lind said the committee's choice of candidates "indicates interest in our school system" and also that the committee "operated on a bi-partisan basis."

Republicans who served on the committee were C. Merton Spicer, Robert Lind, J.A. Swisher and Mrs. Ray Thornberry. Democrats who served the meeting were Mrs. Mabel Fitzgerald, Mrs. Joe Crumley, D.E. Borchart and Mrs. Thomas Farrell.

BEATEN UNCONSCIOUS
DETROIT (AP)—Gerald J. Courtney, 25, beat Edwin Ketko, 48, unconscious yesterday because Ketko dropped a dead mouse in his glass of beer, police said.

It Just Doesn't Pay To Park This Way

Henry C. Miller, 1025 E. Washington street, paid double for seven overtime and double-parking tickets yesterday, police reported. The tickets carry a fine of $1 each. Police Captain "Ray" Ham said, but if they aren't paid within a week, another dollar fine is added to each ticket.

Miller paid a total of $14 in fines plus a $2 tow-in charge. Captain Ham reported. He said cars are towed to the police station after a number of unpaid tickets and are then charged against the owner.

Audience Favors Syncopated 'Suite' — SUI Concert Band Offers Varied Program

By DONALD KEY
A widely varied program was presented by Prof. C.B. Righter and the SUI concert band in their second performance of the season last night in the Iowa Union.

Music from the days of Marie Antoinette to those of modern jazz was represented, and the band even transformed itself into a male chorus for one number, "Landsighting," by Grieg. "The best liked and possibly the best performed number of the evening was the "Carnival Suite" of Tansman. This work is popularized by the use of modern syncopated rhythms, and the slow New Orleans drawl.

Seventeenth century music was represented by the "Pantomime" from "Il Cid" by Sacchini. This is dainty music and handled a little too heavily by the band's brass section, but the saxophone solo in the "Aria" movement was expertly played by Arnold L. Oehlsen, associate director. He has a singing quality of tone that is especially pleasant to hear.

Apparently the difficulties in transforming from band to male chorus were a little too great for the band men. The number "Landsighting" was saved only by the well managed baritone solo sung by Offie Leeper.

"Menuet" by Bolzoni, as arranged by Prof. Righter, was graceful music. The arrangement was excellent but, to my ear, woodwind instruments just don't sound like strings. The number was originally written for string orchestra.

In last night's concert the balance of the band seemed much improved. There were some mishaps, and the intonation at times was questionable, but the program was a difficult one and most of the demanding technical passages were well handled.

As an encore the band played and sang the new "Iowa Victory Chant."

Bikini Movie Tells Test Preparations

The Bikini atom bomb tests were vividly described last night in a color movie, "Operations Crossroads," shown in studio E, engineering building.

The story of preparations for the tests and shots of the atom bomb explosions from several different angles were shown in the film sponsored by Electronic Warfare facility, 9120, U.S. Naval Reserve.

Lt. John P. Rhodes, a naval aviator at the Bikini site during the tests, spoke to the group attending the film. He said Bikini was selected as the test site because prevailing winds were such that they would blow the radioactive cloud, resulting from the bomb explosions, away from inhabited areas.

YMCA to Offer Vacation Tour

During Easter vacation five or six SUI students will have an opportunity to watch our government in action in Washington, D.C., and attend UN meetings at Lake Success, N.Y. They might also be granted an extra three days of vacation.

This YMCA "Know Your Government" tour is being made for the third year, Executive Secretary Ralph Schlomg said yesterday. Sixteen students from various Iowa colleges will make the trip.

Any student may apply for this coeducational project. The fee from Iowa City is $75 for all expenses. A refund will be made if the tour should cost less than expected.

Leave April 8

The group will leave Iowa City April 8 in a "Y" truck-bus vehicle used for tours. Schlomg said three days will be spent in Washington and three at Lake Success.

Spring vacation doesn't start until April 13, but Schlomg is hoping to get the students excused from three days of classes. They will be back in Iowa City April 18.

While in Washington the students will attend congressional meetings and take part in UN seminars at Lake Success.

Sign Up Early

Schlomg stressed it is important to sign up early. Applications are to be made at the "Y" office.

There are quite a few on a waiting list already but preference will be given to students not active in "Y" programs, Schlomg said.

"It's a way of extending our reach," he added. "It's a way of interpreting to students our work."

The "Y" also sponsors summer tours of Mexico and Europe and industrial projects in the United States for students interested in labor relations. Summer employment is provided in Los Angeles, Minneapolis, Chicago, Columbus, Hartford and New Haven.

SUI to Hear Harvard Prof.

Prof. Perry G.E. Miller of Harvard university will address the Humanities society on the "Social Implications in the Thought of Jonathan Edwards" Friday evening in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Miller will develop the subject of the social situation in New England at the time of the "Great Awakening" and how it affected Jonathan Edwards' ideas and theory of history.

Miller's specialty is colonial New England. He has written four books dealing with that section of the country and is now working on his second volume of the "New England Mind," the first volume of which appeared in 1939 and won high critical praise.

Miller received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago and has been a member of the Harvard faculty since 1931.

Saturday noon Miller will appear before the Harvard club of Eastern Iowa at a luncheon in the Jefferson hotel.

He will speak on his experiences with the office of strategic services during the war and of his particular field of work, which dealt with the problems of pre-invasion information for the French and the correlation of radio with underground activities.

Discovery of Nazi Poison Spray Revealed

MOUNTAINVIEW, CALIF. (AP)—The existence of a Nazi-developed poison spray, a dime-sized spot of which could kill a man in two minutes, was disclosed yesterday by an ex-army engineer who discovered it hidden in a Bavarian cave.

The liquid, called "Tabun," is 50 times more deadly than any poison gas ever invented, said former Maj. James M. Graham, late of the corps of engineers. It was his job, he said in a speech before the San Jose, Calif., chamber of commerce, to find and destroy poison gases in Germany after VE day.

No gas mask would stop its deadly work, he said. A spot the size of a dime, exposed to air on the back of a man's hand, would have fatal results in two minutes if it was not removed at once.

Band Makes Plans For Concert Tour Of Thirteen Cities

Final plans for the forthcoming SUI concert band tour of Iowa were announced yesterday by Prof. C.B. Righter, director of SUI bands.

The annual tour will cover north central Iowa and last five days from Mar. 28 to April 1. Thirteen concerts will be presented on the tour. The band will consist of 60 members of the regular concert band chosen for their "musicianship and scholastic ability", Righter said.

Accompanying the band on the tour will be Righter, Arnold Oehlens, associate director of SUI bands, and Mrs. William R. Muma, who will act as women's counselor for the tour.

The band will play a different program in each town visited. Numbers were selected from a tour list of 25 compositions. Meals and housing will be provided by the local schools in the towns where the band will play.

Iowa towns on the band's itinerary for their annual tour are Des Moines, Marshalltown, Hubbard, Ft. Dodge, Algona, Humboldt, Belmond, Sumner, Oelwein, Independence, Manchester and Marion. The band will cover the route in two chartered buses. A truck will transport instruments and equipment.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TED LAWSON, co-author of "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," told me a fine story about Alex de Seversky, who, like Lawson, lost a leg as a flyer in wartime. "Seversky one day was trying to cheer a disconsolate airman in a similar predicament. "The loss of a leg," he said with conviction, "is really not so great a calamity. Look at me. I dance, I fly, I drive a car, I go everywhere.

"And another thing, if you get hit on a wooden leg, it doesn't hurt a bit! Here, try it!" The aviator took his cane and cracked it across Seversky's leg with terrific force. "You see," laughed Seversky. "If you hit an ordinary man like that he'd be in bed for five days! Cheer up, old man," he waved airily, and left the ward. In the corridor, he collapsed! The wounded aviator, of course, had hit him on his real leg!

After the first act of an important opening, the author, sensing failure, was holding his head in the wings. "Cheer up!" roared actress Tallulah Bankhead. "After all, your four other recent plays were flops, too."

Wallace Says U.S. to Blame For Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Wallace yesterday accused the United States of starting the cold war with Russia and of using the Marshall European Recovery Program to "intensify" it.

The unsuccessful Progressive party presidential candidate testified against continuation of the Marshall plan before the house foreign affairs committee.

Questioned by both Democratic and Republican committee members, he said that Russia "genuinely" wants peace, that the Soviets have expanded in Europe because they are afraid of the United States, and that there will be a "long-time" conflict between communism and capitalism.

But he said he would rather live under the capitalist system in America than under the communist system.

As he testified, Wallace was flanked by high officials of the Progressive party, including its campaign director, C.B. Baldwin.

In addition, Rep. Vito Marcantonio, (D-N.Y.), was seated at his side.

Committee members asked questions in an off-hand, and sometimes, semi-serious, manner. But tempers flared when Committee Chairman Sol Bloom, (D-N.Y.), pointed out that the United States took due notice of the United Nations in authorizing the recovery program.

Bloom said the ERP law mentions the United Nations twice. Wallace replied that "those are just words."

"That is all we have had here all day then — just words," Bloom snapped.

James Stika Dead After Long Illness

James Stika, 60, for many years an employe of the SUI hydraulics laboratory, died yesterday at his home on North Dodge court after an illness of several months.

Mr. Stika, who for the last seven years had been custodian of the Junior high school gymnasium building, was born in Ellis, Kan., Sept. 16, 1888. He was the son of Joseph and Mary Stika.

He came to Iowa City as a child with his parents and spent most of his life here.

After attending a rural school, he became a carpenter. He was a veteran of overseas duty in World War I.

Mr. Stika's survivors are his wife, Clara; two daughters, Philis and Bernice, at home; a sister, Mrs. Rose Harrison, Detroit, Mich.; two nieces and a nephew. He was preceded in death by a brother, Frank, and a sister, Anne.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. The body is at McGovern Funeral home.

Iowan's Best Seller Manuscript at SUI

The manuscript of a current best seller has been added to the SUI library collection of original manuscripts by Iowa authors, Assistant Library Director Grace Van Wormer said yesterday.

The novel is "The Burnished Blade" by Lawrence Schoonover of Anamosa. His father, George L. Schoonover, now lives in Cedar Rapids. Schoonover's grandfather was a Civil war newspaper correspondent.

The book is about the early Renaissance period and medieval barbarism just after the execution of Jeanne d'Arc. It has been described as a colorful adventure story which compares with "Captain from Castile."

Schoonover spent three years in research before writing "The Burnished Blade."

Former Scouts Invited To Fraternity Meeting
