SUI Young Demos Open FEPC Fight

In a strong statement of policy denouncing Iowa City merchants for "discrimination in hiring employees because of race," SUI Young Democrats last night launched their fight to support the fair employment practices bill now before the state legislature.

The Young Democrats outlined a program supporting the measure ranging from plans for a city-wide rally to the formation of lobbyist groups to attend hearings on the Sloane-O'Malley FEPC bill in the legislature when it reconvenes after March 7.

An invitation in the form of a challenge was extended to the SUI Young Republican League to join them in the lobbying activity.

The Young Demos urged the Republicans to forget party lines and join them in fighting discriminatory hiring practices in Iowa.

Discrimination Seen
In their statement of policy the Young Demos claimed that a survey made in Iowa City last week showed that Negroes are not being hired for jobs in which they would deal directly with the people.

They pledged a program of action which their policy statement said, "will solve this shameful condition."

Hopes for Education
If he assumes the post he hopes to hold conferences of educational leaders to lay plans for educational development in the U.S., he said.

"I hope congress will provide funds to equalize education," McGrath said. "Some states don't have a sufficient annual income to cover their educational program and a better distribution of funds is needed."

If he obtains the appointment McGrath will head a staff of about 375 persons. "My experience as dean of the college of liberal arts should prove useful to me then," he said.

"Part of Iowa"
Clad in a light weight top coat, McGrath shivered from the cold when he was met at the Rock Island depot. However, he said he was happy to return to Iowa City for a short visit. "I get a kick every time I come back. I became a part of Iowa the four years I served here," he said.

McGrath said he liked Washington but was faced with a housing problem. "There were no apartments available, but I hope Mrs. McGrath and I can locate something soon," he said. McGrath lived in Washington for two years while serving in the navy.

Following his short visit in Iowa City, McGrath will return to his home in Chicago.

SUI Coed Reigns at Council Bluffs Ball
An SUI junior, Rozan Peterson, was crowned Queen of Council Bluffs 28th Annual Mardi Gras ball last night, according to The Associated Press.

The Mardi Gras ball is the top event of the Council Bluffs winter social season and is sponsored by the central chapter of St. Paul's Episcopal Church guild.

Her king was Elmer P. Juel, executive secretary of the Council Bluffs savings and loan association. At least 1,800 persons attended the annual ball.

Army Plans Longer Basic Training Period
FORT MONROE, VA. (AP)—The army is going to tack on another six weeks to the present eight-week basic training period, General Jacob L. Devers, chief of army field forces, said yesterday.

The new program, to be put into effect about March 7, Devers said in an order, will continue to emphasize the new army philosophy which puts more emphasis on the soldier as an individual.

Loafing in Lobby Only, Green Bay Cops Told
GREEN BAY, WIS. (AP)—You never know what you'll find on the police department bulletin board.

This notice was posted yesterday, signed by Inspector Francis Wigan:

"To all officers — Do not loiter at the counter or desk. Read the day book, pick up the bulletins and loiter in the lobby."

A week ago the policemen were instructed to "see the bulletin board for names of officers to shoot at target practices."

Plan Filibuster to Save the Filibuster

SOUTHERN SENATORS, John C. Stennis (D—Miss), Walter George (D—Ga.), and Russell Long (D—La.) (left to right) talk over the filibuster tactics they and other southern senators plan to use against a proposed filibuster killing change in the rules of the senate. The southerners say they are prepared to talk indefinitely to keep the rule change from coming through.

Filibuster Fight Opens

Kenyon College Fire Toll Climbs to Nine

GAMBIER, O. (AP)—The toll of deaths in Kenyon college's dormitory fire climbed yesterday to nine.

Jack McDonald, 18, of Hamilton, O., died in Mount Vernon Mercy hospital of a skull fracture suffered when he dropped from a third-floor window.

A few minutes earlier, President Gordon K. Chalmers of Kenyon officially abandoned hope for six students missing since flames destroyed "Old Kenyon" early Sunday morning.

Hot ashes piled deep inside the thick walls of the 122-year-old gothic structure prevented firemen from searching for the bodies of the six.

Robert McFarland, of Ames, Iowa, who was first listed in critical condition, was later removed from the critical list when he showed rapid improvement.

Southerners Start Talking

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern legislators opened a filibuster to save the historic right of filibuster in the senate yesterday after President Truman himself signalled a showdown to curb such talkathons.

All senate legislative machinery came to an immediate standstill. It may remain blocked for weeks, so long as Dixie orators hold the floor.

Mr. Truman told senate Democratic leaders to meet the issue "head on," and southern Democrats quickly accepted the challenge. Their first-day drive was short lived, however, as the senate adjourned at 4 p.m. (Iowa time) until today. Then it will start again.

At issue was an attempt by a number of northern Democrats and Republicans to change the senate rules so that a two-thirds majority vote can limit debate at any time.

As lead-off man in the fight to save the filibuster — the parliamentary device of talking a bill to death — Senator George (D-Ga.) said the issues raised are "bound to have repercussions hereafter," and declared:

"The results no man can quite see at this time."

He insisted that he was not filibustering — that he had never resorted to such tactics in his whole career — but a number of his southern colleagues had made plain that they intended to carry on the fight as long as their voices hold out.

Democratic Leader Lucas (D-Ill.) told the southerners the administration leaders plan to push for a showdown until "we get a final disposition of this matter."

Republican Floor Leader Wherry (Neb.), co-author of the kill-the-filibuster motion, said the southerners were hurting their own case by terming the proposed rules change a "gag rule."

Hoover Commission Cites Military Waste

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hoover commission reported yesterday that there is discord, waste, extravagance and lack of unified planning in the supposedly "unified" armed forces.

"The national military establishment is perilously close to the weakest type of department," the commission told congress.

It recommended that the secretaries of the army, navy and air force be demoted to subordinate status and stripped of certain powers. This would increase the authority of the secretary of defense to coordinate the armed services.

The Hoover commission expressed concern about lack of civilian control over the military. It called the joint chiefs of staff, which is composed of military commanders of the three forces, "a law unto themselves."

Tax Cut Seen If Recession Occurs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration will move swiftly to cut taxes if any "real recession" occurs, Leon Keyserling, a member of President Truman's council of economic advisers, said yesterday.

In an interview with U.S. News and World Report, independent weekly news magazines, he said however that tax increases are essential now to combat inflationary forces which still exist.

But he said the President has made it clear that the same principles "would call for a reversal to the flexible application of tax reductions if the business situation showed real signs of deterioration."

FRENCH ARREST TWO

PARIS (UP)—French police have arrested two more army officers and two civilians in their tough crackdown on the Communists, reliable reports said last night.

Gen. Clay Asks to Be Retired

BERLIN (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay said last night he has asked informally to be retired from his duties as United States military governor of Germany.

It appears likely there may be a complete change in American administration here by early summer. Clay's retirement would certainly be followed by wholesale resignations among the top advisors in the military government.

Three generals have been mentioned as possible successors. They are: General Mark Clark, former military governor of Austria; Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, who has asked to be relieved of his post as ambassador to Moscow, and Lt.

Republicans Name Mrs. Howard Beye

Has Margin Of 363 Votes

Mrs. Howard Beye scored a sweeping victory over Carl Redenbaugh with a margin of 363 votes in yesterday's Iowa City primary elections to win the Republican nomination for mayor.

Eight hundred fifteen Republican votes and 250 Democratic votes were cast in the primary which featured three contests on the Republican ticket. Yesterday's total exceeded that of the last Iowa City primary in 1947 when contests on the Democratic ticket brought out 568 voters compared to 304 Republican votes.

Mrs. Beye's victory total was 578 to Redenbaugh's 215 in yesterday's election. She carried every precinct. Her greatest margin was realized in the second ward where she recorded 242 votes to Redenbaugh's 39.

Mrs. Beye won the first ward by 52 votes to Redenbaugh's 31. She captured the third ward, 14 to 8, and the fourth ward by a vote of 131 to 67.

Redenbaugh also lagged in the fifth ward, 141 to 70.

The second Republican contest took place in the second ward where Wilbur J. Teeters, dean emeritus of the SUI college of pharmacy and former mayor of Iowa City, rode to an aldermanic nomination over Eugene T. Larew. The vote, also of sweeping proportions, was 208 to 71.

The third GOP contest maintained the landslide theme established in the first two. Gordon Webster won the nomination for fifth ward alderman by defeating Edwin Morley, 152 to 55.

One of the results of the primary was that the Republicans still don't have an alderman for the third ward. No Republican nomination for alderman in that ward was filed by Feb. 18, the filing deadline, and no write-in ballots for the post were recorded in third ward returns.

The biggest vote-getter in the Republican camp was Earl B. Raymond, seeking reelection as city treasurer. Raymond polled 717 votes. He was uncontested in the Republican primary. Also running uncontested on the Republican ticket were John Knox, who received 693 votes for police judge; Alonzo De Haan, 654 votes for park commissioner; Ray Thornberry and John B. Wilson, for alderman-at-large.

Thornberry received 597 votes and Wilson polled 626.

Jasper A. W. Davis Jr., running uncontested for first ward alderman, recorded 73 votes. Wayne E. Putnam, uncontested for fourth ward alderman, polled 162.

All contests on the Democratic ticket were uncontested. Incumbent Mayor Preston Koser polled 221 votes out of the 250 Democratic votes cast. Milo Novy received the nomination for city treasurer by polling 221 votes, also.

Emil G. Trott, incumbent candidate for police judge, received 211 ballots. Robert H. Lorenz gathered 218 votes for nomination for park commissioner.

Frank Fryauf Jr., and Carl F. Mighell, incumbent candidates for alderman-at-large, polled 204 and 202 ballots respectively.

James M. Callahan, incumbent first ward alderman, recorded 34 votes. Prof. George W. Martin, SUI botany department, was nominated for second ward alderman with 40 votes.

Charles T. Smith, third ward alderman incumbent, received the nomination for that post with 34 votes.

E.E. Cline received 48 write-in votes for the fourth ward alderman nomination. The Democrats had not filed nomination papers for the post by the Feb. 18 deadline. Incumbent alderman Max Hawkins of the fourth ward declined to run.

Incumbent Fifth Ward Alderman William H. Grandrath polled a total of 37 votes to gain the nomination.

Mardi Gras

Bandman Armstrong To Lead Parade

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, considered by some critics to play trumpet second only to Gabriel, will open the nation's No. 1 hangover construction project today in the early, and probably chilly, dawn.

Today is Mardi Gras, and Satchmo, who used to be a "po' boy from back of town," is king of the Zulus. This honor entitles him to wear a grass skirt and rabbit-skin vest, throw coconuts at his "subjects".

Satchmo gets off to an earlier start than Rex, lord of Mardi Gras misrule, and his queen Satchmo is supposed to arrive in his royal barge on the New Basin canal at 8 a.m. Rex won't get started until 11 a.m.

At least 500,000 people will see Satchmo, the so far unidentified Rex, and Comus parade today. Most of the spectators will be wearing costumes and masks and the police will restrict their frolicking to bounds just this side of bodily assault and mayhem.

The weather today is expected to run heavily to a red flannels ture of 60 to 64 degrees. This probably will cause the costumes to run heavily to a red flannels motif and greatly increase the alcoholic consumption potential of the celebrants.

Badgers Surge to 70-47 Win Over Hawks

Rehfeldt Runs Wild, Tallies 34 To Cinch Big 9 Scoring Title

MADISON—Center Don Rehfeldt had the greatest individual scoring night in Wisconsin basketball history as he drilled in 34 points, leading the Badgers to a 70-47 victory over Iowa here in Camp Randall fieldhouse last night.

Rehfeldt took all the honors in the blistering assault against the Hawkeyes. He had quite an evening for himself. This is what he accomplished:

1. He broke the Wisconsin fieldhouse record of 31 points for a single game, set by Johnny Kottz against Iowa in 1942.

2. He broke the Wisconsin single season Big Nine scoring record of 193 points, set by Ray Patterson in 1944. Rehfeldt's mark now is 213 points with one game against Minnesota remaining on the Badger schedule.

3. He is one free throw shy of another Wisconsin single season record. His eight charity tosses against the Hawks boosted his total for the year to 55. Gene England's Big Nine mark for Wisconsin in 1941 was 53.

4. Rehfeldt also clinched the 1949 Western conference individual championship, beyond any doubt, to succeed Iowa's Murray Vier, 1948 champion. Besides all this, Rehfeldt cracked two other Wisconsin scoring records last Saturday night. These were total points for all games—now 365 points—and number of field goals for all games—now 140. Both were formerly held by Kottz.

Badgers Took Over
But believe it or not, the Badgers did have four other ballplayers to help Rehfeldt out. Wisconsin tore the ball game apart at the seams after the Iowans had made a fairly close battle of it in the first half and for five minutes of the final period.

Iowa's leading scorer for the Big Nine season, Charlie Mason, pushed in 11 markers to top the Hawkeye point makers. Guard Doug Rogers also scored 11 points to follow Rehfeldt for Wisconsin.

With big Rehfeldt pouring in 18 points in the opening half, the Badgers jumped into a 34-26 lead by the intermission break. Rehfeldt broke Patterson's Big Nine single season record for the Badgers with more than four minutes left in the period.

Iowa Rallies Before Half
Wisconsin held 11 point leads on two occasions in the first stanza at 41-30 and 42-31. A late Iowa burst closed the gap to eight points before the halftime break. Rehfeldt's spinning hook shot with the game 30 seconds old gave the Badgers a 2-0 advantage, and showed the capacity crowd of 13,000 that the 6-foot, 6-inch pivot man was in for a hot night.

Wisconsin never lost that opening lead in the first half, although the Hawks did come within one point at 5-4 and 7-6. Iowa started the second half with a surge which brought it within two points of the Badgers at 36-34.

Close Margin After Rest
Guard Stan Straatsma hit a long shot with a minute gone. Roger Finley, who had relieved starter Frank Calsbeek midway in the first half with hopes of curbing the remarkable Rehfeldt, dropped in two free throws and the score then stood 34-30 with a little more than two minutes gone.

Rehfeldt came back with a tip-in shot to boost the Badgers out to a 36-30 lead. Mason counteracted this field goal with a driving push shot after three and a half minutes of the period had elapsed.

Forty seconds later Mason rimmed another short push after taking a hand-off from Finley. This dropped the Wisconsin edge to 36-34. Then the roof fell in.

Badgers Hit 10 Points
The Badgers hit four straight baskets and two free throws in the next four minutes, while the Hawks couldn't buy so much as one point.

The scoreboard went up to 46-34 in Wisconsin's favor before Bob Schultz, who sat out three-fourths of the game, dunked in a push shot from 25 feet out.

After this basket the Badgers poured in 10 more points and took a 56-36 lead before the Hawkeyes could muster another fielder.

There were eight minutes left to play, and everything was settled except just how many points Rehfeldt would end with.

However, Wisconsin's quintet did not let up. The Badgers were prepared to trample Iowa, and they did just that. It got to the silly stage after awhile. Leading by 20 and 25 points on numerous occasions, Wisconsin Coach Bud Foster kept substituting taller players into the lineup whenever a jump ball occurred.

As soon as the big boy, usually 6-foot 5-inch Bob Haarlow, had given the Badgers possession of the sphere and they had racked in another two-pointer, the smaller aggressive boys would return on defense. This continued until the game ended.

Iowa Coach Pops Harrison tried three different centers against Rehfeldt, but all met with the same treatment. Calsbeek started, went out for Finley in the first half, who was in turn traded for Don Hays when Rehfeldt continued to score heavily in the last half.

Iowa, now solidly in the Big Nine's eighth spot, must defeat Michigan at Iowa City Saturday night in order to avoid tying Northwestern for last place in conference standings. The Hawkeye record is now two wins and nine losses.

Charles' Late Spurt Helps Beat Maxim

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati finished strongly last night to win a 15-round boxing decision over Joey Maxim of Cleveland in a bruising battle before 14,032 fans in the Cincinnati Garden.

Sam and Ben Becker, who promoted the scrap, already have offered Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis $400,000 to meet the winner.

Two of the judges ruled in favor of Charles and the third called it even. Judge Charles Conyer gave 70 points to each fighter. Judge George Behle had 73 points for Charles and 69 for Maxim. Judge Joe Blink gave 70 to Charles and 65 to Maxim.

Track Squad To Run Trials

Time trials in some events will be run today to determine berths on Iowa's track team which will participate in the Big Nine indoor track and field meet at Champaign next weekend, Coach Francis Cretzmeier said yesterday.

Cretzmeier said trials would be in the 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, shot put and possibly the pole vault and broad jump.

Hawkeye athletes will leave for Champaign Thursday and Friday, Cretzmeier said.

The Hawk coach said those men who will compete in the qualifying events Friday night will leave Thursday. The remaining athletes will travel to the meet site Friday.

Big Nine statistics reveal that Iowa has chances for places in the 60-yard dash, 440-yard dash, high and low hurdles, high jump and mile relay.

Several Hawk thinclads in Friday night's dual meet with Illinois turned in better performances than they had previously.

Leading Hawk scorer in the Illinois dual was Hurdler Russ Merkel. The versatile Hawkeye captured first in the low hurdles, second in the high hurdles, and ran the second leg on the relay team.

Illini Overwhelm Indiana

Set Scoring Mark With 91-68 Romp

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP)—Illinois clinched at least a share of the Big Nine basketball crown last night by overwhelming Indiana 91-68—the biggest conference victory score of the season.

The combined tally of 159 points set a conference record by topping the 152 total in Illinois' 98-54 win over Purdue a year ago.

The Illini, with only one game remaining—against Michigan next Monday—need only 26 more points to establish a conference team record. They now have scored 730 points in 10 wins and one defeat. The league record for a 12-game schedule is 755 by the 1943 Illinois whiz kids.

After the score was tied five times in the first six minutes, Illinois spurred into a 16-10 lead, expanded it to 41-33 at halftime and held a wide lead throughout. During the first half, Illinois' Dike Eddleman flipped in 11 of his total 23 points which topped the scoring. Bill Erickson potted 14, Wally Osterkorn and Jim Marks 12 apiece and Slip Kersulis 11 in the Illinois gang-scoring style.

Don Ritter was high for the Hoosiers with 20 points while Lou Watson added 17.

Illinois made good on its first 19 free throw attempts and dropped 31 out of 41 for the entire game. The Illini also hit 30 field goals in 83 shots for a 36 percentage. Indiana made 27 out of 78 good for 35 percent.

Schnittker Scores 18 As Buckeyes Romp

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State's basketball team closed its home season last night by outclassing Michigan State, 70-51, before a crowd of 5,170 in the Fairgrounds coliseum.

The Bucks never trailed and only in the first few minutes of the game did the visiting Spartans make a battle of it.

Paced by Bob Raidiger and Dick Schnittker, Ohio State enjoyed a 34-17 margin at the half and thereafter the Spartans never remained in the game Ohio still had doubled the score, 46-23.

The Bucks coasted the rest of the way with a makeshift lineup.

Schnittker's 19 points raised his needs only seven points against DePaul Saturday to equal his record of 322 set last year.

Big Leaguers Open Spring Drills Today

By the Associated Press
A rousing western welcome greeted a half-dozen major league baseball teams in Arizona and California yesterday.

The welcoming scenes were enacted at two Arizona sunshine centers and duplicated a few hours later at four California training camp sites. Training gets underway at all six centers today.

Ten major league clubs will begin spring training in Florida today. It's the biggest crop of teams in the state since the war.

In all, three teams from each major league are represented in the west. The New York giants at Phoenix, Ariz., the Pittsburgh Pirates at San Bernardino, Calif., and the Chicago Cubs at Los Angeles represent the National League. The World Champion Cleveland Indians at Tucson, Ariz., the St. Louis Browns at Burbank, Calif., and the Chicago White Sox at Pasadena, Calif., represent the American league.

Some of the clubs gave a slightly dirty look at the weather man. In the west coast he predicted a 10-degree drop to 58. That's a little jolt after the long run of springlike weather—the warmest for the state in 17 years.

The big batch of youngsters looking for major league jobs won't be the only hopefuls around. Four new managers will be crossing their fingers too.

Red Bole takes over the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland. Casey Stengel directs the New York Yankees at St. Petersburg.

In the national, Ed Sawyer hopes for the best with the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater. Friendly Buckley Walters assumes the burden of building up the Cincinnati Reds here.

On the east coast at Vero Beach, Burt Shotton will direct his first spring training of the Brooklyn Dodgers, although he was with them at the season's end last year.

Other clubs in Florida are the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg; the National league champs, the Boston Braves, at Bradenton; the Boston Red Sox at Sarasota.

The Washington Senators resume their annual spring workouts at Orlando. Connie Mack starts his 49th season with the Philadelphia Athletics at West Palm Beach.

Only other AA game in the tourney sends Roosevelt and McKinley—both of Cedar Rapids—against each other Thursday night.

Tiffin, Johnson county champion, gets its class B chance against Newhall Wednesday. Class A games Wednesday include Wilson of Cedar Rapids against Monticello and Marion versus DeWitt.

Finals in both the class A and B tourneys will be held Friday evening.

DU, SAE Win All-SUI Finals

Delta Upsilon won the All-University heavyweight basketball championship and Sigma Alpha Epsilon took the All-University lightweight basketball title last night in the fieldhouse.

Delta Upsilon squeezed out a 26-17 victory over Loyola to win. Sigma Alpha Epsilon easily beat Quad Lower D 41-29 to take the title.

Third place honors in the heavyweight bracket went to Quad Upper C. Hillcrest C won the lightweight consolation game.

Loyola put on a terrific battle against Delta Upsilon before losing. Loyola led at the end of first quarter, 6-5. They then fell behind the DU quintet and seemed to be in for a walling. Behind by ten points, Loyola put on a terrific rally and came within three points of tying the DU outfit.

Glenn Drahn led the Delta Upsilon attack with nine points. Ralph Woodard played a good defensive game for the DU quintet. Loyola's attack was paced by Jack Hook who scored six points.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon started off fast against Quad Lower D and held a 10-5 lead at the end of the first quarter. Lower D however played them on even terms in the second period and then broke loose at the start of the third period to tie SAE 21-21.

But the smooth working SAE attack struck back to roll up four straight buckets and go onto win easily, 41-28.

Ken Kaiser was high for SAE with 12 points. Clarence Miller of Quad Lower D took scoring honors with 15 points.

Quad Upper C staged off a late rally by South Quad II to win the heavyweight consolation game, 27-25. John Schock led the Upper C attack with eight points. High man for the game was George Hand of South Quad II who scored 12 points on six buckets.

Hillcrest C beat Black 28-24 in the lightweight consolation battle. Bob Foulke who scored 17 points played outstanding ball for the Hillcrest C quintet. Kirk Carson led the Black scorers with eight points.

SUI Represent To Be Picked Intercollegiate

Tryouts to determine SUI in the conference on Feb. 11 will be held at 4 p.m. room 7, Schaeffer hall. Sponsored by the department and the association, the two-day will open here Friday.

LeRoy Cowperthwaite, SUI undersecretary, said the tryouts are "SUI undersecretary standing."

Trials will be held in several events — public speaking, extemporaneous speaking, dinner speaking, and an alternate will represent SUI in three events.

Public speaking consists of talking for five minutes on any post- or international topic. Extemporaneous speaking is a list of current problems during the month. After one minute each person has three minutes to speak.

After dinner speaking consists of five-minute speeches on "Un-Americanities."

Hungarian Goulash Gets 'Nod'

Marsh Family Likes Tasty 'Jan Myzette'

A popular European ambassador in the home of Prof. and Mrs. Gordon Marsh, 117 S. Summit street, is Jan Myzette. No, Jan Myzette is not a famous diplomat. It's a tasty Hungarian goulash. A favorite with Prof. Marsh of the SUL zoology department and the four Marsh children, Jan Myzette combines a great number of ingredients for a dinner in one dish.

The combination of pork, vegetables and noodles is not only nourishing but has a flavor that few American dishes attain. Although Mrs. Marsh doesn't know the origin of the dish, she thinks it is Hungarian. The recipe was given to her by a friend who formerly lived in Iowa City. Here are the directions for Jan Myzette:

Try one pound of lean ground pork and three large onions in a skillet. Add 1 stalk of celery, chopped 1 green pepper, chopped 1 can of tomato soup 1 can of water 1 four ounce can of mushroom soup juice of 1/2 lemon salt and pepper 1 five-ounce package of noodles, cooked 13 pound of yellow cheese, grated or chopped

Stir and pour this mixture into quart casserole and bake ungreased for one hour in 325 degree oven. This recipe serves from 10 to 12 people.

Mrs. Marsh serves this dish with tossed green salad. The goulash is also ideal for a buffet supper.

Horace Mann PTA Plans Potluck Meal, Children's Program

CHOPPED ONIONS WON'T MAKE JAN MYZETTE CRY although they may hurt the eyes of Mrs. Gordon Marsh, 117 S. Summit street. Jan Myzette is a tasty Hungarian goulash that's a favorite in the Marsh home.

Horace Mann PTA Plans Potluck Meal, Children's Program

Horace Mann PTA will meet at 6:15 p.m. Thursday in the Horace Mann gymnasium for a potluck dinner and program.

Each family attending the potluck dinner is asked to bring a covered dish, table service and sandwiches.

Mr. Frank Fisher, PTA program director, is in charge of the program. Mr. Muriel W. Clark, teacher at Horace Mann grade school, is in charge of the children's program. Master of ceremonies will be W.L. Burton. Group singing will be accompanied by Mrs. Paul Behm.

Speaker for the evening will be W.D. Bailey, a teacher at Iowa City high school, who will speak on "Safe Driving". Rye Waltz, a folk dance, will be presented by third grade students. James Voxman will give two piano solos, "Soldier's March" and "Wake Thou Still".

A vocal duet, "The Baker Man," will be sung by Diana Mathis and Mary K. Knox. Nancy Stutzman will play two accordion solos, "Spanish Dancer" and "Brahms Cradle Song." Mary Memler and Lora Lee McNeilly will give a dance routine.

Two piano solos, "Big Clock" and "Rain is Coming," will be played by Jane Ann Walker. Sandra Fisher and Sally Snyder will entertain with a piano duet, "Coming Round the Mountain."

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Spangler are chairman of the social committee for the meeting. Committee members are Mr. and Mrs. P.G. McNeilly, Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Larow, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Walker and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Arnold.

Chairmen for the hospitality committee are Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Memler. On the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Himie Voxman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kessler, Mr. and Mrs. John Knox, Mr. and Mrs. O.W. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lind, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sterner and Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Curran.

Miss Durant Dies, Funeral Services at Beckman's Tuesday

Miss E. Belle Durant, an Iowa City resident for 40 years, died yesterday at Mercy hospital.

Miss Durant was found ill in her home at 917 Bowery street where she lived alone and was taken to Mercy hospital Feb. 17. Before coming to Iowa City to live with her sister, she was a music teacher in Boston, Mass. After the death of her sister, she continued residence here.

She served as a regent of the Pilgrim chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, from 1935 to 1938. She was a lifelong member of the Congregational church.

Surviving is a cousin, Paul H. Hudson, Upper Montclair, N.Y. She had no relatives here.

Funeral services will be at Beckman's at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The Rev. John G. Craig will be in charge.

The body will be taken to Ludlow, Vt., her former home, for burial in the family lot.

Legion Women Buy Medical Equipment

Funds from the American Legion auxiliary's local magazine drive will pay for two hospital beds and a polo heat pack. Mrs. Gordon Densmore, president, announced recently.

The equipment is expected to arrive within the next three weeks, she said. Anyone may borrow the equipment without charge by contacting Mrs. Densmore.

Although the total amount collected from the drive is not yet available, Mrs. Densmore said, the amount collected sufficiently covered the costs of the beds and heat pack equipment. The surplus was put in the American Legion auxiliary's community service fund, she added.

From this fund donations have been made to the Heart drive, Cancer drive, March of Dimes and Red Cross, she said. In addition the auxiliary purchased material and made 27 print dresses and 14 crib blankets for the Childrens hospital at SUI.

Mrs. Densmore thanked all the residents of Johnson county for making the drive a "complete success."

SUI Representatives To Be Picked for Intercollegiate Meet

Tryouts to determine who will represent SUI in the intercollegiate conference on world problems will be held at 4 p.m. today in room 7, Schaeffer hall.

Sponsored by the SUI speech department and the forensics association, the two-day conference will open here Friday.

Lekoy Cowperthwaite of the speech department yesterday said the tryouts are open to all SUI undergraduates "in good standing."

Trials will be held in three different events — public speaking, extemporaneous speaking and after dinner speaking. One winner and one alternate will be chosen to represent SUI in each of the three events.

Public speaking tryouts will consist of talking for seven minutes on any post-war national or international topic.

Extemporaneous speakers will choose one of three topics from a list of current problems publicized during the past three months. After one hour of preparation each person will give a three-minute speech.

After dinner speaking trials will consist of five-minute humorous speeches on "Un-American Activities."

SUI Grad Named Head of New Club

Robert P. Jeans, SUI graduate and former Iowa City resident, was recently elected president of the newly formed San Diego chapter of the International Society for General Semantics.

Prof. Wendell Johnson, director of the SUI speech clinic, and Dr. Russell Meyers, department of neurosurgery at University hospitals, are on the board of directors of the society.

Under Jeans' direction the chapter is holding regular weekly meetings, which five former students of SUI have attended so far.

Commerce Students Plan Fourth Annual Career Conference

Letters will be mailed out this week to prospective speakers for the fourth annual Business Careers conference at SUI, conference officials said yesterday.

The conference, to be held here April 27 and 28, will bring 32 leading business speakers to the campus.

"Replies should begin arriving soon and then we can feel that plans for the conference are really taking shape," Guy L. Ames, said yesterday.

Primary purpose of the conference is "to acquaint students with present employment possibilities in various fields," Ames said.

"We are going to bring top-flight, practical men here in an effort to bridge the gap between students and the jobs which they have an opportunity to obtain," he said.

Some of the fields to be covered at the conference are personnel management, foreign trade, public accounting, advertising, selling, office management, life insurance and civil service administration.

Prof. C. Woody Thompson, director of the SUI bureau of business and economic research, is faculty adviser for the conference which is sponsored by the collegiate chamber of commerce.

Conference chairman are Robert L. Sweeney, C4; Jack A. Smith, C4; Mary Lou Miller, C4, and Donald A. Boege, G.

Other conference officials are James D. Fencil, C4, publicity director; Gloria Eisler, C4, program chairman; and Mary Lou Joels, C4, luncheon chairman.

Students Win Seven Nebraska Invitational Conference Debates

SUI debaters won seven of their 10 debates at the University of Nebraska invitational forensics conference last week.

Representing SUI were Henry Clark, A4, Ames; Murray Kniffen, A3, Rock Rapids; Edward Diekmann, E1, Ottumwa, and Charles Thodt, A3, Walcott.

All speakers were rated on a five-point scale, with superior the highest, excellent next, and so on. No SUI speaker rated lower than excellent in any event.

The SUI negative debate team won one of 11 superior ratings among the 113 teams entered. Diekmann was awarded one of 21 superior individual ratings in debate.

In the discussion event Thodt and Diekmann were among the 30 persons given superior ratings. Diekmann also rated excellent in extemporaneous speaking.

More than 300 students from 49 colleges and universities participated in the conference.

Kappa Phi to Hold Initiation for Three

Kappa Phi, Methodist girls' club, will initiate three Methodist church women as honorary members of the club tomorrow night.

They are Mrs. L.L. Dunnington, Iowa City; Mrs. Howard Simpson, West Liberty, and Mrs. Frank Brooks, Mt. Vernon, national president of Women's Society for Christian Service.

The initiation will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Methodist church, President Frances Rasmussen said yesterday.

A tea and social hour in Fellowship hall of the church will follow the initiation.

Red Cross Fund Drive Opens

The 1949 Red Cross fund drive got underway yesterday as about 350 solicitors began efforts to raise the goal of $14,550, Chairman Dorr H. Hudson reported.

The drive will last until March 12. If the goal is met, $10,000 will be put into local Red Cross work during the year.

Any Johnson county residents who are missed by solicitors may send their contributions by mail to the Red Cross office at 15 1/2 South Dubuque street, Hudson said.

The contributor will receive a receipt and a Red Cross sticker whether he mails in his money or gives it to a solicitor. Posters advertising the drive were put in downtown store windows last week-end by local Boy Scouts. Several large window displays are in preparation to aid the drive.

From Jan. 1 until Dec. 31, 1948, the local chapter of the American Red Cross handled a total of 2,681 cases, Mrs. Lorna L. Mathes, executive secretary, said yesterday.

In a statement explaining where local Red Cross money goes, Mrs. Mathes said that of the total cases 2,251 were veterans and dependents, 261 were servicemen and dependents and 169 were civilians.

Most of these services were for veterans or their dependents with claims for government benefits, furlough or leave verifications for servicemen, and other services for civilians, Mrs. Mathes said.

Ladd Reschedules Freshmen Debates

All freshmen law arguments originally scheduled in the main lobby of the Law Commons will be presented in room 106 of the law building, Dean Mason Ladd said yesterday.

The change was made because the lobby was not properly equipped to stage the arguments, Dean Ladd added.

The freshmen arguments began last night and will continue through March 29. One argument will be given in the courtroom of the law building and one in room 106 each night, Monday through Thursday, he said.

Union Desk Has Tickets For Symphony Concert

Tickets for tomorrow night's concert by the SUI symphony orchestra will be available at the main desk in the Iowa Union lobby from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow. All tickets for the concert are free.

The orchestra will play Bruckner's "Symphony No. Nine in D Minor" and "Suite, Opus 19, F Sharp," by Dohnanyi at the 8 p.m. concert.

Club Plans Pancake Supper at Church

The Ball and Chain club of the Trinity Episcopal church will sponsor their annual pancake supper tonight from 6 to 8 p.m. at the church.

Proceeds from the supper will be used to pay for repairs on the church organ, Mrs. Robert Gillespie said yesterday.

Couples serving on committees for the supper include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sills, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. George Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. John Haeskeylo, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Will England, Mr. and Mrs. James Hinkle and Mr. and Mrs. James Peck.

Others serving on committees are Mrs. John Wieser, Mrs. Bob Bickel, Mrs. Fred Leach, Mrs. Bruce Nelson, Mrs. Harold McGee, Mrs. Ivar Hyndman, Mrs. Joel Brenham, Janet Kedney and Joel Branham.

Navy Commissions Available to Women

Women between the ages of 21 and 25 who are graduates of accredited colleges or universities may apply for commission as ensigns in the regular navy, according to a recent announcement of the office of naval officer procurement.

Dietitians and physical therapists must have a year's additional training beyond college and may be appointed to the medical corps. Other officers will be appointed to the line and will meet at Newport, R.I., in July for a five-month indoctrination course.

Applications for the July class must be completed before April 25. Further information may be obtained at the office of naval officer procurement, U.S. court house, Kansas City, Mo.

To the Question: Were your semester grades a surprise to you?

REICH'S Customers Say —

Patricia Hauser, A1, Decorah, Iowa. — Yes, they were. I had no idea of how high or how low they would be. I talked to some of the teachers and they didn't seem to know either. They were better than I expected.

Les Dyke, A1, Sheldon, Iowa. — Yes, they were. I fell asleep in one exam so the results were really a surprise. They were a little higher than I expected, too.

Iowa City Provides Recreation, Activities for Teen-Agers

EIGHT BALL IN THE SIDE POCKET could well be the intention of Robert Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Wallace, 1149 Holz avenue, as he plays pocket billiards in the game room of the recreation center. Other games available to "kids attending the play-room are ping-pong, shuffle-board, checkers, chess and caroms. Many books and magazines are also available.

Year-Round Program Planned

Hey, kids, what would you like to do tonight? If it is dancing, ping-pong, pocket billiards, checkers, caroms, basketball, tumbling, roller-skating, wrestling, boxing, a card game, a "coke" or a quiet session of reading, the Iowa City recreation center provides a place and the facilities for it.

Under the supervision of J. Edgar Frame, recreation department superintendent, and his assistants, Iowa City provides a place for teen-agers to enjoy all these activities in the community building located on the corner of College and Gilbert streets.

Leading the list of activities is the "Paper Doll" program of social activities for teen-agers. Music for dancing in the lounge, a snack bar, a game room and roller-skating in the gym are scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights from 7 to 11.

Station KXIC's "Rumpus Room" broadcast originated in the lounge of the center on Saturday afternoons. The program provides music for dancing and a chance for members of the audience to "get on the radio."

The winter sports program is highlighted by three basketball leagues — a junior, an intermediate and a senior league — composed of teams sponsored by Iowa City business houses. Each season respective league champions are named and appropriate awards are made.

Other winter-time activities include the choice and maintenance of coasting hills in various sections of Iowa City. These hills are closed to all traffic and provide a safe place for children to slide.

Spring and summer activities of the recreational department include an annual marble tournament, three soft-ball leagues similar in organization and operation to the basketball leagues, horse-shoe tournaments and other activities.

Most important of all summer-time activities, and the one which provides a location for most of the other projects, is the playground program.

Operation and supervision of three playgrounds is a major summer-time activity of the recreation department. The Benton street playground, located on South Benton street, provides recreational area for children of the southern section of Iowa City.

Longfellow playground, at Longfellow schools, takes care of the play needs of children in the east section. The last, the Brown street playground, located a block east of Dodge street, is the play place for children in the north section.

This year a new summer-time activity will be added. When the new swimming pool at City park is completed, the operation and management will be a part of the department's activity.

Popularity of the recreational activities of the department are indicated by attendance figures. In the one year period of April 1, 1947, to March 31, 1948, 79,324 people took part, either as active participants or as spectators, in the activities sponsored by the recreation department.

THE YOUNGER SET enjoys the Friday and Saturday night dances of the "Paper Doll" social program at the recreation center. Indulging in the dancing for junior high students are Cathy Connors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Connors, 1201 Marey street, and Michael Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cunningham, 1331 Muscatine avenue

SUI Riflemen Win Four Postal Meets, Lose to Iowa State

Victory came to SUI rifle teams in four of five postal matches fired Saturday.

The varsity team firing 1,843 won over Purdue university and Duquesne university which posted marks of 1,843 and 1,724. A Blaine Kearney, P2, Oakland, led the varsity with 372. Keller led Purdue with 378 and Louis D. Fitzgerald topped the Duquesne scoring with 351.

ROTC rifle men took their match from Duquesne, 1,843 to 1,717, but lost to Iowa State college which fired 1,873.

The SUI squad was paced by three men firing the same score. They were Dell C. Toedt, Al Laurel; Charles U. Kelly, Al Iowa City, and K.H. Black, Al Des Moines, each with 371. Fitzgerald again led Duquesne with his 351 and Grant Flenker was high for Iowa State college at 378.

The freshmen team made a clean sweep over Duquesne with its 1,895 to 1,771 win. Dell Toedt's 371 was high for the Iowans and Don Irwin led Duquesne's freshmen with his mark of 368.

Reports had not been received yesterday on Saturday's postal meets with Columbia university and the Alabama ROTC teams, Sgt. J.P. Anderson, SUI rifle coach, said.

Jaycee's to Hear 1949 Budget Plan

Presentation of the 1949 budget for approval is the principal item on the agenda of tonight's business meeting of the Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce.

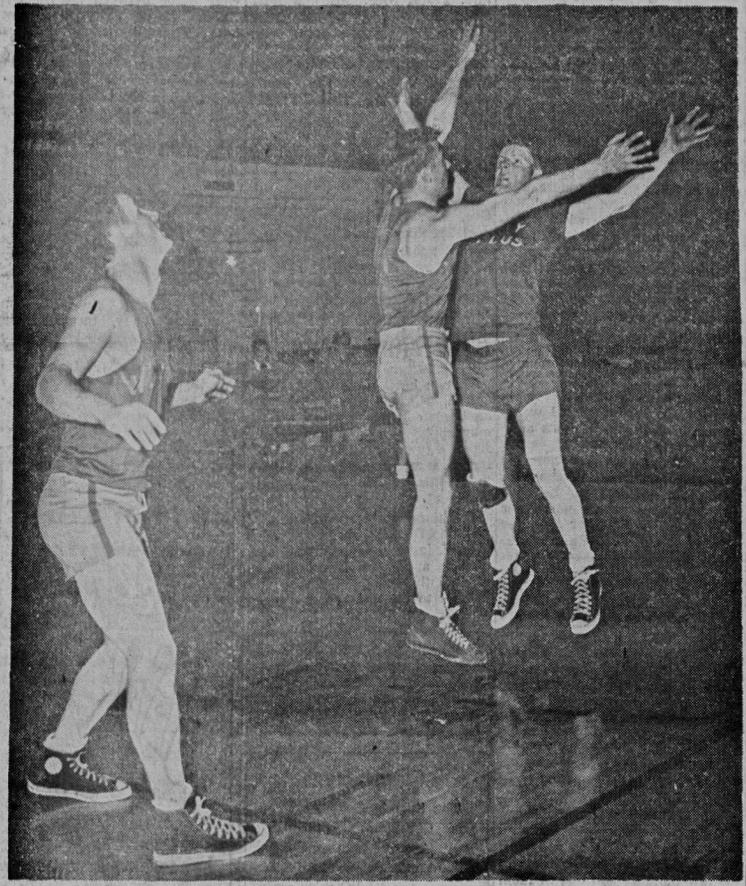

This year's budget, drawn up by the finance committee, will be submitted for approval by the chamber, Joe Schmidt, Jaycee program director, said yesterday. Open house at the Hotel Jefferson will begin at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will follow at 7 o'clock, Schmidt said.

Driver Says Truck Left After Collision

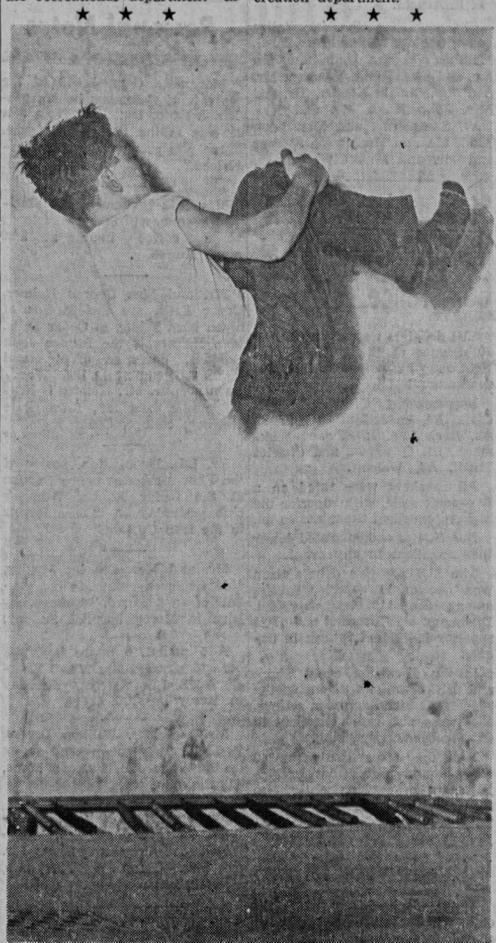

Report of a truck leaving the scene of an accident at 3:20 p.m. Saturday was filed yesterday, police said.

Erwin W. Heist, M2, Waverly, reported to police that a stock truck collided with the car he was driving on highway 218, 12 miles north of Iowa City.

He said the truck driver left the accident scene without leaving any identification. Damage to the car was estimated at $100.

AEC Aids SUI Cancer Work

A saving of about $5,000 a year may be realized when the radiation research department reaches full capacity due to a special grant offered by the atomic energy commission, according to authorities of the SUI school of medicine.

The AEC offered, without charge, 50 different kinds of radioactive elements Saturday to "qualified American scientists studying the cause, nature, diagnosis and treatment of cancer."

The SUI radiation department uses about ten of these elements in their research. The elements are obtained from the government's Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic plant.

"It will be a saving of about $10 a week when our department is at full capacity," Dr. Titus Evans, director of the radiation research department said yesterday.

He pointed out that there are still costly expenses involved in obtaining the radio-active elements. "There is a $25 charge for the original shipment of the materials and a $10 handling fee for subsequent shipments of the same element," Dr. Evans said.

"In addition," he added, "there the transportation of the radio-active element."

Dr. Evans said that "though

Ticket Sale Begins For 'Duke' Concert

Tickets for the Duke Ellington concert, March 11, will be on sale to SUI students today through March 6 at the Iowa Union lobby desk, officials said yesterday.

The sale will be opened to the general public March 7 at Whetstone's Drug store. Tickets for either session at 7:30 or 10 p.m. will cost $1.20.

The "Duke" was acclaimed bandleader of the year in the trade magazine Down Beat poll. Ellington, both a composer and arranger, has written the hit tunes "Mood Indigo" and "Sophisticated Lady."

Featured as vocalists with the band are Al Hibler, recipient of a Down Beat All-Star award for his division, and Kay Davis.

Madison Farm Bureau To Hear Dan Dutcher

SUI Chosen Site Of Tutors Meet

SUI will be the site of the 27th annual conference of history and social studies teachers March 11 and 12.

About 200 teachers from six midwestern states are expected to attend, William Aydelotte, SUI history department chairman, said yesterday. The states to be represented will be Missouri, Illinois, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Speakers will include history Professors Robert S. Hoyt, SUI; Arthur E. Bestor Jr.; University of Illinois; Howard K. Beale, University of Wisconsin; and Charles H. Taylor, Harvard university, and Howard R. Anderson, United States office of education.

A discussion Friday night will be led by Professors Clarence H. Matterson, chairman of the Iowa State college history department and Robert H. Norton, Grinnell college.

Sponsors of the conference are SUI's history department, graduate college, college of education and extension division.

Contest Launched For Iowa Essays

A state-wide essay contest for students in junior and senior high schools will begin today and continue through April 30, County Superintendent Frank J. Snider said yesterday.

The contest is designed to better acquaint young Iowans with the unlimited opportunities in Iowa, Snider said. Suggested topics for the essays are "Why I want to Live in Iowa," "Why Iowa is Great" and "An Iowa Story." The essays must not contain more than 1,500 words.

Russia Cuts Prices of Consumers' Goods

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin last night proclaimed price cuts in 45 classifications of food, clothing and other consumers' goods.

The decree said the changes will raise the ruble's purchasing power and strengthen Soviet money in relation to foreign currencies.

The price cuts are effective today in all retail stores.

As examples they knock 10 percent off the price of bread, fish, butter and canned goods, 20 percent off the price of cheese and 12 to 20 percent off many clothing items.

Vodka will be reduced 28 percent.

Restaurants, tea houses and other catering establishments were ordered to make corresponding reductions in their prices.

Muscovites rejoiced at the decree—signed by Stalin and G.M. Malenkov, secretary of the Communist party's central committee—was broadcast over the radio. The price reductions are a new step toward re-attaining the Soviet Union's prewar standard of living.

The announcement said: "This loss to the state budget, which at the same time constitutes a pure gain for the population, must be recovered and undoubtedly will be covered by the government by means of a number of economic measures, in spite of serious difficulties that will have to be overcome in doing so."

MOSCOW OPENS NEW STORE

MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Evening Moscow announced yesterday the opening soon of a state store which will specialize in labor-saving equipment for housewives.

The store will offer washing machines, newly-developed kitchen utensils and similar equipment.

World of Religion Hits the Headlines

"Newspapers never report what the ordinary, law-abiding citizens are doing," is a well-worn complaint. The truism also explains why the bulk of activities in the religious world never make the front page.

But more and more in the upset, tense postwar world religion is extending beyond the corner church and the denominational college. More and more, religion is entangling with world trends. More and more, religion is making the front page.

of its own seems quite clear.

What, for example, is the outlook for ordinary ways of trade in a time in which manpower and materials will be increasingly directed toward special defense purposes, and in which government will be one of the chief customers in our economy?

THIS, THEN, IS ONE of the issues wrapped up in the general question of restoring peace and order to this earth. The cost of our present vast plans for avoiding changed relationships in the world may be the speeding up of changed relationships within the United States.

Account of an Exclusive Interview — Queuille Wants Russ Stopped in Germany

By A. L. BRADFORD (World Copyright 1949 by United Press)

PARIS — The United States must never allow France and western Europe to be overrun by Russia as they were by Germany, French Premier Henri Queuille told me last week in the first interview he has granted as head of the French government.

Invasion of France and western Europe by Russia must be prevented if civilization is to be preserved throughout the world, and the United States is the only power capable of forestalling such a catastrophe, the French premier declared.

He received me only a few hours after the dramatic debate in the chamber of deputies regarding the statement of Communist leader Thorez that a Soviet army of occupation should be welcomed as liberators in France.

On the other hand, the premier's statements during a long conversation in his private office in the Palais Maitgnon, official residence of France's prime ministers, rang with optimism over the present sensational economic improvement and the restoration of confidence in France.

This sudden recuperation in the state of France, with the balancing of the budget, the steady decline in prices, and the rise in the value of the franc, accompanied by the re-establishment of confidence, constitutes the sensation of the hour in this key country of Europe.

Henri Queuille, who although 26 times a minister, never aspired to be premier, is being given full credit for the achievement. But the international crisis hovered over the entire conversation.

With his small figure enveloped in a large Louis XV armchair, the premier emphasized again, as did Briand before him, that France is the advance sentinel of civilization in Europe.

"As the world knows," Queuille said when I referred to the Thorez incident, "Russia planned by a combination of her efforts in political sabotage to take over the control of both France and Italy. In that Russia failed, but that does not mean that she has dropped her plans to gain control of Europe."

"That is the reason why your country, the United States, holds the destiny of the world in its hands, and why the Atlantic pact about to be signed is such a vital instrument for the destiny of the world.

"The question is that France and the rest of western Europe must be spared an invasion," he said. "If, as M. Thorez envisaged in his declarations, the Russians should cross the Rhine, the catastrophe would be all but complete. We know what would happen. Communist saboteurs and fifth columnists would seize control of the mechanics of government, and the mass of the civilian population would be immobilized by fear or self destruction.

"France as the advance sentinel of Europe cannot stand alone. Neither can she stand alone with the aid of the Benelux countries on the one hand and the aid of Great Britain on the other. That is the reason why western Europe must be able to count on the aid of the United States.

"Yes, we know that once western Europe were so occupied, America again would come to our aid and eventually we again would be liberated. But the process would be terrible. The next time you probably would be liberating a cadaver, and civilization probably would be dead.

"No, the invasion — should it, to suppose the impossible, materialize — must be stopped before it ever can get started. If for instance a sufficient force could be counted on to prevent the Russian army from moving beyond the Elbe, then European civilization could breathe again.

"The real frontier of western Europe which must be defended must be moved well beyond the reach of the actual frontiers because once the geographical frontiers of these countries are crossed it will be too late for America to save very much. Fifteen days, even after the invasion it will be too late. I know that this sounds very selfish, but I think the world knows that it is civilization itself which is at stake."

I asked M. Queuille if this significant statement meant that France is seeking the creation and maintenance of an international force well within Germany as long as such a guarantee against Russian invasion were necessary. He could not commit himself beyond stating that this was a question for the military experts.

Illustration titled '... For the Dawn to Come' showing a large cross with 'GIVE' written on it, surrounded by scenes of 'WAR', 'FLOOD', and 'FIRE'.

IN ONE OF last week's papers I recall reading that a UN agency had abandoned the study of sex at high altitudes. If that's another example of Russian vetoing, I say bullseye to the Russians. Sex at high altitudes! Whatever is the world coming to?

ALL THIS chit-chat about a cold war in Germany looks impressive in headlines, but I'd be considerably more interested if it were a war on colds instead.

When it began to melt and slush became ankle deep on the sidewalks I knew there was a cold in the offing. If there were only one cold for every 750,000 persons in the world, I'd still get two of them every year.

This particular cold I thought I could whip before it got a head start. I bundled up properly, carried extra dry socks, and took everything in the medicine cabinet except Mum and Airwick, but still the cold came.

IT CAME with all the violence and tumult of a small monsoon, and it came quickly. One moment I was sitting at a bridge table bidding four hearts and the next moment I had a cold. On top of all that my partner went into Blackwood, and I lost the thread completely.

From that moment on the evening went to pot. No one could hear bids above my sneezing and gasping, and I trumped my partner's trick twice in the same hand.

WOMEN REALLY get off much more easily with a cold than men do. The chief reason for this is that most women don't have to shave.

Having a cold is one thing, but having a cold while shaving is little short of agony. You gaze at the bathroom mirror with rheumy eyes and try to make out where your face is.

Usually there will be an orange blob of tissue to guide you. That will be your nose, hanging there like a piece of fresh calve's kidney after a tussle with a potato grater. Don't touch it! It may fall off.

THE NEXT step is to lather your face, including the raw upper lip. Whiskers are hardy things and show no solicitude for a sick man.

When the lathering step is completed you will find your nose needs blowing. Shaving lather seems to encourage runny noses. If you snifle, you snifle lather. If you blow, you blow lather. There is no known procedure to remedy the situation.

ALL IN ALL it is hardly worth the effort, but society has set its rules, and we must abide. Someday however, the UN will get around to declaring that a man with a head cold need not shave, and that will be one of the greatest humanitarian documents since the Emancipation proclamation.

Kiwanis Group to Hear Religion-in-Life Leader Speaker at this noon's Kiwanis luncheon at Hotel Jefferson will be Rev. Tracy Pullman of the Unitarian-Universalist Church of our Father, Detroit, Mich. The

Miller Visits Island —

Marine Fossil Study May Open Dead Past

A study of marine fossils by Prof. Arthur K. Miller of the SUI department of geology may reveal ancient geological facts of the Baffin island area in northeastern Canada.

The work is a result of a trip to Baffin island by Miller in the summer of 1947. He is writing a book on his Baffin island observations, which he expects to complete "sometime next year."

The whole story goes back to the time when Miller was a graduate student at Yale university. As a graduate assistant, he spent a summer working for the late Prof. Charles Schuchert, then professor emeritus of historical geology and paleontology.

Concerned over the lack of detailed geologic information about the northern regions, the two men decided an expedition transportation difficulties, however, prevented such a trip.

Miller got his chance in the summer of 1947. An airstrip was constructed during World War II just 17 miles from Stillman's fossil mount. This was the place Schuchert and Miller had selected as the spot most likely to furnish a geologic record of Arctic lower paleozoic life.

Assisted by Rep. Tom Martin (R-Iowa City) and Secretary of War Kenneth Royall, transportation was made available.

Miller and his assistant, Walter Youngquist, now an instructor at the University of Idaho, flew to Probers bay in the southeast part of Baffin island.

Probers bay airport as the base of operations, they collected several hundred fossils on the other side of the bay. Taking advantage of nearly 24 hours of daylight a day, they collected specimens for about 20 hours each day for three days.

The fossils included sponges, corals, brachiopods, bryozoans, clams, snails, ostracodes, and trilobites, as well as cephalopods. Samples of shale were also collected and examined for microfossils.

A donation of $1,000 by Frederick O. Thompson of Des Moines is aiding the work of classifying and cleaning the material. Thompson, whose hobby is geology has made several other large gifts for continuance of the research at SUI.

There are twenty-six other Colorado mountains loftier than Pikes Peak, but who knows about them? They never advertise. Why not be a Pike's Peaker? Advertise in the Daily Iowan Want Ads.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JOHN CHAMBERLAIN taught Sinclair Lewis the "cliche" game, in which one contestant poses a stereotyped question, and another has to give the appropriate stereotyped answer. Lewis loved it—played until three in the morning.

A few days later he called Chamberlain in a rage. "You subverter of American literature," he cried. "You and that darn game! All day yesterday, I tried to write, and every line came out as a cliche!"

A Viennese publisher, visiting America for the first time, confessed that he never had seen a game of golf. The late Frank Crowninshield took him to his Long Island club where they followed a crack foursome. One of the players landed in a deep trap just short of the first green. "He'll have to blast out of that one," said Crowninshield. "It must be impossible," added the Viennese. The player, however, executed a perfect explosion shot. The ball landed on the green and trickled into the cup of a birdie three. The Viennese clucked sympathetically and said (this is Crowninshield's story) "Aah, what a time he'll have getting out of that one!"

Press Seminar to Meet Here

Three members of SUI's school of journalism will participate in the second Iowa Press institute seminar to be held here March 28 and 29.

Prof. Charles Swanson, Iowa Press institute chairman, will preside at the seminar. Prof. Arthur M. Barnes, radio news analyst, and Carroll Coleman, typography authority, will be speakers.

Chief subject of the seminar discussions will be the problems of telegraph editors of dailies in midwestern states.

Topics selected by newsmen for discussion include current editing of telegraph news, press association problems, radio news competition, make-up problems and the use of readership surveys.

Attendance at the two-day seminar will be limited to 25. Participants will join with newspaper and radio executives and authorities in typography and make-up in discussing their problems, Swanson said yesterday.

Among the speakers will be Marion Sheen, Associated Press executive, New York; William P. Stevens, managing editor, The Minneapolis Tribune and president of the Associated Press Managing Editors; Raymond McConnell, editor, Nebraska State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.; E. C. Hoyt, managing editor, Cedar Rapids Gazette; Jack Shelley, news manager, WHO, Des Moines.

The Daily Iowan Freshman Beauty Contest

$100 to the Prettiest Freshman Co-ed at SUI

The Daily Iowan is aiding in the search for "Miss All-American College Freshman." The search has been officially launched as a part of the World Premiere program for the forth-coming 20th-Fox movie "MOTHER IS A FRESHMAN."

The State University of Iowa has been chosen as one of the top colleges in the nation to participate in the Freshman Beauty Search. Premiere of the Technicolor "MOTHER IS A FRESHMAN" will take place in Iowa City March 10 at the Englert Theatre.

The Daily Iowan is looking for the prettiest, talented Freshman girl on campus. Here are the facts and rules of the Iowan Contest:

- Each Women's Housing unit will nominate up to 3 (three) 1st or 2nd semester freshman girls as candidates. Frivolous freshman queens are eligible for nomination by their housing units.
- Names of these candidates must be submitted to either the Editor or Business Manager of The Daily Iowan by March 3rd. Names must be submitted in written form and must be accompanied by the signature of the president of the housing unit.
- Judging of the Premiere Queen will be made by the president or an officer from each men's housing unit on campus.
- Judging will take place Sunday, March 6th at 7 p.m. in the River Room of the Memorial Union. Counting of the ballots will be by 4 faculty members of

Truman Asks $250-Million For Needy

WASHINGTON (P)—The Truman administration asked congress yesterday for $200-million to $250-million a year to help provide home relief and medical care for all needy, including physically and mentally handicapped and jobless persons not covered by unemployment insurance.

The reaction on Capitol Hill was non-committal for the most part. How much, if any, on the program will be approved by congress is uncertain.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee declined to take a position one way or the other, pending study.

Arthur J. Altmeyer, commissioner of social security, opened before Doughton's committee the administration's arguments backing President Truman's proposals for a vast expansion of the general social security program. He dealt with relief for the poor first.

Social security has abolished the poorhouse, Altmeyer said, and he set as the new objective: "Preventing destitution."

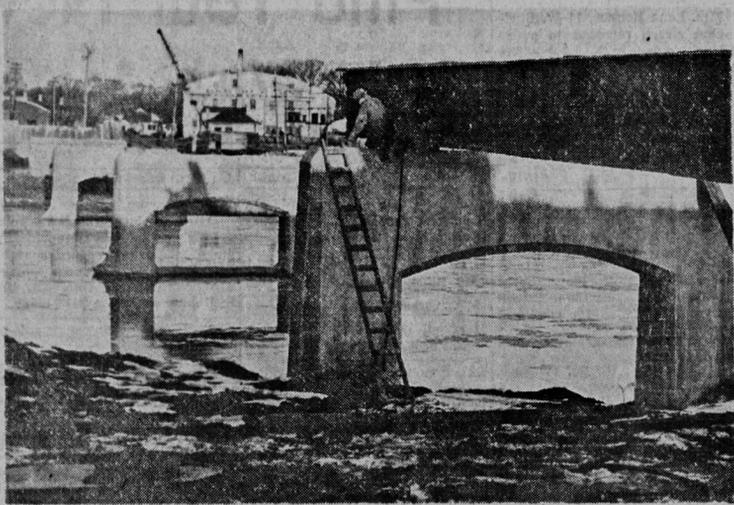

To this end he said Truman wants federal financial aid extended to all needy people, in a federal-state money matching system—up to $100 a month for a needy couple plus $20 for each additional person in a needy home.

"To enable states to make medical care available to needy persons we believe that federal participation should be extended to payments made directly to individuals and agencies furnishing medical services and supplies to public assistance recipients."

Direct relief for all needy persons is one point in Truman's overall security program, which also includes:

1. Blanketing of 20-million more persons — doctors, lawyers, farmers, businessmen, servants and others—under old age insurance, bringing the total number of persons covered to 50-million.
 2. Greatly increased benefits.
 3. Boosting security taxes on pay and payrolls.
- The President has sent this legislation to congress. He has promised bills later calling for a national program of health insurance—with the government paying doctor bills out of funds collected from new payrolls taxes—and also calling for expansion of unemployment compensation.

First Girder Placed on Benton Street Bridge

HIGH WATER HASN'T STOPPED WORK on the Benton street bridge, Contractor E. V. Jensen of Des Moines said yesterday. The arrival of the first superstructural steel for the $251,000 project last week signaled the beginning of the last link of work on the bridge which is scheduled to be completed sometime this summer. Workers here are putting up the first of the giant girders which serve as a support for the bridge.

'Destiny' Talk Opens Religion-in-Life Week

Americans rely too much on chance—even to the point of actual survival being left to chances of war, Dean John Thompson of the University of Chicago chapel, told the Religion-in-Life week opening convocation audience Sunday night.

Thompson spoke to more than 400 people on "Origin and Destiny," in the main lounge of the Iowa union.

He said Americans reliance on chance is an indication of their immaturity. Maturity is the goal of religion, education and Religion-in-Life week itself, the speaker said.

There is a distinction between the demands of origin and those of destiny in achieving a mature life, Thompson pointed out. Origin is tyrannical as a basis for mature living.

But through destiny we can achieve maturity by consciously and responsibly choosing our own fates, he said.

Presiding over the convocation was Allin Dakin, administrative dean of the president's office. Music was provided by the university chorus under the direction of Prof. Herald Stark of the SUI music department.

At 2:30 yesterday afternoon Rev. A.J. Muste spoke on "Application of Gandhism to International Relations," in the YMCA rooms, and a "Skeptics Hour" was conducted by Rev. C. Vin White and Rev. Victor Murland in the senate chamber.

At 3:30 Rev. George Kelsey spoke on "Church — Economics and Politics," and Harold Ehrensperger spoke on "Conscience on Stage," in the senate chamber.

Harold Ehrensperger discussed the relationship of drama and religion.

Today's Schedule . . .

- The schedule for today is as follows:
- 6:15 to 7 a.m. Morning masses, St. Thomas More Chapel.
 - 6:45 a.m. Morning conference, St. Thomas More chapel, Father McPhillips.
 - 7:15 a.m. Breakfast conference for leaders and committee heads, Lutheran student house.
 - 8 a.m. WSUI morning chapel, the Rev. Charles Schwantes.
 - 7:30 to 12:30 Classroom lectures and personal conferences.
 - 10:50 a.m. WSUI broadcast. Prof. Marcus Bach will interview the Rev. C. Vin White.
 - 12:30 p.m. Students Concerned luncheon at Iowa Union. The Rev. A.J. Muste, speaker.
 - 2:30 Seminars, "Application of Gandhism to International Relations," the Rev. A.J. Muste, YMCA rooms. "Skeptics Hour," the Rev. C. Vin White and the Rev. Victor Murland, senate chamber.
 - 3:30 p.m. Seminars, "Conscience on Stage," Harold Ehrensperger, senate chamber. "Church — Economics and Politics," the Rev. George Kelsey, YMCA rooms.
 - 4:30 p.m. Coffee hours at student centers.
 - 7:30 p.m. Third evening conference, St. Thomas More chapel, Father McPhillips.
 - 8 p.m. Convocation, the Rev. A. J. Muste, house chamber.
 - 9 p.m. Fireside chats at student centers.

Workmen Start Job Of Spanning River With Steel Girders

Workmen yesterday began putting up the first superstructural steel for the new Benton street bridge, E. V. Jensen, contractor, announced.

The first girder, a 90-foot, 15-ton hunk of steel, was swung from the muddy west bank up to the west abutment and the first pier in the river, Jensen said.

Six girders in all have been sent to Iowa City from the American Bridge Building company plant in Gary, Ind., he said.

Delay in the shipment of the steel may slow down the initial progress, Jensen stated, but it will not prevent completion of the $251,000 project by July.

"We should make it by July 1 easily," Jensen declared. "The bridge may be completed by the middle of June." Completion dates hinge upon how much high water slows down the construction, Jensen added.

A temporary shoring built up across the river by the workmen has been flooded and partly washed away by the present high waters. It would have been used as a footing for the men as they put up the girders.

Jensen said as soon as the first girder is up the men will have to make a second shoring over the old one so they can go on working.

WSUI to Feature Full Hour 'Check'

A full hour of popular recordings will be presented by WSUI from midnight to 1 a.m. tonight during the station's monthly frequency check, Roger Hippley, WSUI promotion director said yesterday.

Purpose of the program is to give the FCC a chance to find out whether WSUI has strayed from the "910 spot." The check is made by a private concern which relays the results to the FCC.

Mrs. Allbee Gets New Post

Mrs. Blanche G. Allbee, 328 N. Clinton street, has been elected executive secretary of the Iowa department of the American Legion auxiliary.

Announcement of Mrs. Allbee's election was made by the executive committee of the auxiliary last Sunday.

A charter member of the Frank Lewis Glick Unit, Post No. 46, Marshalltown, Mrs. Allbee has been active in auxiliary work since 1922. She received national recognition from her work as executive committee woman from Iowa and as chairman of the constitution and by-laws committee.

As executive secretary for the state American Legion auxiliary Mrs. Allbee will work with Iowa's 610 auxiliary units which have a membership of 60,000 women.

Local Police Court Fines Drivers $85

Joseph H. Engler of Cedar Rapids and Ralph W. Walsh of Iowa City were fined $27.50 each in police court yesterday on charges of speeding.

In addition, Walsh was fined $12.50 on a charge of no chauffeur's license.

Jack Squire, A1. Brooklyn, N.Y., was fined $12.50 by Police Judge Emil G. Trott on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was driver of a car that struck a parked car owned by Warren Meyer at the Hillcrest parking lot last Wednesday.

Carmine D. Grecie, 1136 Kirkwood court, paid a $4.50 fine in police court yesterday. Judge Trott found him guilty of failure to heed an arterial stop sign.

Windstorm 31 Deaths

LONDON (P)—Force winds roared across Europe yesterday, immobilizing traffic and causing a number of injuries. At least 31 people died in Europe's storm in years, highest in Germany, where the ruins of bomb-ravaged cities were overflown, streets and highways throughout eastern England.

In Germany, bomb-weakened bridges and 10 seriously damaged collapsed during street car traffic.

The allied air force in Berlin was held yesterday because of weather. Flight shortly after noon.

Gutted Dormitory Walls Puff

GAMBLER, Crows pulled down the fire-gutted dormitory walls, searching the ruins of six of nine stone dormitory buildings when windows of the stone dormitory others were missing. College officials believed the bodies of living students were in the debris.
