Tourney Moves To Quarter-Finals

Senate Subcommittee Favors Rent Controls Until July, 1950

WASHINGTON (AP)—A senate banking subcommittee yesterday voted for a 15-month extension of rent controls and authorized rent increases of up to 15 per cent over the June 30, 1947 level in certain cases.

The bill approved by the committee by voice vote also provides for letting the individual states take over the rent control program if the governor certified that an adequate state law was on the books.

That section differs from a provision of the house-approved bill which lets state or local officials remove rent controls whenever they please.

The present rent control law expires March 31. The bill approved by the senate group would continue them through June 30, 1950.

Chairman Sparkman (D-Ala.) of the banking subcommittee said he plans to put the revised rent measure before the full banking group today.

The subcommittee's bill also provides for:

1. Giving the housing expediter authority to write eviction regulations which would apply uniformly throughout the country. The effect of the present law is to let local eviction laws govern.

2. Criminal penalties of up to one year in jail and $5,000 fine for willful violation of the rent control law or the expediter's regulations. These wartime penalties were discontinued in 1947 and the house measure does not contain these provisions.

3. Authority for the housing expediter to sue for treble damages in the behalf of tenants in case of rent overcharges. Only the tenant can take such action now.

4. Recontrol of permanent residential hotel units and a rollback of those rents to the level of Oct. 31, 1948. The administration had asked for a rollback to June 30, 1947.

5. Recontrol of trailer camps used for permanent residence.

6. Decontrol of so-called luxury apartments renting for $290 or more a month. The housing expediter could lower that figure if there were luxury apartments available at less rent in a particular area.

7. Recontrol of all apartments which were decontrolled in 1947 on the ground that they had been off the market as rental units for the two previous years. Sparkman said the purpose of the 1947 action was to bring those places back on the market, but that the result has been "quite disappointing."

Leftists to Get Visas For U.S. Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States yesterday agreed to permit five iron curtain countries to send delegates to a leftist "world peace" conference at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

The state department announced that "official" visits would be issued to delegates from the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Poland and Yugoslavia. The delegates were chosen by their respective governments.

Hungary wanted to send a delegation but visas were refused in reprisal for Budapest's recent ouster of American diplomats.

The seven-man Soviet delegation will include world-famed Composer Dmitri Schostakovich and will be headed by Alexander Fadyev, secretary general of the Union of Soviet Writers. Fadyev is one of Moscow's most bitter anti-American propagandists.

The meeting — officially the "Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace" will be held March 25-27 under sponsorship of the National Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions.

Mahout Pulls Stakes, So Does His Elephant

ARCADIA, CALIF. (AP)—There's an elephant in my back yard," an excited voice told the police desk sergeant yesterday.

"Now, now, just go sleep it off," counseled that worthy.

"Listen," the voice said, "it's an elephant, and it isn't pink."

Sure enough, it was. Trainers from a carnival company a half-mile away reclaimed their charge, reporting he had pulled stakes after his mahout quit.

Eight Students File As Candidates for Publications Board

No Campaigns Yet . . .

The Student Council election committee has banned all electioneering by candidates running in the March 30 all-university campus elections until after the orientation of candidates Saturday.

An orientation meeting of all candidates running for Student Council, delegate-at-large, Student Board of Publications and Union board positions will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in room 7, Schaeffer hall, George McBurney, chairman of the elections committee, said last night.

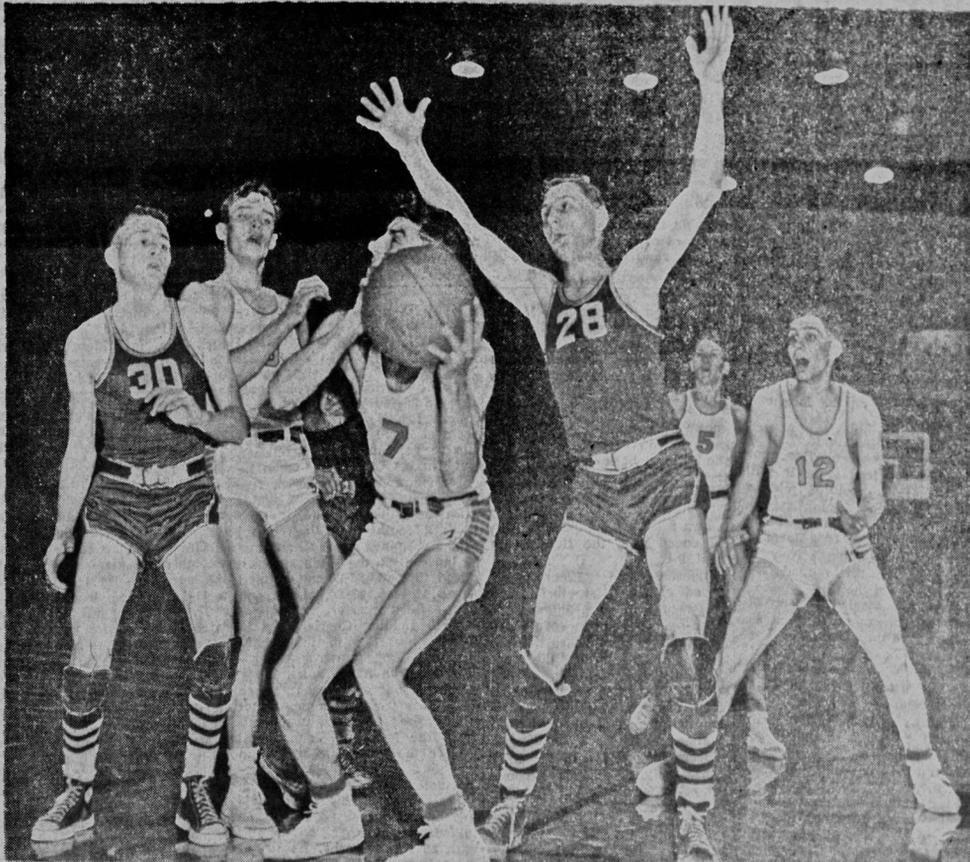

All candidates are required to attend the meeting to receive instructions on election regulations, McBurney said. The ban forbids the posting of any printed material until after the Saturday.

District Judge Says Method of Financing Bonus Constitutional

DES MOINES (AP)—District Judge C. Edwin Moore yesterday ruled that the Iowa World War II soldier bonus law and the method set up for financing it are constitutional.

The judge made the ruling in dismissing the friendly test suit filed by G.F. Knorr of Des Moines.

Harold Newcomb, attorney for Knorr, said he would stand on his petition of challenge as filed, and appeal at once to the Iowa supreme court.

Judge Moore made his ruling within 24 hours after the Iowa attorney general's motion to dismiss Knorr's test suit had been argued in order to give the state supreme court early opportunity to make final determination of the case.

Thus the high court test, deemed necessary for technical purposes in connection with the issuance of the soldier bonus bonds, probably will come at the court's May term.

'FLAREUP' IN JULY

LONDON (AP)—Air Commodore A.V. Harvey said in the house of commons yesterday, he had been told that some British planners believe there may be a "world flareup" in July. Government officials said the statement was unfounded.

Senate to Decide Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate held a stormy night session last night as a prelude to the signing of "peace" terms in the battle of the filibuster.

Then it recessed shortly after 7 p.m. (Iowa time) until 11 a.m. today.

The climactic vote — and the end of the great kalthoon struggle of 1949—is expected today.

The actual cease-fire order came an hour before midnight Tuesday night, but the terms were still the subject of hot debate.

Southern Democrats and Republicans, linked in a powerful coalition, appeared almost certain to drive home their "compromise" settlement of the war of words that has clogged the senate's legislative machinery since Feb. 28.

The southerners have been fighting to block an administration-backed proposal to change the senate's rules so that a simple two-thirds majority of those voting — sometimes a comparative handful — could halt debate at any time.

Dixie leaders contended any such change would destroy their traditional defense against passage of civil rights legislation. The southerners maintain that it is up to the states themselves, not the federal government, to enact any such legislation.

Under the proposed compromise, it would require two-thirds of the entire senate — 64 of 96 seats — to gag debate.

Majority Leader Scott Lucas (D-Ill) sought to pin responsibility directly upon the GOP leadership for the turn of events which he said would spell the death of civil-rights legislation in 'Cowboy' War Orphan Arrives With a Bang!

NEW YORK (AP)—Sixty-seven war orphans arrived yesterday by plane from Germany to enter foster homes here.

As they bounded off the plane, one tousle-headed youngster of 14 scurried up to a reporter, pointed a toy pistol and said: "Bang! Bang! You dead. I will a cowboy want to be, thank you."

'Pink Tea'

The Democratic leader said that while the filibuster was in progress, Wherry had voiced GOP demands for round-the-clock sessions and had criticized administration lieutenants for making only "pink tea" efforts to break the talkathon.

Car Strikes Pole, Driver Hospitalized

Gordon Russell, route 2, Muscatine, was taken to University hospitals with a broken right leg after his car struck a telephone pole on highway 6, near Second avenue, police said.

Russell was turning north on to Muscatine street from the highway when the accident occurred, according to the police report. He was taken to the hospital in an Oathout ambulance.

Wins to Davenport, Ottumwa, Moorhead, McGregor Teams

Only eight lights remained on the map in the Iowa field-house last night at the conclusion of first-round play in the Iowa high school basketball tournament.

Davenport, Ottumwa, Moorhead and McGregor moved into the quarter-finals of the tourney yesterday to join Waverly, Winfield, Forest City and Ankeny, who won their first-round tests Tuesday.

Davenport registered an impressive 50-29 win over Newton in the opening game yesterday and Ottumwa followed with a 36-32 victory over Fort Dodge. In last night's games Moorhead beat Immaculate Conception of Charles City, 48-36, and McGregor rolled over Diagonal, 58-36.

Quarter-Finals

Quarter-final play begins this afternoon with Waverly meeting Winfield at 1:30 and Forest City playing Ankeny at 2:45. The evening's double-header will pair yesterday's winners. Davenport will go against Ottumwa and Moorhead will play McGregor.

Waverly advanced Tuesday on a 47-42 win over Montezuma, while Winfield earned a quarter-final berth by beating Creston, 51-42. Forest City topped Waterloo West, 41-31, to advance and Ankeny defeated Sioux Center, 48-43.

There were 16 lights on the map of Iowa on the east fieldhouse wall when the meet began Tuesday. Half are out now and only one will remain when play ceases Saturday night.

In the afternoon session yesterday, Davenport took up where it left off a week ago against Iowa City high to overwhelm the Newton Cardinals. It was the case of a Blue Devil outfit that seemingly couldn't miss pitted against a club that couldn't, or wouldn't, shoot.

The Imps shot better than 30 percent. While the Cardinals couldn't approach that figure they hit fairly well on the shots they got off.

Thus, the battle that had been pegged as the game of the tourney was turned into a near rout by a Blue Devil team that should go all the way if it continues to play ball as it did yesterday.

In the other afternoon game, Ottumwa topped a surprisingly strong Fort Dodge crew, 36-32. A reserve center, Lawrence Nelson, who had played in only three games this season and had tallied but five points, led the Bulldogs with five field goals and a fine floor game.

The style of play of this second game was almost the opposite of the one preceding it. Davenport

In today's games it looks like class A Waverly over class B Winfield by a fair margin in the opener. The second game of the afternoon is about a toss-up but we'll take Forest City and Herb Thompson and Rocky Rye over the Fontana brothers and Ankeny.

Davenport shouldn't have too much trouble with Ottumwa unless neither team plays the way it did yesterday. The final game tomorrow will be just like watching a tennis match as McGregor and Moorhead tangle. The two B clubs, both past-masters at the fast break, could shatter some scoring records. We like McGregor and Butterfield to stop Moorhead's winning streak.

Davenport 50, Newton 29

Newton proved to be just another team for Davenport yesterday afternoon as Paul Moon's men rolled to a 50-29 win and cleared their first hurdle in state tournament play.

It was the same tight Davenport zone defense that stopped City high a week ago, that spelled defeat for the Cardinals.

Sinking the fielders in two attempts, Davenport leaped into a 4-0 lead in the opening seconds and were never headed.

The Blue Devils held a 21-14 advantage at halftime and gradually pulled farther and farther away as the game progressed.

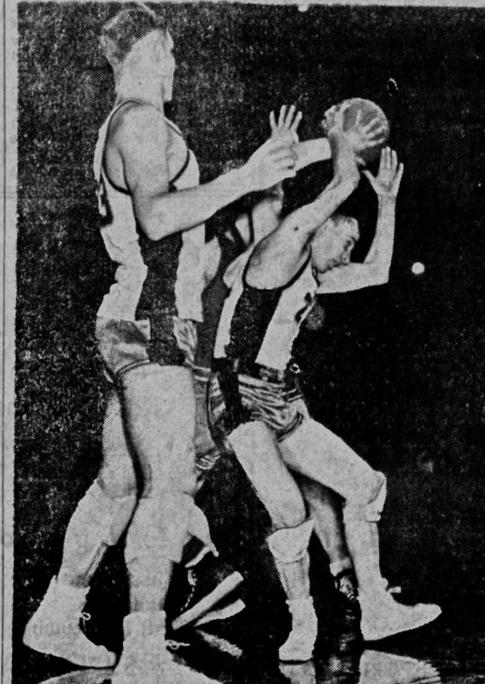

Ed Lindsay with 13 points and Bob LeBunn with 11 markers provided the spark in the Davenport offense.

The Cardinals were cold on the long shots they were forced to shoot throughout the game.

After LeBunn and Stenger hit for Davenport, Elvin Hardenbrook completed a long shot for the first Cardinal points.

The Newton boys could not find the range from the field again until a couple of seconds before the period ended when Jarnagin tipped the ball in after Brayton had missed a free throw. The quarter ended with

If I Could Get Both Hands on It . . .

FIGHTING FOR A REBOUNTING BALL are these Moorhead and Charles City players. Who has it in this case is anybody's guess. B's Battle

The class B clubs mixed it up in last night's double-header. In the first game, Moorhead extended its streak of wins to 30 by defeating Immaculate Conception of Charles City.

Behind by two points at the half, the Moorhead boys began to hit in the third period to win going away.

In the final first-round game, Bill Butterfield of McGregor turned in what was by far the best individual performance of the opening round. He set a new tournament record for points scored by a forward in a tourney game by tallying 24 points in McGregor's win over Diagonal. The previous record of 23 was set by Davis of Ottumwa in 1928. Butterfield scored 21 points in the first half as McGregor piled up a 41-14 intermission advantage and looked like a cinch to top the record of 28 points for all players in tourney play. He lost out in the scoring column in the second half, however, as the game turned into a parade from one free throw line to the other and ended with 24 points.

In today's games it looks like class A Waverly over class B Winfield by a fair margin in the opener. The second game of the afternoon is about a toss-up but we'll take Forest City and Herb Thompson and Rocky Rye over the Fontana brothers and Ankeny.

McGregor Players 'Want To Play Davenport'

'Doing Things Just Right,' Says Moon After Blue Devil Victory

By ALAN MOYER

"We want to play Davenport," shouted the McGregor players last night after they romped over Diagonal, but that probably wasn't the sentiment of the other clubs after watching Davenport register an impressive win over Newton. The top-sided victory just about pits Davenport against the field for title honors.

Undefeated Moorhead continued its winning ways in the evening opener. "It took us awhile but we got going," shouted the Moorhead players as they stormed into the dressing room.

Coach Ival Outhouse had his anxious moments on the Moorhead bench too. "I didn't think we were going to do it until Jack Pratt drove in for those two quick baskets in the third quarter. Then I knew we had enough to keep up the pace."

In the second game, after Coach Bill Luther's McGregor bunch had run roughshod over little Diagonal, the players were shouting, "We want to play Davenport!" First they must meet Moorhead today.

Diagonal coach, Dale Herrinton, was sure his team was beaten by the devastating first half scoring spree by McGregor. "We wanted to run with them," he said, "but when they hit 41 points in the first half our kids knew they were beaten. They went out there in the second half and relaxed and did a lot better."

"We've played a running game all year, but this time they hit and we didn't."

An hour and a half before, in the Charles City dressing room, one of the men with the immaculate Conception team said "the kids were beaten when they went out there, for some reason. Maybe they were thinking about that undefeated record by Moorhead, I don't know."

"We played here last year," he went on, "in a game with St. Mary's of Iowa City, so the big floor shouldn't have bothered them."

The afternoon doubleheader that produced winners in Davenport and Ottumwa brought the biggest crowd of the four seasons—13,000. Fans who wondered if the Cardinals might possibly upset Davenport had their question answered in short order.

"We had just enough out there," calm Paul Moon said. "The fellows were doing things just right, and even with not much of a halftime lead I wasn't worried about the third quarter drive Newton usually has. We've been a good third quarter club ourselves," the Blue Devil coach continued.

After posing for pictures, including several with Skip Green and Jim Stange, stars of the Davenport club last year, most of the players watched the second game for a few minutes. Later they planned on going back to Davenport. They'll be back in plenty of time for today's battle with Ottumwa though.

Coach Fred Maasdam of Ottumwa was glad to have the victory but was far from satisfied with the caliber of play. "We were missing shots we should have made and it was just a sloppy game all the way through," he said.

Guard Sam Long, whose twisting drive-in shot pulled the Bulldogs ahead when they had to have a bucket was glad it was over. "Boy, I didn't know if we were goin' to keep in front or not,"

he said as he rested on a dressing room bench.

Naturally Coach Bud Millikan of Newton was disappointed in his team's showing, saying it was "one of the poorest games we've played this season."

W.A. Goodman, the Fort Dodge coach, was another disappointed mentor, but knew that when his best scorer came up with one field goal, victory was too much to expect. "Franks was sick out there, along with the whole bunch being scared," he said. "They (Ottumwa) dogged us all the way and our ball handling was very bad."

A few minutes before Fort Dodge met Ottumwa a telegram arrived from the folks back home, signed by 250 people in Ft. Dodge, making the telegram over 25 feet long! It read: "Congratulations on winning a well-deserved berth in the Iowa State basketball tournament. Just to let you know we are all behind you and wishing we could be there to see you beat Ottumwa. The very best of luck."

The Newton cheering section tried hard in a losing cause. They occupied almost the entire north balcony of the fieldhouse.

"I club to the rescue, this time when a girl dropped her shoe from the top of the grand stand."

Protection: When "I" man Bob Graham, 240 pounds and over 6-feet, 5-inches tall, accompanied referees from the playing floor to the dressing room. He even carried the basketball.

"We're down here to eat, sleep and play basketball," Coach Outhouse told his Moorhead team as they dressed. "Sure is nice to win the basketball games, too," he concluded.

The Moorhead players reported that their home floor would fit nicely, with plenty to spare, across the fieldhouse playing surface. "It's so small we only played six out of thirty games this year at home," one player said.

Bill Luther not only coaches the McGregor boys, but he took the McGregor girls to the state finals in Des Moines. His record the players watched the second game for a few minutes. Later they planned on going back to Davenport. They'll be back in plenty of time for today's battle with Ottumwa though.

Stenger, LeBuhn and Lindsay scored in that order as Davenport increased the lead to 20-10 with a bit more than three minutes left in the second quarter. The Cards dropped in three charity tosses and another long Jarnagin basket with Davenport's Newman hitting a free throw made the score 21-14 at halftime.

Davenport started the second half in the same fashion as they started the game. This time it was Erik Erikson who hit on a jumpshot and a set shot on two attempts in the first few seconds.

Lindsay's tally with five minutes left in the third quarter on a fast break made the score 30-16. From this point on, Davenport coasted. It was 35-23 going into the last stanza.

Ottumwa 36, Ft. Dodge 32
Ottumwa's Bulldogs eked out a slim, 36-32 victory over a surprisingly strong Ft. Dodge quintet yesterday afternoon. Substitute Center Lawrence Nelson paced the Bulldogs with five buckets for 10 points.

Bill Hammersley's basket with 4-minutes 55-seconds remaining in the first period gave Ottumwa a 6-4 lead and the Bulldogs were never headed afterwards although they were tied twice in the second stanza.

It wasn't until after the intermission that Coach Fred C. Maasdam's Ottumwas began to roll. Nelson started the spree with six minutes left and the Bulldog crew tore to a 26-17 count, their widest margin of the game.

Ottumwa's stalling tactics in the closing minutes kept Ft. Dodge from pulling even after a spurt closed the gap to 29-30 late in the game.

Jerry Davis canned a bucket with 40-seconds gone in the game and Hammersley's charity toss soon after made the score 3-0 over Ft. Dodge's Dodgers before Guard Clark Johnson could hit for the Bulldogs.

Howard Franks' gift shot knotted the count but Joe Ferguson's shot of the same variety put the Bulldogs back on top, 4-3. Bob Beers' free throw 20-seconds later again evened the score until Hammersley's fielder gave Ottumwa a 6-4 advantage. The period ended with the Bulldogs in front, 9-6.

Johnson and Hammersley traded charity shots to open a slow second quarter. Johnson hit a one-bander from the corner and Harry Kipler calmly toed the free throw line and leveled the score at 10-14. The clubs swapped buckets until 15 seconds remained when Nelson's shot pushed Ottumwa into a 14-12 mid-point lead.

Beers sank one with the third stanza only 25-seconds old and the score was tied, 14-14. Ferguson's brace of free throws lifted the Bulldogs into the lead for good, 16-14. At the end of the period, Ottumwa boasted a seven-point lead.

The Dodgers started to surge in the final quarter, but timely buckets by Nelson and Long kept Ottumwa in command. The high scored for Ft. Dodge was Johnson with 13 markers.

Moorhead 48, Charles City 36
Moorhead's Vikings put on a second half show at the fieldhouse last night and walked off with their 30th straight triumph, 48-36, after trailing a fighting Immaculate Conception of Charles City outfit at the half, 19-17.

Center Russ Lawrenson got 13 of his 17 points in the second half Moorhead surge. He was high scorer for both teams with the Wildcats' Jim Snyder a close second with 16 points.

The first quarter was very evenly played, with Lawrenson's two baskets featuring Moorhead's scoring, while Ralph Haus, Doug Benson and Snyder divided Charles City's scoring. The period ended 9-9.

The Wildcats took a quick lead in the second period as Snyder scored his team's first eight markers of the period, one of the shots being a 35-foot one-bander.

Jack Pratt's push shot tied the score at 17-all with about a minute to go, but Louie Brunman put Charles City ahead when he threw in a pivot shot with five seconds to go. The half ended with the Wildcats ahead, 19-17.

With Moorhead gaining control of the rebounds for the first time in the contest, the Vikings surged ahead to lead 33-26 at the end of the third quarter.

While holding Charles City to just two baskets in the third quarter, the Vikings scored seven baskets and two free throws. Terry Weldon and Lawrenson scored twice each from under the basket and Lawrenson added two points from the foul line. Jack Pratt hit for the other two Moorhead baskets near the close of the period, both on 25-foot one-handers.

Pratt continued his sharp-shooting into the last period as he tallied on another one-bander with 35 seconds gone. He scored three baskets within 95 seconds.

Brunman scored three buckets for the wilting Wildcats in the final period, but these were offset by Lawrenson's parting shot—a seven point performance.

With a minute and 17 seconds to go Moorhead put on a classy freeze. The Wildcats fouled three times but the Vikings took the ball out each time and sailed home easily, 48-36.

Upset Clubs Square Off In NIT Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—The four Cinderella teams of the National Invitation basketball tournament will square off against each other in the semifinals of the Madison Square Garden meet tonight.

Loyola of Chicago will face Bradley U. in the opener and towering Bowling Green, the tourney's new favorite, will take on hustling San Francisco in the windup. The first game is rated a toss-up. Bowling Green is a four-point choice to down San Francisco.

The victors then will play it out for the championship Saturday night with the losers clashing in a consolation contest.

The four survivors made a clean sweep of the meet's four seeded quintets, Kentucky, St. Louis, Utah and Western Kentucky, on "mad Monday." It was no doubt the greatest series of upsets in basketball history.

ingly formidable brand of basketball last night to eliminate the outgunned Diagonal. Maroons 58-36 in the first round finals.

The winners fashioned a torrid attack in the first quarter of the contest to sweep into a commanding 23-9 quarter margin, and the McGregor Trojans continued their smoothly functioning offense in the second stanza to rocket into a 41-14 halftime lead.

The game Diagonal Maroons belatedly caught fire in the third quarter, restricting the potent Trojans offense to but seven markers while they garnered 13, but the edge compiled by McGregor in the first two periods proved to be insurmountable.

McGregor raced to a 5-0 lead early in the first quarter on a bucket by Roger Ross and a fielder and charity toss by Dennis Denning.

Butterfield spearheaded the McGregor attack in the second period and the winners forged into a 19 point 31-12 lead midway in the quarter.

Diagonal rallied to tally nine consecutive points and reduce the deficit 41-23 at the outset of the third quarter, before Ross ended the McGregor scoring drought with a bucket. The Maroons, 11 time competitors in the state tourney, continued their rejuvenated attack to shorten the gap 48-27 at the end of the third quarter.

McGregor was content to maintain ball possession in the fourth stanza and post its 58-36 margin of triumph.

"Dickie" Snodgrass, a substitute Diagonal forward, led the Maroon sporadically functioning attack with 13 counters.

Promising Athletic-Tiger Feud Breaks Out

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—A promising feud burst in the open yesterday between the Philadelphia Athletics and Detroit Tigers, both of whom have first division ambitions.

Al Simmons, the big coach of the Athletics sounded off his contempt for the new Tiger manager, Red Rolfe, describing him as "popoff."

"Where does he get off saying that the Tigers are going to finish in the first division?" said Simmons. "It seems to me it would be better for him to be in the league awhile and then if he finishes high up in the race to talk about it. I don't know what clubs he thinks they're going to beat out, but I'll bet we'll finish higher than they do."

While not as outspoken as Simmons, owner - manager Connie Mack of the A's, who is particularly pleased with the progress of his club, couldn't see that the Tigers were particularly outstanding.

"I think the clubs we will have to beat will be Cleveland, Boston, and New York," Mack said, adding that Washington might be a surprise team.

Earlier Rolfe in sizing up the pennant race, ignored the Athletics, despite the fact that they finished fourth last season while Detroit wound up fifth.

Irish Put Premium on Freckles

Shure 'n B'Gorra, 'Tis a Great Day

By MARY HEALY
The Kellys and O'Sheas will put a premium on freckles and red hair today, for this is truly a great day for the Irish.

They'll parade through the streets of New York and Boston sporting green and shamrocks in honor of their patron, St. Patrick. The gates of Dublin castle in Ireland will be thrown open and the local citizenry will dance the Irish jig at a great ball and join in the singing of "Mother Machree."

Iowa City children attending St. Patrick's school will have an official holiday today and SUI students of Irish birth or blood will join them in the "parade of green."

One SUI co-ed with sparkling blue eyes and a broad smile couldn't be mistaken for anything but a true Irish colleen — even if her name wasn't Mullaley.

Jean, a liberal arts sophomore from Marion, said today is always a big day for her whole family. When the Mullaleys get together with their relatives, the McGuires, Kellys, O'Learys, McCaulays and Sullivans, they're all decked out in green and shamrocks.

Jean's little sister, 12-year old Eileen, makes the biggest day of it, with school parties and due respect for her generous share of freckles.

The family name used to be O'Mullaley, but her grandfather changed it when he came over from Ireland. Jean's other grandparents came from Ireland, too, so "the whole family MUST wear green and bow reverently a few times" on each St. Patrick's day.

IRISH EYES REALLY ARE SMILING as Jean Mullaley, A2, Marion, looks over a copy of her favorite song. With a name like "Mullaley" and a true Irish smile, Jean will wear her shamrocks and green today with the rest of the Irish and join them in the singing of "When Irish Eyes are Smiling."

Bulldog Takes Off

JACK RABBIT JERRY DAVIS (29), Ottumwa forward, takes off on an unsuccessful jump-shot attempt in the opening minutes against Fort Dodge here Wednesday afternoon. The junior Bulldog, the team's high scorer, during regular seasonal play hit only one field goal before fouling out late in the game. Fort Dodge's Ralph Anderson tries vainly to stop the high-flying Ottumwan. The little Six champions won their first contest, 36-32, and are scheduled to meet Davenport at 7:30 tonight.

Newton 'Couldn't Have Done It Any Better' - Moon

Davenport high school's slick, grey-haired basketball coach, Paul Moon, was beaming in the fieldhouse dressing room after the assault his quintet had leveled against a supposedly strong Newton team yesterday afternoon. The final score was 50-29, much worse than Moon and the majority of tournament fans had expected.

The only criterion for comparison of Newton and Davenport was their four-point triumph over the Little Hawks of Iowa City. The game should have been a toss-up, not a 50-29 Blue Devil victory.

But many fans were forgetting the one thing which perennially makes Davenport a powerhouse under Moon's guidance. The Blue Devils invariably force their opponents to play with Davenport, not against Davenport. That's Moon's philosophy.

"Newton didn't fast-break against us once," Moon chortled in the locker room while his boys were busy in the showers. "They had numerous chances to do so but passed them up."

"You know," he went on, "if I'd told the Newton coach how we wanted them to play, he couldn't have done it any better."

However, Davenport is a hard ball club to fast-break against. The Imps are quick to return on defense, and it's doubly hard to penetrate their scrappy zone. Little Bill Stenger, roving forward is one reason for this.

Asked if he uses the fast-breaking offense much, Bud Millikan, Newton coach, answered, "We're not an overly fast ball club. We run as fast as we can. And sometimes you can't break if you lack speed. Davenport certainly had a fine team."

Millikan graduated from Oklahoma A&M in 1942, where he played basketball under the renowned Hank Iba. Iba is the nation's No. 1 exponent of slow basketball.

Millikan congratulated Moon soon after the game, saying, "I want you to go all the way, Paul," to which Moon replied, "Oh, we want to."

Moon told Millikan he could be proud of the fine Newton sportsmanship. "I noticed a few boos from the crowd," Moon said, "but your cheerleaders were quick to quiet them down."

Moon said his Blue Devils played "better than I thought they would. No better than I hoped, but better than I thought."

Both Newton and Davenport took a low number of field goal attempts. The Imps had 17 buckets in 50 shots for 34 percent, and Newton 10 of 41 for 24 percent. Newton even refused to take wide-open shots late in the game when the Cards were trailing by a wide margin.

The experts now seem to agree to a man that Davenport should walk off with its fifth state title since 1923 . . . At least the Blue Devils are the favorites if that means anything . . . It didn't last year when Manning forced the Imps to play the Manning brand of ball . . . That was the only time we have ever seen a Davenport team go to pieces.

The fans were asking two questions last night. . . 1. Where is the Moorhead powerhouse which has been publicized so highly? . . . 2. Where did McGregor's underpublicized powerhouse come from? . . . The two meet in tonight's last quarter-final game.

McGregor's first half rush to a 41-14 score over Diagonal was a terrific show. . . In previous games Diagonal had been the highest scoring team to make the final round. . . The McGregor five cooled considerably in the last period, being outscored 22-17.

McGregor Coach Bill Luther said he thought his team looked as good as any team in the tournament in that first half. . . He's probably right. . . Luther coached both the McGregor girl and boy teams to the state finals. . . Overall record for both teams is 52-7.

ON THE return trip from Cedar Rapids Tuesday evening we passed two fellows hitch hiking in the direction of Iowa City.

Like so many persons in my generation I have spent as much time riding in friendly (and otherwise) strangers' automobiles as I have in my own.

NO ONE but a former hitch hiker can understand just what another hitch hiker is up against. Just the fact that most motorists pass a hitch hiker without stopping is quite a depressing event.

SOME aren't content to pass by and let it go at that. They thumb their noses, honk horns derisively and flick cigarette butts at you as you waggle your pitiful thumb.

SOON AFTER Christmas vacation an Agent dropped a card to tell me about the supreme act of motorist contempt for hitch hikers.

As this Agent stood at a lonely cross-roads, an occupant of a speeding automobile threw a disposable diaper (sorely in need of disposing) out the window, and the poor traveler would have been kllobbered with the missile had he not ducked in time.

SOME MOTORISTS pick up hitch hikers against their "better judgment" and then proceed to tell the thumbler all about how unsafe it is to pick up hitch hikers these days.

If that is the attitude a driver is going to take I'd just as soon he'd wheel his Stutz Bearcat solo, and leave me to a cattle truck.

SEVERAL TIMES motorists have with my thumb hanging out, opened the window and asked seriously, "Have ya got a gun?"

Unfortunately, you are always in a hurry when things like this occur. The proper answer to a question like that is, "Yes, I've got an elephant rifle and I'm going to blow your big, fat head off with it."

ONCE, WHILE thumbing from the state of Washington to Iowa, the driver of 1932 vehicle picked me up with the agreement that I would fix all flat tires incurred during my portion of the journey.

It turned out that this fellow's tires went flat every time he ran over a shadow, and he had an appetite which had originally been designed for three lumberjacks.

AS THE DAY wore on, I learned my benefactor was really a joker. He was a retired something-or-other who liked to travel, and he made ends meet by picking up fellows like me with $12 in their pockets.

I could see nothing wrong with that. He was going as far as Cheyenne, Wyoming, and it was worth eight of my $12 to get that far.

It turned out, however, that the driver liked to stop and investigate things about every 15 miles. He would stop and investigate an abandoned shack, or a new filling station, or a dead jack rabbit, or a crack in the road. This guy was just plain curious.

THE NET RESULT of all this stopping and starting was about one hour of driving to every three spent investigating.

To top off his other idiosyncrasies the motorist was a log keeper. Everytime we saw a brown cow or stopped to buy gasoline, the event was entered into the log. Keeping the log also became one of my duties.

My penmanship is none to good on the straight and level, so the entries I made while riding looked like some one had turned a drunken crow loose on the pages with ink on his feet.

The driver is probably still sitting in a filling station driveway in Cheyenne, trying to figure out what "Moltop water in Idaho galsel, for h.h." means.

Student Council Gets Voting Machines for All-Campus Elections

Student voters will have a new innovation — voting machines — in the March 30 all-university campus elections.

City and county officials have given permission to the Student Council to use the five voting machines which have been gathering dust in Iowa City for several years.

City Clerk George Dohrer said the machines were last used in the March, 1935 city elections. Iowa City has been unable to use the machines since then because after that election the five wards were divided into nine precincts to accommodate the expanding city, he said.

Originally the city and county had purchased the machines around 1903 to use in city and county elections, Dohrer said.

Because the machines were previously set for party slates, the mechanism will have to be rearranged to accommodate the non-partisan student ballot.

The tentative schedule of slates to be placed on the machines are Student Council delegates at large, Student Board of Publications, Tailfeather's Athletic award and the outstanding senior man and woman candidates.

All students will be allowed to vote for these candidates. Other slates, such as Town Men and University Women's association candidates, will be placed on separate paper ballots and will require identification of the voters as a member of the organization.

Some aren't content to pass by and let it go at that. They thumb their noses, honk horns derisively and flick cigarette butts at you as you waggle your pitiful thumb.

Irish Shamrocks Airmailed to Iowa

An Iowa City lady of the Auld Sod will celebrate St. Patrick's Day with a new twist. She's Mrs. Hugh Donohue, 120 Evans street, and she'll start raising shamrocks from several real ones she received from a sister in Ireland yesterday.

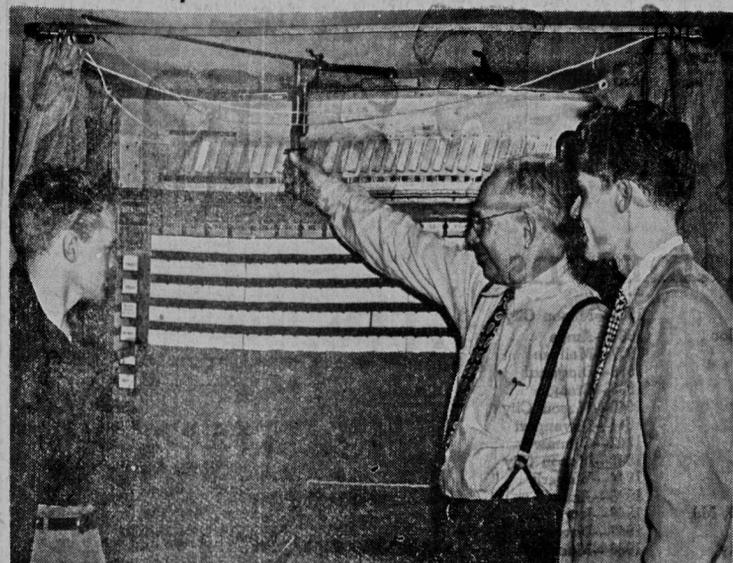

Airmailed a few days ago, the tiny plants are still so fresh the Auld Sod clinging to the shamrocks hasn't dried out yet.

Mrs. Donohue is so Irish she doesn't even have to wear green on the Irish day of days. She was a Fitzpatrick before she married the late Hugh Donohue, and both she and her husband were born in Ireland.

Now Mrs. Donohue will be raising a bit of Ireland in her own home. Shure, and if the transplanted shamrocks flourish in Iowa soil, Mrs. Donohue will be able to furnish her children with live shamrocks to wear on St. Patrick's Day.

MOELLER TO SPEAK Leslie G. Moeller, head of the SUI school of journalism, will speak at this noon's Rotary club luncheon at Hotel Jefferson on "The Newspaper and Your Community."

City Clerk Demonstrates Voting Machines

MACHINE VOTING COMES TO SUI. Demonstrating one of the city's voting machines, City Clerk George Dohrer shows the way votes are automatically recorded by pulling the master handle. West Charges Russia Violated Agreements

LONDON (AP) — Western powers accused Soviet Russia and three of her satellites yesterday of going back on their commitments.

Britain declared Communist-ruled Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary are guilty of "flagrant violations of the peace treaties" in rearming and hinted Britain will take the matter to the United Nations.

The U.S. state department, in a note to Moscow made public yesterday, accused Russia of violating at least six separate promises to return all German war prisoners in Soviet hands by the end of 1948. It renewed a demand that they be turned loose.

France and Britain sent similar notes, the state department said. The British note estimated at least 200,000 German prisoners of war are still in Russian hands.

Russia contends she was never bound by any agreement to repatriate the captives by last Dec. 31. The United States, Britain and France contend the Big Four foreign ministers reached such an agreement in April of 1947.

Minister of State Hector McNeil told the house of commons Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary are guilty of "flagrant violations of the peace treaties" in rearming and hinted Britain will take the matter to the United Nations.

Bulgaria and Romania have already increased their armed forces beyond treaty specifications, he said, and Hungary is reported expanding her military strength.

McNeil said all three have turned down a British-American request for information on their armed strength on the ground that Russia, one of the allies concerned in the treaties, did not join in the request.

The treaties granted Hungary authority for 65,000 troops and a 5,000 man airforce of 90 planes. Bulgaria was left an army of 55,000 plus 1,800 for anti-aircraft defense, 5,000 airmen with 90 planes and a 3,000-man navy with ships totaling 7,250 tons. Romania was limited to 120,000 troops, 5,000 men in anti-aircraft

Pastor to Conduct Talks on Religion

A fireside discussion on Religion-in-life week will be conducted tonight by the Rev. P. He-wison Pollock, pastor of the Iowa City Presbyterian church, at Roger Williams house, Baptist student center.

Sponsored by the Student Christian council, the discussion will be at 9 o'clock, Martha Hiscock, Roger Williams foundation member, said yesterday.

All SUI students are invited to attend, she added.

City Council Candidates

(This is the second in a series of stories on the Republican and Democratic candidates in the March 28 city general elections)

Democratic

E.E. Cline, 75, is seeking election to a political office for the first time as a candidate for fourth ward alderman on the Democratic ticket.

Cline did not file for the nomination but received a sufficient number of write-in votes from the fourth ward during the city primary to make him eligible for nomination.

His nomination was made official by the Democrats at their city convention following the primary.

Now completing 15 years of business association and residence in Iowa City, Cline says he is interested in "the revaluation of city property and the completion of present projects undertaken by the administration."

A member of the Lions and Mason groups in Iowa City, Cline is senior partner in the firm of Cline Farm Equipment company and has been in the farm equipment business for 40 years.

The fourth ward Democratic candidate was born in Springfield, Ill., and attended and graduated from high school in Athens, Ill. He graduated from the college of liberal arts at Illinois State college and has a son, Kenneth, who is a graduate of SUI and now a member of the Cline firm.

Everett said that season tickets at $1.50 can be purchased at the theater door. A season consists of six shows during the current semester. Single admissions will cost 40 cents.

Two SUI Students Win Expense Paid Trip to St. Louis

Frederick Stines Jr., C4, and Marjorie J. Schmidt, G, will receive a week's all-expenses-paid trip to St. Louis next month as the guests of the Advertising club of St. Louis, Eugene H. Harlan, associate in advertising, announced yesterday.

Each of six universities—Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, St. Louis, and Washington — will send two outstanding advertising students and a faculty member to St. Louis, April 3 through 10, to participate in the Advertising club's 1949 "Week in St. Louis" project, Harlan said.

Travel and other expenses of the 12 students and six faculty members will be assumed by the club. Harlan will make the trip as the SUI faculty member.

Harlan said the students and faculty members will visit newspapers, radio stations and advertising agencies to study various phases of advertising.

Stines was chosen on the basis of his activities as president of SUI's chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity.

Miss Schmidt won the nomination in a contest judged by Leslie G. Moeller, director of the SUI journalism school; Philip W. Burton, professor of advertising journalism and commerce, and Harlan.

Currier Candidates Chosen by Council

The candidates are: Donna Belle Jones, A3, Missouri Valley, and Doris Colbornson, A3, Marenco, president; Marilyn Beatty, A3, Moline, Ill., and Pat Barnhouse, A3, Newton, vice-president; Elaine Jensen, A2, Atlantic, and Jane Buckley, A2, Woodstown, N. J., secretary; and Janet Ohsman, A2, Cedar Rapids, and Carol Shuttleworth, A2, New York, N. Y., treasurer.

P. J. Katzenmeyer Will Dispute Settled

The Phillip J. Katzenmeyer will dispute, scheduled for a jury trial in district court yesterday, was settled out of court and the jury was dismissed, District Court Judge James P. Gaffney said yesterday.

Two relatives of the deceased, George Katzenmeyer and Lulu Miller, objected to probate of the will on the grounds that it was not the last will and testament of the late Katzenmeyer.

Milton J. Katzenmeyer, a nephew of the deceased, was named executor of the estate and the will was admitted to probate yesterday.

Judge Gaffney excused the petit jury until 10 a.m. Monday, when Bertha E. Williams vs. J.L. Johnson damage suit is scheduled for trial.

Art Guild to Show 'Intolerance' Tomorrow

A cast of thousands, out of which came many famous movie stars and directors of today, will be seen in the film "Intolerance" in the art building theater at 8 p.m., Friday, Student Art Guild President Len Everett said yesterday.

The movie directed by D.W. Griffith is a representation of early American movies. Griffith used gigantic sets and four parallel stories in his attempt at the epic style.

He also used selective photography, closeups, and dramatic lighting.

On April 1, the feature movie will be "Professor Mamlock." A short film of "Hitler Doing the Lambert Walk" also will be shown.

Everett said that season tickets at $1.50 can be purchased at the theater door. A season consists of six shows during the current semester. Single admissions will cost 40 cents.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FRANK McKENZIE, now a successful attorney in Missouri, commanded a regiment in World War II that was moved up to a position not three hundred yards from the Nazi lines. "We are in a very exposed spot here," McKenzie warned his men. "The pass-word for tonight is 'Bill Dickey.' If anybody comes near a sentry and can't give the pass-word instantly, shoot to kill."

That evening McKenzie went prowling to see if his sentries were on the job. One of his bravest, but not brightest, sentries heard him coming, and aimed a gun at his head. "Halt, you blank blank blank," whispered the sentry hoarsely, "and say 'Bill Dickey.'"

A gentleman from Norfolk journeyed up to Amherst to pay a surprise visit to his son. Poking his head cautiously into his son's fraternity house, he asked, "Does John Calhoun live here?" "Yes," said a resigned voice from within. "Just lay him on the couch."

Coal Operators Protest Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Hard coal operators yesterday called the three-day old mine shutdown a violation of the anthracite mine contract.

The eastern Pennsylvania operators disputed hard coal miners' right to stop work in a "mourning period." That was one of the reasons cited for calling the work stoppage which halted hard and soft coal mining Monday east of the Mississippi.

The operators urged UMW President John L. Lewis to end it at once in the public interest. Lewis replied it was untrue his mine workers were breaking their contract. He insisted they were abiding by the contract which says they shall work as long as they are "willing and able."

The directors of the Anthracite Operations association at Wilkes-Barre wired Lewis the mine shutdown was seriously affecting the health and welfare of the entire anthracite region. They told him "homes, hospitals, schools and other public institutions are now short of fuel."

The mine closings have brought the scheduled layoff of more than 67,000 railroad workers.

Jurors Picked For NY Trial Of Communists

NEW YORK (AP)—A jury of five men and seven women, including three Negroes, was chosen yesterday to try 11 American Communist leaders on conspiracy charges.

They were sworn in by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina after the selection process had been completed with exhaustion of the 21 peremptory challenges allotted the defense and the government. A Negro housewife is foreman.

The prosecution waived its final challenge. U.S. Attorney John F.X. McGohey said the 12 persons in the box were satisfactory.

Medina indicated the actual trial may begin tomorrow. He excused the 12 jurors until then and said today would be devoted to selection of four alternates, the maximum allowed by law.

Composition of the jury was interesting in view of sharp accusations made by the defense attorneys in their unsuccessful challenge to the federal jury system. This took up the first seven weeks of the trial.

The defense contended that many groups were discriminated against in jury-picking and said that prominent among these were women and negroes. The judge ruled, however, that the defense failed to prove its contention.

Kalona Man Pays Fine For Reckless Driving

They Need a Shamrock - for Herky

(Daily Iowan Photo by Flik Fleischer) PAT AND MIKE, TWO LOCAL IRISHMEN who take St. Patrick's day seriously, get together for the observance of the feast day of Ireland's patron saint which in their home rates equal with Christmas and Thanksgiving. Following tradition, Pat McCarney is a cop—son Mike wants to play football at Notre Dame, even if he is wearing Iowa colors at the moment.

Pat to Wear Shamrock on Beat

By CHARLES DONNELLY

An Irish policeman by the name of Pat and his 2-year-old son Mike are two Irishmen who take the feast day of Ireland's patron saint seriously.

Pat and Mike McCarney of Iowa City are both a little sad this St. Patrick's day because pop has to walk his beat. But they aren't going to let it spoil much of the day which they rate on a par with Christmas and Thanksgiving.

Pat, 25, explains that while he will have to curtail his celebrating with his Irish friends today, he is still reasonably happy because police regulations permit him to wear a shamrock on his uniform.

Little Mike, who will tell you in a moment that he wants to play football at Notre Dame, says that he is going to spend the day playing Irish records on his toy phonograph—and he has a personal collection of children's records of traditional and modern Irish airs.

McCarney, a descendant of grandparents in County Cork and County Dublin in the Emerald Isle, lays claim to his Irish honesty. His father's name was Patrick Daniel McCarney.

All good stories point a moral: Behind our playful plot, our intentions are serious: we want you to discover for yourself the welcome DIFFERENCE in cigarettes that PHILIP MORRIS can bring you.

Established PROOF of that difference is too extensive to be detailed here—but pre-medical and chemistry students, who will be especially interested can get it in published form FREE, by writing our Research Dept., Philip Morris Co., 119 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

Enesco, Mannes —

Artists 'Memorable'

— Phrasing Perfect

By DONALD KEY

Two great artists and a program that progressed to greater and greater heights provided an evening of memorable listening for a near capacity audience in the Iowa Union last night.

The recital played by Georges Enesco, famous elderly composer, conductor and violinist, and Leopold Mannes, noted piano recitalist, was composed entirely of sonatas.

Perfect phrasing was the keynote throughout the evening, and this was especially effective in the "Sonata in A Major" by Cesar Franck. This number was the climax of the evening. It is a difficult composition with intense emotional passages and sweeping embellishments in both piano and violin solos. These were played with musical perfection.

The piano, as played by Mannes, is an instrument for chamber music of the highest level. His approach is subtle, but capable building to dramatic heights. It is, at all times, in sympathy with the music.

Georges Enesco, known mostly for his compositions, plays with a tone that is not large, but beautifully colored. His virtuosity was most apparent in the slow movements and passages where melodic lines were given a masterful interpretation.

Other numbers on the program were "Sonata in B-flat," by Wolfgang A. Mozart, "Sonata in A Major," by Ludwig von Beethoven, and two cores, "Adagio," from "Sonata No. 3 in E minor," of Johannes Brahms, and "Fuga in G Minor," for violin alone, by Johann S. Bach.
