Vandenberg in Attack Against Slashing Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A contention by Senator Capehart (R-Ind) that Marshall plan funds can be slashed deeply because Europe already has made a big economic comeback was quickly challenged yesterday by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich).

Administration hopes of getting a final vote on the proposed $5,580,000,000 foreign aid program last night disappeared as the debate wore on.

Finally the senate recessed until noon Monday. The vote is expected then after further debate.

Production Levels
Capehart told the senate that Europe has achieved pre-war production levels even though less than 50 percent of the U.S. aid already authorized has actually been sent.

Vandenberg said that production, or industrial levels, should not be used as the only yardstick for measuring Europe's post-war recovery.

Before the war, he said, there were many factors besides industrial production and exports that figured in Europe's over-all economy.

Among these factors, Vandenberg said, were earnings from foreign investments "which no longer exist," shipping and insurance fees, and income from tourists.

The disappearance of these things, he said, combined with the destruction caused by the war, means that "you cannot apply solely the yardstick of industrial recovery" to the entire European economy.

Vandenberg argued it is now necessary to help Europe build up her industries and export trade to compensate for the loss of other pre-war factors.

But he also told Capehart: "We should not undertake even in our wildest dreams to bring European countries back to a total economy in excess of pre-war."

Capehart said he couldn't agree with Vandenberg.

$3-Billion Top
The Indiana legislator urged a $3-billion top on renewed Marshall plan help over the next 15 months, instead of the $5,580,000,000 requested by President Truman's administration.

Capehart thus joined Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and several other senators in advocating substantial cuts in the multi-billion-dollar aid program. Taft has recommended a $1-billion reduction.

Citing this country's $251-billion national debt, along with falling prices and a leveling off in industry from the peak years, Capehart told his colleagues:

"I am afraid in another three years those European countries are going to be financing a recovery plan for the United States."

Rankin Introduces New Pension Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Licked once, but still confident, Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) bounced back yesterday with a new veterans pension bill to replace the one killed by the house 24 hours before.

He said it would provide $72 a month for World War I servicemen at age 65 so long as their incomes do not exceed $2,000, if single, or $3,000 if married or with dependents.

Only Thursday the house decided by the margin of one vote to reject Rankin's mutilated proposal which originally called for $90-a-month pensions to veterans of both world wars when they reach 65.

Rankin had declared then: "That kills this legislation for this congress." But overnight he changed his mind. He told his colleagues he was introducing the new bill "at the request of one of the great veterans organizations."

Rankin did not identify that group, but his original bill bore the endorsement of the American Legion.

Archbishop Bans Strapless Gowns

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Most Rev. Moses E. Kiley, archbishop of Milwaukee, yesterday banned the wearing of strapless evening gowns by girls at Catholic high school proms.

An order issued by the archbishop on the conduct of school dances called strapless gowns "undesirable for private functions."

Banned were "formal dresses with drop shoulders," or any kind of a formal gown that shows bare shoulders.

Pickets protesting 'Peace Conference' pray outside Waldorf

A PARK AVENUE COLD WAR was waged in New York yesterday as a "World Peace Conference" opened at the Waldorf Astoria. Protesting pickets paraded placards in front of the plush hotel throughout the day, even knelt in prayer (above). The U.S. state department has described the meeting as "a sounding board for Communist propaganda." (Another picture on Page 7.)

Cousins Addresses Peace Conference, Then Criticizes It

NEW YORK (AP) — A magazine editor went before a "world peace" conference last night to tell the group that Americans "do not want peace at any price."

He was Norman Cousins, editor of The Saturday Review of Literature.

In sharp criticism of the conference, Cousins charged that the group supporting the conference "owes its primary allegiance and duty not to America but to an outside government."

"Want Peace"
"Americans want peace," he declared. "They will work for peace and they will sacrifice for peace. But they do not want peace at any price. If the price of peace is injustice, they will reject peace."

Cousins spoke to delegates of other lands on the "atmosphere of tension, hostility and, as we have seen outside, near violence" that surrounds the conference.

(Placard-carrying pickets paraded throughout the day in front of the Waldorf Astoria hotel, where the conference is being held, in protest of the meeting. The mood of the massed protesters appeared to be growing darker. One fist fight was reported by police.)

Meeting Opens
The meeting, the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace, opened last night.

Cousins turned down one invitation to address the gathering. Then he changed his mind and was granted a second invitation.

He said he reconsidered after Undersecretary of State George V. Allen told him "it is important to have someone present at the conference with a virgous affirmation of the democratic and anti-totalitarian point of view."

Will Sign Atlantic Pact
April 4, Denmark Says

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Denmark notified the United States yesterday that it will sign the north Atlantic treaty in Washington on April 4.

The notification was delivered to U.S. Charge d'affaires Edward J. Sparks at the American embassy shortly after the senate joined the lower house of parliament in authorizing the government to sign the pact.

He said the test occurred "several hundred miles" off Peru on the geomagnetic equator — a site chosen because of the special effects of the earth's magnetic field on cosmic ray particles in that latitude.

Councilmen Raise Pay to $300

Iowa City aldermen last night passed the ordinance to raise the pay for their jobs from $170 to $300 yearly. The raise will take effect with the council to be elected Monday. The action was legalized by an act of the 1947 Iowa legislature which permits cities of the first class to pay their city councils up to $400.

Retiring Aldermen James Jones and Max Hawkins were voted a commendation by the council for their work in the past two years.

Larry Adrian, chairman of the Moose Drum and Bugle corps, petitioned the council for permission to use the Community Building free of charge for a dance there April 4.

Smith, Leahy Resign From Key Positions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two officials who have played prominent roles in the cold war with Russia stepped down yesterday from key positions in the Truman administration.

Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, 53, resigned as U.S. envoy to Moscow, a post he has held since March 1946. He is returning to army service at his regular rank of lieutenant general.

Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, 73, chief of staff to the late President Roosevelt and to President Truman, was detached from that White House assignment. He will devote his time to writing his memoirs.

Their departure, however, does not mean any change in U.S. policy, officials emphasized.

President Truman announced Leahy's move at a White House ceremony during which he presented the navy's "grand old man" with a gold star in lieu of a "violent revolution" policy in 1945, a federal court jury was told yesterday.

Louis F. Budenz, first government witness at the conspiracy trial of 11 American Communist leaders, identified the German-born Eisler as the agent of the Communist Internationale in this country.

Himself a former high official in the American party, Budenz completed his third day on the stand with a detailed account of a party split in 1945.

This split, he said, eventually resulted in the ouster of Earl Browder as a party leader because he favored a soft policy of peaceful solution of post-war problems instead of the militant program eventually adopted.

Budenz said Eisler was known as Hans Burger in his role as the Comintern representative in the United States.

Eugene Dennis, a defendant, told him of Burger's position, the witness said.

Eisler is not a defendant but has attended many trial sessions as a spectator.

Special Navy Ship Fires First Rocket

LIMA, PERU (AP) — The U.S. navy has successfully fired a high altitude rocket from the deck of a ship for the first time, and the missile reached an altitude of more than 68 miles, it was announced yesterday.

Capt. Thomas A. Ahroon said the test, which was made last week from the navy's first guided missile ship, the USS Norton Sound, was a "scientific milestone."

He said the test occurred "several hundred miles" off Peru on the geomagnetic equator — a site chosen because of the special effects of the earth's magnetic field on cosmic ray particles in that latitude.

Third ward Alderman Charles T. Smith moved the granting of "gratitude for the many times the corps has served the city at civic functions."

Don Guthrie, candidate for Student Board of Publications, was granted permission to hang a banner across Clinton street from the Iowa State Bank and Trust company to Ewers shoe store. Guthrie also was permitted to fly helium-filled balloons from the roof of the shoe store.

Fire Equipment Is GOP Improvement, City Chairman Says

Iowa City's Democratic administration is taking credit for improving fire fighting equipment which was in reality improved by Republicans, City GOP Chairman William L. Meardon said yesterday.

"The new fire equipment was purchased by the last Republican council and not by the present administration," Meardon said.

Meardon answered Democratic Chairman W.H. Bartley's challenge to quote figures as to the comparative cost of Iowa City's two types of parking meters by saying the figures are available to anyone interested enough to go to the clerk's office and look them up.

Meters
Meardon said the parking meters purchased by the Democratic council cost more originally and more to maintain than those bought by the last Republican council.

"It remains a mystery to me why a street should be paved cutting across St. Joseph's cemetery to benefit three residences," Meardon said referring to Iowa City's newest street.

"If there is an urgent need for such a project why has action on the matter been delayed until after election?" Meardon asked.

Streets
Meardon noted that the Democratic platform calls for the resurfacing of some streets and the paving of others without cost to adjoining property owners.

"Does this mean that these improvements cost nothing?" Meardon asked. "Certainly the taxpayers are going to have to pay for these improvements through some form of taxation," he added.

The GOP chairman said the present city administration has had more money than any administration in the history of Iowa City.

Budenz Tells Jury Policy of Violence Advised by Eisler

NEW YORK (AP) — Gerhardt Eisler as a representative of international communism influenced the swing of U.S. Communists to a "violent revolution" policy in 1945, a federal court jury was told yesterday.

Louis F. Budenz, first government witness at the conspiracy trial of 11 American Communist leaders, identified the German-born Eisler as the agent of the Communist Internationale in this country.

Himself a former high official in the American party, Budenz completed his third day on the stand with a detailed account of a party split in 1945.

This split, he said, eventually resulted in the ouster of Earl Browder as a party leader because he favored a soft policy of peaceful solution of post-war problems instead of the militant program eventually adopted.

Budenz said Eisler was known as Hans Burger in his role as the Comintern representative in the United States.

Eugene Dennis, a defendant, told him of Burger's position, the witness said.

Eisler is not a defendant but has attended many trial sessions as a spectator.

Joint Rent Group OK's 'Home Rule'

FEW Shouts A Rejection of Merger Order

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — Shouting delegates to the CIO farm equipment workers national convention last night rejected unanimously an order directing merger of their union with the CIO united auto workers.

A resolution "soundly rejecting" the directive issued by the CIO national executive board last November, was passed by acclamation.

The action came in the face of a telegraphed appeal from CIO President Philip Murray in Pittsburgh, Pa. Murray urged FEW members to relinquish its charter and affiliate with the UAW.

Warning
Murray warned that if FEW defied the merger directive the CIO executive board would at its next meeting "take proper action" to enforce it.

Led by FEW President Grant Oakes of Chicago, a series of speakers shouted their defiance.

"By our action we will show Murray and Reuther that they are not going to scare us," Oakes said. He voiced special criticism of Walter Reuther, head of the auto workers union.

At Detroit, Reuther said he had "no comment now" on the FEW convention action.

Charter
Oakes asserted FEW would remain within CIO. He declared the national CIO executive board is without power to cancel FEW's charter.

The resolution also called for an immediate FEW drive to bring all farm equipment workers into FEW. It asked the UAW, the United Steel Workers, the United Electrical Workers and the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers to join in this campaign.

No speakers took the floor to oppose the resolution. Oakes said "the one voice against it" is that of Murray.

Earlier, in an address opening the three-day convention, Oakes called for a general 30 cents an hour wage increase and a seven-hour day at eight-hour pay.

Eisenhower Stricken With Stomach Ailment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has been stricken with a stomach disorder and will have to undergo complete rest before resuming his military duties, it was announced yesterday.

The general, who is temporarily assigned as presiding officer of the joint chiefs of staff, has been under medical care at his hotel apartment since Monday, the national military establishment said.

The ailment was diagnosed as a "severe case of acute gastroenteritis" by Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, the general's doctor.

'Axis Sally' Fined, Given 10-30 Years

AFTER SENTENCING "I'll never understand..."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge yesterday sentenced Mildred E. (Axis Sally) Gillars to serve 10 to 30 years in prison for broadcasting Nazi propaganda during World War II.

She also was fined $10,000.

The Maine-born woman, now 48, is the 13th American tried for treason in the last war and the sixth found guilty of the only crime mentioned in the United States constitution — betrayal of her country.

Before passing sentence, the court asked if she had anything to say.

"I'll never be able to understand," she protested.

Then she launched into a bitter review of the circumstances which led to her conviction by a federal jury here March 10 on one of eight charges of treason.

When Judge Edward M. Curran finished the brief words of judgment, she threw back her head and walked with swift, short steps from the courtroom.

Defense Counsel James J. Laughlin filed a formal notice of sentence, contending she had not had a fair trial.

The maximum sentence for Miss Gillars' offense would have been death in the electric chair; the minimum, five years imprisonment.

As it is, the 10-to-30 year term means that if she behaves, she will be eligible for parole after serving 10 years.

If her appeal is denied and her conviction stands, she will lose the rights of American citizenship. They could only be restored by a presidential pardon.

Before passing sentence, Judge Curran rejected defense motions for a new trial on the ground that the judge gave "inflammatory" instruction to the jury and "wanted her convicted."

Wants Consent Of Governors For Decontrol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-house conferees on rent legislation last night agreed to let cities, towns and villages junk rent controls when the governor approved.

The conference committee, however, reached no agreement on whether to extend federal rent controls a flat 15 months as provided in the house bill, or continue them 12 to 15 months as provided in the senate bill.

They came to no agreement, either, on whether to adopt the senate's provision for rent increases up to 10 percent, or the section of the house measure requiring that rents be fixed at a level to assure landlords a "reasonable return on the reasonable value" of their property.

The conferees will meet again this morning in an effort to complete the compromise job.

In agreeing on a "home rule" decontrol provision, the house accepted the senate version with some modifications.

The provision agreed upon says the housing expediter shall terminate controls in any incorporated city, town or village upon receipt of a resolution of the community's governing body.

The resolution calling for decontrol would have to be based upon a finding by the governing body after a public hearing. Notice of the hearings would have to be given 10 days in advance.

Before being sent to the housing expediter, the decontrol resolution would have to be approved by the governor. If he did not approve, the community could not be freed of controls.

Hawks 4th In NCAA Swim

Ohio in Front After 2nd Day

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — Iowa's Hawkeyes were in fourth place in the 26th annual National Collegiate Athletic association swim-at the conclusion of the second day of swimming, according to the Associated Press.

The Hawkeyes had 15 points and trailed Ohio State with 23 points; defending champion Michigan, with 18 points, and Yale with 16 points.

The Hawks captured their points on Duane Draves' third place finish in the 150-yard backstroke; Bowen Stassforth's fourth place finish in the 200-yard breaststroke; Dave Brockway's second place in the low board diving and a third place finish by the 400-yard freestyle relay team.

Biggest surprise of the first full day of swimming in the NCAA meet was Purdue's Keith Carter's stunning upset of world champion Joe Verdeur of LaSalle in the 200-yard breast stroke finals.

A powerful stretch finish by Carter pulled him in front and gave him the race in a time that was only one-tenth of a second off Verdeur's world record. Carter was clocked in 2:14.8.

Two Records Fall

Two meet records fell yesterday. Yale's 400-yard freestyle team posted an even better mark in the finals than it had hung up in breaking the meet record in the preliminaries. The team swam the event in 3:27 flat in the finals after breaking the record with a 3:27.4 effort in the preliminaries.

The other record was set by world champion Bill Smith of Ohio State in the 200-yard freestyle finals. After leading through the qualifying round in the afternoon, Smith took the finals in 2:08.5 — six-tenths of a second better than the old standard of 2:09.1 set by George Hoogerhyde of Michigan State last year.

Iowa's Wally Ris, after winning his heat in the preliminaries of the 50-yard freestyle, did not place in the finals of that event. Ris won his heat in 23.6.

Hawkeye Brockway finished second behind Bruce Harlan of Ohio State in both the preliminaries and the finals of the low board diving. Brockway placed ahead of Buckeye Hobert Billingsley to again break into that Ohio State diving monopoly as he did in the recent Big Nine meet.

After finishing sixth in his heat in the trials of the 150-yard backstroke, Iowa's Draves came in third in the finals.

Stassforth came in fifth in the trials of the 200-yard breaststroke but moved up a notch to place fourth in the finals.

Relay Team Moves Up

In the trials of the 400-yard freestyle relay, which the Yale outfit won in record time, the Iowa team of Ris, Bobb Busch, Evr Straub and Rusty Garst finished fourth. The Hawkeyes came in third in the finals, however. Iowa's Garst also qualified for the finals in the 50-yard freestyle but did not place in the finals of that event.

Behind Iowa in the team scoring come Michigan State, 8; LaSalle, 6; Northwestern, 6; Purdue, 6; Rutgers, 5; North Carolina, 4; Southern California, 4; Stanford, 4; Harvard, 3; Duke, 2; Penn college, 2; Texas, 2; Dartmouth, 1; and Iowa State, 1.

The championships will wind up tonight with the running of finals in five events — 100-yard freestyle, 150-yard individual medley, 40-yard freestyle, three-meter diving and 300-yard medley relay. Preliminaries in these events will be held during the morning and afternoon.

50-yard freestyle: 1. Dick Weinberg, Michigan; 2. Henry Paton, Michigan State; 3. Ray Reid, Yale; 4. Robert Busby, Penn college; 5. Robert Nugent, Rutgers. (2:23.1).

100-yard backstroke: 1. Robert DeGroot, Ohio State; 2. Jimmy Thomas, North Carolina; 3. Duane Draves, Iowa; 4. Ralph Knight, Ohio State; 5. Donald Korley, Michigan State (1:34.0).

200-yard breaststroke: 1. Keith Carter, Purdue; 2. Joe Verdeur, LaSalle; 3. Dave Seibold, Michigan State; 4. Bowen Stassforth, Iowa; 5. Frank Bruch, Dartmouth. (2:14.8).

One-meter diving: 1. Bruce Harlan, Ohio State; 2. Dave Brockway, Iowa; 3. Robert Billingsley, Ohio State; 4. John Conner, Duke; 5. David Trimborn, Michigan. (142.41 points).

400-yard freestyle relay: 1. Yale (Paul Glides, Bill Parsworth, Larry Munson, Ray Reid); 2. Michigan; 3. Iowa; 4. Rutgers; 5. LaSalle (3:27.0) new meet record—old mark 3:27.4 set by Yale in 1949 qualifying heat).

Start Packing Those Bags Again, Bobo

THE VAGABOND OF THE MAJOR LEAGUES, Bobo Newsum, quenches his thirst between innings of a four-frame stint for the Chattanooga Lookouts at Orlando, Fla., yesterday. Standing on the right is Lookout second baseman Calvin Ermer. Pitching to see if he was good enough to be signed by the Lookouts, Bobo allowed three runs and four hits—all in the first inning.

Tribe May Break Loop Jinx

Pitching, Reserve Power to Pace Indians' Push Toward Second Consecutive Pennant

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The odds against a pennant winner repeating in either major league appear to be getting longer all the time, but the Cleveland Indians have so much solid class that they should escape the jinx which has tripped the last five American league champions.

The Indians are an infinitely stronger and more confident outfit than they were in the spring a year ago, and they boast more pitching and reserve strength than when they beat the Boston Braves in the World series.

Even Manager Lou Boudreau, who wouldn't predict better than a third-place finish for his club last spring, now says firmly that "We are the club to beat — not the Boston Red Sox."

Boudreau has had so much new talent to look over that his first team hasn't played together as a unit yet. The champs have been losing games, but it doesn't mean anything.

Vets Take It Easy

The veterans are taking it slow and easy against the long campaign ahead, through they're all in good shape and there isn't a serious injury or ache. Boudreau, himself, is nursing a little fat around his middle, to be melted off rapidly once he starts short-stopping in earnest. Bobby Feller is throwing half-speed most of the time.

"I finally got a little smarter," says Robert. "I used to think I had to win 'em all in the spring, and I hurt my arm out here a year ago. There'll be no more of that."

Feller, Gene Bearden and Bob

Basketball Coaches Consider Rule Changes at 3-Day Meet

SEATTLE (AP)—One-hundred-sixteen of the country's top basketball coaches met here yesterday to consider possible rule changes.

But they kept a collective optic on the University of Washington pavilion, where Kentucky and Oklahoma A&M were working out for their National Collegiate Athletic association championship game here tonight.

Illinois and Oregon State college, which meet in the preliminary game, also rumped on the glistening pavilion floor and shielded shots off its glass backboards.

The experts predicted a mighty battle between the Wildcats and the Aggies, exponents of radically divergent styles of play.

High on the list of rule changes being considered by the National Association of Basketball Coaches in its three-day session is Iba's scheme for making a jump ball mandatory after a free throw in the last two minutes, whether the point is made or not. He would also eliminate the option of taking the ball out of bounds after a foul. The jump, Iba holds, would give both teams an even chance for control of the ball.

Many of the coaches appeared to favor an innovation tried this year in the Pacific coast conference. It gives the defensive team the under-the-basket position on both sides of the key in lining up for a free throw.

The group balloted yesterday and will ballot again today on these and other changes advanced by the rules committee.

Hawk In NCAA Mat Semi-Finals

Scarp Gains, Geigel Falls

Iowa's Joe Scarpello moved into the semi-finals of the NCAA wrestling championships on a 9-3 decision over Robert Siddens of Iowa State Teachers college in the 175-pound class last night.

Iowa's other entry in the NCAA Bob Geigel lost out in the quarter-finals to Minnesota's Verne Gagne on a 5-1 decision.

Scarpello had to fight an extra preliminary match because of the large entry list. He won his qualifying bout when he pinned Joe Manchak of Wyoming in 6:49. Scarpello won his first round match by outpointing Herman Sherriff of Colorado State, 10-3 to advance to the quarter-finals last night.

Geigel won his first round match on a referee's decision over Donald Arnold of San Diego State yesterday afternoon only to fall before Olympic alternate Gagne last night.

FORT COLLINS (AP) — Oklahoma A & M's defending titleholders paced the field through the quarter-finals of the National Collegiate Athletic association wrestling championships last night.

The Aggies qualified seven grapplers for today's semi-finals. Iowa State Teachers college of Cedar Falls and Cornell college of Mount Vernon sent four men each into the semi-finals. Michigan State and Minnesota qualified three each and Purdue is represented by two.

Other wrestlers reaching the semi-finals are from Kansas State, U.S. Naval academy, Nebraska, Colorado A & M, Iowa, Pennsylvania State, Syracuse, Indiana

Robinson Outpoints Lee in Return Bout

CHICAGO (AP) — Welterweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson threw all his punches in the first six rounds last night and then fought for his life to take a close decision over Bobby Lee of Baltimore before 7,728 in the Chicago stadium.

It was a return match between the two scrappers. In their first brawl in December the titleholder won a split triumph. Last night it was unanimous as the two judges gave him a 53-47 edge while Referee Frank Sykora scored it 54-46.

and Illinois.

The Oklahomans, champions in 15 of the 19 NCAA tournaments, were tied with Cornell college on the basis of pin points. Each school had five points — one for each pin in the early rounds. Iowa State Teachers had four pins and Minnesota three.

The three individual champions who are back to defend their NCAA crowns moved into the semi-finals without difficulty. They are Heavyweight Dick Hutton of Oklahoma A & M, seeking his third NCAA title; Dick Dickenson, 136 pounder from Michigan State, and Arnold Plaza, Purdue's 121 pound champion. The titles in the 128 pound, 145, 155, 165 and 175 classes are vacant.

Two thousand fans got their biggest thrill of the night in a match between Robert Maldegan, Michigan State's runnerup for the heavyweight title last year, and Richard Simmons, a 6 foot 8 inch giant from Wheaton, Ill., college weighing 270 pounds. The match ended 7-7 on a point basis and was awarded to Maldegan by the referee. Maldegan trailed in the early stages of the match but nearly pinned Simmons in the closing minutes.

Cubs Rally in 9-Run Eighth To Win, 12-7

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Chicago Cubs blasted nine hits and nine runs in the eighth inning yesterday to down the St. Louis Browns, 12-7.

Head man in the big frame was Al Walker with a homer and a double to knock home four runs.

The Cubs totaled 19 hits, including a third inning homer by Frank Gustine and one in the fifth by Roy Smalley.

SPAHN TIPS REDS

BRADENTON (AP) — Behind superb pitching by Warren Spahn, the Boston Braves yesterday defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 7-3, in a grapefruit league game. The win was Boston's first in three tilts with the Reds.

Spahn, a smooth working left-hander, pitched the first five innings and gave up but two hits, both infield safeties. He walked one and not a Red reached second.

LAKELAND (AP) — Three rookie pitchers held the Detroit Tigers to four hits yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the Bengals, 4-0, in an exhibition game.

TIPTON HITS TWO HOMERS

OCEANSIDE (AP) — Joe Tipton smashed two homers to drive in four runs as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Camp Pendleton Marines, 8-1, yesterday.

Hawks, Gophers May Hold Intersectional Series

The inside story about the separation of the Cedar Rapids Raiders and their main drawing cards—the Wilkinsons, Jack Spencer and Red Metcalfe—arose from insufficient funds. The former Iowa stars had been performing with the club all season, and according to one player were receiving checks of a rubbery nature recently.

If Cedar Rapids can't support a team with players of that caliber, it certainly won't make a success of any other quintet.

Minnesota and Iowa are making even greater strides toward solidifying athletic relationships between the two schools.

Right now the basketball coaches at Iowa and Minnesota, Pops Harrison and Ozzie Cowles, are working out a plan to hold intersectional doubleheaders at Iowa City and Minneapolis during the non-conference season.

If the agreement comes into being, it should greatly increase the enjoyment of cage followers during the early weeks of winter.

Here is the gist of the plan, which may become an actuality next season. On one weekend Minnesota and Iowa will play teams from each coast, e.g. Dartmouth and Southern California, at Iowa City.

Friday night Minnesota would play Dartmouth and Iowa would meet Southern Cal. Saturday night they would switch off with reverse pairings. In no event would the Gophers and Hawks meet before the conference race.

Then on a later weekend another doubleheader would be held in Minneapolis with east and west coast teams as the opponents.

Iowa's barnstorming basketball players really lowered the boom on a group of Tipton all-stars last week, 104-38. Floyd Magnusson, not much of a scoring sensation in the regular season; tossed in 36 points for the Iowans.

Besides Magnusson, Charlie Mason, Tony Guzowski, Stan Straatsma and Bill Kay are included in the barnstorming lineup.

So far they have played three games, losing to the Cedar Rapids Raiders, 54-48, and beating Tipton and also the Davenport all-stars, 55-50.

They are scheduled to play at Fort Madison next Monday, Burlington Wednesday and Dubuque Saturday, April 2.

The precious space in the armory end of the fieldhouse, somewhat crowded of late, has been aided by the baseball team moving into the wide open spaces. Coach Otto Vogel's forces went outdoors for the first time yesterday afternoon.

It isn't too soon, either, since the team opens its season here a week from next Wednesday against Bradley. Following that game the Hawks will leave April 9 for a spring trip through Indiana and up to Michigan.

The prospects for a good season are fairly bright. Veterans Al DiMarco, Dick Hoeksema and Wes Demro are back to form the basis for the pitching corps.

Two sophomores named Merlin may break into the starting lineup in the infield and outfield. Merlin Kurt seems to have the inside track on first base, while Merlin Moran could be the starting rightfielder.

Besides Kurt, the rest of the infield will be composed of former letter-winners. Jack Dittmer is back at second base, while shortstop and third base will be split among three veterans, Keith Kafer, Bob Primrose and Bob Smith. Smith was an outfielder last spring.

Dubuque Cops Valley Indoor Crown

Dubuque's Rams won the Mississippi Valley indoor track and field meet at the fieldhouse last night by a single point margin.

The Rams posted 52 1-2 points compared to second place Clinton's 51 1-2.

It was the first time in 19 meetings that any school besides Davenport or Clinton had won the meet.

One new league record was set and a second tied.

Jon Waurdel, great Davenport high jumper, cleared the bar at 6 feet 1 1/4 inches, two inches above the mark set by Iowa City's "Tug" Wilson in 1945. Dick Wendt, Dubuque, vaulted 12 feet 1 1/2 inches to equal the mark posted by Davenport's Schiebel in 1934.

A HAWKLET LEADS the pack as Jim Bradbury, Little Hawk half-miler shoots out in front in the second section of the 80-yard run during the Mississippi Valley indoor meet in the fieldhouse last night. Behind the speedy Hawklet are Donahue and Williams of Cedar Rapids (Franklin) closely pursued by a pair of unidentified runners. Stan Petrick of Roosevelt (Cedar Rapids) beat Bradbury out on the last lap.

Date Dress Features Dipping Hemline

ELMERINE KROHN'S SKIRT ISN'T CROOKED—It's supposed to be that way. The dipping hemline is an outstanding feature of this black faille date dress worn by this junior from Lewis. The large bow, high neckline and longer cap sleeves add to the simplicity of design. Black suede shoes with gold trim complete Elmerine's outfit.

Band Members Get Ready for Trip

IT'S PACKING UP TIME for SUI concert band members who will leave Monday to give a series of concerts in north and central Iowa. Wesley Bolin, A1, stores a timpani in its case, while Audrey Moreland, A4, hands Assistant Director Arnold Oehlson a music folder to pack. The concert schedule includes 13 towns.

Firemen Extinguish Three Small Fires

A fire in the grass and brush of an empty lot in the 1500 block on E. College street was extinguished by firemen at 11:20 yesterday morning. No damage was caused by the fire, Assistant Fire Chief Al Dolezal said. Backfires from the engine of a 1949 Dodge tudor belonging to Lee R. Boder, 1016 Muscatine avenue, caused a small fire in the engine about 9:30 Thursday night. Ignition wiring was burned and some slight damage to the paint was caused by the fire, Dolezal said. Firemen were called at 10:55 Thursday night to put out a brush fire in the 800 block on South Riverside drive. The fire was extinguished before it caused any damage, the assistant fire chief said.

SUI Band Plans Iowa Tour

Wheels are turning and machinery is in motion in preparation for the annual tour by the SUI concert band under the direction of Prof. C.B. Righter. The tour which begins Monday at 8 a.m., will cover 13 towns and cities in the northern and central sections of the state. The concert band will play an average of 12 numbers at each stop, sometimes playing to three different audiences in three towns in one day, Righter said. Playing as many times as they do in different towns takes a tremendous amount of planning and hard work by both the directors and band members, Righter explained. The whole tour is managed on schedule with jobs such as packing instruments, set-up and take-down details and loading and unloading equipment done in a well organized routine. "The boys who take down and put up the music stands have that job down to a matter of seconds," Righter said. Each of the 60 band members is given a full schedule of his or her duties during the tour together with a complete concert schedule, a map of the route, an excuse slip for classes, a program for every concert and a tour itinerary with travel orders. This is provided just to make things run more smoothly and to make sure there are no slip-ups, Righter said. Arnold L. Oehlson, associate director of SUI bands, Mrs. William R. Mumma, women's counselor, and Righter will accompany the band on the tour. Iowa towns on the band's itinerary for the tour are Des Moines, Marshalltown, Hubbard, Ft. Dodge, Algona, Humboldt, Belmond, Hampton, Sumner, Oelwein, Independence, Manchester, and Marion. The band will cover the route in two chartered buses, with a truck to transport instruments and equipment. The tour will last five days, Monday through Friday, Righter said. With everything going as scheduled the band should be in Iowa City late Friday night. Most of the concerts are to be sponsored by the high schools in the towns to be visited. In these appearances the host conductors will appear as "guest conductors" of the SUI band in their own schools. The "guest conductors" also had the privilege of picking selections to be played at the concert they will direct.

Kuever said the award will be made by vote of the pharmacy faculty at the close of the junior year and will be available to the student at the beginning of the senior year.

Judgment Suit Filed Against Local Man

A $592.12 judgment suit was filed yesterday in Johnson county district court against Fred Herdliska, 1724 E. street, by Rex A. Rohr, Muscatine. Rohr claimed his car was damaged in a collision with the defendant's auto at the intersection of Park street and Park Rose street on Sept. 10, 1948. He charged Herdliska with negligence in the operation of his vehicle. Rohr claimed as a result of the collision he was deprived of the use of his car for business purposes for a period of two months. Rohr asked a total of $592.12 for damages and for the loss of the use of his auto. Waldo M. Wissler of Davenport is attorney for the plaintiff.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THROUGHOUT the United States Marine Corps, Gen. Holland M. Smith is affectionately known as "Howling Mad." How richly he deserves the nickname is demonstrated in the crackling prose of his recently-published memoirs, "Coral and Brass." Most of his invective is directed at high Navy officers, who, he bluntly charges, exploit the Marine Corps shamelessly, and overestimate the value of their own obsolete "battle wagons." Explaining the title of his book, "Howling Mad" Smith says, "Coral was a great ally of the American forces in the island hopping campaign in the Pacific. I would hesitate to place in the same useful category a lot of our brass."

"Kiss Me Kate" is Cole Porter's biggest musical hit in years. Russell Crouse thinks a second company should be formed at once to cash in on the ecstatic notices bestowed upon the Broadway troupe. The road company, however, Crouse says, should be named "Kiss Me, Duplicate." Copyright, 1948, by Bennett Cerf. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Marketable Skills Necessary, Vocational Conference Advised

Have a specific, marketable skill that you can fall back on when you get out of college, Mrs. Constance Steele, personnel director of the Container Corporation of America told her audience yesterday in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The vocational conference, "Calling All Careers," opened at 9:30 a.m. yesterday with five sessions throughout the day. It is being sponsored by the University Women's association.

Speaking at the 2:30 p.m. session on personnel work, Mrs. Steele said most beginners are not ready to do personnel work immediately after getting out of college.

The beginner must work his way up, she said. His success depends on ability to get along with others, observation, interest in the work and training she added.

Broad Education
She suggested as broad an education as possible. "Take some subjects that are not even related to this field, such as appreciation of music, to stimulate and broaden yourself," she said.

Lyda Clausen, an SUI graduate, said home economics, art and a costume course in the theater have helped her in her career. She spoke on dress design at 10:30 a.m.

A designer for a St. Louis dress firm, she said the people in this field are friendly and informal and yet very temperamental. This is because they are concerned about the success of other designers as compared to their work, she explained.

"Home economics is a good background for changing from a working career to a home career," Mrs. Gertrude Austin, director of nutrition education for the American Institute of Baking, Chicago, said in the 3:30 p.m. session on nutrition.

Background Course
Chemistry is a wonderful background course for this field, she said. Being able to get along with others is the best way to get ahead in this field, she added.

Method is important in administering a social welfare program, Estelle Gabriel, psychiatric consultant from the Veterans clinic in Chicago, told the opening session yesterday morning.

She stressed the importance of entering imaginatively into the other person's troubles and concentrating 100 percent on them. A basic liking and a concern for people is required for success in this field, she explained.

During the present Easter Seal campaign, 15,000 letters containing seals will be mailed to students and people of Johnson county, the Rev. Evans Worthley, chairman in Johnson county, said yesterday.

The sale of the seals ends Easter Sunday and is sponsored in Iowa by the Iowa Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Funds are used to aid handicapped people in the state.

Cans for collection of coins will be distributed in Iowa City and surrounding areas next week, Rev. Worthley said. A special Easter seal table has been set up in the Iowa City postoffice to accept contributions.

Gifts from Merci Train Arrive in Iowa City

Mayor Preston Koser yesterday announced the arrival of gifts from the people of France on the Merci Train which stopped in Cedar Rapids. The gifts were forwarded to Iowa City by the Cedar Rapids Chamber of Commerce.

The gift included a volume of poems and other works in French by Alfred De Musset. The paper-backed volume was donated by M. Bridet, Menton, France.

Another gift was a small box about the size of a cigar box. Mayor Koser didn't know what kind of wood was used in making the box, but he said he thought it was stained its dark brown color.

Mayor Koser said he would send the gifts to Miss Joyce Neinstedt at the public library.

Miss Neinstedt said yesterday, "I will be very much pleased to receive the gifts. I am sure they will be an asset to the library." The gifts will be put on display as soon as arrangements can be made, she added.

Two other gifts from the Merci Train were brought to SUI from Des Moines during the latter part of February by William J. Peterson, historical society superintendent.

One gift, "Manuel of Natural Sciences" from the library of the late Prof. Paul Hazard published in 1776, was given to the state historical society. The other, a history by German Bazin of Mont Saint-Michel, historic French island, was given to SUI.

Civil Rights Still Has a Chance—

Just as Republican sentiment in the senate was split over the stop-filibuster issue, so GOP plans on what to do next about civil rights have been hazy.

Some senate Republicans, notably Sen. Wherry, assumed a let-see-the-administration-squeeze-out-of-this-one attitude. But others insisted that their defense of existing senate rules and subsequent support of a compromise gag rule was not a backhanded way of killing civil rights.

Many GOP senators honestly believed that the new rule, which can cut off a filibuster with 64 votes, has paved the way for civil rights legislation.

Since it is still true that only an actual test of the new ruling — actually seeing if 64 senators can be lined up to cut off a Dixie filibuster — is to send a piece of civil rights legislation to the floor, many Republicans have been advocating this.

The GOP leadership itself came around to this viewpoint. It was reported to have rounded up 35 members of its block, all pledged to vote to shut off a filibuster.

Still showing signs of a split on the GOP side of the aisle, some Republican senators are jabbing at the administration demanding to know why it does not bring out an anti-poll tax bill. Others are sincerely calling for the same thing.

Taking up the challenge, Senators Humphrey and Wagner and GOP Senator Morse introduced an anti-lynching bill. Humphrey threw back a challenge to the challenging Republicans. "Stand up and be counted," he said.

This is a refreshing situation. At last all political viewpoints are rallying to the idea that to oppose civil rights is as bad as opposing, say, motherhood. All but the southerners, of course.

Perhaps Republicans and northern Democrats, all foaming over with righteous indignation, will unite to push through a civil rights program. The drawn out preliminaries are over. It's time for everyone to stand up and be counted.

Do We Still Believe in Fair Trials?—

Ever since the trial of the American Communist leaders began, the defense has claimed that it would not receive a fair trial. America is in a state of hysteria, is its chief contention.

Most Americans are willing to brush aside such accusations and let the trial proceed. Let's see the evidence the government has; let's let the court decide whether the American Communist party is guilty of conspiracy.

So says the majority. But two incidents occurred the other day which — while not reflecting the attitude of a very large group — will give the American Communists grounds to yell "hysteria."

The first incident came from an old source. Americans could expect as much. The house un-American activities, long silent, came out with a booklet proclaiming "that at a time of national crisis, the United States would have nearly 825,000 (American Communists) who are either spies, traitors or saboteurs working against us from within."

While the justice department is trying to prove in a court of law similar charges, this flat indictment makes it appear that the government is undercutting our legal processes.

The second incident was a surprise, in a way. A vice president of the Virginia Communist party who died in 1946 bequeathed his $5,800 estate, including a Shenandoah valley farm, to the party.

But a circuit judge threw the will out of court on the grounds that the party was "a fifth column" aimed at overthrowing the government.

Americans were shocked at the judicial railroading Cardinal Mindszenty and 15 Protestant churchmen received behind the iron curtain. And yet we tolerate such close imitations of judicial unfairness right here at home.

Interpreting the News—

Country Must Prevent Hysteria

BY J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The American people, through testimony at the New York spy activity report of the house un-American activities committee, have been getting a good look this week at the theories and methods of Communist infiltration.

Neither source provides anything particularly new to students of Communist activity, but they do serve to boil it down for better public consumption.

The report on spy activity follows closely the pattern revealed in Canada in 1946—foreign spies, Russian officials, using native Communists or fellow travelers in a story-book fashion which was, nonetheless, highly practical.

Early evidence at the trial refers to both the theory and practice of revolution in the United States; to the necessity for maximizing infiltration by use of force. The goal as quoted from written records, is a Soviet Socialist republic, to be attained through such weapons as poison gas and "only by the use of the Red army."

The house committee in its report says one thing that should be done about espionage is for all patriotic Americans to report any suspicious activities to the FBI, army or navy intelligence, local police or the committee itself.

This is a frightening thing, when one considers all the false accusations which could come about if there were to be a wave of seeing things under the bed. Without a clear definition of acts which are subject to legitimate suspicion, the wave of hysteria might put flying saucers and men from Mars in the shade.

This same consideration will have a bearing on the effectiveness of the National Education association's newly announced plan to guide teachers and implement U.S. foreign policy through shifts in the nation's education program.

The ability to recognize danger when it really exists is a critical requirement in an ideological conflict.

Beneath all their lurid activities the first objective of the fifth columnists is to obtain a hold on "community leaders or people with qualities of leadership."

Very frequently, in cases where they succeed, the people have no subversive intent themselves, are intent on doing good, and often they are crackpots.

Skillfully guided by experts, their sincere principles begin to take precedence in their minds over rules and regulations designed to guard the community. They "know better" than the majority about war and peace, human welfare and the like. A Communist tutor easily convinces them on the "nobility" of the Russian experiment. Efforts to subvert school teachers, youth organizations and, perhaps, actual spying, are by then easy steps.

If the people are to be set on the trail of communism they must know not only what it is, but also what it is not. Otherwise, amateurs and grudge bearers can give us an awfully bad time.

Letters to the Editor—

The Campus Campaign

—Boosters, Open Letter, a Protest

Bill Eads . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

In his platform for student council, Bill Eads has proposed the well-regulated sale of beer in the Iowa Union. It is refreshing to have a candidate who will risk his election chances on such a controversial issue.

As Iowa has a liberal and responsive administration, it would re-emphasize the university's faith in the students' moral character which is already formed when he reaches college age. Some say that the Iowa student is not ready to accept such a proposal — I believe that they are.

Wednesday's election of Bill Eads would show that the student body is in favor of Eads' proposal.

. . . Anne Smith . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

The Student Board of Publications vote is nothing to be taken lightly. The three publications, Daily Iowan, Frivol, and Hawkeye, are run on a very professional basis.

Therefore a person that is qualified and has the experience is the one that should be elected to such a responsible position. Out of the entire list of board candidates there is only one name that stands out as far as qualifications, experience and a good solid platform go. That one person's name is Anne Smith.

Annie has worked on The Daily Iowan for two years, the advertising staff of Frivol for one year, and has helped in the makeup of the 1949 Hawkeye. Her platform is one that has been reasoned because of this past experience of actually working with the publications that are controlled by the Board of Publications. Her platform is as follows:

1. Improved circulation of The Daily Iowan through survey checkups.
2. Better facilities for the production of The Daily Iowan, Frivol, and Hawkeye.
3. Coordination of creative writing and art courses with Frivol magazine.
4. Class credit work on Hawkeye and Frivol to encourage participation.
5. Improved organization of Hawkeye.
6. More adequate promotional coverage of student activities by The Daily Iowan.

If there are any further questions concerning the points of the platform, I know that Annie will be glad to answer them for you. Annie knows what needs to be done, and she knows how to go about getting it done. Get behind Annie with your vote, for a vote for Annie means giving the right person the chance to lead the Board of Publications in the right direction.

. . . Don Guthrie . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

In reading letters to the editor in Tuesday's Daily Iowan, I found the following statement regarding a candidate for the Student Council: "This provocative idea is the proposed regulated sale of beer in the Iowa Union." It also said, "The idea has precedence on many other college campuses."

What if one hundred colleges sold beer — do two wrongs make a right? Why should our university fall in line? Why turn a building dedicated to the memory of ex-servicemen into a beer joint?

The same letter says, "The university student is a mature individual — the sale of beer will demonstrate the administration's trust in the maturity of its students."

One of the most important offices controlled by students at Iowa is your representative on the Board of Publications. That board formulates the overall policies of The Daily Iowan, Hawkeye and Frivol. And it is vital that your vote be for a student who will faithfully represent you on the Board of Publications.

I would like to make some practical suggestions that I think will help to improve our publications, and to make them more truly representative of this campus. I would like to see:

1. A survey of Daily Iowan and Frivol distribution to you; then action on the basis of survey results.
2. Expanding emphasis on student organizations and activities in The Daily Iowan and Frivol.
3. The publications under the Board's jurisdiction given the powers and impetus to continue to compete on a professional level with other communications media in this area.
4. A monthly open-letter in the Iowan, to tell you what your representatives on Board of Publications are doing about your newspaper, magazine, and yearbook.

And most of all, I would like to see you vote in the all campus elections. Only then will you be assured of a voice on the Board of Publications.

TO THE EDITOR:

Bob Tyson is a man with two feet on the ground. He has the ability to meet problems rationally.

He does not advocate the impossible.

He is a worker.

He will do his utmost to accomplish his platform as well as investigate and follow out all suggestions.

It is our sincere belief that he is not merely looking for another honor or key for his key chain. This letter has been drawn up and submitted without the candidate's knowledge.

. . . And No Beer

TO THE EDITOR:

In reading letters to the editor in Tuesday's Daily Iowan, I found the following statement regarding a candidate for the Student Council: "This provocative idea is the proposed regulated sale of beer in the Iowa Union." It also said, "The idea has precedence on many other college campuses."

What if one hundred colleges sold beer — do two wrongs make a right? Why should our university fall in line? Why turn a building dedicated to the memory of ex-servicemen into a beer joint?

The same letter says, "The university student is a mature individual — the sale of beer will demonstrate the administration's trust in the maturity of its students."

But are they mature when so many have to be "bottle fed" every few hours, and when they can't even walk up town for their "feeding" but must have it on hand at all times?

I feel that this town, its churches and its people are in a way responsible to the parents of these students until their graduation. We are not doing too well in giving these students the best possible moral "set up." So let us at least keep beer out of the Union.

Even so, the right and privilege of these mature students will not be too greatly curtailed since our city director lists under "Taverns" 19 places in which drinks can be purchased. In addition, numerous stores and organizations sell beer, not forgetting the licensed liquor store.

So I for one do not want a member elected to the Student Council who advocates sale of beer in our beautiful Memorial Union.

Work Advancing on Coal-Burning Diesels

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—For what is believed to be the first time in history, a high-speed diesel engine is purring along contentedly on a diet of pulverized coal mixed nearly half-and-half with its fuel oil.

Prof. Robert B. Rice of the diesel school at North Carolina state college, who developed the coal-eating engine, said yesterday his present work is only experimental. Four to ten more years of work will probably be needed to bring the idea to wide commercial use.

But Rice believes that eventually the process of burning coal in the nation's thousands of diesels will be of great importance.

"Let's put it this way," he said. "In the time of war, coal is more plentiful than oil. And with coal, one gallon of fuel does the work of two gallons."

"Railroads can use it to cut down oil consumption. The Pennsylvania railroad owns many coal mines, and it doesn't like having to buy oil for diesel locomotives when it could use its own coal."

"The Norfolk and Western railroad, another important coal carrier, doesn't have any diesels because it wants to burn coal."

Rice intimated that the coal-burning diesel might be important in many of its smaller ships.

Experiments started at North Carolina college about two and a half years ago, Rice said.

Cat of Distinction Gone from Siam

BANGKOK (AP)—The Siamese cat ain't what he used to be.

A Siamese cat show held recently at Lumpini park revealed what happens when proper attention is not paid to improvement of the breed — it's difficult to find a true Siamese cat anymore in Siam.

Too much mixed breeding and the absence of a good local cat stud where pedigreed felines can be bred were put forth as major causes of the situation.

In fact, one expert said sadly, exhibitors themselves apparently forgot how to distinguish between the true Siamese and just any cat born in Siam.

Famine Threat in India Denied by Food Official

NEW DELHI, INDIA (AP)—Madras presidency's rice crop is slightly below average this season, but nothing approaching famine conditions prevails, a food ministry official says.

Vishnu Sahay, secretary of the food ministry, said in commenting on reports by Madras officials that famine conditions existed in a dozen districts because of the failure of the monsoon three successive seasons.

Sahay placed the Madras rice crop at 95 percent of normal. He said Madras has a system of rationing and procurement and added that the central government would send 400,000 tons of food to the area this year.

High School Operetta Performance Pleases Crowd

By DONALD KEY

The fairy story operetta, "Iolanthe," by Gilbert and Sullivan, brought an atmosphere of enchantment to the stage of Macbride auditorium last night.

It was the ninth yearly performance of a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta to be given by the music and English departments of University high school.

The large audience was kept laughing by the catchy lyrics and paradoxical plot. Light and tuneful music added its bit to an enjoyable evening.

Settings and costumes were simple, but the performance was well done, especially for a high school group.

As usual, in this operetta, the high spot was "The Lord Chancellor's song" — "When You're lying awake with a dismal headache." This was sung by Karl Harshbarger.

Comedy was supplied by George Kern, who played Lord Mountararat, and Dan Howard, as Lord Tolloller. Kern's bits of pantomime proved him to be a natural-born comedian.

'And I Promise Each and Every Voter'

ELECTIONEERING OVER THE AIR, Robert Kramer tells his fellow dorm-mates in the South Quadrangle about his candidacy as delegate-at-large. Ready to spin a platter or two between election plugs is Al Brown, engineering student handling the technical end of the low-power South Quad station, WCTU.

Campaign Frenzy Hits University

Politicians Shower Voters with Posters, Puns

Campaigning for the Wednesday Student Council elections is well under way with broadcasting, dropping leaflets from planes and the usual myriad of posters, stickers and assorted gimmicks designed to attract the voter.

South Quadrangle residents are being plied with soft music interspersed with election plugs over the dormitory's radio station, WCTU. Robert Kramer and his campaign cohorts have been using the low-power station to reach the residents over the air without disturbing the local citizens.

Two candidates, "Smokey" Stover and Jim McKenzie, plan to bomb the campus with leaflets dropped from airplanes. Stover said he plans to have about 10,000 messages rain down Monday or Tuesday about 10:30 a.m. A similar deluge is planned by McKenzie for 11:20 a.m. Monday if the weather permits.

Stover and his Sigma Nu brothers also plan to use their paddy wagon, recently retired from the Chicago police force, to roundup votes. They plan to paint "Where there's smoke there's fire — vote for Stover" and "Be a voter for Stover" on the sides.

Another mechanized method of vote plugging is visible daily in front of Old Capitol. A red, 1929 Ford is sporting a large sign, punning "You can't go wrong with Wright."

Colorful and catchy posters festooning the trees and buildings carry a wide variety of puns on names and personalities. Bob Tyson, taking advantage of his rather large features, "So staunch, so firm, so fully qualified."

"This Tripp (Joan) is necessary for Student Council!" "Roll Dice on council," "Vote the Wright way," and many others.

Mary Vande Steeg is emphasizing her Dutch background with posters showing wooden shoes treading toward the polls and saying "Vote Vande Steeg."

Jack Whitesell is using the current All Capp ad by giving out little plastic shmoos lettered with "Whitesell for council" at his speaking engagements.

REPORTS THEFT

E.R. Jones, 347 S. Governor street, reported a spare tire, a set of tire chains and about eight gallons of gas were stolen from his car Thursday night, police said yesterday.

- The SWIMMING POOL will be READY FOR YOUR CHILDREN THIS SUMMER.
- RALSTON CREEK has been cleaned and straightened. The danger of flood damage has been reduced to almost a negligible proportion.
- THE FIRE DEPARTMENT HAS BEEN MODERNIZED. FOR THE FIRST TIME in the history of Iowa City, the property owners and tax paying citizens of Iowa City now have the type of safe fire protection they have so long deserved and been without. Iowa City now has the best equipped fire department in the state of Iowa, according to the insurance underwriters.
- MODERN TRAFFIC LIGHTS AND SCHOOL STOP LIGHTS HAVE BEEN INSTALLED.

- Iowa City's FIRST OFF-STREET PARKING LOT HAS BEEN ACQUIRED.
- A long needed recreation area for YOUR CHILDREN, the BROWN STREET PLAYGROUND HAS BEEN OPENED AND EQUIPPED.
- SOUTH RIVERSIDE DRIVE HAS BEEN REZONED FOR BUSINESS and the INDUSTRIALIZATION OF THAT AREA HAS BEGUN... (and it's growing at a very gratifying pace.)
 - (a) By just such a beneficial move, the tax revenue of the city has been increased and NATURALLY, THIS WILL REDUCE THE TAXES ON ALL IOWA CITY HOMES.
 - (b) This was sound planning... A logical area was chosen, a number of public hearings were held and plans were studied thoroughly BEFORE BEING EXECUTED.
- THE PRESENT DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION'S POOR ROCK SURFACING PROGRAM TOOK OUTLYING AREAS OF IOWA CITY OUT OF THE MUD and made it possible for them to have MAIL SERVICE to their doors.
- THE GOVERNOR STREET OVERPASS HAS BEEN FILLED AND RE-OPENED. This street is definitely included in plans for pavement in the immediate future.
- THE WAGES OF OUR CITY EMPLOYEES HAVE BEEN RAISED TO A MORE DECENT LEVEL.

Boulevard has been removed from IOWA AVENUE, paving has been installed, along with the installing of stop lights at the intersection of Iowa Ave. & Dubuque streets.

Mayor Preston Koser and the present Democratic Administration have accomplished all these progressive improvements AND YET, HAVE STAYED WITHIN A BUDGET SET FOR THEM TWO YEARS AGO DESPITE INCREASES IN COST OF MATERIALS AND LABOR!
