President Urges Americans To Lend World Spiritual Hand

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—President Truman asked Americans last night to extend a spiritual helping hand to the rest of the world.

Mr. Truman spoke on a nationwide interdenominational religious broadcast, which was boycotted by a group of Protestant fundamentalists because Mr. Truman has not apologized for calling Communist Drew Pearson an "S.O.B."

Mr. Truman spoke from Washington on "one great hour," broadcast from 9 to 10 p.m. (Iowa time) over the combined networks of the Columbia, American and Mutual systems.

The broadcast was planned as a unified appeal to Americans of all religious faiths to go to church today and contribute their nickels, dimes and quarters to a special collection for promoting religious work in Europe and Asia.

The Rev. Carl McIntire, pastor of the Bible Presbyterian church of Collingswood, N.J., and president of the International Council of Christian Churches, said he had instructed the 1,500,000 Christians he represents not to support it because Mr. Truman is on the program.

McIntire, who has been complaining about Mr. Truman's use of the term "S.O.B." ever since he uttered it in a speech a few weeks ago, declared the President owed the world an apology and said his churches were boycotting the broadcast and the collection unless Mr. Truman repented his verbal indiscretion.

Mr. Truman went on the air to appeal for religious unity with the blessing of a score of leading churchmen, and without apologizing for his alleged profanity. His speech followed the reading of the parable of the five talents, from the 25th chapter of St. Matthew, and he referred to it several times.

"I urge you to go to worship tomorrow, each to his accustomed place, to thank God for our heritage and our strength, and to ask him for the grace and power to carry out his will in this troubled world."

The unprecedented program ended with Mr. Truman's appeal. McIntire said his organization would demand equal time on the networks to give its side of the religious picture and reprimand Mr. Truman.

Evan Hultman Gets 'Superior' Ranking At Debate Meeting

SUI Debater Evan Hultman, A4, Waterloo, rated superior yesterday in the Big Nine conference at the University of Chicago, The Associated Press reported.

Excellent ratings were won by Edward Diekmann, E1, Ottumwa; Georgianna Edwards, A4, Richmond, Ind., and Louise Bekman, A1, Ottumwa.

SUI women debaters won five of their eight debates to tie for second place, while SUI men won three of eight debates.

Representing SUI in the women's division were Ardis Kresensky, A4, Algona; Miss Edwards; Dorothy Jean Myers, A4, Quincy, Ill., and Miss Bekman.

Men debaters for SUI were Henry Clark, A3, Ames; Murray Kniffin, A3, Rock Rapids; Diekmann, and Hultman.

Northwestern women and Wisconsin men won first places with seven wins and one loss each.

Other schools taking part in the conference were Minnesota, Illinois, Purdue, Chicago, Indiana and Ohio State.

VA to Quit Monthly Job-Trainee Reports

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa veterans training under the GI bill will do less paper work after next Friday, the Iowa veterans administration said yesterday.

Monthly progress reports for the 6,103 Iowans taking on-the-job training or in certain schools, will be halted on that date.

The report of conduct and progress will be incorporated in the report of earnings which are submitted every four months. The change will reduce work of the Des Moines VA office by 100,000 forms a year, it was reported.

Colleges and universities will continue to report to the VA on progress and conduct only where these are not satisfactory. All schools and training agencies must continue to report promptly on trainees dropped from the program.

UFEW Convention Demands Revision Of Foreign Policy

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—The CIO united farm equipment workers (UFEW) yesterday adopted a resolution asking President Truman to take action to "restore peaceful relations with the Soviet Union."

The foreign policy resolution criticized the Truman doctrine and the Marshall plan. It said "the present cold war policy prevents trade relations with eastern European countries."

Earlier, the approximately 300 delegates representing about 55,000 dues-paying members, unanimously adopted a series of resolutions which:

1. Called for immediate repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, and for "a national work holiday" to support the repeal drive.

2. Demanded the repeal of the peacetime draft and asserted opposition to universal military training.

3. Stated opposition to the Broyles proposals before the Illinois legislature. These proposals would make communism a felony and require loyalty oaths of school teachers and public officials.

4. Asked congress to enact a full civil rights program, to abolish the house committee on un-American activities, to enact a housing program, to cut taxes on low-income families, and to re-establish price control.

5. Criticized the 1948 CIO national convention at Portland for "intimidating delegates" and "refusing to permit the reading of minority reports."

It was at the Portland convention that the CIO national executive board ordered FEW to merge with the CIO united auto workers. The FEW convention late Friday boomed when a telegram was read from CIO President Philip Murray in which he appealed for compliance with the merger order. The convention then unanimously adopted a resolution refusing to merge with UAW.

"The convention also adopted a resolution calling on 'all CIO leaders' to reject raiding of one union's jurisdiction by another."

Babich Confesses Murder of In-Law

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milton Babich, 19, yesterday confessed and re-enacted the slaying of pretty Patricia Birmingham, 16. He admitted that he killed her and sank her weighted body in the Milwaukee river because she refused to keep secret the pregnancy of her 17-year-old sister whom he married eight days ago.

Babich insisted the slaying came accidentally during a struggle over a loaded pistol, about dusk Feb. 10.

Babich told authorities he wanted to tell Kathleen, but could not bring himself to take the step. He said his wife was ignorant of his part in her sister's death.

Tornadoes Kill 14 in Southwest

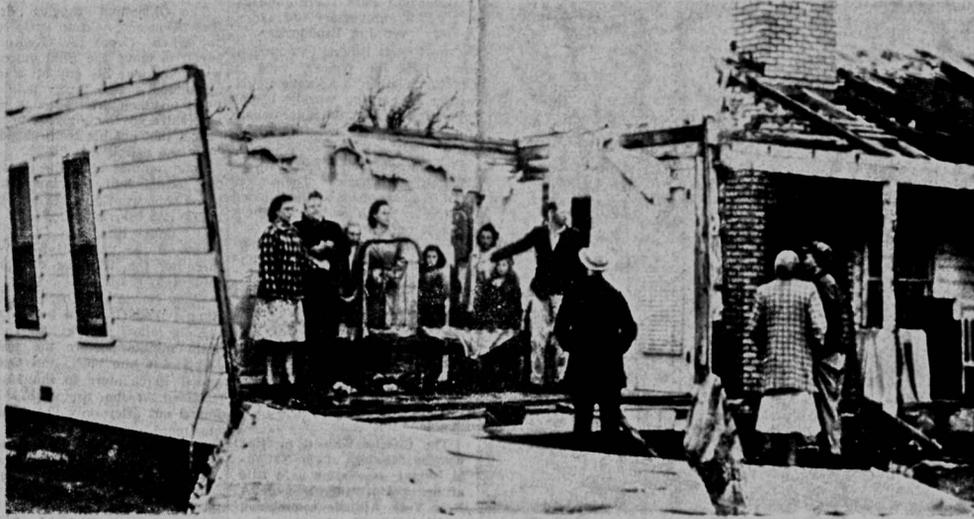

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. (AP)—Early spring tornadoes and windstorms that have been buffeting the south and southwest since Thursday night, lashed out again yesterday to kill and injure more persons and cause fresh damage.

Storms struck in Texas and Oklahoma yesterday morning and Arkansas yesterday afternoon. Earlier, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas were hit.

At the moment, with the casualty toll mounting in Arkansas, virtually by the minute, the known dead stands at 14 and the injured at several scores. Property losses undoubtedly will be heavy.

So many places in Arkansas had been reported hit that the exact number was not known but it was estimated at 10 or more.

The casualties by states: Arkansas: Six known dead; injured unknown. Oklahoma: one dead and 20 injured at Crowder.

Large Election Turnout Expected

Democrats, Republicans Both Express Confidence in Victory

Between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. tomorrow Iowa City voters will elect a mayor, seven aldermen and three other city officials to serve terms ranging from 2 to 6 years.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders predict a large turnout for the election. Preparations have been made to accommodate a turnout expected to top the 1947 figure of near 5,000 voters.

City Clerk George J. Dohrer said 7,600 ballots have been printed and a total of 182 absentee ballots were turned in to him by the deadline yesterday afternoon. According to Dohrer there are about 10,000 registered voters in Iowa City.

In the closing days of the campaign both Democratic City Chairman William Bartley and Republican City Chairman Bill Meardon have been urging party members to "get out and vote."

Incumbent Democratic mayor, Preston Koser, said yesterday that "views clearly expressed by both parties should be of educational value to the voters because they have brought the problems of city government closer to voters' attention."

William Bartley optimistically declared, "Everything points to a Democratic victory in all city offices."

The Democratic chairman said that "the voters have not been blinded by the feeble attempts of the opposition to capitalize on the crowded parking conditions and the effect of winter weather on our streets."

City GOP Chairman William L. Meardon expressed confidence yesterday in a Republican victory in tomorrow's election.

"We predict the replacement of the present mayor and council and the election of a civic-minded ticket headed by Mrs. Howard L. Beye," Meardon said.

Miss New Orleans Gets a Paddling

HUBBY PADDLES Miss New Orleans of 1948, the former Barbara Jean Floyd, in a hotel lobby in New Orleans after she had slapped, scratched, and bit him. She had been waiting for Capt. George Cauthen, a pilot, after reading newspaper reports of an interview with her husband in which he said that she had proposed to him and that he "had been taken." About the spanking—"It didn't hurt. I had my girdle on," she said.

Group Agrees To Extend Rent Curbs 15 Months

But House-Senate Committee Deadlocks In Attempt to Write Complete Bill

WASHINGTON (UP)—House-senate conferees yesterday agreed to extend rent controls for another 15 months, but they failed to write a complete bill for congress to act on before present rent controls expire Thursday.

The conferees broke up their meeting after a stormy four and one-half hour session, announcing they had not decided how to word a clause in the bill to provide a "fair" money return for landlords.

Both Chairman Brent Spence (D-Ky.) of the house committee and Chairman Burnet R. Maybank (D-SC) of the senate committee told reporters they were in a complete deadlock over the "fair" return provision.

They said the representatives from both houses of congress would meet again tomorrow in an effort to work out a compromise bill.

Even if the conference committee does agree on a single bill, it then must be approved by the senate, the house and President Truman before it becomes law.

The major provisions in the compromise bill that already have been agreed on would (1) extend rent controls for 15 months, or until July 1, 1950; and, (2) restore rent ceilings at the Oct. 31, 1948, level on permanent accommodations in non-transient hotels in New York City and Chicago.

The big issue still remaining was how to provide a bigger money return for landlords. The house bill would guarantee a "fair return" for landlords without specifying any limit on rent increases. The senate voted two automatic rent boosts of five percent each during the next year.

As he left the conference, Maybank said bluntly that the senate group "offered to give up everything on this but they (the house conferees) won't give up a thing."

Spence, the house chairman, said he would meet with his group privately tomorrow morning to try and cut their demands before meeting with the senators later in the day.

Hiatt Gets Freedom After 11-Month Fight On Sanity Question

CHEROKEE (AP)—The 11-month fight of Robert E. Hiatt, 30, to gain his freedom from the state mental hospital at Cherokee proved successful yesterday.

District Judge R.G. Rodman declared Hiatt sane in a habeas corpus hearing, declaring his discharge "would not endanger the public welfare or safety."

Hiatt was committed to the state mental hospital from the criminal insane ward at the men's reformatory at Anamosa where he had served a term on conviction in a shooting.

Judge Rodman ordered him released in April, 1948 on the grounds that his commitment from Anamosa to the state hospital was unconstitutional. However, the state supreme court reversed Rodman's decision, ruling the transfer was legal.

Hiatt's attorneys had sought his release in a habeas corpus action on two points: the unconstitutionality of the transfer and the fact that Hiatt was not insane. Yesterday's hearing dealt with the insanity question.

Hiatt was convicted of shooting Delmar Van Horn Jr., who married the former Dorothy Snook of Newton. Hiatt had been acquainted with the girl when both were University of Iowa students.

France, Italy Sign Pact to End Tariff

PARIS (AP) France and Italy yesterday signed a treaty designed to tear down the tariff wall between them and eventually to unify all their trade.

The pact calls for a Franco-Italian customs union in 1950 and a complete economic merger by 1955.

Foreign Ministers Robert Schuman of France and Carlo Sforza of Italy hailed it as a move forward on the road to European unity.

The French and Italian parliaments are expected to ratify the two-nation agreement in about three weeks.

The treaty was the result of 18 months of work by a committee of French and Italian economists and diplomats.

Answer to the Atom Bomb

Invisible Paragraph May Open New World

rather than an inventor even though he spends most of his time in his laboratory.

"I have transferred the thesis of the inaudible dog whistle to the optical sector with the result that dogs, cats, and human beings are not able to see anything," he said. "The atom bomb means nothing to me."

Schuster didn't say how he had accomplished this or whether the process has been completed. He may have explained it, of course, but if he did it was inaudible.

"Do you know," he said, "that it is possible to drive a perfectly sane person insane within a few hours by the influence of light and color. And, on the other hand, you can cure a psychopathic case the same way."

Schuster said he had been studying light and color for 12 years, but he wouldn't say, audibly, how they can be used to create invisibility.

His meaning was clear however. He means that there are colors which the eye cannot perceive just as there are sounds which the ear cannot hear.

Schuster surveyed his cluttered laboratory and stepped over several boxes of test tubes to reach the door.

"For three years," he said, "the housing authority has listed me as an exceptional case."

Ris, Relay Take Firsts

CHAPEL HILL (AP) — Ohio State's Big Nine titleholders last night made it a double with a smashing victory in the National Collegiate Athletic association's 26th annual swimming championships.

Name Ris Outstanding

CHAPEL HILL (AP) — Wally Ris of Iowa was picked by the College Swimming Coaches of America last night as the nation's outstanding college swimmer of 1949.

The choice was announced during the closing program of the National Collegiate Athletic association's 26th annual swimming championships.

The coaches presented Ris with a watch shortly after he successfully defended his NCAA 100-yard freestyle crown.

and defending champion Michigan wound up third, with 32.

Other team scores: Yale, 18; LaSalle 12; Purdue, 11; Northwestern and Michigan State, 10 each; North Carolina, 7; Rutgers and Southern California, 6 each; Dartmouth, Stanford and University of Washington, 4 each; Harvard, 3; Cincinnati, Duke, Texas and Penn college, 2 each; and Iowa State, 1.

In the top race of the wind-up program, Joe Verdeur of LaSalle evened his NCAA meet duel with Keith Carter of Purdue with a record performance that won him the 150-yard individual medley crown.

Spectators got almost as big a buzz out of the 330-yard medley relay, in which Iowa's Big Nine titlists—Duane Draves, Bowen Stassforth, and Ervin Straub—breathed to victory in 2:54.1.

Olympic Champion Bruce Harlan of Ohio State, who Friday night kept his one-meter diving title, added to it the three-meter championship, for which he was runner-up in last year's NCAA.

But the night's show was the Verdeur-Carter match.

Verdeur beat out Carter by the stretch of a finger in winning the 150-yard individual medley in the time of 1:30.8—two seconds better than the American record set by Harry Holiday of Michigan in 1946.

That clocking also topped a pending record of 1:31.2 which Carter hung up in the recent Big Nine championships.

Verdeur had to be good last night to beat Carter, who Friday night snatched the 220-yard breaststroke off Verdeur's world record.

Wally Ris of Iowa, defending champion, sailed to a solid victory in the 100-yard freestyle final. The powerful Iowan, the Olympic champion, slammed into the lead at the second turn on the 25-yard course and finished in the time of 0:50.4.

World Champion Bill Smith retained his NCAA 440-yard freestyle crown with a time of 4:42.6. Smith went out front at the start and steadily built up a lead that couldn't be touched.

Summaries:
100-yard freestyle: 1. Wally Ris, Iowa; 2. Robert Weinberg, Michigan; 3. J. M. McIntyre, Dartmouth; 4. George Hoogehyde, Michigan State; 5. Robert Nugent, Rutgers, 0:50.4.

150-yard individual medley: 1. Joe Verdeur, LaSalle; 2. Keith Carter, Purdue; 3. Charles Moss, Michigan; 4. Roy Stuckney, Cincinnati; 5. Duane Draves, Iowa, 1:30.8; new American record—old record of 1:32.3 set by Harry Holiday of Michigan in 1946.

400-yard freestyle: 1. Bill Smith, Ohio State; 2. Bill Heuser, Northwestern; 3. Jimmy Thomas, North Carolina; 4. Wallace Wolfe, Southern California; 5. Matt Mann, III, Michigan, 4:42.6.

Three-meter diving: 1. Bruce Harlan, Ohio State; 2. Jack Calhoun, Ohio State; 3. David Brookway, Iowa; 4. John Simpson, Ohio State; 5. Murray Hubley, Purdue, 1:32.3 points.

Aggies NCAA Mat Kings

Scarpello Falls In Finals, 3-1

Iowa's Joe Scarpello was defeated by James Gregson of Oklahoma A & M, 3-1, in the finals of the 175 pound class in the NCAA wrestling championships last night.

Iowa's other entry in the meet, Bob Geigel, who lost in the second round, won in the wrestle-offs for third and fourth place semi-finals on a referee's decision.

Other team points were Cornell college 22, Michigan State, 13, Minnesota 11, Purdue 9, Nebraska and Iowa, 5 each, Syracuse university 4, Colorado A & M and Illinois, 3 each, Penn State and Navy, 2 each, Iowa State, Indiana, Ithaca, Wheaton, Kansas State and Utah State, 1 each.

Arnold Plaza, 121 pounder from Purdue, was the lone 1948 titleholder to retain his crown. He outpointed Grady Penlger of Oklahoma A & M 3-1.

Heavyweight Dick Hutton, Oklahoma A & M star, seeking his third NCAA crown, was unseated by La Verne Gagne, Minnesota, on a referee's decision.

Lowell Lange, Cornell college, scored a startling upset in whipping Richard Dickenson, Michigan State, 136 pound titleholder, 6-0 on points.

The Oklahoma Aggies were credited with 32 points based on 6 for a first place, 4 for second, 2 for third, and 1 for fourth.

Other team points were Cornell college 22, Michigan State, 13, Minnesota 11, Purdue 9, Nebraska and Iowa, 5 each, Syracuse university 4, Colorado A & M and Illinois, 3 each, Penn State and Navy, 2 each, Iowa State, Indiana, Ithaca, Wheaton, Kansas State and Utah State, 1 each.

Sox Park Set For Title Bout

CHICAGO—Joe Louis received official sanction yesterday to match Jersey Joe Walcott and Ezzard Charles in a world's heavy-weight championship fight at Comiskey Park here June 22, the 12th anniversary of Louis' victory over Jim Braddock.

The Illinois Boxing commission, headed by Joe Triner, held a special meeting to approve Louis' switch from the world's champion fighter to a promoter whose bouts will help determine his successor.

Present at the ceremony were Walcott and Charles. Their faces split in broad grins as they signed contracts which will give them each 25 percent of the gate.

The other 50 percent, which goes to Louis' International Boxing Club, should be a good fat take with the television folk all clamoring for rights on the bout.

Besides, the IBC will have the Charles-Walcott winner committed to a title defense, within 90 days, against Lee Savold, or Brits Bruce Woodcock or Freddie Mills.

The Charles-Walcott meeting has the blessings of the National Boxing association as a title affair. But the non-NBA New York Athletic commission scorns it as such, recommending that Joe's title should be pitched up for grabs in an elimination series.

"I hope that the fight goes off as good as the signing," Louis said with a smile.

Kentucky Tips Aggies 46-36 As Illini Grabs Third in NCAA

SEATTLE (AP) — With Alex Groza as chief gunner, piling in 25 points, Kentucky remained national collegiate basketball champion last night by crushing Oklahoma A & M, 46-36.

The Oklahoma Aggies drew first blood and held an early lead but when Groza and Kentucky began to move the final outcome was plain. The big guy hit a lay-up, added a free throw point to tie it up, then intercepted a pass and outtraced the Aggies for the basket that put his team ahead.

By the half it was 25-20. Four minutes after the start of the second half the last Oklahoma hope went glimmering when lanky Bob Harris fouled out. By that time Kentucky was 10 points to the good, 31-21. From there on the Wildcats appeared content to coast.

When Harris left Coach Adolph Rupp pulled Groza to the bench, the big fellow having four fouls. Eight minutes before the finish Rupp sent him back, and Groza added 10 counters to the 15 he collected in the first half. He fouled out after only three minutes more of play.

The University of Illinois came from behind to squeeze past Oregon State college last night, 57-53, and earn third place in the NCAA basketball finals.

After holding a handy 26-19 halftime lead, the Illini lagged in the second half. The persistent Braves, led by Forward Cliff Crandall, drew ahead, 42-41, at the midway mark of the second half.

Bedridden, She Creates Her Own Flowers

SUI Graduate Says It's Good Hard Work

By MARY HEALY

While confined in a body cast from her left foot to her waist, an SUI graduate creates attractive fiber flowers.

Arlene Finch, 810 Roosevelt street, learned to make the flowers two months ago. Since that time she has achieved near-perfection in the construction of delicate apple blossoms, red roses, sweet peas, summer garden flowers and wild roses.

The flower-making started out as fun but "ended up as good hard work."

A family friend learned the flower-making technique in a woman's club. Arlene became interested and sent for a pattern book and catalogue.

"I'm always looking for a new hobby," she explained. Since the freak fall five years ago that resulted in the destruction of the cartilage in her left knee, Arlene has undertaken many hobbies and continued each until she achieved professional qualities in her work.

She tried crocheting, leather work and textile painting. The textile paintings of rich flower sprays on ties, scarfs, aprons and lunch cloths were sold for almost four years.

"I had quite a nice income from the sale of these, but I had to give it up when the body cast was put on last December."

From the hospital bed in her parents home, she gestured and said, "I couldn't paint from this position, looking up at everything."

Time doesn't hang on Arlene's hands. Five years ago she was a social worker with the Red Cross in an army hospital, working 10 to 12 hours a day. Then she slipped on a waxed floor and "bingo," she was "flat on my back," with plenty of time to do the things she'd never had time for.

The former social worker has read and reread many of her favorite books. Her love of music makes the radio invaluable. It and the telephone are placed on a small stand next to the bed.

The shape of the flowers she creates comes from the winding affect, Arlene explained. The dyed wood fiber, imported from Formosa and China, is purchased from a company in Chicago.

Stamens, green cups for the buds, soft leaves and rubber wrappings for the stems are the accessories that add the natural look to all the flowers made in the Finch home.

Arlene said she found a few things anyone would do well to avoid while bedridden. A recreation director brought her a "weave-it" frame and white BUSY CREATING HER OWN SPRING FLOWERS is Arlene Finch, 810 Roosevelt street. Since an accidental fall confined her to her bed five years ago, Arlene has mastered a wide variety of handicraft hobbies. From wood fiber, tinted to duplicate actual shadings, Arlene constructs delicate apple blossoms, roses, sweet peas and summer garden flowers that compete with real ones for beauty.

A PANORAMA OF LOVLINESS is this sideboard full of fiber flowers. Their creator, Arlene Finch, 810 Roosevelt street learned the hobby about two months ago and since then has made and sold many bouquets for centerpieces and decorative bowls. Apple blossoms, roses, sweet peas and summer garden variety flowers are her specialties.

yarn, but Arlene sat doing the close work for only a short time. "The next time I saw the director I asked her to destroy every "weave-it" frame she had, before we all went crazy making the little squares."

Arlene was graduated from SUI in 1938 in social administration. After graduation she worked in welfare offices in Sioux City and Des Moines and then with the Red Cross. She was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., at the time of the accident.

"I've been able to walk several times since then with a cane, but then something would go haywire and I'd be back in a brace or cast again."

Arlene hopes to be able to return to her work "when the bones fuse."

U Club Members To Hold Meeting

WSUI to Broadcast City Voting Returns

A special "Election Party" program will be broadcast by radio station WSUI Monday night from 10:15 until at least midnight.

The program will be on the air after midnight if the returns indicate a close election. Assistant Program Director Richard Setterberg said yesterday.

The show will consist of popular recordings, with latest election returns injected at approximately 15-minute intervals. Hal Hart and Milo Hamilton will emcee the show.

Vocational Conference Draws Big Crowd at Final Sessions

Teachers cannot offer riches but can offer oil for light—the light of knowledge, Franklin Stone, Keokuk high school principal, told the final session of the two-day vocational conference here yesterday.

Qualities considered important in the teaching profession, Stone pointed out, are good judgment, loyalty, honesty and willingness to learn and grow.

The house and senate chambers of Old Capitol were filled to capacity for all three sessions of the conference yesterday. The conference was sponsored by the University Women's association.

In another speech on teaching, Mrs. Eva Cohen, speech pathologist with the Cedar Rapids public school system, said, "Teaching is an opportunity to discover yourself all over again watching the growth of children."

She said teaching is more than classroom work. Some students do poorly in class because of conditions at home or wrong attitudes of their parents, she said.

Don J. Forrestal, assistant director of industrial and public relations at the Monsanto Chemical company in St. Louis, told of sending Christmas cards to friends, relatives and business acquaintances. This is a small example of public relations, he explained at the opening panel session on communications at 9 a.m.

Ability to speak fluently, write well, a liberal education and a newspaper background are helpful if one plans to go into the public relations field, he said.

"Have something to say, write it in your own style, then polish it, polish it, polish it," Mrs. H. Clay Harshbarger, garden editor of Household magazine, said in explaining magazine writing.

A good way to start is considering writing as fun, she declared. Having something published is more of a thrill than the remuneration it brings, she said.

"Radio is a good place to train for television because you learn to work under pressure of time," Norman Felton, television producer for NBC in Chicago, said in the communications panel. He received his B.F.A. and M.A. from SUI.

Felton said getting along with people is important in this still disorganized field, where everyone wants to get in on the "ground floor."

Nursing is an art with devotion and intelligence, Miss Violet Kinstle, one of the panel speakers on the hospital session at 10:30 a.m., told her audience.

Miss Kinstle, the director of public health nursing for the state services for crippled children, Iowa City, said willingness to accept responsibility, demonstrating ability and personality are helpful in a nursing career.

It was a real step forward when SUI decided to change its school of nursing to a college status, she said.

Those going into the occupational therapy field usually go through four years of academic training and nine months of clinical practice, Borghild Hansen, director of the course in occupational therapy at a Minneapolis medical school, said.

She said crafts, home economics, psychology courses and the basic sciences are necessary subjects for one planning to go into this field.

The last speaker on the hospital panel, Mary Haskell, said lack of science background and low scholastic standing are two of the biggest reasons for rejection of applicants by physical therapy schools last year.

A consultant in poliomyelitis of the American physical therapy association in New York City, Miss Haskell said physical therapists are badly needed. There is security and assurance of employment in this field, she added.

She listed an interest in people and willingness to serve as requisites to success as a physical therapist.

Panacea Set Gets Feminine Touch

Panacea Show Coeds Build Props, Sets for Musical

Clola, "Rosalee," and numerous other females have taken over the stage in Macbride auditorium preparing the sets for the musical comedy "Olympic '49" opening Friday.

Students from Currier and sorority houses have been busily painting and hammering for the last few weeks in preparing the many sets and props used in the colorful production. Original scenery, much of it as take-offs on campus life, has been designed by Bill Molyneux, A4, Chicago, Ill.

Directing the lighting and construction crews is George Dembo, A4, Cleveland, Ohio. He is an experienced hand at stage work having worked on the two previous Panacea shows.

Evening performances at 8 p.m. are scheduled for April 1, 2, 7, and 8. A matinee will also be given April 3 at 2 p.m. Tickets for all performances may be purchased at Whetstones, Bremers, Racines and the Iowa Union for 50 cents.

THIS WEEK'S music

By DONALD KEY

Some unusual music is in store for Iowa City audiences this week. A recital Wednesday at 8 p.m. in north music hall will present Allan Tyree, saxophone, and John Simms, piano. The program lists some seldom heard compositions.

Of greatest interest to many listeners will be the "Gaspard de la Nuit," a suite for piano by Maurice Ravel. This work, to be played by Simms, is not only one of the most extraordinary, but also one of the most difficult numbers in piano literature.

In discussing it Simms said, "It is all over the keyboard."

The composition is based on three poems by Aloysius Bertrand.

Allen Tyree, who is a bassonist as well as a saxophonist, will be the principal instrumentalist on the program. He is a member of the Tri-City symphony and has played for three years with the SUI orchestra.

His first number will be a modern composition by Jacques Ibert, "Concertino da Camera." This work, written in 1935, was dedicated to Sigurd Rascher, who has been called "the greatest living saxophonist."

The third movement of "Sonata Sportive" by Alexandre Tcherepne, which will close the program is also extremely interesting.

It makes use of canon, or question and answer, between sax and piano. It includes some involved writing, fitting melody against another melody, the contrapuntal style.

The recital will be broadcast by WSUI.

Today's New York Philharmonic Orchestra concert, broadcast at 2 p.m. over WMT (CBS), will be conducted by Leopold Stokowski. The program is listed below.

Symphony No. 3 Johannes Brahms
Night in Granada Claude Debussy
Serenade for flute, harp, and strings Howard Hanson
Wheat Field at Noon Virgil Thomson
Music from the ballet "Gayne" Aram Khachaturian

The Chicago Theater of the Air will be broadcasting the opera, "Rio Rita," by Harry Tierney at 8 p.m. Saturday over station WGN.

Underground Hero Studies Here

Polish Youth Tells Of Espionage Work

By LYLE EARNEY

Janusz Zawodny, 27-year-old SUI student from Poland, owes his life to a good luck charm.

Zawodny, a member of the Polish underground movement, was walking the streets of Warsaw in 1942 during the German occupation of Poland when he was stopped by some German officers who were rounding up persons suspected of operating with the underground.

In searching Zawodny for weapons, the officers came across the small figure of a black bear which he wore as a charm. The officers were so amused with it that they forgot about arresting Zawodny.

Death and Zawodny walked hand-in-hand as he participated in the undercover program of maneuvers designed to disrupt German operations in and around Warsaw. He was twice wounded in these activities.

He said one task of the underground was to give tactical cooperation to Supreme Allied headquarters in London during the period 1940 through 1944.

In hesitant English, he explained that Polish underground headquarters were in Warsaw. The movement was divided into four sub-divisions — communications, intelligence, sabotage and the army.

Zawodny said the communications division sent over 80,000 messages to England during one month following D-day.

He said it took 20 minutes to get a radio message from Poland to the exiled-Polish government in England.

Intelligence officers were employed in German industries and from these positions relayed important information to headquarters, he said. The sabotage division of the underground blew up 6,988 locomotives pulling trains loaded with German troops and supplies, Zawodny said.

Hunted by the Gestapo since the spring of 1944, he was captured during the Warsaw uprising which began in September of that year and lasted 63 days until the capitulation of the city in December. Zawodny's mother and 12-year-old sister, Barbara, were placed in a concentration camp. His father was killed by the Germans in 1942.

Zawodny was liberated from the Murnav, Germany, prison camp and promptly joined the 2nd Polish corps of the British eighth army in Italy. The Russians liberated his mother and sister in May, 1945.

Zawodny served with the Polish corps until 1948 when he concluded his service in London. But what of Zawodny's education before coming to SUI?

"I graduated from underground high school in Warsaw in 1943," he said, "and completed a year in the Underground university of Warsaw when the uprising began." With imprisonment, Zawodny's education was interrupted until he joined the Polish corps in Italy. He managed to finish his second year of studies at the University of Rome during this period. Then he was off to London where he completed his studies in the School of Foreign Trade and was ultimately discharged from the service.

FINGERING HIS POLISH OFFICER'S DAGGER is Janusz Zawodny, C3, Warsaw, Poland. Zawodny was an active participant in the Polish underground from 1940 through 1944. Wounded twice during the Warsaw uprising against the Germans in 1944, he was taken prisoner for eight months. Zawodny came to SUI to study labor relations and conditions. He is shown wearing the Polish uniform with some of the six decorations he received from the Polish and British governments.

Wildman Co. Gets SUI Gym Contract

Ralph Wildman company, Iowa City, has been awarded the contract for the new north gymnasium floor of the SUI fieldhouse, University Architect George L. Horner said yesterday.

The award was made by the business and buildings committee of the state board of education. When bids on the project were opened March 15 the Wildman company's bid of $36,506 was low for expanded steel joist construction of the floor. (Joist construction involves the placement of horizontal steel in the floor.)

Bids were analyzed and submitted to the committee for approval before the contract was awarded.

Work on the project will begin sometime during the summer semester, Horner said.

Art Exhibition Here — High Schools to Present Work

Teachers and students of at least 57 Iowa high schools will participate in SUI's 19th annual art exhibition and conference of high school art. Mrs. Shirley Hammond, SUI professor of art education, said yesterday.

The show will open to the general public at the SUI art building April 19 and run through April 30. The art conference for high school teachers and students will be held April 21 through April 23.

Designed to perpetuate improvement of art programs and teaching in Iowa high schools, Mrs. Hammond said the show has engaged famous art educators to provide constructive criticism to teachers and students.

Viktor Lowenfeld, professor of art education at Pennsylvania State college and an internationally acclaimed educator, will officiate as critic of the exhibition.

"We'll accept entries until April 7," Mrs. Hammond said. Entry blanks may be requested from the Iowa high school art exhibition at the art building here.

During the conference, art historians, critics, artists, and members of the university faculty will lecture. Yasuo Kuniyoshi, renowned contemporary artist; Serge

ANALYSIS OF THE WORLD'S NEWS AS —

IT HAPPENED LAST WEEK

BEFORE YOU buy that second-hand car, I'd like to brief you on the technique of purchasing such property from a private owner. If you are going to buy a used automobile from a dealer, you might as well go back and read Popeye the second time, because dealers are out of my league.

The ideal person to buy a used car from is a man in his eighties. When they get much older than that, they begin to get reckless with their driving, and there's no telling how many hill climbing contests the vehicle may have been in.

As soon as you have somewhere in the neighborhood of $250 saved up, you may begin searching the classified ad section for a prospective seller.

BEFORE WE go any farther with this discussion, let's have it understood that you want not just any old used automobile, but a good, reliable vehicle you can trust and be proud of.

After learning where such an automobile is for sale, get on a bus and go to the man's house. Wear old clothes so you won't look like you're filthy rich.

When you arrive, don't go right up to the door. Instead, walk by the house several times to get a good look at the automobile from a distance. If it looks good from the sidewalk, then go ahead and approach the man.

HE WILL have been peeking out the window, and will be expecting you. You say, "I understand you have an old car for sale." Then he will reply, "Well, it's in such good shape, we have almost decided to keep it after all, but I guess it won't hurt to let you look it over."

Now both of you think you have fooled the other into the idea that you are none too eager to make a transaction.

The next step is to actually look the automobile over carefully. This vehicle, you learn, formerly belonged to a maiden aunt who only purchased it in the first place to push in and out of her garage for exercise on weekends.

AS A PROSPECTIVE buyer, it is your prerogative to walk five or six laps around the Super Stutz Streak, making snide remarks about rust spots, cracked windows and bent fenders. At the same time, you should kick at the tires with abandon as though you fully expected them to blow out any moment. Nor is that expectation entirely outside the realm of possibility.

ONE OF THE most adhered-to traditions in the art of used car shopping is the business of inspecting the engine. It is probable that you know nothing about automobile power plants, but for tradition's sake you'd better have a look.

THROW UP THE engine hood as though you were born with a silver fuel pump in your mouth. Have the owner start the engine and cock your ear into the carburetor or whatever apparatus happens to be handy. Keep your fingers off the spark plugs while the machine is in operation.

"She runs like a Swiss watch, eh?" the owner will shout. Shake your head negatively, and mutter a few convincing technical words. "Piston ring sounds baffled . . . hammering rind is beginning to connect . . . got a bad self in the water jacket."

AFTER THE motor inspection, all that remains is the Trial Spin around the block. The Trial Spin is the time when you test the horn to see if you like it or not.

Now you're on your own. The time to square off and dicker about price has come. About the only suggestion I have here is that you pare $60 from the owner's Asking price, and you'll give him just about what he expects.

If you reach an agreement, you will have time to change your mind while he goes into the house to see if his wife thinks he's getting enough money. If you don't change your mind, you are now fully equipped to go out and find a pediculator to run down.

Pickets Kneel in Prayer Outside 'Peace' Meeting
The NAM Used an Old Theory; The State Department Was Hostile

For Them: Pickets, Invitations, No Immunity

Ideologies

'World Peace' Meeting Opens in New York City

The 16-nation Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace which opened in New York Friday didn't need an advance press agent—the state department and many Americans gave it all the publicity it needed. Most of it was bad.

The state department refused to admit into the country a handful of delegates from behind the iron curtain and Britain. It said the conference would only be a sounding board for Communist propaganda, anyway. The Russian delegation headed by composer Dmitri Shostakovich was given visas, but not diplomatic immunity.

As the conference opened Friday, 500 pickets knelt on the sidewalk outside the Waldorf Astoria, many praying over rosary beads. In retaliation, Communist groups picketed another hotel where Winston Churchill was staying.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, Harvard astronomer and conference chairman, kept assuring newsmen that the meeting was not a "front." The National Association of Manufacturers — using the old "give a Communist a million dollars" philosophy — invited the Russian delegation to make an expense-free tour of U.S. industry to see for themselves how Americans really live.

Also in New York, the trial of top American Communists got down to business. The defense moved for a mistrial charging that the judge, by scratching his head and pulling his ear, indicated that he was hostile to the defense. The demand was refused.

Louis F. Budenz, former managing editor of the Daily Worker who renounced communism soon after the war, was the first government witness. He repeated the story he has told before the house un-American activities committee, in his autobiography and in numerous magazine articles.

The story revolves around the switch in the party line in 1945 which abandoned wartime chumminess, recognized that the cold war was here to stay, and toppled party head Earl Browder because he was not shifty enough on his feet.

from Stalin after the war, remains as a vice premier and member of the politburo. He is one of the horses in the succeed-Stalin derby.

The Atlantic pact was the topic of discussion in the western world. In the U.S. senate, Sen Vandenberg called the pact the most important step in U.S. foreign policy since the Monroe Doctrine. Senate opposition to the pact centered around two men — Donnell of Missouri and Watkins of Utah. The National Farmers Union also came out against the alliance.

Overseas, the Danish parliament authorized the government to sign the pact. In France, the national assembly voted down 410 to 182 a Communist demand for debate on the new treaty.

Congress

Rankin Vets Bill Killed; Rent Agreement Near

Rankin pension bill — The amendment-riddled bill was killed in the house by a one vote margin. Undaunted, Rep. Rankin introduced a toned-down pension bill into his committee.

Rent controls — The senate passed a rent control extension bill allowing local option to remove controls. On the weekend, a senate-house group worked over difficulties, agreeing to retain the home rule provision.

James Boyd — Angered by the UMW strike against the director of the bureau of mines, the senate confirmed his appointment 50-11. Boyd was later sworn in and paid approximately $10,000 for serving many months without senate confirmation — or a salary.

Labor law — The house labor committee approved the administration bill without changing a comma. The bill is expected to turn up on the floor this week, where the real fireworks will begin.

Airforce — The house overrode the President's budget recommendations and approved 395 to 3 a bill giving the airforce permission to build a 70-group outfit.

The President — He told the United States Conference of Mayors that, except for the "real estate lobby" and a few "trouble-makers," he and congress "are going to agree on a lot more things than we disagree on." Later in the week, he cancelled all out-of-town engagements for April, apparently wanting more time to agree on things.

Labor

Lewis Recalls Miners; Wabash Strike Ends

John L. Lewis ordered his 463,000 miners back to work on schedule tomorrow after a two-week protest strike against bureau of mines chief Boyd. Boyd was confirmed by the senate, but the strike helped John L. work up steam for coming contract battles.

Meanwhile, the NLRB ruled that the UMW's existing contracts with most of the coal industry were illegal. Same old trouble — no non-Communist affidavits, no union shop.

Wabash railroad and the four operating brotherhoods settled differences and ended a week-old strike. In Cedar Rapids, Ia., the CIO farm equipment workers announced they would fight the CIO directive to merge with the auto workers, but would fight it within the family. The FEW also set its fourth-round asking price — a 30-cent wage increase.

Global

Wheat Pact Is Signed; Austria Meet Drags On

Forty-two nations concluded a price-fixing, international wheat pact which assures the U.S. a minimum foreign market for 168,069,635 bushels for the next four years. Russia and Argentina ignored the agreement which also set maximum and minimum world prices.

The big four deputy foreign ministers trying to write a peace treaty for Austria in London gave up trying to resolve Yugoslav territorial and reparations claims and went on in search of fresher deadlocks.

Israel and Lebanon signed an armistice and Jewish forces began withdrawing from the Arab state. Premier Henri Queuille led his coalition government parties to victory in France's provincial elections, but both Communists and Gaullist made impressive displays of popular strength.

Iowa

Closed Shop Ban Sticks; Rutledge Gives Up in CR

The Iowa house voted 56 to 51 to retain the 1947 legislative act banning closed shop and union shop contracts. Another hot potato — county option on sale of beer — steamed up the house on the weekend but action was deferred until this week.

Dr. Robert C. Rutledge Jr., charged with the hotel-room slaying of his wife's admirer, wrote a surprise ending to Iowa's three-month battle to extradite him from Missouri when he surrendered to Linn county officials in Cedar Rapids.

William R. Hart, Iowa City attorney, received his commission as district attorney for the southern district of Iowa.

Iowa City

City, Campus Elections Bring Posters, Action

Caught between city elections and campus elections — both slated for this week — Iowa City was snowed under with posters, promises, accusations . . . and action. While the city Republicans charged the Democratic administration with everything in the book, a long-awaited traffic light went up on a downtown street corner and the final arrival of steel for the Benton street bridge was railroaded into town.

Catchiest campus campaign slogan: Gallup Says Kramer Won't Win.

A rash of faculty resignations hit SU: Dr. Willis E. Brown, professor of obstetrics and gynecology, will leave for Arkansas &; Dr. William M. Hale, head of the department of bacteriology, who will go to the Brookhaven National laboratory in New York next July; Ralph M. Barnes, industrial engineering professor, will be at UCLA next fall; anthropology professor John W. Whiting, will go to Harvard.

Names in the News

Walter Bedell Smith — Resigned as U.S. ambassador to Russia to take an army field command. Possible successors: Palestine Mediator Bunche, Charles Bohlen or George Kennan of the state department.

Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy — The President's 73-year-old chief of staff resigned; no replacement announced.

Axis Sally — She was sentenced for treason: 10 to 30 years and $10,000 in fines.

Laurence Olivier — Won the 1948 actor academy award for his performance in "Hamlet".

Jane Wyman — Won the 1948 Oscar for best actress in role of deaf mute in "Johnny Belinda".

Dr. Frank P. Graham — The famed liberal president of North Carolina U. and civil rights proponent was named U.S. senator from N.C. to fill seat of the late J. Melville Broughton.

Louis A. Johnson — He was confirmed unanimously by the senate as secretary of defense and will take office Thursday.

Scraps

Consumer Price Index Sags to April '48 Level

The labor department reported that its consumer price index dipped 1.1 percent last month — the biggest monthly tumble in almost nine years. The price level, at 169 percent of the 1935-39 level, has dropped 3.2 percent in the last five months and is now slightly below the April, 1948 level.

The tough town of Evarts, Ky., has lost five chief of police for various reasons since last August. The last one was sentenced last week to serve 10 years for a killing. All this didn't scare one sturdy soul who submitted his application saying, "I ain't afraid of no man, living or dead. I've got two 45's and if I get the job I'll get two more. Boy, I ain't afraid of nothing that walks or crawls."

Fowl-play dept.: A Detroit man, explaining his wife's black eye to the police judge, said, "I didn't do it. She was crying chicken. The heat made the chicken muscles quiver and it kicked her." With a knowing wink, the judge gave him a six-months' suspended sentence for assault and battery.

Pickets Turn Peace Rally Into 'Circus'

NEW YORK (AP)—The controversial "world peace" rally played in two rings and bore other resemblances to a circus yesterday when two rival ideological organizations met and were respectively heckled by pickets.

At the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, the leftist "Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace" went into panel discussions which featured sharp criticisms of American education, economics, newspapers, movies and religion.

At Freedom house, the Americans for Intellectual Freedom presented Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, the Russian school teacher who leaped from the Soviet consulate here last summer and thereby started an international incident.

The pickets marched again yesterday, too, at the Waldorf and Freedom house and at famed Carnegie hall where delegates from 18 foreign nations sat before a capacity crowd of 2,800 to hear Dr. Harlow Shapley, conference chairman and Harvard astronomer, declare that both Russia and the United States are at fault in the world war — that both overlook their own shortcomings.

Some 50 pickets shouted and waved placards outside Carnegie hall. One hand-painted card, borne by a red-haired girl, showed pictures of Hitler, Mussolini, Tojo and Stalin with the inscription: "Three down — one to go."

Inside the hall as guests were Gerhard Eisler, named by the government as the no. 1 Communist agent in the United States, and Anna Louise Strong, the pro-Soviet writer recently expelled from Russia on an allegation of espionage.

No Merger, Say CedarRapids Farm Workers

DELEGATES TO THE FARM EQUIPMENT WORKERS (CIO) convention in Cedar Rapids are pictured cheering wildly as yesterday they unanimously adopted by standing vote a resolution rejecting a merger with the United Automobile Workers. Earlier, they booted when a telegram was read in which International President Philip Murray renewed instructions to merge. (See story, page 1.)

Winners of Arguments Named

First and second place winners in the last full week of competition in the freshmen law arguments were named yesterday by Dean Mason Ladd.

The freshmen arguments are designed to give the beginning law students practical experience in preparing and presenting their own cases before the court, he said.

Winners of the freshmen arguments become eligible to participate in the junior law arguments. Junior winners, in turn, become eligible to argue cases on Supreme Court day in their senior year, Ladd pointed out.

Last week's freshmen winners are: Monday Narvis Aswuz vs. C.E. Holden. First, John E. Wagner. Second, Robert C. Mullaley. Judge, R. Brooke. Monday — Edgerton vs. Campbell. First, John D. McFerren. Second, Leon W. Gassmann. Judge, E.L. O'Connor. Tuesday — Simpkins vs. Davis.

First, William H. Ryan. Second, George A. Williams. Judge, Frank Messer. Tuesday — Widower vs. Richman. First, Oscar H. Beasley. Second, Bennie V. Willie. Judge, D. P. Barnes. Wednesday — Joseph Blow vs. Shylock Jones. First, Keith D. Harris. Second, Samuel D. Peshkin. Judge, Walter Barngrover. Wednesday — B.N. Jippt vs. I.M. Cheez. First, Leonard D. Lybbert. Second, Michael A. Martin. Judge, D.G. Bleakley. Thursday — Jaun Dawn vs. Gambeldin. First, Burt J. Fulton. Second, James G. Schneider. Judge, G.C. Claassan. Thursday — John Curtis vs. Anders Real Estate company. First, Hubert M. Hart. Second, D. Meher. Judge, Frank Messer.

City Election Candidates

(This is the last in a series of stories on the Republican and Democratic candidates for city offices in tomorrow's city general election.)

Democratic

Mayor Preston Koser, incumbent Iowa City chief executive and long time public servant, asks voters to remember his record and his platform when they cast their ballots tomorrow.

Head of the Democratic administration seeking re-election, Koser has served the people of this area 16 years as deputy sheriff and sheriff. He is now completing his first term as mayor.

The Democratic candidate was born in Coralville and has lived in Iowa City for 25 years. He attended grade school here and later attended business college.

Koser wants voters to keep in mind the following improvements his administration has made:

- 1. The bridge across the Iowa river at Benton street, condemned for several years, is being replaced by a new, modern structure which is expected to be completed late this summer.
2. The municipal swimming pool, which will open for swimming this summer, with the city acting as its own contractor.
3. The cleaning up and straightening of Ralston creek to control flood waters.
4. The removal of center islands and repaving of two blocks of Iowa avenue to permit a more satisfactory flow of traffic.
5. The improvement of many mud streets with rock surfacing.
6. Purchase of an off-street parking lot and the installation of new traffic signals.
Among his plans for Iowa City, if re-elected, Mayor Koser includes purchase of more off-street parking lots, repair and resurfacing of Iowa City streets, street widening projects and more efficient control of traffic.

At the close of his campaign Saturday night, Mayor Koser said he was "optimistic" about the outcome of the election and hoped that the entire Democratic administration will be returned to office to help carry out the Democratic platform.

Koser, a widower, lives at 117 N. Van Buren street. He is a member of the Masons, Elks, Moose and Eagles lodges.

McClung Announces 4 Enlistments Open

Four openings for enlistment, two airforce and two army ground forces, were announced yesterday by Sgt. O.A. McClung, U.S. army and airforce recruiter in Iowa City.

Republican

Mrs. Howard L. Beye, Republican candidate for mayor, has had wide experience in various civic posts which she believes will benefit her if she is elected mayor.

Mrs. Beye lived in Oak Park, Ill., before coming to Iowa City 28 years ago. While in Oak Park she was chairman of the Oak Park school board.

The GOP candidate for mayor was graduated from La Salle Junior college, Boston, Mass., in 1913. She attended Gregg business college there in 1916 and after graduation she worked as secretary to the National Tanager association in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Beye, who now lists her occupation as housewife, has served on the Iowa City school board for the past nine years and has been president of that body three times.

As past president of the board, Mrs. Beye said, "I've been interested in education for a good many years."

"I feel, as all thoughtful people do today, that the education of our children for the world of tomorrow is important," she said. "If we have good schools we need to spend money."

For the past five years Mrs. Beye has been a member of the Iowa City library board. She served on the Iowa City recreation and playground commission from 1942 through 1945, and 1948-1949.

Mrs. Beye is a widow. Her husband, Dr. H.L. Beye, was chief surgeon at university hospitals.

Regarding the election Monday, Mrs. Beye said, "It has come to my attention that a political story is being circulated to the effect that if the Republican ticket is elected all city employees will either lose their jobs or suffer a wage cut."

She emphasized that this story was "untrue." No city employee who is efficiently performing his work needs to worry about being ousted in case the present administration is replaced," she declared.

GUESTS IN IOWA CITY

Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. J.A.O. Larsen and Bessie Louise Pierce are guests this week end in the home of Prof. Anne E. Pierce, 206 Lexington avenue. Mr. Hutchinson, Mr. Larsen and Miss Pierce are staff members of the department of history at the University of Chicago.

Photographic Clarity — Film is 'Full of Dignity'

— Found in "The Pearl" —

By BOB SENNISH

The movie version of the recent Steinbeck novel, "The Pearl," opens today at the Capitol theater. It's a movie not to be missed. Technically, it poses an indication of what movie-makers can do but don't or won't.

Filmed in Mexico by Aguilera Films productions, the movie does not essay to knock you eyes out, reveal to you the manifold secrets of the universe, or to do anything extraordinary beyond its primary intention. And its primary intention is to show what happens to man in a state of nature when he is faced by problems and elements of the outside world — i.e., the world of you and me and Macbeth.

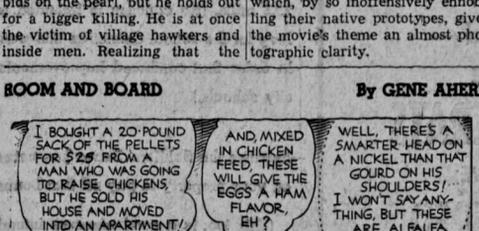

A man and his wife and their baby live in a thatched hut in an obscure Mexican village. The man is a pearl diver. But pearls are rarely found and the villagers live impecuniously. They escape despair, however, and the man and his family are rich in their unadorned tranquility.

No illogical optimism is tacked on the conclusion. The story is no travesty on the elements of human avarice and pride. It is too full of dignity for that. The man and wife are restored to their former state — without their son, whose life has been wasted on the pearl which was to have made him a new life.

The allegorical value of the film is reinforced by some of the most artistic photography ever to gratify a movie audience. And members of the cast have managed their roles with an understanding which, by so inoffensively ennobling their native prototypes, gives the movie's theme an almost photographic clarity.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN Thomas Mann, one of the greatest of living novelists, fell ill, many of his admirers expressed resentment at the grudging information given out on the nature of his malady and the progress of his cure.

The silence, however, was the result of orders issued by Mann himself. "This concerns only my immediate family and myself," he said. "Only last week, I read what Tolstoy told his physician when HE was stricken: 'I wish you would stop publishing bulletins about my sickness. What good do they do? My friends will be saddened, my enemies delighted.'"

Thomas Macaulay, famous British historian, distinguished himself at the age of four, according to Biographer Wanda Orton, when a lady asked him, "Did oo hurt oo's itty bitty finger?" He replied, "Madam, the agony has slightly abated."

Home Economist to Address Nutrition Class This Week

Mrs. Corinne Miller, Johnson county extension home economist will be guest speaker at the annual nutrition class to be held in the Moose hall Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. by the Homemaking committee of the Women of the Moose.

The members of the committee will bring a dish and recipe for a foods display. Samples of the dishes will be given to those attending.

A new feature of the class will be the showing of breakfast, luncheon and dinner table settings.

The program will include vocal selections by Anna Marie Sueppel, a student in St. Mary's school.

Mrs. Otto Dolezal will be in charge of the class. Her committee consists of Mrs. James Netolicky, Mrs. Frank Machovec, Mrs. Zoe Heacock, Mrs. James Hering, Mrs. Emory Stagg, Mrs. Frank Novotny, Mrs. Russell Cochran, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. Francis Wakefield, Mrs. Ralph Wildman, Mrs. Milo Novy, Mrs. W. A. Vorbrich, Mrs. John Ludwig and Mrs. Aubrey White.

Floerchinger Named V.F.W. Commander

Raymond Floerchinger will be installed as commander of Iowa City Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 2581 Thursday.

He was elected at a meeting last week. Other officers named in the post's election were: William Kessel, senior vice commander; Keith Hora, junior vice commander; Charles Walden, adjutant and quartermaster; Clyde Schuman, chaplain; Attorney Edward Lucas, judge advocate; Edward Fitzpatrick, post surgeon; Patrick L. Mooney, historian, and Ted McLaughlin, patriotic instructor.

Amos Kelso was named a trustee for a three-year term and Edward Edwards was named a trustee for a one year term.

Mrs. Tallman to Join Her Husband in Japan

Mrs. Frank L. Tallman and children, Michael and Elizabeth, will join Capt. Tallman in Japan the middle of next month.

Captain Tallman is commanding officer of headquarters and headquarters troop of the Second Cavalry, 12th regiment, First Cavalry division in Japan. He served in the Pacific during the war and was awarded the Purple Heart, Bronze Star and the Navy Presidential Citation.

The Lamb, It Went to School One Day —

LIKE THE LITTLE PET OF NURSERY RHYME FAME, this lamb which belongs to Robert Slater, aged six, (center) and brother Karl, four, (right) went to school at West Bridgewater, Mass. Taking time out from helping first graders study nature at first hand, the lamb is busy absorbing lunch. Watching with the rapt expression is Mabel Horne, six.

Business BRIEFS

A day-long drizzle yesterday put a damper on the first spring Saturday for Iowa City merchants.

Especially disappointed were women's clothing retailers who were looking forward to yesterday as the start of the pre-Easter rush. They had prepared for a lush selling day but the steady rainfall kept many prospective customers away, retailers said.

Kirwan Furniture's inventory reduction auction sale brought from 300 to 500 people to both the matinee and evening sessions, owner J.W. Kirwan said yesterday.

The sale, which began Thursday and will extend through the first part of this week, is moving well, he said.

Bidding was brisk for the most part, he said, but many people came just to listen to the chant of Robert E. Swann, furniture auctioneer.

"The large attendance indicates people are becoming increasingly price and value conscious," Kirwan said.

Recitals Set for Today Postponed Until April 18

The vocal and piano recital by Maxine Erickson and Charles W. Davis, scheduled for 7:30 today in north music hall has been cancelled.

The recital will be held at the same time April 18 in north music hall.

Installation of a new unit of Kodatron lights were the latest developments in the remodeling at Kent Photography service, James Kent said yesterday.

The new lighting unit, containing three lights, is designed to eliminate variables in portrait work and can be used in color photography, Kent said.

Further remodeling in the front of the store is planned for later in the spring and next summer, he said.

Rearrangement to produce more display room and make a more compact office was done recently at the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company.

The large central counter was moved from the front of the store to the back. This expands the display space which is now needed because of the increased number of electrical appliances now in stock, L.D. Bodine, sales supervisor, said.

- The last Republican Council set your tax levy in 1947. It was 24.2 mills . . .
- MAYOR PRESTON KOSER AND THE PRESENT DEMOCRATIC COUNCIL have set your tax rate at 23.2 mills —
- This means LOWER TAXES TO BUSINESS MEN AND PROPERTY OWNERS OF IOWA CITY . . . !

WHERE ELSE HAVE YOU HEARD OF TAXES BEING LOWERED . . . ?

The Taxes for THIS COUNTY (Not the City) Have Increased for 1948 and 1949 . . . WHY?

- Because the school district tax levy increased from 23.4 to 29.8 mills. (No criticism is intended for the increase in tax levy for the school district as this was a necessary measure in order that continued improvements can be made in our city schools.)
- Because the Soldiers' Bonus has necessitated a special levy on your property to pay off that bonus at the rate of 2 mills. (This too, is a good measure intended for the benefit of the men who were in the armed services.)
- Because the county taxes have remained approximately the same . . .

A vote for Mayor Preston Koser and the Present Democratic Administration is a vote for an experienced City Administration that has proven its ability to manage YOUR CITY.
