Grandrath Asks Election Recount

William H. Grandrath, Democratic candidate for fifth ward alderman in Monday's city election, filed a notice of contest at the city clerk's office yesterday.

Grandrath, the incumbent, was beaten by his Republican opponent, Gordon Webster, by nine votes, according to an official canvass of ballots yesterday. In filing the notice of contest he is in effect seeking a re-examination of ballots and a recount.

Webster and Grandrath will be notified by the city clerk when the date has been set for the recount. At that time each of the contestants will introduce a judge to sit with Mayor Koser and the council who act as a counting board.

Democratic officials and Webster both said yesterday that they would be willing to waive the time limit on a recount required by law.

The law requires that the recount be taken not less than 20 days and not more than 30 days after the election. City hall officials said the recount will "probably be done the last of next week."

This will enable Mayor Koser, when he meets with his new council next Monday, to name his standing committees and organize the city government.

Until the recount takes place and a decision is given, no certificate of election is given and the incumbent alderman remains in office, according to Jack White, attorney for Grandrath.

Monday's city election in which Democrats took four of the seven council seats and all other city offices brought the following comments yesterday.

Democratic City Chairman William Bartley said he wanted to "thank the voters" who returned to Democratic administration to work for another term.

He added that he "was gratified" by the "clean" campaign conducted by the Republican city central committee and promised working cooperation with the Republican aldermen elected to the city council.

GOP City Chairman William L. Meardon congratulated Mayor Preston Koser and all of the successful candidates in Monday's election.

"It was gratifying to learn there were over 5,000 ballots cast," Meardon said. He added that the people of Iowa City should attend city council meetings and present their views.

Mrs. Howard L. Beye, the defeated Republican candidate for mayor, said, "I extend my congratulations and best wishes to Mayor Koser."

Soviet Commander Relieved of Duties

LONDON (Wednesday) — Russia in its second big shakeup in military leadership in five days relieved Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky of his duties as commander in chief in Germany today and named him first deputy minister for the armed forces.

Named to replace Sokolovsky in Germany was army General Vassily I. Chuikov, another world war hero, who had served under him as Soviet military administration chief for Thuringia.

News of Sokolovsky's relief as commander in chief was broadcast by the Moscow radio shortly after midnight in the form of a communique of the Soviet council of ministers, the cabinet.

Speculation was immediately revived here that Russia might be preparing a new "peace offensive" based on Germany.

Sokolovsky's recall gives additional credence to reports reaching Berlin that the Soviet defense council has been reactivated. The council normally is operative only in time of war.

Dry Spell Ends; Lima Gets 'Wet'

LEMA, PERU (AP) — It rained in Lima yesterday for the first time in more than five years. The government weather station said 2.1 millimeters (about 0.08 inches) fell during a two-hour shower beginning at 2:30 p. m., the heaviest rain in the 20 years, for which official records have been kept.

Business activity in the city of almost 1-million stood at a standstill while the inhabitants watched the rare spectacle.

Standing water in the streets, not equipped with drainage systems, contributed to a record traffic jam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate yesterday adopted a house bill authorizing daylight saving time this summer. The bill now goes to the White House.

District Court Jury Decides for Airport in Damage Judgment

A verdict in favor of the defendants was returned by a Johnson county district court jury yesterday in the Cloud Hoppers, Incorporated vs. Elliott airport-airplane case.

The jury returned the verdict at 4:40 p. m. yesterday, after deliberating since noon. The plaintiff in the case, a Cedar Rapids flying organization, sought a $5,466.22 judgment against the owner and operator of the Oxford airport for damages resulting from a plane crack-up at the field in April, 1948.

The plaintiff claimed the defendants were responsible for the accident because the field was not in good repair, but the defendants claimed the plaintiff landed his plane at the airport at his own risk, since the field was private and not open for commercial use.

John D. Randall and Richard F. Zettle of Cedar Rapids were attorneys for the plaintiff. Edward F. Lucas and D.C. Nolan represented the defendants.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iowa representatives Gross and Talle voted yesterday when the house approved the compromise rent control bill. The six other Iowa representatives voted against the bill.

time it appeared that the senate filibuster might prevent any action to renew the curbs. Here's what the new rent bill does:

- 1. Continues rent ceilings for 15 months, to June 30, 1950.
2. Sets up a "home rule" process for decontrol of states, cities or other local areas.
3. Requires the housing expediter to fix rents at a level to assure landlords a "fair net operating income . . . so far as practicable."
4. Restores old OPA powers for the rent expediter to control evictions.
5. Authorized the rent expediter to sue a landlord for three times the amount of any charge made against a tenant above the legal rent ceiling.
6. Authorized the expediter to control any areas he decontrols after March 31.

Students to Vote In All-University Elections Today

Campaign Talks by 16 Candidates Point Toward Changes and Improvements

Sixteen Student Council candidates, their supporters and hundreds of students jammed 221A, Schaeffer hall last night to hear the final campaign rally before today's campus elections.

The three women and 13 men candidates running for the two women and two men delegate-at-large positions were introduced by Council President Evan L. Hultman. The speeches in which candidates promised a wide variety of changes and improvements in the council's functions, were limited by Hultman to five minutes each.

Launching the speaking program was Mary Vande Steeg, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She emphasized the duty of the council to publicize the university and the council throughout Iowa to stimulate interest in SUI.

The second speaker, Joan Tripp, is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Miss Tripp pointed out the need for the council to support the university in securing more financial aid and the need to strengthen the alumni associations.

The last of the women candidates to speak, Carol Shuttleworth, represented Currier hall. She emphasized the need for an expanded advisory system to aid new students coming to the university.

Coast-to-Coast Tour Of 'Peace' Delegates Halted Before Start

NEWARK N.J. (AP) — A coast to coast tour of 18 Communist "world peace" conference delegates ended before it started last night.

The state department spiked the proposed cross country journey of delegates from behind the iron curtain less than 12 hours before they were to appear at the first of a series of "No More War" rallies here.

The department said their U.S. visas were good only for last weekend's cultural and scientific conference for world peace in New York City.

Later, a spokesman for the conference said in New York that the Communist delegates "definitely will not appear" at any of the scheduled meetings "unless Dean Acheson (secretary of state) reverses his ruling that their visas are to be considered as expiring."

The conference representative said a telegram had been sent to Acheson requesting him to rescind the order.

The "cultural rally for peace" here was scheduled to go on without its star billing — Soviet Composer Dmitri Shostakovich, delegates from Cuba, England and other nations outside the soviet orbit were to speak.

Cards Top Yanks, Braves Win

Sain Hurls Entire Game

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Yankees, 3-1, yesterday behind the four-hit pitching of Cloyd Boyer, Ray Yochim and Clarence Beers.

Boyer hurled one-hit shutout ball for the first six innings as the Cards handed the Yanks their fourth straight defeat and clinched the annual exhibition series between the two teams St. Louis has won four of six games, with one more to be played.

A'S DEFEAT TORONTO

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Alex Kellner, rookie southpaw hurled a three-hit shutout yesterday as the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League 4-0.

The Arizona lad retired the last 16 batters in order after scattering Toronto's three hits through the first four innings.

Sain Chairman and Hank Biasutti made Kellner's task easier by clouting home runs.

BRAVES CLIP REDS

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Big John Sain, 20-game winner for the past three seasons, went the full nine-inning distance for the first time this spring yesterday as his Boston Braves subdued the Cincinnati Reds, 8-2.

Sain's mastery was virtually complete. He toyed with the Reds for six innings granting but two scattered hits. In the seventh they tied together three more, capped by "Red" Stalcup's triple, to score a pair. In the ninth, an error by Bob Elliott put their final run aboard and that scored on Stalcup's long fly to center.

NATS TRIUMPH, 7-2

EAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Washington Senators clubbed Lefthander Ted Gray for nine hits and six runs in the first three innings yesterday to wallop the Detroit Tigers 7 to 2 in an exhibition baseball game in 90-degree heat before 615 fans.

Rae Scarborough, Washington's starting pitcher, gave all six Tiger hits in the five innings he worked. Rookie Righthander Paul Calvert worked the last four frames without yielding a hit.

Triples by Al Kozar and Clyde Vollmer set off Washington speed that produced two runs in the second inning and four more in the third off Gray.

RED SOX B'S WIN

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The Red Sox irregulars cleaned up their three game Florida series against their Louisville cousins by winning 6 to 2 yesterday behind Willard Nixon, who hurled three-hit, no-run ball for the first six innings. John Hofmann walked six men in the last three innings, in which Louisville scored its two runs.

The veteran Bobby Doerr of the Sox, slow in getting into playing shape, performed brilliantly afield and knocked in two runs in the third with a sharp single to left. Boston made four double plays and the minor leaguers two.

GIANTS SLAUGHTERED

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP)—Johnny Mize's booming bat wasn't enough to make up for the slack in the New York Giants' pitching yesterday and the St. Louis Browns buried the Polo grounders, 22 to 9. Mize clouted two homers, but his stickwork was overshadowed by the Browns' Paul Lehne who also poked a couple of circuit blows—one a grand slammer off Ray Poat — good for seven runs.

Sheldon Jones and Monte Kennedy were bounced around roughly in the second when St. Louis putred nine runs across the plate on seven hits, two walks and two hit batters. Mario Picon was on the hill in the seventh when the Browns unleashed another big rally.

CUBS TOP INDIANS

TUCSON, ARIZ. (AP)—A Cleveland Indian team made up mostly from reserves went down before a 10-hit Chicago Cub attack 4 to 3 yesterday.

With Manager Lou Boudreau and most of the regulars enroute from San Diego, Mickey Vernon and Kenny Keltner were the only veterans available for duty.

Don Johnson scored the winning run in the seventh when he rolled off the bat of Cub Pitcher Walt Dubiel bounced over Shortstop Fred Marsh's head for a single.

PIRATES WIN 11TH

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates won their 11th exhibition game in row yesterday, outbattling the Chicago White Sox 12-7. The batting Bucs got seven runs in a big first inning, including three on a round-tripper by Catcher Clyde McCullough.

Newhouser, Raschi Tops

Best Bets in Majors to Win Over 20 Games On Basis of Grapefruit League Showings

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UP)—Off their razor-sharp pitching in the Grapefruit league, Lefty Hal Newhouser of the Detroit Tigers and Vic Raschi of the New York Yankees are the best bets in the majors to top 20 victories this year.

Newhouser, whose 21 victories led the American league last season for the fourth time in five years, surrendered only two runs in his first 18 innings this spring and apparently is ready for the opener right now. He allowed one run in a six-inning start against the St. Louis Cardinals in his last outing on Monday.

Raschi just missed the 20 circle last year with 19 victories and eight defeats and his early appearances this spring were phenomenal. He permitted only one scratch hit in the first 11 innings.

The only pitcher in either league with a better spring record than Newhouser and Raschi up to yesterday was Rookie Paul Hinrichs of the Yanks, one-time Detroit farmhand, who has put together 12 scoreless innings under Casey Stengel's hopeful eye.

The four other 20 game winners of 1948 came out of the winter layoff in good shape and are threatening to crack the charmed 20 again.

Gene Bearden of the Cleveland Indians (20-7) gave up only three runs in his first 16 innings and Indian Bob Lemon (20-14) has been effective despite one four-run inning that gave him an over-all record of six runs in his first 18 innings.

Harry Brecheen of the Cardinals (20-7) reeled off five scoreless innings against the Tigers Monday and Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves (24-15) has beaten the Boston Red Sox twice, although the Dodgers clipped him when the Braves failed to get any runs.

Bob Feller of Cleveland, who fell just one short of 20 last year for the first time since 1938 (tossing out the service-shortened '45 finished), twirled a nine-inning seven-hitter against San Francisco his last time out and apparently is pacing himself for a big year. Feller gave up seven runs in 12 earlier innings this spring.

Rapid Robert has his own ideas about how to work in the spring but after the criticism flung his way last year he's a cinch to be ready on April 19.

Jack Kramer of the Red Sox (18-5) has been taking it slow and easy but in 10 innings he's given up only a couple of runs. Ed Lopat of the Yankees (17-11), long regarded a cinch 20 game pitcher if he could win in the early season chilly weather, gave up four in his first 15 innings.

Best single performance to date was a three-hit shutout by Larry Jansen of the New York Giants against the Chicago Cubs. The big right-hander, who won 21 in his rookie year and 18 last season, went the full distance.

If the Giants are going to get any pitching at all this season, however, it'll be up to Jansen.

Rex Barney of the Dodgers, a no-hit pitcher last year, is coming around slowly and may be in the groove by opening day. So far he has cut loose only on one occasion because of an off-season ankle operation. His record is not so hot — 10 runs in 17 innings.

Dick Fowler of the Athletics (15-8) is sailing along with only four runs charged to him in 25 innings and Howie Pollet of the Cards has Eddie Dyer's eyes dancing with three runs in 15 innings.

No Year of Seasoning for '49 Major League Bonus Players

CINCINNATI (AP)—The current crop of major league baseball's high-priced boys, commonly known as bonus players, won't get a year of minor league seasoning after all.

In an interpretation of the bonus rule change, voted by major league owners, Walter W. Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, said yesterday that the signing their first year will apply only to those signed after March 31.

When the office of Baseball Commissioner A.B. Chandler announced the rule change Monday it was believed that bonus players — designated as such if they were paid $8,000 or more to sign a contract—could be farmed out for a year if they had not already played a season of professional ball. They could not be sent down for experience under the old rule.

Mulbry said the commissioner's list of bonus players showed: National league — Boston: John Antonelli; Brooklyn: Elmer G. Seisauer; Cincinnati: Lloyd A. Merziman and Frank J. Fanovich; Philadelphia: Charles Bicknell and John E. Roberts; Curtis T. Simmons, John L. Mayo and Stanley E. Hollmig.

American league — Boston: Charles K. Stobbs and Frank W. Quinn; Cleveland: Leroy Paige, Roberto Avila and Herman C. Reich; Detroit: Paul M. Campbell; Philadelphia: Earle Brucker, Jr.

Baseball Leads Way As Hawks Schedule 52 Spring Contests

The spring of 1949 will be a busy one for Iowa sports teams. Schedules show 52 contests booked for Hawkeye baseball, track, golf and tennis teams.

Between April 6 and late June there will be 22 baseball games, 10 tennis and golf meets, and nine track meets. Twenty-eight of the events will be in May and another 20 in April.

Coach Otto Vogel said that the Rockford Rocks of the Central association have been scheduled for a game at Iowa City May 2, and that two more home games will be booked if possible. Iowa now has only eight home games, six with conference teams.

First of the four squads to swing into action will be the baseball team. The Hawk baseballers play seven games before any of the other teams get underway. The opening golf meet is set for April 16, with Marquette coming to Iowa City, while the tennis team travels to Lafayette, Ind., April 22 to meet Purdue.

One day later the track team will be in Champaign for the Illinois relays.

Forty-one of the 52 events are dual affairs. Others include conference championship meets in track, tennis and golf, NCAA championship meets in track and golf, two relay meets and the National AAU wrestling championships.

Iowa will be the host team for three conference golf meets, but will play them on the Cedar Rapids Country club course.

ROYALS DRAFT MCINTYRE

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jim McIntyre, Minnesota's basketball center who graduates this spring, has been drafted by the Rochester Royals of the Basketball Association of America.

McIntyre has indicated in the past that he intends to go into the ministry, and the draft would be effective only if he changed his mind and decided on a term as a pro basketballer.

Joe Scarpello Named For Athletic Award

DES MOINES (AP)—Joe Scarpello, Iowa wrestler, was one of four named yesterday as the outstanding Italian-American amateur athlete of 1948.

The selections were made by Unico National.

The others were John Panelli, Notre Dame fullback; Leo Nomellini, Minnesota's all-America lineman and Tony Lavelli, Yale's all-America basketball player.

The Dr. D. M. Nigro trophy will be awarded each of the winners April 3 in Chicago. Dr. Nigro, Kansas City, Mo., is athletic director of Unico.

Scarpello has won Big Nine titles the last three years and national collegiate titles the last two years. He was an alternate on the U.S. Olympic team last summer.

HOGAN EXPECTS TO PLAY

EL PASO (AP)—Bantam Ben Hogan still expects to play golf again "some day" but tournament golf is the furthest thing from his mind at present, the pallid little links star said yesterday at a hospital in his first interview since a Feb. 2 traffic accident.

Hawkeye Nine Loosens Up in Six Inning Tilt

Iowa's baseball squad went through its second successive outdoor workout west of the fieldhouse yesterday afternoon, with some new pitchers getting much-needed practice in competition. A six-inning intra-squad game was played.

Left-hander Vern Thompson showed some speed, although control was not helped any by a stiff wind that kept him and the other pitchers from loosening up. Rod Marsh put in a couple of innings on the mound and showed a nice curve. He, too, suffered from lack of control.

Yesterday's game featured some sterling hitting as well as some outstanding outfielding. John Tedore came through with the first home run of the season, a well-speaked drive down the leftfield line. Jack Dittmer hit the longest ball of the afternoon, but Clayton Colbert made a great running catch of his bid for a 400-foot home run.

Rightfielder Charlie Cebuhar turned in the fielding gem of the afternoon when he took Ed Brown's bid for an extra-base hit bare-handed over his head.

Coach Otto Vogel concluded the practice session with a lecture on base-runners and their coaches. Special emphasis was placed upon third base coaching and the coaches' signals to the runners.

Cerdan Scores KO Over British Champ In Seventh Round

LONDON (AP)—Middleweight Champion Marcel Cerdan, in his first regular ring appearance since he won the title from Tony Zale last September, knocked out British Champion Dick Turpin in the seventh round of their scheduled 10-round non-title bout last night in Empress hall.

The gold-toothed Frenchman, who has engaged only in exhibition bouts since beating Zale, had little trouble with the English Negro. The end came at 1:22 of the seventh when the champion caught Turpin in a neutral corner and smacked him with a left hook that traveled scant inches.

Turpin crumpled and Cerdan stepped back to let him drop. The British 160-pound titlist was still out when carried to his corner but was revived before he left the ring.

A crowd of 10,200 saw Turpin win only one round — the first. After that he attempted a will-of-the-wisp defense and nervous left hooks. Cerdan, who had a tougher problem trying to make the stipulated weight of 162 pounds than with Turpin, commenced raining heavy body blows in the second round and every time he caught the elusive Negro he swarmed over him with body blows.

Former Bat Champ On A's Waiver List

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics yesterday placed Herman (Coaker) Triplett, 1948 International league batting champion, on the waiver list.

Triplett left the A's training camp after Connie Mack informed him he would be returned to Buffalo if no major league team put in a claim at the $10,000 waiver tag. The outfielder will await developments at his Boone, N.C., home.

In addition to Triplett, five other players have been cut loose by Mack. Outfielder Ray Coleman and Shortstop Bill DeMars were sent to Buffalo on option; Rookies Bob Swift and Bobby Stewart headed for Savannah, Ga., and Pitcher Dick Blauman received a train ticket to the club's Lincoln, Neb., farm team.

Crisp Look Dominates Fashions for Spring

Return to Clothes Of Lillian Russell

By ELAINE LAMPROS
The Crisp look is the look this spring.

The Crisp look is not really new, but a return to the clothes of Lillian Russell's day. Today's clothes are designed to have the charm of yesteryear.

Coeds saw the beginning of this style in the gay cotton and calico blouses that were so popular during the winter. Many of the new cotton blouses feature white quilted yokes, unusual design and ruffles.

Cotton dresses with the charm of great-grandma's crinolines are shown by Iowa City stores in soft candy-colored linens, pastel-shaded piques, cords and chambrays.

Detail Emphasized
Detail in dresses, such as the use of fagoted and tucked yokes, bow necklines and button trim, is receiving more emphasis this spring.

Skirts will be either full or straight this year. Dresses will definitely be off-the-shoulder with the revival of the sleeveless dress. Strapless cotton dresses with boleros and stoles are given special emphasis now by Iowa City merchants.

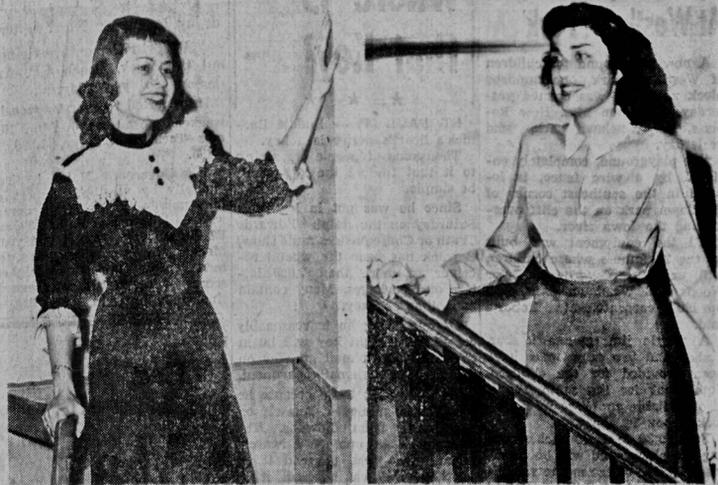

Buttons Trim Dress
Plaid dresses with the perkiness of dainty starched ruffles will retain their popularity this spring. Appearing in both muted and bright tones, they will be trimmed with white pique or a contrasting material. The prints are made with small designs in blended colors.

For the coed who will travel this summer, Iowa City stores feature dresses in crease-resistant material.

Purple is a color that is gaining its popularity. All shades of this color are found in Iowa City stores from mauve to deep purple.

For summer wear a white straw hat with purple veiling and flowers is suggested to complete a new outfit of purple. Straws in beige and trimmed with gay colors will complement many spring and summer ensembles.

No matter what color the dress is, the keynote of new cotton clothes is service, comfort, and crispness.

ARTIFICIAL PINK FLOWERS emphasize the plunging neckline in this cotton dress worn by Rosemarie Paul, A4, Burlington. Of pink, gray and aqua plaid, the dress is made with cap sleeves. Unusual features are the tucked waist and soft full skirt. With this cotton dress Miss Paul wears black kid shoes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Margaret Truman's Easter wardrobe will feature red, white and blue.

The 25-year-old daughter of Pres. and Mrs. Truman will have two new dresses and two coats, Mrs. James Helm, White House social secretary, said yesterday.

Mrs. Helm said she had no information about Easter bonnets. Margaret quite frequently goes hatless.

Babich Charge Strengthened, Police Declare

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Police Capt. Adolph Kraemer said yesterday that a second statement from Milton Babich, 19, confessed slayer of his bride's sister, has strengthened the state's charge of premeditation.

Kraemer said Babich went into more "detail" about his alleged killing of pretty Patricia Birmingham, 16, whose weighted body was dredged up from the Milwaukee river March 20.

In his first confession statement last Saturday, Babich claimed the shooting of Patricia was "accidental."

He said he only meant to "scare" her into keeping her mouth shut about the pregnancy of her sister, Kathleen, 17. He married Kathleen two days before Patricia's body was recovered.

His chances appeared to hinge on the contention of defense attorneys that the shooting was not premeditated, and that the state cannot prove first degree murder.

Babich, now awaiting a preliminary hearing April 12, contended that when he pulled a .22 caliber pistol on Patricia Feb. 10 to frighten her into silence she grabbed the barrel and the gun discharged. He admitted his finger was on the trigger.

Kraemer said a diver with an electromagnet would begin searching the river floor today for the gun, the girl's purse and a schoolbook which Babich also cast away.

The officer said that if the gun still showed fingerprints, they would be important evidence in the case. He believed the weapon might show whether Patricia grabbed its barrel in a struggle, as Babich claimed she did.

Babich was denied bond to be near Kathleen, who has declared her continued love for him and said she will stand by him. He was in a cell at the county jail, where officials said he was "cheerful" and eating well.

Building First Station — Video Expected Here in 1950

Television in Iowa City may come by the latter part of 1950. The first regular television station in Iowa is being built by B.J. Palmer in Davenport and equipment is being tested now to make television transmission through Iowa City to Des Moines.

Two portable masts for location testing of permanent towers are being used this week near Homestead and Morse, Roy A. Williams, local manager for the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, said yesterday.

A crew of technicians from the long lines department of American Telephone and Telegraph company are using the portable masts to check "path loss transmission" between the sites selected for the radio relay towers.

Tower sites are selected because of their advantage in height compared to lower surface locations. A direct-line-of-sight location is necessary, because video transmission uses micro waves (super high frequencies) which travel in straight lines. They do not follow the curve of the earth.

The technicians "shoot" beams of super-high-frequency energy from one tower to the other over an approximately 22-mile path.

They keep in contact by very-high-frequency radio telephone circuits, making adjustments in their "shots" by moving the antenna up and down on the 160-foot masts and aiming the beams carefully to check for maximum efficiency reception.

The Homestead and Morse locations will become two of 13 permanent sites planned for video transmission between Chicago and Des Moines.

Suit Against Coach Company Dismissed

A $20,000 damage suit against the Iowa City Coach company and George F. Morrow, operator of Morrow's Standard service, 801 Riverside drive, was dismissed yesterday in Johnson county district court.

Teresa Seibert, Albia, the plaintiff in the case, filed a notice of dismissal with prejudice yesterday, declaring the case settled to her satisfaction.

Business Manager, Editor Applications For Hawkeye Due

Persons desiring to become a candidate for editor or business manager of Hawkeye should file their applications before 5 p.m. next Tuesday, Leslie G. Moeller, chairman of the Board of Publications, said yesterday.

Applications should be filed with Miss Lole M. Randall, secretary, board of trustees, Student Publications, Inc., East hall, he said.

Moeller said candidates should have experience on Hawkeye, demonstrated executive ability, good scholastic standing in the university and senior standing in 1949-50 academic year.

Applications may merely state the fact that the candidate is seeking the position, he said, but usually they tell additional facts about the candidates which are helpful to the board of trustees in evaluating the candidate. They often make detailed suggestions about the publication itself, he said.

Candidates will be interviewed by the board of trustees of Student Publications on Tuesday, April 12, beginning at 4 p.m. The board will be interested in hearing candidates present any pertinent specific plans they may have for the conduct of the publication in the coming year, he said.

Two SUI Students Fined $102.50 in Police Court

Two SUI students were fined $102.50 each in police court yesterday on charges of "tampering with a motor vehicle and attempting to steal a bumper therefrom."

Herbert L. De Prenger, 44, Leighton, and Kermit D. Lohry, 21, Sioux City, were arrested early yesterday morning after Iowa City police received a report that the pair were trying to remove the bumper from a parked car.

Police Judge Emil G. Trott suspended $50 of each defendant's fine.

Playground Project Opened by Parents At Westlawn Park

A new playground for children of Westlawn park, one hundred block residents, was opened yesterday, Chairman Mrs. Hew Roberts, 130 Westlawn park, said yesterday.

The playground, completely enclosed by a wire fence, is located in the southeast corner of Westlawn park on the cliff overlooking the Iowa river.

All the equipment was built by the 34 fathers whose children will use the playground. Peter Woods, 126 Westlawn park, was the chief carpenter, Mrs. Roberts said.

A jungle jim, gymnastic bar, a slide and two sand boxes have been provided for the children. Equipment for the sandboxes is also available and kept in a padlocked box in the area.

From 9:30 to 11:30 each morning the playground will be supervised by one of the mothers. Children of school age will be allowed in the playground at any time, Mrs. Roberts said.

Plans for adding more equipment to the playground will be made later, she added. The playground, which was started about two weeks ago, is supported by funds from the residents and the university.

Rev. Lucius Clark Dies in Washington

The Rev. Lucius Charles Clark, 79, pastor of the Iowa City Methodist church from 1905 to 1909 when the present building was erected, died Sunday at his home in Washington, D.C.

At the time of his death Rev. Clark was president emeritus of American university, Washington, D.C., Mrs. Edward Weber, 927 Iowa avenue, member of the Methodist church during Rev. Clark's pastorate, said yesterday.

A native of Grundy Center, the minister attended Boston university theological seminary.

While in Iowa City, Rev. Clark worked toward building a new church after the old one burned in 1906, Mrs. Weber commented yesterday.

Oh, Woe Is Me — Where IS That Key?

ST. PAUL (AP) — Buddie Barnick's heart's desire is a key.

Thousands of people are seeing to it that finding the key won't be simple.

Since he was put in leg irons Saturday on the Ralph Edwards Truth or Consequences radio show, Barnick has been the woeful receiver of more than 7,000 letters and packages. Many contain more than one key.

Of one thing he is reasonably certain: The right key will be in the mountain of mail growing on the floor of his small apartment.

He knows it's there because he unwittingly mailed it himself on instructions from Edwards. The letter was to one of Edwards' friends who was to mail it to Barnick.

While Barnick hobbled out to a mail box with the letter, Edwards appealed to listeners to mail Barnick a key.

They did. Postmen delivered prison keys, juke box keys, mail box keys, coffee can keys, antique keys, wooden keys and just plain keys. He even got piano keys, typewriter keys and a promise of "whis-key."

Barnick, 21, has temporarily forgotten about the sewing machine sale and repair company he and his brother own. He, his wife and many friends have become letter openers.

To add to his troubles, Barnick has had to pay about $3 in postage due. He's still in the black, however. Edwards slipped him $200.

Second only to his shackled feet, Barnick is worried about his brand new pants. The shackles have prevented his taking them off for three days.

Regardless of whether he finds the key, Barnick will get the payoff on this coming Saturday's broadcast.

SUI Rifle Squad to Attend Meet

SUI's varsity rifle squad will travel to Evanston, Ill., Saturday to engage Northwestern university's squad.

ROTC riflemen are firing in the Governor's Match throughout this week, Coach J.P. Anderson said yesterday.

He reported the varsity won its weekend postal match from Illinois Tech of Chicago, 1,386 to 1,355.

The Governor's Match is fired annually by all the members of the university ROTC program who wish to compete. J.P. Taylor, E2, Mason City, won it last year. Medals are usually awarded the men firing the three highest scores by the state's chief executive when he is in Iowa City on Governor's day.

Six men will be taken to the meet with Northwestern, Anderson said, including one alternate. The men are Charles U. Kelly, A2, Iowa City; A.B. Kearney, P2, Oakland; W.H. Olson, E3, Iowa City; Keith L. Nicodemus, E1, Vinton, and Harlan L. Bjork, E3, Wapello. Either Charles D. Fellows, A2, Walnut, or J.W. Condon, A2, Iowa City, will serve as the alternate, Anderson explained.

Czechs Call Yanks Spies, U.S. Protests

PRAGUE (AP) — The United States protested yesterday against the conviction of two American soldiers at a secret trial on charges of spying against Czechoslovakia.

The soldiers, who wandered across the frontier from the U.S. occupied zone of Germany last December, were sentenced to long prison terms — one to 12 years and the other to 10.

The U.S. embassy declared the secret trial was held "without due regard for normal rights and safeguards."

The men, held in a Prague prison, are listed in U.S. army records as Recruit Clarence R. Hill, 31, of Jackson, Miss., and Recruit George R. Jones, 22, of Owensboro, Ky., absent without leave since Dec. 1 from the U.S. constabulary's sixth armored regiment.

The Czechoslovak press bureau announced yesterday they were convicted of espionage at a secret trial Saturday. It said Hill was sentenced to 12 years and Jones, to whom it referred without explanation as "Alexander Jones, alias Hunter," to 10 years.

The action came after the windup in Munich of a series of trials before a U.S. military commission in which 17 persons — including several Czechs — were convicted of spying for the Czechoslovak intelligence service. They were sentenced to prison terms ranging up to 30 years.

The United States embassy protested to the Czechoslovak foreign ministry against "this secret trial, without due regard for normal rights and safeguards." A half dozen notes on the case had previously been sent in vain.

Ambassador Joseph E. Jacobs indicated that the foreign ministry promised to make arrangements for an embassy official to see the soldiers next week.

Judge Quotes Will Rogers, Fines Son

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The word of his famous father were quoted to Will Rogers Jr., today by a traffic court judge who fined the former congressman $40.

Municipal Judge Roger Alton Pfaff fined Rogers for speeding and unsafe passing of another car at an intersection before he recalled the words of the late humorist.

"I guess you know, son, what your Daddy used to say about things like this: 'Don't speed — get up 15 minutes earlier,'" the judge added.

Rogers, 37, is a Beverly Hills publisher. His operator's license was suspended for 30 days in addition to the fine because he had a record of three prior citations last year.

Garbage Blamed for Fly Control 'Failure'

Iowa City's garbage dump was one of the causes of the "failure" of the city's fly control program last year, Harold Gunderson, Iowa State college entomologist, said yesterday at the Kiwanis club luncheon.

Gunderson pointed out the main reasons for the "failure" of fly control programs conducted by 600 to 650 Iowa communities.

Garbage dumps such as Iowa City's provide breeding places for flies, the entomologist said, and as long as there is a dump the city will have flies and rats.

The main reason for the increase in flies in Iowa last summer was that wet weather provided the necessary wet places for the flies' breeding places, Gunderson said.

Other reasons for "failure" of the fly control programs include the failure of people who had taken part in the successful 1947 campaigns to take part in 1948.

There are several kinds of flies and each type needs certain type of control, he added. Many people did not have or did not follow this information.

"People have poor memories," Gunderson said. "They forget just how bad flies were before these campaigns began."

Many complaints on the programs "failure" came from towns where the number of flies was a small percent of their fly population of pre-DDT days.

Some flies have built up a resistance to insecticides, Gunderson said, and more chemical is required to kill them.

Gunderson was in Iowa City to appear on the program at the weed and corn borer clinic yesterday in the fieldhouse.

DES MOINES (AP)—Mayor Heck Ross yesterday set April 30 as the date for a city-wide election on whether to adopt the city manager form of government.

The mayor set the election date at a special meeting of the city council at which the Des Moines legal department upheld the legality of such an election.

Petitions containing some 12,000 names favoring the election were valid, city attorneys said.

April 30 falls on a Saturday.

Professor Longman Rejects Grant Wood As Important Painter

Prof. Lester D. Longman, head of SUI's art department, last week rejected John Steuart Curry, Thomas Hart Benton and Iowa's Grant Wood as great painters in an interview for the Louisville Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky.

Longman compared these American regional painters to slick paper magazines.

"They're not quite pulp — and they're not quality, either," he said. "They're not important in the history of art except as popular phenomena of their time."

The day of regionalism with its cultural detachment from things foreign was the day of political isolationism, he said.

"Now Regionalism is as dead as the slogan 'America First,'" he declared.

"Artistic waves from Europe have kept coming over and have been disseminated everywhere," in recent years, he pointed out.

Any rejection of foreign artistic influence would be as silly as a rejection of foreign scientific ideas, he explained.

Longman's list of great American painters included Whistler, the American mystic; Albert Pinkham Ryder, who died in 1917; John Marin, abstractionist, and Max Weber, formerly an expressionist who has now shifted to surrealism.

No Place for Neutrals In War of Ideas: Allen

WASHINGTON (AP)—There can be no neutrals in the current war of ideas between "the totalitarian police state" and democracy, Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen asserted last night.

In an address on the American Broadcasting company's radio program, "America's Town Meeting of the Air," he said the world today "is the scene of the most gigantic struggle of ideas that history has ever known."

"If the totalitarian methods of Nazi Germany or those of present-day Moscow triumph," he said, "individual human beings all over the world will lose their liberties."

Allen said that every person in the world has an equal stake in the outcome of this contest.

"There can be no neutrals—no one sitting on the side lines indifferent as to results," he said. "And every individual in the world has an obligation to enter the contest for his or her liberties are at stake."

Alumnus Answers Questions on GE

Wagner is manager of the home laundry equipment division of the company in Bridgeport, Conn. As alumni representative, he answers the questions of the seniors who are undecided whether to accept the jobs offered them by GE.

For Hayfever Sufferers — Pollen Control Methods Shown

SUI's department of medicine and hygiene displayed a pollen exhibit at the Johnson county district weed and corn borer control clinic in the fieldhouse yesterday.

In controlling hayfever, the display emphasized the importance of limiting the pollen allowed to come in contact with the patient.

Three methods of pollen control were exhibited under the direction of Dr. Milford E. Barnes, head of the department of preventative medicine and hygiene. The methods were:

1. Using suitable mechanical filters in homes.
2. Cleaning homes with vacuum cleaners.
3. Use of sterile masks by the individual.

One of the largest displays of spraying machinery and chemicals ever assembled in Iowa City was shown to the clinic. An estimated 1,000 persons attended the show according to Emmett C. Gardner, Johnson county extension director.

Featured speakers on the program were Dr. E.P. Sylvester, Dr. Harold Gunderson of Iowa State college; and Clyde Spray, assistant state secretary of agriculture.

The clinic was sponsored by the Iowa Farm and Home Register, the Des Moines Register's monthly magazine, in cooperation with the Iowa State college extension service, Johnson county farm bureau and the Iowa City chamber of commerce.

THE POP bottle problem is with us again, and I, for one, am about to write a letter to the bureau of standards.

All I need to go into the bottling business is a capper. Some of these soft drink firms are going to drive me into competing with them.

BY THE end of May we won't be able to set foot into our kitchen. Even now, bottles which formerly contained soda pop have begun to take over.

While telling a fellow about our bottle problem, he stopped me in the middle of my best vituperative phrase for the week and asked why I didn't return the bottles for their deposits.

THEREIN LIES the crux of the situation. It seems that some time ago bottlers of soda pop began to distrust each other, and I'm now paying for their lack of faith.

With me, pop is pop. Be it in bottle, bag or silver slipper, soda pop is all the same. I don't shop for pop—I simply buy it where I find it, making the customary deposit on the bottles, of course.

I GO into the transaction in good faith. The pop is bought, the deposit on the bottles is made, and it is assumed that upon presentation of the empty bottles the money held in escrow will be redeemed.

The theory looks good on paper, but in actual practice the system fails miserably. Saturday I was told to relieve the strain on the joists supporting our kitchen floor.

WITH THE cheery jingle of 30 pounds of glass ringing in my ears, I descended our three flights of stairs. The neighbors turned to each other and said with a sly wink, "Carrying quite a load, isn't he?"

Pulling up in front of the grocery store, I tugged at the basket with such vigor that I got a nose bleed, but finally arrived at my goal in front of the counter.

THE GROCER'S bilious eye almost withered me in my tracks. He glared first at the pop bottles and then at me. Failing in an attempt to be jolly, I mumbled, "I seem to have some bottles here..." He agreed.

The first two tries to hoist the basket from the floor to the counter ended in defeat. On the third attempt the grocer helped me. That was quite a mass of glass.

OUR CONVERSATION couldn't have been more stilled if I had brought in a dead body. He knew I didn't want to buy anything. All I wanted was the refund on the pop bottles we had been hoarding.

I had no idea how many bottles there were in the basket, but at two cents apiece I figured it should have run into the long form bracket.

HE BEGAN to count, "...that'n ain't ours—this'n is—that'n ain't—that'n ain't—this'n is—that'n ain't..."

Altogether the ain'ts outnumbered the this'n's 10 to one. When I staggered out of the store with my basket still full of bottles, I was only wealthier by 12 cents.

I repeat—standardize the bottles or I go into the pop business.

Get More on America's Atom Bomb ... Or We'll Have Trouble Claiming We Invented It

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

Are You for Peace?

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

To be for peace, you have to have the vision of peace. You have to be able actually to see America and Russia co-existing equably through the years, holding their ill-feeling toward each other to minimal levels, and showing it only through such forms as the literary essay and perhaps body English.

If this vision causes your gorge to mount, brings spots before your eyes, and gives you migraine headaches, then you are not for peace, because you have to have the vision of peace before you can be an advocate of peace.

YOU ARE NOT for peace if you hold the view that one side is perfect, the other side all wrong. You may think you are for peace, you may, under such circumstances, be trying to make political capital of the cry for peace, but you are not really for peace; you are merely using the slogan of peace as a movable shield to cover an ideological offense.

For, if you hold this lop-sided view of the contestants, you will with your every breath be making a case, not for peace, but for war. The point of your argument, no matter how you dress it up with constant use of the word "peace," will be that peace is impossible.

YOU BEG the question, so far as peace is concerned, if you hopelessly underscore the fact that there are political differences between the two sides, that they are Communists, or that we are capitalists. That's not the answer, that's the problem.

It is the world's task to make peace between peoples who differ; it is no trick to make peace between peoples who agree. You do not work for peace when you merely restate the problem, no matter how eloquently, continuously, stubbornly or subtly you may do so.

YOU ARE NOT for peace if you consider either side's apprehensions to be wholly unfounded. You cannot even start on the road to peace unless you are willing to grant to both contestants the right to be afraid.

YOU ARE NOT for peace if you demand impossibilities. You are not for peace if you expect Russians not to notice and not to react to the planting of military bases on their borders.

And you are not for peace if you expect the people of a capitalist democracy to look on with complete indifference as one country after another passes into the Russian orbit. When you demand these, or other impossibilities as the price of peace, as the basic condition for peace, then you only make peace impossible.

YOU ARE NOT for peace if you consider that our present situation is an accident, or that it is the result of the work of one or two men, or of some small group, whether that group be, in your mind, "Wall street" or "the Politbureau." Only through this approach can you make yourself work for a solution with a seriousness equal to the seriousness of the problem, and only thus can you realize what a triumph it would be to make the peace, a peace to confound the portents and to lift up the spirit of man.

TO THE EDITOR: With confidence in their fitness for office, I am writing on behalf of the candidacies of the first two petitioners to file for Student Council - Mary Deane Vande Steeg and Jack Pedersen.

These two candidates show by their platforms that they are aware of both the limitations and possibilities of the office to which they aspire. They make no glowing claims of social revolution, but this will work earnestly and diligently to make the council effective.

Ever since I have known her, Mary has been secretary of at least two organizations, and this experience in working with student groups will make her presence on the council particularly valuable. Her variety of interests gives her a wide background from which to view the problems that confront the council.

Jack Lamb Quad Cottage 25

TO THE EDITOR: This past week there have appeared in The Daily Iowan numerous letters telling of the many achievements and platforms of the various students running for Student Council. I would at this time like to enumerate the qualifications of the candidate I believe is the most worthy of my vote. This man is Corey J. Wright.

Corey came to SUI in September, 1946 from Omaha, Nebraska. Since his arrival on this campus, he has become a very active student. To date he has participated in a variety of activities, namely: being a member of the varsity baseball squad, becoming a 11. colonel in the Pershing Rifles, belonging to the Newman Club, becoming a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa (national professional physical education fraternity); and attaining the rank of major in the SUI ROTC.

A man with such a variety of activities can very easily represent a cross section of the students at this institution. I'm going to cast my vote "The Wright Way" for an honest, sincere, and hard-working student whom I believe is worthy of a position on the Student Council.

Bob Kohlhaas 202 Ellis

TO THE EDITOR: This is directed at the friends of the first foreign student ever to run for an office in the all-campus elections - Krishna "Kris" Khandelwal.

Hailing from Calcutta, India, Kris has spent the past two years here studying to be a chemical engineer. During that time, his friendly smile and sincere interest in American students have won him many friends among the students and faculty. Kris has contributed a great deal to campus activities through his work with the YMCA. His friends in the Quad, believing he can make an even bigger contribution as delegate-at-large to Student Council, asked him to run for that office.

Everyone who knows Kris will vote for him - if they remember to vote. This is a reminder for these people to vote.

Many an election has been lost by one vote. It may be your vote that puts Kris on Council.

Jean Strong, A4 Currier Hall

TO THE EDITOR:

The most striking thing about this year's student elections is the fact that for the first time the potentialities of the Student Council have been recognized by almost everyone. Nearly all candidates have emphasized that point. We all recognize what the council can do for students, and the candidates have based their platforms on the desire to make the body stronger than it ever has been before.

Since the Student Council is only in the process of evolution, we must remember that it is only practical to build it from the bottom up, and not to hammer from the top down.

This is why I found Dave McPherson's platform so satisfactory. He is attempting to make the campus "council conscious" and at this point that is what is needed.

There are three principal ways he is going about this:

1. PUBLICITY. The students should be notified through the Iowan and - or a special radio program of proposed and current activities of the council.

2. ACCESSIBILITY. The establishment of a permanent council office accessible to all students is necessary to make the student council a STUDENT council.

3. PARTICIPATION. The practice of poll-taking could be used effectively as a measure of student opinion of issues facing the council. A well-organized plan for sub-committee expansion for the carrying out of the council policies.

Every thinking student wishes for a better Student Council, and it seems to me that the platform presented by Dave McPherson is by far the best, and has the best chance of succeeding.

French Voting Shift To Right Explained

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst The elections just held in France followed closely predictions that were being made last fall that Communist activities would drive more and more people to the right at the expense of the Socialists as well as the Communists.

One veteran socialist leader told me then the party was being torn between the two extremes, and that if general elections were held great numbers would decamp to De Gaulle.

That is what has happened in the cantonal elections, where the De Gaullists have gained 223 offices. Other rightists and independents gained 86, while the Socialists lost 150 and the Communists 147.

There was no voting in Paris, which holds a large proportion of the total Communist vote. But this detracts little from the effect of the Communist defeat. They campaigned against the Atlantic pact, the Marshall plan, and promised to support the Russian army if it invaded France.

That was too much for the French people, many of whom heretofore supported the Communist ticket as a protest against living conditions, voting in desperation for any sort of change. Improving conditions also played a part.

The Socialists and the parties which generally support the "Third Force" of the French government now have 1,081 of the local council seats, the De Gaullists 387 and the Communists 87.

Thus the Communists and De Gaullists have traded positions in the relative ranking, while the pro-government coalition remains in control, but with the prophecies of a more strongly centralized government coming up fast.

There is no indication, however, that the De Gaullists are anywhere near a return to power.

NORWAY OKAYS FACT

OSLO, NORWAY (AP) - Parliament approved Norway's entrance to the Atlantic pact last night by a vote of 130 to 13 after a tumultuous session during which leftists showered leaflets on members from the galleries.

New Retail Price Cuts Help Halt Inflation, Stretch Dollar

By RICHARD FISKE

NEW YORK (AP)—A new series of retail price cuts were laid before the consumer yesterday, further clipping inflation's wing.

They stretched the dollar a little farther. But most of the reductions were from highly inflated levels and many of them were small.

Automobiles and auto accessories, radios, refrigerators, ranges were among the wide variety of items affected.

Continued reductions in such basic commodities as lead, zinc, copper and steel indicated there might be further cuts in manufactured goods in the week.

The midseason spring catalogue of Sears, Roebuck and Co. featured "many price reductions in all lines." Even ice cream was down a little — three cents a quart in Philadelphia.

Radios showed the biggest drop. Westinghouse Electric chopped a lusty 20 to 50 percent off nine home model sets. That's as much as $130 on a cash basis.

Kaiser-Frazer Corp. knocked $198 to $333 off its car prices. Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co., saw a "possible" reduction in Ford's.

Willard Storage Battery Co. clipped $1.50 off its $23.95 automobile battery and up to $2 off large automotive types. Electric Storage Battery Co. shaved its prices eight percent.

Willard said it was the first major battery producer to announce a reduction in seven years. Gibson Refrigerator Co. at Greenville, Mich., announced it was chopping $20 off some models of home refrigerators and ranges.

Standard Oil Co. of Indiana knocked one-half cent a gallon off tank prices on kerosene, range oil and diesel fuels and a trifle more off furnace oil.

Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. reduced the price of hot rolled bars and structural shapes by as much as $4 a ton. But it didn't affect the steel industry's general price structure since Jones and Laughlin had topped other major producers on those items.

Inland steel announced cuts of up to $4.50 a ton on galvanized sheets.

Paul Mantz Breaks West Coast Record

BURBANK (AP)—Noted Speed Pilot Paul Mantz slashed 13 minutes off the San Francisco to Los Angeles record for propeller-driven planes yesterday, landing here 49 minutes and 32 seconds after his takeoff.

But instead of being pleased with his performance, Mantz complained that he would have to cut another 11 minutes off the old mark if the governor on his propeller had not gone out about midway down the coast.

"I flew the first half of the 336 miles in about 17 1/2 minutes when the governor knocked out," he said. "After that it was like driving in second gear."

Atom Smasher to Start Work Next Month

Research with SU's Van de Graaff type atom smasher is scheduled to begin next month, Physics Prof. James A. Jacobs said yesterday.

The director of atom smashing research at SUJ explained that major construction of the smasher is finished and that "improvements will be made as research work progresses."

Jacobs noted that work on the smasher has extended over an eight year period and said that "work is never finished on this type of equipment."

The smasher is located in a cement vault underground between Schaeffer Hall and the physics building.

Construction of the other atom smasher at SUJ is about half finished and is expected to be completed this summer, Jacobs said. This smasher is of the Cock-

Glockler to Attend Meeting to Appoint Research Fellows

Prof. George Glockler, head of the SUI chemistry department, will attend a meeting of the research fellowship board of the atomic energy commission in Chicago April 6.

The board of six outstanding U.S. scientists will meet to consider applications for post-doctoral research fellowships in the physical sciences.

Several of these meetings were held last year by the board, Glockler said.

Fellowships are administered by the National Research Council and start at $3,000 a year.

The Atomic Energy commission announced that fellowships are granted for study of problems "basic to atomic research or associated with the development of atomic energy or its by-products."

Results of research carried out by a fellow "will be available to the public through accepted channels without restriction, except as may be required in the interest of national security," the commission said.

Purpose of the fellowships is "to enable men and women to gain advanced training and research experience in one of the physical sciences."

Academy President Says Studios May Discontinue Oscars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Movie stars toted home Oscars this year perhaps for the last time because their studio bosses so far refuse to foot the bill for any more academy award presentations, Academy President Jean Hersholt revealed yesterday.

"They think it's too expensive," said Hersholt, in the opening salvo of what looks like a knockdown fight over the 21-year-old Oscar tradition.

Hersholt kept mum as to who the complainers were. He merely tabbed them as "home office executives of four studios in New York."

"Even the Johnston office in New York has told me that the way things look now the movie industry won't support the academy awards next year," he added.

Hersholt said it was like squeezing blood out of turnips to get studios to fork out money for the expensive trophies, ballots, invitations, and other items for Oscar night Monday night.

He said MGM, Paramount, 20th Century-Fox and Warners' studios gave $12,500 apiece, RKO $5,000 and Goldwyn studios $2,000.

roft-Walton type and is being built on the third floor of the physics building.

Research Associate John Wahl will be the first graduate student to run an experiment on the Van de Graaff machine. He plans to measure the number of protons given off at different angles when a boron target is bombarded with electrically charged particles.

Other members of the nuclear research staff who have worked together in building the smasher will work with Wahl on his experiment.

The smasher was first run last November, and since then it has been tested for voltage and vacuum.

During recent weeks special equipment has been installed which will be used in running the experiment.

Say Now, What's on the Fire, Men

(Daily Iowan photo by Wayne Golts) FIREMEN SANDWICHED THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET BETWEEN TWO FIRE ALARMS last night without missing a bite. One alarm came before dinner, one just after, but the feast, which was in the preparing stages here with Ted Fay handling the potato masher, was not interrupted. Helping Fay with the culinary chores yesterday afternoon were Herman Vilnaur (left) and H. T. McNabb, two other department members. Last night's "feed" was prepared by members of platoon number two who were hosts to platoon number one.

'Twas Fate

Fire Alarms Disrupt Nary a Bite

Fate was almost kind to Iowa City firemen last night.

It was the night of the annual firemen's banquet and the fire fighters were holding their breath, remembering what happened last year at their banquet.

No sooner had the last drumstick from their turkey dinner disappeared from the platter last year, than an alarm sent them in to a bitterly cold night to fight a fire which gutted a garage, and damaged a beauty parlor and radio shop.

Last night the firemen had two calls, and this is where fate was kind.

The first alarm, an overheated stove at 602 Fifth avenue, came in at 5:45 but the firemen promptly mopped it up and settled down to dinner on time at 6:30.

The dinner progressed with many an ear cocked for the alarm but none came — not until 7:30 when everyone had finished his coffee and cigarette.

The second alarm was at city park where they extinguished a burning log.

Students to Discuss Federal School Aid

Five SUI students tonight will discuss the question "Shall we have federal aid to education?", at the student roundtable discussion broadcast over WSUI from 7 to 7:30 o'clock.

Taking part in the discussion will be Georgianna Edwards, A4, Richmond, Ind.; Dorothy Jean Myers, A4, Quincy, Ill.; Ardis Kresensky, A4, Algona; Ruby Scott, A4, Waterloo, and Louise Bekman, A1, Ottumwa.

Margaret Wood, graduate assistant in speech, will conduct the discussion.

Try and Stop Me

THE sales manager of one of the country's biggest paper mills played host recently to a group of book designers and manufacturing men from a dozen publishing houses. The food was excellent, the wine flowed freely, and when the sales manager arose to speak he was greeted with a salvo of applause.

"Fellows," he said with a catch in his voice, "just fifteen years ago today our mill received its very first paper order from a book publisher."

"Somebody in the rear of the room caused a near-riot by shouting, 'When are you going to fill it?'"

A prominent radio announcer took his young daughter to a church dinner. The parson invited the youngster to say grace. She bowed her head and said, "These victuals, good friends, are coming to you through the courtesy of Almighty God."

Defense Secretary Initiates Program to Unify Services

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Johnson yesterday initiated a series of brisk moves to unify the nation's armed services. As a starter, he cracked down on headline squabbles between the navy and the air force.

"There will be no vying between the services for headlines, no release of things that are secret," he told newsmen.

Within 24 hours after he was sworn in to his new post, the big, baldpated defense chief also:

1. Told the army, navy and airforce to move at once to the Pentagon, the nerve center of American defense.

2. Announced he will abolish many of the 800 boards and agencies set up by the three armed services over a long period of years.

3. Banned "personal or party politics" in the national military establishment.

4. Indicated that some heads will roll, but "the people who are doing their jobs will remain."

5. And finally, said he has "a pretty fair conviction" what roles the airforce and navy should play in the event of war.

This last comment referred to the long and bitter controversy between the two services over the type of bombing missions each should execute in wartime.

Airforce chiefs have contended their long-range planes should carry out strategic bombing—i.e. air blows struck at the heart of the enemy's production centers.

Just as staunchly, the navy has argued that its aircraft carriers should be allowed to join the assault—particularly such giant flattops as the navy's $120-million carrier, the United States, which is now under construction.

Doctors in England Demand Pay Raise

LONDON (AP)—Doctors in Britain's socialized health service demanded a pay raise yesterday.

Some 400 of them, representing about 20,000 general practitioners in the British Medical association, drafted a report asking for nearly double their present fees.

A doctor now gets 18 shillings ($3.60) a year for each national health service subscriber who registers in his office.

He can handle private practice at his own fees among patients who decide to stay out of the health service.

The report drawn up yesterday asks for 35 shillings ($7) a year for each of the first thousand registered patients, and a scale sliding down to 22 shillings ($4.40) for each patient over 4,000.

The proposed pay raise would cost the government an extra £16,500,000 ($66-million) a year, the doctors estimated. Ministry of health estimates place the cost of the entire socialized medicine scheme for the year beginning April 1 at £259,727,600 ($1,038,910,400).

Engine Jumps Track, Disappears into Bog

WITTIERSHAM, ENG. (AP)—"My locomotive has sunk."

That was the report sent by an engineer to the head men at the Kent and East Sussex railway, and he wasn't kidding.

The engine and one empty coach ran off the tracks and into a bog. Salvage crews tried—and gave the locomotive up for lost.

Train Robber on Way to Arraignment

Students to Speak in Chicago

Four SUI students will participate in the fourth national student congress of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary speech association, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at Hotel Congress in Chicago.

Representing SUI in the model congress will be Evan Hultman, A4, Waterloo; Harlan Hockenberger, A4, Des Moines; William Shuttleworth, A4, Cedar Rapids, and George McBurney, A3, Council Bluffs.

The student congress will consider the question, "What federal legislation should be enacted regarding civil rights?" Four students from each of the 75 chapters of Delta Sigma Rho have been invited to attend the congress.

Three imaginary political parties will be represented in the session. Delegates McBurney and Hultman will be member of the right-center party, Shuttleworth will be independent and Hockenberger, left-center.

The question of civil rights legislation will be divided into four parts with a committee considering each sub-division.

Flight A, 211 composite squadron, Air Reserve will meet at 7:30 tonight in room 124 of the fieldhouse armory.

London Nurses Ask Ban on 'Snake Pit'

LONDON (AP)—Nurses of five London hospitals yesterday asked censors to ban the American film "The Snake Pit."

They claimed in a letter to the British board of film censors that the movie is "sordid" and shows mental hospital nurses "as harsh, unemotional and often cruel."

The nurses, 140 men and women, have not seen the picture. Their objections are based, they said, on the still pictures advertising it.

Robert Sadler, spokesman for the nurses, said the still shots "are horrible."

"In 25 years of mental nursing I have never seen anything like these film photographs," he said.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Express Slickup, Blames Drugs, Drink

FAIRMONT, W.VA. (AP)—George L. Ashton pleaded guilty yesterday to holding up a Baltimore and Ohio passenger express and he blamed it on drugs and drink.

Federal District Judge Harry E. Watkins deferred sentence pending an investigation by probation officials. The maximum sentence is 20 years and $10,000 fine.

Ashton and his young companion from Youngstown, Ohio, Luman (Skip) Ramsdell, were indicted for holding up the B & O's Ambassador near Martinsburg, W. Va., on March 9. Passengers said they each carried a gun, walking brazenly up and down the coaches robbing most of the riders and the crew.

Ashton's mother, Mrs. Ruth Ungar, has filed a $50,000 damage suit in Washington against the B & O. The suit alleges that Ashton is only 20 years old and that he was sold alcoholic beverages on the train in West Virginia where liquor can be sold only by the bottle.

Ashton and 22-year-old Ramsdell were caught the day after the train robbery in a Washington pawn shop. Ramsdell was wounded by police and still is in a hospital.

Bi-Partisan Group Proposes $540-Million ERP Reduction

WASHINGTON (UP)—A bi-partisan attempt to cut the $5,580,000,000 European Recovery program extension by 10 percent was launched in the senate yesterday.

An amendment to that end was introduced by Sens. Robert Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) chairman of the senate Republican policy committee, and Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) one of the top Democrats on the senate appropriations committee.

It would cut $543-million out of the administration bill to authorize a $5,580,000,000 foreign spending program during the next 15 months.

Taft said the cut is necessary to avoid a tax increase in June. Russell said that if the senate turns down the amendment he will fight for cuts in the appropriations committee when its gets around to voting the actual funds.

The pending bill is merely an authorization for continuing the European Recovery program. Present authority expires at midnight Saturday. The funds must be provided in separate legislation.

With an eye on the Saturday deadline, Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas (D-Ill) ordered a night session and said over-time sessions would continue until the extension bill is passed.

Chairman Tom Connally (D-Tex) of the foreign relations committee, said he would resist the Taft-Russell proposal because it would "impair the program seriously."
