Webster Wins Out In Election Recount

Gordon Webster last night won out in the recount for the disputed fifth ward alderman position. He defeated his Democratic opponent, William H. Grandrath, by a final tally of 690 to 685.

The election night returns gave Webster a score of 687 over Grandrath's 678. This recount was the first for Iowa City in at least 20 years, city hall officials said.

When the recount was completed, the defeated Grandrath said, "I want to wish Gordon Webster all the luck in the world."

"This proves that we have a democracy. We came up here as friends and we're leaving as friends. Now I can lead a normal life with my family."

Mayor Preston Koser presided over the recount trial. Atty. Edward Rate represented Webster and Atty. Edward Lucas represented Grandrath as judges.

County Atty. Jack C. White and local Republican Chairman William Mearson were present to look after the interests of their fellow party men.

At different times Aldermen James Jones and Grandrath acted as tellers along with City Clerk George J. Dohrer and City Atty. William Bartley.

Straight party ballots were checked first in the recount and then rejected ballots.

Boundary Limitation Controversy Delays Rezoning Ordinance

A controversy over the exact area involved led the Iowa City city council to give only two readings last night to an amended ordinance to rezone property at the west city limits.

The third reading on the proposed ordinance will be given next Monday night at the first regular meeting of the new council.

As originally proposed, the ordinance would rezone six lots on highway 6 to business property. Confusion resulted from whether or not the Melody Mill was included in the ordinance and how far north the area extended.

The amended ordinance, given two readings last night, proposed the following boundaries: the railroad right-of-way on the north, Rocky Shore Drive on the east, highway 6 on the south and the city limits on the west.

Retiring second ward Alderman James Jones proposed the two readings and amended the ordinance.

Opposition to the original ordinance was slight from most property owners, but Prof. Fred G. Higbee of the engineering faculty said he understood that SUI would object to rezoning property north of the railroad tracks.

Higbee emphasized that he spoke unofficially. Another petition to rezone private property to business met with opposition last night when 25 property owners registered their written disapproval to rezoning in east Iowa City.

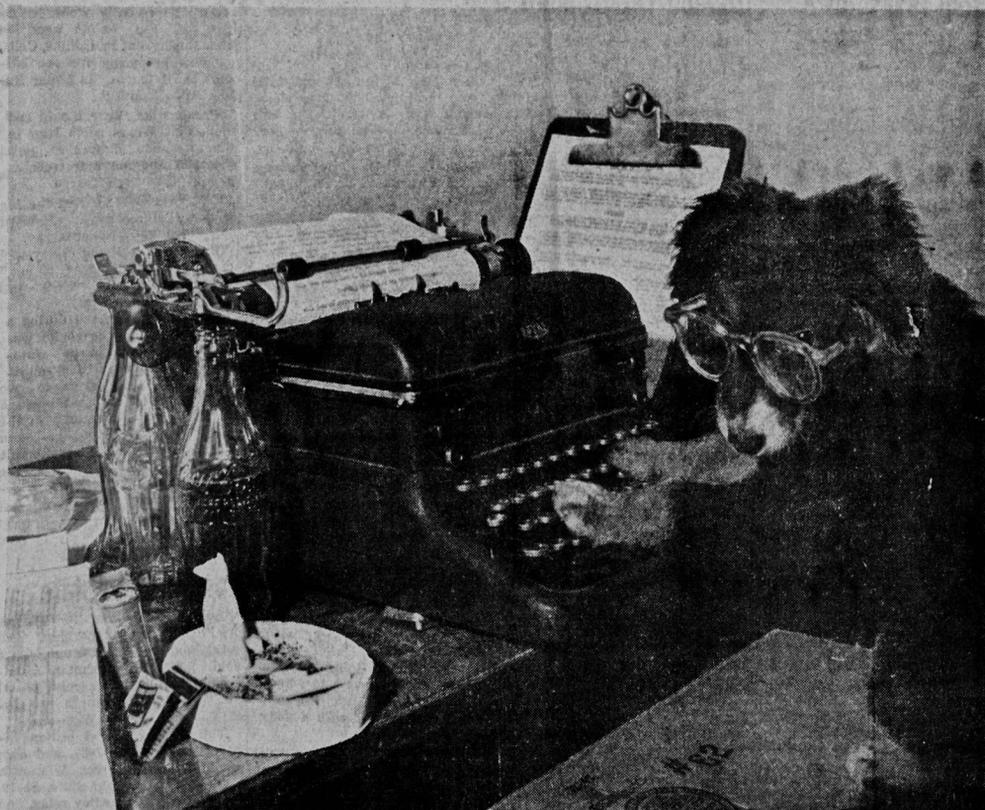

Truman Calls for Full European Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman spoke yesterday against a Republican-led drive to cut millions off not billions of dollars off the flow of American aid to Europe.

Mr. Truman told his news conference with emphasis that congress should provide the full $5,580-million requested by Marshall plan Administrator Paul G. Hoffman to carry Europe over the next 15 months.

The program, he said, has been worked out very carefully and should stay the way it is.

Mr. Truman's comment followed questions by newsmen about a Republican economy drive sparked by Senators Taft (Ohio) and Wherry (Neb.).

Pooch Pounds Keys to Keep Out of 'Pound'

"MY OWNER AIN'T HAD TIME to buy me a license yet," said this little pooch in a letter of protest to Iowa City officials yesterday shortly after City Clerk George J. Dohrer announced that all 1948 dog licenses expired. All dogs over six months old and running at large like the "speculating" one above must have a license, Dohrer said, to keep them from being picked up and disposed of after May 10. Having a dog license also means that a record is kept at the city hall which helps in getting dogs returned if the pet strays, he added.

Glen Taylor Found Guilty

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. (AP) — An Alabama jury last night found Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Iowa) guilty of disorderly conduct and sentenced him to 180 days at hard labor for his brush with Birmingham Jim Crow laws a year ago.

The jury also levied a $50 fine against Taylor. The prison sentence and fine were the same as that imposed in city court immediately after Taylor's arrest except that the jail stretch was suspended by the city judge.

Taylor said he was "very pleased" by the verdict and announced an immediate appeal to the Alabama court of appeals. He hoped to make bond and catch a 9:50 p.m. (Iowa time) plane so he can be back in the senate today.

Taylor's pleasure stemmed from the fact that he hopes to carry the issue all the way to the U.S. supreme court if necessary, in a bid to have the Birmingham segregation laws declared unconstitutional.

LA Students Picked To Serve on New Iowa Union Board

Liberal Arts candidates Mary Louise Anneberg, Mary Lou Cords, Betty Jane Johnson, Don Guthrie, William Tandy, and Mike Trueblood were elected Wednesday to six of the 16 offices on Iowa Union board.

They will take office at the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1. Complete election returns gave Don Guthrie 976; Mike Trueblood 935; Betty Jane Johnson 574; William Tandy 556; Mary Louise Anneberg 532; Mary Lou Cords 450.

Lois Martin 442; George R. Conn, 423; Len Everett 391; Joyce Kraft 333; Eleanor Leedham 330; Carol Thurnau 327; Verna Mae Wingate 319; Howard Moldenhauer 309; Greta Grossman 306.

Walker Will Represent South Quad on Council

Larry Walker, CS, Cedar Rapids, has been elected as South Quadrangle representative to the Student Council by residents of the dormitory. President Gene Glenn said yesterday.

Walker will succeed Robert Kramer, A2, White Plains, N.Y., whose term expires with the present council.

Panhellenic Names Sue Gronna to Council

Sue Gronna, Delta Delta Delta, has been elected Panhellenic representative to the Student Council, Julie Ferguson, president of Panhellenic, announced last night.

Each of the twelve social sororities nominated one candidate and all chapter members voted in the election, Miss Ferguson said.

Chemical Magnate Willard Dow Dies In Airplane Crash

LONDON, ONT. (AP) — Chemical Magnate Willard H. Dow, his wife and three other persons crashed to their deaths in a plane yesterday on a storm-soaked Canadian meadow.

The 52-year-old president of the sprawling Dow Chemical Co., one of the world's largest, was flying with his party to attend a gathering in Boston, Mass.

Struck by a lashing rain, the pilot apparently was trying for an emergency landing in a field a mile from the London airport. The plane hit a knoll, bounced and crashed. Within seconds it was aflame.

Dr. Dow, Mrs. Martha Dow, 51; Mrs. Alta Campbell, 44; Pilot A.J. Bowie, and Co-pilot Fred Clements, all of Midland, Mich., were believed killed instantly.

Prosperity is Comin' Around the Bend

ENGLEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — It was like the good old days here yesterday. A new television store opened. Everyone who purchased a set received free:

1. Two tickets to a Broadway show.
 2. Dinner for four at a New York nightclub.
 3. A three-way portable radio.
 4. A magnifying glass for the television set.
- The shopkeeper said business was brisk.

Chicago Merchant Henry Lytton, 102, Dies of Pneumonia

CHICAGO (AP) — Henry C. Lytton, pioneer Chicago merchant whose advertising stunts in the last century heralded modern merchandising techniques, died yesterday. He was 102 years old.

Lytton was the last member of old Chicago's famed group of 14 merchant princes.

One of the city's snappiest dressers, Lytton was active in his business until last year.

He was a business contemporary of such men as Marshall Field and Potter Palmer.

Lytton was born in New York City. He took his first job there at 50 cents a week as an office boy. Then he moved west, where early ventures at Ionia, Mich., and Grand Rapids, Mich., failed.

By 1887, he had saved about $12,000 and worked out an idea.

He opened a store in Chicago and put a third of his capital into advertising. The company now operates a huge clothing store on State street and has other stores in Alton, Joliet, Evanston, and Oak Park, Ill., Gary, Ind., and Cincinnati.

APPROVES TREATY
OTTAWA (AP) — The North Atlantic treaty was approved last night by the Canadian senate. It was endorsed earlier this week by the house of commons.

Russia Claims Pact 'Openly Aggressive'

LONDON (Friday) (AP) — The Soviet Union charged yesterday the north Atlantic treaty is "openly aggressive," is directed against her and breaks five international agreements.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the Russian position was transmitted to the seven sponsoring nations of the treaty in a memorandum yesterday.

The Soviet foreign ministry through its ambassadors gave these conclusions to the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, Canada, The Netherlands and Luxembourg:

1. The Atlantic treaty has an openly aggressive character and is directed against the Soviet Union.
2. The treaty runs counter to the United Nations charter.
3. It violates the Anglo-Soviet treaty, the Franco-Soviet treaty and the Yalta and Potsdam agreements.

The treaty will be signed in Washington Monday.

The memorandum denied statements in the treaty that it is strictly defensive and abides by United Nations principles.

Participants in the pact, the memorandum charged, are making military preparations which by no means bear a defensive character, "including the stockpiling of atom bombs."

In Washington the state department confirmed last night that it has received a memorandum from the Russian embassy there, but said there would be no comment immediately.

Spokesman Michael J. McDermott said that a messenger brought the memorandum to the department from the Soviet embassy at 5:30 p.m. yesterday afternoon.

The memorandum is in Russian, and some department officials who speak Russian have looked it over and "know what's in it," he said. He added that a complete translation will be placed on Secretary of State Dean C. Acheson's desk today.

There was no indication whether or when the United States will reply. The department presumably would not comment unless it had prepared an answer to send to Moscow.

Newfoundland Is Canadian Province

OTTAWA, ONT. (Friday) (AP) — Britain's oldest colony, Newfoundland, became Canada's youngest province at midnight Wednesday. No ceremony was held to mark the exact hour of the union that is one of the major North American political changes of the 20th century. But there will be official ceremonies in Canada and Newfoundland today.

The union has been a British Canadian dream ever since 1867, when separate colonies of British North America formed a united Canada against the threat of physical and economic encroachments.

March Roars Out Like Lion — Storms, Floods, Wind Batter Midwest

CHICAGO (AP) — March roared out of the midwest yesterday with rain, snow, gales, floods and a tornado.

The lion left a trail of stalled autos, buses, trains and planes across South Dakota, southern Minnesota and western Nebraska, where snowdrifts in some places were six feet deep.

The storm system, winter's dying blow swirled eastward toward the Atlantic coast. Cold air was moving in behind it.

Flood threats arose in North Dakota, Iowa, Indiana and northeastern Nebraska.

A tornado was reported two miles west of Chester, Ill., another in the recent wave of twisters. Farm buildings were damaged but no injuries were reported. The Northwestern Bell Telephone company said that 50 communities in sections of Nebraska, South Dakota and Minnesota were cut off from outside communication by 500 long distance line breaks.

The bad weather struck chiefly in the area which suffered through the great blizzards of mid-winter. Where it didn't snow, it rained.

Nearly two feet of snow clogged highways and hampered railroads in western Nebraska. Burlington railroad snowplows cleared away six-foot drifts between Seneca and Ravenna, Neb., and four foot drifts between Akron, Colo., and McCook, Neb.

Union Pacific passenger and freight traffic was delayed in the area of North Platte, Neb., where 15 inches of snow fell. Hayes

Fear of A-Bomb Thwarted Russ, Churchill Claims

Charges Russia with 'World Rule' Goal As 100 Sympathizers Picket Address

BOSTON (UP) — Winston Churchill warned the western world last night that only fear of the atomic bomb is holding Russia's leaders at bay.

Avoiding more than 100 leftist pickets marching with placards accusing him of warmongering, the 74-year-old wartime British prime minister delivered a blistering attack on the Russian politburo at Boston garden.

Langer 'in Anger' Carries on Attack Aimed at Churchill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying "I never was wrong in my life," Sen. William Langer (R-ND) yesterday repeated, with new trimmings, his charge that Winston Churchill fought against the United States in the Spanish-American war.

Churchill asserted Wednesday that Langer's charge was "entirely devoid of truth."

The cigar-chewing senator reopened his private feud with the cigar-chewing wartime prime minister in a speech from the floor.

Chairman Tom Connally (D-Tex) of the foreign relations committee, read Churchill's denial from the floor Wednesday.

Thumping his desk with such vigor page boys scurried to remove the ink bottles Langer shouted that Churchill has returned to the United States to inveigle Americans into "underwriting the British Empire indefinitely."

"He has been fighting on the side of fascism and bureaucracy all his life — that is the record," Langer roared.

Senators of both parties sprang to Churchill's defense.

Bill of Particulars Denied to Rutledge

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — District Judge J.E. Heiserman yesterday denied a defense request for a bill of particulars in the Dr. Robert C. Rutledge murder case.

Enough information was contained in an indictment and in grand jury minutes of testimony to allow defense attorneys to prepare adequately for trial, Heiserman ruled.

Rutledge, St. Louis child specialist, will be arraigned today on first degree murder charges in the hotel room slaying of Byron Hatman last December at Cedar Rapids.

First Accident Reported Since Signal Installation

The first traffic accident at the intersection of Dubuque street and Iowa avenue since the installation last week of four traffic signals there occurred yesterday at 7 p.m., police reported.

Drivers involved were James W. Mitchell, A4, Adel, and Frederick M. Theil, Coralville. No personal injuries were reported, but drivers said a total of $225 estimated damage was done to the cars.

The Soviet leaders, he said, are "aiming at the rule of the world" and long since would have bombed London but for their dread of America's atom bomb.

Speaking at Massachusetts Institute of Technology's mid-century convocation, Churchill repeated the warning of his famed 1946 "iron curtain" speech to a world-wide audience of millions. A capacity crowd of 13,900 persons cheered and applauded frequently during the 53-minute address which was broadcast over the greatest radio television hook-up in history.

"I must not conceal from you the truth as I see it. It is certain that Europe would have been communized, like Czechoslovakia, and London under bombardment some time ago, but for the deterrent of the atomic bomb in the hands of the United States," he said.

In the so-called war of nerves with Russia, Churchill said, "It may not be our nerve or the structure of our civilization which will break — something else will break — and peace may yet be preserved."

Retiring MIT President Karl T. Compton read a letter from President Truman in which the Chief Executive expressed his regret at having to cancel his scheduled speech to the convocation tonight.

Then Churchill took over, expressing his faith in the ultimate success of the United Nations but warning the west that "the failure to strangle bolshevism at its birth and to bring Russia . . . by one means or another into the general democratic system lies heavy upon us today."

Deadly serious, Churchill warned that the free nations of the west face in the Soviet politburo "something quite as wicked but in some ways more formidable than Hitler."

But "war is not inevitable," he said.

Russia, he said, had united the free world against it by deliberate acts because the men in the Kremlin "fear the friendship of the west more than its hostility."

"Thirteen men in the Kremlin, holding down hundreds of millions of people and aiming at the rule of the world, feel that at all costs they must keep up the barriers," Churchill said.

"Self-preservation, not for Russia but for themselves, lies at the root and is the explanation of their sinister and malignant policy . . .

"These 13 men in the Kremlin have their hierarchy and a church of Communist adepts, whose missionaries are in every country as a fifth column, awaiting the day when they hope to be absolute masters of their fellow-countrymen."

Center, Neb., reported 23 inches. Greyhound buses were halted in the area.

Officials of Bloomfield, Neb., mired in mud and snow, had planned to journey by railroad handcar to the state capital at Lincoln for aid.

They didn't make it. The handcar was stalled by snowdrifts. Winds up to 55 miles an hour howled in some areas.

South Dakota was hard hit with heavy snow that stalled hundreds of vehicles in the Sioux Falls area. State police said between 400 and 500 persons were marooned in stalled cars overnight.

Nebraska ranchers feared the spring storm would have an adverse effect on calving, now at the height of its season. Many breeding cattle were reported out on the range when the storm struck.

Kansas recorded 14 inches of snow at Atwood and nine inches across the rich wheat fields in the Goodland area. The deep snow also brought hardship to livestock and ranchers in Kansas.

Traffic was halted at Worthington, Minn., by 12 inches of snow and planes were grounded at Minneapolis. At least two deaths in Minnesota were attributed to the snowstorm. A man and his wife were killed in a collision.

Iowa had snow and rain and its rivers were rising. The Big Sioux river was three feet over flood stage at Akron and the Des Moines was climbing at Ottumwa.

Ris Wins AAU Swim Title

Draves Fourth In Two Events

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Wally Ris of Iowa won the 100-yard freestyle event in 51.4 seconds in the national AAU indoor men's swimming meet yesterday for his fifth straight AAU championship.

Ris came through in the last lap to get his victory over second place Bob Gibe of the Detroit Athletic club by three-tenths of a second.

The triumph made Ris the only swimmer ever to sweep titles in the Big Nine, NCAA and AAU meets two years in a row.

Olympic Breast Stroke Champion Joe Verdeur of Philadelphia bettered the 300-yard medley record.

The LaSalle college junior swam the strictly American event in three minutes, 22.9 seconds, a full second better than Adolph Kiefer's mark set five years ago.

Verdeur went out in front in the 100-yard breast stroke at the start and held his lead through the 100-yard backstroke and the final 100-yard free style. He was one of four indoor champions named yesterday.

Duane Draves, of the University of Iowa, placed fourth in the 150-yard backstroke and fourth in the 300-yard individual medley.

Bruce Harlan, Olympic diving champion, from Ohio State, added the one meter diving crown here to his laurels. Winning this event for the first time, Harlan easily outclassed the field and succeeded his former teammate, Miller Anderson.

Jack Calhoun, also of Ohio State, was second and Skippy Browning of Dallas, Texas, was a surprise third.

Allen Stack of the New Haven, Conn., Swim Club, swam the 150-yard back stroke in 1 minute 30.7 seconds for the other two titles.

James Thomas of North Carolina, who defeated Verdeur in the morning eliminations for the individual medley event, was second in the finals, but quite a few yards and almost six seconds back.

Basketball Mentor At Harvard Fired

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. (AP)—Harvard university last night fired Basketball Coach Bill Barclay.

In a brief statement Athletic Director William J. Bingham announced Barclay's "contract will not be renewed."

He added nothing had been done about naming a successor. Barclay came to Harvard from Michigan as a 30-year-old head coach in 1946.

His first season was a fairly good one as his team won 16 and lost nine. In the last two seasons the Crimson court forces have been able to win only eight of 40 games. Only one of those victories was against Ivy league competition, the loop in which Harvard meets its dearest enemies.

Girls' Cage Champs From Texas, Iowa Ready for Series

DES MOINES (AP)—Two girls' state champion basketball teams mingled socially last night on the eve of renewing the interstate rivalry between Texas and Iowa.

The Texas champions, Seagoville, arrived yesterday and immediately invaded the Drake fieldhouse court where they will meet Iowa's champs, Wellsburg, in the first of a two-game series tonight. The second contest will be played at Waterloo, Ia., Saturday. Sellout crowds are expected for both contests.

The two rival girls' teams were honored jointly at a banquet last night sponsored by the Iowa Girls Athletic union. But their social mixing will be forgotten when the first whistle blows for their games.

Iowa's champion Wellsburg team wants to repeat the victory won last year by Kamrar. The girls from the Lone Star state will be set to even up the series.

In 1948 the two-state rivalry started, with an aim of eventually setting up a national girls' high school tournament. One game was played last year. Kamrar defeated the Mesquite, Tex., girls. An extra game was added to the schedule this year. Texas officials said they hoped to entertain the Iowa champions there next year.

Blue Hawk Thinclads Defend Title Tonight

University high's Blue Hawks will be out to defend their Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference indoor track and field crown at the fieldhouse tonight.

This is the second indoor league meet since the forming of the new conference last year.

Blue Hawk Coach M. F. Carpenter does not have outstanding stars but will rely on "balance" for strength although the Blue Hawks' medley mile relay team, which placed sixth in the class B state indoor last week has possibilities.

West Liberty has the most potent team in the conference on paper with U-high and Mt. Vernon rating as strong contenders.

It is possible that many of the records posted last year may tumble tonight because they are untested.

Williams, Gavilan Clash In 10-Rounder Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Ike Williams, lightweight champion, and Kid Gavilan, Cuban welterweight contender, meet tonight in a 10-round bout.

Solid, sharp-punching Ike is a 5 to 8 choice to win the Madison Square garden "rubber" bout and become the top challenger for Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson's crown.

A capacity crowd of 18,000 paying $90,000 is expected for the non-title affair.

Iowa Faces 'Slow' Pool

Swimmers at the national AAU championships will buck a "slow" pool at Daytona Beach, Fla., this weekend, as the annual "indoor" championships are held outdoors.

Iowa Coach Dave Armbruster termed the water there "rough" after watching the wind stir the surface of the pool that is the bane of swimmers all over the country.

"Iowa is receiving commendations from coaches, fans and competitors," Armbruster wrote back proudly to his assistant, Jim Councilman, after the Hawks took second in the NCAA meet at Chapel Hill, N.C., last weekend.

Ohio State won the NCAA championship over second-place Iowa by 14 points, and scored 21 of those points in diving to seven scored by Iowa's Dave Brookway. It was a difference of 14 points that the Buckeye trio of Bruce Harlan, Jack Calhoun and John Simpson tallied over Iowa.

So, according to the figures, Iowa's swimmers actually tied the champion Bucks in the swimming department.

"The medley relay team simply flew," Armbruster wrote jubilantly. "Bow (Stassforth) was marvelous, doing a 1:01.0 for his 100. He gave a two-body length lead to Arch (Straub) and Archie won it with a body length to spare."

In the 400-yard relay, "Michigan just touched us out for second," Armbruster reported.

"Wally (Ris) did :50.0 for his 100. He's feeling great now."

"However," Armbruster added, "this pool does not look very fast."

McCracken Speaks To Local Hoopsters, Karl Leib Honored

The Iowa City Elks club entertained 13 Johnson county high school basketball teams at a dinner program in the Elks lodge last night. Principle speaker was Branch McCracken, head basketball coach at the University of Indiana.

Gifts were presented to Karl Leib, president of the NCAA, in recognition for his being named football's man of the year, and to Paul Brechler, SU's director of athletics, for his sportsmanship efforts.

McCracken told the high school cagers to go to college only if they had a definite purpose and then to go to that college which had the most to offer in meeting that purpose. He said the subsidizing of high school athletes is hurting athletics.

The Hoosier coach, who has just returned from the NCAA meeting in Seattle, explained the two minute rule on fouls adopted at the meeting and entertained the cagers with a number of anecdotes.

Basketball teams attending the banquet were from Iowa City High, University High, St. Mary's, St. Patrick's, Solon, Tiffin, Wellman, West Branch, West Liberty, Oxford, Kalona, Lone Tree and Cosgrove.

Scarpello Injured While Practicing For AAU Tourney

Joe Scarpello, Iowa's Olympic wrestler and Big Nine 175-pound champion, was injured yesterday afternoon during a workout when he suffered a knee injury.

Scarpello recently won second place in the NCAA wrestling championships at Ft. Collins, Colo., and was preparing for the National AAU tourney in Cedar Rapids, April 8 and 9.

Coach Mike Howard said last night that x-rays taken later in the afternoon showed a torn ligament and not a fracture as had at first been feared.

"He's been told to rest the leg for two or three days," Howard said, "then get another x-ray."

"I don't know if the injury will keep him out of the AAU or not," Howard continued, "We'll just have to wait and see."

The injury occurred during a workout when Scarpello was wrestling with Charlie Muhlstock, a freshman SUJ grappler.

The injury list grew to two when "Junebug" Perrin, 191-pound wrestler, and also entered in the AAU tourney, had x-rays taken of a stiff neck he has been unable to get rid of. No fracture was found but he too, will not practice for several days.

Frosh Swimmers Lose to Ohio State

Swimming without Don Watson, in Florida for the national AAU meet, and Ed LaBahn, out with a cold, the Iowa freshman swimming team lost its second postal meet of the season to the Indiana frosh, 47-28, Wednesday.

The Hawkeyes had beaten Indiana previously, 47-37, and a 46-38 victory over Wisconsin while losing to Ohio State, 51-19.

Iowa won the medley relay, and Wally Nicholson took the 50-yard sprint for the only Hawkeye firsts.

LaBahn, though he did not swim yesterday, is the leading freshman scorer with five first places and 32 points. Watson, who set present Iowa pool and school record for the 440-yard swim, is second with 18 points, followed by Nicholson, 15, and Jim Stith, 12.

Other scorers are Eldon Dahl, 10; Willis Weber, eight; Mel Hein, seven; Mike McQuire, Frank LaDue, Jerry Beardmore and George Yim, six; Jimmy Izu, five, and Will Lehman, four.

Scoreboards will be placed at each mat, keeping a running score of each match.

A rules interpretation clinic will be held April 7, with wrestlers, coaches and officials invited. On Friday evening the first round of competition will get underway.

Entry Blanks in Mail For ISTC 26th Relays

Gifts were mailed for the 26th annual Teachers college relays to be held at Cedar Falls, April 23, Art Dickinson, relays director announced yesterday.

Last year 877 athletes from high schools and colleges in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska and South Dakota took part in the relays. In the 25 relays held to date, 10,657 track hopefuls have competed.

Cubs Squeeze by Brownies, 7-6

Smalley Gets Eighth Homer

ALPINE, TEX. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs nosed out the St. Louis Browns, 7-6, in a continuation of their exhibition tour yesterday. The Browns made 16 hits, including two home runs, off three Cub pitchers.

The Cubs had the help of Roy Smalley's eighth home run of the spring season in the fourth inning to give them a lead they did not relinquish. Catcher Bob Scheffing was on base at the time.

World Champs Fall

TUCSON, ARIZ. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox beat the World Champion Cleveland Indians, 10-2, yesterday in a game called after five innings because of wind and cold.

The Sox got eight runs off Bob Lemon, a 20 game winner last season, in the third inning on five hits and five walks.

Indian Trainer Max Weisman ordered pitcher Gene Bearden to bed yesterday. Bearden injured himself Wednesday fielding a grounder, and Weisman fears the sciatic nerve was injured.

Senators Nose Out Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Four Cincinnati homers, good for eight runs, were not enough yesterday as the Reds fell before the Washington Senators 10-9.

The Rhinelanders outbit the American Leaguers, 16-13, including solo homers by Grady Hatton and Ray Mueller, and three-run circuit blows by Rookie Charlie Kross and Hank Sauer.

The Senators piled up an early 6-1 lead and extended its advantage with two runs in both the sixth and seventh inning.

Tigers Drub Bosox

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers slammed out 17 hits yesterday in a top-heavy 16 to 5 exhibition baseball victory over the Boston Red Sox, who played without five regulars.

Every Tiger except Marlin Sturtart, the starting and winning pitcher, and pinch-hitter George Kell hit safely at least once.

Eddie Lake and Paul Campbell of the Tigers and catcher Matt Batts of the Red Sox clouted homers.

The Red Sox left a flock of their top stars at home, including Ted Williams, Dom DiMaggio, Bobby Doer, Walt Dropo and Birdie Tebbetts.

Reds Slash Roster

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds slashed four players from their squad yesterday when they optioned infielder Benny Zentara to Syracuse of the International League and outfielder Steve Filipowicz and pitchers Jim Blackburn and Jim Avrea to Tulsa of the Texas league.

Following the optionings, the Reds bowed to the Washington Senators 10-9 in a game marked by wild pitching and heavy slugging.

OUT AT SECOND is Phillie Outfielder Richie Ashburn as Marty Marion takes the throw from First Baseman Glenn Nelson in a contest between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Phillies at St. Petersburg, Fla., yesterday. Ashburn had gotten on base through Second Baseman Red Schoendienst's error, but was erased on the next play which saw Gran Hammer smack into a double play. Umpire Scotty Robb watches. The Phillies won, 4-1.

Yankees Whip Champs

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Pitcher Frank Hiller's eighth-inning triple broke a 7-7 tie yesterday and helped the New York Yankees score a 9-7 decision over the National League Champion Boston Braves.

Get Five Runs in First

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS (AP)—Pouring five runs over the plate in the first inning against a former farmhand, Lefty Al Gerheauser, the Brooklyn Dodgers went on to an 8-1 victory over the San Antonio Missions yesterday before an overflow crowd of 10,000.

Pitchers Impressive

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Willie (Puddin' Head) Jones' double with the bases loaded in the seventh yesterday gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals before 1,410 fans.

Ex-Giant Ken Tinkle pitched shutout, one-hit ball for four innings and Hank Borowy was impressive thereafter.

BLIND FATHER COACHES SON TO BOXING CHAMPIONSHIP. Jackie Cameron (right), 17-year-old Mississippi boxing champion, holds the trophy he won as he poses with his father, H.H. Cameron. The father, blind for the past 13 years, coached his son in the sport. The father and son rarely miss sporting events, with the boy serving as the eyes for his dad and calling all the plays.

Grapplers from Coast to Coast Enter National AAU Tourney

The national championship AAU wrestling tournament, to be held in the Coe fieldhouse in Cedar Rapids, April 8 and 9, has drawn entries from coast to coast.

Several grapplers from SUI, including at least four varsity matmen and two freshmen, have been entered, while other entries have been received from many athletic clubs throughout the nation.

The entire facilities of the Coe fieldhouse will be devoted to the tournament, with both warm-up rooms and resting rooms for the wrestlers.

A former University of Minnesota wrestler, Chuck Worcester, will handle the microphone for the matches and wrestlers will have numbers so the spectators can identify them.

Scoreboards will be placed at each mat, keeping a running score of each match.

A rules interpretation clinic will be held April 7, with wrestlers, coaches and officials invited. On Friday evening the first round of competition will get underway.

Outstanding Women Receive Recognition

At Recognition Day ceremonies yesterday outstanding SUI women students were presented by Jean Gavronsky, University Women's association president. The annual program was in Macbride auditorium.

UWA presented four scholarship awards to women students with the highest cumulative averages in their respective classes. A $25 savings bond was awarded to each of the following women: Jane Brisben, Council Bluffs, 3.69, senior award; Janet Whisler, Manchester, 3.66, junior award; Mary Louise Anneberg, Carroll, 3.92, sophomore award; Mary Sue Orsborn, Red Oak, 3.88, freshman award.

Mary Vande Steeg, Orange City, who received a scholarship award last year, lead the junior class with a grade point of 3.75. Jean Gallagher, Appleton, Wis., 3.91, and Julia Ferguson, Shenandoah, 3.70, who both previously received awards, were introduced. Women may receive this award only once.

Betty Jane Rehmke, Oxford Junction, won the first annual Adelaide L. Burge award, a $50 savings bond. The award is being given by Mrs. Burge's sister, Katherine La Sheek, instructor in the SUI department of music. Mrs. Burge was the dean of women at SUI and gained national recognition for her educational work. The award is based on scholarship and citizenship.

Women elected recently to offices in all-campus organizations were introduced. Joan Tripp, Mapleton, and Mary Vande Steeg, Orange City, were elected as the two women delegates-at-large on the student council.

Anne Smith, Galesburg, Ill., will serve on the board of publications for a term of one year. Two women will serve as liberal arts senior class officers for 1950. Nancy Shuttleworth, Berkeley, Calif., will be secretary and Mary Vande Steeg will be treasurer.

Liberal arts women students elected to Union board are Mary Louise Anneberg, Carroll; Mary Cords, Ruid; and Betty Jane Johnson, Bedford; Jeanne Larson, Mt. Vernon, N.Y., was elected to the Union board from the college of commerce.

New UWA officers presented yesterday were Betty Jane Johnson, Bedford, president; Margaret Foster, Cedar Rapids, vice president; Elaine Jensen, Atlantic, secretary; Pat Morehead, Cedar Rapids, treasurer; Mary Reger, Iowa City, sophomore representative.

In the YWCA election, officers chosen were Virginia Burt, Ottumwa, president; Flo Robinson, Cedar Rapids, vice president; Nancy Shuttleworth, Berkeley, Calif., secretary; Frances Henderson, Oakland, treasurer; Madlin Melrose, Waterloo, finance chairman, and Marion Neff, Ames, freshman advisor.

Newly elected officers of the Women's Recreation association are Helen Falk, Washington, president; Corinne Major, Ottumwa, first vice president; Laura Shields, Red Oak, second vice president; Joan Blair, Colorado Springs, Colo., secretary, and Challie Thornton, San Antonio, Texas, treasurer.

Lois Gutz, Iowa City, is the new president of the Student Nurses organization. Other officers are Marjorie Lowry, Cedar Rapids, first vice president; Joy Lawrence, Cherokee, second vice president; Kathy Olson, Lake Mills, secretary; Mary Noel, Canton, Ill., treasurer; Kathy Proudfoot, Runnells, social chairman; Judy Hemmye, Burlington, activities chairman; Jessie Morris, Rockwell City, Hawkeye representative, and Jane Neibert, Fairfield, judiciary chairman.

Newly elected officers of the Home Economics club are Sally Clearman, Oxford, president; Carol Chopek, Iowa City, vice-president; Ann Fenton, Iowa City, secretary; Sonja Egenes, Story City, treasurer; Josephine Stoker, Keokuk, membership chairman, and Janice Payne, Exira, publicity chairman. Maxine Erickson, Boone, is the new president of Panhellenic association.

The vice president is Jean Gordon, Moline, Ill.

Independent Town Women presented three new officers. They are Catherine Welter, president; Ruth Jones, vice president, and Mariam Showalter, secretary and treasurer.

Donna Belle Jones, Missouri Valley, is the new president of Currier hall. Other officers are Pat Barnhouse, Newton, vice president; Elaine Jensen, Atlantic, secretary; Janet Ohsman, Cedar Rapids, treasurer; Mary Qualley, Des Moines, student council representative.

'Dudes and Dames' Prepare for SUI Show

"DUDES AND DAMES" PRACTICE A "WESTERNIZED BOLERO" for the folk festival in which they will appear at SUI tonight. The dancers are students from the University of Denver's folk dance club. They are traveling to St. Louis where they will take part in the national folk festival April 6-9. "Dudes and Dames" is directed by W.J. Tait, associate professor of physical education and director of recreation at the University of Denver.

Folk Festival Tonight

Denver Dancers to Appear Here

Dudes and Dames, nationally famous square dance club of the University of Denver, will present several dances at a Folk festival at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the women's gym.

The festival, an evening of American and European folk dances, is sponsored by the Hick Hawks club, a folk dance club of the Women's Recreation association.

A grand march led by Bill Buhs, G. Peekskill, N.Y., will open the festival. The program will consist of the following dances:

Hinky Dinky, American folk dance, Hick Hawks, led by Prof. Dudley Ashton, faculty advisor for Hick Hawks. Specialty numbers, Dudes and Dames, led by W.J. Tait, associate professor of physical education and director of recreation at the University of Denver.

Beseda, Czechoslovakian dance, Hick Hawks, led by Mrs. J. Korab, 729 N. Linn street. Rye and Blackhawk waltzes, audience participation, led by Professor Ashton.

Rattlesnake Shake, a Cumberland mountain dance, Hick Hawks, led by Mrs. Virgil Copeland, North Liberty.

Cumberland Square Eight, an English dance, Hick Hawks, led by Mary Feaver. English exchange teacher in the SUI physical education department. Caucasian Circle, English dance, audience participation, led by Miss Feaver.

Medley of dances for audience participation, led by Buhs and John Dane, Iowa City.

Lancers, dance from the days of the courts, Hick Hawks. Oyda Oyda, Russian folk dance, audience participation, led by Professor Ashton.

Music will be provided by members of Hick Hawks: Rufus Eimen, fiddle; his son Clifford, banjo; and Esther Taylor, piano. The festival is open to the public and no admission will be charged. Buhs, master of ceremonies, said.

The Nation Prayed —

'Nubbins' Dies Despite 'Grit'; Had Early Christmas in 1944

CHEYENNE (UP)—A little boy whom the nation prayed for almost en masse back in 1944 at the Christmas season died yesterday.

The end came for Forrest "Nubbins" Hoffman as he lay unconscious at his modest home here, attended only by his mother, Mrs. Marshall Hoffman. A lifelong kidney ailment had taken its toll.

"He wasn't in pain," Mrs. Hoffman said. "It's best this way. We know that he isn't in pain where he is now."

Marshall Hoffman, a railway mail clerk, learned of the expected death of his seven-year-old adopted son when he telephoned home from Green River, Wyo. He sped home aboard a streamlined train yesterday afternoon.

The boy was the Hoffman's only child.

The tiny lad—not much bigger than a normal three-year-old—has been ill all his life, but his illness reached a crisis in 1944. That fall, his parents thought he would die. So they arranged for a gala Christmas party more than a month ahead of the regular Yuletide season.

The story of the pathetic pre-Christmas party touched the nation's heart, and all over the country, people prayed that Nubbins might live. Thousands sent gifts—money, clothing, toys. The youngster's small bed was heaped with packages which even doctors conceded might be his final gifts. But the gritty kid got well.

Under constant medical care, he gained strength slowly and last summer, he was able to play for short periods with neighborhood children, but he'd soon become tired and have to sit by the window to watch the stronger and larger children of his own age play.

Most of the time "Nubbins"

FORREST (Nubbins) HOFFMAN

played with his dog, "Slippers," one of his pre-Christmas gifts back in 1944.

In October, 1947, the Hoffmans took a "thousand to one" chance that a life-or-death operation might let Nubbins lick the kidney ailment which had plagued him all his life.

Early this month "Nubbins" was taken to Denver for another examination, but was not hospitalized after he begged to be allowed to remain at home "as long as I live."

Dr. Miller Reports Increase in Measle Cases at University

The reported cases of three-day measles among University students has been "slightly on the upward trend" since January, Dr. Chester I. Miller, director of student health, said yesterday.

Thirty-six cases have been reported since the beginning of this year compared to 12 reported during the fiscal year 1947-48.

Dr. Miller pointed out most of the cases were "scattered" and so far no epidemic has developed. However, he said, "we've had more cases among students than we've had for quite some time."

The three day measles or "rubella" should not be confused with the red measles or "morbillo" which are the more serious and severe type, Dr. Miller said.

The three day measles develop following an incubation period of approximately two weeks after the initial exposure, he said.

At first the individual experiences the sensation of a head cold, the eyes water and smart accompanied by a sore throat, the director explained. The glands in the neck become tender and enlarged and in some instances a fever may develop.

The incubation period may last from two to three days followed by the rash which usually starts on the face and neck and extends over the entire body within 24 hours, Dr. Miller said.

Students developing such symptoms should check with student health, he added.

How Modern can Jazz get?
Listen to Skitch Henderson's latest waxing of "CRAZY RHYTHM"—a Capitol Recording... and you'll know the answer!

One of the hottest of the oldies, "Crazy Rhythm", comes back with a sock, the way Skitch and his band revive it! Skitch Henderson is great at putting a smooth-modern touch on an old favorite. And when it comes to cigarettes, Skitch has another long-time favorite—Camels! Here's how Skitch plays it: "Camels are mild and full flavored. I've smoked Camels for years."

How Mild can a cigarette be?
SMOKE CAMELS FOR 30 DAYS — and you'll know!

In a recent coast-to-coast test of hundreds of men and women who smoked only Camels for 30 days—an average of one to two packs a day—noted throat specialists, after making weekly examinations, reported

NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking

CAMELS

HOW MILD CAN A CIGARETTE BE? WELL, SKITCH, THE CAMEL 30-DAY TEST CONVINCED ME THAT CAMELS ARE THE MILDEST CIGARETTE I'VE EVER SMOKED!

I'VE KNOWN THAT FOR YEARS, NANCY! AND I GO FOR CAMEL'S FULL, RICH FLAVOR, TOO!

It's real harmony when Skitch Henderson and lovely Nancy Reed, his featured vocalist, get together and sing the praises of Camel mildness.

Money-Back Guarantee!
Try Camels and test them as you smoke them. If, at any time, you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you've ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund in full purchase price, plus postage. Panacea Musical Opens Tonight

Comedy Features Over 40 Students

Panacea's musical comedy "Olympic '49" opens tonight in Macbride auditorium at 8 o'clock with a cast of more than 40 students.

Additional evening performances will be given tomorrow and next Thursday and Friday. A matinee is also scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday.

A special preview was presented Wednesday evening before an invited audience of faculty members and student representatives. The guests were given blanks on which to register their comments about the all-student production.

The show is under the direction of Ray Hill, G. La Crosse, Wis., who is currently working on his master's degree in fine arts. Hill acted the part of the lion in "Androcles and the Lion" and had the lead part as stage director in "Our Town."

Writing, orchestration and direction of music was done by Jerry Daniels, G. Phoenix, Ariz. Daniels worked on USO productions during the war and is currently working on his doctor's degree in music at SUU.

Choreography for the show has been done by Jack Moore, A3, Monticello, Ind. An art major, Moore directed the choreography for last year's Panacea show and "Beggar on Horseback."

The Panacea production is an annual musical comedy using student talent and sponsored by the Student Council, Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Police Report Two Accidents Involving Local Cars, Trucks

Two trucks were involved in two local traffic accidents reported yesterday, police said.

A car-truck collision occurred yesterday at 12:30 p.m. as the truck backed out of an alley near 1017 Fifth avenue, the drivers reported.

Oral P. Fowler, and Leo Lewis, 1821 I street, were the drivers involved, police said.

Fowler reported that the truck he was driving was not damaged. Lewis said a garage estimate placed property damage to his car at $116.64.

The other car-truck smash-up happened Wednesday at 7 a.m. just south of the Quadrangle, according to police.

Harold R. Wilson, truck driver from Grinnell, told police he was about to back into a loading zone and J.N. Bhatia, G, was driving east on the drive when the accident occurred.

Bhatia reported damage to the front-end of his car amounted to between $200 and $300 and Wilson estimated $30 damage to the truck.

Mrs. Meintzer Dies, Lifelong IC Resident

Mrs. John G. Meintzer, 69, of 16 W. Burlington street, a lifelong Iowa City resident, died yesterday morning at her home.

Funeral arrangements are not complete. The body is at the Oat-hout Funeral home.

Mrs. Meintzer was born Pearl C. Burinek in Iowa City Feb. 19, 1880, the daughter of James and Anna Burinek. She was graduated from high school here and taught school here before marriage March 6, 1905.

Mrs. Meintzer was a charter member of the West Lucas Women's club and a member of Rebekah lodge.

Her survivors include her husband; a brother, Edward, Iowa City; two sons, Willis J., New York, and Russell G., Paxton, Ill.; one daughter, Mrs. Moneta P. Cromer, Rock Island, and four grandchildren.

Two brothers and two sisters preceded her in death.

SUI Alumnus Gets New Armour Post

Walter J. Armstrong, who was awarded a master's degree at SUI in 1941, recently has been named manager of Mexican operations for the international division of the Armour research foundation of the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Armstrong became associated with the program in Mexico in 1945. He was in charge of field and laboratory studies in Yucatan for the development of heneken fibers and their bi-products through 1946 and was one of the co-discoverers of a process for obtaining valuable heneken wax.

Since 1947 he has been in charge of chemical engineering phases of the work in Mexico City, assisting in designing a new laboratory there.

He is an active member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineering and of the American Chemical society.

Damage Case Ends; Court Awards $750 To Robert Carvutto

A $750 judgment against Edward Glenn Bushman and Margaret Bushman was awarded Robert E. Carvutto, owner of the Carvutto Furnace and Supply company, yesterday in Johnson county district court.

Judge Harold D. Evans ruled that the Bushmans should pay that amount to Carvutto after investigating damage claims of both parties.

In a suit filed July 2, 1948, Carvutto asked a $1,000 judgment against the defendants for labor and services rendered in installing heating equipment in their home.

The Bushmans later filed a counter-claim, charging Carvutto with improper installation of the heating equipment and asking $1,575 for damages to their property allegedly resulting from the installation.

The case was tried in December 1948 and after taking the matter under advisement, Judge Evans ordered the plaintiff to make certain repairs to the Bushmans' property before the court would issue a final decree.

In the final decree yesterday, Judge Evans ruled the defendants were still indebted to Carvutto for $750 with interest at five percent from date of decree.

Judge Evans ruled the costs of the action were to be shared equally by the two parties. Kenneth M. Dunlop was attorney for the plaintiff, E.P. Korab represented the defendants.

SUI Grads Train For Foreign Jobs

Two SUI graduates were among the 275 students enrolled this semester at the American Institute for Foreign Trade at Thunderbird field, Ariz., the institute registrar announced yesterday.

The SUI graduates are Floyd A. Woollis, '47, and George D. Miller, '49.

They are undergoing preparation for positions with the foreign divisions of American business firms or are preparing for governmental careers.

HANG TWO JAPANESE GUAM (P)—Rear Adm. Shimppei Asano, former Japanese fleet surgeon, and Cmdr. Chisato Ueno, former medical officer on Truk, were hanged yesterday for the execution of two unidentified American airmen on Truk in 1944. Both were convicted by a military tribunal in October, 1947.

National 'Y' Director Attacks Discriminatory Hiring Policies

Edward Carroll, national YMCA program director, told an FEPC rally last night in the Community building that the only way to safeguard the rights of the majority groups in America is to safeguard minority interests.

Speaking on behalf of the Sloane-O'Malley fair employment bill now in the Iowa legislature, Carroll said that in his native New York where an FEPC bill was passed in 1945, definite results have been shown against discriminatory hiring practices.

Ken Everhart, who was originally scheduled to appear at the rally sponsored by the Iowa Committee for FEPC, called rally officials late in the afternoon saying that the union bill which has come up in the legislature demanded his presence in Des Moines. Everhart is a CIO lobbyist.

Giving the views of a social scientist towards discrimination, Prof. Robert H. Talbert of the SUI department of sociology, gave the causes of discrimination and prejudice against minority groups.

He gave as some main reasons the convenience to certain industrial groups in keeping minorities suppressed, not for social reasons, but because of the advantage to them of paying lower wages.

Ralph Schloming, YMCA official at SUI, urged the establishment of local groups throughout the state to work for the enforcement of FEPC if passed in Iowa. These civic groups, he said, should be made up of representatives of all organizations to work locally in attacking the "grass roots" of racial discrimination.

Sherwin Markman, the final speaker on the rally's program, called on America to "practice democracy if she wants to sell it to the world."

Markman, treasurer of the Young Democrats, said that even though business men had "rights" in doing business, these "rights" end when they trespass on the basic right of other Americans — the right to work at their job.

Judgments Awarded In Vehicle Dispute

Frank Spratt, 1801 Morningside drive, and the Interstate Finance corporation were awarded judgments totaling $2,513.15 in Johnson county district court yesterday as a result of a suit and counter-claim against Paul H. Puckett.

Judge Gaffney awarded Spratt a $900 judgment on the basis of his lien against an auto purchased by Puckett for which Spratt held a promissory note.

Judge Gaffney also awarded the Interstate Finance corporation a $1,613.15 judgment against Puckett, though its lien against the auto was declared inferior to Spratt's.

Spratt named both Puckett and the finance corporation as defendants in his original suit, but the firm filed a counter-claim.

Bridge Collapses in West Virginia

FIVE MEN DIED when the almost-completed center section of the new Bluestone river bridge near Hinton, W.Va., collapsed yesterday. The five men were hurled into the river 150 feet below the span while four others were injured. Two men search the river for victims. The new bridge is to replace the lower structure beneath it.

Name Eleven Men to Freshman Orientation Executive Committee

Eleven men from housing units have been chosen members of the freshman orientation committee executive council, Chairman Jim Packer announced yesterday.

The orientation committee will plan events to welcome new SUI men students next fall and at the beginning of the second semester of the 1949-50 school year.

Chosen to serve on the new committee were Ross Williams and John Vernon, Quadrangle, and Dick Colville and Gene Glenn, South Quadrangle. Bob Hill and another man, to be chosen later, will represent Hillcrest on the committee.

Kenny Preiss and Bob Reeves, Town Men, will be members of the executive council. Fraternity men chosen are Larry Sjuln, Delta Upsilon, Bob Pfeifer, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tom Griffith, Beta Theta Pi, and Bob Gilmer, Phi Gamma Delta.

Keith McNurlen, Bob Meyer and Packer are representatives from the student council who will serve on the committee. All men who are now orientation council members will serve until a new group is selected next February.

Three-Pound Baby Boy Born to 11-Year-Old Girl

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gallinger hospital reported yesterday the birth of a three-pound, 15-ounce boy to an 11-year-old girl.

Hospital authorities said mother and child are "doing fine." The baby will remain in an incubator until it weighs five and one-half pounds.

SUI Delegation to Attend Home Ec Meeting

Nine members of the SUI home economics department will attend the Iowa Home Economics association's convention being held in Des Moines today and tomorrow. They are Prof. Sybil Woodruff, head of the home economics department, Phyllis Bennett, Helen Banner, Maxine McDivitt, Lula Smith, Shirley Wilkins, Emma Jaques, Dorothy Lewers and Urith Copeland.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SIR JAMES TAGGART was showing an Aberdeen visitor through a Sheffield cutlery factory. The proprietor offered him a beautiful pocket knife as a souvenir of the visit, but as it is thought unlucky to give a knife as a present, suggested a nominal payment of one half-penny.

The Aberdeenian's face fell, but he fished in his pocketbook, and extracted a penny. "I dinna hae a ha'penny," he explained, "but here's a penny. I'll take twa."

George Oppenheimer, the writer, prides himself on his knowledge of French. Dining at Maxim's in Paris recently, he summoned a waiter and demanded, "Garson, je desire une piece of bread et un peu de butter."

"I'm sorry, monsieur," answered the tactful waiter, "but I do not speak French." Oppenheimer thundered, "Then, dammit all, find me a waiter who does!"

Asks Students to Reserve Bus Seats Early

Students planning to go home by bus for the Easter vacation are requested to make reservations for seats on buses early, P.E. Spelman, Union bus depot agent, said yesterday.

The system of reservations for seats during vacation rush periods was used during the Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations last year and proved very satisfactory, Spelman said.

Advance reservations give the bus officials an idea of how many seats will be needed to carry all the passengers. Extra sections will be added on all regularly scheduled runs if the advance demand for seats indicates they will be necessary, the station agent added.

Claims No Surplus While Needs Exist

The money in Iowa's treasury is not a surplus while the state has needs that haven't been met, Frank Nye, associate editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette, told the Young Republican league last night.

Speaking to about 30 members in Schaeffer hall, Nye cited the lack of proper facilities at SUI and other state institutions as needs the state has not provided adequately for but should do so out of treasury funds.

Nye went on to describe the workings of the state legislature during this session. The veterans bonus bill, because it was not settled before the spring recess, created a "log jam" in other legislation, he said.

The way the bonus bill was passed shows the state is getting wiser in financing, Nye added. The bonus was financed by taking 30-million from the surplus and issuing $50 million in bonds.

Confusing Legal Terms Date Back to 1700's

By LEW HODGSON

Whereas the aforementioned party, hereinafter referred to as the party of the first part, has hitherto been known as a litigant in the aforesaid . . . Confused?

Don't curse your lawyer for using such big words in trying to explain Aunt Tilly's will, or some other legal matter, to you. He's not purposely trying to confuse you; the legal language is not a modern invention.

It all began — legal terminology, that is — in Merry England, long before William Shakespeare took up residence at Stratford-on-Avon.

Two English legal documents dating back to the early 18th century, and now hanging in the library of the SUI law school, indicate that our English forefathers also had to put up with innumerable whereases, hereinafters, and probably, lawyers too.

One of the documents in the law library was found in an English bookbinding in 1922, by the late Prof. Casper Rene Gregory, a New Testament scholar of the University of Leipzig, Germany.

Presented in 1923

The document was presented to the SUI law school in 1923, by William Gregory, the scholar's brother, who then lived in Westminster, Colo.

In an article in the 1923 Iowa law review, Prof. Percy Bordwell of the law school, explained the history of the document.

The document is a deed executed Dec. 11, 1724, between Katherine Gibbons, her son John, and his wife Mary of the city of Oxford. The deed conveys 48 separate pieces of land in the manor of Eynsham or Eynsham, near Oxford, Bordwell said.

The deed is an excellent example of the indenture and of the release which marked English conveyancing of that period, he pointed out. It is also a typical marriage settlement contract.

A Wedding Gift

The 48 pieces of land in the manor were apparently settled upon John Gibbons, by his widowed mother, upon the occasion of John's marriage to Mary, Bordwell said.

It is a characteristic of English law for centuries, he pointed out, for wealthy people to settle property upon their sons or daughters at the time of their marriage, or shortly after.

This particular deed was witnessed by two yeomen, who had the legal authority to see that the terms of the settlement were properly carried out, Bordwell said.

Written on Parchment

The document is of sheepskin parchment about 29 by 32 inches with the bottom edge folded over making a one inch margin, which is held in place by pieces of tape bearing the seals of the signatories.

Since the deed involved the action of more than one party, it is also known as an indenture, Bordwell pointed out. There is a wavy line at the top of the deed, from which it takes the name indenture.

It was customary in 18th century England to make two copies of the deed on the same sheet of paper and cut a wavy line between the two copies, Bordwell said.

Guarded Against Forgery

This practice guarded against forgery, because the two copies had to be fitted together at the indenture before any other legal transfer was valid, he explained.

On the back of the deed or indenture is an attestation clause signed by the two witnesses testifying to the sealing and delivery of the property. Tax stamps affixed on the side margin of the deed bring to mind the stamp tax of our own Revolutionary War period.

The other document which is now hanging in the law library is much similar to the Eynsham or Eynsham manor deed, but its history is not known, he explained.

The two documents have attracted considerable attention among students and practicing attorneys throughout the state. They are probably two of the oldest legal documents in existence which are still in good condition, Bordwell said.

At National Meeting in Cleveland — UNESCO Studying Mental Aspects of War and Peace

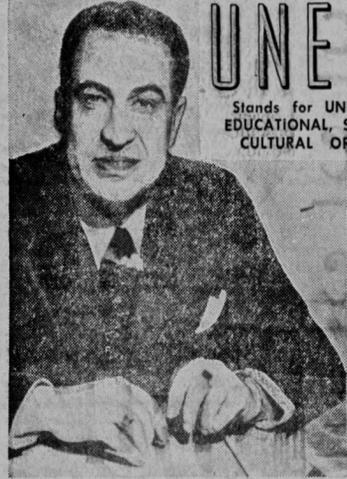

EDUCATIONAL—Aids in spreading the world's knowledge among the world's people.

SCIENTIFIC—Research, experimentation can bring better living to everyone in all nations.

CULTURAL—Exchange students like these help to spread the culture of their countries to others.

UNESCO

Stands for UNITED NATIONS EDUCATIONAL, SCIENTIFIC AND CULTURAL ORGANIZATION

UNESCO Director General Jaime Torres Bodet.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, UNESCO booster.

CLEVELAND—The second national conference on the United Nations education scientific and cultural organization opened here yesterday on the theme that "basic human rights and freedom are vital to the advancement of knowledge and the achievement of better understanding among the peoples of the world."

The three-day study is sponsored by the U.S. national commission for UNESCO, and has attracted hundreds of representatives from this country and overseas.

At formal executive sessions of UNESCO yesterday, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, chairman of the commission, appraised the work of the general conference of UNESCO last year at Beirut, and said "its successes . . . far outweighed its failures."

"Outstanding at Beirut," Dr. Eisenhower said, "was the improvement in administrative efficiency within the UNESCO secretariat."

GEORGE V. ALLEN, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, gave UNESCO an explanation why some proposed delegates to the New York Scientific and Cultural Conference for World Peace were barred from this country.

"Those granted visas," Allen said, "were official representatives of their various governments, with which we have friendly relations. Their governments asked for the visas and specified why they were requested."

"Those who were denied entry were not officials of their governments or were for the other good reasons not welcome in this country," he said.

DR. EARL J. McGRATH, recently-appointed U.S. commissioner of education, urged that a thousand American elementary teachers be sent to Germany to teach democracy and an equal number of German teachers brought to America to learn how democracy is taught and works.

"We should approach the problem of teaching democracy at the proper age level," McGrath said. "Fundamental attitudes in race, religion and politics are formed by the time a child is 14."

HIGHLIGHT speaker will be Jaime Torres Bodet, who resigned recently as foreign minister of Mexico to become director general of UNESCO. When Dr. Torres Bodet flew to Beirut, Lebanon, on December to accept this high post, he told the general conference which elected him that "UNESCO is the only one of the various organizations which claims to touch the individual directly."

Dr. Torres Bodet, the man who organized an intensive campaign against illiteracy in Mexico, told UNESCO's Beirut conference that he would "dedicate myself unreservedly to UNESCO's service." He asserted that the state must "build a bridge for understanding between man and humanity."

UN SPECIALIZED agencies concerned with education, economy and health, he declared, form three armies in the battle against "the greatest enemies of human progress: ignorance, hunger and disease."

Having Torres Bodet as a keynote at Cleveland, according to Dr. Eisenhower, "will give added impetus to a program which has already stirred the imagination of millions of Americans."

UNESCO's program for 1949 will be considered, particularly the interchange of persons, educational reconstruction in war-devastated countries, and consideration of UNESCO as the education arm of the United States.

The last day in Cleveland will be devoted to the 30-article Declaration of Human Rights adopted just before the united national general assembly adjourned at Paris.

The national commission for UNESCO, which is sponsoring the Cleveland session, has the responsibility of carrying out in the United States the program adopted at the general conference at Beirut. The scope of this momentous program is broad, including reconstruction, education, natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, cultural activities, communications and miscellaneous activities.

RECONSTRUCTION involves assistance in the education, science and culture of war-devastated countries. Co-operation of non-governmental groups will be sought. Steps will be taken to arrange duty-free entrance of educational materials. Employment will be sought for refugee intellectuals.

Priority will be given to the building and equipping of educational institutions. Methods will be sought whereby UNESCO can gradually turn "from reconstruction of war-devastated areas to constructive development of education, science and culture."

UNESCO's broad educational activities include maintaining seminars, improving textbooks and teaching materials, operating an information clearing house, arranging educational missions, raising standards of fundamental education and encouraging adult education.

Highest priority in UNESCO's natural science program has been given field science co-operation offices in the middle east, east Asia, Latin America and South Africa. Efforts will be made to popularize scientific information and to conserve natural resources.

International co-operation will be sought in the social sciences. One of UNESCO's important projects in this field involves inquiries into tensions affecting international understanding, into prevailing ideas, and into ways of changing mental attitudes.

THE HUMANITIES will be considered through philosophical roundtables, publications, comparative study of cultures and studies of scientific and cultural history.

UNESCO will encourage all types of cultural activities: international theater, music and visual arts organization; awards for best achievement in music, art, the humanities; exchanges of museum exhibits, and enrichment of libraries as centers for popular education and international understanding.

Communication projects will include the exchange of persons through scholarship, fellowship and teaching grants; research into technical needs of the press, radio and motion pictures; and removal of obstacles to the free flow of information among nations.

Psychological distances between peoples must be reduced if nations are to have peace. UNESCO is trying to lay the mental foundations of peace by revealing and removing the psychological causes of war.

NEW YORK (AP)—The pajama industry pulled its draw string a little tighter yesterday.

Thanks to the U.S. department of agriculture and its big mouth, the whole world now knows that 47 out of every 100 red-blooded American men don't wear pajamas when they hit the hay.

The pajama industry has known it for years, but it wasn't talking.

"Yes sir, the department of agriculture is 100 percent right," said Max Lovell, consultant and aspirin purveyor to the Shirt and Pajama association. "For 20 years now, there's been about half a pajama per U.S. male sold every year. It's positively indecent."

While the department of agriculture, reporting the results of a survey on what men wear and when, blabbed that 47 percent of the gents don't wear PJs, it had no idea as to what they do sleep in.

Well, the pajama industry has been in the dark about a lot of sleeping habits, but it has the answer to that one all right. The 47 percent are divided about 50-50 between those who are nocturnal nudists and those who

TO THE EDITOR:

Wednesday's campus election is a tragic evidence of how democratic America is not realizing its responsibilities. Out of more than 10,000 students in the university, approximately 25 percent voted.

There were five voting machines operating for 13 and a half hours. The total number of minutes people could have voted in was 4,050. Only 2,670 could have voted if an average person had taken a minute and a half in the voting booth. This shows that the election was mainly meant for a limited number of people.

It should be the job of the election committee to find ways to encourage voting. With some foresight, about 4,000 votes could have been polled in the election. There should have been a machine on the west side of the river.

Large numbers of students turned back when they found the voting lines too long. Others had to stand in line over half an hour before they could vote.

The idea behind using voting machines was to teach students how to use them. But, I, like other students, thought the affair was intended to be an election and not a tutoring course in the art of voting.

If the officials think that it is their responsibility to teach the use of voting machines, they might as well ask the university to offer a one-hour course. The committee at least should have had an engineer on its panel to advise them on the difficulties of voting by machine.

In conclusion, I should like to say that I and most of my friends thought the election was a farce for the entire community.

TO THE EDITOR:

I wish to take this means of congratulating Dick Dice, Bob Tyson, Joan Tripp and Mary Vande Steez on their well-deserved victory in the all-campus elections Wednesday.

Now that the election is over, the entire student body should unite and back the new council one hundred percent in order to help it become a real voice of the student body. We can all help by actively participating on the Student Council's committees and sub-committees.

Thanks also to The Daily Iowan for its fair and impartial treatment of the campaign news.

'Frisco Isn't Foggy, Wind-Swept, Indignant Local Lawyer Protests

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An Encyclopedia Americana description of San Francisco as a foggy city where winds of violent force blow stinging clouds of dust into citizens' faces provoked the angered protest of a loyal San Francisco attorney yesterday.

Lawyer Edward J. Lynch wrote a bitter letter to Mayor Elmer E. Robinson asking that action be taken against the scholarly publishing firm for maligning "beautiful San Francisco."

Lynch said he was confounded when the encyclopedia politely answered his direct protest and told him—of all things—that the information was furnished by the San Francisco chamber of commerce.

FEPCC Legislation Gains More Ground

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

The list of states with fair employment practices laws is growing. The laws are designed to prevent discrimination against workers because of race, creed or color. Moves to ban such discrimination in hiring or firing employes began during the war. They have gained ground slowly.

This is how the score stands to date in the 1949 legislative season: Fair employment practices (FEP) bills were introduced in 17 states.

They were approved in three states.

They are still being considered in eight.

They were defeated, killed or allowed to die in six. Ten states now have FEP laws. They were adopted in March by legislators in New Mexico, Washington and Oregon. They were put on the law books earlier—between 1943 and 1948—in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Kansas, Connecticut, Indiana and Wisconsin.

The laws have the same aim. But there are points of difference.

The Washington state act applies to employers in hiring or firing workers, and to labor unions in accepting or rejecting members. It sets up a five-man board to handle complaints, hold hearings, subpoena witnesses and issue orders to cease discrimination. Violation of a board order would be a misdemeanor.

The Oregon act covers employers, labor unions and employment agencies. Administration is put in the hands of the state labor commissioner. The maximum penalty provided is a $500 fine and a year in jail.

FEP proposals of various kinds now are being considered in Colorado, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Michigan, California, Illinois and Ohio.

Let's Tackle the Health Problem —

Opponents to the Truman-endorsed proposals for compulsory health insurance have been hollering that the prescription calls for over-potent medicine.

Since the whole health insurance controversy is being waged in the realm of social ideology, there is no safe ground, very little "middle ground" and certainly no single "right answer."

Until the other day, proponents and opponents of compulsory health insurance have been split in two distinct groups. The advocates — armed with impressive statistics showing the country's shortage of medical personnel and facilities and revealing the financial burdens of sickness — have been lustily defending the plan.

The opponents, led primarily by the American Medical Association, have been content for the most part to sit back and cry "socialized medicine," "threat to doctor-patient relations" and several other well-worn half-truths.

The argument comes close to being a perpetual motion machine. If left alone, the same charges, proposals, denials and emotional appeals could probably keep up for years.

Someone, however, has looked the situation over in an attempt to find that near-phantom land, the middle ground. While agreeing that medical facilities are short and costs are sky-high, this group also believes that compulsory health insurance, deducted from the nation's payroll, is unwise.

And since this group of men happens to consist of five senators — Hill (D-Ala.), O'Connor (D-Md.), Withers (D-Ky.), Aiken (R-Vt.) and Morse (R-Ore.) — it presented its proposals in the form of a congressional bill.

Emphasizing state and local controls, the bill is intended to stimulate present systems of pre-paid medical care, the group of plans commonly referred to as blue cross insurance. Federal funds would also be used to help the states "survey, coordinate, supplement and strengthen" their existing health facilities.

Instead of one big federal health system, the private, non-profit insurance plans would become the foundation of the program.

If a person were not in a position to pay any or all of his doctor and hospital bills through insurance payments, the government would make up the difference. The recipient of government aid would not be identified publicly. If he became unemployed, the government would keep his insurance payments.

Whether or not the plan is workable or acceptable is up to the public. Right now it stands as an alternate to nothing at all and compulsory health insurance.

Now that the public has three-way choice before it, the time is ideal to stop arguing sentiments and abstractions and to begin considering a practical solution to the nation's health problems.

Peaches, S... Marke

It cost slightly less than last week's price of 16 cents when the price was down to 15.97 cents. Last week's price was 16 cents.

The price of peaches was 16 cents. The price of sugar was 59 to 49 cents. Meat prices are current rigidly. Butchers are slow.

The grocery list was far from short. But most were looking of the month. Uncle Sam and buying vigor in the Daily Iowan index began in and is based on 24 food items downtown Iowa stores. It shows money a student will spend for the week.

Peaches, Sugar Down —

Market Index Drops 7 Cents

It cost slightly less for the student family of three to eat peaches sweetened with sugar this week, but aside from these two items local food prices held steady, today's Daily Iowan market survey shows.

Today's figure is $16.04, the lowest total recorded since Feb. 16 when the index figure slid down to $15.97. Last week's aggregate was $16.11.

The price of a No. 2 1-2 can. of peaches was down from 35 to 33 cents. Five pounds of cane sugar weakened a penny, from 50 to 49 cents.

Meat prices maintained their current rigidity and most local butchers reported business to be slow.

The grocery business in general was far from flourishing this week. But most local food retailers were looking forward to first-of-the-month paychecks from Uncle Sam and SUI to inject new buying vigor into their customers.

The Daily Iowan market basket index began in September, 1947, and is based on the selling price of 24 food items selling in seven downtown Iowa City grocery stores. It shows the amount of money a student family of three will spend for these items in one week.

Glockler to Address Chemistry Fraternity

Prof. George Glockler, head of the chemistry department will be one of five outstanding chemists to speak at the Phi Lambda Upsilon "Jubilee Symposium" at the University of Illinois April 9.

Glockler, a Phi Lambda Upsilon member for 34 years, will lecture on "Bond Energies and Bond Distances" at the meeting honoring the founding of the national honorary chemistry society 50 years ago at the University of Illinois.

In his lecture Glockler will tell chemists about the electrical forces which hold the atoms of a molecule together in chemical bonds.

Glockler explained that the study of how atoms are held together in the molecule is vital to the whole field of chemistry.

He began the study of molecular structure when working on his Ph.D. at the University of California in 1921.

Seven Die In Airforce C-47 Crash

EDGAR SPRINGS, MO. (AP) — Seven bodies were recovered yesterday from the wreckage of an airforce C-47 transport plane which crashed in a pond three miles south of here Wednesday night.

Coroner S. Claude Null, Phelps county, said the seven bodies included all persons aboard.

The military clamped a rigid security guard on the scene, barring all but local workers and a rescue squad flown from Scott field airforce base, Belleville, Ill., from the area.

The bodies were not identified. The plane was reported bound for Tinker field airforce base, Oklahoma City, when it crashed on the farm of Burvin Mace in the Ozark hills.

Home base of the plane was not known here.

The transport crashed in a storm. It narrowly missed Mace's house and hit his small stock pond, exploding on contact.

Most of the plane was in the pond, though the explosion scattered parts of it over a wide area. The bodies were recovered from the fuselage.

It was necessary to dynamite the dam and drain the pond before all the bodies could be recovered.

Mace said the plane seemed to strike "a heavy, black cloud." When it hit, he told authorities, "it seemed to spin around and crash straight down into the pond."

The plane's two engines were buried deep in the mud at the bottom of the seven-foot-deep pond.

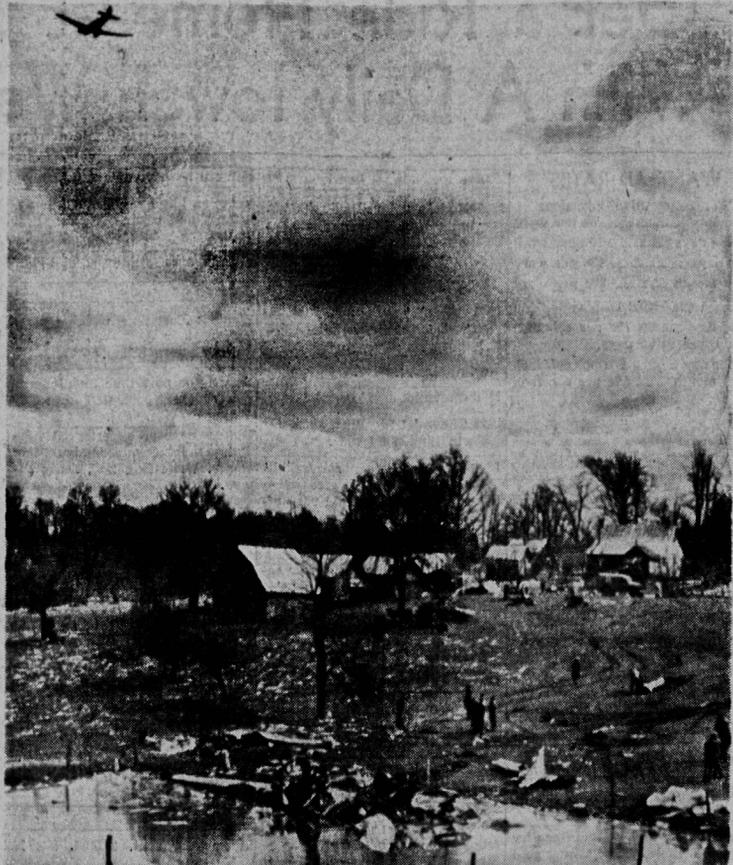

Mace's farm is only a few miles east of the sprawling reservation of Fort Leonard Wood and lies in the same rough, heavily-timbered sort of country.

Police Exam Applicants Deadline Set for Today

Today is the last day to file an application for police patrolmen's civil service examinations, City Clerk George J. Dohrer said yesterday.

Applicants have until five o'clock today to file their applications with him, Dohrer added. The date of the examinations will be announced later by the board of examiners.

C-47 Transport Crashes in Cattle Pond

SEVEN WERE KILLED when this airforce C-47 transport plane crashed into a cattle pond near Edgar Springs, Mo., Wednesday night. The plane missed a farmer's home without much margin of safety. Above the crash, another airforce plane scans the countryside for parachutes of any of the fliers who might have jumped to safety.

Mount Vernon to Lead Today's Play List

Today's Iowa play production festival program will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the University theatre with Mount Vernon high school's presentation of "High Window."

Mount Vernon's play will be followed by Scattergood of West Branch, "Happy Journey"; "Collins," "Red Flannels" and Vinton (Iowa school for the blind), "High Window."

Starting at 2 p.m. Waverly will present "Farce of the Worthy Master"; Nevada, "I'm a Fool"; Washington, "Gloria Mundi," and Oelwein, "Special Guest."

The evening program, beginning at 7:30, will include Emmetsburg, "The Pipes of Dunbar"; Cresco, "The Murders of Miriam"; Clear Lake, cutting from "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," and LaPorte City, "Grenachika."

PLANE STARTS AVALANCHE VIENNA (AP) — The roar of a low flying airplane started an avalanche in the Austrian alps which partially buried 13 persons, the Austrian press reported yesterday. None was seriously injured.

Woods Says New Rent Law Doesn't Mean Raises for All

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rent Director Tighe E. Woods assured tenants yesterday that the new rent law which goes into effect today does not mean "a general rent increase" for all of them.

He hinted, in fact, that because of the paperwork involved it may be some time before landlords get any increases under the new provision guaranteeing them a "fair net operating income."

In his first public statement on the new act, Woods agreed with President Truman that the law, taken as a whole, is a good one.

He said most of criticisms were aimed at "minor provisions or provisions which represent a new — but not necessarily weaker — approach to the problem of administering rent control fairly."

Discussing the provision for a "fair net operating income" is a landlords, Woods said it is sound from an administrative viewpoint.

"Nor does it mean a general rent increase for all tenants," he said.

Woods said the guarantee of a "fair net operating income" is liberalization of the present law which permits rent increases if landlords can prove hardship.

While the law leaves it up to Woods to decide what is a fair rent income, he said the provision will "take care particularly of any small landlords who feel they have been treated unfairly."

"It clearly does not involve any administratively unworkable plan of fair return on some valuation. It is merely a continuation of a trend in our adjustment provisions which has been taking place over the past two years," he said.

A new regulation instructing local rent boards exactly how to determine what is a "fair net operating return" will be issued as soon as possible, he added.

Easter Concert Set By SUI Symphony

The annual Easter concert of the SUI symphony orchestra and chorus will be presented in the Iowa Union April 6 at 8 p.m., Herald I. Stark, director of the chorus, announced yesterday.

The Brahms' "Requiem" and "Benedicite" by Ralph Vaughan Williams, a modern English composer, will make up the two-number program.

Vocalists will include Miss Penny Dykstra, A4, Alton, in a soprano solo and Harry Morrison, A1, Douds, in a baritone solo. Stark will conduct the concert by the combined orchestra and chorus.
