Easter - A Time to Look Ahead...

U.S. to Launch New Antarctic Expedition

Admiral Byrd Plans Trip, Reporter Says

WASHINGTON (P) — Secret preparations are being made for a gigantic American expedition to the Antarctic which may have far-reaching international consequences.

This expedition, it was said yesterday, may produce a formal American claim to strategic areas of the vast Antarctic continent.

The decision to dispatch a new U.S. expedition followed failure of American efforts to get agreement for international control of Antarctica.

Information that the decision had been made, and that preparations for the expedition are being carried out in strictest secrecy, was obtained from state and navy department sources.

The American preparation assumed particular importance in view of mounting evidence that the Soviet Union is planning to stake a claim in the Antarctic where according to Moscow radio "there is reason to believe that uranium is to be found." Soviet whaling fleets cruised the south Polar sea for months last winter.

Hitherto, the United States has made no claim to Antarctic territory and it has officially refused to recognize claims of other nations. Explorations by Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd and other Americans have, however, placed the United States in a strong position in the event of any territorial race.

(Commentator Ned Brooks of the National Broadcasting company said that Byrd, now 60, plans to lead another expedition to Antarctica.

(Brooks said Byrd told him that late next year will be the "earliest possible time for pushing off." The commentator said the expedition "promises to be the most spectacular of all time.")

(Byrd hopes, according to Brooks, to explore a 3-million-square mile section of the ice cap lying across the south pole from Little America which was Byrd's base in 1947.)

Landslide Panics Washington Town

SALMON BEACH, WASH. (P) — An earthquake-loosened cliff gave this little colony a breathtaking brush with disaster yesterday. A threat of another possibly disastrous slide continued to hang over the settlement of 108 homes, six miles from downtown Tacoma.

A side of a cliff broke loose and roared past the community at 2:55 a.m. It hit Puget Sound so hard it kicked up an estimated eight-foot "tidal wave" to wreck nearby small boats and waterfront installations.

There was only a 20-yard gap between the end house of the fishing and beach settlement and the edge of the tremendous slide, which was close to a thousand feet across. The roaring cliffside spread pre-dawn panic in the community.

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA (AP) — The Czechoslovaks freed Miss Vlasta Vraz yesterday in a move officially described as intended "to better Czechoslovak-American relations."

Nervous after a week in prison, Miss Vraz said she plans to leave the country as soon as she can close the Prague office through which she distributed more than $4-million in American relief supplies for Czechoslovakia since 1945.

One of her first acts after her release was to telephone an aunt in Berwyn, Ill., Mrs. Augusta Psenka: "I am safe and sound. I am leaving Prague for home in about two weeks."

The United States had protested sharply against the secret arrest of Miss Vraz last Saturday, demanded her release and asked to be informed of the "specific charges, if any."

Zdenek Fierlinger, acting foreign minister, told U.S. Ambassador Joseph E. Jacobs yesterday that Miss Vraz had been accused of complicity with persons plotting against the Communist government.

JUST A BIRD BRAIN

MT. PLEASANT, PA. (AP) — A bird carried a lighted cigarette into the attic of Clyde H. Achtezhn's house yesterday, firemen said, starting a fire which did more than $2,000 damage.

Decision in Eviction Case May Influence Thousands of Others

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — A municipal court decision in an eviction case upheld the new federal rent control law yesterday and may affect thousands of evictions started throughout the nation under the old law.

Judge Theodore B. Knudson's ruling came in what was believed to be the first court test of regulations enacted recently by congress. It was expected to halt more than 2,000 eviction actions in Minneapolis alone.

In a 10,000-word memorandum accompanying his decision, Knudson said congress still retains many of its warborn emergency powers, that it has the authority to legislate protection for tenants and that such legislation may be retroactive.

Knudson's ruling was made specifically in the case of Mrs. Luella Rebersdorf, landlady, versus Mrs. Helen Moffat, tenant. But court aides said other courts in the United States "undoubtedly" will consider the Minneapolis action in similar cases and that thereby "thousands of similar tenant evictions" issued under the old rent control law might be affected.

Mrs. Rebersdorf tried under the old law to oust Mrs. Moffat from one of her apartments. She said she wanted to occupy the apartment herself by April 1 and issued the proper notice.

But the new law, which became effective April 1, gave the federal rent director power to draft eviction regulations. Mrs. Moffat took refuge under these regulations, refusing to leave until Mrs. Rebersdorf secured an approval of eviction from the rent control office.

Mrs. Rebersdorf retaliated by having her attorneys begin eviction proceedings on grounds her constitutional "vested rights" were violated by the new law. Plaintiff attorneys argued that when the original eviction notice was issued in January, the new law was not in existence and therefore the eviction should not come under the new law.

Area rent attorney Alex Dim held that the action was constitutional even if it affected vested rights. Knudson's ruling yesterday upheld this contention.

Ford Workers Call for Strike Vote This Week

DETROIT (UP) — Workers at the Ford Motor Company River Rouge plant authorized a strike vote yesterday.

The plant employs 62,000 members of the United Auto Workers (CIO). Approximately 3,000 attended yesterday's mass meeting at which the strike vote was decided by a show of hands. The men first approved a strike vote to be taken this week. A secret ballot was then taken and showed 2,505 in favor and 92 against.

Airlift Planes Chalk Up New Hauling Mark

BERLIN (P) — Roaring in at 60 second intervals, American and British planes smashed the Berlin airlift record yesterday. The epic performance was ordered by United States Maj. Gen. William H. Tunner to show the Russians once more that their blockade was a failure.

In perfect weather the armada of four-engine transports flew in 12,940.9 tons of food and other supplies in the 24 hours period ending at noon, local time (5 a.m. CST). There were 1,398 flights and not one accident.

The planes flew in yesterday in narrow air corridors past Russian planes and troops going through their almost daily training maneuvers. Soviet planes fired at each other in mock war, made simulated bomb runs and tumbled out paratroopers, all within a few miles of the great allied air freight procession roaring by hour after hour.

A. W. Moran, the U.S. military government's economic chief for Berlin, hailed the achievement as dramatic evidence the siege laid down by the Russians last June was non-existent. He said 10,000 tons each day were enough to bring Berlin back to her pre-blockade living standards.

Yesterday's tonnage topped by more than 50 percent the previous record set last Monday when 8,246 tons were hauled into Berlin in 922 flights.

So fast were the pilots setting down on Tempelhof, Gatow and Tegel airports that the Russian controller at the four power safety center threw up his hands.

"Your flight pattern is changing so fast I can't keep my records straight," he said.

No one got a holiday. Desk officers in Frankfurt, Wiesbaden, Celle, Wunsdorf and the other bases moved into pilots' seats or took other crucial jobs.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander, described the performance as "marvelous," and a warning to the Russians that the airlift is able to keep supplies flowing on a pre-blockade basis.

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (UP) — Thomas Smalley, 50, Montgomery, N.Y. pleaded in police court yesterday to a charge of drunken walking.

"Your honor, I was doing my best to get out of town," he explained. "I had only 15 feet to go to reach the city boundary line, but I couldn't quite make it."

The judge gave him a suspended sentence and instructed him to try again.

Wallace Beery Dies at 65

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Death wrote a surprise ending yesterday to the rip-roaring screen career of lusty Wallace Beery, whose good-natured "aw, shucks," pulled movie fans into theaters for almost four decades.

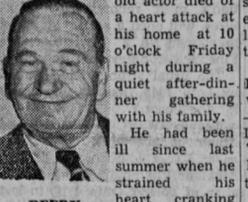

The 65-year-old actor died of a heart attack at his home at 10 o'clock Friday night during a quiet after-dinner gathering with his family.

He had been ill since last summer when he strained his heart cranking an outboard motor. But the end came with lightning speed.

"He was reading a book after dinner," his private nurse wept. "He seemed in very good spirits. Then all of a sudden he just crumpled before our very eyes."

He collapsed to the floor and died immediately. There wasn't time to do a thing for him.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Church of the Recessional at Forest Lawn memorial park, and Beery will be buried in his uniform as lieutenant commander of the naval reserves. Rev. Ross Shafer will conduct the services.

Ambassador Douglas Leaves Eye Hospital

He was lifted by stretcher into the ambulance from the hospital bed where he has been confined since a fish hook pierced his eye while he was fishing in Wiltshire April 4.

Outdoor Ceremonies to Attract Thousands; Fair Weather Seen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Christians throughout the world were united today in celebrating the age-old story of the resurrection.

Religious services to mark Easter were scheduled for spectacular outdoor settings, in the ancient cathedrals of Europe and in the tiny churches of crossroad hamlets.

Two hundred thousand persons were expected to gather in the Wichita mountains near Lawton, Okla., for what may be the largest outdoor Easter service in the United States.

Thousands will crowd into the centuries old St. Peter's church in Rome, Notre Dame in Paris and St. Paul's in London.

Celebration of the resurrection began yesterday in St. Peter's with the ceremonial blessing of the fire in the entryway to the basilica.

In Great Britain, western Germany, Czechoslovakia and some other countries the Easter week-end brought a four-day holiday.

For all of western Europe Easter meant rejoicing over a new blooming prosperity stemming from their own labor and from the European recovery program.

The voice of America plans a full day of Easter broadcast to countries in the Soviet bloc in Eastern Europe.

In the United States the weather man promised to cooperate with the traditional fashion parades and egg hunts. Fair and somewhat cool weather was forecast for nearly all of the country.

While the Lawton, Okla., outdoor service seemed destined to be the largest in the nation, 75,000 probably will be at Fort Lincoln in Washington, D.C.; 65,000 at Chicago's soldier field; 50,000 at Pasadena's Rose bowl; 50,000 at Miami's Orange bowl and 35,000 at the Hollywood bowl.

Impressive outdoor amphitheaters will be used for many ceremonies, some of them with a tradition running back for years.

These include the south rim of the Grand Canyon to the Colorado river in Arizona, the Garden of the Gods near Colorado Springs, the Park of the Red Rocks near Denver, Mount Rubidoux in Riverside county, California, Hot Springs mountain in Arkansas, and woodland sanctuary near Lake Wales in Florida. Some of these ceremonies will be at dawn.

At Rindge, N.H., an outdoor altar made of stones from flying fields all over the world will be used for Easter prayers. The site is a shrine to America's dead of World War II.

A cross of Easter lilies will be laid at the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington cemetery across from the Potomac from Washington. About 15,000 are expected for the services in the national cemetery.

President Truman and his family will spend Easter quietly with no guests at their temporary Blair house home. Margaret Truman, studying voice in New York, went to Washington for the week-end.

New York will have an all-nations service in Central park. Troops still guarded the way to the holy sepulchre in the old city of Jerusalem. Military authorities, however, made special arrangements for Christians to cross the lines to attend an Easter mass in the historic church there.

Romanian Regime Tightens Grip, Ousts 2 Non-Communists

LONDON (P) — Romania ousted its two non-Communist vice premiers yesterday in a shakeup which Balkan experts said ended the pretense of a "coalition" and gave the Communists total control of the country.

Two leading members of the Romanian Communist Politburo were immediately named to replace the ousted political leaders. A Communist already serving as first vice premier was not affected by the shakeup.

A brief announcement published in Bucharest said Vice Premiers Traian Savulescu, president of the Romanian academy of science, and Stefan Voicet, former Socialist leader, had been "released at their own request" to take up other important duties.

Romanian Foreign Minister Ana Pauker — the most powerful woman in the Communist world — and Finance Minister Vasiliu Luca were appointed to the posts. They will share with first Vice-Premier Gheorghe Gheorghedeu the task of running the country.

Romania's Premier Petru Groza is officially a member of the non-Communist Plowmen's Front. Balkan experts here said, however, that Groza is merely a "figure-head," and that the three Communist vice-premiers would direct all important government work.

Mrs. Roosevelt to Be Honored by Press Club

WASHINGTON (P) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and an 88-year-old grandmother are among six women selected by the women's national press club to receive its 1949 achievement awards. They will be presented by President Truman at the club's annual dinner May 14.

Mrs. Dorothy Williams, club president, in announcing the selections yesterday, said that "Grandma Moses" — more formally known as Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses, Eagle Bridge, N.Y. — is being honored "because she is widely recognized as one of the most popular and original painters of 1948."

University Hospitals Report Three Early Paralysis Cases

Three cases of polio have been admitted to the hospitals since March 27, University hospital officials said yesterday.

Gary Golden, 11 year-old boy from Dubuque, was the first 1949 case, admitted on March 27. He was discharged two weeks later.

His 8 year-old brother, Greg, was admitted April 7. His condition is good, hospital officials said.

Sharon K Bidwell, eight year-old Tama girl, is the latest polio patient. She was admitted April 12.

Doctors at University hospitals are making no predictions as to the severity or length of the 1949 season but they point out that April is early for the disease to appear.

Dr. W.D. Paul, chairman of the division of physical medicine said, "It is significant that we should see infantile paralysis so early in the season. Last year's epidemic was most severe. It is hoped that an early start of the season does not mean it will be another severe year. Of course, it is much too early to make predictions."

Last year's polio epidemic was the worst in Iowa's history when approximately 1,100 cases were reported. Over 225 patients with the disease were admitted to University hospitals.

Local and state funds collected by the March of Dimes were exhausted quickly and it was necessary to call upon the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for financial help.

The National Foundation sent many special nurses and physical therapy technicians to stricken areas. Its entire resources were exhausted because of the epidemic's severity.

Doctors at University hospitals urge that all persons familiarize themselves with available resources and be on guard for polio symptoms. They should seek the immediate help of their family doctor at the slightest hint of the disease, the doctors emphasized.

ANALYSIS OF THE WORLD'S NEWS AS —

IT HAPPENED LAST WEEK

Tragedy

Kathy, Blast, Quake: Disaster Toll Is High

Kathy — "And a little child shall lead them..." It's encouraging when in the midst of cold wars and scraps over appropriations, people can stop and worry over the heart-tugging plight of a little 3-year-old girl.

Kathy Fiscus was trapped 100 feet down in an old abandoned well just a short time before her father, David Fiscus, returned from the California state capital where he sought legislation to cap the kind of wells that trapped his daughter.

Workers labored more than 50 hours to rescue the girl who was dead of suffocation shortly after she fell into her narrow tomb.

Church explosion — At least six Palm Sunday worshippers died in a church explosion in Marion, S.D. More might have perished had the blast occurred during the services, church officials said.

The St. Mary's Catholic church was just filling with people when the bottle gas furnace — lighted to take the chill off the building — exploded, killing the six elderly worshippers and injuring at least 45 others.

Earthquake — An earthquake in the Pacific northwest resulted in $20-million damages, killed eight persons, injured hundreds and hospitalized 60.

Areas involved were Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. City officials in Seattle, hardest hit city, pegged damage there at $4-million. Washington university scientists called the quake number 8 in intensity. Number 12 is the strongest type known, one resulting in total destruction. A number 7 quake was the sharpest recorded here in many years.

Center of the quake was a 125-mile strip from Seattle to Longview on the Columbia river border of Oregon, but the quake was felt 300 miles across the Cascade mountain range.

Congress — Truman — President Harry Truman this week completed his fourth year in office by paying a social call on the senate and posing for anniversary photographs.

He drew congressional fire later in the week when he told newsmen he expected the government to be more than $1-billion in the red by June 30. Later, however, the White House cut the estimate in half.

The agriculture department was cheerful over impending surpluses. More than one billion bushels of wheat are surplus this year, the second largest surplus on record. Twenty-three percent more cattle are on grain feed for the slaughter market over a year ago.

The Agriculture Secretary Bran-nam told congress direct payments to farmers under the new proposals would benefit the entire nation.

Marshall Plan — ERP countries got a $5,380-million lease on life from congress but not until southern senators got their beloved hominy grits off the export lists.

Senator Gillette of Iowa tried to get the hominy grits off the Europeans, but southerners feared a shortage of their delicacy at home.

Western European Nations — Sent to the senate this week was the north Atlantic defense pact. President Truman urged senators to pledge U.S. partnership in the pact as a long step "on the road to peace."

Ratification wouldn't bind the nation to war against any ag-action scheduled debate on the administration's repeal of the Taft-Hartley bill for April 26.

Rep. Wood (D-Ga.) threw in a monkey wrench counter proposal which may snarl the debate procedure come April 26.

Natural resources — A $2,500-million appropriation came out of the senate for TVA's new Jacksonville, Tenn., steam plant. And the chief executive called for congressional action to create a Columbia Valley administration to develop and conserve natural resources in the Pacific northwest.

The administration proposal would transfer all present governmental activities of construction and operation of facilities of the Columbia river to a new government corporation.

House members were generally

by this coming week, President Truman reported.

The January budget estimate for deficiency appropriation was a little over $3-million, but the emergency fund mushroomed another $2-million because of increasing veterans' unemployment.

Labor

Pressmen Win Boost; Engineers Ask 'Rider'

Higher wages and extra men—Washington pressmen, Canadian west coast maritime workers, the railroad engineers — all figured in labor news this week.

Washington pressmen won a $6 weekly pay boost, shorter hours. Maritime workers battled picket lines for 15 minutes, hurt one man and got their ship unloaded.

Locomotive engineers scrapped for an extra engineer on diesel engines but didn't decide to call a strike.

Iowa

Legislature Quarrels; Tax Rates Retained

Appropriations — The Iowa legislature passed whittled-down appropriation bills for education in Iowa, yelled for more doctor graduates from SUI, decided to investigate the university, decided not to, and couldn't agree when to adjourn.

Governor William S. Beardsley took what seemed to be the only positive action of the week when he signed legislation limiting the terms of future county tax assessors to four years. He also provided a new method for their appointment.

Income tax — The state senate passed a bill to retain the present 75 percent income tax. The measure was rushed through the senate because, with adjournment approaching, action had to be taken or the rate would revert to the 100 percent basis of collection.

Divorces — Judge Harold D. Evans decided not to grant any divorces during Holy Week.

"I don't believe the Lord approves of divorces," Evans declared, "so I will respect what I believe to be his wishes."

Fire fighting — Fire Chief Richard G. Swope quit his job in Ashland, N.H., in disgust. He claimed the fire department was more a social club than a fire company since firemen installed a bar 22 months ago.

City council — City employees got a 10 percent across the board pay hike by city council action last week.

The council also authorized a $3,000 expenditure to revise the municipal code.

South Capitol street and the Burlington street bridge will get a face lifting by order of Iowa City aldermen. Capitol street widening was ordered to make way for heavy traffic after the Benton street bridge is opened this summer.

"I've been battling for CVA for years," rejoiced Senator Glen Taylor (D-Idaho). "This is the best news in some time."

Senator Taylor also decided last week that he's all through with the Progressive party, that he will run in 1950 as a Democrat again.

National Health — Republican leaders introduced a counter bill on national health which would give the states federal money for better medical care.

Under the Republican plan, states would be able to spend up to 25 percent of their grants to help develop voluntary health insurance plans, improve diagnostic facilities and offer doctors "incentives" to practice in low-income areas.

Veterans — Congress kicked in $595,890,000 to bolster a sagging veterans administration. Rising costs of veterans' education and unemployment got the blame for the VA's flat pocket book.

Vote Strike End; Rail Men Go Back

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York City's railway express agency workers ended their five-week-old strike Saturday.

A meeting of some 3,200 members of the AFL brotherhood of railway and steamship clerks voted unanimously in favor of the back-to-work proposal.

A presidential fact-finding board is to consider the union's demands starting Monday. The union asked a four-hour cut in its work week to 40 hours, consecutive days off and a 25 cents an hour pay raise. The company offered a staggered, 40-hour week and seven cents an hour. The company's offer, a pattern proposal, is in force outside of New York.

New York City's brewery workers' remained on strike against 12 plants. One plant and the CIO united brewery workers union reached a contract agreement Friday. Some 6,000 employees of the breweries have been out 14 days. They ask a pay boost, a pension plan and other concessions. A $3 weekly raise and night differential was turned down Friday by the union.

A series of small disputes brought on an early Easter holiday for some 45,000 United Automobile Workers in the Detroit area. A variety of reasons covered the dispute. Some workers left their jobs to attend holiday church services, others were involved in an employee's disciplining, still others were laid off by parts shortages in other plants.

Mrs. Ybarbo Whisked Home to Her Son

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (AP)—Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo, 23, left in an army plane yesterday for Westover field, Mass., and an Easter morning reunion with her six-year-old son, Jimmy. She has not seen him since Christmas eve.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay freed Mrs. Ybarbo Friday from her five year prison sentence for the fatal shooting of Sgt. John Ybarbo, Goliad, Texas, at the climax of a GI-Fraulen drinking party in their home.

Clay ruled that Ybarbo's death was the result of the sordid environment in which the attractive Malden, Mass., mother was forced to live after she joined her husband in a Fritzlar, Germany, army billet. Clay said she should not be separated from her son. Mrs. Ybarbo last saw Jimmy Christmas eve when he visited her in the barred hospital room which has been her cell since she was arrested last Sept. 2. He was told only that she was sick.

Whisked home by plane, he has been cared for by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Charley Bailey, New Bedford, Mass.

Ceramics Hobby Is Profitable

The hobby of an Iowa City woman, making shoes out of clay, is described in an article in the May issue of "Profitable Hobbies" magazine.

The article, written by Milliecent Righter, graduate student in journalism, explains how Mrs. Frank H. Lorenz's hobby of ceramics may soon turn into a small business.

The day Mrs. Lorenz's first shoe was placed in the window of the Lorenz Brothers Inc. Shoe store, for display purposes, a man asked to buy it, the article said. Recently Mrs. Lorenz shipped her first order of a dozen shoes to an art shop in Richmond, Ind.

Her interest in making shoes is partly due to the fact her husband has been part owner of the Lorenz Brothers Inc. Shoe store since 1919. According to the article each shoe has a handmade touch for no shoe she has ever made is exactly like another.

Mrs. Lorenz, 435 Grant street, makes tall boots in pale rose colors, blues and golds; slippers with bits of lace and flowers; large and small shoes, and some of the type that hold old-fashioned velvet pin cushions.

A general favorite among her shoes is a delicate replica of an old Chinese embroidered shoe in jade green, red, blue and gold, the article said.

Modeling a shoe is only the beginning, Mrs. Lorenz said, and ceramics does take time. Each shoe must be painted and baked. A shoe may go to the kiln three times before it is finished. Each time it is baked, a different color is added.

The price of her shoes varies depending on the cost of glazes and work involved.

Council May Award Garbage Collection Contract Tomorrow

A contract for garbage collection and disposal in Iowa City may be awarded at the city council meeting tomorrow night in the city hall at 7:30.

Deadline for filing bids for a garbage contract is tomorrow afternoon at 5. The bids will be opened at the council meeting and a contract will be awarded if the council finds a satisfactory bid.

City Clerk George J. Dohrer was directed at the April 4 council meeting to advertise for bids for a private contractor to collect and dispose of Iowa City's garbage.

Passage of the ordinance to lower gas rates to Iowa City consumers will probably go through without a hitch, several aldermen had said by yesterday. The proposed ordinance was given its third and final reading at the April 11 council meeting, but aldermen delayed passage to give new members a chance to study the proposal.

Passage will lower gas rates gas rates about three percent.

Termite Damage Mounts

Property Owners Aroused as Insects Invade Masonic Temple, Church, Two Homes

Recent termite extermination in Iowa City's public library and Community building has stirred nearby property owners to inspect their buildings for termites. The net result to date has been discovery of four more buildings with infestation.

The Masonic temple just across the street from the library was inspected by the Beal Terminex company this week and termites were discovered in the basement.

Glen Fountain, custodian, said yesterday he had discovered some termites in old lumber in the furnace room about a month ago. J. Lorton of the extermination company said there were also termites in the brick walls of the structure.

M.C. Boyer, junior warden of the Trinity Episcopal church across the street from the Community building, found termites in the church and parish house after an inspection by the exterminators.

Mrs. J.E. Switzer had her two houses at 336 S. Dubuque street and 214 E. Court street remedied and found termites in the foundation of both. Mrs. William Meardon lives in an apartment house on the South Dubuque street residence.

These four buildings with termites are not more than three blocks away from the sites of the Community building or the public library.

There is a fifth possibility where termites may have infiltrated but nothing definite is known yet.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Patrick's church, had his buildings inspected about three months ago, he reported yesterday. At the time, the company could tell him nothing definite. The inspector told Msgr. O'Reilly he would return in the spring and re-inspect the premises.

Termites are generally more active in the warmer months, the inspector said.

St. Patrick's is in the 200 block on E. Court street, near the Switzer property which is already found to be termite-infested.

ROOM AND BOARD

THIS WEEK'S music

By DONALD KEY

The program for the piano recital of Dorothy Eustis, to be held Wednesday evening in City high school auditorium, includes some familiar and some lesser known piano works.

"Sonata quasi una Fantasia" by Ludwig von Beethoven is listed on the first half of the program. The opening strains of his number will identify it for many as the "Moonlight Sonata."

This work does not adhere to the formal sonata form for it is not divided into separate movements, but is continuous throughout. The last sections, in contrast to the sustained opening, are in a jovial mood.

Three sonatas of Domenico Scarlatti, in B flat Major, F minor, and A major, will be of interest to many listeners. These numbers, originally written for harpsichord, are bold in style, yet light, delicate and often humorous.

It is interesting to note that, despite the fact that Scarlatti was a life-long friend of Handel, their music is almost in direct opposite. Handel's works are inclined toward the pompous but Scarlatti's are of a more frivolous nature.

Piano music of Claude Debussy, always a favorite with American audiences, will be represented on his "Prelude in A minor," from "Suite pour le Piano."

The work is full of color, and shows clearly Debussy's vigorous imagination. It is noted for difficult fingering and passages with novel uses for the pedal.

"Jeux d'eau" by Maurice Ravel and "Etude in E major" by featured on the last half of the program. The former is a descriptive number, a musical picture of a fountain.

The latter is impressionistic, with desolate harmonies approached romantically.

Also listed on the recital program, are three of the later works of Johannes Brahms, "Intermezzo, Opus 118," "Intermezzo Opus 118," and "Capriccio, Opus 116."

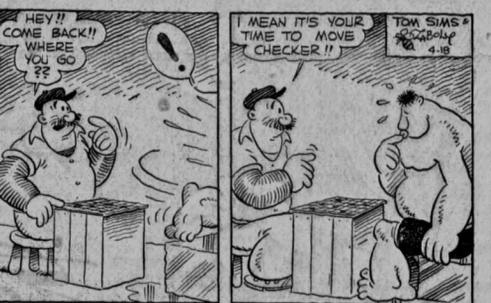

Drake University's Concert Band, now on tour, will be giving a program at Tipton on Thursday. Their program includes "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" by J.S. Bach and "Bolero, Opus 12" by Moszkowski.

The concert will be held at Tipton high school and is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Eggs Galore at Easter Contest

Judges Pick Four Winners

The children's reading room of the Iowa City public library was a confusion of pre-Easter activity yesterday afternoon — but there was an extra buzz of excitement among the 45 to 50 wide-eyed youngsters.

An Easter Egg decorating contest for age groups of 6 to 9 years and 10 to 12 brought many pint-sized Iowa Citizens to the library, carefully bearing their contest entries.

About 50 eggs were nestled in green paper grass on two tables set up by the library staff. The younger generation flocked from one table to the other and proud owners pointed to their eggs hopefully.

Lois Tjernagel, 11, 1016 E. College won the prize in the 10 to 12 age group. Her entry was a Humpty Dumpty egg, clad in a red suit with a green necktie and perched dangerously on the traditional wall.

In the six to nine year division, Deborah Boeye, 9, 830 N. Dodge, won first prize. Her egg was decorated as an Easter rabbit — wearing a pair of horn-rimmed spectacles. "The glasses were my sister Judith's idea, so I'm giving her half the prize," Deborah said.

David Ebel, 8, 1020 Kirkwood court, won second prize for an Indian egg, complete with black hair, red feather and colored head band. "I took the hair from a halloween mask for the Indian," David explained.

Alice Conwell, 9, 337 Ferson avenue, won third prize for a blue Easter egg, decorated with pink shells in a flower design. She and the other winners were presented with large chocolate Easter eggs.

Bill McBride, Daily Iowan columnist, and Dick Spencer, University Information service, deliberated carefully as contest judges.

McBride told his youthful audience, "All the entries were pretty fine and the winners did a particularly nice job."

Among the multi-colored entries inspected by the judges were a Mickey and Minnie mouse, a purple butterfly egg, and a lady wearing a paper dollie hat.

"All the eggs will be sent to the University hospitals," Mrs. Norma Carney of the library staff said. "We had intended to send part of the entries to Children's hospital and Mercy children's ward but found they had already made arrangements for Easter eggs."

TRUMAN SIGNS BILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman yesterday signed legislation providing $595,890,000 for education and unemployment benefits to veterans for the next three months.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THERE was a bit of a mystery in Cambridge, Mass., some years ago, and Charles Morton, of the Atlantic Monthly, tells how it was solved. One of the town's leading churches boasted a clock with a fine set of chimes that rang out perfectly every hour on the hour. Perfectly, that is, twenty-three hours out of the twenty-four. At midnight, folks noticed that the chimes were ringing thirteen times!

The mechanism was checked and rechecked to no avail. Then one canny inspector noted that the church adjoined one of the dormitories of fair Harvard. He established an outpost in the belfry and trained his binoculars on the dormitory windows.

Sure enough, as the first chimes of midnight rang out, a light went on in one of the windows and disclosed a whimsical undergraduate, equipped with a .22 rifle and a homemade silencer. As the twelfth chime of the clock sounded automatically, the undergraduate took careful aim and added the thirteenth for luck.

Chamberlains Wed Seventy Years; Hold Reception for Guests

Seventy years ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Ira Chamberlain, North Liberty, were married. Celebrating their second diamond wedding anniversary Mrs. Chamberlain, 89, and Mr. Chamberlain, 90, were honored at an open house given by Mrs. E.A. Putnam, 1822 Friendship avenue.

Attending the reception were between 75 to 100 guests and Mrs. J.B. Brown, 88, Solon, who was Mrs. Chamberlain's bridesmaid in 1879. The only other person attending the reception who was also present at the wedding was B.V. Bridenstine, Iowa City, half brother of Mrs. Chamberlain.

Mrs. Chamberlain greeted guests from her bed where she has been an invalid for the past year in the Putnam's Nursing Home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain were born and lived in North Liberty until recently. Mr. Chamberlain was engaged in farming.

An announcement of the couples long marriage will be made by Dr. L.L. Dunnington, pastor of the First Methodist church, at 10:00 a.m. today over KXIC. The broadcast is being sponsored by members of the faculty of Wesleyan Methodist college at Mt. Pleasant.

Business BRIEFS

The Easter vacation tull descended upon local retail business last week as SUI students vacated Iowa City en masse.

Book stores, restaurants, grocery and drug stores were hit hardest, but all stores felt the pinch to some degree.

Many restaurants closed their doors for all, or part of, the vacation period.

The Capitol, Renaldo's and Maid-rite cafes closed beginning Thursday morning. They will open tomorrow.

Smith's restaurant also closed Thursday and will not open again until Tuesday morning.

The newly redecorated Huddle at Hotel Jefferson will open officially today. The walls of the room were completely repapered and repainted and new booths were installed. Anew front for the Huddle, replacing the door with a solid front, will be built later, George Davis, hotel manager said.

Leveling of the ground for the new Iowa City Drive-In theatre began last week but little work was done because of the poor weather, Leonard Caplan, supervisor of the construction said.

Opening date for the new theatre has not been decided yet, Caplan said, but it will be sometime in early May.

Love-Crazed Suitor Kills Girl's Father, Fires at Policemen

MERRICK, N.Y. — A love-crazed suitor who had been rejected by his sweetheart's family broke into her home early yesterday, killed her father and then held her hostage for more than an hour while he took pot shots at 100 policemen surrounding the house.

It took six tear gas bombs and promises that he would not be harmed to get DeWitt Combs, 22, out of the house.

Combs, 22, a handsome, tousel-haired ex-Marine now employed as an aircraft machinist, killed Francis Fay, 58, a retired businessman and a crack marksman, with one of Fay's own shotguns, police said. The girl, Rita, 21, and her mother, Mrs. Carolyn Gay, 51, were wounded slightly. Rita's sister, Betty, witnessed the tragedy but was uninjured.

Police said Combs had been dating Rita recently over the objections of her parents. He apparently decided to have a showdown with Fay and on the spur of the moment left his Wantagh, N.Y., home Friday night to talk to the father.

Police said Combs broke into the Fay's Long Island home through a cellar door. Fifty policemen and 25 state troopers were rushed to the scene. They threw six tear gas bombs into the house before Combs stopped firing.

Says Vatican Opposed To War with Russia

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican newspaper Observatore Romano said yesterday the Roman Catholic church is opposed to a war against Russia and communism because it abhors war and believes it is "folly" to try to destroy an idea by force.

In a special 3,500 word article devoted to Pope Pius XII's work for peace, the newspaper called Cominform charges that the Pope and church supported war a "perfidious offense and calumny."

Thief Steals $1,600 From Horse Dealer

Police were still searching late yesterday afternoon for the man who allegedly stole $1,600 from a trucker at Marengo Friday night and who was believed to have ridden in an Iowa City cab to Chicago yesterday morning.

The alleged thief, Thomas Calhoun, 25, Benton Harbor, Mich., robbed $1,600 from A.D. Brink, a horse dealer from the same town who had given Calhoun a ride from California.

At Marengo, the men slept in a rooming house. About midnight Brink told Iowa County Sheriff Milford Engelbert, he awoke to find both Calhoun and the rest of money gone.

Sheriff Engelbert said Calhoun made his way to Iowa City, where he rented a taxi to Chicago at about 3 a.m. yesterday morning.

Calhoun was identified as 25 years old, five feet six inches tall, and had "black bushy hair." He was bareheaded and wore a khaki shirt, a gray jacket, and black field boots.
