Iowa's 1949 Legislature Stops Clock

DES MOINES (AP) — The record will show that Iowa's 1949 legislature adjourned at 4 p.m. yesterday after 101 days of work, but lawmakers borrowed time by stopping their clocks until accomplishments catch up with the hour.

The 53rd general assembly pondered major appropriation bills and gave ready approval to a flood of minor measures cluttering their calendars in a stepped-up pace designed to complete their work at least by next week.

Senators passed and sent to the lower chamber a bill appropriating $2,450,893 for capital improvements at state board of education institutions during the next two fiscal years.

Gov. William S. Beardsley had recommended an appropriation of $4-million to cover such costs. A bigger contrast was shown in requests made by the board of education, which asked $32-million for an expansion and modernization program.

Appropriations approved by the Iowa State Teachers college; $560,000 for the University of Iowa; $96,000 for Iowa State college; $274,893 for Oakdale sanatorium; $180,000 for the School for the Blind at Vinton, and $100,000 for the School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs.

Some lawmakers hoped to complete work either by today or tomorrow.

University ROTC To Be Reorganized On or About July 1

The university ROTC program will be reorganized under a new plan effective on or about July 1, a SUI military department official said yesterday. The plan will affect more than 1,300 students annually enrolled in the course.

Reorganization will place the ROTC program on a level with that of the army, the official disclosed, and will result in greater specialized training for those engaged in the reserve officer training program.

At present, the program provides a common plane of training for the two branches during the first two years of training. The official said the new plan will provide separate training for air and ground cadets following one year of training on a common plane.

The air cadet groups will be subdivided into separate units training in administration, controlling, and mechanical engineering, he explained. The ground cadets will likewise be subdivided into units training in engineering and infantry subjects.

In all likelihood, Col. W.W. Jena, military department head, will still remain the commanding officer of the two service branches, an official reported.

Truman Names Kirk Ambassador to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice Admiral Alan G. Kirk, poker-faced sailor-diplomat, was named ambassador to Russia yesterday as the United States held the door open for any real peace move by Moscow.

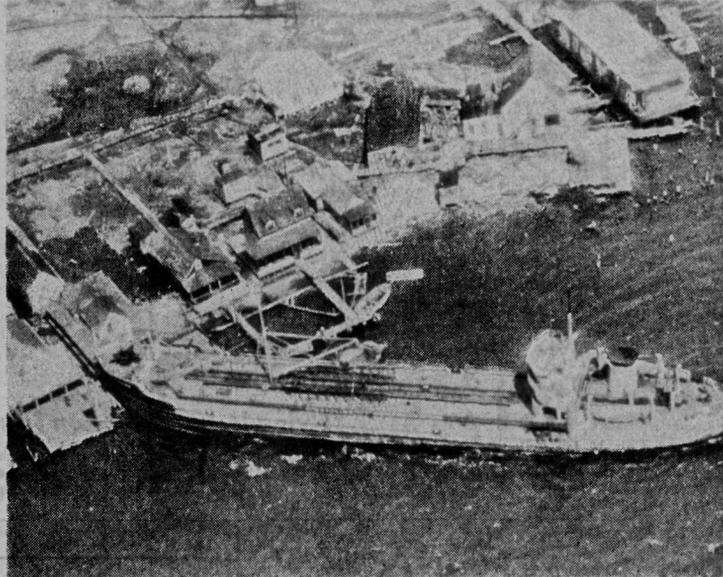

Kirk, 60-year-old retired naval officer, has been serving as ambassador to Belgium and minister to Luxembourg. He succeeds Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, who asked to be relieved from the Moscow post and who now commands the First Army in New York.

Robeson Says Negroes Would Not Fight Russ

PARIS (AP) — Paul Robeson, American Negro singer, told the Communist-inspired world peace congress yesterday that American Negroes would never fight the Soviet Union.

His resonant voice injected the first fire into an otherwise monotonous opening session that heard repeated attacks on the Atlantic pact, the U.S. atomic policy, the Marshall plan and "Anglo-American capitalist imperialism" from a series of speakers.

Robeson brought the 2,000 delegates from 52 or more countries to their feet in cheering applause with his call for

Tanker Goes Calling on Boardwalk Home

RESTING AGAINST A BOARDWALK, the 1,100-ton tanker F.L. Hayes lies grounded in front of the home of Harry Pierson on the south shore of Long Island. Strong winds and a heavy tide drove the ship off its course Tuesday in Wreck Lead channel, an inlet north of Long Beach. A tug pulled the vessel off and it proceeded on its course. There were no casualties.

Garbage Bid Accepted

Don Ayers Gets Contract

Don Ayers, 216 Fairchild street, last night was awarded a one year contract to collect and dispose of Iowa City's garbage for a $16,800 bid.

Final awarding of the contract came after more than an hour-and-a-half discussion by the council, during which time the council even considered briefly going into the garbage business on their own.

Alderman James Callahan moved to accept Ira W. Montgomery's bid of $21,213.50, but his motion died for lack of a second. Alderman Clark F. Mighell moved accepting Ayers' bid because of the rising costs of Montgomery's bids. His bid was 10 percent higher this year than his last bid.

Alderman Charles T. Smith seconded Mighell's motion to accept Ayers' bid, and the vote was four to two. Alderman Gordon Webster was absent and Alderman Wilber J. Teeters and Callahan voted no.

A motion by Smith asked Mayor Preston Koser to appoint a committee to investigate the city collection system for next year. Before Ayers' got his contract award, the council questioned him on whether he would object to wrapped garbage. Ayers said he didn't. No ordinance presently requires garbage to be wrapped, but the council is considering enacting such an ordinance, several aldermen said.

Paving on East Court street came up again at this meeting. The council re-considered a motion of Alderman Callahan, passed at the April 11 meeting, to lessen the width of the proposed paving from 30 feet to 24 feet. Re-consideration defeated the change and the paving will remain as contracted at 30 feet.

The previous motion was made after a number of property owners on East Court street requested the change.

COMMISSIONER CHOICE WASHINGTON (AP) — John J. McCloy, World Bank president, was reported authoritatively yesterday to be President Truman's likely choice as the first American high commissioner for Germany.

He said the policy "shall be put into effect as rapidly as possible, having due regard to the time required to effectuate any necessary changes without impairing efficiency or morale."

Negro leaders protested that the latter clause would permit the armed forces to "stall" indefinitely in complying with the order. Johnson's memorandum apparently was intended to meet that criticism.

"I bring you a message from the Negro people of America that they do not want a war which would send them back into a new kind of slavery," Robeson told the congress.

"It is unthinkable," said Robeson, that American Negroes "would go to war on behalf of those who have oppressed us for generations" against a country "which in one generation has raised our people to the full dignity of mankind."

American wealth, he said, was built by millions of immigrant workers from eastern Europe and on "the backs of millions of Negroes" and "we are determined to share this wealth."

He said he was going to testify in the defense of 12 Communist leaders on trial in New York.

Comes a Time in the Life ...

Liberal arts students have been invited to "come and get em" — delinquents that is. Students expecting the bad news should inquire at the liberal arts advisory office, 109 Schaeffer hall, as delinquents will not be mailed to them.

Students in other SUI colleges will receive their delinquents from the deans.

Armed Forces Told to Report On Racial Discrimination Ban

WASHINGTON (UP)—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson yesterday ordered the army, navy and air force to report within 10 days what they have done to carry out President Truman's nine-month old proclamation banning racial discrimination in the armed forces.

He spelled out the President's general policy with a detailed directive forbidding the services to restrict Negroes to segregated units or to particular kinds of duty.

"All individuals, regardless of race, will be accorded equal opportunity for appointment, advancement, professional improvement and promotion," Johnson said in a memorandum to Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall, Air Force Secretary W. Stuart Symington and Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan.

The order was expected to bring sharp protests from southern congressmen, who tried last year to write into the peacetime selective service act provision requiring segregation of troops into all-Negro and all-white units.

Mr. Truman issued an executive order on July 26, 1948 declaring it is "the policy of the President that there shall be equality of treatment and opportunity for all persons in the armed forces without regard to race, color, religion or national origin."

He said the policy "shall be put into effect as rapidly as possible, having due regard to the time required to effectuate any necessary changes without impairing efficiency or morale."

Negro leaders protested that the latter clause would permit the armed forces to "stall" indefinitely in complying with the order. Johnson's memorandum apparently was intended to meet that criticism.

Chinese Communists Shell. A Third British Warship

Tired and Late — 'Y' Tourists Back Home

Twelve weary SUI students pulled into Iowa City at 3 p.m. yesterday, the last lap of their extra-long Easter vacation trip to the east coast finally completed.

The YMCA-YWCA members of a "Know Your Government" tour to Washington, D.C., and Lake Success, N.Y., were harassed for 2,000 miles by engine trouble in the truck owned by YMCA Executive Secretary Ralph Schlomberg.

Monday night the party stayed at the YMCA headquarters in Pittsburgh while the engine was overhauled. The "Y" staff there provided meals, television, recreation and lodging for the travelers until Tuesday afternoon when they resumed the trip back to SUI.

Schlomberg said yesterday, "Everybody's tired and anxious to take baths. They were all good sports."

A public luncheon — meeting will be held 12:30 Tuesday in the YMCA rooms for discussion of the capitol tour, Schlomberg said.

He added that the first in a series of three meetings about the UN will be held 4:30 p.m. Wednesday in the YMCA rooms. "A campus organization similar to the UN might be formed here if enough students are interested," he said.

During the vacation in Washington, Bill Davis, AS, Burlington, tried to find time to study for a make-up exam he was scheduled to take Tuesday. When he realized he would not be here in time for the exam, Davis began studying for a make-up on the make-up.

The other students who returned yesterday were Mary Ann Herman, Julie Jensen, Verna Mae Wingate, Maureen Auburn, Jim Connor, John Connor, Bill Howard, Elliott McDonald, Bob Meeker, John Sherer and John Thomson.

Rep. Coffey Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Lewis Coffey Jr., 30, Democrat from Johnstown, Pa., was instantly killed last night when his jet fighter plane crashed at Albuquerque, N.M., the air force announced.

Coffey was an air reserve pilot and was on a cross country proficiency flight when the accident occurred.

Cat Family Picks Bird's-Eye View

HUDSON, MASS. (AP)—A mother cat and two newborn kittens were cuddled cozily yesterday in a bird's nest, 20 feet up in an apple tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lamburn found the family Tuesday after a two-day search for their pet.

They said the nest was in a large hollow of the tree. Sharing the kits' nest are two birds eggs.

Unattended at Birth, Chinese Triplets Die

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP)—A Chinese student's wife, alone and too frightened to call a doctor, gave birth to triplets unattended yesterday. All the babies died.

The father, Chia Yung Chen, said his wife did not expect a child until August. He was away studying Tuesday night, he reported.

A doctor was summoned and the babies were taken to a hospital. One was pronounced dead on arrival and the second and third died within a few hours. Chia said his wife speaks little English, is shy and was too frightened to call a doctor in his absence.

Chia is a graduate student in chemical engineering at the University of Illinois. He came here two years ago from Chentu-szechwan, China, and his wife followed him last winter.

The student said his wife saw a doctor two weeks ago and was to see him again today. He said she had been warned against the possibility of a premature birth, but that a multiple birth was not expected.

Chia arrived home from his studies early yesterday morning. He immediately rushed to the phone and told the doctor: "Come quick. Three babies in bed."

Iowa Youth Admits Killing Mother After Argument over Girl

ROCKWELL CITY — A blond high school senior, held in the shotgun slaying of his mother during a quarrel which involved his adolescent romance, said yesterday "I'm sorry I done it."

Otherwise, Sheriff George Dahlke reported, Dale Junior Post, 17, of Farnhamville, was "cool as a cucumber" and showed little remorse.

Young Post was arrested in nearby Fort Dodge Tuesday night as he waited for his girl friend, 17-year-old Norma Jeanne Seymour.

His arrest ended a search which began when the body of his mother, Mrs. Frances Post, 48, was found slumped over a sack of groceries in the kitchen of her Farnhamville home.

County Attorney Lewis Hendricks said the youth signed a statement saying he killed his mother "because I was angry at her for not letting me have the keys to my car."

The boy said he wanted to skip school and drive over to see Norma.

"Mostly the argument was over the girl," he told police. He said his parents had objected to his constant attentions to her.

The girl, unaware a slaying had occurred, waited at the police station while the boy was questioned. Later, when she learned of the tragedy, she went away sobbing. Hendricks said a charge against Post probably would be filed today.

Tydings Introduces Bill To Admit War Orphans

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to authorize the admission of 25,000 war orphans was introduced yesterday by Senator Tydings (D-Md.).

The children would not be charged against the normal immigration quotas of the countries from which they come. They would be between 5 and 15 years old.

Tried to Aid Stricken Ship

SHANGHAI (Thursday) (AP) — Communist artillery shelled a third British warship in the Yangtze today. The British cruiser London was reported steaming toward the river area between Nanking and Shanghai where two sloops and a destroyer were bombed. There was a possibility she might bring her big guns into action in her rescue attempt.

British naval sources said all three shellings definitely came from the Communist side of the great river. The Communists are known to have heavy concentrations of artillery in position to support a crossing of the Yangtze.

British naval sources said first reports indicated the Black Swan had suffered 15 or more casualties.

Yangtze Crossed

NANKING (Thursday) (AP) — The Communists crossed the Yangtze today. A spokesman for the nationalist government's defense ministry said the Communists surged across the great river at Tikang about 80 miles southwest of Nanking, the capital.

The previous attacks totaled 28 known dead and 23 injured. The Black Swan was shelled, naval sources said, while trying to aid the stricken Amethyst, the first British ship caught as China's civil war broke out in full fury again along the great river.

The Black Swan was shelled in the same area where Communist shore guns on the river's north bank pounded the Consort and the Amethyst.

Naval sources said they did not know whether any of the Black Swan's crew had been killed in the attack.

Sir Ralph Stevenson, British ambassador in Nanking, had messaged the Communist high command at Peiping asking that the local Communist artillery commander be instructed not to impede further rescue operations.

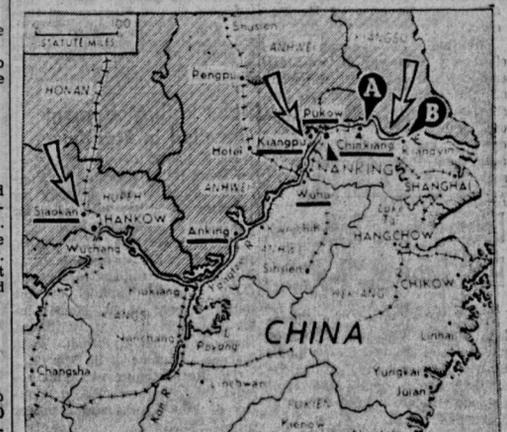

U.S. Forces ...

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson said yesterday that official dispatches from China confirm reports that the Communists have launched large-scale military operations along the Yangtze river.

The navy said there are no United States warships in the Yangtze.

A small U.S. navy task force under the command of Rear Adm. Oscar C. Badger is based at Shanghai. Part of its shipboard complement is a battalion landing team of about 1,200 marines. A small guard detachment of less than 100 marines is shore-based in Shanghai, officials said.

CHINESE CIVIL WAR broke out anew yesterday when Communist forces (arrows) attacked all along the Yangtze river. Underlined cities are in battle areas. Northeast of Nanking on the Yangtze (A), Communist shore guns crippled the British sloop Amethyst. The British destroyer Consort reached Kiangyin (B) after a 50-mile duel with Communist artillery. Shaded area is Communist held.

Iowa Hurlers Stop Pros, 7-1

Clinton Errors Aid Hawkeyes

By NEAL BLACK

The Iowa baseball team kept its home slate clean by taking advantage of Clinton miscues yesterday afternoon to beat the river town professionals, 7-1, on the Iowa diamond.

Stellar hurling made up for a hitting lapse for the Hawkeyes as three Iowa hurlers gave up only three hits, all singles.

Wes Demro started on the mound for the Hawkeyes and gave up two hits and a run in a five inning stint. He was relieved by Sophomore Dick Orth to start the sixth inning.

Orth went two innings, giving up one hit and then gave way to Glenn Drahn at the start of the eighth. Drahn struck out the first three men to face him and got the other three to ground out to the infield to hold the Clinton club hitless.

2nd Game for Steers

It was the Steers' second game of the season and their second loss. The Central association club showed lack of practice in the field, as they committed seven errors. Art Leslie started for the Steers and went three innings. Milton Cumming came on in the fourth and was the losing pitcher as he gave up five hits and as many runs in two innings.

Don Vike hurled the last three innings for the Steers and looked the most impressive of the three pitchers, with a no-hit performance.

Iowa scored a run in the second to take an early lead. Clinton tied it up in the top of the fourth but the Hawkeyes came back with three runs in the fourth and two in the fifth and then added a single tally in the eighth.

The Hawkey hitting, which has been the best feature of the club so far this season, fell off yesterday as they garnered only six safe blows. The pitching looked better, however. The Iowa hurlers, who have showed a distinct lack of control up to yesterday did not issue a base on balls to the Steers.

The Hawk pitchers had them swinging futilely as Demro fanned seven, Drahn got three strikeouts and Orth got one.

Primrose Hits Twice

Pinky Primrose was the only Hawk to get more than one safe blow as he singled twice. He was safe on errors the other two times up.

Ed Browne led off in the second for the Hawks and walked. He moved to second on an infield out and scored on an error on Primrose's ground ball.

The Steers got their only run when Charley Perchak singled, went to second on an infield Kafer overthrew first attempting to retire Carl Hodson.

The Hawks tallied three runs in the fourth when George Hand singled, moved to second on an error, to third on a wild pitch and scored after the right fielder caught Dale Erickson's fly.

Primrose followed with a single and stole second while the pitcher stood on the mound with the ball. Dave Dickson walked and Demro was safe on an error to load the bases.

John Sullivan's single drove in two more runs to make the score 4-1.

Big 5th Inning for Iowa

Ed Browne singled to start things off for Iowa in the fifth. He moved around to third and Hand went all the way to second when the pitcher threw wild to second in an attempted force of Browne on Hand's infield grounder.

Browne scored after the catch on another Erickson fly ball and Primrose crossed the plate a few minutes later on Hand's single.

The final Hawkeye run in the eighth came by way of two Steer errors. Primrose led off and went all the way to second on the shortstop's error. After one was out Drahn cracked another one down to the shortstop. He erred again and Primrose came in to score.

Lemon Hurls Tribe Past Browns, 7-3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Cleveland Indians knocked out three pitchers and downed the St. Louis Browns 7-3 yesterday, with pitcher Bob Lemon going the full distance before 2,919 fans at Sportsman's park.

The seven hits permitted by Lemon included home runs by Dick Kokos and Rookie Jack Graham, the latter's coming with a man on base in the eighth. Lemon had six strikeouts.

The Cleveland victory squared the season-opening series at one each.

SLIDING INTO THIRD IS GEORGE HAND, Iowa left fielder. Hand was on second and Ed Browne was on third in the fifth inning of the Iowa-Clinton Steers game yesterday when Dale Erickson cracked a fly to deep center field. Browne scored after the catch and the play was on Hand going into third. Hand was safe and scored a few minutes later on Pinky Primrose's single. The two runs scored in the fifth made the score 6-1 in Iowa's favor. The Hawkeyes beat the Central association club, 7-1 yesterday on the Iowa diamond.

'Flying Home' with Run Number Four ROUNDED THIRD ON HIS WAY HOME IS Dave Dickson, Iowa first baseman, as the Hawkeyes jump out into a 4-1 lead over the Clinton Steers. Dickson was on second in the fourth inning and the bases were loaded with Hawks when John Sullivan singled to drive in Pinky Primrose and Dickson with Iowa's third and fourth runs.

Dodgers Clout Giants Again, 6-2

Unearned Runs Help Brooklyn

BROOKLYN (AP) — Taking advantage of four New York errors and a streak of wildness on the part of pitcher Sheldon Jones, the Brooklyn Dodgers scored four unearned runs to defeat the Giants yesterday 6-2.

A crowd of 21,864 saw the Dodgers collect only four hits off three Giant pitchers. But the Dodgers were presented with seven bases on balls to register their second straight triumph over their interborough rivals.

Ralph Branca, going the route for the Dodgers, also gave up four hits including a home run to Sid Gordon in the sixth inning. Jones started for the Giants and yielded only one fluke hit in three and two thirds innings, but seven bases on balls and two errors behind him caused his undoing. He forced in two runs in the fourth with walks and was relieved by Andy Hansen.

Branca fanned six batters, including the side in the eighth.

SUI Authorities Vote Down Dream Cage Game

There was at least one sad figure at the Iowa-Clinton Steers baseball game yesterday. He stood off behind the bleachers, in fact behind the outer fence, brooding to himself.

We found Murray Wier in just that state upon arriving at the ball field with the Hawks and Steers just getting their eventual Iowa victory underway. Now what could be troubling the former all-American basketball player, we wondered?

Sliding up to the little red-head we found him decked out in his "T" jacket with a white hat cocked back on his head. And he was brooding, painting the perfect picture of the forgotten man.

In the first place he was feeling bad because he had to pay to get into the baseball game here at his alma-mater, the place which he boomed to basketball fame with his unforgettable hook shots one year ago.

That was only his secondary trouble, however. The big thing concerned two dream basketball games which would have been played here in the Iowa fieldhouse May 6 and 7. To be truthful, dream is hardly the word for it.

This was the plan, voted down yesterday noon by University of Iowa athletic authorities:

A group of past Iowa greats, including Wier, Herb and Clayt Wilkinson, and Jack Spencer, wanted to play a two-game exhibition series with Kentucky's great Olympic cage stars, currently on a barnstorming tour. It would have been a natural for Iowa fans.

No negotiations were started to get the Kentuckians up here—for a nominal guarantee, naturally. The one logical place to hold the series would be in the Iowa fieldhouse, since it can accommodate more spectators than any other in the state. This turned out to be the fly in the soup.

But before the fieldhouse was ruled definitely out yesterday, other arrangements were made. The Iowans obtained big Jack Kerris, Loyola of Chicago's brilliant center, to use in the pivot against Kentucky's all-American Alex Groza.

This undoubtedly would have put the exhibition games on an even par. The probable Iowa starters would be Wier and Clayt Wilkinson at the forwards, Kerris who outscored Groza in last winter's Loyola-Kentucky game) at center, and Herb Wilkinson and Spencer at the guards.

Kentucky's barnstormers are composed of the five stars who brought the 1948 Olympic basketball championship to the United States—Groza, all-American Ralph Beard, Wah-Wah Jones, Cliff Barker and Ken Rollins.

The Iowa authorities, in voting down the measure, said they did not want to start a precedent. In other words next year's graduates might want to use the fieldhouse for the same exhibition purpose.

This is logical reasoning. But personally we doubt if either Iowa or Kentucky will ever turn out graduates with as much basketball skill as the above-mentioned players. We'd gladly plunk down a dollar each night, the proposed admission price, to see the two teams square off, and we think 15,000 other Iowans would crowd into the fieldhouse, too.

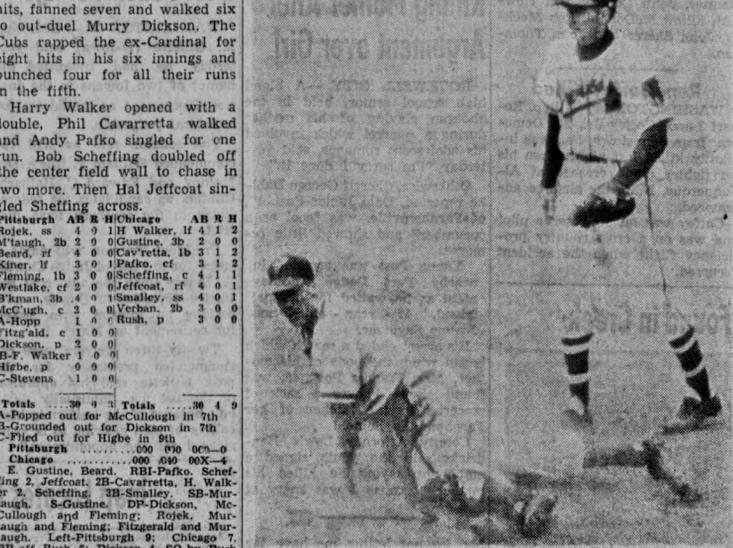

As far as exhibitions go, what about the Riggs-Kramer tennis matches at the fieldhouse a year ago? or Horace Heidt and his band last semester? or the coming Spike Jones exhibition at the fieldhouse April 29?

These were and will be sponsored by university organizations. The "I" club, Tailfeathers or any number of university groups would have sponsored the basketball series.

There is still the possibility that the Kentucky-Iowa match will be played in the Waterloo Hippodrome or Wharton fieldhouse in Moline, Ill. Regardless, we're inclined to think the university missed a very good bet.

Babe Ruth Monument Unveiled in Stadium

NEW YORK (AP) — They honored Babe Ruth yesterday in Yankee stadium, where his body lay in state for a day last fall after his death from cancer.

His widow, Mrs. Claire Ruth, unveiled a granite monument to his memory in deep centerfield. Gery Simpson, captain of the baseball team at St. Mary's industrial school of Baltimore, threw out the first ball. Ruth learned the game at St. Mary's.

The Ruth monument stands besides two others erected in memory of Lou Gehrig and Manager Miller Huggins.

Vic Raschi Pitches Three Hit Shut Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Vic Raschi showed mid-season form yesterday when he pitched the New York Yankees to a brilliant 3-0 shutout over the Washington Senators. The star right-hander allowed only three hits as the Yankees made it two in a row over the Nats.

A crowd of 12,551 saw Tommy Henrich smash his second home run in as many days in the fourth inning to snap a scoreless pitching duel between Raschi and Paul Calvert, the Senators' bespectacled righthanded rookie.

The Yankees added two more runs in the sixth.

Sam Chapman, Valo Help Athletics Edge Bosox in Tenth, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sam Chapman and Elmer Valo combined yesterday to give the Philadelphia Athletics their second straight 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox — the deciding tally crossing the plate in the tenth inning.

Chapman and Valo each connected with four singles for eight of the 11 blows the A's got off Ellis Kinder. The last of Chapman's hits sent Valo home with the winning run. Valo also scored the other two Philadelphia runs.

Valo's fourth hit, and errors by Johnny Pesky and Kinder on attempted sacrifice bunts, filled the bases for Philadelphia in the tenth.

Kinder retired Hank Majeski on a pop foul fly and had two strikes on Chapman when the Athletics' centerfielder lined a single to left.

Joan Janssen Marries

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Bright Joan Janssen Marries Gregory S. Bright

St. Mary's church was the scene of the marriage of Joan Janssen to Gregory S. Bright yesterday at 9 a.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fannie Janssen, Northwood. Mr. Bright is the son of Charles Bright, 124 Highland drive.

The Rev. John W. Schmitz performed the double ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Benjamin Janssen.

Mrs. James Bright, Mount Pleasant, was the matron of honor. Trietie Everets, Des Moines, was the bridesmaid. The best man was James Bright, Mount Pleasant. Ushers were Keith Bright, 309 Iowa avenue, and Kenneth Casper, Iowa City.

A reception was held in Hotel Jefferson after the wedding. The couple left on a wedding trip to Chicago.

Mrs. Bright was graduated from Northwood high school, Northwood, and the school of nursing at the State University of Iowa. She is now a nurse in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Dubuque.

Mr. Bright was graduated from St. Mary's high school, Iowa City, and took x-ray training at University hospitals. He is now employed as an x-ray technician in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Dubuque.

When the couple return they will make their home in Dubuque.

U.S. Engineers to Seek Bids In May for Coralville Dam

Bids on the first phase of construction on the Coralville flood control dam will be sought by the Rock Island district corps of engineers on or about May 2.

About 30 days will be allowed for preparation of the bids which should include costs for furnishing all plants, labor, materials and equipment and performing work in connection with the first stage of the dam.

Col. R.L. Dean, district army engineer of Rock Island, said yesterday that construction on the dam will probably begin by July 4 if all goes well in the next few weeks.

Practically all the land has been acquired for the dam site, which is four miles north of the city limits of Iowa City and just south of the point where Turkey creek enters the Iowa river.

To Col. Dean's knowledge, the government has executed options on all but one tract for the site. Condemnation proceedings are now in process on that one tract. An earth dam, 1,400 feet long, 90 feet high, 580 feet wide at the base and 22 feet wide at the top, will be built in the first phase of actual construction.

Work on this first stage to be completed by next Feb. 1 will consist of clearing the dam site of trees, bushes and other obstructions; constructing access roads, a field office, deep well and water supply system, and earth work and stone embankment protection.

In addition to buying ground for the dam site, the government will purchase more than 30,000 acres to accommodate the reservoir. The dam will be part of a general flood control program for the Mississippi river basin.

Congress appropriated $700,000 for the project during the fiscal year ending June 30 but has not yet approved money for the next fiscal year.

Estimates at various times have placed the ultimate cost of the reservoir at between $12- and $15-million. The actual cost, of course, will depend upon contractor's bids. Completion of the roadways and field office will be required within 120 calendar days after notice to proceed has been received by the contractor.

Plans and specifications will be placed on exhibit at the Rock Island District, Clock Tower Building, Arsenal Island, Rock Island, Ill. This will be done after a date of advertising has been established.

Lowden Math Prize Offered to Students

The examination for the $25 Lowden prize in mathematics will be given in room 212 of the physics building at 9 a.m. on May 14, Prof. Lloyd A. Knowler, chairman of the mathematics department, announced yesterday.

The examination is open to all sophomores who are about to complete the work of freshmen and sophomores in mathematics.

The prize may be divided if outstanding papers of equal value are submitted, or withheld if no paper shows sufficient merit, Knowler said.

The examination will cover algebra, plane trigonometry, analytic geometry of two dimensions and the elements of differential and integral calculus.

First editions of works by Bacon, Plato, Erasmus and Goethe are included. The oldest book was printed in 1220 and the most expensive is priced at $2,600.

Mayor Preston Koser — Calls for Cancer Control Day

Mayor Preston Koser yesterday called upon Iowa City residents to observe next Sunday as Cancer Control Sunday.

In a proclamation signed yesterday he pointed out that an aging population is aggravating the problem of cancer control because a larger number of people are reaching the "cancer age." The mayor asked for a redoubting of efforts by local individuals, institutes, businesses and organizations in meeting this problem. He pointed out that at least one-third of those who now die of cancer could be saved through early detection and treatment.

The proclamation asked for active cooperation with the American Cancer society during its current fund-raising campaign.

The drive in Iowa City is being conducted during April and May. Iowa City's goal is $5,706 which has been described as the "minimum need" to carry on the work of the society. R.J. Knoepfer, chairman of the local ACS campaign committee, expressed his appreciation for endorsement of the campaign by Mayor Koser.

"The support of civic government in the work of the American Cancer society is an important stepping stone towards success of the cancer control program," he said.

"It is impossible to estimate the exact toll that cancer takes in Iowa City," he chairman said, "but we know it is a proportionate share of the nearly 200,000 cancer deaths in the nation each year."

Art Conference to Open Here Today

The 19th Annual Art conference for Iowa high school teachers and students will open today to the general public at the SUI art building auditorium. The conference will close Saturday.

A conjunctive feature of the annual exhibition of Iowa high school art, the conference will include talks by the renowned contemporary artist Yasuo Kuniyoshi; Serge Chermayeff, director of Chicago Institute of Design, and Viktor Lowenfeld, professor of art education at Pennsylvania State college.

The three day conference program will begin at 4 p.m. when Kuniyoshi will conduct an informal discussion with students and visitors. At 8 p.m., he will discuss his own paintings and his views on contemporary art. Lester D. Longman, head of the art department will preside.

Mrs. Martin Gets New Library Post

Who are America's Most Successful YOUNG Men?

In anybody's book, one of them is hustling, strapping Charles H. (Chuck) Percy. Said TIME early this year:

Ever since he was an undergraduate at the University of Chicago, Charles H. Percy has been a young businessman in a hurry. To work his way through college (his banker father had gone broke in the depression), Chuck Percy ran a wholesale business supplying the university's fraternities with food, coal, furniture and linen. He also held two other jobs, and captained the rough, tough water polo team. In the summer vacation of 1937 he took a job at $12 a week in Chicago's Bell & Howell Co. (cameras). For the next 11 1/2 years he was in & out of Bell & Howell, but was seldom out of the mind of its president, Joe H. McNabb.

It was McNabb who persuaded Chuck Percy to work for Bell & Howell on weekends and vacations, and gave him a full-time job when he graduated from Chicago in 1941. He was put in charge of a new department to handle defense contracts. The contracts rolled in so fast that six months later, when Percy was 21, he was in charge of the major part of Bell & Howell's business. Just before he joined the Navy as a seaman, McNabb made him assistant secretary and a company director.

New Theme. Stationed on the West Coast, Percy spent his spare time studying West Coast industries and the causes of strikes. His reports so impressed McNabb that when Chuck Percy was discharged (as lieutenant), he became Bell & Howell's industrial relations and personnel director.

CHUCK PERCY
The reports were impressive.

Percy began to streamline Bell & Howell's management. In 18 months, he reduced the number of departments from 189 to 130, hopes to bring them down eventually to 88.

New Boss. This week, Percy got the go-ahead to finish the job—and in his own way. To succeed McNabb, who died last week, the directors chose him president. At 29, he is boss of a company that sold $18 million worth of motion-picture cameras and equipment last year, and earned a net profit of some $2,300,000.

By BENNETT CERF

GEORGE JEAN NATHAN is the source of the story of a two-hundred-and-eighty-pound linesman on the University of Pennsylvania football squad, who was named All-American three years running, but never spoke a single word to other members of his team. Finally the coach begged, "Won't you break down and say just a few words to us before you hang up your togs for the last time?"

"Uh, uh," replied the linesman with a frown. "Me no spika da English."

The city council of a ritzy California subdivision tried to make a citizen abandon a pig-raising program upon which he had embarked. The citizen, quoting the Four Freedoms, demanded a referendum—and won, 82 to 4. The four "nays" were the city council.

"One voter printed on his ballot, 'I like pigs a lot better than the city council.'" Another recalled, "It was pigs that helped build California."

Russia to Propose Unification Of Germany, Report Declares

BERLIN (AP)—A High German official declared yesterday Soviet Russia is ready to propose a German settlement, including lifting of the Berlin blockade, if the west will bar Germany from the North Atlantic Alliance.

Confirmation was lacking from allied authorities. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, said he knew of no new Russian overtures. The Russians kept a tight silence. A small power consular official, however, said he had heard the report and believed it.

The German source, who may not be identified by name, is about as well informed as any German in this divided city, which is seething with rumors of an impending break in the situation.

He said the Russian plan would provide for lifting the Soviet blockade of western Berlin, withdrawal of both Russian and western allied armies from Germany and formation of a central German government at a parley of United States, British, French and Russian foreign ministers. He said the plan would be advanced by Russia herself, and not through a satellite.

The Russian aim, according to this source, is twofold:

1. To establish a "vacuum" Germany between the Rhine and Oder rivers, unlikely to represent a threat to the Soviet Union.
2. To retire from an untenable position and yet save face.

How such a proposal would be received by the west is conjectural.

The United States, Britain and France are agreed there will be no further four-power parleys on Germany until the Berlin blockade is lifted. They are committed also to a long occupation of Germany, while Russia has sought before to get all troops out soon.

The Russians have built up a Communist police force in eastern Germany which many western officials say is intended for just such a situation—to continue the Communist rule begun with the protection of Soviet bayonets.

Four-power discussions on a central German regime would mean scrapping the west German government being created at Bonn. It would mean slowing down the allied airlift, which has fed western Berliners since the blockade was imposed last June.

Authoritative American sources say the airlift would go on at a reduced scale, even if the blockade should be lifted tomorrow.

Meanwhile, it was announced in Frankfurt that west Germany hit a new postwar production peak last month. The British and American zones produced 89 percent as much goods as they did in March of 1936, the last year of normal peacetime production in Germany.

Student Engineers Plan Chicago Trip With 2 Professors

Thirteen SUI engineering students and two professors will make a two and a half day inspection tour of the water and sewage treatment plants in Chicago and several of its suburbs beginning Saturday noon.

Marcus P. Powell, assistant professor of hygiene and preventive medicine, and Philip F. Morgan, associate professor of sanitary engineering, will conduct the students of sanitary engineering on the trip. The trip will be mainly concerned with the Chicago water filter and sewage treatment plants.

Senior students going on the tour are Jagdish R. Bammi, Jodhpur, India; Burton K. Burkhalter, Lewis; Arthur Dennis, Knoxville, Iowa; Lowell D. Kraatz, Oak Park, Ill.; Cecil M. O'Day, Shenandoah.

L. Ward Peterson, Monmouth, Ill.; Harold E. Schmidt, Cedar Rapids; Frank H. Williams, Grand Island, Neb., and Harold W. Wolf, Iowa City.

Graduate students going are Martiniano Ligon, Bulacan, Philippines; Ramiro F. Regalado, Manila, Philippines; Arturo Velasquez, Colombia, and Clarence C. Crumley, Iowa City.

Publication Honors Professor of English

The late Elbert N.S. Thompson has been honored in the first issue of this year's Philological Quarterly.

Thompson was professor of English at SUI and a Milton scholar before he died last year. He taught at SUI from 1909 to September, 1948.

The journal is entitled, "Studies in Milton: Essays in Memory of Elbert N.S. Thompson." An SUI publication, it contains 15 essays on Milton's works and thoughts. The authors, all from other schools, include Harris Fleischer of the University of Illinois, Merritt Y. Hughes of the University of Wisconsin and Douglas Bush of Harvard university.

Thompson's "Essays on Milton" appeared in 1914, and he compiled his "Topical Bibliography of Milton" which was published in 1916. He was born on December 15, 1877 in Orange N.J., and was a bachelor.

Military Department Adds Sgt. Winborn

Sgt. Walter D. Winborn will go on duty with the SUI military department as an infantry instructor starting Monday, department officials reported yesterday.

Winborn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Winborn, 730 E. Market street, was formerly on duty at Fort Devens, Mass., where he was assigned following his return from overseas in November, 1948.

He served three years with the army of occupation in Germany and was stationed at army posts in Bamberg, Stuttgart and Heidelberg.

Set New Date for 'Paper Doll' Dance

The annual "Paper-Doll" dance, climax of the winter social season of the teen-age group at the recreation center, has been rescheduled for May 20 instead of May 6, J. Edgar Frame, superintendent of recreation, said yesterday.

Nomination of candidates for "Paper-Doll Queen" will continue through Saturday, Frame added. Voting to choose the "Paper-Doll Queen" by all members of the Paper Doll group will take place between next Monday and May 14.

Streamlining at Hospital —

Radiology Units Now Adjoining

The therapeutic and diagnostic units of the department of radiology are being re-located together at University hospitals in what Dr. H.D. Kerr, head of the department, described as "a better, more efficient" arrangement for taking care of the work.

He pointed out that the department has expanded its services from 16,000 diagnostic X-rays taken in 1930 to a figure that may reach 50,000 this year.

Kerr added that a centrally located department of the two units, formerly on the first and seventh floors of the hospital, is also needed because of the greater volume of work being done with radiation therapy, including radiation isotope therapy.

He said that far more is known today about radiation therapy than in 1929 when University hospitals were built. He added that the radiology department today has about 16,000 radiation treatments a year.

The new offices for the diagnostic unit of the department will adjoin the therapeutic rooms on the seventh floor. They include five or six diagnostic rooms, a sorting, file and dark room, interpreting rooms and office space.

Kerr said he hopes a plan will be instituted in the vacated first floor X-ray office for the operation of a fluorographic unit. The plan would call for a routine chest examination of all possible patients admitted to the hospital.

Army Staged 'Mock Trials,' No Brutality, Officer Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American army officer acknowledged yesterday that weird "mock trials" were staged but denied that brutality was used to wring confessions from German storm troops in the Malmédy massacre case of World War II.

Lt. Col. Burton F. Ellis, the chief prosecutor, told the senate armed services committee that the procedure was "proper" under the rules of evidence permitted by the army in Europe.

Outside the hearing room, senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) told newsmen the senate group appeared more concerned with a "whitewash" of the army than with getting the facts about the trials.

The committee also received an accusation by letter from James J. Bailey of Pittsburgh, Pa., who said he was a member of the U.S. army's confession-gathering team for 10 weeks but quit because he "could stomach it no longer."

Bailey, a 53-year-old World War I veteran, identified himself as an official court reporter for 18 years. He said he witnessed some of the mock trials and declared that evidence was gained by "starvation, bodily harm and even death threats."

But Col. Ellis told the senators that Nazis convicted of the infamous crimes exaggerated the alleged mistreatment.

The senate group, headed by Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.), is investigating protests that American officers, in their zeal to get confessions, were themselves guilty of improper conduct in the prosecution of 74 German S.S. troops brought to trial in the case.

The story of the massacre goes back to Christmas time, 1944, when the Battle of the Bulge swirled through the Ardennes forest around the little Belgian town of Malmédy.

A contingent of American troops, surrounded and hopelessly outnumbered, surrendered to the onrushing Germans who were seeking to break through and split the American and British armies. Instead of sending the captured men to prisoner-of-war camps in the rear, the Nazi elite troops marched the Americans into a snow-covered field and cut them down with machinegun bullets.

Eighty American soldiers were slain there. Another 80, perhaps more, were shot down after surrendering elsewhere in the battle sector.

Altogether, 43 Germans were sentenced to death for complicity in the Malmédy atrocities. The army later cut the number to 12. Then Gen. Lucius Clay, American military governor in Germany, commuted six of the death sentences to life imprisonment.

Street Department Begins Repairs on Iowa City Streets

Spring's return to Iowa City has started the street department working on streets closed to automobile traffic and opening up a new street.

Flood damage on South Linn street between Kirkwood avenue and West Benton street will be repaired today and the street opened up as soon as possible. Street Commissioner Willard Irvin said yesterday.

Weather may hold up the work some, Irvin added, but South Linn street will be opened as fast as possible.

Closing of the street came after the flooding Ralston creek made motor traffic impossible last year.

A new street will be opened up in about six weeks, Irvin reported. The city council this month ordered Seventh avenue from East Court street to East College street opened to relieve traffic passage between east Iowa City and Morningside addition.

This opening will provide easier access to City high school, Irvin said. At present, no street exists through the area. Irvin said the job would take from a month to six weeks, depending on the weather.

Alabama Professor To Talk at Meeting Of Chemical Society

Chemistry Prof. G.M. Kosolapoff of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., will address the Iowa section of the American Chemical Society, May 9, following a 6:30 p.m. dinner at Hotel Roosevelt, Cedar Rapids.

Speaking on "Organophosphorus Compounds" Kosolapoff will illustrate methods of preparation.

Angry Landlords Stage Riot

New Orleans Rent Director Mobbed at Meeting, Landladies Swing Umbrellas, Fists

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—A meeting of more than 200 landlords ended in a near riot yesterday. The angry property owners tried to storm the rent control office.

After the commotion had quieted, George C. Baehr, New Orleans area rent control director, peeped out of a side door to his office. Several landladies rushed up and brandished umbrellas and fists under his nose.

Baehr slammed the door and retreated behind his desk, where he mopped his brow with his handkerchief and panted: "I've never seen people behave like this before."

Baehr had called a meeting to explain the new rent control law. The landlords started shouting, screaming and jeering before he and members of his staff could start their explanation.

Mrs. Josephine Robinson of Dallas, area rent control field representative, said that under the new law a tenant may be evicted on written notice from his landlords and a certificate from the area rent office.

"More red tape, more government finangling," the landlords shouted.

In the midst of the noise and heckling, Sidney C. Ford, a fire department inspector, strode in and jumped upon Baehr's desk.

"There are too many people in this small space," he shouted. He ordered them to break up the meeting.

Muttering angrily, some of the landlords walked into the street, shaking their fists. It was raining. Others stayed in the building. Their anger finally mounted so high that they returned, and tried, but vainly, to break down the door to Baehr's office.

Baehr stayed behind his desk until it sounded quiet again and looked out the side door. It was then that the umbrellas and fists were shaken under his nose.

SUI, High School Students to Attend Episcopal Meeting

Six SUI students and 10 high school students will attend the Iowa Diocesan Youth convention of the Trinity Episcopal church in Des Moines this weekend.

Four of the SUI students, Mr. and Mrs. Art Fippinger, both A4, Iowa City; Marianne Swisher, A3, Kansas City, Mo., and Leon Wilkins, A3, Keokuk, will serve as discussion group leaders at the meetings.

The convention will begin tomorrow evening and continue through Sunday, Episcopal Student Director, Janet Kedney, who will accompany the group, said yesterday.

About 150 high school young people from all over Iowa are expected to attend the meetings, she added.

The Rev. Chandler Sterling, Elmhurst, Ill., will be principal speaker and leader for the meetings, Miss Kedney said.

The other two SUI students attending will be Larry Shaw and Tom Hulme, both A1, Iowa City.

High school students attending will be Mary Sue Hancher, Hugh Anderson, Dwytha Edwards, Jean Mark, Mary Vasey, Rodney Bane, Steve Hulme, Henry Louise, Sylvia Van Nostrand and Inger Van Nostrand.

Britain Attacks Church Trials, Wants Inquiry

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — Britain attacked the Iron Curtain trials of churchmen yesterday as a fresh phase of Communist opposition to religion and free thought.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, told the special political committee of the UN assembly that Britain joins the United States in supporting a Bolivian move to keep the cases before the UN until the September assembly.

This would permit the UN to act if nothing comes of proposals to settle the disputes over the religious trials through the peace treaties with Bulgaria and Hungary.

The committee is debating what to do about the trials of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and of 15 Protestant clergymen in Bulgaria.

Australia demanded the UN set up a special investigating committee to be sent to Europe and inquire into the situation.

This is similar to a proposal by Cuba. The United States turned down the Cuban proposal and gave its support to the Bolivian resolution.

Cadogan reviewed the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty and said the Hungarian government's yellow book on the case issued last Jan. 19 showed the "Hungarian government had pre-judged the result of the trial and would have considered it a disaster if the trial had resulted in an acquittal."

Mindszenty was sentenced in February to life imprisonment for crimes against the state.

The Russian bloc maintained its opposition to any action in the Bulgarian and Hungarian cases. Their speakers insisted the trials were internal matters.

Chilean Earthquake Kills 62, Injures 89

SANTIAGO, CHILE (AP) — Sixty-two persons were killed and 89 were injured by a strong earthquake in central Chile Tuesday night. Damages were estimated at several millions of dollars.

Fifty-five of the fatalities were inmates of two prisons. The Traiguen prison collapsed crushing 40 convicts in their cell beds, and the Angol prison was partly destroyed, killing 15 convicts.

In Traiguen, a town of 19,600 inhabitants, 30 percent of all persons were injured seriously and 22 others suffered slight injuries. In Angol, which has 25,400 inhabitants, seven persons were injured and 70 percent of the buildings either were destroyed or badly cracked. Three persons died in the hospital.

Three persons were killed at Los Angeles, Chile, and one was killed at Nacimiento.

FEPC Boosters Postpone Meeting

Lack of sufficient members caused postponement of the Iowa committee for FEPC meeting last night. Members present decided to arrange for a meeting Monday night at 7:30 in the YM-CA conference room.

Breakdown of the YMCA truck in Pennsylvania was given as probably reason for the absence of many committee members. This delayed their return from the trip to the national capital and UN headquarters.

Cleveland-Boston Series Movie Tonight at Union

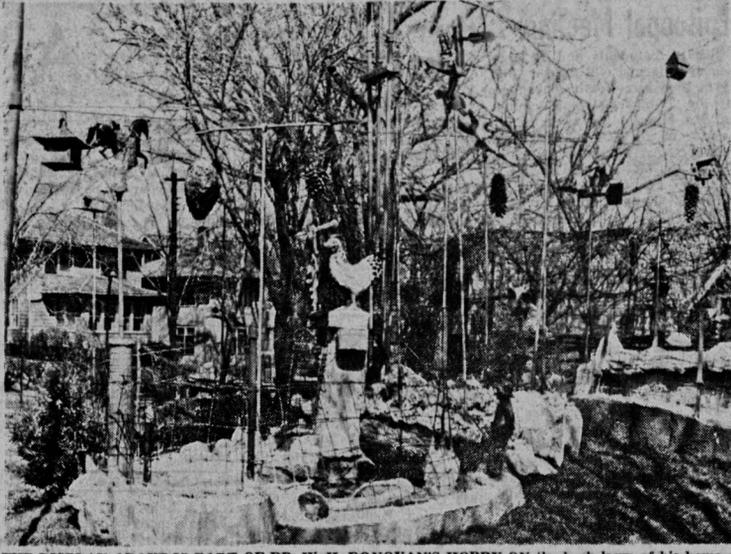

Free movies of the 1948 World Series baseball championship game will be shown tonight in the Iowa Union main lounge. At 8 p.m., a short 20 minute film "Trumpet Serenade" with Harry James and his orchestra will precede the baseball feature.

The 40 minute baseball movie will recapitulate how the Cleveland Indians beat the Boston Braves.

General Surgeon 'Operates' in a Big Way

THE DISPLAY ABOVE IS PART OF DR. W. H. DONOVAN'S HOBBY ON the back lawn of his home at 1002 E. College street. Windmills, fish ponds, bird houses, and a variety of cement figures are shown. Located on other parts of the lawn are a barbecue that will blow smoke rings and a playground for children who visit him during the summer. Although the doctor has been collecting the unusual items for 30 years, he began his back-yard hobby only two years ago.

Doctor Builds Back-Yard Display as Hobby

By KEN CARTER

Hobbies are an unused diversion for some people. Others go in for them in a big way. Dr. W. H. Donovan, 1002 E. College street, general surgeon at University hospitals, is one of the latter. He has a hobby that has been 30 years in the making and fills a large part of his back yard.

With a combination of long-collected curios, cement figures created by himself and a lot of imagination, Dr. Donovan has built a display which includes, among many things, ornamented fish ponds, flying windmills, and animal-shaped flower beds.

On the doctor's back lawn are molded figures of dogs, horses and chickens; monsters with lifelike eyes and real teeth; unusual birdhouses ornamented with colorful shells and stones, and even a barbecue that will blow smoke rings. Surrounding and woven throughout the work is a landscape of evergreens, crocuses, lilacs, and some 3,700 tulips which will soon be out in full color adding to the gaiety of the display.

This unusual hobby was actually begun two years ago, although Dr. Donovan has collected such items for more than 30 years. For the sake of attractiveness, the doctor decided to decorate an outdoor fireplace in 1947. By the time it was finished, he was so interested he continued building.

Dr. Donovan draws from his curio collection and his own creativeness for material. During trips throughout the United States and Canada, he has gathered many odd shaped wood and rock formations, shells and the horns of more than 30 deer. He shot the deer himself.

The doctor uses the curios for decorating the main pieces which he designs in his three-room basement workshop.

A glance at the outdoor fireplace shows extensive beautifying effort. It is surrounded with a variety of formations, elevated flower beds, and a platform with benches and a revolving table.

To stock his ponds, Dr. Donovan has hundreds of fish which he keeps summer and winter. Some of the goldfish are a foot long now.

For the grandchildren who visit him every summer from New York, the doctor has included playground equipment in his collection. There are swings and a specially designed merry-go-round with ball bearings and a braking lever.

Dr. Donovan is presently working on an idea for a special windmill. Beyond that he has nothing definite in mind.

NEEDED COUNSELING
COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Dr. John F. Cuber was sued for divorce yesterday, four days after he resigned as director of Ohio State university's marriage counseling clinic.

DR. DONOVAN POSES WITH ONE OF THE STONE ANIMALS in his collection. This one serves as the foundation of a flower bed. It, like many others in the display, is complete with eyes, real horns and teeth. Other items in his hobby collection include wind mills, fish ponds, and bird houses.

Perfect Technique

— Dramatic Style

By DONALD KEY

A dramatic style and fluent technique highlighted the piano recital of Dorothy Eustis last night in the City high school auditorium.

Her performance was the last event on the Civic Music association series this year, and it was a fitting climax to a successful season.

The young and gracious pianist displayed a technique so nearly perfect that one could truthfully say that every fractional inch of the keyboard was at her command.

This was clearly shown in her rendition of the opening numbers, "Three Sonatas" by Domenico Scarlatti. These were played with powerful fortissimos and delicate florid passages.

Outstanding numbers on the program seemed to be the "Prelude in A Major" from "Suite pour le piano" by Calude Debussy, "Etude in E minor," by Alexander Scriabine, and the three numbers of Johannes Brahms, "Intermezzo, Opus 118," "Intermezzo, Opus 116," and "Capriccio, Opus 116."

The first of these was played in complete sympathy with the precise Debussy style. The young artist approached the Scriabine work with a romantic and melodic interpretation, and the Brahms numbers were marked by wide and pleasant variations in dynamics.

The only disappointing performance of the evening was that of the "Sonata quasi una Fantasia" (Moonlight Sonata). It seemed to me that this was played too dramatically and in a style more characteristic of Liszt.

Some musicians will undoubtedly disagree with a few tempi used by Dorothy Eustis, or at times the music was played much faster than customary. This was especially noticeable in the Beethoven sonata and Chopin etudes.

This artist had a Chopin style all of her own. It was not that of the cut-away coat and knee pants, but rather like a Chopin dressed up in a bright colored uniform.

The audience enthusiastically recalled the artist for three encores. She played the "Leibstranz" of Liszt, "Waltz in G flat minor" by Chopin, and a medley of familiar short numbers.
